1. D. R. Anthony, R.* | 5. G. T. Helvering, D.*
2. Jos. Taggart, D.* | 6. J. B. Dykes, R.
3. P. P. Campbell, R.* | 7. Jouett Shouse, D.
4. D. Doolittle, D.* | 8. W. A. Ayres, D.

KENTUCKY.
1. A. W. Barkley, D.* | 7. J. C. Cantrill, D.*
2. D. H. Kincheloe, D. | 8. Harvey Helm, D.*
3. R. Y. Thomas, Jr., D.* | 9. W. J. Fields, D.*
4. Ben Johnson, D.* | 10. J. W. Langley, R.*
5. Swagar Sherley, D.* | 11. Caleb Powers, R.*
6. A. E. Reuse, D.*

LOUISIANA.
1. Albert Estopinal, D.* | 5. Riley Wilson, D.
2. H. G. Dupre, D.* | 6. L. L. Morgan, D.*
3. W. P. Martin, P. | 7. L. Lazaro, D.
4. J. T. Watkins, D.* | 8. J. B. Aswell, D.*

MAINE.
2. A. C. Hinds, R.* | 3. J. A. Peters, R.*†
2. D. J. McGillicuddy, D.† | 4. E. Guernsey, R.*†

MARYLAND.
1. J. D. Price, D. | 4. J. C. Linthicum, D.*
2. J. F. C. Talbott, D.* | 5. S. E. Mudd, R.
3. C. P. Coady, D.* | 6. D. J. Lewis, D.*

MASSACHUSETTS.
1. A. T. Treadway, R.* | 9. E. W. Roberts, R.*
2. F. W. Gillett, R.* | 10. P. T. Tague, D.
3. C. D. Paige, R.* | 11. F. J. Horgan, D.
4. S. E. Winslow, R.* | 12. J. A. Gallivan, D.*
5. J. J. Rogers, R. | 13. J. J. Nichol, D.*
6. A. P. Gardner, R.* | 14. R. Olney 3d, D.
7. M. P. Phelan, D.* | 15. W. S. Greene, R.*
8. F. W. Dallinger, R. | 16. Joseph Walsh, R.

MICHIGAN.
1. S. E. Doremus, D.* | 8. J. W. Fordney, R.*
2. M. R. Bacon, R. | 9. J. C. McLaughlin, R.*
3. J. M. C. Smith, R.* | 10. G. A. Loud, R.
4. W. L. Hamilton, R.* | 11. F. D. Stott, R.
5. C. E. Mapes, R.* | 12. W. F. James, R.
6. E. H. Kelly, R. | 13. G. A. Nichols, R.
7. L. C. Crampton, R.*

MINNESOTA.
1. S. Anderson, R.* | 6. C. A. Lindberg, R.*
2. F. Ellsworth, R. | 7. A. J. Volstead, R.*
3. C. Davis, R.* | 8. C. B. Miller, R.*
4. C. C. Van Dyke, D. | 9. J. Stevenson, R.*
5. C. R. Smith, R.* | 10. S. Gronna, R.*

MISSISSIPPI.
1. E. S. Candler, D.* | 5. S. A. Witherspoon, D.*
2. H. T. Stephens, D.* | 6. B. P. Harrison, D.*
3. B. G. Humphreys, D.* | 7. P. E. Quin, D.*
4. T. U. Sisson, D.* | 8. J. W. Collier, D.*

MISSOURI.
1. J. T. Lloyd, D.* | 9. Champ Clark, D.*
2. W. W. Rucker, D.* | 10. J. E. Meeker, R.
3. J. W. Alexander, D.* | 11. W. L. Igoe, D.*
4. C. F. Booher, D.* | 12. I. C. Dyer, R.
5. W. P. Borland, D.* | 13. W. L. Hensley, D.*
6. C. C. Dickinson, D.* | 14. J. J. Russell, D.*
7. C. W. Hamlin, D.* | 15. F. J. Decker, D.*
8. D. W. Shackleford, D.* | 16. T. L. Rubey, D.*

MONTANA.
At Large—J. M. Evans, D.*
At Large—Tom Stout, D.*

NEBRASKA.
1. C. F. Reavis, R. | 4. C. H. Sloan, R.*
2. C. O. Lobeck, D.* | 5. S. R. Barton, R.*
3. D. V. Stevens, D.* | 6. M. P. Kinkaid, R.*

NEVADA.
At Large—E. E. Roberts, R.*

NEW HAMPSHIRE.
1. C. A. Sulloway, R. | 2. E. H. Wasson, R.

NEW JERSEY.
1. W. J. Browning, R.* | 7. D. H. Drukker, R.*
2. Bacharach, R. | 8. E. W. Gray, R.
3. T. J. Scully, D.* | 9. R. W. Parker, R.
4. E. C. Hutchinson, R. | 10. W. I. L. Adams, R.
5. J. H. Capstick, R. | 11. J. J. Eagan, D.*
6. A. C. Hart, D.* | 12. J. A. Hamill, D.*

NEW MEXICO.
At Large—H. B. Ferguson, D.*
At Large—B. C. Hernandez, R.

NEW YORK.
1. F. C. Hicks, R. | 23. J. A. Goulden, D.*
2. C. P. Caldwell, D | 24. W. R. Ogiesby, D.*
3. J. V. Flynn, D.* | 25. W. W. Husted, R.
4. H. H. Dale, D.* | 26. Edmund Platt, R.*
5. J. P. Maher, D.* | 27. C. B. Ward, R.
6. F. W. Rowe, R. | 28. R. B. Sandford, R.
7. J. J. Fitzgerald, D.* | 29. J. S. Parker, R.*
8. D. J. Griffin, D.* | 30. W. B. Charles, R.
9. O. E. Swift, R. | 31. E. A. Merritt, Jr., R.
10. R. L. Haskell, R. | 32. L. W. Mott, R.*
11. D. J. Riordan, D.* | 33. H. P. Snyder, R.
12. Meyer London, S. | 34. G. W. Fairchild, R.*
13. G. W. Lort, R. | 35. W. Masse, R.
14. M. F. Farley, D. | 36. S. E. Payne, R.*
15. M. F. Conry, D.* | 37. H. H. Platt, R.
16. P. J. Dooling, D.* | 38. T. B. Dunn, R.*
17. J. F. Carew, D.* | 39. T. G. Danford, R.*
18. T. G. Patten, D.* | 40. S. W. Dempsey, R.
19. W. M. Chandler, P.* | 41. C. B. Smith, D.*
20. Isaac Sigel, R. | 42. D. A. Driscoll, D.*
21. G. M. Hurlburt, D. | 43. C. M. Hamilton, R.*
22. Henry Bruckner, D.*

NORTH CAROLINA.
1. J. H. Small, D.* | 6. H. L. Godwin, D.*
2. Claude Kitchin, D.* | 7. R. N. Page, D.*
3. George Hood, D. | 8. R. L. Doughton, D.*
4. E. W. Pou, D.* | 9. E. J. Webb, D.*
5. C. M. Stedman, D.* | 10. J. J. Britt, R.

NORTH DAKOTA.
1. H. T. Helgesen, R.* | 2. P. D. Norton, R.*
2. G. M. Young, R.*

OHIO.
1. N. Longworth, R. | 12. C. L. Brumbaugh, D.*
2. A. G. Allen, D.* | 13. A. W. Overmyer, D
3. Warren Gard, D.* | 14. S. H. Williams, R.
4. J. E. Russell, R. | 15. W. C. Mooney, R.
5. T. T. Ansberry, D.* | 16. R. C. McCulloch, R.
6. C. C. Kearns, R. | 17. W. A. Ashbrook, D.*
7. S. D. Fess, R.* | 18. J. Hollingsworth, R.
8. J. A. Key, D.* | 19. J. G. Cooper, R.
9. I. R. Sherwood, D.* | 20. W. Gordon, D.*
10. R. M. Switzer, R.* | 21. R. Crosser, D.*
11. E. Ricketts, R. | 22. H. I. Emerson, R.

OKLAHOMA.
1. J. A. Gill, R. | 5. J. B. Thompson, D.*
2. W. W. Hastings, D. | 6. Scott Ferris, D.*
3. C. D. Carter, D.* | 7. J. E. McClintic, D.
4. W. H. Murray, D.* | 8. D. T. Morgan, R.

OREGON.
1. W. C. Hawley, R.* | 3. C. N. MacArthur, R
2. N. J. Sinnott, R.*

PENNSYLVANIA.
At Large—T. S. Crago, R.
At Large—M. H. Garland, R.
At Large—D. F. Lafean, R.
At Large—J. R. Scott, R.
1. W. S. Vare, R.* | 17. B. K. Focht, R.
2. G. S. Graham, R.* | 18. A. S. Kreider, R.*
3. J. H. Moore, R.* | 19. W. W. Bailey, D.*
4. G. W. Norris, R.* | 20. C. W. Heaton, R.
5. P. E. Costello, R. | 21. C. H. Rowland, R.
6. G. P. Darrow, R. | 22. A. L. Keister, R.*
7. T. S. Butler, R.* | 23. R. E. Hopwood, R.
8. H. W. Watson, R.* | 24. W. M. Brown, R.*
9. W. W. Griest, R.* | 25. M. Liebel, Jr., D.
10. J. R. Farr, R.* | 26. H. J. Steele, D.
11. J. J. Casey, D. | 27. S. T. North, R.
12. R. D. Heaton, R. | 28. S. H. Miller, R.
13. A. M. Dewalt, D. | 29. S. C. Porter, R.*
14. L. T. McFadden, R. | 30. W. H. Coleman, R.
15. E. R. Kriss, R.* | 31. J. M. Morin, R.*
16. J. V. Lesher, D.* | 32. A. J. Barchfield, R.*

RHODE ISLAND.
1. G. O'Shaunessy, D.* | 3. A. Kennedy, R.*
2. W. R. Stiness, R.

SOUTH CAROLINA.
1. R. S. Whaley, D.* | 5. D. E. Finley, D.*
2. J. J. Byrnes, D.* | 6. J. W. Ragsdale, D.*
3. Wyatt Aiken, D.* | 7. A. F. Lever, D.*
4. J. T. Johnson, D.*

SOUTH DAKOTA.
1. C. H. Dillon, R.* | 3. H. L. Gandy, D.
2. R. C. Johnson, R.*

TENNESSEE.
1. S. R. Sells, R.* | 6. J. W. Byrns, D.*
2. R. W. Austin, R.* | 7. L. P. Padgett, D.*
3. J. A. Moon, D.* | 8. T. W. Sims, D.*
4. Cordell Hull, D.* | 9. F. J. Garrett, D.*
5. W. C. Houston, D.* | 10. K. D. McKellar, D.*

TEXAS.
At Large—J. H. Davis, D.
At Large—Jeff McLemore, D.
1. Eugene Black, D. | 9. G. F. Burgess, D.*
2. Martin Dies, D.* | 10. J. P. Buchanan, D.*
3. James Young, D.* | 11. W. R. Henry, D.*
4. Sam Rayburn, D.* | 12. O. Callaway, D.*
5. H. W. Summers, D. | 13. J. H. Stephens, D.*
6. Rufus Hardy, D.* | 14. J. L. Slayden, D.*
7. A. W. Gregg, D.* | 15. J. N. Garner, D.*
8. J. H. Eagle, D.* | 16. W. R. Smith, D.*

UTAH.
1. Joseph Howell, R.* | 2. J. H. Maya, D.

VERMONT.
1. F. L. Greene, R.* | 2. P. H. Dale, R.

VIRGINIA.
1. W. A. Jones, D.* | 6. Carter Glass, D.*
2. E. W. Holland, D.* | 7. James Hay, D.*
3. A. J. Montague, D.* | 8. C. C. Carlin, D.*
4. W. A. Watson, D.* | 9. C. B. Slemp, R.*
5. F. W. Saunders, D.* | 10. H. D. Flood, D.*

WASHINGTON.
1. W. E. Humphrey, R.* | 4. W. L. La Follette, R.*
2. L. H. Hadley, R. | 5. C. C. Dill, D.
3. A. Johnson, R.*

WEST VIRGINIA.
At Large—Howard Sutherland, R.*
1. G. E. White, R. | 4. H. H. Moss, Jr., R.*
2. G. W. Bowers, R. | 5. Ed. Cooper, R.
3. A. Littlepage, D.

WISCONSIN.
1. H. A. Cooper, R.* | 7. J. J. Esch, R.*
2. A. H. Kuss, D.* | 8. S. E. Browne, R.*
3. J. M. Nelson, R.* | 9. T. D. Konop, D.*
4. W. J. Cary, R. | 10. J. A. Frear, R.*
5. W. H. Stafford, R.* | 11. I. L. Lenroot, R.*
6. M. K. Reilly, D.*

WYOMING.
1. F. W. Mondell, R.*
*Re-elected. †Elected in September.

NO REBUKE TO PRESIDENT.

Senator Stone Says Democrats Did Well—Champ Clark Surprised.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 4.—Senator William J. Stone of Missouri, Chairman of the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee, considers the result of the election an emphatic indorsement of the Wilson Administration. He said today:

"The Republicans have been saying that if they could become united they could lick us. They were united everywhere, and the contest generally was a clean-cut fight between the Democrats standing by Wilson's Administration and the Republicans opposing it.

"Considering the fact that this is an off-year; that the Democrats have enacted a new tariff law and new currency legislation; that we have had to meet the hard times cry, and that a great war is on which has absorbed public attention, I think the Democrats have done remarkably well.

"I have just sent President Wilson a telegram congratulating him on the fact that the country has voiced its approval of his policies.

"With Democratic majorities reduced, the fight between the two parties in Congress will be interesting. The Democrats will be on their mettle."

BOWLING GREEN, Mo., Nov. 4.—Champ Clark, Speaker of the National House of Representatives, commenting this morning on the Republican victories in a majority of the States in which elections were held yesterday, said the vote was not a rebuke to the Wilson Administration, but "just one more thing that could happen during these days of European war.

"The result at the polls throughout the country," said the Speaker, "was a great surprise to me. But the defeat of a great number of Democratic Senators and Congressmen is not a rebuke to the policies of President Wilson. No, it is just a natural occurrence, one that might happen during these days of general mixup. The European war may have had something to do with it."

The Speaker was re-elected by a majority of about 6,000.

COX'S LOSING MARGIN SMALL.

Willis Governor of Ohio by About 1,200—Harding Ran Better.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 4.—That Ohio will have a Republican Senator to succeed Theodore E. Burton, a Republican Governor to succeed James M. Cox, Democrat, and a Republican majority in the State Congressional delegation is assured. Gov. Cox conceded his defeat to-day and sent a message of congratulations to his successful opponent.

From the returns on the Governorship at hand it is estimated that Willis will have from 3,000 to 12,000 over Cox for Governor. Harding was elected United States Senator by a larger vote than that given to Willis. The entire Republican ticket has been elected.

SHERMAN GAINING BY LATE RETURNS

Illinois Republicans Predict That Missing Districts Will Elect Him by About 4,000.

DOWN-STATE TO DECIDE

Republican Chairman Claims Election by More Than 12,000—Missing Districts Not Democratic Strongholds.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The complete returns from the 1,760 precincts in Cook County and from 2,386 precincts down State—the Republicans assert—indicate an ultimate plurality of 4,000 to 5,000 for Senator L. Y. Sherman, Republican.

Outside of Cook County 422 precincts are still missing. These may increase Sherman's lead, or they may turn to the advantage of Roger C. Sullivan, the Democratic candidate for the United States Senate.

Raymond Robins, the Progressive candidate, appeared today as a weaker third than the returns of election night indicated. His vote in the State probably will be about 51 per cent. of that received by Col. Roosevelt two years ago.

The complete return from Cook County for the three leading candidates follow:

Sullivan, Democrat	157,874
Sherman, Republican	101,275
Robins, Progressive	87,039
Sullivan's plurality	56,599

Of the 2,788 precincts down-State 2,366 give the following vote:

Sherman	288,031
Sullivan	185,321
Robins	94,562
Sherman's plurality	52,310

If the same ratio is maintained in the vote of the 422 missing precincts,

WHITMAN WON BY 136,894 PLURALITY

Wadsworth Far Behind in the Election, with Only 54,947 Votes to Spare.

ALBANY CONTROL UPSET

Only Two Democratic Congressmen Saved and Constitution Will Be Revised by Republicans.

Elected

Governor—CHARLES S. WHITMAN.
Lieut. Gov.—EDWARD SCHOENECK.
United States Senator — J. W. WADSWORTH, Jr.
Secretary of State—FRANCIS M. HUGO.
Comptroller—EUGENE M. TRAVIS.
Treasurer—JAMES L. WELLS.
Attorney General—EGBERT E. WOODBURY.
State Engineer and Surveyor—FRANK M. WILLIAMS.
*Associate Judge Court of Appeals—SAMUEL SEABURY.

*Democrat.

Governor-elect Whitman's plurality stands, in the light of the later returns, almost where it did on the early returns announced in THE TIMES yesterday. He has 136,894 more than Gov. Glynn.

Senator-elect Wadsworth ran away behind him, and was apparently pulled through by the vote for Whitman. His vote was 80,000 less than Whitman's, his plurality being only 54,947.

Whitman pulled the whole of the Republican State ticket in with him, with one exception. Justice Samuel Seabury, nominated by the Democrats and the Progressives for Judge of the Court of Appeals, has defeated Judge Emory A. Chase. Seabury has the satisfaction of knowing that his success in climbing above a landslide was not the product of any faction or any one part of the State, for voters seem to have cut their tickets in his favor impartially in city and country, in Brooklyn and Buffalo, in the north and the south.

George Henry Payne, speaking for the managers of Justice Seabury's contest for a seat in the Court of Appeals, said last night:

"We claim the election of Justice Seabury by a plurality of 50,000 or 60,000. The remarkable thing about the returns is that, while we have carried Manhattan by 71,000 and the Greater City by 151,000, we have not been able to get complete returns.

"In Elmira, Whitman had a plurality of 14, while Seabury had a plurality of 2,100; in Monroe, Whitman's plurality was 19,000, while Chase, running with him, had only 5,000 plurality."

John A. Bensel, the Democratic candidate for State Engineer and Surveyor, was swamped. He ran far behind his ticket; how far cannot be known until more returns come in. However, the cutting of Bensel, like the cutting in favor of Seabury, was confined to no section and seems to have represented a general sentiment. Brooklyn, for instance, which gave Glynn a plurality of over 5,000, gave a plurality of over 1,000 for Williams, Bensel's opponent, a difference of between 6,000 and 7,000. Similar cuts in other parts of the State indicate that when the returns are all in, Bensel's defeat will seem phenomenal.

"The Massachusetts ballot proved of great importance in facilitating independent voting. The returns from every part of the State show that when the voter could not vote in the circle under an emblem, but had to go down the line and pick out each candidate for himself, he took the opportunity to do some scratching. The returns proving this are numerous and confined to no county. Everywhere we find that while the head of the ticket carried the county, some lesser candidate on the opposition ticket carried it by a majority equally large. The efficacy of the Massachusetts ballot in this respect is proved in a hundred instances."

Two examples in Erie County went for Whitman by 18,598, but Thomas B. Lockwood, the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, carried it by 5,425. It may be said that Lockwood lives in Erie and that this was a tribute from his home county, but Mitchell May, the Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, who does not live in Erie, carried it by 2,707, and Albert C. Carp of Syracuse, the Democratic candidate for State Treasurer, carried it by 575. The other Republican candidates who carried it got pluralities resembling Whitman's: Travis for Controller, 15,382; Woodbury for Attorney General, 17,046; Williams for State Engineer, 16,795; Wadsworth for Senator, 17,809, but Judge Seabury, Democratic and Progressive candidate for the Court of Appeals, carried it by 15,752.

In Chemung County, to take another example, Whitman's plurality was about 500, but Judge Seabury carried the county by 3,000.

If President Wilson wishes to express appreciation to any Democratic leader for sending Congressmen to Washington to support him, he will have to extend these felicitations to Charles F. Murphy and to nobody else. Murphy and his vassal in Buffalo, Fitzpatrick, were the only leaders who sent any Democratic Congressmen at all to Washington. Elsewhere the Republican slate of victories is unmarked by a Democratic name.

Murphy, despite the storm that laid low all the other trunks in the Democratic forest, actually increased his representation in the Assembly—by only two votes, it is true, but it was an increase instead of a decrease. Only one Progressive was elected to the Assembly. He was Hamilton Fish, Jr., and he had a Democratic indorsement.

The landslide carried with it all the Republican candidates for Delegate-at-Large to the Constitutional Convention. The ticket headed by Senator Root was easily elected. The Republicans have also captured the district delegates, and they will have a large majority in the Convention. When Charles F. Murphy procured a special election to call a Constitutional Convention last April, and when the proposition was carried by the votes of the Democratic Organization and in some districts by fraud, he expected to control the Convention and use it as an instrument for increasing the city's representation in the Legislature. The instrument he forged with such care has been taken from him by the Republicans, and they and not he will deal with the question of representation and all other questions that may come before the Convention.

THE NEW LEGISLATURE.

Two-thirds Republican Majority in Both Branches—One Progressive.

Revised returns from the elections to the Legislature show some increases in the Republican representation in the Assembly which will bring the Republican majorities in both branches up to the two-thirds vote necessary to override a Governor's veto. This will give the Republican machine, provided it can control a majority of the Republican members in the Legislature, a check on Governor-elect Whitman in case his policies should run counter to the wishes of the machine.

The revised returns give the following complexion to the two branches of the law-making body:

SENATE.

Republicans	34
Democrats	17
Progressives	0
Total	51

ASSEMBLY.

Republicans	100
Democrats	49
Progressives	1
Total	150

This gives the Democrats an actual gain of one in the Assembly at the expense of the Progressives. The extent of the upset will be appreciated from the following table showing the make-up of the present Legislature:

SENATE.

Democrats	32
Republicans	17
Independent Democrat	1
Progressive	1
Total	51

ASSEMBLY.

Dist.	Elected.	Defeated.
6.	W. B. Carswell, D.	C. F. Murphy, R.
9.	P. R. Lawson, D.	A. I. Nova, D.
19.	G. W. Simpson, D.	F. A. Higgins, R.
23.	Geo. Cromwell, R.	W. C. Rowland, D.
41.	M. S. Halliday, R.	R. P. Bush, D.

Assembly.

KINGS.

4.	P. A. McArdle, D.	G. Langhorst, R.
19.	W. A. Bacher, D.	W. Pruss, R.
23.	N. V. Finkelstein, R.	F. X. Sullivan, D.

NEW YORK.

6.	N. P. Perlmah, R.	I. Apfel, D.
8.	S. Scharlin, D.	S. Sufrin, P.
19.	P. R. Cotter, R.	A. A. Raphael, D.
26.	J. Steinberg, R.	I. L. Seide, D.
28.	S. A. Cotillo, D.	G. E. Findlater, R&P
31.	A. A. Feinberg, R.	M. Solomon, D.

QUEENS.

4.	G. E. Polhemus, D.	J. S. Eadie, R. & P.

SULLIVAN.

H. B. Stratton, D. & P. P. L. Twichell, R.

The vote for State Senator in the Sixth Senate District in Brooklyn was so close that a recount may be asked to settle who was elected. On Tuesday night it appeared from the returns that Under Sheriff Charles F. Murphy, the Republican candidate, had won. Yesterday the vote, as tabulated, showed 12,858 for Murphy, as against 12,880 for William B. Carswell, the Democratic nominee, a difference of but twenty-two votes in favor of Carswell. Mr. Murphy asserts that he has been elected by from ten to fifteen votes, but the returns have not been verified, and both sides are awaiting with keen interest the result of the official canvass of the vote.

While the general result of the election was disastrous to the Democrats in Kings County, they gained five seats in the Assembly. One was lost by the Republicans and four by the Progressives. The Bull Moose representation in the Assembly from Kings County was completely wiped out.

The Progressives suffered worst in the upset attending the Legislative election throughout the State. In the present Legislature they have one Senator and twenty Assemblymen. The lone Progressive elected this year is Hamilton Fish, Jr., who represents Putnam County in the Assembly now. With Democratic indorsement he was a candidate for re-election against John R. Vale, the Republican boss of the county. Mr. Fish defeated him by about 150 votes.

The early returns indicated the election of still another Progressive—Solomon Sufrin, of the Eighth (New York) Assembly District, who is a member of the present Legislature. Revised figures show a plurality for Sydney Scharlin, his Democratic opponent.

Revised returns last night showed a plurality for George F. Cromwell, former Borough President of Richmond, who was Republican candidate for Senator from the Twenty-third Senate District, composed of the Counties of Richmond and Rockland. The early returns indicated the election of W. C. Rostend, the Democratic candidate. Both counties sent a Democrat to the present Assembly.

THE CITY VOTE.

Glynn's Plurality 55,060, Gerard's 120,933—Figures in Detail.

Here are revised figures on the city vote in detail:

UNITED STATES SENATOR.

	Gerard, Dem.	Wadsworth, Rep.	Colby, Prog.
Manhattan	123,365	67,530	9,877
Bronx	40,070	21,343	3,511
Brooklyn	107,986	51,493	7,542
Queens	32,189	15,817	1,557
Richmond	8,010	4,514	393
Total	311,630	190,607	22,880

Gerard's plurality, 120,933.

GOVERNOR.

	Glynn, Dem.	Whitman, Rep.	Davenport, Prog.	Sulzer, Prch.
Manhattan	119,301	83,425	5,598	11,511
Bronx	36,004	23,917	1,896	4,470
Brooklyn	101,042	95,631	4,850	11,474
Queens	28,628	22,238	1,057	2,033
Richmond	7,674	5,478	255	560
Total	292,649	236,689	13,659	30,048

Glynn's plurality, 55,960.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR.

	Lockwood, Dem.	Schoeneck, Rep.	Hamlin, Prog.
Manhattan	112,038	78,233	11,576
Bronx	34,565	23,912	4,589
Brooklyn	96,530	90,203	9,021
Queens	28,434	18,955	2,184
Richmond	7,427	4,824	521
Total	279,314	219,157	28,191

Lockwood's plurality, 60,157.

SECRETARY OF STATE.

	May, Dem.	Hugo, Rep.	Stern, Prog.
Manhattan	119,344	68,506	24,752
Bronx	37,602	22,528	5,380
Brooklyn	106,106	81,224	8,683
Queens	30,572	16,471	1,874
Richmond	7,772	4,415	440
Total	301,398	193,104	31,129

May's plurality, 108,294.

CONTROLLER.

	Schmer, Dem.	Travis, Rep.	Burnham, Prog.
Manhattan	118,097	73,735	11,375
Bronx	38,242	23,735	4,009
Brooklyn	100,399	87,306	7,745
Queens	31,138	17,059	1,879
Richmond	7,732	4,720	428
Total	295,608	206,555	25,436

Schmer's plurality, 89,053.

TREASURER.

	Carp, Dem.	Wells, Rep.	Call, Prog.
Manhattan	108,658	75,180	15,481
Bronx	33,273	25,358	5,903
Brooklyn	94,791	87,616	12,472
Queens	28,833	17,153	3,031
Richmond	7,338	4,670	809
Total	272,893	209,988	37,498

Carp's plurality, 62,905.

ATTORNEY GENERAL.

	Parsons, Dem.	Woodbury, Rep.	Elder, Prog.
Manhattan	119,081	72,565	14,478
Bronx	34,310	23,522	4,859
Brooklyn	103,665	84,450	13,371
Queens	29,118	16,815	2,960
Richmond	7,405	4,608	499
Total	274,629	202,020	36,147

Parson's plurality, 72,609.

ENGINEER AND SURVEYOR.

	Bensel, Dem.	Williams, Rep.	Collins, Prog.
Manhattan	104,142	79,658	12,700
Bronx	32,296	25,836	4,363
Brooklyn	90,629	91,593	8,844
Queens	28,420	18,282	1,905
Richmond	7,158	5,048	433
Total	262,647	219,927	27,945

Bensel's plurality, 42,720.

ASSOCIATE JUDGE COURT OF APPEALS.

	Seabury, Dem., Prog., Ind. L.	Chase, Rep.
Manhattan	135,753	63,952
Bronx	44,746	19,792
Brooklyn	113,734	78,933
Queens	20,483	12,891
Richmond	8,198	4,325
Total	331,803	179,823

Seabury's plurality, 151,885.

SUPREME COURT, (FIRST DISTRICT.)

	Manhattan.	Bronx.	Total.
Dugro, (Dem.)	101,324	31,942	133,266
Weeks, (Dem.)	86,147	27,125	113,272
Wasservogel, (Rep.)	68,501	21,325	89,826
Davies, (Rep.)	48,138	14,644	62,802
Miller, (Prog.)	8,364	2,535	10,899
Meyers, (Prog.)	6,906	2,489	9,395

Dugro over Wasservogel, 32,823.
Weeks over Davies, 37,989.

JUDGE OF CITY COURT.

	Manhattan.	Bronx.	Total.
Allen, (Dem.)	109,743	35,177	144,920
Griffiths, (Rep.)	64,668	20,825	85,493
Schaap, (Prog.)	24,395	8,454	32,849

Allen's plurality, 59,427.

La Fetra, (Dem.)	101,001	30,776	131,777
Stryker, (Rep.)	65,682	21,807	87,489
Davis, (Prog.)	14,954	6,430	21,384

La Fetra's plurality, 44,308.

MUNICIPAL COURT JUDGE.

Second District.

Levine, (Dem.)	10,314
Hartman, (Rep.-Prog.)	15,302

Hartman's plurality, 4,988.

State Vote for Governor and Senator.

County.	Governor. Glynn, Dem.	Whitman, Rep.	D'port, Prog.	Sulzer, Prch.	U. S. Senator. Gerard, Dem.	Wadsworth, Rep.	Colby, Prog.
Albany	13,894	25,598	496	3,259	13,874	24,739	963
Allegheny	1,786	4,448	531	1,701	1,076	3,093	439
Bronx	36,004	20,917	1,899	4,470	40,070	21,343	3,511
Broome	4,939	6,290	240	4,951	4,020	6,407	237
Cattaraugus	2,719	5,557	187	1,093	2,573	6,224	87
Cayuga	2,568	4,217	228	646	2,676	4,488	226
Chautauqua	2,627	10,552	708	2,760	2,971	10,193	892
Chemung	3,581	4,083	165	3,830	3,483	5,047	392
Chenango	1,781	3,449	271	2,748	1,937	2,110	183
Clinton	2,593	3,150	67	480	1,735	2,420	97
Columbia	2,995	4,627	179	1,096	3,354	4,055	160
Cortland	1,447	3,740	158	804	1,526	3,553	185
Delaware	1,883	4,258	271	2,805	2,566	4,724	223
Dutchess	4,625	6,998	306	1,105	4,722	7,685	200
Erie	30,488	49,187	3,855	2,821	29,109	48,949	3,486
Essex	1,577	3,143	528	410	672	1,394	317
Franklin	2,215	4,057	230	290	1,997	4,187	187
Fulton	1,868	4,227	815	681	1,890	4,149	324
Genesee	1,449	4,767	261	337	1,553	4,293	422
Greene	1,910	3,394	92	1,161	2,529	3,228	80
Hamilton	439	470	35	71	847	337	7
Herkimer	3,184	4,360	703	948	3,202	4,444	657
Jefferson	3,042	6,615	254	1,458	4,150	5,490	...
Kings	102,042	96,631	4,850	11,474	107,996	81,493	7,742
Lewis	1,708	2,528	301	352	1,658	2,494	284
Livingston	2,210	4,247	291	824	2,057	4,846	308
Madison	2,082	4,052	394	784	2,208	4,559	297
Monroe	19,869	33,252	3,031	2,398	12,816	33,485	3,106
Montgomery	3,110	3,729	479	1,247	3,297	3,560	380
Nassau	6,154	8,471	767	975	6,048	7,079	839
New York	119,301	83,425	5,598	11,511	123,365	67,530	9,877
Niagara	4,852	10,216	492	1,103	4,944	10,115	424
Oneida	13,597	14,144	1,898	2,348	9,986	532	2,047
Onondaga	13,418	21,337	1,776	2,435	12,567	21,134	2,254
Ontario	2,968	6,158	478	1,162	3,024	5,903	552
Orange	7,274	11,024	1,510	2,206	8,174	11,073	3,022
Orleans	1,564	3,854	134	546	1,917	3,889	180
Oswego	4,072	7,549	359	1,427	3,811	7,497	566
Otsego	2,098	4,296	309	3,532	2,185	3,297	...
Putnam	970	1,293	80	417	1,007	1,317	142
Queens	28,628	22,238	1,057	2,033	32,189	15,817	1,557
Rensselaer	11,476	13,661	1,305	1,230	11,747	13,742	...
Richmond	7,674	5,478	255	560	8,010	4,514	393
Rockland	2,530	3,848	310	1,585	3,300	3,590	501
St. Lawrence	4,142	9,851	735	977	3,645	8,398	658
Saratoga	4,298	6,759	616	1,140	3,973	6,814	247
Schenectady	3,383	6,988	723	4,448	4,343	7,716	1,051
Schoharie	1,191	2,243	65	2,115	1,789	2,186	44
Schuyler	580	1,330	60	1,325	186	393	32
Seneca	1,534	2,973	85	1,010	1,484	2,934	91
Steuben	4,043	8,629	780	5,760	4,852	7,098	782
Suffolk	5,718	9,778	436	1,645	6,314	8,495	578
Sullivan	2,720	3,245	127	1,248	3,099	3,548	126
Tioga	1,207	2,506	105	1,805	1,283	2,440	162
Tompkins	2,592	3,748	201	1,456	1,978	3,597	352
Ulster	5,104	9,429	193	1,238	6,121	9,604	351
Warren	1,540	2,725	112	352	2,265	4,395	102
Washington	2,943	6,232	251	655	2,597	5,649	326
Wayne	2,817	6,512	497	809	3,573	6,617	602
Westchester	17,928	25,589	2,010	1,398	18,850	23,333	1,895
Wyoming	1,308	4,669	282	804	1,378	3,975	384
Yates	707	2,183	130	589	825	2,252	156
Total	537,448	674,342	47,277	119,204	581,177	616,124	56,292

Whitman's plurality, 136,894. (with 84 election districts missing.)
Wadsworth's plurality, 54,947. (with 208 election districts missing.)

DISTRICT ATTORNEY, (Queens.)

O'Leary, (Dem.)	26,462
Faber, (Rep.)	14,305
Young, (Nat. Prog.)	9,712

O'Leary's plurality, 12,157.

CONGRESS.

Dist.
11—Riordan, (D.,) 12,959; Scofield, (R.,) 7,685; Mills, (Pro.,) 959. Riordan's plurality, 5,274.
12—London, (Socialist,) 5,568; Goldfogle, (D.,) 4,944; Borowsky, (Pus.,) 1,133. London's plurality, 624.
13—Loft, (D.,) 5,724; March, (Fus.,) 3,016; Wite, (Pro.,) 742. Loft's plurality, 2,708.
14—Farley, (D.,) 7,336; La Guardia, (R.,) 5,331; Golden, (Pro.,) 1,511. Farley's plurality, 2,005.
15—Cohry, (D.,) 13,453; Ehrhorn, (Fus.,) 6,690; Glassen, (Pro.,) 290. Conry's plurality, 6,763.
16—Dooling, (D.,) 12,805; Stowell, (R.,) 5,892; Moran, (Pro.,) 1,080. Dooling's plurality, 6,913.
17—Carew, (D.,) 10,245; Bats, (Fus.,) 7,851. Carew's plurality, 2,394.
18—Patten, (D.,) 12,340; Francis, (Fus.,) 8,745. Patten's plurality, 3,597.
19—Chandler, (Pro.,) 10,522; Buttenwieser, (D.,) 10,042; Ottinger, (R.,) 8,497. Chandler's plurality, 480.
20—Siegel, (Fus.,) 4,927; Cantor, (D.,) 4,788. Siegel's plurality, 139.
21—Hulbert, (D.,) 11,459; Ansorge, (Fus.,) 9,637. Hulbert's plurality, 1,822.
22—Bruckner, (D.,) 17,885; Kozrel, (Fus.,) 8,987. Bruckner's plurality, 8,998.
23—Goulden, (D.,) 18,809; Niles, (R.,) 12,061; Ayres, (Pro.,) 8,236. Goulden's plurality, 6,748.
24—Oglesby, (D.,) 8,919; Forster, (R.,) 6,766; Smith, (Pro.,) 1,466. Oglesby's plurality, 2,153.

Brooklyn.

3—Flynn, (D.,) 11,288; Serenbetz, (R.,) 8,356; Wicke, (Pro.,) 865. Flynn's plurality, 2,932.
4—Dale, (D.,) 7,857; Kissel, (R.,) 5,460; Schaffer, (Pro.,) 1,330. Dale's plurality, 2,397.
5—Maher, (D.,) 11,648; Hobley, (R.,) 8,347; Gaynor, (Pro.,) 2,465. Maher's plurality, 3,301.
6—Rowe, (R.,) 21,831; Ross, (D.,) 16,184; Bacon, (Pro.,) 1,780. Rowe's plurality, 5,667.
7—Fitzgerald, (D.,) 14,690; Wilcox, (R.,) 6,654; Allen, (Pro.,) 607. Fitzgerald's plurality, 8,245.
8—Griffin, (D.,) 20,154; Clark, (R.,) 9,943; Schonberg, (Pro.,) 1,525. Griffin's plurality, 10,211.
*9—Swift, (R.,) 18,390; O'Brien, (D.,) 15,442; Larkin, (Pro.,) 1,728. Swift's plurality, 2,948.
*District includes a portion of Queens.

QUEENS.

1—Brown, (D.,) 3,115; Hicks, (R.,) 1,637; Post, (Pro.,) 153. Brown's plurality, 1,478.
2—Caldwell, (D.,) 21,288; Hopkins, (R.,) 10,529; Moriarty, (Pro.,) 1,105. Caldwell's plurality, 10,759.

STATE SENATE.

Manhattan and Bronx.

Dist.
11—Sullivan, (D.,) 8,045; Widdi, (Fus.,) 5,411. Sullivan's plurality, 2,634.
12—Doll, (D.,) 7,680; Weiss, (Fus.,) 6,670; Dutleman, (Pro.,) 89. Doll's plurality, 1,010.
13—Walker, (D.,) 10,561; Rose, (R.,) 4,163; Canavan, (Pro.,) 686. Walker's plurality, 6,398.
14—Foley, (D.,) 10,954; Doubleday, (R.,) 4,291; Mullaney, (Pro.,) 664. Foley's plurality, 6,663.
15—Boylan, (D.,) 10,047; Coughlin, (Fus.,) 5,054. Boylan's plurality, 4,993.
16—Wagner, (D.,) 11,032; Mahan, (Fus.,) 5,840. Wagner's plurality, 5,192.
17—Mills, (Fus.,) 11,160; Herrick, (D.,) 7,721. Mills's plurality, 3,439.
18—Bennett, (Fus.,) 15,756; Pollock, (D.,) 13,183. Bennett's plurality, 2,753.
19—Simpson, (D.,) 17,193; Higgins, (R.,) 16,470; Salamp, (Pro.,) 6,483. Simpson's plurality, 723.
20—Joseph, (D.,) 7,119; Kelleher, (Fus.,) 6,624. Joseph's plurality, 495.
21—Dunnigan, (D.,) 15,273; Schector, (Fus.,) 12,448. Dunnigan's plurality, 2,825.
22—Hamilton, (D.,) 23,104; Henschel, (Fus.,) 19,444. Hamilton's plurality, 3,660.

BROOKLYN.

3—Cullen, (D.,) 10,326; Bowman, (R.,) 5,203; Moore, (Pro.,) 495. Cullen's plurality, 5,123.
4—Lockwood, (R.,) 12,823; Wise, (D.,) 9,372; Forrester, (Pro.,) 942. Lockwood's plurality, 3,451.
5—Haffernan, (D.,) 15,490; Engel, (R.,) 8,012; Cronin, (Pro.,) 2,523. Haffernan's plurality, 7,478.
6—Carswell, (D.,) 12,880; Murphy, (R.,) 12,858; Neary, (Pro.,) 1,265. Carswell's plurality, 22.
7—Carroll, (D.,) 9,912; Ritchis, (R.,) 6,560; Ream, (Pro.,) 713. Carroll's plurality, 3,352.
8—Burlingame, (R.,) 21,847; Fennelly, (D.,) 18,571; Colvin, (Pro.,) 2,461. Burlingame's plurality, 3,276.
*9—Lawson, (R.,) 8,481; Nova, (D.,) 7,685; Buick, (Pro.,) 613. Lawson's plurality, 796.
10—Gilchrist, (R.,) 13,250; Torberg, (D.,) 12,258; Forbell, (Pro.,) 2,200. Gilchrist's plurality, 992.
*This district includes a portion of Queens.

QUEENS.

2—Patten, (D.,) 26,660; Weiland, (R.,) 16,418; Knapp, (Pro.,) 227. Patten's plurality, 10,251.
23—Cromwell, (R.,) 6,805; Rondund, (D.,) 6,080; Sickels, (Pro.,) 278. Cromwell elected; plurality in Richmond, 727.
This district includes the Borough of Richmond and Rockland County.

Assembly.

MANHATTAN AND THE BRONX.

Dist.
1—Ryan, (D.,) 2,918; Popino, (R.,) 1,426; Volturo, (P.,) 172. Ryan's plurality, 1,492.
2—Smith, (D.,) 3,711; Siegel, (Fus.,) 1,379. Smith's plurality, 2,332.
3—Marasco, (D.,) 4,263; Taylor, (Fus.,) 462. Marasco's plurality, 3,801.
4—Schimell, (D.,) 2,782; Fromberg, (Fus.,) 1,440. Schimell's plurality, 1,342.
5—McDonald, (D.,) 4,439; Parks, (Fus.,) 1,349. McDonald's plurality, 3,090.
6—Perlman, (Fus.,) 2,913; Apfel, (D.,) 2,039. Perlman's plurality, 874.
7—McElligott, (D.,) 3,315; Todd, (Fus., 1,892. McElligott's plurality, 1,423.
8—Scharlin, (D.,) 2,281; Sufrin, (Fus.,) 2,211. Scharlin's plurality, 70.
9—Donohue, (D.,) 2,998; Williamson, (R.,) 1,008; McCourt, (P.,) 224. Donohue's plurality, 1,990.
10—Friedland, (D.,) 2,448; Bleecker, (Fus.,) 2,208. Friedland's plurality, 238.
11—Kerrigan, (D.,) 4,412; Mann, (R.,) 1,834; Harrabill, (P.,) 229. Kerrigan's plurality, 2,778.
12—Kelly, (D.,) 3,273; Totten, (R.,) 944; Kuttner, (P.,) 215. Kelly's purality, 2,329.
13—Campbell, (D.,) 3,199; Roche, (Fus.,) 1,516. Campbell's plurality, 1,683.
14—Tudor, (D.,) 3,549; Goss, (Fus.,) 2,346. Tudor's plurality, 1,203.
15—Ellenbogen, (R.,) 4,490; Newman, (D.,) 3,674; Opdyke, (P.,) 714. Ellenbogen's plurality, 816.
16—McCue, (D.,) 3,236; Keenan, (Fus.,) 2,111. McCue's plurality, 1,125.
17—Bourke, (R.,) 3,644; Rose, (D.,) 2,373; Young, (P.,) 873. Bourke's plurality, 1,271.
18—Goldberg, (D.,) 3,748; Gear, (Fus.,) 2,203. Goldberg's plurality, 1,545.
19—Cotter, (D.,) 5,332; Raphael, (R.,) 4,924; Walsh, (P.,) 1,689. Cotter's plurality, 408.
20—Aranow, (D.,) 3,183; Jones, (Fus.,) 2,399. Aranow's plurality, 784.
21—Mitchell, (R.,) 4,296; Kane, (D.,) 4,032; Randolph, (P.,) 809; Mitchell's plurality, 264.
22—Bloch, (D.,) 3,031; Seifert, (R.,) 1,456; Moore, (P.,) 1,571. Bloch's plurality, 1,575.
23—Oliver, (D.,) 10,323; Crane, (R.,) 9,887; Heywood, (P.,) 1,765. Oliver's plurality, 439.
24—Kiernan, (D.,) 2,744; Drucker, (Fus.,) 1,398. Kiernan's plurality, 1,346.
25—Stoddard, (R.,) 3,326; O'Neil, (D.,) 2,711; O'Brien, (P.,) 206. Stoddard's plurality, 615.
26—Steinberg, (Fus.,) 3,236; Seide, (D.,) 2,698. Steinberg's plurality, 568.
27—Rice, (D.,) 2,907; Johns, (D.,) 2,211; Meyer, (P.,) 614. Rice's plurality, 396.
28—Cotillo, (D.,) 2,311; Findlater, (Fus.,) 1,640. Cotillo's plurality, 671.
29—Conklin, (R.,) 3,534; Axman, (D.,) 3,110; Muhlker, (P.,) 693. Conklin's plurality, 424.
30—Donovan, (D.,) 4,737; McEnany, (Fus.,) 3,862. Donovan's plurality, 875.
31—Feinberg, (R.,) 3,307; Salomon, (D.,) 3,241; Hersnfield, (P.,) 2,709. Feinberg's plurality, 66.
32—Evans, (D.,) 11,540; Grimler, (Fus.,) 7,500. Evans's plurality, 4,040.
33—Miller, (D.,) 5,671; Silver, (R.,) 3,035. Miller's plurality, 2,636.
34—Fertig, (D.,) 9,202; Hirschberg, (Fus.,) 8,354. Fertig's plurality, 848.
35—Callahan, (D.,) 8,720; Patton, (Fus.,) 7,396. Callahan's plurality, 1,324.

TWO TIES IN JERSEY TOWN.

Candidates for Mayor and Councilmen in Somers Point to Contest.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 4.—The citizens of Somers Point, about ten miles from here, are wondering tonight who is "boss," as the election returns of yesterday show that the vote for Thomas Crissay, Republican, and Lewis B. Matias, Democrat, candidates for Mayor, is a tie.

There was also a tie in the vote between A. A. Atkinson, Democrat, and Jesse Atkinson, Republican, uncle and nephew, candidates for Council. There will be contests.

Butler Mayor Wins by Two Votes.

BUTLER, N. J., Nov. 4.—Two votes were the margin by which the Democratic candidate for Mayor, Jesse Ward, yesterday, defeated his Republican opponent, J. Y. C. Clouse. There will in all probability be a contest for the office in the courts, as the Republicans claim that a Democratic member of the Election Board at the First District prevented five men from voting while it yet lacked five minutes of 7 o'clock. Ward's vote was 283, Clouse's 281.

ONLY 6,000 TEXAS MOOSE.

Their Vote Falls Off from 26,000—Heavy Gains by Socialists.

Special to The New York Times.

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 4.—The Progressive Party made a poor showing in Texas. Incomplete returns indicate that F. M. Ethridge, Progressive candidate for Governor, received less than 6,000 votes, as compared with 26,756 votes cast two years ago for Roosevelt for President.

DALLAS, Texas, Nov. 4.—All constitutional amendments were defeated in Texas. They were the initiative, referendum, and recall; increasing pay of State legislators, and permitting counties to build sea walls. The Progressive vote was greatly reduced throughout Texas.

MORE NEW HAVEN DIRECTORS APPEAR

Five, Including Wm. Rockefeller, Still to Come Before the Grand Jury.

ROBBINS SAYS HE'S IMMUNE

Counsel Holds He Gave a Statement to Commerce Board and Testified Before Grand Jury.

Twelve more of the twenty-one Directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company who were indicted on Monday for conspiring to monopolize the transportation facilities of New England appeared yesterday in the Federal District Court to enter their pleas of not guilty. This leaves five yet to surrender themselves, of whom William Rockefeller is expected to come in this afternoon at 2 o'clock. He is now in the Adirondacks, and the District Attorney's office understands that he will not attempt to avoid the ordeal of a public appearance in court on the plea of ill-health.

The first two Directors to plead yesterday were William Skinner of Holyoke, Mass., and Alexander Cochrane of Boston. They came before Judge Foster in the morning and made the formal plea of not guilty, with leave to withdraw it or to demur before Nov. 23. Mr. Skinner was represented by Sullivan & Cromwell, and Mr. Cochrane by C. M. Sheafe, Jr. At the suggestion of Assistant District Attorney Stephenson the same bail, $5,000, was fixed for them as for George F. Baker and the other defendants, who appeared on Monday.

In the afternoon James F. Hemingway of New Haven, Robert W. Taft of Providence, R. I.; Frederick F. Brewster of New Haven, Henry K. McHarg of Stamford, Conn.; A. Heaton Robertson of New Haven, Edward Milligan of Hartford, Francis P. Maxwell of Rockville, Conn., and D. Newton Barney of Farmington, Conn., appeared before Judge Rudkin, and through Mr. Sheafe entered a similar plea, with the same date before wich they might be permitted to withdraw it. They were admitted to $5,000 bail and the proceedings were entirely formal.

Edward D. Robbins, general counsel of the company, was also present, but in entering his plea of not guilty he obtained leave to substitute a plea in bar. It is understood that Mr. Robbins is likely to claim immunity. He will contend that he is entitled to it on the ground that he not only submitted a statement to the Interstate Commission when it was investigating the affairs of the New Haven, but that he was called upon to testify before the Federal Grand Jury at the time that it was investigating the agreement between the New Haven and the Grand Trunk concerning the abandonment by the Grand Trunk of its plan to invade New England.

Harry Alonzo Cushing, at one time Acting Dean of Columbia Law School, whose unexpected resignation in November, 1909, caused some stir

'MURPHY MUST GO,' MITCHEL DECLARES

Mayor Suggests the Only Way to Force the Boss Is to "Starve Him Out."

CHIEFTAIN NOT WORRIED

"Feeling Very Fit," but Going Away for a Rest—Chairman Osborn Analyzes Result.

The overwhelming defeat of the Democratic ticket on Tuesday was the one subject of discussion among local Democrats yesterday and those opposed to the leadership of Charles F. Murphy revived speculation as to how long he expected to remain leader and how best to get rid of him. Mayor Mitchel emphatically blamed Murphy for the defeat of the ticket and suggested that the only way to force the Tammany Leader to resign was to "starve him out."

Murphy did not seem to be depressed over the result or alarmed over the talk that he must go. He said the organization could get along all right without patronage, as it had done before. The Tammany boss pointed to Gov. Glynn's plurality in New York County of 34,000 as proof that the Tammany organization had done its duty and that the trouble lay somewhere else besides in this city.

As soon as Mayor Mitchel reached the City Hall he sent a message of congratulation to Governor-elect Whitman. When he was asked to comment upon Tuesday's result he said:

"The result of the election furnishes proof that Murphy must go. That has been a cumulative fact that ought to be plain to everyone by now. I ascribe the Democratic defeat to two things—first, the strong feeling on the part of Democrats generally against the autocratic rule of the Democratic Party in this city, and second, the division of the Democratic Party resulting in the absence of leadership on any clear programme."

Why He Indorsed Glynn.

The Mayor was reminded that he had indorsed Gov. Glynn on the ground of the Governor's independence.

"You will remember," the Mayor replied, "that I have said repeatedly that Gov. Glynn did not owe his nomination to Murphy, and that if elected, Gov. Glynn would have served his term independent of any influence from him."

Asked just how Murphy was to be eliminated, the Mayor said:

"During the next four years, owing to the general success of the entire Republican ticket, Murphy will draw sustenance from neither the city, the State nor the nation. On what will he keep his organization alive? I said when I was elected Mayor that the way to get rid of Murphy was to starve him out.

"Gov.-elect Whitman and his administration ought to have the support of everybody in the State. I wish Mr. Whitman the fullest measure of success. I and my administration will give him entire support and I am sure that Mr. Whitman, in turn, will aid the city in securing the legislation which it needs at Albany."

Murphy spent most of the day at Tammany Hall going over the election figures.

"Mayor Mitchel says you must go," he was informed.

"Yes, I understand so," he replied with a broad smile. "I am going away for a couple of weeks rest."

"The Mayor says that you will have no patronage from city, State or nation for the next few years and that you will be starved out."

"Tammany does not live on patronage," the Tammany chief said gravely.

Secretary Thomas F. Smith interrupted at this point to say that Mayor McClellan with $7,000,000 of patronage had not been able to win over a single Tammany Hall leader and that from 1901 to 1903, the same as from 1894 to 1897, Tammany never had a crumb of patronage.

"Mayor Mitchel holds you partly responsible for the Democratic defeat," Murphy was told.

"He forgets that I am merely a county leader in New York County, where the Democrats received a big plurality," was the rejoinder. "I am not responsible for the rest of the State. And how about outside of this State? Am I responsible for Democratic defeats there also? While he is at it, why does not the Mayor hold me responsible for the entire nation?"

Murphy Feeling "Very Fit."

"The Mayor appears to be worrying about your future," somebody remarked.

"Well," replied the Chief with a laugh, "I am feeling very fit. Tell the Mayor my health is good."

Murphy was reminded that Henry M. Goldfogle had been defeated for Congress by Meyer London, a Socialist.

"Yes," he replied, "it appears so. But the Socialists had to move into the district to do it."

The Tammany leaders felt keenly the defeat of both Goldfogle and Jacob Cantor, Democratic Congressional candidate in the Twentieth District.

William Church Osborn, Democratic State Chairman, did not go to State Headquarters, but spent several hours at his office going over the latest returns. After a minute study of election figures from all over the country, he said he felt sure that industrial conditions in the Eastern States were responsible for the result in New York and nearby States. He said it was impossible to set forth a specific reason for the defeat in any one State.

The State Chairman declined to say whether he would resign, now that the election was over. He said he was averse to accepting the Chairmanship in the first place, but finally was persuaded to do so. After things had quieted down and he had talked with his friends and the leaders he would decide what to do, he said.

"The figures," said Mr. Osborn, "show a general political reaction in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, and Massachusetts. It was due, I think, to the habit of our people of visiting business troubles upon the party in power. On the other hand, the food manufacturing States, where there is less manufacturing than before, stay unchanged. The loss of Democratic Congressmen in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, and Massachusetts seems to have been about on the same scale. This tendency was aggravated in this State by the well-recognized specific disabilities attached to Gov. Glynn's candidacy. The vote for Sulzer was probably Democratic to an extent of 60,000. The religious issue, in addition, may have taken away 30,000 Democratic votes. The most remarkable thing to my mind is the drop in the Progressive vote from 195,000 last election to 40,000 yesterday."

Mr. Osborn and the State Superintendent of Elections, John R. Voorhis, sent telegrams to election officials and County Chairmen all over the State instructing them to watch closely the vote for Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals.

Brooklyn Mourners Gather.

When the Democratic mourners gathered at the party headquarters in Court Square, Brooklyn, by a unanimous vote they selected their county leader, John H. McCooey, for the tough task of explaining to visitors how it all happened. Mr. McCooey did not accept the assignment with any marked show of enthusiasm.

"I might say with Whitman," said he, "that the result speaks for itself. There were a number of reasons for it, and it will, perhaps, be necessary to mention but one—we didn't get enough votes."

The Brooklyn leaders were dismayed with the loss of patronage. They have received little or nothing from Washington or from Mayor Mitchel, and with the passing of Glynn there will be nothing, they feel, coming to them from Albany. There was the usual after-election talk of a movement to depose McCooey as leader, but, so far as could be learned, no steps had been taken in that direction. George M. Curtis, Jr., Assistant Corporation Counsel, intimated that at the next County Committee meeting McCooey would be called upon to "explain" the Whitman sweep in Kings. Mr. Curtis, in the last primaries, ran independently for County Committeeman in McCooey's own district, the Eighteenth, and won. He indicated yesterday that he thought Tammany was to blame for Tuesday's defeat, and that Mayor Mitchel should be looked to by Democrats to lead the Democracy of the city in the future.

Democratic leaders in Queens expressed satisfaction over the result of the election in that borough, although Gov. Glynn's plurality was but 6,345. Considerable of the falling off was shown in the election districts where the German vote was strong and where the impeachment of Sulzer still was resented. The entire local Democratic ticket in the borough was elected, in addition to another Assemblyman in the Republican district.

Considerable interest centred in the fight for District Attorney between Denis O'Leary, Democrat; Leander B. Faber, Republican, and Eugene N. L. Young, independent. It was predicted that Young would run second in the race, but O'Leary received 25,937 votes, Faber 14,308 votes, and Young 9,423.

MISS DAVIS DISAPPOINTED.

Regrets Sulzer Beat the Progressives "So Terribly."

Katharine B. Davis, Commissioner of Correction, who was a candidate for delegate to the Constitutional Convention on the Progressive ticket, said yesterday that she couldn't understand how 116,000 persons could continue to believe in William Sulzer.

"I have no doubt that Mr. Whitman will make an admirable Governor," said Miss Davis, "but Davenport, as a Progressive, was my candidate. I am very much disappointed that the Progressive Party ran so far behind and was beaten so terribly by Mr. Sulzer. Mr. Whitman has placed the resources of his office at our disposal in the searching out of graft and wrongdoing in our institutions. When he goes to Albany I am sure he will give us his cordial support."

SULZER SAYS HE BEAT GLYNN.

Thinks Progressive Party Now Dead Throughout Nation.

William Sulzer received many congratulatory telegrams from various parts of the State yesterday upon his large vote. After studying the revised figures he said he was sure he received more than 100,000 votes, and that this number would have been doubled if the voters, at the last moment, had not shifted to Whitman, fearing a Glynn victory. It was clearly shown that his vote was responsible for the defeat of both Glynn and Davenport, he said.

"What are you going to do with the American Party?" Mr. Sulzer was asked.

"Well," he replied, "it's quite a youngster now, isn't it? We must think of its education and bringing up. Seriously speaking, however, that matter is still undecided. The American Party will be taken care of, never fear."

The former Governor expressed the opinion that Col. Roosevelt and the Progressives, not only in the State but throughout the nation, had become a dead party and never again would be a serious factor in an election.

$100,000 BET ON ELECTION.

Local Wagers Total Less Than Half the Usual Amount.

Successful bettors on the election were active in the financial district yesterday collecting their money, and the betting commissioners devoted many hours to straightening accounts. It was estimated that about $100,000 changed hands, less than half the amount usually wagered on a gubernatorial campaign.

Fred Schumm at his Brooklyn cafe distributed about $50,000, most of which represented bets on Whitman at prices which ranged from 7½ to 10 against the winning candidate to 10 to 8 in his favor.

The majority of bets settled involved sums under $1,000, but several large individual wagers were cashed. A prominent railroad official was reported to have made $8,000 on his conviction that Wadsworth would be the next Senator, getting his money down at odds of 4 to 3 a few days before election. Several Buffalo men had combined winnings of $10,000 on Whitman.

The largest loss reported was of $15,000 by a grain exporter.

ARTS AND LETTERS MEETING

Mayor to Make Welcome Address Nov. 19—The Programme.

The sixth annual joint meeting of the American Academy of Arts and Letters and the National Institute of Arts and Letters will be held in Aeolian Hall on Nov. 19 and 20. The first session will open at 10:45 Thursday morning, Nov. 19, and William Dean Howells, President of the American Academy of Arts and Letters, will preside. After an address of welcome by Mayor Mitchel, M. Brieux, of the Académie Française, will speak on "Le théâtre comme instrument d'amélioration sociale." M. Brieux will also bring formal greetings from the Académie Française to the Academy and the Institute. Brander Matthews will give an address on "What is Pure English," and Robert Herrick will read a paper on "The Quality of Imagination in American Life."

An afternoon session will be devoted to a concert by the New York Symphony Society, which Walter Damrosch will conduct. The compositions will be by members of the institute.

The third session will be held on Friday morning, Nov. 20, and the President of the National Institute will preside. At this meeting an announcement will be made by the Chancellor of the Academy. Brian Hooker will read a poem, and addresses will be made by Arthur Whiting on "The American Composer," Paul Dougherty on "Modern Tendency in Painting," and George W. Cable on "A Novelist's Philosophy." The session will close with the conferring of the gold medal of the Institute for painting.

On the evening of Nov. 18 a reception will be held in honor of M. Brieux and the members of the Academy and Institute by the President of Columbia University and Mrs. Butler at their residence, 60 Morningside Drive. J. Pierpont Morgan has invited the members to visit his library between 3 and 5 o'clock on the following Friday afternoon.

PELL'S NEW PLAN TO SETTLE

Calls for Issue of Two Classes of Notes and Gradual Liquidation.

Morgan J. O'Brien, representing the failed brokerage firm of S. H. P. Pell & Co., submitted an offer of settlement at a meeting of creditors yesterday before Referee Peter B. Olney which differed somewhat from previous plans. The first provision of the composition plan calls for the organization of a corporation to take over all the Pell assets, figured at about $8,890,963, and to liquidate them gradually. The corporation is to issue two classes of notes to the creditors, the payment of which will meet all claims dollar for dollar.

The first class of notes amounting to $1,100,000 will go to creditors other than Cotton Exchange houses and will liquidate claims in three years. The Cotton Exchange creditors are to receive notes of the second class, for which dates of payment are to be arranged later.

The Pell partners are to obtain from Robert M. Thompson, a special partner with claims aggregating $3,000,000, a waiver of all right to the funds due him if the creditors consent unanimously to the composition plan. Judge O'Brien stated that the proposal would be withdrawn if unanimous consent was not given.

New Jewish Paper Out Today.

The Day, a new national Jewish daily newspaper, edited by Herman Bernstein, will appear today. It was announced yesterday that it would be independent of any party, but would seek to "encourage American Jewish forces." The first number will contain letters of congratulation from Secretary Josephus Daniels, Secretary W. G. McAdoo, and Jacob H. Schiff.

FOUR STATES GO DRY OUT OF SIX VOTING

Colorado, Oregon, Washington, and Arizona Decide to Close Their Saloons.

OHIO IS DECIDEDLY WET

California Also Rejects Prohibition—Wets Will Control Delaware Legislature.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—Four of the six states that voted Tuesday on prohibition, according to latest returns tonight, decided to forbid the sale of alcoholic beverages in future, and two voted to retain saloons.

Ohio and California kept their saloons, while Washington, Colorado, Oregon, and Arizona closed theirs.

Ohio retained saloons by a good majority, and adopted a home rule amendment that was recognized as a saloon measure.

Missouri defeated the county unit system of local option, which precluded the rural vote on saloons in option elections.

National headquarters of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in Chicago today received returns from the election. News that was declared to be encouraging came from all the States concerned.

OREGON VOTES "DRY."

No Legal Saloons in That State After Jan. 1 Next.

Special to The New York Times.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 4.—In twenty-one counties outside of Multnomah, the largest county in the State, Statewide prohibition leads, with incomplete returns, by 4,000. At this rate, Oregon probably will go dry by between 15,000 and 20,000.

Umatilla County appears to be the only spot outside of Multnomah which has voted "wet." Returns from the twenty-one counties, exclusive of Multnomah, show 15,611 for Prohibition, and 11,637 against it. Eastern Oregon was strong for Prohibition rule, Baker voting two to one dry. Oregon will be dry after Jan. 1, 1916.

DELAWARE "WETS" WIN.

Will Control Legislature and Probably Extend Irrigated Territory.

Special to The New York Times.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 4.—The next Legislature will contain a majority of "wet" members. Party lines are not drawn. The legislators of Kent and Sussex Counties, both of which are now "dry," will in all probability order a resubmission of the local option question at a special election to be held in those counties next Fall. The Constitution provides that when a majority of the legislators of a "local option district" sign a petition for an election on this issue, it is mandatory on the General Assembly to pass a bill in accordance therewith. Kent and Sussex Counties are local option districts.

The "wet" members will also be able to prevent the "wet" districts of the State—the city of Wilmington and rural New Castle County—from again voting on the question by refusing to sign a petition to this effect. They will order a resubmission in "dry" districts, but not in "wet" sections.

The Republicans will control the House but probably the Senate. One of the State Senators elected in Kent County is Dr. Charles M. Wharton (Democrat) of Dover, a former famous football player and coach of the University of Pennsylvania eleven. He is a "wet" member.

WETS LEAD IN COLORADO.

But Country Vote Expected to Make State Dry.

Special to The New York Times.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 4.—Returns from precincts outside of Denver are coming in very slowly, and actual results on the prohibition amendment will not be known before morning. Denver, complete, gives the "wets" 38,424; "drys" 28,575; wet majority 9,849.

Out of a total of 170,000 votes counted, the wets lead by fifty votes.

Wet organizations concede that the Denver majority will be swept away by the country vote, and that they have lost the State by a small margin. A. J. Finch, Chairman of the Anti-Saloon League, refuses to modify his claim of last night that Colorado has gone dry by 20,000 and perhaps a larger majority.

WASHINGTON STATE DRY?

Prohibition Has Decided Lead, but Wets Say to Wait.

Special to The New York Times.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 4.—Out of 2,503 in the State 1,026 precincts give for Prohibition 76,961, against 76,605.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 4.—Out of 2,503 precincts in the State 1,068 give for prohibition 85,741 against 82,218. The State is apparently in the "dry" column.

Incomplete returns indicate that Pierce County (Tacoma) is wet by nearly 3,000, and King County (Seattle) by 10,000 to 12,000. Several small counties are wet by small margins. These wet majorities may overcome the dry vote of Spokane and other counties.

Marks Plans a Model Free Market.

Plans to make the Williamsburg Bridge Market a model of its kind will soon be put into effect, according to Borough President Marks, who went over the matter yesterday with Superintendent of Markets Sidney Goodacre. Sanitary floors, stands, and proper drainage as well as electric lights will be placed in the market. The unused school building which now obstructs light will be auctioned off today.

CITY BREVITIES.

The Rev. Dr. Joseph Silverman will preach on Sunday at the Temple Emanu-El, Fifth Avenue and Forty-third Street, on "What Can We Do For Palestine?"

The Stage Society will hold an exhibition at 217 Fifth Avenue on Monday, Nov. 9, for the War Fund of the Committee of Mercy.

Bernard Irwin, 8 years old, of 101 West 104th Street, was taken to Knickerbocker Hospital with a sprained ankle yesterday after he had been run over by an automobile driven by Richard Michael of 660 St. Nicholas Avenue.

The backfire of an automobile caused a fire which did $1,000 damage to a garage on the site of the old Astor House, Broadway and Vesey Street, where the Cranford Company is excavating for the Broadway subway.

Referee Edward Kaufman reported to the Supreme Court yesterday that the liabilities of The Success Magazine Company were $440,253 and the assets $4,354.

Harold Osgood Binney, who has been frequently arrested for speeding, was released yesterday on a suspended sentence, on the plea of his wife, after trial before Magistrate Appleton on a charge of disorderly conduct.

A mass meeting of negroes will be held tonight at the Salem Methodist Episcopal Church to indorse the criticisms of the Turkish Ambassador, A. Rustem Bey, on the treatment of negroes in this country.

Stonewall O'Brien, a wealthy builder of 162 Hewes Street, Williamsburg, was taken to Williamsburg Hospital with a fractured skull and other injuries sustained yesterday when he was struck at Lee Avenue and Taylor Street, Brooklyn, by a street car.

Returning from a fishing trip, William Willicet, 66 years old, of 1,368 Herkimer Street, Brooklyn, fell into a boat as he was stepping ashore, near Canarsie, and fractured his skull. He died soon afterward.

SOCIALIST'S VICTORY SETS A CITY RECORD

Meyer London Is First of Party to be Sent to Congress by New York.

DEFEATS H. M. GOLDFOGLE

Candidacy of Counsel to Cloakmakers in Union Strike Was Not Taken Seriously.

The Twelfth Congress District, on the east side, made local political history Tuesday, when for the first time in New York City a Socialist, Meyer London, was elected to Congress, defeating Henry M. Goldfogle, the Democratic and Independence League candidate. Congressman Goldfogle had been returned to Washington year after year by Tammany voters, and the election of a Socialist in his place turned that part of the east side upside down. London's plurality was placed at 924. The vote stood: Goldfogle, 4,944; Borowsky, Republican, 1,133; London, 5,868.

Meyer London is well known throughout the east side and in Socialist circles. He was counsel for the Cloakmakers' Union at the time of their strike and was practically the leader of the 50,000 workers. He is a member of the Industrial Commission of the Men's Clothing Industry. In 1912 London came within 1,000 votes of defeating Goldfogle for Congress, and his friends then said he would win the next time.

So little attention was given to him on Tuesday night that in tabulating the returns his name was overlooked and Goldfogle's plurality over Borowsky, the Republican candidate, was thought sufficient to elect him. When it became known that London actually had beaten Goldfogle the Socialists turned loose and gave him a big reception.

Mr. London is 42 years old. He was born in Russia and came to this country when 16 years old. He studied law and was admitted to the Bar in 1898, and has practiced his profession ever since. He has represented a large number of labor unions.

Discussing what he expected to do in Washington, Mr. London said last night:

"It appears that I will be in Congress in a small minority, and under the circumstances it will be impossible for me to enact any of my propositions into law. I will consider it my duty, however, to call the attention of Congress to the study of social problems and labor legislation. I believe that the American people have not yet realized the importances of social legislation. The very expression 'social conscience' seems to be a newly coined phrase in the English language. I expect to be a sort of teacher of a new philosophy of life.

"When I was a candidate among the pledges I made to the people of the east side was to come periodically to my district and give a report of my work and the work of Congress. A great many citizens are ignorant of what goes on in the National Legislature and telling the people about it will arouse interest in the work and result in a study of the proceedings."

Morris Hillquit, one of the Socialist leaders in the city, expressed delight at Mr. London's election.

"I do not think any single issue was responsible for it," he said. "The Socialist sentiment is growing stronger each year, and this year a more intelligent mode of voting and a more honest count were assured by the introduction of the new ballot. I believe Mr. London was elected two years ago, but under the old method it was impossible to get an honest count.

"I think the election of Mr. London will mark the entry of the Socialist Party into the field that has been hitherto held by the Democrats and Republicans. We are a real political factor now. Mr. London's victory will encourage thousands of Socialist votes next time."

SOCIALIST WINS IN ELIZABETH.

Harry Kopp Again to Serve in the City Council.

Special to The New York Times.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 4.—The Socialist Party elected Harry Kopp to the City Council from the Third Ward by a majority of 23. He had served a term as City Councilman, but suffered an overwhelming defeat last Fall when he sought re-election.

Opposition to Kopp in the Third Ward was based on his contesting the rights of a sewing machine company to municipal concessions. Kopp was an employe of the company, but lost his position shortly after his defeat last Fall. The Third Ward is the home of many of his former fellow-employes.

The Socialists nominated Kopp for Congress a month ago, but he declined the nomination to battle again for Council honors. Kopp is elected for two years. The indorsement of the Board of Works measure yesterday by the votera of Elizabeth means that the new City Council in 1916 will consist of six Republicans, five Democrats, and one Socialist.

WHERE THE SOCIALISTS WON.

Leader Recounts Their Successes at Tuesday's Elections.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—"The Socialist Party is well satisfied with the general result in yesterday's election," said Walter Laufersieck, Executive Secretary and active head of the National Socialist Party, here today.

"Besides the election of Meyer London to Congress from the Twelfth New York District, which is most gratifying, we have done well elsewhere. My advices are that James Maurer, President of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor and a member of the Executive Committee of the National Socialist Party, has been re-elected to the Legislature; at Elizabeth, N. J., Harry Kopp has been elected to the City Council and another Socialist lost by a small margin; at Haledon, N. J., Mayor William Brueckmann has been re-elected, and the Socialists elected one Councilman and four Marshals. In Illinois we re-elected two members of the Legislature."

Speaking of the falling off in the Progressive vote, Mr. Laufersieck said: "There now is no place for honest Progressives to go but to the Socialist Party."

WOMAN SOCIALIST BEATEN.

Mrs. Wright Enjoyed Experience of the Campaign.

Although an examination of the election returns yesterday showed that a man was again to represent the district in the House of Representatives, Mrs. Annie Wright, the only woman who ever ran for Congress in Brooklyn, was greatly pleased when she learned of the vote she had received in the Ninth District.

Mrs. Wright, who lives at 122 Cleveland Street, East New York, was the candidate of the Socialist Party. Although she could not vote herself, it was evident from the figures that the Socialists gave her enthusiastic support.

At the Socialist county headquarters last evening it was said Mrs. Wright had polled about 2,200 votes. This beat the Socialist vote of two years ago in the district when a man was the party's candidate for Congress. His vote was 2,020. Mrs. Wright was active in the campaign, and made many speeches. She said that while she had no hope of election, she enjoyed the experience.

REPUBLICANS SWEEP JERSEY

Get Both Branches of Legislature and Gain Six Congressmen.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 4.—The Republican Party swept back into power in New Jersey yesterday, electing eight of the State's twelve Congressmen, wresting control of both Houses of the Legislature from the Democrats, and winning in most of the county and municipal contests. The Democratic representation in the House was cut from ten to four. In the Legislature, the Republicans will control the Senate with a majority of one, and the Assembly will stand thirty-eight Republicans and twenty-two Democrats.

Last year the Democrats had one to the good in the Senate and thirty-seven Assemblymen to Twenty-three Republicans, with a Democratic majority on joint ballot of fifteen. This Winter there will be a Republican majority of seventeen on joint ballot.

Gov. Fielder issued a formal statement to-day in which he said he was both surprised and disappointed at the result. He attributed the defeat to too much talk of business depression and the fact that so many workingmen are idle. Democratic State Chairman Grosscup would not discuss the election pending an analysis of the returns, but said he was very much surprised. Republican State Chairman Newton A. K. Bugbee left the city for a vacation trip as soon as the result was definitely known.

The successful Democratic candidates for Congress were: Thomas J. Scully, Third District; Archibald C. Hart, Sixth; John J. Eagan, Eleventh, and James A. Hamill, Twelfth. The winning Republicans were: William J. Browning, First District; Isaac Bacharach, Second; E. C. Hutchinson, Fourth; John H. Capstick, Fifth; Dow H. Drukker, Seventh; Edward W. Gray, Eighth; R. Wayne Parker, Ninth, and Frederick R. Lehlbach, Tenth.

Republicans elected eleven Sheriffs and the Democrats six.

Republicans and Democrats each elected two Surrogates.

Union County adopted civil service rule for its employes.

Bridgeton, county seat of Cumberland County, voted "dry" for another three years.

Perth Amboy decided in favor of a municipal lighting plant.

ESSEX COUNTY REPUBLICAN.

Newark's Mayor Defeated in a General Landslide.

An avalanche of votes swept the Republican Party into power in Newark and Essex County on Tuesday. In Newark the Republican-Progressive-Fusion candidate, Thomas L. Raymond, defeated Nugent's Democratic machine candidate, Mayor Jacob Haussling, for re-election by a plurality of 1,364. Mayor Haussling is serving his fourth term.

The Republicans elected Arthur R. Denman and William Tries, Jr., to the Board of Works. In the county they elected Ralph Schmidt Sheriff; Frederick Stickel, Jr., Surrogate; Lewis G. Bowden, Supervisor, and three candidates to the Board of Freeholders—Amos W. Harrison, August L. Lacombe, and Richard F. Mattia, besides electing Austin Colgate State Senator, and the Assembly delegation.

Better Fire and Police Pay.

The long fight of the firemen and policemen of Bayonne for an increase of pay was won on Tuesday, when the proposal for higher pay was indorsed by the voters.

GREAT STOCK YARDS AT CHICAGO CLOSED

Widespread Cattle Disease Causes Unprecedented Measures to be Taken.

THIS STATE QUARANTINED

Government Calls It the Worst Outbreak of the Foot-and-Mouth Disease.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The stock yards will be closed on Friday morning. This was the decision reached tonight by officers of the State Live Stock Commission, representatives of the packers and of the Live Stock Exchange.

The yards will be opened up again ten days later, it is expected, and at that time all the pens and chutes will have been sterilized, and there will be no further danger of the foot and mouth disease.

The yards, which do a business amounting to more than $1,200,000 a day, have never before been closed.

Tonight's action followed the ultimatum of Dr. R. A. Ramsey of the Bureau of Agriculture, issued earlier in the evening, declaring that if the yards were not closed voluntarily, the United States Government would forbid the shipment of cattle into the State, and prevent the shipping of cattle to any other State. Three cows were killed today. They were part of a herd of 600 which was found diseased. These 600 will be lined up tomorrow, appraised and shot. Two herds of the dairy show blue-blooded animals will meet a like fate.

The food supply of the entire continent is in danger, Dr. Ramsey said. The foot and mouth disease, which originated in the stock yards of Chicago, spread throughout seven States in five days and is now running toward the ranges of the West where millions of cattle are grazing. Once there, he declares, it will be impossible to stamp it out.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—In an effort to stop the spread of the foot and mouth disease among cattle the Government today put the States of New York and Maryland under quarantine. No cattle may be shipped out of either of these States while the quarantine is in force.

The outbreak of the disease, the Department of Agriculture says, is the worst ever known in the United States. An emergency appropriation by Congress may be required to finance the campaign to suppress it. Department officials said tonight it would be a week before they could tell to what extent the food supply would be affected, but every possible effort would be made to remove handicaps upon the movement of livestock. The quarantine does not prevent the shipment of stock from unaffected districts to slaughter houses within the quarantined area, and there is no embargo against the shipments of dressed meat.

A Department of Agriculture statement issued today said:

The list of States now quarantined by Federal authorities includes New York, Maryland, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, and Pennsylvania. In addition to these, restrictions have been placed upon interstate shipments from Ohio, although no cases have as yet been found in that State. There is reason to fear, however, that infected stock may have been sent into Ohio. If this is found not to have been the case the embargo will be lifted.

This outbreak, which is the first in the United States since 1906, is regarded as the most serious of any that the United States has yet experienced. Not only has it already spread over an extensive area, but its virulence seems to be above the average. Vigorous measures will be necessary to stamp it out.

The cost of suppressing the last outbreak in 1908 was estimated at $299,112. In addition the loss to dairy and stock raisers was heavy.

Interstate shipments of cattle, sheep, and swine are absolutely prohibited from the States now quarantined. Stock cannot even be sent from one infected State into another. The Federal authorities are at present engaged in endeavoring to ascertain the exact area over which the infection has spread, and as soon as this is known, it will, it is hoped, be possible to lift the quarantine from sections now included in it.

The discovery of 600 infected cattle in the Chicago stock yards was regarded as the most serious development in the situation. Some of the disastrous effects of the outbreak there, it is believed, have been avoided by the embargo imposed last Saturday against the shipment of cattle from the Chicago yards to other States. Of somewhat less importance was the report that eleven cattle in the National Dairy Show in Chicago had been infected.

The outbreak in New York State occurred among a half dozen herds in the Buffalo stock yards. The disease was brought there, it is believed, by a shipment of nine carloads of cattle from Niles, Mich., the place of origin of the present epidemic, so far as known. One herd was found infected at Seneca Falls, N. Y.

In Maryland the diseased cattle were discovered at Hagerstown. Inspectors of the department traced the cattle from Chicago. Some diseased cattle in the same shipment were left at Greencastle, Penn., where another affected area exists.

ALBANY, Nov. 4.—A quarantine on cattle, as a result of reports of the existence of foot and mouth disease, was declared in Seneca and Erie Counties today by Commissioner Huson of the State Department of Agriculture.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—Importations of cattle, sheep or swine into Indiana from Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, and Pennsylvania were forbidden by a proclamation issued by Gov. Ralston today. As a matter of precaution, it was explained, a quarantine similar to the one in force in the Chicago stock yards, was placed on the Indianapolis stock yards today. No cases of the foot and mouth disease have been discovered in the local yards.

PITTSBURGH, Penn., Nov. 4.—No quotations were announced in the live stock market here today, because of quarantine regulations due to the foot and mouth disease. Great excitement prevailed in the cattle market, prices changing as much as 75 cents a hundred within an hour.

DIVIDENDS

in many corporations have been reduced or passed, but the income from our

GUARANTEED

First Mortgage Certificates is sure, and the principal does not depreciate.

They Pay 5% Net.

New York Mortgage & Security Co

(Under supervision of New York State Banking Department.)

Capital and Surplus, $2,500,000

135 Broadway 203 Montague St.
New York Brooklyn

7-20-4 B. & SULLIVANS

Factory output for nine months of 1914—29,097,000.

Increase of 2,430,000 over same period of 1913. Largest selling brand of 10-cent Cigars in the world.

QUALITY COUNTS

Factory: Manchester, N. H.

2nd EDITION

AIR and Its Preservation, by Dr. Richard W. Muller. Prof. Illustrated. Wm. R. Jenkins Co., Pub. Cloth, $1.50. Soon to appear.

BALDNESS defic[ient] prematurely gray hair, and seborrhoea successfully treated by the Photo-therapy. 87 illust. by Dr. F. Nagelschmidt. Translated and edited by Dr. Richard W. Muller.

TIMELY.

At this time of economy—when efficiency and concentration of effort are the order of the day—it is fortunate for newspaper advertisers that now embraces in its 275,000 circulation—both daily and Sunday—a mass of newspaper readers that a few years ago could be reached only by the use of four high-class newspapers.

The New York Times

FOUNDED 1856

BROKAW BROTHERS

MEN'S & BOYS' CLOTHING, HATS & FURNISHINGS

With us there isn't any "next best." The materials in our clothes must measure up to the highest standard. The workmanship, design, pattern and service must meet the most exacting requirements. The price at which we sell our suits and overcoats is another exclusive feature. In brief, our clothes must be of maximum quality and sell at minimum cost. That policy has made our business what it is today.

Mixture Sack Suits	$18 to $50
Fall Overcoats	$16 to $38
Winter Overcoats	$18 to $75

Astor Place & Fourth Avenue

ONE BLOCK FROM BROADWAY — SUBWAY AT DOOR

FOR SALE—120 acres, two and a half miles from town; part cleared; no improvements. $2400; part cash.

Every man dreams of owning a place like this—some day.

Happy Hollow Farm

BY WILLIAM R. LIGHTON is the story of a man who read this advertisement, bought the farm—and made good.

It is your way out, too!

In the issue of

The COUNTRY GENTLEMAN

that is on the news-stands today.

Five Cents the Copy, of All News Agents

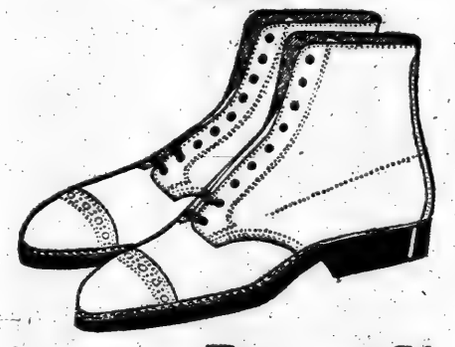
Or, $1.50 a Year (52 issues) by Mail, Ordered Through Our Subscription Agents or Direct.

THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY
Independence Square
Philadelphia Pennsylvania

A recent census found two hundred and fifty thousand people in Chicago, over one hundred thousand in St. Louis, and hundreds of thousands in other cities who either already own land in the country or are planning and saving to get back to the land. It is the call of the times.

The Coward Shoe

"Reg. U. S. Pat. Off."



Mahogany Russet Shoe

A smart, walking model on new Coward Last; full double sole, wide heel, Lace or Blucher upper. A trim, stylish shoe for business wear.

JAMES S. COWARD 264-274 Greenwich St (Near Warren St.) NEW YORK

Mail Orders Filled SOLD NOWHERE ELSE Send for Catalogue

PRESIDENT ORDERS MOBS TO DISPERSE

Proclamation Says Troops Are Sent to Arkansas to Enforce Federal Laws.

WARNS PEACEFUL CITIZENS

Declares Troops Will Act with Forbearance and Moderation, but Cannot Discriminate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Major N. F. McClure, commanding the squadron of the Fifth Cavalry now on its way from Chicago to Fort Smith, Ark., to keep order in the Hartford Valley strike zone, will soon after his arrival issue a proclamation by the President reciting the purpose in placing troops there.

The proclamation differs from that issued by the President for the Colorado strike. In that case the troops were called into service at the request of the Governor of the State to preserve order. In the Arkansas case the troops are to be used solely to carry out the mandates of the United States Court. The text of the proclamation, signed by President Wilson, is:

Whereas, by reason of unlawful obstruction, combinations, and assemblages of persons, it has become impracticable in the judgment of the President to enforce, by the ordinary course of judicial proceedings, the laws of the United States within the State of Arkansas, and especially within the Western Federal District and in the neighborhood of the towns of Hartford, Midland, and Fort Smith, in said district;

And, whereas, for the purpose of enforcing the faithful execution of the laws of the United States and protecting property in the charge of the courts of the United States, the President deems it necessary to employ a part of the military forces of the United States, in pursuance of the statute in that case made and provided;

Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States, do hereby admonish all persons who may be or come within the State, district, or towns aforesaid, against doing, countenancing, encouraging, or taking any part in such unlawful obstructions, combinations, and assemblages, and I hereby warn all persons in any manner connected therewith to disperse and retire peaceably to their respective abodes on or before 12 o'clock noon of the sixth day of November instant.

Those who disregard this warning and persist in taking part with a riotous mob in forcibly resisting and obstructing the execution of the laws of the United States or interfering with the functions of the Government or destroying or attempting to destroy property in the custody of the courts of the United States or under its direction cannot be regarded otherwise than as public enemies.

Troops employed against such combinations and assemblages of persons will act with all the moderation and forbearance consistent with the accomplishment of their duty in the premises; but all citizens must realize that, if they mingle with or become a part of such riotous assemblages, there will be no opportunity for discriminatinn in the methods employed in dealing with such assemblages.

The only safe course, therefore, for those not intentionally participating in such unlawful procedure is to abide at their homes, or at least, not to go or remain in the neighborhood of such riotous assemblages.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be hereto affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this 3d day of November in the year of Our Lord 1914, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and thirty-ninth.

WOODROW WILSON.

By the President, Robert Lansing, Acting Secretary of State.

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—The four troops of the Fifth United States Cavalry ordered to the Arkansas coal fields to preserve order left here this afternoon

FORT SMITH, Ark., Nov. 4.—Conditions were quiet today in the Hartford Valley coal mining regions, where the inhabitants are awaiting the arrival of the Federal troops, sent to carry out the Federal Court's orders in administering the receivership of the Bache-Denman Coal Company.

Maj. N. F. McClure, in advance of his troops, reached Fort Smith this afternoon. He will decide tomorrow whether to hold the soldiers in Fort Smith or send them at once into camp in the Prairie Creek neighborhood.

"I am unable to say in advance whether martial law will be declared at once," said Major McClure. "It will depend largely on conditions. The soldiers are due here tomorrow night."

The Federal Grand Jury summoned to investigate conditions in the mining region was impaneled today and adjourned until Friday. J. V. Bourland, United States Attorney for the Western District of Arkansas, and his assistants have been relieved of duties in connection with the investigation. R. B. Hull, special assistant to the United States Attorney General, and Billups Harris, special agent of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, will be in charge of the Grand Jury work. Mr. Hull and Mr. Harris have been in the district several weeks gathering evidence.

GUNDA A MOVIE STAR.

Rogue Elephant Lives Up to His Record at Bronx Zoo Rehearsal.

Gunda has posed for the movies and will be the star performer in Curator Ditmars's series of animal films. The rehearsing of Gunda was a strenuous matter, and the camera man expressed a preference for work on the firing line in Europe. The majestic Gunda is the largest elephant in captivity. Moreover, he is a bad elephant, has made murderous attacks upon his keepers and shattered his great tusks until mere stumps are left. Dr. Hornaday told Curator Ditmars to do the best he could and wished him luck.

Owing to Gunda's erratic disposition he has occupied an inside stall for some days. He was "rehearsed" by being fed various dainties, when Keeper Thuman attached a leg chain to a long cable that ran across the outside yard. Thuman was gored by Gunda a year ago and retired to the hospital for four months. Gunda entered the yard with wicked eyes roving recklessly. He swung his trunk at one of the attendants, who cast aside all dignity and rolled under the fence. Then Gunda consented to have his picture taken.

The Executive Committee of the New York Zoological Park asserts that if Gunda will behave reasonably he will have all possible liberty within the massive steel walls of his yard soon. The first exhibition of this picture will be made at the Brooklyn Academy of Music on Nov. 5, 6, and 7, in connection with Dr. Ditmars's lectures and exhibition of motion pictures, under the auspices of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences.

WANTS CAT SKINS FOR WAR.

Benevolent Sheriff Wishes to Guard Troops from Rheumatism.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROTTERDAM, Nov. 4, (Dispatch to The London Daily News.)—According to the Berliner Tageblatt, the Sheriff of Bransberg, in East Prussia, has appealed for catskins to be sent to him. He promises to be responsible for their curing, and will make them into bodybelts and mittens for the troops. Catskins, he adds, are a well-known safeguard against rheumatism.

SAW MONEY IN THE AIR.

Youth, Angry with Mother, Threw $450 from Window in Plaza Hotel.

In the lobby of the Plaza Hotel in Fifty-eighth Street on the roofs of adjacent houses, and in its influence extending nobody knows exactly how far, occurred early yesterday morning what might be described as a money panic. Those persons who chanced to be in Fifty-eighth Street at 7:30 o'clock actually saw a lot of money flying in the air, and everybody who saw it started on a wild prospecting tour for it.

There was exactly $450 in the lot that zeppelined out of a window on the fourteenth floor of the Plaza Hotel, and which made the crowd below almost as frantic as if bombs were dropping. If anybody should find any of it—and up to this hour not a soul has made such a report at the Plaza—the money is the property of an Australian woman now, accompanied by her son, is a passenger on the Lusitania, which left here yesterday for Liverpool, and how it came to be in the air and not on the water was the result of an exhibition of temper on the part of a very young man, the woman's son.

On Monday the woman drew $500 from the bank on her letter of credit, and had spent $50 of it by yesterday morning. The remainder, in ten and twenty dollar bills, lay on the table in her sitting room. The son was in a bad humor and he suddenly caught up the stack of bills and threw them out of the open window.

The bills had got a good start before anybody else got a look at them. Immediately the woman telephoned the office, and everybody on the ground floor became very busy at once, but it so happened that none of the few persons who were passing along Fifty-eighth Street at that hour of the morning happened to be gazing skyward. But a guest who was shaving in a room on an upper floor with the mirror against the window, saw the bills flying above, and he cut his chin in his hurry to get the window open and see where they were going.

The street below awakened into life when out of the revolving door of the hotel shot a uniformed bellboy, who looked up and yelled. Behind him poured a stream of other bellboys, clerks, porters, waiters, and even maids, and a strong reinforcement came from around the corner of the hotel.

Some of the bills could be seen above the roofs of houses on the south side of the street; others were flirting with the northwest. People who were coming up or going down Sixth Avenue to early jobs, and people standing waiting for the cars at the crossing—all awakened into action. When the news spread, servants and others ascended to the roofs of houses in the neighborhood, and searched among chimneys for bills that might have become lodged there.

It was reported later in the day at the hotel that a man had found a $10 and a $20 bill as far over as Seventh Avenue, but if he did he failed to confirm the report in person. The woman and her son remained in the hotel for two hours after their money had gone in the hope that some might be brought back. As yet nobody of all who searched for the tens and twenties had reported that he found any of them.

PREJUDICED MRS. HUBER.

Grandchildren, in Will Contest, Accuse Max and Joseph Huber.

That the surviving children of Mrs. Emilie Huber, late widow of Otto Huber, the wealthy brewer, conspired to prejudice their mother against William D. D'Esterre, Jr., and his brother, Louis, was the charge made by James W. Osborne, counsel for the D'Esterre brothers, yesterday, before Surrogate Ketcham and a jury in Brooklyn, at the second day's hearing of the contest to break Mrs. Huber's will, disposing of an estate valued at $6,000,000. She cut off her two grandsons, the D'Esterre brothers. Max and Joseph Huber, the defendants, claim that Mrs. Huber disinherited the grandsons because she learned that they had raised money by mortgaging their prospective legacies, and they had practically gambled on her life.

Mr. Osborne cited an instance when the D'Esterre brothers once visited the brewery, and were ordered out of the place by Max Huber, who is alleged to have shouted to them:

"I'll see to it that you never get a cent of my mother's estate."

Mr. Osborne declared that the defendants and other children of Mrs. Huber had misrepresented to her the financial transactions of the plaintiffs so that she would become prejudiced against them.

SKIPPER'S WAR NEWS LATE.

Didn't Know of European Conflict Until a Cruiser Stopped Him.

Capt. Jacobsen of the Norwegian bark Silas, which arrived yesterday from Java with a cargo of coffee worth $250,000, said he received the first news of the war on Sept. 1, when in latitude 27 south and longitude 5 east, from the commander of a British cruiser, which stopped him to know the vessel's nationality, cargo, and destination. The Silas sailed from Batavia on July 4.

"When the officer on the bridge told me about the war, as the cruiser came alongside," said Capt. Jacobsen, "I asked him who was fighting, and he replied, 'Everybody.'"

JOINS HUSBAND IN WAR.

Mrs. Breese Sails to be Near Foreign Legion in France.

Mrs. W. L. Breese, daughter of Hamilton Fish, sailed yesterday on the Lusitania to be near her husband, who has joined the Foreign Legion in France. She was accompanied by her sons, W. L. Breese, Jr., and Hamilton Fish Breese. Mr. Fish went to the Cunard pier to see his daughter depart.

Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, widow of the late United States Ambassador to Great Britain, sailed on the Lusitania to visit her daughter, the Hon. Mrs. John Ward, whose husband has charge of the English Belgian Relief Fund.

The Lusitania carried 230 first, 136 second, and 240 third class passengers for Liverpool, and nearly 8,000 sacks of mail.

BRYN MAWR GIRLS REBEL AT 'CUT' RULE

Plead for Support of New York Alumnae Against President M. Carey Thomas.

STORMY SESSIONS HELD

Students Say Penalties Are More Drastic Than Those of Any Other College.

The 500 students of Bryn Mawr College, at Bryn Mawr, Penn., who since the opening of school last month have been in revolt against a new "no cut" rule designed to prevent absence from lectures, carried their grievances to the graduates of this city yesterday when the New York Alumnae of Bryn Mawr gathered for their annual meeting at the Bryn Mawr Club, 137 East Fortieth Street.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Learned Hand, wife of Federal Judge Hand, and only a few of the fifty women present had had an inkling of troubles—the first of the kind in Bryn Mawr's history.

When the meeting was over Mrs. Hand and other officers of the organization refused to discuss what had been said, but it was learned that the students' side of the controversy was forcefully presented by some of their champions. On the other hand, several women spoke with warmth in defense of President M. Carey Thomas, who is sponsor for the new rule, and if the students were counting upon the solid backing of the alumnae they will be disappointed.

No formal action was taken, but it was decided that the situation had reached a serious stage and that the grievance of the students should be looked into by a committee of graduates known as the Academic Committee, composed of representatives of the alumnae throughout the country. The Academic Committee meets regularly with the Faculty at the college to discuss student affairs and it is expected to go throughly into the controversy.

On behalf of President Thomas, the chief target of the students' attack, it was said that recent years had seen a large increase of absenteeism and that it had become necessary to take radical steps. Under the old system, which put each student on her honor and allowed her to cut lectures as she pleased, the privilege had been greatly abused, according to President Thomas's friends. Statistics were cited to show that last year five girls cut sixty lectures and one girl was absent 120 times. It was also pointed out that the new rule was devised by the entire Faculty.

The students say the new rule is the most rigid ever enforced in any college. It imposes a penalty for every cut, arranged on a grand scale of "points" deducted from the student's standing. The penalties, according to the students, also work a hardship upon girls working for scholarships inasmuch as no excuse is now accepted except illness.

The college had hardly opened before murmurs were heard, and the students have already had several stormy sessions with the Faculty. At one of these it is reported that Miss Thomas administered a snub to Miss Helen Taft, daughter of the ex-President, who has taken an active part in the students' cause. This story was also denied, and the denial was repeated yesterday by Miss Thomas's friends here. The students say they were ready to accept a "cut" rule similar to those in vogue at Harvard, Princeton, and Yale, but President Thomas would not consider the proposal, saying that Bryn Mawr was on a higher plane than the men's universities.

Almost at the moment the alumnae here were considering the students' case yesterday the Faculty at Bryn Mawr gave its ultimatum to the undergraduates in a reply to the request for a repeal of the new rule and a year of probation. The Faculty reply read:

To the Undergraduate Association of Bryn Mawr College:

The Faculty after carefully considering the petition of the Undergraduate Association continues of the opinion that it is inexpedient to leave the regulation of attendance at classes to the student body. The Faculty, however, for the year 1914-1915 modifies its rules to read as below, but in the hope that no large percentage of the undergraduate body will avail itself of the number of cuts mentioned:

"The following rule relating to attendance shall be in operation during the year 1914-1915, and shall apply to the class work of all undergraduates. There will be no stated penalty for the first eight unexcused cuts in a semester, provided not more than one is taken in each one-hour course, two in each two-hour course or three-hour course, and three in each five-hour course.

"Cuts which exceed these limits, either in number of distribution shall reduce the grade for the course in which they are taken by two points for each such cut, with the proviso that when in any courses the unexcused cuts exceed 20 per cent. of the semester's scheduled lectures of that course, the penalty shall be four points for each additional cut. In computing the percentages of cuts, the fraction one-half or over shall be counted as one. The computation of the penalties to be inflicted under this rule, and the consequent reduction of grades, shall be made by the college office."

The undergraduates say the ultimatum will never be accepted and that the student body, with the honed-for support of the alumnae, will stand for a return to the old self-government idea.

The students will meet at the college next Monday to frame their reply to the Faculty.

New Foreman of a Sheriff's Jury.

Charles J. Warner was yesterday elected foreman of the Third Panel Sheriff's Jury in place of William E. Burke, who resigned to be Postmaster of the Senate at Washington. Mr. Warner has been Secretary of the Third Panel Jury for ten years. He lives at 26 West Eighty-second Street.

DENIES FAVORING SULLIVAN.

Ex-Warden Clancy Says He Didn't Allow Banker to Quit Prison.

When he testified yesterday in the Kings County Grand Jury's investigation, of the doings of David A. Sullivan, the Union Bank wrecker, since he was sentenced to Sing Sing, ex-Warden James M. Clancy, said he was positive that the convicted banker had never visited Brooklyn while he was in charge of the prison. On Monday Henry Meyersohn of 135 Ocean Parkway, who was formerly cashier of a branch of the Sullivan bank, testified to having seen a man in Flatbush in July, 1913, whom he recognized as Sullivan.

Mr. Clancy said yesterday that because of the guard system he maintained, it would have been impossible for Sullivan to have been outside the prison for more than three hours at any time, without the Warden's knowledge. Sullivan worked in the prison office, but enjoyed no unusual privileges under Clancy. He slept in the hospital instead of in a cell frequently because of poor health.

It was said yesterday that William J. Cummings, the banker, who was convicted in connection with the failure of the Carnegie Trust Company, had a bed in the hospital also and seldom, if ever, slept in a cell.

It has been testified that just before Assistant District Attorney Louis Goldstein made his first visit of investigation to Sing Sing, on Oct. 24, Sullivan held a conference with certain of the prison officials, who had learned of Goldstein's coming. Sullivan, who was a lawyer as well as a banker, is said to have advised the others to refuse to answer questions on the ground that the Kings County Grand Jury was without jurisdiction in the matter.

Assemblyman McCue Fined $3.

Assemblyman Martin McCue was fined $3 by Magistrate McQuade in the Yorkville Court yesterday afternoon for using abusive language to Policeman John J. Duffy of the East Fifty-first Street Station. Duffy testified that McCue abused him as he was leaving the Men's Night Court Monday evening with his son, who had been arrested for building a bonfire in the street and had been discharged.

WRIGHT PATENTS WIN IN ENGLAND

Government Finally Settles All Claims of British Company by Payment of $75,000.

AGREEMENT FAR REACHING

Absolves from Suits Concerns Which Have Manufactured Aeroplanes to Order for the War.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Thursday, Nov. 5.—The Morning Post's aeronautical correspondent writes:

"Until the matter of a month or two ago it was still the fashion in this country for aeroplane designers, manufacturers, and others boldly to assert that there was nothing in the Wright patents. No publicity was given to the fact that the time had now arrived when the Wright interests intended to settle the business of their claims here even as they had done in America.

"One of the largest manufacturers and employers of the Wright organization went to the fountain head by serving a writ on the Government by way of the Royal Aircraft factory at Merton. O'Gorman, its civilian Superintendent, was the nominee of the War Office in the proceedings that had been going on quietly for more than a year past for a claim of £25,000. It is satisfactory to know that the Government has now settled terms with the British Wright Company by paying a lump sum of £15,000 for the past, present, and future use of the Wright patents, taken out by Wilbur and Orville Wright, the offer of this amount being accepted by the British Wright Company in order to relieve the Government from any unnecessary embarrassment during the stress of war.

"This is a matter for congratulation to both sides. Henceforth there will never be any argument on the part of constructors in this country who embody any Wright features in their aeroplanes. Instead they will do the customary thing in either paying a royalty or in offering given parts from the British Wright Company. The happy solution further means that such firms as have manufactured machines to order for the Royal Flying Corps are also absolved from proceedings by the British Wright Company.

"Those who knew the surviving brother, Orville Wright, however, will be well aware that the decision means more than all this to him. He places beyond price the recognition of this indisputable and permanent kind of creative and pioneer work thus done by himself and his late brother, whereby they were the first men in the world to accomplish a flying by motor-driven aeroplanes.

"It is to be hoped that those who formerly have been so bold in asserting that there was nothing in the Wright claims will now have the honesty to come forward and publish abroad with equal prominence the fact that the British Government has shown its opinion of the validity of those claims by paying £15,000 in cash to the British Wright Company."

Swagger Balmacaans, Overcoats and Suits

"At The Store Where Style Reigns Supreme"

¶Superbly made, brilliantly modeled and exquisitely finished, they rise so far above the average that it is no exaggeration to say they occupy a place of merit among the world's best style offerings in Clothes for Men and Young Men.

¶So that from a standpoint of actual clothes value and desirability, price and quality considered, Brill Clothes are the very best "buy" in the world for the dignified man of affairs or the debonair youth of twenty-two.

Balmacaans	$15 to $35
Knitted Coats	$20 to $25
Overcoats	$15 to $60
Suits	$15 to $40

Carrs Melton Overcoats $30.00
Imported English Overcoats $25.00 to $55.00
Full Dress Coats $20 to $45 Dinner Jackets $18 to $42
Cutaway Coats and Vests $35 to $50 Trousers $5 to $15

Brill Brothers
BROADWAY AT 49TH STREET
"The Store Where Style Reigns Supreme"

World's Greatest War In Actual Photographs

No wash drawings or fancy sketches, recently characterized by The London Daily Telegraph as having no relation to accuracy, but actual photographs, taken in the field by experienced and reliable men, often at great personal risk—these appear in every issue of the Picture Section of The Sunday Times. They speak for themselves.

You can find such pictures in no other newspaper, reproduced by the beautiful rotogravure and half-tone processes on calendered paper of excellent quality.

If you are not a regular reader of The Sunday Times you are missing in these pictures one of the most vivid and attractive sources of information on the war.

"Times Pictorial Section Supreme In Pictures"

Order next Sunday's Times today.

B. Altman & Co.

Women's Silk Afternoon, and Evening Dresses

in cleverly made, youthful models, choice materials and the newest colors, will be offered at a special sale

Commencing this day (Thursday) at the extraordinarily low price of $29.00

Women's Ready-to-wear Department
(Third Floor)

Fifth Avenue - Madison Avenue
34th and 35th Streets New York

RIKER-HEGEMAN

RELIABLE DRUG STORE SERVICE

You Can Retain A Good Complexion Through the Spring, Autumn and Winter of Life, by daily massaging with a good cream. You owe it to yourself to devote a part of every day to the care of your complexion and preservation of your beauty and charms.

To Keep Your Skin Clean, Clear and Beautiful, Use

Riker's Violet Cerate

A pure greaseless massage cream that thoroughly removes all dust and dirt and leaves the pores clean and clear for the natural action of the skin. Especially valuable at this time of year to counteract the effect of chill winds and chapping.

FREE Bottle Miniature Incensia Extract with every jar Violet Cerate at 50c

50,000 BOXES CHARMONA FACE POWDER SOLD LAST MONTH

We knew there would be a big demand for a very fine powder at twenty-five cents, but we were astonished the way the orders came in. It now requires three boxmakers to supply the demand, and our laboratory is rushed with orders. Merit is quick to be appreciated, and Charmona is being recognized by American women as an exceptional powder. It is exquisitely soft in texture, very adherent and subtly perfumed with a fascinating odor. Per box..... 25c

FREE—3 CAKES PALMOLIVE SOAP
Worth 45c, with a 50c jar PALMOLIVE FACE CREAM
Total value 95c, for 39c

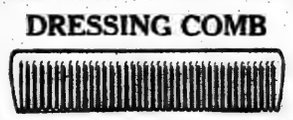
DRESSING COMB



May be had in all coarse or coarse and fine teeth. Comb of same size and weight in imported ivory would easily retail for twice our price.. 59c

POWDER PUFF FOR HANDBAG

Dainty white kid case containing imitation ivory reducing mirror and soft lamb's wool powder puff. A handsome American made creation..... 25c

RIKER'S Violet Excelsis A Dainty Talcum

of delicate texture and subtly perfumed with the odor of the true outdoor violet. Made from the highest grade talc. Equally popular with men and women. 15c

RIKER'S CORYLOPSIS

This talc is noted for its exquisite softness, while the Corylopsis odor with which it is perfumed is like a breath of sweetness from the "Flowery Kingdom" itself.

Packed in beautiful Japanese decorated container. 15c

"Beauty Spots"

A toilet accessory that is very much in fashion at the present time. Box of 100 black beauty spots in a wide variety of shapes, including round, crescent, heart, moon and diamond..... 10c

JAYNES' QUININE HAIR TONIC

Will keep your scalp clean and free from dandruff. It leaves the hair soft and silky and has a stimulating, tonic effect. You will find it a valuable aid in caring for the hair and scalp. Per bottle..... 50c

RIKER'S EXPECTORANT

has been a standard remedy for coughs and colds for over seventy years. Guaranteed satisfactory. Two sizes..... 25c, 60c

KEEP YOUR BODY WARM

These cold weather garments are now much worn by women, who find them excellent protection from chill winds and sudden changes of temperature.

PAPER VESTS FOR WOMEN; light weight and comfortable..... 45c
Chamois Vests, all sizes, for women...$2.50
Princess Vests, up from.....$3.97

AUTUMN GIVES NUMBERLESS OPPORTUNITIES

to snap and keep for all time beautiful views. The ever changing skyline and partially denuded trees, majestic in strength and outline, give one unrivalled opportunities to capture on paper the ever changing beauties of nature.

KODAKS up from.....$6.00
BROWNIES up from.....$1.00

FOR THE CARE OF THE HANDS

Riker's Almond Meal is beneficial to the skin..... 25c

Riker's Glycerine Lotion keeps the hands white and soft; 8-oz. bottle, 40c; 4-oz..... 25c

Riker's Nail Enamel, cake..... 15c
Riker's Nail Bleach.....25c
Riker's Rosebud Pomade...20c
Riker's Liquid Nail Enamel..... 25c
Riker's Nail Powder.....15c

DENTAL PREPARATIONS

Riker's Antiseptic Tooth Powder is excellent for cleaning and purifying the mouth and gums and for preserving the teeth. Can 15c

Riker's Antiseptic Tooth Paste, a cleansing antiseptic paste; recommended for its prophylactic properties. Tube..... 15c

Riker's Antiseptic Tooth Wash—Has remarkable cleansing and antiseptic properties..... 25c

Riker's Dental Cream—A rich, smooth, pleasantly flavored paste. Tube..... 15c

You're Safe When You Buy at

RIKER AND HEGEMAN DRUG STORES

Mail Order Dept., 200 Broadway, N. Y. City

5%
GUARANTEED FIRST MORTGAGE CERTIFICATES
$100 and up
Not affected by the European War
LAWYERS MORTGAGE CO
RICHARD M. HURD, President
Capital & Surplus $8,750,000
59 Liberty Street, Manhattan
364 Montague Street, Brooklyn

PRISONERS, BY RUSE, ELUDE THEIR GUARD

Two Gunmen Boldly Walk Out of Room in Brooklyn Court House.

ONE IS RECAPTURED LATER

Misunderstanding Between Jail and Court Attendants Makes the Escape Easy.

Two gunmen who were among nineteen prisoners taken from the Raymond Street Jail in the prison van to the County Court, Brooklyn, to be arraigned yesterday morning calmly walked out of the Court House to the street, escaping without being detected. Harry Wallon, one of the prisoners, was caught later in the City Hall Park by Policeman Henry Barth of the Beech Street Station. The other, John Gaskins, was still at large last night.

An investigation after the escape showed that there was a misunderstanding between a court attendant and the jail officials as to the numbers of offenders to be arraigned. There were sixteen names on a memorandum prepared by Chief Clerk John T. Rafferty of the County Court and handed to Court Attendant Joseph Jacquillard. Later the District Attorney phoned ordering three more prisoners to be sent over, and their names were not put on the memorandum.

As the prisoners filed out of the prison van Jacquillard counted the number, which tallied with his list. Wallon and Gaskins straggled along after the others. When Court Attendant Jacquillard saw them he remarked in surprise:

"What are you doing here?"

Gaskins was quick to seize the opportunity, and, grabbing hold of the coat sleeve of Wallon, said to the court attendant:

"Oh, I've got him along. I'm going to bring him to the Supreme Court," and before he could, instead of following the lead of the other prisoners, calmly walked past Jacquillard into the corridor and made their way to the street undetected.

Later Jacquillard talked with the driver of the van, Joseph Kelly. The driver showed his list of prisoners, which recorded nineteen. The three names had been added to this list as well as to the original order sent to the jail by Chief Clerk Rafferty, but for some reason or other the names had not been added to the duplicate in the possession of Court Attendant Jacquillard.

Jacquillard immediately communicated with Chief Clerk Rafferty, and an alarm was sent out to the police in Brooklyn and Manhattan. When Wallon and Gaskins were placed in the prison van they were handcuffed together, but on the way to the Court House Gaskins freed himself. Wallon, unable to do so, kept his handcuffed hand in his pocket. Wallon, still keeping his right hand with the handcuff concealed in his pocket, was observed walking through City Hall Park by Policeman Barth. The policeman caught a glimpse of the manacles and arrested Wallon.

Both Wallon and Gaskins have criminal records. They recently finished a term in Elmira. Gaskins is said to be an adept at slipping out of handcuffs, and the police record show that he escaped from the Tombs Court last July while waiting to be arraigned.

PROTEST FOR VARICK ST.

Descendants of Mayor Oppose a Change in Name.

Descendants of Col. Richard Varick and many old-time New York residents are making a protest against changing the name of Varick Street to Seventh Avenue South as has been recommended by the Board of Estimate. Within the last few months all the old buildings on the east side of that ancient Greenwich Village thoroughfare have been torn down and rapid work has been made in digging the tunnel for the new Seventh Avenue subway.

Varick Street will be connected with Seventh Avenue at Carmine Street, this being the southerly end of the Seventh Avenue extension, which has been cut through several blocks of buildings from Eleventh Street and Greenwich Avenue, the former terminus of Seventh Avenue. In its completed condition the new Seventh Avenue with Varick Street will make a 100-foot thoroughfare direct from Central Park to Franklin Street and West Broadway.

The Board of Estimate thought a single name would be better for this thoroughfare. The objection is based solely upon sentimental and historical grounds. The protest recently sent to the board by sixty collateral descendants of Col. Varick stated that these considerations ought to be strong enough to prevent the name from being erased from the map.

Shortly after the Revolution Col. Varick had a fine country estate of many acres, known as Tusculum, near what is now the upper part of Varick Street. It was this fact, in addition to his long service as Mayor of New York City, that led the city authorities a little more than a century ago to give the thoroughfare its present name.

E. B. AMEND'S WILL FILED.

Justice Left Estate Estimated as High as a Million to Widow.

The will of Edward B. Amend, Supreme Court Justice, who died on Oct. 26, leaving his entire estate to his widow, Mrs. Catharine J. Amend, was filed yesterday. The petition recites that the estate exceeds $20,000, but estimates place it as high as $1,000,000.

The estate was to be distributed among relatives in the event of Mrs. Amend's dying before her husband. Herman Ridder, owner of the Staats-Zeitung and brother-in-law of the Justice, was to get $10,000 and his wife the same sum. Bequests of $7,000 each were for the sister Mary and the brothers, Bernard F. and Alfred J. Amend, and $6,000 each for Henry Ridder, brother-in-law, Mary Rattkamp, Emma Mentrup, Josephine Naumann, and Louise Ridder, sisters-in-law; while a like sum was for Theresa Hoenninger, a niece.

The widow's cousin, Dina Van Horn, was to get $1,000, and Dina Amend, a cousin of the Justice, $1,000. The gifts were not to be a charge on the real estate, but to come from life insurance due. The residue was for William J. Amend, a brother.

SCHINDLER IS ALIVE; BACK WITH HAIR CUT

Schola Cantorum Director Sacrificed Locks When Taken for a Russian Spy.

LONG DETAINED IN BERLIN

Appearance Startled Friends Who Had Read That He Had Been Killed in Battle.

Kurt Schindler, Musical Director of the Schola Cantorum, was reported dead several weeks ago, and flattering obituaries were published in some musical news papers. It was said that he had gone to the front with the German Army, and had died fighting for his Fatherland. Mr. Schindler walked into the St. Regis yesterday at luncheltime, as he used to do every day last Winter and Manager Haan, his brother Joseph, Mr. Bevan, the Assistant Manager and Leo the head waiter could not believe at first that they were not seeing a ghost.

Mr. Schindler's long black locks, which have been a familiar sight in muscial assemblies for years, were gone, and it was discovered that he had shorn himself for safety's sake. Though a German, born in Berlin he was taken for a Russian spy in the German capital and had a narrow escape from a mob which pursued him. For eleven weeks he was shut up in Berlin, unable to send word of his affairs here, and unable to get any money.

"I happened to arrive in Berlin the day before war was declared," said Mr. Schindler. "I had spent all of July in London, but previous to that, I had spent May and June traveling about in Russia, and all my luggage was pasted up with the labels of hotels in Moscow, St. Petersburg, Warsaw and other Russian cities. After reaching Berlin, I could not get a letter away for eleven weeks, and I ought to have been back here to take up my work fully two months ago.

"You see, while I have taken out my first papers for American citizenship, I have not been living over here the ten years necessary to become immune from serving in the Landsturm, in Germany, and as I was in Germany, I could be called upon for serivce.

"In Germany, while the whole country has been, and is united on the justice of Germany's cause, everybody thought our only opponents would be France and Russia, and that the war would not last long. It was my duty to remain in Berlin, but nobody anticipated that the Landsturm, would be called out. It did not seem possible that England would get into the conflict, and I was prepared to remain and await the call which it seemed certain would not come. Then, when England joined the war, I stayed on, still awaiting the call.

"Finally, with not being able to hear from home, and the uncertainty of how long I might have to stay, wore on my health. When it seemed that I might have to wait indefinitely, I was able to show that my professional arrangement over here had been knocked out and that I could not get any money, I got a special permit entitling me to proceed to the United States.

"I had booked passage on a Dutch steamer, but learning that this was dangerous, I left Germany for a Scandinavian country and came out by a Scandinavian steamship. Under the circumstances, I prefer not to tell the name of the vessel.

"How did I lose my hair? Spy fever. In the first days of the war in Berlin, people were very much excited on the subject of spies. On an early day in August I happened to be walking in the Kurfuerstendam, when suddenly I noticed people looking at me curiously. I heard a murmur behind me and turned to find myself followed by a crowd that increased at every step.

"'A Russian!' they began to shout at me, and other cries that made me very uncomfortable. I quickened my pace and almost ran to my hotel, the crowd following. Inside of half an hour, the long locks that I had come to regard as a necessary part of myself had been cut. At such a time I could not afford to be mistaken for a Russian.

"Soon afterward I happened to meet an old schoolmate, now in the diplomatic service. He did not recognize me at first. In the depth of my gloom I said to him: 'At such a time as this, we musicians are the most unnecessary persons in the world.' He smiled. 'What about us diplomats?' he asked.

"I can assure you that I never was so happy to get back to New York. You don't know what a land of peace looks like unless you have been where there is war. But people who have known my devotion to French and Russian music may wonder if it will continue, now that Germany is at war with France and Russia. So far as the war is concerned, it will make no difference with my music."

HURT BY BURSTING GAS TANK

Crowd Thrown Into a Panic by an Explosion Near Express Office.

The explosion of a tank of compressed oxygen in front of the American Express Company's office at 446 Lafayette Street, at Astor Place, shortly after 6 o'clock last night, injured two employes of the company severely and caused great excitement among the crowds who were passing through the neighborhood on their return from work. The tank, which was of cast iron, cylindrical in shape, and two feet long by six inches thick, was lying on the pavement outside of the building in a pile of other freight when a wagon drew up to receive the outgoing articles.

Workmen were looking at the stack of goods, wondering what to pick up first, when the tank exploded without warning. Nobody was touching it at the time, but great havoc was spread around. Frederick J. Brooks of 1,446 East Fifth Street, Brooklyn, an assistant agent, who was standing beside the pile of goods, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg and had his right leg badly lacerated. Theodore Dicker of 261 Newark Street, Hoboken, a helper employed on the delivery wagon which was to take up the tank, was badly cut on the legs, and Edmund J. O'Connell, the sidewalk watchman, was for the moment blinded by the shock of the explosion.

The loud report drew a big crowd to the spot, as it was supposed that a bomb had been set off. Among those who were attracted by the noise were Sergeant Jones and Patrolman Sheedy of the Mercer Street Station, who quieted the crowd, cleared the bystanders away from the place, and turned in an ambulance call. Dicker and Brooks were removed to St. Vincent's Hospital.

It was said in the express company's offices that the tank had been brought in about 6 o'clock for shipment to a Dr. Spein in Philadelphia. The consignor was the Bishop-Babcock-Becker Company of 439 Lafayette Street, manufacturers of soda apparatus. On a part of the tank which was picked up after the explosion was found the name of the Lenox Chemical Company of Cleveland, which is owned by the Bishop-Babcock-Becker Company. The Lenox Company has an office with the parent firm in its Lafayette Street house, but none of its representatives was in, and employes of the Bishop-Babcock-Becker Company said they knew nothing about the tank.

NEW FEDERAL GRAND JURY.

Those Who Will Serve During November Term Sworn In.

The Federal Grand Jury to serve in the November term was sworn in yesterday by Judge Foster. It members are:

JOHN T. CAREY, lithographer, 86 Park Place, foreman.
JAMES J. LARKIN, contractor, 240 East 15th St.
A. L. LANGDON, manager, 263 5th Av.
LOUIS F. LARKIN, Assistant Treasurer, 71 Beekman St.
JOSEPH BEANER, bristles, 846 Kelly St.
EDWIN A. RAFTER, 43 East 86th St.
MAX SCHWARTZ, manager, 102 W. 116th St.
ALEXANDER G. VETTER, 530 W. 113th St.
RICHARD L. MORRIS, banker, 80 Pine St.
H. W. KENT, Assistant Secretary, 80 Washington Square East.
ANDREW F. GILSEY, real estate, 36 East 23d St.
JOHN HERTS, broker, 52 Broadway.
JAMES BILL, salesman, 36 Morningside Av.
FRANK W. BAKER, bonds, 101 E. 81st St.
HARRY A. COKELY, real estate, 2 Montgomery Place.
GUSTAVE BEHNING, Secretary, 1,945 Park Av.
REGINALD L. FERNALD, manager, 70 5th Av.
CHARLES R. BOSSE, agent, 60 Wall St.
MOSES S. APPEL, importer, 291 7th Av.
JOSEPH F. BARRETT, Secretary, 2 Rector St.
WALTER T. BAYLIS, real estate, 1,125 Broadway.
DAVID KAUFMAN, lithographer, 314 West 100th St.

Before accepting the grand jurors Assistant United States District Attorneys Roger V. Wood and Robert W. Stephenson put them through an unusually searching examination, laying special stress on their qualification as owners of real or personal property of the value of $250.

NEW HOURS FOR CITY JUDGES

Courts Decide to Sit Longer and Cut Vacations.

At a meeting of the City Court Judges last night it was agreed to open the trial terms of the court hereafter on the second Monday in September instead of on the first Monday in October, to dispense with the monthly vacation of one week which comes under the system of four-week trial terms, and to hold sessions continuously each week of the court year excepting on Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays.

The County Lawyers' Association has approved this extension of the work. The Judges believe that the extended hours will soon result in relieving the congestion of the court calendars.

TWO WOMEN BEATEN IN $7,000 BURGLARY

Aged Mrs. Burns, Restaurant Man's Widow, Attacked in Lenox Avenue Home.

HER JEWELS STRIPPED OFF

Young Companion Goes to Her Aid, but Both Are Knocked Senseless by Robbers.

Mrs. Libby Burns, widow of the restaurateur, who is 73 years old, is under the care of Dr. W. H. Katzenbach and a nurse in her home, 247 Lenox Avenue, with a rib broken on the right side, a cut four and a half inches long in her scalp, and innumerable bruises, the result of an encounter with two burglars last Saturday evening. The elderly woman is in a serious condition, and Miss Butler, a young companion, is suffering from bruises and a scalp wound.

The burglars, who escaped, carried off more than $7,000 worth of jewelry, the gifts of Mr. Burns, which his widow wore. The list included a diamond necklace worth $1,600, a diamond sunburst, $1,400; two ruby rings, $1,000 each; a diamond heart, $800; two diamond earrings, $500 each, and two loops, $1,000. Two diamond side combs worth $1,000 were found afterward in the hall, where Mrs. Burns had struggled with the robbers.

Saturday night was Carnival Night in Harlem and Mrs. Burns allowed the servants to go out. Her brother, Thomas Oliver, was asleep in a room on the top floor. He is practically a cripple from rheumatism. Another brother, George, the remaining member of the household, had gone out to attend the automobile parade.

Mrs. Burns sat alone in the parlor about 11 o'clock, reading. In the rear parlor was Miss Burns. They had entertained earlier in the evening. Mrs. Burns had just extinguished a light in the parlor and was about to join Miss Butler when the door bell rang. As Mrs. Burns opened the door a man rushed in and turned off the hall light, leaving them in darkness. A second man followed, shouting:

"Now we've got you! We've been looking for you for years."

As he spoke he struck Mrs. Burns on the head with a blackjack and she sank senseless to the floor. Miss Butler heard the commotion and stepped to the doorway into the hall.

"Get her! Kill her too!" shouted one of the men, and the other sprang at the young woman, pointing a revolver at her. She stood motionless, too much frightened even to cry out, and the revolver was brought down on her head, stunning her.

When Miss Butler recovered consciousness several moments later she found Mrs. Burns stirring also. The hall was still in darkness, but the front door was closed and there was no trace of the burglars. The women, still dazed, went into the rear parlor, where there was a light, and were sitting there when George Oliver entered a few moments later. He reported the robbery to the West 123d Street Police Station.

Mr. Oliver could give almost no description of the burglars, as, in the darkness, Mrs. Burns had scarcely seen them and Miss Butler recollected little of their appearance. Throughout the commotion Thomas Oliver had slept undisturbed.

KILLED IN RUNAWAY AUTO.

Harry J. Kidd's Electric Got Beyond Control on Orange Grade.

Special to The New York Times.

ORANGE, N. J., Nov. 4.—Harry J. Kidd of 28 Prospect Street, East Orange, died in the Orange Memorial Hospital today from a fractured skull sustained last night, when the electric landaulet his wife was driving down the steepest grade from the Orange Mountains got beyond her control, and crashed into a tree along the road.

Mr. Kidd was a member of the firm of Johnson & Murphy, shoe manufacturers of Newark.

EAST SIDE BANKER INDICTED

Grand Jury Reports After Inquiry Into Five Depositories.

The September Grand Jury, which has been investigating the affairs of five east side banks, reported yesterday to Judge Wadhams in General Sessions, and, it was understood, handed up an indictment against one of the bankers. No arrests were made.

It is said that the Grand Jury's investigation is not finished and that four more indictments may be expected.

SEGAN-ISAACS SUIT.

Marconi Stock Sales Again the Subject of Inquiry in Court.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—The action brought in the High Courts against Godfrey Isaacs by Samuel Segan, who, as already cabled, seeks to recover damages for alleged breach of contract connected with the purchase of certain Marconi shares, was again up for hearing today. In his evidence-in-chief, Segar stated that at a dinner in New York with S. F. St. J. Steadman, who was acting for Godfrey Isaacs as solicitor, he was told they were going to give 150,000 shares to THE NEW YORK TIMES newspaper for services they had rendered, as well as a dinner given to them in New York. THE TIMES was, it was stated to Segan, to have these shares at 11-16. Later when Godfrey Isaacs went on the witness stand this statement was put to him by Sir Edward Carson, and the following passages occurred:

Sir Edward Carson—So far as you are concerned, did you ever know of any offer to THE NEW YORK TIMES of 150,000 shares?

Godfrey Isaacs—No.

Carson—Did they get any shares?

Isaacs—No. Perhaps it would be as well to say that Mr. Ochs, who is either part proprietor or associated with THE NEW YORK TIMES, did subsequently take 20,000 shares. He took them from Messrs. Coombes & Co., bankers.

Carson—Was that over here?

Isaacs—No, in New York; but it had no association whatever with THE NEW YORK TIMES or with any services rendered.

Leslie Scott, K. C., for the plaintiff—THE NEW YORK TIMES gave you a dinner?

Isaacs—THE NEW YORK TIMES gave a dinner to Mr. Marconi on his arrival, not because he was of the Marconi Company, but because he was Mr. Marconi.

Carson—Mr. Marconi, the inventor of wireless telegraphy?

Isaacs—Quite so; it had nothing whatever to do with the company's business. THE NEW YORK TIMES dinner was purely a complimentary banquet.

Under cross-examination by Leslie Scott, Godfrey Isaacs added that he had made arrangements for the placing of 150,000 shares before he left America, but when he returned to England he had 100,000 shares left.

AUCTION FIRST EDITIONS.

Good Prices Obtained for Stickney and Wilson Collections of Books.

Books from the collection formed by the late Albert Stickney of this city and from the library of Mrs. C. Wilson were sold by the Anderson Auction Company yesterday.

A copy of the first issue of the scarce John Stockdale edition of "The Fables of Aesop," London, 1793, was sold to J. C. McCoy for $48. The original Kamashastra Society's edition of the "Arabian Nights," 1885-88, went to M. M. Breslow for $125. William Benedict paid $305 for a fine copy of the first octavo edition of John J. Audubon's "Bird of America," New York, 1840-44. On the title page of each volume is a red paper seal containing the coat of arms of the Roosevelt family. A copy of the first octavo edition of "The Quadrupeds of North America," by Audubon and John Bachman, New York, 1851-54, went to A. H. Cosden for $56. A. M. Adams gave $62.50 for a large paper copy of the Dent edition of Balzac's "Comédie Humaine." Thomas E. Moe paid $25 for John Payne's translation of Boccaccio's "Decameron." "My Sketch Book," by George Cruikshank, and his autograph went to Gabriel Weis for $50. James F. Drake gave $76 for George Cruikshank's "Omnibus."

Mr. Weis obtained for $376 a large paper copy of the Riverside Press edition of Charles Dickens's Works and for $50 "The Romances of Dumas," plates on Japan paper. A first edition in parts, original wrappers, of "Martin Chuzzlewit," was bought by C. T. Matthews for $35. H. E. Chapman gave $52.50 for a first edition of Pierce Egan's "Real Life in London."

PHILIPPINE CABINET CLASH.

Gov. Harrison Notified of Trouble Between Riggs and Denison.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MANILA, Nov. 4.—Relations between Clinton L. Riggs, Secretary of Commerce and Police, and Winfred T. Denison, Secretary of the Interior, are strained. Secretary Riggs alleges that Secretary Denison drafted legislation affecting his department without consulting him.

Secretary Denison declares the facts do not justify the charge, but Secretary Riggs left a committee meeting in a huff.

Gov. Harrison has been notified officially of the break.

Mrs. Flower Pleads Guilty.

Mrs. Lillian Flower, wife of Dr. Richard C. Flower, pleaded guilty yesterday in Special Sessions to a charge of smuggling morphine into the Tombs for her husband, who was awaiting trial on a grand larceny charge. Mrs. Flower and Thomas McEnery, 73 years old, were caught last week by Tombs keepers with a large amount of cocaine. She will be sentenced on Monday.

MRS. O. H. P. BELMONT SELLS

Auction of Household Goods Today in Her Garage.

Special to The New York Times.

HEMPSTEAD, L. I., Nov. 4.—About everybody in this vicinity who hasn't an imperative engagement elsewhere is planning tonight to attend Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont's auction tomorrow morning at 11:30 o'clock in the garage of Brookholdt, her country place just outside this town.

Few of the prospective visitors want to buy anything, but everybody wants to know why Mrs. Belmont is anxious to dispose of a lot of chairs, tables, dining and bedroom sets, desks, rugs, sewing machines, feather pillows and mattresses. There are even three ice chests included in the sale.

It was explained on behalf of Mrs. Belmont that the stuff was an accumulation of years on which she was tired of paying storage. Most of the artticles are of only ordinary value, though there are a few pieces, such as a square of cloth of gold for wall or table decoration, a fine rug and a dining set of hand carved oak which are of unusual value.

Mosquitoes Sweep Down on Bayonne

Millions of mosquitoes swept down on Bayonne, N. J., yesterday from the "Black Swamp," adjoining the plant of the Standard Oil Company.

Every Home Comfort On Credit

There's no need in going without the furniture, rugs and housefurnishings you want because of the present tightness of money and general shrinkage of credit.

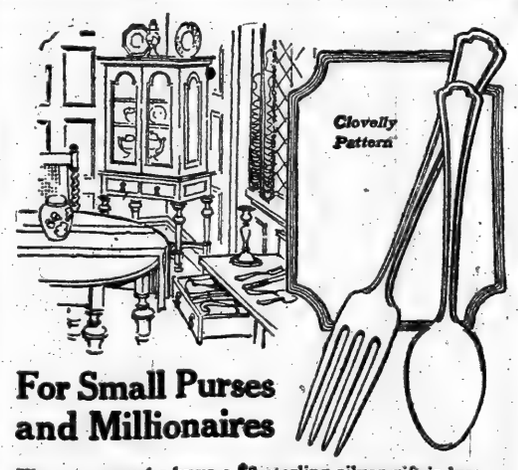
Open a charge account with Cowperthwait & Sons—the oldest furniture house in America.

There's no red tape to go through, and we give you a year and a half to pay in trifling weekly or monthly payments.

For instance: $50 worth of goods costs but $3 monthly; $200 worth but $10 monthly; $500 worth but $25 monthly, and so on. If you prefer to pay cash you take 10% off, as many of our customers do. No extra charges of any kind.

You will be agreeably surprised at the wonderful assortment of fine furniture, rugs and housefurnishings in our uptown store, and at the reasonable, plainly marked prices.

COWPERTHWAIT & SONS
"Oldest Furniture House in America"
3rd Avenue at 121st Street, New York City



For Small Purses and Millionaires

The woman who buys a $3 sterling silver gift is just as welcome in our stores as the millionaire who pays $5000 for a diamond La Valliere pendant or plaque.

We believe she finds the same degree of satisfaction in selecting from our really immense stock. Certainly no store offers a wider range of choice. In no other store will you find service quite so far removed from the question of price.

$6 Half dozen CLOVELLY Teaspoons. Just out—our newest pattern in flatware. A classic, noble design suggesting the stately Stuart days. In all regular sizes and over ninety Fancy Pieces. A moderate priced pattern you surely ought to see.

Reed & Barton
Established 1824
Sterling Silver, Diamonds, Gold Jewelry, Clocks, Watches, Leather Goods, Stationery and Engraving, Canes and Umbrellas
Fifth Avenue and 32d Street 4 Maiden Lane

OUT TODAY

The New York Times
MID-WEEK
PICTORIAL WAR EXTRA

A MAGAZINE of twenty-four pages showing half a hundred of the latest and best photographs from the many war zones, beautifully reproduced by The Times's new process of printing—Rotogravure. We have had to increase the edition each week to meet the growing demand for this unique publication. It is always sold out early, and if you are collecting these wonderful war pictures you had better order a copy of your dealer today!

TABLE OF CONTENTS:

Page.
1—An Indian lancer with the British forces in France.
2—The war situation up to and including Nov. 1, 1914.
3—H. S. H. Prince Louis Alexander of Battenberg, First Sea Lord of the British Admiralty, who has been forced to resign owing to the pressure of public opinion in England.
4—The Crown Prince of Germany and members of his staff in consultation at the front.
Belgian guns in action during the defense of Antwerp.
5—On the march with the Germans in Poland.
A patriotic demonstration by boy scouts in the streets of London.
6—Thousands attend public service at Moscow to celebrate the Russian victories in Galicia.
Interior of a Russian hospital train returning from the battlefields of Poland.
7—British marines preparing to defend Liérre after the bridge over the River Nethe had been blown up.
The town of Revigny destroyed by fire during the bombardment.
8—The German cruiser Breslau, now flying the Turkish flag, reported to be in action against Russia in the Black Sea.
A noonday bivouac of French cavalry by a roadside in Northern France.
9—Motherhood's Chant, by McLandburgh Wilson.
10—Shifting a French battery between Montdidier and Roye.
A talented German private entertains his wounded comrades in the Grunewald Railroad Station, used as a hospital.
Recruits from Anatolia arriving at Haidar Pasha during recent mobilization in Turkey.
11—French engineers rebuilding a bridge at Tours on the Marne, which was destroyed by the Germans.
Roof of a house in Paris damaged by a German aeroplane bomb.
Germans patronize a Russian tea vender in Poland.
12-13—Generals in command of the German Armies.
14—Controlling the rush of refugees in flight from Ostend.
Refugees fleeing from Ghent in an ox cart.
Germans repairing a railroad track destroyed by the Belgians during the retreat from Antwerp.
15—German troops leaving for Russian Poland.
British troops eagerly sorting the mail for news from home.
Type of heavy field artillery used by the Russians in Poland.
16—A Belgian artillery column keeping in the shadow of trees to escape observation by aviators.
Russian Cossacks stack their lances in camp at a city on the Granze River.
French infantry in action behind a natural breastwork, near Antwerp.
17—Getting a German field piece into position on the crest of a hill.
Belgian guns masked with small trees to deceive the enemy's airmen.
An immense Krupp gun leaving the works at Essen on one of the great trucks specially built to transport these heavy weapons.
18—Belgian cavalry leaving Ghent an hour before the Germans arrived.
The Belgians forced to move their wounded hurriedly from Ostend.
19—General Serviers of France inspects Indian troops upon their arrival in the field.
Colonel Seeley, former British Secretary of War, now in active service at the front.
Hoisting the German flag on the Belgian-Dutch frontier.
20—An unceasing stream of supplies passing along the road to the greatest battle line of history.
M. Ronnefond, a French playwright, in the ruins of the Village of Epine.
An outpost of Indian lancers on scout duty on a road near Cercotte.
21—Maria Joostens, the heroine of Louvain, who refused to leave her telephone switchboard during the bombardment.
Enver Pasha, the Turkish Minister of War, who is now said to control Turkey's new destinies.
Ruined church at Villien aux Venn reported to have been used by the German Crown Prince as headquarters.
A Samson of the French Army lifts a gun and three of his colleagues.
22—British forces to quell the Boer uprising crossing a pontoon bridge in South Africa.
Dutch soldiers welcoming Belgian refugees on the frontier.
President Poincairé visits the French General Staff in the field.
23—Funeral of wounded British soldiers who died in Paris hospitals.
Crowd watching German aeroplane dropping bombs on Paris, Sunday, Oct. 11.
English "Long Tom" captured by the Germans during the siege of Antwerp.
24—Belgians intrenched on their side of the Nethe in an attempt to prevent the Germans crossing the river.

Pages 12 and 13 form a double-page feature of unusual interest; a series of ten portraits of

THE GERMAN GENERALS

by the famous German artist, Berthold Clauss. These portraits are exclusively reproduced by The Times for the first time in America, and make a single print page, 16 x 22 inches—suitable for framing.

PRICE TEN CENTS.
$1.25 for 3 months. $5.00 a year, postpaid.

For those who wish to preserve their copies of the Pictorial War Extra, The New York Times has prepared suitable binders, specially made for the purpose.
Price of binder, postpaid, to any address in the United States:
Full cloth..... $1.00
(with one year's subscription to the Mid-week Pictorial War Extra, $6.00.)
Half leather, gold trimmed..... 1.50
(with one year's subscription to the Mid-week Pictorial War Extra, $6.50.)
Size of binder, 12x17 inches; holds complete file for one year (52 copies.) Send stamps or money order, and state style of binding preferred.

The New York Times
MID-WEEK PICTORIAL WAR EXTRA
TIMES SQUARE NEW YORK

TIGERS' LAST DRILL FOR HARVARD GAME---NEW OWNERS FOR YANKEES LIKELY

PRINCETON BACKS GO TO HARVARD TODAY

Will Get Practice Catching Punts in Stadium—Others Follow Tomorrow.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 4.—The Tigers had their last actual scrimmage before the Harvard game in the Palmer Stadium this afternoon. It lasted over two hours and a half, and included every department of the game. For the first hour the scrubs, who had been drilled in the Harvard style of offense, staged their attack against the 'Varsity.

After that there was an hour of offensive and defensive work against the freshmen, the 'Varsity getting a particularly long drill in the use of the forward pass. It was none too successful against the first-year men, however, for the freshmen broke up most of their older opponents' efforts to score that way. "Sport" Donnelly, "Tal" Pendleton, and "Cy" Ballin had a session with the ends, coaching them in tackling men going down the field.

Six of the Princeton first string backs and the centre will leave tomorrow for Cambridge with Coach Penfield. They will go into the Stadium on Friday morning to practice catching punts. In the afternoon they will be joined by the rest of the eleven and the substitutes, the second division of the Tigers leaving Friday morning. The backs who leave tomorrow are Driggs, Law, Dickerman, Ames, Tibbott, and Glick. Gennert, the regular centre, will go along to do the passing for them.

The line-up for the Harvard game, it now seems, will be practically the same that started against Dartmouth. The return of Eddie Trenkmann and McLean to the Tiger line will strengthen the forwards greatly on both offense and defense. The ends are about the only doubtful positions. Brown and Lamberton have not been showing up so well this week, and there is a chance that Shea and Highley, the second choices so far this season, may start.

One thing is certain, however, both sets will get in during the course of the contest, because of the speed of the Tigers scheme of play, which exacts much of the ends. Ames is almost sure to start at quarter back, with Glick at half back, as the result of Ames's showing the last few days.

This is the tentative line-up announced by the coaches tonight: Lamberton or Shea, left end; Ballin, left tackle; Shenk, left guard; Gennert, centre; E. Trenkmann, right guard; McLean, right tackle; Brown or Highley, right end; Ames, quarter back; Glick, right half back; Tibbott, left half back; Driggs, full back.

The team will stay at the Copley Square Hotel in Boston. Immediately after the game the men will go to Lenox, Mass., for a rest, returning to Princeton probably on Tuesday.

HARVARD WORKS OUT DEFENSE

Finds It Hard to Meet Princeton's Frequently Changed Style of Attack.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 4.—Harvard's preparation for the coming of the Tigers to the Stadium Saturday continued this afternoon along the lines of the earlier part of the week. The 'Varsity, with a shift or two in the line-up, spent less time, however, on offense than it did yesterday, the greater part of the afternoon being spent working out the defenses for the Tiger plays.

All Fall Princeton has been changing its attack constantly, and it has been no easy matter for the scouts to keep the Crimson's second team equipped with all the plays the Jerseymen have been putting on. The changes in the team today were not permanent, but were calculated to get some of the substitutes accustomed to working with the regulars and without handicapping the team play.

Trumbull was out of the rushline and Wallace, too, and Bradlee did no work in the backfield. Hardwick was behind the line with Mahan and Francke, as in the Michigan game, and Smith, a recently returned cripple, whose work against the Wolverines was very good up the time he was hurt, was at right end in place of Hardwick. R. Curtis played right tackle, while Bigelow and Harris played centre. The latter is a man on whom the coaches are working hard, as Bigelow is the first substitute guard, as well as substitute centre, and should he be needed for guard and anything happened to Wallace, Harris would have to get into the game. Harris was very good as a defensive back, and is well suited for Harvard's style of centre play on defense. His offensive game, however, is not up to the standard he or the others.

Mahan did some kicking this afternoon, and will be a very necessary man for the Princeton game. Morgan, a tackle who has been out with a broken hand, was out running about the field today. Soucy did not put in an appearance.

Lehigh in Hard Scrimmage.

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Penn., Nov. 4.—Twenty-five minutes of hard scrimmage for the Lehigh 'Varsity brought to a close today the real hard work before the Pennsylvania State game. Diametrically opposite to the work of yesterday the regulars were kept on the defense most of the time today. The line again received much attention, in fact, the bolstering up of the line from tackle to tackle has been the chief feature of the week's work. It is likely that Green, Ostrom, and Tate will be the line combination to face Lamb et al., whom every team so far this season has had reasons to respect. It is likely that Mattern will not get into Saturday's game at all, and Chenoweth is being groomed to replace Cahall, who may start in the contest, but at present is not in first-class shape. Frank Green was out today in togs for the first time since the Muhlenberg game, but neither he nor Grumback will be in shape for Saturday's game. Becker, the guard, was hurt today, but not seriously enough to cause worry. The team is showing up encouragingly, and if the improvement keeps up it will be able to give a good account of itself against the undefeated State College team.

BEAUMONT

At the clubs, at the dances—wherever well dressed fellows get together—you'll see the Beaumont, a long pointed poke

Ide Silver Collar

Geo. P. Ide & Co., Makers, Troy, N.Y.

CORNELL'S WEAKEST SPOT.

Defense Against Forward Pass Still Evident in Practice.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 4.—In an hour's scrimmage with the scrubs this afternoon the Cornell 'Varsity showed consistent attacking power and made a very favorable impression except in one particular failure to defend properly against the forward pass. This weakness, which has cropped out a good deal this season, was much in evidence today, and the scrubs managed to score a couple of touchdowns after long gains by the forward pass route had brought them close to the 'Varsity's goal line.

Quarterback Collins made dexterous passes to Butts and Eckley, and these two men made big gains. As the coaches realize that Michigan will undoubtedly use a lot of new football in the game at Ann Arbor next week the lack of vigilance and alertness on the part of the 'Varsity in breaking up forward passing is causing considerable concern.

When it came to the offensive, however, the Cornell team was effective. All of the regulars were in the line-up except O'Hearn and Shuler. The 'Varsity machine driven by Barrett mowed down the scrubs and crossed their goal line four times. Barrett called on Collyer and Philippi for line plunging, while he himself carried the ball for good gains around tackle and end. Barrett, who got into the line-up for the first time this week appeared to be in fine fettle, and the other men who laid off Monday and Tuesday also seemed to be all right. Shuler was not allowed to scrimmage because he had a bad leg, and O'Hearn was kept out in order to give his injured leg a chance to mend. The Captain got plenty of exercise, however, from Coach Van Orman, who still hopes that he will be able to get O'Hearn in shape for the big games.

THREE MORE HAVE TYPHOID

Lafayette Football Team Suffers Another Serious Setback.

Special to The New York Times.

EASTON, Penn., Nov. 4.—Three more of the Lafayette men are out of the game on account of sickness. Kennedy went to his home this morning with symptoms of typhoid fever. Kelly and Luhra are both confined to their beds. All these men are regular 'Varsity players and among the most important on the team.

The situation of the team is precarious. Fate seems particularly malicious in depriving the team of its best men. In spite of this discouraging news the 'Varsity and the scrub had a long scrimmage this afternoon and both performed with a fair degree of credit. Dick Diamond worked at full back most of the time. With Kennedy gone it is necessary that Diamond shall play behind the line. He did not look so good in this scrimmage this afternoon. He is essentially an end and has to become acclimated to the new post. Aiken played half back opposite Weldon and performed well. Swartzstoll alternated at the end, which was vacant by reason of Blackburn's absence. Hartman and Gaynor played the other end. Shilling played a very good game in the scrub backfield.

HARD FOOTBALL FOR ARMY.

Severe Test for Cadets in Preparation for Notre Dame Game Saturday

Special to The New York Times.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 4.—Hard football was the programme for the Army team today, in further preparation for the Notre Dame game. For one hour the big team battled with a strong scrub eleven, the coaches driving them at every turn, and calling for more pep from all the while. Three touchdowns for the 'Varsity was the total of the scoring, Hodgson tallying twice on pretty end runs, and Hoge being shoved over for the third score after a desperate struggle under the scrub goal posts. Times fought hard, Schlenker, Parks, and O'Hare, the centre trio on the scrubs, taking severe punishment in their heroic fight on the defensive.

McEwan was in the rough work this afternoon, and it is now practically certain that he will start against the Hoosiers on Saturday. Herrick and Timberlake got some special coaching from Lieut. Thompson, the new line coach. Mecham and Oilphant both rested today. Head Coach Daly inspired the men to hard work by a clever exhibition of real quarter back play, getting in the game himself several times, and reminding the watchers of his cadet football days. The battalion rooted with much spirit with the band accompaniment all through the workout.

Reilly Grills N. Y. U. Eleven.

Although yesterday's practice followed the game with Trinity on Tuesday, Head Coach "Tom" Reilly gave the New York University eleven no rest and put the Violet squad through a grueling test, which only closed when darkness prevented the men from distinguishing either ball or players. Every man on the team who participated in the game with Trinity came in for severe censure and criticism at the hands of the Irish Reilly, who put forth strenuous efforts to remedy the shortcomings against Trinity. The right side of the Violet line, which showed up poorly against the Trinity attack, received particular attention. "A fast signal practice for the 'Varsity eleven was followed by some work for the ends and backfield men in getting down under and catching punts.

The regulars were lined up against the scrub eleven and the latter was allowed to have the ball the greater part of the time, and directed its plays against the right side of the 'Varsity line in order to give it the fullest advantage of the practice. All of the men came in for a full share of this constructive work, and the result was that the Violet line to all appearances is taking a decided brace.

The game for the second team which was scheduled with the Cullum Hall team at West Point for tomorrow has been postponed until Nov. 20. The coaches are giving some of their attention to the latter team men in order to develop a smooth working eleven for this game. There is no dearth of material for this team and no trouble is expected with the West Pointers.

Navy Aims to Outwit Army Backs.

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 4.—Recognizing that it has not the individual stars to match several of the West Point backs, the Navy coaches are making every effort to develop an attack which will outwit their military rivals. To this end secret practice began early this season and it was continued this afternoon. Nearly the whole of the practice period was devoted to work on these special plays which this season promise to be more numerous and varied than ever before. The Navy has two powerful passers in Blodgett and Failing, the half backs, both of whom are over six feet tall and can get the ball off in good shape. A hard game is anticipated against Fordham on Saturday, and another against Colby the following week, but all the practice is directed toward preparing the team for its final game.

Morristown's Seventh Straight Win

Special to The New York Times.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Nov. 4.—Morristown School today defeated Randolph Military Academy, 41 to 3, in the hardest fought football game of the season here. Wendell, Capt. Clement, Keck, and Devitalis starred for Morristown. The prettiest play was made by Keck, who received a forward pass from Wendell and ran fifty yards for a touchdown. This makes the seventh straight win for Morristown.

Stuyvesant Soccer Victory.

Stuyvesant High School met a worthy opponent in Erasmus High of Brooklyn in a high schools' soccer championship match at Van Cortlandt Park yesterday afternoon and eventually won by the score of 1 goal to 0.

Honors were even in the first period, and the second half was well on when Harris, inside left for Stuyvesant, did some splendid work and got the ball through for his side. Steen and Hearn did good work at goal for their respective sides. The line-up:

Stuyvesant.	Positions.	Erasmus.
Steen	Goal	Hearn
Meer	Right back	Aince
Smith	Left back	Thomas
Webster	Right half	Devarest
Halidier	Centre half	Norman
Albert	Left half	Jenkins
Meyers	Outside right	Welsh
Harris	Inside right	Castle
Martowitz	Centre	Stancin
Earlie	Inside left	Cace
Carlin	Outside left	Shultz

Referee—Mr. Holman, P. S. A. Linesmen—Messrs. Gallagher and Harris. Stop-watch—Mr. Gallagher.

YALE FRESHMEN TIE THE 'VARSITY

Score a Touchdown and Nearly Put Over Drop Kick and Field Goals.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 4.—Nate Wheeler's strong freshmen eleven was brought over from their gridiron today to give the 'Varsity their stiffest argument for the week. The freshies scored a touchdown and narrowly missed a drop kick and a field goal against the regulars, the final score proving a tie.

Whether the bout did the freshmen any real good is doubtful as Baldridge, their stellar tackle and quarterback, Lovejoy were injured, and the freshmen play Harvard and Princeton the next two Saturdays for the 1918 championship. Lovejoy, whose shoulder was dislocated, is out of the game for the freshmen season.

The freshmen performed the feat of taking the ball from midfield for a touchdown without being held. Hutchinson and Markle found a passage through the 'Varsity line for 20 yards, and tackle Yates, dropping behind to fullback, tossed a forward pass which Moseley took over the line. The freshmen got their chance to score through a 'Varsity fumble, following the kickoff. The freshmen were held until the third down, when Bingham almost drop-kicked a goal. Easton punted to midfield, where the freshmen began their successful march for a touchdown. Taking the ball at their 20-yard line, the 'Varsity quickly evened the score on long gains by Scovil and Easton through tackle, Easton going over the line for the score.

From midfield the 'Varsity had traveled back to the freshmen 30-yard line, when end rush Smith of the 1918 team grabbed Tommy Cornell's forward pass and leaped free for 60 yards. This time the freshmen were unable to gain and Yates, on the third down, just missed a goal from placement. The 'Varsity gained 70 yards by rushing before the scrimmage closed and almost scored again. Standing behind the goal, Bingham of the freshmen, punted into the 'Varsity line, Miller falling on the ball. The score was disallowed because of 'Varsity offside playing.

In the signal drill Capt. Talbott and Aleck Wilson held their former places at left tackle and quarterback. The second string 'Varsity backfield was used, Scovil and Guernsey playing the entire thirty minutes of the scrimmaging. While Capt. Talbott has a fine centre, and is almost a certain permanent choice for the position, Wiley going to fullback on the scrubs. Tom Shevlin drove the 'Varsity at its top speed.

Eight Cripples on Fordham Team.

The wisdom of "Skip" Wymard in opposing two big games in one week was clearly demonstrated yesterday when the Fordham football machine found itself with eight of its regulars crippled and the Navy tussle coming next Saturday. The full cost of Fordham's Election Day victory was evident yesterday, when only three regulars reported for practice. "Skip" Wymard had planned for a big scrimmage in preparation for the midshipmen, but had to confine the practice to a signal drill. The scrubs who represented Fordham during the last quarter against Gettysburg were out in uniform, and have almost certain prospects of being called upon to be the nucleus of Fordham's opposition against Annapolis.

Because of the fact that Fordham's main strength, both defensive and offensive, is behind the line, the Maroon team bore up well all the battering at Gettysburg. Yule and Regan, who entered the contest in poor shape are again under the care of Dr. Spies, while Dunn, who has played every minute during the six games so far this season, emerged from the tussle with a wrenched knee. Morcalli also showed signs of having come out from under a steam roller, but will be back in the line-up today. On the line the same condition exists, Mulcahy, Dorgan, and Foley, who were badly battered by Rhode Island two weeks ago, were both forced to leave the game as a result of their former injuries. After being knocked out four times during the last half, Mulcahy, who is a big tackle, was finally put forcibly on the Maroon crippled list. Harry Kane is the other regular who was unable to appear yesterday. Kane hurt his left leg while tackled, after making a stirring twenty-yard dash around Gettysburg's flank.

Forward Passes Score at Hanover.

Special to The New York Times.

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 4.—Forward passes scored a single touchdown this afternoon in a long scrimmage between the 'Varsity and scrubs. Curtis was the only first-string man in the back field, and it is probable that he will start the game with Tufts Saturday. In practice Capt. Whitney showed considerable improvement in punting, a department in which the Green has been weak. Green and Cumisky on the receiving end were accurate in spite of a strong wind. Cotton is still out of the game, but Spears's improvement in form strengthens the line considerably. There is still a shortage of speedy ends with Perry, Winship, and Redfield the best performers. At tackle, Spears, Pudrith, and McAuliffe all worked on the first team this afternoon and the latter was especially effective. Merrill, Barrows, and Spears are all strong possibilities for guards. Gerrish, Tuck, and Curtis worked in the 'Varsity back field this afternoon. Whichever is another probability for a position behind the line in Saturday's game.

Union Sticks to Old-Style Play.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 4.—With new material reporting every day the Union College football squad is able to keep up its severe scrimmage work, which has made possible six straight victories this season. The old-style line plunging continues to be the chief work, the coaches believing that the open game is to be resorted to only in the last extreme. Friday, the speedy right end, sustained a wrenched shoulder in the game against R. P. I. last Saturday.

Secret Practice Under Tent.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 4.—Football under a big circus tent started here today. The tent was obtained to insure secret practice for the Indiana eleven in its preparation for the game with Ohio State at Indianapolis next Saturday. Jordan Field is low and it is practically impossible to hold secret practice in the open, as a clear view of the gridiron may be had from two different stations outside of the high board fence. Coach Childs will now begin to hand out trick plays to be used against the Ohioans.

French Cyclists Sail for New York.

The first batch of European riders who will compete in the six-day race this year are on the ocean and headed for America. Manager MacFarland received a cable yesterday from his European agent stating that Parent, Dupuy, Seres, and Cousseau had sailed on the Rochambeau Saturday and will arrive here Monday. These four riders are Frenchmen, and are rated among the first-class riders of Europe. Parent won the motor-paced championship of the world in 1909, 1910, and 1911, and Seres won the title of champion of Europe this year in the motor-paced class. Dupuy and Cousseau are sprinters and six-day riders.

In addition to competing in the six-day race, which will start Nov. 15, all four Frenchmen will start in the indoor championships which will be run in the Garden Nov. 14. Seres will be the opponent of Carman, Walthour, and Linart, the Belgian champion, in the motor-paced title race, and Parent, Dupuy, and Cousseau will compete in the ten-mile sprint championship.

Champions Win Endurance Race.

William Blackburn, champion sprint skater of the United States, and Roland Cloni, the long-distance title holder, captured first honors in a three-hour endurance roller skating race held at the Madison Square Garden Rink on election night. It was not until the final lap that Cloni, skating the final stage for the successful team, pulled away from Arthur Louney of the Louney-Jack Woods team and Harry Burke of the Burke-Jack Yale combination to win by about six yards from the former. Each team covered fifty-three miles and eight laps. There were seven competitors entered in the contest under the first three winning combinations.

"PRO" HOCKEY LEAGUE.

New York and Boston to Join a Canadian Association.

New York will be represented in one of the Canadian professional hockey leagues. This announcement was made last night by Manager Cornelius Fellowes of St. Nicholas Rink. The success of the exhibition matches played in New York at the end of the Amateur Hockey League season has had much to do in influencing the St. Nicholas Rink management in the extension of the professional circuit.

Two Canadian organizations are negotiating with Manager Fellowes, and an announcement on the preference will shortly be forthcoming. The proposition was first made by the Nationals, the rival organization, to the National Hockey Association of Canada. When the latter learned of the offer a second one was made by the parent body. It was suggested that Boston and New York be included in the circuit in order to break the long jump from the Canadian cities to New York. The management of the Boston Arena was favorably impressed with the scheme, and the two Canadian associations have been working for several months to obtain the approval of the managers of the two American rinks.

Manager Fellowes recently visited Canada and looked over the situation. The Nationales stated that their new organization was backed by wealthy French Canadians, and that they would secure many of the best players in the National Hockey Association. The proposed circuit included Montreal, Toronto, Boston, and New York, with a French-Canadian and English-Canadian team in the first-named city. The National Hockey Association circuit comprises Les Canadiens and Wanderers of Montreal, Ottawa, Quebec, Toronto, and Tecumseh of Toronto.

Each Canadian association made every effort to close with Manager Fellowes, but the latter declined to commit himself until he had consulted architects, with a view to increasing the seating accommodation at St. Nicholas Rink to 2,000. Finding the latter plan feasible, Mr. Fellowes decided to enter the professional field. He will secure the services of one of the best players in Canada to act as manager. The latter will have full power to sign a team composed of the best players obtainable in Canada.

It is expected that with the extension of the league to New York and Boston Americans will take up the game seriously, and in time the contests will become really international in character by having only American players on American teams.

The initial cost of forming a professional team for New York will be heavy, while the remodeling of the interior of St. Nicholas Rink will add materially to the outlay. It is, however, expected that by offering high-class hockey throughout the Winter New York lovers of sport will lend the project their support.

In order that New York shall be properly represented in the professional league Manager Fellowes will not make any change this year. He said last night that the time was too short to get together a strong team this Winter, but as soon as he decided the question as to which association he would enter he would engage a manager and sign up a team for next Winter. In the meantime he will arrange to bring Canadian professional teams to New York to play a series of matches, commencing shortly after the New Year. He plans to have the Canadians play every two weeks at St. Nicholas Rink with the final series at the end of the season. It is possible that he will get together his team in time to play exhibition matches with teams from the Dominion before the present season closes.

Greaves Plays Steady Game.

Jack Greaves defeated Thomas Butler last night, 232 to 175, in the third match of the English billiard tournament at Doyle's Forty-second Street Academy for the Dewar Challenge Shield. Butler, an old Nottingham player, was not in good form and proved to be an easy victim for his younger opponent. Greaves played a consistent and brilliant game in running out in fifty-two innings. He made one run of 28, the best so far in the tournament.

Greaves made the good average of 4 44-52. He got a bad start and did not really hit his stride until the tenth inning, when he made 18. Butler got a couple of 10s, but he played erratically.

The tournament is attracting the interest of English billiard players, and the entry list has been increased to twenty-two. Most of the contestants are Englishmen who have played the game at home. The scores:

Jack Greaves—0 0 0 5 0 0 4 0 0 18 0 0 0 0 0 28 2 2 0 12 0 0 0 18 0 0 4 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 4 0 5 27 4 5 12 0 0 0 0 0 0 15 5 17. Total—252. High runs—28 27 17. Average—4 46-52.

Thomas Butler—0 5 2 0 8 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 7 6 2 0 4 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0

The New York Times.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.
ADOLPH S. OCHS, Publisher and President.
B. C. Franch, Secretary.

Address all communications
THE NEW YORK TIMES.
Telephone 1000 Bryant.

Publication Office.....Times Square
Times Annex...43d St., west of Broadway
Downtown.....13 Beekman Street
Wall Street.....2 Rector Street
Harlem.....243 West 125th Street
Bronx.....146th St. and Bergen Av.
Staten Island.....Ferry House, St. George
Jersey City.....538 Jersey Avenue
Long Island City.....363 Jackson Avenue
Hoboken.....61 Second Street
Paterson.....13 Park Avenue
Elizabeth.....90 Broad Street
WASHINGTON.....Post Building
PHILADELPHIA.....Public Ledger Building
CHICAGO.....1,302 Tribune Building
St. Louis.....409 Globe-Democrat Building
DETROIT.....826 Ford Building
LONDON.....2 Pall Mall East, S. W.
PARIS.....32 Rue Louis le Grand

ONE CENT Greater New York, Jersey City, Newark. Elsewhere Two Cents. Five Cents Sunday.

Subscription Rates:

DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year.....$8.50
Per Month, 75c.
DAILY, without Sunday, per Year.....6.00
Per Month, 50c.
SUNDAY, with Picture Section and Review of Books, per Year.....2.50
Canada, Sunday only.....3.00
Postage free in United States, Canada, Mexico, Panama, Canal Zone, Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Philippines, Guam, Samoa, Shanghai.

All other countries, (postage included.)
Daily and Sunday, per Year.....$24.00
Per Month, $2.
Daily, without Sunday, per Year.....18.00
Per Month, $1.50.
Sunday only, per Year.....6.00
Per Month, 70c.

THE ANNALIST, (Mondays,) per Year...4.00
Canada, $5; other countries, $5.50.
THE NEW YORK TIME'S BOOK REVIEW, per Year.....1.00
Canada, $1.50; other countries, $2.
THE NEW YORK TIMES MID-WEEK PICTORIAL WAR EXTRA, (Thursdays) per Year, $3; Six Months, $1.50; Three Months, $1.25; Single Copies, 10c.
Canada, one year, $6; other countries, one year, $6.50.
THE NEW YORK TIMES INDEX, Quarterly—Full Cloth, per Year, $8; per Copy, $2.

Entered as second-class mail matter.

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, NOV. 5, 1914.

THE BRITISH AMBASSADOR OF PROSPERITY.

It is out of character for Americans to think small beer of themselves and to imagine that they are headed for the bowwows. It is all the more cheering when they are in that mood to find the British Ambassador of Prosperity, if Sir GEORGE PAISH will excuse us for calling him out of his title, giving such excellent reasons why we should cheer up in the full belief that the best is yet to come. Through The Tribune's Ottawa dispatch these reaches New York as good reading of a financial sort as could be desired. Sir GEORGE is the financial adviser of the British Treasury, which is rising heroically to a task really heartbreaking. The labors of our Treasury even in the civil war were trifling compared to those of the British Treasury now. Our war was a local affair, and merely the biggest war up to that time. There is no corner of the earth not now disturbed by this war, and British finance reaches everywhere. The British Empire is financing all its "nations," a little loan of $100,000,000 having been granted Australia this week. Canada has a similar loan, which London is financing with our gold. That is the immediate point of contact of American and British finance, although there are other matters of mutual interest. Very important are the relations of the Cotton Exchanges and the Stock Exchanges of London, Liverpool, and New York, with their outstanding contracts for some hundreds of millions, although the differences upon them are more moderate. The views of a man dealing with these problems on the part of the British Treasury are inferior to those of no other man of finance.

The encouragement to the United States in the words of Sir GEORGE PAISH lies in the fact that he thinks and talks in terms of goods and not of paper or prices. It is hard for Americans to get away from the "tape" view of finance. When securities are depressed Americans are prone to think that there is no bottom to anything. But bills of exchange reflect trade, not speculation, and the first thought of the British adviser is of trade, the exchanges of goods. To an extent unappreciated in this country the relation between trade and prosperity is closer than between speculation and prosperity. Sir GEORGE bases his hope for British finance and for American prosperity upon that fact. The British Government has been willing to undertake the present payment of all bills of exchange, and to carry them for a year after the war. It would be incredible that our Treasury should assume a like responsibility for the maturities of our national banks for the simple reason that there are in existence only samples of American bills of exchange. The British bills of exchange, in the words of Sir GEORGE, > are very largely based upon products which the world needs, which are bound eventually to be sold, and are secured both by the commodities upon which they are drawn and upon the general and valuable assets of the firm responsible for their payment. After peace is established these firms will be able to provide for the obligations resting upon them.

That is doubly stimulating to American thought. It eases anxiety upon behalf of American credits which have been delayed in payment by the British moratorium. Secondly, it provides an example of what the establishment of the Federal Reserve system will do for us. In a future not too far distant "dollar exchange" will rank beside sterling exchange, and there will come into existence a class of securities almost independent of the tape, and hardly less stable than Government securities.

Sir GEORGE perceives this clearly. We are under a compulsion to be prosperous because we own so many billions of goods which the world must have, and which can be got nowhere else. We are temporarily obstructed in selling them because of difficulties of payment and shipment. The missing link between our sellers and foreign buyers is the deficiency of our banking arrangements, now within a fortnight of removal. In the words of Sir GEORGE, > this operation will impel the United States to enlarge its operations as an international money lender. With its enormous crops and good markets for its products, the United States must continue to save a great deal of money. It is a question for it to decide whether it will continue to lay additional tracks on its railroads, construct costly terminals, and build beautiful buildings, or whether it will take up the task of helping to furnish the capital for the world's development, and particularly for the newer countries on the American Continent.

It is cannily put. England is under the compulsion of saving its capital for British uses, and offers us the reversion of our share of the business which has made British wealth a world's wonder. The tender of this financial empire comes at a time when we have erected all the beautiful buildings we need for a time, and when we are positively ruined by more food than we can eat, more cotton than we can spin, more copper and oil than we can possibly use, and so on through values of billions. All we have to do is to turn them into "dollar exchange"; that is, sell them on credit. Sir GEORGE offers us a pair of double focus "specs." Hitherto we have looked through the near focus. Sir GEORGE shows us the alluring prospect visible through the international focus. We are going to have a good deal to do with abroad hereafter, and the British Ambassador of Prosperity so assures us in a language known to but few Americans. We cannot demand gold for payments too large to be met in that way. But we can take promises to pay dollars in New York, and then in time of trouble our finance will be as substantial as the British. London has lost the payment of a quarter of a billion of cash due from Germans and Austrians, and is making war on a gigantic scale, yet it is able to finance other countries. It is a spectacle to marvel at, and an example to follow.

COMFORT FOR THE SUFFRAGISTS.

We are not disposed to gloat over the woman suffragists for their defeat on Tuesday in four of the seven States which voted upon Constitutional amendments granting to women the right to vote. They gained two States, Montana and Nevada, and they will be disposed to take comfort in that victory. Women may now vote on all issues and for all candidates in these eleven States—Montana, Nevada, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Washington, California, Arizona, Kansas, and Oregon—and the Territory of Alaska. They have restricted suffrage in Illinois, of which, it is reported, they did not largely avail themselves on Tuesday. North and South Dakota, Ohio, and Missouri have now set aside proposed Constitutional amendments—the result in Nebraska is still in doubt—and the untiring suffragists must begin their fight anew in those States. They must also work with unabated zeal to secure the second passage of suffrage amendments in New York, Pennsylvania, and Ohio, and to overcome the opposition which has thus far defeated their plans in New Jersey and Wisconsin. Then there will be only twenty-four other States to work in.

So the suffragists have much to live for. There is nothing so inspiriting as hard work. They know perfectly well that the Democrats, who fared rather badly in some of the States this year, will not give up the struggle for existence, so why should the suffragists? Let the antis chatter and giggle, let the old-fashioned men still misuse that preposterous adjective "womanly"; the advocates of the extension of the suffrage must keep up the fight, and they may be comforted to do so by the knowledge that when a goal is once gained there is always a relaxation of spirit. It is not half so much fun to win as it is to fight.

THE PEOPLE'S WAY.

The quelling of the Roosevelt revolt in the Republican Party is a good thing for the country, it is a good thing for the Democrats, and of course it is a good thing for the Republicans. We are inclined to think it is a good thing for Mr. ROOSEVELT himself, although he can hardly be expected to take that view of the matter. Beyond all question the Democratic Party will be sounder, wiser, better organized, and above all more careful, facing a united opposition than when confronted by two factions of Republicans, each belaboring the other. The Republicans fell into evil ways in the years when the hopeless imbecility of the Democracy in respect to finance and currency made victory sure for them in every election. The Democrats would rush headlong into bogs of error if through a series of years they were assured by Republican division of their position of power. The country is ill-served by a party in that position. The ebb and flow of the tides keep the sea from becoming a most unpleasant body of water, and the alternations of political fortune make parties wary of adopting extreme and dangerous policies. This is the people's way of making them prudent and respectable.

Since he left the White House Mr. ROOSEVELT has made a bad mess of it in politics. He set out to destroy the Republican Party and the Republican Party has renewed its strength. He assailed with his customary ferocity both Mr. WHITMAN and Mr. SULZER. Mr. WHITMAN is elected by a very big majority and Mr. SULZER, whom the Colonel denounced as a "crook," has polled more than double the number of votes recorded for DAVENPORT, the Colonel's candidate. All over the country, save in California, the Progressive Party has been practically reabsorbed into the Republican organization. There are many fields of activity in which Mr. ROOSEVELT could be both interesting and useful. If he will put aside his political ideas, which the country has most emphatically rejected, his political ambitions, which have been and will be fruitless, and his grudges, which are unworthy of him, he can rise to a very high place in the esteem of his countrymen. He would make a very picturesque sage.

The way of the people in the New York State election may not be past finding out, but it baffles the analysts. It is quite the custom to attribute Republican victories in this State to the people's hatred of Tammany. We see no particular reason why the people should hate Tammany worse this year than in many other years. Mr. DIX was a Tammany candidate. Mr. SULZER was very much a Tammany candidate. They were elected without difficulty. Ambassador GERARD, who has always been a Tammany man, ran far ahead of Mr. GLYNN, who is not a Tammany man. Tammany is a good enough dog for anybody's beating, but we imagine that the explanation of the great Democratic defeat on Tammany grounds leaves out of the account the potency of other forces, for the disclosure of which a suite impossible scrutiny of the minds and hearts of the voters would be required. The influence of the Sulzer "vindication" issue has doubtless been very much exaggerated. There has been time for the voters to come to their senses about the merits of the impeachment proceedings, and the justice of the finding; also to reach sound conclusions about the personal worth of Mr. SULZER. The Sulzer candidacy appeared to have served as a catch-all for the votes of men not easy in their minds about either party, men who found the candidates of their own organization unacceptable, yet were not prepared to vote for the opposition. In such an election as that held in this State the electorate moves in mysterious ways.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Ten men must this month be selected by Mayor MITCHEL for places on the Board of Education, which consists of forty-six members. This is the only city department that has not felt the reorganizing impress of Mr. MITCHEL'S Administration. Too many Mayors have regarded it as a sort of political "glory hole" into which to thrust second-rate appointees. The Board contains now almost no men of conspicuous fitness and ability like SETH LOW and JOHN D. CRIMMINS, who would try to see through a budget of $40,000,000 before passing it, who could confer and work with the heads of a great educational system, and adopt and defend policies with competency. Mayor MITCHEL has this month his opportunity to change for the better the complexion of the Board.

It already contains a few men who are experts or have records of faithful and intelligent service. Like the men who have converted the Board of Aldermen into a dignified legislative body, these have striven to achieve for the Board of Education a status commensurate with the needs of a community that wishes to educate properly 800,000 children. They deplore the fact that the great educational budget, which is the largest of any department, cannot be responsibly made up by the Board, and that it cannot deal broadly with appointments to high positions in the schools, resisting the pressure of narrow and partisan interests.

It goes without saying that men with such aims should in every way be encouraged, and the best way to encourage them is to appoint men of their kidney to serve with them.

THE NEW HAVEN INDICTMENTS.

There will be general satisfaction at the indictments in the New Haven case, mingled with appreciation of the difficult situation in which it places citizens of unblemished repute. If they are innocent they are entitled to acquittal. If they are guilty the public is entitled to their conviction. There is no body of men above trial by their peers under our institutions, and our institutions are valuable above every other consideration. The refusal to indict or the neglect to prosecute crime is comparable only to the willful punishment of the innocent. There is, or has been, equal danger of both alternatives in this very conspicuous case, and there is no other way now but to go to the end of it, letting no guilty man escape and punishing none who is not guilty. The difficulty is to decide what is the crime and who are the guilty.

This difficulty arises at the threshold of the case. The defendants are charged with conspiracy to establish a monopoly of transportation and to restrain trade. They are charged under a statute and must be tried by its terms. They are not charged with conduct offensive to good general morals or the customs of their business. They are guilty under the Sherman law or they are not guilty. But the Sherman law itself has had two meanings. When the New Haven conspiracy was young the law was construed in a manner which, it may be assumed or admitted, would have necessitated a verdict of guilty under the instructions of the court. But the court has changed its mind. It defends its own consistency, and declares that its first opinion was misunderstood. However that may be, it is the later opinion which controls now. It is no longer the law that an agreement which has promoted trade or restrained competition by fair methods is necessarily a crime. It may be a crime, but only if the facts show it to be such in the light of reason. This case will not go to the jury under the old interpretation of the statute, which was so much too severe for the good of the community that the Supreme Court could not insist upon its own opinion. Even under the statute which Congress has just passed, and which represents the latest view of the subject, only unfair methods of competition are punishable, and only if contrary to public policy and interest. The defendants under these indictments cannot be convicted unless they have done something injurious to the public or unreasonable when tested by ordinary business judgment and practice.

There is no doubt that the doings of the New Haven managers have been a public detriment, but not in all ways, nor necessarily in any way such that anybody ought to go to prison for them. The rates charged by this asserted monopoly have been regulated so severely that there is a reaction toward liberality. The defendants cannot be convicted of extortion for that reason. Their rates were voluntarily moderate before the days of excessive regulation. They have not been increased unduly. The defendants cannot be charged with poor service on the whole. There have been regrettable accidents, each of which rests upon its own demerits. In volume and quality the service of the public has steadily grown, and has been approved by official critics not under suspicion of tenderness for these defendants. The defendants have lost much money for themselves and others, but none of it with felonious intent, so far as is known. If they have been guilty of theft of corporate assets, or if they have been guilty of criminal waste or negligence, they should suffer. That is the question at issue, and an opinion before trial would be premature. Errors of judgment are not criminal, and are not imputable for crimes by those who must share responsibility for them.

The defendants no doubt think themselves unjustly treated, and will ever retain the opinion which may be imputed to them, that, if they had not been balked, they would have done great things for the public as well as for themselves. On the other hand, those assuming to work in the public interest may be supposed to have an equally strong conviction that all has been done by them for the best and with extreme fairness. This difference of opinion now can never be settled, and it throws no light upon the interests of those using this public utility.

Will its charges be reduced? Will its facilities be increased? Will the cause of public morality be promoted by this prosecution? What man of business is there who might not have done what these men did, under the conditions of the time when they did it? That is an important question in judging these indictments, for the verdict will come from the average man, and not from the exceptional persons whose foresight and virtue and business capacity are so much superior to those of these defendants as to justify them in sitting in judgment upon them.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

A Struggle for the First Page.

Whether the prominence of display and position and the amount of space given to a particular news subject by the papers are or are not an accurate measure of the interest taken in that subject and of the importance ascribed to it, by the public, is a question not easily answered.

Editorial effort lies, of course, more or less in the direction of making them such a measure, but the problem is complicated by the fact that editorial preferences, taste, and purpose also come into play in both selection and presentation. It might with some plausibility be contended that the newspapers tell as much about their makers as about their readers. Indeed, it might be declared that they tell more, but when a paper fails to meet and supply a considerable public demand, its life is necessarily short, and a good many of them live long and prosper.

Probably the truth lies in the middle ground—the wishes of the reading public are carefully considered, but editorial judgment decides which of the wishes shall be gratified and incidentally aspires to guide and influence them.

These remarks were elicited by observation of the way the New York papers met yesterday the difficulty of having to handle two subjects—the war and the election—to either of which, were the other absent, the greater part, if not the whole, of every front page would have been devoted. A few of the papers, including THE TIMES, solved the difficulty by dividing into two sections, thus having what were practically two first pages, and giving one to each subject. The commoner solution was a compromise, with both the war and the election on the one front page, so allowing readers to determine for themselves which they would read first.

That any doubt at all arose, when the news of a general election as important as Tuesday's was to be reported, is something that probably never before happened in our national history. It is impressive evidence of how important the war is for us, in spite of our neutrality, and of how keenly its momentousness is realized.

He Took a Risk Needlessly.

When, in one of his recent articles, Mr. CHESTERTON undertook to make a list of the occasions when German soldiers were to be found in history meddling in matters of no concern to themselves, and doing it as helpers of tyranny, he included in the record those who were to be discovered "shooting farmers at Saratoga."

For an Englishman to do that was incautious to the point of recklessness, as it invited, from any German with even a little knowledge of American annals, precisely the rejoinder made yesterday by one of our correspondents, the shooting of farmers to which Mr. CHESTERTON referred was done by men hired for the purpose by the British Government, and that Government shared with their own Monarch whatever condemnation their employment in such work earned. Inevitable, too, was it that Mr. CHESTERTON'S alert Teutonic critic should go on with some scathing remarks about the use by the British of that time of other mercenaries whose methods of waging war were even more primitive than those of the Hessians.

As Mr. CHESTERTON is of notable ability as a controversialist, he presumably needs no help in getting out of a difficulty, and so ingenious is he that his way out of this one will probably be a way nobody else would think of. He might, however, say that he was under no obligation to defend the blundering King and Cabinet whose stupidity cost his country its most valuable possession, and that the illustration he used was dangerous only for an opponent of Germany who felt compelled to insist that England has always been right and wise.

So explained, the hiring of the Hessians to shoot farmers was an example of what he had in mind as good as any of the others he mentioned, but it would have been more judicious to make attack impossible by joining the explanation closely to the deed denounced.

Bernhardi Raises an Issue.

A belated reader of Gen. VON BERNHARDI'S "Germany and the Next War" thinks that more attention than has yet been given to it is deserved by one passage in that highly interesting, if not very important, production of the Teuton mind. The lines in question are these:

> The further duty of supporting the Germans in foreign countries in their struggle for existence and of thus keeping them loyal to their nationality is one from which, in our direct interests, we cannot withdraw. The isolated groups of Germans abroad greatly benefit our trade, since by preference they obtain their goods from Germany; but they may also be useful to us politically, as we discover in America. The American Germans have formed a political alliance with the Irish, and, thus united, constitute a power in the State with which the Government must reckon.

That, to say the least of it, is a bit startling. Whether true or false, its appearance in the General's book may explain the frequently observed inclination of our fellow-citizens who are German by birth or descent to deny that he speaks with authority for Germans either at home or abroad. Political alliances of the kind he reveals—or imagines—are not or would not be entirely pleasant objects of contemplation for real Americans of any origin, and, while they would have to be reckoned with if they existed, the reckoning might not be such as he presumably or seemingly has in mind.

Applying Logic to Belgium.

A decidedly neat point was scored yesterday by the correspondent whose letter appeared under the heading of "Germany's Belgium." She—the letter was written by a woman—asked whether we—if for reasons that seemed good and sufficient to us we had taken possession, say, of a part of Mexico, and incidentally had reduced great numbers of the inhabitants to direst poverty—would have left to other nations the task of saving them from starvation if they were to be saved at all.

This question, in the circumstances, is both fair and pertinent, and, whatever doubt there may be in any minds as to what we would have done, what we should have done is obvious.

Even if the present condition of Belgium be considered a penalty earned by resistance to action which military necessity compelled the Germans to take, Germany's present course is only made the more difficult to defend. For if the Belgians so acted as to make starvation a deserved punishment, obviously their judge should not let outsiders like ourselves reverse his sentence and bring his stern lesson to nothing by feeding them.

It really looks as if the Germans, for once, had been caught in an inconsistency. But perhaps that, too, is a "military necessity," and therefore worthy of no more discussion than are scraps of paper.

The Sale of Contraband Goods.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

When speaking on "Germany" Wednesday evening in Carnegie Hall Mr. Robertson, after quoting Mr. Wilson's appeal to his countrymen to remain neutral in the present war, mentioned as a branch of neutrality against Germany that vessels carrying dynamite sailed from this country bound for an English port.

I think that the sale of goods which are contraband of war to a belligerent nation is entirely lawful, so they can be seized by the warships of the other belligerent countries. Does Mr. Robertson think Germany would hesitate buying in America could she make the sea free for her ships? Didn't England pay with the loss of eight ships the necessity of having free use of the sea? And is there any difference in selling dynamite, oil, or copper to a nation at war?

E. IHOUVENEL.

New York, Nov. 3, 1914.

Grand Stands in Front of Library.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

It seems to me about time for some one to protest against the frequent masking and disfiguring of our beautiful Public Library Building by the ugly "grand stands" which are put up on the occasion of parades. This time, for the tercentenary, the entire block was covered by a raw, hideous pyramid of planks, and the building was practically obscured. It seems to me hardly worse to smack a fine building down with cannon through a natural instinct of barbarism than to constantly ignore its presence through an instinct of stupidity.

If we must have processions and ugly grand stands from which to review them, why not relegate the whole thing to Harlem, where there are vacant lots that would be graced by these structures?

F. S. DELLENBAUGH.

New York, Oct. 31, 1914.

The Spitting Nuisance.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The complaint of "A Sufferer" in your recent issue about the spitting nuisance has my hearty indorsement. Take the "L" platform at 145th Street and Eighth Avenue and numerous others are in a frightfully disgusting condition. The Board of Health must surely be aware of the fact that there is no greater menace to public health. A strong campaign followed by arrests and fines, which should be doubled for each offense, would soon put a stop to this infernal habit.

WM. HANDEL.

New York, Nov. 1, 1914.

DR. VON MACH'S ARTICLE.

Questions Suggested by His Defense of Germany's Course.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

May I now, as one of the several million members of the Court of Civilization, seek to aid toward a conclusion by asking of Dr. von Mach questions on the two important points of "Germany's case" as by him presented?

First—Is it necessary in the defense of your principle to lead us through a labored length of reasoning in an attempt to show "that Germany was justified in occupying Belgium"? The Court of Civilization is confronted with the admission of your principle that it was "committing a wrong," but that it would be "made good" later. Why argue that Germany's action was justified by the alleged presence in the Belgian forts of French officers—you do not even claim that Germany knew of their presence there before the commission of the alleged wrong? The fact of Germany's admission and the proof of her intention are before the court as to this point, so why multiply arguments on remote phases of so simple a situation and seek to interpret the said admission by the light of some speech made by Gladstone in 1870?

Second—You lay great stress on the assertion that "on July 31 Russia mobilized her entire army," which led to "Germany's ultimatum," and this you say caused the Kaiser to abandon his efforts for peace and to undertake active preparations for war, but it appears that you have ignored the statement entirely opposed to yours, to the effect that Germany's forces occupied the French frontier on July 29.

Third—On the question of good faith, which is of the utmost importance when human motives are considered, you have much to say against the other nations, supporting same largely by references to remote history, but will you not also reply to the record which states that the Secretary of State of Germany denied on July 29 that officers on leave had been recalled, and that after Germany had planned to occupy Belgium she proposed to England that she ignore the treaty, and, lastly, why overlook the allegation that Germany declined to join a peace conference on July 28?

The Court of Civilization, or at least that part of it formed by the American people, is not going to endure with much patience lengthy academic discussions, however learned, nor will much attention be given to mere assumptions, feeble explanations, and to recriminations; what is wanted here are facts, and then Americans will reach their own conclusions as to whether or not Germany sought this war, and also as to her method of pursuing it, taking into consideration fairly all differences that may be found to exist in the "barbarity" of the combatants, and if need be the alleged differences in their "culture."

Thinking people in this country will welcome discussions by both sides of the facts concerning this war, but let us have statements and arguments based on the record, without the introduction of theories and conjectures skillfully interwoven with modern German philosophy and occurrences of the remote past.

Whether the Kaiser with sincere reluctance had the sword forced into his unwilling hand, or whether he has spent thirty years sharpening it, is not such a difficult question that it cannot be solved, and those on either side of the question will do well not to cloud the issue. After all, just why is it that from the first so much has emanated from Germany concerning her opposition to war?

HENRY M. EARLE.

New York, Nov. 3, 1914.

The Opinion of Civilization.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Referring to Dr. von Mach's and James M. Beck's articles in this and last week's Sunday TIMES on who is responsible for the war, I beg to say that the brainy pros and cons of a million advocates would not alter one hair's breadth the opinion of the "supreme court of civilization." Any nation that believes and claims to be superior in all ways to any and all other nations on earth and backs it up with the greatest armies on earth has only itself to blame. The "supreme court of civilization" is adjourned.

A. F. CLARK.

New York, Nov. 1, 1914.

"Pro-German."

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In a letter to your valuable paper, which appeared this day, some reverend person accuses you of having a pro-German tendency, despite the fact that all of the editorials which I have read have been in favor of the Allies. Your stand in this war is scarcely pro-German enough for me, but I shall continue to read THE NEW YORK TIMES because I want the news.

L. C. KNOBLAUCH.

Philadelphia, Nov. 1, 1914.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

For the last three or four years THE TIMES has been my daily news diet, and more and more rather than less and less am I impressed by its impartiality, by its evident ideal of fairness, even in cases when that must be difficult to attain.

Especially can this be said of your entire treatment of the present situation in Europe. Nothing to my mind can exceed your courage in printing the strongest arguments in equal amount for both sides. Surely there are not many who can write as Dr. Stoddard has done. He would appear to have omitted to sum up for himself what you do for him in your mid-page editorial of today.

Wilkes-Barre, Penn., Nov. 1, 1914. B. E.

Teachers' Salaries.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

On Saturday, Oct. 24, there was held a State Civil Service examination for the position of court attendant, the salary of which position ranges from a minimum of $1,500 to a maximum of $1,800. The examination was a very simple one which anybody of ordinary intelligence could pass without preparation. The time given for the examination was six hours, whereas two and a half hours would have been more than enough time. The qualifications to take the examination were, I understand, only an age limit.

I wish to contrast the above facts with those concerning the elementary school teacher, whom the city believes it is overpaying and who it opines is not doing enough work (witness the fact of the late attempt on the part of the Board of Estimate to have him teach in the vacation schools during the Summer without pay). They as a class are required to have about five times the intelligence demanded of the candidates for the position of court attendant. They are required to be college or training school graduates and to pass an examination given by Superintendent Maxwell, said examination having a country-wide reputation for its severity. And in return the teacher receives the stupendous salary of $720 a year with an increase of $60 per annum after the third year. So you see that in order to be placed on a par with the court attendant the teacher must teach at least fifteen years.

S. C. SCHOENLANE.

New York, Nov. 2, 1914.

Tariff and Labor.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Referring to your letter entitled "Lincoln on the Tariff" and signed by William Woodward Baldwin, your issue of October 30 states there are 100,000 steel men idle in Pittsburgh. The average wage paid to people shoveling snow in New York, I believe, is $2 a day. According to your theorist all you have to do is to put these two facts together and the result is $200,000 a day or its equivalent.

The Underwood typewriter concern in Hartford is working three days a week. The other three days probably Mr. Baldwin can convert into apples, tobacco, and corn. Also probably he has some system of mathematics whereby he can turn idle machinery, unproductive floor space, and real estate investment into cartridges and revolvers which are at present commanding good prices.

Of his theory carried still further, why make anything in this country that can be made elsewhere and the people thus released have a chance to do something else? But the something else is rather vague, as almost everything can be done elsewhere.

PHILIP S. RIPLEY.

Stamford, Conn., Oct. 31, 1914.

REVENUE FALLS $20,000,000

Decline Due to the War Becomes More Marked.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The decline in the Government's receipts from all sources, which has been noticed ever since the outbreak of the war in Europe, showed a marked acceleration during the month of October. According to a statement from the Treasury Department today, customs receipts for the month were about $14,000,000 less than for the same month a year ago, and internal revenues $6,000,000, or $20,000,000 less in all.

This means an increase of about 400 per cent. in the amount of the shortage as compared with that for the month of September. That month as compared with the same period a year ago showed a total loss in receipts of only about $4,000,000. For that month there was a decline of $9,500,000 in revenues and an increase of $6,000,000 in internal revenues.

It will be some time before receipts from the war tax will offset this loss in revenues. At the close of the month the net balance in the general fund was $91,689,000, or $51,000,000 less than the net balance at the end of June. At the same time total cash assets were put at $1,586,000,000, as compared with $2,005,000,000 at the end of June.

From June 30 to Oct. 31 gold coin in the currency trust fund decreased nearly $140,000,000, while the fund's bullion increased $8,000,000. It is believed that the reduction of the amount of this gold is due largely to the redemption of gold certificates by banks on becoming members of the new Federal reserve system.

ABOUT "SUZI."

A Disclaimer from Mr. Fields and Some Other Opinions on the Play.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I feel that THE TIMES did a great injustice this morning in its review of "Suzi," at the Casino Theatre. The reporter for THE TIMES evidently was the only person present who did not enjoy the performance. The other reviewers seemed to like the play very much, as may be evidenced from the following:

THE HERALD—"Suzi" was melodious and merry and won applause.

THE PRESS—"Suzi" was filled with European charm and not since the production of "Sari" has a foreign operetta of more charm been given to the public.

THE AMERICAN—A Casino hit. A whirl of mirth, with tuneful songs charmingly sung, and fetching, fascinating dances.

THE WORLD—Lively in its mood and the appeal to the eye was one of "Suzi's" most successful accomplishments.

You can, therefore, readily see that it appears rather strange that THE TIMES reporter should be the only one to find fault with everything in the production, and I trust you will find room for this letter in order to prove to the readers of THE TIMES that THE TIMES's verdict on "Suzi" was not conclusive.

LEW FIELDS.

New York, Nov. 4, 1914.

IN REPLY TO MR. CHESTERTON.

Not One, but All Nations, to Blame for the War.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Mr. Chesterton's valorous article is fair comment, if comment were needed, on the folly of human pretensions, the utter unavail of man's attempt to liberate himself from circumstances which, like bricks and mortar, have contributed to the structure and stature of his life. The Kaiser's instincts, let us say, point one way, Mr. Chesterton's another. It goes without saying that neither can be impartial. You might with just as much reason expect the magnetic needle of the compass to be indifferent to the electric pole. Each, however, like the poor, misguided mortals they are, attempts in the medium of his metier—one with military strut and pomposity, the other with verbal strut and pomposity—to "rationalize" his impulses and instincts.

Concerning the violation of treaties, the less said the better—that is, as far as England is concerned. England has had her share of such. But let us look at the situation naively, if we can. Germany has broken a pact. A fearful England undertakes to call her to task for it. Do not you, Mr. Commoner, refusing to be blinded by diplomatic verbosity, smell a rat? Doesn't the whole affair smack a little of chicanery? Mr. Chesterton roundly condemns Germany, who has transgressed openly, and exalts England, who is fighting under cover of a lie. Mr. Chesterton, of course, is no diplomatist in an official sense; he is no parleyer with the truth. Why, then, does he appear to support a code which sanctions subtlety and subterfuge, a code which demands any kind of justification which can be hustled up for the occasion? The intellectual anarchy which he berates is, at least, honest as the noon; without approving it, we may at least say that it is the result of earnestness and profound thought.

Who caused the present holocaust? Was it Servia, Russia, or Prussia? A careful reading of history, a proper understanding of men and their ways, will prompt the one true answer: "Each one of the nations concerned." Each is dishonest, each asks only for "a place in the sun," and means "as much as I can grab." If you and I should take some new-fangled Diogenes's lamp and, at the time of high noon, scour the skies in quest of a Christian nation, do you think we'd be likely to find one in modern Europe?

Oh, for a Nazarene of peoples to scourge these national Pharisees and money-changers from the temples of the world!

There are countless "wherefores" which one is moved to hurl at mankind, at the dissembled nations, at the moon, and at Fate. Not least among these is the question, "Wherefore do men of Chesterton's, Euckens, Hauptmann's, and Rolland's stamp, nearly all them diplomatists, nonpareyers with the truth, feel called upon to justify the ways of their respective nations to neutral people?" I wonder how it would all sound if they attempted to justify them to God! Do you hear the gods laugh?

PIERRE LOVING.

New York, Nov. 1, 1914.

A REGAL CONFLICT.

The Sunset donned a shining robe:
"Who else is clothed as well as I?"
She proudly thought. "I always wear
The latest colors of the sky."

She glanced down at the quiet earth,
So gravely garbed in green and brown,
And saw the saucy River there,
Clad in a copy of her gown.

Indignantly her cloudy scarf
She flung aside, so all could see
The splendor of her glowing gold
And ruby bordered drapery.

But straightway, from her bed below,
The laughing River flaunted wide
A garment quite as elegant,
Spread broadly on her flowing tide.

The angry Sunset, mortified,
Flushed crimson, with embarrassment;
But down below the River mocked,
Still shamelessly impertinent.

Then, purple, in her stately rage,
The Sunset's glowing visage grew;
And straight, the River's dimpled face
Took on an angry purple, too!

No more could any Sunset stand.
She dropped her veil of midnight blue;
But first she pricked some holes therein
To watch the flippant River through.

The River saw the tiny holes,
With their escaping beams so bright,
And scattered o'er her dancing waves
As many a taunting, twinkling light.

So they contend, as they have done,
For ages more than man has known—
Woe little man, who, down below,
Thinks all life's conflicts are his own!

EVA DEAN.

REVENUE FALLS $20,000,000

Decline Due to the War Becomes More Marked.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The decline in the Government's receipts from all sources, which has been noticed ever since the outbreak of the war in Europe, showed a marked acceleration during the month of October. According to a statement from the Treasury Department today, customs receipts for the month were about $14,000,000 less than for the same month a year ago, and internal revenues $6,000,000, or $20,000,000 less in all.

This means an increase of about 400 per cent. in the amount of the shortage as compared with that for the month of September. That month as compared with the same period a year ago showed a total loss in receipts of only about $4,000,000. For that month there was a decline of $9,500,000 in revenues and an increase of $6,000,000 in internal revenues.

It will be some time before receipts from the war tax will offset this loss in revenues. At the close of the month the net balance in the general fund was $91,689,000, or $51,000,000 less than the net balance at the end of June. At the same time total cash assets were put at $1,586,000,000, as compared with $2,005,000,000 at the end of June.

From June 30 to Oct. 31 gold coin in the currency trust fund decreased nearly $140,000,000, while the fund's bullion increased $8,000,000. It is believed that the reduction of the amount of this gold is due largely to the redemption of gold certificates by banks on becoming members of the new Federal reserve system.

ABOUT "SUZI."

A Disclaimer from Mr. Fields and Some Other Opinions on the Play.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I feel that THE TIMES did a great injustice this morning in its review of "Suzi," at the Casino Theatre. The reporter for THE TIMES evidently was the only person present who did not enjoy the performance. The other reviewers seemed to like the play very much, as may be evidenced from the following:

THE HERALD—"Suzi" was melodious and merry and won applause.

THE PRESS—"Suzi" was filled with European charm and not since the production of "Sari" has a foreign operetta of more charm been given to the public.

THE AMERICAN—A Casino hit. A whirl of mirth, with tuneful songs charmingly sung, and fetching, fascinating dances.

THE WORLD—Lively in its mood and the appeal to the eye was one of "Suzi's" most successful accomplishments.

You can, therefore, readily see that it appears rather strange that THE TIMES reporter should be the only one to find fault with everything in the production, and I trust you will find room for this letter in order to prove to the readers of THE TIMES that THE TIMES's verdict on "Suzi" was not conclusive.

LEW FIELDS.

New York, Nov. 4, 1914.

IN REPLY TO MR. CHESTERTON.

Not One, but All Nations, to Blame for the War.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Mr. Chesterton's valorous article is fair comment, if comment were needed, on the folly of human pretensions, the utter unavail of man's attempt to liberate himself from circumstances which, like bricks and mortar, have contributed to the structure and stature of his life. The Kaiser's instincts, let us say, point one way, Mr. Chesterton's another. It goes without saying that neither can be impartial. You might with just as much reason expect the magnetic needle of the compass to be indifferent to the electric pole. Each, however, like the poor, misguided mortals they are, attempts in the medium of his metier—one with military strut and pomposity, the other with verbal strut and pomposity—to "rationalize" his impulses and instincts.

Concerning the violation of treaties, the less said the better—that is, as far as England is concerned. England has had her share of such. But let us look at the situation naively, if we can. Germany has broken a pact. A fearful England undertakes to call her to task for it. Do not you, Mr. Commoner, refusing to be blinded by diplomatic verbosity, smell a rat? Doesn't the whole affair smack a little of chicanery? Mr. Chesterton roundly condemns Germany, who has transgressed openly, and exalts England, who is fighting under cover of a lie. Mr. Chesterton, of course, is no diplomatist in an official sense; he is no parleyer with the truth. Why, then, does he appear to support a code which sanctions subtlety and subterfuge, a code which demands any kind of justification which can be hustled up for the occasion? The intellectual anarchy which he berates is, at least, honest as the noon; without approving it, we may at least say that it is the result of earnestness and profound thought.

Who caused the present holocaust? Was it Servia, Russia, or Prussia? A careful re

MORE THAN $300,000 FOR BELGIAN RELIEF

Fund Managers Announce New Committees in Buffalo and Springfield.

RED CROSS TOTAL $326,766

Loan Exhibition of War Photographs for Homeless Women and Children.

The Belgian Relief Fund at noon yesterday was $296,395.43. Subsequent subscriptions, it was said, probably increased it to more than $300,000. It was announced at the committee's offices that Belgian committees, which will work with the New York committee, had been organized in Buffalo and Springfield, Mass. Gen. Edmund Hayes heads the Buffalo and Joseph C. Allen the Springfield committees.

It was also announced that Mme. Leila Vanderveide, wife of the Belgian Minister of State, who is lecturing in the United States and Canada, is having great success in the West. She spoke in Chicago last night.

Subscriptions to the Belgian Fund should be sent to the Belgian Relief Committee, 8-10 Bridge Street, or to J. P. Morgan & Co., 23 Wall Street. The persons who subscribed the $11,063.77 acknowledged yesterday, and their gifts, counts omitted, were:

N. T.	$1,000
Mrs. G. H. McVitty	1,000
L. A. Ault	1,000
L. E. Ault	100
H. Walton	632
Belgian Fund, Bangor, Me.	511
M. A. B.	500
A Few Country Club Ladies	190
T. T. Gaff	100
J. S. Lockwood	100
Mary M. Sherman	100
Otto M. Eidlitz	100
F. Y. Lansing	100
Mrs. E. R. Campbell	50
Mrs. G. G. De Witt	100
Miss M. C. Burnham	100
M. Van Rensselaer	100
F. W. Stevens	100
Amelia Nicholas	100
C. E. Simmins	100
Canton M. Smith	100
Mrs. E. S. Birdsall, (col.)	100
C. H. Kelsey	100
J. B. Murphy	100
Edward Fleming	100
Geo. Wettlaufer	100
M. H. Cleveland	100
Mrs. E. H. Clark	50
Cash	50
Mrs. H. C. Burnham	50
W. E. Guy	50
Katherine B. Anderson	50
Teaman Atkinson, Jr.	50
G. Gunby Jordan	50
C. M. Edwards Co.	50
Elgin & Sellon	50
Jeanne Giraldon	50
Mrs. E. S. Atwater	50
Mrs. H. H. Mossman	50
B. B. Baldwin	50
Mrs. C. M. Connolly	50
F. W. Penny	50
Howard R. Snow	50
L. F. Rhoades	50
J. Walter Lord	50
Memory of J. M. M.	50
Leo B. Bennett	50
Mrs. P. F. Botzong	50
Mrs. J. P. Appleton	50
Chaser Randall	50
Blanche Durand	50
Ralph M. Kutz	50
Kate Roach	50
M. Whitlock	50
C. J. Sturms	50
W. T. Hildrup, Jr.	50
William J. Hall	50
Army & Navy Inn	50
Cunningham Brick Co.	50
W. S. Emerson	50
C. C. C.	50
R. E. Sturr	50
F. S. Hutchinson & Co.	50
H. R. Van Saun	50
Mrs. R. F. Hunter	50
Pasquale Atkinson	50
Frederick	50
Miss J. E. Haas	50
George K. Rogers	50
M. T. Burbank	50
C. J. Reilly	50
Ida Clarke	50
H. L. Barnitz	50
Hal M. Barnhardt, Jr.	50
J. B. A.	50
Mrs. M. H. Nasse	50
Agnes M. Klemam	50
H. Van R. Palmer	50
Mrs. C. Hathaway	50
Mrs. E. A. Reetta	50
Thomas Atkinson	50
Helen Sanborn	50
Ida E. Walton	50
Alice Paul	50
E. T. Parmar	50
Allabaugh & Son	50
Mrs. H. O. Ayer	50
C. E. Skinner	50
Mrs. L. Ondin	25
J. J. Gonzales	25
Reformed S. S., Bronxville	25
Elizabeth B. Clark	25
W. H. Casey	25
Reina Lay	25
Stokes S. S., West Virginia	10
R. E. Roberts	10
S. B. Millard	10
J. G. Basinger	10
Mrs. F. M. Body	10
D. S. Joseph	10
Mrs. John Storall	10
Mrs. R. Bowles, Jr.	10
H. F. Fordham	10
Mrs. C. M. Raymond	10
Edward H. Cook	10
F. R. Mosbach	10
A. R. Coyle	10
A. S. McCreath	10

Red Cross Fund $326,766.

The Red Cross European Fund in New York now amounts to $326,766.09, of which amount $2,969.22 was received yesterday. Subscriptions to the Red Cross should be sent to Jacob H. Schiff, Treasurer, 150 East Twenty-second Street, or 52 William Street. Yesterday's subscribers and their contributions, cents omitted, were:

Merchants' Association	$1,100
Through Dr. E. Dernburg	333
Chamber of Commerce Dinner Fund	320
Edwin Misel	100
Julius A. Bewer	100
Through John Wanamaker	100
Through The Staats Zeitung	83
Robert B. Woodward	80
Sunshine Girls, Oyster Bay	65
Westchester Red Cross	60
Pres. Christ's Elemington, N. Y.	58
Through Dr. E. Dernburg	50
The Edward Flash Company	50
Vestry Intercession Church	50
Help Red Cross	50
Church of the Mediator, Kingsbridge	30
Barn Dance, Little River Farm	25
Miss Gertrude Feits	25
Faith Pres. Church, New York	25
Sharp & Delume Sales Club	15
Helen Achilles	13
A. B. Hart's lecture, Nassau Co. Club	13
The Rev. E. Walker	13
Reformed Church, Williamsburg	10
L. Ferria Post, G. A. R., New Canaan, Conn.	10
Hedwig Stoff	10
Harriet Le Roy Cox	10
Cash	10
Miss J. A. Turner	10
H. and J. Walker	10
Evergreen Pres. Ch., Youngstown, Ohio	10
Ladies, Norfolk, Plainfield	10
Bridge party, Long Branch	10
W. C. Ritchie & Co. Camp Fire Girls	10
Bapt. and M. E. Churches, Westport	10
Ref. Church, New Baltimore	10
Patterson Boy Scouts	10
Mount Vernon Cong. Church	10
In memory of J. M. W.	10
Cornelia N. Raymond	10
Miss M. B. Fox	10
St. Paul's P. E. Ch., Gladwin, Mich.	10
"Anonymous"	10
Janet Hay	10
Mrs. H. A. Sproull	10
G. J.	10
M. V. E.	10
A. L. Bailey	10
Mrs. F. T. Parsons	10
Mrs. W. Lord Cross	10
Junior Red Cross, East Orange	10
"A Few Girls"	10
"M. G. M."	10
Miss Annie Rose	10
Mrs. F. Stowell	10
Mrs. John Tucker	10
"The Trend"	10
E. L. MacDonald	10
Bertha Kunz	10
St. Stephen's Church, Culpeper, Va.	1

Women of France Fund.

The fund for the relief of the women and children of France, subscriptions to which should be sent to Mrs. Whitney Warren, 16 East Forty-seventh Street, amounts to $23,935.28, of which $742 was received yesterday from these persons:

H. H. Cammann	$50
A. S. & T. Hunter	10
J. H. Caldwell	25
W. Miltenberger	25
Mrs. Harper	10
Maurice Kelton	25
French Veteran	2
Miss M. L. Monahan	20
Ellen C. Palmer	5
Mrs. E. D. Tovar	50

Yesterday's contributions to the American Ambulance Hospital Fund totaled $7,607.10, which brought the fund to $25,425.96. Subscriptions should be sent to J. P. Morgan & Co., 23 Wall Street. Yesterday's contributors were:

G. A. Gardner	$2,000
Miss E. S. Bacon	1,000
Mrs. H. B. Emmons	1,000
Mrs. J. P. Morgan	1,000
A. L. Lowell	500
Nurses' fund	500
Anna E. Hutchinson	200
Mrs. G. G. Freilinghuysen	100
Mrs. J. M. Semis	100
A. C. Coolidge	100
Henry Parkman	100
N. S. Coffin	100
G. M. Richmond	100
Huston Wyeth	100
David C. Whitney	100
Mrs. F. A. Whitney	100
Alice Guernsey	100
Maxine Bocher	50
Ellen C. Palmer	75
D. H. Walbridge	50
Mrs. T. H. Jolliffe	50
William P. Blake	50
G. W. Canses	25
Mrs. Comunale	25
Mrs. J. B. Bond	25
Pauline Ricker	25
Rose A. Levy	25
Miss B. Karelsen	25
Lawlsohn clerks	24
E. D. Mackay	25
Florence A. Geiss	25
Anonymous	25
Mrs. K. M. Morse	20
A. James O'Connor	20
Henry Wollman	5
W. T. French	5
Mariana	5
S. Friedlaender	5
Mrs. W. D. Barnard	5
M. Moran	5
O. W. Nevis	5
Miss M. M. Ray	5
Cash	5
Mrs. H. Glenn	15
Cash	10
A. Armanian	5
Mrs. E. M. Favor	5
E. L. T.	10
R. Hayl	5
A. Marshall	5
Mrs. E. K. Fitz Hugh	5
L. K. Williams	10
Mrs. C. H. Birdsall	5
J. H. T.	10
McArthur children	1
Mrs. Lilly	1
A poor family	1
G. S. Meaker	10
J. A. Lamon	10
John Johnson	5
John B. James	15
The Belgians	5
W. H. Wood	10
Mrs. L. Renker	1
Mrs. G. K. Michler	5
Mrs. B. Langer	1
Mr. Hamlin	2
Cash	5
Frank M. Marrow	5
Mrs. B. Marshall	2

Abbott	$250
J. Nyitray	5
Lloyd Phoenix	100
Mrs. G. K. Michler	5
Mrs. Rhoades	10
A. L. Dunham	25
D. W. Cooke	5
J. Katherine Macdonald	5
Miss Louise Williams, Clerk in the Queens County Supreme Court, and Ludwig, a patrolman.

FRANK J. VOGEL, for nearly forty years identified with the business interests of Elizabeth, N. J., died there yesterday. For thirty years he was the Superintendent of the Sunday school of the Fulton Street Methodist Episcopal Church. Mr. Vogel was a Director of the Union County Savings Bank. For the last three years he had had charge of the downtown station of the Penny Provident Fund of the Charity Organization Society of Union County.

JACOB BRITTON HENDERSHOTT, for twenty-one years Fish and Game Warden of Sussex County, died yesterday at his home in Newton, N. J. Born in Swartswood seventy-seven years ago, Mr. Hendershott had made more arrests for violations of the game laws than any other Warden in New Jersey. He was a veteran of the civil war, having served in the Third New Jersey Volunteer Infantry.

Mrs. LENA GARLAND, widow of Louis Garland of Rochester, N. Y., died yesterday at her home in Bay Thirty-first Street, Bensonhurst, in her eighty-eighth year. She was born in Doerzback, Wurtemberg, Germany, and came to this country when a young girl. Mrs. Garland had been a resident of Rochester, N. Y., for more than forty years. Her husband was one of the founders of the Temple of Rochester, of which Dr. Max Landsberg is rabbi. She is survived by a son and two daughters.

F. AUGUSTUS HEINZE, MINE OWNER, DEAD

Stricken Suddenly at His Home in Saratoga, Where He Had Gone to Vote.

HIS MONTANA OPERATIONS

Won $10,000,000 Verdict from Amalgamated Copper Co.—Prosecuted as Head of Mercantile Bank.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Nov. 4.—F. Augustus Heinze, owner of immense copper interests in the West, died suddenly here tonight. Mr. Heinze, whose legal residence was Saratoga, came here yesterday from New York to vote. He became ill suddenly yesterday afternoon at the home of his counsel, Judge Nash Rockwood. His condition grew steadily worse and he expired early this evening. Mr. Heinze had been ill since last June with cirrhosis of the liver. He came here against the advice of his physician.

Mr. Heinze had made his home in Saratoga for the last six months, and his son, F. Augustus Heinze, Jr., 2 years old, was the only relative he had here. His wife died a year ago. A sister of Mr. Heinze, Mrs. William M. Fleitmann, and two brothers, Arthur P. and Otto Heinze of New York, left for Saratoga upon being notified of his death.

Born in Brooklyn in 1869, Mr. Heinze's life was an unusual one. After being graduated from the Brooklyn Polytechnic Institute he entered Columbia and was graduated from the Mining School with the class of 1889. He studied in Germany for a short time and then went out to Montana, where at the age of 30 he was the dominating figure in the copper mining business as well as in politics. His father was Otto Heinze and his mother before marriage was a Miss Lida M. Lacey; thus F. Augustus Heinze was of German-Irish parentage.

Mr. Heinze's first property in Butte was the Rarus on which he secured a bond and lease after which he eventually bought the property for $400,000. Following this, at the age of twenty-six, he went to Trail, in the Kootenay mining district of Northwestern Canada, and built a small smelter for the Rossland ores. Then he built a narrow gauge railroad from Trail to Rossland, and followed this with a project to build another from Trail to Victoria, B. C. This project obtained for him a land grant from the Government of Canada. He also owned the Rossland Miner, the only newspaper in the district. The end of his Canadian venture came when the Canadian Pacific Railroad bought him out, paying him his own price for his mining interests, railroad, land grant, and newspaper. It was understood that he received $1,200,000.

When the settlement of the legal contest between his United Copper Company and the Amalgamated Copper Company took place, Mr. Heinze and his associates obtained interests in several financial institutions, among them being the Mercantile National Bank, of which he was soon elected President. About this time Mr. Heinze made New York his headquarters, and took over the active management of the Mercantile National. In October, 1907, the Heinze stocks broke in the open market from $60 to about $10, and he announced that he would resign from the bank.

Shortly after this he became involved in a number of Federal prosecutions. These were for mismanagement of the Mercantile, for overcertification of checks, and for a number of other breaches of banking law. These suits were fought over a period of several years, and in October of this year Mr. Heinze appeared before Justice Page in the Supreme Court to answer a suit of Edwin Gould's for $1,284,449.87, which he had obtained on a note given to guarantee payment for 8,000 shares of Mercantile National Bank stock. At this time Mr. Heinze admitted that at the time he became President of the bank its assets amounted to $20,000,000, and that when he resigned they amounted to between $40,000,000 and $50,000,000. He said further that he did not know the true condition of the bank until he was indicted for maladministration of its funds.

In February, 1911, the United Copper Company passed into the hands of a receiver. The stock of this company led in the panic of 1907, and at one time was sold at $80 per share. At the time of the receivership it was only worth 50 cents.

Mr. Heinze married Mrs. Berenice G. Anderson, an actress, in August, 1910. In June, 1912, they were reported to have separated, and in December of the same year Mrs. Heinze began suit for divorce. This dragged on without a settlement until March, 1913, when they became reconciled on account of their child, F. Augustus Heinze, Jr.

F. Augustus Heinze was noted as a lavish entertainer in both Butte and this city, and was a member of a number of clubs. He belonged to the Tilden and Downtown clubs of New York, the Crescent Athletic Club of Bay Ridge, the St. James's Club of Montreal, the Montana Club of Helena, and the Silver Bow Club of Butte, Mont. He was also a member of the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

GIFT FOR EACH WAR ORPHAN

Cargo for Christmas Ship Gathering Here from Every State.

Hundreds of cases containing every conceivable kind of gift for a child have been received at the Bush Terminal in Brooklyn, where the Christmas ship Jason, which will carry the gifts of American children to the orphans of the European war is being loaded.

Freight cars filled with gifts are backed into the great room assigned to the Christmas ship's cargo and unloaded. Then the contents are carried to the section where Mrs. Leonard Wood, wife of the Commander of the Army of the East, and a number of army officers wives are sorting the gifts so that they may be easily handled when they arrive in Europe. An unending procession of mail carriers are bringing packages by parcel post from children responding to the appeal of The Chicago Herald and 200 other newspapers throughout the country. From the quantity of goods already received, of which the principal articles are clothing and toys, it is sure that when the Christmas ship sails it will carry a gift for every orphan of the war.

It became apparent yesterday that if the Jason were to get off within reasonable time, a tremendous force of sorters and packers would have to be employed. When the situation was presented over the telephone to Secretary of the Navy Daniels he ordered the transportation for Gen. Wood to assign sixty soldiers to help to get the cargo ready. These men appeared for duty yesterday afternoon under command of Major Lawson.

Mrs. W. K. Draper, head of the New York Chapter of the Red Cross, who is in control of the purchase and shipment of Red Cross supplies in New York, is giving personal supervision to the packing. Secretary Daniels has assigned Lieut. Commander Courtney, to command the Christmas ship.

SOCIAL NOTES.

Miss Josephine Green gave a luncheon at the Plaza yesterday for Miss Constance Moore, one of the season's debutantes. The guests included the Misses Marie Thayer, Marion Tiffany, Olivia S. Erdmann, Barbara Thaw, Margaret Dixon, Gertrude Geer, and Katherine Moore.

The wedding of Miss Martha Catherine Gunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Newton Gunn, and Frederick G. Hostetter of Pittsburgh, is to take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock in St. Thomas's Church. There will be no reception on account of the illness of the bride's mother.

Former Attorney General and Mrs. George W. Wickersham will spend the Winter in New York, and will be at the Hotel Gotham.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Alexander of 204 West Eighty-sixth Street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter yesterday morning. The child has been named Theresa Shorter Alexander.

Miss Rosalie Bloodgood will not make her début until next year. She has just returned from the Virginia Hot Springs with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Bloodgood.

LEAVE FOR MOTHER TEACHER

Board of Education Favors Vacation for Mrs. Wagner.

The High School Committee of the Board of Education has put itself on record as favoring a leave of absence to a teacher-mother. Yesterday it voted to recommend such a leave, without pay and until next Sept. 15, to Mrs. Lora Wagner, a teacher in the Tottenville High School, who recently became a mother.

The action of the committee is only a recommendation, however, and the Board of Education may insist on a regular trial. The Committee would be the judge in such an event, but its decision could be reversed by the Board.

EDGAR F. BATESON WEDS.

Married to Miss Rosina H. Otis in St. Bartholomew's Church.

The wedding of Edgar Farrar Bateson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bateson and a grandnephew of Jefferson Davis, and Miss Rosina Hoyt Otis, the daughter of the late Dr. William K. Otis and Mrs. Otis, was solemnized at 12 o'clock yesterday in St. Bartholomew's Church, Madison Avenue and Forty-fourth Street. The chancel of the church was banked with palms and masses of white chrysanthemums, and large clusters of these flowers were tied to the pews. Bishop David H. Greer, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Leighton Parks, rector of the church, performed the ceremony.

Miss Otis walked up the nave with her uncle, Henry Reese Hoyt, who gave her in marriage. She wore a trailing robe of heavy white satin, with the low corsage draped in surplice fashion. Old rose point lace that had been worn by her grandmother, Mrs. Alfred M. Hoyt, completely covered the front of the gown. The point lace veil was arranged in a flat frill over the coiffure and fell in a cascade of folds at the sides below the waist line. She carried a round bouquet of lilies of the valley tied with wide ribbons, and wore a diamond ornament on her corsage.

MISS BROWNING'S WEDDING.

Attendants for Her Marriage to G. S. Dickinson on Nov. 12.

Plans have been completed for the wedding of Miss Marjorie Gould Browning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Browning, to George S. Dickinson of New York, which is to be celebrated in St. Barnabas's Church, Irvington-on-Hudson, on Nov. 12.

Mrs. H. S. Green is to be the matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will include Miss Missed Katherine, Nathalie, and Therese Browning, Harriet Lummis, Lois Scheerer, and Elizabeth T. Sabin.

Herbert C. Dickinson is to be best man for his brother. The ushers selected include Lee Garnett Day, William Rayne 3d, Melchior S. Beltzhoover, W. E. Eddison, H. S. Green, R. V. Lewis, Conrad H. and Ralph H. Matthiessen.

A reception is to follow at Gracemere, the country home of the bride's parents.

VIELE—KEARNEY.

The wedding of Miss Cynthia Kearney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Kearney, to Walter S. Viele took place at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, 40 West Seventieth Street. Only the immediate families were present.

Miss Charlotte Mattlage, whose engagement to Walter E. Rupprecht was recently announced, was the bride's only attendant, and William Ziegler, Jr., acted as best man. There were no ushers. Mr. and Mrs. Viele left later for a short honeymoon.

COHEN—KASSEL.

Miss Miriam I. Kassel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kassel of 61 East Eighty-sixth Street, and Benjamin Cohen were married last evening at 8:30 o'clock at Harvey's, 47 West Seventy-second Street. The Rev. Dr. Aaron Eisenman performed the ceremony.

Caruso at Sale for War Sufferers.

Enrico Caruso was one of the visitors at the exhibition and sale of paintings and sculpture, contributions of prominent artists, for the benefit of the war sufferers, at the Pietro Studios, 650 Fifth Avenue, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Caruso expressed himself as being much pleased at what was done in America for the sufferers of Europe. He examined the pictures with interest, listened to Francis Richter, the blind pianist, play two phantasies of Schuman, and discovered a portrait bust of himself that he said was the best portrait he had ever had. It was one for which he gave four sittings to Mr. Pietro last year. He had never seen the result.

Obituary Notes.

Mrs. ALBERT HOWLAND WOOD, widow of a well-known composer and inventor, died on Tuesday at her home in Lawrence Park, Yonkers. Mrs. Wood was the daughter of the late Ebenezer Aiken of Albany and is survived by a son and three daughters.

EDWARD JOHNSON, who had been a member of the Big Six Typographical Union for twenty years, died on Monday at his home at 783 Marcy Avenue, Brooklyn. He was born in Manhattan in 1845, and had lived for a number of years in Nyack.

Mrs. SARAH HYDE BLISS, a descendant of William Bradford, second Governor of the Plymouth Colony, died on Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Francis Xavier Govers, at 300 Riverside Drive. She was 96 years old. Her husband, Chester H. Bliss, who has been dead for several years, was in the employ of the Government. Two daughters survive her.

WESLEY ELLIS, an agent for the Mutual Life Insurance Company, and a member of an old Long Island family, is dead at his home, 1,093 Prospect Place, Brooklyn, from Bright's disease. He was born in Babylon fifty-five years ago and was a thirty-second degree Mason and a Past Master of Romdout Lodge, F. and A. M.

Mrs. AMELIA KOCH EICHLER, widow of George C. Eichler, a master baker, who had a string of shops in Long Island City and Brooklyn, died on Monday at her home, 283 De Kalb Avenue, Brooklyn, aged 67 years. She was born in Baden, Germany.

Mrs. WILLIAM W. BOUTON, wife of a well-known resident of Sea Cliff, L. I., died on Tuesday at Amityville. She was born in Springfield, L. I., fifty-seven years ago, where she lived until shortly after her marriage.

JOHN CASSIDY, a civil war veteran and a member of Mansfield Post, G. A. R., and the Royal Arcanum, died on Tuesday at his home, 302 Lafayette Avenue, Brooklyn. He was 82 years of age.

Mrs. LOUISA BENJAMIN, 87 years old, widow of Sidney Benjamin, who was the oldest resident of East Meriches, L. I., died there on Tuesday, leaving two sons and a daughter.

Mrs. FANNY CROSBY LOTHERINGTON, born in Yorkshire, England, seventy-eight years ago and a resident of Brooklyn for sixty-five years, is dead at her home, 957 Bergen Street, from apoplexy. She was the widow of William Lotherington and left a daughter, Alice, who is an author and a teacher in Public School 148.

Mrs. EILEEN CARROLL, wife of Peter H. Carroll, an engineer in the Fire Department stationed at headquarters, died on Tuesday at her home, 490 Marion Street, Brooklyn, aged 62. Besides her husband, she left three sons, Peter H., Jr., a letter carrier; Daniel M., a patrolman, and Edward J. Carroll.

WILLIAM CARL HENRY MULLER, 66 years old, a retired shoe merchant, is dead at his home, 76 Grove Street, Brooklyn. He was born in Germany and served in the Franco-Prussian war. Mr. Muller was one of the oldest members of the Immanuel German Lutheran Church and for years was one of its officers. He left his wife, two daughters, and two sons, William, a Clerk in the Queens County Supreme Court, and Ludwig, a patrolman.

TOM GALLON DEAD.

English Novelist and Dramatist Was Born in London in 1866.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—Tom Gallon, English novelist and dramatist, is dead, says an announcement issued here today.

Tom Gallon was born in London, Dec. 5, 1866. He was educated privately, and his first work was that of a clerk in a city office. In 1895 he started writing short stories and hunting for stray guineas in Grub Street.

Among his publications were, "Tatterley," "A Prince of Mischance," 1897; "The Kingdom of Hate," 1899; "A Rogue in Love," 1900; "Rickerby's Folly," 1901; "The Mystery of John Pepperock," 1902; "The Lady of the Cameo," 1903; "Jarwicki, the Prodigal," 1904; "Meg, the Lady," 1905; "Jimmy Quixote," 1906; "The Cruise of the Make-believes," and many others.

Some of his plays were, "The Man who Stole the Castle," 1900; "Merry's Garden," (with Albert Chevalier,) 1902; "The Devil's World," 1910; "The Great Gay Road," 1911, and others. Mr. Gallon was a member of the Greenroom, Whitefriars and New Vagabonds Clubs.

Passengers for Rotterdam.

Some of those booked to sail today for Rotterdam on the Nieuw Amsterdam:

Victor J. Benoit, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. L. Haymans, A. R. Lemark, H. Koch, Miss Clara Blank, Mr. and Mrs. F. Mullet, Mrs. D. Rothevell.

Among the passengers who arrived yesterday on the Tagus from London, via West Indies, were: Miss A. L. Alexander, G. Angel, E. S. Clarke, S. S. Glenn, G. D. Jones, Mrs. E. M. Lawrence, Miss A. F. Peterkin, Capt. R. Svane, Mrs. A. Young.

ADVERTISEMENT.

NO REAL EXCUSE FOR A ROUGH SKIN

VELOGEN is so easy to get, so pleasant to use, so sure to help, that it is a wonder that any woman has the slightest trace of roughness or harsh dryness in face or on hands. There is no reason why she should.

If your complexion is not at its best—if your hands are harsh and rough—apply VELOGEN at night, rubbing it in well. The pores absorb it and the skin speedily becomes soft and smooth and regains its delicate texture. You will enjoy its pleasant, fleeting odor and your complexion will welcome its soothing, healing action. Cannot stain—cannot grow hair.

Ask your druggist—50c a tube.

OUR OWN FASHIONS DISPLAYED AT FETE

Novelties by New York Dressmakers Since Paris Ateliers Are Closed by War.

SOCIETY WOMEN JUDGES

Military Coat, Light Khaki Velvet Costume Among Costumes Worn by 100 Models at the Ritz.

A large and fashionable audience attended last night the opening of the Fashion Fête in the ball room of the Ritz-Carlton, for the benefit of the Committee of Mercy in its work of relieving women and children left destitute by the European war.

The fête is being given for two days under prominent social patronage as an incentive for New York dressmakers to create and launch their own designs, as a result of the closing down of the ateliers of Paris on account of the war.

The jury of admission included Mrs. Arthur Scott Burden, Mrs. James B. Eustis, Mrs. J. Gordon Douglas, Mrs. Ernest Iselin, Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Mrs. Ogden L. Mills, and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney.

A hundred models were shown in groups. The procession of models appeared singly and in groups on the stage and then walked down the aisle through the audience. The gowns shown left little to be desired in grace, richness of color, taste in combinations of materials and colors, and appropriateness for the various occasions for which they were designed. Several of the models shown were decidedly ultra.

One of the smartest and most original models was a military coat, light khaki velvet costume of great simplicity. The sleeves were long, wrinkled, and almost tight to the wrists, and the skirt hung in scant straight lines. The small helmet hat matched the gown, and was trimmed with cord and spikes of the same color.

Much example in color was a velvet tea gown, the velvet in some lights was a rich purple and in others a soft American Beauty rose. It was fashioned in simple, sweeping lines.

An unusual wedding gown had little puffed sleeves of the 1830 period, with the high puffed waist and straight skirt, and the tulle veil was ruched up on top of the head in the old-time Spanish comb effect. The bouquet was frilled nosegay. This was most novel in its aspect at the present day.

There was also a shooting costume, with a rough cloth cape, and a picturesque wide brimmed felt hat with feathers at one side, all in browns, and the fair sportswoman carried a gun. The wearer of another sport costume had a Russian wolf hound leash.

A fancy dress caused much amusement and gained no end of applause The skirt resolved itself into pegtop trousers made up of a succession of white ruffles edged with color, a plaid jacket tight at the waist, and with flaring skirt and a collar that rose almost to the top of the head at the back. With this was worn a small, flat oval pancake hat in green with a red velvet ribbon wound about it. The model also wore a wide ribboned monocle in her left eye and carried a cane.

Among the wraps shown was a voluminous one in ermine with the new square cape collar outlined in the ermine tails and ermine tails bordered the revers. Another in flame-colored velvet, trimmed and bordered with brown fur, brought in a brilliant flash of color.

As a rule, however the gowns tended to subdued effects in shading. There were many swathed designs in the evening gowns, although several of the most graceful hung from the waist in straight lines. Both sleeves and skirts were shown in both the gowns and the coats. The tendency in nearly all was to flat effects from the waist up and to fullness from the waist down. Most of them, barring few of the evening gowns and a few coat-gowns, were short, but not excessively so.

The display of genuine jewels was brilliant, one ornament loaned by a New York jeweler being worth $125,000. The total value of the necklaces, tiaras, and other ornaments worn by the models was estimated at $500,000. A number of detectives watched them during every moment of their use.

The fête will be continued this afternoon and evening and tomorrow evening. A number of actresses have promised to attend this afternoon and assist in selling the gowns donated by dressmakers for the benefit of the Committee of Mercy Fund. Among them are Elsie Ferguson, Pauline Frederick, Marie Doro, Edith Wynne Matthison, and Patricia Collinge.

Many dinners in the hotel restaurant preceded the exhibitions of fashions, the hostesses afterward taking their guests to the fête and dance which followed. Among these were Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, who had Mayor Mitchel as the guest of honor, and Mrs. Mitchel; Mrs. T. Suffern Tailer, Mrs. F. S. Witherbee, Mrs. Oliver Iselin, Mrs. J. Insley Blair, Mrs. Ira Barrows, Mrs. Robert Brewster, and James Kidder. Owen Johnson, and Monoure Robinson.

The men in charge of the dancing included James B. Eustis, Bertram Cruger, J. Clinton Gray, Frank Crowninshield, W. Rhinelander Stewart, Jr., Stuyvesant Le Roy, Alfonso de Navarro, Maurice Roche, and W. H. Hoffman.

Society girls, with Mrs. Graham Blandy at their head, sold programmes of the fête. Among them were the Misses Edith Morgan, Lisa Stillman, Ruth and Jeanne King, Katherine and Margaret Stewart, Eleanor Mumford, Mrs. Courtland Nicoll, Mrs. W. M. Wright, Mrs. Robert Le Roy, and Mrs. Newell Tilton.

PRINCE CHIGI-ALBANI DIES.

Fined $63,000 for Selling Out of Italy Botticelli's "Madonna."

ROME, Nov. 4.—The death is announced of Prince Mario Chigi-Albani, Marshal of the Conclave.

Prince Mario Chigi-Albani was born in Rome in 1832, and was the son of Prince Sigismondo, the sixth of the family to hold the title of Reichsfuerst. Prince Chigi was a descendant of an old Patrician family of Sienna, whose history dates from the thirteenth century.

In October, 1900, Prince Chigi was convicted on the charge of unlawfully selling out of Italy a valuable work of art, namely, the Botticelli "Madonna" that had been in the family art gallery for more than a century. It was supposed at that time that P. A. B. Widener of Philadelphia was the purchaser of the picture. This was later denied, and Mr. Widener was quoted as saying that probably Agnew of London had bought the masterprece. The Prince was sentenced to pay a fine of $63,000, and it was some time before the picture was reported to again be in the Chigi gallery. For a time the Prince had neither his money nor picture.

Prince Chigi married Antoinette, Princess of Sayn-Wittgenstein Berelsburg, who with three children, Prince Ludovico, Prince Francesco, and Princess Eleanora survive him.

FOR THE OFFICE WOMAN whose aim in dress is "efficient smartness"—whose clothes must be the sort that will "look the part"—there are twenty or more models in our showrooms that in every particular will meet these requirements.

Because we are selling at retail without retail rentals and expenses, we can offer Fifth Avenue style and exclusiveness at a positive saving of one-third.

Gowns for street, afternoon, and evening wear, made to measure, from $18.50 to $55.00.

Lucille Gown Co.
DIRECT—MANUFACTURERS TO THE WELL-DRESSED WOMAN
TWELFTH FLOOR
48 West 38th Street

EX-SENATOR KEAN OF NEW JERSEY DEAD

Passed Away Last Night at Liberty Hall, Ursino, the House in Which He Was Born.

PROMINENT AS A BANKER

Defeated for Governor on Republican Ticket He Was Later Elected to United States Senate.

Special to The New York Times.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Nov. 4.—Ex-Senator John Kean of New Jersey died at 11:15 o'clock tonight at his country home, Liberty Hall, at Ursino, near this city, after an illness of several months. He had been suffering from Bright's he seemed to be much better and was able to sit up in bed and listen to the election returns. This morning he still seemed to improve, but at 3 o'clock this disease for some time, but on Tuesday afternoon he grew worse and Dr. James Greene of this city, the family physician, was sent for. Senator Kean failed to rally and the family were called to his bedside as soon as it was seen that he could not live.

John Kean, United States Senator from New Jersey from 1899 until 1911, and a former member of the Forty eighth and Fiftieth Congresses, was born at Ursino, N. J., and was in his sixty-third year. He was born at Liberty Hall, the home of the Kean family and one of the historic houses of New Jersey, which was built by Gov. Livingston in 1772. It is on record that George Washington held many conferences with his Generals within its walls, Alexander Hamilton studied law there, and it was in the library that John Jay was married to one of the daughters of Gov. Livingston. Senator Kean's city home was at 3 East Fifty-sixth Street. He used to spend his Winters in New York and the rest of the year at Liberty Hall.

As soon as he was old enough to go to school, Senator Kean was sent to a boarding school at Stockbridge, Mass., from which he was later transferred to a private school at Ossining. Here he prepared for Yale under the late Prof. Churchill. Senator Kean entered Yale in 1881, and although he did not graduate, later received the honorary degree of A. M. After leaving Yale he entered the Columbia Law School and was admitted to the bar in New Jersey in 1877. Senator Kean never practiced law, however, and soon turned to banking and manufacturing. At the same time, he went into politics and was soon appointed Chairman of the Republican State Committee of New Jersey. In 1882 he was elected by the Republicans of his district as a Representative to Congress and in 1886 was re-elected. Senator Kean's business interests were large. He was at different times Vice President of the Manhattan Trust Company, Trustee of the Atlas Insurance Company of London, Director of the Chicago Junction Railways and the Union Stock Yard Company, Treasurer and a Director of the Pacific

Influences at Work In the Security Markets

Our current general circular discusses the various factors affecting the present financial situation.

We are prepared to make special recommendations of high grade bonds conforming to the requirements of institutional or individual investors.

Sent on request for Circular AG-36

N. W. Halsey & Co.

49 Wall Street, New York

Philadelphia Chicago San Francisco
Boston Baltimore

At the Present Time

We are selling selected first mortgages on Kings and Queens County improved properties with our guarantee of payment of principal and interest to net

5½%

Small or large amounts to meet your needs. OUR RECORD: Millions sold with no loss to any investor.

HOME TITLE INSURANCE Co. OF NEW YORK

OFFICES { 383 Jay St., Brooklyn, N. Y. / Post Office Building, Jamaica.

Capital, Surplus and Profits over $1,000,000

Our Certificate of Values in Bond and Stock Issues

of industrial and public utility companies protects the interests of the issuing company, the bankers, and the investors, and makes the securities more saleable. This is an important service which we should be glad to explain to manufacturers, bankers and investors.

The American Appraisal Co

55 Liberty Street, New York

Chicago Milwaukee Boston
Montreal Philadelphia St. Louis
Cincinnati San Francisco Cleveland

Our November Circular

details a selection of high-grade Railroad, Public Utility, Industrial, and Municipal bonds yielding a most satisfactory return on the investment and which should show appreciation in value on the adjustment of conditions.

Mailed on request.

George H. Burr & Co.

14 Wall Street BANKERS New York
Philadelphia Boston Chicago
St. Louis Seattle San Francisco

We Specialize in

United Cigar Stores Co. of America

Circular on application.

Bamberger, Loeb & Co.

23 BROAD ST., N. Y. Phone 3500-5501 Broad.

Union Pacific R.R. Warrants

Bought Sold Quoted

WILLIAM D. SHIVERS

Rector 8169. One Wall St.

SUGAR STOCKS
TOBACCO STOCKS
INSURANCE STOCKS
POWDER SECURITIES
STANDARD OIL STOCKS

Inactive and Unlisted Stocks and Bonds

J. K. Rice, Jr., & Co.

Phone 4901 to 4910 John. 36 Wall St., N. Y.

Bonds for Investment

Harris, Forbes & Co

Pine Street, Corner William
NEW YORK

SIMON BORG & CO

INVESTMENT SECURITIES

No. 20 Nassau St., New York

O. M. VAIL, JR.

is now prepared to quote and Execute Orders in Public Utility Securities

68 BROADWAY RECTOR 3937

6% BONDS

We have issued a special circular, No. 209, covering a 6% first mortgage gold bond carrying 100% stock bonus. If you have funds awaiting investment, you will be interested in this circular.

Mailed on request.

HARVEY A. WILLIS & CO.

(Established 1891)

32 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

5½% GUARANTEED FIRST MORTGAGES

ON NEW YORK CITY REAL ESTATE

Legal investments for Trust Funds and Trust Estates. Tax exempt in New York State. Were under the supervision of the State Banking Department.

Our Booklet "A" Explains. Sent Upon Request.

FIRST MORTGAGE GUARANTEE CO.
Bridge Plaza, N., L. I. City, N. Y.

6% Mortgages

GUARANTEED TAX-EXEMPT
ON IMPROVED NEW YORK CITY REAL ESTATE.

KINGS COUNTY MORTGAGE CO.
189 Montague St. Brooklyn, N. Y.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Politics Come In for Discussion —Financial Factors Continue to Improve.

Politics, which for some time had been subordinated in financial discussion to other subjects, was yesterday the chief matter of comment in the financial district. For some days the money market, and financial events generally, had been following a course conducive to greater hopefulness and the outcome of the election served to give new impetus to this feeling. Wall Street's point of view was that the result of Tuesday's balloting would serve to put a check on radicalism and would make for sounder and more helpful relationship between Government and business with the result of giving greater stimulus to initiative and enterprise in the commercial and financial worlds. Accepting the matter in this light it was natural that many in the financial district expressed greater hopefulness yesterday regarding the future, having regard particularly to the effect which the change in political conditions reflected in this election might have upon business questions, after the handicaps which the existence of the great European war puts upon business the world over, have been happily lifted.

Events in the money market supplied further evidence of the very strong drift toward still easier monetary conditions. In one or two instances, standing call loans on which 7 per cent. was being charged were reduced to 6 per cent. and the increased keenness in the demand for high grade short term securities afforded collateral evidence of the increasing supply of money. An evidence of the abundance—superabundance would be a better term to use in this connection—of currency was found in the deposit of $5,000,000 by one of the National banks and of smaller sums by other banks to retire currency which had been taken out under the Aldrich-Vreeland law. There have been other retirements of this currency in considerable blocks and the tendency in this direction promises to grow rapidly. The currency taken out by the banks which issued Aldrich-Vreeland notes at the outset of the difficulties caused by the war now carries a tax of 3½ per cent. instead of 3 per cent. and the tax will increase at the rate of ½ of 1 per cent. per month up to 6 per cent. This tax will become an increasing factor in inducing retirements of this circulation particularly inasmuch as the drift of money rates now is strongly downward.

The chances are that some other banks which are charging more than 6 per cent. on their call loans would have reduced their rates yesterday in view of the rapid improvement in the banking position had it not been for the further action of the Controller of the Currency in making it known that he proposed to make public a list of all the banks in New York which were charging no more than 6 per cent. on their collateral loans. It would not be surprising if some of the banks were thereby deterred from decreasing their rates because of unwillingness to change their rates under what they might regard as an attempt at pressure in a matter which is not under the regulation of the Controller of the Currency and which rests with the discretion and business judgment of the individual banks. The further exchange of telegrams which went on yesterday between New York banks and the Controller of the Currency seemed to suggest that there was still confusion in the minds of Washington officials between credit and currency. These Washington telegrams also served to increase the feeling among bankers that the Controller's office was misjudging the duties imposed upon it by law in attempting to govern the rates of interest which individual national banks are charging on their loans.

Inquiries now being made by the Controller about the amount of Clearing House certificates still outstanding seem to indicate that the Government is desirous of seeing all of these certificates retired by the time the Federal Reserve Banks are put in operation the week after next. A number of New York bankers find themselves in agreement with this suggestion for it is coming to be more widely recognized that the large inflow of cash and the freer credit facilities now existing combine to make it desirable that these certificates should be retired in the near future. It was suggested in one quarter yesterday that if it were not convenient to do away at this time with some of the loans represented by these certificates that a process of rediscounting among the Clearing House banks themselves might well be resorted to to clear up the Clearing House loan certificate account and thus restore the clearings to a purely cash basis.

The rate of iron production in the United States last month according to the figures compiled by the Iron Age was the smallest since January, 1911, but despite this fact and despite the current talk of possible necessity for further wage reductions in the steel trade a more hopeful attitude on the part of steel interests is reported. The Chairman of the Steel Corporation in a statement made yesterday said that he was still hoping for a substantial improvement in business in the near future.

BANK CLEARINGS CONTRACT

Clearings through the banks continue in much smaller volume than in recent preceding years, the total for October at all cities in the United States, according to returns received by R. G. Dun & Co. from 120 leading centres, amounting to $11,606,373,147, a decrease of 25.6 per cent., as compared with the same month last year and of 31.9 per cent., as contrasted with the corresponding month in 1912.

The practical cessation of business in speculative and financial channels owing to the continued close of the leading Exchanges is reflected in marked contraction at New York City, that centre reporting losses of 35.5 and 44.7 per cent., respectively, in the comparison with 1913 and 1912.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The railroads that have so far reported for the month of September make the following showing in their gross and net returns, those showing increases and those showing losses being given separately:

GROSS.

Thirteen roads	$65,868,477	+$2,763,466
Twenty-nine roads	142,347,890	—11,033,431
Total (42 roads)	208,216,367	— 8,030,025

NET.

Twenty-two roads	$33,678,896	+$3,353,554
Twenty roads	28,269,290	— 3,152,002
Total (42 roads)	61,947,956	+ 201,352

CINCINNATI, HAMILTON & DAYTON for September—

	1914.	1913.	1912.
Mileage	1,015	1,015	1,015
Gross	939,902	930,970	937,867
Net after tax.	202,319	136,403	262,164
3 mos. gross	2,856,096	2,782,965	2,785,745
Net after tax.	593,054	424,160	761,291

DULUTH, SOUTH SHORE & ATLANTIC for September—

Gross	271,566	319,643	289,360
Net	60,983	37,281	61,791
Def. after chg.	31,634	66,387	34,904
3 mos. gross	866,010	1,005,538	923,184
Net	199,504	211,456	233,476
Def. after chg.	77,179	90,599	58,526

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE for September—

Mileage	5,074	4,923	4,722
Gross	4,602,027	5,321,306	4,982,218
Net after tax.	961,149	1,392,841	1,374,743
3 mos. gross	14,110,885	15,378,412	14,326,946
Net after tax.	3,017,541	3,267,939	3,576,148

MAINE CENTRAL for September—

Gross	$1,056,375	$1,035,754	$1,035,847
Net after tax.	273,899	267,850	306,098
3 mos. gross	3,127,867	3,152,598	3,071,847
Net after tax.	832,221	726,967	841,139

NEW YORK, NEW HAVEN & HARTFORD for September—

Gross	5,802,376	6,152,730	5,985,230
Net after tax.	1,779,607	1,684,404	2,252,070
3 mos. gross	17,314,920	18,164,961	18,140,189
Net after tax.	4,973,472	5,040,250	6,817,035

ROCK ISLAND LINES for September—

Mileage	8,329	8,011	8,042
Gross	6,881,092	6,212,448	6,333,015
Net after tax.	1,761,987	1,559,572	1,597,639
9 mos. gross	19,584,880	18,432,104	18,070,284
Net after tax.	4,850,040	4,891,935	4,770,488

WESTERN MARYLAND for the year ended June 30—

Oper. revenue	8,267,736	7,662,070	7,243,058
Oper. expenses	7,848,631	6,019,147	4,883,280
Net op. rev.	419,106	1,643,632	2,359,177
Out op., net	21,754	2,341	3,831
Tot. op. rev.	417,352	1,615,873	2,363,269
Taxes	263,265	240,000	252,000
Oper. inc.	154,147	1,375,873	2,111,269
Other inc.	227,455	1,084,050	923,937
Total inc.	381,602	2,459,923	3,035,631
Charges	3,097,267	2,874,896	2,389,366
Deficit	2,715,665	414,972	*647,270

†Including interest on capital advances for construction of new lines and work in progress.
*Surplus. ‡Debit.

WESTERN MARYLAND—

	1914.	1913.	Inc.
Gross	724,690	731,032	*$341
Net	185,176	138,400	46,776
Oper. income	160,676	118,900	41,776

From July 1—

	1914.	1913.	Inc.
Gross	$2,200,247	$2,076,647	$123,585
Net	602,022	477,104	124,918
Operating income	528,522	418,000	109,918

*Decrease.

Miscellaneous Earnings.

CLEVELAND, SOUTHWESTERN & COLUMBUS, for September—

	1914.	1913.	Dec.
Gross	$113,018	$114,658	$1,640
Net earnings	48,279	48,295	15
Sur. aft. chgs.	15,734	15,967	232
9 mos. gross	950,569	939,426	*11,143
Net earnings	382,955	377,542	*5,412
Sur. aft. chgs.	91,644	93,078	1,435

*Increase.

COLORADO FUEL & IRON COMPANY, for the year ended June 30—

Gross Earnings.

	1914.	1913.	1912.
Iron dept.	11,477,307	14,982,804	15,140,528
Indus. dept.	6,325,719	9,393,088	3,127,929
Total	17,803,026	24,375,887	24,268,452

Operating Expenses.

Operat. exp.	16,729,255	20,695,621	20,496,171
Net	1,073,770	3,620,266	3,772,281
Other income	577,477	755,629	676,693
Total income	1,651,247	4,375,895	4,448,973
Charges	2,557,216	2,648,703	2,647,746
Deficit	905,968	*1,727,192	*1,801,228

*Surplus.

NORTHERN OHIO TRACTION & LIGHT for September—

	1914.	1913.	Increase.
Gross	311,636	280,022	22,634
Net aft. taxes	116,289	119,802	*3,513
Surp. aft. chgs.	64,862	72,271	*7,409
Bal. aft. pf. div.	49,737	50,489	*9,732
9 mos. gross	2,728,558	2,444,698	283,860
Net aft. taxes	1,065,341	973,662	91,879
Surp. aft. chgs.	610,295	560,465	49,830
Bal. aft. pf. divs.	474,963	449,584	25,279

*Decrease.

PITTSBURGH BREWING COMPANY for the year ended Oct. 25—

	1914.	1913.	1912.
Gross	5,237,285	5,736,601	5,414,151
Expenses	3,804,743	3,680,801	4,108,514
Net	1,432,542	2,055,800	1,304,638
Interest	340,140	346,840	370,140
Deprecia'n, &c.	465,407	642,020	487,048
Surplus	626,993	1,067,140	438,450
Dividends	665,490	427,000	427,000
Deficit	38,497	*640,140	*11,450

*Surplus.

ST. LOUIS, ROCKY MOUNTAIN & PACIFIC for September—

Gross	232,137	198,956	165,170
Net aft. taxes	87,336	56,892	44,586
Surp. aft. chgs	49,822	28,250	11,436

VIRGINIA RAILWAY & POWER COMPANY and allied companies for the year ended June 30—

Gross earn.	5,156,048	4,864,107	4,556,184
Net earnings	2,500,140	2,447,319	2,135,290
Other income	80,910	86,706	69,159
Total income	2,671,050	2,533,823	2,204,449
Int., taxes, &c.	1,615,459	1,500,502	1,423,202
Surplus	1,055,590	1,033,321	781,247
Dividends	781,940	698,700	625,949
Adjustments	83,686	50,144	51,478
Surplus	189,956	633,965	572,471

TREASURY STATEMENT.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Receipts and expenditures at Nov. 2:

	Nov. 2.	Month.	Fiscal Year.
Customs	$218,797	$218,797	$76,136,341
Ordinary	967,980	967,980	106,770,790
Cor. & inc. tax.	16,901	16,901	8,498,482
Miscellaneous	30,971	30,971	28,671,447
Total	1,234,650	1,234,650	222,077,062
Expenditures	3,572,033	3,572,033	265,696,805
Deficit	2,337,382	2,337,382	43,629,743

SHORT TERM NOTES.

Security and Rate.	Due.	Bid.	Asked.	Yield.
Amalgamated Copper Co., 5%	Mar. 15, 1915	99⅝	99¾	5.30
American Locomotive Co., 5%	July, 1915	99½	100	5.00
American Tel. & Tel. Sub., 5%	Apr., 1916	99¼	99⅝	5.30
American Tobacco Scrip, 6%	Sept., 1916	99⅝	100¼	5.70
Baltimore & Ohio R. R., 4½%	June, 1915	99¼	99½	5.25
Bethlehem Steel Co., 5%	June 11, 1915	98¾	98¾	6.26
Chicago & Western Indiana R. R., 5%	Sept., 1915	97½	98½	7.00
Chicago Elevated Rys., 5%	July, 1916	..	98	6.35
Consolidated Gas Co. 6%	June, 1915	100 7-16	100⅝	5.95
Erie R. R., 5%	Apr., 1915	98	98	10.00
Erie R. R., 5%	Oct., 1915	98½	97½	7.50
Erie R. R., 5½%	Apr., 1917	93	96	7.15
General Motor Co., 6%	Oct., 1916	96	100	6.00
General Rubber Co., 4½%	July, 1915	98½	99	6.00
Harlem River & Port. R. R., 5%	May, 1915	90	96	13.00
Hocking Valley Ry., 6%	Nov., 1915	99	99½	6.50
International Harvester Co., 5%	Feb. 15, 1915	99½	100	5.00
Lackawanna Steel Co., 5%	Mar., 1915	94	96	17.00
Michigan Central R. R., 4½%	Mar. 2, 1915	98	..	..
Montreal Tramways & Power Co., 6%	Apr., 1915	..	99¼	5.40
New England Navigation Co., 6%	May, 1917	89	95	8.10
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 5%	Apr., 1915	98¾	99¼	6.50
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 4½%	May, 1915	98⅜	99¼	6.00
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 5%	Sept. 15, 1915	98	98⅝	6.50
N. Y. C. R. R., 5%	Oct., 1915	97½	98½	6.50
New York City, 6%	Sept., 1915	100¾	101⅛	4.00
New York City, 6%	Sept., 1916	102	102¼	4.75
New York City, 6%	Sept., 1917	103¼	103¾	4.77
N. Y., N. H. & Hartford R. R., 5%	May, 1915	90	95	13.00
Pacific Gas & Electric Co., 5%	Mar. 25, 1915	99	100	5.00
Pennsylvania R. R. conv., 3½%	Oct., 1915	99⅝	99¾	5.00
Public Service Corporation of N. J., 5%	Mar., 1916	96½	96	6.25
Seaboard Air Line Ry., 5%	Mar., 1916	97	99	5.80
Southern Railway, 6%	Feb., 1916	97	99	5.85
Southern Railway, 5%	Mar., 1917	93	97	6.50
Sulzberger & Sons, 6%	June, 1916	98	99	6.60
Union Typewriter Co., 5%	Jan. 15, 1916	96	98¼	6.35
United Fruit Co., 6%	May, 1917	99¼	100	6.00
Utah Company, 6%	Apr., 1917	93	99	6.50

THE CITY'S FINANCIAL OPERATIONS.

Temporary Financing, Oct. 24 to 31, 1914.

	Corporate Stock Notes.	Revenue Bonds and Bills.	Special Revenue Bds.
Outstanding Oct. 24	$85,042,234.15	$83,556,108.42	$6,157,425.00
Net decrease	200,211.73	1,413,729.63	*250,000.00
Outstanding Oct. 31	$82,833,002.42	$82,142,378.79	$6,507,425.00
Cash balance Oct. 31	53,298,078.00
Net obligation	$19,534,925.58

*Decrease.

TEXAS LAND COMPANY FAILS

San Antonio Concern Has Liabilities of $8,030,934.

Alleging that it had liabilities of $8,030,934 and assets of only $758,355, the Empire Trust Company filed yesterday in the Federal District Court, a voluntary bankruptcy petition against the San Antonio Land and Irrigation Company, Limited, the principal office of which is in Toronto. The Empire Trust Company is not a creditor, but has taken action as trustee for an issue of $6,500,000 worth of first mortgage bonds.

The Empire concern has been engaged in buying and selling lands for irrigation in Texas and its bonds are secured by shares of the Medina Valley Irrigation Company. Among its principal creditors are the Canadian Bank of Commerce for $540,000, secured by the bonds of the company; J. H. Dunn, of London, $847,600; the Keystone Land and Cattle Company, of Texas, $99,470 and the Bank of Scotland, $612,046, secured by the San Antonio bonds.

Among the assets are certain debts due to the alleged bankrupts including an open account which amounts to $412,417.48, one of the items of which is a debt of the Medina Valley Irrigation Company for $329,365.72. The San Antonio Company also lays claim to an accounting for a great stretch of land in Bexar, Medina and Bandera Counties, Texas, after the first mortgage for £1,600,000 held by the Empire Trust Company has been discharged.

Special to The New York Times.

TORONTO, Ontario, Nov. 4.—The San Antonio Land and Irrigation Company planned to build a large reservoir to store water for the irrigation of 60,000 acres near San Antonio, Texas. When the plan was completed the disttrict suffered from a drought. In addition to the bonds the company has $8,000,000 stock outstanding. The land is now held at $125 an acre, which is a lower price than that made at the time of the organization of the company.

COLORADO FUEL'S REPORT.

President Says Mine Troubles Were Due to Outside influences.

President J. F. Welborn says in the annual report of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company that the labor troubles that have rent Colorado were neither agitated nor caused because of differences between the workmen and employers.

"It has been, in fact, a contest between an outside labor organization, known as the United Mine Workers of America," says the report, "trying to force its regime upon the coal mining industry of the State. Recognizing our responsibility to the stockholders and our employes for the proper conduct of the affairs of the company, we believe it to be our duty to take a stand with our workmen against the invasion of that organization."

Gross earnings in the year ended June 30 were $17,803,025, a decrease from 1913 of $6,511,883. Operating and management expenses required $16,729,255, against $20,695,621, and net income of $1,073,770 showed a falling of $2,546,496 from the operation of the properties. Other revenue amounted to $577,000. The year's deficit was $958,968, as compared with a surplus in the preceding year of $1,647,192.

Trust Companies Gain Resources.

The aggregate resources of trust companies of the country on June 30, 1914, were $5,924,979,000, as compared with $3,917,442,000 on the same date six years before, according to "Trust Companies of the United States," the twelfth edition of which has just been issued by the United States Mortgage & Trust Company. The total on the later date was more than one-half as large as the resources of all the national banks at the same time.

COTTON SALES AND PRICES.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 4.—The following cotton middling sales were reported today:

	Bales.	Sales.
New Orleans	1,415	7 3-16c.
Galveston	400	7¾c.
Mobile	25	7 3-16c.
Savannah	3,151	7¼c.
Charleston	100	7c.
Wilmington	..	7c.
Norfolk	575	7¼c.
Memphis	3,900	7c
Augusta	953	7 5-16c.
Houston	2,643	7¾c.
Dallas	4,598	6¾c.

WAR

Affects the price of wheat.

1,000-Bushel Odd Lots

(Corresponding to 10 Shares)
Bought and sold on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Send for our Special Wheat Circular

Morris & Wilmarth

Tel. Broad 2538-9. 32 Broadway, N. Y.
Established and in continuous existence over 18 years.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN says:

"Weighty questions ask for deliberate answers."

ONE of the weightiest questions affecting every business man concerns the administration of his estate in accordance with his desires.

We maintain a trained and efficient organization to furnish deliberate answers to such questions and assist in carrying them out.

We invite confidential discussion of these matters, frankly and without charge.

Franklin Trust Company

New York Office: 46 Wall Street
Brooklyn Offices: 166 Montague Street, 569 Fulton Street

Interest Credited Monthly

paid on accounts subject to Check. Special rates on time certificates of deposit.

United States Mortgage and Trust Company

Investor's Opportunity.

A HIGHLY RATED AND ESTABLISHED FIRM MANUFACTURING AND IMPORTING AN ABSOLUTELY STAPLE ARTICLE, SEEKS PARTY TO INVEST $25,000 TO $50,000. HAS IN THE COURSE OF RAPID DEVELOPMENT ADDITIONAL ARTICLE, WHICH IN CONTROL AND WHICH WHILE ABSOLUTELY STAPLE, IS HIGHLY PROFITABLE. WILL COMMUNICATE WITH PRINCIPALS ONLY. L 23 TIMES.

NEW YORK, CHICAGO & ST. LOUIS RAILROAD COMPANY First Mortgage 4% Gold Bonds DUE OCT. 1, 1937.

The Central Trust Company of New York, Trustee, gives notice that it will receive sealed proposals to sell the above described bonds, the total offer not to consume more than the amount of One Hundred Thousand Dollars ($100,000). Sealed proposals will be opened at the office of the Central Trust Company of New York, at 12 o'clock noon on November 30th, 1914. The right is reserved to reject any and all tenders.

CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK.
By S. F. HIDE, Vice President.

NOTICE

TO HOLDERS OF THE FOUR PER CENT. INCOME MORTGAGE BONDS OF THE

Peoria & Eastern Railway Company:

The undersigned, BONDHOLDERS PROTECTIVE COMMITTEE, owning or representing a large number of the bonds above referred to, believe that a thorough investigation of the affairs of this Company will show earnings applicable to the interest on said bonds. A preliminary examination and report has been procured in which conditions are disclosed which, in the opinion of the Committee, clearly justify further investigation. It is believed that such an investigation will prove advantageous to the bondholders.

The Committee, therefore, invites the co-operation of all bondholders and suggests that an early deposit of bonds will greatly expedite its work. The Empire Trust Company, 65 Cedar Street, New York, and 41 Threadneedle Street, London, England will act as Depositary for the Committee under certain Deposit Agreements, filed with it, and will issue to the Depositors its negotiable Certificates in the place and stead of the bonds.

Copies of the Deposit Agreements and other information may be obtained by application to the Depositary or the Secretary of the Committee, at Room 146, No. 80 Broadway, New York City.

Committee:

JOHN F. WALLACE, Chairman, Of Westinghouse, Church, Kerr & Co.
THOMAS DENNY, Of Denny, Pomroy & Company.
FLOYD W. MUNDY, Of James B. Oliphant & Company.
LEWIS E. WARING, Of Edward Sweet & Company.

FRANK D. KETCHAM, Secretary to the Committee, 80 Broadway, New York City.
EMPIRE TRUST COMPANY, Depositary, 65 Cedar Street, New York City, 41 Threadneedle Street, London, England.
CRISP, RANDALL & CRISP, Counsel, 80 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

WEST KENTUCKY COAL COMPANY First Mortgage Five Per Cent. Thirty-Year Gold Bonds.

The Equitable Trust Company of New York, successor by merger to The Trust Company of America, as Trustee under the mortgage of the West Kentucky Coal Company, dated July 1st, 1905, hereby invites tenders for the sale to it, under the provisions of said mortgage, of as many bonds secured thereby as will exhaust the sum of Thirty thousand five and 28-100 Dollars ($30,005.28) at a price not to exceed 105% and accrued interest; bonds to be presented for payment on January 1st, 1915. Sealed tenders will be opened at the office of The Equitable Trust Company of New York, No. 37 Wall Street, New York City, at 12 o'clock noon November 27th, 1914, and should be endorsed "Tenders for the Sinking Fund of the West Kentucky Coal Company."

The right is reserved to reject any and all tenders.

Dated New York, N. Y., November 5th, 1914.
THE EQUITABLE TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK,
Successor Trustee.
By LYMAN RHOADES, Vice President.

TO THE HOLDERS OF FIRST AND REFUNDING MORTGAGE FIVE PER CENT. 25-YEAR SINKING FUND GOLD BONDS OF THE MUTUAL LIGHT AND WATER COMPANY, DUE JANUARY 1, 1945.

The undersigned, Trustee under the mortgage given to secure the above described bonds, holds in the Sinking Fund, applicable to the purchase of bonds of said issue on November 20, 1913, provided such purchase can, in its opinion, be now made advantageously, the sum of Two thousand sixty-two and 58-100 Dollars ($2,062.58.)

Sealed offers of said bonds may be sent to the office of the undersigned, Trust Department, 140 Broadway, City of New York, on or before November 19, 1914, at 12:00 o'clock noon.

Bonds must be delivered on November 20th, or security furnished that day, if required, that delivery will be made within ten days.

The right is reserved by the undersigned to reject any and all offers.

Dated New York, November 5, 1914.
COLUMBIA TRUST COMPANY, Trustee.
By GEORGE E. WARREN, Trust Officer.

POCAHONTAS CONSOLIDATED COLLIERIES COMPANY, INCORPORATED, FIFTY-YEAR FIVE PER CENT. GOLD BONDS.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the terms of the Mortgage dated July 1st, 1907, that the undersigned, as Trustee, will receive sealed proposals up to 3 P. M. on the 7th day of December, 1914, for the sale to it of bonds as above described sufficient to use the sum of $82,455.86. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all tenders.

THE NEW YORK TRUST COMPANY,
Trustee.
By H. W. MORSE, Secretary.
New York, October 31st, 1914.

MEETINGS AND ELECTIONS.

Office of
THE LAKE SHORE AND MICHIGAN SOUTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY.
Cleveland, Ohio, October 15th, 1914.

Notice is hereby given that a Special Meeting of the Stockholders of The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Company has been called and will be held at the Company's principal office in the City of Cleveland, Ohio, on Tuesday, the 22nd day of December, 1914, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, Eastern Time, for the purpose of considering and voting upon the adoption and ratification of an agreement dated April 29, 1914, for the consolidation of The New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Company, Geneva, Corning and Southern Railroad Company, The Terminal Railway of Buffalo, The Dunkirk, Allegheny Valley and Pittsburgh Railroad Company, Chicago, Indiana and Southern Railroad Company, Detroit and Chicago Railroad Company, Detroit, Monroe and Toledo Railroad Company, The Northern Central Michigan Railroad Company, Kalamazoo and White Pigeon Railroad Company and The Swan Creek Railway Company of Toledo.

By order of the Board of Directors.
DWIGHT W. PARDEE,
Secretary.

GENERAL MOTORS COMPANY.
Notice of Annual Meeting.

The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of General Motors Company will be held on the 17th day of November, 1914, at 12 o'clock Noon, at the principal office of the Company, No. 13 Exchange Place, Jersey City, New Jersey, for the purpose of electing a Board of Directors and for the transaction of such other business as may be brought before the meeting. The transfer books of the stock of the Company were closed at the close of business October 26, 1914, and will be reopened Nover 18, 1914.

STANDISH BACKUS, Secretary.
Dated November 2, 1914.

KNICKERBOCKER SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY.

The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Knickerbocker Safe Deposit Company for the election of Directors, Inspectors of Election, and such other business as may properly come before the meeting, will be held at the main office of the company, No. 358 Fifth Avenue, on Thursday, November 19th, 1914, at 12 o'clock noon.

The polls will be open from 12 to 1 o'clock.
CHAS. S. ADAMS, Treasurer.

The Ocean Coaster Company.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of The Ocean Coaster Company will be held at the office of James W. McElhinney, No. 41 Park Row, New York City, on Thursday, November 12th, 1914, at 2 P. M., for the election of Directors, and for the transaction of such other business as may be brought before the meeting.

JOHN A CORRIGAN, Secretary.
Dated October 28th, 1914.

Chartered 1799.

Bank of the Manhattan Company.
New York, October 31, 1914.

Notice is hereby given that an election for twelve Directors of the Manhattan Company will be held at their Banking House, No. 40 Wall Street, in the City of New York, on Tuesday, the 1st day of December, next, between the hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M. By order of the Directors.

MANLY E. PIERSON, Cashier.

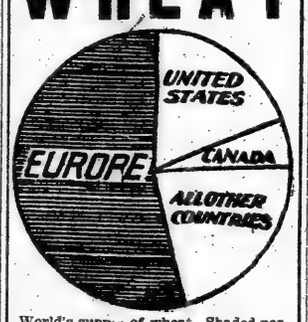
NOTICE!

Annual meeting of the Stockholders of the WALTER MOTOR TRUCK COMPANY will be held Thursday, Nov. 12, 1914, at their office, 49 West 59th St., N. Y. C., at 2 P. M.

C. W. FLANAGAN, Secretary.

Telephone Broad 2565

WHEAT



World's supply of wheat. Shaded portion shows production affected by war.

Send for our Special Grain Letter.

RENSKORF, LYON & CO.

Members { New York Stock Exchange. New York Cotton Exchange. Chicago Board of Trade.

33 NEW ST. (GROUND FLOOR) New York.

REPORTS OF NATIONAL BANKS.

ESTABLISHED 1784.
(No. 1393.)

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF

The Bank of New York

National Banking Association

at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business October 31st, 1914:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$18,676,459.98
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		9.20
U. S. bonds deposited to secure circulation		800,000.00
Commercial paper deposited to secure circulation		1,402,500.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		70,000.00
Other bonds to secure U. S. deposits, $40,000; to secure postal savings, $535,000		575,000.00
Customers' liability on letters of credit and time drafts		849,320.00
Bonds, securities, &c., (other than stocks)		8,138,686.32
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank, none; all other stocks, $97,503		97,503.00
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		250,000.00
Liability of customers on acceptances		10,985.00
Due from national banks (not reserve agents)	$954,178.22
Due from State and private banks and bankers, trust companies, and savings banks	458,054.58
Checks and other cash items	62,640.66
Exchanges for Clearing House	2,538,616.78
Notes of other national banks	734,405.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents	361.22
		4,748,256.47
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$4,463,192.96
Legal-tender notes	1,232,920.00
		5,696,112.96
Clearing House loan certificates (net balance)		2,720,000.00
Amount paid on account of subscription to $100,000,000 gold fund (subscribed) less amount, if any, returned to subscriber		134,568.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5% of circulation)		97,000.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer		28,000.00
Total		$39,314,400.93

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$2,000,000.00
Surplus fund		3,000,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		1,577,160.46
Reserved for taxes		36,158.04
National banknotes outstanding		1,934,997.50
Due to other national banks	$4,726,831.51
Due to State and private banks and bankers	3,757,392.76
Due to trust companies and savings banks	1,515,596.15
Dividends unpaid	1,488.00
Individual deposits subject to check	17,454,898.57
Demand certificates of deposit	490,059.

PENNSYLVANIA BANKS.

The Philadelphia National Bank

Philadelphia, Oct. 31, 1914.

RESOURCES

Loans and Discounts	$38,567,005.79
Clearing House Loan Certificates on Hand	1,700,000.00
Due from Banks	8,106,561.50
Exchanges for Clearing House	1,488,527.01
Cash and Reserve	17,194,494.64
Customers' Liability Under Letters of Credit	3,007,462.23
	$70,064,051.17

LIABILITIES

Capital Stock		$1,500,000.00
Surplus and Net Profits (Earned)		5,167,384.79
Circulation		1,648,997.50
Letters of Credit		3,033,102.00
Deposits:
Individual	$36,394,814.19
Bank	22,319,752.69	58,714,566.88
		$70,064,051.17

REPORTS OF NATIONAL BANKS.

[No. 345.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

IRVING NATIONAL BANK

at New York City, in the State of New York, at the close of business October 31, 1914:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$37,586,059.17
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		601.29
U. S. bonds deposited to secure circulation		1,640,000.00
Commercial paper deposited to secure circulation		3,652,500.00
Other securities to secure circulation		5,660,360.11
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		1,000.00
Bonds, securities, etc., (other than stocks)		1,937,516.28
All other stocks		36,300.00
Customers' liability, letters of credit acceptances		776,168.14
Due from national banks, (not reserve agents)		$1,285,640.77
Due from State and private banks and bankers, trust companies, and savings banks		1,765,166.24
Checks and other cash items		109,252.56
Exchanges for Clearing House		2,051,407.76
Notes of other national banks		1,256,150.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		3,407.77
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	6,979,264.00
Legal-tender notes	4,002,456.00	17,614,735.10
Clearing House loan certificates (net balance)		530,000.00
Amount paid on account of subscription to $100,000,000 gold fund (subscribed) less amount, if any, returned to subscriber		247,384.75
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5% of circulation)		389,750.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer		116,900.00
Total		$70,189,774.84

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$4,000,000.00
Surplus fund	3,000,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	673,495.86
Reserved for taxes	70,519.58
National banknotes outstanding	7,784,200.00
Due to other national banks	$18,430,981.54
Due to State and private banks and bankers	3,172,505.43
Due to trust companies and savings banks	4,151,578.81
Dividends unpaid	1,016.00
Individual deposits subject to check	27,699,248.76
Demand certificates of deposit	417,994.45
Time certificates of deposit payable within 30 days	10,000.00
Time deposits payable after 30 days or after notice of 30 days or longer	1,450,000.00
Certified checks	445,413.77
Cashier's checks outstanding	430,396.85
United States deposits	1,000.00
	51,210,633.61
Other bonds borrowed without furnishing collateral security for same	2,622,000.00
Letters of credit	796,245.37
Acceptances	32,678.14
Total	$70,189,774.84

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

I, HARRY E. WARD, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

HARRY E. WARD, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 4th day of November, 1914.

(Signed) C. G. P. KNIGHT,
Notary Public, Kings County, Certificate filed in New York County.

Correct—Attest:

HORACE HAVEMEYER,
DANIEL P. MORSE,
THEO. F. WHITMARSH,
Directors.

[No. 1,231.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF

THE IMPORTERS & TRADERS NATIONAL BANK OF NEW YORK,

at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business October 31st, 1914:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$26,786,783.66
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		520.67
U. S. bonds deposited to secure circulation		50,000.00
Commercial paper deposited to secure circulation		3,005,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		1,000.00
Bonds, securities, etc., (other than stocks)		367,001.00
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		700,000.00
Due from national banks (not reserve agents)		1,258,787.18
Due from State and private banks and bankers, trust companies, and savings banks		208,745.61
Checks and other cash items		181,637.13
Exchanges for Clearing House		579,706.71
Notes of other national banks		1,035,654.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		3,280.00
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$4,045,200.00
Legal-tender notes	1,843,337.00	5,888,037.00
Amount paid on account of subscription to $100,000,000 gold fund (subscribed) less amount, if any, returned to subscriber		128,891.25
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer, (5% of circulation)		113,250.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer		39,000.00
Total		$40,949,381.21

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$1,500,000.00
Surplus fund	6,000,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	1,856,118.81
Reserved for taxes	94,925.00
National bank notes outstanding	1,950,800.00
State bank notes outstanding	5,678.00
Due to other national banks	$6,320,412.78
Due to State and private banks and bankers	2,127,724.48
Due to trust companies and savings banks	2,353,199.50
Dividends unpaid	4,225.00
Individual deposits subject to check	18,906,259.15
Demand certificates of deposit	598,000.00
Certified checks	170,754.02
Cashier's checks outstanding	14,288.87
	25,491,863.80
United States deposits	1,000.00
Clearing House loan certificates (net balance)	3,950,000.00
Total	$40,949,381.21

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

I, H. H. POWELL, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

H. H. POWELL, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 4th day of November, 1914.

CHAS. M. McCARTHY,
Notary Public, 2,659, N. Y. Co.

Correct—Attest:

EDWARD TOWNSEND,
EDWARD T. VALENTINE,
WM. A. HARMON,
Directors.

PENNSYLVANIA BANKS.

REPORTS OF NATIONAL BANKS.

[No. 733.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF

NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE IN NEW YORK,

at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business October 31st, 1914:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$103,928,433.32
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		15.59
U. S. bonds deposited to secure circulation		8,825,000.00
Commercial paper deposited to secure circulation		17,630,000.00
Other securities to secure circulation		15,467,862.51
Premiums on U. S. bonds		25,000.00
Bonds, securities, etc., (other than stocks)		4,629,886.61
Stocks		250,001.00
Banking house		2,500,000.00
Customers' liability under letters of credit		785,964.24
Due from national banks (not reserve agents)		4,452,694.95
Due from State and private banks and bankers, trust companies and savings banks		836,720.60
Checks and other cash items		410,520.78
Exchanges for Clearing House		9,780,850.96
Notes of other national banks		581,175.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		1,939.99
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$22,188,776.00
Legal-tender notes	8,535,820.00	30,724,596.00
Clearing House loan certificates (net balance)		5,280,000.00
Amount paid on account of subscription to $100,000,000 gold fund (subscribed) less amount returned		588,424.50
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5% of circulation)		1,631,250.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer		234,002.50
Interest accrued		522,848.46
Total		$209,105,222.01

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$25,000,000.00
Surplus fund	10,000,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	6,744,908.52
Reserved for taxes	715,725.47
National bank notes outstanding	31,042,397.50
Accentances under letters of credit	785,964.24
Due to other national banks	$27,113,063.45
Due to State and private banks and bankers	35,624,656.85
Dividends unpaid	14,145.50
Individual deposits subject to check	65,561,735.96
Demand certificates of deposit	2,557,170.31
Time certificates of deposit payable within 30 days	100,000.00
Time deposits payable after 30 days or after notice of 30 days or longer	400,000.00
Certified checks	494,637.12
Cashier's checks outstanding	2,249,529.93
Unearned discount	134,114,939.12 701,290.86
Total	$209,105,222.01

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

I, STEVENSON E. WARD, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

STEVENSON E. WARD, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 4th day of November, 1914.

E. H. CALLANAN,
Notary Public Kings County.

Certificate filed in New York County, No. 47.

Correct—Attest:

CHARLES LANIER,
CHARLES H. ALLEN,
HENRY W. DE FOREST,
Directors.

[No. 2608.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

LINCOLN NATIONAL BANK,

at City of New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business Oct. 31, 1914:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$10,380,534.90
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		3,177.28
U. S. bonds deposited to secure circulation		890,000.00
Other securities to secure circulation		2,167,067.46
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits, $10,000; to secure postal savings, none		10,000.00
Bonds, securities, etc., (other than stocks)		954,710.23
Advances on letters of credit		41,533.74
Due from national banks (not reserve agents)		1,164,797.27
Due from State and private banks and bankers, trust companies, and savings		119,153.06
Checks and other cash items		218,492.58
Exchanges for Clearing House		387,085.40
Notes of other national banks		3,000,880.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents		6,870.93
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$2,760,146.50
Legal-tender notes	1,555,557.00	4,315,703.50
Clearing House loan certificates (net balance)		1,120,000.00
Amount paid on account of subscription to $100,000,000 gold fund (subscribed) less amount, if any, returned to subscriber		96,414.75
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5% of circulation)		78,280.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer		16,000.00
Total		$25,170,721.10

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$1,000,000.00
Surplus fund	1,000,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	884,734.23
Reserved for taxes	23,789.90
National bank notes outstanding	887,000.00
Letters of credit issued	41,533.74
Due to other national banks	$745,196.82
Due to State and private banks and bankers	564,197.82
Dividends unpaid	527,450.46
Individual deposits subject to check	18,913,006.90
Demand certificates of deposit	61,811.25
Certified checks	16,141.67
Cashier's checks outstanding	5,476.99
United States deposits	10,367.07
U. S. bonds borrowed without furnishing collateral security for same	20,601,006.02 600,000.00
Liabilities other than those stated above	2,614.21
Total	$25,170,721.10

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

I, DAVID C. GRANT, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

DAVID C. GRANT, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 4th day of November, 1914.

N. TIMMERMANN,
Notary Public, Bronx Co.

[Seal.] Certificate filed in New York Co., No. 89.

Correct—Attest:

HARRY J. LUCE,
EDWARD L. ROSSITER,
WILLIAM BREWSTER,
Directors.

DIVIDENDS.

WHITE KNOB COPPER AND DEVELOPMENT COMPANY, LIMITED,
43 Cedar St., New York City.

A dividend of Twenty-five ($.25) Cents a share on the preferred stock has been declared, payable on November 25th, 1914, to the stockholders of record at the close of business on the 10th day of November, 1914, upon receipt of order.

Dated New York, October 20th, 1914.

MARK M. SALOMON, Treasurer.

The J. G. White Management Corporation,
43 Exchange Place,
New York, N. Y.

The regularly quarterly dividend (seventh quarter) of one and three-quarters per cent. (1¾%) has been declared on the Preferred Stock of this Corporation, payable December 1, 1914, to stockholders of record November 18th, 1914.

T. W. MOFFAT, Secretary.

REPORTS OF NATIONAL BANKS.

100 Years A Commercial Bank

THE

CHATHAM AND PHENIX NATIONAL BANK

192 Broadway
Cor. John St.

Capital & Surplus, $3,500,000
Resources, - - 30,000,000

Invites Your Account

Condensed Statement of Condition, The Chatham and Phenix National Bank of New York at the Close of Business, October 31, 1914:

Resources

Loans and Discounts	$17,562,438.60
U. S. Bonds	1,350,000.00
Other Stocks & Bonds	2,991,706.78
Banking House	170,000.00
Cash and Exchange	7,643,245.50
		$29,717,390.88

Liabilities

Capital	$2,250,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	1,393,953.95
Circulation	2,670,897.50
Deposits	23,405,939.43
		$29,717,390.88

Officers

LOUIS G. KAUFMAN, President
FRANK J. HEANEY, Vice-Pres.
RICHARD H. HIGGINS, V.-Pres.
WILLIAM M. STRAWN, V.-Pres.
BERT L. HASKINS, Cashier.
HENRY L. CADMUS, Asst. Cash.
NORBORNE P. GATLING, A. C.
WALTER B. BOICE, Asst. Cash.
HENRY C. HOLEY, Asst. Cash.
GEORGE M. HARD, Chairman.

REPORTS OF NATIONAL BANKS.

[No. 9855.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

HARRIMAN NATIONAL BANK

at New York City, in the State of New York, at the close of business October 31, 1914:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$9,427,694.68
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		5,985.31
U. S. bonds deposited to secure circulation		100,000.00
Commercial paper deposited to secure circulation		400,000.00
Other securities to secure circulation		971,999.00
Other bonds to secure U. S. deposits		50,000.00
Premiums on U. S. bonds		1,480.31
Bonds, securities, &c., (other than stocks)		335,201.36
All other stocks		38,188.87
Safe-deposit vaults		50,000.00
Due from national banks (not reserve agents)		1,521,178.35
Due from State and private banks and bankers, trust companies, and savings banks		510,778.39
Checks and other cash items		25,301.78
Exchanges for Clearing House		324,661.90
Notes of other national banks		116,500.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		64.01
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$2,306,004.00
Legal-tender notes	298,300.00	2,604,304.00
Amount paid on account of subscription to $100,000,000 gold fund (subscribed) less amount, if any, returned to subscriber		51,504.75
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5% of circulation)		55,000.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer		42,000.00
Total		$16,651,202.71

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$500,000.00
Surplus fund	500,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	432,492.87
Reserved for taxes	6,000.00
National banknotes outstanding	684,920.00
Due to other national banks	$3,631,130.94
Due to State and private banks and bankers	299,844.29
Due to trust companies and savings banks	1,169,658.31
Individual deposits subject to check	8,292,296.01
Demand certificates of deposit	28,813.33
Time certificates of deposit payable within 30 days	50,000.00
Time deposits payable after 30 days or after notice of 30 days or longer	751,287.86
Certified checks	230,382.77
Cashier's checks outstanding	4,746.33
United States deposits	50,000.00
Total	14,527,659.84 $16,651,202.71

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

I, JOHN A. NOBLE, Cashier of the abovenamed bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

JOHN A. NOBLE, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 4th day of November, 1914.

JOSEPH F. DENIEF, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:

THOMAS B. CLARKE,
BRYAN L. KENNELLY,
MICHAEL DREICER,
Directors.

PROPOSALS.

SEALED BIDS WILL BE RECEIVED BY the Board of Water Supply, at its offices, twenty-second floor, Municipal Building, Park Row, Centre and Chambers Streets, New York City, until 11 A. M. on Tuesday, November 10, 1914, for Contract 160—for the construction of the Moodna Siphon Supplementary Shaft and Tunnel of the Catskill Aqueduct. The shaft will be about 400 feet deep, and will be sunk from an existing tunnel 370 feet from the surface of the ground. The tunnel will be about 900 feet long. Both will be in held rock, will be lined with concrete, and will have a finished diameter of about 14 feet. The work is near the west shore of the Hudson River, in the town of Cornwall, Orange County, New York.

In the performance of this contract time will be deemed of the essence thereof, and the provision for liquidated damages will be enforced.

At the above place and time the bids will be publicly opened and read. Pamphlets containing information for bidders and contract drawings can be obtained at the above address, at the office of the Secretary, by depositing the sum of ten dollars ($10) in cash or its equivalent for each pamphlet. For further particulars apply to the office of the Principal Assistant Engineer at the above address.

CHARLES STRAUSS, President.
CHARLES N. CHADWICK,
JOHN P. GALVIN,
Commissioners of the Board of Water Supply.
W. BRUCE COBB, Secretary.

WASHINGTON, D. C., NOV. 2, 1914.—Sealed proposals, in triplicate, will be received in the office of the Quartermaster General of the Army, Washington, D. C., until 2 o'clock P. M. Dec. 3, 1914, and then opened, for furnishing and delivering note paper, printing paper, and wrapping papers at the places named in Schedule No. 93.

Apply to Depot Quartermaster, 39 Whitehall St., New York City, or Quartermaster General, U. S. Army, Washington, D. C., for information.

DIVIDENDS.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY.
111 Fifth Avenue.
New York, November 4, 1914.

A dividend of 5% has been declared upon the Common Stock of The American Tobacco Company, payable December 1, 1914, to stockholders of record at the close of business November 14, 1914. Checks will be mailed.

J. M. W. HICKS, Treasurer.

Mechanics & Metals National Bank OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.

A quarterly dividend of THREE PER CENT. (3%) on the capital stock of this Bank will be payable, free of tax, on and after Nov. 10, 1914, to shareholders of record at the close of business on November 5, 1914.

JOSEPH S. HOGEN, Cashier.

TRUNK LINES MAY PAY.

Commerce Commission Decides Long Pending St. Louis Case.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—In the case involving allowances made by the trunk line railroads to the Manufacturers' Railway Company of St. Louis, the Interstate Commerce Commission decided today that the allowances should not exceed $2.50 a car above the regular freight rates from points in other States to St. Louis.

The commission declined to establish joint rates between the trunk lines and the Manufacturers Railway, but held that if the trunk lines should elect voluntarily to establish such rates, "the division thereof which they may lawfully pay to the Manufacturers' Railway may not, in view of the common ownership of a majority of the stock of that carrier and of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, its largest shipper, be more than is just and reasonable for its service."

In years past an allowance of $4.50 a car was made by certain trunk lines to the Manufacturers' Railway. These lines asked permission of the commission for a restoration of that allowance. In its order of today the commission directs the cancellation of those tariffs.

The Manufacturers' Railway case has been pending before the commission for about five years. The railway is owned and operated by the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, and practically belts St. Louis. It originally was purely a plant facility, but in recent years it has handled, as a terminal railroad, much of the freight traffic in and out of that city. For this service allowances were made to it by the trunk lines. Under the decision of the commission, announced today, pay for the service may continue, the railway being regarded as a common carrier.

Chairman Harlan vigorously dissented from the view of the majority of the commission. In his dissenting opinion, the Chairman says:

"It is certain that the great privileges enjoyed by large shippers in the form here recognized as proper by the majority will not be tolerated by the general shipping public, which must bear the burden, when they are more fully understood, and the present law, which in my judgment is entirely inadequate to enable it to cope with the evil, must either be more strongly construed in the public interest or must promptly be amended by the Congress."

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Call money: new loans, 5@6 per cent., according to terms; standing loans, 6@8 per cent.

Time money, 6 per cent. bid for sixty and ninety days 5½@6 per cent. for four months and 5½@6 per cent. for five and six months. Mercantile paper was quoted at 6@6½ per cent. for the best names.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE RATES.

Cable and Sight Rates.

	High.	Low.	Last.
Demand sterling	$4.90⅝	$4.90¼	$4.90¼
Cable sterling	4.91	4.90⅝	4.90⅝

CLOSING RATES.

	Demand.	Cable.
London	$4.90⅛	$4.90⅝
Paris	5.13	5.12
Berlin	.88½	.88⅝
Switzerland	5.17⅛	5.17
Italy	5.04⅛	5.03½
Holland	.40⅜	.41

New York Clearing House exchanges, $379,933,809; balances, $26,227,349. Sub-Treasury debit balance, $1,808,437.

The local banks have gained $760,000 on their Sub-Treasury operations since Friday.

Exchange on New York at domestic centres: Boston, par; Chicago, par; St. Louis, 30c premium; San Francisco, 50c premium; Minneapolis, 30c premium; Cincinnati, 25c premium; Montreal, $1.87½ premium.

SILVER QUOTATIONS.

Bar silver in London, 28 11-16d up 3-16d in New York, 49⅝c up 1c.

BOSTON CURB PRICES.

Following were the sales on the Boston Curb yesterday:

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
1,000	Bay State Gas	8c	9c	8c	9c
50	Begole	25c	25c	23c	25c
65	Bohemia	1	1	1	1
1,100	Butte & L	10c	10c	8c	8c
100	Calaveras	97c	97c	97c	97c
671	Chief Con	82c	82c	78c	78c
100	Davis-Daly	57c	57c	57c	57c
180	First Nat	75c	75c	74c	74c
30	Goldfield Con	1	1	1	1
50	Iron Cop. pf	52c	52c	52c	52c
500	Jumbo Ext	49c	52c	49c	52c
100	La Rose	70c	70c	70c	70c
200	Mex. Metals	15c	15c	15c	15c
300	Nev. Douglas	55c	55c	53c	53c
200	Ohio Copper	6c	6c	6c	6c
70	Oneco	25c	25c	25c	25c
100	Smoke Tree	15c	15c	15c	15c
20	Ton. Belmont	4¼	4¼	4¼	4¼
100	United Verde	99c	99c	99c	99c
70	U. Profit Shar	8¼	8¼	8¼	8¼

Following are the closing bid and asked prices:

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Alavero	.75	.90	Jumbo Ex.	.46	.49
All'ts Gld.	.18	.20	La Rose	.70	.72
Ray & Gila	.08	.09	Majestic	.08	.12
Begole	.20		Mex. Met.	.15	.16
Bohemia	1	1⅛	McK.-Dar.	.40	.44
Bost. Ely		.20	Mines of A.	2⅜	2⅝
Butte & L.	.10	.15	Nev.Doug.	.50	.53
Calaveras	.95	.98	New Balt.	.50	.60
Chief Con.	.80	.87	Ohio Cop.	.05	.08
Con. Cop.	4⅝	5¼	So. Lake	1⅞	2⅛
Corb.? Cop.	.90	1¼	Stew. Min.	1	1 1-16
Crown Res.	.02	.03	Tono. Min.	6¼	6⅝
Dav.-Daly	.56	.58	Tono.-Bel.	4¼	4⅝
Eagle & B.	.80	.82	Tono. Ext.	2¼	2⅜
1st Nat. C.	.72	.74	Tono. Mer.	.24	.26
Goldf. Con.	.93	1	Tono. W. E.	.54	.56
Goldf. Mer.	.16	.17	Un. Verde.	.99	1
Houghton	1¼	1⅜	U. Prof. S.	8¼	8½
Iron Blos.	1 1-16	1 3-16	Yukon Gold	1⅝	1 13-16
Jim Butler	.65	.70

MINING STOCK QUOTATIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Alta	.05	Justice	.02
Andes	.02	Mexican	.36
Belcher	.10	Occidental Con	.85
Best & Belcher	.04	Ophir	.06
Caledonia	.43	Overman	.16
Con. Cal. & Va.	.04	Seg. Belcher	.03
Crown Point	.03	Sierra Nevada	.10
Gould & Curry	.01	Union Con	.09
Hale & Norcross	.03	Utah Con	.02
Julia	.01	Yellow Jacket	.37

TONOPAH.

Belmont	4.50	C. O. D.	.03
Jim Butler	.65	Comb. Fraction	.04
McNamara	.02	D'field Daisy	.02
Midway	.06	D'field Black B.	.02
Mizpah Exten.	.23	Florence	.28
North Star	.10	G'field Con. M.	.05
Rescue Eula	.06	G'field Merger	.10
Tonopah Exten.	2.42½	Jumbo Exten.	.44
Tonopah Mercer.	.26	Silver Pick	.03
West End	.55	Vernal	.04
GOLDFIELD.		Nevada Hills	.25
Atlanta	.19	Round Mountain	.28
Booth	.02	MANHATTAN.
		Manhattan Con	.02

COLORADO.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Dr. J'pot.	6	7	Jackpot	5	5½
Elkton	41½	45	McKinney	35	50
El Paso	100	150	Old Gold		2
Findlay		2	Portland	103	104¾
Gold Dol.	2	4	Vindicator	107	110
Isabella	10¾	20¾	R. B. H.	2	4

RAILWAY EQUIPMENT BONDS.

The following are quoted on a percentage basis:

Name.	Maturity.	Rate.	Bid.	Ask.
Atl. Coast Line	1914-'21	4	4⅛	5.45	4.90
Balt. & Ohio	1914-'28	4½		5.50	4.95
Buf., Roch. & P.	1914-'22	5	2@5	5.45	4.90
Ches. & Ohio	1914-'17	4		5.50	5.00
Chicago & N. W	1914-'23	4½		5.40	4.90
Chi., Ind. & Louis	1914-'23	4½		6.50	5.50
Del. & Hudson	1922	4½
Erie Railroad	1914-'28	4	4½@5	5.95	5.35
Hocking Valley	1914-'23	4	4@5	5.90	5.20
Illinois Central	1914-'23	4	4½@5	5.55	4.95
Int. Gt. Northern	1914-'23	5
Louis. & Nash	1914-'23	5		5.40	4.90
Mo., Kan. & Tex.	1914-'23	5		6.40	5.90
Mo. Pacific	1914-'22	5		6.75	5.75
N. Y. Cent. Lines	1914-'28	4	4½@5
Penn. Gen. Frt.	1914-'23	4	4@4½	5.20	4.80
St. L. I. M. & S.	1914-'24	4		5.50	5.50
Seaboard Air L.	1914-'23	5		5.50	5.00
Southern Railway	1914-'24	4	4½@5	5.50	5.00
Southern Pacific	1914-'23	4	4½	5.50	5.00
Virginian Ry.	1914-'19	5		6.75	5.50
Wabash	1914-'21	5

FINANCIAL NOTES.

The United States Mortgage and Trust Company announced yesterday that it had on hand $18,264 for the purchase on Nov. 12 of first mortgage 4½ per cent. bonds of the Consolidation Coal Company, dated Jan. 1, 1907. Proposals are invited to exhaust this sum.

Charles L. Morse, formerly with William A. Read & Co., has opened an office at 626 Slater Building, Worcester, Mass., to transact business in bonds.

Stockholders of the Iron Steamboat Company at their annual meeting yesterday reduced the Board of Directors from nine to seven members. These men were elected for the ensuing year: W. G. Baster, F. A. Bisbee, J. M. Caldwell, Frederick H. Cone, C. M. Englis, T. Elliott Hodgkin, and F. W. Luckemeyer.

William D. Shivers has opened an office at 1 Wall Street for a general business in listed and unlisted stocks and bonds.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and the National City Bank yesterday advanced the prices at which they are offering the unsold portion of $4,000,000 6 per cent. notes of the Hocking Valley Railway Company, dated Nov. 1, 1914, from 99½ to 99¾.

Edgar F. Leo and Leslie W. Birdsall have formed a copartnership under the firm name of E. F. Leo & Co., 25 Broad Street, to deal in unlisted bonds and stocks.

S. Brinkerhoff Thorne, President of the Temple Coal Company, has been elected a Director of the Chatham & Phenix National Bank.

BUSINESS WORLD

COMMERCIAL PAPER.

Yesterday, 6@6½ per cent. for the best names.
Monday, 6@6¾ per cent. for the best names. The quotation is for six months' paper.

***

Big Order for Barbed Wire.

A report emanating from a reliable source was heard downtown yesterday to the effect that freight arrangements had been made for the shipment of 25,000 tons of barbed wire to France for war use. The report also said that 9,000 tons of the above had already been shipped. The selling firm or firms and the purchase price were not disclosed.

***

Silk Men Talk Up Exposition.

At a meeting yesterday of the subcommittee of the Plan and Scope Committee of the Paterson Chamber of Commerce, it was decided among other things to canvass the trade in this city and get the views of the silk manufacturers here on the question of holding an exposition during the early part of next year. It is believed that such an exhibit of what this country can do in the way of designing and manufacturing silks will induce a greater consumption of the fabric, and, at the same time, add impetus to the creation of styles in this country.

***

Take No Chance on Serges.

Importers and selling agents here whose mills are running short of the grades of wool necessary for making serges are withdrawing the numbers that might cause trouble by being oversold. An importer, representing one of the largest English manufacturers, has booked up all the business they care to take on two serge numbers selling under $1 a yard. The present prices at which crossbred wools are quoted, together with further advances which are bound to occur in these grades very shortly, combine to make the booking of future business on the resultant fabrics very hazardous to the seller. Margins are too slight to admit of taking chances on the raw product market.

***

Weather Upsets Coal Trade.

The Coal Trade Journal will say today:

"Weather slightly more conducive to the use of domestic coal has helped the anthracite trade in the past ten days, though even now the wholesale demand is not particularly vigorous. The cold, raw weather early last week brought orders into the retail offices in good shape, but, after a few days, the demand tapered off under the influence of higher temperatures. These developments bore out what frequently has been said as to many consumers having postponed their purchases as long as possible. In the bituminous trade the past week has earned the unenviable reputation of being the dullest week of an exceedingly dull season."

***

Gem Imports Make Low Record.

Precious stone imports, according to a statement issued yesterday by John K. Sague, Appraiser of the Port, in October fell to about the lowest in any single month in the last twenty years, their value being fixed at only $494,102. This amount includes gems cut, uncut, glaziers' diamonds, and pearls. Last month's entries were lower by $719,801 than in the same period a year ago when these imports were appraised at $1,213,903. In October, 1912, precious stones brought here reached the unusual valuation of $3,988,545. The European war is held partly to blame for the drop in imports, although it is reported dealers here have not as yet rid themselves of the heavy stocks laid in before the present tariff with its higher rates went into effect. Amsterdam, the chief market for cut stones, is disorganized owing to the war, while the industry in Antwerp is reported paralyzed.

***

Typewriters Fairly Active.

While the European export trade in American typewriters has almost ceased, the business being done in this country is keeping up well. One of the largest concerns in the country reported yesterday that its domestic sales for the first nine months of this year exceeded those for the same period a year ago, despite a noticeable falling off in the demand during August and September. The October returns are not yet all in, but it is not thought they will show much of a dropping off in orders, and the impression prevails among the concern's executives that the year's domestic trade will total that of last year by a small margin. This impression is based on the recent upturn taken by business in many lines. As the sale of typewriters is taken by many to be a good indication of the condition of trade generally, it would appear that distinctly better things are in sight.

***

Less Duck for Warring Nations.

While it is reported in the dry goods market that one of the large export houses recently received an order calling for delivery of 1,500,000 yards of cotton duck suitable for war purposes, it is generally admitted that recent business of this kind from foreign sources has been small. There have been many inquiries from prospective buyers by letter, in person and by cable, but as yet they have not crystallized to any extent. Cheaper cotton has not yet affected materially the price of these goods. Export business in cottons generally is opening slowly. In the last week sales of about 2,250,000 yards of sheetings have been made to buyers in the Red Sea region, at prices that, after a few days, the demand tapered off under the influence of higher temperatures. These developments bore out what frequently has been said as to many consumers having postponed their purchases as long as possible. In the bituminous trade the past week has earned the unenviable reputation of being the dullest week of an exceedingly dull season."

***

Gem Imports Make Low Record.

Precious stone imports, according to a statement issued yesterday by John K. Sague, Appraiser of the Port, in October fell to about the lowest in any single month in the last twenty years, their value being fixed at only $494,102. This amount includes gems cut, uncut, glaziers' diamonds, and pearls. Last month's entries were lower by $719,801 than in the same period a year ago when these imports were appraised at $1,213,903. In October, 1912, precious stones brought here reached the unusual valuation of $3,988,545. The European war is held partly to blame for the drop in imports, although it is reported dealers here have not as yet rid themselves of the heavy stocks la

EASIER MONEY SIGNS SEEN BY BANKS HERE

Call Loans Down to 6 Per Cent. In All but Three National Banks.

EMERGENCY NOTES RETIRED

More Gold In Sub-Treasury — All but Six Members Pay for Reserve Bank Stock.

There were a number of developments in the banking situation yesterday as the result of plans previously made that showed a continued easing in monetary conditions. Not only did all but three of the national banks complete the process by which they have been gradually bringing the interest rate on all call loans down to 6 per cent., but $9,800,000 of so-called emergency currency was retired.

In reality the additional currency taken out by the national banks under the Aldrich-Vreeland act when the squeeze came early in August is precisely the same as other bank notes, except that it is secured by municipal and corporation bonds and commercial paper instead of by Government bonds. The retirement is not specifically of the notes so issued, but consists of a reduction of the total outstanding, including this additional currency.

Banknotes have been coming into this city from the interior at a lively rate for two or three weeks as a result of the large aggregate taken out by the interior banks in August and September, the need for much of which soon passed. Some of the banks here turned in part of their accumulations of these notes yesterday, to be held by the Treasury Department until their own notes to the same amount come in, when they will be canceled. Of the amount turned in yesterday $5,000,000 came from the National City Bank, which had already retired $4,000,000.

The announcement by Controller Williams of the retirement of Clearing House loan certificates in several cities did not mention New York, but said that other cities had not yet replied to his inquiry. The Clearing House Committee here, however, it was learned, gave him the figures, but in confidence, as it was not deemed desirable that they be made public at this time. There have been considerable reductions in the amount outstanding from time to time, but as these have been on the part of some banks and not of others, it has been the policy of the Clearing House to give out no information until all have been retired. There was a marked increase yesterday, however, in the use of Clearing House deposit certificates in the settlement of the day's balances, instead of loan certificates or banknotes. The deposit certificates are merely receipts for specie deposited with the Clearing House, so that the settlements concerned were in effect made in specie.

The Sub-Treasury continued to receive large shipments of gold from the Sub-Treasury in Denver. About $40,000,000 in bars and coin came by express late Tuesday night and yesterday, which with that received on Monday made a total of about $50,000,000. This gold was transferred to fill the gap left by the recent exports, particularly to Ottawa for the account of the Bank of England. Denver being readily accessible to many mining districts, gold accumulates there, while the demand for export is mainly at New York and transfers of this kind, although seldom of such amount, are not unusual.

Additional payments on account of subscriptions to the stock of the Federal Reserve Bank, most of which came in on Monday, continued to be received yesterday by B. W. Jones, acting assistant cashier of the Federal Reserve Bank and his assistants, working at the Clearing House, where the money is being stored temporarily. Something more than $80,000 came in yesterday and was added to the $3,229,000 received on Monday.

Payments are made chiefly in gold certificates and partly in gold coin. At the close of the day only half a dozen member banks had failed to make their payments. To them had been allotted 306 shares on the basis of their capital and surplus and as the amount of the first payment is one-sixth of the subscription, the amount remaining unpaid was $51,000. Telegrams were sent to these banks last night asking them the cause of the delay.

LATEST CUSTOMS RULINGS.

Distinctions That Cause Variance in Rates of Duty.

The Board of General Appraisers yesterday declined to grant lower duty on raincoats imported by M. L. Rothschild & Co., St. Paul and Minneapolis. The customs authorities returned the coats at 50 per cent. ad valorem as cotton wearing apparel under the old tariff. The importer claimed a rate of 35 per cent. ad valorem as manufactures of rubber. The evidence showed that the rubber predominated in the weight of the coats, but that cotton is of the greater value. On the latter account, the board affirms the Collector's classification.

Birn Brothers were sustained as to the classification of labels designed solely for use as seals for envelopes in the same manner as Red Cross seals. The Collector returned the goods at 30 cents a pound as labels lithographically printed. The importers claimed that the duty should be 20 cents per pound as paper articles "not exceeding eight one-thousandths of one inch in diameter". Judge Fischer says that the articles are not capable of performing the function of a label.

A. Klipstein & Co. won in a controversy over the rate on importations of merchandise described on the invoices as "genuine zinc yellow, crushed." The Collector took duty at 15 per cent. ad valorem under the present law, as zinc ground in oil. The protestant maintained that no oil was used, and asked for a tax of 10 per cent.

It was decided that friction matches imported by the Strohmeyer & Arpe Company, having stained sticks or stems, are fancy matches within the meaning of the Tariff act of 1913. They were assessed at 25 per cent. on the value under Paragraph 345, and were claimed to be common friction matches dutiable under the same Paragraph at 3 cents per gross.

William H. Horstmann & Co., Philadelphia, were sustained for lower duty on embroidery cotton on skeddons imported under the act of 1909. The Collector exacted duty at 5 cents a pound and 30 per cent. ad valorem as metal thread. When the case came up for trial the customs officials notified the board that an error had been made in the classification of the merchandise and that it should be admitted at 20 per cent. ad valorem as cotton on skeins.

English Want Anticipations.

A letter received from Bradford, England, by a local importing house, indicates that the mills there are very busy. The representatives on this side are asked to anticipate orders, especially on tweed overcoatings. In the latter fabrics the British Government has been an exceptionally heavy purchaser, and this firm reports the sale of 400 pieces that were held in stock on the other side. If this is a true statement of affairs abroad, the English Army will present a rather stylish appearance clad in garments of varied color designs. The fabric in question was taken because it was of the proper weight required. This call from the English manufacturers for anticipations is the result, it is said, of the demand being made by the home trade and the Government and the scarcity of cross-bred wools. Tweed overcoatings have been advanced lately 20 per cent. to the trade here, and an increase in the war risk will bring about further advances.

WAR CUTS CITY BONDING.

Great Reduction in Municipal Securities Since Aug. 1.

The effect of the war in restricting the output of municipal securities is illustrated, according to the Bond Buyer, in the meagre sales of the three months ended Oct. 31, and especially in the small distribution in October. In the three months a total of $31,311,911 long-term securities was disposed of, compared with $79,790,337 in the same time last year. In the three months preceding the war $101,286,472 of such securities were sold.

October's total was $10,540,580, a decline of $796,389 from September. Temporary loans negotiated in October amounted to $814,300, in contrast with $108,907,899 in September, the latter containing the $100,000,000 of New York City notes.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

In Town.

THE SAN ANTONIO LAND AND IRRIGATION COMPANY, LTD., whose principal office is in Toronto, has filed a petition in bankruptcy here with liabilities of $9,030,934 and nominal assets of $758,354.

L. SLOAT & BROTHER, composed of Louis J. and William Sloat, manufacturers of cloaks and suits at 32 West Twentieth Street, have assigned to Harry Osterman. A petition in bankruptcy was also filed against them.

PELTZ, SONNENSCHEIN & FRANK, manufacturers of furs at 48 East Tenth Street, composed of Meyer Peltz, Louis Sonnenschein and Hyman Frank, have assigned to Julius Sassleth, Samuel Strauss, Samuel Jaffe, and Samuel Ladenheim. A petition in bankruptcy has also been filed against them.

JACOB WISOTSKY.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Jacob Wisotsky, manufacturer of fur trimmings at 57 East Eleventh Street.

CARL KAPLAN.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Carl Kaplan, shoe dealer at Kingston.

JAMES A. ILES, salesman of Yonkers, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities $1,357 and no assets.

ABRAHAM COHEN, doing business as Kane's Clothing System at White Plains, has filed schedules in bankruptcy, showing liabilities $15,098 and assets unknown.

DUBILIER ELECTRIC COMPANY of 80 Fifth Avenue, has filed assignment schedules, showing liabilities $14,392 and assets $3,165.

CLUB LAUNDRY, INC.—Judge Hand has appointed Max Wallenstein receiver for the Club Laundry, Inc., of 511 West Fifty-first Street.

THE MANHATTAN RIBBON COMPANY, importers and jobbers of ribbons at 3 East Twenty-eighth Street, has made an assignment to Samuel Kridel.

W. JOHN WILLIAMS, hatter at 73 Nassau Street and 80 West 125th Street, has made an assignment to William M. Sullivan.

PEERLESS COFFEE AND TEA IMPORT COMPANY, INC., dealer in coffees and teas at 43 West Thirty-sixth Street, have assigned to Max Rubinstein.

MARTIN M. MARCUS, dealer in women's apparel at 1,581 Broadway, has made an assignment to Clifford G. Ludvigh.

NATHAN SOLOTOREWSKY, manufacturer of muslin underwear at 50 Allen Street, has made an assignment to John Blumenthal.

ISAAC SIMCHOVITZ, wholesale butcher of 152 East 106th Street, has assigned to Jacob Shapiro.

CHARLES BORMAN, furrier of 157 West Twenty-fourth Street, has assigned to Moses W. Scheinholz.

ABRAHAM M. GROPPER, manufacturer of clothing at 134 Stanton Street, has assigned to Walter T. Kohn.

Out of Town.

Special Dispatches to The Times.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Rosenblum & Lutz, dealers in women's garments; involuntary petition; liabilities, $40,000; assets, $10,000. The Central Trust Company of Illinois has been appointed receiver.

BOSTON, Mass.—Walter W. Campbell of Malden and Raymond F. Campbell of Portland, Me., comprising the firm of W. W. Campbell & Son, heating and plumbing, 46 Haverhill Street, Boston; voluntary petition; liabilities, $39,103; assets, $50,959. Of the liabilities $39,058 represents unsecured claims, and of the assets almost the entire sum represents unpaid accounts for work done by the company.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The creditors of the Hugo E. Bauch Department Store have agreed to accept in settlement 42½ cents on the dollar. The company's liabilities amount to $208,000, and an inventory shows the assets amount to $192,000.

JUDGMENTS.

These judgments were filed yesterday in New York County, the first name being that of the debtor:

American Pipe and Construction Co.—Bystrom Realty and Construction Co., $423.

Awish, Naje—Abdo Abd El Nour, $364.

American Oilcloth Co. and Louis J. Bimberg —E. H. Frank, $421.

Bradley Contracting Co.—E. F. Costello, $691.

Barai, David, and Max Himmele—L. Rovere, $324.

Brettholz-Krumholz Construction Co.—Greenhut-Siegel Cooper Co., $312.

Behrens, Mary L.—F. H. Cobb, $284.

Bartels, Edwin—Geo. C. Lavery & Co., Inc., $184.

Currier, Israel L.—J. P. Agnew, Inc., $692.

Caputo, Antonio—B. Shifrin, $284.

Cutler & Co.—National Chemical Co., $161.

Coleman, John M.—M. Starace, $117.

Cook, Geo. F.—R. A. Sasseen, $326.

Same—Same, $321.

Evans, Henry W.—Saks & Co., $130.

Eisenhardt, Wm. P.—S. Seed, $117.

Evalin, Leo E.—Bronx Investment Co., $145.

Flomerfelt, Mary B., administratrix—Rector, &c., of St. Bartholomew's Church in New York City, $10,450.

F. W. Fey Paper Co., Ferdinand W. Fey, and Caroline V. Fey—Pacific Bank, $544.

Frechtman, Harry—H. L. Karet, $125.

Greulich, Edw. J.—A. L. Silverstein, $100.

Gordon, Adolph—E. Rosenberg et al., $210.

Grundy, Bertram L.—F. H. Reeve, $433.

Glassman, Rubin, administrator—Singer Sewing Machine Co., costs, $108.

Heidt, Eleanor B., executrix—Smith & Loughlin, Inc., $112.

Hamel, Louis J.—A. Spencer, $122.

Hamlin, John—S. G. Condit, $176.

H. Wolfensohn, Inc.—City of N. Y., $129.

Harnett, Furie L.—S. Prensky, $464.

Imperial Dry & Wet Wash Steam Laundry, Inc., Isaac Rosenthal, Moses Tepper, and Herman Weiss—Public Bank of N. Y. City, $334.

Kofod, Victor, and Joseph V. Keyrouse—F. A. Moran, $232.

Kranz, David—A. Herman et al., $4,285.

Lenman, Ulrich—A. Stolzenberger, $229.

Lantz, Benjamin—L. Wallace, $207.

Lebman, Edgar—Riker & Hegeman Co., $141.

Lux, Abraham—E. Schwartz, $114.

Loeb Bros., Inc.—Austin Nichols & Co., Inc., $199.

Mattin, Julius, and Hannah Frankel—Joseph Faifert Brewing Co., Ltd., $488.

Muldoon, John—M. Fasternack, $256.

Mulligan, Lawrence—J. C. Fitzgerald, $506.

Munchick, Max—I. Broslawsky, $141.

Middleton, John C.—M. Jager, $119.

McQueeney, Mary F.—H. Shaw, $332.

Mulligan, Lawrence—J. C. Fitzgerald, $506.

Meyers, Matthew H.—G. Schweppenhauser, $100.

Martinelli, Joseph—J. L. Fleming et al., $474.

Newby, Lindley B.—M. L. V. Shepard, $395.

Newgold, Morris—C. Somberg, $1,071.

Outwater, Herbert G.—J. H. Storer, $583.

Peltz, Meyer, and Louis Aonenshelm—European American Fur Co., Inc., $151.

Pfeuti, Alexander—M. S. Sherkhahn, $474.

Renehan, William F.—G. Basch et al., $952.

Rosenbloom, Joseph—Austin Nichols & Co., Inc., $118.

Ramsay, Charles M.—C. C. Cleveland, $112.

Stevens, Walter R.—Bay State Optical Co., $893.

Shea, Joseph F.—Franklin Feed Stores, $246.

Sanford, Frank—F. G. Hurst, $359.

Sturtevant, Austa D.—M. Densmore et al., $1,837.

St. Nicholas Hygeia Ice Co.—E. Nilson et al., $475.

Schreiber, Flora and Mooney—John S. Lamson & Brother, $388.

Same—Same, $390.

Seddon Underwriting Co.—F. W. Pixley, as liquidator, $893.

Schreyer, John F.—M., B. Grusenski, $489.

Taube, Max—M. Kodner, $664.

Vogel, Henry W.—S. G. Condit, $202.

Valeriani, Frederick—People, &c., $111.

Valentine, Louis—S. Scalzo et al., costs, $108.

Willson, Juletta—J. F. Erdman, $1,415.

Woods, Mander M.—Lyth Electric Co., $211.

Wiener, Felix F.—Flint & Horner Co., $657.

Yates, E. Langley—A. Martin, Inc., $673.

Zimmerman, Alfred, administrator—E. S. Ullman, $132.

E. Weingren Co.—City of N. Y., $178.

Walker, Charles S.—Same, $466

Welsh Mfg. Co.—Same, $130.

Ward, Patricia—Same, $354.

Wage, William T.—Same, $466.

Wheeler, Roger W.—City of N. Y., $466.

Walsh, John—Same, $130.

Waterbury, Lawrence—Same, $579.

In Bronx County.

Kampfer, August—W. Reinhardt, $711.

Kahn, Samuel J.—G. N. Reinhardt, $301.

Luke, Joseph C.—C. D. Folsom et al., $125.

Machat, Nathan and Mary—Cosmopolitan Bank, $322.

McNutt Can Co., Inc.—Griscom-Russel Co., $262.

Sellitto Construction Co., Philip De Blasi, and Alfonso De Blasi—G. Singer, $2,572.

Von Nagy, Desiderulis—S. Aronstram, $164.

SATISFIED JUDGMENTS.

The first name is that of the debtor, the second that of the creditor and the date that when judgment was filed:

Conner, Geo. W.—B. G. Davis, Dec. 8, 1910, $148.

Goodfreund, David—S. Kraus et al., March 20, 1906, $482.

Haya, Eugene D.—J. E. Janorin, Oct. 10, 1910, $236.

Kennedy, David E.—A. W. Burr Co., Feb. 6, 1907, $554.

Same—E. J. Duggan, June 27, 1910, $1,054.

McFadden, Marie—Wm. B. Harris Co., Aug. 21, 1914, $136.

Wise Piano Co.—H. Hein, July 17, 1912, $10,944.

Murray, Joseph—City of N. Y., Jan. 13, 1911, (vacated,) $594.

In Bronx County.

Fanikam, Yuri—J. Aulick, May 4, 1914, $222.

BELIEVE SHIPMENTS OF GOLD AVOIDABLE

Paish and Blackett Expect Beneficial Results from Crops and Gold Pool.

STOCK EXCHANGE PROBLEM

Suggestion That Bankers May Refuse Loans for Operations In London Market.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Sir George Paish and Basil B. Blackett of the English Treasury have practically fulfilled the mission which brought them to the United States, and as a consequence of their conferences with the Federal Reserve Board and New York bankers it was indicated tonight that no further steps need be taken for the present to arrange for shipments of American gold to Europe.

The conferences here and in New York have convinced them that the matter of American debts abroad will be adjusted through the natural avenues of trade and through the special machinery already set up. The $100,000,000 gold pool, the New York City syndicate, and the American crops are expected to take care of the present indebtedness. It is said it will not be even necessary for the Reserve Board and the bankers to arrange the proposed loan for the issues of short-term notes to match the balance in favor of England which the gold pool and the New York syndicate will leave.

Sir George was understood tonight to have agreed that no such note issue was necessary, and that renewed and revived trade with America would soon eat up the outstanding amounts. If his view is indorsed by his Government there will be no fear by members of the board that American banks are to be drained of their gold at the time when they are about to shift their reserve, pay subscriptions to Federal reserve banks, and in other ways take up their new lanes of travel as integral parts of the new banking system.

Only one matter remains to be adjusted. There is still the fear that if the London Stock Exchange opens again for business thousands of shares of American securities will be put on the market at bargain prices, bound to attract American investors. Such a dumping of American stocks would send the American balance on the wrong side of the ledger, swinging up again to the point where England might feel that she must ask for cash. This phase of the problem has received much thought.

It has become apparent that the English Government intends to allow the reopening of the London Exchange in the near future. What measures it will be willing to take to prevent the sale of large quantities of American stocks were not revealed tonight. It was suggested that the co-operation of American bankers would tend to make it hard for prospective buyers of such stocks to get loans here for this purpose. The banks of the country and the Federal Reserve Board have worked in close harmony most of the time since the European war began, and there has been a marked inclination on the part of bankers to get the ear of the board before taking any important step. That bankers might be willing to respect the board's wishes in the matter of loans of this character would not be surprising news to officials here.

The board may find a powerful lever in the currency act itself. It permits any Federal Reserve Bank to discount notes, drafts and bills of exchange of member banks where they are issued or drawn for agricultural, industrial, or commercial purposes, or when the proceeds of such paper has been used or is to be used for such purposes. But this definition, the law specifically says, "shall not include notes, drafts, or bills covering merely investment securities, except bonds and notes of the Government of the United States."

Armed with this provision, member banks, it is suggested, would be able to explain to customers seeking loans for stock buying purposes that their paper would not be discounted by the Reserve Bank, and that in consequence the member bank must refuse the accommodation.

Sir George was said tonight to be in touch with the British Government. If arrangements can be made to take care of the Stock Exchange situation, he will probably meet the Federal Reserve Board tomorrow at a final conference. It has been the opinion in well-informed circles here that the New York Stock Exchange will stay closed until after the first of the year.

THE CLAFLIN CREDITORS.

Arranging Settlement and Reorganizing of Company.

At a meeting held yesterday in the rooms of the Merchants' Association, the General Creditors' Committee in the Claflin reorganization approved formally of the compromise settlements effected recently in the case of twenty-three concerns subsidiary to the H. B. Claflin Company. These settlements were reached by representatives of the Central Conference and Noteholders' Committees, and provided for settlement at rates ranging from 35 to 75 cents on the dollar. As a result of the formal ratification of the settlements by the General Creditors' Committee, letters will probably be sent out tonight to the approximately 12,000 creditors of the concerns involved. While a separate letter will be sent to the creditors of each concern, the only difference in them will be as to the amounts of settlement.

The meeting yesterday also considered plans for the general rehabilitation of the Claflin Company, and received the report of the Secretary on the amount of deposits that had been made by the merchandise and cash deposit creditors of the Claflin Company, while actual figures were not given out, it was said that claims for about $500,000 of the $6,000,000 indebtedness of this kind had yet to be turned in.

Men close to the Noteholders' Committee were reticent yesterday regarding late deposits of note claims, but it was said that one of the local holders of Claflin paper turned it in during the day. This leaves five out-of-town and three local holders yet to make their deposits. One of the local holders has claims totaling about $300,000, but the others are not so large. Well over $30,000,000 in note claims has now been turned in. It is thought that definite action toward reorganization of the Claflin Company will be taken by attorneys for the principal committees early next week.

EXPORTS AT HIGH MARK.

Last Week's the Largest in the History of This Port.

General exports, exclusive of specie, for the week ended Oct. 31, as reported yesterday by the New York Custom House reached $23,321,652. The exports were the heaviest for any single week in the history of the port. The week before they were valued at $21,397,327, and the week before that at $15,371,358. In the corresponding week one year ago, the exports from here were only $14,222,146. The latter figures represent a period when trade conditions were normal. Last week's unusual exports are the direct result of the heavy buying being done for the accounts of the nations at war as well as neutral countries.

The customs authorities, construing Secretary McAdoo's recent order against giving out vessels' outward manifests, declined yesterday to include in the usual export weekly report the values of merchandise shipped to European and other countries. It was learned, however, that the movement of foodstuffs from this port last week to England, France, and the Scandinavian countries, as well as the Netherlands continued to be heavier than in the preceeding week. Military supplies of all kinds, as well as clothing and underwear of American manufacture were shipped in large quantities. The exports included several hundred automobiles of various kinds for the use of the French and Russian armies.

STEEL TRADE ENCOURAGED.

Iron Age Says Election Has Brought a More Hopeful Feeling.

No changes from the small buying and a low production reported last week in the steel trade have been noted this week. The Iron Age says:

Taking the election results as in no small measure a popular expression on the existing tariff law, the steel trade finds encouragement in them. The belief that there would be such an outcome and the recognition of a slight turn for the better in money conditions, in cotton and in all exports led to more hopeful utterances by the steel manufacturers who met at Birmingham last week than might have been expected from the smallest rate of incoming new business ever known.

Shrinkage in production continues, and November output will show a scaling down from October. The present pause, with generally sustained prices and pitifully small demand may be followed by that of yielding prices and larger buying.

The Iron Trade Review says:

A more cheerful feeling has been struggling to assert itself in some directions in the iron and steel industry the past week, and this more hopeful tone has been accented further by the results of the Congressional elections. There is no evidence, however, that anything tangible has resulted from this modification of sentiment, for cognizance is taken of other, probably more weighty, factors than politics, which at present are obstructing business. The month of October marked a new low period of both bookings and operations for many producers. Some of them produced not more than 25 per cent. of their capacity and the average of the country probably was not to exceed 50 per cent.

SHIPPING AND MAILS.

Miniature Almanac for Today.

Sun rises..6:33|Sun sets..4:54|Moon rises..6:12

THE TIDES

	High Water. A.M.	P.M.	Low Water. A.M.	P.M.
Sandy Hook	9:43	9:53	2:31	3:07
Governors Island	8:54	9:07	2:44	3:42
Hell Gate	10:44	10:57	4:24	5:22

Arrived—Wednesday, Nov. 4.

SS Vaderland, Liverpool, Oct. 24.
SS Tilus, Almeria, Oct. 18.
SS Panama, Colon, Oct. 6.
SS Ragnorak, Cardenas, Oct. 21.
SS Highland Harris, Barbados, Oct. 22.
SS El Norte, Galveston, Oct. 29.
SS Lenape, Jacksonville, Nov. 1.
SS Tagus, Colon, Oct. 27.
SS Norfolk, Piraeus, Oct. 11.
SS Rayo, New Orleans, Oct. 27.

Incoming Steamships.

DUE TODAY.

Ioannina	Piraeus	Oct. 14
Marken	Rotterdam	Oct. 29
Buenos Aires	Havana	Oct. 30
Santiago	Galveston	Oct. 28
La Sicilia	Genoa	Oct. 18
Arundo	Rotterdam	Oct. 29
Carityba	Gibara	Oct. 28
Mandeville	Jamaica	Oct. 30
New Sweden	Gothenburg	Oct. 19
Embiricos	Piraeus	Oct. 16
Zacapa	Colon	Oct. 29
Excelsior	New Orleans	Oct. 31
Stanley Dollar	Balboa	Oct. 27
Huron	Jacksonville	Nov. 2

DUE TOMORROW.

Lapland	Liverpool	Oct. 28
Al Piemonte	Gibraltar	Oct. 25
Sorland	Rotterdam	Oct. 28
Francis	Para	Oct. 25
Zulia	Porto Rico	Oct. 31
Monterey	Vera Cruz	Oct. 29
Manzanillo	P. Mexico	Oct. 29
El Valle	Galveston	Oct. 31
City of Columbus	Savannah	Nov. 3
Concho	Galveston	Oct. 31

DUE SATURDAY.

St. Paul	Liverpool	Oct. 31
Virginia	Bordeaux	Oct. 25
Dinnamare	Naples	Oct. 21
Misar	Rotterdam	Oct. 28
Nickerie	Haiti	Nov. 2
Mohawk	Jacksonville	Nov. 4

Outgoing Steamships.

SAIL TODAY.

Nieuw Amsterdam, Rotterdam	6:30 A.M.	10:00 A.M.
Re d'Italia, Naples	8:30 A.M.	12:00 M.
Morro Castle, Havana	9:00 A.M.	12:00 M.
Hesperides, Argentina	9:00 A.M.	12:00 M.
Asiatic Prince, Rio Janeiro	12:00 M.	3:00 P.M.
Iroquois, Santo Domingo	12:00 M.	3:00 P.M.
Patria, Marseilles	———	3:00 P.M.
Trafalgar, Havana	———	12:00 M.
El Rio, Galveston	———	12:00 M.
City of Montgomery, Savannah	———	3:00 P.M.

SAIL TOMORROW.

Camaguey, Santiago	———	12:00 M.
Hesperides, Montevideo	6:00 A.M.	8:00 A.M.
Antilles, Puerto Mexico	———	12:00 M.
Lenape, Jacksonville	———	1:00 P.M.

SAIL SATURDAY.

St. Louis, Liverpool	8:30 A.M.	12:00 M.
Potsdam, Rotterdam	6:30 A.M.	10:00 A.M.
America, Naples	8:30 A.M.	12:00 M.
Voltaire, Bahia	7:30 A.M.	11:00 A.M.
Brazos, San Juan	9:00 A.M.	12:00 M.
Carrillo, Jamaica	9:30 A.M.	12:00 M.
Havana, Havana	10:00 A.M.	1:00 P.M.
Ancon, Colon	11:30 A.M.	3:00 P.M.
Parima, St. Thomas	11:30 A.M.	2:00 P.M.
Minnetonka, London	———	10:00 A.M.
Grayson, San Juan	———	12:00 M.
Santiago, Galveston	———	1:00 P.M.
Alamo, Tampa	———	1:00 P.M.
Huron, Jacksonville	———	1:00 P.M.
Momus, New Orleans	———	12:00 M.
El Sol, Galveston	———	12:00 M.
City of Columbus, Savannah	———	3:00 P.M.
Tagus, Jamaica	———	1:00 P.M.

By Marconi Wireless.

SCOTLAND LIGHTSHIP,

SS El Valle, Galveston to New York, was 233 miles S. of Diamond Shoals at noon.
SS El Oriente, Galveston to New York, was 235 miles E. of Galveston Bar at noon 3d.
SS Santiago, Havana to New York, was 275 miles W. of Havana at 7 P. M.
SS Gulfoil, Port Arthur to New York, was 183 miles S. of Delaware Capes at noon.
SS Zacapa, Colon to New York, was 194 miles S. at 7 P. M.
SS Concho, Galveston to New York, was 280 miles S. of Diamond Shoals at 7 P. M.
SS Monterey, Vera Cruz to New York, was 195 miles N. of Jupiter at 7 P. M.
SS Mohawk, Jacksonville to New York, was 24 miles N. of St. John's Bar at 7 P. M.
SS Huron, Jacksonville to New York, was 233 miles S. of Sandy Hook at 7 P. M.
SS Stanley Dollar, San Francisco to New York, was 240 miles S. of Sandy Hook at 8 P. M.
SS City of Columbus, Savannah to New York, was 25 miles S. at 7 P. M.
SS Northwestern, Baltimore to New York, was 20 miles N. of Diamond Shoals at 7 P. M.
SS Borinquen, San Juan to New York, was 32 miles N. of San Juan at 7 P. M. Insular Line.
SS Zulia, San Juan to New York, was 184 miles S. at noon. Red D Line.
SS Nelson, Port Arthur to New York, was 820 miles S. at 7 P. M.
SS Henry T. Scott, San Francisco to New York, was 1,000 miles S. at 8 P. M.
SS Creole, New Orleans to New York, was 28 miles S. of South Pass at 7 P. M. Morgan Line.

Foreign Ports.

Arrived.

SS Hellig Olav, at Copenhagen, Nov. 4.
SS San Guglielmo, at Genoa, Nov. 4.
SS American, at Maasluis, Nov. 1.
SS New York (tank), at Maasluis, Nov. 1.
SS Petroleine, at Havre, Nov. 2.
SS Grena, at Port Natal, Nov. 1.
SS Corfe Castle, at Cape Town, Nov. 2.
SS Middleham Castle, at Yokohama, Nov. 2.
SS Roma, at Marseilles, Oct. 30.
SS Bergensfjord, at Bergen, Nov. 4.

Sailed.

SS Korona, from St. Thomas, Nov. 3.
SS Baltic, from Liverpool, Nov. 4.
SS Coamo, from San Juan, Nov. 4.
SS Alliance, from Colon, Nov. 4.
SS Borinquen, from San Juan, Nov. 4.

Passed.

SS Santa Theresa, New York for Liverpool, passed Brow Head.
SS Suruga, New York for Liverpool, passed Fastnet.

Transatlantic Parcel Post Mails.

Great Britain and Ireland—Close at 5 P. M. Nov. 6, SS St. Louis.
Germany—Service suspended.
France—Service suspended.
Austria—No sailing at present.
Belgium—No sailing at present.
Greece—Close at 9:30 A. M. Nov. 4, SS Carpathia, and at 12 M. Nov. 9, SS Ioannina.
Hungary—No sailing at present.
Netherlands—Close at 5 P. M. Nov. 4, SS Nieuw Amsterdam, and at 5 P. M. Nov. 6, SS Potsdam.
Sweden and Denmark—Close at 9:30 A. M. Nov. 10, SS United States.
Norway—Close at 9:30 A. M. Nov. 10, SS Kristianiafjord.
Italy—Close at 10:30 A. M. Nov. 5, SS San Giorgio, and at 5 P. M. Nov. 6, SS America.

Transpacific Mails.

These mails close at 6:30 P. M.

Hawaii (via San Francisco)—Lurline..Nov. 5
Tahiti, Marquesas, New Zealand, and Australia (except West) (via San Francisco)—Marama ..... Nov. 6
Hawaii, Japan, Corea, China, and Philippine Islands (via San Francisco)—Korea ..... Nov. 9
Japan, Korea, and China (via Seattle)—Shidzuoka Maru ..... Nov. 12

Pacific Mails.

Postmaster Morgan announces that mails of the following dates—Manila, Oct. 6; Hongkong, Oct. 6, Shanghai, Oct. 30; Yokohama, Oct. 17, and Honolulu, Oct. 27—which arrived at San Francisco per steamer Korea, were dispatched east on Nov. 3, and are due in New York on the morning of Saturday, Nov. 7.

COMMODITIES MARKETS

WHEAT.

Export sales of wheat on Tuesday and Wednesday were estimated at from 2,000,000 to 2,500,000 bushels. Early in the trading there was a setback of about a cent a bushel on account of large receipts at Northwestern points, but subsequently prices rallied, and at the close the market was firm at the best of the day with net gains of 1¼c. Bradstreet's visible showed an increase of 2,912,000 bushels east of the Rockies, while world's stocks gained 5,853,000, compared with an increase of 1,496,000 last year. In the local cash market No. 2 red Winter wheat was quoted at $1.17¾. No. 2 hard at $1.17½. No. Northern Duluth $1.18¾. No. 1 Northern Manitoba $1.23¾, all nominal, cost, insurance, and freight, Buffalo.

NEW YORK PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
December	1.25	1.23⅝	1.25	1.24⅛	94 1-16
May	———	———	1.31¼	1.31	96⅝

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
December	1.17¾	1.15½	1.17⅝	1.16⅜	84½
May	1.23⅞	1.21⅝	1.23⅞	1.22⅝	89¾

CORN.

The corn market was firm and higher, closing at 1¼c net advance. Europe was again in the market for old corn and sales were estimated as high as 400,000 bushels. Bradstreet's visible showed a decrease of 127,000 bushels. In the local cash market No. 2 yellow corn was quoted at 83¾c, cost, insurance, and freight, to arrive and prime Argentine at 79c, delivered.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
December	70⅝	69¾	70⅜	69¼	65¼
May	72⅜	71⅛	72¾	71⅝	69⅝

OATS.

The oats market showed net gains for the day of 1⅛ to 1¼c, prompted by reports of export sales of about 100,000 bushels and in sympathy with wheat and corn. Receipts were liberal, and Bradstreet's visible showed an increase of 224,000 bushels. The local cash market was firmer, standard being quoted at 54¼ to 55c; No. 2 white, 55 to 55¼c; No. 3 white, 54 to 54½c; No. 4 white, 53½ to 54c; fancy clipped white, 56 to 57c; ordinary clipped white, 54 to 55c, all elevator.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
December	50	49	49½	49¼	37¼
May	53¼	53	53⅞	53⅝	41⅞

PROVISIONS.

The market for hog products has been thrown into a state of confusion by the outbreak of the foot and mouth disease among cattle, which has brought about extensive and threatened quarantines at the leading stock yards, all of which has had a tendency to check the movement of hogs, and prices yesterday were firm and higher with active covering. Receipts of hogs at Chicago were 27,000; estimated for Thursday, 24,000. Kansas City received 15,000 and Omaha 4,000.

CHICAGO PRICES.

Lard—	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.	Last Year.
November	———	———	10.87	10.92	10.65
January	10.25	10.07	10.17	10.00	10.05
Ribs—
January	10.12	10.00	10.07	9.97	10.02
Pork—
January	19.30	19.05	19.17	19.27	19.85
May	19.50	19.25	19.40	19.17	19.82

COTTONSEED OIL.

Prices in the cottonseed oil market experienced a sharp upward movement, closing with net gains of 9@25 points. The range of contract prices was as follows:

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Spot	..	..	5.10@5.25	5.00
November	..	..	5.10@5.17	5.01
December	5.22	5.10	5.20@5.22	5.07
January	5.35	5.22	5.34@5.35	5.16
February	5.45	5.45	5.45@5.49	5.24
March	5.60	5.46	5.59@5.60	5.38
April	5.59	5.59	5.67@5.69	5.42
May	5.81	5.70	5.79@5.81	5.61
June	———	———	5.86@5.93	5.67

COTTON.

Advices from the South indicated continued steadiness in the spot situation as a rule. Of the markets officially reported, Charleston and Wilmington were ¼c lower, and there seemed to be some apprehension that increased war risks might check the expanding tendency of international trade. Stocks of cotton abroad are diminishing, however, and all the other spot markets were unchanged to ⅛c higher, with fairly good sales at several points. Quotations for December contracts on the Curb here ranged from about 7.52c to 7.56c.

COFFEE.

Conditions in the coffee market showed no particular change, and yesterday proved a dull day in every department. In the spot market prices remained unchanged, and with comparatively little pressure to sell, but buyers were very indifferent, notwithstanding a show of firmness in the cost and freight market, where prices were unchanged to slightly higher, with Santos 3s quoted at 9.49@9.60c; 4s, 9.40c; 4s, 8¾@9.10c, and Rio 7s at 6.35c, the latter being Tuesday's price. The local spot market was unchanged, with Rio 7s quoted at 6¾c.

BUTTER AND EGG MARKET.

BUTTER.—Receipts for two days, 12,218 packages. Good demand for the higher grades of fresh creamery and Monday's advance was firmly maintained. There was not much disposition, however, to force prices any higher at the moment. Creamery, extras, (92 score,) 34c

WOOL MARKET QUIET.

England's Embargo Causes Slump Because of Low Domestic Supply.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—The American Wool and Cotton Reporter will say tomorrow:

"The wool market has been rather quiet during the last week, though a normal amount of business has been accomplished, sales for the week aggregating 4,000,000 pounds. Foreign crossbreds have been in particularly active demand in the recent past, both for domestic and export use, the available supplies in this market being now at an extremely low ebb. The embargo on shipments from England is now much more drastic than was at first thought, resulting in the hardening of prices in the domestic market. It is estimated that the entire quantity of wool now available in this market is not in excess of 35,000,000 pounds.

"The woolen goods market is in a rather unsatisfactory condition, due in part to the weather and partly to general conditions. Cancellations have been received rather freely. There are quite a number of contracts for European powers, and several mills are fully employed on foreign orders at the present time. Blankets are in particularly active demand, and certain types of flannels are eagerly sought for.

"In the women's wear trade conditions are somewhat similar to those prevalent in men's wear. Novelty yarn goods suitable for coatings meet with ready sale, and piece-dyed merchandise in general is in better demand than fancy.

"The cotton goods market shows some improvement, sales of ordinary fabrics show gratifying increase, and in some instances higher prices have been obtained. There is hardly as much business being placed on fine and fancy [illegible] some contracts are continually being placed, and most mills have sufficient forward business to keep them fully employed for the immediate future. The situation in colored mills remains serious, and hardly a day passes that producers do not eliminate certain styles from their lines. Dyestuffs of some kinds are in plentiful supply, but those most needed do not seem to be available."

INSTRUCTION.

Many boys fail to Pass

REGENTS' AND COLLEGE ENTRANCE examinations, not because they are stupid, but because the grade system of nearly all schools prevents individual instruction.

A bright boy can easily make sixty counts between October and June, and a backward pupil will find that he can do two years work in one.

THE GROFF SCHOOL

Boarding and Day School. Unexcelled Facilities. 259 West 75th St., N. Y. Phone 744 Columbus.

The mothers' department of the Froebel League under the direction of Mrs. Marion B. B. Langzettel will open its Winter course of lectures at half past three o'clock on Thursday, November 5, at 112 East 71st Street; regular class work begins Wednesday, November 11, at half past ten. The subjects considered are those pertaining to the upbringing of children, discussed from a psychologic and practical standpoint and include psychology, handwork, stories, Bible study, science, history, music. Circular on application.

The Brown School of Tutoring.

Boys' School & Office, Girls' School, 241 W. 78th St. Tel. Col 8284. 239 W. 75th St. Founded 1906. No classes. 2 hours' work in one. All day study supervision An A-1 school in preparing pupils rapidly and thoroughly for examinations, and in teaching them how to study. A School with an Atmosphere of Work.

ST. MARTHA'S
Bronxville, N. Y.
Episcopal.
Three Years Course of Sewing, Dressmaking and Gardening.
FOUNDED 1879. STERN'S SCHOOL OF LANGUAGES
961 Madison Av. 200 W. 72d St.
Languages taught in classes or privately.

THE RAYSON HOME AND DAY SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.
Reopens Oct. 6th. 164-166-168 West 75th St. Clara L. Colburne, A. B., Martha K. Humphrey A. M., Principals.

Miss Buccini School of Languages.
Special native teachers. Class, private instruction. Teachers sent. Rates reasonable. 237 West 109th.

BARNARD SCHOOL FOR GIRLS, 431 W. 148th St. Kindergarten to college.

FORECLOSURE SALES.

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE. IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE United States for the Southern District of New York.—CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, Complainant, against CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND AND PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY, Defendant.—Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of the decree of the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, made and entered October 10, 1914, in the above entitled suit, the undersigned as Special Master will offer for sale, without valuation, appraisement, redemption or extension, at the north entrance of the County Court House, County of New York, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, Southern District of New York, on the 24th day of November, 1914, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, 713,535 shares of stock of the par value of $100 each of The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company. Said shares of stock will be offered for sale in one block or parcel. The undersigned will receive no bid from any one offering to bid who shall not first deposit with the undersigned as a pledge that he will make good his bid in case of its acceptance, the sum of $350,000 cash or by certified check on some national bank or trust company of the City of New York, made or indorsed payable to the order of the undersigned as Special Master, or in lieu thereof $5,000,000 face value of the Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds of the defendant, Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company issued under the Trust Agreement dated August 1, 1902, between said Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company and Central Trust Company of New York, as Trustee, if in coupon form accompanied by the coupon maturing May 1st, 1914, and all subsequent coupons, and if registered accompanied by sufficient transfers; such additional deposit, however, may be made in cash and partly in bonds and in the above relative proportions. The deposit received from any unsuccessful bidder will be returned to him when the property shall be struck off. The deposit received from the successful bidder will be applied on account of the purchase price. In lieu of any deposit of Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds as aforesaid with the undersigned, the certificate of deposit of any national bank or trust company having its principal office in the Southern District of New York that it holds, subject to his order and direction, the amount specified in said certificate of said bonds with coupons or transfers thereof as aforesaid. Any owner or holder of any of the Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds issued under said trust agreement may bid upon the same at said sale. The right is reserved to the Court to reject any or all bids received and to confirm and direct the consummation of any sale in accordance with the provisions of said decree. In case the successful bidder shall fail to make good his bid upon its acceptance, or shall fail after such acceptance to comply with any order of the Court relating to the completion of the purchase and payment of the purchase, then the sums deposited by such accepted bidder as hereinbefore provided, whether in cash or by check or by Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds, will be forfeited as a penalty to the extent that they will be applied towards the payment of the expenses of a resale and toward making good any deficiency or loss in case the property shall be sold at a less price on any such resale and to such other purposes as the Court may direct. If the Court shall not confirm the sale the deposits made by the accepted bidder will forthwith be returned to such bidder. The purchaser on confirmation of the sale by the Court make such further payment or payments in cash on account of the purchase price as the court may from time to time direct. So much of the purchase price as may not be required by the Court to be paid in cash may either be paid in cash, or the purchaser may satisfy and make good such residue of his bid, in whole or in part, by turning over to be cancelled or credited, as hereinafter provided, Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds of the defendant, Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company, secured by the trust agreement dated August 1, 1902, and matured and unpaid coupons. The said purchaser will be credited on account of the purchase price for Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds and coupons turned in at such sale the amount which would be paid in cash upon such Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds and coupons out of the proceeds of sale, if the whole amount of the purchase price were paid in cash. The right is reserved to the Court to retake and resell the property upon such notice as it may direct, at the risk and cost of the purchaser, in the event of default by the purchaser to make any payment on account of the purchase price within ten days after the entry of the order requiring such payment. The purchaser or his successors and assigns will be required to pay the balance of the purchase money and shall have the right to take or his or their appearance in the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York and to become a party to this cause.

For a more detailed statement of the terms and conditions under which said sale will be made, reference is hereby made to the above-mentioned decree, the original of which is on file in the office of the Clerk of the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, and copies of which may be obtained from the undersigned upon application to him at his office, 13 Liberty Street, New York City.

Dated New York, October 22, 1914.

BROWNSON WINTHROP, Special Master

GARY DENIES CUT IN WAGES.

Says Steel Trust Has Not Considered the Question.

E. H. Gary, Chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, said yesterday that no decision had been made by the management to reduce wages of employes of the corporation. A dispatch from Pittsburgh had stated that a reduction probably would be made on Jan. 1.

"The question of reducing the wages of our employes," said Judge Gary, "has not been discussed or considered by the Directors or officials. If we should be compelled to readjust wages by reason of business conditions it would be much to our regret. Our policy is to maintain the highest wages practicable, depending upon conditions. These of course we cannot control.

"I am still hoping for a substantial improvement in business in the near future."

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Nov. 4.—Incorporated today:

Reid Cameron Co., realty, construction, $50,000; C. A. Flynn, M. K. Cameron, R. H. Dillingham, New York.

Elden Hat Frame Co., $10,000; Bernard Leavitt, A. Rosenbluth, F. R. Elden, 291 B'way.

Leonard Sales Co., textiles, $5,000; S. L. Marcus, D. Herman, B. Naumburg, 80 Broad St.

H. E. Fry, Inc., dental supplies, $5,000; H. H. Kilen, M. L. Welland, A. Amerman, 439 Quincy St., B'klyn.

Malverne Building Co., $6,000; A. H. Wagg, T. H. Danch, C. B. Elmer, 190 Riverside Drive.

Murphy Cooperage Co., $5,000; M. Kamber, C. B. Fisher, A. B. Murphy, 5,118 Snyder Av., B'klyn.

Globe Steel Products Corpn., ball bearings, auto parts, $5,000; M. Vieweger, J. R. Quinn, C. F. Sultmeyer, 50 Church St.

Jackson Brokerage Co., brokerage, commission, $3,000; E. J. Gardner, F. P. Taylor, C. A. Miller, 90 West B'way.

Auto & Machine Springs Co., $10,000; M. Kleinberg, E. and I. Brumson, 166 E. 11 St.

Jackson Brokerage Co., Rochester, confectionery, $5,000—A. J. Jackson, A. De Himer, and Holland L. Browne, Jr.

American Forest Products Corpn., Carthage, lumber, farming, $5,000; A. P. McKennen, J. J. McDonald, Jr., Elon Carter.

West-Krautze Carting Co., Buffalo, $10,000; C. H. Krautze, W. F. Robinson, A. West.

Becker Waste Products Co., Poughkeepsie, merchandise, mercantile; $5,000; W. J. McCall, W. E. Bergstrom, P. J. Becker, Newark, N. J.

Pan-American Button Co., Buffalo; $75,000; L. Shantz, G. P. Burd, E. S. Nolt.

Ellicott Square Co., Buffalo; $25,000; J. A., T. M. and A. S. Kirk.

Motor Cycle Car Corp'n, Buffalo; $10,000; C. M. Babbitt, E. W. and A. E. Bennett, Grand Island.

Syracuse Ruling & Binding Co., Fabins, blank books, loose leaf specialties; $15,000; F. A. Smith, E. L. Vezina, R. B. Smith, Syracuse.

Batsigalia & Saperstein Amusement Co., Troy; $5,000; J. H. Saperstein, A. and Casper Battaglia.

Combined Fire Extinguisher & Fire Alarm Co.; $5,000; C. Caselli, S. Guglielmo, Andrea Basile, 613 Kent Av., B'klyn.

Utica Box Co., Utica; $35,000; T. S. Buckingham, W. P. Powell, A. W. Britton, 37 Wall St.

Authorizations: Lambert & Co. Pittsburgh, Penn., general brokerage; $10,000; Rep. August H. Blessing, 502 Ellicott Sq., Buffalo.

Birmingham & Seam Co., Chicago, Ill., paper, merchandise; $100,000; Rep. A. T. Birmingham, 200 5 Av.

Capital increases: Normandale Silk Mills, Gloversville, $80,000 to $50,000; Batavia Garment Co., Batavia, $10,000 to $15,000.

Voluntary dissolutions: Greater New York Barbers' Linen Supply Corp.; Pettit Lamb Co., Freeport; Burnes P. Pettit Land Co., Freeport; Eckford Realty Co., B'klyn.

New Jersey Charters.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, Nov. 4.—Charters filed today:

Model Cloak & Suit Co., Paterson, $4,000; Morrris Robbins, Paterson; Harry Goldfarb, New York; Louis Connor, Newark.

Atlantic Bottling Co., Atlantic Highlands, $10,000; Wm. J. Jennings, William H. David, Anna M. Jennings, Atlantic Highlands.

Protos Bottling & Supply Co., Wildwood, $100,000; Herrman Roeshman, Frank B. Sulzberger, Phila.; R. W. Redford, Ardmore, Penn.

Midland Co., Hackensack; Otto Wehrenberg, B'klyn; Patrick C. Byrne, Hackensack; C. S. Rock, New York.

THE UNITED SERVICE.

Special to The New York Times.

Army Orders.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Officers, now unassigned, assigned as indicated: Inf.—Capt. C. C. Nixon and 1st Lt. F. K. Eastman to 30, and 2d Lt. M. D. Welty to 3.

Orders Oct. 30 transferring 2d Lt. H. E. Everts, 12 to 8 Inf., Feb. 1, amended to make the transfer effective Dec. 1, and he will sail about Dec. 5 for Manila.

1st Lt. K. L. Pepper, 15 Inf., retired on account of disability.

Capt. R. E. Grinstead, Inf., to Jeffersonville, Ind., to inspect Co. M, 1 Inf., Ind. militia.

Leaves: Brig. Gen. D. C. Kingman, Chief of Engrs., 15 days, and 1st Lt. W. S. Martin, 4 Cav., 3 months' extn.

Navy Orders.

Lt. Comdr. H. C. Cocke, N. Y. Yard, to command the Leonidas.

Lt. R. F. Zogbaum, Jr., the Arkansas, to orders.

P. A. Surg. J. R. Barber, Norfolk Yard, to the Washington.

Chief Bosns. W. H. O'Connell, Phila. Yard, to temp. duty the Ohio; C. Schonborg, recvg. ship at N. Y., to Phila. Yard, and F. Carregher to Norfolk Yard.

Chief Mach. R. Iverson to Portsmouth (N. H.) Yard.

Naval Vessels.

Arrived—Prairie at Tangier Sound; Vermont at Norfolk; Sacramento, Montana, McDougall, Cummings, Cassin, McCall, Burrows, Ammen, Trippe, Fanning, Beale, Davis, Dale, Hull and Terry, Drayton at Hampton Roads; Mayflower and Dolphin at Washington; Smith at Whitestone Landing; Celtic at Boston; Sterett at Tompkinsville, and the Kansas at Port-au-Prince.

Sailed—Peoria, Charleston for Key West, and the Raleigh, La Paz for Manzanillo.

Weather in Cotton and Grain States

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Forecasts:

N. Car., S. Car., and Ga.—Fair Thurs. and Fri.; light w. to n. w. winds.

Fla., Ala., Miss., La., and East Tex.—Fair Thurs. and Fri.; light variable winds.

West Tex., Utah, Okla., Ark., Tenn., Ky., Iowa, Mo., Neb., and Kan.—Fair Thurs. and Fri.

Ohio—Fair Thurs. and Fri.; moderate n. w. to w. winds.

Ind. and Ill.—Fair Thurs. and Fri.; moderate w. winds.

Lower Mich.—Fair Thurs. and Fri.; warmer Fri.; moderate w. winds.

Upper Mich.—Fair Thurs. and Fri.; warmer Fri.; moderate w. winds.

Minn.—Fair Thurs. and Fri.; warmer Fri.; moderate w. winds.

Wis. and S. Dak.—Fair Thurs. and Fri.; warmer Thurs.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—During the last twenty-four hours a well marked barometric depression has passed from the lake region to New England. It has caused strong southwest winds, a rise in temperature, but no precipitation of consequence.

A second depression of similar character overlies the British Northwest.

The temperature has fallen in the Missouri Valley and about Lake Superior.

A continuance of fair weather in all parts of the country east of the Rocky Mountains for several days is indicated.

It will be colder in the lake region, the Upper Ohio Val ey, the Middle Atlantic States, and New England Thursday. In the Northwest the temperature will rise.

Winds along the North Atlantic Coast will be fresh to strong northwest Thursday and Friday; Middle Atlantic Coast, fresh northwest; South Atlantic Coast, moderate southwest to west.

FORECASTS TODAY AND FRIDAY.

New York, New Jersey, New England, and Eastern Pennsylvania—Fair Thursday and Friday.

The temperature record for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from the thermometer at the local office of the United States Weather Bureau, was as follows:

1913.		1914.		1913.	1914.
3 A. M.	51	3 P. M.	53	9 P. M.	72
6 A. M.	49	6 P. M.	46	12 M.	66
9 A. M.	51	9 P. M.	48		63
12 M.	54	12 P. M.	45		56

This thermometer is 414 feet above the street level. The average temperature yesterday was 51; for the corresponding date last year it was 50; average on the corresponding date for the last thirty-three years, 48.

The temperature at 8 A. M. yesterday was 51; at 8 P. M. it was 66. Maximum temperature, 73 degrees at 1:45 P. M.; minimum, 49 degrees at 6 A. M. Humidity, 84 per cent. at 8 A. M.; 23 per cent. at 8 P. M.

The barometer at 8 A. M. yesterday registered 29.56 inches; at 8 P. M. it stood at 29.70 inches.

FIRE RECORD.

A. M.
12:45–830 10 Av.; John Scallon.....Loss.
12:50–1,416 Vyse Av.; Wm. Chase.....$300
1:58–140-144 W. 22 St.; Wm. Morris..Slight
2:30–Grand Concourse and McClellan St.; Peter McCarthy $1,500
2:35–168 St. and Gerard Av.; Lewis Scroots $500
3:50–339 W. 44 St.; Anton Suchtensod..Slight
4:30–153 W. 56 St.; Mr. Katsky.....$1,000
4:35–377 B'way.; S. Harris.....Slight
5:10–1,502 Norfolk St.; Isaac Sinch....Slight
P. M.
2:45–180 Orchard St.; I. Swigman....Slight
2:55–203 W. 145 St.; Van Buren Co....Slight
3:05–201 145 St.; C. Julius .....Slight
3:15–42 E. 8 St.; Mrs. A. Fischman..Slight
3:45–17 St. and 10 Av.; Con. Gas Co..Slight
4:10–900 Bryant Av.; not given.....Slight
4:15–453 W. 148 St.; not given.....Slight
4:15–19 Grand St.; Jos. Cartini.....None
5:00–405 E. 123 St.; not given.....Slight
5:10–751 W. 180 St.; Blanche Mott....None
5:30–N. r. cor. Vesey St. and B'way; Foundation Com'n Co. $1,000
6:10–Dyckman St. w. of B'way; not given.....None
6:40–4234 Cherry St.; Mary Gorman..Slight
6:45–Corner Jackson and Westchester Avs.; news stand; I. V. Varick..Slight
6:50–Subway station, Varick and Broome Sts .....None
7:30–42 W. 35 St.; Hotel Gregorian..Slight
7:45–224 E. 125 St.; Katzenellenbogen..Slight
8:30–240 W. 88 St.; Helen Huston.....$10
8:40–34 Commerce St.; Starick Metal Co..Slight
10:00–Tiffany St. at E. River.; not given..
10:17–234 E. 107 St.; S. Scalabia.....Slight

POLICE AND FIRE NEWS.

Police Department.

Retired, to take effect 12 P. M. Nov. 4: Patrol. F. P. Reynolds, 38, at $700 a yr., appointed Sept. 6, 1898.

Transfers, to take effect 8 A. M. Nov. 6: Sergts. Michael Coughlan, 2, to 1; J. F. Hall, 14, to 1; T. E. Cashman, 1, to 2; G. E. Sager, 1, to 14; Patrol, J. W. Etyne, 159, assigned to clerical and house duty; J. H. Feeley, 270, assigned to mounted duty.

Temporary Assignments: Lt. Henry Hellmars, 39, to 62, for 6 days, from 8 A. M. Nov. 6; Sergt. E. G. Lennon, 4, to Det. Bu., for 10 days, from 6 A. M. Nov. 7; Patrol. Alfred Rawson and Thomas Kane, 1 Precs., to 1 Insp. Dist., for 10 days, from 4 P. M. Nov. 4; H. A. Isherwood, 12, to Training School, for clerical duty, for 30 days, from 8 A. M. Nov. 9; Gustave Schley, 1, to Det. Bu., for 10 days, from 3 A. M. Nov. 6; Joseph Caracciolo and Pasquale Damiano, 26, to B. B. H. Squad, duty in Special Squad No. 1, for 10 days, from 8 A. M. Nov. 5; P. T. Donovan, 63, to 61, for clerical duty, for 10 days, from 4 P. M. Nov. 3; Bernard Mellon, 149, to Det. Bu., for 2 days, from noon, Nov. 2; Francis Kane, 276, to office of Chief Surgeon, for 30 days, from 9 A. M. Nov. 5; Inspr. Dougherty, 1 Insp. Dist., to Det. Bu., for 10 days, from 4 P. M. Nov. 2; J. J. Quinn, 4; Sigmund Lipscher, 63, and J. J. Scott, 275, to Det. Bu., from 8 A. M. Nov. 3. Wednesday, Nov. 11, to Det. Bu. from prects. indicated, for 10 days, from 4 P. M. Nov. 7: Italo Cassetti, 15; W. J. Blanch, 22; J. L. Masle, Jr., 68; Henry Sommers, 174; J. J. McManus, 21; James Dalton, 39; Abraham Snydecker, 72. To Com'r's office, from prects. indicated, duty at Board of Elections, for 3 days, from 8 A. M. Nov. 4: J. H. McKnight, 31; Edward Weiss, 35. To W. D. Mechlin, 145; August Meyer, 152; Jacob Feeney, 33; Henry Kleinmeyer, 81; Patrick Cooney, 149; Joseph Frank, 153. Matron Annie F. Menzies, 31, to 23, for 10 days, from 6 P. M. Nov. 3.

Assignments Discontinued: Lt. William Butler, 17, to Com'r's office, from 9 A. M. Nov. 3; Patrol. George W. Cole, 99, to Det. Bu., from 8 A. M. Nov. 6; George Bender, 159, to clerical and house duty, from 8 A. M. Nov. 6; G. J. Cook, 279, to mounted duty, from 8 A. M. Nov. 6.

Leaves without pay: Patrol. G. D. Lang, 153, 1 day, from 8 A. M., Nov. 1; C. R. Steurer, 182, 1 day, from 6 P. M., Nov. 4; Harry Post, 278, 1 day, from 8 A. M., Oct. 31.

Sick leave granted: Patrol. J. H. King, 14, 14 days, from 8 A. M., Nov. 3.

The following applications for pay while on sick report are approved: Patrol. J. J. Burggraf, 4, from 1:50 A. M., Sept. 25, to 12:10 A. M., Oct. 8, and from 9:30 P. M., Oct. 8, to 12:01 A. M., Oct. 12; G. C. Cunningham, 25, from noon, Aug. 9, to 12:01 A. M., Sept. 16; J. P. Woods, 82, from 12 P. M., Aug. 9, to 12 P. M., Aug. 30; F. S. Traver, 59, from noon, Aug. 22, to 12 P. M., Aug. 24; C. T. Gallagher, 67, from noon, Sept. 6, to 12:01 A. M., Oct. 1; W. J. Shea, 61, from 8 A. M., Sept. 4, to noon, Oct. 1; J. J. O'Neill, 60, from 3:45 P. M., Sept. 25, to 12 P. M., Sept. 27; A. G. Rubi, 3, from 12 P. M., Sept. 10, to noon, Oct. 18; J. H. Fallon, 149, from noon, Sept. 8, to noon, Sept. 22; W. H. Farley, 146, from noon, Aug. 18, to 12 P. M., Aug. 19, and from 1:50 P. M., Sept. 5 to 12 P. M., Oct. 9; Antonio Pasela, 91, from noon, 9:20 P. M., Sept. 16, to 12 P. M., Sept. 26; A. E. Ranftle, 275, from noon, Sept. 13, to noon Oct. 22; E. W. Clark, Trat. Subdiv B, from noon, Sept. 16, to 12 P. M., Oct. 3; Charles Braun, Trat. Subdiv C, from noon, Aug. 20, to 12:01 A. M., Oct. 20.

Amendments: So much of S. O. 225, C. S., as transfers Patrol. J. P. McGannon, 61, to 16, is amended to read 63. So much of paragraph 1, S. O. 230, C. S., as assigns Lt. J. E. Shaw, 66, to command 61, for 14 days, from 8 A. M., Nov. 5, is amended to read: Lt. Martin McCauley, 68.

Death reported: Patrol. James Conway, 150, at 3:25 A. M., Nov. 4.

Fire Department.

Leave without pay: Thos. Geobert, H. & L. 7, 15 days, from 8 A. M. Nov. 4; W. J. Connell, Eng. 14, 15 hours, from 5 A. M. Nov. 4; L. A. Sorasco, Eng. 30, 24 hours, from 8 A. M. Nov. 6.

Penalties imposed: Capt. A. J. O'Bryon, Eng. 284, conduct prejudicial to discipline; reprimanded. Mrs. Kara, Eng. 256, absent without leave; sentence suspended.

Charges dismissed: Capt. A. J. O'Bryon, Eng. 284, conduct prejudicial to discipline.

These companies will report at Company School in East 67 St.: 10 A. M.—Monday; Nov. 9, Eng. 23; Tuesday, Nov. 10, Eng. 40; Wednesday, Nov. 11, Eng. 94; Thursday, Nov. 12, Eng. 156; Friday, Nov. 13, H. & L. 2; Saturday, Nov. 14, H. & L. 26. 1 P. M.—Monday, Nov. 9, Eng. 244; Tuesday, Nov. 10, Eng. 245; Wednesday, Nov. 11, Eng. 40; Thursday, Nov. 12, Eng. 378; Friday, Nov. 13, H. & L. 137; Saturday, Nov. 14, H. & L. 147.

EDUCATION NOTES.

Evening School 147, East Broadway and Scammel Street, is forming additional civil service classes for examinations by the city, State, and Federal authorities. Extra classes for English to foreigners are also being organized. Application in person should be made to Julian Mandel, Principal.

Walter L. Hervey, whose term of office as a member of the Board of Examiners expired on Sept. 27, is still drawing the regular salary for that position, as the Board of Education has not yet elected his successor, it was learned to-day that the matter will be settled at the next meeting of the board on Nov. 11.

The Board of Estimate has been requested to appropriate $70,000 to replenish the general repair account of the Department of Education; said sum having been expended for fitting up six buildings for pre-vocational work.

The temporary appointments of three clerks, one with knowledge of stenography and typewriting in City Supt. Maxwell's office, have been approved.

The temporary appointment of Charles F. Devlin as a first grade clerk in the Bureau of Supplies has been revoked.

The Board of Estimate has been requested to appropriate $406, proceeds from the sale of products of the New York Nautical School, to the Special Trade School Fund for 1914.

The Board of Education has requested the President of Queens to act favorably on the petition for the paving of Laferis Avenue, Glen Morris.

It has been decided to hire seats to watch the meeting room of the Society for Ethical Culture, in Central Park West and Central Park West, for lecture purposes.

COURT CALENDARS

CASES WILL BE CALLED IN THE ORDER GIVEN BELOW
(c) This character means versus or against.

FEDERAL.

Supreme Court.

59—William Sizemore v. Foli M. Brady.—Submitted.

45—The Choctaw, Okla. & Gulf R. R. v. John A. Harrison.—Argument continued.

47—Mo. Pac. Ry. v. City of Omaha.—Argument commenced.

49—La. Ry. & Nav. Co. v. Martin Behrman.—Argument commenced.

It will be colder in the lake region, the Upper Ohio Val ey, the Middle Atlantic States, and New England Thursday. In the Northwest the temperature will rise.

Winds along the North Atlantic Coast will be fresh to strong northwest Thursday and Friday; Middle Atlantic Coast, fresh northwest; South Atlantic Coast, moderate southwest to west.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT OF Appeals.—Lacombe, Coxe, Ward, and Rogers, JJ.—Court opens at 10:30 A. M. in Post Office Building.

Alleghany Val Brick Co. v. Raymond.
Laemmle<Stern.
Re Buchanan.
Re Buchanan.
Re Buchanan.
Re Buchanan.
Re Pope & Davis Co. v. Million<U S.
Hengerer<Reynolds Elec.
St'd Typewriter<St'd Folding.
Edison<Aisen's P. Cement.
Nuzel<Elmore & H.
US<Lehigh R R.

DISTRICT COURT—Hand, J.—Post Office Building, at 10:30 A. M. Jury calendar.

N. Y. Assets Real Co. v. McKinnon.
De la Fuente<Hamerstein.
McKinnon<Ala. Secur.
Wagner<Kohn.
Same<Stalle.
Brashear<Smith.
Hughes<NY, O. & W.
Western Dev<McKinnon.
Grilsman<P R c. (2 acts.)
N Y Bank Note<Thomas.
Gates<NY, NH & R.
Barrett, Mfg<Marrone.
Schall<L V R R, (2 acts.)
Andrews Co<Phoenix Amuse.
Zimmerman<Swiss B. Verein.
Am Sign<Kanter.
Title Guarantee & Trust Co. v. Trans Dietz<Singer S. Mach.
St John<Int Mer Mar.
Uyltray<Fox Amuse.
Dornell<L I R R, (2 acts.)
Young<Leader Pub.
Mason<Moore.
Fox<E Side M Stamp.
Same<Taylor.
Barton C Milk<Sanitary Can.
Simon<Amer Tob.
Met L I<Marshall.
Dolores Mines<Anderson.
Creston Col Co<same.
Himmelstein<Huntington.
Globadder<CNY.
Dayton Auto T<Wishart.
Burke<Atl Coast L.
Cusick<Knick Ice.

DISTRICT COURT—Sabicon, J.—Woolworth Building, at 10:30 A. M. Equity calendar.

Fisher<Corn.
Dayton Eng Lab<Bowman Auto.
Nicholas Power<Baird (2 acts.)
Auto R Safe<Burns.

DISTRICT COURT—Thomas, J.—Jury calendar. Post Office Building at 10:30 A. M.

Perry<Schaefer.
Ryan<Mt Vernon B'k.
Conklin<Diesel.
Siallo<Magner.

Eastern District.

DISTRICT COURT—Chatfield, J.—Common law calendar at 11:30 A. M. Springer<Thompson.

NEW YORK COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

APPELLATE DIVISION.—Ingraham, McLaughlin, Clarke, and Scott, JJ.—Enumerated motions, at 2 P. M.

Bush<Bush.
Van Bayer<Minigret M.
Gilleran<Colby.
Thorne<Johnson, Adams & G.
Palmer<Schwarzenb'h.
Manussa<Mundet & Son.
Schaefer<Morgan Ldry Imp<Trad Bk<Purdy.
Hammitt<Gaynor.
Mayer<Monzo.
Roberts<Grove Hat.
Miller<Harvey.
Calibrisotto<Postal Tr.
McCormick<McCorm'k McWhirter<Bowen.
Marcus<Fidelity & D.
Wolf<Waldo.
Black<Fonda.
Faucett<Selpp.
Cohen<Waldo.

APPELLATE TERM.—Lehman, Whitaker, and Delehanty, JJ.—For hearing of appeals from Municipal Court.

SPECIAL TERM.—Part I.—Davis, J. Litigated motions.

Re Union Trust. (Washington Trust.)
Re Curtis, (W. T. Co.)
Re same, (W. T. Co.)
Re Jarvis, (W. T. Co.)
Re Ten Brook, (W. T. Co.)
Re Bristow (W. T. Co.)
Re Un Tr, (W. T. Co.)
Re Prentiss Co, (W. T. Co.)
McGillivray<McG'fray.
Horowitz<Besner.
Chitel<Hill.
Kelly<Knick Ice.
Titus<Billington.
Re Wagner.
Re Butler.
Re Star Leather G.
Brinckerhoff<Cohen.
Ragkin<Fargo.
Re Morrison.
Corn Ex Bk<Drieben.
Re Kommel.
Peter<5 Av Coach.
Michaelis<I R T.
Ostrander<same.
Marsh<same.
Goldstein<same.
Urstadt<same.
De Witt<same.
Finan<same.
Nat Ex Bk of Wheeling<Farson, Jr.
Kornthal<Schlanowsky Glass<Glass.
CNY<Ware.
Bechhold<Luftig.
Simpson<Lipschitz.
Todd<Russack.
Ryan<Knick Ice.
Spencer<Mellitus.
Faithe & McCaul<Raisler.
Cooper<Mackay.
Hampel<Schneider, (2 acts.)
Boland<Munk.
Calender<Scheer.
Murray<Tinton Av Con.
Janss<Erb.
Moore<Meissner.
Seamens Bk<Chappelle.
Sprung<Hexter.
Wilson<Thomas.
NY Water Sup Eq<Bayer.
Fischel<Friedlander.
Mandel<Trop, (2 acts.)
Frankfurt-Barnett Co<Frym.
Relin<Rellin.
Stelter<Stelter.

SPECIAL TERM.—Part II.—Seabury, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Inq., Briskman<Adams.
Inq., Neustadt<Kamerstein.
Gotthliel<Isaacs.
Broad & Beaver St<Gabriel.
US Wty & Imp<Gabriel.
Grossman<Carnegie T. Broomgarden<Gt East Casualty.
State Bk Munk<Keshin, Blitstein & Co.
Barton<Mulligan.
Gross<Seidman.
Beha<Roth-child.
Littlefield<CNY.
Postal Life<Burns.
Rosenblum<Kreut.
Herring<Nemoof.
Landon<Mott.
Diatill'g<Kahnewsky, Re Crow.
Clear.

PART III.—Weeks, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Klein<Schoenberg.
Mendelson<NY Ess Yolk Mfg Co.
T Aronson<Yohalem, J Aronson<Yohalem.
Halsenbuttel<Meagher.
Slavin<Pitts Con.
Case on.

PART IV.—Cohalan, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Van Slochem<Br Col Ry & Dev Co.
Bayer<Rothschild-Robinson Co.
Carroll<Levy & G. Turk<Maas.
Greenberg<Sundock.
Kahn<NY Rys.
Kaufman<Careful Blty & Const Co.
Roese<R Hoe & Co.
Clear.

PART V.—Platzek, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Andrews<Tinney.
Ballinger<Dodright.
Pisemacher<Levy.
Paltrowitz<Steeplech.
Stewart<Martin.
People<Townsend.
Taylor<I R T.
Delaney<Adair.
Littenberg<Reichman.
Johnson<Bradley Con.
Cerf<Bliss Co.
Nicolas<Am Brass.
Spivy<I R T.
O'Malley<NY Rys.
Lipkin<Bklyn El RR.
Phillips<Smith-Worth.
Gray<Nassau El RR.
Taylor<I R T.
Rudyk<Levy.
Fitzpatrick<I R T.
Burleaux<NY Rys.
Case on.

PART VI.—Blasell, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Witt<Austro-Am SS.
Edwards<Gilmes.
Elgar<NY Con RR.
Hickey<Asphalt Con. (2 acts.)
Lowenstein<CNY.
Lockwood<same.
Koster<NY Rys.
Case on.

PART VII.—Dugro, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

O'Connell<Rosenbaum.
Beatty<I R T.
Reilly<Am Marion S.
Nadell<Siffren.
Case on.

PART VIII.—Donnelly, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Ringuleson<Linch, (2 acts.)
Valentine<Seelye.
Gardner<G Ex Co, &c.
Solich<McAvoy.
Grasso<Esperia.
A Lopez<Linch.
Spies<same.
Case on.

PART IX.—Gavegan, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Washburn<Avery.

PART XI.—Hendrick, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Kaskel<So Pac SS.
Ford<N Y N H & H.
Abrams<Kitchen Imp.
Glass<Kolar.
Bedell<Barrett.
Wortendyke<CNY.
Futornasky<NasEIRR.
Morrison<same.
Case on.

PART XII.—Adjourned until Monday, Nov. 16.

PART XIII.—Borst, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Adjourned until Monday, Nov. 9.

PART XIV.—Philbin, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Bank.

Little<Lash Studios.
Cooper<Cooper.
Asphalt Paving<CNY (2 acts).
Weinhandler<Getlar.
Oet<Mindlin.
Frey<Jones.
Wawbeek Land<Wilt.
Burke<CNY.
Delehanty<Dunn.
Hammer<Claremont Silk.
Farley<Hollingsworth. Clear.

PART XV.—Goff, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Times Sq Auto<Mercer Auto.
Amoroso<Fruit Aus. Clear.

PART XVI.—Page, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Kiosk Cont<Int Motor.
Gordon<N River, CNY.
Hart<Higgins.
E J E Install<Zimmermann.
McKegney<Ill Surety.
Davis<West Burges. Clear.

PART XVII.—Ford, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Mills<Nat Surety.
Harding<Postal Life.
People<Jos el Solomon<E of Painters.
Sternberg<Silberstein.
Straus<Regan.
Thielestein<Iroquois Door Co.
Klein<Tanguay.
Ansonia<Hein.
Goldstein<N Y Life.
Cole<Katz.
Curley<Currie.
Jacobs<Weingarten Bros.
Oehlmsky<Rubenstone.
Harbison-Walker Ref Co<190th St Rlty. Case on.

PART XVIII.—Giegerich, J.—At 10:30 A. M.

Tuomy<Walsh.
Sheridan<McLaughlin.
Melton<Havemeyers.
Adams<Marion St Shovel Co.
Talcott<Nichols.
U S Hungerford Brass

21x108.11; Carl A. Baas and another to Laura H. Jones, 18 East Park St, Newark, N. J., Oct. 26, 3 years, 6 p. c.; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway $7,500
SAME PROPERTY; same to Meta M. Spies .....
110 West 102d St, prior mtg $7,500, Nov. 2, due as per bond; attorney, same.....$1,000
LOT 28, map of partition sale of Wells vs. Storer; Charles P. Twigg to North Side Mortgage Corporation, 391 East 149th St, Oct. 31, due, &c., as per bond; attorneys, Cleeke, K. & B., 391 East 149th St.....$300
LOTS 153 and 154, map of Upland Realty Co.; Elsie M. Holzhalt to Sarah J. Gibbins, 23 South Vermont Av., Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 31, due, &c., as per bond; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway $1,400
LOTS 7, 8, 53, 54, and 55, map of Joseph Husson Chassons Point; George Glenz to William M. Husson, 524 West 124th St, Nov. 2, 5 years; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway.....$650
MARMION AV, n e corner of 175th St, 92x99.6, to Vinyard Place; James McConnell to John W. Cornish Construction Co., 905 East Tremont Av; (prior mtg $50,000.) Nov. 2, due March 1, 1915, 6 p. c.; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway $6,000
MONROE AV, w s, 100 ft s of 173d St, 100x100; Alex S. Williams to Bowery Savings Bank, 128 Bowery, Nov. 2, due July 8, 1919; attorneys, Cadawalder, W. & T., 40 Wall St.....$2,000
ST. LAWRENCE AV, e s, 75 ft n of Gleason Av, 25x100; Jacob Cohen to Frederick J. Weber, 146 Sumpter St, Brooklyn, prior mtg $4,750, Nov. 2, 2 years, 6 p. c.; attorney Lawyers Title Insurance and Trust Co., 160 Broadway $1,000
3D AV, s w corner of 138th St, 42.11x74.2; Forest Av, 962 to 967, w s, 30x98.5; August Molhus to Edgar S. Appleby, Glen Cove, L. I., Nov. 2, 3 years, 5½ p. c.; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway $43,000
148TH ST, s s, 205 ft w of Brook Av, 75x99.11; Ahr Realty Co., Inc., to Henry Frank, Weehawken, N. J., and another, trustees, Nov. 2, 5 years, 6 p. c.; attorney, R. D. Bergman, 3d Av and 148th St.....$15,000
161ST ST, 626 East, s s, 18.9x72.6; Josephine Frans to Anna Pekowsky, 450 Audubon Av, Nov. 2, installments, 6 p. c.; attorney, I. W. Schavrien, 44 Court St, Brooklyn.....$300
170TH ST, n e s, part of Lot 79, map of Morrisania, 50x116; Mary A. Nolan and another to William A. Paton, Lakewood, N. J., and another, trustee, Oct. 30, 3 years, 6 p. c.; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway $9,000

RECORDED LEASES.

Manhattan.

With name and address of lessee.
AMSTERDAM AV, 2,070, St. Nicholas Av, 1,040, store floor and basement; Ada L. Westcott and others, Trustees, to Alphonse Andre and another, 995 West 111th St, 5 years from Aug. 1, 1914; attorney, Harry Rittenberg, 309 Broadway $1,800
CHAMBERS ST, 123-131, all; Huggins Estate, Incorporated, to Joseph Weintraub, 704 West End Av., 20 4-12 years from Nov. 1, 1914 .....$20,000
ESSEX ST, 133-5, all; Morris Liebman to Louis Block and another, 55 Mott St, from Aug. 1, 1914, to April 30, 1925; attorney, A. Rosenberg, 170 Broadway, $7,000 and $8,500
3D AV, 398, all; Frederick Rozell to Bernhard Heinrich, 398 3d Av., 3 years from May 1, 1915.....$2,100
3D AV, 364, all; David Pick to Frederick Renzer, 1 year from Nov. 1, 1914; address party of the second part, 360 3d Av..$4,200
17TH ST, 430 East, store, &c.; Anna Wassmuth and another Exrs., to John Powers and another, 428 East 17th St., 3 years from March 1, 1915; attorney, John C. Hoenninger, 407 East 55th St.....$750
105TH ST, 72-74 East, all; Rose Herskowitz to Nathan Moskowitz, 511 Kelly St, 3 years from Nov. 1, 1914; attorney, Benjamin Swartz, 192 Broadway $3,700

Bronx.

150TH ST, 232 East, all; Thomas Cunningham to Thomas Petrello, 228 East 148th St, 3 years from Dec. 1, 1914; attorney, Thomas Petrello, 228 East 148th St.....$540
MORRIS AV, 536, south store; Antonio D'Iono to Cansio Rossi, 536 East 148th St, 5 years from Dec. 1; attorney, Harry Steinbeck, 586 Morris Av $576
TINTON AV, 913½, all; John W. Decker to Samuel Yanvofsky, 513 West 143th St, 3 years, 4 months from Nov. 1, 1914; attorney, Samuel Checkea, 116 Nassau St.....$900

MECHANICS' LIENS.

Manhattan.

BROADWAY, 1,680 and 1,684; W. E. Pruden Hardware Co. against Amos F. Eno, owner; Delta Theatre Corporation, lessee; John C. Brady, contractor $156
81ST, 323 EAST; William Kershon against Samuel Davis, owner; Max Rimmel, contractor $25
145TH ST, n s, 100 ft w of Lenox Av, 170x100; James McDermott against William Slattery Construction Co., owner and contractor $692

Bronx.

216TH ST, n s, 150 ft w of Livingston Av, 10x130.3; Wright, Ogden Co., Inc., against J. D. Strycker, owner; T. H. Fraser Co., contractors $1,133

SATISFIED MECHANICS' LIENS.

3D AV, 2,076 to 2,080; Felice Trecchia against Film Amusement Co., Inc., and others, July 16, 1914, (vacated).....$225
SAME PROPERTY; Ike T. Klinghoffer against same, July 16, 1914, (vacated)..$120
8TH AV, 2,519 to 2,523; George Schweppenhauer against Eduardo H. Gato and others, July 9, 1914, (vacated).....$87

LIS PENDENS.

Manhattan.

LUDLOW ST, 16; Abraham H. Sarasohn against Aaron Safro and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, H. Rittenberg.
NEW BOWERY, 27 and 29; same against Antonio G. Casazza and others, (action to acquire title;) attorney, J. L. Quackenbush.
PARK ROW, 194 to 198; Manhattan Railway Co. against David Rothschild and others, (action to acquire title;) attorney, J. L. Quackenbush.
PARK ROW, 129; Manhattan Railway Co. against Abraham Liebeskind and others; (action to acquire title;) attorney, J. L. Quackenbush.
PARK ROW, 223 and 60 New Bowery; Manhattan Railway Co. against Robert Kommel and others, (action to acquire title;) attorney, J. L. Quackenbush.
PARK ROW, 189 to 205; Manhattan Railway Co. against Frederick N. Cowperthwait and others, (action to acquire title;) attorney, J. L. Quackenbush.
2D AV, 776; same against Josephine K. Schwefel and others, (action to acquire title;) attorney, J. L. Quackenbush.
2D AV, 770 and 772; same against Malvine Bauer and others, (action to acquire title;) attorney, J. L. Quackenbush.
2D AV, 795; Manhattan Railway Co. against Cord H. Schroeder and others, (action to acquire title;) attorney, J. L. Quackenbush.
21ST ST, 459 West; Frank Dunning and others against Emma B. Frink and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Speir & Bartlett.
61ST ST, 240 West; Lillian S. Gillespie against Michael Zimmerman and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Dexter, Osborn & Fleming.
96TH ST, 330 West; Isaac Roth against Bella M. Williams, (action to impress lien;) attorneys, L. L. Hoffman and H. A. Friedman.
127TH ST, n s, 100 ft w of 5th Av, 40x99.11; Sophia H. Atkinson against George M. Archer and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, L. A. Ackley.
137TH ST, 102 West; Ida Straus against Temple Improvement Corporation and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, S. N. Freedman.

Bronx.

QUIMBY AV, n s, 120 ft w of Olmstead Av, 25x108; Benjamin Seh against Frederick Uhl and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, M. B. McHugh.
WASHINGTON AV, w s, 162 ft s of Mott St, 62x100; Minnie Wolfer against Mooney Schreiber and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, A. O. Ernst.
5D AV, e s, 52 ft n of 135d St, 26x27; Sarah Van Riper against William J. Cornell and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, J. W. Bryant.
238TH ST, n s, 300 ft w of Paulding Av, 100x100; Samuel H. Kupferman against Jason C. Cameron and others, (to foreclose transfer of tax lien;) attorney, E. Jacobs.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.
The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway Company.
All creditors of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway Company are hereby notified that the District Court of the United States, Southern District of Ohio, Western Division, in the cause wherein Bankers Trust Co. is plaintiff and the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway Co. is defendant, numbered in Equity No. 41, on the second day of November, 1914 ordered that:
"All persons, firms or corporations having claims or demands against the defendant, the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway Company, or other than those secured by mortgage or conditional sale duly filed or recorded, are required, on or before the first day of January, 1915 under penalty of thereafter having said claims disallowed in the discretion of the court to file the same with Judson Harmon and Rufus B. Smith, Receivers hereof, to which said claims or demands shall be supported by affidavit and shall set out the amount and nature of any security or lien held by the claimant or on which the claimant is entitled, and also any claim to credit or allowance in payment from the assets in the hands of the Receivers or the earnings thereof in priority to the bonds secured by the mortgage to the plaintiff, Bankers Trust Company, of New York, bearing date July 1, 1909, and known as defendant's First and Refunding Mortgage, or to any other creditors of the defendant.
"Pursuant to the above, claims should be filed with the undersigned Receivers at the following address:

JUDSON HARMON,
RUFUS B. SMITH,
Receivers of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway Co.,
30 Carew Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.
November 2, 1914.

HIGH ORIGINAL COST was heretofore the barrier to Sprinkler Equipment.
Today, due to hitherto unknown competition, greatly reduced prices prevail.
The outlay automatically reflects itself in the immediate, pronounced and permanent decrease in Fire Insurance Premium Rates.
WELLS & NEWTON CO.
Engineers and Contractors,
292-298 Avenue B,
NEW YORK CITY.
Telephone, 1530 Stuyvesant.
Plumbing. Heating. Ventilation.
Automatic Sprinkler Installations.

MANHATTAN—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

Geo. R. Read & Co
for thirty years have made a specialty of the care and management of property, its sale and rental, and the procuring of money on bond and mortgage.
20 Nassau Street
3 East 35th Street
(12270)

BROOKLYN—FOR SALE OR TO LET.
PETER J. COLLINS' NEW
RUTLAND ROAD HOUSES
Near Flatbush Av., block from Prospect Park express station, Brighton "L" and six car lines; one-family brick and stucco, 9 rooms and bath; price, $8,750; terms to suit.

QUEENS—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

Surrounding Kew Station.
15 MINUTES
FROM HERALD SQUARE.
All Night Service.
MANY NEW HOUSES
JUST COMPLETED.
Prices $9,350 to $22,500. Convenient Terms.
Information on request.
JOHN J. BRITTON, Mardridge Bldg.,
Broadway & 34th St., N. Y.
Telephone Greeley 5970 and 5251.

LONG ISLAND—FOR SALE OR TO LET.
POULTRY FARM.
$2 weekly will buy Al poultry farm; 6-room house, barn, etc.; near large town; good markets, factories, etc.; few minutes from station and trolley to harbor; one hour from city. Address C BARGAIN, 248 West 34th St., N. Y.
DOUGLAS MANOR LOTS
22 minutes by electric trains from Pennsylvania Station, on North Shore of Long Island. Boating, bathing, fishing.
Call 'Phone, or write.
CHARLES M. BURTIS, 207 Ryerson St., Brooklyn, N. Y. 'Phone 2200 Prospect.

WESTCHESTER—SALE OR TO LET.
PROPERTY
IN THE HILLS OF WESTCHESTER COUNTY | ALONG THE SOUND AND HUDSON
PARTICULARLY BRONXVILLE, SCARSDALE, BRIARCLIFF, RYE, etc
Fish & Marvin
527 Fifth Ave., New York.
Phone: 6536 Murray Hill.

NEW JERSEY—FOR SALE OR TO LET.
Farm in Village
45 Miles Out; Price, $6,000.
Within five minutes' walk of R. R. Station and all conveniences in town of 2,000; only 45 miles to New York City; buildings in perfect condition, thoroughly modern; include 6-room house, with bath, steam heat, city water; 21-ft. piazza; fine cellar; telephone; 30-ft. barn, with running water; poultry house, wagon house, garage, etc.; maple shade; 7 acres of remarkable rich soil perfectly adapted for truck and fruit; good orchard of peach trees; also several apple and cherry trees and some strawberries; owner has a larger place which requires all his time and is anxious to sell; price, if taken now, only $6,000; part cash. E. A. Strout Farm Agency, Hightstown, N. J.
Rent THEN Buy!
New, artistic 9-room, all-year residence, remarkably situated, right on golf course, 400 feet from Country Club; 2 baths, big living room, perfectly, practically perfect, all for outright, but willing to rent to proper party with purchase privilege, rent to apply. Easy terms. For permit to inspect address Bargain, P. O. Box 416, New York.

TO LET FOR BUSINESS PURPOSES.
426-32 EAST 91ST ST.
3-Story, Cellar, Brick.
100x100, TWO ELEVATORS.
Will Divide Into Two Buildings.
E. R. POERSCHKE Brokers Protected. 32 UNION SQUARE.
39 EAST 19TH STREET
Attractive Store and Basement.
Also First Loft. Together or sepdrate.
INNES & CENTER, 30 EAST 20TH ST.
5 WEST 16TH STREET
Store in Studio Building
Suitable for Store or Studio
Apply at 14 Wall Street
Douglas Robinson, Charles S. Brown Co
STABLE
Five story and basement, 441-443 E. 19th St.; accommodate 90 horses, 60 wagons. Owner will alter for manufacturing purposes. John J. Bagley, 25 W. 42d St.
STOCK AND SALESROOMS
S. W. Corner 4th Av. and 20th St.
Eighth floor; best of light; rents $1,500 and $2,000; very low insurance.
Goodale, Perry & Dwight, Inc., 1,133 B'way at 26th St. Phone Farragut 6464.

APARTMENTS TO LET—Furnished.
Furnished Apartment
FOR THE WINTER MONTHS.
An 8-room Apartment, with 3 master bedrooms, 2 baths and extra servants' rooms.
THE OSBORNE
205 WEST 57TH ST.
TELEPHONE COLUMBUS 6810.

CITY HOUSES TO LET—UNFURNISHED
BROOKLYN.
Beautiful Brick Houses
FOR RENT, $30.
Semi-detached brick and stone, 7 rooms, bath, elegantly decorated; send for booklet MANAGER, 60-A Liberty St., N. Y. Phone Cort. 2562.

BANKRUPTCY SALES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.
Southern District of New York.—In the matter of VAN HOUTEN & TEN BROECK CO., Bankrupt.
Notice is given, that, pursuant to terms of certain chattel mortgage made by Van Houten & Ten Broeck Company to the undersigned as trustee, mortgagee, the undersigned trustee sells at public auction by Charles Shongood, Auctioneer, this day, November 5th, 1914, at 10:30 o'clock A. M., at No. 214 East 23d Street, Manhattan, New York City, certain electrical therapeutic apparatus and appliances, electric motors and static machines and other apparatus and appliances.
WILLARD P. JESSUP,
as Trustee, Mortgagee.
ROBERT G. PERRY, Attorney for Trustee, 55 John Street, Manhattan, New York City.

APARTMENTS TO LET—Unfurnished.

SLAWSON & HOBBS
162 West 72d St., Near Broadway

LOCATION		ROOMS	Baths	RENTALS
Georgean Court, 58 Central Park West, corner 66th St.	A	8 & 12	2 & 3	2,000 & 3,600
Catherine, 1 West 69th St., corner Central Park West	A	6 & 7	1	1,000 to 1,200
Vernon, 350 West 71st St., near Riverside	B	8	1	1,100
105 West 72d St., between Col. Av. and Broadway	A	4 & 5	1 & 2	1,400 to 1,900
La Rochelle, 57 West 75th St	A	7	1	1,200 to 1,800
57 West 84th St., northeast corner Columbus Ave	C	6	1	31 & 45
349 West 85th St., near West End Ave	B	8	1	1,400
4 and 14 West 92d St., near Central Park West	B	7	1	900 to 1,000
Augusta, 255 West 92d St., near Broadway	B	7	1	720 & 900
Stuart, 250 West 94th St., corner Broadway	B	9	1	1,400
Mathilda Court, 310 West 95th St., near West End Ave	B	8	1	900 to 1,020
375 Central Park West, near 97th St	B	8	2	1,000 to 1,200
Rosary, 306 West 99th St., near West End Ave	B	9	2	1,500
Wendolyn, 322 West 100th St., corner Riverside Drive	A	9, 10, 11	3	2,500 to 3,600
Putnam Court, 150 West 104th St., near Amsterdam Ave	B	4 & 5	1	540 to 660
Salome, 149 West 105th, near Amsterdam Ave	B	6	1	648
3 West 108th St., near Central Park West	B	6	1	660
Cortlandt, 210 West 110th St., near Broadway	A	7 & 8	3	1,600 to 1,900
Yorkshire, 562 West 113th St., corner Broadway	A	7, 8, 10	2 & 3	1,100, 1,500, 2,100
Cliff Haven, 417 Riverside Drive, corner 114th St	A	9	3	2,400
Barieford, 49 Claremont Ave., corner 119th St	B	7	1	1,200
Fair View Court, 175 Claremont Ave., 125th St	B	4	1	480
Woodmere, 561 West 141st St., corner Broadway	A	4, 5, 6	1	630 to 1,000
St. Charles, 565 West 148th St., corner Broadway	C	6	1	540 & 600
Haven Court, 4,241 Broadway, corner 180th St	B	4 & 5	1	456 to 630

N. B.—A—Fireproof Elevator Apartments. B—Elevator Apartments. C—Non-Elevator Apartments.

MANHATTAN—West Side.
NON-HOUSEKEEPING APARTMENTS
B'WAY AT 69TH ST.,
Southeast Corner.
2, 3 & 4 ROOMS
or larger combinations.
Maid service included.
Every Room with permanent outside light and large closet space. Most convenient location in city.
and all meals served in apartments.
RENTAL $900 to $1500
Chas. P. de Casanova, or your own broker. Agt. on premises. Tel., Columbus—3996.

226 W. 70th St.
Bet. Broadway & West End Av.
Fireproof Elevator Apartments Just Completed.
Only One Apartment Left.
5 Rooms & Bath
Rent $1,300.
ALL OUTSIDE ROOMS.
With every improvement that is looked for in the modern type apartments.
Strictly Private House Block.
Just a Step to Subway & "L."

636 Fifth Ave.
Southwest Corner 51st St.
APARTMENTS
The OAKDALE
non-Housekeeping Apartments
36-38 W. 35th St.
NEAR FIFTH AVE.
Suites of 2 and 3 Rooms with bath, furnished or unfurnished. Special suites for Doctors. Hotel service, day and night.
RENTS $500 TO $1,000.
Superintendent on premises.
'Phone 6350 Greeley.

133-135 W. 104th St.
Modern elevator apartments, seven outside rooms, near Subway and "L" station; maids' toilet; all-night service; rent $840; concession.

BANKRUPTCY NOTICES.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR the Southern District of New York.—In the matter of JOSEPH POLISIUK Bankrupt.—No. 20360.
NOTICE is hereby given that Joseph Polisiuk Bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated October 30th 1914, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before United States District Judges in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Monday, December 7th, 1914, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.
PETER B. OLNEY,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
New York, November 4th, 1914.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT Southern District of New York.—No. 20563.—In Bankruptcy.—LOUIS AMDUR Bankrupt.
Louis Amdur was duly adjudicated bankrupt on October 31st, 1914, and the first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, 71 Broadway, City of New York on November 17 1914 at 10 A. M. Creditors may then attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.
Dated, November 2nd, 1914.
STANLEY W. DEXTER,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE MARLBOROUGH-BLENHEIM COMPANY, a domestic corporation, having its principal place of business in the City, County, and State of New York, will apply to the Supreme Court of the State of New York, New York County, at a Special Term, Part I, thereof, to be held at the New York County Court House, in the County of New York, on the 19th day of November, 1914, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, for an order authorizing said corporation to change its corporate name to The Marlborough Corporation and for such other and further relief as may be proper and necessary.
Dated New York, October 6th, 1914.
MARLBOROUGH-BLENHEIM COMPANY,
By F. A. McNAMEE, President.
ELBERT B. HAMLIN, Attorney for Marlborough-Blenheim Company, No. 59 Wall Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

Convenient and durable are the binders for preserving THE NEW YORK TIMES MID-WEEK PICTORIAL WAR EXTRA.
Best collection of photographs of Europe's great conflict. Cloth, $1; imitation leather, $1.35; half leather, gold rimmed, $1.50; by mail. Subscription for the War Extra, $5 a year. THE NEW YORK TIMES, Times Square, New York.—Advt.

APARTMENTS TO LET—Unfurnished.

EDGAR A. LEVY
505 FIFTH AVE.
Tel. Murray Hill 6960.

755 Park Avenue
Corner 72d Street.
New Fireproof Apartment House, situated in most exclusive neighborhood.
One 7 and One 3 Room
Ground floor apartment. Suitable for Physician or living apartment.
9 & 11 Rooms, 3 Baths.
Rental $3,500 to $5,500.
Rental Agent on Premises.
DOUGLAS L. ELLIMAN & CO., 421 Madison Av. Tel. Murray Hill 850.

150 East 72d Street
Southeast Corner Lexington Av.
New Fireproof Apartment House. All Outside Rooms
6, 7 & 8 Rooms, 2 & 3 Baths.
Rental $1,800 to $2,650.
Rental Agent on Premises.
PEASE & ELLIMAN, 340 Madison Av. Tel. Murray Hill 6200.

150 West 79th Street
One DUPLEX and One SIMPLEX APARTMENT of 9 Rooms, 3 Baths, $2,600 per annum.
Bedrooms Have Unobstructed Southern Exposure.
1,211 Madison Avenue N. E. Cor. 87th Street.
9 Rooms & 2 Baths, Rent $1,500 to $1,800.

410 PARK AVENUE
Corner 55th Street
New 12-Story Apartment House
12 ROOMS & 3 BATHS
14 ROOMS & 4 BATHS
19 ROOMS & 8 BATHS
RENTS $4,000 to $11,000
Booklet on Request.
Living Room, 21x32.6
Dining Room, 21x32.6
Estate of Ogden Goelet, Owner.
9 West 57th St., Dept. 2.
Telephone 3460 Chelsea.
Moore & Wyckoff, Agents
546 Fifth Ave., Dept. 2.
Cor. 45th St. Tel. 1263 Bryant.

MANHATTAN—West Side.
The Curlew
Broadway, S. W. Cor. 78th St.
Attractive apartments possessing every up-to-date convenience, excepting elevator service.
2 Rooms.....$47.50
3 Rooms.....$45 to $50
4 Rooms.....$50 to $60
With Bath, Kitchen, and Kitchenettes.
400 Riverside Drive
Corner 112th St.
A Modern, High Class Building Situated at the most picturesque part of the Drive.
5 Rooms & Bath, $780-$900
7 Rooms, 2 Baths, $1,400-$1,500
Apply on premises, or
Calder, Nassoit & Lanning
Phone 8380 River. B'way, cor. 105th St.

"309 West 86th St."
Bet. West End Av. & Riverside Drive
New Fireproof Apartment Hotel.
MAID SERVICE INCLUDED IN RENT.
1 Room and Bath,
$35.00 to $42.50 Per Month.
2 Rooms and Bath,
$55.00 to $75.00 Per Month.
3 Rooms and Bath,
$85.00 to $120.00 Per Month.
Representative on premises or
SHARP & CO.,
Broadway and 99th St. Tel. Riverside 4546.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE
NO. 227, CORNER 93TH ST.
"The HUDSON"
NEW BATHS FOR MAIDS.
Attractive fireproof, modern elevator apartments; also service elevator; rents $840 to $1,200; cheapest rents on Riverside Drive; five to seven rooms. HARRY E. HAYES, 30 East 42d St. Tel. 342 Murray Hill, or Supt.
3 Rooms & Bath, $55.
8 Rooms, 2 Baths, $1,500.
New fireproof elevator apartments; all modern improvements; near "L" station and 96th St. Subway.
55 West 95th St.
West Side, Above 110th Street.

The Sophomore
21 Claremont Ave.,
Just Above 116th St.
A Very Attractive Suite of 8 Large Outside Rooms, Reception Foyer and Two Baths.
Rent only.....$1,400
Eastern exposure, abundant sunlight; overlooking the campus of Barnard College and Columbia University.
Liberal Concession to a reliable tenant.
Apply to Resident Manager, or PATERNO BROS., Owners, 601 W. 115th St.

—WESTBOURNE COURT—
S. E. Cor. 140th St. and Broadway.
Suites of 6 and 7 rooms and bath.
RENT $720 to $1,100.
—KENSINGTON COURT—
N. E. Cor. 151st St. and Broadway.
Suites of 6, 7 rooms and bath.
RENT $660 to $1,000.
—AMBASSADOR—
S. E. Cor. 97th St. and Madison Av.
Apartments of 8 and 9 rooms, 2 baths.
RENT $1,000 to $1,500.
—RENAULT COURT—
207 West 110th St., Cathedral Parkway.
7 and 8 rooms and bath.
RENT $1,000 to $1,200.
C. M. SILVERMAN & SON, Owners.
2,422 Broadway

IMMEDIATE CONCESSIONS
TO THOSE RENTING NOW.
HISPANIA HALL
Delightfully Situated Opposite HISPANIC MUSEUM GROUNDS,
601 West 156th St, N. W. Corner Broadway, at Subway Station.
6 Rooms and Bath, $65.
7 Rooms, 2 Baths, $70 and $75.
(Corner,) 8 Rooms, 3 Baths, $100.
Southerly exposure.
Immediate occupancy on some of above. Continuous elevator, hall, and telephone service.
Bert G. Faulhaber & Co., Agents
On premises, w Broadway, and 156th St.

Ft. Washington Av. Block Front
2 six and 2 four room apartments; elevator; every improvement; exceptional terms. Westwood and Cliftwood Courts, 179th to 180th.

MANHATTAN—West Side.
159 W. 45th St.
CONVENIENT TO EVERYTHING.
Elevator Apartments
6 AND 7 ROOMS WITH BATH.
Only $65 to $75 Monthly
SUPERINTENDENT OR
LEONARD MORGAN, Agent,
104 WEST 42D ST.
3 ROOMS & BATH $50 to $75.
One Apt. Suitable for Doctor.
New Building; Every Modern Equipment
329 WEST 57th ST.
JOHN J. CLANCY & CO., Agents, 900 7th Ave., cor. 57th St.

MANHATTAN—West Side.
Richmond Hill
27 Washington Square North
FACING THE PARK
Corner Apartments Fireproof Building.
6 and 7 Rooms.
Rents $1,250 to $1,500.
CRUIKSHANK COMPANY, 141 B'way.
Big Concessions.
High Class Elevator Apartments. All Improvements.
94th Street, near Riverside Drive.
314 Front Apartment, 7 large, light rooms, bath, and extra maid's lavatory; per year, $1,050.
315 Front Apartment, 5 rooms & Bath, $39.00.
321 Front Apartment, 4 & 5 Rooms & Bath, $52.50 to $65.00.
7 Rooms & Bath, $55.
Large, light rooms; electric light; all improvements; near 93d St. "L" station and Park.
40 West 93d St.

SUMMONSES.

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT. NEW York County.—FELIX M. WARBURG and PAUL M. WARBURG, as successor trustees of the trusts created by Dorothea Wolff, deceased, by deed of trust dated February 6, 1902, as modified by a written instrument dated May 17, 1909, Plaintiffs, against Clara F. Wolff, Stanley L. Wolff, Dorothy S. Wolff, Eliza Kent Wolff, (an infant under fourteen years of age;) the said Clara F. Wolff and Stanley L. Wolff, as executors of the last will and testament of Lewis S. Wolff deceased; the said Stanley L. Wolff, as administrator with the will annexed of Dorothea Wolff, deceased; Addie Kahn, Leah Lang, Carrie Rauch, Louis Myer, Nellie Morris, Fannie Elson, Lottie Elson, Benjamin Frank, Tillie Lehrburger; Fannie Phillips, Flora Wolff, Rosa Keiffer, Phillip Frank, Mathilda Steinam, Edward S. Steinam, Louis Keller, Nanette Jacobs and Celia Loeb, Defendants.
To the above-named Defendants:
You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiffs' attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.
Dated October 1st, 1914.
GUTHRIE, BANGS & VAN SINDEREN, Plaintiffs' Attorneys, Office Address: No. 44 Wall Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.
To the defendants Leah Lang, Carrie Rauch, Louis Myer, Nellie Morris, Fannie Elson, Benjamin Frank, Tillie Lehrburger, Fannie Phillips, Rosa Keiffer, Louis Keller, Nanette Jacobs and Celia Loeb:
The foregoing summons is served upon you pursuant to the order of Hon. Thomas F. Donnelly, Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, dated the 26th day of October, 1914, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of New York County, at the County Court House, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York.
GUTHRIE, BANGS & VAN SINDEREN, Plaintiffs' Attorneys, Office Address: No. 44 Wall Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

SURROGATE CITATION.

BANGS—LEMUEL B.—The people of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to MARY E. BANGS, Nesbitt H. Bangs, an infant over the age of fourteen years; Merwin Bolton Bangs, an infant under the age of fourteen years; Edward Dewey Bangs, an infant under the age of fourteen years, and John Nevin Sayre, designated as an alternative and successor executor; and Timothy Davenport, designated in the will as contingent executor; the heirs and next of kin of LEMUEL B. BANGS, late of the County of New York, deceased, send greeting:
Whereas, Isabel Hoyt Bangs, who resides at No. 32 East 81st Street in the City of New York, has lately applied to the Surrogate's Court of our County of New York to have a certain instrument in writing, with codicil thereto, relating to both real and personal property, duly proved as the last will and testament of LEMUEL B. BANGS, who was at the time of his death a resident of No. 32 East 81st Street, in the City and County of New York, deceased.
Therefore, You and each of you are cited to show cause before the Surrogate's Court of our County of New York, at the Hall of Records, in the County of New York, on the 19th day of November, one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, why the said will and testament should not be admitted to probate as a will of real and personal property.
In testimony whereof, We have caused the Seal of the Surrogate's Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Hon. ROBERT LUDLOW FOWLER, a Surrogate of our said County [Seal.] of New York, at said County, the 9th day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fourteen.
DANIEL J. DOWDNEY,
Clerk of the Surrogate's Court.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS
OF
TOLEDO, ST. LOUIS AND WESTERN RAILROAD COMPANY.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN That the undersigned was, on the 22nd day of October, 1914, duly appointed receiver of TOLEDO, ST. LOUIS AND WESTERN RAILROAD COMPANY by the United States District Court, for the Northern District of Ohio, Western Division, in a suit in equity pending in said court, wherein Horatio C. Creith is plaintiff, and Toledo, St. Louis and Western Railroad Company is defendant, and that the undersigned was also, on the 23rd day of October, 1914, duly appointed as receiver of Toledo, St. Louis and Western Railroad Company by the United States District Court, for the Southern District of Illinois, Southern Division, in an ancillary suit in equity pending in said court, wherein said Horatio C. Creith is plaintiff, and said Toledo, St. Louis and Western Railroad Company is defendant, and that in pursuance of said orders of appointment, the undersigned has duly qualified and given bond as such receiver, and that he is now the duly qualified and acting receiver of said Toledo, St. Louis and Western Railroad Company, and of all of its property and assets, of whatsoever kind, nature and description, wheresoever the same is situated or may be found, and is now in possession thereof.
All creditors of Toledo, St. Louis and Western Railroad Company, excepting those hereinafter specified, are hereby notified that they, and each of them, are required, on or before the 4th day of January, 1915, to file their respective claims with the undersigned, or to file in the above suit, in the United States District Court, for the Northern District of Ohio, Western Division, bills of intervention setting forth their respective claims, and upon their failure so to do, said creditors shall be barred and not permitted or allowed to participate or receive any payments upon their respective claims, either from the income of the property of Toledo, St. Louis and Western Railroad Company, or from the proceeds of the sale thereof.
The above provisions as to filing verified copies of claims or bills of intervention thereon shall not apply to creditors holding prior lien bonds or first mortgage gold bonds or equipment trust obligations, heretofore issued by Toledo, St. Louis and Western Railroad Company, or to creditors whose claims have arisen on account of services, labor, material or supplies furnished to Toledo, St. Louis and Western Railroad Company within a time not exceeding six months prior to the 22nd day of October, 1914, and which have been approved for payment by the receiver and included within the list of creditors furnished by the receiver to the master appointed in said suit.
The undersigned has furnished to the master appointed in said suit, Guy W. Kinney, Esq., No. 1,310 Nicholas Building, Toledo, Ohio, a list of such creditors, as of the date of the 22nd day of October, 1914, whose claims have been so approved by him for payment. Creditors whose claims are included in said list are not required to make proof thereof, but such list will be taken by the master as correct as to all items which are not contested by defendants or other creditors or stockholders of the defendant.
This notice is given and published by order of said courts.
WALTER L. ROSS, Receiver,
Toledo, Ohio.

SURROGATE NOTICES.

BAUMANN.—In pursuance of an order of Honorable Robert Ludlow Fowler, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against GUSTAV BAUMANN, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscriber at her place of transacting business, at the office of her attorneys, Pinney, Thayer & Van Slyke, No. 32 Nassau Street, in the City of New York, on or before the 14th day of May next.—Dated New York, the 23th day of October, 1914. EMILY G. K. BAUMANN, Executrix. PINNEY, THAYER & VAN SLYKE, Attorneys for Executrix, 32 Nassau Street, New York City.

City Property.
Thirty cents a line.

Manhattan—For Sale or To Let.
American basement, private, for sale or rent, furnished dwelling, five story; Otis elevator; modern in every respect; elegantly furnished. Key at 33 West 86th St.

Bronx—For Sale or To Let.
Two-family brick, 1,151 Longfellow Av., 167th, to colored or white; brings $30 monthly; valued $13,000; mortgage $8,700; sell for $2,000 above mortgage; lots of improvements. Cron

For Sale.—Up-to-date cloak, suit, specialty store, thriving manufacturing city; new stock, fixtures; opened April, 1914. X, 268 Times Annex.

This advertisement, in The Times last week, brought eleven prompt replies.
An advertisement in the Business Opportunity column of The Times Saturday, Sunday, and Monday obtains a three-day rate of—
Inquire about this special feature.
Telephone 1000 Bryant.

Apartments to Let
Furnished.
Thirty cents a line.

West Side.

A.—A.—
THE WILSONIA,
225, 227, 229 West 69th St., near Broadway.
1 room, bath, $30; 2 rooms, bath, kitchenette, $45 up; 3 rooms, bath, kitchenette, $50 up; exceptionally clean apartments; no objectionable tenants; phone and elevator service; maid service if desired; near Subway, "L," and surface cars; references absolutely essential. Superintendent on premises. Phone 9620—Col.

A.—A.—CATHEDRAL PLAZA.
166 Cathedral Parkway, 110th, Columbus Av. At Morningside Park, near Central Park.
1, 2, AND 3 ROOMS.
Dishes, cooking utensils, and silver.
Private bath, kitchenette, furnished, $36, $40, $50 up monthly; unfurnished, $25, $30, $40; elevator, hotel service; near "L" and Subway; references; special rates on lease.

A.—A.—Desirable furnished apartments for rent; four rooms and bath to ten rooms and three baths; for six months or longer. Full particulars Slawson & Hobbs, 162 West 72d.

Furnished apartments for rent at the Van Dyck and Severn, Broadway, 72d to 73d St.; 6, 8, and 9 rooms, 2 and 3 baths. Apply to manager, on premises. Tel. Col. 3547.

Attractively furnished, sunny apartment in the Fifties, near Madison Av., eight rooms, two baths, $250 a month for season. Address Room 302, 100 William St.

HOMES OF QUALITY.
Rentals $100 to $1,000 per month.
EVERETT M. SEIXAS COMPANY,
Tel. 4830 Murray Hill. 507 5th Av.

121st, 509 West. (Columbia Grounds Opposite.)—Beautiful duplex studio apartments, four rooms, bath, kitchenette; furnished housekeeping; restaurant. Yetman.

Riverside Drive, 524.—Five rooms; front apartment; attractively furnished; $75; piano. See afternoons. Apt. 3. Telephone 4403 Morningside.

A.—A.—A.—High-class furnished apartments wanted for waiting clients. Send particulars to Slawson & Hobbs, 162 West 72d St.

47th, 16 West.—One, two, three room kitchenette apartments; every convenience; $35 up; partly furnished or unfurnished; references.

Apartment of 4 rooms and bath, facing Broadway; rent to June 1, $90 per month. 250 West 78th St., corner Broadway.

Women's bachelor apartments; private dinner club; breakfast served in room. N 149 Times.

A bachelor apartment, three rooms and bath, 39th St., overlooking park; furnished or unfurnished. N 79 Times.

74th St., 161 West.—Beautifully furnished apartment; private bath; good service; for gentleman.

Riverside Drive, 222, Apt. 4.—Beautiful 9-room apartment; would divide if convenient.

Sunny 3-room suite; use kitchen; handsomely furnished; bargain. Lyons, 207 West 85th.

East Side.

Apartments to let, furnished or unfurnished, high-class hotel service, at bargain prices. A few choice apartments left. Restaurant. Two rooms & bath, furnished, $45 mo. upward. Three rms. & bath, furnished, $60 mo. upward. HOTEL OXFORD, 35 East 27th St. HOTEL ST. LOUIS, 34 East 32d St.

Furnished apartment, Mayfield, 15 East 10th St., 6 rooms, bath; high-class modern building; $200 month. Supt., or Goodale, Ferry & Dwight, 1,133 Broadway.

To sublet from Nov. 1 in THE LORRAINE, 2 East 45th St., a beautifully furnished apartment of parlor, 2 bedrooms, and 2 baths; can be divided.

Apartments Wanted—Furnished
Thirty cents a line.

Two refined gentlemen want bachelor apartment, elegantly furnished, homelike; permanent; Riverside Drive; state detailed particulars. M 360 Times Downtown.

Apartments to Let Unfurnished.
Thirty cents a line.

West Side.

Two rooms and bath; steam, hot water, electric, gas; second floor front; 7 West 24th St.; on lot 25-foot front. Apply premises, or Goodale, Ferry & Dwight, Inc., 1,133 Broadway, (at 26th.) Phone Farragut 9494.

44 West 93d St.—Quiet, well-managed house; one apartment each floor; eight rooms, with private hall and tiled bath; beautifully decorated; perfect light; excellent rear; rent $55.

Liberal concessions for remaining apartments, New Marlkeen, 570 West 156th St., near 157th St. Subway; high-class elevator apartment, with mail chutes, &c.; 3-4 rooms, all outside; $33 to $48. Owner on premises.

8th Av., corner 12th St., overlooking Old Presbyterian Churchyard; 100 feet of lawn in front; two and four room apartments, all outside rooms. Call 12 West 12th St., or Carstein & Linnihen, 221 Fourth Av.

A.—229 West 101st St., (corner Broadway.)—One apartment unrented; five large, light rooms; passenger elevator; rent $780. Firm L. J. Carpenter, 25 Liberty St.

One large room; private bath; 3 closets; mirrors; free electricity; maid service; telephone; $33 monthly. Rebaret Studios, 420 Madison Av.

Attractive up-to-date elevator apartment, seven bright, sunny rooms, two baths; sublet great concession. 536 W. 111th St. Apt. 87.

327 West 36th.—7-8 large rooms; entirely light; elevator; convenient, desirable location; moderate.

12th St., 132 West.—Six nice rooms and bath; steam heat; hot water supply; rents, $45 up. Janitor.

80th St., 14 West.—Private house; bachelors; 2 or 4 room suite; reasonable. Plaza 2121.

Wellsmoor, c. e. cor. 77th St. and Broadway; 3, 7, 9 rooms, $1,000, $1,750, $3,000.

Must sublet 4 rooms, high-class, non-elevator. Superintendent, 542 West 179th.

"Haddon Hall," 596 Riverside Drive, s. e. cor. 137th St. $900 to $1400.

129th St., 30 West.—Six, seven, eight rooms; elevator; $50 to $80.

East Side.

55TH ST., 43-47-51 East, at Park Av., DOCTOR'S apart., 6 rooms, 2 baths; $1,200-$1,250.
RESIDENCE aparts., 6-7 rooms, 2 baths; $1,100-$1,450.
BACHELOR aparts., 3 rooms and bath; $600. All Improvements. Standard Service.

48 EAST 89TH ST.,
southeast corner Madison Av.—Light apartments of 7, 8 rooms; $600, $960.

Floor, private residence; bright, spacious rooms; light housekeeping; $35. 160 East 61st St.

1,761-1,765 Madison Av., (corner of 115th St.)—Six large light rooms and bath; steam heat and hot water; $20-$25.

1,911 Anthony Av., (corner Tremont.)—Six rooms and bath, all improvements; very large, light, attractive rooms; $37.

59th St., 51 East.—Two rooms and bath, elevator. $18. Fred T. Barry Co., Agents, 646 Madison Av.

87th, 47 East.—Two rooms, bath; redecorated; finest neighborhood; conveniences; lease preferred.

62d, 74 East.—4 rooms; top floor; private house; $36 to $40; electricity.

1,767 Madison Av., (near 118th St.)—Seven rooms, bath; steam heat and hot water; $31

104 East 124th St.—Seven large light rooms and bath; $20-$23.

New Jersey.

Apartments for rent, Westwood, N. J. 6 rooms, porches, garden; $31 monthly. 6 rooms, porches, garden; $23 monthly. D. Stoat, 318 Broadway, New York.

Storage
Thirty Cents a Line.

ANSONIA STORAGE CO.
Moving, packing, and shipping; automobile vans for long-distance moving; let us estimate. Send postal 127-129 West 90th St., or Telephone Riverside or 8470 Riverside.

PROMPT DELIVERY FREE.
Want advertisements for The New York Times received at American District Messenger offices in New York City at office rates.—Advt.

Boarders Wanted
Twenty cents a line.

East Side.

8TH AV., 47, (12th St.)—Attractive steam heated room; private baths; table board.

117TH, 26 EAST.—Handsomely furnished single and double rooms; superior table; high-class neighborhood, adjoining 5th Av.; moderate.

17TH ST., 116 EAST.—Newly furnished large and small rooms; excellent table board. Tel. 4275 Stuyvesant.

18TH ST., 210 EAST.—Desirable large and small rooms; home cooking; telephone; references.

21ST, 145 EAST, (Gramercy Park.)—Sunny rooms; private bath; steam; excellent table.

34TH ST., 117-119 EAST.
Large and small rooms, with board.

39TH ST., (342 Lexington Av.)—Cheerful, large rooms; excellent meals; private.

62D ST., 16 EAST.—Single and double rooms; excellent table; parlor dining; reasonable.

76TH, 32 EAST.—Attractive rooms; singly or en suite; ideal location; board optional.

89TH, (1,345 Lexington Av.)—Pleasant surroundings; excellent cuisine; exceptional conveniences; telephone. Gross.

IRVING PLACE, 71.—Large room, private bath; one small room. Gramercy 1978.

MADISON AV., 165.—Large, small rooms, private bath; one block 34th Subway.

West Side.

16TH, 7 WEST.—Large room, private bath; excellent table; telephone; Billiard room.

16TH, 20-22 WEST.—Large room; private bath, &c.; unexcelled board; telephone.

23D, 424 WEST.—Massachusetts lady offers attractive rooms; unexcelled home cooking; reasonable.

36TH ST., 146 EAST.—Desirable rooms; private bath; table board.

49TH, 60 WEST.—Exclusive home; double room; running water; electricity; excellent table.

50TH, 63 WEST.—Large, small rooms in house with owner; board optional.

53D, 64 WEST.—Rooms, private baths; electricity; table board; references.

54TH, 54 WEST.—Newly decorated rooms, private baths; electricity, references.

56TH ST., 62 WEST.—Desirable rooms with board; table board; references required.

57TH, 411 WEST.—Choice accommodations; double rooms; board two, $16; single, $8.

58TH, 37 WEST.—Attractive rooms; private baths; table unexcelled; accessible location; table guests.

68TH, 74 WEST.—Desirable double, single rooms; private baths; Southerners accommodated; reasonable.

68TH, 88 WEST.—Single room for gentleman; bath adjoining; unlimited hot water.

69TH, 111 WEST.—Attractive rooms; all accommodations; table guests. Tel. 10121 Columbus.

71ST, 62 WEST.—Unexcelled board, double rooms, private baths, steam heat, electricity.

72D, 263 and 265 WEST.—Newly furnished, attractive front room; private bath; superior cuisine; dancing evenings

72D, 121 WEST.—Second-floor suite; other rooms; table board; references; telephone.

72D ST., 253 WEST.—Double and single room; southern exposure; superior cuisine.

73D, 142 WEST.—Large and small rooms; handsome suite; board optional; reference.

74TH, 133 WEST.—20th year: large, small rooms; baths; excellent table; references.

76TH, 249 WEST.—Desirable rooms; parlor dining; references.

77TH, 301 WEST.—Select pension for those seeking refined surroundings; exquisite suite in rose, velvet carpets, velour draperies, bedroom suite French gray furniture; private bath; also second floor large, sunny front and rear room, equally elegant furnishings; superior home table; electricity, phone.

78TH, 121 WEST.—Exclusive, private house; large dining rooms; bath; gentlemen; reasonable.

79TH, 114 AND 122 WEST.—Unusual and attractive "pensions," with large parlors, tearoom, and lounge; Southern cooking; white maid service; private telephone; booklet on request.

79TH, 121 WEST.—Large, sunny, front, with board; refined; quiet; newly renovated throughout.

79TH, 122 WEST.—Large and small rooms; electricity; excellent table; Subway, "L."

80TH ST., 106-108-110 WEST, THE HOUSE RICHARDS.—A satisfactory home for refined people; high-type furnishings; pure food; wholesome, generous, well-balanced meals; references.

80TH, 123 WEST.—Homelike accommodations; en suite or single; hot water supply; convenient Subway, elevated; excellent cuisine; references.

80TH, 143 WEST.—Suite two rooms and bath; moderate; small rooms; references.

80TH, 124 WEST.—Desirable large, sunny room; also medium room; generous table.

81ST, 129 WEST.—Large front room, southern exposure, second; also small; excellent table; moderate.

82D, 54 WEST.—Sunny single room on second floor; excellent table; references.

83D, 5 WEST.—Suite, singly; private bath; modern improvements; table unsurpassed; references.

83D, 17 WEST.—High-class Jewish house, home surroundings; excellent table; table guests.

86TH ST., 26 WEST.—Two fine rooms, singly or en suite; private house; homelike; references.

86TH, 23 WEST.—Large, sunny, front room; single rooms; unexcelled table; table guests.

86TH, 114 WEST.—Large and small rooms; references.

88TH, 261 WEST.—Sunny front room; all conveniences; medium-size room; references.

94TH, 16 WEST.—Newly renovated rooms; electric lights; excellent cuisine; telephone; reference.

94TH, 147 WEST.—Desirable room; parlor, dining room; excellent table; telephone; electricity.

96TH, 54 WEST, (near Central Park.)—Good rooms and board; terms moderate.

97TH, 309 WEST.—Large, outside, sunny room; lavatory; steam; electricity; attractively furnished; private family; block Subway, "L"; references essential; high-class elevator apartment. Rosert.

104TH, 257 WEST, (West End Av.)—Sunny rooms; private house; board; references.

105TH, 76 WEST.—Spacious front room; also suite; exceptional table; reasonable; Southerners.

110TH, 141 WEST.—Few refined guests accommodated; reasonable, home comforts; handsome apartment.

112TH, 605 WEST.—Lovely rooms; home table; elevator; suitable one or two; near Broadway and Riverside. Apt. 51.

113TH, 560 WEST.—Two large rooms, private bath; excellent cuisine.

120TH, 414 WEST.—Accommodations for one or two gentlemen; handsomely appointed bachelor apartment; excellent cuisine; evenings. Apt. 3D.

121ST, 139 WEST.—Large, small rooms; excellent accommodations; terms moderate.

140TH, 455 WEST.—Large room; electricity; large closets; bath; unexcelled cuisine.

145TH ST., 623 WEST.—Room, with board; all home comforts; corner Riverside Drive, near Subway station; moderate.

BROADWAY, 2,468.—Beautiful warm, sunny room, overlooking Hudson; nursing water; small, congenial family; excellent table; couple, $20, $14 for one; single room, adjoining bath, $8. Apt. 15.

THE EVELYN LODGE.
Charming Winter residence; lovely view. Beautiful rooms; most excellent cuisine; every modern convenience; unusually attractive. Single, $10-$12; two, with meals. 71 Central Av., St. George, S. I.

THE WOODBURY, 855 RIVERSIDE DRIVE, two blocks north of 157th Subway; country house; wonderful grounds. Audubon 4412.

Board Wanted
Twenty cents a line.

WANTED.—Refined young gentleman desires room and board, private family, or very refined house; references exchanged confidential; between 40th and 50th Sts. S 11 Times.

Refined couple desire large, comfortable front room and board, private house, 76th to 86th, Lex. to 5th Avs. S 122 Times.

Country Board
Thirty Cents a Line.

New York City.

EDGEHILL INN, SPUYTEN DUYVIL ON THE HUDSON.
An all-year-round home for a few guests; beautifully situated, combining country charm and city comfort; tennis, bowling, and billiards; convenient to riding paths; transit facilities Subway and New York Central. Address Miss Mary Huntington.

Westchester County.

Fall and Winter engagements now made; large, well-heated house, large dining room; beautiful river view; unexcelled home cooking. Highcliff Hall, Park Hill, Yonkers, N. Y., 2,161 Yonkers.

MOTT HOUSE, Tarrytown.—First-class family hotel; large, spacious rooms; steam heat, shower baths, billiard, music rooms; excellent table; rates $2 up. Tel. 123 T.

Furnished Rooms
Twenty cents a line.

East Side.

17TH ST., 130 EAST.—Desirable room, with or without board; steam heat; $4 up.

21ST, 139 EAST.—"Gramercy Park." Rooms without board; steam heat; $4 up.

24TH, 120 EAST.—Large room, private bath, Southern exposure $7; front room, running water, bath adjoining, $5; refinement.

30TH, 137 EAST.—Well-furnished room, large closet; next to bath. Heaton.

36TH, 38 EAST.—Extra large front room for two or three business people; references.

43D, 4 EAST.—Desirable suite of rooms for bachelors; hot water heat, electricity, telephone service; breakfast optional; references exchanged.

47TH, 131 EAST.—Large handsome room, bath adjoining; private house; telephone; references.

53D, 65 EAST.—Elegant large, small rooms; select private house; all conveniences; refined surroundings; moderate. Tel Plaza 1304.

72D, 230 EAST.—Large room; every convenience; private family; bath; references required.

IRVING PLACE, 16.—Front rooms; box spring beds; tiled bathrooms; absolute cleanliness.

LEXINGTON AV., 462.—Two large, handsomely furnished rooms; bath; every convenience; also back parlor; refined private home, (owner.)

MADISON AV., 175.—Handsomely furnished large room; private bath; breakfast optional; references.

West Side.

97TH ST., 36 WEST.—Large and small rooms, all conveniences; telephone; references.

12TH, 34 WEST.—Newly opened, decorated, private bath, also en suite; steam, electricity; telephone.

32D ST., (between Broadway and 6th Av.)—Room, with private bath, $10 to $12 per week; same price for one or two persons in room. Hotel Aberdeen.

32D ST., near Broadway, (Hotel Strand.)—Very desirable apartment of parlor, bedroom and bath; $75 per month.

37TH ST., 17 WEST.—Room and bath; also small single room; references. Tea room. 953 Greeley.

40TH, 66 WEST.—Large room, adjoining bath, in high-class private house; references required; bachelors.

49TH ST., 56 WEST.—Large, pleasant room with bath; private house; references.

47TH, 41 WEST.—Beautifully furnished room; steam; all conveniences; refined.

47TH, 16 WEST.—Desirable suite, kitchenette, bath, heat, hot water, service; $15.

50TH ST., 43 WEST.—High-class house offers accommodations to gentleman; rooms hot, cold water; baths; breakfast if desired.

52D, 241 WEST.—Small and large rooms; shower bath, telephone; all conveniences; near Broadway. Columbus 5489.

52D, 236 WEST.—Beautiful sunny room; suitable 3 gentlemen; nice couple. Pierce.

53D, 62 WEST.—Parlor floor; equipped doctor's office; large rooms; private bath.

55TH ST., 101 WEST.—Furnished rooms; heat; running water; southern exposure. Collins.

55TH, 329 WEST.—Nice, clean, well-heated room; quiet, respectable house; telephone.

56TH, 306 WEST.—Exceptionally quiet, well-kept rooms, adjoining bath; beautiful parlor.

57TH, 200 WEST.—Large, small rooms; modern improvements; Subway, elevated; references. Hammond.

57TH, 356 WEST.—Desirable single, double rooms; running water, heat; refined house.

61ST, 28 WEST.—Beautiful back parlor and other fine rooms; phone; bath.

68TH, 47 WEST.—Large room, with bath; private residence.

69TH ST., 50 WEST.—Attractive, sunny rooms; private bath; electricity; 1 flight up; gentleman.

70TH, 367 WEST.—Beautifully furnished, connecting rooms, private bath; also medium size rooms and bath, heat, electricity; breakfast if desired; gentlemen; reference.

70TH, 194 WEST.—Large, comfortable rooms, bath adjoining; continuous hot water; references.

70TH, 138 WEST.—Room; private bath; steam heat; electricity; private house; gentlemen.

70TH, 122 WEST.—Handsomely furnished rooms; parquet floor; rugs; hot water; heat; gentlemen.

70TH, 136 WEST.—Beautiful south room; private bath; also large, running water.

71ST, 132 WEST.—Large room, one flight, containing strictly private bath; southern exposure; suitable for two gentlemen. Call mornings only.

71ST, 220 WEST.—Just opened, newly decorated and furnished large, small rooms; beautiful home; hot water; telephone; reference.

71ST, 163 WEST.—Handsomely furnished room; continuous hot water; Subway around corner.

71ST, 147 WEST.—Private family offers single rooms or suite; meals optional.

71ST, 306 WEST.—Desirable rooms, large, small; bath; $3, $6. 9987 Columbus.

72D ST., 47 WEST.—Two front rooms; bachelor only; southern exposure; use of kitchen and bath; $40 per month.

72D, 129 WEST.—Physician's suite; large, small rooms; bachelors only; owner's residence.

72D, 268 WEST.—Parlor, running water, business, living, large, medium, front rooms.

73D, 272 WEST, (Between Broadway and West End.)—Double, medium, single; showers; electricity; references.

73D, 153 WEST.—Attractively furnished large and small rooms; electricity; telephone; Subway express.

73D, 173 WEST.—Pleasant, warm room for two; also single.

74TH, 165 WEST.—Comfortably furnished new room adjoining bath, single or double; private house; elegant neighborhood; near Subway.

74TH, 149 WEST.—Attractive rooms, suitable one or two; private baths; references.

75TH, 56 WEST.—Attractive rooms, single or double; adjoining bath; private home.

75TH, 116 WEST.—One large room, private house; electricity; steam heat; references.

76TH ST., 125 WEST.—Attractive, sunny front rooms; exclusive neighborhood; breakfast; telephone; references.

76TH ST., 171 WEST.—Large, second-story room, southern exposure; running water, shower, electricity.

77TH ST., 102 WEST.—Elegant double room, private bath; select house; parlor. 10033 Schuyler.

77TH, 141 WEST.—Large, well-furnished room, bath adjoining; electricity; (private family.)

77TH, 159 WEST.—Exceptionally large room, with or without bath; southern exposure; references.

77TH, 160 WEST.—Newly decorated large, small rooms; gentlemen; also physician's office.

78TH, 112 WEST.—Newly furnished large, small rooms; every convenience; pleasant home.

78TH, 166 WEST.—Exceptionally well-furnished large room; near bath; electricity; Subway.

79TH, 178 WEST.—Beautifully furnished rooms; private bath; southern exposure; telephone.

79TH ST., 218 WEST.—Delightful large room; southern exposure; running water; Subway; references.

79TH ST., 149 WEST.—Attractive large room; ideal location; convenient Subway and "L."

79TH, 225 WEST.—Large room, private bath; electricity; front room; Subway; references.

80TH, 144 WEST.—Elegant large and medium rooms; private baths; excellent table.

81ST, 251 WEST.—Business man or woman can find REALLY DESIRABLE and well-furnished rooms in high-class elevator apartment, connecting or single; southern exposure; near Subway and elevated.

81ST, 119 WEST.—Rooms; private house; concessions to reliable parties; references.

82D, 134 WEST.—Large room, adjoining bath; running water; reasonable rates; gentlemen.

82D, 38 WEST.—Private family; rent two beautiful front sunny rooms; references M. M. Levy.

83D, 68 WEST.—Beautiful large room; private bath; southern exposure; other rooms board.

83D, 140 WEST.—Attractive rooms; large, small; reasonable, telephone; private house; references.

83D, 115 WEST.—Attractive large and small sunny rooms; private bath.

83D ST., 133 WEST.—Well furnished suite or single; private house; telephone, elevator.

83D, 11 WEST.—Warm, comfortably furnished rooms; quiet, refined, homelike surroundings; moderate.

84TH, 104 WEST.—Furnished room; comfortable, homelike; elevator apartment; second floor. Quinn.

84TH, 128 WEST.—Rooms, suitable one or two; housekeeping if desired. Goldenstar.

85TH, 405 WEST.—Private house; conversation; women; references. Schuyler 6660. Barcas.

85TH, 130 WEST.—Private house; large, small; home surroundings; central location; telephone.

86TH ST., 236 WEST.—Two rooms, front; suite, private entrance; home; lady or gentleman; private residence. Phone [illegible]

Furnished Rooms
Twenty cents a line.

West Side.

86TH, 120 WEST.—Private house; exceptionally attractive; large and small rooms; references.

237 WEST 86TH.
Rooms, southern exposure, near Riverside; Subway.

87TH, 323 WEST.—Good-sized room next bath; electricity; private house; gentleman.

88TH, 173 WEST.—Excellent room, every convenience; private house. 4307 Schuyler.

91ST, 46 WEST.—Large room, dressing room, suitable for two; clean, select house; references.

91ST, 64 WEST.—Handsomely furnished, large, medium rooms; convenient "L," Subway; reference.

93D, 140 WEST.—Newly decorated house; large rooms for two; very low rates.

93D, 149 WEST.—Newly decorated house; sanitary, large rooms; $6 and $7.

94TH ST., 315 WEST.—American lady offers room, elevator apartment, private family. Gill.

96TH ST., 259 WEST.—Exceptionally well-furnished front room; breakfast optional. Lina.

96TH, 319 WEST.—Well-furnished front bedroom, elevator apartment; near Riverside; $7.

98TH, 316 WEST.—Single room; quiet home; bath adjoining; gentlemen. Apartment 41.

99TH, 171 WEST.—Medium front; running water; business lady only; refined. Post.

99TH, 231 WEST, (Corner Broadway.)—Handsome room, running water; board optional. T C.

97TH ST., 230 WEST, (Corner Broadway.)—Very large, cheerful front room; also single room; running water, heated; for people who would appreciate congenial home and good meals in high-class elevator apartment; reasonable. Barger, Apt. 7C.

97TH, 230 WEST.—Room, facing Broadway, for one or two; single room, heated, running water; board optional; business people; elevator. Apartment 6-A.

97TH, 64 WEST.—Attractive rooms; well kept; reasonable. Telephone 8249 Riverside.

97TH ST., 141 WEST.—Large and medium sized room; comfortably furnished; good home cooking; table guests.

101ST, 16 WEST.—Attractive rooms; telephone, electricity; housekeeping, $4; smaller, $2.50. McNamara.

103D, 145 WEST.—Beautiful rooms, suitable for gentlemen; private house; telephone; references.

103D, 239 WEST.—Elevator apartment; pleasant room; convenient cars; private family. Nahm.

103D, 128 WEST.—Elegant, large, sunny front, back rooms; bath; all cars.

105TH, 248, (Broadway.)—Sunny front; private family; elevator; superior table optional. Phillips.

107TH, 205 WEST.—Attractive parlor with bedroom adjoining; also single room. Virtue.

111TH, 605 WEST.—Large, attractive room in exclusive apartment; permanent. Blackman, 6289 Morningside.

111TH ST., 511 WEST, (Apartment 2.)—Exceptionally light, steam-heated rooms; block Subway; first floor front; $3, $4.

112TH, 511 WEST.—Bright, well furnished single; electricity, steam heat. 3582 Morningside. Clark.

114TH, 610 WEST.—Double, single rooms; private baths; steam heat; electricity; reasonable.

114TH, 419 WEST.—Sunny, newly furnished rooms; elevator; references. Apartment 5C.

117TH, 352 WEST.—Comfortably furnished room; elevator apartment; near Subway, "L" express station; no other roomers. Apartment 55.

118TH, 417 WEST.—Attractively furnished, decorated large, small rooms; telephone; splendid restaurant. Sullivan.

118TH, 414 WEST, (near Columbia.)—Attractive, homelike rooms; sonable; elevator; telephone. Smith.

118TH, 425 WEST.—Attractive outside light rooms; kitchen privileges; modern apartment. Lawrence.

118TH, 370 WEST, corner Morningside Av.—Alcove room, small room; housekeeping. Ball.

119TH, 430 West, (opposite Columbia.)—Gentleman occupying apartment offers outside room to another gentleman; dining room. Apartment 37.

119TH, 121 WEST.—Front double room; running water; southern exposure; refined house.

119TH, 367 WEST.—High-classed; all improvements, telephone; private house; very reasonable.

121ST, 157 WEST.—Large, small newly decorated rooms, excellent board, for gentlemen seeking homelike surroundings; table guests accommodated.

121ST, 509 WEST.—Attractively furnished single or double room; excellent restaurant. Yetman.

122D, (126 Claremont Av., Riverside.)—Cozily furnished room in elegant apartment. Volmer.

122D ST., (3,060 Broadway.)—Cheerful, sunny, newly furnished room; apartment; $3.50. Brown.

122D, 523 WEST.—Choice rooms, $5 up; also two-room suites. Sherman.

124TH, 542 WEST.—Furnished bedroom, adjoining bath, with private family. Apt. 35.

125TH, 215 WEST.—Private family, two rooms, all conveniences, telephone, privileges; reference.

129TH, 217 WEST.—Large, sunny room; every convenience; private house; breakfast optional.

129TH, 1 WEST.—Newly furnished, best order, room, parlor floor, kitchenette, telephone.

136TH, 539 West.—Large, light, comfortable; private family; elevator; reasonable. Apt. 64.

140TH ST., 448 WEST.—Handsome rooms; bath; breakfast optional; references. Phone 7981 Audubon.

142D, 683 WEST.—Handsome rooms; overlooking Hudson; continuous heat, hot water; excellent table; telephone; select private home; references.

144TH, 608 WEST.—Woman; one flight; in 6 P. M. Phone, electricity. Lewis.

156TH, 501 WEST.—Attractive light room; modern conveniences; private family, $8. Conried.

164TH ST., 545 WEST.—Furnished room; gentlemen; references. Apt. 1D.

179TH, 600 WEST.—Room for gentleman, every convenience. Apt. 31. Phone Audubon 3870.

181ST ST., 605 WEST, (near Broadway.)—Two attractively furnished rooms with bath, to let to women in modern apartment. Mrs. Walker.

ALLERTON HOUSE, 300 WEST 22D ST.
(For Bachelors Only.)
Hotel and club conveniences; new fireproof building; elevator, hot and cold water in every room; tub and shower baths; all outside rooms; single rooms, $4 to $7 weekly; rooms for two, $7 to $9.50 weekly each.

A.—RIVERSIDE DRIVE, 740.—Beautiful, large room, facing drive; private family; shower bath; elegantly furnished. Telephone 4570 Audubon. Apartment 6B.

BROADWAY, 2,880, (112th.)—One or two large, desirable rooms, adjoining bath, in high-class apartment; business man or woman; permanent. Tel. 3903 Morningside. Vosburgh.

BROADWAY, corner 90th St., (Wolliston.)—Large front room, exquisitely furnished in white; Oriental rugs, piano; $14, beautiful home for high-class people; also smaller rooms; all transit facilities. 8D.

BROADWAY, (112th St.)—Fine large room in high-class apartment; adjoins bath with shower; business man or woman. Vosburgh, 2,880 Broadway. Tel. 3903 Morningside.

GENTLEMAN desiring superior accommodations, highly artistic bachelor quarters, find same, moderate price, 348 West 105th, corner Broadway. Dalee.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE, 222, (corner 94th.)—Elegantly furnished suite, 2 or more rooms, with private bath; single rooms; board optional.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE, 552, (Apt. 6F.)—Unusually attractive room; Hudson view; Subway; breakfast or board optional. Phone 7023 Morningside.

ROOM adjoining bath with small private family in Riverside Drive; references required. Address Reasonable, N 146 Times.

WEST END AV., 611.—Magnificent large room; private bath; also medium sized room; electricity; 91st Subway; private family; references.

WEST END AV., 842.—Room, with private bath; will arrange kitchenette, also give use of living room; references.

Rooms Wanted
Twenty cents a line.

Furnished.

TWO QUIET ROOMS and bath, for music studio, vicinity Grand Central or near 5th Av., 40th to 50th; apartment or private house; must be absolutely respectable; rental moderate. S 116 Times.

LARGE, steam-heated, southern exposure rooms, kitchenette; between 20th and 30th Sts.; terms. Address Y 209 Times Annex.

Unfurnished.

On Nov. 1, six rooms and bath; steam heat; two subway, north and 1 east; give full particulars. E. S. 1005 M Ave.

Unfurnished Rooms
Twenty cents a line.

46TH, 66 WEST.—Large room, adjoining bath, in high-class private house; references required; bachelors.

97TH ST., 130 WEST.—Large, light, front room, bath; private residence; suitable for studio or bedroom.

Help Wanted, Female
Twenty-five cents a line.

BEST & CO.,
FIFTH AV. AT 35TH ST.,
Require experienced saleswomen for womens' suits, coats, and dresses. Only those accustomed to high-class trade need apply.

BOOKKEEPER and CASHIER.—Young lady as bookkeeper and cashier. Apply in own handwriting, stating experience and salary desired, S 108 Times.

CHAMBERMAID, WAITRESS wanted; small family; references required. Call forenoon, 8 East 86th St.

COOK.—Wanted in small family, a cook to assist ironing; references required. Call forenoon, 8 East 86th St.

DESIGNER, FITTER, first class; one who controls business; must have best of references; good opportunity. S 123 Times.

FILING CLERKS, competent, wanted. Particulars, Walter Rowlan, Post Office Box 1,467.

HOUSEWORK.—Intelligent white girl for general work; must speak English. Apply evenings, Apt. 1A, 411 West 114th St.

STENOGRAPHER and TYPIST.—Thoroughly competent young woman of education and refinement, accustomed to tabulated work on wide-carriage machine; state age, references, and salary expected to commence. M 353 Times Downtown.

Instruction.
Thirty cents a line.

A SPECIAL COURSE FOR TRAINING SECRETARIES,
at a reliable school. Registered and Inspected by the Regents of the State of New York. Day and evening session. Individual instruction; monthly payments. PRATT SCHOOL, 64 West 45th St. Known throughout the country for thorough work.

Employment Agencies.

Colored help, well recommended, procurable Modern Agency, 101 W. 138th. Audubon 7260.

Help Wanted, Male
Twenty-five cents a line.

BUYER AND MANAGER
for
WOMEN'S WEAR DEPARTMENT.
Give detailed history of business career and complete personal description.
All replies treated strictly confidential. Letters returned if stamped envelope inclosed.
No applicant investigated unless permission is given.
Address by letter only,
PRESIDENT,
THE CHARLES WILLIAM STORES,
New York City.

CORRESPONDENT and credit manager; one really competent and able to take charge of this work in a high-class ladies' business. Address in own handwriting with full particulars as to past experience, capabilities, and salary desired. A. Simonson, 506 5th Av.

INVESTMENT BROKER or stock salesman wanted to handle high-class proposition; commission. Address 223 Hamilton St., Allentown, Penn.

MACHINE SHOP SUPERINTENDENT familiar with manufacture of engines and pumps. National Employment Exchange, 30 Church St.

OFFICE AND GENERAL BUSINESS MAN UNDER 30 YEARS IN MERCANTILE ESTABLISHMENT; SALARY ABOUT $1,800. G 28 TIMES ANNEX.

SALESMAN.—New York embroidery lace importers have opening for energetic, representative to show their strong line of box lots to medium and goods trade; commission basis; no advances until results are shown; give full particulars as to territory, experience, &c. L 24 Times.

TIME STUDY MAN, with technical education and some knowledge of scientific management. Apply Robert Gair Co., foot Washington St., Brooklyn.

Instruction.
Thirty cents a line.

Bedford Branch Y. M. C. A. Automobile School for owners and men seeking positions as chauffeurs. Booklet and visitor's ticket free. Monroe St. and Bedford Av., Brooklyn.

EARN while learning mechanical dentistry; NUMEROUS POSITIONS WAITING; growing demand everywhere for mechanical dentists; pleasant, steady, high-paying occupation; taught practically, rapidly, and thoroughly; mornings, afternoons, or evenings; NEW concise method, most highly approved; individual instruction; easy payments.
THE DENTAL SCHOOL OF AMERICA,
(Dept. T.) 25 W. 45th. Tel. Bryant 2046.

MEN.—Great demand; a splendid income is assured the mechanical dentists of today; positions secured, $20 to $50 and upward weekly; taught thoroughly in 3 to 6 months; lay or evening; no book study; easy payments; earn while learning; apply now. Bodee's Dental Trade School, Dept. T, 489 5th Av., near 42d. The first school recognized by the Dental Profession. Est. 1892.

SALESMEN wanted; experience unnecessary; easy work, big pay; write (or call) for particulars and large list of opening offering opportunities to earn $100 to $500 a month while you learn. Address National Salesmen's Training Association, Dept. 1,001C, Candler Building, Times Square, New York.

Employment Agencies.

E. W. CARPENTER EXCHANGE (Agency.)
SINGER BUILDING.
PAYROLL AUDITORS, (2,) expert at figures, $75 per month.
CLERKS.—One at $15; 2 at $12; must be accustomed to figuring invoices.

Agents Wanted
Thirty-five cents a line.

USE your spare time to build up a mail order business of your own; we help you start for a share in profits; 27 opportunities; particulars free. Opportunities Exch., Buffalo, N. Y.

Situations Wanted
Fifteen cents a line.

Female.

ATTENDANT, &c.—Experienced Englishwoman, (38 years,) good reader, needlewoman, situation as attendant or lady's maid. W. M., 112 East 106th St.

BOOKKEEPER'S ASSISTANT, knowledge typewriting, stenography; competent, reliable; 3 years' experience. Miss Steiner, 527 Beekman Av.

BOOKKEEPER. — Double entry; typist; 5 years' experience; highly educated; versed up-to-date methods; $12. M 315 Times Downtown.

BOOKKEEPER-STENOGRAPHER — Clerk; correspondence, office; trial balance; American; $12. M 362 Times Downtown.

BOOKKEEPER, typist, financial statements; modern methods; trial balance; $10-$12. M 355 Times.

BOOKKEEPER, stenographer; charge correspondence; office trial balances; modern methods; $10-$12. M 354 Times.

BOOKKEEPER, typist, cashier; 4 years' experience; good worker. Bail, 317 E. 75th.

CHAMBERMAID.—Lady wants to place chambermaid, Norwegian whom she can recommend highly. Tel. Columbus 2733.

CHAMBERMAID wishes position, country hotel or club. Address W., S 121 Times.

COOK, &c.—Situation wanted by two competent women; one cook and laundress, the other chambermaid and waitress; five years' reference from last place; city or country. S 120 Times.

COOK and WAITRESS.—Lady wishes to place cook and waitress together or separate; best references. 126 East 71st. Telephone 6088 Lenox.

COMPANION.—Refined young woman; German-American; useful companion to lady, semi-invalid; cheerful, obliging; plain sewer; good reader; fond of music; good reference. M 350 Times Downtown.

COMPANION.—Refined young lady wishes position as companion in family, west side apartment; good home as member of family more than compens

RIVAL PRESIDENTS RULE IN MEXICO

Carranza Sets Up His Government at Puebla, Gutierrez at Aguascalientes.

VILLA MOVES ARMY SOUTH

Said to Have Arrested Delegates Opposed to Him at Peace Convention.

ANTI-AMERICANISM AROUSED

Gen. Funston Reports That the Capital Is Stirred Up by Demands for Withdrawal of Troops.

EL PASO, Nov. 4.—Mexico, with two Executives, had two capitals today, neither of them Mexico City.

Gen. Carranza, who for several days has been at Puebla, between Mexico City and Vera Cruz, today ordered his Cabinet Ministers, with the archives of the Government, to proceed there.

The other capital is at Aguascalientes, scene of the recent conference of revolutionary chiefs. Gen. Eulalio Gutierrez, elected by the convention as provisional President, officiated at that city.

With the admitted split between Carranza and Villa there came today the taking sides by the various chieftains. The Carranza General Consulate here tonight announced that several of the most important leaders had joined the Carranza side. Among them Gen. Alvaro Obregon, commander of the western military zone, who has acted as a neutral in the Carranza-Villa difficulty; Gen. Lucio Blanco, cavalry leader of Obregon's division and formerly chief of the eastern zone, and Gen. Antonio Villareal, who has been President of the Aguascalientes convention.

Villareal and Blanco left Aguascalientes today for Mexico City. Gen. Pablo Gonzalez, commander of the eastern military zone, previously had acknowledged his loyalty to Carranza.

According to the troops commanded by these leaders, Carranza is stronger than Villa. Villa, however, has a much better organized army and superior equipment. The West Coast country with the exception of Sonora, now dominated by Maytorena, a Villa adherent, has joined Carranza, his agents declare.

Arrests By Villa Reported.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—The State Department received a dispatch from Mexico City tonight stating that it was reported there that Villa's troops had occupied Aguascalientes and placed certain of the delegates to the peace convention under arrest. No details were given and the information was sent not as a fact but as a report that had been received at the Mexican capital. Carranza's refusal to abide by the decision of the Aguascalientes Convention, naming Gen. Eulalio Gutierrez as Provisional President, is responsible for the movement of Villa's troops into Aguascalientes and southward toward Leon.

Gen. Funston today sent a dispatch to Secretary Garrison, the text of which was not made public, but which stated that he had received reports from Mexico City, indicating that there was considerable anti-American feeling there, and bearing out reports which told of proclamations being spread around the Mexican capital demanding that the American troops be withdrawn from the Port of Vera Cruz.

These proclamations followed the arrival at Mexico of the third note from the American Government, sent on Sunday, demanding that definite guarantees be given by the Mexican Central Government before the United States would carry out its previously announced decision to withdraw soldiers and marines from Vera Cruz.

It was learned today, by inquiries at the State Department, that the United States had not been officially notified of the action of the convention in naming Gen. Gutierrez as Provisional President and that it was still looking to Carranza as the responsible party in control of the Mexican capital.

First Skirmishes.

Special to The New York Times.

TORREON, Nov. 4.—Skirmishes between Carranza and Villa outposts south of Aguascalientes may mark the beginning of fighting between the two factions, which are now marking time. At Aguascalientes the Carranzista peace delegates are reported to be held as hostages by the Villa forces. The town is in control of Villa with 100 heavy pieces of artillery in command of Gen. Felipe Angeles parked in the Plaza and hundreds of rapid-firers in box cars on the railroads sidings and ammunition ready for use. Before Sunday it is expected to have 25,000 troops in the Southern part of the State of Aguascalientes, and they will resist any northern invasion.

Villa is holding his other troops in reserve, excepting those who are to be sent to Mexico City as an escort for Gen. Eulalio Gutierrez, who will assume the Provisional Presidency at once. This invasion of the capital is not expected to be seriously resisted, as Gen. Carranza is now established at Puebla and is preparing to make his stand there. Villa has not only accepted Gutierrez, but has placed his army at the disposal of the new Provisional President.

Reports from Puebla quote Carranza as saying that if his Generals will stay with him he will fight, but if they are disloyal he will go into exile. He brands Villa and his faction as the same traitors who aided in the overthrow of Madero and are now trying to repeat it with him. Carranzista officials in Northern Mexico are fleeing from the border to prevent arrest by Villa's agents.

Carranza Refuses to Yield.

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 4.—"If all the chiefs of the Constitutionalist Army abandon me, I will abandon my native land, but if, on the other hand, any part of them sustain and uphold me we will fight until death." These are the defiant words with which Gen. Carranza is credited in a statement given out at the Mexican Consulate here, after the receipt of a telegram from Puebla late today.

The statement said Gen. Carranza had issued the following relative to the action of the delegates at Aguascalientes: "These valiant Generals have made effective a resignation that has never been presented or forwarded by me, and which I have never presented, and they may even go so far as to appoint a President. And by this last act they have fallen into a trap prepared for them by some of the Madero Congressmen. It was these men who were responsible to a great extent for the overthrow of the democratic Government of the Apostle Madero, and the same men are now causing more trouble for the nation through their intrigues and ambitions."

A JOINT RECITAL.

Mme. Schnabel-Tollefsen and Mr. Horatio Connell Appear Together.

Mme. Schnabel-Tollefsen, pianist, and Mr. Horatio Connell, baritone, joined forces in a recital last evening in Aeolian Hall that attracted a good sized audience. The programme was made up, perhaps necessarily, of somewhat ill assorted elements. Mme. Schnabel-Tollefsen, after she had played Grieg's ballad in G minor, a set of variations on a Norwegian air, devoted herself almost wholly to pieces of a light and brilliant character.

These she played correctly enough, in a neat and sparkling style, but with only an approximation to the fire and sweep that such things need, if they are to count for much. Thus, Tausig's coruscating caprice on Strauss's waltz, "Man lebt nur einmal," should stir and dazzle the listener, beguile him with insinuating rhythms; and it did not.

Such pieces contrasted ill with Mr. Connell's more serious matter. Most conspicuous among it was the air "Triumph Now Is Mine," from Bach's cantata: "I With My Cross-Staff Gladly Wander," a nobly executing song with many florid passages, presenting technical problems with which he struggled valiantly and with a large measure of success. A more fully determined legato would have improved Mr. Connell's style in many passages of this and in Brahms's "Ruhe, Suesliebchen," from the "Magelone" cycle.

He put some excellent declamation into Granville Bantock's "If That Angel of Shiraz," an oriental setting that begins promisingly but wanders off into vague phrases. Songs by Fini Henriques, Ward Stephens, and Roger Quilter, and an air from Wolf-Ferrari's setting of "La Vita Nuova" were his other numbers. They were all in English, and Mr. Connell's diction was throughout exceptionally finished and clear.

TOWNSEND—HEWITT.

Daughter of Mrs. Robert Hewitt Married to Charles Coe Townsend.

The marriage of Charles Coe Townsend, son of Mrs. James Rodman Townsend of New York, and Miss Blythe Hewitt, daughter of Mrs. Robert Hewitt and the late Mr. Hewitt, took place at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Mrs. Hewitt's home at Ardsley-on-Hudson. A special car attached to the regular train took the New York guests to and from the wedding. The Rev. Theodore Sedgwick of Calvary Church, this city, officiated.

The bride wore a gown of old point lace over satin that was worn by her maternal grandmother and her mother, and all of her married sisters at their weddings. The court train and veil were also of old point lace, and the orange blossoms on the veil were those worn by the bride's mother. She carried white orchids, and her only ornament was a diamond brooch, the gift of Mrs. Hewitt.

Miss Bessie Hewitt was her sister's maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were the Misses Elisabeth Hare Powel and Eleanor Rodman Townsend, a sister of the bridegroom. They wore cream-colored chiffon frocks topped by large black satin hats, and carried yellow roses. Little Edith Hewitt Jaffray, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl, wearing a white Kate Greenaway gown, and a mob cap tied with blue ribbons.

Lester Sewall of Boston, a nephew of the bride, was the page. He wore a page's costume of white corded silk. Arthur Rodman Townsend was his brother's best man.

After their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Townsend will live in New York.

Chinese Art Objects to be Sold.

On exhibition at the Anderson Galleries from Saturday, Nov. 7, will be an interesting collection of Chinese art objects, the property of Charles Lechevrel of Caen, Normandy, France, made during a residence of thirteen years in China. There are three wonderful old palace screens in the collection, many decorative Chinese paintings and framed panels, and a delightful lot of snuff bottles. The old carved wood Buddhas and other figures are particularly fine. There are porcelains, dark blues, light blues, celadon, blues and white, and a cabinet full of green. There are jades and crystals and many necklaces with Chinese rugs. The collection will be sold in six sessions, the afternoons of Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday and Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Nov. 18 to 21, at 2:30 and 8:15 P. M.

Needlework Guild to Aid Institute.

The New York City Branch of the Needlework Guild of America will hold a public meeting in the assembly hall of the United Charities Building, at Fourth Avenue and Twenty-second Street, on Nov. 11 at 11 o'clock in the morning, to extend relief work among the needy during the Winter. A contribution of two or more garments or any sum of money annually constitutes membership. The garments and funds are distributed among destitute. Contributions may be sent to Miss Grace Bigelow, President of the New York Branch, 21 Gramercy Park; Mrs. Harold G. Henderson, Treasurer, 82 Irving Place, or Mrs. Hoffman Atkinson, Secretary, 501 West 120th Street.

FARMER SHOT DOWN, HIS WIFE MURDERED

Richard von Krebs Attacks Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rheil Near New Brunswick.

ARMED POSSES IN PURSUIT

Fugitive Slayer Is Man of Mystery, Who Once Was in Asylum for the Insane.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 4.—Scores of farmers, armed with shotguns or rifles; squads of the city police, and county detectives are searching the countryside tonight for Richard von Krebs. Von Krebs murdered Mrs. Henry Rheil this morning as she ran to the rescue of her husband, whom he already had shot down.

The fugitive is a madman, who has been confined in the State Hospital for the Insane at Trenton. He has made threats against most of the prominent residents of this city and the surrounding country, believing that they have opposed him in the many legal entanglements in which his hatred of the law has involved him. He is a German, between fifty-five and sixty years of age, of splendid physique, and a crack shot with rifle or revolver. He is a former army officer and frequently has asserted that the German Government supports him, and that at one time he was a member of the Kaiser's household. Nevertheless he was once butler to ex-President Roosevelt's father.

Railroad stations and trolley terminals are being watched and every road away from this city is patroled tonight by armed guards, for it is feared that von Krebs may try to execute some of his threats. No trace of the man has been found since he ran from the Rheil farm, three and a half miles from this city, shortly after 10 o'clock this morning.

It was an hour after that time when Rheil, so weak from loss of blood that he practically crept the last few hundred feet, reached the home of John Hess, 300 yards away from his own house. To Hess he told the story of the murder and the attack on him. He said he was digging radishes in a patch near his home, when he heard footsteps and glanced up to see von Krebs approaching him, his face distorted with rage.

Without a word and before Rheil could speak von Krebs fired two shots at the farmer from a revolver, and Rheil fell with bullets in his side and stomach. He screamed, and his wife rushed to the door of their cottage. Rheil lay helpless on the ground, and saw her run toward him. He saw von Krebs turn and saw him aim. Then he heard the report and saw his wife pitch forward on her face, her arms outstretched toward him. He tried to get to his feet, but before he managed it von Krebs, who still had spoken no word, rushed off down the road.

After telling his story the former became unconscious. Hess telephoned for help, and while Rheil was being carried to St. Peter's Hospital here, County Detectives Richard Feltner and John Ferguson sped in a racing automobile to the scene of the murder. They found no trace of von Krebs and, realizing the peculiarly dangerous character of the man, hurried back here and gave the alarm which turned out the countryside.

Rheil, who probably will die of his wounds, told Prosecutor W. Edwin Florance that he knew of no reason for the attack on him except that von Krebs was his landoird and recently had ordered him to move. Von Krebs has acquired considerable property in the vicinity of this city; most of it farm land, which is tenanted by renters. For some time he has been attempting to oust these tenants, and Rheil already had moved most of his household goods to a new home a short distance down the road. His daughters, one 15 and the other 13, were arranging the new home when von Krebs appeared.

Von Krebs has a local reputation as a strange character. Twenty years ago he gave testimony which convicted two men of murder, and their innocence was established only just in time to save them from death. Von Krebs waylaid President Wilson, then Governor, as he left the Opera House here on the evening of Oct. 11, 1911, and attacked Circuit Court Judge Frank W. Lloyd on Oct. 30, 1912. Each time police were at hand to take him in charge, but recently he had behaved so well that it was believed his mental ailment had been cured and so he was not confined.

Miss Blanche Goode's Recital.

It is doubtful if Miss Blanche Goode, who gave her first New York piano recital yesterday afternoon in Aeolian Hall, was well advised in appearing at this time in public. There are attractive features about her artistic personality and her playing, but she is as yet not fully prepared to meet the demands which are necessarily made upon a public performer. Her audience yesterday was friendly and indulgent, but its attitude was hardly that of the general public toward an artist from whom musical edification is expected. Miss Goode's technique is not yet sufficiently secure for what she undertook; and technique in a public performer must be taken for granted. And in interpretation she too often failed to penetrate beneath what lies on the surface. She made a venturesome attempt in her first number, Schubert's sonata in A minor, Op. 143, a composition not easy to make interesting—not so easy as one or two of Schubert's other sonatas that sometimes appear on pianists' programmes. Miss Goode's attempt was in itself commendable; but it cannot be set down as wholly successful. She played, also, pieces by Brahms, and six of Chopin's Etudes.

WHITBY, 1¾ in. high
ATLANTA, 2½ in. high
ARROW COLLARS
2 for 25¢
Cluett, Peabody & Co., Inc. Makers

4 PHOTOS $1.50
Of yourself, finished in ETCHING FORM, size 5x8. Regular price $12 per dozen. Also made from new or old photos. With this Coupon
"The Photographer In Town"
New York Paris Boston Phila.
L. Bamel
516 5TH AVE., at 43d St.
1 WEST 34TH ST., opp. Waldorf.
115 WEST 42D ST., near B'way.
245 BROADWAY, at City Hall.
1269 BROADWAY, at 32d St.
1482 BROADWAY, at 43d St.
172 FULTON ST., Brooklyn.
CUT THIS COUPON NOW and save $8.50. Good Until Dec. 1 Only.

HIPPODROME
6th Av., 43-44 Sts. Daily Mats. 2. Best Seats $1.
WARS OF THE WORLD
Evs. at 8 1000 Choice Orch. Seats at $1.50. Gallery Seats at 25c. and 50c.

HIPPODROME NEXT SUNDAY
Sousa
SEATS NOW ON SALE.

A BIG HIT
CASINO B'way & 39th Mats. Wed. & Sat.
"SUZI" MADE A TEN STRIKE." —Herald.
SUZI
With JOSE COLLINS
Connie Ediss, ew Hearn, Fritzi von Busing, Robert Evett, Melville Stewart, Arthur Lipson and TOM McNAUGHTON

Winthrop Ames' LITTLE Theatre W. 44th St. Evgs. 8:45. Matinees Wed. & Sat. 2:30.
Cyril Harcourt's Comedy.
A PAIR OF SILK STOCKINGS
All Seats $2.00.

BOOTH Thea. 45th W. of B'way. Evgs. 8:30. Matinees Wednesday & Sat. 2:30.
MOST TALKED OF PLAY IN NEW YORK.
Experience
BETTER THAN "EVERYWOMAN"
Prices 50c to $2. Good Seats in 1st Balc. 50, 75c, $1.
PRINCESS 39th, near B'way. Evgs. 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15.
FOUR WONDERFUL ONE-ACT PLAYS, including "Little Face' a bare-legged scream."—Herald.
SHUBERT Thea. Ev. 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15.
MR. FAVERSHAM with MLLE. DORZIAT in BEST ACTING—BEST PLAY.
THE HAWK
Maxine Elliott's 39th, nr. B'way. Evgs. 8:30 Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:30.
WHITESIDE in "MR. WU"
44TH ST. Theatre, near B'way. Phone 7292 Bryant. Evs. 8:20. Mats. Wed. & Saturday 2:20.
The Dippel Opera Comique Co.'s
LILAC DOMINO
"WINS IN A WALTZ." —Evg. Sun.
CORT 48th St., E. of B'way. Phone Evgs. 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. (Pop.) Bryant 46
Under Cover
Manhattan OPERA HOUSE, 34th & 8th Ave. Evgs. 8. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2.
LIFE
"On a Gargantuan scale."—World. Prices 25 cents to $1.50. 500 Good Orchestra Seats at $1.00.

WINTER GARDEN B'way & 50th. Evs. at 8. Mat. Today Best Orch. Seats $1 & $1.50.
DANCING AROUND
AL JOLSON and Co. of 125. Incl. BERNARD GRANVILLE.
SUNDAY NIGHT CONCERT—15 Star Acts.
COMEDY 41st, E. of B'way. Evgs. 8:15. Matinees Tues. & Sat. 2:15.
Marie Tempest
Supported by W. Graham Browne and London Company.
in HENRY ARTHUR JONES' Comedy.
"MARY GOES FIRST"
Frothy, sparkling high comedy. Miss Tempest an unfailing delight.—De Foe, World.
Delicious comedy. Splendid acting.—Owens, Press.
A remarkably well written play. Remarkably well acted.—N. Y. Herald.
Bright comedy. Skillful playing.—Turnbull, Tribune.
39TH ST. THEATRE, near B'way. Evs. 8:15. Matinees Wednesday & Sat. 2:15.
NEXT MATINEE SATURDAY.
JOE WEBER Offers
The Only Girl
By Henry Blossom and Victor Herbert.
"Delightful blend of music and comedy."—World.
"Will appeal to all classes of amusement seekers."—Eve. Post.
LYRIC 42D STREET, West of Broadway. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15.
See how the Philadelphia school teacher put to rout a band of Kentucky mountaineers!
New Kind of Play —Herald.

THE BATTLE CRY
"REALISTIC AND STIRRING."—World.
with WILLIAM FARNUM and GRACE ELLISTON
Prices 25c. to $2.00. Wed. Mat. Highest Price $1.
William A. Brady's PLAYHOUSE 48 St., E. of B'way. Evenings 8:20 Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:20.
My Lady's Dress
By EDWARD KNOBLAUCH.
MOST REMARKABLE PLAY IN NEW YORK.
48th St. THEA., E. of B'way. Evs. 8:15. $1.50 Matinee Today 2:15.
THE LAW OF THE LAND with JULIA DEAN.
Standard B'way & 90th St. Evs. Pop. Prices. Matinee Today 25c & 50c.
"The Third Party" with TAYLOR HOLMES and WALTER JONES
Next Week—Guy Bates Post—"OMAR."

CANDLER West 42d St. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Wed. (Popular) & Sat.
"ON TRIAL"
BIGGEST HIT IN 25 YEARS. SEATS ON SALE AT BOX OFFICE.
WALLACK'S B'way & 30 St. AT 8 SHARP. Mats. Wed. and Sat.
THE HIGHWAY OF LIFE By Louis N. Parker
Adaptation of Dickens' David Copperfield.
SPECIAL RATES FOR SCHOOLS.
PARK Phone Col. 9 5 9 9 Col. Circle. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:10. Evs. 8:10
Mrs Patrick Campbell in G. BERNARD SHAW'S "Pygmalion"
Moving to Liberty Theatre Nov. 9th.
LONGACRE THEATRE, W. 48th St. Ev. 8:30 Mats. Wed. (Pop.) & Sat. 2:30.
"KICK IN"
with JOHN BARRYMORE & ALL-STAR CAST.
ASTOR Broadway and 45th St. Evenings 8:20 Matinees Wed. (Popular) & Sat.
"THE Miracle Man"
GEO. M. COHAN'S MASTERPIECE.
Bronx Opera House 149th St. and 3d Ave. THE DUMMY
Evs. 8:20 to $1. Mat. Sat.
Next Week—"THE THINGS THAT COUNT."
Rose Gardens Theatre Broadway and 52d Street
FOUR TIMES DAILY—2, 3:30, 5 & 8:30 P. M.
"THE SPOILERS" Rex Beach's Sensational Photo Drama.
A Tale of Heart Throbs and Thrills. Prices 25c. and 50c.—No Higher.
Sole Management Ed. E. Pidgeon.
B'way Rose Gardens B'way, 52d St. 3 P. M. to 1 A. M.
Low Quinn, Hortense Zaro and others. Admission Free till 10 P. M.

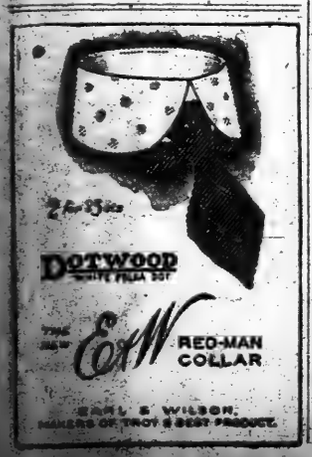
B. F. KEITH'S PALACE B'way, 47th St. Daily Mat. 25c. Irene Franklin & Burton Green, Mae Murray & John Jarrott, Creasy & Dayne, Henry E. Dixey, Others.
COLONIAL Daily Mat. 25c. Kitty Gordon, Adelaide & Hughes, Jas. & Bonnie Thornton, Cross & Josephine.
ALHAMBRA Daily Mat. 25c. Eddie Leonard & Mable Russell, "THE BRADS SHOP," Valerie Bergere.
BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA Dr. Carl Muck Conductor. CARNEGIE HALL TONIGHT AT 8:15 SAT. AFT., NOV. 7 at 2:30
AEOLIAN HALL, Fri. Eve., Nov. 6, at 8:15
Song Recital Percy Hemus
PROGRAM OF AMERICAN COMPOSERS.
VITAGRAPH 46TH ST. & B'WAY 2:30 and 8:30. TWO WOMEN THE LITTLE ANGEL OF CANYON CREEK
COLUMBIA B'way & 47th. Burlesque. Mat. Rose Sydell's LONDON BELLES Today
MURRAY HILL Evs. 8:15. Burlesque Mat. Today. CHARMING WIDOWS.
SUBSCRIPTION Seats in all parts of Metropolitan Opera House for grand opera season 1914-15 Now on sale at BULLMAN'S, 111 BROADWAY. Telephone, 3617—Rector.
OPERA TICKETS Telephone 4100 Greeley. Subscriptions bought and exchanged for Metropolitan. 1,500 Broadway cor. 35th St.

MAJESTIC MATINEES SATURDAY. 800 Seats Evening $1.
TOO MANY COOKS
Next Week—"The Third Party." Seats Selling.
DE KALB MATS. Wed., Sat., 25 & 50c. EVES., 25, 50, 75 & $1.00.
Mme. Petrova in "PANTHEA."
Next Week—"TOO MANY COOKS."
2 PRIVATE LESSONS, $3
At REMENYI'S, 162 E. 86 St.
MISS BOBBY BURNS, 6 East 41st St. Murray Hill 4345. ALL MODERN DANCES. PERSONAL ATTENTION.
FRANCES MORGAN, 102 West 71st St. Columbus 2007. Private Instruction in All Latest Dances.

THESE LEADING NEW YORK THEATRES HAVE NO DEALINGS WITH THE TYSON CO.
EMPIRE B'way & 40th St. Evs. 8 sharp. Matinees Wed. & Sat. 2:10.
WILLIAM GILLETTE BLANCHE BATES MARIE DORO
In Sardou's Masterpiece. "DIPLOMACY."
LYCEUM West 45th St. Evgs. at 8:20. Mats. TODAY & Sat. 2:20.
ELSIE FERGUSON IN "OUTCAST" by HUBERT HENRY DAVIES.
KNICKERBOCKER, B'way, 38th St. Ev. 8:10. Matinees Wednesday & Saturday 2:10.
JULIA SANDERSON DONALD BRIAN JOSEPH CAWTHORN
THE GIRL FROM UTAH
HUDSON W. 44th St., E. of B'way. Ev. 8:15. Matinees Wed. & Sat. 2:15.
ROSE STAHL "A PERFECT LADY."
GEO. COHAN'S THEATRE, B'way, 43d St. Mats. Wed. (Pop.) & Sat.
"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE"
A LAUGHING RIOT.
BELASCO 44 St., E. of B'way. Ev. 8:20. Matinees TODAY & Sat. 2:20. MATINEE TODAY AT 2:30.
Leo Ditrichstein — Phantom Rival
ELTINGE 42d St., W. of B'way. Evs. 8:20. Mats. Wed. (Pop.) & Sat. 2:20.
INNOCENT with PAULINE FREDERICK
REPUBLIC West 42d Street. Evenings 8:20. Mats. Wed. (Pop.) & Sat. 2:20.
LEW FIELDS IN THE HIGH COST OF LOVING
New York 39th to 41. Last Week. Mat. Sat. JOHN MASON "Big Jim Garrity." PETROVA in "PANTHEA."
B'way, 45th St. Next Week—Mme. Eves. 25c to $1. Matinees 25c and 50c.
GLOBE Broadway at 46th St. Evs. at 8:15. Matinees Wed. & Saturday 2:15.
MONTGOMERY & STONE CHIN CHIN CHIN

NEW AMSTERDAM W. 42d St. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
MUSICAL COMEDY MEANS MUSIC AND LAUGHTER.
KLAW & ERLANGER'S NEWEST MUSICAL COMEDY.
PAPA'S DARLING
MEANS MORE MUSIC AND LAUGHTER THAN YOU EVER HEARD BEFORE!
ZIEGFELD DANSE DE FOLLIES NIGHTLY (Except Sunday) 9:30. Atop New Amsterdam Theatre. Tel. 3893 Bryant.
"BAL TABARIN" NEXT SATURDAY NIGHT.
GAIETY THEATRE, B'way, 46 St. Evs. 8:15. Matinees Wed. & Sat. 2:15.
RUTH CHATTERTON IN A NEW COMEDY BY JEAN WEBSTER
DADDY LONG LEGS
LIBERTY West 42d St. LAST WEEK. Mats. Wed. (Pop.) & Sat. 2:30.
DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS in HE COMES UP SMILING
NEXT MON Mrs. Patrick Campbell In G. Bernard Shaw's "PYGMALION."
Tomorrow Night at 8:30 (Seats Now)
HARRIS 42d St., W. of B'way. Evs. 8:30. FIRST MATINEE SATURDAY 2:30.
NAZIMOVA in "THAT SORT." A New Modern Drama by BASIL McDONALD HASTINGS.
FULTON 46th St., West of B'way. Evs. 8:30. MATINEES WED (POP.) & SAT. 2:30.
Twin Beds
WEBER'S Nov. 29 St. Arts. & Nights. CABIRIA ENTIRE ORCH. 25c

$27.50 = $50.00 or More
You will admit the palpable truth of this statement when you see the array of foreign materials we are offering in our Silk-Lined Sale of made-to-measure suits and overcoats.
Many tailors would charge more than $50, for the silk-lined suits and satin-lined overcoats we are making this week for $27.50.
Our Full Dress Suits at $40, Tuxedos at $35 and Cutaway suits at $30.50, would cost from $60 to $75.
Call and examine the fabrics and be convinced.
Broadway at 9th St. Arnheim



DOETWOOD
THE E&W RED-MAN COLLAR
EARL & WILSON, MAKERS OF TROY & BEST PRODUCT.

SHANLEY'S
Broadway—43rd to 44th Street
HOUSE OF PRE-EMINENT QUALITY
Superior Six-Course Luncheon, 75¢ (Music)
Breakfast in Grill Room from 8 A.M.
Cabaret Extraordinaire
Twenty Acts Every Evening 7 to 1
Restaurant also in the Shopping Zone—Broadway 29th-30th St.

"Travel Without Trouble"
Imendorf
ARTIST, TRAVELER, RACONTEUR.
CARNEGIE HALL
Sunday Eve. at 8:30. Monday Aft. at 2:45.
"AROUND THE WORLD"
THROUGH THE PANAMA CANAL.
Colored Views, Motion Pictures and Narrative by Mr. ELMENDORF.
TICKETS NOW 50c TO $1.50
THE JUDGMENT OF PARIS
SOIREES ET MATINEES ARTISTIQUE, HOTEL RITZ-CARLTON BALLROOM.
Nov. 9 and 16, 2:45 and 9 P. M.
DANCING EVENING DRESS
Tickets Tyson Co. Offices.
Benefit for the relief of the destitute families of artists in France.

CENTURY Central Park W., 62d St. Nights at 8. Mats. at 2
Today Mat., Fri. & Sat. Nights: "TALES OF HOFFMANN." with Ewell, Freeman, Macbeth, Howard, Harrold, Kreidler, Kaufman, Zuro. Tonight and Sat. Mat.: "BOHEME," with Stanley, Castles, Kingston, Chalmers, Weldon, D'Angelo, Jacchia. Nxt. wk.: "Tales of Hoffmann" and "Aida." CONCERT SUNDAY NIGHT.

Theatre Francais Century Theatre Lyceum, 62d St., Central Park West
Opens Mon. Ev., Nov. 16 | Auspices of French Drama Society
SEATS NOW ON SALE AT BOX OFFICE.
AEOLIAN HALL, Wed. Aft., Nov. 11, at 3.
Song Recital Madame JOHANNA Gadski
50c. to $2. Management LOUDON CHARLTON.
AEOLIAN HALL, Sat. Aft., Nov. 7, at 3.
Recital by HAROLD BAUER MASTER PIANIST
50c. to $2. MASON & HAMLIN PIANO.
Amy Grant's OPERA RECITALS, Sundays, 3:30, at 78 W. 55 St. Nov. 8—"SIEGFRIED." Phone 714 Plaza.
IRVING PLACE THEATRE.
Every Night & Sat. Mat., "LIEB VATERLAND."
Strand B'way, 47th St. Noon to 11:30 P. M. 10c to 50c. John Barrymore in "The Man From Mexico." Strand Orch. & Quartette. Next Week—"The Man from Home."
HAMMERSTEIN'S—Singer's Midgets, Joe Howard & Mabel McCane, Robt. L. Dailey, Daisy Marie, Norcross & Holdsworth. 10 other acts.

Hotel Bretton Hall

BROADWAY, 85 to 86 St.
Largest and Most Attractive Uptown Hotel.
Large, Quiet Rooms, with bath, or suites, for transient or permanent residence.
All the comforts of New York City's BEST Hotels at one-third less price.

Great Northern Hotel
118 West 57th Street, New York City
The very latest all fire-proof hotel. 400 light rooms, each with private bath. The most attractive hotel in New York today. Right next to Central Park, Carnegie Hall, Art Insitute, etc.
Beautiful Rooms with Bath, $2.00.
Luxurious Parlor, Bedroom and Bath, one or two persons, $4.00 and up.
Superior cuisine and service at exceptionally moderate prices.
Write for our colored map of New York.

HOTEL BERKLEY
170 W. 74th St.
CORNER OF AMSTERDAM AV.
APARTMENTS
Unfurnished by the year.
RENTALS FROM $800 ANNUM
RESTAURANT A LA CARTE.

"Chez" Maurice (Formerly Palais De Danse). B'way & 50th. Phone 8260 Col. Nightly, including Sunday, 10:30 until closing. The Dansants, Tuesday, Thursday & Saturday, 4:30 to 6:30 P. M. Free Demonstration by Maurice MAURICE and Florence WALTON.
THE KING'S FAVORITES.
FINE BAND—EXQUISITE CUISINE.
HOTEL BRESLIN B'WAY & 29TH STREET.
SPECIAL LOW RATES MADE TO A FEW PERMANENT GUESTS DURING FALL & WINTER.
22 Years at This Address MEANS Something.
MODERN DANCES
TAUGHT IN NINE LESSONS, $5.
Entirely separate rooms for Private Lessons, which can be had any time without appointment from 10 A. M. until 11 P. M. daily. Expert lady and gentlemen teachers always in attendance. All Ball Room Dances guaranteed for $5; 4 class lessons, $1.
3½ HOURS DANCING, 25c
Instructors will dance with you without extra charge every afternoon, including Saturdays and Sundays, from 2 to 6 P. M., and every evening except Saturdays and Sundays, from 7:30 to 11 P. M.
The REMEY SCHOOL FOR DANCING.
919 5TH AV. (at 54th St.)
Phone 4587 Plaza.
Send for FREE illustrated booklet.
THE "EXCEPTIONAL" SCHOOL
MR. G. HEPBURN WILSON, M. B.
"The American Authority on Modern Dancing."
Fifth Avenue, New York
N. W. Cor. 46th Street—Thorley Bldg.
Unquestionably the BEST—Because of its intense EXPERT nature. 18,000 private pupils last season means not only a World's Record, but it marks a distinct difference from the ordinary school.
Call or phone Bryant 6331 for Interesting literature on "FALL and WINTER STYLES of Modern Dancing" by Mr. G. Hepburn Wilson, M. B.

E. FLETCHER HALLAMORE has removed from 64 East 34th St. to THE BARNARD STUDIOS, Broadway, Cor. 110th St. Tel. River 9577.
The same infallible method and courtesy that have distinguished his services during the last fifteen years will be maintained.
FOX-TROT, LU-LU-FADO, ALL DANCES.
Call for trial lesson. Terms reasonable.

Lu Lu Fado FOX TROT. TANGO ONE STEP
Hesitation, Maxixe, Polka Tango taught privately or classes. A. ALBERT SAATO, Broadway, 86th to 87th St. Tel. 6485 Schuy. Private and Social Classes. Booklet.
MANSFIELD Studios, 247 W. 42d. Bryant 8874. Select. Est. 1906.
Latest modern dances taught privately and in class. Each pupil has room with instructor during private lessons; no one to laugh at your mistakes. Circulars mailed.
ROTH STUDIO
Modern and Stage Dances. Private Lessons. Expert Instructors. 221 West 46th St. Tryon Bryant 8830.

THOMAS HEALY 'Phone, 9900 Columbus
BROADWAY AT 66th STREET
In the Main Dining Room EVERY EVENING
ROYAL BELGIAN ORCHESTRA
Under the Direction of MONSIEUR DE MENGE.
Hors-Concours Paris Conservatory
THE BALCONADES (Third Floor). The most magnificent ballroom in New York

CAFÉ DES BEAUX-ARTS
Famous for Service
Atmosphere of Indefinable Charm
DINNER AND SUPPER DANCES
Grill Luncheon 75c
Beaux-Arts Dinner $1.50
"Really Different"
SIXTH AVENUE AND 40TH ST. Opposite Bryant Park

REISENWEBER'S 58th Street and Columbus Circle
DINNER (6 to 9) $1.00. BEEFSTEAK DINNER, $1.25
Sloane & Morgan in Dances at 10:30. Dan Caslar's Orchestra.
Afternoon Teas 4 to 7. Complimentary Tea and Dancing Partners.
Friday Eve'g, Nov. 6, MONTGOMERY & MOORE NIGHT Special Vaudeville Programme.

RECTOR'S New Ball Room
Broadway at 48th St. Luncheon Dansant 2 P. M.

Carlton Terrace Broadway and 100th Street
JOAN SAWYER'S PERSIAN GARDEN
Broadway & 50th St. (Ent. on 50th). Phone 1122 Col.
Nightly, Incl. Sunday, from 10:30 till closing.
MISS JOAN SAWYER Assisted by NIGEL FARRIS
Dan Kildare's Band—Cuisine International.
Thes Dansants Every Wed. & Sat. Wonderful Prices.

Luchow's
14th Street, near Fourth Ave.

RESORTS.

Special Announcement
The Marlborough-Blenheim,
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.,
in order to accommodate its increasing regular Fall and Winter patronage, and also those Americans and Canadians who are prevented by the European war from being abroad, will keep both the Marlborough side and the Blenheim side of the house open this winter, instead of closing one side during November and December, as heretofore.
This will enable the supplying of a PRIVATE BATHROOM with hot and cold salt and fresh water with every room, and for these bathrooms no extra charge will be made during the Fall and Winter Season. The house occupies two blocks of ocean front, and its heated parlor-solariums overlooking the Boardwalk and the sunny south ocean exposure are most attractive.
Exquisite music every evening throughout the year.
White service in both the a la Carte and the American plan dining rooms.
ATLANTIC CITY,
with its invigorating, bright Fall climate, is particularly attractive over week-ends at this season. Golf, roller chairs, theatres, and countless recreations and amusements.
Ownership management JOSIAH WHITE & SONS COMPANY.

NEW YORK—Long Island.

5 Minutes from Herald Square
FOREST HILLS INN
New Fireproof Hotel
Attractive, convenient; Tennis Courts; Squash Court, Pool and Billiard Room.
Moderate Rates.
Take Long Island (Electric) R. R. at Pennsylvania Station; 13 minutes to Forest Hills, L. I.
FOREST HILLS INN, Forest Hills, L. I.
For further information or booklet, inquire on property, or at New York Office, 47 West 34th St., Room 716.

NEW YORK—Westchester County.
THE MOUNTAIN HOUSE
VALHALLA, WESTCHESTER CO., N. Y.
9th season; 45 min. to 42d St., on Harlem R. R.; 70 acres; park and lawns; 500 ft. elevation; 10 min. from station; own dairy and vegetable garden; rates $3 and up. Booklet.

NEW JERSEY—Lakewood.
Laurel-in-the-Pines
Lakewood, N. J.
A highly attractive and healthful resort for Fall and Winter sojourn.
An abundance of lake-side walks and drives.
Private tennis courts and putting greens. 18-hole golf course.
Daily orchestral concerts.
Fall Tournament Lakewood Country Club, Nov. 5, 6, 7.
FRANK F. SHUTE, Mgr.

FLORENCE-IN-THE-PINES, Lakewood, N. J. Private baths. Hot and c

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER
Fair today and tomorrow; diminishing northwest winds.
For full weather report see Page 13.

VOL. LXIV...NO. 20,740. NEW YORK, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1914.—EIGHTEEN PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City and Newark. Elsewhere TWO CENTS.

OUR NAVY TO HAVE GIANT SUBMARINES

Biggest and Fastest Under-Water Craft in the World Designed for Us.

TO GO WITH FLEET ANYWHERE

Twice as Large as the Present Vessels and Powerful in Proportion.

READY TO ASK FOR BIDS

Design Completed and Approved—Surface Speed 21 Knots—Will Burn Oil for Power.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Designs have been completed and specifications prepared in the United States Navy Department for a new and distinct type of submarine which will outclass submarines such as the German U-9 class, just as the first dreadnought excelled the old type of battleship. It will probably be the greatest submarine afloat.

The new craft will be known as a fleet submarine. It will displace about 1,200 tons, which means that it will be twice the size of any submarine now afloat. The aim is to build a submarine of high speed and great defensive power that will be able to accompany the American battleship fleet and never to ing behind. It will be about 300 feet long, this length being necessary both to install the more powerful propelling machinery and to find space for the increased equipment of reserve torpedoes and extra torpedo tubes.

The new fleet submarine will have its own wireless outfit and will have a cruising radius of about 3,500 miles at twenty-one knots speed. It also will have rapid-fire guns for self-defense, and will carry enough torpedoes to sink a modern fleet of dreadnoughts.

Bids for the new vessels will be opened at the Navy Department on Dec. 15. The confidential plans and specifications for this powerful new craft are now in the possession of builders who are at liberty to bid upon the design submitted by the department or to modify the design and submit bids accordingly. The cost of the new type of submarine will be about $1,250,000. It is to be built under the Naval Appropriation act enacted by the session of Congress just ended, containing an appropriation of $4,460,000 for eight or more submarines, and carrying a clause that failed to attract public attention. This clause directed the Navy Department to construct a fleet submarine of not less than twenty knots' speed.

Submarine Destroyer.

Because of its size, which will be that of a large torpedo-boat destroyer, the new type of vessel has been termed a submarine destroyer, and also as a diving destroyer, by layment in the department familiar with the Government's plans. But naval constructors and high ranking officers in the navy insist that it is not a destroyer, but distinctly a new type of submarine—their word being a "fleet submarine," but the whole idea is that it will be able to go anywhere that an ocean-going destroyer or the battleship fleet may go.

It was learned tonight that both France and England contemplate the construction of similar fleet submarines, but were keeping their plans secret. American naval officers say the navy's submarine knowledge has been so far developed that the new submarine will be superior to any one of its type now being contemplated abroad.

In the British Admiralty there is growing belief that the fleet submarine will take the place of the destroyer when the new type has been fully developed. This idea is also held in American naval circles. The idea of the designers of the new craft is that the fleet submarine will be able to do in the day time what the ocean-going destroyers accompanying a fleet are expected to accomplish in an attack on the enemy's fleet at night.

New Craft Speedy.

The new fleet submarine, which will be twice the size of the new M-1 type, authorized in 1912 and 1913, and is to have a cruising radius of 3,500 to 4,000 knots, will have more than 16 knots speed when navigating under water. The M-1 is designed for a radius of about 3,500 knots at 11 knots speed on the surface and for about 120 miles at 5 knots under the surface. The new fleet submarine will have double the surface speed and carry three times the under water speed of those previously authorized for the American or foreign navies.

The motive power will be Diesel international combustion engines, and will burn heavy fuel oil instead of gasoline, which is now only being used in submarines. This use of heavy oil fuel alone will give the new submarine greater driving power, which will be still further increased by the length of the craft.

The torpedo-defense guns to be mounted on the new fleet submarine do not involve a new idea. All the latest submarines are being provided with rapid-fire guns. These are not intended for offensive but for defensive use, to drive off attacks by destroyers accompanying the enemy's fleet. The fleet submarine will not carry many more guns than the latest type now in commission.

TO SEE MERCURY'S TRANSIT.

Will Be Visible Through Small Telescopes, Says Dr. Brooks.

GENEVA, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Dr. W. R. Brooks, Director of the Smith Observatory and Professor of Astronomy at Hobart College, said tonight that the transit of the planet Mercury across the sun's face on Saturday morning would be visible in the eastern portion of the United States.

Dr. Brooks said the planet would be about half way across the sun's face at sunrise and would pass off at 9 A. M. It would appear, he said, like a round black spot, and would be visible through small telescopes, properly screened with dark glass.

CUBAN SOLDIERS PLANNED MASSACRE

Premature Collision With Police Prevented Wholesale Slaughter in Havana.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

HAVANA, Nov. 5.—The Heraldo de Cuba, a Conservative newspaper, declares that the Cuban soldiers whose attack on the Havana police last night resulted in one soldier being killed and three policemen fatally and four others slightly wounded, planned a massacre of policemen which was only prevented by a premature collision. The soldiers planned to gather in large numbers in a vacant lot and then march to the office of the Secretary of Government, killing all policemen met on the way.

The authorities have adopted the strictest precautions to prevent a further outbreak, over thirty soldiers being arrested.

ELECTION FRAUD IN CUBA.

Annulment May Follow Irregularities—Tremendous Totals Shown.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

HAVANA, Nov. 5.—The elections of last Sunday may be annulled on account of enormous frauds. It was notorious that less than 10 per cent. of the electors voted, yet the final count shows that nearly 1,200,000 votes were cast for Congressmen in Havana Province alone, when the entire population of Cuba is only about 3,000,000.

DOYLE TO WRITE WAR BOOK.

Material for It to be Gathered Direct from the Front.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Friday, Nov. 6.—It is understood that Sir Arthur Conan Doyle means to write a book on the war, gathering material direct from the front and from those who have been there.

NEW AID TO SURGERY.

Dane Invents Apparatus to Photograph Interior of Stomach.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 4, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—An apparatus which should prove of considerable service to the surgical profession has been invented by M. Shirn Friedricksen. It photographs the interior of the stomach through the mouth, thus enabling doctors accurately to locate cancers, ulcers, and other abnormal affections.

The apparatus has been tested, and is said to have given successful results.

WILSON TO TAKE A REST.

Won't Go Away, but Will See No Callers Till Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. — President Wilson wants a few days of rest. He has canceled tomorrow's regular Cabinet meeting, and unless some emergency arises will see no callers until next Tuesday. In the meantime he will spend as much time as possible playing golf and taking automobile rides.

It was generally expected that the President would leave Washington for a short vacation following the election, but he has made no plans for going away, believing that he should remain here because of unsettled conditions in Europe and Mexico.

Mr. Wilson soon will begin to give consideration to the five appointments he is to make in December to the new Trade Commission. A number of Democratic members of Congress who failed of re-election want positions on the commission. Representative Palmer, who was defeated for election to the Senate from Pennsylvania, and Commissioner of Corporations Davies are being prominently mentioned for the commission.

BUSINESS CLOGS WIRELESS.

Tuckerton Station Temporarily Closed to Commercial Messages.

Owing to the congestion due to the many messages filed for points in Germany and Austria-Hungary, the Goldschmidt wireless station at Tuckerton, N. J., was closed temporarily to commercial business last night. It probably will be three or four days before the messages that have piled up have been transmitted to Hanover, Germany. The closing of the station to commercial business does not affect the transmission of official messages for the United States, Germany, and Austria-Hungary.

It was said last night that, while the messages on hand are being disposed of, minor repairs to the apparatus will be made. The naval officer in charge of the station at Tuckerton said last night that transmission was in progress and that the apparatus was working well.

STEEL MILLS STARTING UP.

Independent Concerns Near Pittsburgh Call In Their Employes.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURGH, Penn., Nov. 5.—Steel mills, blast furnaces, and manufacturing plants in this district employing more than 20,000 men are preparing to resume either full or part operations within the next ten days. In several instances employes of these concerns were notified today that they soon would be needed in their old places, or that they would go on full time next week.

From the big new Kensington plant of the Aluminium Company of America came word today that the company expected to resume full operations in a few days.

The Jones & Laughlin Company, the largest independent steel concern in the country, is preparing to increase its working force at the Soho, South Side, and Aliquippa works, while several mills in the Allegheny Valley will start next week.

The Pressed Steel Car Company's McKees Rocks and Woods Run plants will increase operations beginning next Monday. Spang & Chalfant, in Milvale, will fire several mills on Monday, and at least four furnaces in the Monongahela Valley will be blown in.

The McClintic-Marshall Company and the American Bridge Company expect to increase operations in their Woods Run plants this week. The extensive works of the latter company at Ambridge will also go on better time.

Deerfoot Farm Sausages.

Made of the tenderest of little pigs and choice spices. You have never tasted perfect sausages unless you have tried them. New York store, 115 Chambers Street. 2d. 35th Outlook.—Adv.

GOOD HOPE'S GUNS BALKED BY WAVES

Roll of British Flagship in Storm Checked 9-Inch Fire Until Germans Closed In.

SIX-INCH GUN DECK AWASH

Broadside Crippled Big Cruiser Early in Fight—Monmouth Sank Defending Her.

FIVE SHIPS STILL MISSING

No Word from the Good Hope, Glasgow, Otranto, Liepzig or Bremen Since Battle of Sunday Night.

VALPARAISO, Chile, Nov. 5.—A wireless cry from the British cruiser Glasgow, intercepted by the German victors, was the last word received from Rear Admiral Cradock's squadron following the engagement off the Chilean coast on Sunday.

The Germans saw the Monmouth sink and heard an explosion on board the Good Hope that they believe sent the crippled flagship to the bottom. All that night the German cruiser Nürnberg searched the seas for the Good Hope unsuccessfully. They picked up a radiogram directed to the flagship by the Glasgow. There was no reply.

There were about 650 men on the Monmouth when she disappeared beneath the waves. Admiral Cradock had 900 men with him on board the Good Hope.

Whether the Glasgow and the transport Otranto, which escaped destruction, survived the damage suffered is not known. The whereabouts also of the German cruisers Leipzig and Bremen remains in doubt.

Further details of the first really important naval battle of the war became known from statements made by German officers. The latter did not hesitate to commend the bravery of the British in the uneven combat and intimated that an effort to save lives would have been made if the weather had permitted. The engagement was fought in the teeth of a norther that assumed almost hurricane proportions. Small boats could not live in the sea. The heavy weather militated against the larger ships and the Good Hope found her guns almost useless because of the ship's roll.

The German China fleet, the cruisers Scharnhorst, Gneisenau and the Nürnberg, had rejoined the cruisers Leipzig and Bremen, the latter vessels having been detailed to patrol the coast north of Valparaiso. The unit proceeded southward apparently well aware of the rendezvous of the British off Concepcion Bay.

British Squadron Surprised.

At the same time the British cruisers Monmouth and Glasgow, accompanied by the transport Otranto, moved north to meet the flagship Good Hope. The British evidently were not aware of the proximity of the Germans and they met off Coronel.

It was 6 o'clock Sunday night when the Germans sighted the three British ships. The British attempted to alter their course evidently with an intention to approach the coast and gain territorial waters and so avoid an unequal match. The Germans, however, headed them off and forced the battle.

At the moment that the German guns were trained the Good Hope was seen coming at full speed, and through good seamanship she managed to join the other British ships.

The Britishers had come about and the two squadrons sailed southward in parallel lines, the Germans being nearer the coast. Gradually the two lines came nearer to each other and the Scharnhorst and Gneisenau simultaneously let go their twelve 8-inch guns, which they concentrated on the Good Hope. The firing continued for several minutes without damage. The German shots fell short and the Good Hope had such a roll that she could not reply. The smaller cruisers were far out of range.

Broadside Cripples Flagship.

Slowly the sea fighters drew in nearer and when the two squadrons were only 6,000 yards apart, the Good Hope fired her two 9-inch guns. She was still unable to use her eight 6-inch guns, which on the gundeck were so near the water line that as the vessel rolled they were almost awash. A terrible broadside from the Scharnhorst and Gneisenau crippled the British flagship and her engines stopped. The Monmouth, recognizing the distress of her companion, made a dash to cover the Good Hope, but by that time the distance separating the two squadrons had been reduced to 5,000 yards and the Germans were able to bring all their ships into action and to use all the guns of the five vessels. These were directed first against the Monmouth, Glasgow, and Otranto. The Otranto, badly damaged, escaped in the gathering darkness and soon afterward was followed by the Glasgow, which also had been put out of action, but continued apparently seaworthy.

The five German ships continued their attack on the Monmouth and Good Hope until in a few minutes the Monmouth sank. By this time only 4,500 yards separated the fighters.

The Good Hope, badly damaged, hung on until an explosion occurred aboard her. She withdrew to the westward at 7:30 o'clock. As she disappeared flames were seen on board her. Whether her crew was able to stop the fire or if the explosion finally sank her is not known. The flames died down and she was not seen again.

Search in Vain for Good Hope.

The Nürnberg searched until daybreak for the wounded ship when the German officers concluded that she had been lost with all her crew. The only trace

Continued on Page 4.

FALL MALL, Famous Cigarettes, with PLAIN ENDS, in the distinctive single-row package, may now be had at your dealer.—Adv.

GERMANY APPEALING FOR POPE'S SYMPATHY

Talk of a Roman-German Empire Taken in Rome as a Bid for Favor.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROME, Nov. 5.—Undoubtedly the efforts being made by Germany in the present colossal conflict are the most strenuous endeavors undertaken by any country. While desperately fighting with four countries around her frontiers, Germany is collecting throughout the world all the forces which can help her in the ultimate issue. Thus she has succeeded so far in preventing Italy from following her impulse to side with the Allies and obtained the participation of Turkey. She managed to induce Constantinople to make love to Rome, forgetting Tripoli, hoping for Italo-Turkish co-operation in favor of German interests.

More marvelous still, Germany is now trying to unite in the same work two traditional enemies, the Sultan and the Pope. Flattering the latter, the Kaiser says he only can restore the old Roman Empire, which will be now the Roman-German Empire, being consecrated by the Roman Pointiff. The present Pope has met the Kaiser twice in Rome when the latter visited Pope Leo. It will be interesting to see the attitude Pope Benedict will take before Germany's advances.

BEYERS AND MARITZ APPEAR TO BE CRUSHED

Rebels Still Collected at Certain Points, But Are Covered by Loyal Commandos.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A Cape Town dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company says that the rebellion of Gen. Christian Frederick Beyers in the western Transvaal and the mutiny of Lieut. Col. Solomon Gerhardus Maritz in Northwest Cape Town now appear to be completely crushed.

Unofficial reports, according to the dispatch, indicate that something resembling an armistice is being observed. The rebels are still collected at certain points in the northern Free State, but all these points are marked by adequate loyal commandos.

"It is abundantly clear," the dispatch concludes, "that the rebels are ill-equipped and have practically no organization."

KIMBERLEY'S DEFENDER GEN. KEKEWICH, SUICIDE

Hero of 126-Day Siege in Boer War and Recipient of Many Honors Shoots Himself.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Major Gen. Robert G. Kekewich, retired, who defended Kimberley for 126 days against the Boer armies, was found dead in his bedroom today from a self-inflicted gunshot wound in the head.

The suicide of Gen. Kekewich is attributed to nervous breakdown.

Major Gen. Robert George Kekewich was 60 years old and retired from active service shortly after the end of the Boer war. He entered the army in 1874. During 1875 and 1876 he served in the Malay Peninsular campaign and received the Campaign Medal with clasps. Later, after service with the Nile Expedition in 1884-5 as Deputy Assistant Adjutant General and Quartermaster General, he was brevetted Major, and received the Khedive's Star and the Campaign Medal with clasps. At Suakin, in 1888, he was Deputy Assistant Adjutant General. During this campaign he was again mentioned in dispatches and received the decoration of Fourth Class Medjidie with clasp, and was promoted to the rank of Major General.

In the Boer war he was in command of Kimberly on Oct. 15, 1899, when it was invested by the Boers. Cecil Rhodes had taken shelter in that camp, and Gen. Kekewich and his staff officer, Major O'Meara, were forced to fight against intrigue from within as well as the Boers on the outside. During the 126 days' siege provisions became scarcer and scarcer until on New Year's Day, 1900, a ration of meat was reduced to a quarter of a pound to each man. Several times the Boers offered advantageous terms for a surrender, but Gen. Kekewich insisted on holding out.

Gen. French eventually relieved Kimberley with a flying column of cavalry, and a nation warm in its congratulations of its defender. Later in the war Gen. Kekewich, under Lord Methuen, engaged in the pursuit of the Boer General De la Rey. On Oct. 29, 1911, he was mentioned for a brilliant engagement at Beestekraal, in which he captured a Boer commando after a stiff fight.

VICTIM KAISER'S SON-IN-LAW

Patient at Strassburg Now Said Not to be Crown Prince.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MILAN, Nov. 5, (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle.)—The correspondent of the Corriere della Sera, who visited Baden for the purpose of investigating the report that the Crown Prince of Germany was lying seriously wounded at the royal palace at Strassburg, was assured that the illustrious victim was really Duke Ernst August of Brunswick-Luneburg, the Kaiser's son-in-law.

AMSTERDAM, (via London,) Nov. 5.—Prince Joachim Albrecht of Prussia, son of the late Regent of Brunswick, has been wounded while fighting in France, according to the Telegraaf.

GENEVA, (via Paris,) Friday, Nov. 6.—Lieut. Gen. Berthold von Deimling, the German commander, has been slightly wounded in the thigh by shrapnel on the firing line, according to the Wolff Agency. He continues in command of his troops, however.

GUNS TO OPEN ON OSTEND.

Inhabitants Have Been Ordered to Take to Their Cellars.

LONDON, Friday, Nov. 6.—According to The Daily Mail's Rotterdam correspondent, the inhabitants of Ostend have been ordered to take to their cellars with five days' provisions.

Sill POLAND WATER Aerated
America's Favorite
Recognized as the Leader for its Purity and Medicinal Properties in every part of world.—Adv.

ALLIES LOSE AND RETAKE TRENCHES; KAISER WATCHES BATTLE IN FRANCE; RUSSIANS SEIZE TURKISH TOWNS

ARMENIAN CITIES TAKEN

Russians Report Victories Near Border—Turks Abandon Wounded.

BRITISH ANNEX CYPRUS

Turks Invade Persia—Accused of Trying to Force That Country to Help.

THE ALLIES DECLARE WAR

German Officer with a Plan to Blow Up the Suez Canal Sentenced to Prison for Life.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 5. (Dispatch to The London Daily Telegraph.)—News has reached Tiflis that the Turks suffered great losses in opposing the crossing of their frontier by the Russian Army. The entire battlefield was covered with their dead an dwounded. The feeling in the Ottoman Army is much depressed.

The Russian artillery was very skillfully handled nad struck panic into the ranks of the enemy.

On the eve of the outbreak of the war the Turkish Armenians were pitilessly plundered, and an army of them were arrested. The appearance of the Russian troops had a very tranquillizing effect, and the harvesting of the cotton crop has been resumed.

A large number of refugees from Turkish Armenia, who arrived at Odessa and expressed a wish to fight in the Russian Army are being sent round to Caucasia, where they will be embodied in a special corps.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 5.—A Turkish Army 90,000 strong, consisting of the Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh Army Corps, is massed along the Caucasian frontier, according to the Novoe Vremya. Many villages have been occupied by Turkish outposts.

This Turkish Army, the Novoe Vremya continues, would consist under normal conditions of 80 battalions of infantry, 60 batteries of artillery with 250 guns, and 40 squadrons of regular cavalry, but to it have been added 50 squadrons of Kurd cavalry, amounting to 20,000 men.

The following official communication has been received from the Russian General Staff:

In Caucasia one of our columns suddenly attacked the enemy near Ardost, (fifteen miles south of Kars, near the boundary of Turkish Armenia.) The Turks fled, abandoning their wounded.

Having dislodged the Turks from the village of Id, (about sixty miles west of Ardost, over the line into Turkish Armenia,) we took a great quantity of food. After a violent combat our troops seized Khorasan (in Turkish Armenia, thirty miles southeast of Id) and Col-Karaderbent. One hundred Cossacks attacked the trenches of the enemy and sabred the Turkish infantry.

One of our columns, having passed through difficult roads for a distance of fifty-three miles in thirty hours, encountered the Turks at Myssoune and Diyadin, (about thirty miles west of Bayazid, which is the capital of the Sanjak of Bayazid.) We dispersed a large body of Kurds and occupied Diyadin, where we took munitions of war and many prisoners. On Nov. 3 we occupied Bayazid, where we routed the Turkish troops, who resisted strongly.

Dispersing the Turkish Vanguard.

The following communication from the General Staff of the army in the Caucasus was made public here tonight:

Concerning the operations during the last twenty-four hours there is nothing important to report. Our troops are vigorously clearing the enemy's territory, which is occupied by small bands, the remnant of the Turkish vanguards defeated during the last few days.

One of our columns has defeated the Turks near Dazygan, routing them and capturing the town. The Turks in their flight threw away their arms and scattered to the villages in the neighborhood.

Our cavalry attacked to the east of Diyadin three Kurd regiments supported by infantry, and threw them back.

Russia's sudden and energetic advance into Turkey is believed in Petrograd to have been meant to overawe

Continued on Page 3.

GREEN STRIPE SCOTCH
IN NON-REFILLABLE BOTTLES.
ANDREW USHER & CO., Edinburgh.—Adv.

Have you seen "A Pair of Silk Stockings" at the Little Theatre?—Adv.

Summary of War News.

Great Britain and France have made formal declaration of war on Turkey. Russian troops have invaded Turkish Armenia, and Petrograd reports the capture of several towns. Constantinople, however, declares that the invaders were routed with heavy losses.

England announces that in war operations against Turkey holy places will be spared from bombardment.

According to French official reports German attacks were repulsed yesterday, notably north of Arras, where the Allies lost several trenches, but later retook them, and in the St. Hubert region of the Argonne.

German General Headquarters announced the repulse of a Franco-British attack near Nieuport, and progress of the Kaiser's forces near Ypres, Lille, Berry-au-Bac, in the Argonne region, and in the Vosges.

The Russian General Staff announces that Mlawa, in Poland, near the East Prussian frontier, was recaptured on Nov. 3, and that the losses of the German troops along that frontier line have been very heavy.

An unofficial view in Petrograd is that, as a result of the decisive defeat of the German armies in Poland, East Prussia may have to be abandoned in order that the forces may be concentrated to defend the direct route to Berlin.

The British cruiser Good Hope, Rear Admiral Cradock's flagship, which was in the battle with the German fleet off the Chilean coast on Sunday night, has not been heard from since the fight. Reports from Valparaiso also say that the British ships Glasgow and Otranto and the German cruisers Leipzig and Bremen have not been reported at any Chilean port.

AMERICAN MARINES LANDED AT BEIRUT?

Our Citizens in Constantinople Said to be in Danger and Preparing to Depart.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—The Temps has received a report stating that American marines have been landed at Beirut, Syria, for the protection of American interests.

GENEVA, Nov. 5.—A telegram has been received here from an American business man in Constantinople saying that Americans in the Turkish capital are in danger for the reason that the Turks cannot distinguish between Englishmen and Americans.

Continuing, this American declares that all business in Turkey is at a standstill, that the country is virtually in the hands of the Germans, and that all American business men are ready to depart.

According to advices reaching Geneva from Munich, fourteen German naval officers and fifty sailors, all in uniform, have left Munich for Turkey. They are traveling by way of Vienna.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Telegraphing from Alexandria, Egypt, under date of Tuesday, the correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company says:

"The Turkish authorities tried to prevent the departure of the British officials and other foreign subjects from Beirut, but the intervention of the American Consul in their behalf was successful. It was explained, however, that the idea of the detention was not to keep them as hostages, but to avoid the semblance of a final rupture, as the feeling there is resentful toward the Germans for plunging Turkey into war.

"The presence of the American cruiser North Carolina is expected to exercise a salutary influence on the popular feeling."

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The Navy Department has not yet been advised that American marines have been landed at Beirut. The armored cruisers North Carolina and Tennessee are in Turkish waters, however, one of them being at Beirut, and officials of the Department said to-night that there would be nothing surprising if the marines were sent ashore.

While there have been no reports to the Navy Department indicating immediate danger of anti-Christian outbreaks in the neighborhood of Beirdt, the commanding officers of the cruisers have full discretionary authority as to sending parties ashore.

British and French subjects in Turkey may elect to remain or depart, according to a statement made by the Turkish Minister of the Interior to American Ambassador Morgenthau.

The American Embassy is facilitating the departure of subjects of the allied powers in Turkey as well as looking after American missionaries and interests.

15 BRITISH OFFICERS KILLED; 22 WOUNDED

Latest Casualty List Includes the Heir of Lord Aberdare Among the Dead.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A casualty list dated Oct. 31 issued here tonight gives the names of fifteen officers killed and twenty-two wounded. Among those killed is Capt. the Hon. H. B. Bruce of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders. In the list of wounded appear the names of Lieut. Col. E. P. Lambert of the Royal Field Artillery and Major the Hon. A. C. Weld-Forester of the Grenadier Guards, third son of Baron Forester.

Private letters received here announce the death in action of Lieut. Simon Fraser, son of Baron Saltoun, and of Major Arthur Percival, son of Right Rev. J. Percival, Bishop of Hereford.

The Dowager Duchess of Dufferin has received news that both her sons, Lord Basil Blackwood and Lord Frederic Blackwood, have been wounded.

While the army list of Great Britain gives no Capt. H. B. Bruce, it does contain Capt. the Hon. Henry L. Bruce of the Third Royal Scots, heir of Baron Aberdare. This Capt. Bruce in 1906 married Camilla Clifford, an American actress whom he met while she was playing in an American musical production in London.

CHAS. E. MATTHEWS, THE DESK MAN, Nov. 2, E. 23d St. Complete Office Furniture.—Adv.

PUTS GERMAN LOSSES AT 1,750,000 MEN

More Than One-Fourth of the First Line Gone, British Writer Estimates.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Hilaire Belloc, writing to The London Daily Mail, estimates the German losses to date at 1,750,000 men.

"I know," he writes, "that this figure looks startlingly large, but the various steps by which it is arrived at are not, I think, open to criticism. It would be easy, by a little manipulation of the figures, to make out very much larger totals. I have attempted, on the contrary, to fix the lowest conceivable minimum."

The figure, 1,750,000, includes losses by sickness, fatigue, and accidents. The strict German losses in the field—men hit or caught—he puts at more than 1,250,000.

"These losses," he writes, "have, almost up to within the last two weeks or so, fallen in the main upon the trained troops of the enemy and with particular severity upon his body of officers. This loss of nearly 1,750,000 at very least, which has already fallen for the most part on the trained army, and equals the untrained mass behind it, has fallen most heavily on the first and best. It comes to more than a fifth of all the two possible categories combined; more than a fifth of those who can ever make real soldiers, and of these more than a quarter of the first line.

"There," he concludes, "is the chief military feature of the struggle at the present moment. Of all the available material for anything approaching a true army, a quarter has already gone."

GERMAN GOLD SHIP TO QUIT BAR HARBOR

Kronprinzessin Cecilie Starts Today for Boston Under Escort to Face Libel Actions.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Nov. 5.—The steamer Kronprinzessin Cecilie of the North German Lloyd Line, which has been interned here for three months, will sail at 4 o'clock tomorrow morning for Boston, where she will remain pending the determination of civil suits against her owners in the Federal courts. The early hour of the start was arranged in order that most of the trip of 200 miles along the coast might be made in daylight. She will probably cover the distance in twelve hours.

The ship will leave the harbor with guarantees from the representatives of the allied powers that she will not be molested. The last bit of red tape in connection with obtaining these guarantees was unwound today, and Capt. Polack, the commander of the Cecilie, received from the New York office of the line the orders for which he had been waiting. Barring the possibility of delay by fog, he expects to have his ship at anchor in Boston Harbor tomorrow night.

Aside from the officers and crew and a naval representative, the only persons on board the Cecilie will be the United States Marshal for Maine, John S. P. H. Wilson, and Charles F. Morse of Boston, Chief Deputy United States Marshal. Wilson will act as custodian of the vessel for the Federal Court until she passes out of Maine waters, and Morse will assume charge when she enters the Massachusetts jurisdiction.

Two destroyers of the United States Navy, the Terry and Lamson, will act as convoy for the German steamer, and Lieut. Kilpatrick of the navy has been ordered by Washington to superintend her navigation, keeping her as far as possible within the three-mile limit.

The Kronprinzessin Cecilie came into this port on Aug. 4, after she had gone more than half way across the Atlantic on a voyage from New York. On account of the opening of hostilities her officers turned her about and made a run for a neutral port. She carried many passengers and about $2,500,000 in gold. It was the failure to deliver the gold at its destination that led to the libeling of the ship in civil suits in the Federal Court.

IMPORTED BOCK PANETELA. Full of Aroma. Mild and sweet. Never bitter.—Advt.

GERMANS ATTACK AT ARRAS

French Report the Result of a Day's Fierce Fighting a Draw.

KAISER DIRECTS A BATTLE

Sees the British Repulse Several Desperate Charges of His Men Near Armentieres.

GAIN FOR GERMANS AT YPRES

Berlin Also Announces Progress Near Lille, in the Argonne, and in the Vosges.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—Violent fighting today, particularly in the neighborhood of Arras, resulted in the repulse of the Germans, while the progress of the Allies in several directions is chronicled in the French official reports. Tonight's War Office communication says:

There is no new information on the operations at the north of the Lys.

In a violent offensive movement by the Germans north of Arras we lost a few trenches, which later were retaken.

In the Argonne (region of St. Hubert) all the German attacks have been successfully repulsed.

Concerning the remainder of the battle front there is nothing of importance to report.

The official announcement given out this afternoon said:

On our left wing the allied forces have made slight progress to the east of Nieuport, on the right bank of the Yser. From Dixmude to the Lys the German attacks were renewed yesterday, but at a number of points with lessened energy, particularly with regard to the actions of their infantry.

The Franco-British lines have at no point drawn back, and our troops, undertaking the offensive, have made notable progress in several directions.

Between the region of La Bassée and the Somme the day was notable particularly for an artillery contest.

In the region of Roye we have maintained our occupation of Le Quesnoy-en-Santerre, and advanced perceptibly in the direction of Andrecy.

On the centre, between the Oise and the Moselle, there has been a recrudescence of the activity of the Germans, manifested particularly by their artillery fire.

Summing up, it may be said that the attacks of the enemy at various points on our front have been repulsed, in some instances after an engagement which lasted all day long.

On our right wing there is nothing new to report.

Belgians Repulsed, Berlin Reports.

BERLIN, (via London,) Nov. 5.—The German General Headquarters issued the following statement today:

Yesterday the Belgians, assisted by British and French troops, made a fierce attack by way of Nieuport between the sea and the inundated area, but they were easily repulsed.

Near Ypres, southwest of Lille and south of Berry au Bac, in the Argonne region, and in the Vosges our attacks are making progress.

BRITISH ROUT GERMANS AS KAISER WATCHES

Drive Them Back from Armentieres Trenches With Gunfire and Bayonet.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

IN NORTHERN FRANCE, Nov. 5, (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle.)—From the sea coast the tide of war in Belgium has flowed toward the south for two days. Now the Germans have been fiercely attacking the allied line. Heavy reinforcements of first line troops have been hurried up from Ghent and Bruges and thrown at once into the fighting zone.

The German attack was especially severe at two points th the Allies' long and thinly held line. An enormous mass of German infantry was hurled against Armentières. Around Arras the Germans launched two army corps against the Allies' defensive position. Both at Armentières and Arras the enemy was supported by a number of guns of heavy calibre.

At Armentières they brought to bear against our trenches a new type of mortar which throws a projectile weighing several hundred pounds. The ground around Armentières being too soft and yielding to sustain without artificial support the weight of this mortar, under cover of night the Germans dug a deep pit, filled it with concrete and mounted their pet gun on a wooden platform. At dawn they got to work and raked the Allies' trenches with high-angle shell fire, the projectiles from the mortar falling plump into the trenches. Despite their elaborate preparations the results of the shelling were disappointing. The shells buried themselves deep in the parapet of the trenches, making huge holes where they struck and giving the British a mud bath. On their impact these shells found no resistance from the soft clay-like soil, and their destructive force was therefore reduced to a minimum. An officer whose regiment was exposed to the full effects of the mortar fire, says that it did not put a single man out of action.

British Snug in Their Bomb-Proofs.

The advance trenches were subjected to severe shelling for three hours. The British dug themselves snugly into cover. Their trenches were furnished with bomb-proof shelters, where at the hottest moments of the bombardment the men took refuge. According to all the theories of all the German General Staff, three hours' bombardment by these heavy mortars should have reduced any army to pulp. The British gave no sign of life, and so, interpreting their silence significantly, the German commanders ordered their masses of infantry to carry the trenches which they concluded must be already filled with dead.

The assaulting columns came on in close formation. The word had been passed around and the British crept from their bombproof shelters and manned the trenches. So quietly was the manoeuvre executed that the attacking Germans had no suspicion of the deadly surprise in store for them. The British batteries had as yet not come into action. They were cleverly hidden in the fields behind and covered with brushwood. Then the guns spoke, and many German soldiers went down to rise no more. The British shells made great rents in the oncoming closely packed ranks of the Germans. Their advance stopped dead, and the survivors of the attacking columns went to earth, where they proceeded frantically to dig themselves into cover with their intrenching tools. The British infantry rifle fire found them by this time and punished them terribly.

Fought Under the Kaiser's Eye.

The attack was under imperial and royal auspices, for the Kaiser and the King of Saxony were present at the local German headquarters.

After another hour of shell fire directed upon our whole line, the mud-stained men who, molelike, had burrowed into the earth, crawled forth and, pulling themselves upright, faced the British bullets again. Shrapnel and rifle fire had no difficulty in finding these human targets. One could not help admiring the bravery of men who marched calmly and slowly toward certain death. That dull, gray-clad German line, urged forward by its officers, came on, leaving behind it at each step a trail of dead and dying.

The German artillery had ceased, for its infantry was creeping closer and closer to our trenches; but the fire from the trenches was telling, and under it the numbers of the assaulting columns were rapidly dwindling. No soldiers that ever faced an enemy could stand against this bullet storm. For the second time the German infantry wavered; then it went down as one man and sought cover. The attacking forces were an easy target for the British gunners and riflemen.

The minutes went by, and it became clear that if the Germans stayed where they were they must be annihilated. Their officers thought so, too, and ordered a fresh advance; but the men who had passed through such a hellish ordeal showed no inclination to rise up and close with the enemy.

Germans Break and Flee.

Here it was that the British chance came. The terrible punishment sustained in the advance had practically demoralized the Germans. Suddenly the British artillery and rifle fire ceased. A low word of command ran along the trenches. The mud-covered English appeared above ground; they clambered into the open; other lines followed the first; bayonets were fixed, and the khaki swarm swung forward. The coming of the British stimulated the hesitating German infantry into activity. They fired one volley, then sprang to their feet and went to the rightabout.

One line sought to cover the retreat. With fixed bayonets they faced the advancing British. A long, low murmur of satisfaction ran along the British front. The men broke into a cheer as they closed with the Germans, and bayonet met bayonet. There was thrust and parry, a swaying mass of struggling men in khaki and gray at death grips. Now it separated into two lines and broke clear. The men in gray were running and those in khaki were cheering—or attempting to cheer, for a stiff cross-country run with a bayonet fight at the end is trying to wind and limb. Back went the Germans and in pursuit went the British.

The Germans rallied around the mortar which earlier had been so active in shelling the British position. A desperate hand-to-hand struggle took place, the British devoting all their energies to capturing the gun. Its German defenders had fallen, and the prize was in English hands.

BELGIANS REPORT PROGRESS

But Admit That It Is Slow Because of the Floods.

HAVRE, (via Paris,) Nov. 5.—The Belgian Government issues the following statement:

The Belgian detachments which advanced as far as Lombaertzyde toward the Yser, between St. Georges Capelle and Tervaete, could advance only with great difficulty, owing to poor roads and the inundated country. They were also harassed constantly by the infantry and machine gun fire of the enemy.

The enemy still occupies St. Georges Capelle and the farms located on the left bank of the Yser in the neighborhood of Schoobakke and Tervaete. Stuyvekenskerke was reoccupied by marines.

To the south of Dixmude the Germans made an attack last night in the direction of the Bixschoote bridge. They failed in this attempt, and were forced to evacuate completely the village of Bixschoote to the south of Zandhoek.

The enemy continues to attack with the greatest violence along the front of the Allies between Hollebeke and Messines. All positions have been held, and at certain points [illegible] made progress, notably toward Hollebeke and Wytzchaete.

In the region of Armentières and to the south of the Lys the situation remains the same as heretofore.

GERMANS WORSTED IN VOSGES

Forced Back with Great Loss from the Nancy Region.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ON THE ALLIES' RIGHT WING, Nov. 1.—Ever since the affair of Morhange, which was followed by a rapid advance upon Nancy, checked at Amance and Champenoux, the Germans have been slowly pushed back, fighting every yard and returning with the pertinacity of flies to a fruitless attack. The country is particularly difficult, and, although the Germans have been cleared out of most of the villages they occupied on the more level ground, they continue to lurk in the forests that clothe the western slopes of the Vosges.

The French military authorities have been working ceaselessly during the last two months in fortifying the Nancy region, and this is now supposed to be capable of holding back an army of 500,000 men. The Kaiser, who came to Amance in order, it is said, to make a triumphal entrance into Nancy, is apparently doomed to disappointment.

The slaughter of Germans which he saw on that occasion was terrific. The French artillerymen, posted in masked positions on commanding heights, allowed themselves to be bombarded for three days without replying. On the third day the Germans moved on in massed formation, with bands playing and colors flying. They were half way down the opposite slope before the hidden guns opened fire. When they received the order to bombard the gunners simply mowed down the Germans in swaths. Four times they came on, and four times they were forced to retire.

All the villages that had been occupied and now had to be evacuated by the invaders were laid waste. They had streamed in through St. Dié to Lunéville and from there had radiated in all directions. Some of these towns, it is true, were devastated almost as much by French bombardments as by German, but whenever there was time to do so, the Germans seem to have set the houses on fire before leaving. The usual method was to throw celluloid inflammatory tablets into them. These tablets were kept in violet bags, many of which have since been found, both empty and full.

ANTWERP HOSPITALS EMPTIED

Amsterdam Hears That Germans Are Sending Baggage Away.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 5, (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle.)—A sudden movement, indicating the hurried departure of the Germans from Antwerp, began on Wednesday at midnight, and continued throughout today. All the wounded in the hospitals were removed in the night, and long trains going east also carried heaps of baggage of German officers.

The Central Station, in which all documents belonging to the Military Governor had been packed up, has been hastily reopened for official traffic.

It is reported that Acting Belgian Burgomaster Franck and Burgomaster de Vos have been taken as hostages.

In Antwerp itself all Belgians between the ages of 18 and 30 have been arrested and soldiers with fixed bayonets placed to guard them. About 100 have been taken to the Merxem station.

Firing was heard at Roosendaal this morning. This fact is very strange.

POINCARÉ CLAIMS SUCCESS.

Praises the French Army for Its Repulse of the Germans.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—President Poincaré has sent a letter to Alexandre Millerand, Minister of War, in which he declares that after a long series of violent engagements the Allies have repulsed the desperate attacks of the Germans.

The text of the letter follows:

"My dear Minister: After a long series of violent combats our armies, together with the allied troops, have succeeded in repulsing the desperate attacks of the enemy. They have given proof, in this new phase of the war, of qualities as admirable as those shown by them in the victorious battle of the Marne.

"As the hostilities proceed the French soldier, without losing anything of his ardor and his courage, is acquiring greater experience and adapting to better advantage his inherent virtues to meet the exigencies of military operations. He is showing an incomparable reserve force for the offensive, and at the same time he is being trained in patience and in tenacity under the fire of the enemy.

"There is being established between the commanding officers and the men a confidential intimacy which, far from undermining discipline, ennobles it further by an enlightened consciousness of solidarity in devotion and in sacrifice.

"Every time that one returns among our troops one is astounded by the absolute elimination of all personal interest; by the glorious impersonality of the courage displayed, and by the greatness of this collective soul in which all the hopes of the race are mingled.

"And when, under the fire of projectiles and before a horizon which bursting shrapnel fills with smoke or tears with flashes of light, one sees tranquil peasants pushing their carts and sowing their crops, one understands to an even greater degree how inexhaustible are the qualities of energy and of vitality in this old land of France.

"I beg you, my dear Minister, kindly to transmit my further congratulations to the General in Chief, to the commanding officers of armies, to the commanding officers of army corps, and to all the officers, under officers, and soldiers. I hold them all in the same admiration. The army is worthy of the country, as the country is worthy of the army. France is invincible because she is sure of the righteousness of her position and because she has faith in her immortality.

"I express to you, my dear Minister, my devoted sentiments.

"R. POINCARÉ."

M. Millerand, in transmitting to Gen. Joffre the letter received by him from the President of the Republic, wrote to the Commander in Chief of the French forces as follows:

"My dear General: It is with veritable joy that I transmit to you a letter I have just received from the President of the Republic. In communicating this letter to your armies and to their commanding officers, I beg you to add to it the expression of my admiration.

"Believe, my dear General, to my best sentiments. A. MILLERAND."

President Poincare is getting first-hand information as to how France is conducting the war. First he went to Audgeichy, south of Le Quesnoy-en-Santerre, where he watched the attack of the French troops as well as the action of the three-inch guns and the heavy artillery.

Then he saw how the armies were operating from the Lys to the Oise. He also inquired as to the sanitary and postal services, the provisioning of the soldiers, the distribution of warm clothing, &c.

The President took occasion to confer a number of military medals. A severely wounded French soldier, supported by two comrades, received the decoration of the Legion of Honor and the accolade from the President. The soldier was overcome with emotion and cried "Vive la France!" in a voice that profoundly moved the spectators at the scene.

Afterward the President descended into a coal mine at Bruay and expressed his felicitations and sympathy for the comrades of the miners fighting for France.

MRS. BARTON FRENCH SEES ARTILLERY DUEL

Braves Shells on Aisne Heights to Watch British and Germans in Battle.

THRILLING FIGHT IN THE AIR

Aviators in Deadly Rivalry Circle Above Society Leader as Shrapnel Bursts Near Her.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—How Mrs. Barton French, a leader of New York and Newport society, who since the war started has been in charge of one of the American hospitals in France, stood all alone on the banks of the Aisne, and with shells bursting all about her watched an artillery duel between the British and Germans, was told by herself for the first time today.

Mrs. French, who is the sister-in-law of Elsie French Vanderbilt, has just arrived in London to arrange for the sending of a hospital unit to the new British base in northern France, and is stopping at the Ritz. She went to the front on behalf of the American Ambulance Associations in Paris to make a report on the field and base hospitals.

"It was my good fortune to drive several staff officers to the lines in my car," she said, "and as a result I happened to see a small slice of the battle of the Aisne. The officers were anxious to watch the artillery operations, so I took them to a point which I am not at liberty to mention on the heights overlooking the Aisne where a battery was engaged with Germans across the river.

"The officers apologetically informed me that they would have to leave me, as they were going forward under fire, so I remained behind with the chauffeur. I could hear heavy guns booming near at hand, and finally curiosity overcame discretion, so leaving the car hidden in the woods I started across the fields in the direction of the firing.

"Soon I could see shells bursting in the air and all of a sudden the whole scene of the artillery duel spread before me from the high plateau on which I was standing. The guns were below me and to my left and the Germans were hidden on the opposite bank, but tiny puffs now and then rising above the trees showed me about where they were. It was so exciting that the thought never occurred to me that I was in danger, and even when shrapnel burst a few hundred feet away I was so engrossed in the spectacle that my own peril seemed wholly unimportant. Afterward I learned that the Germans could easily have hit me if they had wanted to. They never tried to, however. The shells which exploded in my neighborhood were simply those badly aimed at the battery.

"After I had been standing there for what seemed a long time my chauffeur came up and begged me to retire to a safer spot. I had started back when we suddenly saw a Taube above the German lines and instantly afterwards heard the firing of anti-aircraft guns from our side of the battle line. We stood there, the chauffeur and I, gazing breathlessly upward and beheld a monoplane set out after the invader. Then we witnessed that most thrilling of all conflicts, a duel in the air.

"As I stood looking up at the two machines circling above one another I realized, for the first time, I think, what a terrible business war was. There was something indescribably sinister and vicious about the movements of those two graceful craft, each seeking to destroy the other. I shuddered with the horror of it, yet even then no feeling of personal fear came to me—I can't explain why, except that one is so enthralled by these things one seems to forget oneself. After that I had enough."

Mrs. French criticised the Administration at Washington severely for not protesting against the activities of Count Bernstorff.

"I have received a letter from a friend," said she, "who wrote that she had invited twenty-four persons to meet Count Bernstorff at a dinner in Newport and had received twenty-four declinations. All the news I get from America on the subject is to the effect that all the best people in New York simply refuse to have anything to do with him. Anybody who knows the rudiments of diplomacy knows he has committed blunders, to use the kindest expression, which should cost him his job instantly. His utterances on the subject of Germans invading Canada are only one of his offenses against diplomatic decency."

AMERICANS UNDER FIRE.

Motor Ambulance Workers in France Face Peril of Trenches.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Several interesting letters have been received in London by friends from Richard Norton, son of the late Dr. Charles Eliot Norton, who is at the French front with the American motor ambulance contingent, which is composed chiefly of Harvard, Yale, and Princeton graduates. In a letter dated Oct. 31 he writes:

"All well and busy. We have moved over 500 this week, and three times have been under shell fire. Big guns were going all last night a few miles away, so there will be work for us to do. There is great need of this work, and the French are very grateful. It will cost about £4,000 ($20,000) to keep the corps for a year, so try to raise all the money you can for us.

"The men are behaving splendidly. We eat in this little inn with French doctors, and for sleeping accommodations are billeted around the town."

In a letter dated Oct. 29 Mr. Norton says:

"Since the 22d we have carried 221 wounded, including four refugees, from a town being bombarded. We have twice been under heavy fire when in the trenches seeing doctors and trying to find out how we could help. Once the Germans deliberately tried to drop a shell on our car, but they missed us. They were very poor shots."

WAR NOW NEAR ENGLAND.

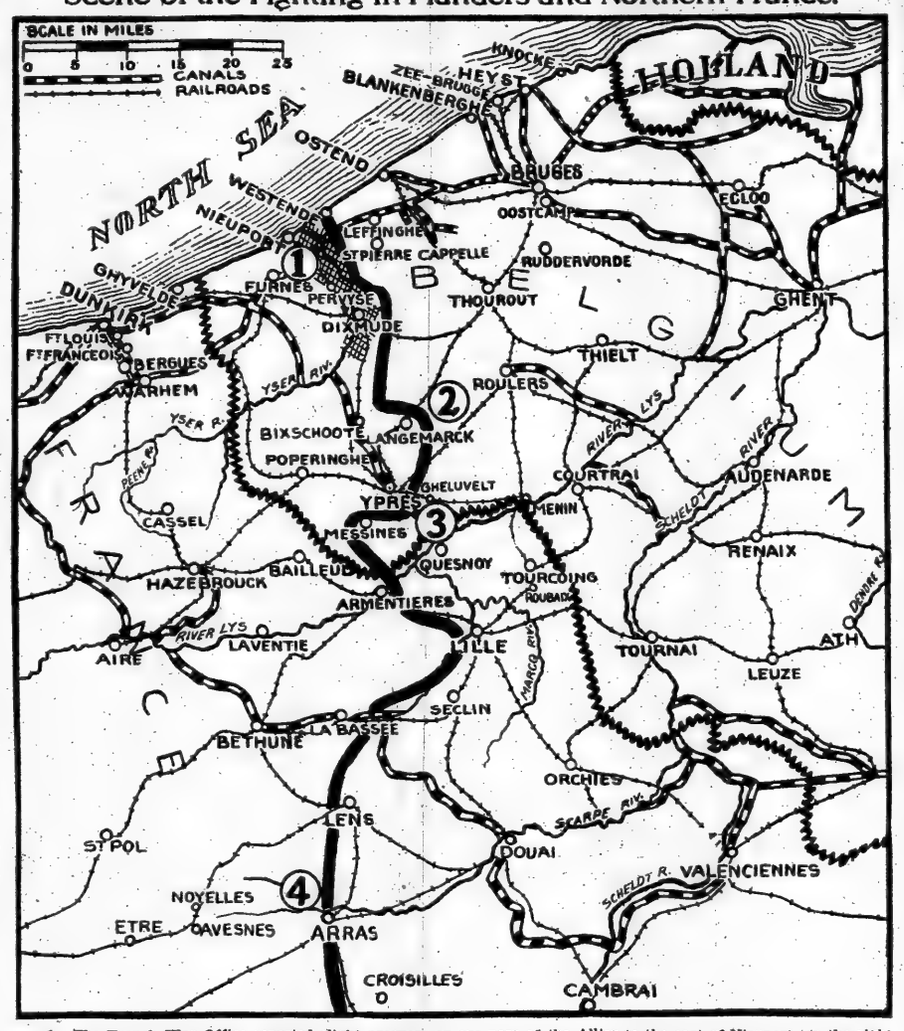
Dispatch Bearer Under Shrapnel in the Morning Dines in London.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—As illustrating the nearness of London to the scene of the great battle in Belgium, a dispatch bearer who was seated at a table in one of the most fashionable restaurants tonight was dodging shrapnel this morning.

Moonlight, he told friends, had caused a heavy death rate among the Red Cross as they went about fields removing the wounded. Going about on dark nights with torches has been abandoned, and it is necessary for those on mercy bent to grope about to find wounded, who sometimes are Germans. The removal of the dead has cost additional lives among the British.

Scene of the Fighting in Flanders and Northern France.



1. The French War Office reported slight progress on the part of the Allies to the east of Nieuport, on the right bank of the Yser; the German General Headquarters, however, announced that the Franco-British attacks in that quarter had been repulsed.
2. From Dixmude to the Lys River, according to the French reports, the German attacks were renewed on Wednesday, but with lessened energy.
3. The official German report claimed the advantage in the fighting near Ypres.
4. The Allies lost several trenches north of Arras as a result of a violent attack by the Germans, but recaptured them later in the day, according to the night report of the French War Office.

GREAT GERMAN NAMES ON A HOTEL REGISTER

Princes and Dukes Swarmed in Luxemburg When It Was German Headquarters.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES. From a Staff Correspondent of THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LUXEMBURG, Oct. 19 (via London) Nov. 5.—The main German headquarters was located here for a month, moving to Sedan about Sept. 1 and now being at Mezières-Charleville.

The register of the Hotel Brasseur here is an historic document of rare interest. There appears the name of the German Minister to the Duchy, who moved out of his Legation when the Kaiser moved in, and there also are the names of Duke Albrecht of Württemberg on his way to take command of his army; Grand Admiral von Tirpitz, the Crown Prince of Saxony, Prince Adolf of Schaumburg-Lippe, going as a volunteer driver of an automobile; the Grand Duke of Oldenburg, Prince von Hohenlohe, and scores of others.

The Imperial Chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, tried to get a room here in vain, but he took his meals at the Brasseur, where THE NEW YORK TIMES correspondent was told he was frequently heard to say: "We will win! We must win!"

Here also came Prince Lichnowsky, the former German Ambassador to London, who told a friend here that some German cavalry detachments had penetrated as far as Fontainebleau, but that the Paris garrison quite unexpectedly attacked them in such superior numbers that they were forced to retire.

The German Crown Prince also came here regularly for his three meals a day while Longwy, twenty-five miles distant, was being bombarded.

MAJOR HAMILTON KILLED.

Brother of Lord Hamilton of Dalzell Was Heir to Title.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Major Leslie d'Henin Hamilton of the Coldstream Guards and the heir presumptive to Lord Hamilton of Dalzell, it is announced today, was killed in action on Oct. 25.

Major Hamilton, son of the first Lord Hamilton of Dalzell, was 41 years old. In 1905 he married Amy Cecile Ricardo, daughter of Col. Horace Ricardo, who commanded the Grenadier Guards until his retirement in 1904. The present Lord Hamilton of Dalzell is the brother of Major Hamilton. He is also a soldier, and served with distinction in South Africa.

AMERICAN HOSPITAL BUSY.

Many More Serious Cases Received at Paignton.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—In one month's time the American women's war hospital at Paignton has treated 600 wounded soldiers. It was said at committee headquarters in this city today that 100 wounded had arrived within the last ten days, and they were the most serious cases so far received. They were wounded in the fighting to hold the Germans back from Calais.

The most remarkable patient is a young soldier who came to the institution with a part of his brain exposed. His life was despaired of, but an official of the hospital said today the man had a good chance of recovery. Many of the latest patients are in the Munsey ward, where the American Red Cross unit is at work.

An appeal is being sent out today for woolen underwear and socks for soldiers who are discharged from the institution, as the kits of most of the wounded are seldom useful when they are taken from the battlefield. Mrs. Page, wife of the Ambassador, is now a member of the Executive Committee of the American Women's War Relief Fund.

WITHDRAWN TO EAST PRUSSIA.

German Army Corps Sent from Belgium to Fight the Russians.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The correspondent of The Daily Mail at Rotterdam says he has received official confirmation of the advance of the Allies on all of the West Flanders front, and adds:

"The German military bakeries have been removed in a southerly direction from Ostend, indicating the intended retreat of the main German force.

"I have learned from reliable sources that last week's transfer of the Ninth Germany Army Corps has been completed from Belgium and France to East Prussia, and that only half of its number has been replaced by volunteers.

"The Germans are short of big gun ammunition in West Flanders, and transport is impossible, owing to the inundations. Interned Germans say they can fight men, but not a waste of waters."

CZAR'S ARMY IN FINE FORM.

Officers Captured by Germans Said to be Ill-Treated.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Prof. Bernard Pares, the British Government's representative with the Russian headquarters in the field, sends the following report:

"Trustworthy eye witnesses speak with great enthusiasm of the conduct of the Russian troops on the upper Vistula River, where more serious fighting is to be expected.

"Here again the German heavy artillery commands respect, but the Russian field guns and howitzers are served with remarkable precision and alertness and meet with great success. The complete confidence of the Russian infantry in the effectiveness of the Russian artillery is a striking and general feature.

"The men are always training in bayonet work, which the enemy often avoids. The Russian cavalry has, by different accounts, shown great dash, and has been handled with speed and skill. In raids beyond the river on the enemy's communications Russian cavalry divisions have several times disturbed German forces, taking many prisoners. Large numbers of stragglers have been taken by the Russians.

"A Hungarian division put up a good resistance for three days, but then collapsed.

"The population in southern Poland is in a state of profound distress, and the Russians are organizing extensive relief work.

"The Germans compel captured officers to work with the men and spit at them and drive them about bare to the waist.

"In East Prussia the German communications are very good. Underground telephones are frequently discovered. Large forces are in close contact here and the Russian counterstroke has much impressed the enemy.

"The Polish population shows the greatest alacrity in assisting the Russian troops, both in the country and in the towns.

"The Russian advance is now much more complete in southern Poland and is better lined up with the forces in Galicia. All this advance tends to secure the Russian position on the northern frontier, where any German initiative becomes more hasardous.

"The ordinary fresh yearly Russian contingents mean an increase of a half million men.

"The arrangements for the wounded provide, if necessary, for over a million."

5th Avenue Restaurant
FIFTH AVENUE BUILDING, entrance on 34th St.
THE DOLLAR DINNER
Wine Included
Also Service a la Carte.
LARGE ORCHESTRA

KAISER ESCAPED BOMBS BY TWENTY MINUTES

Room in Which He Was to Have Slept Wrecked and Two Aids Killed.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

IN NORTHERN FRANCE, Nov. 5.—Details are now available of the Kaiser's narrow escape from death from bombs thrown by airmen attached to the Allied army occupying the line from Nieuport to Ypres.

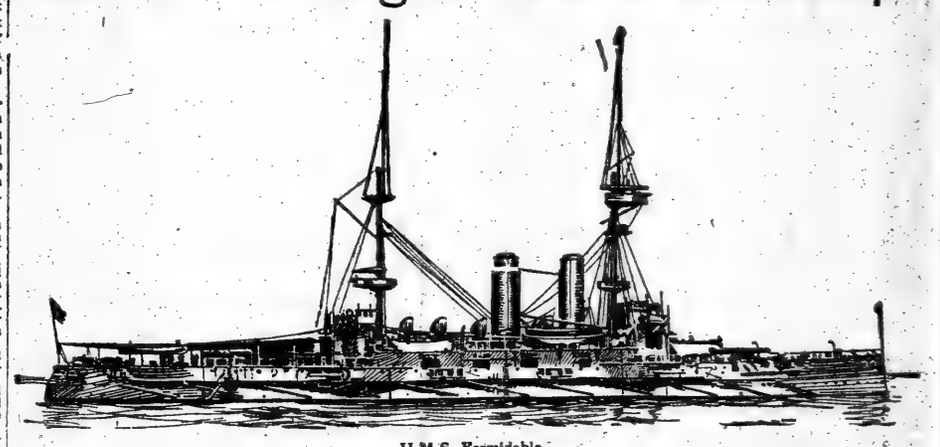
At about 5 P. M. last Sunday, the Kaiser, with some of his aids arrived by motor car at a tavern at Thielt. Apartments had been reserved for him, and dinner was ready. His personal baggage had already been deposited in a bedroom which had been prepared for his night's rest. He was in a hurry and did not dress for dinner, but immediately sat down to the meal.

Afterward, instead of going to his room, he hurriedly left the tavern with two aids and motored to the other end of the town, where fresh rooms were engaged.

Twenty minutes after the Kaiser left the first tavern, six bombs fell upon the building, and the room where his baggage lay was completely destroyed. Two aids who remained at the first tavern were killed and a motor car standing in the yard was wrecked.

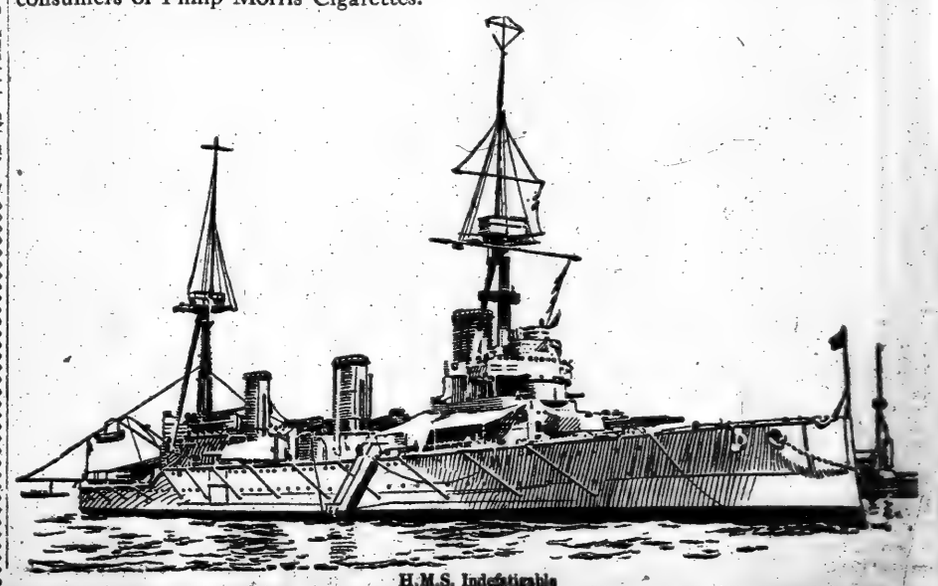
ADVERTISEMENT. ADVERTISEMENT. ADVERTISEMENT.

Two of the Largest British Battleships



H.M.S. Formidable

The British Navy, like other good Navies, makes it a rule to supply its officers with the best of everything, and for many years it has been one of the most important and steady consumers of Philip Morris Cigarettes.



H.M.S. Indefatigable

Bargain Time

Many automobile owners, desiring to save the cost of Winter storage, now offer their cars for sale.

One in the market for a car will find in the Automobile Exchange column of The New York Times announcements of various makes and models at reasonable prices.

It will pay those who appreciate real bargains to consult this market place for high-grade used cars.

FIERCEST FIGHTING OF WAR AT YPRES

Germans Try to "Hack and Blast" Their Way Through the Allied Lines.

PAYING HEAVILY IN MEN

British Eyewitness at Gen. French's Headquarters Describes Five Days of Battle.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The following account, which has been communicated by an eye witness present with the General Headquarters, continues and supplements the narrative published Nov. 3 of the movements of the British forces and of the French armies in immediate touch with them:

"Nov. 1—In spite of the great losses which they suffered in their attacks last week, the Germans have continued their offensive toward the west almost continuously during the five days from the 26th to the 30th of October. Opposite us it has gradually grown in intensity and in extent of application as more men and guns have been brought up and pushed into their right, and it has developed into the most bitterly contested battle which has been fought in the western theatre of the war.

German Artillery Strengthened.

"The German artillery has, to a large extent, been increased by that transferred from around Antwerp. As regards infantry, it is possible that some of the additional troops now appearing on our front have been rendered available by relaxation of the pressure against our allies to the north of Ypres, caused by the desperate and successful resistance made by the latter, by the harassing nature of the artillery fire brought to bear by our ships against the strip of country along the coast and by the flooding of the area along the River Yser.

"Forces have been massed also from the south, while another of the new army corps has definitely made its début before us, and, though attempts to hack, or rather to blast and hack a way through us have been made in other directions, they have for the last few days been most seriously concentrated upon the neighborhood of Ypres.

"Whether the motive inspiring the present action of the Germans against that place is an ambition to win through to the port of Calais, as is to be gathered from articles in their newspapers, or whether the operation is due to a desire to drive the allied forces out of the whole of Belgium in order to complete the conquest of that country with a view to its annexation and to gain prestige with neutrals, is immaterial. What concerns us more closely is that they have been making and are still pressing a desperate attempt to gain the town.

"On Monday, the 26th, south of the Lys on our right, the enemy attacked Neuvechappelle, one of the villages held by us. In the evening, advancing under cover of a wood, they managed to gain possession of a portion of it north of the Lys.

"In the centre a bombardment was kept up, and some ground was made by us. A detached post which was attacked in force during the night drove back its assailants, who left fifty-six dead behind.

"Near our left the Germans developed a very strong attack on the section of our line to the east of Ypres. Though supported by a great mass of artillery, this was checked, but it had two results. One was that our position was readjusted, and the other was that our extreme left alone advanced in conjunction with some of our allies.

"On Tuesday, the 27th, the Germans rather focused their principal attention on our right centre and right, and most desperate fighting took place for the possession of Neuvechappelle. In spite of repeated counter-attacks by our troops, the enemy, during the day, managed to hold on to the northern part of the village, which he had gained the day before. Toward evening we had gradually regained part of the place by step-by-step fighting, when fresh hostile reinforcements were brought up, and the entire village was captured by the enemy.

"They made several assaults against our whole front south of the Lys, but with the exception of their success at Neuvechappelle won no advantage. The combat for that place, as is usually the case with village fighting, was of a most murderous description. It is believed that the enemy's losses in this quarter of the field generally were very great.

Trenches Filled With German Dead

"An artillery officer who was observing their advance reports that the effect of our rifle and gun fire on the Germans was stupendous, and that they had to throw corpses of their own men out of their trenches as they came on in order to obtain cover.

"Four successive attacks were made, each by different regiments, and in this way the whole of one division was engaged piecemeal in about the same locality. The last of these regiments has now been practically disposed of, and, according to prisoners, their condition is deplorable.

"North of the river our centre was subjected to a heavy shell fire from pieces of various sizes. Our guns were by no means idle, and one of our patrols found eleven Germans dead and one rendered unconscious by fumes on a farm on which they had observed one of our lyddite shells detonate.

Indians Distinguish Themselves.

"Toward our left the readjustment of our line, commenced on Monday, was completed, and some redistribution of strength was effected on the extreme left. The ground gained at Neuvechappelle was again the scene of desperate fighting on Wednesday, the 28th, some of our Indian troops greatly distinguishing themselves by a well-conducted counter-attack, by which they drove the Germans out of the greater part of the place with the bayonet. On emerging from the village, however, they were exposed to a concentrated fire of machine guns, and had to remain contented with what they had gained.

"On the left during the morning the enemy made attacks under cover of the usual bombardment, but each effort was repulsed with great slaughter. One of our trenches was carried and then recovered after a loss of 200 dead had been inflicted on the enemy.

"On our centre, north of the Lys, nothing of particular moment occurred. On the extreme left our advance was not pressed, and the enemy remained in possession of Becelaere. A night attack by them was repulsed. The next day the centres of pressure were for the most part our two flanks south of the Lys.

"On our right the Germans delivered an assault which failed. In front of one battalion they are estimated to have left between 600 and 700 dead, while not far off a trench into which they had penetrated was captured by us at an expense to them of seventy killed and fourteen prisoners.

Germans Use a New Mortar.

"In the centre little took place worthy of special record. A few Germans came in and surrendered voluntarily. In this quarter we experienced for the first time in the northern theatre of the war the action of the Minenwerfer, or trench mortar. It has a range of some 500 to 600 yards, and throws a bomb loaded with high explosive weighing up to 200 pounds, being fired at an extreme elevation from the bottom of a pit in the trench.

"About midnight our line was attacked in two places. One of these efforts did not mature, as the ground over which the German infantry had to advance was well swept by our guns. In this case the assault was carried out against one of our brigades by a force of some twelve battalions. With self-restraint our men held their fire for forty minutes until the attackers got quite close and then drove them back with a loss of 200 killed. The enemy penetrated into a portion of one of our trenches, but were driven out again, losing eighty men killed or captured.

"The really important feature in this day's operations occurred north of the Lys and consisted of an onslaught in great force made in the morning in the direction of Ypres. After a heavy cannonade the assault was driven home, and a portion of our front line was forced back. By evening the lost ground was recovered, and in some places more than recovered, with the exception of one part to which the enemy clung.

"Our losses were heavy, but not so severe as those of the enemy, who at one spot suffered enormously from the concentrated fire of our masked machine guns."

GERMAN PROFESSORS COMING.

Lectures on War and Culture Said to be Planned for America.

GENEVA, (via Paris,) Friday, Nov. 6.—It is reported here from Strassburg that funds are being subscribed in Germany to enable a number of university professors who speak English to visit the United States unofficially at the Christmas time to give lectures in the chief towns on German culture and to explain the war.

MAY ABANDON EAST PRUSSIA

Germans Believed in Petrograd to be in Critical Position After Poland Defeat.

ROUTE TO BERLIN IN PERIL

Hot Pursuit by Russians Expected to Drive Retiring Armies Straight to Frontier.

AUSTRIANS MAY BE CUT OFF

Czar's Forces Advancing from San River Toward Their Line of Retreat—German Losses Heavy.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 4, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—Victory all along the line is today's news from the Commander in Chief's staff, and the line is not only the battle line on the Vistula, some 300 miles long, but likewise the front designated as East Prussian.

Beginning with the northernmost point of the picture, the present condition of affairs is as follows:

The long-continued, obstinate resistance, alternating with frenzied attacks, of the Germans has been finally broken. The German line, which a couple of days ago was compelled to assume the defensive everywhere, has now begun to retreat at most points. The retreat is most marked exactly at the point where the highest vital interests of the Germans required a continued defense, namely, their right flank, where alone was there any chance of assisting their armies beaten in Poland.

The Russians have carried their success further, and now hold Biala and Lyck, in German territory, once more, thereby cutting off all connection between the East Prussian front and the retreating armies now nearing the frontiers of Poland. The Russians have taken Bakalargewo, the point selected for tactical reasons by the Germans for their concentrated and stubborn attacks. A large quantity of arms and ammunition was captured here, many of the captured rifles being left stacked in their racks. One company of a German regiment surrendered entire to the Russians, besides other prisoners.

On the great Vistula front the retreat is progressing at an increasing rate, and the Germans now are approaching the political frontiers. Their rear guards have been beaten out of Kola, on the right bank of the Wartha River, within one march of the German fortified positions, and also from Przedbors, eighteen miles east of Novo Radomsk and a hundred miles away from Kola. Still further east by south the Russians yesterday flung the Germanic armies past Kielce and entered the town, capturing 600 men with all their Maxims.

Furthermore, on the Austrian retiring front from Kielce to Sandomierz the Russians have again broken down all defenses and stimulated a more or less orderly retreat into a hurried flight. Sandomierz itself, an exceedingly important strategic point, which has played a vital part since the earliest days of the war, is now in the hands of the Russians.

It seems to me that the Germans have now the bitter choice between abandoning East Prussia to insure a strong defense of the direct route to Berlin or of endeavoring to hold everything at the risk of losing all. Their losses are appalling, both in men and machinery, while their strategy has hitherto lacked on this side both science and imagination. Of their tactics it is impossible to speak without much more information than reaches the outside world, but their men have fought with frenzied fury, alternating with often causeless panic.

The whole country covered by the German advance and German retreat is laid waste. Villages have been burned. Roads, except a few chaussée roads which have been carefully preserved, are ruined. All bridges are down, and in whole forests nothing is left but smoking stumps. The area of this devastation is half the total territory of Poland.

Nevertheless the Polish peasantry are already at work plowing over the trenches, and in many places Winter crops are springing up green. On all hands comes the news of the noble conduct of the Polish peasantry who aided the Russian soldiers by every means in their power, risking their lives under fire. Even the women and children were taking part in voluntary succor of the wounded long before battles were over, stripping their own bodies to keep the helpless warm, while the men pursued an energetic guerrilla warfare wherever possible.

In the fighting with the Austrian rear guards southward of Kielce the Russians have taken in the past week 200 officers and 15,000 men prisoners, with scores of guns and Maxims. The Russians are now firmly established on the six-mile front of the left bank of the San River, between Nizko and Rudnik. The Austrian opposition here was long and determined, but was finally broken during the night of Monday and Tuesday. The Russian advance from here will bring them across the line of retreat of the Austrian armies coming down from Poland. The Austrians, after repeated attempts to check the Russian advance by desperate attacks, are retreating along this front also.

The losses suffered by the Germans on the East Prussian front are described as stupendous. It will be remembered that the Russians maintained here an obstinate defensive for ten days, during which time the German grand army in Poland was being broken up. The Germans made heroic efforts to break the defense and get through so as to create a diversion or even to aid the retreating armies by protecting them at least from the disintegrating flank attacks by the Russian light horse and guns.

The German dead were piled before the Russian trenches to such a height that they interfered with the Russian rifle fire, and in a last frantic attempt of the Germans were used by them as a cover. Many German regiments engaged in this historic but vain attack lost two-thirds of their muster.

I have before noted the shortage in cavalry of the Germans on the Vistula front. It is now semi-officially announced that the Seventh Austrian and Eighth Saxon cavalry divisions have been joined in one corps under command of the General commanding the Seventh Austrian division.

Austrian deserters, who are arriving in increasing numbers, report serious differences between the Germanic allies, and especially emphasize the colossal losses of the Germans.

During the next couple of days we shall anxiously await news as to whether the victorious Russians have succeeded in rushing the Germans, whose flight accelerates as they approach the frontiers, past the intrenched positions along the River Wartha.

Big Russian Reinforcements.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

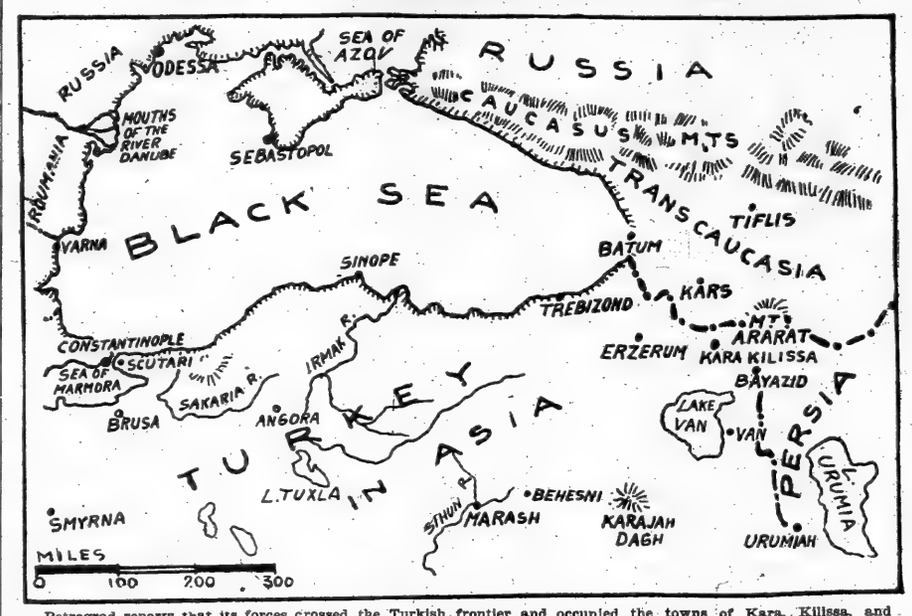
PETROGRAD, Nov. 5, (Dispatch to The London Daily News.)—A new phase is now developing in the campaign against Germany and Austria. Russia's outermost wings in East Prussia and West Galicia are now both forging forward to co-operate with the central advance on Posen, Silesia.

A great accession of fresh troops will be engaged in the new operations, and the numerical strength of the Russian dispositions may be gathered from the German retreat in East Prussia, which began when the danger of being enveloped and surrounded by the army which is growing with continuous arrivals from mobilization centres.

There are indications that the operations now beginning to develop may drastically shorten the war.

Tolstoy's daughter Alexandra, who is matron of a field hospital, has arrived from Moscow with a train of wounded. She has been on the battle fields on the frontier of East Prussia, where many hundreds of German wounded were treated by the Russians. She was impressed by the weariness and exhaustion of the German soldiers taken. Many of their wounded were boys under 16.

Scene of the Russian Invasion of Turkey



Petrograd reports that its forces crossed the Turkish frontier and occupied the towns of Kara, Kilissa, and Bayazed. The Turkish official report says the Russians were beaten in these attacks.

RUSSIANS SEIZE TURKISH TOWNS

Continued from Page 1.

the Kurd tribes and cause their disbandment. They are little interested in the success of Turkish arms, and are more concerned in the safety of their own villages.

Among the towns occupied by the Russians is Akhty, an important junction of the highways to the Upper Euphrates River.

It is rumored in Petrograd that Gen. Sanders Pasha will assume command of the Turkish troops on the Caucasian front.

Turks Claim Victory.

AMSTERDAM, (via London,) Nov. 5.—The following Turkish official statement is contained in a dispatch from Constantinople:

"The Russians are now strengthening their positions near the frontier, but have been repulsed completely from the Kara-Killissa and Tehan districts.

"During the bombardment at the entrance to the Dardanelles the hostile fleet fired 240 shells without causing material damage. Our forts fired only ten shots."

BERLIN, (via The Hague and London,) Nov. 5.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung has sent the following dispatch to his paper:

"The Turks attacked and destroyed a Cossack battalion on the Russo-Turkish frontier near Ordulia, and then crossed the frontier, taking up a strong position in Russian territory."

English Withdraw Across Canal.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A Berlin report received here by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company says:

"In Egypt the English have abandoned the Arabian frontier and have withdrawn across the Suez Canal."

The Alexandria (Egypt) correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company sends the following dispatch:

"A German officer named Mors was arrested by the Egyptian police on his return from Turkey with plans for dynamiting the Suez Canal. He was sentenced by court-martial to imprisonment for life."

The first reports of the fighting between the Russians and the Turks are as conflicting as are the first Austrian and Russian accounts of the warfare in Galicia. Each side claims to have invaded the other's territory and to have defeated his frontier armies. These fights, however, have probably been only advance guard affairs, and it is thought here that some time may elapse before a pitched battle takes place.

The Anglo-French fleet continues to bombard the Dardanelles forts, and in other parts of Turkey British warships are being kept busy.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE HAVE DECLARED WAR

Turkish Ambassador Leaves London—Ottoman Interests in Our Hands.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Great Britain today made formal declaration of war with Turkey. Following the official notification by the Foreign Office to Ambassador Page that a state of war existed the United States took over the diplomatic interests of the Ottoman Empire in this country.

Arrangements to take over the Sultan's London Embassy were completed through Irwin B. Laughlin, Secretary of the American Embassy. The Turkish representatives told him that the burden placed upon the American diplomatic and consular services would not be great.

No contingent fund will be left with Ambassador Page for the relief of Turkish subjects, as the Ottoman Government has been informed that the few Turks here are well able to care for themselves financially. It is understood that most of the Turks who were here have already left England.

Mr. Page has not yet decided which of his assistants shall be placed in charge of Turkish affairs.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The British proclamation of war with Turkey reads as follows:

Owing to hostile acts committed by Turkish forces under German officers, a state of war exists between Great Britain and Turkey from today, and all proclamations and Orders in Council issued with reference to the state of war between Great Britain and Germany and Austria shall apply to the state of war between Great Britain and Turkey.

A Privy Council was held in Buckingham Palace this morning to discuss the Turkish question. At its conclusion King George signed the documents proclaiming the state of war, and the announcement was made.

Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish Ambassador, to whom passports were handed by the Foreign Office yesterday, left London this morning en route to Constantinople.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—The French Government to-night declared that "a state of war exists between France and Turkey," according to the Bordeaux correspondent of the Havas Agency. The Foreign Office issued the following note:

"The hostile act of the Turkish fleet against a French steamer, causing the death of two Frenchmen and serious damage to the ship, not having been followed by the dismissal of the German naval and military missions, the measure whereby Turkey could disclaim responsibility, the Government of this republic is obliged to state that, as a result of the action of the Ottoman Government, a state of war exists between France and Turkey."

BRITAIN ANNEXES CYPRUS.

Island Had Long Been Ruled by Her, but Was Nominally Turkey's.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Great Britain today formally annexed the Island of Cyprus, which has nominally formed a part of the Turkish Empire.

NOT TO MOLEST HOLY PLACES

British Proclamation — Report of Bombardment of Jeddah Denied.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The report in London last night that the British cruiser Minerva had bombarded the Arabian seaport of Jeddah, is devoid of foundation. The Minerva has not been within 500 miles of the place.

On issuing this denial to-day the official Press Bureau publishes the text of a proclamation circulated in India, pledging the British Government not to molest the Holy Places in Arabia and Mesopotamia.

This necessity for respecting the feelings of her Moslem subjects, it is considered here, may hamper Great Britain somewhat in the prosecution of the war against Turkey, but with England's large Moslem population it cannot be disregarded.

In addition to the assurances received from the Indian Princes, England has been informed by the leaders of the Moslems in the Malay States that her war against Turkey will not affect the loyalty of their followers.

DEPARTING ENVOYS ASSAILED.

Constantinople Crowds Insulted British and French Ambassadors.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ATHENS, Wednesday, Nov. 4 (Dispatch to The London Daily Telegraph).—At the departure of the British and French Ambassadors from Constantinople disgraceful scenes happened, caused by fanatical crowds, the police looking on and doing nothing.

The American Ambassador, Mr. Morgenthau, who accompanied the Ambassadors, indignantly protested.

The Turks have succeeded in getting their new mine-laying ship into the Dardanelles from Smyrna.

The Deutsche Bank in Constantinople received on Sunday from Germany $15,000,000 in gold and Turkish bank note paper printed in Germany of the face value of $75,000,000.

BULGARIA NOT TO FIGHT.

Is Said to Have Repudiated Any Understanding with Turkey.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

BORDEAUX, Nov. 5, (Dispatch to The London Daily Telegraph.)—I have received from the highest diplomatic source assurances that Bulgaria has repudiated any understanding with Turkey.

Thus Greece and Rumania have great hopes that no Balkan war will be added to the greater European war.

In the contrary event I repeat my assurances that Rumania will arm on the side of Russia, France, and England.

RUSSIANS SINK TRANSPORTS.

Twelve Turkish and German Vessels Carrying Coal Destroyed.

LONDON, Friday, Nov. 6.—A dispatch to The Daily Telegraph from Odessa by way of Moscow says that twelve Turkish and German transports carrying coal have been sunk near Uzunguldak on the coast of Anatolia.

RUSSIANS STILL ADVANCE.

Austro-German Retreat Along Entire Line Continues.

PETROGRAD, via London, Nov. 5.—The following official communication has been issued from Russian General Headquarters:

We continue to progress on the East Prussian front. The Germans are falling back along the whole front, only keeping a fortified position in the region of Wirballen.

On the left bank of the Vistula the Russian army is continuing its vigorous offensive, pursuing the retreating enemy. The crossing of the San by our troops continues with success. The Austrians are retreating.

Czar Arrives at the Front.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 5.—Emperor Nicholas has arrived at army headquarters at the front.

THE WAR SITUATION.

BY THE MILITARY EXPERT OF THE NEW YORK TIMES.
(An Associate Editor of The Army and Navy Journal.)

The Germans yesterday defeated the attempt of the Belgians and British to push forward along the North Sea Coast under the protection of the British gunboats. The Allies are not yet strong enough to take the aggressive in this field on the large scale necessary to force the German flank to retreat. However, this reconnoitring expedition shows the line that the Allies will take when they have completed their preparations for the campaign to drive the Germans away from the coast.

Both sides are now sending large reinforcements to this field of operations. The British Territorials give them an available force of about 150,000 to augment their armies in France. The Germans have a similar body in their recruit class that was called into service on Aug. 1, which is now going to the front after three months of training. This body of young men, that would have reached 20 years of age during 1915, furnished about 80,000 soldiers, who are now being distributed among the forces on the battle lines. France has a similar reinforcement available from her 1915 class, which amounts to about 400,000 men.

The great preparations that are now being made presage a continuance of active operations in spite of the Winter weather that is now prevailing. The Germans kept up their active campaign throughout the Winter of 1870. In fact, the very hardships of the campaigning in the snow and freezing weather were an advantage for them, for their well-organized military system provided ample supplies of all sorts, while the hastily raised levies of French volunteers were unable to get sufficient supplies either of clothes or of food.

In the later war of Japan against Russia in Manchuria in 1904 and 1905, the military operations were likewise carried on in spite of the severe Winter on the plains of Mukden. A large part of the fighting of the recent Balkan war was also carried out during the Winter months. It seems then beyond question that neither side in the present war will assent to a truce during the coming Winter.

The German retreat in East Prussia to Lyck and Bialla places their army on a strongly fortified line, where their commanders are thoroughly familiar with the country. Their manoeuvres in peace times in this district have taught their officers how best to make use of the lakes and marshes for entrapping a possible enemy. The Germans have already shown in the early days of the war their ability to make use of the military possibilities of this district. This last move of the Germans is evidently part of a plan to leave in East Prussia the minimum force that can hold back the Russians in order to divert to other fields every man that can be spared from the fighting on this border.

The capture of Kola on the Wartha River is an important gain for the Russians. This is the most important town in Western Poland between Lodz and the border. Its situation in the main road on the direct line to Posen will make it an important base if the Russians are able to follow up their present advantage with sufficient energy to carry them on to an invasion of Germany. The capture of this city also marks the most westerly point yet reached by the Russian armies during the present war. Kola is due south of Thorn, the great German fortress on the Vistula River, and is only forty-five miles from the border. A Russian army operating through this point would be able to threaten the rear of the German defensive line along the Vistula in West Prussia and to force the rapid retreat of the German East Prussian army.

No further news has been given out concerning the fighting in Southern Poland and Galicia since the Russian advance to Kielce and Sandomierz. The important successes of the Russians during the last two weeks have forced the Germans to evacuate two-thirds of the territory that they had occupied in Poland, while the Russians still retain their hold on all of Galicia east of Przemysl.

Not only do the Russians now hold the advantage in the exchange of conquered territory, but they also have a decided strategic advantage in the position of their forces. Their armies seem well able to hold their positions at all points of the line, while the opposite is true of the Austro-German forces. Esepcially at Kielce do they seem likely to give way before the Russian attacks. If the Russians can drive a wedge through the hostile line at this point they will have a fifty-mile strata on the Austrians from Przemysl in a race for Cracow and the possession of the natural line of retreat for the Austrian forces.

The latter would then have no choice but to fall back into Hungary through the passes of the Carpathians. Such a move is difficult even for a small force. When a large army has to move through a mountain pass it necessarily becomes so strung out as to afford to an active enemy good opportunities to strike at the flank of a marching column and thus cut off and capture large numbers at the rear.

The promptness with which Russia, France, and Great Britain have started to deliver their blows against the Ottoman Empire shows that they have made careful preparations during recent weeks to counteract the effect of Turkey's entry into the war on the side of their opponents. The action of this country in turning against her historic protector now gives the British statesmen free rein in making plans for the termination of Moslem rule in Europe.

For over a century Russia has been figting her way to the Mediterranean. It was only by the opposition of Great Britain that she was prevented from attaining this objective in 1854 at the time of the Crimean war, and again in 1878, when the Russian armies had advanced to San Stefano on the outskirts of Constantinople. Russia has also marked for her own the provinces of Erzerum, Van, and Trebizond, which border on her trans-Caucasian territory.

The interests of Great Britain in Turkish territory lie principally in Cyprus and Egypt and of the eastern shore of the Red Sea. France has always had a religious interest in Palestine as protector there of the Roman Church. In Syria she also has large commercial interests. Germany has, in recent years, developed large commercial interests in Asia Minor and in Mesopotamia. Apparently the Turkish Empire will furnish prizes for the victors in the present struggle.

SULTAN A PRISONER-PUPPET

French Writer Says the Young Turk Party is Hostile to Him.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—The views of the French Government about Turkey's participation in the war may be gathered from a leading editorial on the front page of the semi-official Temps headed "The Effects of the Turkish Conflict."

The writer considers that one of the first results of the new struggle will be the further dismemberment of the Ottoman Empire, whose provinces in Arabia, Syria, and Armenia, long seething with discontent due to Turkish misrule, have only remained loyal hitherto through the religious influence of the Khalifate. He adds:

"It is unlikely that they will decline to accept the opportunity to obtain autonomy offered by the latest exploit of the Younk Turk Party, which is avowedly hostile to the Sultan, he being practically a prisoner-puppet in its hands.

"The Young Turks' action against the Allies is doubtless due to the influence of German officers, who alone enable them to retain power, but the prompt attacks by the Allies' warships and the Russian Armies must show the Turkish nation the futility of German support."

After commenting on the satisfactory decisions of Rumania and Bulgaria—the former on account of Transylvania and the latter because of her Macedonian ambitions, in declining to "become parties to Turkish-German plots"—the article concludes with an approval of the refusal of the Russian Foreign Minister, M. Sazonoff, to accept Turkish excuses and the declaration: "The time for words has passed, and acts must take their place. Turkey must accept her fate. Germany hopes to offer us in the hour of her defeat a new victim destined to facilitate a peace settlement. Disillusion awaits her. The Turkish aggression is only a new grievance added, for which we shall demand satisfaction later."

SAYS VON KLUCK DIED OF WOUNDS AT NAMUR

Excelsior of Paris Asserts That the Germans Suppressed the News.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—The Havre correspondent of the Excelsior says he has, from a source which he cannot designate, news of the death of Gen. von Kluck ten days ago in a hospital at Namur, where he was treated for a wound in the head. The news, the correspondent says, has been carefully concealed in Belgium and Germany.

Gen. von Kluck, who led the dash of the German right wing, which got to within a few miles of Paris in the first month of the fighting, has been reported in official communications issued within the last few days as directing his army in the fighting on the river Aisne. When the scene of severe fighting shifted to Belgium and the German right wing was extended into that territory, Gen. von Kluck remained in the position he had taken up on the Aisne. The fighting there has recently been overshadowed by the operations in Belgium, and Gen. von Kluck and his army, according to reports, have been enjoying a much needed rest.

TO STOP TRADE WITH ENEMIES.

Examination of Merchants' Books Suggested in England.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—It is suggested in certain quarters that when Parliament meets the Board of Trade pass a bill giving examiners power to go into the books of every house which can reasonably be suspected of trading with Germany or Austria-Hungary, and that these examiners be competent men of business, conversant with German trade and knowing the German language.

By the German Government's "Proclamation of the Bundesrat," regulating the conduct of all undertakings and businesses managed or controlled by alien enemies or whose profits are wholly or partially transmitted to an alien enemy, supervisors of these interests are appointed. The Stock Exchange Gazette, in its last issue, says:

"German measures adopted in connection with this very intricate matter are of a more stringent nature than anything which obtains in this country. It may be taken, however, that the manner in which the problem of alien enemy commercial property has been handled by the authorities at Berlin has created a favorable impression among foreign commercial interests still resident in the Kaiser's dominions. The moderation which Germany has shown in dealing with enemy businesses is doubtless based upon the example set by Great Britain.

DROP KAISER AND BROTHER.

No Longer Appear as Honorary Admirals of British Fleet.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Emperor William and Prince Henry of Prussia both have been removed from the ranks of honorary Admirals of the British fleet.

Their names are elided from the November navy list, which has just been issued.

It comes at the end.

That's the place where you find the ultimate consumer.

Goods are only half-sold when they reach the dealer.

The consumer is the "one who destroys"—so the dictionary says.

George Batten Company
Advertising
381 4th Ave., at 27th St.
Boston NEW YORK Chicago

Franklin Simon & Co.
Fifth Avenue

"Young Men's Shop"
16 West 38th St.—Store Floor
Separate Store, A Step from Fifth Avenue

Suits, 18.50 to 45.00
Overcoats, 18.50 to 38.50

FOR (TODAY) FRIDAY

Hand-Tailored Suits
FOR MEN AND YOUNG MEN, 32 TO 44 CHEST
Silk or Mohair Lined
For Fall and Winter, one, three or four button sack models of checked, pencil or chalk striped cassimere or worsted "Glen Urquhart" plaids, tartan plaids, Scotch tweeds, navy serge and unfinished worsted; also blue or Oxford vicuna braid bound suits, soft roll front, natural shoulders, tailoring equal to highest grade custom workmanship.
22.00 Regular Price $30.00

Full Dress Suits
FOR MEN AND YOUNG MEN, 33 TO 44 CHEST
New Model of unfinished worsted, silk lined
Coat and Trousers—Coat, silk galloon bound collar and cuffs, silk faced, silk lined; English cut Trousers with silk galloon band at sides.
27.50 Regular Price $35.00

Tuxedo Suits
FOR MEN AND YOUNG MEN, 32 TO 44 CHEST
New Model of highest grade unfinished worsted
Coat, Vest and Trousers—Coat, silk galloon bound collar and cuffs, silk faced and Venetian lined; new model Vest; Trousers with silk galloon band at sides.
22.00 Regular Price $30.00

Men's Silk Lined Overcoats
FOR MEN AND YOUNG MEN, 33 TO 44 CHEST
New Winter Models
Chesterfield model of highest grade Rock Mill vicuna in black, Oxford or blue, lined throughout with Skinner satin, velvet collar, custom tailored.
20.00 Regular Price $30.00

Men's Winter Overcoats
33 TO 44 CHEST
Fitted, Slip-on, Chesterfield or Braid Bound Models
Fitted two or three button double or single breasted models of Oxford or black vicuna, also Oxford, navy, brown or olive Whitney chinchilla, velvet or self collar; slip-on model of gray, brown or olive Scotch coatings, yoke and sleeves silk lined; Chesterfield model in knitted overcoats of Oxford, tan or olive heather mixtures, yoke and sleeves silk lined; also braid bound single breasted button through fitted model of Oxford or navy vicuna.
24.50 Regular Price $32.50

"Young Men's Shop"—16 West 38th St.

"Men's Shoe Shop"
4 West 38th St.—Store Floor
Separate Store, A Step from Fifth Avenue

Important Sale (Today) Friday

Men's Shoes
Mahogany, Tan or Black Russia Calf Shoes, with Tan or Gray Cloth or Leather Tops; also Patent Colt, with Black Cloth or Leather Tops, 3.75
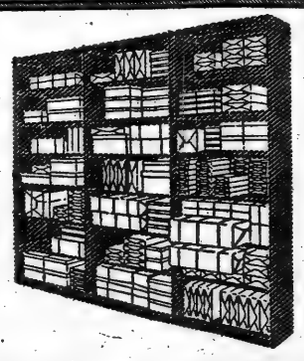
Regular Price $5.00

Men's Banister Shoes
All Styles and Leathers,
6.50
Usual $7.50 Value

Men's Thomas Cort Shoes
BENCH-MADE, HAND-SEWED
All Styles and Leathers,
8.50
Usual $11.00 Value

Franklin Simon & Co.
Fifth Avenue, 37th and 38th Sts.



Two or three "units" of steel storage shelving—as shown in the illustration—will go a long way towards doubling the size of your office.

You can put in it letter heads, check books, blank books and all kinds of stationery and supplies which otherwise would litter up your office.

Library Bureau
Manufacturing distributors of Card and filing systems. Unit cabinets in wood and steel.
316 Broadway, New York

THE ELEVATED ROAD STOPS!
At 104th St. and Columbus Ave., where you will find New York's most popular Specialty Restaurant.
When you dine with your wife and family, mother, sister, or friends, your first desire is for respectability of surroundings. Secondly, purity of food, sanitary preparation, and appealing service. Of this you are assured at "The Campus," with charges astonishingly moderate.
The Sea Food from the Ocean to "The Campus" is unequaled in all New York, for it is shipped daily to us direct. Steamed Soft Clams, Harvey style, 40 cents.
Music and Entertainment.
GOSSLER'S ORIGINAL CAMPUS RESTAURANT
104th St. & Columbus Av. "L" Station. 1 min. from 103d St. "Sub." Sta.

No payment accepted unless successful
Cooking Odors
Carried Out of the House
Also expert service in problems of General Ventilation.
FREDERIC N. WHITLEY
Engineer and Contractor
317 Fulton Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

REVOLT IN EGYPT NOT LIKELY--MILNER

Famous Administrator Tells New York Times He Does Not Fear German-Turkish Intrigues.

CHEAP COTTON MAIN PERIL

All Classes of Native Landowners In Debt, and Depression Will Be Severe While War Lasts.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Viscount Milner, who was at one time Financial Under Secretary for Egypt, has given to THE NEW YORK TIMES an interview in regard to the situation in that country, as to which few men living are more competent to speak. He said:

"It is more than twenty years since I lived in Egypt and was familiar with all the details of politics and administration. I am not an authority on recent developments, but, speaking from my old knowledge of the country, I do not believe a pan-Islamic movement in the interests of the Turks will have much success there.

"The Egyptians are Mohammedan, no doubt, and very pious Mohammedans, but they do not love the Turk. They have suffered too much from Turkish government in the past. Even the old Turkish families who form the bulk of the aristocracy have no particular love for Constantinople. They certainly do not want to be governed from there. As for the bulk of the people, the peasantry, they simply detest the idea of Turkish rule.

"Whatever danger there may be in the Egyptian Nationalist movement—and I never thought there was much—it was Egypt for the Egyptians, not Egypt for the Turks, which was its battle cry and object.

Doesn't Expect a Revolt.

"My belief is that the natives of Egypt will keep perfectly quiet. They are much more concerned about the prospects of their cotton crop than about any political issue whatever. As far as the internal condition of Egypt is concerned, it is the curtailment of the demand for, and consequent enormous decrease in the price of, cotton consequent upon the war which is calculated to give the British Administration in Egypt the greatest anxiety. Loss in cotton means diminished revenue and embarrassment to all debtors—and Egyptian land owners, great and small, are heavily indebted—and severe privation for the poorer class of cultivators. This is much more serious for Egypt than any political agitation.

"Of course, Egypt is a country of enormous recuperative power. Once let peace be restored, and in a year or two under British administration she would jump back into prosperity. But for the next twelve months at least the economic depression will be severe.

"That is the real trouble. Turkey is a purely external danger. Turkey cannot create an uprising against us in Egypt; but, of course, if she brought a sufficiently large army against Egypt, she might invade the country.

"Personally, I have been convinced from the first, as soon as I saw that German influence was paramount at Constantinople, that Turkey would try to worry us in Egypt.

Invasion Would Be Sufficient.

"I do not know in the least whether the threatened invasion is serious, but there are just two things to be said about it. Successfully to invade Egypt, Turkey would require a large and well equipped army, for, of course, the possibility of such an invasion has been foreseen for months, and Great Britain at present has a larger force of Indian and English troops in Egypt than ever in the past.

"In the next place it is not easy to march a large and well-equipped army for upward of 100 miles through an arid desert and fight a battle at the end. It would be comparatively easy to cross the desert between Syria and Egypt with a small force, but a small force would be easily defeated on the Egyptian side of the desert. To take a large army through these waterless wastes is an operation which it would require great skill and very complete preparations to carry out successfully. There is no reason to suppose that Turkey has resources, organization, or equipment for such an enterprise. Personally I am not afraid of a Turkish invasion of Egypt being successful, even if it were attempted.

"On the other hand the hostility of Turkey does compel Great Britain to keep a much larger force in Egypt than would otherwise be required. That is the value of Turkey's intervention for the Central European Powers. It creates a diversion. It keeps British troops in Egypt and Russian troops in the Caucasus, which might otherwise be engaged in the main theatre of war. It is very easy to see the advantage of this for Germany.

"It is good business for Germany, but it is thoroughly bad business for Turkey. She has nothing whatever to gain. Even if the Central Powers were successful she would not be allowed to get anything out of it, and she would be more impoverished than ever, frightful as her impoverishment actually is, by another war.

"On the other hand, in the more probable case of the Entente being ultimately successful, Turkey's situation will, indeed, be a desperate one. No wonder that even at the eleventh hour, there seemed to be some hesitation on the part of Turkey and some realization of the fact that she was being made a catspaw of!"

OLYMPIC LAID UP FOR WINTER.

Big White Star Liner Held at Belfast.

BELFAST, Nov. 5.—The Winter sailings of the White Star Line steamer Olympic have been canceled, and today the members of her crew were paid off.

There is no mystery about the laying up of the White Star liner Olympic for the Winter at Belfast. Three days before the liner left New York on Oct. 21 for Glasgow the agents of the line announced that the Olympic would not return to New York until next May.

Usually the Olympic goes to Belfast for her annual overhaul in November and makes one or two trips to New York in the early Spring. Owing to the falling off of the passenger traffic, through the war, it was decided to lay her up for the six months.

IN DRYEST RUSSIA.

Alcoholic Drinks Now Barred in Restaurants of First Class.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The Standard's correspondent at Petrograd writes under date of Oct. 26:

The Official Bulletin of the Prefect of Petrograd today publishes another addition to the prohibition of the sale of alcoholic drinks. Up to the present restaurants of the first class have had the privilege of selling vodka and all other spirituous liquors in unlimited quantities. It was thought these establishments would only supply the wealthier classes and that there was no danger of the common people being able to procure strong drink.

It seems, however, that habitual topers, even of the lower class, have arrayed themselves in clothes finer than they ever wore in their lives and putting up a bold front entered first-class restaurants and got what they wanted. The story goes that hatters and milliners have been doing a rushing business selling bowlers and hats to men and women who had hitherto worn caps and shawls, a bowler on a man and a hat on a woman being in Russia a mark of superiority, if not intelligence.

This reached the ears of the commander in chief of the army, who has absolute powers. He accordingly instructed the Prefects of Police throughout Russia to prohibit the sale of vodka and strong drink of every description, even in first-class restaurants.

What will be done with the enormous stocks of vodka and liqueurs in the hundreds of restaurants throughout Russia is a question which will be brought before the Ministry of Finance by the Association of Tavern Keepers.

BRITISH CABLE REPAIRED.

Fanning Island Station, Destroyed by Germans, Again in Order.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 5.—The Pacific cable which connects Canada with Australia was reopened today. It was put out of business on Sept. 7, when the German cruiser Nürnberg sailed up to Fanning Island, flying a French flag, accompanied by a collier.

So sure were the cable men that the ships were friendly that they launched a boat to greet the visitors. They had hardly started when two cutters loaded with German sailors and marines, in tow of a launch, came for the beach at full speed. The Germans jumped over into waist-deep water and, with bayonets fixed, charged ashore and seized the cable headquarters. The Nürnberg's guns covered the landing party.

The Germans then lined up the cable operators. Several parties were directed to locate the shore end of the cable, and this was blown to atoms by dynamite. Other men blew up the engine room, the boiler room, the refrigerating room, and the dynamo room. All the instruments were smashed with sledge hammers. Papers were taken from the office, and were transferred to the Nürnberg. These revealed the fact that spare instruments and arms and ammunition were buried in various parts of the islands and there was $3,000 in the office safe.

An officer went ashore, ordered the safe blown open, and took the money. The arms, ammunition, and instruments were found and destroyed.

FIRST HE HEARD OF WAR.

News Broken to German Captain When His Ship Was Captured.

QUEENSTOWN, (via London,) Nov. 5.—The German sailing ship Melpomene, which sailed from Tocopilla, Chile, on July 8 laden with nitrates, was towed into Queenstown today by a British cruiser, which had captured her.

Capt. Ingelman said neither he nor his crew had heard that a war was in progress.

GREECE TO STAY NEUTRAL.

Assurance to Bulgaria—Servia Also Offers "Moral Support."

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A dispatch from Sofia to The Times says:

"The Bulgarian Government has received formal assurance that the Greek Government is determ ned to maintain neutrality and has refrained from ordering mobilization.

"The Servian Minister here announces that Servia will offer Bulgaria her moral support should Turkey attack Bulgaria.

"No friendly advance has been received from Rumania."

FACTIONS IN CHINA BEING UNITED BY WAR

European Struggle Moves Radical Leaders to Rally to Support of Yuan Shih-kai.

NEWS REACHES DR. JENKS

He Believes Far Eastern Republic Is on the Verge of a Great Political Reform.

Dr. Jeremiah W. Jenks of New York University, who is Director of the Far Eastern Bureau, made the following statement yesterday.

"I have just received a most important announcement. It is the most significant indication of the actual effect of the great war upon the Chinese people, comprising between one-fifth and one-fourth of the entire population of the globe. This announcement, while as yet unconfirmed officially, comes from well-informed, reliable sources. It is as follows:

An agreement is just now being reached whereby Chinese radical leaders, hitherto strongly opposed to President Yuan Shih-kai, will join hands in upholding the President and Government of China. The Chinese political leaders, without exception, feel that personal differences should be obliterated in face of the present international situation, and the necessity of Chinese national unity as an essential aid to the preservation of Chinese national integrity. The following developments are expected from the negotiations now proceeding in China, in America, and in Europe.

"While I would not care to hazard the prediction that Dr. Sun Yat-sen and Gen. Hwang Hsing may soon return to China to assume responsible posts in the Government of that country, such a development would not very greatly surprise me. Gen. Hwang Hsing is now in the United States. Several important Chinese officials are also in this country on governmental business. It is possible, though not certain, that communications have passed between the military head of the counter revolution and these visiting officials. Dr. Sun Yat-sen is in Japan.

"I am informed by the representative of the Far Eastern Bureau at Vancouver, B. C., that the following cablegram has been received by The Chinese Daily News of that city:

Messrs. Huang Chin-huei and Tsai Yuan-pei, the former Minister of Education, who are now in Southern France, and Mr. Chang Yin-nien, in Japan, have arrived at an agreement with Dr. Sun Yat-sen, to be known as the "patriotic compact," in which Dr. Sun promises to refrain from organizing a third revolution in China. It is reported in Peking that Mr. Yuan Koh-ting, the son of President Yuan Shih-kai, has signed this agreement and approved it. The agreement is signed by ten important figures in the radical revolutionary party, including Dr. Sun, Mr. Chen Chi-mei, former Governor of Shanghai; Mr. Hu Han-ming, Mr. Wu Han-ming, the former Governor of Kwangtung, and Mr. Pei Wen-wei, the former Governor of Kiangsi.

FROST NEW TERROR OF WAR.

Hardened Ground Prevents Burial of Dead in Poland.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 4, (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle.)—Winter begins officially today with the closing of navigation on the Neva, but already snow is lying on the ground on the western frontier, and in Poland there are severe frosts at night.

A new touch of horror is introduced by the freezing of the ground, which makes it practically impossible to dig graves for the great number of dead in the woods, where recent floods washed the bodies from the shallow graves in which they had been hastily buried.

The villagers report the presence of an unparalleled number of wolves, and have petitioned the army authorities to detach soldiers to shoot them.

The Germans are suffering intensely from the cold. In every town which they occupy they carried off all the available Winter clothing, furs, sheepskins, and leather coats. At Lodi and Shiradow, where there are great cloth factories, they commandeered the whole of the stocks and kept the plants working day and night providing materials for export to Germany. Rebate and, however, to bring away much of this owing to the destruction of the railway bridges by Polish guerrillas, whose activities are acknowledged to have contributed to the Russian success.

There are frequent surrenders of entire detachments of Germans nearly dead with cold and hunger. At every opportunity they strip clothing and boots from the Russian dead.

A characteristic trick was attempted yesterday, when the Germans released twenty captured Caucasian Cossacks, all Mohammedans, having first instructed them in the news of Turkey's declaration of war on Russia, in order that they should spread the information among their comrades. I am assured from sources which I consider entirely reliable that up to the present the Turkish attitude has had no effect on the Cossacks.

BRITISH MINE SWEEPER SUNK.

Eight Men Lost—Survivors Report Firing Off the Yorkshire Coast.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The British mine sweeper Mary was sunk by a mine in the North Sea today. Six of the crew of fourteen men were rescued.

The survivors who were landed at Lowestoft reported heavy firing off the Yorkshire coast this afternoon.

SWEDISH LEADER DEFENDS GERMANY

Prof. Pontus Fahlbeck Argues That Teutonic Allies Were Forced Into the War.

NO OPTION BUT TO FIGHT

Considers Peoples of Entente Nations Are Not United as Strongly as the Germans Are.

Pontus Fahlbeck, Professor of Political Science at the Swedish University of Lund and a former member of the Swedish Parliament, has written a justification of Germany's course in the present war, in the Swedish paper Statsvetenskapig Tidskrift under the title "The World War and Ourselves." In this article, quoted in the Frankfurter Zeitung of Oct. 14, he maintains that nations may not be guided by the same considerations as individuals in meeting such a crisis as that which confronted Germany and endangered her very existence.

"Some might hold that the war is not only terrible—as, indeed, it is—but also incompatible with a high degree of culture, and therefore unnatural and immoral," he says. But this view, he maintains, bespeaks little insight into the vital requirements on the part of a State, inasmuch as those requirements and the moral duties resulting therefrom are different from those prescribed for individuals.

"Duty may demand of an individual that he refrain from claims to which he is entitled," he says, "or even that he sacrifice his own life. But this demand may never be made of the State. The highest task of the State, and therewith its highest duty, is self-preservation.

"Austria-Hungary as well as Germany were threatened for their very existence and had to take up the sword. For Austria it was a matter not only of punishing the people that had become guilty of the murder of a prince, but above all to stifle the Slavic propaganda which Servia had set into motion in order to undermine the Austrian State and break off bit after bit. For Germany the hour of fate would have been rung three years later at the most, in which it would have been forced to defend its newly-won unity and position as a Power, the fruit of hopes and labors of a thousand years. That was known.

"There was no choice permitted, so completely had the three allied Powers isolated Germany. For Germany, too, this war was a matter of self-defense and therefore justified according to the laws of that duty which rests upon a State.

"But if this is true of Germany and Austria the same is not true of their opponents. That lies in the nature of the case. To be sure the diplomats of these countries and the press influenced by them have continually asserted that Germany threatened the peace of its neighbors. But the history of the last forty years contradicts such assertions. And at heart the people of France, Russia, and England do not believe them either. This is plainly shown by a comparison of the sentiments reigning in the various countries with the sentiment in Germany. For the variety of sentiment concerning the war in the nations now warring with one another is the best verdict upon the war.

"The many races in Austria-Hungary welcome the conflict with Servia as a war of liberation. And the German people have arisen against the mass of their foes with a unanimity and enthusiasm unmatched in history. The highest demand of duty on which depends all life of a State and, therefore, all culture, the duty of self-preservation, was stepped into in all its majesty and has found a united people.

"The same is not true of Germany's enemies. It is true that here, too, the voices of parties ceased when the Fatherland called; here, too, they fought valiantly; but nowhere with the same enthusiasm and the same readiness. Moreover, the opinion of the people outside of the parliaments, is here far from one of unanimity. According to all one hears from France, the average man wanted peace far more than war, even if the devotees of the 'revanche' were allowed to depart in triumph. Rebate and adopt the resolutions. In England conditions were in part the same, even into the highest circles, as the resignation of Morley, Burns, and Trevelyan from the Government proves. In Russia, finally, there can be no talk of an opinion of the people itself.

"The variety of popular sentiment in Germany and the countries hostile to her gives the decisive answer to the question of the right and wrong in this world war. And I am sure it will give the decisive answer concerning the final issue of the war.

"I only hope that the war will be of short duration and that the victor will be content with a peace that is not dear, that will not crush France too deeply. For its vitality is not great; and the world cannot afford to lose this people. Belgium, too, which, to be sure, not without some fault of its own, got between the hammer and the anvil, is entitled to sympathy. But the others are not. Of Servia I need not speak; it deserves all the punishment it gets, and it can stand it. And the same is true of Russia and England. They have a surplus of vitality, no matter how heavy the reverses they may have to stand, especially Russia. Nor can one cherish the least pity for this land, which is a State bent on conquest in the ancient sense of the word, and a constant source of danger to its neighbors. And still less can one have sympathy for England, whose ruthless business policy under the intriguing leadership of Sir Edward Grey has now ranged that country among the enemies of Germany, although it would have remained neutral as well as did Italy."

$2,000,000 GOLD TO HOLLAND

Nieuw Amsterdam Also Carries Grain to Dutch Government.

Two million dollars in gold was shipped yesterday for Rotterdam on the Holland-America liner Nieuw Amsterdam, which sailed at 10 A. M. The gold was packed in ten steel chests and stowed away in the specie room.

The Nieuw Amsterdam also took a big cargo of grain consigned to the Dutch Government. There were only sixteen first, twenty-five second, and seventy-five third class passengers on the liner and 2,000 sacks of mail for Germany and Austria.

CAPTIVES PRAISE GERMANS.

Swedish Observer Finds Wounded Prisoners Kindly Cared For.

In reference to the treatment extended by the Germans to the wounded of the French and Russian armies who fall into their hands the German Information Service in the Hotel Astor last night made public the following report published by the Stockholm Dagblad, whose correspondent visited several military hospitals in Berlin:

"Russians and Frenchmen receive the same care and food as the German soldiers, lie in the same rooms and are in no way subjected to any exceptions. To be sure, a few sentinels with bayonets stand before their quarters, but that is the only thing from which one can draw the conclusion that prisoners of war are to be found here.

"The entire hospital equipment, the partitions in the wards and the care of the wounded enemy is the same down to the smallest detail as that for the German wounded. There could be no better proof of this than the fact that a wounded Russian who had been cured did not want to leave the hospital under any condition, so well had he felt there. It is a very mixed company with which the enemy in the east blessed the Germans, and the most varied types are seen among the wounded. A wounded French officer with whom I spoke a few words declared himself satisfied in every respect with his treatment as a wounded man and prisoner.

"Wounded Frenchmen cared for in the barracks at Jena sent a note of thanks to the physicians of the hospital, which, translated, reads as follows:

"'Respected Sirs—In the name of all the Frenchmen who are at present in the hospital of Jena, we take the liberty of expressing our heartiest thanks first to you, then to the sisters and finally to the entire sanitary staff, for all the care taken with us and for the willingness and absolute unselfishness shown. We wish with all our hearts and are moreover convinced, that all German soldiers who were wounded in the service of their fatherland and are now in the care of the French Red Cross will meet with the same generous reception which was offered to us in Germany.' Then follow ninety-six signatures."

Saxon War Minister Stricken.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—According to the Amsterdam correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company, a message reaching there from Berlin says that the Saxon Minister of War, Gen. von Carlowitz, stricken with heart disease in the French arena of war, has been obliged to proceed to Nauheim, where he will receive treatment.

BELGIANS REJOICE AS FOOD ARRIVES

News of American Relief Work Spreads Rapidly Among Alarmed People.

HELP CAME JUST IN TIME

No Bread Left in Brussels—Gen. von der Goltz Says Food Will Not Be Taken by Army.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Millard K. Shaler, the American who visited Brussels on behalf of the American Commission for the Relief of Belgium, returned to London today. He said tonight that conditions in Belgium were even worse than had been described.

"I left Rotterdam," said Mr. Shaler, "on Oct. 28 for Brussels by way of Bergen-Op-Zoom and Antwerp, accompanied by H. A. Johnson, American Consul at Ghent, and the Dutch Consul at Ghent. As we neared the Belgian frontier we saw the pitiful plight of refugees in Holland. Once in Belgium we came across a stream of poor people pouring back into Antwerp in every conceivable kind of conveyance and on foot. They carried their babies and belongings.

"Between Antwerp and Malines the destruction of habitations in every town and hamlet was practically universal. Families were living in partially burned buildings or in improvised structures. The suffering is intense and food supplies practically do not exist.

News Spreads Quickly.

"The news I brought to the Central Committee in Brussels that 10,000 tons of cereals purchased by the American Commission for the immediate relief of the situation in Belgium was en route from England to Rotterdam spread quickly among the people of Brussels and in the neighboring districts. The announcement was timely, for in many sections the inhabitants were growing restless, foreseeing certain famine. As more than 30 per cent. of the Brussels population now live entirely on soup and bread, which is distributed to them daily, and on potatoes, which they receive only once a week, the fear that the bread supply would cease loomed large. On Friday and Saturday last many of the well-to-do people in Brussels had no bread. I could not buy any myself at any price, but fortunately the poor got their meagre supply through the soup kitchens.

"The Central Committee in Brussels for the last three weeks has been receiving appeals for immediate assistance from many parts of Belgium. They have pumped new courage into the people with the news that food is being brought to them through the American commission.

"On Saturday two delegates from Capt. T. F. Lucey, the commission's Rotterdam representative, arrived in Brussels with the information that the first food ship had arrived in Rotterdam and that supplies had been loaded into small steamers and lighters and were to leave by canal by way of Antwerp for Brussels on Sunday. If those who are giving so generously in America could have shared the joy of Brussels when it heard this news they would have been more than repaid for the many sacrifices which generosity on such a scale must entail.

People Express Gratitude.

"On Monday as I traced my way back through devastated Belgium I passed on the frontier of Holland our lighters with the grain that will bring hope and life to these afflicted people. They constantly express their undying gratitude for American help and sympathy. Without America they feel they would be crushed out of existence by famine and war."

Mr. Shaler brought with him a letter written by Field Marshal Baron Kolmar von der Goltz, Military Governor of the occupied part of Belgium, to Brand Whitlock, American Minister to Belgium, regarding the relief work. Baron von der Goltz in his letter welcomes the undertaking of the American committee and gives assurances that the food imported by the committee will be kept exclusively for the use of the Belgian civil population, that it will be exempt from requisition by the military authorities, and that it will remain entirely at the disposal of the committee.

BELGIANS SEEK LOANS.

Government Asked to Aid Those Who Own Property.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The Belgian Minister of Finance recently visited England and conferred with the Belgian financial committee which is devoting all its attention to relieving for the period of the war well-to-do Belgians who do not wish to accept charity and are either able to give banking security for funds advanced or would be able to do so if affairs were in anything like banking order in Belgium.

The committee has been trying for some time to obtain from the Belgian Government an assurance that if it advanced loans on real estate, secured by forms designated by the Belgian Government, these loans would be held after the war as legally binding in Belgium. The Government to date has refused to give such assurances, on the ground that those assigning their property might at a later date give power of attorney to other parties, who would dispose of it before expiration of the war.

The committee has now made representations asking that all such powers of attorney be declared illegal by the Belgian Government.

The Secretary of the committee estimates that if the war lasts six months $300,000 will be needed to meet the demands of those possessing this kind of security who have already approached the committee for relief. The Secretary of the committee says that the majority of those applying for this kind of aid reached England with funds enough to provide for them for a few weeks, and that he hopes some such arrangements as indicated can be made with the Belgian Government. There are at present more than 200 applications which have been approved.

Those who have brought with them Belgian bonds and other good securities have already obtained accommodation from London banks through this committee, and similar relief can be found for those whose real estate or Belgian Government bond claims are approved by the Belgian Government in the manner suggested by the committee.

GOOD HOPE'S GUNS BALKED BY WAVES

Continued from Page 1.

found of the British was in the wireless message, in which the Glasgow called unsuccessfully for the flagship.

It was impossible to save any of the crew of the Monmouth, as the Germans could not put over their small boats in the face of the gale and the Monmouth could not have lowered her boats.

Contrary to first reports the Glasgow did not reach Coronel, or Talcahuano, nor did the Otranto find a Chilean port. The German fleet, with the exception of the Leipzig and Bremen, after putting in here sailed again yesterday. If they had any word of the Leipzig and Bremen they did not make it known. The transport Prinz Eitel anchored in the bay last night.

Five Ships Missing Since Fight.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 5.—News was still lacking tonight concerning the whereabouts of the five missing British and German vessels which were among those participating in the naval engagement off the Chilean coast last Sunday night. These ships are the British cruiser Good Hope, which the Germans believe was sent to the bottom; the British cruiser Glasgow, the British transport Otranto, and the German cruisers Leipzig and Bremen.

No British warship has put into any Chilean port, so far as is known here, nor has any wreckage been found on the coast.

The only information in the hands of the British Legation here is that from German sources.

BRITISH VIEW OF SEA FIGHT.

"Price of Admiralty" the Comment—Details Still Lacking.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The result of the naval battle in the Pacific between British and German squadrons, details of which are still lacking, naturally is the most discussed subject of the war in England. It is realized that the worst accounts, which include the sinking of the Monmouth and serious damage to the Good Hope, probably are true.

"It is the Price of Admiralty," says the average Englishman of this and other losses to ships that have been sustained since the war began. The balance thus far is on the side of Germany, but every Britisher seems to be confident that when the main fleets meet this discrepancy will be more than wiped out. It is expected here that should the German fortress of Tsingtao fall the British and Japanese vessels engaged there will start out in an endeavor to round up the eight or nine German cruisers still at large.

The Chilean Legation has received information by cable showing that the neutrality of that country is being effectively guarded. Chilean warships, it is learned, are convoying within their territorial waters the merchant ships of belligerent countries which are threatened by warships in the vicinity.

The statement also shows that the Chileans are preventing the shipment of abnormal quantities of coal or excessive provisioning. The use of wireless in their waters is also prohibited.

A Certified Oyster

When they reach your table on the half-shell—notice their size, how plump and appetizing they look. See how a hole has been drilled in the end of each shell and a little aluminum tag inserted. Then you are sure—sure they are sure you have oysters that are absolutely fresh and good. Zestful, a trifle salty, you'll find out how delicious an oyster can really be.

Seatag Oysters

Seatags are grown off Cape Charles, Va., miles from the mainland. Served at the better hotels and restaurants.

Armstrong Seatag Corporation
145 West 35th Street, New York

The Tag—Full Size

NEW CHICAGO SERVICE
Leave New York 10 A. M. Arrive Chicago 12:30 P. M. No Extra Fare.
Lackawanna Railroad
Arrive St. Louis, 3:55 P. M. Kansas City, 9:45 P. M.
Ticket Offices: Broadway Cor. Wall St. Cor. 28th St. Cor. Howard St. Cor. 42d St. Brooklyn—565 Fulton St.

J. M. Gidding & Co. announce
An Exhibit of Winter Fashions
in
Gowns · Wraps · Suits
Coats · Blouses
Millinery & Furs
Supplementing displays of late Paris Fashions with American ideas exhibited only in their own Salons
Fifth Avenue at 46th Street
New York

GREENHUT'S
J. R. GREENHUT COMPANY.
"THE BIG STORE"
BOTH SIDES SIXTH AVE., 18TH TO 19TH STREET
Meet me at the Fountain

—MAIN BUILDING—
Special for Today:
'Kirschbaum' Chinchilla Overcoats
A Choice Lot at $17.50

You cannot duplicate any of these coats elsewhere for less than $25, and many custom tailors will charge you $35 for coats that are no better.
We are in a position to offer these coats at $17.50 simply because we placed an order for 1,000 with this celebrated maker "at a price." Ordinarily our lowest selling figure would be $25.
These overcoats are made of PURE ALL-WOOL FAST COLOR IND.GO DYE CHINCHILLA, and are cut in the handsomest models, including:
Balmacaan, Shawl Collar, Belted Back, Single Breasted, Double Breasted and Staple Single Breasted models.
All the desirable colors are in this sale—blue, black, brown, gray and olive chinchillas.
All sizes for men and youths.
Double S&H Stamps Mornings
Single S&H Stamps Afternoons
FORMERLY GREENHUT-SIEGEL COOPER COMPANY

Macy's
R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices.
On Sale Today and Tomorrow.
Herald Square. Broadway, 34th to 35th St.
On Sale Today and Tomorrow.
SEMI-ANNUAL SALE OF TRIMMED HATS
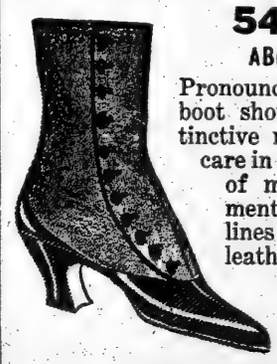
At Greatly Reduced Prices

From our Millinery Salon we have selected about 400 of this Season's Trimmed Hats which we offer for sale on Friday and Saturday at remarkable price concessions.
The Hats represent the newest styles in Dress, Semi-Dress and Tailored effects. Black and colors. Hats for Women and Misses for any occasion.
Following is a list of the reductions—which mean money-saving opportunities to you:
Hats marked $17.89, $15.89 and $13.89 now $9.89
Hats marked $12.89, $10.89 and $8.89 now $5.94
Hats marked $6.89, $5.94 and $4.96 now $2.97
SECOND FLOOR, 34TH STREET.

CELESTINS
VICHY
Owned by and bottled under the direct control of the French Government
Natural Alkaline Water
Used at meals prevents Dyspepsia and relieves Gout, Indigestion and Uric Acid.
Ask your Physician
Note the Name
CELESTINS

SOLD IN QUARTS, PINTS and SPLITS.

ANDREW ALEXANDER
548 FIFTH AVENUE
ABOVE FORTY-FIFTH STREET



Pronounced by many the smartest boot shown this season, this distinctive model reflects the utmost care in workmanship and selection of materials. Original treatment of foxings and new vamp lines are noteworthy. Patent leather and gunmetal calf with tops of gray and fawn buckskin. Hand-made.
Nine dollars a pair.

BULL MOOSE KICK PUT HILLES OUT

Progressive Votes Beat the Republican National Chairman for Delegate.

SINGLED OUT FOR ATTACK

Democrats Elect a Congressman by One Vote in Long Island District.

MAY LOSE ASSEMBLYMAN

Governor-elect Whitman Gets Congratulations from Oscar S. and Nathan Straus.

Charles D. Hilles, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, apparently has been the object of Bull Moose vengeance which has kept him from election as a delegate to the Constitutional Convention. Unofficial returns from the Eighteenth Senatorial District, which embraces the upper west side, indicate that the Progressive vote, and the Progressive vote alone, defeated him.

Mr. Hilles, with W. M. K. Olcott and ex-Senator Martin Saxe, composed the Republican district ticket for convention delegates. There were three Democratic candidates also, but among all six only Assemblyman Mark Eisner had the indorsement of the Bull Moosers.

It was predicted that the Republicans would make a clean sweep of the offices, and but for Mr. Eisner's Bull Moose votes they apparently would have done so. As it was, however, Eisner led all others, leaving his party candidates far in the rear.

According to a careful though unofficial count of the vote, Eisner received 13,999 votes, with Olcott close behind with 13,948. Saxe with 13,619, and Hilles with 13,510. The other two Democrats were more than 1,000 behind.

Eisner's Progressive indorsement assured him his place among the delegates. Hilles, though polling the smallest vote among the Republicans, would still have been third in the running had Eisner had only the Democratic vote on which his party colleagues depended.

Hilles is defeated if the unofficial count shall prove to be correct.

CONGRESS SEAT BY ONE VOTE.

Lathrop Brown, Democrat, Wins Over Hicks on Long Island.

Late returns yesterday showed that Lathrop Brown, Democratic candidate for Congress in the First District, which includes Suffolk and Nassau Counties, had been elected by one vote over Hicks. This is the home district of Col. Roosevelt. A recount will probably be asked.

Regis H. Post, Progressive candidate for Congress in the district, received less than 1,000 votes. Until Representative Brown was elected two years ago the district was regarded as strongly Republican.

FEINBERG BEATS SOLOMON.

Police Station Count Costs Democrats an Assemblyman.

A count of the ballots for Assemblyman in the Thirty-first Election District of the Thirty-first Assembly District last night will elect Aaron A. Feinberg, Republican, by 26 plurality. Samuel Marx, Democratic leader of the district, speaking for Max Solomon, the Democratic nominee, said the count would be contested and taken to court.

The returns from the polling place at 200 West 124th Street were so delayed that a policeman was sent around at 2:30 o'clock on Wednesday morning. He found the election officials in a free fight, and Marx, who said the tally sheets had been signed before the ballots had been counted, ordered the board arrested. This was done, and the ballot boxes, books, and other election paraphernalia were taken to the West 123d Street Police Station.

The case was dismissed in the Harlem Court yesterday, and the election officials then went to the police station, and in Capt. Gargan's office recounted the ballots. The board worked six hours checking the ballots before the final vote was recorded. When added to the total vote cast in the other election districts Feinberg was ahead.

WHITMAN SILENT ON PLACES.

F. C. Tanner Reticent About District Attorney's Job.

District Attorney Charles S. Whitman, Governor-elect, will go to Lakewood this afternoon to rest until next Monday. He refused to discuss appointments, and said he intended to remain in his present office until the first of the year. He had a long conference with State Chairman Frederick C. Tanner, but refused to tell what it was about. When asked if he would accept the office of District Attorney Mr. Tanner smilingly declined to answer.

Many congratulatory telegrams and letters were received. Oscar S. Straus, Progressive candidate for Governor in 1912, wrote:

Dear Mr. Whitman:

While I am a member of and supported the candidacy of that diminutive party, the Progressive, I wish, nevertheless, to congratulate you sincerely upon your gallant fight and triumphant victory. I heartily wish you every success and happiness in your administration as Chief Executive of the Empire State. The result of the election, in addition to its political victory, is a great tribute to you personally, for your fearless and efficient services under trying and difficult circumstances. With cordial regards, very truly yours,

OSCAR S. STRAUS.

This message was received from Nathan Straus:

Dear Mr. Whitman:

I take pleasure in congratulating you on your election as Governor. As District Attorney you have made a wonderful record, and I know that you will do the same as Governor. Wishing you every success, I am, very truly yours,

NATHAN STRAUS.

Mr. Whitman was asked if he had formulated any plans regarding the Public Service Commissionerships and he replied that he had nothing to say. He returned the same answer when asked if he had any opinions regarding police legislation. Discussing the primary law, Mr. Whitman said he was heartily in favor of the short ballot with the only elective offices, Governor, Lieutenant Governor, and possibly Controller. The Attorney General, he said, should be appointed, as the office is that of legal adviser to the Governor and combines the duties of a Corporation Counsel with those of a District Attorney. He said he was in favor of the direct primary law in the main, but that some clauses needed revision, particularly that which forbids candidates to withdraw after their nomination. Such a rule, he said, was intended to prevent fusion.

"For instance," said Mr. Whitman, "if the Republicans and Progressives, providing there are any left, want to get together and combine on any candidate they can't do it. It is practically impossible to have fusion in the city under the clause.

"The principle of the direct primary has worked out very well after a two years' trial, but it is still an experiment."

Mr. Whitman said he believed in party conventions so long as the present ballot with its long list of candidates is used because the people haven't the time to acquaint themselves with the personality and record of all the candidates on a long ballot. All these matters, he said, would be taken up at the Constitutional Convention, in which the Republicans will have two-thirds of the members.

Mr. Whitman was asked if John A. Hennessy was to be an important factor in the State administration, and he replied:

"Mr. Hennessy has been an important factor in the State for some time, hasn't he? But I haven't even thought of appointments, and I have nothing to say along that line at this time. I am going to run down to Lakewood for a few days, more on account of my wife, however, than myself. She has felt the strain of the campaign, but as for me, I never felt better in my life, and I hardly need any rest. Why, even my voice isn't hoarse as a result of the campaign."

"MURPHY OUGHT TO GO."

Mayor Mitchel Amends His Remark —It Wasn't Mandatory.

When Mayor Mitchel was told yesterday that Charles F. Murphy had said he wasn't worrying about what the Mayor said regarding him, Mr. Mitchel replied:

"Well, the position of leader of Tammany Hall isn't an appointive job under the Mayor of New York City. If it were I'd attend to it quickly enough."

"You were quoted yesterday as saying that Murphy must go," the Mayor was told.

"If I was quoted as saying that, I was quoted wrongly," replied the Mayor. "What I said was, that he ought to go; that his elimination following such upheavals as this had been predicted so often that I would not be so foolish as to repeat that prediction now, but that I did not see how he could long continue to provide sustenance for his organization when he is receiving no patronage from city, State or nation."

"Mr. Murphy says Tammany Hall doesn't exist on patronage."

"Well, what does it exist on, then?"

"Mr. Murphy sent word that his health was good and that he was going to go all right, but only to Hot Springs."

"I don't care if he goes to Hot Springs and stays there," replied the Mayor, "but I'm glad his health is good."

Richard Croker, former leader of Tammany Hall, was asked yesterday if he cared to comment upon Tuesday's election.

"No, I haven't anything to say," he replied. "I'm out of touch with things. The younger men are in charge now. There is nothing for me to say—nothing about anything."

6 DIE AS FIRE BURNS OLD LODGING HOUSE

Firemen Rescue Panic-Stricken Lodgers from Flaming Windows of Waverly Hotel.

OTHERS ESCAPE OVER ROOFS

Investigation Shows Direct Fire Alarm Wires Were Cut Shortly Before Blaze Started.

Six men were burned to death yesterday morning at 7 o'clock when a fire swept through the Waverly Hotel, a lodging house, at 352 Eighth Avenue, corner of Twenty-seventh Street, and quickly destroyed the antiquated structure, a four-story brick building which was built in 1878. Sixty-five men slept there during the night, according to the hotel register, and many were rescued from the front fire escapes by ladders and over the roof of an adjoining building with great peril to themselves and the firemen. Those who lost their lives were:

HECTOR, JACK, 34 years, laborer.
LOUIS, BERNARD, 35 years, laborer.
LYNN, EDWARD J., 35, laborer.
REGAN, ——, 50, laborer.
TERWILLIGER, LAZARUS, 53 years, laborer.
Unidentified man.

The fire started on the second floor, apparently from a cigarette or match dropped by one of the lodgers. It was discovered by one of the men on the second floor, awakened by smoke. He gave the alarm, and Thomas Hurst, the day clerk, and Peter Kelly, the night watchman, ran from room to room, pounding on the doors, to arouse the sleepers.

When Truck 12, in charge of Lieut. Reed, and Fire Patrol 3, with Sergt. John Butler in command, arrived, the sleepy lodgers were crowding out on the fire escapes on Eighth Avenue, and had begun to climb to the top floors because the flames from the second floor were licking around them through the front windows. Some of the lodgers, in panic, fought their rescuers and clawed them. One man who had made his way to the roof of the hotel jumped in his fright to the roof of a two-story building adjoining the hotel on the north. He sustained only a badly sprained ankle.

The fire ate its way so quickly from the second to the top floors that the volumes of water poured into the burning building did little good. The work of the firemen, however, kept the flames from spreading. In a little while the fire burned itself out. The bodies of the six victims were found when the firemen searched the ruins.

Fire Commissioner Adamson ordered an investigation of the fire, and last night the Commissioner made public a report by J. O. Hammitt, Chief of the Bureau of Fire Prevention. It was learned that the direct fire alarm in the lodging house connecting with Fire Headquarters had been put out of commission shortly before the fire started. The wires had been cut.

The records of the Bureau of Fire Prevention, according to Mr. Hammitt's report, show, moreover, that fire safeguards had been ordered for this particular lodging house as early as last May. It was ordered that the staircases be inclosed with fireproof material, and that an electric alarm system be instituted. The owner and landlord of the building did not make the changes, and the matter was placed in the hands of the Corporation Counsel's office only recently for forcible action. Work on the stairways had already begun.

It is Mr. Hammitt's contention that there would probably have been no loss of life if the official orders had been promptly complied with. The investigation will be continued today.

FLAMES BLOCK STAIRWAYS.

25 Tenants in Apartment Use Fire Escapes to Reach Safety.

Twenty-five tenants of the apartment house at 116 East Ninety-seventh Street escaped to adjoining buildings at 3 o'clock yesterday morning when a fire in the apartment house cut off egress by the stairway below the third floor. The flames quickly spread to the roof of the five-story structure. Patrolman Westphal of the East 104th Street Station, saw the fire, turned in an alarm, and hastily awoke the tenants.

The stairways had been blocked by flames before he was able to get any of the tenants out of the apartments on the fourth and fifth floors. The rescuers gained entrance to the top floors from the rear fire escape. Most of the tenants were already clustered about the windows, and partly clad, they were assisted from the fire escape of the burning building to the fire escapes of the adjoining houses. The total damage was estimated at $5,000.

INFLUENCE

There are two brands of influence—there is the borrowed influence of somebody's endorsement, and there is the far preferable influence of isolated self confidence.

We are fortunate in the possession of both, for we have behind us the endorsement of scores of satisfied clients, supplemented by the influence we ourselves derive from the knowledge that we have the ability to make good.

THOMPSON-STARRETT COMPANY
Building Construction

HONESTY COUNTS.
Readers of The New York Times return property found by them. Let them know where to return it. Telephone 1000 Bryant.—Advt.

GIMBELS

Broadway and Thirty-third Street

Very Special Today---Men's Winter Overcoats and Suits At $17.50

Recognizing the quick outlet afforded by this GIMBEL Clothing business, our good tailors have been coming to us lately with their best offerings of choice lots of winter clothing remaining for one good reason or another on their hands.

We, in turn, picked—and today's splendid collection is in reality the "creme de la creme" of the clothing market at the present time. Because it is entirely composed of apparel which is

Fashionable—Well Made—Low Priced

Men's Overcoats at $17.50

Loose skirted, loose sleeved, Overcoats of fine all-wool foreign and domestic fabrics; silk-lined sleeves and shoulders.

Stylish Chesterfield Overcoats, fully silk-lined. Some fall weights included.

EXTRA SPECIAL!—Just 100 Velvet Collar Raglan Men's Overcoats at $17.50

Loose model, with silk sleeves, and top linings. Fabrics in new soft, rough effects—browns, grays, and many fancy mixtures. Sizes 33 to 42.

Men's Suits at $17.50

375 of them that are decidedly a surprise at their price. Conservative models, or with soft, rolling fronts. Blue serges, or soft, unfinished self-striped worsted. Tartan checks, plaids, stripes and mixtures. Sizes 33 to 50—big men take notice. Values at least $7.50 higher.

Fourth Floor

Quaint and Comfortable "Windsor" Chairs at ⅓ Less in Price

(The origin of the term "Windsor Chair," according to a story largely current in America, is that George III., the Farmer King, saw a chair of this design in a humble cottage near Windsor, and was so enamored of it that he ordered some to be made for royal use. The chair had a singular vogue in America, and it is stated that George Washington had a row of Windsor chairs at his house at Mount Vernon, and Jefferson sat in a Windsor chair when he signed the Declaration of Independence in 1776—Arthur Hayden in "Chats on Cottage and Farmhouse Furniture.")

True Reproductions in Solid Mahogany

Perfect in proportion and design, made as well as men know how. Ideal for the homes of today.

$15 Arm Chair $10

$15 Arm Chairs and Rockers now $10

$15 Rocker $10

Only 150 of Them to sell at this low price. And what Christmas presents they will make for those who are in search of things beautiful for the home!

Seventh Floor

Arnold Constable & Co.

Remarkable Values for Today and Saturday

Continuation of the Unusual Hosiery and Underwear Event

Exceeding in importance all previous offerings and furnishing the best values of the season

5,000 Pairs Fine Hose
8,000 Pieces Knit Underwear
¼ to ⅓ Off Regular Prices

All of the most desirable Fall and Winter weights for Men, Women and Children, and consisting of the following surplus from our celebrated high grade Wholesale Stock:

For Women

	Formerly per pair	NOW per pair	3 pairs	6 pairs
PURE THREAD BLACK SILK HOSE	1.00	58c	1.65	3.25
PURE SILK PLAITED HOSE—Lustrous and durable; first quality	50c	33c	95c	1.85
LISLE THREAD HOSE—Highly mercerized. Black	50c	33c	95c	1.85
IMPORTED COTTON HOSE—Medium or heavy weight	50c	33c	95c	1.85
FINE COTTON HOSE—Medium weight. Black only	35c	23c	65c	1.25

	Formerly each	NOW each	3 pieces	6 pieces
UNION SUITS—Fine ribbed merino; winter weight	1.75	1.35	3.90	7.75
UNION SUITS—Fine ribbed cotton; winter weight	1.25	95c	2.80	5.50
UNION SUITS—Fine ribbed, mercerized Sea Island cotton	1.00	68c	1.95	3.85
UNION SUITS—Fine ribbed; silk trimmed	75c	55c	1.60	3.20
UNDER VESTS—Fine ribbed merino; winter weight; long or short sleeves; high neck. Tights to match. Sizes 4, 5, 6	1.00	75c	2.20	4.30
UNDER VESTS—Fine ribbed cotton; winter weight; high neck; long or short sleeves. Tights to match. Sizes 4, 5, 6	65c	45c	1.30	2.55

For Men

	Formerly per pair	NOW per pair	3 pairs	6 pairs
SILK SOCKS, two tone accordion weaves, also black, white and plain colors	50c	40c	1.10	2.10
CASHMERE SOCKS, silk lined, handsome mottled mixtures and plain colors	50c	40c	1.10	2.10
SILK AND WOOL SOCKS, accordion two tone colorings	50c	40c	1.10	2.10
IMPORTED MERCERIZED SOCKS—Fine quality, silk clocked	50c	30c	85c	1.60

	Formerly each	NOW each	3 pieces	6 pieces
MORLEY'S SUPER WEIGHT WOOL UNDERWEAR—Complete line of stouts and regular sizes in this popular all wool, non-shrinkable brand.	3.75	3.00	8.50	16.00
MORLEY'S LIGHT WEIGHT WOOL UNDERWEAR, non-shrinkable, complete sizes, including stouts and regular	3.00	2.35	6.00	11.50
BRETTLE'S ENGLISH SILK UNDERWEAR, Gauze, medium and super weights, small and extra sizes only	10.00	5.00	13.50	25.00

For Children

	Formerly per pair	NOW per pair	3 pairs	6 pairs
IMPORTED COTTON HOSE, medium weight; black, white or tan	50c	33c	95c	1.85
FIBRE SILK PLAITED HOSE, lustrous and excellent wearing quality, desirable weight; black, white or tan	35c	29c	85c	1.65
WINTER WEIGHT COTTON HOSE, linen heels and toes, made to resist hard service	35c	23c	65c	1.25

	Formerly each	NOW each	3 pieces	6 pieces
UNION SUITS, winter weight, fine merino or soft cotton. Sizes 3 to 6 years	1.25	95c	2.75	5.40
Sizes 7 to 14 years	1.50	1.25	3.60	7.10
UNDER VESTS AND PANTALETTES, winter weight, fine ribbed soft cotton	65c	45c	1.30	2.55

Women's Caracul Coats — Of specially selected fine, soft, silky skins, beautifully lined with colored satin, and guaranteed for extra wearing quality. Regularly $65.00 — 42.50

Interesting Collection of Odd Fur Scarfs and Muffs
Formerly $18.00 to $280.00
Now 12.00 to 200.00
Consisting of beautiful specimens of Mink, Ermine, Caracul, Opossom, Brown, Pointed Red and Cross Fox, Fisher, Civet Cat and Broadtail Persian.

Special Offering of Fashionable Fur Sets
Averaging 25% less than regular prices.

SCARFS	SALE PRICE
Moleskin	12.00 to 65.00
Black Lynx	16.50 to 80.00
Skunk	19.00 to 70.00
Bear	At 40.00
MUFFS
Moleskin	20.00 to 60.00
Black Lynx	25.00 to 65.00
Skunk	30.00 to 58.00
Bear	At 52.00

Smart Warm Winter Coats
For Misses and Young Women

Of the fashionable Zibeline, in black, brown, blue and green; new belted model, in the popular medium length, trimmed with handsome buttons. Value $20.00 — 12.50

Handsome model of Zibeline, with fur collar, suitable for dressy occasions, in prevailing shades of brown, green, blue; also black. Value $26.50 — 18.50

Exceptional Values in

Fashionable Gloves

"Regis" Real Kid Gloves
For Women and Misses

Has all the distinctive features of the finest French Glace Gloves—soft, pliable skins, beautifully sewn, perfect in fit and unequalled in wearing quality.

Value $1.50 Pair—1 Pair 1.25, 2 Pairs at 1.15, 3 Pairs at .95

	Value	Per Pair	Per 2 Pairs	Per 3 Pairs
DOESKIN, 1 clasp, washable, white	1.50	1.25	1.15	1.00
CAPE GLACE, P. X. M. seams, 1 clasp, tan or white	1.25	1.15	1.10	.95
CHAMOIS LISLE, 16 button length, white and yellow	1.50	1.15	1.10	.95
WHITE GLACE, 16 button length, real kid	3.50	2.75	2.65	2.55

Our Celebrated Rubberless "Waterberry" Raincoats
For Women and Misses

Regularly $15.00 — In all sizes — 8.75 — 14 years to 44 bust

Priestley's "Gravenette"
Owned and controlled entirely by us in the United States.

Made from our exclusive light weight silky material, thoroughly waterproof yet rubberless. The season's new models in Tan, Navy and Olive are highly desirable for all-the-year-round wear and offer truly remarkable values.

Choicest Blouses of the Hour

Chiefly Paris Inspired Models in an elaborate assortment of the season's artistic styles.

Exclusiveness and very moderate prices commend the following:

At 2.95
Blouses of the fashionable Crepe de Chine, beautiful quality in all white or white with black collars; Dainty fine lace, over net, the new cape model with long sleeves. Fine Voile in attractive models, lace trimmed.

At 5.50
Tailleur blouses of heavy Messaline in autumn suit shades; Theatre blouses of shadow lace with satin over blouse; Crepe de Chine with Panne velvet trimming; "Pussy Willow" Taffeta in smart, simple styles; Plain Satin with clever touches of black.

Silk Petticoats of Quality

The season's most popular styles for Women and Misses

MESSALINE—of superior weight and finish, with new style foot trimming or deep side plaiting. Regularly $3.75 2.95

JERSEY TOP PETTICOATS—with messaline flounce and additional dust ruffle. Regularly $4.50 3.95

PURE SILK JERSEY PETTICOATS—with deep plaiting of same. Regularly $5.00 4.35

CREPE DE CHINE—of superior quality; two models, shirred flounce or side plaiting. Regularly $5.50 4.95

Women's, Misses' and Children's
Angora Sweaters and Sets
At Attractively Low Prices

WOMEN'S AND MISSES' ANGORA SWEATERS—of beautiful quality, in a large assortment of the season's best models and colors. Specially priced 6.75 to 9.75

CHILDREN'S ANGORA SWEATER COATS—with cape attached, in various colors. Specially priced 5.95

CHILDREN'S ANGORA SETS—consisting of sweater coat, cap and leggings. Specially priced 4.50

Broadway & 19th Street

CHICAGO WOMEN A POWER AT POLLS

Return Two Reform Sanitary Trustees That Men, if Alone, Would Have Defeated.

DID NOT FAVOR THEIR SEX

Women Candidates for County Board Beaten—Only 65 Per Cent. of Enrolled Women Voted.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—In the first election in Illinois of great importance since the women of the State received the grant of limited suffrage, they upset the calculations of professional politicians by not going to the polls in the numbers anticipated.

To begin with, the registration of women in this city was much smaller than anticipated; only 165,163 women enrolled. Of these only 65 per cent. voted. These rejected one saloonkeeper, and that man one of mediocre ability, for Trustee of the Sanitary District, a board which controls the expenditure of millions of dollars of public funds annually; the women caused the re-election of two tried and efficient public servants to these important positions.

Many reasons are assigned for the falling off in the anticipated woman's vote; the one generally accepted is that the women were dissatisfied because they were unable to vote for the candidates on the ticket holding the spotlight positions. For instance, the women could not vote for United States Senator, Congressman-at-large, Congressman, State Senator, or State Representative. They were also barred from voting for a number of officers on the county and municipal tickets.

Complete election returns in this city indicate clearly that results would have been markedly different in some instances had the men alone voted. Proof of this is found in the election of Wallace G. Clark and George W. Paullin as Sanitary District Trustees. The men's vote would have elected all three Democratic candidates, placing the board under the absolute control of the Democrats. As Clark and Paullin have composed the protesting minority against the extravagance of which the Democratic board is accused, their election is hailed as a victory for women in politics.

The votes of women also elected Charles L. Billings, Republican, Judge of the Municipal Court to fill a vacancy. The returns show that if the women had not voted Patrick B. Flanagan, Democrat, would have been elected with a plurality of 4,349. The women rallied to Billings, and 46,872 cast their votes for him. Flanagan received only 37,878 women's votes and Billings was elected with a plurality of 3,645.

It does not appear that the women voters rallied to the support of candidates of their own sex. Mary E. McDowell and Harriet E. Vittum, the women candidates for members of the County Board, while each received more votes than any other Progressive candidate for the board with the exception of A. A. McCormick, were overwhelmingly beaten.

The Chicago Herald will say in an editorial tomorrow:

The fact that Trustees Paullin and Clark, the two most indefatigable protesters against waste and extravagance on the Sanitary Board, were retained as Trustees largely by the women's votes proves that optimistic estimates of the psychology of the woman voter were fairly correct.

The majority of woman voters will probably, for a long time, at least, vote substantially as the male members of the family vote. There is a reason for this, aside from man's influence. The husband and wife enjoy exactly the same condition in life, and they are apt to think alike politically as a result.

There is thus small prospect of a "woman's party" in the sense of a large and effective political organization based on the distinction of sex and supposedly radical differences in the political aims of men and women.

The politicians of all parties are now keen about discovering the feminine political psychology, with a view to making a proper sort of appeal to it. One way to appeal to the woman voter as a woman is to nominate first-class men for office.

The women of Chicago are now preparing for the supreme issue of next April, when a Mayor, in place of Carter Harrison; a City Treasurer, a City Clerk, and thirty-six members of the City Council are to be elected. For all these they can vote. The women will vote at the primaries as well as the city election. Their strength cannot be estimated, but that they will be powerful in the elimination of the undesirable element in politics, first in the primaries and later at the election, is generally believed.

MONTANA SUFFRAGE SAFE.

Carried at Least 30 Out of 39 Counties, Returns Show.

Special to The New York Times.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 5.—Suffrage carried thirty out of thirty-nine counties in Montana, according to returns at suffrage headquarters. It was defeated in six counties. Returns from the remaining three have not been received.

Suffragists claim victory by from 2,000 to 5,000.

MACKAY AIDED WADSWORTH.

Gave $5,000 to Senatorial Campaign —Candidate Spent $9,063.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Senator-elect James W. Wadsworth, Jr., of New York filed his election expense account in person today and looked about the Capitol. He recorded additional receipts of $6,000 to a previous statement, making his total $14,290, and additional expenditures of $2,000, making the latter total $9,063.

The largest contribution recorded was one of $5,000 from C. H. Mackay of New York.

VINEYARDS BEAT DRYS.

California Prohibition Would Have Destroyed Vast Properties.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Not only did California bury State-wide prohibition on Tuesday by a majority that may reach close to 200,000, but a referendum amendment was adopted prohibiting another vote on the question within eight years.

The campaign against prohibition was waged almost entirely on the plea that its passage would destroy vineyards and wineries worth more than $200,000,000, with only five days' grace after the official counts were certified, unless another proposed amendment granting an extension of time were passed. Many newspapers and citizens, even including clergymen, declared they would support a measure aimed at the saloons alone. Four-fifths of the area of California is already "dry" under local option.

A section of the defeated law provided that a second conviction of serving wine to guests in one's own home should be punishable by imprisonment.

MISSOURI LEGISLATURE DRY.

Will Be Asked to Give District Local Option to St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 5.—The next Missouri Legislature will be dry, it was said today at the offices of the Missouri Anti-Saloon League. The league will attempt to secure the passage of a law providing for precinct and ward local option in St. Louis. The Rev. W. C. Shupp, State Superintendent, said 94 out of 142 members in the next Missouri House of Representatives would be "dry" and nineteen or twenty of the thirty-four Senators.

"We know exactly how these men have stood for years," he said. "We are responsible for many of them being in the Legislature."

MOOSE A MINOR PARTY

And Democrats Will Control It, Says Republican Chairman Woods.

FORT DODGE, Iowa, Nov. 5.—"The tremendous slump in the Bull Moose vote throughout the United States emphatically places it as a minor opposition party henceforth," declared Representative Frank P. Woods, Chairman of the Republican National Congressional Committee. "The result of the election in the various states leads me to predict that the Republican Party will be returned to administer the Government in 1916.

"It is reasonable to expect that the protectionists will return from the Bull Moose Party to the Republican Party, while their places will be taken by Democrats, who will be out of harmony with their own party policies. As a result the Progressive organization eventually will be controlled by the Democrats."

MOOSE LOOSE STANDING.

Nor Is Socialist Party Now a Legal One in Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 5.—As neither the Progressives nor the Socialists cast two per cent. of the total vote for Governor Tuesday they lose their standing as legal political parties in this State.

The Republicans and the Democrats are now the only parties entitled to nominate their candidates through the caucus system.

SEAL CONVENTION RETURNS.

No Full Reports on Constitutional Delegates Until Next Tuesday.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Nov. 5.—Seemingly very little attention was paid on election night to the collection of the returns on delegates to the Constitutional Convention, although the returns reported indicate that the Republicans would control the convention. The official returns were sealed on election night and will not be opened until next Tuesday, when the County Boards of Canvassers meet. They must then be canvassed and the result must be forwarded to the Governor, Controller, and Secretary of State by the last day of November.

The Secretary of State is charged with the duty of taubulating the returns of the sixty-two counties for the consideration of the State Board of Canvassers, which is directed to meet on or before Dec. 15.

CALIFORNIA IS FIGHTLESS.

Law Prohibiting Pugilistic Bouts Carried, Also Anti-Vice Act.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Prize-fighting is doomed in California on the face of returns from Tuesday's election. The proposed law doing away with the fistic sport seems to have received a majority of the votes. Earlier returns, especially those from cities, made it appear that the anti-fight measure had been lost by a narrow margin. The State has long been a pugilistic stamping ground, and it is said that at one time three world champions of varying classes lived in the same block in San Francisco.

The so-called Iowa injunction law for the abatement of immoral traffic, heretofore regarded as defeated, likewise showed heavy support from the inner districts of the State, and the affirmative votes obtained a majority.

McKINLEY SAYS CORN DID IT.

His People Raise It, Tariff Was Reduced, He Was Elected.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—"The tariff and the problem of the unemployed—they go together—were the big factors in the Republican landslide," said William B. McKinley, ex-Chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee.

Tuesday's election sent Mr. McKinley back to Congress. He said that electioneering was easy for him this year, as the Wilson Administration had reduced the tariff on corn, which is largely grown in his district, the Nineteenth Illinois.

Brooklyn Campaign Statements.

Statements filed in the County Clerk's office in Brooklyn yesterday show that it cost Alvah W. Burlingame, Jr., $840.65 to conduct his successful campaign for State Senator from the Eighth District. Meier Steinbrink spent $427.12 for election as Republican delegate to the Constitutional Convention from the Sixth District. Charles H. Haubert, Republican, spent $93 in trying for election as delegate, and John C. Kinkel, another Republican candidate for delegate, did not spend anything.

DEMOCRATS LEAD IN SENATE RACES

Thomas Increasing His Plurality in Colorado—Husting Well Ahead in Wisconsin.

NEWLANDS'S LEAD ONLY 102

Official Count Probably Will Have to Decide in Nevada, Perhaps in Other Close States Also.

The indications last night from late returns on Tuesday's election were that the official count probably would be necessary to decide the Senatorship contests in Nevada and possibly in Wisconsin and Colorado also. Several Congressional Districts also remained in doubt.

In Wisconsin Paul O. Husting, Democrat, on the face of complete unofficial returns, led Gov. Francis E. McGovern, Republican, for Senator by 1,555.

In Nevada, Francis G. Newlands, Democrat, had a lead of only 102 votes on late returns over Samuel Platt, Republican, for United States Senator. A few mountain districts, with a hundred votes or so, alone remained to be heard from.

In Colorado, with 90 per cent. of the vote counted, Charles A. Thomas, Democrat, led Hubert Work, Republican, for United States Senator by 4,138.

In the Fifth Nebraska District late returns gave the Congressional seat to A. C. Shallenberger, Democrat, instead of S. R. Barton, Republican, previously reported elected.

In the Sixth Kansas District J. R. Connelly, Democrat, was returned as elected to Congress instead of J. B. Dykes, Republican, previously reported successful.

NEWLANDS 102 AHEAD.

Nevada Senatorship Will Be Decided by the Official Count.

CARSON, Nev., Nov. 5.—Who was elected United Sttaes Senator in Nevada on Tuesday must remain undetermined until the official canvass of the votes has been completed.

With 182 out of 240 precincts reported tonight, the vote stood: Francis G. Newlands, Democrat, 7,751; Samuel Platt, Republican, 7,649. The fifty-eight missing precincts are in remote mountain desert districts and the result of their vote will not be known until the ballot boxes have been brought over the trails to their respective county seats. Their total vote will aggregate only a few hundred.

HUSTING LEADS McGOVERN.

Official Count Probably Necessary to Decide Wisconsin Senatorship.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 5.—The official count of the vote cast in Wisconsin for United States Senator appears tonight to be the only way of deciding whether Paul O. Husting, Democrat, or Gov. Francis E. McGovern, Republican, has been elected to succeed Isaac Stephenson.

Unofficial returns received from every county in Wisconsin by The Milwaukee Journal give Husting 122,315 and McGovern 120,700. Inaccuracies, however, and various changes in county reports throughout the day caused the advantage to shift bewilderingly several times from one candidate to the other.

For instance, an error in the returns from Waukesha County took about 300 votes away from McGovern and favored Husting.

THOMAS INCREASES LEAD.

Colorado Democrat Senator on Returns from 90 Per Cent. of State.

Special to The New York Times.

DENVER, Nov. 5.—On the face of the latest returns Charles S. Thomas, Democrat, appears to have been elected United States Senator over Dr. Hubert M. Work, Republican.

Unofficial figures, including thirty-three counties complete and sixty out of sixty-three counties incomplete, give Thomas 94,063 and Work 89,915. This represents more than 90 per cent. of the state vote.

SHERMAN WINS BY 15,573.

Robins for Illinois Senator Got Half of Roosevelt's Vote.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—On the face of the unofficial returns Lawrence Y. Sherman, Republican, has been re-elected United States Senator from Illinois by a plurality of 15,573. The Sullivan leaders do not concede Sherman's re-election and declare they will not be satisfied until the official canvass definitely determines the result.

The complete unofficial returns from every precinct in the State show Sherman's plurality to be 15,573. A summary follows: Sherman, Rep., 357,578; Sullivan, Dem., 372,006; Robins, Prog., 198,508; Germer, Soc., 28,981; Woolsey, Prohi., 3,083.

Senator Sherman received 52 per cent. more than the vote given to Taft two years ago in Illinois. Sullivan got 91 per cent. of the vote received by President Wilson in 1912. Mr. Robins's vote was only 51 per cent. of that given to Roosevelt by the voters of Illinois two years ago.

The Republicans seem to have elected all their State officers, and will control the next Legislature. They have a majority of one in the House, and the Senate is tied.

Senator Sherman, addressing the Republican State Central Committee today, admitted that in the recent campaign he "worked in hobbles."

"Out of consideration for the other candidates and in deference to the wishes of my friends," he said, "I refrained from saying what I really thought of Col. Roosevelt's invasion of Illinois. Now there exists no occasion for saying it. The public has spoken."

CLAIM 16 LEAD IN SENATE.

Democratic Majority Increased on Face of Late Returns.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—A net gain of four Democratic seats in the Senate, making a Democratic majority of 16, instead of 10, was claimed tonight by Thomas J. Pence, in charge of the permanent headquarters here of the Democratic National Committee. Mr. Pence said:

"Returns received tonight indicate that every Democratic Senator who was a candidate for re-election won out and that Phelan, in California; Johnson, in South Dakota, and Husting, in Wisconsin, will succeed Republican Senators. In that event the Democrats would make a net gain of four Senators and increase the Democratic majority in the Senate from 10 to 16.

"The Democratic majority in the House will be at least 30, with several districts yet to be heard from."

Commenting tonight on the result of the elections, Representative John J. Fitzgerald, Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, pointing out that the Democratic Party had labored under the disadvantage of having recently revised the tariff and imposed an extraordinary tax as a result of conditions growing out of the European war, insisted that the Administration policies had been indorsed in a striking way. Republican gerrymandering of the reapportioned Congressional districts, he thought, partly explained Democratic reverses in the Northern States.

CURTIS'S LEAD IS 4,782.

Capper in Kansas Has 41,762 — Woman for Judge Running Last.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 5.—Charles Curtis, Republican, is going back to the United States Senate after an absence of two years to succeed Joseph L. Bristow, whom Curtis defeated for nomination in the primaries.

With all counties heard from tonight, Curtis has a plurality of 4,782 votes over Congressman George A. Neeley, Democrat.

Arthur Capper, Republican, has a plurality of 41,762 over Gov. George H. Hodges, Democrat, on final figures.

Despite big pluralities for the Republican State ticket, the Democrats gained one Congressman in the Eighth District, from which W. A. Ayres will succeed Victor Murdock. Murdock left the House to become the Progressive candidate for United States Senator. He was third in the race.

CLAIM 40,000 FOR SEABURY.

Chairman Osborn Says Democrat's Lead Probably Will Increase.

Democratic Chairman Osborn said yesterday that there was now no question of the election of Supreme Court Justice Seabury to be Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals.

"The returns now indicate," he said, "that Justice Seabury's plurality is from 35,000 to 40,000. Later returns will probably increase this lead."

Louisiana Adopts the Recall.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 5.—Returns from the State election indicate that a constitutional amendment providing for the recall of all elective State officers except judges has been ratified.

Stern Brothers

42nd and 43rd Streets, West of Fifth Avenue.

Men's and Young Men's Clothing

OF the highest standard of excellence, in an interesting assemblage of entirely new Fall and Winter models is now being shown, in sizes 33 to 50 inch chest measure, in all proportions,

At these uniformly moderate prices:

Winter Overcoats, - - at $20.00 to 85.00
Sack Suits, - - - - - " $20.00 to 45.00
Full Dress Suits, - - - " $25.00 to 60.00
Dinner Coat Suits, - - " $25.00 to 60.00
Braided Cutaway Coats and Vests, 25.00 to 50.00

Particularly attractive features of this section are

Men's Suits and Overcoats, at $25.00, 30.00 and 35.00

Special Today and Saturday:

Young Men's Overcoats and Suits at $18.50

Regular Value $25.00

Overcoats are in smart, snug-fitting, double or single breasted styles; also raglan and many novelty styles.

Suits are in entirely new models, without padding, in one, two, three or four button styles; sizes 31 to 40 chest measure.

B. Altman & Co.

Fashionable Gowns of Chiffon Velvet for afternoon and evening wear, will be made to order in the smart models of the season at very moderate prices.

Dressmaking Department, Third Floor.

Fifth Avenue-Madison Avenue
34th and 35th Streets New York

Arnold. Constable & Co.

Today and Saturday—The Season's First Sale of 500 Highest Grade Men's Winter Overcoats

Made to our special order in the most varied assortment of the smartest and distinctly exclusive advance winter styles worn by well dressed men. Models and materials to suit every conceivable requirement; assorted in groups for easy selection.

OXFORD GRAYS with fancy backs.
FLEECY COATINGS with plaid backs.
OXFORD CHINCHILLAS with novelty backs.
BLUE CHINCHILLAS with short nap.
VICUNA FINISHED Novelty Coatings
NEW CAMBRIDGE GRAYS with plain backs.
NEW NEEDLE CURL WORSTEDS
GLENGARY CHECKS in modish colorings.
SNOW FLAKE CHEVIOTS—gray effects.
HEATHER MIXED PLAIDS
KNITTED COATS in Heather mixtures.
COVERT CLOTH in medium weight.
HEAVY DIAGONAL WORSTEDS

19.50
Intended to sell at retail for $25.00, $27.50, $30.00.

At 26.50
Regularly $35.00

FULL AND QUARTER SILK LINED OVERCOATS, of St. Georges famous Vicuna finished all wool coatings in plain colors. Dressy and conservative models. Velvet or self collar.

At 39.00
Regularly $48.00 to $55.00

FINEST GRADE SILK LINED OVERCOATS, Imported Meltons and Vicunas in the most stylish dark Oxfords, Cambridge greys, browns and black. Finest hand tailoring.

Broadway & 19th Street

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices.

On Sale Today and Tomorrow.

Macy's

Herald Square. Broadway, 34th to 35th St.

On Sale Today and Tomorrow.

MEN'S WINTER OVERCOATS

Garments which for Material, Quality and Price stand in a Class by Themselves

At $24.75

The smart single-breasted Chesterfield, lined throughout with silk and with a velvet collar, is one of the most distinguished models shown this season. Well dressed men prefer them. They are serviceable Coats and are adapted to all occasions. We have them in double-breasted and other prevailing styles. All Overcoats are strictly hand-tailored.

At $19.75

All the newest models and colorings. Warmth without weight. Skeleton lined with silk yoke. An inspection of these Overcoats will prove our assertion that nowhere else in New York will be found garments of such quality at such a price.

At $14.75

Smart Overcoats in Chesterfield, Raglan, Modified Balmacaan, Double Breasted, London Box and Convertible Collar models. Sleeves and yoke silk lined. We have never shown better Overcoats at the price.

Men's and Young Men's SUITS, $18.50
Elsewhere $22.00

This is an exceptional opportunity to obtain the latest and most correct English Models at a big saving. These Suits, which are copied after the most exclusive designers in London, have soft rolling lapels, high waistcoat, patch pockets, and narrow trousers that taper down to the bottom. Also more conservative styles. Some are silk lined and have silk sleeves. In Tartan checks and pencil stripes, in black and gray shades of cassimere and unfinished worsted.

FIFTH FLOOR.

Two Articles That

Every One Should Read

I.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

on

"The International Posse Comitatus"

II.

Prof. ALBERT BUSHNELL HART

of Harvard University

on

"Turkey and the War"

in

NEXT SUNDAY'S TIMES

Order next Sunday's Times today of your newsdealer. The Times is always sold out early.

VILLA REPORTS BATTLE IS ON

Fighting with Carranza Force Starts Twenty Miles South of Aguascalientes.

STRONG ARMY MOVES OUT

Villa Said to Have 10,000 Men and 100 Cannon to Stop an Invasion of the North.

CLASHES NEAR THE BORDER

Villa Troops Approach the Texas Line and Threaten to Attack Two Towns.

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 5.—An official report received today by Villa officials in Juarez said that a battle was in progress between Villa and Carranza troops twenty miles south of Aguascalientes, where the convention of chiefs recently attempted to adjust their factional difficulties.

It is said Villa has sent a force of 10,000 men and more than 100 cannon to meet the advance of the Carranza troops, whose strength is not known.

DEL RIO, Texas, Nov. 5.—There was fighting yesterday near the American border between Carranza and Villa troops about fifteen miles up the Rio Grande from here, according to American hunters arriving here today.

Attempting to hunt in Mexico, they were ordered back by Mexicans, who informed them there was a battle in progress.

The approach of Villa troops toward the Texas border with Nuevo Laredo and Piedras Negras as their objective, has been reported several times in the last few weeks. The location indicated for yesterday's fighting was near Piedras Negras.

NOGALES, Ariz., Nov. 5.—Fighting now is in progress near Magdalena, Sonora, between 400 of Gov. Maytorena's Villista troops and 350 men which Gen. Benjamin Hill, the Carranza leader in Sonora, sent south last night from Naco. Hill's men burned bridges and stopped northbound trains. Maytorena hurried men to Magdalena on a special train.

FLEEING FROM THE CAPITAL.

Vera Cruz Once More Filling Up with Refugees.

VERA CRUZ, Nov. 5.—Trains from the interior tonight were jammed with refugees, and again the Vera Cruz hotels were crowded as in the days when residents of Mexico City were fleeing before Gen. Carranza assumed control in the capital.

Candido Aguilar, commander of the Constitutionalist troops near this city, removed a few wealthy Spaniards from one of the trains just outside Vera Cruz. He is holding them as prisoners.

ZUBARAN SEES BANKERS.

Carranza's Agent Says Foreign Interests Will Be Protected.

Rafael Zubaran, special representative of Gen. Carranza, came to this city yesterday from Washington for the purpose of assuring American bankers and investors, in behalf of Gen. Carranza, that foreign interests would be well taken care of in Mexico. He had received a telegram from Gen. Carranza to that effect, he announced.

Gen. Carranza, according to his representative, wished to make it plain to the American investors that all stories that the forces under Gen. Carranza were preparing to attack the American troops at Vera Cruz were untrue. It was the hope of Gen. Carranza, he said, that friendly relations would be established with the United States, and that the troops under Gen. Funston would soon be withdrawn.

Mr. Zubaran said that Gen. Carranza would not relinquish his office as head of the Constitutionalist Army despite the action of the Aguascalientes Convention in selecting Gen. Eulallo Gutierrez as Provisional President.

Mr. Zubaran will remain in this city for several days and will make his headquarters at the offices of Carranza's Consul General here, Ignacio Enriquez.

Huerta's Consul in Want.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—Mariano F. Cirat, until recently Mexican Consul in this city, today appeared in the Municipal Court here and asked that his five children be committed to institutions in this city. He explained that since former Provisional President Huerta had fled to Europe he had received no salary and was now in destitute circumstances.

PLANS FOR SIEGEL DEFENSE.

Counsel Ready for Merchant's Trial, Which Begins on Monday.

Henry Siegel, formerly head of a chain of department stores, will appear at Geneseo, Livingston County, next Monday, for trial on fourteen indictments charging grand larceny and banking irregularities. It was made known yesterday by John B. Stanchfield, counsel in charge of Mr. Siegel's defense, that he would assert that Mr. Siegel made no false statement of the condition of his enterprises on the strength of which he obtained large loans from several banks. Counsel for Mr. Siegel will endeavor to show that while some of the assets of the Siegel enterprises were overestimated, others were underestimated, and that, therefore, the general statements were true.

"Mr. Siegel is to be tried under an indictment charging the larceny of $684 on June 14, 1913," said Mr. Stanchfield. "This transaction represents only part of a $25,000 loan obtained from the National Bank of Commerce. Mr. Siegel is charged with stealing this money through the presentation of a false statement of the condition of his business. The District Attorney had to specify an amount in excess of $500 in order to try Mr. Siegel on a charge of grand larceny.

"We will prove that while the statement may have contained items that were too large, it also contained items that were too small."

Assistant District Attorney Arthur C. Train, who has obtained much of the evidence to be used against Mr. Siegel, and Assistant District Attorney Robert Johnston of the Appeal Bureau of the District Attorney's office have gone to Geneseo already to make arrangements for the trial. Assistant District Attorney William D. Embree will start for the place of the trial this afternoon. Six large crates, filled with documentary evidence, have been forwarded by the District Attorney to Geneseo.

More than 250 of the depositors of Henry Siegel & Co., the private bank run by Siegel and the late Frank E. Vogel in connection with the Fourteenth Street Store, met last night at the University Settlement, 184 Eldridge Street, and raised a fund of about $80 to send a committee to represent them at the trial of Siegel. The committee will consist of Benjamin Marcus, Adolph Schwartz and Irving Coons. It was announced at the meeting that the District Attorney had subpoenaed Emmeline Baker, 3,440 Park Avenue, and Herman Hagstoerer, 116 East Fifty-third Street, as State's witnesses.

A Millionaire's Luxury Now Only $3.85

Like wintering in Florida—like owning a yacht—like smoking dollar cigars—the daily enjoyment of a needle shower has heretofore been looked upon as a luxury of the rich.

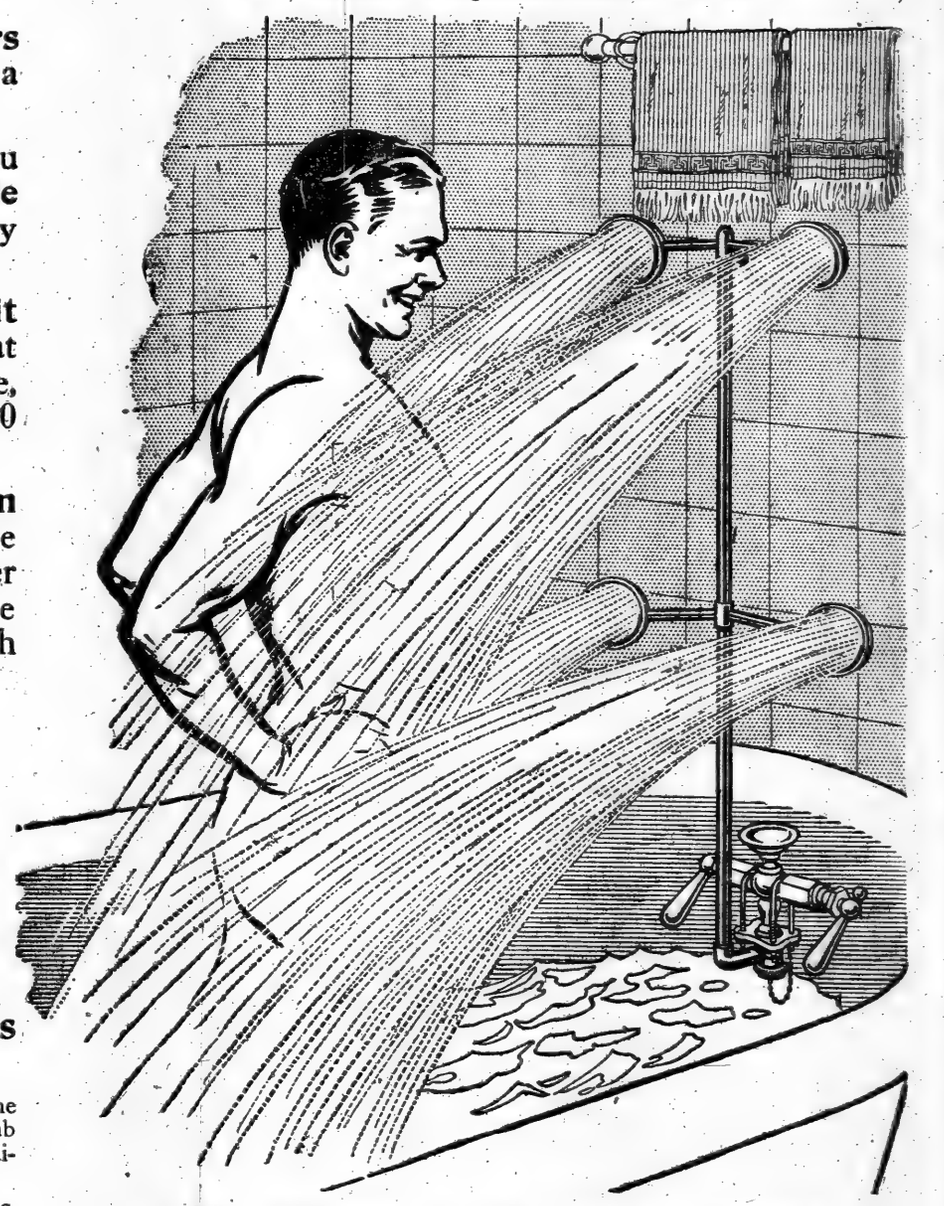
Needle showers—miles ahead of overhead or curtain showers—formerly cost like sin. $200 to $300 was getting off cheap—for a special shower stall of marble or plate glass was required.

But now—if you don't wait too long—just $3.85 will give you and all your family the daily year-around fun and benefit of needle shower bathing—the most luxurious and healthful kind of bath any one can take—the only sanitary way to bathe.

$3.85—if you use the money-saving coupon below and do it quick—will put on your bath tub a new kind of needle shower that puts all other showers to shame—a real aristocrat—a strong, handsome, all-metal fixture that will give you just as much enjoyment as any $300 equipment.

Think of it!—Only $3.85 for the famous Kenney Four-Stream Needle Shower—the same shower you've seen advertised in all the magazines—never before sold for a single cent less than $6, and a better shower than any of the old-fashioned curtain styles costing two to five times as much. Thousands have said a single week's use is alone worth the full price.

RIKER-HEGEMAN
Reliable Drug Store Service



Kenney Needle Shower

Thousands sold at $6

Now (for a limited time) Only $3.85

At Any Riker-Hegeman Store

This, we believe, is one of the most remarkable values ever offered by the Riker-Hegeman Stores.

A high-grade, all metal Four-Stream Needle Shower at $6—the regular price of the Kenney Shower—was in itself a remarkable achievement.

And now—at any Riker-Hegeman store—you can get the same shower for only $3.85—a saving of more than one-third.

Here is a revolutionary improvement in shower bath equipment—the only four-stream shower of any kind—the only needle shower and the only curtainless shower for the home bath tub—for less than a makeshift rubber spray ordinarily costs.

No man should let his family do without the luxury of a shower—no one should put up with an old-fashioned overhead curtain-shower—when only $3.85 will buy a shower like this.

All These Advantages

1. Fits any Bath Tub—a style for every kind of faucet.
2. Attached in three or four minutes—any one can do it—no tools needed—not even a screwdriver.
3. A strong, handsome, permanent, all metal fixture—heavy nickel finish over brass—will last for years.
4. No clammy, sloppy, unsanitary curtain to spoil your enjoyment—guaranteed not to splash out of tub—it's all in the converging angles (a patented feature) at which the water strikes your body.
5. Don't have to wet your hair—no breath-taking shock as with overhead showers. Every drop of water strikes direct against the body instead of first falling on the head.
6. Never in the way—faucet connection instantly on or off—doesn't interfere with regular flow of water or regular use of tub.
7. Only shower women can really enjoy—because only shower they can use without wearing a bothersome, mussy rubber cap.

Makes Your Bath Twice as Refreshing With Either Hot or Cold Water

This new kind of shower—this Four-Stream Needle Shower—is the last word in luxurious bathing—makes either hot or cold water twice as stimulating and refreshing.

All for a Penny a Day

And now only $3.85—only a penny a day for a little over a year—less than you pay for your daily papers.

Like a Tonic

A shower first thing in the morning—either hot or cold—beats all the medicine you can take. Stirs up circulation—stimulates you all over—sends you down to work with a clear head and chock full of all-day hustle and energy.

When You're Tired

A shower after a hard day's work—with either hot or cold water—will rest and refresh you all over—makes you feel "like new."

And a shower at bed time—particularly a warm shower—is the best thing in the world to bring sound and restful sleep.

Only Sanitary Way

With hot water and plenty of soap, a wash down under a Kenney Needle Shower is the most delightful way in the world to get clean—and the only right way.

Health authorities everywhere have lately been denouncing tub bathing as unsanitary.

They say a shower—without a curtain—the only sanitary way to bathe. Instead of finishing in the same water you start with, every drop of water that touches your body is absolutely fresh and clean.

Quick—Before They're Gone

Your Money Back if Not Satisfied

After this special sale at Riker-Hegeman Stores, the famous Kenney Needle Shower may never again be obtained for less than the regular price.

Mail Orders Filled

If not convenient to call, simply mail the coupon and $3.85 together with postage, and a Shower will be delivered by Parcel Post. Add 8 cents for the first 100 miles, 16 cents for 250 miles, 20 cents for 500 miles.

Riker-Hegeman Mail Order Dept.,
200 Broadway, New York

Each of our stores has but a limited number on sale. The supply may last 30 days, may last only two weeks—may last only one. For thousands of people will jump at the chance to get the famous Kenney Shower at the money-saving price of only $3.85.

If you come today or tomorrow you can be sure of getting a Shower. But after that we can't promise.

Better clip the coupon now—cash in on it as soon as you can—it's worth $2.15 on a Kenney Shower at any Riker-Hegeman Store.

You Are Safe When You Buy at

RIKER AND HEGEMAN DRUG STORES

Telephone Your Orders to the Nearest Riker-Hegeman Store

This Coupon Worth $2.15

This Coupon (worth $2.15) and $3.85 in cash pays for a $6 KENNEY NEEDLE SHOWER, complete, at any Riker-Hegeman Store.

Cash In On It TO-DAY

Wild's Orientals

Just as good a rug may be purchased on our retail floors for $18 or $100 today as could have been bought for the same amount a year ago—and the selection is quite as large.

The getting together of such a collection under present conditions would be impossible. Now is the best time to select.

JOSEPH WILD & CO.
Fifth Avenue at 35th Street
Largest Specialty Rug House in America

The Briggs Air-O-Player PIANO

"The Pioneer Metal Player."

Made of seamless brass. Does not leak and will last a lifetime.

For 30 years we have proven the splendid wearing qualities of the BRIGGS PIANOS. Now we can show you the BRIGGS PLAYER. The player mechanism is entirely of brass, the same as is used in brass band instruments. It's durable, and dampness does not affect it.

Come in and let us show you. Free demonstration.

TERMS REASONABLE.

CHAS. H. DITSON & CO.
8-10-12 East 34th Street.

SUPERINTENDENT
Municipal Lodging House.

Applications for examination for this position will be received until

4 P. M., Thurs., Nov. 12th.

Candidates must have had experience in institutional management, or that of industrial organizations, or in handling of the destitute for charitable agencies. Knowledge of the local employment conditions necessary; also public and private charitable agencies of this city. The position calls for a man with executive ability and knowledge of best methods in charities administration.

Minimum age, 25 years; Maximum age, 50 years.

Salary, $2,400 a year and maintenance.

Also position of Deputy Superintendent at $1,200, with maintenance.

Application blanks to be had only at Application Bureau, Room 1400, Municipal Building, Manhattan, or sent by mail on receipt of 4c. stamps.

Municipal Civil Service Commission.

SELECTED
FAMILY DINNER, $1
"Diner Choisi"—$1.50
BUSTANOBY'S
60th Street on Broadway and 39th St., near Broadway.
TEA AND SUPPER DANCES
Prizes to Best Dancers.
'Never Dull' 'Cabaret Artistiques'
Free Dancing Instruction to Our Patrons.

CHRISTMAN PIANOS
ABSOLUTELY RELIABLE

Baby Grands, Upright & Player Pianos. —any piano converted into a Player Piano.

USED PIANOS

STEINWAY GRANDS FROM..	$100 Up
BEHNING GRAND	125
SOHMER GRAND	150
PLAYER PIANO	200
AEOLIAN PIANO PLAYER	50
VOSE UPRIGHT	150
STEINWAY UPRIGHT	250

35 W 14th St., bet. 5th & 6th Aves

Good strong binder for The New York Times Mid-Week Pictorial War Extra. Sent by mail for $1, $1.35, or $1.50, according to make. Full cloth, full imitation leather, half leather, gold rimmed. Subscription for the WAR EXTRA, $5 a year. The most sumptuous graphic picture history of the war. THE NEW YORK TIMES, Times Square, New York. —Advt.

GLASTENBURY HEALTH UNDERWEAR

GLASTENBURY Established 1835 KNITTING CO. — GLASTENBURY TRADE MARK HEALTH UNDERWEAR

FOR MEN

Every garment is shaped to the figure, and guaranteed not to shrink.

Glastenbury two-piece flat-knit underwear has a record of over half a century's satisfaction to the consumer.

Affords protection against sudden chills, colds, pneumonia and rheumatism.

Made in fifteen grades, and all weights of fine wools, worsteds and merino.

See special feature of adjustable drawer bands on

330 Natural Gray Wool, winter weight	per garment	$1.50
2005 Natural Gray Wool, winter weight (double thread)	per garment	1.75
C-B Imp. Natural Gray Worsted, light weight	per garment	1.50
A Natural Gray Australian Lamb's Wool, light weight	per garment	1.75
G-H Natural Gray Worsted, medium weight	per garment	2.00
A-H Natural Gray Australian Lamb's Wool, winter weight	per garment	2.50

For Sale by Leading Dealers.

Robert Reis & Co., Wholesale Distributors, New York.

Write for booklet—sample cuttings. Yours for the asking. Dept. I.

Glastonbury Knitting Company, Glastonbury, Conn.

FIND CATTLE PLAGUE IS STILL SPREADING

Two More States Put Under Quarantine and Other Outbreaks Are Reported.

MEAT PRICES ARE RISING

Disinfecting the Great Chicago Yards—Packers There Insist There Will Be No Famine.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—The work of disinfecting the empty pens at the Chicago Union Stock Yards began today in preparation for the complete shutdown because of foot and mouth disease that will be in effect from Saturday until Nov. 15. More than 800 men will be employed. There are 13,000 pens, 725 chutes, and 25 miles of water troughs to be disinfected.

Supplementing the Federal quarantine the State Livestock Board has ordered a quarantine also, to take effect Saturday, under which no cattle shipments are to be permitted between points within the State until all cattle pens are disinfected and pronounced usable by the State Board. The State action puts an absolute embargo not only on the stock yards, but also on all the livestock receiving depots of the big meat packers.

The meat packers insisted today that there would be no tie-up of their industry, no scarcity of meat, and, except in the killing and some mechanical departments, no dismissals of employes, as the present supplies of cattle were sufficient to keep the plants busy almost throughout the quarantine period. More than 15 per cent. of the acreage of the stock yards, it is reported, has been disinfected. Business will be resumed as soon as the quarantine is lifted.

Few new cases of the cattle disease were reported today. The 600 infected cattle, valued at $40,000, which yere held responsible for the presence of the disease in Chicago were destroyed. Eighteen prize cattle out of a lot of 1,000 exhibited last week at the National Dairy Show also were destroyed. B. J. Shanley State Veterinarian, said that the other prize cattle brought here from twenty States and Canada would be held for developments, and if they were found infected all would be destroyed, even though it might entail a loss of several million dollars. Among the prize stock slaughtered was a pedigreed cow valued at $30,000.

"Illinois has decided to co-operate with the Federal Government in every possible way," said Mr. Shanley. "If the disease should spread to the Western ranges we never would be able to rid the country of it."

On behalf of the packers F. E. White, director of Armour & Co., issued this statement tonight:

"There is no occasion for excitement over the quarantine adopted by the Government and State authorities. While the restrictions are drastic we all believe that they will be effective. There will be no material slacking of business. Killing floors will be idle for about a week and other departments will work as usual, as we have ample supplies of products for all requirements."

Receipts of cattle, hogs, and sheep today were 53,000 head, or 13,000 less than those on Thursday a week ago. The decrease was mostly in hogs, prices of which advanced 25 to 50 cents, and in sheep, which rose 10 cents over yesterday's close. Cattle sold 10 to 20 cents higher than they did yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Placing of a Federal quarantine on shipments of live stock out of Ohio and Wisconsin and reports of the rapid spread of the foot-and-mouth disease in States already quarantined marked the day's developments at the Department of Agriculture in the fight against the worst epidemic of the infection ever known in the United States.

Scores of Federal Inspectors were rushed into the field to trace every shipment from infected centres. Reports from Inspectors already at work led department officials to predict tonight that many other communities would be affected.

Many animals in infected areas have been killed, and the unexpected demand upon the Department to meet this loss and the expenses of inspectors led Secretary Houston to confer with President Wilson regarding an emergency appropriation from Congress. Under the present plan, the department is paying the salaries of appraisers selected by the various States to fix the value of slaughtered animals and is bearing half of the actual meat value of the animals killed. The States pay the other half, leaving the owners to bear the loss of food destroyed, of business, and of the peculiar value of the livestock killed.

From Ohio during the day came reports of infected cattle in the Toledo livestock yards, Fostoria, Moline and Norwalk. The outbreak in Wisconsin was discovered at Evansville.

Inspectors reported that the disease had spread over several scattered counties in Illinois. In Pennsylvania and Michigan the infected areas were reported to have become extended.

Infected cattle, it was reported to the department today, had been found at Clyde, N. Y., making with Buffalo and Seneca Falls three centres of the disease in New York State. Thus far the Government has taken no steps to interfere with the transportation of milk across State lines. Department officials hold that the disease is easily communicated to hogs through milk and even to human beings, particularly children. The policy now in force, however, is to leave to the local h alth authorities supervision over the milk supply to the various communities.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 5.—Higher prices prevailed at the Kansas City Stock Yards today, due to the quarantine at Chicago. Cattle and hogs were 15 to 25 cents a hundred higher and sheep were up from 50 to 75 cents. Receipts were normal for Thursday.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 5.—"Closing the stockyards in Chicago will naturally divert shipments of livestock to Omaha," said Everett Buckingham, general manager of the Union Stock Yards of South Omaha today. "It is probable that prices will be strengthened a little, but I see no reason why they should be affected to any great extent."

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 5.—There was a large increase in the receipts of hogs at the St. Joseph stock yards today and prices were 35 cents higher, due, dealers said, to the quarantine at Chicago.

JANESVILLE, Wis., Nov. 5.—Cases of foot and mouth disease in Wisconsin were discovered at Evansville by Government inspectors today. Sixty animals which were brought here from Chicago last week were found to have the disease and were ordered slaughtered. The Evansville stock yards were quarantined.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 5.—Immediate quarantine of the Milwaukee live stock yards was ordered today on the discovery of several cases of foot and mouth disease. The State authorities requested that the situation be taken in charge by Dr. A. E. Behnke, Milwaukee representative of the Bureau of Animal Industry.

MUSCATINE, Iowa, Nov. 5.—Deputy State Veterinarian Tillie of Muscatine was today called to Parnell, where foot and mouth disease has appeared. Seven farms have been placed under quarantine. Cattle and hogs are affected by the plague and State and Federal officials have been summoned.

ATTLEBORO, Mass., Nov. 5.—Four cows on a milk farm in South Attleboro were today found to be suffering from hoof and mouth disease, and the entire herd of twenty-one animals was placed under quarantine. A veterinarian called by the farm owner reported the cases to Dr. Herbert M. Smith, in charge of the Providence, R. I., station of the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry, who confirmed the diagnosis.

A milk route in Pawtucket, R. I., and this town was ordered discontinued, and it was announced that guards would be placed around the farm tomorrow.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 5.—Following a refusal of the Federal authorities to modify the quarantine, the East Buffalo stock yards were closed today for disinfection. Business will be resumed on Monday for the receipt of stock for New York State, unquarantined States, and Canada for immediate slaughter.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Nov. 5.—New Yorkers can depend on enough State-raised beef to last for some time, in the event of the supply from out of the State being cut off by reason of the prevalence of the foot-and-mouth disease.

There are on the farms of this State 1,500,000 dairy and 876,000 "other" cattle. Practically one-half of this number, the State Department of Agriculture says, is available for beef.

PREDICT RISE IN BEEF.

Retail Prices Soon to Feel Effect of Wholesale Advance.

A retail meat dealer who went into the wholesale market yesterday to purchase supplies found that beef had advanced in price 1½ cents a pound, as a forerunner of the closing of the Chicago stock yards. The managers of the large packing houses say that a further rise is inevitable, and it is predicted that there will be an increase of at least 3 cents in wholesale prices next week. The cattle quarantine established in various States in the effort to stamp out the foot and mouth disease is a contributory cause, but one of the representatives of a big packing house said as about 50 per cent. of the meat reaching the New York market was from Chicago, there was nothing to do but to raise prices. The extent of the increase in prices would depend, he said, on market conditions, the duration of the quarantine, and the law of supply and demand. With this condition prevailing in the wholesale market, it is likely that the retail prices of meats will go up from 3 to 5 cents a pound.

Retail purchasers have some consolation in the fact that within two days two steamships have brought Argentine beef to port. This supply, it is likely, will undersell the native beef. Inquiry among butchers who carry large supplies in stock showed that they had no intention of increasing retail prices before Monday. Emil Joseph of Washington Market said that he did not intend to increase prices until it was a matter of necessity.

"When I went into the wholesale market this morning," he said, "I was notified that beef hinds and ribs that I had purchased at 18½ cents had gone up 1½ cents. I believe that these will be 20 cents next week. I refer to city dressed beef, but in the Western beef market there has been the same increase in prices. There is plenty of Argentine beef on the market. The rise in prices will be reflected in this grade, but it will not advance as much as the native beef.

"The rise in price is reflected in the poor grades as well as in the prime. Prices for lambs and sheep also have gone up. Lambs that used to sell for 13 cents wholesale now sell for 14½ cents, and sheep have gone up since last week's quotations from 10 cents to 12 cents."

There is likely to be a shortage of prime dressed beef in a short time. Dr. John D. Dunkle, Chief Inspector of the New York Branch of the Bureau of Animal Industry, said yesterday that the chief reason for this would be that a majority of feeders would kill to avoid the chance of Government appraisal. Under these circumstances the bulk of the cattle slaughtered, he said, would be only "half fat," and not in prime stock condition. One of the chief sufferers, he thought, will be the kosher houses. The deficiency in supplies caused by the closing of the Chicago yards, he thought, would in part be made up by shipments from Kansas City and other points west of Chicago. These shipments would take a roundabout way to avoid coming through quarantined States.

"The Government," said Dr. Dunkle, "today sent 300 special deputies to Pennsylvania, Illinois, and Michigan. The disease may be under control within thirty days, or it may take longer."

At the office of the Cudahy Packing Company, 454 West Fourteenth Street, it was said yesterday that the effect of conditions in Chicago would not be felt here at once. The business for the week, it was said, was well cleared up. At the offices of Swift & Co. and Morris & Co., it was said that their business had not yet felt the effect of the quarantine. It was said that a diminution of the beef supply logically would lead to an advance in prices.

MAY CUT WHITRIDGE'S PAY.

Stockholders' Plan Doesn't Appeal to Third Avenue's Head.

Alonzo E. Cottier who lives at the Hotel Plaza and is one of the stockholders of the Third Avenue Railway Company, has a plan to reduce the salary of Frank W. Whitridge, the President, and thus increase dividends. Mr. Whitridge doesn't care for the proposal. He admits he now gets $80,000.

Mr. Cottier thinks he ought to take $25,000 a year till dividends are paid at the rate of 4 per cent., when his salary might be increased to $35,000 and to $40,000 after 5 per cent. dividends come. Six per cent. of dividends, according to Mr. Cottier's plan would be followed by another $5,000 increase, and Mr. Whitridge might get $50,000 by earning 7 per cent. for the stockholders. Beyond that Mr. Cottier's figures do not go.

Mr. Cottier has embodied his ideas in a circular to share holders, occasioned by the fact that the annual meeting comes next Wednesday and he took occasion to denounce the management of the road for "what appears to be extravagant administration of affairs" and also for the purchase of the Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth Street crosstown lines and the belt line.

CITY BREVITIES.

Mrs. Lurana Sheldon Ferris, who writes as Lurana W. Sheldon, preached a sermon in verse last night at the Church of the Messiah from verses which she wrote for THE TIMES.

George Dugan, 16 years old, an altar boy at St. John's Catholic Church at Willoughby and Lewis Avenues, Brooklyn, pleaded guilty yesterday to the charge of stealing 780 marks from a visiting clergyman.

The Street Cleaning Department will hold an exhibition of street cleaning appliances during the week of Nov. 23 at the armory at Broadway and Sixty-eighth Street.

Dr. M. H. Harris will preach tonight at the first Friday evening service of the season at the Temple of Israel.

A packing case containing several hundred pounds of meat fell down the elevator shaft at 135 East Broadway yesterday, instantly killing Louis Fiegler of 2,410 Third Avenue, a butcher.

Names Baby for Whitman.

The first "Whitman baby" has been named. He is Charles Whitman Steckel, two days old, of 209 East 118th Street, and his father is Louis Steckel, an enthusiastic Whitman supporter. Mr. Steckel wrote to the Governor-elect yesterday and told him of the naming of the child, who was born at 7 o'clock the morning after election.

SHOOT A JEWELER, FLEE IN BROADWAY

Bullets Fired by Fugitive Thieves Endanger Children on Their Way from School.

CAUGHT AFTER LONG CHASE

One Thief Threatened to Shoot Driver Who Refused to Aid Him in Escaping.

School children on their way home from Public School 166 in West Eighty-ninth Street, at noon yesterday, saw the capture of two hold-up men who fled from the jewelry store of Max G. Ernest, at Columbus Avenue and Eighty-seventh Street, after they had shot the proprietor and had snatched a handful of bills from the cash register. The men opened fire on their pursuers as they ran, and bullets flew over the heads of the youngsters.

Ernest was alone in his shop when the thieves entered. One of the men pointed a revolver at the proprietor and ordered him to put up his hands, while the other made for the cash register in the rear of the store. Ernest made a quick movement for the gun which he keeps behind the counter, but the first highwayman opened fire at once. The bullet struck the proprietor in the left arm. At the first shot the man at the cash register ran out followed by his companion. They were met at the threshold by Salvatore Salmeri, who had run from his corset shop next door at the sound of the shooting. With Salmeri at their heels the thieves fled through Eighty-seventh Street, firing several shots at him as they ran. The shots were heard by Patrolman John J. Walsh, of the West 100th Street Station, on post at the school crossing at Columbus Avenue and Eighty-ninth Street, and he joined in the chase.

At Broadway the highwaymen separated. One headed downtown until he got to a grocery wagon, belonging to Samuel Bauman of 663 Columbus Avenue. The driver, Harry Gregory of 104 West Eighty-ninth Street, was on the seat. The highwayman sprang to his side and pressing a gun against the driver's head ordered him to drive off at full speed. Gregory pluckily refused. In the struggle which followed, Jacob Stadler, a chauffeur, of 578 Amsterdam Avenue took a hand and after wrenching the revolver from the highwayman's grasp, held the man until Patrolman Edward Truman arrived.

Meanwhile the second highwayman had succeeded in getting to West End Avenue. Turning downtown he was in a fair way to escape his pursuers when at Eighty-third Street Patrolman Michael Malloy headed him off.

The thieves were taken to the West 100th Street Station. The one caught on Broadway said he was Tony Ragouski, an upholsterer, 20 years old, of 245 Sixteenth Street, Brooklyn. The other said he was Joseph E. Downe, a baker, 26 years old, of the same address.

WHEAT AT $1.22 IN OREGON.

Farmers Getting Record Price for Bumper Crop; Oats Up, Too.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 5.—Wheat reached the highest price in more than ten years on the Exchange here today and indications were that it would go still higher. The top price today was $1.22 for 50,000 bushels of blue stem for January delivery.

All other varieties sold at a new record throughout. With a record wheat crop in the Northwest growers are certain of the largest profits they have ever received.

One hundred tons of oats, wanted to complete a cargo for Europe, sold at $29.25 a ton, 25 cents a ton better than the bid price yesterday.

Buying of wheat and oats is extensive. December oats drew a bid today of $29.50 a ton. Holders demanded $30.

W. L. DOUGLAS
$3.50 $3.75 $4 $4.50 & $5 SHOES
W. L. DOUGLAS SHOES ARE ALWAYS WORTH THE PRICE YOU PAY FOR THEM.

YOU CAN SAVE MONEY BY WEARING W.L.DOUGLAS SHOES
For 31 years W.L. Douglas has guaranteed the value of his shoes by having his name and the retail price stamped on the sole before the shoes leave the factory. This protects the wearer against high prices for inferior shoes of other makes.

CALL AT ANY ONE OF W. L. DOUGLAS 80 STORES located in the principal cities, and see for yourself the many styles and kinds of shoes for men and boys in all leathers, sizes and widths.

If W. L. Douglas shoes are not for sale in your vicinity order direct from the factory. Shoes for every member of the family at all prices, postage free. Write for Illustrated Catalog showing how to order by mail. W.L.Douglas, 160 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

BOYS' SHOES $2.00 $2.50 & $3.00
Just like W. L. Douglas Men's Shoes, the same high grade leathers and expert workmanship.

NO INCREASE IN PRICES. NO CHANGE IN QUALITY.
W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes cannot be equalled for the price; for style, comfort and service they are just as good as other makes costing $4.00 to $5.00. Your attention is called especially to W. L. Douglas $4.00 and $4.50 shoes; a careful examination will convince you that they compare favorably with other makes costing $6.00 to $8.00, the only perceptible difference is the price. You are invited to visit W.L. Douglas factory at Brockton, Mass., and see for yourself the high grade leathers used and how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made; you would then understand why they look better, fit better, hold their shape and wear longer than other makes for the price.

W. L. DOUGLAS STORES IN GREATER NEW YORK

93 Nassau Street.
755 Broadway, corner 8th Street.
847 Broadway, near 14th Street.
1349 Broadway, corner 36th Street.
1495 Broadway (Times Square).
984 Third Avenue.
1452 Third Avenue.
2202 Third Avenue, corner 126th St.
2779 Third Ave., bet. 146th & 147th.
345 Eighth Avenue.
663 Eighth Avenue.
250 West 125th Street.

BROOKLYN
431 Fulton Street, corner Pearl Street.
708-710 Broadway, corner Thornton St.
1367 Broadway, corner Gates Avenue.
478 Fifth Avenue, corner 11th Street.
857-859 Manhattan Avenue.
1779 Pitkin Avenue.
NEWARK—821 Broad Street.
PATERSON—192 Market St., cor. Clark
JERSEY CITY—18 Newark Avenue.
TRENTON—101 East State Street.

"Best because Imported" is obviously wrong when applied to natural products.

The mineral springs of America are superior to those of all the world.

CLYSMIC
King of Table Waters
Has no equal

STERN BROTHERS
42nd and 43rd Streets, West of Fifth Avenue

Are prepared to make to order in the greatly enlarged
DRESSMAKING DEPARTMENT on the Third Floor
TAILORED SUITS
AFTERNOON and EVENING GOWNS
DANCING FROCKS
FROM the LATEST PARISIAN INTERPRETATIONS of the NEW MODES and from CORRECT MATERIALS such as ARE USED by the LEADING FRENCH COUTURIERS
AT VERY MODERATE PRICES

The One Safe Place

for valuable papers, accessible to you alone, is a safe in a burglar proof and fireproof Vault. The vaults of the Lincoln Safe Deposit Co.

42d Street, opp. Grand Central Terminal are readily accessible from any point in Greater New York.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE STORED in separate fireproof rooms. Guaranteed against fire, theft, moth and other damage by especial arrangement. Send for estimate. Telephone Murray Hill 5888.

Christmas isn't too far off to see about that Victrola today.

Victrola XVI.
($200)
and $10 in Victor Records
(Total $210)
$10 a month

There are Victors and Victrolas in great variety of styles from $10 to $200, and any Victor dealer will gladly demonstrate them to you.

Victor Talking Machine Co.
Camden, N. J.

The Lord & Taylor Victor Rooms offer every style of Victor Victrola, from $15 to $250, on convenient terms of payment.

Our record stock is complete and immediately accessible to patrons who desire to hear special numbers; or to those who wish to make selections but who have not predetermined a choice.

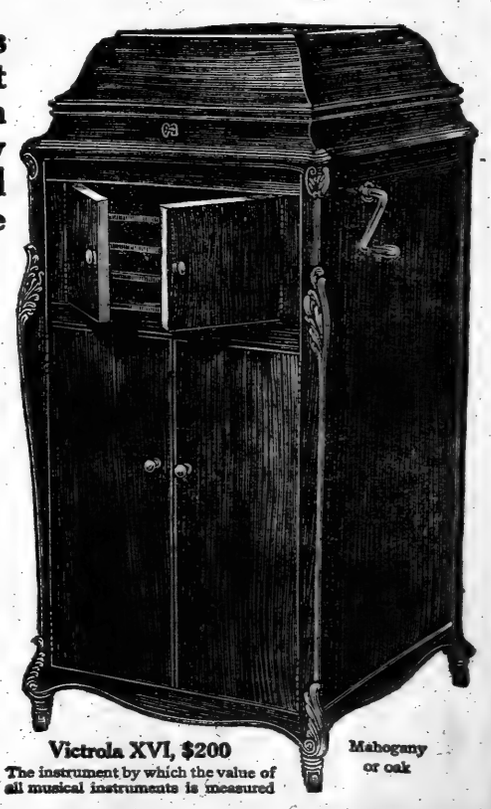
An exceptional line of Record Cabinets to match design and finish of the smaller types of Victrola; also cabinets in all finishes for surplus records.

The Victor's purchaser's satisfaction is increased at our Music Rooms by interested, intelligent service.

Every Victor accessory.

Lord & Taylor

Fifth Avenue 38th Street 39th Street Music Rooms, Seventh Floor



Victrola XVI, $200
The instrument by which the value of all musical instruments is measured

Mahogany or oak

BASEBALL --- SQUASH --- FOOTBALL --- GOLF --- ATHLETICS --- BILLIARDS

AMERICAN LEAGUE MEETING QUITE DULL

Directors Only Informally Declare for Peace with the Federal League.

MUST ABSORB OUTLAWS

Frank Farrell Again Denies That Yankees Are for Sale, but League Wants Better Results Here.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Club owners of the American League in their annual meeting here today put themselves on record in favor of peace, but except for expressing their sentiments individually and informally they brought no nearer the end of the baseball war. Rumors that overtures had been made to the Federal League were denied. The only discussion in the meeting of the Federal situation lasted only half an hour. In that time every one of the eight clubs, through its representative, declared for peace, but it was the general opinion that peace can be reached only by absorption of the Federal League, not through its recognition.

"There is no room for a third league," they agreed, and the elimination of the competing clubs in Chicago, St. Louis, and Brooklyn must be included in any terms of truce.

As for the New York Club, Frank Farrell, its President, arrived just as the meeting broke up, and declared emphatically to the newspaper men that the Yankees are not for sale. It was said, too, that no discussion of the proposed transfer had taken place in the meeting, but the desire of the league for better returns in New York was admitted.

Delay in the arrival of Farrell gave rise to rumors that a discussion of Chance's resignation as manager of the Yankees was taking place in his absence. As a matter of fact, Farrell's friends in the league were stronger than rumor credited. Among them was Joseph J. Lannin of the Boston Club, who praised the New York President's efforts to make the Yankees a winning team, and said he for one would oppose a change.

Except that some of the clubs had as many as forty men on their pay rolls and could not dispose of them because of the fear of the Federal League getting them, there was no reason found to warrant recognition of the Federals, the club owners said. Plans for distribution of the players among the minor leagues in a way to assure their not being signed by the Federals will be left to President Johnson and the minor league owners at the Omaha meeting.

Manager Mack of the Philadelphia club refused to make a formal charge against Manager Jennings of Detroit, who was accused of giving out the news of waivers being asked on Plank, Bender, and Coombs. Mack said he had buried the hatchet after communicating with Jennings. The charge that Manager Griffith of Washington had transformed the Boston Braves of the Athletics' "weakness," thus contributing to the defeat of his own colleagues, was not taken seriously.

The league approved the financial reports made by the Board of Directors and awarded the 1914 pennant to Philadelphia. A short session tomorrow is expected to wind up the meeting.

POLO GROUNDS STATION.

Elevated Trains Will Run to Gates —New Clubhouse and Offices.

Extensive plans are under way at the Polo Grounds to build a new clubhouse, offices, and elevated station at 155th Street. The old runway from the present station to the Polo Grounds has been torn down and the station will be extended up Eighth Avenue to the entrance to the baseball park.

The new station is to be built of concrete and steel and provision will be made at the new terminal so that two trains may be loaded at the same time after the games.

The Elevated Railroad Station at 155th Street will be greatly enlarged, while the station of the Putnam Division of the New York Central will be moved across the Harlem River, giving more room to the elevated traffic.

There will be two tiers on the new station, and on the upper tier there will be twelve entrances to the Polo Grounds directly opposite the gates, while on the lower tier on Eighth Avenue there will be twenty-one entrances. The management of the New York Club also plans several new exits, which will facilitate the emptying of the park after the games.

The Giants' new offices will be close to the entrances and will be built in conjunction with the new station. The new clubhouse for the home club will be built some distance north from where it now stands and will be thoroughly fitted with shower baths, a plunge, and other accommodations for the athletes.

It was stated yesterday by an official of the New York Club that it was not at all certain that the Yankees would play at the Polo Grounds next season as they have done during the past two seasons. It was generally supposed that the American League had arranged for another season at least at the Polo Grounds. At its last meeting the National League went on record as being opposed to the two leagues using the same park, and there is still strong opposition to the plan.

The Yankees have abandoned their project of building a new park at 225th Street and Broadway, and it would be impossible to build a new park in time for the opening of next season. Before the Yankees and the Giants come to an agreement to play at the Polo Grounds next season, therefore, it will be necessary to adopt a different plan than the one which has been in operation since the two club scheme was sanctioned.

Arthur Fletcher, the Giant short stop, who is barnstorming with the American and National League clubs in the West, has sent word here that the trip is already a great success, and that each of the players is assured of more than $400 for his share. Fletcher says the reason that Jeff Tesreau has not been successful in the games he has pitched is because all the games have been played on skinned diamonds. The rough dirt breaks the smooth covering of the ball and it is impossible for a pitcher who uses a moist ball to be effective.

Henry Fabian, the landscape gardener at the Polo Grounds, is anxious for the football season to end, so that he can renovate the diamond. Next season Fabian plans to have what is known as a "turtle-back" diamond, built so that the ground slopes from the pitcher's box and solves the question of drainage better than a flat diamond.

The Yankees yesterday signed a new pitcher named Walter A. Clarkson. This is not the Walter Clarkson, the former Harvard star who was with the Yankees when Clarke Griffith was manager. This latest Walter hails from Milwaukee. He is a right-hander and is 5 feet 11 inches tall, and weighs 178 pounds. He has been pitching for semi-professional teams, and has been striking out an average of twelve men a game. Scout Arthur Irwin predicts that he will make a name for himself which will live as long as that of John Clarkson.

Sunday Baseball at Capital Illegal.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—The Court of Appeals here today reversed a ruling of a lower court and held that Sunday baseball in the national capital is illegal.

SQUASH TENNIS TITLE.

Feron and Kinsella to Play First Match on Dec. 16.

Plans were completed for the professional squash tennis championship of America at a meeting yesterday, when D. R. Moyes, represented Walter Kinsella of the Squash Club, and George Whitney, acted for Stephen J. Feron, of the Harvard Club. The two professionals will play two out of three matches for the title, and each match will be three out of five games for a purse, side purse, and gate receipts, the winner to take all. Play will commence at 4.30 P. M. each day and Dr. Alfred Stillman, 2nd, national amateur champion, will probably act as referee.

In tossing for the choice of courts Mr. Whitney won and selected the Harvard Club as the scene of the first series of matches. The date selected is Dec. 16. The second match will be contested in the court of the Squash Club on Dec. 23, and should a third match be necessary it will be played Dec. 30 at the Princeton Club.

This will be the first professional squash tennis championship match played in several years and amateur players are very much interested in the outcome. The demand for seats promises to exceed the supply and two special galleries will likely be built in the Squash Club Court in order to accommodate the spectators.

Feron is the title holder and is practicing daily with Dr. Stillman, George Whitney, and others. Kinsella is one of the best court tennis players in the world. During the past Summer he accompanied Joshua Crane, Jr., of Boston, when the latter competed in England for the amateur championship. Kinsella defeated "Punch" Fairs, E. H. Miles, George Williams, Peter Latham, and all the best English court tennis players. Each player will be permitted "ten days" practice in his opponent's home court.

ADOPT SQUASH SCHEDULE.

Four Clubs Will Play for the Metropolitan Championship.

The annual tournament for the championship of the Metropolitan Squash Tennis Association will begin on Dec. 10 and continue for six weeks. Four clubs will again compete for the title. It was expected that the Yale Club courts would be completed in time to enable the Eli graduates to compete, but this was found impossible, while the Squash Club will also postpone competition for another year. The clubs are Harvard, Princeton, Columbia, and Heights Casino.

A maximum of seven men will be permitted on each team, but matches will be played with as many contestants of the visiting club who appear at the scheduled time. Home and home series will be played, and team results instead of individual matches will be counted for the championship. In the event of a tie, matches must be replayed. The schedule follows:

Dec. 10—Heights Casino at Columbia; Princeton at Harvard.
Dec. 17—Columbia at Princeton; Harvard at Heights Casino.
Jan. 7—Harvard at Columbia; Heights Casino at Princeton.
Jan. 14—Princeton at Heights Casino; Columbia at Harvard.
Jan. 21—Heights Casino at Harvard; Princeton at Columbia.
Jan. 28—Columbia at Heights Casino; Harvard at Princeton.

Bull Beats Onatavia at Squash.

Charles M. Bull, Heights Casino, and E. du Pont Irving, Harvard Club, will be the opposing players in the final round of the Fall scratch tournament of the National Squash Tennis Association at the Heights Casino, Brooklyn. Bull won his way into the final round yesterday when he defeated J. V. Onatavia, Jr., Harvard Club, two out of three games at 15—13, 8—15, 17—14. The match was an interesting one and Bull's stamina was largely responsible for Onatavia's defeat. The Heights Casino player was strong on the side walls and played a strong game. The final match will be played this afternoon.

VANDERBILT HORSES WIN.

Capture Championship in Harness Classes at St. Louis.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt has returned from his invasion of the West as a horse show exhibitor, bringing with him a dozen blue ribbons, a couple of cups, and a check for just about enough to pay the expenses of transportation of his string to St. Louis, the check representing the money prizes. His string of horses was shipped through to the Oakland Farm, near Newport, where they will be groomed for exhibition at the Charity Horse Show to be held at Madison Square Garden next month.

Mr. Vanderbilt's chief competitor at the St. Louis show was a Miss Louis Long of Kansas City, Mo., who has one of the most extensive stables of show horses and saddlers in the West. She manages her stables personally and shows her own horses in classes in which ladies are eligible to ride and drive. With a fine team of bays she defeated Mr. Vanderbilt on the opening night of the show, he showing the famous string of grays, which alone of his string of coach horses in England at the outbreak of the war escaped commandeering by the English Government. The competition was for park fours to brake. The grays did not show to their accustomed form and Mr. Vanderbilt did not start them in the Marathon race for coaches which was the feature of the show.

With Sir James, Mr. Vanderbilt won the prize in the heavy harness class for horses over 14.2 and not exceeding 15.2, won the prize for the best horse in the gig class, defeating Gallant Lad, the champion gig horse of the West, and also won the championship for heavy harness horses, winning in the special classes. In this class he defeated Miss Long's best horse, Revelation, a disappointment so great to the lady that she refused to compete for the championship in pairs in which she had been Mr. Vanderbilt's principal competitor, and that he took the cup for that event with Duke and Pirenq, which had previously won in class events.

With his high-stepping and showy Flame, Mr. Vanderbilt defeated Miss Long's Imitation, heretofore considered unbeatable in the class for ponies in harness between 13 and 14.2. With Lady Warley he won the prize for the best hackney in harness. While a half dozen other horses in his string failed to do better than get second or third prizes, Mr. Vanderbilt returns well satisfied with the result of his first visit to the West.

Horse Show at a Music Ride.

For the opening music ride at Durland's next Wednesday evening Mr. Durland has arranged to have a miniature horse show in place of indoor pole or jumping events as a feature to please his patrons. The show will follow the usual evolutions and parade. Prizes will be offered in two classes of heavy harness horses, two for saddle classes, in which manners and performance in the ring are to count, and there will be one class for jumpers, in which performance over the obstacles will cater into the decision. Promises of a good entry in each of the events have been made, and should the experiment prove interesting to the spectators it will be repeated at monthly intervals.

Grand Prix Race Date Changed.

William L. Hughson, special racing commissioner, and Hollis E. Cooley, chief of special events of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, wired this week from San Francisco that the date of the International Grand Prix automobile race has been changed from March 6 to Feb. 27. This classic race for the solid gold cup of the Automobile Club of America and a fortune in cash prizes will be run over the same course as the Vanderbilt Cup race, inside the exposition grounds. The Vanderbilt race will be staged on Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22.

Alexander Outpitches Cole.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—The All-Nationals defeated the All-Americans 2 to 0 here today, getting a lead of one game in the week's series. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Nationals	2	7	0
Americans	0	2	2

Batteries—Alexander and Killifer; Cole and Henry.

HARVARD FOOTBALL SQUAD IN COUNTRY

Coach Haughton Puts Men Through Long Drill Before Going to Brookline.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 5.—The entire 'Varsity squad of Harvard football players was hustled away from Soldiers' Field at dusk tonight and taken out to the Brookline Country Club, where most of the time until the beginning of Saturday's football game with the Tigers will be spent. The team is in good shape, but has done some mighty hard work this week, and it is figured that a real rest is needed. The unusually hard drill has come because of the long absence of several of the regulars; but now all hands seem to have caught up with their game, and the team is expected to give a good account of itself against the Jerseymen.

Harvard today worked along the same lines it has been working on all the week. The regulars put on their plays against the substitutes and then were subjected to the Tiger plays as put on by the scrubs, who now are very proficient. The work was long rather than hard, but the players were glad when it all was over. There will be little for the team to do until Saturday. Possibly late tomorrow afternoon the men will be brought back to the field for final signal drill and some work on kicks, but it is more than likely that Coach Haughton will take his team out to some secluded spot on the golf links and do the work there.

The Harvard team as it lined up today was as it will play Princeton. Bigelow remained at centre, as Wallace is not quite fit, although he may get into the game if needed. Hardwick was back at end, and Bradlee took his usual place in the backfield, with Trumbull on hand at right tackle.

The team is well conditioned now, and while the Tigers are known to be unusually fierce this Fall, it is believed that Harvard knows enough football to win providing its game can be put on and there are no mistakes.

TIGERS CHANGE PLANS.

Backfield Drills at Princeton Instead of Going to Cambridge.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 5.—An hour and a half workout on University Field this afternoon completed the Princeton preparations for the game with Harvard Saturday. An eleventh-hour decision kept the six back-field men here until tonight. They were to have gone to Cambridge early this afternoon, but the coaches at the last moment decided in favor of a final workout on the field here.

The afternoon was spent in a drill against the scrubs, the 'Varsity using its open formations. The second-string men did some blocking, but there was no scrimmaging, the coaches being fearful of injuries. After this practice the 'Varsity ran through a vigorous signal drill, and then there was a workout with the tackling dummy, Eddie Hart giving some final instructions about defense work.

Today's back field was composed of Ames at quarter, Freddy Trenkmann and Tibbott at the halves, and Driggs at full back. Glick did not appear in the line-up, Field Coach Penfield having decided to give him a thorough rest before Saturday. Brown and Lamberton started at the ends, but the other pairs, Higley and Shea, Mott and Eddy, were put in during the practice. Penfield has declared that more than one set of ends will be used, and there is a chance that all six men may get into the game.

Tibbott, Law, and Dickermann tried some drop kicking, with Tibbott doing the most consistent booting. The men did their kicking with the scrub line trying to block the attempts. McLean, the tackle who has been out since the Dartmouth game, was in today's line-up, and will start Saturday. Bigler, however, is back in shape again and will be entirely fit to play in case McLean does not last the entire contest.

Field Coach Penfield would make no prediction about the probable score, but said that the team was 50 per cent. stronger than last Saturday against Williams.

"I realize," he said, "that Harvard has also improved greatly this week. I am confident, nevertheless, that the Princeton team will fight through to a successful finish."

The 'Varsity squad will leave Princeton at 9:33 tomorrow morning for New York. They will leave New York at 11:30 for Boston, and will have a practice game in the Harvard Stadium Saturday morning. The substitutes and scrubs will leave tomorrow afternoon, along with 900 undergraduates.

N. Y. U.'s Last Drill for Union.

Head Coach "Tom" Reilly again put the New York University squad through a strenuous drill yesterday, which will be the last practice on the home gridiron before the team leaves for Schenectady, where it will play the Union eleven tomorrow. Repeated efforts to strengthen the right side of the line appear to have resulted in some degree of success, at least judging from the demonstration made against the scrub eleven yesterday. The back field is in good shape, Capt. Huntley and Bernstein making several long gains and frequently breaking away from the scrub secondary defense. The coaches also gave the Violet some additional rudimentary work yesterday which consisted in charging for the line men and in catching and running back punts for the back field. The Violet forwards also drilled in tackling and in catching passes. The work of the past two days has been of the most strenuous sort, and every department of the game has received thorough attention in preparation for the Union game.

Stevens Football Men Ineligible.

Stevens "Tech" eleven has been playing under difficulties for the past two weeks, not only because of the number of men who have been out of the line-up on account of injuries, but also on account of the recent action taken by the Faculty on men whose scholarship is under grade. Until this week three of the best men have been out of their positions, due to injuries, and now five more are debarred because of low standing. Today a delegation from the student body, headed by Capt. Stretch, appealed to the Faculty to have this rule suspended, and a favorable report is expected. The coaches have been playing most of the second-string men in the regulars' positions all of this week, so that the strongest possible team will be on hand to journey to Troy on Saturday, when Stevens will line up against the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Stevens Prep will line up against the Barringer High School eleven this afternoon at Castle Point Field in the deciding game of the New Jersey Interscholastic League.

Kennedy
12 Park Place
The Big Shoe Store
No Raise in Prices Here
Fawn Cloth Tops
$3.85, worth $6
Russet & Black
Flat English
Lasts

Dark Mahogany Calf Russets
2.97, 3.98, 4.85
Flat English Lasts, worth $6 and $7
Russet Cordovan (Horsehide) $5.00
Sold by Custom Bootmakers at 42

CORNELL IN GOOD SHAPE.

Football Team in Fine Condition to Play Franklin and Marshall.

Special to The New York Times.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 5.—The week's final hard practice on the Cornell football field saw the 'Varsity and scrubs engaged in a scrimmage long after dark, using the white football that is commonly called the ghost ball in the football camp. The scrimmage was late in starting because considerable time was spent in rehearsing new plays for the Michigan game, but when the teams did get at it the coaches kept them on the jump for a long time.

The entire 'Varsity team with the exception of Capt. O'Hearn was in the line-up. Shuler rejoined the squad after a rest of four days, and his work at left half back proved that his lay-off had done him a lot of good. Hill, whose leg is in good shape, was back at full back, while Bailey played right tackle again, and has apparently completely recovered from his injuries.

The Cornell team is in better condition than it was last week, and should present a stronger front against Franklin and Marshall than it did against Holy Cross last week. Franklin and Marshall, however, is expected to furnish much more serious opposition, and the best game of the season so far is anticipated. Philippi's work at plunging in the last few days has been one of the features of the 'Varsity's play. He is picking holes better than before and he gets off very quickly. He is a better line plunger than either Hall or Collyer and a more dependable man than Kleinert, who, it is hoped, will be able to rejoin the squad next week after a two weeks' absence because of a cracked shoulder.

One of the faults that the coaches are now striving to correct is high tackling, a good deal of which cropped out in the Holy Cross game and has been the cause of some concern. With the Michigan game only a week away fundamental faults of that character are out of place.

Neyland Rejoins Army Squad.

Special to The New York Times.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 5.—The usual daily football clash between the 'Varsity and scrubs lasted forty-five minutes today. The return to the game of Neyland was a feature. McEwan, the big Minnesota centre rush, went in the game for just a few minutes when his old injury began to trouble him and he was withdrawn and Bradley finished the workout in the position. It is very doubtful whether McEwan will be able to get in Saturday's game against Notre Dame. The practice today resulted in a touchdown for the 'Varsity after a rather disappointing show of form. Much fumbling was in evidence again and the offense could be charged up against several of the more prominent 'Varsity men. Boots, who played last year for a while, is out again and was especially effective today behind the scrub line. Pinderhuhes, Oliphant, Kelly and Meacham were the big men who rested today. Neiland was back for a few minutes playing in Tully's place at one of the wing positions. Coach Daly put on several formations to be used for the first time against Notre Dame on Saturday. The Westerners are expected to arrive here at noon tomorrow and will work out on the Army's gridiron during the afternoon.

Fordham Team in Poor Shape.

With the whole regular backfield still on the hospital list, and with Capt. Wymard still absent, Coach "Skip" Wymard found it impossible to give the Fordham team any scrimmage yesterday in preparation for the Navy game tomorrow. The tussle with the Midshipmen is the biggest event on the Fordham football calendar, but, coming right after the victory over the heavy Gettysburg team last Sunday, the Bronx collegians are in the worst shape they have been in this season. From indications at the signal drill yesterday, the whole quartet, behind the line, with the exception of Morcaldi at quarter back, will be composed of second team players. Jim Butler returned to college yesterday, after a week's absence, and was sent into Yule's vacancy at full back. As Butler has played in most of the games this season he is expected to prove the Maroon mainstay against the Navy. On the line the situation was more cheerful, as May, Lucey, and Kane were out in uniform. Kane was lacking in the speed that has featured his playing all season, but his presence on the flank and the remarkable work by Rice, Lucey, and Lowering the ball in Wymard's absence, have relieved the anxiety of the Maroon rooters over these two positions.

Navy Priming to Beat Fordham.

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 5.—With the game against Fordham on Saturday in view, the Navy team had a stiff scrimmage this afternoon. The point, however, was to work out new plays, which will only be used against West Point. As Fordham has never played football against the midshipmen, they are particularly anxious to win Saturday's game, but must put up a powerful team. Capt. Overesch is back on the field, but not in the best of shape, while Jackson, who has been playing a strong game at right end, is on the hospital list and is not likely to play. Neither Mills nor Hicks, the regular guards, is expected to be in shape for Saturday's game. Lieut. Jonas H. Ingram, a noted Navy athlete will remain and assist Lieut. Howard with the coaching during the absence of the season. He has had experience on the Navy coaching staff.

Payson and Dewindt Recover.

Special to The New York Times.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Nov. 5.—Both Captain Payson and Dewindt were out for practice today, the latter coming out for the first time in over two weeks. An injury received in the Trinity game made his participation in the Princeton contest, but he is rapidly getting back into his old form. After a few minutes at right half back, Payson took Hubbell's place at right end, giving the former position to Overton. Brown also came out today and displaced Welch at right guard. Another easy workout was the order for the 'Varsity. While the first-string men were running through signals, however, the scrubs roughed it up with the freshman eleven in a fifteen-minute scrimmage.

Indians Start for Manchester.

Special to The New York Times.

CARLISLE, Penn., Nov. 5.—After a blackboard talk in the cage the Carlisle Indian football eleven had an extended signal drill before taking the train to Manchester, N. H. Carlisle's line-up for the Holy Cross game will be: Left end, Vallette; left tackle, Wolman; left guard, Hill; centre, Morris; right guard, Busch; right tackle, Martel; right end, Bird; quarter back, Crane; left half back, Broker; right half back, Pratt; full back, Galac. The squad is in good shape with the exception of Bird and Capt. Galac, who received some minor injuries in last evening's practice against the Dickinson College eleven.

Twenty-five Enter Distance Walk.

Twenty-five entries have been received for the twenty-five-mile metropolitan walking championship at the Twenty-second Regiment Armory on Nov. 14. Entries will close today and Sam Schwartz expects that at least twenty-five more men will be added to the programme. Fred Kaiser and Ted Nuendorfer of the New York A. C. and Dick Remer, who finished second in the seven-mile championship last Saturday, entered yesterday. Schwartz believes the twenty-five-mile record of 4 hours, 3 minutes, and 35 seconds made by J. B. Clark on Dec. 5, 1897, will be obliterated, but it is the opinion of expert walking judges that a record-breaking effort on the hard armory floor is beyond possibility. In former days indoor long-distance races were contested on tracks that had been covered with sawdust.

LINE DRIVING ENDS YALE'S WORKOUT

Coach Hinkey Reverts to Old Artillery Attack in Vogue in His Day as Captain.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 5.—Thirty minutes of line-driving football this afternoon completed Yale's preparation for the Brown game on Saturday and closed the severest work of scrimmage practice this season. Although several of the regulars have been kept from work all the week, the drill has been the longest and severest since the squad reported, and the players were driven to their limit before the curtain fell this afternoon on actual football practice.

Coach Hinkey has shunted the intricate passing game and reverted to the hammer-and-tongs artillery fire of the Yale team of his day. This afternoon there was only a single open play, but that was timed to the psychological moment and netted the longest run and most cleverly gained touchdown of the matinée. It was a forward pass from "Foggy" Ainsworth to Half Back Savage, who skimmed into an open field for forty yards and a score. Savage's run closed a series of 'Varsity gains totaling seventy yards. The 'Varsity followed with another series of line plunges from mid-field to their second touchdown, Easton driving through centre for the tally. These two series of rushes comprised the 'Varsity offensive practice, showing the attack at its heaviest and most effective power.

Beginning the defensive play the 'Varsity gave the scrubs the ball on the 'Varsity twenty-yard line and "Doctor" Bull's reserve troops marched through the regular line for a touchdown in five plays. Metcalfe squeezing through tackle for the score. The 'Varsity then took the ball at the scrub twenty-yard line for experiments in line-shattering artillery attack and Mal Scovil pierced the scrub defense for one score and Waite for two.

Harry Legore was at the field for the first time this week, but did no scrimmaging, and it is believed that he will accompany Capt. Talbott and Aleck Wilson to the Harvard-Princeton game Saturday. Carroll Knowles was on the sidelines and will probably captain the Yale team against Brown.

Both Carl White and Jack Wiley, the 'Varsity centres, rested, Jack Miller getting the snapback assignment. Carl Betts was shifted from left to right tackle. His rapid development the past three weeks since he has been placed at left tackle as Capt. Talbott's understudy has made him first substitute tackle and almost on even terms with "Chub" Sheldon in the right tackle competition. His shift to the right wing indicates the closeness of the competition between him and Sheldon. Carl Wiedeman was removed from tackle to end this afternoon.

"Kid" Wallace, end rush twenty-five years ago, who tackled "Snake" Ames, the present Princeton head coach, rudely paid his first coaching visit to Yale Field in years.

Lehigh Eleven Takes a Brace.

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Penn., Nov. 5.—The fact that the Pennsylvania State football team was on its way East seemed to spur on the Lehigh 'Varsity to greater efforts this afternoon. In new brown and white jerseys, the regulars went through a fast and lengthy signal practice, displaying considerable "pep." The scrubs, coached in Pennsylvania State plays were sent against the regulars for a brief period and then, rewinding over 25 in the defense, the 'Varsity worked out new plays against them. It is now almost certain that Mattern and possibly Cahall will not get into the game Saturday. Chenoweth was again today groomed for the quarterback position. No chances are likely to be taken before with Frank Green or Grumbach. Tate took Good's place at left tackle today, the latter being shifted to halfback and then to right end. It was learned today that "Pete" Hoffman, the substitute centre, split a bone in his left wrist in yesterday's practice.

Lafayette Sick Squad Improves.

Special to The New York Times.

EASTON, Penn., Nov. 5.—Coach Crowell gave the Lafayette football squad a short but very snappy practice on Marsh Field this afternoon. The 'Varsity was lined up against the scrubs. Particular stress was laid on the offense, and the first string men scored twice on the scrubs. The typhoid fever situation on the squad is somewhat improved. Fred Luhr was in the practice again. He was placed at tackle and Livzey retained his place at centre. Blackburn was on the field for a time, but he did not get into the game. Swarts played his end. Tormay and Maloney played the guard positions. Both are new men and played quite well. Kelly is still sick, but it is now thought that he is only out of the game temporarily. Toll practiced punting with the scrub team and will be called on to kick against Muhlenberg in case Kelly is not able to play on Saturday.

Michigan Works Out Penn Plays.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 5.—Defense against forward passes occupied the time of the Michigan football team in this afternoon's practice. The scrubs, using Pennsylvania formations, were matched against the 'Varsity in an effort to familiarize the regulars with that feature of the Quaker attack. Michigan's line-up in the game with Pennsylvania on Saturday probably will be the same as that which faced Harvard last week. All the Wolverine "cripples" have shown improved condition in the last few days. Quarter back Hughitt has a new brace for his injured elbow and expects to be able to carry the ball occasionally in Saturday's game.

Lehigh-Williams Game Here?

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Penn., Nov. 5.—Negotiations are under way for a post-season football game between Lehigh and Williams Colleges in New York City on Thanksgiving Day or the Saturday following. The proceeds are to go to the Red Cross for relief work in Belgium. This will mean that Lehigh will have to keep in training a week longer than her usual season, and the matter of the game was taken up with the players today and they will give their decision tomorrow.

Penn. Starts for Ann Arbor.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—The University of Pennsylvania football squad left here today for Ann Arbor, where the 'Varsity team will play Michigan on Saturday in their annual game. The entire squad, with the exception of Carter, who has been out of the game for some time, is in good condition. Capt. Journeay will probably play at centre in Carter's place. The student body gave the squad a rousing sendoff, more than a thousand of them parading to the railroad station with the players.

BUFFALO DISPUTE SETTLED.

Registration Committee Rules in Favor of Sixty-fifth Regiment.

So bitter has been the animosity manifested between the athletic authorities of the Sixty-fifth and Seventy-fourth National Guard Regiments in Buffalo over the fact that both had received A. A. U. sanctions to hold games on Jan. 1, 1915, that the Registration Committee for the second time took the matter in hand yesterday. At a special meeting of the committee in 21 Warren Street, presided over by Chairman J. W. Stumpf, it was decided "that, for the best interest of athletics in the up-State city, two weeks at least should intervene between the meetings of the rival regiments, and that the New Year date should go to the Sixty-fifth Regiment."

New York athletes are much interested in this petty fight between the militiamen, for annually the best local track and field men compete in the games of both regiments in Buffalo. Already Hannes Kolehmainen has made arrangements to compete at a meet to be conducted by the Seventy-fourth on Thanksgiving night, while Homer Baker, Tommy Lennon, Dan Kuhn, and O. Anderson, composing the Seventy-first New York Regiment relay team, have planned to compete in a medley relay at the Sixty-fifth's games against a team of Canadians.

It is probable that Jack Tait, the Canadian crack, will appear in the relay squad which runs against the Americans.

The Registration Committee also ordered that both regiments name on their entry blanks the prizes they will give and then produce them before Commissioner Reincke before the games. The Buffalo regiments in the past have been in the habit of issuing slips instead of prizes to the winning contestants.

DIRECTUM RACES IN GALE.

James Butler's Pacer Does Mile on Delaware Track in 1:59 1-2.

Special to The New York Times.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 5.—The pacing stallion Directum I., by Directum-Kelly, owned by James Butler of New York, paced a mile against time on the Kirkwood (Del.) kite-shaped track this afternoon in 1:59½. The horse was driven by G. Raymond Snedeker, who piloted him on the Grand Circuit this season. The time by quarters was 0:30¼, 1:01¼, 1:31, 1:59½. A thirty-mile gale marred the trial, as no wind shield was used. Directum I. was paced part of the way by a runner, which could not keep up.

Directum I.'s record, made this year, is 1:58.

Two thousand people saw the trial. The track was in ideal condition.

Sullivan Memorial Fund Growing.

Contributions amounting to more than $1,000 have been received to date by Secretary Tully of the Metropolitan Association A. A. U. from clubs and individuals in the district for the James E. Sullivan Memorial Fund. The following are the contributions: Metropolitan Association, $500; Bartow S. Weeks, $100; Charles J. Dieges, $100; F. W. Rubien, $50; W. H. Brady, $50; H. Oberubbesing, $25; St. Agnes's A. C., $15; Johnson & Johnson A. A., $10; Michelin A. A., $10; J. H. Stephenson, $25; Louis Kirsinger, $10; Central Congregational A. A., $5; Trinity Club, $15; Recreation Centres A. A., $50; Knickerbocker Club, $25; Anchor A. C., $25; Twenty-third Regiment A. A., $10; total, $1,025. As President Rubien has appointed a committee in each club of the Metropolitan Association to secure contributions to the fund, they are expected to come in lively. They should be addressed to Andrew F. Tully, Secretary Treasurer, Box 611, New York City.

Tyrer and Taylor Win.

Ralph H. Tyrer defeated Fred Read, 261 to 123, and Alpen Taylor defeated Harry Rainsley, 250 to 227, in last night's English billiard matches in the amateur tournament for the Dewar Challenge Shield at Doyle's Forty-second Street Academy.

Tyrer, who won the Yonkers handicap tournament, shot a brilliant game against Read. He went out in fifty-four innings. While he made no big runs, he shot consistently all through the game. Read was no match for him, and it was apparent from the start that he did not have a chance.

Although both are inexperienced and comparatively unskilful players, the match between Taylor and Rainsley was an exceptionally interesting one. Despite the handicap of an injured wrist, Rainsley kept in the running up to the very end. The scores:

R. H. Tyrer—4 10 8 2 9 11 0 0 2 2 2 2 7 2 2 2 7
0 1 2 0 1 2 2 0 1 2 2 0 2 1 0 0 1 6 1 0 2 6
3 5 0 8 2 0 5 2 0 0 7 0 3 6 0 0 0 0 0 1 4 6.
Total—251. High runs—16 14 13. Average—4 35-54.

Fred Read—0 1 4 2 0 6 5 9 4 0 0 9 3 4 1 8
0 2 0 0 6 0 0 3 0 0 0 0 5 4 0 0 5 0 0 0 8 3 0
0 5 0 0 2 4 1 3 4 0 2 2 0 0 5. Total—129.
High runs—9 8 6. Average—2 21-54.

Albert Taylor—0 0 0 3 3 4 3 0 5 0 0 4 0 0 4
2 2 7 0 0 0 0 0 6 2 2 0 0 0 0 0 5 6 3
9 4 0 0 2 2 13 3 5 0 0 3 0 6 0 10 8 0 0 0 0 5
0 2 1 2 0 3 0 2 2 0 0 2 2 0 13 5 12 0 0 0 0 0 0
0 0 0 2 0 12 0 0 5 0 0 0 0 7 2 0 0 5 3 2 7
Total—250. High runs—15, 9, 7. Average—4 13-107.

Harry Rainsley—0 0 2 3 3 0 5 14 0 4 0 0 6 8 6
0 0 0 2 0 0 2 0 5 2 2 2 0 4 0 4 0 0 0 5 2 8 0
0 7 5 0 8 0 0 7 0 0 4 0 0 13 8 0 3 0 8 0 0 4 3 3
0 13 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 4 2 0 2 0 0 5 2 0 0 3
0 0 4 0 0 0 7 0 4 0 5 8 5 5 0 0 0 0. Total—227. High runs—14, 13, 8. Average—2 13-107.

Billiard Players' League Standing.

George Sutton still retains the lead in the champion Billiard Players' League, with twenty-six games won and three lost. He is closely followed by Orie Morningstar and Calvin Demarest. All three players have a percentage of over .800, while Cline, the fourth player on the list, has an average of .680. In the games played by Sutton, Morningstar, and Cline are tied with eighteen each. In the past week Sutton won six out of seven from Schaefer, Morningstar captured five out of six from Cochran, Cline performed the same feat against Yamada, the Jap, and Demarest was credited with six victories out of eight games against Cutler. The standing of the players follows:

	Won.	Lost.	Grand Avg.	P.C.
Sutton	26	3	18	.897
Morningstar	21	4	18	.840
Demarest	21	5	16	.808
Cline	14	11	18	.560
Yamada	11	14	14	.440
Cutler	5	21	12	.192
Cochran	4	21	12	.160
Schaefer	3	26	11	.103

Old Boxer Elected to Legislature.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Edward M. Santry, who, a few years ago, was known to followers of the prize ring as one of the leading featherweight boxers, has been elected to the Illinois Legislature from Chicago, according to latest returns today. He plans to favor a boxing bill for Illinois.

"This Is What I Call Delicious Beer!"
You Will Agree With That Opinion for Imperial Gold Label Beer
Bottled only by the Brewers,
Beadleston & Woerz,
New York.
Order from any dealer.
Is Wonderfully Snappy and Refreshing!

TRAVIS AND SIMONS TIE FOR GOLF MEDAL

Ninety-two Tee Up in Qualifying Round in Lakewood Tournament.

With one of the largest fields that has visited the course in the pines, the annual Fall golf tournament of the Country Club of Lakewood began yesterday, all day being given over to the testing round. The result was a tie for the gold medal between Walter J. Travis, of Garden City, a consistent winner in these figures, and W. R. Simons, of Westbrook, who holds the Florida title. Each had seventy-seven and will play off for the medal at their convenience. There were ninety-two starters out of an entry of 112.

A surprise was the failure of some of the best known golfers to figure prominently. In fact, Fred Herreshoff, the Garden City expert who has been Metropolitan champion and twice runner-up for the national title, had to play off with Louis Livingston, of Westbrook, for the last place in the chief division. Each tied with eighty-seven and Herreshoff won. Herreshoff was deficient in his putting.

There was a strong wind blowing across the course which made the scoring difficult. Maxwell R. Marston, of Baltusrol, required eighty-two, largely through the fact that his work on the greens was erratic. Maurice E. Risley, runner-up at Lakewood last Spring and the winner of the tournament at Atlantic City last week, needed eighty-five to go around, while Horace T. Cook, the Trenton youth who showed up so well a year or two ago, handed in an eighty-one.

Simons did well enough at several holes, notably the first where he holed out a chip shot from off the edge of the green. Though a long putt he was able to record a three on the 465-yard sixteenth. Travis lapsed on two occasions, on the third and seventeenth, getting six in each case. Bunkers furnished the reason. Otherwise the veteran played excellent golf. The summary:

First Sixteen.—W. J. Travis, Garden City, 77; W. R. Simons, Westbrook, 77; W. Kendall, Deal, 79; H. A. Steiner, Inwood, 81; H. T. Cook, Trenton, 81; M. R. Marston, Baltusrol, 82; Percy Platt, New York Golf, 82; Theodore Sen

The New York Times.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

ADOLPH S. OCHS, Publisher and President.
B. C. Franck, Secretary.

Address all communications
THE NEW YORK TIMES,
Telephone 1000 Bryant.

Publication Office.....Times Square
Times Annex...43d St., west of Broadway
Downtown.....15 Beekman Street
Wall Street.....2 Rector Street
Harlem.....243 West 125th Street
Bronx.....149th St. and Bergen Av.
Staten Island....Ferry House, St. George
Jersey City.....538 Jersey Avenue
Long Island City.....366 Jackson Avenue
Hoboken.....61 Second Street
Paterson.....13 Park Avenue
Elizabeth.....90 Broad Street
WASHINGTON.....Munsey Building
PHILADELPHIA.....Public Ledger Building
CHICAGO.....1,202 Tribune Building
ST. LOUIS.....409 Globe-Democrat Building
DETROIT.....626 Ford Building
LONDON.....2 Pall Mall East, S. W.
PARIS.....32 Rue Louis le Grand

ONE CENT Greater New York, Jersey City, Newark. Elsewhere Two Cents. Five Cents Sunday.

Subscription Rates:

DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year.....$8.50
Per Month, 75c.
DAILY, without Sunday, per Year..... 6.00
Per Month, 50c.
SUNDAY, with Picture Section and Review of Books, per Year..... 2.50
Canada, Sunday only..... 5.00
Postage free in United States, Canada, Mexico, Panama, Canal Zone, Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Philippines, Guam, Samoa, Shanghai.

All other countries, (postage included.)
Daily and Sunday, per Year.....$24.00
Per Month, $2.
Daily, without Sunday, per Year... 15.60
Per Month, $1.30.
Sunday only, per Year..... 8.40
Per Month, 70c.

THE ANNALIST, (Mondays,) per Year.. 4.00
Canada, $5; other countries, $5.50.
THE NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW, per Year..... 1.00
Canada $1.50; other countries, $2.
THE NEW YORK TIMES MID-WEEK PICTORIAL WAR EXTRA, (Thursday) per Year, $1.50; Six Months, $2.50; Three Months, $1.25; Single Copies, 10c.
Canada, one year, $6; other countries, one year, $6.50.
THE NEW YORK TIMES INDEX, Quarterly—Full Cloth, per Year, $8; per Copy, $2.

Entered as second-class mail matter.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, NOV. 6, 1914.

UNPOPULARITY OF THE FULL CREW LAW.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. — The Full Crew bill was decisively defeated by 3,101. In St. Louis the vote stood 64,517 nay, to 49,931 yea.

Many surprises have come out of Missouri, but no more surprising thing than is recorded in the above news dispatch. The Missouri full crew law was passed in 1912 on the familiar theory that it was popular because it would please the unions and harass the railways. The Missouri railways are fortunate in that the State has a referendum law, and the railways were bold enough to challenge the act of the Legislature by taking it before the people. There was no State in which such a result as is given above could seem more unlikely. Missouri is, or has been, a hotbed of anti-corporation sentiment, and its politics long has reeked with it. Yet on the first occasion in which the naked question was put to the people they rejected it. No candidate in Missouri was able to get such a vote as was cast in favor of the railways and against the labor influence.

There seems to have been nothing the matter with the law from the labor point of view. It was the law that the unions asked for and that the railways opposed in vain before the Legislature. The campaign against the law was along the same lines as that which did not appeal to the Legislature, and was conducted under difficulties created by barbed wire entanglements devised for cases of this sort. That is to say, in Missouri there is an especial statute that no corporation can influence any election by the use of money in any way, or by influencing any employé regarding his vote; or by "using any power, "effort, or influence, or other means "whatsoever" to persuade any voter to vote for or against anything. Unions are not corporations, and therefore are not restricted in their activities, and were not designed to be when the law was passed. They made the best use of their opportunities. Billboards in every city informed the public that a brakeman was killed every seven minutes for lack of safety appliances. There was hardly a saloon in the State with a union bartender which did not tell all patrons that the full crew law was first aid to "safety first." On many fences were distressing pictures of head-on and rear-end collisions which were to be feared if there were no full crew law.

The arguments on behalf of the railways were, first, that there was no connection between superfluous labor and safety, and that the waste of the railways' money in useless wages reduced their resources for all purposes, including safety. How much the railways were weakened was shown by the fact that the unnecessary men cost in Missouri $500,000, or the income upon an investment of $10,000,000, and prevented the expenditure of that sum on facilities and precautions in operation. What the railways could not do for themselves was done for them with hearty good will. Shippers, farmers, passengers, editors rallied to the help of the railways surprisingly. Passengers thought that air brakes set by engineers were a better reliance than an idle brakeman. Shippers said that the expense of the idle brakeman must be paid by themselves, and that they would not vote for that tax upon themselves for the sake of the unions. Farmers said that if the railways were regulated in that way it would be their turn next, and that they did not propose to set a precedent for a law about how much labor they must hire for every acre cultivate. Editors pointed out here, there was a Public Service Commission created for the very purpose of regulating the railways in this respect and every other, and that it was only fair to the commission and to the railways alike to leave the subject with them.

The result increases confidence in the people and weakens confidence in the politicians. The people are better judges of their business than those who assume to be specialists in what the people think and want. That is the politicians' business, and they failed lamentably in Missouri, or they never would have invited the humiliating exposure of them in this vote. Missouri is far from being the only State with a full crew law. It is the only State which has rejected such a law. There are full crew laws in twenty States. Equally bad anti-railway laws have been passed in forty-eight States, and perhaps the worst of all by the Federal Legislature. The significance of the Missouri precedent is that, as the President remarked, there is a new temper in affairs. The people are perceiving that the corporations are themselves, and that their interests cannot be separated from the interest of all business. Promptly upon the defeat of the law the railways released the funds which the full crew law had made it prudent to keep in hand. A single railway increased its pay roll by $50,000 monthly. It could afford to. No railway could afford $50,000 for waste, but efficient labor is a necessity to every employer. The true solidarity of honest labor and capital could hardly be better exemplified.

VARICK STREET.

The protest of old residents of New York against the change of the name of Varick Street, recently converted into an extension southward of Seventh Avenue, is perfectly natural and will receive sympathetic support. The object of the Board of Estimate in proposing the change of name to Seventh Avenue South was simply to prevent confusion, but in many other cities historic names are preserved for parts of long thoroughfares without causing confusion. In London, for instance, Coventry Street, Cranbourne Street, and Piccadilly are names of parts of the same street. In New York, for that matter, Ninth Avenue becomes Columbus Avenue at Fifty-ninth Street, Eighth Avenue is called Central Park West for a stretch of two and a half miles and is then called Eighth Avenue again, and Tenth Avenue is Amsterdam Avenue uptown. Moreover, our avenues do not extend downtown. South Fifth Avenue has been West Broadway for many years, and the bestowal of that name, already held by the lower part of the street, upon the part between Canal and Fourth Streets was generally approved.

The proposed change of the name of Varick Street, however, is opposed chiefly on sentimental grounds which do not often appeal to the New York majority. The utterly preposterous change of the name of historic Chatham Street to Park Row caused scarcely a murmur. Many equally historic names have been removed from the map of the city without arousing the public's resentment. If the fact is established that Seventh Avenue South will be a more practical name for the remodeled thoroughfare, there will be no large quantities of tears shed because of the slight to the memory of Mayor VARICK, whose house and farm were ancient landmarks of the Greenwich neighborhood.

CYPRUS.

In one of the most interesting and brilliant of his lectures Prof. TREITSCHKE expressed the hope that Germany's next war would add important foreign colonies to her domain. This is Germany's "next war," and thus far she has secured no colonial territory. She has lost rather, for Japan has taken islands from her and her African possessions are insecurely held. Germany's enemy, Great Britain, has already made an addition, though not a very important one, to the very considerable part of the habitable globe which she controls. In declaring war against Turkey Great Britain annexes the Island of Cyprus. "A "Turkish fleet and bearing up to "Cyprus," was the announcement made to the Duke of Venice in SHAKESPEARE'S tragedy. It is quite unlikely that any Turkish fleet will ever again visit Cyprus. The island, although Turkish territory, has been under the administration of Great Britain since 1878. That was the year of the Berlin Congress, when BENJAMIN DISRAELI successfully carried out his policy of depriving Russia of the fruits of her victory over Turkey. Great Britain's annexation of the island now as a war move against Turkey is a striking illustration of the transitory and changeful nature of European alliances, for in the arrangement made in 1878 Great Britain agreed to join Turkey in defending her provinces in Asia should a hostile move in that direction be made by Russia. Now Great Britain is in alliance with Russia, and both are fighting Turkey.

It will be noted with interest that in the official British proclamation that a state of war exists with Turkey the reason given is hostile acts committed by Turkish forces under German officers. It is, of course, the general belief that Turkey was moved by German persuasion to take part in the war. The wisdom from the German point of view of inviting that alliance and co-operation is open to very grave doubt. It is unlikely that Turkey will prove a very serious embarrassment to the Allies, while her participation may easily provoke Greece and Rumania and untimately Italy to appear in the theatre of war arrayed against Germany and Austria. Since Germany protested against England's alliance with such a land of "unculture" as Russia, what must be said of her accepting aid from so backward a race as the Turks, with the reputation their soldiers have for cruel propensities, surpassing anything told or believed of France's Turcos or England's East Indians?

Cyprus can have no great strategic value for England, since it has no harbor fit for naval purposes, but it is something to get the island away from Turkey. The fortunes of the Cypriotes through the ages of history illustrate European ways of dealing with little peoples. Rome took Cyprus before the Christian era began. It was more than once wrested from her by the Arabs, and for a time, some 700 years ago, it was an English possession, under RICHARD I. Then the Knights Templars had it, from them it passed to the Republic of Venice, and then to Turkey. England does not readily let go of what she once takes—Heligoland is a lamentable illustration of a misjudgment of that kind. What will happen to Turkey at the end of the war cannot be easily foreseen, save that the disappearance of the Turkish power in Europe is highly probable. Cyprus is very likely to remain an English island.

VICTOR MURDOCK.

Regret that Mr. VICTOR MURDOCK of Kansas will be forced to retire to private life for two years after March 4, 1915, will not be confined to the comparatively few still faithful members of the Progressive Party to the general collapse of which alone his defeat is attributable. For ten years Mr. MURDOCK has represented the Eighth Kansas District in the House of Representatives, and so strong has been his hold on the voters of that part of his State that no opponent has dared to appear of late to contest his biennial re-election. He has been free in the political campaigns to lend his oratory to other districts and other States. But Mr. MURDOCK chose this year to carry the Progressive instead of the Republican banner in his contest for the Senatorship, and he has found that party fidelity is still stronger in the John Brown State than personal popularity.

He will be missed in the next session of Congress, especially by Uncle JOE CANNON, who must have been looking forward eagerly to renewing his relations with the Kansas young man. But while Mr. MURDOCK'S enforced rest from the political routine will give him time to put new fire and energy into his newspaper, The Wichita Eagle, the pursuit of journalism so remote from the national capital will scarcely lend free play to his talent. That he will return to put spice, vigor, and personal humor in the proceedings of the Sixty-fifth Congress goes without saying. The oriflamme has been furled, but it will wave again.

TO ONE IN THE SPOTLIGHT.

Fame will accompany the flight of the now Hon. MEYER LONDON through the next two years. He will be the most noticeable and noticed member of the New York delegation in Congress; one of the most noticed in the country. His goings and comings will be chronicled; when there is a roll call special mention will be made of the way "the only Socialist member" voted; when he makes a speech the Washington correspondents will give him a place by himself in their reports; the men who write apocryphal gossip of Washington will put witty retorts in his mouth, and tell of the funny thing that happened when he first entered the cloakroom.

Therefore we address a word of caution to the Hon. MEYER LONDON. Let not this fame agitate him, for beneath it there lie pitfalls. The attention with which he is regarded will not be wholly reverent; those who pay it will be waiting to pounce upon him if he turns out, as most members of a third party in Congress do, to be ridiculous. And if he is but doubtfully ridiculous, they will not give him the benefit of the doubt. This applies to his fellow-Congressmen as well as to the humor-loving public.

Socialism, the single tax, and other unaccepted theories have had their single Representatives in Congress, who have won a place that still gives them mention in the cloakroom stories of old-timers; but the place is not enviable. The crusader in Congress usually feels that he has a mission and that every opportunity must be seized to thrust his theories upon Congress; he has only two years and must make hay while the sun shines. Hence we see him perpetually in eruption, seizing the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill as an excuse to point out the evils of capitalism, or an invalid pension bill to arouse class consciousness in Congress. The wise old longhorns of the House, who have seen his like come and go, are grateful for the chance of comedy; they encourage him in his career and enjoy him as vaudeville in tired moments, and he becomes, to his astonishment, a Great National Joke.

One exception there has been to this rule. VICTOR L. BERGER was a Socialist who went to Congress, and the Congressmen and correspondents awaited his coming with thankful anticipation, looking upon him as comedy relief, and justified in so doing by experience with his like. But BERGER disappointed them; instead of thrusting himself upon them in season and out of season, he spoke infrequently, but always to the point. When he spoke he spoke with a sanity and moderation that compelled reluctant and astonished respect from the most hardened old he-goats of the House machine. He was hard-headed and had no illusions, and when he talked Socialism he did not talk the Socialistic cant. Also he recognized that his "capitalistic" colleagues were human beings. In a month he had won a respect which brought attention and seriousness whenever he rose to speak; he demonstrated that he was not a show; and, alone as he was in Congress, he was an influence. When he left he carried a Washington-wide friendship and golden opinions that were unanimous.

If the Hon. MEYER LONDON has it in him, we recommend him, in all friendliness, to copy the example of VICTOR BERGER, and not that of Anti-Pass BOB BAKER. If he does he will be doing something for Socialism as well as for himself.

MR. WILLIAMS AND THE NEW YORK BANKS.

Controller WILLIAMS has placed the banks of the Wall Street district under obligation to him. But for his aid they would have been unable to give equal publicity to the fact that their rates for accommodation are so much more reasonable than those charged in other districts, where there is more pretense of running banks for popularity than for profit. Thanks to Mr. WILLIAMS it is now advertised throughout the country that there are only three banks in the lair of the money trust which charge over 6 per cent. for call loans, and in these cases the higher rate, it appears, was determined by considerations of credit in a few special instances. That is a sort of loan which stands by itself to such an extent that there is a special statute in New York allowing rates to be charged on call above those on other loans. Yet the banks run by the money power, although taken by surprise by the Controller's inquiry, are able to show a clean bill of health on action taken voluntarily instead of by official requirement.

Indeed, the Controller's intervention is more in favor of the banks than of their customers. Resentment at official intervention in a matter of no concern to the currency has been expressed, and might find expression in an insistence upon freedom of action. Perhaps gratitude to the Controller will inspire kinder thoughts. How could the banks equally well have certified to the country that they are not now exacting the 50 per cent. or more which has been heard of in times of stress? How could the banks of New York equally well have let the country know that they are accommodating all deserving borrowers, on terms so satisfactory, and in relation to the conditions of the cases respectively? Borrowers also are indebted to the Controller for not setting a rule for the banks, for a rule would require all rates to be higher if the level were compulsory. The banks of many sections of the country also are indebted to the Controller for not asking questions of them. The banks of other sections may be said to be under a continuing obligation, for if the Controller should take it into his head to ask them what their rates are, they would be in danger of an exposure which would make Wall Street blush for its moderation.

Nobody is asking relief for Wall Street, which is helping everybody who has a case for assistance on public grounds. Why, then, is the Controller so anxious about the Wall Street borrowers on call? It is from pure good will. The Controller is actuated solely by the desire to get the facts before the country. The Controller has no grievance against Wall Street, and is solely desirous of giving certificates of character to its banks, even at the risk of being thought meddlesome.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

Censorship Hinders Recruiting.

One of yesterday's dispatches from London told of what approached a united protest by the papers of that city against the small quantity and poor quality of the war news which the military censors allow them to print. They said, whether truly or not is not for us to say, that this was having another result besides the production of journalistic resentment—at which the censors, not being the wisest of folk, will presumbaly smile as unimportant. The other result, we read, is difficulty in raising recruits for the army.

That there is any such difficulty has been often denied and never admitted, officially, but more than a few observers have reported that the British public did not seem to realize as fully as those of France and Germany the seriousness of the war. The difference, if there be any, is hardly to be explained by the censorship, that certainly being not less rigid in the other two countries than in Great Britain, but, considering the latter alone, the scarcity of published information about the war, and especially the minimizing or concealment of "bad" news, would fairly well account both for failure on the part of the Britons to be as deeply stirred as they should be and for a comparative slowness in enlisting.

If the English can be judged by ourselves, they probably are not at all grateful for being protected from a knowledge of the truth, whatever it may be.

Certainly Alarmed in Time.

That the Londoners are not quite as easy in their minds as has been inferred from the calmness of their behavior in public is more than hinted in the report that when they go to hotels nowadays they show for the lower floors a preference so decided that the resulting emptiness of rooms nearer the sky is making new trouble and loss for the owners of those establishments.

The preference is explained as due to fear of Zeppelins, or rather of the bombs which that interesting product of Teutonic genius is wont to drop with such quaint disregard for consequences. Of course the danger to individuals, if the big airships ever do fly over London, is real enough. Have they not already mutilated a little girl in one city, an old lawyer in another, and seriously injured several private houses in Antwerp? Of military efficiency they have as yet shown next to none, if any, but they may have some, nevertheless, and the grim promises of what they will do when the time comes cannot be wholly ignored by those confronted with the possibility of a visitation from them.

As it is a plausible assumption that, when a Zeppelin came, the occupants of a tall building would be safer in its lower stories than in its higher ones, there is nothing either mysterious or disgraceful in the reported liking for rooms near the ground. To remote—and unimperiled — commentators, however, this latest grievance of the London hotelkeepers seems slightly amusing and the apprehensions that produce it not altogether in harmony with the established and accepted notions as to the Briton's cool confidence in himself and his institutions.

We Americans, now, with our jumpy nerves, could be more easily excused for taking precautions against Zeppelins. Bostonians took them once, according to old tales, against like perils from a Spanish fleet, and nobody ventured then even to smile.

Looks Like Ultimate Vindication.

Latest, and, considering the circumstances, perhaps the most significant, admission of the claim by the WRIGHT brothers to recognition as the men who made aerial navigation a reality has come this week in the shape of an award of £15,000 from the British Government in payment for the use in building aeroplanes of principles patented by them. That is a victory greater even than those won in American and French courts before the war began, for this is a time when only the clearest of "cases" would be settled in such a way, for all ordinary compulsions are now either abrogated or weakened, and nations at war have little leisure for legal controversies.

More than a patent suit and profits of manufacture was at stake. There has been, indeed, in this country, as well as elsewhere, something of regret among people who had given the subject only superficial thought, that the discovery of how to fly was not offered freely to the world for use and improvement, and the WRIGHTS have sometimes been criticised for exploiting their invention without regard to sentiment. This feeling has, in turn, been industriously used by rival—and later—makers of aeroplanes to create sympathy for themselves as the objects of vexatious litigation by would-be monopolists.

But whoever disregarded the claims of the WRIGHTS to their legal profits also attacked their claim to priority of invention, and when this was done, as it often has been, by foreigners, they threatened to deprive the United States of the glory of having produced the solvers of a problem that had baffled the world for unnumbered centuries. Therein, for us, lies public interest in the maintenance of the WRIGHT patents, and they now seem to be beyond further dispute.

One War Is Highly Admirable.

At any other time than this, the outbreak among American cattle of the clumsily named "foot-and-mouth" disease would have received instant and excited recognition as bringing with it the threat, and more than the possibility, of a calamity which can without exaggeration be described as national.

Fortunately the present resources of knowledge and power are in all probability sufficient to bring about a prompt stamping out of the terrible infection, but the fact that the epidemic has necessitated the closing of the great Chicago stock yards is evidence of its seriousness. Our most important food material is imperiled, however, and it is not with composure that the country can face an almost inevitable advance in the price of beef—a price already inconvenjently high.

Welcome assurances are given to the effect that if there is an advance in price it will not be great, and that it will be paid from the pockets of the distributers. Experience, however, makes the latter statement unbelievable for most of us. Our real and only comfort lies in the energy displayed by the Government sanitarians and veterinarians. They are not allowing any other interests to stand in the way of the great interest, which is, of course, that of the country at large.

Some day there may be a like activity and a like expenditure in suppressing disease among human beings.

THE FRANKING PRIVILEGE.

An Instance of Its Abuse in Political Campaigns.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

May I use your columns to protest against flagrant abuse of the Congressional franking privilege in the recent campaign? The abuse is not a new one. I received on Oct. 31, under the frank of Representative Richard Bartholdt of Missouri, a package containing fourteen Republican campaign pamphlets and two reprints from the Congressional Record of political speeches in the House of Representatives by Messrs. Haugen of Iowa and Helgesen of North Dakota.

It was my privilege to make the following reply to Congressman Bartholdt:

Hon. Richard Bartholdt, M. C., Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir—Permit me to thank you for sending at my expense a large bundle of Republican campaign documents. It is peculiarly fortunate that they should arrive in time for use in a lecture which we give every year to a large class in a course on "American Government." This lecture deals with procedure and debate in the House of Representatives, leave to print, the use and abuse of the franking privilege, and related topics. I shall take pleasure in using your literature as "Exhibit A," under "abuse of the franking privilege." It will help to impress upon the minds of a large group of men one way, at least, by which the cost of Government may be increased, a privilege abused, and the people disgusted with the conduct of their representatives.

I object to being taxed for this sort of compulsory campaign contribution.

EDWIN D. DICKINSON,
Dartmouth College.

Hanover, N. H., Nov. 4, 1914.

The Safe Deposit Box.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In an editorial of your issue of Oct. 25, under the caption "The Safe Deposit Box," you write: "It is needless to say that the new law increases the responsibilities and the labors of the banks and trust companies which rent the boxes." I would infer from the foregoing that Section 227 of the tax law had been superseded by a new law.

If not, you appear to have ignored the fact that this Section 227 of the tax law imposing penalties upon safe deposit companies was unanimously decided to be practically invalid by the Appellate Division of the First Department of the Supreme Court in November, 1913; the case being People of the State of New York, by Martin H. Glynn, Controller, appellant, vs. Mercantile Safe Deposit Company, respondent.

Whether or not the case has been certified and sent to the Court of Appeals I do not know, but I presume that it has. I had supposed that pending such appeal the law could be assumed to be invalid, but now your article would lead one to infer that a new law had been passed, superseding the one covered by the decision above referred to.

New York, Nov. 4, 1914. C. H.

THE SOLDIER'S DUTY.

Two Letters That Show the Spirit of Self-Sacrifice.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I inclose two letters which have been forwarded to me from Paris. The first is from a garcon de cafe to his mother, a concierge in a private family. The second is from a mother to her son, a Russian officer, on whose breast it was found after his death on the field of battle.

(1)

(Translation.)

Dear Mother:

Two words to tell you that I am in perfect health. Write to me. It will make me so happy to hear from you. Do not weep; have the same courage that I must have to go before the enemy. Hope always that I shall return with my duty accomplished to be the comfort of your old age. If I do not come back, console yourself by thinking that your son has done his duty as a Frenchman, has followed the straight path that you and poor Papa laid out for him. My only wish is that you may b able to have some happy days in spite of this terrible war. I leave you, dear Mamma, thanking you for having made of me a man capable of going to face the enemy to avenge the heroes of '70.

Your son who keeps for you the best place in his heart and who thinks of you without ceasing. I embrace you a thousand times. J—— F——.

(2)

(Translation.)

Your father was killed far away from us at Lea-yan, and now I am sending you to the sacred duty of the defense of our dear country against a strong and terrible enemy. Remember that you are the son of a hero. My heart bleeds and I weep as I ask you to show yourself worthy of him; I feel all the fatal horror of my words, the suffering that they can bring to me and to us all. Nevertheless I say them yet again.

We do not live forever in this world. What is the life of one human being? A drop of water in the ocean of life of magnificent Russia. We shall not always exist, but she must have a long and prosperous life. I know that we shall be forgotten and that our happy descendants will not remember those who sleep in soldiers' graves.

When the moment shall come for the accomplishment of a high deed, do not remember my tears, remember only my benediction. God keep you, my child, so dearly and so tenderly loved.

One word more. There are reports on all sides that the enemy is showing himself cruel and savage. Do not allow yourself to be carried away by a blind sentiment of vengeance. Do not raise your hand on a fallen foe, but be generous to those whom destiny may cause to fall into your hands.

EOLINE G. STODDARD.

New York, Nov. 4, 1914.

GEN. HELMUTH VON MOLTKE.

Chief of German General Staff Is Not a Christian Scientist.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In view of the fact that recent press reports have stated that Lieut. Gen. Helmuth von Moltke, Chief of the German General Staff, was connected with the Christian Science movement, permit me to state, merely as a matter of information, that Gen. von Moltke is not a Christian Scientist.

There are two branches of the von Moltke family in Germany. From ancient times the title of "Count" or "Countess" has been held by one branch of the family. At the present this title is held by Countess Fanny von Moltke of Berlin, who is a Christian Science practitioner and First Reader of First Church of Christ Scientist of that city.

The late Field Marshal von Moltke had the title of "Count" bestowed upon him because of his services in the Franco-Prussian war. He was a member of the other branch of the von Moltke family. The present holder of the title conferred upon the Field Marshal is Count Helmuth von Moltke, who resides on his estate near Breslau, in Silesia. Both he and his wife, Countess Dorothy von Moltke, are Christian Scientists.

Two uncles of Count von Moltke are prominent in German public life—one is Prussian Minister of the Interior and the other is, or was, the Chief of the German General Staff referred to in recent press reports. Neither he nor the Prussian Minister of the Interior, however, is a Christian Scientist, and neither of them has shown any special interest in the subject. Both the Count and the General have the same name—Helmuth von Moltke.

ROBERT S. ROSS,
Christian Science Committee on Publication,
New York.
New York, Nov. 2, 1914.

CROWN PRINCE INSANE?

Still Another Version of the Many Reports About Kaiser's Son.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

During the past month rumors have had it that the German Crown Prince is dead, and again lately he has been reported seriously wounded in the royal castle at Strassburg, all those in attendance on him strictly confined to the castle, prevented from communication with the outside world.

I am just in receipt of a letter from a friend who formed part of the Prince's suite, and who writes from Lucerne, Switzerland, under date of Oct. 15. I quote from his letter:

"The Crown Prince has lately had attacks of furious madness, and it has been necessary to put him under restraint. Things have become so uncomfortable that I have taken French leave and settled in Switzerland till this appalling war struggle has come to an end."

I give the above extract for what it is worth. My friend is a reliable man, and has been in the Prince's civil suite during five years.

G. A.

New York, Nov. 5, 1914.

COUNTING SHEEP.

My mind awakes and will not let me rest,
Although I know the day has yet to break;
Again I battle with my dark perplexities—
Knots that must be loosed and steps that I must take.
One refuge still is left—I close my eyes
And hurry down a lane both green and steep,
Toward the sound of tiny hoofs and muffled cries.
I go to count my sheep!
Little ones, big ones, black-faced and woolly-tailed,
Fathers with curly horns, fat lamokins, too,
All crowding near a velvet sward with a narrow gate.
They know me well—I often let them through.
Down fall the bars, into the field they go.
I sit upon a bank with perfumed violets deep,
And, as they pass I count them, quick or slow—
My dear dream-flock of sheep!
Five hundred—six—and still they patter on.
Ah! In their midst I see a strange beast glide!
It stops and turns its head to me with evil grin—
A Dark Perplexity has stolen to my side!
Shoulder him off, my gentle flock, and make him flee,
For never otherwise can I my tally keep.
Twilight shuts slowly down—now I can scarcely see!
Good night, my little ones, be faithful, stray not far from me,
I've—counted—all—my—sheep.

ETHEL H. WOLFF.

ART NOTES.

Wm. B. Van Ingen's Mural Paintings of Panama Canal at Lotos Club.

At the Lotos Club the mural paintings by William B. Van Ingen for the Administration Building on the Panama Canal Zone are on view for a number of days. Mr. Van Ingen had the practically impossible task of conveying the impression produced on his mind of vastness, and of order in apparent confusion, of tremendous activity, of complicated construction, of definite lines and masses and colors, and of overpowering noise. The great blasts of explosives, he says, played as important a part in the memory remaining in his mind as any visible phenomena. To get all this on canvas with pigment and brush would mean a power of synthesis such as no modern artist has yet shown. Moreover, it probably was not quite synthesis that was wanted for the Administration Building, but record of conditions necessarily of short duration. The water has covered all this scaffolding erected in opposition to the angry defiance of nature. Accuracy and definition were of the essence of the work. These Mr. Van Ingen has achieved, together with an effect of energy and exotic color. Not an inch of his canvas is without its interest.

The large panels show the construction of the locks at the point it had reached in 1912, the Spillway, and the Lock Gates. The making of the Culebra Cut was shown in a canvas about 90 feet long, which is now at the Isthmus. A sketch of it is at the Lotos Club, and there are a number of smaller sketches on view that were made in connection with the work.

***

At Clark's Art Rooms is a tremendous collection of objects of all kinds from the estate of Mrs. Mary Mandeville Johnston. Among them are certain special features that will interest the collector along these lines. There are many examples of the ancient type of "embroidery picture" ranging from the sixteenth to the eighteenth century, and there are several cases of Staffordshire, Lowestoft, Old Bow, and other well-known potteries which invite attention. There are a few paintings and a large number of prints of varying merit and interest.

***

The management of the Forty-eighth Street Theatre announces a poster contest. Artists are invited to send suggestions for a poster for "The Law of the Land." Three prizes will be given, and the poster accepted for reproduction will be bought at the artist's price. Those desiring particulars should address S. Jay Kaufman at the theatre.

TROLLOPE FIRST EDITIONS.

Complete Collection Brings $510 at Anderson Sale.

The highest price at the sale yesterday of the Stickney and Wilson libraries by the Anderson Auction Company was $510, which Gabriel Weis gave for a complete collection of first editions of Anthony Trollope.

"The Workes of John Helwood, newlie imprinted," small quarto, London, 1598, the scarce fifth edition, went to F. W. Morris for $52. Mr. Weis paid $100 for the "Edition de Bibliophile" of the "Works of Victor Hugo." James F. Drake obtained for $40 a copy of "The vision of Pierce Ploughman, nowe the seconde tyme imprinted by Roberte Crowlye, dwellynge in Elye rentes in Holborne," the scarce second edition of William Langland's book, dated London, 1550. Thomas L. McKenney's "History of the Indian Tribes of North America" went to Brentano for $35.

Mr. Weis paid $35 for the "Champlain Edition" of the "Works of Francis Parkman," portraits and other illustrations on India paper; $52.50 for the "Edition Magnifique" of Sir Walter Scott's "Waverley Novels," illustrations in two states, one being on Japan paper, and $60 for the "Connoisseur's Edition" of the same work.

J. C. McCoy gave $40 for "Romances, Novels, and Tales by M. de Voltaire," portrait by Mackenzie and plates after Moreau, octavo, London, 1806, in binding by Petit-Simier. He also paid $48 for the rare original issue of the London 1822 issue of Voltaire's "Maid of Orleans," translated into English verse, extra illustrated by the insertion of 300 engraved plates.

The total for the entire sale was $4,722.

ST. NICHOLAS OFFICERS.

Society Installs President Vernon M. Davis and Others.

At a meeting of the St. Nicholas Society held last night in the Marbridge Building, 1,328 Broadway, the following officers were installed for the coming year:

President—Vernon M. Davis; Vice Presidents—De Lancey Nicoll, William D. Murphy, Alfred Wagstaff, and the Rev. Dr. Howard Duffield; Treasurer—Henry Cotheal Swords; Secretary—Clarence Storm; Assistant Secretary—Guy Van Amringe; Chaplain—The Rev. Stephen Van Rensselaer and the Right Rev. James Henry Darlington; Physicians—Dr. Robert Fulton Weir and Dr. Francis Le Roy Satterlee; Managers—Charles Isham, Thomas Bloodgood Peck, and Alfred Wagstaff, Jr.; Stewards—George M. Woolsey and John F. Daniell.

Aid for Belgian Women.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

A word in regard to aiding the Belgians.

Every woman's heart in these distressing war times is stirred to its depth with sympathy for the mothers, wives, and children across the waters, and the clarion call rings clear and loud for help. How shall we give it? First, of course, food and clothing. But this is only temporal; we must bring hope and courage to these starving hearts, and the one way presents itself—to help them to help themselves. How? Bring the young women to this dear "Land of the Free." Provide a way to get them here in safety. (Every precaution, as we all know, must be taken.) Put them in good homes where they can be taught and trained in the art of good service, for cook, waitress, housemaid, &c.; pay a fair wage for this service; give them the protection of a home and, yes, may we say the love of it, too, so that the hearts will not starve. This, to my mind, would be a mutual benefit. Would it not help solve our domestic problem?

Let all women who will help in this cause form a local society with New York City as centre from which to operate. Would not the steamship companies bring them over for very little? Let this be their donation in a good cause.

MAY P. NICHOLSON,
EMILY A. CAMPBELL.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 4, 1914.

Col. Roosevelt on Righteousness.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

May I be permitted in answer to Mr. Roosevelt's articles on peace and righteousness to remind your readers that it is exactly eleven years since he failed to practice what he preaches when he treated the Treaty of 1846 between the United States and the Republic of Colombia as a "scrap of paper," thereby depriving my country of its most valuable and most cherished possession.

November the third is still taught in the schools of Colombia as the anniversary of the rape of the Isthmus.

A. VILLEGAS RESTREPO.

New York, Nov. 2, 1914.

GAVE OUT 14 JOBS ON PRIMARY DAY

Civil Service Investigation Discloses Forgeries in Men's Applications.

TREE CLIMBERS IN QUEENS

Park Laborers Produced Letters from a Florist Who Repudiates Many of the Signatures.

About twenty tree climbers and pruners from the Park Department of Queens were witnesses yesterday at the investigation of the Municipal Civil Service Commission by the State Civil Service Commission. It came out in the course of the examination by Frank Moss, Special Deputy Attorney General, that some of them had made use of forged signatures to get their appointments, and that their statements were not challenged by the Municipal Commissioners. Mr. Moss tried to show negligence, and he asserted that the abolition of the Labor Bureau by the Municipal Commission was responsible for the laxity in the examinations.

Park Department employes are in the non-competitive class, and are simply required to pass physical tests. They must give references and all of former experience, however, in their application blanks.

It appeared that it was a good recommendation for tree climbers and pruners to be able to say that they were once in the employ of Cassidy & Sons, florists, at Calvary Cemetery, Queens. When there was a call for applicants on Sept. 24 fourteen laborers applied, and all said in their applications that the Cassidy firm had employed them at one time. All of the fourteen lived in the same political district of Queens, in which there was a fight for the leadership. The fourteen received their appointments on Sept. 26, primary day.

On examination by Mr. Moss, none of the fourteen professed to know the politicians who were running for leadership, and only a few of them, it appeared, had voted at the primaries.

John Cassidy, a member of the firm of florists, was asked to inspect the application blanks which had been submitted to the Municipal Civil Service Commission. To his surprise, he found his own name written in many different styles of handwriting, and pinned to one application he found a complete letter signed with his name. A few of the signatures were genuine, but Mr. Cassidy said he could not remember ever having seen the majority of the pruners.

The cases, it was said, would probably be turned over to the District Attorney of Queens to investigate the alleged forgeries. The State Civil Service Commission is not interested in the criminal side of the cases, but counsel tried to show that the forgeries and misrepresentations would have been discovered if proper examinations had been held. Under the old system, where examinations were held by a separate labor bureau, it was contended by the State Commissioners, there could not have been such violations of the law.

Jugglery in the civil service rules was charged in the case of Samuel Brock, a provisional appointee in the office of Borough President Connolly of Queens. Brock entered the civil service at $1,200 a year in 1903, and in 1906, by a series of promotions, he was earning $2,100. He was attached to the Finance Department as a clerk at this salary in 1913, when President Connolly wanted him for Secretary of Queens Borough. By special arrangement Brock got a leave of absence from the Finance Department from March to December, 1913. During that time, in accordance with this agreement, he acted as Secretary of Queens Borough, and for this he received pay at the rate of $4,000 a year.

After January, 1914, a regular clerkship paying $4,000 was available in Mr. Connolly's office. Brock took a promotion examination for this and got the job. Mr. Moss contended that the job was intended for Brock, but this Brock denied. Municipal Civil Service Commissioner Keogh explained that the transfer of Brock was in conformity with the civil service rules in every way.

The hearing will be continued this morning.

DEVINE DEFENDS KINGSBURY.

Editorial in The Survey Laments Attacks on Commissioner.

Prof. Edward T. Devine, editor of The Survey, the official organ of the Charity Organization Society, warmly commends John A. Kingsbury, Commissioner of Charities, in the current issue of the publication. Dr. Devine laments the attacks upon Mr. Kingsbury by the State Civil Service Commission, by the Grand Jury, and by the Associates of Private Charities, Incorporated. He says Mr. Kingsbury brought the attacks upon himself by his independent administration of his office. The editorial says:

The sum total of Mr. Kingsbury's offending is that he has taken his duties seriously. He has worked hard and conscientiously and efficiently. He has discovered abuses and exposed them. He has needed expert visitors and has obtained them. Having obtained them, he has put them to admirable use. He has convinced the financial authorities of the city of the need for additional funds, and this has required persistence, tact, and knowledge. He has taken a sincere human interest in hospital patients, residents of the city homes, and others for whose care and treatment he is officially responsible.

He has sympathetically and painstakingly studied the details of shelter, diet, clothing, and attendance. He has gone further, taking into account the possibilities of normal home life, of the restoration of children to parents—not so much for the sake of a

MISS GUNN BRIDE OF F. G. HOSTETTER

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Newton Gunn Married in St. Thomas's Church.

REV. DR. STIRES OFFICIATES

Bride's Sister Is Maid of Honor and Bridegroom's Brother Best Man —Will Live in Virginia.

The wedding of Frederick G. Hostetter, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Herbert Hostetter of Pittsburgh, Penn., and Miss Martha Catherine Gunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Newton Gunn of this city, took place at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in St. Thomas's Church, the Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires, rector of the church, officiating.

The bride, who walked up the nave with her father, who gave her in marriage, wore a gown of white faille silk, the skirt, which was rather short, being draped at the right side in cascade folds edged with tiny white chiffon rosés. The low-cut corsage was finished with white roses as a border and the court train of white chiffon cloth was gathered in full folds to the band of roses and was bordered with silver ribbon. The tulle veil was gathered into a flat cap, and lilies of the valley and orange blossoms banded it at the back. Her bouquet was lilies of the valley.

Miss Elisabeth Gunn was her sister's maid of honor. Her gown was of pale blue taffeta opening over a petticoat of ecru lace and mauve chiffon. The corsage was of ecru lace, with a mauve girdle and sash. She carried mauve orchids and wore a large black velvet picture hat.

Little Elinor Gunn, another sister of the bride, wore a frock of pink chiffon ruffled with lace headed with blue satin and a white net hat with a wide blue ribbon band. She carried peach-colored roses. Mrs. Gunn, the bride's mother, was in midnight blue satin and a velvet hat with feathers to match.

Mr. Hostetter's best man was his brother, D. Herbert Hostetter, Jr., and the ushers were Ralph Binns, Jr., Frederick Goltra of St. Louis, Edward R. Little of Morristown, S. Bonsal White of Baltimore, Charles Lee Reed and Stanhope Goddard of Pittsburgh, and John Quinby, Jr., of New York.

There was no reception. After their honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Hostetter will make their home at Broad Run, Va.

THRONG AT FASHION FETE.

Luncheon Parties at the Ritz Before Committee of Mercy's Display.

There was a large attendance yesterday at the Fashion Fête at the Ritz-Carlton, both afternoon and evening, the proceeds of which are to be devoted by the Committee of Mercy to the relief of the women and children of the war-ridden countries.

Among those who gave luncheons at the hotel before the matinée were Mrs. Oliver Iselin, Mrs. Moses Taylor Campbell, Mrs. Henry H. Rogers, Miss Mabel Gerry, and Mrs. Ernest Iselin. Dinners were given last night by Mrs. Forsythe Wickes, Mrs. Oren Root, Mrs. Eugene Boissevain, and Mrs. John Aspegren.

The ushers and those in charge of the registration yesterday afternoon, chosen by Miss Audrey Osborn, included the Misses Mercedes de Acosta, Eleanor Lamson, Katherine Porter, Margaret Andrews, Katherine Baldwin, Anna Wright, Marjorie Curtis, Frances Breese, Mary Harriman, and Ursula Brown. Mrs. Oren Root, and Lady Victoria Brady.

SOCIAL NOTES.

J. Borden Harriman, who was seriously ill recently at his home at Mount Kisco, N. Y., left here yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Harriman and Dr. Charles F. Chapman, for Washington, D. C., to spend the Winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Edwards Robinson are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son yesterday at their home, 122 East Eighty-second Street. Mrs. Robinson was formerly Miss Anne Sloane of Germantown, Penn.

The wedding of Miss Estelle H. Flower, daughter of Mrs. James de Laval Flower, to Clarence M. Chauncey will be celebrated on Dec. 5 at the home of her sister, Mrs. Pierre Lorillard Barber, at Tuxedo Park. Mr. Chauncey will give his farewell bachelor dinner on Dec. 1 at the Union Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Vanderbilt left yesterday for Newport on their yacht Wayfarer, and will return to New York next Monday.

James W. Hawes will entertain the Harvard University graduates of the Pi Eta Society on Dec. 3, at his home at the Ansonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Morris, who for years have made their home at the Hotel Savoy, have taken the house at 63 East Fifty-fourth Street for the Winter, and will occupy it on their return next week from Tuxedo.

The Friday Junior Dances for girls not yet out will be held on Thursday, Dec. 23 and Fridays, Jan. 1 and April 23, at the Plaza.

Mrs. Alfred Lawrence Snyder gave a luncheon, followed by a tea, yesterday at her residence, 124 West Fifty-fifth Street.

Miss Bliven Weds George R. Titus.

The wedding of Miss Miriam Fay Bliven, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Bliven of 464 Riverside Drive, to George Raymond Titus took place at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in the chapel of the Broadway Tabernacle, Broadway and Fifty-sixth Street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Jefferson, pastor of the church, in the presence of the immediate families and friends.

The bride wore a traveling gown of blue broadcloth topped with a hat to match. There were no attendants. After a honeymoon through the South Mr. and Mrs. Titus will live at The Gables, Fairoaks, Muscatine, Iowa.

7-Passenger Limousine, $2750

CHANDLER

The Six with the Marvelous Motor

Aluminum has replaced steel throughout in the body construction of the new Chandler closed cars, making it possible to drive them anywhere a touring car can go, and overcoming the gasoline waste in heavy closed cars.

The four models meet all requirements for winter city driving, and they have all the beauty, comfort and luxury that the highest priced cars can offer.

The ease of control and the flexibility of the Chandler motor make it specially adapted to city driving.

CHANDLER CLOSED MODELS: 7-passenger Limousine, $2750; 5-passenger Sedan, $2750; 5-passenger Coupe, $2500; 3-passenger Cabriolet, $1850.

Immediate Delivery On All Models.

Brady-Murray Motors Corporation

55th St., West of Broadway.

THE BOSTON ORCHESTRA.

A Concert of German Music at the Opening of Its Season.

The Boston Symphony Orchestra was welcomed last evening with the heartiest enthusiasm at its first appearance this season in New York at Carnegie Hall. The audience, as it has been for so many years, was as large as the hall could hold. Mr. Witek, the concert master, received a round of applause when he came upon the platform, apparently a little to his surprise, and when Dr. Muck appeared he was made to bow again and again by applause given in glad recognition of his return from troublous scenes, and of his re-entrance upon a task that has given, and will continue to give, so much and so rare pleasure to New York lovers of orchestral music.

It was possibly not wholly an accident that Dr. Muck's first programme put before his listeners only German music by some of its most distinguished representatives, Beethoven and Weber, Brahms and Strauss; that the symphony was the "Eroica," concerning which M. d'Indy, as Mr. Hale points out in his programme notes—M. d'Indy, the French composer and writer—"in discussing the patriotism of Beethoven as shown in his music, calls attention to the 'militarisme,' the adaptation of a warlike rhythm to melody, that characterizes the funeral march;" or even that Count von Bernstorff and Dr. Dernburg, who naturally have a deep interest in German music, occupied a box.

The programme consisted of Beethoven's "Eroica" symphony, Brahms's variations and theme of Haydn, Strauss's tone poem "Don Juan," and Weber's overture to "Euryanthe." This music, as it has so often and most of it for so many years, ("Don Juan" as lately as last Friday,) profoundly moved, delighted, and edified the audience, who found so much and such varied pleasure in its content and in the wonderfully fine performance that they had no need and no desire to think of anything but the merits of both and least of all of any possible ulterior suggestion in the occasion.

The orchestra seemed in its finest forms, and though only recently reassembled after more or less strenuous effort, has never played with more beauty and exquisite balance of tone, more finish and more fire, nor has Dr. Muck ever swayed it more perfectly to his wishes. His interpretation of the symphony was an exposition of the composer's thought, untouched by conductor's desire to establish a "reading" or to find what none had been able to find in it before. It was superbly vigorous and elastic, marked by modifications of tempo so subtle that they never obtruded themselves as such or impeded the fundamental rhythm of the music. Notable were the depth and shadowy richness of orchestral color in Brahms's variations, only to be presented by such an expert setting of the palette as was bestowed upon it; and strongly contrasting with them the easier brilliancy of Strauss's tone poem, played with marvelous elan and clarity. It was not surprising that there was tempestuous applause, or that Dr. Muck found occasion to make his men rise to share it with him after the symphony.

MR. BORWICK'S RECITAL.

The English Pianist Reappears After Three Years in Carnegie Hall.

About three years ago Mr. Leonard Borwick appeared in Carnegie Hall and gave a recital that surprised and delighted a handful of listeners, few of whom probably knew this English pianist even by reputation. For he came without any of the preliminary heralding that often announces the fame of lesser men, and after that he was on his way from Australia to England and gave his concert here as he was passing through. He passed on and was heard no more.

Mr. Borwick appeared again yesterday at Carnegie Hall, giving the first of three projected recitals, and again showed that he is a pianist of the highest accomplishment, an artist of singular individuality, gifted with poetic vision, but essentially sound and wholesome in all that he does. There is nothing to be allowed for the idiosyncrasies of virtuosoship, for any obtrusion of the player's personality, in Mr. Borwick's performance. It is first and foremost an interpretation of the composer's meaning and intention.

The most significant feature of his playing is a certain vitality, a stimulating quality that charges it and gives it a ceaseless fascination, no matter what he undertakes. His programme yesterday began with Bach in arrangement of an organ fugue in G minor by Bach—not the one that Liszt arranged—played with consummate clearness in the leading of the voices and with a finely felt molding of its formal structure; Beethoven's Rondo in G, Op. 51, No. 2; three "harpsichord lessons" by Domenico Scarlatti, which he played in exactly the right spirit of debonair brilliancy, and Brahms's sonata in F minor, Op. 5, a work whose beauty, poetry and true grandeur are not staled by the passage of years, and which stands forth today as one of his greater compositions, though one of his earliest. Mr. Borwick's performance of it was the crowning achievement of his recital. Some may have wished for a little more repose in the first movement, especially in its opening chords, and a little more definite composition of the rhythm there. But there were warmth of feeling, the pulse of life, an impulsive vigor, and in the andante and its echoing interludes a poignant tenderness of poetical feeling.

For his last group there were Paderewski's Thème Varié, Op. 16, No. 3; a serenade by Rachmaninoff, Op. 3, No. 5, and Liszt's Etude de Concert in F minor.

Exhibition of Stage Designs.

The Stage Society will hold an exhibition at 714 Fifth Avenue on Wednesday, Nov. 11, which will be open two weeks, showing stage designs by Howard Cushing, Maxfield Parrish, and Robert Chanler; stage models, lit by electricity, by Joseph Urban, Livingston Platt, and Mrs. Conwell, and S. Hume of Cambridge has lent his collection. There will be demonstrations each day of the new type of German stage. The proceeds of the exhibition will be given to the Committee of Mercy's War Fund.

Mlle. Dorziat to Recite Poems.

Mlle. Gabrielle Dorziat, who is appearing with William Faversham in "The Hawk" at the Shubert Theatre, will give a series of recitations in French at the Lyceum Theatre Nov. 27 for the benefit of the destitute families of actors in France and Belgium. She will recite poems by Victor Hugo, Alfred de Musset, Paul Verlaine, and Edmond Rostand.

THEATRICAL NOTES.

At the Strand Theatre next Tuesday afternoon there will be a benefit performance for the Belgian Relief Fund, under the direction of Mrs. August Belmont. The entire proceeds will be given to the fund.

Charles Neville Buck, author of "The Battle Cry," gave a box party at the Lyric Theatre last night for a number of well-known authors.

Rudolph Friml has completed his additions for the score of "Polenblut," which is soon to be presented, with Emma Trentini in the leading role.

Sanger and Jordan have just leased to William Fox, for pictures, the rights to Bernstein's plays, "The Thief" and "Samson."

M'lle. Dazie has been engaged for a leading role in Rida Johnson Young and William Schroeder's new musical comedy, "Lady Luxury."

Charles Frohman's next production, opening in Philadelphia, will be "Driven," a four-act comedy by E. Temple Thurston, which was first given at the Haymarket Theatre, London. After its engagement in Philadelphia "Driven" will go on tour before coming to New York.

In order to permit Lew Fields to devote more time to his other business interests, "The High Cost of Loving" will close at the Republic Theatre on Nov. 14, and on the following Monday "Kick In" will be moved into that theatre from the Longacre.

Howard Estabrook will be featured in a film version of "Officer 666," which will be made by George Kleine.

Selwyn & Co. have accepted for immediate production a new play by James Forbes.

Dr. Talcott Williams, Dean of the Columbia School of Journalism, last night entertained the senior class of embryo newspaper men at a performance of Walker Whiteside's "Mr. Wu." Each student will be required to write a criticism of the performance for future discussion in class.

Cyril Maude and his English company arrive from London today on the steamship Lapland. They will leave at once for Boston, where they will open at the Plymouth Theatre on Monday next in "Grumpy."

The Famous Players' Film Company have obtained the services of Marie Doro, who is appearing as co-star with William Gillette and Blanche Bates in the revival of "Diplomacy." The Famous Players will present Miss Doro in a film version of "The Morals of Marcus."

Rehearsals for the revival of "Yosemite," the melodrama by Charles A. Taylor, will commence at Daly's Theatre this morning. The play is to be produced on Nov. 16 at the playhouse.

MISS BURKHARDT TO TESTIFY TODAY

Sullivan's Secretary Expected to Tell of Bank Wrecker's Deals in Prison.

RILEY BEFORE GRAND JURY

Superintendent of Prisons Says He Didn't Know Sullivan and Cummins Had Special Privileges.

When the Kings County Grand Jury continues today the investigation of the doings of David A. Sullivan, the convicted President of the wrecked Union Bank, since he was sentenced to Sing Sing, Miss Louise D. Burkhardt, his confidential secretary, who has so far eluded District Attorney Cropsey's process servers, is expected to appear and testify. Mr. Cropsey is anxious to clear up through her unexplained financial transactions of Sullivan since he has been in prison.

Frederick Burkhardt, a brother of Miss Burkhardt, testified before the Grand Jury yesterday. A subpoena had been served on Burkhardt, and it was understood he would be on hand on Wednesday. He did not appear, and Mr. Cropsey sent for him. Burkhardt explained after he left the Grand Jury room that he thought his subpoena called for his appearance yesterday. It is understood that Burkhardt was asked what he knew of the whereabouts of his sister, her visits to Sullivan, and whether he knew of any business transacted by Sullivan while he was riding in the Warden's automobile.

Superintendent of Prisons John B. Riley testified yesterday. He said he had not heard until after the special investigation begun by Commissioner Stephen C. Baldwin that Sullivan and William J. Cummins, the banker, convicted in connection with the failure of the Carnegie Trust Company, were allowed special privileges. It was said that Cummins seldom slept in a cell, but was allowed a bed in the hospital. Supt. Riley said he had suggested to Warden McCormick that prisoners might be housed in the dormitory as a reward for efficiency and faithfulness.

"I had no official information that the conditions brought out by these investigations existed at Sing Sing," he said. "If I had received official notice that such was the case I would not have hesitated to remove the Warden."

Mr. Riley denied that he had ridden in the Warden's automobile while Sullivan was driving the machine. He said he rode in the auto with Warden McCormick when the Warden was at the wheel. He said he had volunteered to testify before the Grand Jury, and was willing to answer any questions asked him.

Other witnesses who testified yesterday were Michael Lally, the Yonkers hotelkeeper, and William F. Schneider, Clerk of New York County, who has known Miss Burkhardt, for many years. John J. Malloy, the prison auditor, who consented to testify before the Grand Jury after he had been sent to Raymond Street Jail for refusing to do so, waited in the corridor to be called. Watson, confidential clerk to Warden McCormick, was with Malloy. Both witnesses will be examined today.

FRENCH PLAYS BEGIN NOV.16

Company from Paris to Act at the Century Lyceum.

Lucien Bonheur, President of the French Drama Society, last night announced that the season of French plays under the direction of that organization would begin at the Century Lyceum on Nov. 16. On the steamship Rochambeau, arriving next Monday, will come the following members of the French company: Mmes. Revyl, Guerand, Meurville, Ducellier, and Diska, and Messrs. Benedict, Joffroy, and Chalais. Mme. Yorska and other members of the company are already in New York.

"Une Femme Passé" will be played every night the first week, and also at the matinées on Thursday and Saturday. The play is a study of a clever man in the toils of an unworthy love. On Friday afternoon of that week the first of the "literary" matinées will be given. For this Rostand's "Les Romanesques" has been chosen, and this play will be preceded by a short lecture. Many schools have subscribed for tickets for the French matinées.

OPERETTA FOR RED CROSS.

Society Matrons and Girls in Cast of "The Romany Maid" Tonight.

"The Romany Maid," an operetta, is to be given tonight at the Hotel Biltmore for the benefit of the International Red Cross and under the personal indorsement of Miss Mabel Boardman. The operetta has a cast of seventy-five, and prominent society matrons and girls are to take part. Dancing will follow the performance, with music by the Russian Balalaika Orchestra.

Among those in the cast are Mrs. Franklin I. Mallory, Mrs. William F. Irwin, Mrs. Warner L. Churchill, Mrs. Richard C. Hunt, Miss Henrietta Slagle, Jr., Miss Elliot Robinson, H. Duncan Bulkley, William F. Irwin, John Livingston, Jr., and William M. Sullivan.

The patronesses include Mrs. Don Barber, Mrs. George B. Carhart, Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, Mrs. Paul Cravath, Mrs. Hamilton Fish, Mrs. Ernest Flagg, Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Mrs. E. Francis Hyde, Mrs. Adrian Iselin, 2d, Mrs. George L. McAlpin, Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, Mrs. Joseph L. Seligman, Mrs. J. Richard Steers, Mrs. Samuel Valentine, and Mrs. Spencer Turner.

Luncheon for Gertrude Atherton.

Miss Elizabeth Jordan gave a literary luncheon at the Plaza yesterday for Mrs. Gertrude Atherton. The guests were Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, Mrs. Selden Bacon, Miss Alice Brown, Mrs. Elizabeth Custer, Mrs. Arthur M. Dodge, Mrs. Henry P. Dimock, Miss Mary Eno, Miss Lillie Hamilton French, Mrs. John A. Garver, Mrs. George Harvey, Mrs. James R. McKee, Mrs. Kate Douglas Wiggin Riggs, Mrs. A. B. Russell, Mrs. Charles Robinson-Smith, and Mrs. Schuyler Van Rensselaer.

W. H. Taft First Bok Lecturer.

A partial list of speakers and subjects of lectures to be delivered under the new Edward Bok Foundation series of lectures at Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., was made public yesterday. Former President Taft, the first lecturer, will speak on "The Lawyer of Today" on Nov. 12. Other speakers will be Joseph Davies, United States Commissioner of Corporations, on "Why the United States Regulates Business"; Frank A. Vanderlip on "The Man in the World of Money," and William J. Burns on "The Futility of Dishonesty." The object of the lectures is to assist college men in selecting vocations.

Here is a rare opportunity for any business requiring space 50x 60 feet, with abundance of light and air on three sides.

Up-to-date building; excellent elevator service; space offered is on an upper floor and takes in the entire front on 4th Av., extending back 60 feet on 27th St., and the same distance on the south side, giving unobstructed light and air through 20 large windows on north, south, and west sides.

No more accessible spot in the city. Subway and surface cars to everywhere.

Rent very reasonable.

Apply to STEPHEN H. TYNG, JR., & CO., Harford Bldg., Broadway and 12th St., or on the premises, 501 5th Av., 12 37th St.

NOTE FROM SPEEDING AUTO

Says Ida von Claussen Is Being Kidnapped—Call Her Lawyer.

Three young men, Adolph and Nathan Levy of 172 East Ninety-fourth Street, and Lawrence Schiff of 522 West 134th Street hurried into the Third Branch Detective Bureau in 116th Street, near Third Avenue last night and handed Lieut. Gallagher a note which, they said, had been thrown by a woman from a speeding automobile in Fifth Avenue near the Ninety-first Street corner at 9:30 o'clock. The note read:

Ida Von Claussen: For God's sake call my attorney, Mr. Wallace, L. J. Collins, 9 Twombly Place, Jamaica, Telephone number 1694 Jamaica, to search for me. I am kidnapped at midnight by Commissioner Katherine B. Davis without law, pending a stay in the Appellate Division.

The young men said that the automobile was flying north at the rate of thirty or more miles an hour. A chauffeur was alone in the front seat and in the tonneau were three persons, two at least, women. The young men said the car was traveling so fast they could noth be sure whether the other occupant of the tonneau was a man or a woman.

The woman who threw the note jumped to her feet, the young men said, as the car pased them, and said:

"Hey, there. Get this."

Then the note came flying from the car. They said the woman wore a long cloak, but seemed scantily attired otherwise, her gown seemibg to be a light, summery affair.

Lieut. Gallagher set Detective Meyers to work on the case, and he tried to reach the lawyers and Miss Davis. The Commissioner told THE NEW YORK TIMES that Mrs. Claussen was perfectly safe, that she was in jail, and that she hadn't been kidnapped. She declined to say, though, whether she were in Matteawan or the Queens County Jail in Long Island City. At the jail information concerning the woman was refused.

TEACHER-MOTHER TO MAYOR

Mr. Mitchel Urged to Influence Board of Education in Her Behalf.

Mrs. Lora Wagner, the teacher-mother who has asked for leave of absence until next September, to care for her child, sent to Mayor Mitchel yesterday a copy of her appeal to the board, indorsed by that body's Committee on High Schools. She asked the Mayor to use his influence to limit the board's authority over woman teachers to matters affecting their school duties, arguing that "the control over domestic affairs which the board seeks to maintain is an intrusion into the privacy of family life."

What the Mayor will do has not been definitely stated, but he indicated yesterday that he would not interfere. "I am chary," he said, "of interfering with the Board of Education." The League for the Civic Service of Women has asked Mr. Mitchel to meet a committee of professional women, who will argue that discharging experienced teachers who become mothers, and filling their places with inexperienced girls, results in inefficiency and waste.

The Feminist Alliance is appealing the case to public sentiment, and will hold an open forum on Nov. 13 at Washington Irving High School. John Martin, William C. Willcox, and others will present the board's side, and the views of the married teachers will be supported by Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Prof. W. F. Montague of Columbia, Marion B. Cothren, Fola La Follette, and Dr. Ira S. Wile.

FALLS STARVING IN STREET.

Hungarian Linguist and Accountant Hadn't Eaten in a Week.

Models and saleswomen looking out from a milliner's shop near Forty-third Street and Fifth Avenue yesterday afternoon saw a man suddenly fall to the sidewalk. The manager had noticed him standing there for some time, and he ran out and brought him inside the building. He had fainted.

A doctor said he had fainted from starvation. The victim said he was Frank Schwarzer, 32 years old. He had come from Temesvar, in Hungary, two years ago, and was an expert accountant. Over here, although he spoke not only his own language, but German, French, Swedish and English, the only job he could get was as dish-washer in a restaurant, and he lost that six months ago. In the last week he had not had anything to eat.

Schwarzer was neat, but frail, and the doctor said he would have to be fed forcibly. The employes of the shop took up a collection and gave him $2.50, and on the doctor's advice he took some tea. The physician said that at 6 o'clock he should have broth, toast and eggs, and a woman who lives at the Claridge who happened to be in the shop volunteered to get food for him if the manager of the shop would help get him to the hotel. She interested some of her friends, and after the man had been fed from the hotel kitchen he received a small sum of money, and an effort will be made to give him work in the hotel when he is stronger.

E. L. Stevens's Antiquer Sold.

Antique furniture, bric-a-brac, cut glass, &c., belonging to the estate of the late Edward L. Stevens, Associate City Superintendent of the Department of Education, were sold at auction in the Merwin Galleries, 16 East Fortieth Street, yesterday. A Japanese vase, with lion cup cover, brought $23; a pair of Austrian porcelain vases, $20; two Hepplewhite armchairs, top bars with Prince of Wales's feathers, $26; a small bronze group, "The Lion and the Snake," signed "Barye," $27; an Auerbach upright piano, $75; two chairs in Chippendale design, $38, and a bookcase, $31. The sale will be concluded this afternoon.

Ex-Senator Aldrich in Burden Home

Ex-United States Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Providence, R. I., has leased from Mrs. James Abercrombie Burden her residence at 908 Fifth Avenue, for the Winter. Last season Mr. Aldrich and his family resided at 840 Park Avenue. The Burden house is a five-story structure and has a large ballroom. The entrance is from the seventy-second Street frontage. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. C. Taylor are near neighbors, and the new town house of Henry C. Frick is close by.

Last week Clarence H. Mackay leased the fine new residence owned by Mrs. Townsend Burden, on the southeast corner of Fifth Avenue and Ninety-second Street.

Hamish MacKay Sings Folk Songs.

Hamish MacKay, a young Scotchman, who had not been heard here before, gave a recital at Aeolian Hall last night in which the programme was devoted principally to folk songs and art songs of Scotland and Ireland. The programme was decidedly interesting in its possibilities, especially where it demonstrated the success with which artistic, yet appropriate, accompaniments have been arranged by modern composers for old folk songs. Unfortunately, Mr. MacKay's vocal gifts and style are not adapted to setting this material forth adequately in a concert hall, although they might conceivably make interesting entertainment out of it for the salon.

ARREST EAST SIDE BANKER.

Jarmulowsky Released After Furnishing $25,000 Bail.

Meyer Jarmulowsky, an east side private banker, was arrested yesterday by Detective Bernard Flood of the District Attorney's office on four indictments, charging him with accepting deposits after he knew that the bank was insolvent. Judge Mulqueen, in General Sessions, fixed bail at $50,000, but later reduced it to $25,000, which was furnished by a surety company.

Jarmulowsky's indictment was brought about by the District Attorney's investigation of five east side banks which were closed by the order of the State Banking Department. The Jarmulowsky bank, which had about 10,000 depositors, was closed on Aug. 30. The indictments charge that on July 20, July 25, July 30, and Aug. 1, respectively, Jarmulowsky received deposits of $100, $500, $283, and $440 from four different persons knowing that the bank was insolvent.

Twelve other indictments were filed with Jarmulowsky's. They are against two other bankers and a lawyer, it is understood. Four other indictments were filed several weeks ago against Adolf Mandel, another banker.

ROW AT BELMONT AUCTION.

Farmer, Displeased with Auctioneer, Wanted to Thrash Him.

HEMPSTEAD, L. I., Nov. 5.—Furniture used in the hospital at Hempstead and in the suffrage headquarters in New York, which were run for a time by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, was sold today at auction at Mrs. Belmont's country home, Brookholt. Most of it was bought by dealers from New York and about $3,000 was realized. People living in the neighborhood alleged that they were not given a fair deal by the auctioneer, and one husky farmer threatened to thrash him for his "high-handed methods." The farmer's wife pulled him away.

Complaint was also made that the sale had not been advertised in the neighborhood, and that many who would have attended knew nothing about it. Some of the furniture brought high prices. One chair sold for $60.

CHIEF OF SCOTT CLAN DEAD.

Sixth Duke of Buccleuch Was Twice a Member of Parliament.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The death has been announced here of William Henry Walter Montagu-Douglas-Scott, sixth Duke of Buccleuch.

William Henry Walter Montagu-Douglas-Scott, sixth Duke of Buccleuch, eighth Duke of Queensberry, Captain General of the Royal Company of Scottish Archers, Lord Lieutenant of Dumfriesshire, and chief of the clan of Scott, was born in 1831, and was the son of the fifth Duke and of Charlotte, daughter of the second Marquess of Bath. He succeeded his father in 1884.

He was educated at Eton and Christ Church, Oxford. From 1853 to 1868, and again from 1874 to 1880, he was a Conservative Member of Parliament from Midlothian, and from 1856 to 1872 he served as Lieutenant Colonel of the Midlothian Yeomanry. He was also Master of the Buccleuch Fox Hounds. The Duke's wife, who was before her marriage in 1859 Lady Louisa Hamilton, daughter of the first Duke of Abercorn, was Grand Mistress of the Robes under Queen Victoria and Alexandra, a position which carries with it the headship of the feminine household of the Queen. She died in 1912. They had five sons and two daughters, the heir being John, Earl of Dalkeith, born in 1864.

The Duke of Buccleuch owned 460,000 acres. He was a Knight of the Carter, a Knight of the Thistle, member of the Privy Council, Justice of the Peace, and Doctor of Laws.

The family of Buccleuch goes back in tradition to an outlaw who saved King Kenneth MacAlpine from a savage buck. The authentic ancestor is a certain Robert le Scot, in the reign of King Alexander III. The duchy of Buccleuch originated in 1663, when James, later Duke of Monmouth, the son of Charles II., married the daughter of the Earl of Buccleuch and assumed her name.

DR. GEORGE S. LYNDE DEAD.

Ex-Chief Diagnostician of the Board of Health Was 53.

Dr. George Stanley Lynde, for more than twenty years a member of the Board of Health and for five years previous to his retirement Chief Diagnostician, died suddenly yesterday at the New York Hospital in his 54th year. He was born in Bangor, Me., and after graduating from Phillips Exeter Academy went to Yale and was graduated with the class of 1883. He then came to this city and was graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons at Columbia University in 1887.

Dr. Lynde was a member of the New York Academy of Medicine, New York Medical Society, New York Pathological Society, and the Yale Club. He was Secretary and Treasurer of the Lyndcroft Realty Company.

DIES AFTER HIS ELECTION.

Representative F. C. Taft Was Relative of ex-President.

Special to The New York Times.

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 5.—Frederick C. Taft of Uxbridge, an attorney, a direct descendant of the famous Pilgrim Taft family, who was elected to the Massachusetts House of Representatives on Tuesday, dropped dead in his home today of heart disease.

Mr. Taft, who was born in Menden forty-six years ago, was a relative of ex-President William H. Taft. He had held the office of Chairman of the Board of Selectmen for a number of years.

Mr. Taft was stricken with heart disease on Sunday, but managed to recover enough to attend to his political affairs Monday and Tuesday. He was a member of the Boston Chamber of Commerce and a thirty-second degree Mason.

Charles Israel Newman.

Charles Israel Newman, one of the last of the "Forty-niners," died on Wednesday at his home, 1,130 Union Avenue, Bronx, in his eighty-first year. Mr. Newman was born in Prussia and came to this country seventy-five years ago. He was one of the first to leave this city for California, and after prospecting and mining for some time in that State crossed the Sierra Nevadas into what is now Nevada. Here he was one of the founders of Carson City and fought in several of the Indian wars. He was one of Major Ormsby's command in the famous Indian campaign remembered as "Ormsby's Raid." Mr. Newman returned to this city in 1865 and shortly after married Miss Rosa Levy. He became a merchant and was prominent in the auction business, from which he retired twenty years ago. Mr. Newman is survived by four sons and four daughters.

Jonathan Deyo.

Jonathan Deyo of the law firm of Gardner, Tyndall, Barton & Deyo, this city, died at his home, in South Nyack, N. Y., Wednesday night, in his fifty-first year. Mr. Deyo was born in Ulster County, and his father was Dr. Abraham Deyo. He practiced law in Newburg for several years, and afterward in New York City. He was a Democrat, and at one time was candidate for District Attorney of Orange County. Mr. Deyo is survived by his widow.

1% Per MONTH UPON PLEDGE OF PERSONAL PROPERTY

THE PROVIDENT LOAN SOCIETY OF NEW YORK

MANHATTAN

Fourth Avenue, cor. 25th Street.
Eldridge St., cor. Rivington St.
Seventh Av., bet. 48th & 49th Sts.
Lexington Av., cor. 124th St.
Grand St., cor. Clinton St.
E. 72d St., bet. Lexington & 3d Avs.
East Houston St., cor. Essex St.

BRONX

Courtlandt Av., cor. 148th St.

BROOKLYN

Graham Av., cor. Debevoise St.
Pitkin Av., cor. Rockaway Av.

1/2 PER CENT. CHARGED UPON LOANS REPAID WITHIN TWO WEEKS FROM DATE.

NOTED GEOGRAPHER DEAD.

Henry Gannett Was President of National Society and Author.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Henry Gannett, President of the National Geographic Society, Chairman of the United States Geographic Board and Geographer of the United States Geological Survey, died at his home here this afternoon. He was 68 years old.

Mr. Gannett was one of the leaders of the movement for the organization of the National Geographic Society and its first Secretary. He was born in Bath, Me., Aug. 24, 1846, and was educated at Harvard University. He was a member of the Hayden Survey of the Territories and became Chief Geographer in 1882.

As an author Mr. Gannett wrote a manual of topographical surveying, prepared the statistical atlas of 1880, 1890, and 1900, and was also author of a commercial geography, a dictionary of altitudes, Standford's Compendium of Geography, the Census of the Philippines, (part,) the Census of Cuba, (part,) and the Census of Porto Rico, (part.) He compiled a number of gazetteers, was the author of the contour map of the United States, of "Magnetic Declination in the United States," and of "Forest Conditions in the United States." He was also a contributor to many encyclopedias.

Obituary Notes.

ABRAHAM BERNSTEIN, one of the founders and a Director of the Uptown Talmud Torah Association, died yesterday at his home, 76 West 119th Street, in his 53d year. Mr. Bernstein was born in Russia, and had been in this country for thirty-five years. He founded the firm of A. Bernstein Sons & Co., manufacturers of millinery, and retired as its active manager several years ago. Mr. Bernstein was a member of Marshall Lodge, F. and A. M., and of a number of charitable organizations. He is survived by his widow and six children.

ANDREW W. FITZGIBBON, at one time Alderman-at-Large in Brooklyn and formerly the Democratic leader of the Seventeenth Ward in that city, died yesterday at his home, 299 Convent Avenue, Manhattan, in his 56th year. He was a manufacturer of uniforms and caps at 18 East Fourteenth Street. Mr. Fitzgibbon was born in Brooklyn, and until recently had lived in that city. He is survived by three sons and a daughter.

GEORGE R. MILLER, 91 years old, is dead at his home in Rockaway, N. J. In 1865 he entered the employ of the Hibernia Mine Railroad, became its Superintendent, and served in this capacity until 1890, when the road was taken over by the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

Capt. PATRICK J. CONNOLLY, retired, of the Fire Department, died on Monday at his home, at 809 Freeman Street, Brooklyn. He was last connected with Truck 17.

FRANK BRADBURY of the Boston law firm of Bradbury & White, died in Chicago on Tuesday from injuries received in a street accident.

EDWARD WINTHROP GREENE, President of the Greene Wholesale Dry Goods Company of Boston, died on Wednesday at Newtonville, Mass., aged 73.

Mrs. CATHARINE MONTROSE, wife of George Montrose, died on Monday at her home, at 584 Columbus Avenue. She was born in Ireland and had lived in New York for many years.

NORTON PARK COLLIN, a member of the Roberts & Collin Flour Company of 17 State Street, died yesterday from heart disease at his home, 117 Cambridge Place, Brooklyn, in his seventy-third year. Mr. Collin was born in Hillsdale, N. Y., and was long a member of the Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian Church. He is survived by three daughters, Maude and Alice Collin and Mrs. J. W. Wilde.

JAMES JOSEPH WALSH, Jr., a son of Capt. Walsh of the Brooklyn Fire Department, died from pneumonia on Wednesday at his home, 353 Sixth Avenue, Brooklyn.

GEORGE T. BROWN, who died in Knoxville, Tenn., on Wednesday, was the eldest son of Capt. and Mrs. George W. Brown of 603 Macon Street, Brooklyn. His father was one of the commanders of Commodore Porter's mortar flotilla during the civil war. Funeral services will be held at the Macon Street address on the arrival of the body.

JOHN E. WANCURA, a retired piano maker, for twenty years with the Weber Piano Company, died at his home, in Bohemia, L. I., on Wednesday. He was born in Austria eighty-three years ago.

GERVASE BURR MANLEY, 77 years old, formerly a foreman in the Park Department, in charge of Greenwood Park, died on Tuesday at his home, 444 Seventy-eighth Street, Bay Ridge. He was a civil war veteran and long a prominent member of the Bay Ridge Reformed Church.

Mrs. HARRIET JETHSON OVENS, widow of William E. Ovens, died in her sixty years a member of Calvary Episcopal Church, in Manhattan, died on Wednesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. L. Fawkner, 4,825 Osgood Avenue, the Bronx. She was in her eightieth year.

WALTER D. GRAHAM, Secretary and Treasurer of the New Construction Company of 1,238 Broadway, died on Wednesday at his residence, 31 Stephens Court, Flatbush, aged 43 years. Mr. Graham was formerly a lieutenant in the Thirteenth Regiment and was a member of the Thirteenth Regiment Veterans' Association, Crescent Athletic Club, Royal Arcanum, Anglo Saxon Lodge, No. 707 and the Scottish Rite bodies. He was also a thirty-second degree Mason.

Mrs. ELIZABETH LAIRD ROBERTSON, wife of David Robertson, a retired hat merchant, died from heart disease on Wednesday at her residence, 1,129 Rogers Avenue, Brooklyn. Mrs. Robertson was born in Glasgow, Scotland, fifty-nine years ago, and had lived most of her lifetime in Brooklyn. Besides her husband she left a son, David, Jr., who is with The Brooklyn Daily Eagle, and two daughters.

GEORGE D. VAN WAGONER, 70 years old, a retired coffee broker, died on Wednesday at his home, in Pound Ridge, N. Y. He was born in Brooklyn and was

FUND FOR BELGIANS LEADS WITH $332,217

Committee Gets $35,882 in a Day, Including $23,000 in Eleven Checks.

AN APPEAL TO COLLEGE MEN

Red Cross Plans for Emergency Calls—Stamp Sale for Relief of Jewish Sufferers.

The Belgian Relief Fund, which less than a month ago started third among the foreign relief funds in New York, is now the largest. It received yesterday subscriptions amounting to $35,882.49, which brought the total to $332,217.92, nearly $2,000 more than the Red Cross total, and $180,000 more than the German Fund.

In yesterday's mail the Belgian Committee received one check for $9,000, two for $2,500, one for $2,000, and seven for $1,000.

The Belgian Committee found it necessary to take additional offices in the Maritime Building, and to establish two branch offices, one in Schermerhorn Street, Brooklyn, and another at 281 Fifth Avenue, at Thirtieth Street.

Subscriptions to the Belgian Fund should be sent to J. P. Morgan & Co., 23 Wall Street, or the Belgian Relief Committee, 8-10 Bridge Street. Yesterday's subscribers to the fund and the amounts, cents omitted, were:

Brooklyn Eagle (collection)	$1,046	Frances Williams	40
Rochester fund	6,000	J. B.	5
Anonymous	1,000	Edward Prisor	50
Anonymous	1,000	C. H. Haupt	5
Anonymous	2,500	Misses Hatch	10
G. F. Baker	2,500	Mrs. Mark Ash	10
Anonymous	2,500	Bertha Underwood	10
Mrs. S. V. Harkness	2,000	C. W. Romyn	10
A. Herrmann	1,000	Anonymous	15
W. G. Wilcox	1,000	G. S. S.	10
P. S. du Pont	1,000	M. M. Burnham	5
John T. Pratt	1,000	H. E. Dodge	5
Westbury Republican (collection)	650	F. S. Smithers, (2d)	25
Anonymous	500	J. B. Franklin	2
Cash	500	Harry R.	10
Savage Manufacturing Co., Wis.	400	John M. Meehan	25
Edith Scoville	300	R. R. Lawrence	25
F. B. Van Vorst	300	Miss Gert'e Miller	5
H. A. Willey	250	Miss A. A. Cook	5
Cash	250	G. E. Webster	2
C. L. Hadley	200	C. D. de Barron	1
Mrs. H. Goodwin	215	Mrs. J. Deycke	1
Anonymous	200	W. W. Cropsey	1
A. S. Haight	100	C. E. Smith	10
D. McCormick	100	Earl Smith	2
W. A. Barstow	100	Samuel Robinson	1
C. W. Hotchkiss	100	Grace M. Beach	1
W. Mitchell	100	Helen Murray	1
M. & Clarkson	100	W. W. Wise	5
M. C. Lefferts	150	Elsie A. Yorke	10
Martin Jessup	100	Mrs. G. H. Belmun	5
Abbie S. Jones	100	Emily F. Kasel	1
F. Peabody	100	John R. Carmody	5
H. G. Ward	100	H. S. Leonard	5
Petersburg tea	151	Ludwig Engel	25
F. M. Taylor	100	S. W. Taylor	2
J. C. Ewing	100	G. T. Granger	2
J. L. Mason, (2d)	100	J. I. Simmons	5
Mary Sedell	100	L. I. Sewing Class	40
Ladoo L. White	100	E. H. Conant	10
Mrs. C. H. Robbins	100	W. H. Heck	10
John A. Black	100	C. F. Fackenthal	10
F. Strauss, (2d)	100	James Fraser	5
Mary A. Greene	100	Baldwin Bros. & Co.	5
A. C. Harris	100	R. J. Franklin	5
W. C. Ellis	100	R. J. Martin	5
Albert Strauss	100	Mrs. M. N. Kimball	5
John G. Luke	100	Kneeland Moore	25
P. B. Heilner	100	Mrs. F. S. Coolidge	25
T. D. Benson	100	Mrs. W. A. Spahr	5
H. Rathbone	100	S. O. Landry	5
C. W. Halsey	50	Mrs. L. N. Tappen	10
F. H. Kinnicutt	50	B. J. Green	5
A. A. Dixon	50	Miss S. J. Harman	5
Robert Peele	50	A. M. Fay	10
A Friend	50	F. I. Cotsfield	10
C. C. Conway	50	A. H. Preston	5
Mary S. Tyler	50	W. T.	25
Seldner & Engquist	50	Mary A. B. Macaulay	10
A. Whiis	50	Mrs. B. Kasanjian	25
E. Biardot	50	John Nichols	10
S. M. Ballard	50	W. S. Cobb	5
F. E. Whitney	50	Grace D. Van Cise	10
Bedford Park Presbyterian Church	60	J. A. & J. H. Causer	5
J. L. Feary	50	Herbert Axford	10
E. Edwin	50	J. H. Moorcroft	10
A. N. Rollit	10	A. Stern	25
L. F. Mellers	1	F. G. Cottrell	20
F. O'Brien	5	W. C. Warner	25
Henry B. Thomas	10	Dr. A. S. Brackett	12
Sunnyside S. S.	5	Mrs. J. R. Clair	10
J. N. Hays	5	W. H. Webster	10
Rev. W. C. Patterson	5	W. S. Lockwood	5
T. Morris	15	Mrs. A. C. Yonkers	25
L. B. Brockway & F. P. Cobb	10	W. W. Griffith	10
Sarah A. Topping	5	John S. Norton	10
C. E. S.	10	Lily Rosenbaum	1
Pres. S. P. Upper Montclair	36	N. A. Laury	1
Nellie Bookman	5	C. L. Moreau	10
Miss M. Bramwell	25	Stephens	5
Mrs. R. Brownung	25	E. B. Herling	5
Louis Bry	25	R. B. Bontecou	10
E. R. Payson	5	Mrs. G. H. Babbitt	10
E. A. Nield	5	Mrs. A. V. Cady	20
W. A. B.	5	Mrs. E. H. H. Weston	2
Mrs. J. Inglis	25	R. M. Draper	5
Miss G. T. Seely	5	W. E. Douglas	5
J. S. Paterson	25	E. Bowman	5
R. E. Woodin	25	E. Browning	10
Mrs. C. T. Adams	25	John W. Heck	20
W. J. Statler	25	J. C. Anderson	25
E. B. Gilibard	5	C. Lewis	10
Frank E. Ward	5	Ernest Martiner	3
Mrs. F. F. Stiner	10	Louis Kalicher	5
Frederick Welk	1	C. E. Tameron	5
M. A. Erwin	10	A. Bruni	5
Chas. Ogilby	5	H. T. E. Piery	25
E. D. Surdgrass	10	Mrs. H. J. Hague	5
Josephine Walsby	1	M. L. Cahill	1
E. M. Attridge	1	Joe M. Schrock	2
C. A. Pease	10	Miss M. Nicholls	20
W. W. Waltes	5	Rudolph Guiterman	10
Henry Atterbury	10	F. Haverstick & Co.	10
J. W. Cerul	10	G. C. Broomfield	5
John O. King	5	Wm. de S. Verdi	5
Wm. G. Bowles	5	A. L. Le Faire	5
Pres. Ch. Amag	10	F. E. Lally	25
R. W. Wattles	10	Geo. H. Burgess	6
Miss Dieudonne	10	A. W. Forman	5
Anonymous	10	Dudley Hall	5
Miss J. L. Simmons	5	S. T. Quick	5
William Cook	5	Walter Roberts	10
C. A. Weed & Co.	10	S. G. Hornes	5
Clifton Springs	10	W. L. Jones, Jr	10
D. M. Alexander	5	Springdale	12
Mrs. W. A. Layman	5	Isabel Frazin	25
Misses Pratt	1	Mrs. R. H. Simonds	25
M. T. Daly	5	L. R. Coffey	1
W. M. Brundage	5	K. L. Edwards	1
Mrs. T. E. Buchanan	20	J. T.	5
A. A. Maltser Jr.	1	K. J. Dorn	5
Edgar D. Pr	10	Mrs. L. Brum, 2d	25
E. F. Bliser	10	Lyons White	10
R. J. H. Bradley	10	Anonymous	10
R. W. Blanding	10	Wm. M. C. Furk	5
H. R. Carter	25	Joseph Meunier	2
L. Van Steenberg	5	Hazel E. Wilcox	80
[illegible] Livingston	5	L. A. Lucias	10
Anonymous	5	Mrs. W. W. Knowles	5
Mrs. W. Howie	10	K. D.	2
S. C. Cook	5	Miss Amo Sessions	20
Dana T. Ackerly	10	Azel Ames	10
W. W. Roberts	10	F. Beadel	10
E. N. Jones	10	Mrs. N. W. Williams	5
F. J. K. & D. K. H.	20	E. Haxby	10
F. B. Allen	5	B. F. Mend	10
Miss Nellie	5	Mrs. H. Meyer	5
Marie Louise Orr	5	Mrs. H. Robbins	20
Robert Howat	5	L. Y. Long	5
H. Halloway	25	Mrs. E. L. Irvins	5
Emily G. Minor	25	J. F. Osborne	5
W. C. Richardson	5	Alfred Edey	10
Mary E. Brainard	5	D. W. Cooke	5
Mrs. L. M. Craigui	10	R. O. Chattick	10
F. E. Featherston	5	Mrs. A. Batty	5
John R. Myers	25	Mrs. Adam	25
Frederick Crane	5	Thomas B. Kerr	25
Chas. G. Lincoln	5	Ch. of Mediator, Kingsbridge	18
Alan Nicoly	5	Mrs. Wm. Elmes	5
A. B. Macdonald	10	Edward B. Wed	25
Miss Chatullon	5	W. Evans	5
Katherine Young	2	Phoebus Kaplan	5
Lillian Geddis	2	W. A. Montgomery	1
W. Budd	10	R.	5
F. J. Medway	5	William Wincott	5
F. O'Donnel	5	M. S. Duncan	1
Mrs. E. S. Elliott	5	Everetta P. Vinal	3
Caroline R. Brown	15	F. A. Payne	10
Gertrude E. Williams	5	Dudley Hall	5
Anonymous	1	Jessie F. Ridgway	1
A. Black	20	Mrs. F. G. Fischer	5
Ch. Messiah, Glens Falls	10	Arthur Sinclair	5
A. L. Dorr	5	D. S. Dark	10
Tina Trend	5	D. S. Dark	10
George Ormsby	5	Mrs. D. S. Dark	5
H. P. King	5	Miss Gladys Dark	5
Antonio Lanzetta	5	Anonymous	5
Mrs. Garrettson	5	A. Reichard	10
Anonymous	25	Dr. W. L. Brickner	10
Anonymous	5	W. Hudson	1
Friends Mary Mills	5	F. R. Gilpatric	1
Anonymous	5	H. M. Grant	5
Henry G. Makin	25	M. E. Book Concern employes	44
H. Granman	2	George H. Walker	10
Mary M. Moll	10	H. H. Hall	25
Mrs. H. Sparks	10	M. J. Mullen	5
F. Fitzpatrick	5	J. J. Jordan	10
Lucy A. Gardner	5	H. W. N. Swift	75
Graham Vila Wilson	5	Mrs. E. B. Underwood	10
M. F. Mott	5	Mrs. P. Clayton, Jr.	2
Chloe Walker	10	J. B. Poelock	1
Beatrice R. Dumphy	5	Mrs. J. W. F.	2
[illegible] Mawhinney	5	C. H. North	25
		Comita de Secours	500
		C. M. Higgins & Co.	200
		Mrs. J. S. Bassett	100
		Ethel Taylor	100
		H. H. Hogins	100
		F. O. Becker	15
		H. Berman	5
		Mrs. W. H. Bahrenburg	5
		Allison V. Armour	500
		A. J. Porter	5
		Cornine R. Robinson	20
		St. Thomas's Parish, Washington, D.C.	125
		Woman's Mis. Soc. Bap. Ch., Omro, Wis.	5
		Mrs. E. F. Faye	21
		St. Philip's Ch., Brevard, N. C.	21
		John J. Boyle	5
		Lizzie P. Bliss	50
		Mrs. H. F. McCreery	10
		Margery Brown	5
		A. T.	2
		M. C. S.	2
		A. B. T.	2
		Oliver Presby, Ch., Nisbet, N. D.	15

BELGIAN FUND.

J. L. Deveraux	$200	C. Hathaway	$50
Grace Hirsch	1	A. Rostmont	5
C. W. Clark	1	W. P. Shannon	5
J. N. Emley	10	W. H. Friendly	25
G. G. Heymann	5	W. L. Barnes	10
C. W. Terhune	5	D. L. Thompson	25
Alice S. Phillips	10	L. P. Bliss	50
W. S. Hill	5	Mrs. L. Gertrude	15
H. D. Walbridge	50	James R. Knapp	100
J. A. Joecklyn	10	Pauline Goldmark	10
"For a Child"	5	E. T.	50
Mrs. L. Ellean	12

FRENCH FUND.

Mrs. L. Ellean $12

AMERICAN FUND.

Mrs. M. Sutro Price $10

The Vacation War Relief Committee of 38 West Thirty-ninth Street, of which Miss Anne Morgan is the Treasurer, received yesterday the following additional subscriptions (cents omitted) to its fund:

General donation	$205	French and Belgian refugees	$831
Through depositors	1	German women and children	383
Pledges	21	Medical supplies	19
Hosp. supply orders	208	Wool	27
Field supply orders	58

The American branch of the Prince of Wales National Relief Fund now has $66,573.53. Additional subscriptions received yesterday were:

G. G. Cammaco	$10	Harriet G. Tighe	$1
L. L. Delmeid	100	Mrs. A. Burchard	10
F. S. Smithers	25	Newburgh Scots	100
Wilfred Draycott	5	Prof. Titchener	5
Lucille Watson	1	Cornell (col.)	51
J. W. Everitt	2	Pawtucket Times
Anonymous	100	(col.)	110
Lancaster, Penn., Britishers	15	Rev. J. F. Milbank	1
E. P. McEnany	5	Rev. Wm. B. Taylor (col.)	82
E. P. Walker	5	Henry Stephenson	2
Louis J. Boury	25

Subscriptions to this fund should be sent to St. Stuart Wortley, Treasurer, 25 Broad Street.

The Central Committee for the Relief of Jews Suffering Through the War yesterday issued an appeal for aid signed by many orthodox rabbis of this city. Leon Kaimaiky is Chairman, Harry Fischel, 83 Park Row, Treasurer. Already $12,000 has been collected, of which $5,000 has been sent for distribution in Palestine, and a similar amount to Vienna for Galician Jews. The committee proposes to issue 1-cent stamps to be affixed to articles bought in stores like this: "It is hoped to dispose of 400,000 stamps for chickens alone every week. The committee appeals to the Jews throughout the United States. The circular says:

> Call a meeting in your synagogue, or join with others to call a meeting in your city, at which contributions shall be collected, local officers elected, and representatives chosen to be added to our Central Committee in New York. We want at least two representatives in each city of the United States, to be in constant communication with us, in order to organize the Jews of America into one compact body, ready and willing to raise a large relief fund.

Henry Clews, treasurer of the Dollar Christmas Fund for the Belgian destitute, announced yesterday that subscriptions for $3,894 have been received. The donations range from 25 cents to $1,000.

MEN'S BOOTH AT WAR BAZAAR.

Girls of Hunter College Plan to Raise Funds for the Wounded.

Girls of Hunter College are going to have a men's haberdashery booth in their big Red Cross bazaar to be held in the college, at Sixty-eighth Street and Park Avenue, on Nov. 26 and 27. The bazaar was planned some time ago to provide funds for an athletic field the girls need, but they have decided instead to try to raise $5,000 for the war sufferers. In the thirty-five booths in the bazaar the social organizations and department clubs of the college will be represented, and the high schools of the city will help through their clubs.

A Japanese tea room will be under the auspices of the Arts and Crafts Club of the college, there will be a Dutch candy booth, flower, apron, and handkerchief booths, and a cotton exhibition to show in how many ways cotton can be used. College suffragists are to have homemade jellies for sale, and the astronomy department will lend its telescope. All the girl's taking part will be in costume and there will be dancing.

Order for 600,000 Hospital Shirts.

READING, Penn., Nov. 5.—A Reading firm today received an order for 600,000 hospital shirts for the British Army. The contract is for $350,000. It will require nearly two million yards of muslin to fill the order.

WANT DETAILS OF A VISIT.

Frank E. Perkins Believes His Wife Was with W. A. Curran.

Supreme Court Justice Pendleton signed an order yesterday authorising John H. Switzer of Camden, N. J., to take the testimony of Mrs. Mary L. Shreve of Medford, N. J., in a divorce action begun in this county by Frank E. Perkins against his wife, Emily R. L. Perkins. Mr. Perkins is a well-known architect. In 1898 he won the $5,000 prize for designing the capital building at San Juan, Porto Rico.

The Commissioner is to ask Mrs. Shreve about an alleged visit to Mrs. Shreve's home in Medford on Sept. 3, 4, and 5, 1910, of Mrs. Perkins and William A. Curran. Some of the questions deal directly with the happenings of Sunday evening, Sept. 4, and of the next afternoon. Concerning Monday, Mrs. Shreve will be asked to describe the clothing worn by Mrs. Perkins. That portion is all for the plaintiff. The defense has submitted questions asking if Mrs. Perkins's daughter, Margaret, did not occupy the room with her mother, and if Mrs. Shreve's daughter, Alice, did not occupy a room on the same floor with the two guest chambers.

Mr. Curran was divorced by his wife, Mildred Langley Curran, in Philadelphia in October, 1910, about five weeks after Curran's alleged visit to Medford. Mrs. Curran lived at the time at 772 St. Nicholas Avenue, in this city. Curran is said to have made a bet of $10,000 that he would be married within three days after his wife had divorced him. It was said that he won the bet by marrying Mrs. Shreve's daughter, Emily, and taking a flying trip to Europe with his bride.

DUTY ON ELASTIC BRAID.

Rubber in It Comes Under the Definition of a Thread.

The proper classification of fabrics containing india rubber, long a matter of extended litigation under previous tariffs, is again troubling customs officials and importers, this time under the act of 1913. The first case of this kind, thought to be a forerunner of many others affecting a wide variety of merchandise, came up yesterday for decision by the Board of General Appraisers when a protest standing in the name of Calhoun, Robbins & Co. was overruled.

The goods figuring in the controversy were returned by Appraiser Sague as "elastic braid composed of silk and india-rubber threads and cotton and india-rubber threads." Duty was taken at 60 per cent. ad valorem as braids composed of yarns, threads, or filaments. The protestants contend that rubber is the component material of chief value in the braids, and that in its condition as found in the braids, it is neither a "yarn," "thread," nor "filament."

Judge Howell, in his decision, denies the importers' contention that the rubber entering into these goods is not thread.

$75,000 FOR HUSBAND'S LOVE

Mrs. Sarah Murdock Alleges That Mrs. Avery Won Him from Her.

Mrs. Sarah Murdock of Patchogue has sued Matilda Avery for $75,000 for the alienation of the affections of her husband, Charles H. Murdock, who now lives at Blue Point.

Mrs. Murdock alleges that "on or about July 1, 1914, Matilda Avery wickedly induced" her husband to abandon her.

Robert S. Pelletreau, attorney for Mrs. Avery, appeared yesterday before Justice Benedict in Brooklyn and moved for a bill of particulars. Justice Benedict reserved decision.

THOUSANDS FIGHTING JERSEY FOREST FIRES

Many Towns, Including Blairstown, with Its Big School, Are in Danger.

BATTLE BEGAN ON SUNDAY

Warren and Sussex Counties and the Great Pine Region Swept by Flames.

Forest fires in New Jersey gained such headway yesterday that in Warren and Sussex Counties the Fire Wardens pressed citizens into service as firefighters, offering them 30 cents an hour for the work, with the alternative of declining and paying a ten-dollar fine.

Throughout the States thousands of men, and in some cases women, too, are fighting still, after several days at the work, to check fires which are threatening towns and villages.

Hundreds of acres are in flames, or have been burned over. In Warren County automobiles have been commandeered regardless of their ownership and employed to carry fighters to the fire line.

G. C. Worthington, owner of Buckwood Inn Park, which he recently offered to the State as a game preserve, has posted notices across the Delaware River in Pennsylvania, offering liberal wages and free transportation to fire fighters. The New York, Susquehanna & Western and Lackawanna Railroads have transported more than 400 men to parts of the State touched by their lines.

The worst fires are in the northwest corner of the State, in Warren and Sussex Counties, where they cross the Delaware River and gained ground in the Kittatinny Mountain range. Blairstown, where the big Blairstown Academy, the memorial to the late John L. Blair, erected by his son, is located is the largest place actually threatened by the flames. A high wind carried the fire toward the business and residential district of this town last night and firemen from the town joined the Fire Wardens and their crews in a battle which lasted all night and is being continued this morning.

Many fire fighters have been steadily at work since Sunday, when the flames first crossed the river. Now they have passed the first ridge of mountains and are eating away toward Blairstown in a line six miles long. There are thousands of deer in the country roundabout, and it is believed that camp fires started by hunters were the origin of the big blaze.

State Fire Warden Wilbur reached Belvidere in Warren County last night and took charge of the fire fighters. A big blaze which had extended from Columbia, Warren County, to the Delaware Water Gap and which 500 men had fought all Wednesday night broke out afresh yesterday afternoon and last night was gaining on the fighters.

Other fires were reported to State Forester Gaskell in Trenton yesterday as far south as Chatsworth, Burlington County, and as far east as Dayton in Middlesex County. Chatsworth is in the heart of the pine district and a large area of valuable woodland has already been burned over. Hundreds of men who fought the blaze there unsuccessfully all yesterday are still at the task today with the fire gaining headway.

Smaller fires terrified residents of the sections near Verona and Montclair yesterday. In the former place guards were on duty all last night to prevent a new outbreak of a blaze which spread through the woods at the foot of Second Mountain all Wednesday night and yesterday morning, and was controlled only at noon yesterday. More than 100 acres of meadow and timber land were burned over.

The blaze atop the Palisades lighted up the Hudson for miles, and was watched by residents on this side of the river from Hastings down to this city.

Ask Help for Sick Laborer.

A laboring man, earning small wages, has just had a serious operation. He has a wife and a 10-month-old baby. The Brooklyn Bureau of Charities wishes to pay the rent of $11 and supply special diet until the time comes to help him to a job. Contributions to help this family may be sent to the Brooklyn Bureau of Charities, 69 Schermerhorn Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

DOUBT IF HEINZE LEFT WILL.

Mrs. Fleitman, His Sister, Is Appointed Administratrix.

How much of his one time great wealth F. Augustus Heinze possessed when he died Wednesday in Saratoga is agitating his relatives and business associates, for Heinze apparently left no will. At the request of his attorneys, Surrogate Ostrander in Saratoga yesterday appointed Mrs. Lida M. Fleitman, his sister, administratrix of Heinze's estate. They stated his estate amounted to "more than $10,000."

Mrs. Fleitman, who is the wife of William M. Fleitman of 32 East Sixty-seventh Street, said last night, after learning of her appointment as administratrix as well as guardian for the two-year-old son of her brother, F. Augustus Heinze, Jr., that she had no idea of the amount of her brother's estate, explaining:

> "So far as we now know my brother left no will. I shall search through his private papers as soon as possible to see if a will has been filed away anywhere. Mr. Heinze's affairs were very much complicated, and it is impossible at this time to form any accurate idea of the amount of his estate."

The body of Mr. Heinze, accompanied by his sister, his brothers, Arthur P. and Otto Heinze, and several friends was brought here last evening to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fleitman, where the funeral will take place at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Dean William W. Greavenor of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine will conduct the services. The interment will be in Greenwood Cemetery.

GEN. PAGANI SILENT ON WAR.

Italian Officer, Here on Secret Mission, Refuses to Discuss Rumors.

Maj. Gen. Carlos Pagani of the Italian Army is at the Astor, supposedly on a secret mission.

When a card was sent to the General yesterday, a reporter was courteously received, not by the General, but by another Italian, who explained, very politely, that the General was too busy to be seen, much to his regret, but he, as a friend and traveling companion, though not a military man, had been deputed to meet callers.

Just before visiting the hotel the reporter had been told these things by an American just from Italy, who would not consent to the use of his name.

Italy was on the point of going to war, but so far her military men did not think she had a sufficient excuse.

The Italian fleet and transports were assembled at a port just above Brindisi, ready to move upon short notice.

Italy had mobilized 1,400,000 men, instead of the 1,000,000 commonly supposed.

It was expected that by Oct. 31 Italy would have completed her fortieth 42-centimeter gun and that these were of considerably longer range than the famous German weapons.

"Gen. Pagani cannot discuss the war or military matters," said his representative, "when asked about these statements. He listened when the big guns were mentioned, and said he had heard nothing about such guns."

IT IS A DECORATION.

This Is Held, Regarding a Trademark, in a Customs Case.

That a trademark is a decoration within the meaning of the present tariff law was the conclusion reached yesterday by the Board of General Appraisers when a protest by Emile Utard, a perfumery importer of this city, was overruled. The merchandise consists of sprinkler tops of metal for use on toilet bottles. Accompanying each sprinkler and serving as a screw cover for it is a small, detachable metal cap, on the top of which is embossed a figure or design representing a basket filled with flowers.

The articles were classified as sprinkler tops, decorated, and duty was accordingly levied at the rate of 40 per cent. ad valorem.

Judge Fischer holds that, in a case before the Customs Court, the word "Rajah," somewhat ornamental in design, though constituting a trademark, and printed on spark plugs, was never-theless a decoration. The board's decision also says that it is not essential that decoration should be the result of an added process, because many articles can and are made ornamental and of a decorative character simultaneously with their production. The Collector's assessment is accordingly affirmed.

RESORTS.

Rector's
Broadway at 48th Street
The Ball Room
A wonderland of beauty and spaciousness where you may dine on the terrace, dance or watch Mudge, Fanning and Terantino, and Gross and Kraft, and other famous artists interpret modern ball room dancing.
The Pompeiian Lounge
This recent addition,—a beautiful room after the style of time of Pompey the Great,—makes Rector's the most remarkable restaurant in the world.
The Main Dining Room
Justly the most celebrated in the city for excellence of cuisine and service.
Exhibition Dancing by a Coterie of Celebrated Artists. Cabaret by Twenty Famous Stage Favorites.
PHONE YOUR RESERVATIONS NOW—Ball Room, Bryant 8686; Main Dining Room, Bryant 3200.

NEW HOTEL THERESA
LARGEST AND FINEST
Transient & Family Hotel Uptown
7th Av., 124th to 125th St.
ONE BLOCK TO "L" AND SUBWAY. SURFACE CARS, ALL POINTS, AT DOOR
Absolutely Fireproof.
Single Rooms AND BATH $1.50 Per Day and Up
Double Rooms AND BATH $2.50 PER DAY
All Outside Rooms.
Breakfast, 50c.; Lunch, 50c.; Dinner, $1.00
SINGLE ROOM AND BATH (per year) ..$540
2 ROOMS AND BATH (per year) ..$720
3 ROOMS, 1 OR 2 BATHS (per year) ..$1,200
Special Rates by Month and Season
BOARD, $10.50 PER WEEK.
T. M. LENEHEN, MANAGER.
'Phone, 8276—Morningside.

The Lorraine
Fifth Ave. at 45th St.
Apartments and Rooms with Bath
PERMANENTLY or TRANSIENTLY
George C. Howe
George Orvis
ALSO EQUINOX HOUSE, Manchester, Vermont.

"Chez" Maurice (Formerly Palais De Danse), B'way & 50th. Phone 9260 Col.
Nightly, including Sunday, 10:30 until closing. The Dansants, Tuesday, Friday & Saturday, 4:30 to 6:30 P. M. Free Demonstration by Maurice and Florence WALTON.
THE KING'S FAVORITES.
FINE BAND——EXQUISITE CUISINE.

Luchow's
14th Street, near Fourth Ave.

HOTEL ARLINGTON,
18 WEST 25TH ST.
Apartments, 2 and 3 rooms. High-class hotel service, $60 per month; with meals, $82 per week. Inspection invited.

HOTEL BRESLIN B'WAY & 29TH STREET.
SPECIAL LOW RATES MADE TO A FEW PERMANENT GUESTS DURING FALL & WINTER.

RESORTS.
NEW YORK—Westchester County.
Amid the Hills and Woods of Beautiful Westchester.
HOTEL GRAMATAN
LAWRENCE PARK, BRONXVILLE, N. Y.
Special Winter Rates.
WHY NOT MAKE THE HOTEL GRAMATAN YOUR WINTER HOME?
Within easy commuting distance for the New York business man; 28 minutes from Grand Central. Golf, Tennis and all outdoor sports. Send for new illustrated booklet and rates.
HOTEL GRAMATAN, Inc.

VIRGINIA.

The Delights of Getting Well
You can combine the enjoyments of a magnificent resort hotel with ALL the TREATMENTS given at Aix, Vichy, Karlsbad, Nauheim, or Harrogate at HOTEL CHAMBERLIN
Old Point Comfort
Interesting booklets, and describing cases "cured" by Chamberlin Methods, sent on request. Address GEO. P. ADAMS, Mgr., Fortress Monroe, Va.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

The NEW HIGHLAND PARK HOTEL
The Queen of Winter Resorts
AIKEN, S. C.
WILL OPEN DECEMBER 25.
Nearly all rooms have private bath connecting. Rooms without bath have hot and cold running water. Suites arranged with parlor if so desired.
For terms and other particulars address
J. F. CHAMPLIN, Mgr.,
Prince George Hotel, 14 East 28th St., N. Y.

CALIFORNIA
CALIFORNIA
Hotel Green—Pasadena
FIREPROOF. ELEVATION, 1,000 FEET.
The de luxe Hotel of Southern California.
D. H. PLUMER, GENERAL MANAGER.
B. F. CUSHING, Asst. Manager.
"The Land of Sunshine and Flowers."
Finest Winter Climate in the World.
Winter rendezvous for America's most representative families. 200 miles of boulevards for motoring. Four splendid golf courses. SOCIAL DIVERSIONS. NOTED ORCHESTRA. POLO, TENNIS. PURE WATER.
Frank T. Keating, N. Y. Representative, 489 5th Av., (40th St.) Phone Murray Hill 8364

NEW JERSEY—Lakewood.
MANHATTAN HOTEL.
Up to date in every particular.
Booklet. Phone 133. Chas. Hecht, Prop.
Oak Court Hotel LAKEWOOD, N. J. Modern and homelike; dancing. R. S. SPANGENBERG, Mgr.

CAFÉ DES BEAUX-ARTS
Famous for Service
Atmosphere of Indefinable Charm
DINNER AND SUPPER DANCES
Grill Luncheon 75c | Beaux-Arts Dinner $1.50
"Really Different"
SIXTH AVENUE AND 40TH ST. Opposite Bryant Park

TO-NIGHT. MONTGOMERY & MOORE NIGHT OPEN ALL NIGHT.
Prominent Theatrical Stars Will Entertain.
Prize Dancing Contest for Montgomery & Moore Prize.

REISENWEBER'S 58th Street and Columbus Circle
DINNER (6 to 9) $1.00. BEEFSTEAK DINNER, $1.25
Sloane & Morgan in Dances Nightly at 10:30—Dan Caslar's Orchestra.
Afternoon Tea Dances, 4 to 7—Complimentary Tea and Dancing Partners.

Splendid Food, Quick Service, Moderate Prices. Club and Theatre Parties. Accommodation 4—100.
HOFFMAN'S
FORMERLY MURRAY'S
Cor. 34th St. and Broadway
Conte's Celebrated Philharmonic Orchestra, at Luncheon, Dinner, and Supper. Heart of Shopping District.

Luncheon, Tea, and $1.00 Table d'Hote Dinner. Open Fireplace.
CRAFTSMAN RESTAURANT
GARDEN SUPPLIES DAILY FROM CRAFTSMAN FARMS
Dining Room on Top Floor, with Rest Room below
6 E. 39th Street.

THOMAS HEALY
BROADWAY AT 66TH STREET.
BUSINESS MEN'S LUNCHEON
AT MODERATE PRICES.
MAIN FLOOR DINING ROOM.

ROMA 50th St. & 6th Ave. Phone 2778 Plaza
NO CABARET.
FOR 30 YEARS THE RENDEZVOUS OF REFINED CONNOISSEURS OF ITALIAN AND FRENCH COOKING.
Lunch 50c.—DINNER, (week days) 80c. Holidays & Sundays, $1.00

IF YOU MISS YOUR SHOW VISIT MAXIM'S
MAXIM'S
LUNCHEON, 60c.
DANCING NOON TO CLOSE.
CABARET AFTER 6:30.
110 WEST 38TH ST.

CAFE BOULEVARD
BROADWAY AT FORTY-FIRST STREET
WHERE EVERY ONE THAT IS ANY ONE MEETS
LUNCHEON 60c. DINNER $1.00
DANCING DURING DINNER AND AFTER THE PLAY.

Kalil's
Restaurant with the Celebrated Venetian Garden
Nos. 26-30 Park Place, (formerly at 14-18 Park Place.)
A better quality of better cooked food than any other downtown restaurant.
Luncheon begins at 11 A. M.

CHURCHILL'S Broadway at 49th Street

SHANLEY'S
BROADWAY-43-44 Sts.
Superior Six-Course Luncheon 75c.
MUSIC

42d St. GRILL
42d St. & Madison Ave.
Superior Service Moderate Prices
MUSIC-DANCING WM. F. HEALY

TEA ROOMS. TEA ROOMS.
Open Sundays from 11 A. M. to 8:30 P. M.
Club Breakfast, Lunch, Tea, Dinner. Also a la Carte. 8 A. M. to 8 P. M.
The Fernery
"THE OLDEST TEA ROOM in NEW YORK."
Est. 6th & Mad. Aves.
Miss Tucker—Exclusively HOME COOKING.
32 East 32d Street.
SMOKING PERMITTED IN THE CONSERVATORY.

Hotel St. Andrew
A Hotel of Refinement and Charm. Service a la Carte, Table d'Hote. Dansant Every Evening.
Broadway at 72d St. In the Centre of New York.
No Wardrobe Charges—No War Prices.

WOMEN in Business
THE RUTLEDGE, COR. 30TH STREET & LEXINGTON AVE.
Large, light, outside rooms. Baths. Homelike surroundings. Unexcelled cuisine. Tariff, $11 to $15 weekly, including meals.
The Only Place of Its Kind in the World.

Hotel Bretton Hall
BROADWAY, 85 to 86 St.
Largest and Most Attractive Uptown Hotel.
Large, Quiet Rooms, with bath, or suites, for transient or permanent residence.
All the comforts of New York City's BEST Hotels at one-third less price.

FIREPROOF.
HOTEL HARGRAVE

COURT CALENDARS

CASES WILL BE CALLED IN THE ORDER GIVEN BELOW.
(‹) This character means versus or against.

FEDERAL.

Supreme Court.

85—Clarence H. Venner vs. Chicago City Ry. Co.—Dismissed.
49—La. Ry. & Nav. Co. vs. Martin Behrman.—Argument continued.
50—Western Life Indemnity Co. of Ills. vs. Clarence Rupp.—Summitted.
52—Martha Adkins vs. Henry C. Arnold.—Submitted.
53—Geo. Washington vs. Chas. W. Miller.—Submitted.
56—L. S. Skelton vs. William H. Dill.—Submitted.
57—John Jenkins vs. Maxwell Land Grant Co.—Argued.
58—Rual F. Taylor vs. Mrs. Allie Parker.—Submitted.
62—People of New York on the relation of Cornell Steamboat Co. vs. William H. Sohmer, as Controller of the State.—Argued.
63—N. Y. Elec. Lines Co. vs. Empire City Subway Co.—Argument commenced.
Adjourned until today.
Call for Nov. 6: Nos. 63, 64, 66, 67, 68, 69, 71, 72, (and 54,) 74, and 75.

Southern District.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT OF Appeals.—Lacombe, Coxe, Ward, and Rogers, JJ.—Court opens at 10:30 A. M. in Post Office Building.
Alleghany Val Brick‹ Raymond.
U S‹L Y R R.
Re Buchanan.
Re Buchanan.
Re Buchanan.
Re Foot & Davis Co.
Millon‹U S.

DISTRICT COURT.—L. Hand, J.—Motions. At 10:30 A. M. (Room 235 P. O. Bldg.)
Deiches‹Bischoff.
Devlin‹Hallenbeck.
Same‹same.
Siegel‹S C Co.
Townsend‹Cohan.
U S‹Martinson.
Re Kobre.
Eames‹Claflin Co.
Gum Co‹Dennison.
Sales Co‹O'Neill Co.
Hernstain‹Kapp.
O'Connor‹Dredg Co.
Porter Co‹Brooks.
Parker‹Society.

DISTRICT COURT—A. N. Hand, J.—Post Office Building, at 10:30 A. M. Jury calendar.
N Y Assets Real Co‹ McKinnon.
De la Fuente‹Hammerstein.
McKinnon‹Ala Secur.
Wagner‹Kohn.
Same‹Stallo.
Brashears‹Smith.
Hughes‹NY, O & W.
Western Dev‹McKinnon.
Grisman‹P R ‹, (2 acts.)
Dietz‹Singer S. Mach.
St John‹Int Mer Mar.
Y‹Long Island Amuse.
Mason‹Moore.
Fox‹E Side M Stamp.
Same‹Taylor.
Dolores Mines‹Anderson.
Creston Col Co‹same.
Slobadder‹CNY.
Burke‹Atl Coast L.
Cusick‹Knick Ice.
Newman‹Andrews.
Helfand‹Ill Surety.
Fountain Box‹Yale.
Smolak‹Pyrites Co.
Note—Cases to be sent to Room 227 as required.

DISTRICT COURT—Thomas, J.—Jury calendar. Post Office Building at 10:30 A. M.
Kelly‹Mason & H.

DISTRICT COURT—Mayer, J. Admiralty, at 10:30 A. M. (Woolworth Bldg.)
NYC RR‹SS El Sud.

DISTRICT COURT—Rose, J.—Woolworth Building at 10:30 A. M. Equity.
Ryan‹Mt Vernon B'k.
Conhilin‹Dienst.
Stallo‹Wagner.

DISTRICT COURT—Sanborn, J.—Woolworth Building, at 10:30 A. M. Equity calendar.
Dayton Eng Lab‹ Boom Auto.
Nicholas Power‹Baird (2 acts.)

Eastern District.

DISTRICT COURT—Chatfield, J.—Bankruptcy calendar at 10:30 A. M.
Re Kobre & Ginsberg.
At 2 P. M.: Re Samuel Pearl, (habeas corpus.)

DISTRICT COURT—Chatfield, J.—Bankruptcy calendar at 2 P. M. Motions.
Dibschaft‹Fest.
Re Lawrence,
Re Johnson,
Re Bartlett,
Re Bailey,
Re Mack,
Re Sloane.
Re Neuwith,
Re Callahan,
Re Isaac L. Levy,
Re East Brew Co.,
Re Finck Kobre,
Re Koch & Sons,
Re Kleinman Bros., I,
Re Morse,
Re Venus Silk Glove,
Re Coney Island Lumber Co.,
Re Berkman & Miller

NEW YORK COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

APPELLATE DIVISION.—Ingraham, McLaughlin, Clarke, and Scott, JJ.—Motions and non-enumerated motions, at 10 A. M.
Motions:
Fox‹Board of Edu.
Harford‹Waldo.
Ryan‹McKay.
Markey‹CNY et al.
Murphy‹same.
Blau‹same.
Howard‹same.
Donnelly‹same.
Traynor‹Waldo.
McKeon‹Muller & C.
People, &c‹Swift &, Co.
People, &c‹Hotchkiss & Co.
People, &c‹Bail.
McNamara‹Waldo.
Jennings‹same.
Brown‹same.
Edwards‹same.
Cooper‹Norovoe, &c.
Levine‹28 St & 7th Av Rlty Co.
Midland Co‹Goldsticker & ano.
Frank‹Guber.
Same‹same.
Re Pietze.
Re Kalter, dec'd.
Johnson‹Hedden Con.
People, &c‹Dorsch.
Archer & ano‹Hesse et al.
Jose Fur & ano‹ Arrue.
Sherman‹Carman.
Pierce‹Sun Ins.
Morris‹Cahn.
Same‹same.
Keteltas‹I R T.
Jacobs‹White.
Blumenthal‹Wash'n Heights Hosp.
Avery‹same.
Epstein‹Rockville C Imp.
Weston‹Watts.
Yung‹Blake et al.
Re P S Com. &c.
Re I R T.
L'Hommedieu‹Campanini.
Oceanic Nav‹28 & 7 Av Rlty.
Frank‹Gruber.
Savonret‹Cons Gas.

Non-enumerated Motions.—At 10:30 A. M.
Re A C‹Morgan.
Gursky‹Blair.
Prince‹Reiser.
Greenwald‹Prendergast.
Lange‹Dickey.
Un Distilling‹Clifford
Nicolelli‹Friedman et al.
Vilberg‹Sandstrom.
Pisch‹Pisch.
Horwitz‹N Br & Mer
Ins.
Ford‹E I Du Pont de Nemours.
Gabriel‹Graham.
Anderson‹Anderson.
Hoet‹Brainard.
Same‹same.

APPELLATE TERM—Recess.

SPECIAL TERM.—Part I.—Davis, J. Litigated motions.
People ex rel Hanower ‹County Com, Prog Party.
Hillman‹Mulliker.
Cohen‹Glass.
Mencser‹Mencser.
Cooper‹Norovoe.
N Y Water Equip‹ Bureau.
Tschal‹Friedlander.
People ex rel De Angelis‹Supt. (2 cases)
Re CNY, (Bloomfield Av)
Re same, (Lustig Av)
Shearer‹Shearer.
De Courcey‹Delaganha & Co.
The Fletcher.
Martin‹N Y Asphalt.
Fritz‹Pitalli.
Re Kelly, (Pulitzer.)
Wood‹Tribe.
Clough‹N Y Rys.
Same‹same.
Gartick‹same.
Same‹same.
Mullaney‹same.
Rosenblum‹same.
Meer‹same.
Springer‹same.
Same‹same.
Tubes‹same.
Tweedale‹same. (3 acts.)
Zimmerman‹same.
Wood‹W A Hall & Co.
Fisher‹Altman.
Auto Tire‹Mansfield Rubber Co.
Miller‹M, Q Co & S R.
Mahon‹Vahon.
Gluck‹N Bank of No Hudson.
Fisher‹Herrick.
McGrane‹McGrane, Children‹Trust.
Re Miller.
Gluck‹Gluck.
Albert‹Wood.
Union Tr‹Pascal.
Rosa‹Rosa.
Blum‹Rogg.
Levy‹N Y Rys.
Cellup‹same.
Brown‹same.
Katz‹same.
Salmon‹same.
Mahoney‹same.
Goldenberg‹same.
De Ponvert‹same.
Cheatham‹Cortelyou.
Wallace‹Wallace.
Callahan‹Epstein.
Metcalf‹Mulvany.
City R R Co‹same.
Brown‹same.
Welz & Zerwick‹ Schaffer.
Kolchinsky‹Stalsman & Bo.
Smith‹McGovern.
Salonovits‹same.
Bolinck‹Rollnick.
Wallace‹Kearns.
Emigrant Bank‹ Strack.
People ex rel Geller‹ Waldo.
Re Clarke.
Leary‹Leary.
Lowe‹same.
Re Pasca.
Rimbeck‹Gimbernat
Hess‹Cohen.
Rector C'wardens‹ same.
Cohen‹Sirowitz.
Guaranty Tr‹Ward.
Fragale‹Rinehart & D
Seckasis‹Raymond.
Rubinstein‹Winer, Edelstein, &c.
CNY‹Shannon Mfg.
Cooley‹Thompson-S.
Fetman‹Bishop.
Lough‹Durham.
Krawtsuk‹Champion Paper.
Rilback‹Raymond & Co.
Zuckerman‹Shapiro.
Monroe‹S H & M H Bernheimer Co.
Barkanovsky‹N Y Linen.
Frank‹M R Sterling.
Shainwald‹Frank.
Santore‹T A Gillespie Co.
Heller‹Heller.
Horowitz‹Rice.
Nat Ry Const‹Bright Parlaw‹Man Term'l.
Groth‹Crosstown V.
Richter‹Richter.
Dennison‹Dennison.
Zadek‹Olds, Wortman & King.
Beber‹The Mayer, &c.
M G Babcock Co‹ Goodwin.
Metallurgical Sec‹M & Metals N Bank.
Lemcke‹Woodin.
Epstein‹Gudsmith.
Master‹Catheart.
Bobbs Merrill Co‹ Talbot.
Davidovitch‹Smith.
Keaney‹S C K of Am.
Propet‹Wallach.
Brandywine‹Brandywine Insurance Co.
Lissenberg‹Goldberg.
Progressive Conservative Holding Co.
Re Sophia Abrumson, &c.
Bolling‹Fisher.
Same‹same.
Mandel‹Trag.
Sprung‹Mandel.
Mandel‹Trag.

Same‹same.
Hoisting Mach‹Fed T Cotta.
Hollander‹Wallace.
State Bank‹Keshin, Blitstein & Co.
Raffel‹Freyhan.
Frank‹Passaic Tr.
Rienant‹CNY, (Gross-man.)
Thomashefsky‹Sheingold.
Feldman‹Titofsky.
Bergman‹Mills.
Abramis‹Ritter.
Kaplon‹Hearne Realty Co, Inc.
Mangin‹Mangin.
Oceanic Inv‹23 St & 7 Av.
Re N Y Mtge Co.

PART II.—Pendleton, J.—Ex parte business.

PART III.—Guy, J.—At 10:15 A. M. Motions:
Proctor‹Morse.
Murphy‹N Y Press.
Medwin‹Medwin.
Ferrone‹Perrone.
Horowitz‹Rice.
Simpson‹Minsky Rlty.
Goldman‹Freedman.
Coburn‹Coburn.
Preferred causes:
Leavitt‹Waldemar.
Conde‹Leon.
General calendar:
Fisch‹Fisch.
Std Sanit‹CNY.
O'Brien‹Floral Pk V.
Freiman‹Green.
Miller‹ N Y Oph Inst.
Sanford‹Hart.
Scully‹Scully.
Price‹Price.
Levine‹London.
Nat Ice‹Prestige.
Katzenberg‹Schwartz.
Scott‹Ill Surety.
Garoewich‹McGraw Rlty.
Bahrenburg‹Bahrenburg.
Linde‹Gibson.
Newmark‹Newmark.
Vasquez‹Vasques.
Angelo‹Beinenson.
Lindsay Light‹Robinson.

Undefended, (Ren Matn, Oly, Bertinasco, Dunphy, Adams, Hatzen, Aultman, Seligman, Tiffany, Taft, Wortmann, Schulthels, Delpeuch, Scherer, Kosow, Weiss, Davis, Petrykowsky, Fischer, Spitzer, Robert, Curran, Klosset, Gula, Weisberg, Rubin, undefended matrimonial calendar:
Conroy,
Marotti,
Wolff,
Clauter, Jr.,
Macheca,
Newman,
Littlefield,
Pappas,
De Forest,
Waldman,
Thompson,
Cratewell,
Glazer,
Simpson,
Hellstrom,
Morey,
Vail,
Scovil,
Nacht,
Siegel,
Szlazak,
Moody,
Zolotar,
Slater,
Hatch.
Clear.

PART IV.—Greenbaum, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Case on.

PART VI.—Bijur, J.—At 10:30 A. M. NYC & H RR‹Purdy. Case on.

PART VII.—Newburger, J. Case on.

PART VIII.—Blanchard, J. Clear.

TRIAL TERM—Part I.—Seabury, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Motions.
Postal Life‹Burns.
Rosenblum‹Krout.
Herring‹Nemcof.
Landon‹Mott.
Re Owen.
Schroeder‹Zylka.
Keystone Fire‹Oakland M Car.
Bolland & Jr‹Phillips.
Aron Bldg‹Condary.
Malia‹Knap.

PART III.—Weeks, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Klein‹Schoenberg.
Mendelson‹NY Egg Yolk Mfg Co.
T Aronson‹Yohalem.
J Aronson‹Yohalem.
Heisenbuttel‹Meagher.
Slavic‹Pitts Con.
Rino‹Gilleran.
Herzog‹Gunther.
Slavig‹Dailey.
Harp‹Brickett.
Villano‹NY Times Co
Case on.

PART IV.—Cohalan, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Van Slochem‹Br Col Ry & Dev Co
Bayer‹Bottsford-Dickinson Co.
Turk‹Maas.
Kahn‹NY Rys.
Kaufman‹Careful Rlty & Const Co.
Case on.

PART V.—Platzek, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Ballinger‹Albright.
Pluemacher‹Levy.
Paltrowitz‹Steeplech.
Stewart‹Martin.
People‹Townsend.
Delaney‹Adair.
Littenberg‹Reichman.
Johnson‹Bradley Con.
Carl‹Bliss Co.
Nyold‹Am Brass.
Spivy‹I R T.
O'Malley‹NY Rys.
Lipkin‹Bklyn El RR.
Phillips‹Smith-Worth.
Gray‹Nassau El RR.
Coyle‹I R T.
Rudyk‹Levy.
Pitzpatrick‹I R T.
Burteaux‹NY Rys.
L Lewis‹S Bklyn Ry.
S Lewis‹same.
Linan‹Go Pacific.
Antico‹Uteri.
Case on.

TRIAL TERM—Part II.—Erlanger, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Slavis‹Pitts Con.
Beckett‹Blum.
Lowenstein‹CNY.
Hickey‹Asphalt Con, (2 acts.)
Lowenstein‹CNY.
Lockwood‹same.
Koster‹NY Rys.
Schiffer‹Union Ry.
Case on.

PART VII.—Bissell, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Witt‹Austro-Am SS.
Clear.
McMahon‹Earnest.

PART VIII.—Dugro, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Abrams‹Kitchen Imp.
Case on.

PART IX.—Donnelly, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Gardner‹O-Pac &c RR.
Selich‹McAvoy.
Grasso‹Spearin.
A Lopez‹Linch.
S Lopez‹same.
Case on.

PART X.—Gavegan, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Rappaport‹3 Ave RR.
Campbell‹N Y Ry.
Case on.

PART XI.—Hendrick, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Hyman‹Barrett.
Ford‹N Y N H & H.
Abrams‹Kitchen Imp.
Wortendyke‹CNY.
Glass‹Kolar.
Futoransky‹NasEIRR.
Morrison‹Same.
Chios‹Murphy.
Case on.

PART XII.—Adjourned until Monday, Nov. 16.

PART XIII.—Borst, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Adjourned until Monday, Nov. 9.

PART XIV.—Philbin, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Asphalt Paving‹CNY (2 acts).
Ost‹Mindlin.
Wawbeek Land‹Wilkbank.
Delehanty‹Dunn.
Hammer‹Claremont Silk.
Farley‹Hollingsworth.
Weidenfeld‹Doherty.
Clear.

PART XV.—Goff, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Amoroso‹Fruit Auc.
Case on.

PART XVI.—Page, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Inquest Indian Ref Co‹Warden.
Hart‹Higgins.
E J Hustall‹Zimmermann.
McKegney‹Ill Surety.
Simers Jr‹Lib Storage
Palatucci‹Mariotti.
Case on.

PART XVII.—Ford, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Milla‹Nat Surety.
Case on.

PART XVIII.—Giegerich, J.—At 10:30 A. M.
Sheridan‹McLaughlin.
Adams‹Marion St Shovel Co.
Talcott‹Nichols.
U S Hungerford Brass Co‹Brady & Co.
Nat Res Bk, CNY‹ Corn Exch Bank.
Wanamaker‹Sondheim.
Hardin‹Cohen.
Peirce‹Steel Barrel Co of Am.
Peirce‹Cochrane.
Polak‹Reed.
Ernsthal‹Proctor.
Chapman‹Am P Car.
Kraus‹Kraft.
Case on.

Surrogates' Court.

CHAMBERS—Cohalan, S.—At 10:30 A. M. Motion calendar:
Patrick Sheehy.
Clark W Dunlop.
Jacob Liebovitz.
Daniel R. Ambrose.
Max Flatauer.
Solomon Fischel.
John O'Sullivan.
Alexander Frankenstein.
Emanuel Josephowitz.
John B Flanagan.
Charlotte von der Lieth.
Mary A Stone.
Frank Turek.
Rebecca Alexander.
John D. Cahill.
Annie Kayes.
Sarah R Wolbarst.
Klein, infants.
Daly, infants.
Hannah M Hynes.
Mary Hogge, &c.
Patrick J Downey.
Patrick Sheehy.
Elizabeth S Kirby.
Foley, infants.
Johanna Harris.
Margaretha Kunkler.
Margaret Behr.
Catherine Hasslon.
Charlotte Heyman.
Anna E Wunderlich.
Reuben Eisenbiatt.
Joseph Silberstein.
Simon Siegel, &c.
Jake Wideletz.
Brady, infants.
Lloyd Weill.
William Oestman.
Feistel, infants.
Matilda Culver.
Joseph Jacobowitz.
Morris Herman.
Mary Regan.
Jacob Rubino.
Juliette C. Henderson.
Bertha Kahn.
Daniel Rosendorf.
George Keller.
John U. Fraley.
Christina Kronenberger.
Matthew J. Keeffe.
Peter Hartman.
Mary E. Tillinghast.
George J. Tyson.
Margaret Tyrrell.
Carolyn D Cornell.
Mary Saltzer.
William Kleinhaenz.
Emma Kelly.
Dr Louis Schaefer.
Giuseppe Gandolfo.
Simeone Raduzzi.
Stefano Zanlungbi.
Timothy Sullivan.
Elizabeth B Kirby.
Christine A Linderberger.
Morris Cooperman.
Rosa E Wetford.
Elizabeth M Bisney.
Adam Fahr.
Calixto Lopez.
Adolph Lowenthal.
Anna M C Peters.
Rodger Convery.
Patrick Deary.
Emanuel Danzer.
Wills for probate:
Ignace Gruber.
Mary A Maxwell.
Morris Raley.
William C Broughton.
Fanny Nathan.
Henry Borden.
Paul Pope.
Annie T. Sullivan.
Joseph Rupprecht.
Lewis E Oppenheimer.
Jacob H von Glahn.
James Phillips.
Rose Murray.
Joseph M Davenport.
David T Buckley.
Estate James W. Vickers.

TRIAL TERM—Fowler, J.—At 10:30 A. M. Contested wills.
Anna M Newton.

TRIAL TERM—Cohalan, S.—At 2 P. M. October term calendar, Contested wills
Adolfo & Cuno.

City Court.

SPECIAL TERM—Part I.—McAvoy, J.—At 10 A. M. Motions.
Boyce‹Boyce Fuel &c Co.
Guide Rity‹Higgins.
Moskowitz‹G'wich Bk.
Evens‹Childs.
Bernstein‹Funt.
Kerr‹Beals.
Wilson‹Bloom.
Elias‹B & B Glass.
Hildreth Varnish‹Sims
Fischer‹Gray.
Frank‹Viertals.
Dunloe Bldg Co‹Coayman.
Morris & Co‹C F Beef (2.)
Landman‹O'Connell.
Grosso‹Cary.
Maier‹Newman (2.)
Perdicaro‹Bradley Con
Lipschitz‹Levy.
Weiner‹Sit & Dairy Co
Molohos‹White.
Floretto‹P McG & Co.
Mendes‹Ellanem Co.
Mark‹Pletcher.
Lamont‹Johansen.
Fried Mendelson & Co ‹Jong Gon Son.
Young‹Friedman.
Heiman‹Riddle.
Giveen Mfg Co‹Rappaport.
Rosenthal‹Burman.
Civic‹same.
King‹Yellow Taxi.
Gold‹Warschauer Ben Socy.
Yang‹Lux Mfg Co.

PART II.—Schmuck, J.—Ex parte business at 10 A. M.

TRIAL TERMS.—Part I.—Ransom, J. At 9:45 A. M.
Mortarano‹B & O RR.
Goldstein‹N Y Rys.
Weed‹Constant.
Franks‹Subin.
D Mayer Brew‹Cryan.
Rappapopt‹Galiano.
Brunswick-B-C Co‹ Kerr.
Silberstein‹Roth.
Kaftan‹Goldstein.
Levine‹Shillaber.
Finkelman‹I R T.
Mont‹Naughton.
Coriess‹Bradley Cont.
Greiste‹Nov 20 W 17 St.
Charlton‹Bishop.
Elsenberg‹Rubin Bros.
Holmes‹Cooper.
Colwell N Mills‹ Feindlander.
Rosenfeld‹Lowell C.
Spencer‹Lee.
Iskowitz‹Goldberg's Sons.
Harris‹Ansonia S, &c.
Doermann‹Sholes T.
Di Carrado‹Northeast Con.
Chioppise‹Cranford.
Mendelsort‹NJ C Rty.
Siskin‹Potter.
Rosenberg‹Redner, (2 acts.)
Case on.

PART II.—Green, J.—At 10 A. M.
Sikorska‹O'Connor.
Nathan‹Behrman.
Weinberg‹High Grade Milk.
Cohen‹Schiff.
Southard‹Window Cnip.
Cappiello‹Sellano.
Lewis‹Cohen.
Kaffler‹Cohen (2 acts.)
Curtis‹Leslie.
Ruhe‹Pressure Ltg.
Shainman‹Jenkin.
Sullivan‹O'Brien.
Ray‹Montgomery Am.
Ashkenas‹Kasbin.
Plant‹Haff.
Hunter‹Harper.
Nugent‹Nugent.
Dearden‹Bluhdorn.
Mara‹Waldo.
Barnett‹Bradley.
Farrell‹Wills.
Murray‹Sager.
Rosenthal‹Rachlin.
Conway‹Farrish Co.
Conway‹Farrish Co.
La France‹CNY.
Murray‹Smith.

PART III.—La Fetra, J.—At 10 A. M.
Commercial calendar.
Martinelli Construction Bldg.
Raymond‹Augenblick.
Kugelman‹Kolinsky.
Leventritt‹Wilzin.
Security Bank‹Todd.
Tannenbaum‹Weschler.
Stanley Co‹N A C Co
Gatto‹Auction Co.
Schickerling‹Lipstein.
Plymouth Rubber‹ Rosenberg.
Barth‹Wilking.
Ruderman‹Block.
Gribbon‹Jacoby.
Applegate‹Cooper.
Fass‹Greenspan.
Ehrensall‹Davis.
Bauer‹Bauer.
Eisenstadt‹Schleneoff.
Marchesini‹Paraschandola.
Callegari‹Sartori.
Stewart‹Woeller.
People ex rel Clarke‹ Purdy.
People ex rel Halsey Invest Co‹same.
People ex rel Monroe Invest Co‹same.
Highest number reached, 1352.
Dibblee‹Dibblee.
Mansx‹O'Grady et al.
Anderson‹McClintic Marshall.
Toomey‹Nass RR.
Diamond‹Moore.
Mitinski‹Feinbloom.
Tresham & ano‹Miller
Zivaln‹Roodnitsky.

PART IV.—Lynch, J., clear; Part V., Finelite, J., case on; Part VI., Schmuck, J., case on; Part VII., Jaeger, J., case on; Part VIII., Smith, J., case on.

Referees Appointed.

SUPREME COURT—Davis, J. Sands‹Martin —James W Hyde, US Trust Co‹Crafty—John E McIntyre, Katz‹East 29th St Ry. Phoenix Ingraham, Jauss‹Erb—Nielson Olcott.
SUPREME COURT—Pendleton, J. Hognet‹Kirschberg—John P Dunn. Met Life Ins Co‹Peipers-E L Herrold. Re Green Purchasing Co—John P Dunn.

Receivers Appointed.

SUPREME COURT—Pendleton, J. Greenwich Sav Bk‹William C Runyan—John H. Snell, William Schmidt—Moritz Weintraub—Henry Schumacher & Sons.
SUPREME COURT—Blanchard, J. Edward L. Coster‹Bertha Kaufman—John J Mackin. Harry Blauner‹Wallach Reisler—John J Mackin. Margaret E Griffith‹Sutton Doctor—John J Mackin.

KINGS COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

APPELLATE DIVISION—Jenks, P.J.; Burr, Thomas, Rich, Stapleton, JJ.—Enumerated day calendar at 10 A. M.
De Kalb Co‹Madison Theatre.
Brennan‹Queens Pow.
Flood‹Duval.
Gaffney‹CNY.
Hays‹Griffing.
Grieco‹Peterson.
Scherer‹B H RR.
Peters‹Kelsey.
Empire Tr‹Coleman.
Sherman‹Jubke.
Goodhue‹Pennell.
Russell‹B'klyn Eagle.

SPECIAL TERM—Part I.—Benedict, J.—Motions at 10 A. M.
Storch‹Storch.
Kaplan‹Stark.
Landau‹Stahn.
McGuire‹L I R R.
Remsen‹same.
Flaherty‹same.
Borough Bank‹Reynolds.
Taber‹Stephens.
Same‹Attwood.
Hovell‹Reid.
Same‹same.
Salit‹Kraus.
Pao‹Edlestein.
Koch‹Ehlinger.
Mahoney‹S I R R.
Trenhaus‹Miller.
Thul‹Manhattan F S D & D Co.
Farrell‹Gillespie Co.
Golden‹Oxfeld.
Volpe‹same.
Burgess Bros‹Larthe.
Ketchum‹Ketcham.
Peo‹Goldner.
Roswell‹Roswell.
Glickstein‹Glickstein.
Weinstein‹B'klyn A &
Same‹same.
Re Etna A & L Co, (Mooney.)
Slavin‹Hogan.
Eyler‹Dalton & Co.
Baruch‹Loeasso.
Moulton‹McAllister.
Dileo‹Stark.
Maitese‹N Y Ry.
Weiss‹same.
Same‹same.
Doreck‹same.
Herzberg‹same.
Boyle‹same.
Morhous‹same.
Caruso‹Price.
Berenson‹Friedman.
Nally‹Meierdiercks
Maloney‹B'klyn M D Term Co.
Sudsinski‹Oxley.
Krapp‹S & L Coal.
Feiertag‹Evans.

PART II.—Jaycox, J.—Ex parts at 10 A. M.

PART III.—Kapper, J.—Trials at 10 A. M.
McCafferty‹O'Connor.
McGarry Co‹Ch of St Stanislaus.
Hanf‹Hanf.
Dicker‹Sagalowitz.
Johnson‹Johnson.
Downs‹Downs.
Miner‹Paerdegat Hts.
McMahon‹Schwencke Land.
Levitz‹Lovitz.
Schlenoff‹Schlenoff.
Marchesini‹Paraschandola.
Callegari‹Sartori.
Stewart‹Woeller.
People ex rel Clarke‹ Purdy.
People ex rel Halsey Invest Co‹same.
People ex rel Monroe Invest Co‹same.
Highest number reached, 1352.
People ex rel Madison Theatre‹same.
Schmidt‹Schmidt.
Ambrosio‹Catapano.
Bolger‹Retallack.
Gillespie‹Gillespie.
Schroeder‹Carroll.
Jenkins‹Jenkins.
Rich‹Bleistift.
Wishart‹Rider.
Glotstein‹Glotstein.
Shlebbert‹Schlebbert et al
Judson‹Edwards.
Kranz‹Kranz.
Catalano‹Thomson.
Beck‹Beck.
Dempsey‹O'Rourke.
Goldfinger‹Gerstein.
Rototo‹Olivieri.
Hamel‹H & G Dairy.
Aaronson‹Aaronson.

TRIAL TERM.—Part I., Blackmar, J.; Part II., Maddox, J.; Part III., Manning, J.; Part IV., Crain, J.; Part VI., Aspinall, J.; Part VII., Kelby, J.—At 10 A. M.
Friedlander Co‹Farshelsky Bros.
Elliott‹B H RR.
Jamison et al‹Hentz et al.
Gleason‹Hughes, (2 acts.)
Villmavica‹Jamison et al.
Bauman‹CNY & B Q Co & S RR.
Halloran‹CNY.
Daley‹Nas R R.
Mooney‹Bklyn Coops.
Lennon‹Scholl.
Kuehner‹B H RR.
Rafalovitz‹B H RR.
O'Brien‹Lissberger.
Tormey‹B H RR.
Pierce‹Willets.
Marx & Rawolle‹Am Druggists Synd.
Morton‹Wilmarth.
Union Bank‹Wilmurt.
Barracco‹Bono (2 acts.)
Epstein‹Zwirns (2 acts.)
Sgori‹B H RR.
Davidson‹Cameron.
Hawkins‹Nass RR (2 acts.)
McCoy‹Bliss Co.
Manss‹O'Grady et al.
Anderson‹McClintic Marshall.
Toomey‹Nass RR.
Diamond‹Moore.
Mitinski‹Feinbloom.
Tresham & ano‹Miller
Zivaln‹Roodnitsky.

PART IV.—Lynch, J.; clear; Part V., Finelite, J., case on; Part VI., Schmuck, J., case on; Part VII., Jaeger, J., case on; Part VIII., Smith, J., case on.

Referees Appointed.

SUPREME COURT—Davis, J. Sands‹Martin —James W Hyde, US Trust Co‹Crafty—John E McIntyre, Katz‹East 29th St Ry. Phoenix Ingraham, Jauss‹Erb—Nielson Olcott.
SUPREME COURT—Pendleton, J. Hognet‹Kirschberg—John P Dunn. Met Life Ins Co‹Peipers-E L Herrold. Re Green Purchasing Co—John P Dunn.

Receivers Appointed.

SUPREME COURT—Pendleton, J. Greenwich Sav Bk‹William C Runyan—John H. Snell, William Schmidt—Moritz Weintraub—Henry Schumacher & Sons.
SUPREME COURT—Blanchard, J. Edward L. Coster‹Bertha Kaufman—John J Mackin. Harry Blauner‹Wallach Reisler—John J Mackin. Margaret E Griffith‹Sutton Doctor—John J Mackin.

QUEENS COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

TRIAL TERM—Part I, Garretson, J.; Part II, Van Sicklen. At 10 A. M.
PART I—Motions.
PART II.—Naturalizations.
Remainder of calendar passed to Monday, Nov. 9.
Highest number reached 582.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

SPECIAL TERM—Tompkins, J.—Motions:
Camp‹Cossining.
People‹Roamer.
Antenrieth‹Lepechits.
Odell‹Fed Sugar.
Brown‹I R T.
McKenna‹Sherry.
Fink‹Fink.
McIntyre‹I R T.
Statler‹McFarlane.
Paternostra‹NYC RR.
Johnson‹Burroughs.
Conway‹Co. Dow.
Carcock‹Lawrence.
Merrick‹Merrick.
Richardson‹Hann.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Fair, pleasant weather continues in all districts, although there are preliminary indications of a change within the next three or four days. A barometric disturbance appears in the extreme Northwest, whose eastward advance in lower latitudes than formerly presages a change in the weather.

It is considerably colder in the Upper Ohio Valley, the Middle Atlantic States, and New England.

Except for some cloudiness, with sprinkles of rain in the lake region, fair weather is indicated for Friday and Saturday.

Temperature changes will be small.

Winds along the North Atlantic Coast will be fresh northwest Friday and Saturday; Middle Atlantic Coast, moderate west to northwest; South Atlantic Coast, fresh northwest to north.

FORECASTS TODAY AND SATURDAY.

Eastern New York, New Jersey, New England, and Eastern Pennsylvania—Fair Friday and Saturday.

Western New York—Partly cloudy Friday and Saturday.

The temperature record for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from the thermometer at the local office of the United States Weather Bureau, is as follows:

	1913.	1914.		1913.	1914.
3 A. M.	41	53	4 P. M.	55	52
6 A. M.	38	49	5 P. M.	53	50
9 A. M.	43	52	9 P. M.	47	49
12 M.	49	55	11 P. M.	46	48

This thermometer is 414 feet above the street level. The average temperature yesterday was 53; for the corresponding date last year it was 46; average on the corresponding date for the last thirty-three years, 48.

The temperature at 8 A. M. yesterday was 49; at 8 P. M. it was 50. Maximum temperature, 58 degrees at 1:10 P. M.; minimum, 48 degrees at 7 A. M. Humidity, 52 per cent. at 8 A. M.; 52 per cent. at 8 P. M.

The barometer at 8 A. M. yesterday registered 29.81 inches; at 8 P. M. it stood at 29.86 inches.

POLICE AND FIRE NEWS.

Police Department.

Transfers, to take effect 8 A. M., Nov. 6: Inspector C. F. Cahalane, 5 Insp. Dist., to 13 Insp. Dist.; Capts. J. S. Bolan, 89 Prect., to 5 Insp. Dist., assigned in command; E. I. Walsh, 13 Insp. Dist., to 14 Insp. Dist.; J. A. Brady, 7 to 89 Prect.; Lt. W. T. Davis, Com'rs office, to 145; Sergt., to take effect 4 P. M., Nov. 6: Bernard McGowan, 68, to 25; Patrol, to take effect 8 A. M., Nov. 6; Emil Krohn, 153, to 26; Thos. Logan, 39, to 96.

Temporary assignments: Lts. J. J. Langan, 17, to 7, for 10 days, from 8 A. M., Nov. 5; W. B Gilhooly, 22, to 74, for 11 days, from 12:01 A. M., Nov. 5; Patrol, Julius Scheidler, 7, to C. O., duty in Special Squad No. 3, for 10 days, from 8 A. M., Nov. 7; P. F. Ryan, 89, to Training School, for 28 days, from 8 A. M., Nov. 5; T. J. Connell, 68, to 7 Insp. Dist., for clerical duty, for 10 days, from 8 A. M., Nov. 5; Henry Barth, 4, to Det. Bu., for 10 days, from 4 P. M., Nov. 4; E. W. Weisner and G. T. Valentine, 29, to Det. Bu., for 5 days, from 2 P. M., Nov. 8; J. A. Donald, 285, to Det. Bu., for 10 days, from 4 P. M., Nov. 8. To Det. Bu. from prects. indicated, for 10 days, from 8 A. M., Nov. 8: William Reilly, 4; Thomas Mills, 5; J. F. Benner, 12; G. M. Peebles, 25; Walter Corbitt, 31; F. A. Mahoney, 35; Archibald Gamble, 40; H. S. Hand, 61; J. J. Clark, 65; J. J. McManus, 68; John Hines, 150; P. J. Whelan, Jr., 168; J. T. Dwyer, 279; J. E. Keily, 4; J. E. Franklin, 5; E. Gompers, 17; F. Leonard, 29. Charles Fried, 31; W. C. Johnson, 37; John Casey, 42; J. A. McIlharg, 61; F. W. Miller, 68; W. L. Ihnken, 90; C. C. Hemendinger, 155; J. A. Hurton, 276; J. Conway, 279.

Assignment discontinued: Capt. J. A. Conboy, 22, in command 14th Insp. Dist., from 8 A. M., Nov. 6.

Leaves with pay: Capts. Lincoln Gray, 26, for 5 days, from 12 P. M., Nov. 5, to be deducted from vacation. J. F. O'Connor, 170, for 5 days, from 12 P. M., Nov. 5, to be deducted from vacation. Without pay: Patrol, T. L. England, 2, for 1 day, from 12 P. M., Nov. 4; J. McGurn, 68, for 1 day, from 10 P. M., Nov. 15; T. F. Reilly, Health Squad, for 5 days, from 8 A. M., Nov. 22.

Restored to duty: Patrol, Jost Ruth, 13, to take effect 10:01 A. M., Nov. 4.

Suspended from duty: Patrol, Jost Ruth, 13, to take effect 10:03 A. M., Nov. 4; Owen Rudden, 160, to take effect 12:40 P. M., Nov. 4.

Dismissed from the dept. to take effect 4:15 P. M., Nov. 4: Patrol, E. E. Ittner, 2, conduct unbecoming an officer: Accepted money, G. Hinchbeck, 8 neglect of duty and violation of the rules; absent from school crossing; conduct unbecoming an officer and violation of the rules; intoxicated.

Amendment so much of Sp. No. 255, c. s., as transfers Patrol, Charles Daly to 278 is amended to read: from 153.

Revocation: So much of S. O. No. 255, c. s., as transfers Patrol, P. C. Manning to 152 from 28 is revo

High-Grade
Investment Securities

Knauth·Nachod & Kühne
New York·· Leipzig

At the Present Time
We are selling selected first mortgages on Kings and Queens County improved properties with our guaranties of payment of principal and interest to net
5½%
Small or large amounts to meet your needs. OUR RECORD: Millions sold with no loss to any investor.
HOME TITLE INSURANCE Co. OF NEW YORK
OFFICES { 383 Jay St., Brooklyn, N. Y. / Post Office Building, Jamaica.
Capital, Surplus and Profits over $1,000,000

Direct Private Wires
TO ALL
Grain Markets
MEMBERS
CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
LOGAN & BRYAN
NO. 2, BOARD OF TRADE, CHICAGO.
115 BROADWAY
Phone 1960 Rector New York

We Specialize in United Cigar Stores Co. of America
Circular on application.
Bamberger, Loeb & Co.
25 BROAD ST., N. Y. Phone 5500-5501 Broad.

The Royal Bank of Canada
Invites Enquiries in Regard to Every Description of Banking Business in Canada AND THE West Indies
London Branch, 2 Bank Building, Princess St., E. C.
NEW YORK AGENCY, Cor. William and Cedar Sts.

Union Pacific R.R. Warrants
Bought—Sold—Quoted
WILLIAM D. SHIVERS
Rector 8169. One Wall St.

SUGAR STOCKS
TOBACCO STOCKS
INSURANCE STOCKS
POWDER SECURITIES
STANDARD OIL STOCKS
BANK & TRUST CO. STOCKS
Inactive and Unlisted Stocks and Bonds.
J.K.Rice,Jr.&Co.
Phones 4001 to 4010 John. 36 Wall St., N. Y.

AMERICAN LITHOGRAPHIC CO.
(Preferred)
(New Jersey Securities)
B. H. & F. W. PELZER
Members New York Stock Exchange
Phone 4087 Bread. 10-12 Broadway, N. Y.

W. N. COLER & CO., BANKERS.
Established 1870.
43 CEDAR STREET, NEW YORK CITY.
NEW YORK CITY and other high grade municipal bonds.
Special circulars on request.

CHARTERED 1864
UNION TRUST CO. OF NEW YORK
80 BROADWAY.
Fifth Ave. & 33th St. Fifth Ave. & 60th St.
Capital & Surplus, $8,300,000.
Allows Interest on Deposits.

DIVIDENDS.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE American Cotton Oil Company, on November 5, 1914, declared a semi-annual dividend of three per cent. upon the Preferred Stock of the Company, payable December 1, 1914, at the Banking House of Lazard Freres & Co., 59 Cedar Street, New York City. The Stock Transfer Books of the Company will be closed on November 12, 1914, at 3 P. M., and will remain closed until December 4, 1914, at 10 A. M.
JUSTUS E. RALPH, Secretary.

WHITE KNOB COPPER AND DEVELOPMENT COMPANY, LIMITED,
43 Cedar St., New York City.
A dividend of Twenty-five ($.25) Cents a share on the preferred stock has been declared, payable on November 25th, 1914, to the stockholders of record at the close of business on the 10th day of November, 1914, upon receipt of a dividend order.
Dated New York, October 20th, 1914.
MARK M. SALOMON, Treasurer.

HOMESTAKE MINING COMPANY.
San Francisco, November 4th, 1914.
DIVIDEND NO. 490.
The Board of Directors has today declared a monthly dividend of sixty-five (65) cents per share, payable November 25th, 1914, to stockholders of record at the close of business November 20th, 1914. Checks will be mailed by Columbia Trust Company, Dividend Disbursing Agent.
FRED. CLARK, Secretary.

Jumbo Extension Mining Company
Goldfield, Nevada, Oct. 29th, 1914.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Jumbo Extension Mining Company, a dividend of Five Cents (5c.) per share on the capital stock of this Company was declared payable December 15th to stockholders of record November 20th.
BEN GILL, Sec'y.

THE BUTTERICK COMPANY.
Butterick Building.
New York City, November 5th, 1914.
The Board of Directors of this Company has this day declared a Dividend of three-quarters of one per cent. on its capital stock outstanding, payable on December 1st, 1914, to stockholders of record on November 16th, 1914, at three o'clock P. M.
C. D. WILDER, Treasurer.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Investment Demand Broadening—The Need of an Open Money Market.

Investment demand is broadening concurrently with the easing in money rates which is now manifesting itself in so many ways. The movement for the retirement of additional currency put out in August and September and the first part of October is now in full swing. There is such pressure of funds that the belief is prevalent in banking circles that even the present 6 per cent. rate will not be long maintained and financial institutions are making investment in high-grade short-term paper at prices yielding considerably less than that rate. Indeed, some of the highest grade short-term securities are now selling on a 5 per cent. basis and banking acceptances are selling on a basis as low as 4½ per cent. One or two institutions lowered to 6 per cent. yesterday the great majority of their standing call loans, which was still another indication of the general recognition that present conditions are making for an easier money market.

The evidence of a broadening investment demand apart from that supplied by the active inquiry for short-term high-grade securities was furnished by the appearance in the bond market yesterday of savings banks which had not lately been buyers of bonds. The purchases in these quarters were not large measured by old standards, but they furnished an indication of new demand in an important investment quarter. This particular buying included municipal issues, but extended also to certain high-grade railroad bonds.

The progress of the bond market recently has been such that important banking opinion is now ranged in favor of the resumption of public trading in bonds. This view finds expression in a suggestion made yesterday that the Stock Exchange should without further delay reopen for trading in bonds and also for the re-establishment to the extent to which that is possible of an open market in call money such as ordinarily is maintained on the Stock Exchange. With a proper recognition in banking circles of the inadvisability of hurrying the repayment of existing call loans, both of these steps, it would appear, could be taken to the advantage of the situation as a whole. The fact that there is now a large amount of trading in bonds shows that business can be done in these issues without adversely affecting the situation, and there is no doubt that good results could flow from the re-establishment of an open call money market. That would speedily have the effect of liquefying a large amount of funds which are now invested in call loans on securities and which under existing conditions are altogether immobile. The re-establishment of the call money market would no doubt be an important factor in further reducing money rates and while a too sudden decline would hardly be desirable the downward tendency would stimulate the retirement of outstanding circulation.

The news from Washington that the conclusion had been reached in the conferences there that no further emergency measures were now needed to deal with the foreign exchange situation was in keeping with the tendencies which have clearly manifested themselves of late. It has become more and more clear that this problem was solving itself to a large extent. So greatly have conditions changed since the first few days after the outbreak of the war that our bankers are now finding themselves in a position to anticipate their obligations on the other side, indeed, are encountering unwillingness in some quarters of the English market to accept prepayment of these obligations, so abundant has money become in London. One phase of the English money market at the moment is reflected in the weekly statement of the Bank of England which yesterday showed the remarkable gain of more than $35,000,000 in gold for the week. This presumably included a large sum received from Russia to which reference was made in our London cables at the beginning of the week. This being the present attitude of the London market it ought not to be difficult to arrange in the ordinary course of business for the extension of maturing bank obligations if such renewals are in some cases sought by American borrowers. Official estimates now indicate that our credit trade balance for last month was in the neighborhood of $60,000,000, compared with about $16,000,000 in September, and with an advance balance in preceding months. Such a strong drift in our favor solves a large part of our international exchange problem.

BANK OF ENGLAND.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes:

Total reserve increased	£7,184,000
Circulation increased	417,000
Bullion increased	7,601,878
Other securities increased	36,000
Other deposits decreased	18,556,000
Public deposits decreased	8,543,000
Notes reserve increased	7,161,000
Government securities decreased	2,223,000

The proportion of the Bank's reserve to liability this week is 33.42 per cent; last week it was 29.79 per cent.
Rate of discount, 5 per cent.

BANK OF GERMANY.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—The statement, of the Imperial Bank of Germany for the week ended Oct. 31 shows the following changes:

	Marks.
Emergency notes and notes of other banks increased	145,470,000
Discounts and treasury notes decreased	155,136,000
Lombards increased	8,388,000
Banknote circulation increased	202,884,000
Deposits decreased	240,563,000
Gold increased	30,229,000

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The railroads reporting so far for the fourth week of October show these aggregated changes in gross earnings, those reporting gains and those reporting losses being given separately:

Three roads	$2,716,103	+ $90,461
Ten roads	8,638,420	— 3,222,430
Total (13 roads)	11,354,523	— 3,131,969

The railroads that have so far reported for the month of September make the following showing in their gross and net returns, those showing increases and those showing losses being given separately:

GROSS.

23 roads	$74,278,895	+$3,718,492
41 roads	147,905,029	—14,246,842
Total (64 roads)	222,283,724	— 8,531,350

NET.

26 roads	$37,276,916	+$3,716,053
38 roads	64,583,681	— 6,025,137
Total (64 roads)	101,860,597	— 2,309,084

CHICAGO & ALTON for September—

	1914.	1913.	Decrease.
Mileage	1,083	1,083	.....
Gross	1,807,854	1,898,476	90,621
Net aft. taxes	827,546	828,050	505
3 mos. gross	3,915,853	4,218,644	302,790
Net aft. taxes	1,047,349	1,067,185	19,836

CHICAGO, BURLINGTON & QUINCY for September—

	1914.	1913.	1912.
Mileage	9,263	9,129	9,075
Gross	8,579,804	9,055,734	8,606,810
Net aft. taxes	3,054,970	3,165,260	3,486,657
3 mos. gross	25,183,259	26,024,284	24,892,218
Net aft. taxes	8,656,128	8,686,075	8,480,584

CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS for September—

	1914.	1913.	Increase.
Mileage	1,282	1,282	.....
Gross	1,277,966	1,478,600	*195,983
Net aft. taxes	717,814	788,086	820,906
Other inc.	93,837	107,486	90,434
Total inc.	811,151	844,171	911,340
Sur. aft. chg.	206,967	259,326	384,813
Ren. & sk. fd.	20,000	20,000	20,000
Surplus	186,967	239,326	364,813
3 mos. gross	6,381,747	6,793,670	6,713,840
Net aft. taxes	1,654,687	1,703,045	1,957,942
Other inc.	296,081	321,086	260,453
Total inc.	1,949,717	2,024,081	2,118,394
Sur. aft. chg.	170,408	301,488	581,630
Ren. & sk. fd.	*78,085	68,797	50,000
Surplus	97,412	232,642	531,630

FORT WORTH & DENVER CITY for September—

	1914.	1913.	Increase.
Mileage	454	454	.....
Gross	433,298	440,327	*7,029
Net aft. taxes	133,261	90,843	42,417
3 mos. gross	1,307,109	1,321,010	*13,901
Net aft. taxes	371,242	277,238	94,003

*Decrease.

GREAT NORTHERN for September—

	1914.	1913.	1912.
Mileage	8,038	7,748	7,487
Gross	8,081,032	8,834,453	7,557,936
Net aft. taxes	4,338,192	4,053,822	3,533,623
3 mos. gross	21,838,134	23,643,334	20,902,933
Net aft. taxes	10,457,221	9,713,249	8,855,089

MINNEAPOLIS & ST. LOUIS for September—

Gross	975,008	906,054	926,409
Net aft. taxes	312,019	290,212	298,508
Oth. inc. (deb.)	27,204	30,980	8,988
Total income	284,815	259,232	289,520
3 mos. gross	2,664,454	2,467,294	2,487,937
Net aft. taxes	784,018	707,090	727,547
Oth. inc. (deb.)	61,367	38,986	18,967
Total income	722,151	668,104	708,580

NASHVILLE, CHATTANOOGA & ST. LOUIS for September—

Mileage	1,231	1,231	1,231
Gross	909,055	1,064,308	1,079,098
Net aft. taxes	113,528	204,748	228,789
3 mos. gross	2,986,707	3,157,219	3,221,500
Net aft. taxes	452,659	507,499	631,335

ST. LOUIS, IRON MOUNTAIN & SOUTHERN for September—

	1914.	1913.	Decrease.
Gross	$2,570,190	2,779,390	209,200
Net aft. taxes	706,260	798,428	92,198
Other income	88,196	70,961	2,735
Total income	774,456	869,350	94,904
Surp. and chgs.	54,999	161,065	106,066
Gross, 3 mos.	8,040,720	8,325,779	285,059
Net aft. taxes	2,245,237	2,410,744	165,507
Other income	201,810	194,034	*7,776
Total income	2,447,047	2,604,778	157,730
Sur. aft. chgs.	269,720	496,166	226,447

*Increase.

ST. LOUIS SOUTHWESTERN for September—

	1914.	1913.	1912.
Gross	881,161	1,127,344	1,118,964
Net aft. taxes	126,898	266,216	279,983
Other income	99,760	82,897	88,141
Total income	226,658	349,113	466,327
Def. aft. chgs.	56,741	*97,437	*241,846
Gross, 3 mos.	2,761,471	3,287,063	3,275,734
Net aft. taxes	464,789	736,097	1,025,121
Other income	265,045	254,776	206,632
Total income	729,814	1,000,872	1,235,753
Def. aft. chgs.	80,515	*249,738	*559,276

*Surplus.

WABASH-PITTSBURGH TERMINAL for September—

	1914.	1913.	Decrease.
Gross	92,196	105,543	13,347
Net aft. taxes	23,611	28,034	4,422
Gross, 3 mos.	271,393	293,504	22,111
Net aft. taxes	62,511	67,806	5,297

WESTERN PACIFIC for September—

	1914.	1913.	1912.
Gross	596,988	635,762	593,780
Net	132,139	152,187	209,027
Gross, 3 mos.	1,712,001	1,917,810	1,635,059
Net	321,310	478,582	461,683

Miscellaneous Earnings.

CRUCIBLE STEEL CO. OF AMERICA for the year ended Aug. 31—

	1914.	1913.	1912.
Net profit	$1,013,039	$4,905,886	$3,424,996
Dividends	1,750,000	1,750,000	1,750,000
Deficit	734,961	3,155,886	1,674,996

MOLINE PLOW CO. for the year ended July 31, compared with thirteen months ended July 31, 1913—

	Year End. July 31,'14.	13 Ms. End. July 31,'13.
Gross sales	$12,748,182	$14,450,839
Op. exp., depr. & reprs	11,977,173	12,822,974
Net income	771,009	1,627,865
Int. on bills payable	132,169	172,025
Balance	638,840	1,454,901
Previous surplus	1,779,042	.....
Total surplus	2,417,882	.....
Preferred dividends	615,000	.....
Com. dividend (cash)	540,291	.....
Com. dividend (stock)	500,000	.....
Profit and loss surplus	762,591	.....

NEW YORK DOCK CO. for the year ended June 30—

	1914.	1913.	1912.
Gross	$1,723,830	$1,648,259	$1,637,202
Expenses	741,481	707,914	646,291
Net	981,849	940,345	990,912
Net df. RR. dp.	38,068	*2,452	*10,266
Total income	943,781	942,797	1,001,178
Int. & taxes	870,692	847,590	856,855
Surplus	73,088	95,207	144,317
Preferred div.	.....	.....	100,000
Surplus	73,088	95,207	44,317

*Surplus.

BOSTON CURB MARKET.

Following were the sales on Boston Curb yesterday.

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
100	Bay State Gas	8c	8c	8c	8c
500	Butte & London	11c	11c	11c	11c
350	Crown Reserve	94c	94c	94c	94c
350	Davis-Daly	56c	56c	56c	56c
600	First National	73c	75c	73c	75c
300	Goldfield Con	95c	95c	95c	95c
50	Houghton	1c	1c	1c	1c
510	Jumbo Extens	45c	46c	45c	46c
150	La Rose	70c	70c	70c	70c
100	Lion Hill	10c	10c	10c	10c
100	M. & M. Metals	15c	15c	15c	15c
100	Ohio Copper	6c	8c	6c	8c
100	Old Dom. trctfs.	5½c	5½c	5½c	5½c
200	Trethewey	13c	13c	12c	12c
500	Tonopah Belm't.	4¾c	4¾c	4¾c	4¾c
400	United Verde	90c	90c	90c	90c

Following are the closing bid and asked prices:

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Alavero	.70	.90	Jumbo Ex.	.46	.47
Atl. G'f'd.	.18	.20	La Rose	.70	.72
Bay S. G.	.07	.08	Majestic	.08	.12
Begole	.25	.75	Mex. Met.	.14	.16
Bohemia	1¼	1⅜	McK. Con.	.41	.43
Bost. Ely	.16	.20	M. of Am.	2¾	2¾
Butte & L.	.10	.15	Nev. Doug.	.45	.53
Calaveras	.93	.95	New Balt.	.50	.60
Chief Con.	.80	.87	Ohio Cop.	.06	.08
Cons. Cop.	5⅝	5¾	So. Lake	1⅝	2¼
Cr. Res.	.93	.96	St'w't M.	1	1 1-16
Davis-D.	.50	.56	Ton. Min.	6¼	6½
Eagle and Blue Bell	.80	.81	Ton. Bel.	4¾	4¾
1st N. Con.	.72	.78	Ton. Ext.	2¾	2¾
G'f'd Con.	.90	.95	Ton. Mer.	.26	.27
G'f'd M.	.16	.17	Ton. W. E.	.55	.57
Houghton	.50	.51	Un. Verde	.95	1
Ir. Blos.	1 1-16	1¼	U. Fr. Sh.	8¼	8¾
			Yukon G.	1¾	2

SHORT TERM NOTES.

Security and Rate.	Due.	Bid.	Asked.	Yield.
Amalgamated Copper Co., 5%	Mar. 15, 1915	99⅝	99¾	5.50
American Locomotive Co., 5%	July, 1915	99½	100	5.00
American Tel. & Tel. Sub., 5%	Apr., 1916	99¼	99½	5.80
American Tobacco Scrip, 6%	Sept., 1916	100	100⅛	5.40
Baltimore & Ohio R. R., 4½%	June, 1915	99¼	99⅜	5.25
Bethlehem Steel Co., 6%	June 11, 1915	99⅜	99⅝	6.25
Chicago & Western Indiana R. R., 5%	Sept., 1915	93	98	7.00
Chicago Elevated Ry., 5%	Aug., 1915		98	6.25
Consolidated Gas Co. 6%	June, 1915	100¼	100 11-16	4.80
Erie R. R., 5%	Apr., 1915	99½	98	10.00
Erie R. R., 5%	Oct., 1915	99⅞	57¼	7.50
Erie R. R., 6½%	Apr., 1917	92	96	7.15
General Motor Co., 6%	Oct., 1915	99¾	100	8.00
General Rubber Co., 4½%	Oct. 12, 1915	99¾	100	6.00
Harlem River & Port. R. R., 5%	May, 1915	90	96	13.00
Hocking Valley Ry., 6%	Nov., 1915	99	99¼	6.50
International Harvester Co., 5%	Feb. 15, 1915	99½	100	5.00
Lackawanna Steel Co., 5%	Mar., 1915	94	98	17.00
Michigan Central R. R., 4½%	Mar. 2, 1915	98	...	...
Montreal Tramways & Power Co., 6%	Apr., 1915	...	99½	5.40
New England Navigation Co., 6%	May, 1917	89	96	8.10
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 6%	Apr., 1915	99¾	99½	6.50
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 4½%	May, 1915	98¾	99¾	6.00
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 6%	Sept. 15, 1915	98	98⅝	6.50
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 5%	Oct., 1915	97½	98¼	6.50
N. Y., N. H. & Hartford R. R., 6%	May, 1915	99	99⅛	15.00
Pacific Gas & Electric Co., 5%	Mar. 25, 1915	99	100	6.00
Pennsylvania R. R. conv., 3½%	Oct., 1915	98⅝	98⅝	5.05
Public Service Corporation of N. J., 5%	Mar., 1915	99½	98	6.55
Seaboard Air Line Ry., 5%	Mar., 1916	97	98	5.80
Southern Railway, 6%	Sept., 1916	97	98	5.85
Southern Railway, 5%	Mar., 1917	95	97	6.50
Sulzberger & Sons, 6%	June, 1916	98	99	6.65
Union Typewriter Co., 6%	Jan. 15, 1916	99	99½	6.35
United Fruit Co., 6%	May, 1917	99¾	100	6.00
Utah Company, 6%	Apr., 1917	98	99	6.50

New York City Notes.

New York City, 6%	Sept., 1915	101	101¼	4.00
New York City, 6%	Sept., 1916	102	102¼	4.75
New York City, 6%	Sept., 1917	103¾	103¾	4.75

FINDS TENSION RELAXING.

Controller Reports More Loanable Funds and Steady Improvement.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—John Skelton Williams, Controller of the Currency, in a formal statement to-night, said that reports from all parts of the country indicated a relaxation of financial tension and progress toward normal conditions. The statement follows:

"The Controller of the Currency reports the receipt of further replies, in addition to those already published, to his inquiries as to the amount of clearing house loan certificates at present outstanding in certain principal cities, as follows:

"Indianapolis, Milwaukee, St. Joseph, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Houston, Fort Worth, Birmingham, Charleston, and Columbia, S. C., report that their clearing houses have issued no certificates and that there are, therefore, none outstanding.

"Buffalo, St. Paul, Columbus, Ohio, Portland, Oregon, Galveston, Savannah, and Nashville all report no clearing house loan certificates outstanding.

"In New York the clearing house loan certificates have already been materially reduced and are being gradually retired. St. Louis, amount still outstanding, about $2,500,000. Boston reports less than $10,000,000 outstanding, and almost all of these still held by the banks to which they were originally issued. In Philadelphia amount outstanding less than $8,000,000, and these being daily paid off. Baltimore, about 100,000 now outstanding. Louisville, less than $1,300,000. In Detroit, $1,200,000 authorized, but never used, and these to be promptly cancelled.

"The reports coming to the Controller's office from all sections of the country indicate an emphatic relaxation of financial tension, an increasing supply of loanable funds, and steady and uninterrupted progress toward normal conditions."

CONTROLLER'S VIEW NOT HIS Interest Rate a Matter for Bank Officials, Says Woodward.

William Woodward, President of the Hanover National Bank, who is also a Director of the Federal Reserve Bank, was asked yesterday to comment on the fact that Controller of the Currency Williams's list of national banks in this city having no call loans at more than 6 per cent did not carry the names of the Hanover, First National and Liberty National.

"There is nothing special to say," said Mr. Woodward. "Proper banking requires that rates governing loans should be in the hands of the officers who are familiar with the credit of borrowers and special conditions surrounding specific loans. I regret that the Controller does not seem to view it that way."

Officers of the other two banks declined to discuss the matter. Controller Williams said that one of the banks reported only four call loans at more than 6 per cent. and one of the other two that it was charging 6 per cent. on all loans except certain special loans.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Call money; new loans, 5&6 per cent.; according to terms; standing loans, 6@3 per cent.

Time money, 6 per cent. bid for sixty and ninety days, 5¾@6 per cent. for four months and 5½@6 per cent. for five and six months. Mercantile paper was quoted at 6@6½ per cent. for the best names.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE RATES.

Cable and Sight Rates.

	High.	Low.	Last.
Demand sterling	$4.90¾	$4.90	$4.90¾
Cable sterling	4.90¾	4.90¾	4.90¾

CLOSING RATES.

	Demand.	Cable.
London	$4.90¾	$4.90¾
Paris	5.12	5.11
Berlin	88⅝	88½
Switzerland	5.18	5.17
Italy	5.36	5.35
Holland	.40⅝	.41

New York Clearing House exchanges, $251,784,520; balances, $19,002,976. Sub-Treasury debit balance, $437,540.

The local banks have lost $7,341,000 on their Sub-Treasury operations since Friday.

Exchange on New York at domestic centres: Boston, par; Chicago, par; St. Louis, 35c premium; San Francisco, 50c premium; Minneapolis, 30c premium; Cincinnati, 25c premium; Montreal, $1.87½ premium.

SILVER QUOTATIONS.

Bar Silver in London, $23d, up 5-16d; in New York, 49¾c, up ⅝c.

MINING STOCK QUOTATIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Alta	.04	Julia	.01
Andes	.03	Justice	.02
Belcher	.70	Mexican	.35
Best & Belcher	.04	Occidental Con.	.85
Caledonia	.42	Ophir	.63
Con. Cal. & Va.	.04	Seg. Belcher	.01
Crown Point	.30	Sierra Nevada	.09
Gould & Curry	.01	Union Con.	.08
Hale & Norcross	.03	Utah Con.	.01
TONOPAH.		C. O. D.	.03
Jim Butler	.65	Comb. Fract.	.04
McNamara	.02	D'field Daisy	.02
Midway	.06	D'field Black B.	.02
Mizpah Exten.	.20	Florence	.27
Montana	.89	G'field Con. M.	.92
North Star	.15	G'field Merger	.16
Rescue Eula	.06	Jumbo Exten.	.48
Tonopah Extens.	2.35	Silver Pick	.03
Tonopah Merger	.25	Vernal	.04
West End	.58	Nevada Hills	.29
GOLDFIELD.		Round Mountain	.20
Atlanta	.19	MANHATTAN.
Booth	.02	Manhattan Con.	.02

COLORADO.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Dr. J'pot.	6	7	Jackpot	5	5½
Elkton	42½	43½	McKinney	38	41
El Paso	85	118	Old Gold	1	2
Findlay		2	Portland	102	104½
Gold Dol.	2	4	Vindicator	109	112
Isabella	10⅝	11⅜	R. B. H.	2	4

TREASURY STATEMENT.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Receipts and expenditures for Nov. 3:

	Nov. 3.	Month.	Fiscal year.
Customs	$823,889	$26,092	$76,741,483
Ordinary	719,991	1,687,971	109,490,781
Cor. & inc. tax	8,803	25,705	8,497,286
Miscellaneous	145,741	176,712	28,817,189
Total	1,479,628	2,714,278	223,546,631
Expenditures	1,612,095	5,094,128	267,206,901
Deficit	32,466	2,379,849	43,662,269

SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION.

The Franklin Society 4½%
Founded 1833. Under Banking Law. War cannot affect securities. Savings share accounts of $10 or more opened on or before Nov. 30th earn from Dec. 1st. Begin now or write for details. A. 38 Park Row, New York City.

PROPOSALS.

SEALED BIDS WILL BE RECEIVED BY the Board of Water Supply, at its offices, Twenty-fifth floor, Municipal Building, Park Row, Centre and Chambers Streets, New York City, until 11 A. M. on Tuesday, November 10, 1914, for Contract 165—for the construction of the Moodna Siphon Supplementary Shaft and Tunnel of the Catskill Aqueduct. The shaft will be about 400 feet deep, and will be sunk from an existing tunnel 370 feet from the surface of the ground. The tunnel will be about 900 feet long. Both will be in solid rock, will be lined with concrete, and will have a finished diameter of about 14 feet. The work is near the west shore of the Hudson River in the town of Cornwall, Orange County, New York.

In the performance of this contract time will be deemed of the essence thereof, and the provision for liquidated damages will be enforced.

At the above place and time the bids will be publicly opened and read. Pamphlets containing information for bidders and contract drawings may be obtained at the above address, at the office of the Secretary, by depositing the sum of ten dollars ($10) in cash or its equivalent for each pamphlet. For further particulars apply to the office of the Principal Assistant Engineer at the above address.

CHARLES STRAUSS, President.
CHARLES N. CHADWICK,
JOHN F. GALVIN,
Commissioners of the Board of Water Supply.
W. BRUCE COBB, Secretary.

WASHINGTON, D. C., NOV. 2, 1914.—Sealed proposals, in triplicate, will be received in the office of the Quartermaster General of the Army, Washington, D. C., until 2 o'clock P. M., Dec. 2, 1914, and then opened, for furnishing and delivering note paper, printing paper, and wrapping papers at the places named in Schedule No. 3. Apply to Depot Quartermaster, 39 Whitehall St., New York City, or Quartermaster General, U. S. Army, Washington, D. C., for information.

SHORT TERM NOTES.

Security and Rate.	Due.	Bid.	Asked.	Yield.
Amalgamated Copper Co., 5%	Mar. 15, 1915	99⅝	99¾	5.50
American Locomotive Co., 5%	July, 1915	99½	100	5.00
American Tel. & Tel. Sub., 5%	Apr., 1916	99¼	99½	5.80
American Tobacco Scrip, 6%	Sept., 1916	100	100⅛	5.40
Baltimore & Ohio R. R., 4½%	June, 1915	99¼	99⅜	5.25
Bethlehem Steel Co., 6%	June 11, 1915	99⅜	63¼	6.25
Chicago & Western Indiana R. R., 5%	Sept., 1915	93	98	7.00
Chicago Elevated Ry., 5%	Aug., 1915		98	6.25
Consolidated Gas Co. 6%	June, 1915	100¼	100 11-16	4.80
Erie R. R., 5%	Apr., 1915	99½	98	10.00
Erie R. R., 5%	Oct., 1915	99⅞	57¼	7.50
Erie R. R., 6½%	Apr., 1917	92	96	7.15
General Motor Co., 6%	Oct., 1915	99¾	100	8.00
General Rubber Co., 4½%	Oct. 12, 1915	99¾	100	6.00
Harlem River & Port. R. R., 5%	May, 1915	90	96	13.00
Hocking Valley Ry., 6%	Nov., 1915	99	99¼	6.50
International Harvester Co., 5%	Feb. 15, 1915	99½	100	5.00
Lackawanna Steel Co., 5%	Mar., 1915	94	98	17.00
Michigan Central R. R., 4½%	Mar. 2, 1915	98	...	...
Montreal Tramways & Power Co., 6%	Apr., 1915	...	99½	5.40
New England Navigation Co., 6%	May, 1917	89	96	8.10
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 6%	Apr., 1915	99¾	99½	6.50
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 4½%	May, 1915	98¾	99¾	6.00
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 6%	Sept. 15, 1915	98	98⅝	6.50
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 5%	Oct., 1915	97½	98¼	6.50
N. Y., N. H. & Hartford R. R., 6%	May, 1915	99	99⅛	15.00
Pacific Gas & Electric Co., 5%	Mar. 25, 1915	99	100	6.00
Pennsylvania R. R. conv., 3½%	Oct., 1915	98⅝	98⅝	5.05
Public Service Corporation of N. J., 5%	Mar., 1916	99½	98	6.55
Seaboard Air Line Ry., 5%	Mar., 1916	97	98	5.80
Southern Railway, 6%	Sept., 1916	97	98	5.85
Southern Railway, 5%	Mar., 1917	95	97	6.50
Sulzberger & Sons, 6%	June, 1916	98	99	6.65
Union Typewriter Co., 6%	Jan. 15, 1916	99	99½	6.35
United Fruit Co., 6%	May, 1917	99¾	100	6.00
Utah Company, 6%	Apr., 1917	98	99	6.50

New York City Notes.

New York City, 6%	Sept., 1915	101	101¼	4.00
New York City, 6%	Sept., 1916	102	102¼	4.75
New York City, 6%	Sept., 1917	103¾	103¾	4.75

Interest on Idle Funds

Money awaiting investment may be deposited with this company in a reserve account subject to check, on which interest will be allowed; or it may be placed on a time Certificate of Deposit which will command a better rate.

Your idle funds will thus be earning an income even while not permanently employed.

Upon your personal or written request we shall be pleased to submit a definite proposition.

Our pamphlet S-169 outlines our various facilities.

Guaranty Trust Company of New York
140 Broadway
Fifth Avenue Branch, 5th Ave. & 43d St.
London Office, 33 Lombard St., E. C.
Cap

REPORTS OF NATIONAL BANKS.

[No. 1,290.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF

THE CITIZENS CENTRAL NATIONAL BANK of NEW YORK

at New York City, in the State of New York, at the close of business October 31, 1914:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$21,145,401.53
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		86.35
U. S. bonds deposited to secure circulation		1,555,100.00
Commercial paper deposited to secure circulation		1,980,000.00
Other securities to secure circulation		300,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		100,000.00
Bonds, securities, etc. (other than stocks)		287,000.00
Stock in Federal Reserve bank, none; all other stocks		23,500.00
Due from national banks (not reserve agents)	$1,242,638.53
Due from State and private banks and bankers and trust companies	447,240.41
Checks and other cash items	433,367.16
Exchanges for Clearing House	792,919.60
Notes of other national banks	136,000.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents	2,329.44
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	3,881,348.00
Legal-tender notes	603,736.00	7,539,579.14
Amount paid on account of subscription to $100,000,000 gold fund (subscribed) less amount, if any, returned to subscriber.		112,542.75
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation)		149,755.00
Customers' liability under letters of credit		201,341.69
Total		$33,394,306.48

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$2,550,000.00
Surplus fund	1,500,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	675,893.59
Reserved for interest unearned on bills discounted	200,000.00
Reserved for taxes	59,750.27
Reserved for depreciation in securities	60,000.00
National bank notes outstanding	2,920,497.50
Due to other national banks	$3,208,557.40
Due to State and private banks and bankers	708,469.87
Due to trust companies and savings banks	1,165,073.15
Dividends unpaid	1,008.00
Individual deposits subject to check	17,834,908.60
Demand certificates of deposit	72,813.69
Certified checks	157,084.44
Cashier's checks outstanding	5,452.66
United States deposits	73,448.60
Letters of credit and foreign accounts	201,341.69
Clearing House loan certificates, not balance	2,500,000.00
Total	$33,394,306.48

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

I, ALBION K. CHAPMAN, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

A. K. CHAPMAN, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of November, 1914.

WM. V. A. POE, Notary Public.

Correct—Attest:
D. F. KINGSLEY,
FRANCIS M. BACON, JR.,
ROBT. B. HIRSCH,
} Directors.

[No. 341.]

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

FIFTH NATIONAL BANK,

at New York City, in the State of New York, at the close of business, October 31, 1914:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$3,619,641.37
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		12,729.42
U. S. bonds deposited to secure circulation		250,000.00
Commercial paper deposited to secure circulation		204,700.00
Other securities to secure circulation		277,500.00
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		1,000.00
U. S. bonds on hand		4,000.00
Bonds, securities, &c., (other than stocks)		240,290.23
All other stocks		2,700.00
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		38,193.13
Other real estate owned		136,456.00
Safe deposit vaults		50,000.00
Due from national banks (not reserve agents)		258,038.39
Due from State and private banks and bankers, trust companies, and savings banks		9,946.73
Checks and other cash items		31,484.91
Exchanges for Clearing House		115,937.59
Notes of other national banks		940.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		4,433.34
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$563,063.20
Legal-tender notes	188,000.00	751,063.20
Amount paid on account of subscription to $100,000,000 gold fund (subscribed) less amount, if any, returned to subscriber.		16,348.50
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5% of circulation).		30,000.00
Total		$6,050,403.11

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$250,000.00
Surplus fund		250,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		251,642.19
Reserved for taxes		5,500.00
National bank notes outstanding		595,500.00
Due to other national banks	$89,690.08
Due to State and private banks and bankers	25,200.24
Due to trust companies and savings banks	290,313.43
Individual deposits subject to check	4,049,391.65
Demand certificates of deposit	31,717.00
Certified checks	28,691.32
Cashier's checks outstanding	1,757.20
United States deposits	1,000.00	4,517,760.92
Clearing house loan certificates (net balance)		180,000.00
Total		$6,050,403.11

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

I, W. S. BECKLEY, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

W. S. BECKLEY, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of November, 1914.

WM. M. CHRISTIE,
Notary Public No. 551,
New York County
Reg. Office No. 5,125.

Correct—Attest:
JOHN BYRNS,
WM. H. SEAICH,
FREDERICK ZITTEL,
} Directors.

LEGAL NOTICES.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States, Southern District of New York.—CHARLES A. FERGUSON, complainant, against THE AUTO PRESS COMPANY, defendant.

It appearing to the court that the bill in this case is exhibited for the benefit of all classes of creditors of the defendant The Auto Press Company, for the purpose of determining who are such creditors and the amount of their respective claims, and the order in which upon final decree the same shall be paid.

ORDERED that J. Van Vechten Olcott and Morris D. Kopple, the receivers herein, be and they hereby are directed within ten days from the date hereof to mail to each and every creditor, as the same may appear upon the books of the defendant company, a copy of this order, such mailing to be in a securely sealed envelope, postage prepaid, and to be addressed to the said creditors of the defendant company at the last Post Office addresses known to said receivers, and such service by mail is hereby decreed to be due, timely, sufficient and complete service of notice of this proceeding upon all such creditors, and it is further ORDERED that all such creditors of the said defendant company, and each and every of them, be and they hereby are directed to file with the receivers at their office and place of business, 95 Madison Avenue, (Manhattan,) New York City, on or before the first Monday of January next, a duly sworn statement of all and any such claims as they may have against the defendant company, and such statement shall be verified before any officer authorized to administer oaths by the laws of the State where such claim is verified, and such statement of claims shall declare the same is evidenced by any written instrument, have the same attached to it, and it is further ORDERED that a copy of this order be published once a week for three successive weeks in two newspapers of general circulation published in the City, County and State of New York, to wit: New York Times and New York Tribune.

Dated New York October 30th, 1914.

Enter,
JULIUS M. MAYER,
U. S. D. J.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

The United States National Bank located at Pittsburgh, in the State of Pennsylvania, is closing its affairs. All note holders and other creditors of the association are therefore hereby notified to present the notes and other claims for payment.

L. S. JOHNS, Cashier.

Dated October 23d, 1914.

INDIA HOUSE INCORPORATED

Business Men Organize to Encourage Foreign Trade.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Nov. 5.—India House was incorporated today, with principal offices in Manhattan. Its object is to encourage the foreign trade of the United States and to cultivate and perpetuate the best traditions thereof.

The Directors include W. E. Bemis, William H. Childs, W. L. Clark, Samuel P. Colt, E. P. Cronkhite, Lloyd C. Griscom, Joshua A. Hatfield, Charles E. Jennings, Waldo H. Marshall, Frank Presbrey, Willard Straight, E. P. Thomas, F. A. Vanderlip, and A. H. Wiggin of New York; Charles M. Schwab, W. B. Simmons, A. P. Johnson of Philadelphia; Robert Dollard of San Francisco; Cameron Forbes of Boston, and Fairfax Harrison, Washington, D. C.

Buckeye Pipe Line Pays $2 a Share.

The Buckeye Pipe Line Company yesterday declared a quarterly dividend of $2 a share, payable on Dec. 15 to stockholders of record on Nov. 24. Three months ago the payment was $3 and six months ago $4. Last year the stock received dividends amounting to 40 per cent. compared with 28 per cent. this year.

REPORTS OF NATIONAL BANKS.

(No. 62.)

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE SECOND NATIONAL BANK,

at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business October 31, 1914:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$11,174,401.60
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		11,517.47
U. S. bonds deposited to secure circulation		835,000.00
Commercial paper deposited to secure circulation		1,210,000.00
Other securities to secure circulation		1,455,262.32
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits, $50,000; to secure postal savings, none		50,000.00
Other bonds to secure U. S. deposits, $50,000; to secure postal savings, none		50,000.00
U. S. bonds loaned		200,000.00
Customers' liability under letter of credit		82,180.00
Bonds, securities, &c., (other than stocks)		377,538.77
Stock in Federal Reserve Bank, none; all other stocks		74,500.00
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		1,171,959.99
Due from national banks, (not reserve agents)		252,987.51
Due from State and private banks and bankers, trust companies, and savings		9,402.63
Checks and other cash items		147,888.74
Exchanges for Clearing House		1,041,756.69
Notes of other national banks		154,275.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		3,990.52
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$2,799,536.54
Legal-tender notes	514,788.00	3,314,324.54
Clearing House loan certificates, (net balance)		10,000.00
Amount paid on account of subscription to $100,000,000 gold fund (subscribed) less amount, if any, returned to subscriber.		70,296.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer, (5% of circulation).		134,250.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer		8,000.00
Total		$21,694,110.78

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$1,000,000.00
Surplus fund		2,000,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		981,078.26
Reserved for taxes		44,485.77
National banknotes outstanding		2,063,520.00
Letters of credit		82,180.00
Due to other national banks	$93,765.26
Due to trust companies and savings banks	717,968.05
Individual deposits subject to check	13,189,846.67
Demand certificates of deposit	199,607.73
Certified checks	110,412.86
Cashier's checks outstanding	21,820.79
United States deposits	81,873.09	14,414,298.25
U. S. bonds borrowed without furnishing collateral security for same		835,000.00
Other bonds borrowed without furnishing collateral security for same		150,000.00
Liabilities other than those stated above:
Real estate liability, $123,000.00
Income tax withheld 550.50		123,550.50
Total		$21,694,110.78

State of New York, County of New York, ss.:

I, WILLIAM PABST, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief. W. PABST, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of November, 1914.

JOHN H. SAMUELSEN,
Notary Public.
New York County, No. 3,413.

Correct—Attest:
H. B. DOMINICK,
FRANK A. MUNSEY,
LOUIS MORRIS STARR.
} Directors.

(NO 8,926.)

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

BRONX NATIONAL BANK,

at New York, in the State of New York, at the close of business Oct. 31st, 1914:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$381,610.58
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		3,621.86
U. S. bonds deposited to secure circulation		50,000.00
U. S. bonds to secure postal savings		7,678.75
Premiums on U. S. bonds		1,250.00
Bonds, securities, &c., (other than stocks)		140,313.90
Banking house, furniture, and fixtures		82,383.47
Other real estate owned		11,709.07
Due from national banks (not reserve agents)		144,390.86
Due from State and private banks and bankers, trust companies, and savings		113,688.23
Checks and other cash items		9,085.95
Exchanges for Clearing House		155,768.86
Notes of other national banks		21,000.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents		2,812.13
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	$129,047.50
Legal-tender notes	63,085.00	192,132.50
Amount paid on account of subscription to $100,000,000 gold fund (subscribed) less amount, if any, returned to subscriber.		3,645.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5% of circulation).		2,500.00
Foreign exchange		28,194.62
Total		$1,854,781.38

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$200,000.00
Surplus fund		200,000.00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid		55,725.10
Reserved for taxes		4,002.16
National banknotes outstanding		49,900.00
Due to other national banks	$70,177.94
Due to State and private banks and bankers	12,149.18
Due to trust companies and savings banks	81,455.90
Dividends unpaid	10.00
Individual deposits subject to check	1,127,916.97
Demand certificates of deposit	44,483.67
Certified checks	1,000.00
Cashier's checks outstanding	450.87
Postal savings deposits	5,232.85
Bills payable, including obligations representing money borrowed		1,222,876.88
Liabilities other than those stated above:		47,000.00
Accrued interest		1,177.19
Total		$1,854,781.83

State of New York, County of Bronx, ss.:

I, HARRY KOLBE, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

HARRY KOLBE, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 5th day of November, 1914.

CHAS. A. WEBER, Notary Public.
Bronx County, N. Y., No. 20.

Correct—Attest:
CARL WURM,
JOHN HALL JONES,
PETER J. STUMPF,
} Directors.

BROOKLYN BANKS.

THE NATIONAL CITY BANK OF BROOKLYN.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 31, 1914.

RESOURCES.

Loans and investments	$4,728,564.38
Due from banks	622,512.16
Cash on reserve	666,854.79
Exchanges for Clearing House	286,580.54
	$6,404,511.87

LIABILITIES

Capital stock	$300,000.00
Surp's and profits	635,581.47
Circulation	119,100.00
Deposits	5,349,830.40
	$6,404,511.87

HENRY M. WELLS, President.
D. IRVING MEAD, Vice President.
B. P. VAN BENTHUYSEN, Cashier.
R. R. WARDELL, Assistant Cashier.

LIVERPOOL MARKET FOR COTTON OPENS

Trading to be Restricted to May-June in Liquidation of Old Contracts.

NEW SELLING IS BARRED

But No Limitation Will Be Placed on New Buying—Cotton Pool Ready to Operate.

President E. K. Cone of the Cotton Exchange was informed by cable yesterday that the Liverpool Cotton Exchange was ready to resume business and would do so today. The message read:

"Market reopens tomorrow for restricted trading in May-June for liquidation of old contracts. New Buying, but no new selling to be permitted. Minimum price until further notice, 4.25 pence for American cotton, 6.95 pence for Egyptian."

All the contracts outstanding in Liverpool when the Exchange closed have been lumped in the May-June option. The statement that no "new selling" would be allowed meant that business would be limited strictly to the liquidation of old contracts, a step taken to prevent speculative operations that might unsettle the market and also to close out as soon as possible the "straddle" between the Liverpool and New York markets.

The renewal of trading in Liverpool will have no direct influence on the reopening of the Exchange here, according to members of the board, but within a few days the date is expected to be announced. The Conference Committee is canvassing the members as fast as possible to find out how many will need to borrow of the syndicate formed to finance old contracts, and also the number of bales that will have to be cared for. This work is nearly done, and when completed the syndicate will be able to size up the amount of funds needed. The aid of the syndicate will be extended to the brokers as soon as the Exchange opens.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Adoption of the $135,000,000 cotton loan fund plan by banks and others throughout the country may be announced tomorrow by the Federal Reserve Board. Reports of contributions continued to reach the Treasury Department today, and it was hoped that the fund would be fully subscribed by tomorrow. The success of the plan has been so marked that cotton virtually has ceased to be a subject of international worry.

It was announced tonight that cotton exports were increasing. During the week ended Nov. 4 129,983 bales were exported. In the preceding week 111,053 bales were shipped. The week ended Nov. 4 was the best since the war interfered with trade.

CONCERN NOT ABSORBED.

Publishers' Paper Co. Is Not Affected by Receivership Proceedings.

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 5.—The Colonial Paper Company, against which receivership proceedings were instituted on Oct. 31, did not absorb the Publishers' Paper Company, as was erroneously said in a dispatch from this city.

L. S. Tainter of Boston, President of the Publishers' Paper Company, said that his company was not affected by the receivership proceedings, and was still doing business.

In 1910, Mr. Tainter said, the Colonial Paper Company purchased from the Publishers' Company a large mill at Portsmouth, N. H., power plants and water power rights at South Berwick and Bar Mills, and water power privileges along the Saco River, but did not absorb his corporation.

COTTON SALES AND PRICES.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5.—The following middling cotton sales were reported yesterday:

	Sales.	Price.
New Orleans	1,340	7 3-16c
Galveston	1,889	7¾
Mobile	66	7¾
Savannah	1,881	7¾
Charleston	...	7
Wilmington	...	7
Norfolk	817	7¾
Memphis	4,600	7
Little Rock	...	6¾
Augusta	2,137	7 5-16
Houston	5,165	7⅜
Dallas	12,943	6¾

COMMODITIES MARKETS

WHEAT.

The European demand for wheat has in no way abated and sales during yesterday's operations were estimated at about 1,250,000 bushels, bringing the total sales so far this week up to about 5,000,000. Notwithstanding the large export business the market during the greater part of the session gave an exhibition of heaviness and prices at the close were at the lowest point and ⅞ to 1c below the finals of Wednesday.

In the local cash market No. 2 red Winter wheat was quoted at 1.17¾; No. 2 hard at 1.17¾; No. 1 Nor. Duluth 1.18¾; No. 1 Nor. Manitoba 1.23¾, all nominal c. i. f. Buffalo.

NEW YORK PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Close.	Prev. Year.	Last
December	...	...	1.25	1.25	94⅝
May	...	...	1.31⅛	1.31⅝	97¼

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Close.	Prev. Year.	Last
December	1.18⅛	1.16⅝	1.16⅜	1.17⅝	84⅝
May	1.24⅝	1.22⅞	1.22⅞	1.23⅞	89⅜

CORN.

Exporters were again in the market for corn and sales amounted to about 170,000 bushels. The weather was again highly favorable for moving the new crop, and as new corn is being offered from the country in larger volume prices were easier, closing ⅝ to ¾c net lower. In the local cash market No. 2 yellow corn was quoted at 84c c. i. f. to arrive and prime Argentine at 78c nominal delivered.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Close.	Prev. Year.	Last
December	70½	69⅝	69⅝	70⅜	68⅜
May	73	72¼	72¼	72⅝	69⅞

OATS.

Export sales of oats during the past two days amounted to 1,350,000 bushels, but receipts at primary points continue large, and prices were easier under profit-taking sales, closing ⅝@⅞c net lower. The local cash market was steady; standard quoted at 54½@55c; No. 2 white at 55@55¼c; No. 3 white at 54@54½c; No. 4 white at 53¼@54c; fancy clipped white, 56@57c; ordinary clipped white, 54@55c; all elevator.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Close.	Prev. Year.	Last
December	50½	49¼	49¼	49⅞	38¾
May	54¼	53⅜	53⅜	53⅞	42

PROVISIONS.

For the first time in its history the Chicago stock yards will be closed for nine days, owing to Federal orders to allow thorough disinfection against the foot and mouth disease, and in consequence the hog market was excited and 25 to 50 points higher. This had a stimulating influence on the general provision list, although after advancing 15 to 23 points, prices sagged a little under profit-taking. Receipts of hogs at Chicago were 20,000, estimated for Friday 14,000; Kansas City received 12,000 and Omaha 5,000.

CHICAGO PRICES.

	High.	Low.	Close.	Close.	Prev. Year.	Last
Lard—
November	11.02	11.00	11.02	10.87	10.75
January	10.52	10.25	10.25	10.17	10.92
Ribs—
January	10.25	10.17	10.17	10.07	10.65
Pork—
January	19.42	19.30	19.30	19.17	20.15
May	19.85	19.60	19.60	19.40	20.17

COTTONSEED OIL.

The strength in lard, resulting from the closing of the stock yards, as well as an advance in the price of crude oil to 31c to 32c, were factors of the strength in the cottonseed oil market, but late in the day the market lost part of the gain under profit-taking sales, and at the close was 3 to 17 points net higher.

The range of contract prices was as follows:

	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. Close.
Spot	...	...	5.20@5.38	5.10
November	5.40	5.32	5.27@5.30	5.10
December	5.43	5.30	5.32@5.34	5.20
January	5.55	5.42	5.4 5@5.45	5.34
February	5.62	5.55	5.55@5.57	5.45
March	5.75	5.65	5.65@5.68	5.59
April	5.76	5.76	5.70@5.76	5.67
May	5.99	5.88	5.90@5.91	5.79
June	...	...	5.95@6.00	5.88

COTTON.

Advices received here from the South yesterday indicated no material change in the spot situation. Apprehensions that higher ocean freights and uncertainties of war risks would check export business were reiterated in local circles, but if demand has slackened in the South spot offerings have not increased, and local brokers reported generally steady prices. Southern spot markets, as officially reported, were unchanged to ⅛c higher. Exports amounted to 25,000 bales yesterday, making 655,848 bales, against 2,886,391 last year. The date most talked of in local circles for reopening of the New York futures market is Nov. 16.

COFFEE.

Values in the local coffee market remained practically unchanged, both for spot and for futures, through the Liquidating Committee. The consuming demand was not active, although some traders had a fair business, and it is apparent that arrivals are being about absorbed by the daily warehouse deliveries. Cost and freight offers from Brazil were little changed. Santos 4's being quoted at 8¾c to 9¼c and Rio 7's at 6.35c to 6.50c. In the local spot market Rio 7's were quoted at 6¾c.

BUTTER AND EGG MARKET.

BUTTER.—Receipts yesterday, 7,962 packages. Continued light supplies of high-grade fresh table butter and a firmer market for such. Outside buyers had difficulty in meeting their equirements, and it became easy to establish ½c advance on both extras and the higher scoring lots. The secondary qualities are also showing more strength. Creamery, extras, (92 score,) 34½c; higher scoring lots, 35c; firsts, 29½@31½c; seconds, 25½@28½c; thirds, 23½@24½c. Creamery, held, extras, (92 score,) 32c; higher scoring lots, 32½@33c; firsts, 30@31½c; seconds, 25@28c; State Dairy, finest, 32@33c; good to prime, 28@31c; common to fair, 22@27c. Process, extras, 25@26c; firsts, 23½@24½c; lower grades, 22@23c. Imitation creamery, firsts, 25½@26½c; current make, firsts, 22½@22c; seconds, 21½@22c; lower grades, 20@21c. Packing stock, special, 21½@22c; current make, No. 2, 20½@21c; lower grades, 19@20c.

EGGS.—Receipts yesterday, 11,738 cases. High qualities of fresh eggs showing a good to large proportion of new laid stock are very scarce and tend to sellers' favor. Some further quotable advance in the highest grades of Western. Storage eggs are still moving to some extent for export; local trade is rather quiet and there are free offerings at unchanged prices. Fresh gathered, extra fine, per dozen, 36@38c; extra firsts, 33@35c; firsts, 30@32c; seconds, 26@29c; fresh and Fall gathered, undergrades, 21@25c; fresh gathered, dirties, No. 1, 22@23c; No. 2 and poorer, 18@21c; checks, good to prime, dry, 21@21½c; undergrades, 14@20c; refrigerator, special marks, fancy, charges paid, 25½@26c; firsts, charges paid, 24½@25c; seconds, charges paid, 22@24c; undergrades, 19@22c; State, Pennsylvania and near-by hennery whites, fancy, large, new laid, 32@36c; defective, 40@55c; gathered whites, ast to size and quality, 36@39c; Western, gathered whites, 30@34c; State, Pennsylvania and near-by hennery browns, 30@32c; gathered brown and mixed colors, 30@33c; near-by refrigerator whites, 27@30c.

NEW JEWISH JOURNAL OUT.

Der Tag Is Edited and Published by Herman Bernstein.

A new Jewish daily newspaper, Der Tag, (The Day,)) made its appearance on the newsstands of the city yesterday. The paper is to be printed in Yiddish each day with an English supplement on Sundays. It is published by The Day Publishing Company, with publication offices at 183 East Broadway and editorial offices at 444 Pearl Street. The editor of the paper and President of the company is Herman Bernstein, who formerly wrote articles for THE NEW YORK TIMES Magazine Section, and who has been active in Jewish communal work. The Treasurer of the company is Mayr Aronson, and the Secretary Morris Weinberg.

The paper will issue one edition each day at noon. Yesterday's issue of ten pages contained a statement by Dr. Dumba, the Austro-Hungarian Ambassador, telling of massacres of Galician Jews by the invading Russian troops; a cable from London to the effect that the Czar's promises of concessions to the Jews had in no manner been fulfilled and would not be, and letters with good wishes from President Wilson, Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, and representatives of all branches of American Judaism.

MANY OCTOBER FAILURES.

Bradstreet's Reports Record Number, but Liabilities Were Small.

Failures in October as reported to Bradstreet's numbered 1,444, with aggregate liabilities of $23,580,453. This was the largest number of failures reported in any month since January, but on the other hand the liabilities were the smallest reported since May.

Compared with October a year ago, failures were 14.6 per cent. more numerous, while liabilities were 12 per cent. larger. The number of failures in October has been only once exceeded in an October. That was in 1893.

MONTH OF SMALL VENTURES

New Corporations in October Show Smallest Capital in Years.

The capital involved in new companies incorporated in October was the smallest for any month in many years. Returns to The Journal of Commerce footed up $70,124,500, against $87,551,400 in September and $118,561,300 in October of last year.

Charters filed for $1,000,000 or more in Eastern States aggregated $35,487,500, compared with $54,800,000 in September and $70,836,300 in October, 1913.

RAILWAY EQUIPMENT BONDS.

The following are quoted on a percentage basis:

Name.	Maturity.	Rate.	Bid.	Ask.
Atl. Coast Line	1914-'21	4 @4½	5.30	4.90
Balt. & Ohio	1914-'21	4½	5.25	4.90
Buf., Roch. & P.	1914-'30	4½@5	5.30	4.85
Ches. & Ohio	1914-'17	4	5.40	4.95
Chicago & N. W.	1914-'21	4½	5.25	4.85
Chi., Ind. & Louis.	1914-'23	4½	5.30	5.40
Erie Railroad	1914-'23	4½@5	5.75	5.25
Hocking Valley	1914-'23	4 @5	5.70	5.15
Illinois Central	1914-'23	4½@5	5.35	4.95
Louis. & Nash.	1914-'23	5	5.30	4.85
Mo., Kan. & Tex.	1914-'23	5	6.35	5.85
Mo. Pacific	1914-'22	5	6.75	5.75
Penn. Gen. Frt.	1914-'23	4 @4½	5.15	4.75
St. L., I. Mt. & S.	1914-'24	5	6.50	5.50
Seaboard Air L.	1914-'23	5	6.60	5.10
Southern Railway	1914-'24	4½@5	5.60	5.10
Southern Pacific	1914-'23	4½	5.35	4.95
Virginian Ry.	1914-'19	5	6.60	5.45

BUSINESS NOTES.

John Q. Wood, American Consul General at Adis Ababa, Abyssinia, who is on leave of absence in the United States, is spending four or five days in this city and will be pleased to meet merchants and manufacturers interested in trade with Abyssinia. Mr. Wood is also familiar with conditions all along the African Coast. During his visit here he will make his headquarters at the local office of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Room 409, Custom House, where engagements to meet him may be made.

Edwin W. Thompson and Dr. C. W. A. Veditz, who have recently been appointed Commercial Attaches of the Department of Commerce at Paris and Berlin, respectively, will be at the local office of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of next week for the purpose of conferring with merchants having business interests in France and Germany.

Fair attendance and good prices marked a sale of men's, boys', and children's clothing in the auction rooms of Van Praag & Co., 15 Greene Street, yesterday. All of the goods were of a seasonable nature and moved quickly. The prices got for them averaged seventy-five cents on the dollar.

Optimism was the keynote of the speeches made last night at a dinner given at the Hotel Astor by the sales department of the recently combined Bigelow and Hartford Carpet Companies in honor of the new officers. Chief among the speakers were President R. P. Perkins and General Manager J. F. Norman.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

ALEXANDER B. JOHNSON, a physician, of 116 East Fifty-seventh Street, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $20,982 and assets of $5 cash and $1,515 accounts due him.

ABRAHAM M. GROPPER.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Abraham M. Gropper, clothing dealer, of 134 Stanton Street, by these creditors: James C. Hogan, $250; M. Simon, $250, and Max Dorff, $250. Liabilities are said to be $30,000 and assets $15,000.

SAMUEL GOLDBERG, retail butcher, doing business under the name of the Rose Market, at 56 Manhattan Street, 456 West 125th Street, 2,775 and 2,794 Eighth Avenue, had a petition in bankruptcy filed against him yesterday.

NATHAN SOLOTOREVSKY.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Nathan Solotorevsky, manufacturer of muslin underwear, at 50 Allen Street.

ISAAC SIMCHOVITZ.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against Isaac Simchovitz, wholesale butcher of 152 East 103th Street. Liabilities are $5,000 and assets $2,000.

C. W. JEAN COMPANY.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against the C. W. Jean Company, Inc., manufacturer of copying baths and clothes at 116 Nassau Street. Liabilities are $2,500 and assets $1,500.

LOUIS HONIG, salesman of 511 East Eleventh Street, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities $1,730, to butter and egg merchants, and no assets.

AUGUSTUS A. STANHOPE, clerk of 230 West Ninety-seventh Street, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities $1,623 and no assets.

RAUCH BROTHERS COMPANY, INC., manufacturer of tables and furniture at 413 East Eighth Street, have filed schedules, showing liabilities $6,124 and assets $3,042.

ELMER PIASS.—Judge Hand has appointed James D. Boyd receiver for Elmer Piass, grocer at Staatsburg. Liabilities are $2,000.

SUPERIOR FLOWER AND FEATHER COMPANY, sellers of ostrich feathers at 8 West Third Street, has made an assignment to William Blau.

CHARLES & MAX ASCH, dealers in men's furnishing goods at 607 Tenth Avenue, have made an assignment to Jacob Silverstein.

JUDGMENTS.

These judgments were filed yesterday in New York County, the first name being that of the debtor:

Ball, Leonard, and Mary W. Blake—Directors Realty Holding Co., $560.

Baumgarten, Nathan—K. Ostro et al., $135.

Boardman, Adolph—Realty and Comemercial Co., $124.

Bernstone, Samuel and Jennie—H. Lipsky et al., $216.

Billig, Samuel, and Samuel Kenigeberg—J. S. Emerman et al., $241.

Brown-Weiss Realties—D. Levine, $838.

Brand, Harry—Basket Importing Co., Inc., $146.

Boston & Maine Railroad—George Leask & Co., $2,074.

Baconby, Marcelle—S. Strauss, $336.

Considine, Lulu T.—J. H. F. Magna, $404.

Charles Britton Trucking Co.—P. Coleman, $224.

D. & L. Building Co.—A. M. Bliss, $2,144.

Davis, Jerome L., and Club Garage Co.—Ninth Ward Realty Co., $264.

Emanon Building Corporation—L. Goldstein, $519.

Eagle Meat and Poultry Market—Figge & Reutweiler Co., $252.

Empire Dye Works, Inc.—McElravey & Hauck Co., $119.

Field, Lowell T.—S. C. Paddock, $248.

Fulton, Albert, Corporation—Painted Post Lumber Co., $402.

Fraser, Oscar A.—E. L. McLean, $170.

Fallon, William J., and Christian B. Zabriskie—R. Beck, $750.

Fifth Avenue Cathedral Realty Co., $419.

Greenwald, Max—D. Feldman, $105.

Gardner Crusher Co.—McGraw Publishing Co., Inc., $308.

Same—Municipal Journal, $144.

Getteys, William, and Morris Greenfield—H. J. B. Willis, $331.

Gutman, Eugene; Sidney Gutman, and Alexander Nicholson—C. Kurland $245.

Geriach, Alex—Pooley & Co., $100.

Guarantee Waterproofing and Construction Co., Marvel Waterproofing Co., and Abraham Goldstein—Mercantile Security Co., $664.

Grape Ola Co.—A. L. Siff, $121.

Gerhardt, Joseph—G. Richards et al., $4,525.

Greenwald, Barry—E. de Noyelles, $2,172.

Guryan, Ike—Frank, Endel & Peles, $526.

Same—S. Ducker et al., $632.

Goodwin Manufacturing Co.—R. Waldt, $6 082.

H. C. Partridge & Co.—Arnold Behrer & Sons, $161.

Hecla Iron Works—J. Barry, $150.

Hitchcock, John C.—G. H. Allison, $729.

Hamilton, Francis—E. C. Jones, $2 000.

Isaac, Moe H., and Henry Dine—M. Siff et al., $147.

Jaros, Arthur C., and Walter R. McDonald—Security Bank of New York, $218.

Jones, Richard A.—E. S Auchmuty et al., $162.

Klatt, Emil, and National Surety Co.—People, &c., $1 000.

Kirmandi, Albert—C. J. Kraemer et al., $269.

Kraus, Cecilia—F. Baumeier, $580.

Levitsky, Morris—Unger Greenspan Co., $1,504.

Lippman, Louis—N. Back, $303.

Llewellyn, William D.—C. L. Schlens, $115.

Lidval, Erick—Country and City Corporation, $370.

Lundstrom, Uno—De Grauw, Aymar & Co., $120.

Mulvaney, Ed

HUBER HEIRS WIN IN WILL CONTEST

Surrogate Ketcham Directs Jury to Find Against Grandchildren of Brooklyn Brewer.

PART OF $7,000,000 INVOLVED

Brother of Contestants Was Willing to Sign Away $100,000 in Order to Help Them.

The trial of the contest to break the will of Mrs. Emilie Huber, widow of Otto Huber, the brewer, disposing of an estate of over $7,000,000, before Surrogate Ketcham and a jury in the Surrogate's Court, Brooklyn, ended yesterday in a victory for the Huber heirs, Max and Joseph Huber. The suit was brought by William H. D'Esterre, Jr., and his brother, Louis, grandsons of the testator. The plaintiffs were cut off from a share in the estate by the will of Mrs. Huber, and they charged that undue influence was exercised on her by her two sons to cause her to disinherit them.

As previously agreed by counsel, the jury was asked to answer three questions in deciding the case. One read: "Was the paper executed by Mrs. Emilie Huber on Oct. 8, 1912, her last will and testament?" Another: "Was the paper executed by Mrs. Emilie Huber on Oct. 23, 1913, a codicil to that will?" and the third was "Were these papers executed voluntarily by Mrs. Emilie Huber withotu any undue influence or fraud on the part of Joseph or Max Huber, or any one acting for them?"

At the conclusion of the testimony, John F. Clarke, attorney for the Huber heirs, asked the Surrogate to direct the jury to answer all three questions in the affirmative, and he granted the motion. The Surrogate then ordered that the will be admitted to probate. The case is the first will contest tried here before a jury under a recent amendment to the Surrogates' law.

During the hearing yesterday there was a long argument over the admission of the testimony of Joseph D'Estehre, a brother of the two D'Esterres, disinherited by their grandmother. Joseph was given a legacy of $100,000 by the will, and appeared willing to sign away this fortune to be allowed to testify in behalf of his brothers and help them to win the suit.

Mr. Osborne, attorney for the plaintiffs, produced a release signed by the witness in which he gave up his rights to a share of the Huber estate. The jury was excused from the room while the court and lawyers argued over a question of law. The Surrogate then ruled against certain clauses in the release and Mr. Osborne's assistants had another form of release ready for the witness to sign. Joseph D'Esterre was willing to sign the document, but on the strength of the argument of Attorney Clarke, the Surrogate ruled that the witness was a direct heir and a party in interest in the final will and therefore could not convey away his rights to the estate. The court said that if the witness had been a simple stranger and had received a legacy under the will he could then sign the release. The same ruling applied to Mrs. Louise D'Esterre, the wife of one of the contestants, who had a dower interest in the estate and was also willing to sign a release of her rights in the Huber property. She, too, was not allowed to testify.

Following the testimony of Joseph Huber, President of the First National Bank and President of the Otto Huber Brewery Company, who was the last witness to be examined, the Surrogate directed the jury to give a verdict against the plaintiffs.

LIFE STORY WINS FREEDOM.

Judge Wadhams Merciful to Mrs. Rogers, Who Shot Her Niece.

By telling the story of her life to Judge Wadhams in General Sessions yesterday, which took nearly four hours, Augusta Rogers, a dressmaker of 453 West 152d Street, won a suspended sentence. She pleaded guilty to the charge of possessing a revolver. In a quarrel with her niece, Selma Strame, on Sept. 25, the niece was shot through the ear.

Through an interpreter Mrs. Rogers said she grew up in Russia with Waldemar Rogers, and he asked her to come to America with him as his wife. For eight years, she said, they lived together as man and wife, and had a child, a boy now 7 years old. In 1911 her niece, Selma Streme, who was then 18 years old, came to live with her. Her husband was attracted by the niece, she said, and in 1912 they separated and Rogers and the niece lived together in West 163d Street. In September, 1912, Rogers went to his old home and took the child away. According to Mrs. Rogers, he returned with the child a few days later and said that Mrs. Rogers had better take her own life. "I found a revolver in the bed," Mrs. Rogers swore. "I asked him to take it away, and he did not do so."

On Sept. 25 last Mrs. Rogers followed her husband to his new home and there met her niece and rival, and the shooting followed. She was arrested for assault and on the charge of carrying a revolver.

"There was very great provocation," Judge Wadhams said at the end of the woman's story. "Fortunately for you, no damage was done, and I am satisfied that the act was committed when you were in a condition of mind which was brought about by continued abuse. You have been sufficiently punished."

MINSTRELS FOR CARDINAL.

Prelates to Attend Show to be Given by Sons of Xavier.

Cardinal Farley, accompanied by Bishop Cusack and Bishop Hayes, will attend the minstrel and vaudeville show to be given by the Sons of Xavier at the St. Francis Xavier College theatre, at 40 West Sixteenth Street, on the evening of Nov. 18. The Rev. Joseph Mass, S. J., Provincial of the Jesuit Society in this province; the Rev. Joseph H. Rockewell, President of St. Francis Xavier's; the Rev. Thomas F. White, S. J., and their communities will be present also.

The headliner on the programme is Vincent Sullivan, who will appear with "The Doll Girl" company at the Panama Exposition. There will be six vaudeville acts in all, and the songs will be given by a chorus of fifty, trained by Lawrence A. Riley.

AUTO HITS SUBWAY KIOSK.

Truck Beyond Control Finally Stalled in Stairway.

Albert Olding, driver of a five-ton motor truck loaded with coal belonging to the Weber-Bunke-Lange Company, at Ninety-sixth Street and the North River, lost control of the machine on the west side of Broadway, at Seventy-ninth Street, yesterday at 3:15 P. M., and the big auto smashed into the downtown Subway kiosk, demolishing most of the wire glass and steel frame and falling half-way into the staircase leading into the Subway station.

Olding clung to the wheel and escaped practically uninjured. The truck, suspended over the Subway staircase with a quantity of coal, broken steel and wire glass beneath it, blocked the Subway entrance so effectually that no persons could enter or leave by it for two hours.

THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Investor Buys New Upper West Side Apartment House—West Twenty-third Street Sale—Bronx and Brooklyn Deals—Business and Dwelling Leases.

An investment deal involving the purchase of a newly completed apartment house in the upper Manhattan section formed an interesting feature of the realty market yesterday. The structure was the five-story house on the southwest corner of Northern Avenue and 180th Street, fronting 100 feet on the avenue by 75 on the street. It was sold by the Haven Construction Company, Charles Flaum, President.

It is one of four similar houses erected on the Northern Avenue frontage by the selling company, and negotiations for the adjoining building on 179th Street are practically closed, it is said, for purchase by another investor. The house sold was held at $125,000, and it carries a first mortgage of $90,000, held by the Germania Life Insurance Company. The brokers in the transaction were the M. Morgenthau Jr. Company. The building is fully rented.

Investors Buying Flats.

The Nehring Company has sold to a client 217 West 140th Street, a five-story apartment house, on a plot 28 by 99.11. The property was held at $36,000, the buyer being an investor.

E. Wolta has purchased for investment from the Owners' Standard Realty Company 180 East 117th Street, a five-story tenement, on a lot 25 by 100.11. In part payment the buyer gave two lots, 22 by 100 each, on the east side of the Eastern Boulevard, 25 feet south of Swinton Street. The E. A. Polak Realty Company negotiated the sale.

Deal on West 23d Street.

The estate of Caroline A. Livingston has sold through Henry Brady and William H. Archibald the three-story and basement dwelling, 25 by 98.9, at 358 West Twenty-third Street, to Ella M. Perrella.

This property was offered at auction by Mr. Brady on Oct. 21, 1914, and bid in by the estate at $18,650 after fifty-two bids had been received. The present purchaser will alter the property for business.

Bronx Sales.

An investing client of the Schoen Westchester Realty Company has purchased from Julia Dufram, 878 Southern Boulevard, a four-story flat on a plot 33.4 by 100.

Brooklyn.

The estate of John Deiner has sold to Henry Heines the property at 1,421 Myrtle Avenue, through James M. Hawley. The same broker also sold for Laura V. Carlisle, the private dwelling at 404½ Pulaski Street, to Flora Converse for investment.

John E. Henry, Jr., has sold 13 Herkimer Street, a three-story brownstone dwelling, on plot 16 by 100, for Mrs. Harriet Colyer, and the three-story dwelling at 143 Halsey Street, for Mrs. Agnes Godwin, on lot 20 by 95.6, to Mrs. M. F. Bell.

Flats Traded for Farm.

The Arthur J. Scholz Company has sold for Stanley J. Bell his two three-story flat properties at 233-235 Ralph Avenue, Brooklyn, to Anna N. Patterson, who gave in part payment a two-acre farm at Nesconset, Long Island.

Long Island.

In the fourth ward, Borough of Queens, the New York Suburban Land Company has sold a plot 60 by 100 on Kinsey Avenue, to A. O'Reilly, also a plot 40 by 100 on Sterling Street, to G. A. Hannon.

New Jersey.

The New York Suburban Land Company has sold at Garwood, N. J., a plot 60 by 100 on Hemlock Avenue, to C. J. Meyer; a plot 40 by 100 on Hazel Avenue, to Fred Krueger, and a plot 40 by 100 on Myrtle Avenue, to Miss Fiorence Johnson.

Staten Island Sale.

The Princes Bay Realty Company has sold a house and plot at Huguenot Park, for M. Cohen, to a New Jersey investor.

Suburban.

John Crawford has sold a plot on Long Island Sound, at Norwalk, Conn., to William, M. Lybrand for the Shorehaven Realty Company. It adjoins the fifteen-room concrete house which Mr. Lybrand bought last week through the same broker. Both parcels are part of the former country home of Woodbury G. Langdon.

Business Leases.

Pease & Elliman have leased for John T. Taylor, as Trustee, to Abraham Zucca, the building at 94½ Greenwich Street, also the building at 336 Water Street for Mrs. Anna Walsh, for the estate of Catherine Hammerschlag to Abraham Miller the building at 5 Essex Street, and for the Schulte Realty Company to I. N. Maaskoff, the store at the southeast corner of William and Beekman Streets.

Joseph Weintraub is the lessee of the old Cosmopolitan Hotel at the northeast corner of West Broadway and Chambers Street. Mr. Weintraub will pay $20,000 a year for the hotel for the next twenty years and four months, according to the lease which has just been recorded.

Frederick Fox & Co. have leased for the Hommel Manufacturing Company the sixth and seventh floors in the Oppenheim-Collins addition, now nearing completion, at 58 and 60 West Thirty-fifth Street, to Michael, Bloom and E. A. Adler & Co.

The M. Rosenthal Company has leased the store and basement at 316 West 145th Street to M. Hyman the store at 123 East Fourteenth Street to Alexander Fahri and the store at 218 East Fourteenth Street to Joseph Rice.

Chris Schlerich has rented for Mary C. O'Brien the two top floors at 1,568 Broadway to the Comedy Vaudeville Club.

Dwellings Leased.

Slawson & Hobbs have rented for E. Sanders to R. T. Mascan the three-story dwelling at 30 West Ninetieth Street; to C. H. Mason the four-story dwelling at 110 West Seventy-first Street, and the four and one-half-story American basement dwelling at 337 West Seventy-first Street for Mrs. C. Miller.

Pease & Elliman were the brokers in the lease of the Mrs. James A. Burden residence at 908 Fifth Avenue to ex-Senator Nelson W. Aldrich of Rhode Island.

City Discovers Ownership to Queens Plot.

By obtaining possession of a section of land fronting on Cypress Avenue in the Evergreen section of Queens the City of New York has added to its real estate holdings property valued at $25,000. This property is now used by one of the cemeteries in that locality. The fact that this land was owned by the city was discovered by property owners when improvements were about to be made. Park Commissioner Weier of Queens then found that the land belonged to the city, but that its original use was for a drain for the Brooklyn water works. Commissioner Williams of the Department of Water, Gas and Electricity has now taken charge of the matter and he will move to have the actual possession of the property restored to the city.

RESULTS AT AUCTION.

AT 14 VESEY STREET.

By Samuel Marx.

80th St, 323 West, n s, 241 ft w of West End Av, 43x49.6x irregular, five-story dwelling; Hudson City Savings Institution against J. E. Stone and others; Collier & B., attorneys; W. C. Rosenberg, referee; due, $42,775.83; taxes, &c., $1,186.55; to the plaintiff for $30,000.

95th St, 49 West, n s, 318 ft e of Columbus Av, 18x100.8, three-story dwelling; J. C. Veith against Theodore Killian and others; Finch & C., attorneys; William Allen, referee; due, $15,846.01; taxes, &c., $1,035.78; to the plaintiff for $17,300.

By Henry Brady.

52d St, 636 West, s s, 225 ft e of 12th Av, 20x100.5, two-story stable, all r. t. i., J. J. A. Hickey against Maria Stoops and others; R. J. Heisler, attorney; J. A. Lynch, referee; due, $1,256.88; to the plaintiff for $1,256.88.

TODAY'S AUCTION SALES.

AT 14 VESEY ST.

By Joseph P. Day.

Trinity Place, 70 to 76, w s, 203.1 ft s of Thames St, 104.4x42.4x108.9x52; six-story loft and store building; Mutual Life Insurance Co. against B. H. Shepard and others; F. L. Allen, attorney; E. J. Murphy, referee; due, $110,432.80; taxes, &c., $2,002.50.

AT 3,208 THIRD AVENUE.

By Henry Brady.

Webster Av, 1,922, e s, 138.7 ft n of Tremont Av, 70x138.11, two-story theatre; E. S. Appleby and others against Adolph Freund and others; Cannon & C., attorneys; Harry Kempner, referee; due, $29,207.35, taxes, &c., $966.49.

By James J. Donovan.

169th St, 602 East, n s, 30.2 ft e of Trinity Av, 23.2x50x29.11 to Trinity Av x25x52.11x75, two-story dwelling; M. T. Rennard against R. H. Neville and others; partition.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

Alteration.

Items under $5,000 omitted.

19th St, 29 to 33 East, to an eight-story loft; David Kendall Estate, 21 Liberty St, owner; D. Scott, 119 West 33d St, architect; cost, $5,500.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

THURSDAY, NOV. 5.

With name and address of purchaser and attorney. When attorney's name is omitted address party of the second part.

Manhattan.

AVENUE A, w s, 102.2 ft s of 75th St, 85.8x100; Jacob Herb and others to Hortense Prowler, at Rutherford, N. J., (mtg $25,000,) Nov. 4; attorney, M. S. Hoffman. 85 Nassau St $100

BEDFORD ST, w s, 20 ft n of Morton St, 20x80; George D. Bartholomew to Giuseppe Lavezzolo, 82 McDougal St, (mtg $4,500,) Oct. 31; attorney, Lawyers Title Co. 160 Broadway $100

FULTON ST, 216, s s, 81.4 ft e of Greenwich St, 21.11x33.8; Samuel B. Corning to David S. Naugle, 300 Macon St, Brklyn, quitclaim, Oct. 29; attorney, E. E. Fay, 7 Beekman St $1

HENRY ST, 211-215, n s, 24 ft e of Clinton St, 45.2x88; Margaret McKibbin to Amelia Zeman, 125 Hancock St, Brklyn, July 21, 1913; attorneys, Hirsh & Newman, 391 Fulton St, Brklyn $100

MINETTA ST, 16-22, n w s, at s w s of a lane, n 80x75; Phoenix Ingraham, referee, to Central Trust Co., 54 Wall St, Nov. 4; attorneys, Joline, L. & R., 54 Wall St. .....

WEST END AV, w s, 25.1 ft s of 65th St, 50x100; Thomas F. Devine to Gotham National Bank, 1,810 Broadway, all liens, Jan. 9; attorneys, Wilder, E. & P., 45 Cedar St .....

1ST AV, 394-8, n e corner of 23d St, 74.1x81.6; Henrietta Hirsch to Louis A. Hirsch, 1,361 Madison Av, ½ part, May 1, 1913 .....$1

5TH AV, n e corner 19th St, 40.8x irreg and 125; Alfred P. Gardiner to Richard A. Barker, 116 Fort Greene Pl, Brklyn, all title, Oct. 31 .....$100

13TH ST, n s, 283.4 ft w of 7th Av, 20.10x75; Beatrice S. B. Ziegel and another, executors, &c., Herman F. L. Ziegel, to Emma Ziegel, 756 St. Nicholas Av, Oct. 14; attorneys, Elsman, L. C. & L., 135 Broadway. $10,000

39TH ST, 124 East, s s, 135.8 ft w of Lexington Av, 17.10x98.9; Friend Hoar to Inner Circle Realty Corporation, 165 Broadway, (mtg $29,000,) July 8, 1912; attorney, F. Hoar, 24 Broad St $100

34TH ST, 502 West, s s, 20.6 ft w of 10th Av, 25.6x98.9; William S. Dempsey to William S. Dempsey Realty Co., 548 West 55th St., (mtg. $17,000,) Oct. 27; attorney, W. F. Donnelly, 99 Nassau St $100

50TH ST, 512-514 West, s s, 200 ft w of 10th Av, 50x100.5; Theresa Weil and ano to Bertha Kaufmann, 1,496 Lexington Av, Oct. 26; attorneys, Weil & Mayer, 5 Beekman St $10

133D ST, s s, 20 ft w of Willow Av, 25x100; Catharine C. Chambers to J. F. M. Co., 1,029 East 163d St, Oct. 30; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway $1

138TH ST s s, 62.3 ft e of St. Ann's Av, 50x100; also Tinton Av, e s, 146.2 ft n of 152d St; David Elmer to Elmer-Reichard Realty Co., 46 East 84th St, (mtgs $83,450,) Nov. 4; attorney, Louis Diamant, 132 Nassau St .....

139TH ST, 499 East, n s, 16.8x100; also 140th St, 446 East, s s, 16.8x100; also 140th St, 454 East, s s, 16.8x100; Minnie Pfeiffer to Frank L. Lescault, 392 Elm St, Holyoke, Mass., Nov. 5; attorney, Frank L. Lescault, 290 Longwood St, Long Island City $100

142D ST, 484 East, s s, 16.8x121.5; Lena Roth to Minnie Lefkovits, 484 East 142d St, ½ part, Oct. 21; attorneys, Brown & B., 206 Broadway $1

166TH ST, 290 East, s s, 65x120; Mary E. Henderson to Catherine F. Brady, 560 East 162d St, (mtg $9,700,) June 24; attorney, J. C. Brady, 156 Broadway $1

181ST ST, 615 East, n s, 17.2x95; Julia J. Raymond to Ralph Levy, 609 East 181st St, (mtg $2,500,) Nov. 2; attorney, Ralph Levy, 609 East 181st St .....

181ST ST, w s, at n s of Lot 32, 124.5 to s s of Tiebout Av, x255x25x254.9, being part of Lot 32, Map R. Bassford; Wenigmann Construction Co. to Theodore Roehrs, 165 East 175th St, (mtg $10,000,) Oct. 31; attorneys, Martin & H., 307 Tremont Av $1

RECORDED MORTGAGES.

With name and address of lender and lender's attorney. Interest is at 5 per cent. unless otherwise specified.

Manhattan.

CENTRAL PARK WEST, w s, 80.4 ft s of 84th St, 20x98; Hannah Elias to Elliott Mortgage Co., 277 Broadway, Nov. 2, (prior mtg $20,000,) due May 1, 1916, 6 p. c.; attorney, Lawyers Title Insurance Co., 160 Broadway $4,100

LENOX AV, w s, 61.5 ft s of 120th St, 20x85; Mary F. Place to Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway, Nov. 4; due as per bond $10,000

8TH AV, n w corner of 22d St, —x—, leasehold; Frank Curran to Peter Doelger Brewing Co., 407 East 55th St, Oct. 30, demand 6 p. c.; attorney, John C. Hoenninger, 407 East 55th St $2,000

13TH ST, n s, 233.4 ft w of 7th Av, 20.10x75; Emma Ziegel to Beatrice S. B. Ziegel and another, Exrs., 8 West 86th St, Oct. 14, 3 years; attorney, Lawyers Title Insurance Co., 160 Broadway $5,000

91ST ST, s s, 150 ft e of Riverside Drive, 30.8x100.8; Charles De H. Brower to Seamen's Bank for Savings in City New York, 70 Wall St, Oct. 29, due March 15, 1916, 4½ p. c.; attorneys, Cadwalader, W. & J., 40 Wall St $1,000

113TH ST, 540 West, s s, 306.3 ft e of Broadway, 18.9x100.11, (prior mtg $20,000;) Sigma Nu Realty Association to Hy Leerburger, 542 West 113th St, Nov. 4, 5 years, 6 p. c.; attorneys, Keith & Abbot, 45 Cedar St $4,000

Bronx.

CAULDWELL AV, 715, w s, 18.9x115; also Cauldwell Av, 717, w s, 18.9x115; Rosa Alper to Abraham Axler, 1,825 Franklin Av, (prior mtg $12,000,) Nov. 2, instalments, 6 p. c.; attorney, N. M. Hutner, 320 Broadway $4,200

HOE AV, 1,287-1,289, w s, 50x100; M. H. Realty Co., Inc., to Galveston Building Co., 1,289 Hoe Av, Nov. 4, due as per bond; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway $5,000

LOT 215, map of Lohbauer Park; John T. Rolf to Annie R. Daily, 1,525 Zerega Av, Nov. 2, 5 years, 6 p. c.; attorney, Frank Gass, Inc., 2,215 Westchester Av $2,800

LOTS 89 and 90, map Ruser Estate; Friedoline Roeser to Christopher Schmitt, 1,974 Belmont Av, Sept. 22, 1913, 2 years, 6 p. c.; attorney, J. R. Liberman, 44 Cedar St $1,800

LOT 13, map sub-div. Lot 1, Clason Point; Arcangelo La Callmita to Domenico Clemente, 300 West 50th St, Nov. 4, 2 years, 6 p. c.; attorney, A. Ferme, 102 Broadway $500

SEDGWICK AV, w s, at s e corner of Lot 7, map of William O. Giles, 50x111.11; Matilda K. Bowne to Bronx Security and Brokerage Co., 238 East 138th St, Nov. 5, installs 6 p. c.; attorney, H. Frank, 238 East 138th St $400

TINTON AV, 1,089, w s, 18.9x100; Lisette Julich to Herman Julich, 3,145 Decatur Av, Oct. 22, 1 year; attorney, William Carl, 99 Nassau St $3,500

WEBSTER AV, e s, 66 ft e of Welen St, 22x90; Elizabeth M. Coughlin to Bronx Security and Brokerage Co., 238 East 138th St, Nov. 5, installs 6 p. c.; attorney, H. Frank, 238 East 138th St $310

WILDER AV, e s, 200 ft n of Randall Av, 25x100; John Strand to Land Co., C. Edenwald, 299 Madison Av, Oct. 30, 3 years, 6 p. c.; attorney, R. B. Alling, 149 Broadway $300

162D ST, 299 East, n s, 43.6x115; Melrose Building Co. to Elizabeth C. Hays, 324 Clarkton Av, Brooklyn, (prior mtg $37,000,) Nov. 2, due Oct. 2, 1917, 6 p. c.; attorney, Lawyers Title Insurance and Trust Co. 160

BROADWAY, 1,680 to 1,684; Theodore C. Wood against Amos F. Eno, owner; Delta Theatre Corp., lessee; Frank Willetts, contractor $400

RIVERSIDE DRIVE, w s, 1,059.7 ft s of Dyckman St, 1,031.7x irregular to Hudson River; Pheon Contracting Co. against Vermont Hygeia Ice Co., owner and contractor. $1,987

3D AV, 1,520 and 1,522; Evans Bros., Inc., against John and Jacob Spies, owners; Frank Wall, contractor $36

3D AV, 871; Thomas Worrell against Anton Rauch, owner; Jones & Tressell, contractors $159

7TH AV, 230; Superior Cornice and Skylight Works against 230 Fifth Avenue Corp., owner and contractor $1,900

90TH ST, 65 East; Evans Bros. Inc., against Elise Ruckert, owner; Frank Wall, contractor $27

204TH ST, 428 to 438 West, Northern Cornice and Roofing Co. against Orosant Construction Co., owner and contractor. .$890

232D ST, n s, 323 ft e of Brussing Av 50x114; Beith & Reilly Co. against William J. Smith, owner; R. Johnson, Thomas S. Cressell, and William Verhofsky, contractors, (renewal) $350

Bronx.

BEAR SWAMP ROAD, 1,805 and 1,807; Julius Oehrlein against Henry Parfitt, owner; J. H. Hass, contractor $41

SAME PROPERTY; Schmitz & Eulenstein, Inc., against same, owner; same contractor $201

SAME PROPERTY; Frank Zang against same, owner; same contractor $110

SAME PROPERTY; Thomas Moore against same, owner; same contractor $44

ELY AV, e s, 97.6 ft s of Boston Road, 25x irreg; Vincenzo Mendino against Fred Byron, owner and contractor $10

KELLY ST, 1,013; J. Rosenblum & Co. against Kelbert Construction Co., owner and contractor $135

LAYTON AV, n e corner of Dean Av, 55x100; Combi Bros. against Francesco Santamareno, owner; Max Kreindel, contractor. $390

PARK AV, e s, 102.2 ft n of 167th St, 30.10x100; Nicholas Gregoria & Co. against Maleke Building Corp., owner and contractor $9,026

SATISFIED MECHANICS' LIENS.

WADSWORTH AV, w s, 50 ft n of 179th St; Thomas F. Keogh against William Hobson and others, Sept. 24, 1914 .....$20

GRAND BOULEVARD AND CONCOURSE, s e corner of Fordham Road; Salvatore Naccarato against John Doe and others, May 26, 1913, (by bond) $90

LIS PENDENS.

115TH ST, n s, 200 ft e of 5th Av, 25x100.11; Samuel A. Goldschmidt and others against Joseph Liebling and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, E. Goldschmidt.

LEXINGTON AV, 196; William L. Condit against Louis Levine and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, E. Goldschmidt.

MADISON AV, 402, office 20, on 3d floor; Carlton Chambers Co. to Briarcliff Lodge Association, 3 years, from Oct. 1, 1914; attorneys, Butler, B. W., & Co., 54 Wall St. $720 to $960

ST. NICHOLAS AV, 1,422, also 181st St, 587 West, part of 2d floor; William Welman to Chu Stai, 552 Lenox Av, 4 10-12 years, from Dec. 1, 1914; attorney, F. W. Fielding, 233 Broadway $2,400

2D AV, 1,907, all; John McCarthy to Jacob Duberman, 1,907 2d Av, from Nov. 1, 1914, to date fixed by notice from landlord, $1,320

3D AV, 716, all; George Goetting to Patrick J. Doyle, 157 East 45th St, 11 years, from May 1, 1918; attorney, Joseph M. Lesser, 35 Liberty St $4,500

8TH AV, 237, all; Katherine T. Moore to Frank Curran, 237 8th Av, 3 years, from Nov. 1, 1914; attorney, John C. Hoenninger, 407 East 55th St $2,220

34TH ST, 11 West, part of 5th floor; Frances A. F. Cohen to Jacob Green, 427 34 Av, 3 years, from Nov. 4, 1914 .$1,200 to $2,400

124TH ST, 157 and 159 West, all; Frederick Ayer to Benjamin Blum, 565 West 144th St, 21 years, from Feb. 1, 1915; attorney, D. E. Goldfarb, 38 Nassau St .....

$9,250 to $10,500

Bronx.

180TH ST, 701 East, store, &c.; Louis Gates and another to Edw. Naumann, 701 East 180th St, 15 years, from May 1, 1912; attorney, Edw. Naumann, 701 East 180th St. $480 to $600

177TH ST, 262 West, part of first floor and part of basement, to be used as branch Post Office; Edwin F. Branning to United States of America, 5 years, from July 1, 1914; attorney, U. S. A., 1,823 Sedgwick Av $900

MECHANICS' LIENS.

Manhattan.

BROADWAY, 1,680 to 1,684; Theodore C. Wood against Amos F. Eno, owner; Delta Theatre Corp., lessee; Frank Willetts, contractor $400

RIVERSIDE DRIVE, w s, 1,059.7 ft s of Dyckman St, 1,031.7x irregular to Hudson River; Pheon Contracting Co. against Vermont Hygeia Ice Co., owner and contractor. $1,987

3D AV, 1,520 and 1,522; Evans Bros., Inc., against John and Jacob Spies, owners; Frank Wall, contractor $36

3D AV, 871; Thomas Worrell against Anton Rauch, owner; Jones & Tressell, contractors $159

7TH AV, 230; Superior Cornice and Skylight Works against 230 Fifth Avenue Corp., owner and contractor $1,900

90TH ST, 65 East; Evans Bros. Inc., against Elise Ruckert, owner; Frank Wall, contractor $27

204TH ST, 428 to 438 West, Northern Cornice and Roofing Co. against Orosant Construction Co., owner and contractor. .$890

232D ST, n s, 323 ft e of Brussing Av 50x114; Beith & Reilly Co. against William J. Smith, owner; R. Johnson, Thomas S. Cressell, and William Verhofsky, contractors, (renewal) $350

Bronx.

BEAR SWAMP ROAD, 1,805 and 1,807; Julius Oehrlein against Henry Parfitt, owner; J. H. Hass, contractor $41

SAME PROPERTY; Schmitz & Eulenstein, Inc., against same, owner; same contractor $201

SAME PROPERTY; Frank Zang against same, owner; same contractor $110

SAME PROPERTY; Thomas Moore against same, owner; same contractor $44

ELY AV, e s, 97.6 ft s of Boston Road, 25x irregular; Vincenzo Mendino against Fred Byron, owner and contractor $10

KELLY ST, 1,013; J. Rosenblum & Co. against Kelbert Construction Co., owner and contractor $135

LAYTON AV, n e corner of Dean Av, 55x100; Combi Bros. against Francesco Santamareno, owner; Max Kreindel, contractor. $390

PARK AV, e s, 102.2 ft n of 167th St, 30.10x100; Nicholas Gregoria & Co. against Maleke Building Corp., owner and contractor $9,026

SATISFIED MECHANICS' LIENS.

WADSWORTH AV, w s, 50 ft n of 179th St; Thomas F. Keogh against William Hobson and others, Sept. 24, 1914 .....$20

GRAND BOULEVARD AND CONCOURSE, s e corner of Fordham Road; Salvatore Naccarato against John Doe and others, May 26, 1913, (by bond) $90

LIS PENDENS.

115TH ST, n s, 200 ft e of 5th Av, 25x100.11; Samuel A. Goldschmidt and others against Joseph Liebling and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, E. Goldschmidt.

LEXINGTON AV, 196; William L. Condit against Louis Levine and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, E. Goldschmidt.

40TH ST, 420 WEST; Clarence J. Carroll against Patrick J. Costello and others foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, W. F. Clare.

Bronx.

FOX ST, n s, 191.3 ft e of St. John's Av, 40.7x125; Jenny Greenbaum against Landrew T. McKegney and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, H. M. Greenbaum.

INSTRUCTION.

Woman's Law Class of New York University

Lectureship endowed by the Woman's Legal Education Society

A course of forty-five lectures on law for business women and those interested in the management of property. Mondays, Wednesday and Fridays, 11:30 A. M. or 8:30 P. M. at the Law School Building, Washington Square, Manhattan. First Lecture, November 11th. Limited number of scholarships available. For bulletin address

G. W. PERGUE, Registrar.
New York University, Washington Square, N. Y. City

The mothers' department of the Froebel League under the direction of Mrs. Marion B. B. Langzettel will open its Winter course of lectures at half past three o'clock on Thursday, November 5, at 112 East 71st Street; regular class work begins Wednesday, November 11, at half past ten. The subjects considered are those pertaining to the upbringing of children, discussed from a psychologic and practical standpoint and include psychology, handwork, stories, Bible study, science, art history, music. Circular on application.

PRATT SCHOOL—62-64 West 45th St. Individual instruction, day, evening: Shorthand, Bookkeeping, Stenotypy, Secretaryship.

Do Not Delay.
On ascertaining loss of property telephone 1000 Bryant. The New York Times is the best medium for recovering it.—Advt.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

Joseph P. Day
REAL ESTATE
51 Nassau Street

Packards and Renaults by hour, day, week, month. Bayard, 345 West 50th. Col. 6002.

BROOKLYN—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

PETER J. COLLINS' NEW
RUTLAND ROAD HOUSES
Near Flatbush Av., block from Prospect Park express station, Brighton "L" and six car lines; one-family brick and stucco, 9 rooms and bath; price, $8,750; terms to suit.

QUEENS—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

HILL TOP OVERLOOKING THE SOUND.
House, 8 rooms and bath; large plot; hot water heat; sewer, water, gas, electric light; 30 minutes from city; 44 trains daily; privileges of beautiful bathing beach, dock, etc.; $500 cash, balance monthly; title guaranteed. C STEPHENSON, 243 West 34th St., N. Y. Phone 1760 Greeley.

LONG ISLAND—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

DOUGLAS MANOR LOTS
22 minutes by electric trains from Pennsylvania Station, on North Shore of Long Island. Boating, bathing, fishing.
Call, 'Phone or write.
CHARLES M. BURTIS, 207 Myerson St., Brooklyn, N. Y. 'Phone 2200 Prospect.

WESTCHESTER—SALE OR TO LET.

AT WHITE PLAINS.
Attractive new dwelling, 10 rooms, baths, all modern improvements; stable, chicken houses; 3 acres; very high elevation; extensive views. Price, $17,500; easy terms. Fox Realty Company, 22 E. 42d St.

REAL ESTATE—OUT OF CITY.

BUNGALOW.
Artistic and substantially built; hardwood trim; 5 rooms and bath; large living room; beam ceiling; panel walls; open fireplace; combination gas and electric fixtures; spacious porches; up to date in every respect; owner compelled to sell at once; will take as low as $200 cash, balance easy monthly payments from responsible party; best bargain of the year; only 50 minutes out. Address C JOHNSON, 171 Flatbush Av., B'klyn.

TO LET FOR BUSINESS PURPOSES.

A LOFT
Modeled and Equipped So as to Comply with the New Labor Law in Every Detail
133 Mercer St.
One block from new Prince St. Subway Station.
RENTAL ONLY $800
Capacity 40 Operatives.
Low Insurance and Power Rates. Two Fireproof Staircases.
Ideal home for an up-to-date manufacturing plant.
Ready for occupancy December 1.
Apply to Renting Agent, on premises, or
R. M. BUSH
149 Broadway
Phone Cortland 1755.

BUILDINGS, STORES, LOFTS TO LET
WM. H. WHITING & CO.
41 PARK ROW TEL 5900 CORT.

STABLE
Five story and basement, 441-443 E. 19th St.; accommodate 90 horses, 60 wagons. Owner will alter for manufacturing purposes. John J. Bagley, 25 W. 42d St.

STOCK AND SALESROOMS
S. W. Corner 4th Av. and 20th St. Eighth floor; best of light; rents $1,500 and $2,000; very low insurance.
Goodale, Perry & Dwight, Inc., 1,133 B'way at 26th St. Phone Farragut 8464.

433 BROADWAY,
N. W. CORNER HOWARD ST.,
first and third Lofts to let, size 26x75; freight elevator; possession at once; rents very low.
CRUIKSHANK COMPANY, 141 Broadway.

HIGH-CLASS LOFTS
PRINTERS—MANUFACTURERS
50x90, 70x90, and 50x150; best location; all facilities. Brokers, or OFFICE, E. W. BLISS BLDGS., 312 E. 23d St. Tel. 4218 Garmercy.

BANKRUPTCY SALES.

SUPREME COURT, NEW YORK COUNTY.—In the matter of the voluntary dissolution of BOHNE McLAUGHLIN COMPANY.

Notice is hereby given that by an order of the above Court the personal property and effects of the above company, consisting of a large quantity of woolens, silks and laces; Communion Certificates, Prayer Books, Metal Crosses, Certificates, Beads, Crucifixes, Ruby Glasses, Small Pictures, General Religious Articles, Chalices, Ciboria, Sanctuary Lamps, Candlesticks, Candelabra, Vestments, Banners, Priests' Cassocks, Boys' Cassocks, Albs and Surplices, Marble Fonts, Leather Laces, Statuary, Candles, Tapers, etc., will be sold at public auction by Charles Shongood, Auctioneer, to be held at the store and building formerly occupied by said company at No. 34 Barclay Street, in the City of New York, Borough of Manhattan, Friday, November 6th, 1914, at 10:30 A. M., in accordance with terms of sale, which will be then announced, and subject to confirmation by the Court.

Dated New York, Oct. 31st, 1914.
WILLIAM A. SHIELDS,
Receiver of Bohne McLaughlin Co.

EVERETT D. BARLOW, Attorney for the Receiver, Office and P. O. Address, Woolworth Building, 233 Broadway, New York City, Borough of Manhattan.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE United States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of SEABOARD TOWEL AND LOCKER SUPPLY INC., Bankrupt.—Chas. Shongood, U. S. Auctioneer for the Southern District of New York in bankruptcy, sells Monday, Nov. 16th, 1914, by order of the court, at 10:30 A. M., at 2 Jones Lane, near Front and Wall Sts., Borough of Manhattan, assets of the above bankrupt, consisting of wines, tanks, barrels, wine manufacturing equipment, machinery, office furniture, fixtures, &c. Inspection Nov. 13th and 14th, between 10 A. M. and 4 P. M.

CHARLES SCHUELER, Trustee.
SAMUEL C. DUBERSTEIN, Attorney for Trustee, 115 Broadway, New York.

SUPREME COURT, NEW YORK COUNTY.—In the Matter of the General Assignment of EA

City Property.
Thirty cents a line.

Real Estate at Auction.

BRYAN L. KENNELLY, AUCTIONEER, 156 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

M. Morgenthau, Jr., Co., Auctioneers, 95 Liberty St., N. Y.

Real Estate.

EWING, BACON & HENRY, Real Estate—Insurance. 101 Park Ave.

Manhattan—For Sale or To Let.

VACANT LOT IN THE SEVENTIES, east of 3d Av., 25x100, suitable for garage, &c.
WM. A. WHITE & SONS, 62 Cedar St. Tel. 6700 John.

American basement, private, for sale or rent, furnished dwelling, five story; Otis elevator; modern in every respect; elegantly furnished. Key at 33 West 58th St.

Brooklyn—For Sale or To Let.

Four private houses, opposite Tompkins Park, at a bargain. C. M. Burtis, 207 Ryerson St., Brooklyn. Phone 2200 Prospect.

City Houses to Let—Unfurnished.

200TH ST., (at Southeast Cor. Valentine Av., Bedford Park.)—FOR RENT, two $65 adjoining houses for less than $100; fine for two friendly families or boarding house.

West 88th St., 123.—Four-story American basement house; 10 rooms; 2 baths; rent $1,500. Warren & Skillin, 174 Fulton St.

Real Estate for Exchange.

What's offered for Washington Heights corner apartments; equity $30,000? Owner, 3,525 Broadway.

To Let for Business Purposes.
Thirty cents a line.

In the new EDISON SHOP BUILDING, at 473 Fifth Avenue, between 40th and 41st Streets, opposite public library, fourth FLOOR. Also STUDIO with fine north light and skylight. Moderate rental.
WM. A. WHITE & SONS, 62 Cedar Street.

A.—SOUTHWEST CORNER BROADWAY AND WALKER ST. LARGE, ATTRACTIVE STORE, (3,400 SQ. FT.); OR WILL DIVIDE; TO LEASE FOR TERM OF YEARS; POSSESSION; LOW RENT. JOHN P. KIRWAN & SONS, 138 WEST 42D ST. FULL COMMISSION TO BROKER.

A Bargain.—Desirable offices in 40th St., between Broadway and 6th Av.; will sublease one-half or all (about 3,600 square feet) at attractive price; all light; very suitable for engineering concern. Address M 97 Times.

LOFT, 5,400 SQUARE FEET, $120; FOR LIGHT MANUFACTURING OR STORAGE; ELEVATOR, HEAT, &C. APPLY 408 WEST 18TH ST.

LIGHT outside office, $15 unfurnished; $22 fully furnished, including typewriter, or will sell furniture; immediate possession. Room 1,520, 29 Broadway.

Desk room, highest class, all facilities, $15, $18, $20. 406 Times Building, Times Square.

LOFTS, modern fireproof, 22 cents sq. ft.; with rail and water facilities, 25 cents. Galbreath, 319 West 95th St.

STORES, LOFTS, OFFICES.
Rhinelander Real Estate Co., 31 Nassau.

50th, 44 West.—Parlor floor, for high-class business, doctor's office. Plaza 2121.

To Rent.—Two desirable offices. Apply Room 622, 115 Broadway.

432 4th Av., corner 29th St. Floors, offices, stores, showrooms.

Stores in the midtown section. Van Norden & Wilson, 1 West 34th St., N. Y.

LEGAL NOTICES.

DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—BERWIND-WHITE COAL MINING COMPANY, Plaintiff, against EASTERN STEAMSHIP CORPORATION, Defendant.—Restraining order.

And now on the 30th day of October, 1914, this cause came on to be heard upon the ancillary bill of complaint and on the answer of the defendant thereto, and it appearing to more fully set out in the ancillary bill of complaint herein that a Bill of Complaint has been filed by the complainant herein against the defendant herein in the District Court of the United States for the District of Maine, to which this bill of complaint is ancillary, and that the defendant appeared in the said District of Maine in open court and joined in the prayer of the said complaint, and that the said District Court of the United States for the District of Maine has entered an order directing all persons interested to appear before the said District Court of the Western District of Maine at Chambers in the City of Portland on saturday, November 7, 1914, at 11 o'clock A. M. to show cause why receivers should not be appointed, and it appearing that the defendant has property within this jurisdiction, and after hearing Philip W. Russell, of counsel for the complainant, and Charles E. Littlefield, of counsel for the defendant, and upon motion of the said complainant's counsel, and the consent of the said defendant's counsel it is ordered, adjudged and decreed that the said and every of the officers, directors, agents and employees of the defendant and all other persons whomsoever be and they hereby are required not to remove any property of the defendant of whatsoever nature, outside the Southern District of New York which is now within the said Southern District of New York except vessels and the appurtenances thereto plying between the port of New York and other ports, and then only in the ordinary and usual course of the business or the defendant in transporting freight and passengers until further order of this court, provided, however, that all of said vessels that are within the jurisdiction of this Court and may be temporarily removed therefrom under this order will be whenever so ordered returned to this jurisdiction so as to be subject to the order of this court.

Further ordered that all creditors of the defendant corporation and all others having or claiming to have claims of whatsoever sort or nature against the defendant corporation be and they hereby are enjoined and forbidden from commencing any proceedings whatsoever whether in law or in equity looking to the enforcement of the said debts or claims, or from further prosecuting the same if they have already been commenced until further order of this court.

The intent and purport of the within order and decree is to maintain the condition of the assets of the defendant corporation within the Southern District of New York unimpaired and unimpaired as far as may be with due regard to the operation of its business as a public carrier pending the return day of the said order.

Further ordered that the parties hereto show cause before this court at the United States Court Room where the motion calendar will be held, Post Office Building, Borough of Manhattan, City, County and State of New York, on November 9, 1914 at 10:30 o'clock A. M., why a decree should not be made appointing ancillary receivers of the property of the defendant within the Southern District of New York in the event that receivers for the property of the defendant shall have been theretofore appointed by the United States District Court for the District of Maine in the cause to which this cause is ancillary, at which time the parties hereto, or any parties in interest, may be heard and make any application with reference to this cause, and it is Further ordered that a copy of this order, duly certified by the clerk of this court, be published in New York Times, a daily newspaper in the City of New York on November 6 and 7 1914.

Dated New York, October 30, 1914.
JULIUS M. MAYER,
United States District Judge.

The foregoing order is hereby consented to.
CHARLES E. LITTLEFIELD,
Solicitor for Eastern Steamship Corporation.

A true copy
ALEX GILCHRIST, JR., Clerk. (Seal)

NOTICE TO CREDITORS
The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway Company.

All creditors of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway Company are hereby notified that the District Court of the United States, Southern District and Ohio, Western Division in the cause wherein Bankers Trust Co. is plaintiff and the Cincinnati Hamilton & Dayton Railway Co. is defendant, numbered in Equity No. 43, on the second day of November, 1914, ordered that:

"All persons, firms or corporations having claims or demands against the defendant, The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway Company, other than those secured by mortgage or conditional sale duly filed or recorded, are required, on or before the first day of January, 1915, under penalty of the-after having said claims disallowed in the discretion of the court to file the same with Judson Harmon and Rufus B. Smith Receivers herein, which said claims or demands shall be supported by affidavit and shall set out the amount and nature of any security or lien held by the claimant or to which the claimant is entitled, and also any claim to preference in payment from the assets in the hands of the Receivers or the earnings therefrom in priority to the bonds secured by the mortgage to the plaintiff Bankers Trust Company, of New York, bearing date July 1, 1908, and known as defendant's First and Refunding Mortgage, or to any other creditors of the defendant."

Pursuant to the above, claims should be filed with the undersigned Receivers at the following address:

JUDSON HARMON,
RUFUS B. SMITH,
Receivers of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway Co.,
66 Carew Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.
November 2, 1914.

PROMPT DELIVERY FREE.
Want advertisements for The New York Times received at American District Messenger offices in New York City at office rates.—Advt.

Property Out of the City.
Thirty cents a line.

Real Estate at Auction.

For Sale.—Private residence; on plot 95x100 feet, northeast corner of Grand and Seventh Avenues, North Asbury Park, N. J., at public auction, November 16, 1914, at 2 P. M., at the Court House, Freehold, New Jersey. Excellent piece of property in best section of North Asbury Park, to be had cheap. For further particulars inquire Albert Robbins, Asbury Park; McCarter & English, Prudential Building, Newark, and Schryver & Geyler, 738 Broad Street, Newark, N. J.

Long Island—For Sale or To Let.

Bungalow with shore front rights; everything up to date; 6 large rooms; big veranda; fronting bay; 45 minutes out; refined neighborhood; ideal home; willing to sell below value; only need $200 cash; balance, $20 a month; possession at once. Address Reiss, 137 Times Downtown.

Douglas Manor lots, 22 min. from Penn. Station. C. Burtis, 207 Ryerson St., Brooklyn.

New Jersey—For Sale or To Let.

Forced to sell at sacrifice, $1,200 plot, $650; 50x150 feet; high, in healthy Orange Mountains, near Lackawanna station; 35 min. to N. Y. C.; select residential neighborhood. Room 804, 41 Park Row, N. Y.

Montclair.—Opportunity of lifetime; new modern house; 9 rooms, 3 baths; every appointment; will sacrifice for $5,800. Murdoch, op. Lackawanna Sta., Montclair.

CRANFORD.—Two attractive modern houses, 8 rooms, 2 baths; convenient station; satisfactory terms. Droesher, 77 Warren St., N. Y.

Farm Bargain.—107 acres, Rocky Hill, near Princeton; good buildings; fine view; rich soil; price very low. Condict, 15 Exchange Place, Jersey City.

Smith-Singer Co., Glen Rock, N. J.—Beautiful town adjoining Ridgewood; exceptional homes at exceptional prices; large plots. Write for photos.

We specialize in Bergen Co. real estate. Write for Booklet "A." N. J. Title Ins. Co., Hackensack, N. J.

Canada—For Sale or To Let.

Canada is the place for your Summer cottage; now is the time to discuss the matter with Wayland Williams, Accountant, Board of Trade Building, Montreal.

Apartments to Let Furnished.
Thirty cents a line.

West Side.

A.—A.—CATHEDRAL PLAZA.
100 Cathedral Parkway, 110th, Columbus Av. At Morningside Park, near Central Park.
1, 2, AND 3 ROOMS.
Dishes, cooking utensils, and silver. Private bath, kitchenette, furnished, $30, $40, $50 up monthly; unfurnished, $25, $30, $40; elevator, hotel service; near "L" and Subway; references; special rates on lease.

TO SUBLET AT A BARGAIN.
Nicely furnished 3-room elevator apartment with private bath and kitchenette, cooking utensils, dishes, linen and silver included, near "L" and Subway, overlooking Morningside Park, near Central Park. Inquire at 100 Cathedral Parkway, 110th St. and Columbus Av. Tel. River 3970.

Completely furnished 6 rooms and bath; southern exposure; first-class elevator apartment house; going South; will rent to desirable tenant for $85 a month. Foster, 210 West 107th St.

A.—A.—Desirable furnished apartments for rent; four rooms and bath to ten rooms and three baths; for six months or longer Full particulars Slawson & Hobbs, 162 West 72d.

Furnished apartments for rent at the Van Dyck and Severn, Broadway, 72d to 73d St.; 6, 8, and 9 rooms, 2 and 3 baths. Apply to manager, on premises. Tel. Col. 3847.

HOMES OF QUALITY.
Rentals $100 to $1,000 per month.
EVERETT M. SEIXAS COMPANY,
Tel. 4520 Murray Hill. 507 5th Av.

For Winter, furnished delightful eight-room apartment; elevator; reasonable; near 86th Subway. Telephone after 10 o'clock, 4015 Schuyler.

121st., 509 West, (Columbia Grounds Opposite.)—Beautiful duplex studio apartments, four rooms, bath, kitchenette; furnished housekeeping; restaurant. Yetman.

Riverside Drive, 524.—Five rooms; front apartment; attractively furnished; $75; piano. See afternoons. Apt. 3. Telephone 4403 Morningside.

A.—A.—A.—High-class furnished apartments wanted for waiting clients. Send particulars to Slawson & Hobbs, 162 West 72d St.

Apartment of 4 rooms and bath, facing Broadway; rent to June 1, $90 per month. 250 West 78th St., corner Broadway.

West End Av., 83d St.—Luxuriously furnished apartment 7 rooms, 3 baths; Winter months. Phone Murray Hill 4900.

Women's bachelor apartments; private dinner club; breakfast served in room. N 149 Times.

74th St., 161 West.—Beautifully furnished apartment; private bath, good service; for gentleman.

113th, 517 West.—Sublet 4-room apartment, completely furnished. Inquire at office.

57th, 57 West.—Three rooms and bath, $80 a month. Apartment 3.

Fine Apartments. Apply to 14 Wall St Douglas Robinson Charles S. Brown Co.

East Side.

Apartments to let, furnished or unfurnished, high-class location, at bargain prices. A few choice apartments left. Restaurant. Two rooms & bath, furnished, $45 mo. upward. Three rms. & bath, furnished, $90 mo. upward. HOTEL OXFORD, 35 East 27th St. HOTEL ST. LOUIS, 34 East 32d St.

High-class furnished apartments; choice localities; long or short leases. CLARK & DE FLOREZ. 30 East 42d. Murray Hill 5392.

Apartments to Let Unfurnished.
Thirty cents a line.

West Side.

A.— CLAREMONT HALL,
601 West 112th St., (corner Broadway.)—Apartments five to seven rooms; passenger elevator, &c.; rent $600 to $1,100; possession Firm L. J. Carpenter, 25 Liberty St.

Two rooms and bath; steam, hot water, electric, gas; second floor front; 7 West 24th St.; on lot 25-foot front. Apply premises, or Goodale, Perry & Dwight, Inc., 1,133 Broadway, (at 26th.) Phone Farragut 9494.

44 West 93d St.—Quiet, well-managed house; one apartment each floor; eight rooms, with private hall and tiled bath; beautifully decorated; perfect light; excellent rear; rent, $60.

56th St., 109-111 East.—Two large, light rooms and bath in elevator apartment; chambermaid service included in rent; reduced rentals.

Attractive up-to-date elevator apartment, seven bright, sunny rooms, two baths; sublet great convenience. 536 W. 111th St., Apt. 8F.

[illegible] 14 West.—Private house; bachelors [illegible] room suite; convenient "L."

[illegible] Drive, 222, Apt. 4.—Beautiful 9-room [illegible] would divide if convenient.

"Haddon Hall," 596 Riverside Drive, s. e. cor. 137th St. $900 to $1400.

50th, 43 West.—Handsome parlor floor for doctor, dentist, or professional use.

East Side.

58TH ST., 63-47-51 East, at Park Av., DOCTOR'S apart., 6 rooms, 2 baths; $1,200-$1,250.
RESIDENCE aparts., 6-7 rooms, 2 baths; $1,100-$1,450.
BACHELOR aparts., 3 rooms and bath; $600. All Improvements, Standard Service.

48 EAST 88TH ST., southeast corner Madison Av.—Light apartments of 7, 8 rooms; $600, $960.

57th, 47 East.—Two rooms, bath; redecorated; finest neighborhood; conveniences; leases preferred.

92d, 74 East.—4 rooms; top floor; private house; $30 to $40; electricity.

New Jersey.

Apartments for rent, Westwood, N. J. 7 rooms, porches, garden; $31 monthly. 6 rooms, porches, garden; $23 monthly. D. Sloat, 318 Broadway, New York.

Boarders Wanted
Twenty cents a line.

East Side.

5TH AV., 47, (12th St.)—Attractive steam heated room; private baths; table board.

11TH, 26 EAST.—Handsomely furnished single and double rooms; superior table; high-class neighborhood, adjoining 5th Av.; moderate.

15TH, 210 EAST.—Desirable large and small rooms; home cooking; telephone; references.

17TH ST., 116 EAST.—Newly furnished large and small rooms; excellent table board. Tel. 4275 Stuyvesant.

19TH, 116 EAST, (Gramercy Park.)—Connecting and single room; southern exposure, sunny dining room; telephone; references.

34TH ST., 117-119 EAST.
Large and small rooms, with board.

62D ST., 16 EAST.—Single and double rooms; excellent table; parlor dining; reasonable.

63D, 23-30 EAST.—Large and single rooms, excellent board; telephone; reasonable.

76TH, 32 EAST.—Attractive rooms; singly or en suite; ideal location; board optional.

89TH, (1,345 Lexington Av.)—Pleasant surroundings; excellent cuisine; exceptional convenience; telephone. Gross.

MADISON AV., 165—Large, small rooms; private bath; one block 34th Subway.

West Side.

7TH AV., 2,053, (123d.)—Comfortably furnished rooms; steam, hot water; home cooking.

16TH, 7 WEST.—Large room, private bath; excellent table; telephone; billiard room.

23D, 424 WEST.—Massachusetts lady offers attractive rooms; unexcelled home cooking; reasonable.

50TH, 63 WEST.—Large, small rooms in house with owner; board optional.

53D, 64 WEST.—Rooms, private baths; electricity; table board; references.

54TH, 54 WEST.—Newly decorated rooms, private baths; electricity, references.

56TH ST., 62 WEST.—Desirable rooms with board; table board; references required.

57TH, 411 WEST.—Choice accommodations; double rooms; board two, $16; single, $8.

58TH, 37 WEST.—Attractive rooms; private baths; table unexcelled; accessible location; table guests.

68TH, 74 WEST.—Desirable double, single rooms; private baths; Southerners accommodated; reasonable.

68TH, 38 WEST.—Single room for gentleman; bath adjoining; unlimited hot water.

71ST, 62 WEST.—Unexcelled board, double rooms, private baths, steam heat, electricity.

72D, 121 WEST.—Second-floor suite; other rooms; table board; references; telephone.

73D, 142 WEST.—Large and small rooms; handsome suite; board optional; reference.

74TH, 131 WEST.—20th year; large, small rooms; baths; excellent table; references.

79TH, 114 AND 132 WEST.—Unusual and attractive "pensions," with large parlors, tearoom, and lounge; Southern cooking; white maid service; private telephone; booklet on request.

79TH, 121 WEST.—Large, sunny, front, with board; refined; quiet; newly renovated throughout.

80TH ST., 108-108-110 WEST, THE HOUSE RICHARDS.—A satisfactory home for refined people; high-type furnishings; pure food; wholesome, generous, well-balanced meals; references.

80TH, 123 WEST.—Homelike accommodations; en suite or single; hot water supply; convenient Subway, elevated; excellent cuisine; references.

80TH, 129 WEST.—Kenilworth; attractive rooms; ideal location; excellent cuisine; table guests.

80TH, 143 WEST.—Suite two rooms and bath; moderate; small rooms; references.

80TH, 124 WEST.—Desirable large, sunny room; also medium room; generous table.

81ST, 129 WEST.—Large front room, southern exposure, second; also small; excellent table; moderate.

82D, 54 WEST.—Sunny single room on second floor; excellent table; references.

83D, 5 WEST.—Suite, singly; private bath; modern improvements; table unsurpassed; references.

93D, 139 WEST.—Warm double room; $14; single, $8; splendid home cooking.

94TH, 16 WEST.—Newly renovated rooms; electric lights; excellent cuisine; telephone; reference.

96TH, 54 WEST, (near Central Park.)—Good rooms and board; terms moderate.

104TH, 245 WEST.—Pretty room, southern exposure; board optional; refined surroundings. Janzen.

104TH, 267 WEST, (West End Av.)—Sunny rooms; private house; board; references.

105TH, 76 WEST.—Spacious front room; also suite; exceptional table; reasonable; Southerners.

113TH, 590 WEST.—Two large rooms, private bath; excellent cuisine.

121ST, 139 WEST.—Large, small rooms; excellent accommodations; terms moderate.

124TH, (St. Nicholas Av., 285.)—Large front room; excellent German table; private family; first-class elevator house. Apartment 46.

140TH, 455 WEST.—Large room; electricity; large closets; bath; unexcelled cuisine.

143TH, 613 WEST.—Comfortable rooms, southern exposure; running water; good meals; telephone.

145TH ST., 623 WEST.—Room, with board; all home comforts; corner Riverside Drive, near Subway station; moderate.

161ST, 553 WEST.—Comfortable furnished and sunny front room; first-class table; homelike; phone.

THE EVELYN LODGE,
Charming Winter home, overlooking river; beautiful rooms; most excellent cuisine; every modern convenience; unusually attractive. Single, $10; two, $17 up. with meals. 71 Central Av., St. George, S. I.

THE WOODBURY, 555 RIVERSIDE DRIVE, two blocks north of 157th Subway; country house; wonderful grounds. Audubon 4412.

TWO OR THREE ROOMS,

Central Park West; very attractive rooms for gentlemen or couple who can appreciate apartments with beautiful appointments. N 138 Times.

WELL-APPOINTED HOUSE, off Broadway, communicating rooms, suitable small family, with without private bath; table GUESTS ACCOMMODATED; reasonable. 1020, 243 WEST.

Board Wanted
Twenty cents a line.

Refined couple desire large, comfortable front room and board, private house, 75th to 95th, Lex. to 5th Avs. S 122 Times.

Country Board
Thirty Cents a Line.
Westchester County.

Fall and Winter engagements now made; large, well-heated house, large dining room; beautiful river view; unexcelled home cooking. Highcliff Hall, Park Hill, Yonkers. N. Y., 2,161 Yonkers.

MOTT HOUSE, Tarrytown.—First-class family hotel; large, spacious rooms; steam heat, shower baths, billiard, music rooms; excellent table; rates $9 up. Tel. 525 J.

New Jersey.

EAST ORANGE, LENOX MANOR.
New throughout; a home without its cares; refined and exclusive; private baths; exceptional table for adults only. 75 Lenox Av. Telephone 5075 Orange.

Furnished Rooms
Twenty cents a line.

East Side.

15TH, 105 EAST.—Parlor suite, overlooking Park; elevators; telephone; reasonable. Apt. 7i.

17TH ST., 130 EAST.—Desirable room, with or without board; private family.

21ST, 137 EAST, (Gramercy Park.)—Single, en suite; private baths; breakfast served in rooms.

21ST, 189 EAST.—"Gramercy Park." Rooms without board; steam heat; $4 up.

24TH, 120 EAST.—Unusually large room, southern exposure; private bath; $7; others.

30TH, 145 EAST.—Parlor and alcove, small room; private entrance; steam-heat apartment; reasonable. Janitor.

36TH, 38 EAST.—Extra large front room for two or three business people; references.

45D, 4 EAST.—Desirable suite of rooms for bachelors; hot water heat, electricity, telephone service; breakfast optional; references exchanged.

47TH, 131 EAST.—Large handsome room, bath adjoining; private house; telephone; references.

53D, 65 EAST.—Elegant large, small rooms; select private house; all conveniences; refined surroundings; moderate. Tel Plaza 1304.

82D, 130 EAST, (Near Museum.)—Large rooms suitable two; private house; family two; steam heat; $8, $7. Ackermann.

88TH, (1,230 Madison Av.)—Large front room; running water, bath, for couple; $8.

IRVING PLACE, 14.—Front rooms; box spring beds; tiled bathrooms; absolute cleanliness.

LEXINGTON AV., 642.—Two large, handsomely furnished rooms; bath; every convenience; also back parlor; refined private home; (owner.)

MADISON AV., 175.—Handsomely furnished large room; private bath; breakfast optional; references.

West Side.

97TH ST., 26 WEST.—Large and small rooms, all conveniences; telephone; references.

12TH, 34 WEST.—Newly opened, decorated, private bath, also en suite; steam, electricity; telephone.

25TH ST., 18 WEST.—Nicely furnished rooms; running water, steam, electric light, phone, elevator; full hotel service; use of adjoining bath; $8, $9, $10.50 per week; one or two persons; rooms and suites, with private bath $10.50 per week and up; rooms $8, $9 per week; inspection invited.

32D ST., (between Broadway and 5th Av.)—Rooms, with private bath, $10 to $12 per week; same price for one or two persons in room. Hotel Aberdeen.

32D ST., near Broadway, (Hotel Strand.)—Very desirable apartment of parlor, bedroom and bath; $75 per month.

Furnished Rooms
Twenty cents a line.

West Side.

87TH, 17 WEST.—Small furnished, well-heated room for business woman; also large room and bath.

40TH, 66 WEST.—Large room, adjoining bath, in high-class private house; references required; bachelors.

47TH, 56 WEST.—Handsome, large room; private bath; steam, electricity, phone; single rooms.

47TH, 41 WEST.—Beautifully furnished room; steam; all conveniences; refined.

50TH, 48 WEST.—Large and small rooms; hot and cold water; baths; private bachelor residence.

52D, 236 WEST.—Beautiful sunny room; suitable 3 gentlemen; nice couple. Pierce.

53D, 62 WEST.—Parlor floor; equipped doctor's office; large rooms; private bath.

55TH ST., 101 WEST.—Furnished rooms; heat; running water; southern exposure. Collins.

57TH, 260 WEST.—Large, small rooms; modern improvements; Subway, elevated; references. Hammond.

57TH, 356 WEST.—Desirable single, double rooms; running water, heat; refined house.

61ST, 28 WEST.—Beautiful back parlor and other fine rooms; phone; bath.

68TH, 168 WEST.—Large and small rooms; select house; conveniences.

68TH, 47 WEST.—Large room, with bath; private residence.

69TH ST., 50 WEST.—Attractive, sunny rooms; private bath; electricity; 1 flight up; gentleman.

70TH, 204 WEST.—Living room and bedroom, en suite or single, for bachelors; shower bath; all conveniences; Broadway express Subway. Mrs. V. G.

70TH, 267 WEST.—Beautifully furnished, connecting rooms, private bath; also medium size rooms and bath, heat, electricity; breakfast if desired; gentlemen; reference.

70TH, 138 WEST.—Room; private bath; steam heat; electricity; private house; gentleman.

70TH, 122 WEST.—Handsomely furnished rooms; parquet floor; rugs; hot water; heat; gentlemen.

70TH, 136 WEST.—Beautiful south room; private bath; also large; running water.

71ST, 220 WEST.—Just opened, newly decorated and furnished large, small rooms; beautiful home; hot water; telephone; reference.

71ST, 115 WEST.—Delightful home for one gentleman; large room; private bath. Col. 10106.

72D ST., 47 WEST.—Two front rooms; bachelor only; southern exposure; use of kitchen and bath; $40 per month.

72D, 123 WEST.—Physician's suite; large, small rooms; bachelors only; owner's residence.

73D, 272 WEST, (Between Broadway and West End.)—Double, medium, single; showers; electricity; references.

73D, 153 WEST.—Attractively furnished large and small rooms; electricity; telephone; Subway express.

73D, 173 WEST.—Pleasant, warm room for two; also single.

74TH, 149 WEST.—Attractive rooms, suitable one or two; private baths; references.

75TH, 56 WEST.—Attractive rooms, single or double; adjoining bath; private home.

75TH, 116 WEST.—One large room, private house; electricity; steam heat; references.

76TH ST., 125 WEST.—Attractive, sunny front rooms; exclusive neighborhood; breakfast; telephone; references.

76TH, 148 WEST.—Large and medium-sized rooms, bath adjoining; electric light; telephone.

76TH ST., 171 WEST.—Large, second-story room, southern exposure; running water, shower, electricity.

70TH, 225 WEST.—Large room, kitchenette, private bath; electricity; front room; references.

77TH ST., 102 WEST.—Elegant double room, private bath; select house; parlor. 10032 Schuyler.

77TH, 141 WEST.—Large, well-furnished room, bath adjoining; electricity; (private family.)

77TH, 150 WEST.—Exceptionally large room, with or without bath; southern exposure; references.

77TH, 160 WEST.—Newly decorated large, small rooms; gentlemen; also physician's office.

78TH, 112 WEST.—Newly furnished large, small rooms; every convenience; pleasant home.

78TH, 166 WEST.—Exceptionally well-furnished large room; near bath; electricity; Subway.

79TH, 173 WEST.—Beautifully furnished rooms; private bath; southern exposure; Subway, telephone.

79TH ST., 213 WEST.—Delightful large room; southern exposure; running water; Subway; references.

79TH ST., 149 WEST.—Large, light, front room; Subway; [illegible] Subway.

80TH, 144 WEST.—Elegant large and medium rooms; private baths; excellent table.

81ST, 251 WEST.—Business man or woman can find REALLY DESIRABLE and well-furnished rooms in high-class elevator apartment, connecting or single; southern exposure; near Subway and elevated.

81ST, 119 WEST.—Rooms; private house; concessions to reliable parties; references.

82D, 134 WEST.—Large room, adjoining bath; running water; reasonable rates; gentlemen.

82D, 33 WEST.—Private family; rent two beautiful front sunny rooms; references. M. M. Levy.

82D, 68 WEST.—Beautiful large room; private bath; southern exposure; other rooms, board.

82D, 140 WEST.—Attractive rooms; large, small; reasonable, telephone; private house; references.

82D, 250 WEST.—Desirable front room, private bath; permanent gentleman; references. Dutton.

83D, 11 WEST.—Warm, comfortably furnished rooms; quiet, refined, homelike surroundings; moderate.

84TH, 104 WEST.—Furnished room; comfortable, homelike; elevator apartment; second floor. Quinn.

84TH, 51 WEST.—Handsome, large room; private bath, steam heat; $7; refined.

84TH, 133 WEST.—Rooms, suitable one or two; housekeeping if desired. Guidemeister.

85TH, 406 WEST.—Private house; convenient location; women; references. Schuyler 5589. Barcus.

85TH ST., 256 WEST.—Two rooms, front; suite, private entrance; phone; lady or gentleman; meals optional. O'Brien.

85TH, 120 WEST.—Private house; exceptionally attractive; large and small rooms; references.

87TH, 352 WEST.—Good-sized room next bath; electricity; private house; gentleman.

88TH, 259 WEST, (near West End.)—Exceptional large front room; new, handsomely furnished; twin beds; running water; electricity; near bath; suitable two gentlemen or couple; private house. Phone 7800 River.

88TH, 172 WEST.—Excellent room, every convenience; private house. 4807 Schuyler.

91ST, 64 WEST.—Handsomely furnished, large, medium rooms; convenient "L," Subway; reference.

92D, 7 WEST.—Two rooms, connecting, separate; southern exposure; elevator. Apartment 54.

92D, 163 WEST.—Private house; large front room, private bath; reasonable.

93D, 148 WEST.—Newly decorated house; large rooms for two; very low rates.

94TH ST., 162 WEST.—One, two rooms, bath, (entire floor,) breakfast optional; references required; lady or married couple.

95TH ST., 255 WEST.—Exceptionally well-furnished front room; breakfast optional. Linz.

95TH, 122 WEST.—BEAUTIFULLY FURNISHED ROOM; HOT WATER; CONVENIENCES; PRIVATE HOME; $5.

95TH, 316 WEST.—Single room; quiet home; bath adjoining; gentlemen. Apartment 41.

96TH, 171 WEST.—Medium front; running water; business lady only; refined. Post.

96TH, 231 WEST.—Handsome room, facing Broadway; running water; board optional. 7C.

97TH, 230 WEST.—Room, facing Broadway, for one or two; single room, heated, running water; board optional; business people; elevator. Apartment 6-A.

97TH, 64 WEST.—Attractive rooms; well kept; reasonable. Telephone 8249 Riverside.

97TH, 165 WEST.—Large front room; newly furnished; all conveniences. Phone 4268 Riverside.

97TH ST., 141 WEST.—Large and medium sized room; comfortably furnished; good home cooking; table guests.

101ST, 16 WEST.—Attractive rooms; telephone, electricity; housekeeping, $4; smaller, $2.50. McNamara.

103D, 145 WEST.—Beautiful rooms, suitable for gentlemen; private house; telephone; references.

103D, 129 WEST.—Elegant, large, sunny front, back rooms; bath; all cars.

107TH, 205 WEST.—Attractive parlor with bedroom adjoining; also single room. Virtue.

109TH ST., (near Riverside.)—In exclusive apartment, nicely furnished room; young man only; $25 per month. S 129 Times.

111TH, 605 WEST.—Large, attractive room in exclusive apartment; permanent. Blackman, 6240 Morningside.

111TH ST., 511 WEST, (Apartment 2.)—Exceptionally light, steam-heated rooms; block Subway; first floor front; $6, $8.

112TH, 511 WEST.—Bright, well furnished single; electricity, steam heat. 3583 Morningside, Clark.

114TH, 610 WEST.—Double, single rooms; private baths; steam heat; electricity; reasonable.

114TH, 419 WEST.—Sunny, newly furnished rooms; elevator; references. Apartment 5C.

115TH, 417 WEST.—Attractively furnished, decorated large, small rooms; telephone; splendid restaurant. Sullivan.

118TH, 414 WEST, (near Columbia.)—Attractive, homelike rooms; reasonable; elevator; telephone. Smith.

118TH, 425 WEST.—Attractive outside light rooms; kitchen privileges; modern apartment. Lawrence.

118TH, 370 WEST, corner Morningside Av.—Alcove room, small room; housekeeping. Bell.

118TH, 420 WEST.—1, 2, or 3 rooms or en suite. Superintendent.

119TH, 430 West, (opposite Columbia.)—Gentleman occupying apartment offers outside room to another gentleman; dining room. Apartment 37.

119TH, 430 WEST.—Attractive rooms overlooking Columbia Campus; excellent dining room in building. Apt. 28.

119TH, 121 WEST.—Front double room; running water; southern exposure; refined house.

119TH, 367 WEST.—High-classed; all improvements, telephone; private house; very reasonable.

119TH, 420 WEST.—Large front room; very desirable; elevator. Apt. 42. Blake.

121ST, 509 WEST.—Attractively furnished single or double room; excellent restaurant. Yetman.

122D, (126 Claremont Av., Riverside.)—Cozily furnished room in elegant apartment. Volmer.

122D ST., (3,089 Broadway.)—Cheerful, sunny, newly furnished room; apartment; $3.50. Brown.

122D, 523 WEST.—Choice rooms, $3 up; also two-room suites. Sherman.

126TH, 113 WEST.—Private house; large, small rooms, newly furnished; electricity, telephone; Subway.

127TH, 217 WEST.—Large, sunny room; every convenience; private house; breakfast optional.

136TH, 224 WEST.—Large, sunny, attractive room; refined home; conveniences; references.

137TH, 612 WEST.—Comfortable room, suitable two; board optional; homelike; reasonable. Earle.

140TH ST., 463 WEST.—Handsome rooms; bath; breakfast optional; references. Phone 7983 Audubon.

142D, 688 WEST.—Handsome rooms; overlooking Hudson; continuous heat, hot water; excellent table; telephone; select private house; references.

143D, 561 WEST.—Room for business man; private family; city, country. Licorish, 142 West 124th St.

144TH, 605 WEST.—Woman; one flight; in 5 P. M. Phone, electricity. Lewis.

179TH, 600 WEST.—Room for gentleman, every convenience. Apt. 31. Phone Audubon 3870.

BROADWAY, corner 96th St., (Wollaston.)—Large front room, exquisitely furnished in white; partial bkfg. plans; $14, beautiful home for high-class people; also smaller rooms; all transit facilities. 3D.

BROADWAY, (112th St.)—Fine large room in ten-room apartment; adjoins bath with shower; business man or woman. Vosburgh, 2,880 Broadway. Tel. 3903 Morningside.

CONVENT AV., 492.—Attractive room; telephone; electricity; gentlemen; reference. Lax, Apartment 23.

FURNISHED suite two large rooms and bath; centrally located; bachelors only. D 133 Times.

NURSE wishes to rent room to nurse, near 137th-Broadway Subway station; all conveniences. By mail, address J., 3,375 Broadway.

Party wishes to rent beautifully furnished room on Riverside Drive to refined young couple, or will share her apartment with lady alone. L 20 Times.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE, 222, (corner 94th.)—Elegantly furnished suite, 2 or more rooms, with private bath; single rooms; board optional.

RIVERSIDE DRIVE, 552, (Apt. 6F.)—Unusually attractive room; Hudson view; Subway; breakfast or board optional. Phone 7028 Morningside.

WEST END AV., 611.—Magnificent large room; private bath; also medium sized room; electricity; 91st Subway; private family; references.

Unfurnished Rooms
Twenty cents a line.

40TH, 66 WEST.—Large room, adjoining bath, in high-class private house; references required; bachelors.

59th, 220 West.—Five rear, unfurnished rooms; bath, southern exposure; electricity, elevator; $45; can only be seen by appointment. Telephone 511 Columbus.

97TH ST., 180 WEST.—Large, light, front room, bath; private residence; suitable for studio or bedroom.

Rooms Wanted
Twenty cents a line.
Furnished.

Wanted.—Large furnished bedroom, bath, and parlor (phone) for couple, in private family, preferably 50th-90th Sts., West; reference; state rent and particulars. Y 288 Times Annex.

TWO QUIET ROOMS and bath, for music studio, vicinity Grand Central or near 5th Av., 40th to 60th; apartment or private house; must be absolutely respectable; rental moderate. S 116 Times.

Gentleman wishes room facing street; limit $3.50; state size rent. S 144 Times Downtown.

Help Wanted, Female
Twenty-five cents a line.

GOVERNESS.—German, excellent French; piano. A. V., 235 East 60th St.

WE NEED THREE WOMEN of education and culture, between 25 and 40 years of age, to join company ladies specializing in high-class educational work; expenses paid; delightful work, offering unusual opportunities. Call between 2 and 4 P. M., Hanson-Bellows Co., 307 5th Av.

YOUNG WOMAN wanted, refined, to take charge of child afternoons; references. L 31 Times.

Instruction.
Thirty Cents a Line.

COLLEGIATE SECRETARIAL SCHOOL, 38 West 32d St., New York.
Secretarial training for educated students; short, thorough, complete course. 7281 Madison Square.

Employment Agencies.

COOK, &c.—Wanted, an efficient COOK of European birth and training. Two in family. Also trained CHAMBERMAID-WAITRESS with above qualifications.
Also LADY'S MAID, preferably Swiss, Belgian, or German; expert needlewoman, who must be efficient packer and traveler and who thoroughly understands the care of gentleman's clothes.
In

WM. ROCKEFELLER AND BILLARD PLEAD

Appear Personally in Court and Answer Not Guilty to New Haven Indictments.

CAME EARLY TO AVOID CROWD

Oil Man Seemed Nervous and Answered Clerk's Questions Indistinctly.

BILLARD HAS OWN LAWYER

Does Not Use Counsel Provided for Other Directors — Rockefeller Poses for Photographers.

William Rockefeller and John L. Billard went yesterday morning to the Federal District Court to enter pleas of not guilty to the indictment found against them and nineteen other Directors of the New Haven for conspiring to monopolize the transportation business of New England. Mr. Rockefeller appeared in the morning and Mr. Billard in the afternoon, and each was admitted to $5,000 bail, with leave to change his plea or to demur before Nov. 23.

Interest centred in the appearance of Mr. Rockefeller. Not only because as a Director from October, 1888, to his resignation a few weeks ago, he had been a leader in the policy which has called forth the Government's condemnation, but because he has in the last year or so put forward his condition of health as a reason why he should not be obliged to testify at Government investigations. It was thought that there would be a large gathering to see him enter his plea, so it was announced that he would not appear before 2 o'clock.

Consequently, when Mr. Rockefeller arrived with John A. Garver of the firm of Sherman & Sterling in Judge Foster's court at 10:20 o'clock in the morning, there were no persons present not connected with the court except the talesmen awaiting the summons to the box for an ordinary jury trial. Mr. Rockefeller, who wore a dark gray sack suit and carried an overcoat, a square-topped derby hat, and a malacca cane with a curved handle, took his seat inside the rail, and talked with Mr. Garver until the Judge took his seat on the bench.

Then the jury roll was called, and the talesmen had no idea that anything unusual was about to occur until Clerk Leary called:

"Mr. Rockefeller to the bar."

Rockefeller Seemed Nervous.

The defendant stepped forward promptly. He was evidently nervous, his hands trembling upon his stick. He bowed as the Clerk asked him formally if he would waive the reading of the indictment, and then, when he was called upon to plead, without leaving as other defendants had done his answer to his counsel, he replied:

"Not guilty."

His voice was husky, and the Clerk could hardly hear what he said.

Mr. Garver then asked the court to grant the same conditions concerning a change of plea and the right to demur as had been granted to the other defendants. Assistant Attorney General Frank M. Swacker and Assistant District Attorney Stephenson assented, and bail was fixed at $5,000. Mr. Rockefeller then withdrew, and came before Commissioner Clarence S. Houghton. All formalities had been arranged, and, like most of the other defendants, he signed a bail bond prepared by William A. Thompson, Vice President of the National Surety Company. As he was leaving Mr. Rockefeller was asked if he had anything to say.

"I'm sorry, young man," he replied, pointing to his throat, "but you see it's impossible."

Then he touched his hat in military style and walked away.

Mr. Garver was also unwilling to be interviewed. Some one asked him if he would care to discuss the indictment from the political point of view.

"I should if I was a politician," he answered.

Waylaid By Photographers.

As Mr. Rockefeller came out of the Federal Building on the Park Row side at the north end he encountered a corps of newspaper photographers. He took their attentions with good humor. When they asked him to pose he consented with an "All right, young men," and he followed their instructions about attitude and light. When they had finished he went away with Mr. Garver.

Mr. Rockefeller has for a long time been suffering from an affection of the throat, although his health in other respects is said to be good. For this reason he was excused from testifying at the investigation of the New Haven before the Interstate Commerce Commission. Then, when the Money Trust inquiry was on foot, he was at Jekyl Island, and in order to obtain his evidence a delegation of Congressmen visited him and took his deposition rather than force him to come to Washington. This step was taken after physicians sent by the Government had examined Mr. Rockefeller.

Mr. Billard came before Judge Foster at the beginning of the afternoon session of the court, attended by his counsel, Homer S. Cummings, who was at one time Mayor of Stamford, Conn. The formalities followed precisely the same course as in the case of Mr. Rockefeller. Mr. Cummings made the application for the right to demur, notwithstanding the plea of not guilty and Assistant District Attorney Stephenson suggested the $5,000 bail which the other defendants in the case had supplied.

Separate Counsel fo. Billard.

It was noticed that Mr. Billard was represented by a different counsel from most of his codefendants. He and six other officers of the Billard Company are the defendants in a suit brought on Oct. 5 in the Connecticut courts by the New Haven and the New England Navigation Company for the recovery of $3,828,147, which, it was alleged, they held in secret trust for the New Haven Company in connection with the sale of the Boston & Maine stock. Mr. Billard has asserted that all the transactions in connection with this sale were his private affair.

Thomas De Witt Cuyler, James S. Elton, and Charles F. Brooker, who of the twenty-one New Haven Directors indicted have not yet appeared, are expected in court today.

TRAIN HITS YALE MEN.

Plunges Into a Crowd of 75, but Only Two Are Hurt.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 5.—Two of a party of seventy-five Yale men taking part in a geological field excursion were struck today by the Knickerbocker Express on the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad near East Haven. They were severely injured, Kirk Bryan, an instructor in geology, was thrown many feet by the locomotive, but escaped with a wrenched arm and bruises. Robert Theobold of Toledo, Ohio, has a fractured leg and a broken arm.

Other members of the party jumped out of the way. The crowd had stepped from one track on which a freight train was approaching and did not hear the fast express coming from the opposite direction.

MURDERER KREBS ACCOSTS WIFE HERE

Woman Runs to Police for Protection from Maniac Sought in New Jersey.

THREATENS TO KILL HER

Man Who Killed Mrs. Rheil and Shot Her Husband Boasts to Wife of His Crime.

Richard Krebs, the former inmate of the State Hospital for the Incane at Trenton, N. J., who murdered Mrs. Henry Rheil and shot her husband, a farmer, living near New Brunswick, on Wednesday morning, was in Manhattan last night and threatened to murder his former wife. This was learned by the police of the West Forty-seventh Street Station, when Mrs. Krebs ran into the station shortly after 7 o'clock and pleaded for protection from the maniac. She told her story to Policeman Broderick, and asked him to accompany her out of the neighborhood.

"He knew that I had been living at 794 Ninth Avenue and had been supporting myself since I left him several years ago," Mrs. Krebs told the policeman. "He came to the house several times and tried to force his way in.

"This afternoon I read of the murder in the newspapers and feared that he would came back. I was afraid to go home at first, but then decided to go and was walking up Ninth Avenue when, at Fifty-second Street, I saw a man standing in the shadow and glaring at me. I had not recognized him when he ran out and said, 'And so you would divorce me, would you?' I was so scared I couldn't say anything, and he then told me that he intended to kill me for leaving him. He said:

"'Do you know what I did in New Jersey?'

"He told me that that proved that he meant what he said. He had talked to me for only aminu te or so when I turned about and ran down the street. I don't think he followed. Then I walked about a while wondering what to do and finally decided to come to the police station for help."

Mrs. Krebs has been living in a lodging house near Fifty-third Street. She told the policeman that she would not go home last night, but would spend the night at the home of a brother in Forty-seventh Street, near Ninth Avenue. At 794 Ninth Avenue it was said late last night that Krebs was known to other persons living in the house, but that he had not been seen there in the evening. Police searched the vicinity in which Mrs. Krebs had seen her husband, but no trace of the murderer could be found. Close watch was also kept on the tenement house at 222 St. Nicholas Avenue, near 121st Stret, where it was known that Krebs occasionally visited his sister, Mrs. E. Brehm. Mrs. Brehm died last Tuesday. The janitor of the house said yesterday that Krebs was at the house on Tuesday, which was the day before the murder in New Jersey, and that he seemed deeply affected by his sister's death.

The search for Krebs was kept up yesterday in the vicinity of New Brunswick. Henry Rheil, who was reported to be in a critical condition on Wednesday night, showed improvement yesterday at St. Peter's Hospital, and it was thought that he would live. An autopsy will be performed today on the body of Mrs. Rheil.

POLICEMAN GUILTY OF THEFT

Woman Said Duhamel Robbed Her While Pretending to Help Her.

Victor Duhamel, 30 years of age, a policeman attached to the Bergen Street Station, Brooklyn, was convicted of petty larceny yesterday in the Court of Special Sessions. He was remanded to Raymond Street Jail to await sentence on Nov. 12.

The complainant was Mrs. Jennie E. Balk of 143 East Nineteenth Street, Manhattan, who has a Summer home at Amityville, L. I. She testified that on Aug. 20 she left her home in Manhattan to go to Amityville. When she reached the Flatbush Avenue station of the Long Island Railroad she became faint and went into a nearby saloon to get some stimulant. She says she met Duhamel there and he gave her some whisky, when she again became faint. After Duhamel left Mrs. Balk found that her purse had been opened and $30 was missing.

CLERK AND GEMS MISSING.

Bowery Jeweler Says He Has Lost 'Kid' Lewis and $15,000 from Stock.

The disappearance of David, known as "Kid" Lewis in east side pugilistic circles, and of $15,000 worth of jewelry was reported to the police yesterday by Henry Hebald, proprietor of a jewelry store at 247 Bowery.

Hebald said that Lewis, who was 24 ears old and lived at 25 Allen Street, had worked for him as a clerk for five years and that he trusted him implicitly. Hebald was in a back room of the establishment for an hour yesterday morning, and on returning to the store he found the show wnidows stripped of their displays and the clerk gone.

HOTELS DANCING RESTAURANTS
on Page 12

HIPPODROME 6th Av., 43-44 Sts. Daily Mats. 2. Best Seats $1.
WARS OF THE WORLD Evs. at 8 1000 Choice Orch. Seats at $1.50, Gallery Seats at 25c. and 50c.
HIPPODROME NEXT SUNDAY Sousa
SEATS NOW ON SALE.
CASINO Broadway & 39th St. Evgs. 8:15. Mats. Tomorrow & Wed. 2:15.
SUZI with JOSE COLLINS and notable Cast, Including THE BIG MUSICAL HIT OF NEW YORK
LYRIC 42d, W. of Broadway. Evenings 8:15. Matinees Tomorrow & Wed. 2:15.
SEE HOW THE PHILADELPHIA SCHOOL TEACHER PUT TO ROUT A BAND OF KENTUCKY MOUNTAINEERS!
THE BATTLE CRY
"REALISTIC AND STIRRING."—World.
with WILLIAM FARNUM AND GRACE ELLISTON
Prices 25c to $2. Wed. Mat. Highest Price $1.
Manhattan Opera House, 34th & 8th Ave. Evgs. 8. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2.
MATINEE TOMORROW AT 2.
The Big, Picturesque Human Brady Play,
LIFE
"MAKES 'THE WHIP' LOOK LIKE A SIDE SHOW."—Journal.
PRICES 25c TO $1.50.
Maxine Elliott's 39th, nr. B'way. Evgs. 8:30 Mats. Tom'w & Wed. 2:30.
WHITESIDE in "MR. WU"
SHUBERT Thea. Ev. 8:15. Mats. Tom'w & Wed. 2:15
MR. FAVERSHAM with MLLE. DORZIAT in BEST ACTING—BEST PLAY.
THE HAWK
48th St. THEA., E. of B'way. Evgs. 8:15. Matinees Tomorrow & Thurs. 2:15.
THE LAW OF THE LAND with JULIA DEAN.
Winthrop Ames' LITTLE Theatre W. 44th St. Evgs. 8:45. Mats. Tomorrow & Wed. 2:30. Cyril Harcourt's Comedy.
A PAIR OF SILK STOCKINGS
All Seats $2.00.
WINTER GARDEN DANCING AROUND
B'way & 50th. Evs. at 8. Mat. Tom'w Best Orch. Seats $1 & $1.50.
AL JOLSON and Co. of 125, incl. BERNARD GRANVILLE.
SUNDAY NIGHT CONCERT—15 Star Acts.
COMEDY 41st, E. of B'way. Evgs. 8:15. Mats. Tomorrow & Tuesday 2:15.
MARIE TEMPEST in HENRY ARTHUR JONES' Comedy, "MARY GOES FIRST"
Frothy, sparkling high comedy. Miss Tempest an unfailing delight.—De Foe, World.
39TH ST. THEATRE, near B'way. Evs. 8:15. MATINEE TOMORROW AT 2:15. Mats. Tomorrow & Wed. 2:15.
JOE WEBER Offers
The Only Girl
By Henry Blossom and Victor Herbert.
"Entertainment of a kind none too often provided."—Tribune.
"It will be very hard to beat 'The Only Girl.'"—American.
BOOTH Thea. 45th, W. of B'way. Evgs. 8:30. Mats. Tomorrow & Wed. 2:30.
MOST TALKED OF PLAY IN NEW YORK.
Experience
BETTER THAN "EVERYWOMAN"
Prices 50c to $2. Good Seats in 1st Balc. 50, 75c, $1.
William A. Brady's PLAYHOUSE 48th St., E. of B'way. Evenings 8:20 Mats. Tom'w & Wednesday
My Lady's Dress
By EDWARD KNOBLAUCH.
MOST REMARKABLE PLAY IN NEW YORK.
PRINCESS 39th, near B'way. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Tomorrow & Wed. 2:15.
FOUR WONDERFUL ONE-ACT PLAYS, including
"Little Face' a bare-legged scream."—Herald.
44TH ST. Theatre, near B'way. Phone 7292 Bryant. Evs. 8:20. Mats. Tomorrow & Wed. 2:20.
The Dippel Opera Comique Co.'s
THE LILAC DOMINO
"Best Singing in New York."—All Papers.
CORT 48th St., E. of B'way. Phone Eves. 8:15. Mats. Tom'w & Wed. 2:15. Bryant 46 (Pop.) 2:15.
UNDER COVER
Standard B'way & 90th St. Evs. Pop. Prices. Matinee Tomorrow 25c, 50c, 75c.
"The Third Party" with TAYLOR HOLMES and WALTER JONES
Next Week—Guy Bates Post—"OMAR."
THESE LEADING NEW YORK THEATRES HAVE NO DEALINGS WITH THE TYSON CO.
EMPIRE B'way & 40th St. Evs. 8 sharp. Mats. Tomorrow & Wed. 2:10.
WILLIAM GILLETTE BLANCHE BATES DORO
In Sardou's Masterpiece, "DIPLOMACY."
LYCEUM West 45th St. Evgs. at 8:20. Mats. Tom'w & Thurs. 2:20.
ELSIE FERGUSON IN "OUTCAST" By HUBERT HENRY DAVIES.
KNICKERBOCKER, B'way, 38th St. Ev. 8:10. Matinees Tomorrow & Wednesday 2:10.
SANDERSON JULIA BRIAN DAVIS CAWTHORN
THE GIRL FROM UTAH
HUDSON W. 44th St., E. of B'way. Ev. 8:15. Mats. Tomorrow & Wed. 2:15.
ROSE STAHL "A PERFECT LADY."
GEO. COHAN'S THEATRE, B'way, 43d St. M. Mats. Tomorrow & Wed.
"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE"
A LAUGHING RIOT.
BELASCO 44 St., E. of B'way. Ev. 8:20. Mats. Tomorrow & Thurs. 2:20.
Leo Ditrichstein — Phantom Rival
ELTINGE 42d St., W. of B'way. Evs. 8:20. Mats. Tomorrow & Wed. 2:20.
INNOCENT with PAULINE FREDERICK
HARRIS 42d St., W. of B'way. Evs. 8:20. FIRST MAT. TOMORROW 2:20. TONIGHT at 8:20 (FIRST TIME.)
NAZIMOVA in "THAT SORT."
A New Modern Drama by BASIL McDONALD HASTINGS.
New York B'way, 45th St. JOHN MASON 25c to $1. Last Week. Mat. Sat. "Big Jim Garrity," Next Week—Mme. PETROVA in "PANTHEA." Evs. 25c to $1. Matinees 25c and 50c.
GLOBE Broadway at 46th St. Evgs. at 8:15. Mats. Tomorrow & Wed. 2:15. MONTGOMERY & STONE CHIN CHIN
You Know The Old Saw "It's a Wise Child That Knows—"
It Won't Take You Long to Know That
KLAW & ERLANGER'S NEWEST TRIUMPH,
PAPA'S DARLING
at THE NEW AMSTERDAM THEATRE. Isn't A CHILD, BUT THE FUNNIEST MUSICAL COMEDY THAT EVER DIMPLED NEW YORK WITH LAUGHTER! Evgs. at 8:15. Matinees Wed. and Sat. 2:15.
ZIEGFELD DANSE DE FOLLIES
NIGHTLY (Except Sunday) 9:30. Atop New Amsterdam Theatre. Tel. 3093 Bryant. "BAL TABARIN" NEXT SATURDAY NIGHT.
GAIETY THEATRE, B'way, 46 St. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Tomorrow & Wed. 2:15.
RUTH CHATTERTON IN A NEW COMEDY BY JEAN WEBSTER
DADDY LONG LEGS
LIBERTY West 42d St. LAST WEEK. Last Matinee Tomorrow 2:20.
DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS in HE COMES UP SMILING
NEXT MON Mrs. Patrick Campbell In G. Bernard Shaw's "PYGMALION."
REPUBLIC West 42d Street. Evenings 8:30. Mats. Tomorrow & Wed. 2:30.
LEW FIELDS IN THE HIGH COST OF LOVING
FULTON 46th St., West of B'way. Evs. 8:20. MATINEES TOMORROW & WED. 2:20.
Twin Beds
WEBER'S B'way, 29 St. Afts. & Nights. CABIRIA ENTIRE ORCH. 25c
Grand Op. Ho. 23d St., 8th Av. Evs. 25c to $1. Mt. Wed. 25, 50. Sat. Mt. 25, 50, 75. "BRINGING UP FATHER." Next Week—"THE DARKTOWN FOLLIES."
"Travel Without Trouble"
Elmendorf
ARTIST, TRAVELER, RACONTEUR,
CARNEGIE HALL
Sunday Eve. at 8:30. Monday Aft. at 2:45.
"AROUND THE WORLD"
THROUGH THE PANAMA CANAL.
Colored Views, Motion Pictures and Narrative by Mr. ELMENDORF.
TICKETS NOW 50c TO $1.50
COLUMBIA. B'way & 47th. Burlesque. Mat. Rose Sydell's LONDON BELLES Today
Strand B'way, 47th St. Noon to 11:30 P. M. 10c to 50c. John Barrymore in "The Man From Mexico." Strand Orch. & Quartette. Next Week—"The Man from Home."
VITAGRAPH 46TH ST. & B'WAY. 2:30 and 8:30. TWO WOMEN | THE LITTLE ANGEL OF CANYON CREEK
FOOTBALL TICKETS Phone 4189 Greeley. YALE vs. PRINCETON Choice seats for sale. JACOBS TICKET OFFICE 1,388 B'way, cor. 38th t.
IRVING PLACE THEATRE. Every Night & Sat. Mat., "LIEB VATERLAND."
HAMMERSTEIN'S—Singer's Midgets, Joe Howard & Mabel McCane, Robt. L. Dailey, Dainty Marie, Norcross & Holdsworth. 10 other.
MURRAY HILL Burlesque Evs. 8:15. CHARMING WIDOWS Mat. Today.
"A NATIONAL B&K INSTITUTION"
Browning King & Co
CLOTHING, HATS AND FURNISHINGS
The Smartest Coat
We overheard the phrase: "The smartest coat we've got in stock."
The salesman was speaking of our "Sackville," an extreme form-fitting, button-through overcoat, and a beauty.
But there is the "Newcastle," a form-fitting coat with a fly-front.
And the "Scott," our double-breasted form-fitting overcoat, a "swagger" garment.
These are all distinctly stylish models for young men. Let us show them to you.
$25.00 to $45.00
Men's sack suits in half a dozen models, $15 to $40.
The new patterns in Shirts and Scarfs are very beautiful, and we've everything you may want in Gloves, Hosiery and Underwear.
Broadway, near 32nd Street
Cooper Square at 5th St. Fulton Street, Brooklyn
CANDLER West 42d St. Evs. 8:20. Mats. Tomorrow & Wed. (Pop.) 2:20.
"ON TRIAL"
BIGGEST HIT IN 25 YEARS. SEATS ON SALE AT BOX OFFICE.
WALLACK'S B'way & 30 St. AT 8 SHARP. Mats. Tom'w & Wed.
THE HIGHWAY OF LIFE By Louis N. Parker
Adaptation of Dickens' David Copperfield.
 SPECIAL RATES FOR SCHOOLS.
PARK Phone Col. Col. Circle. Mat. Tomorrow 2:10. Evs. 8:10
Mrs. Patrick Campbell
In G. BERNARD SHAW'S "Pygmalion"
Moving to Liberty Theatre Nov. 9th.
LONGACRE THEATRE, W. 48th St. Ev. 8:30 Mats. Tomorrow & Wed. 2:30.
"KICK IN"
with JOHN BARRYMORE & ALL-STAR CAST.
ASTOR Broadway and 45th St. Evenings 8:20 Matinees Tomorrow & Wed. 2:30.
THE Geo. M. COHAN'S Masterpiece.
MIRACLE MAN
Bronx Opera House 149th St. and 3d Ave.
THE DUMMY
25c to $1. Mat. Tomorrow. Next Week—"THE THINGS THAT COUNT."
SYMPHONY
Society of New York
WALTER DAMROSCH, Conductor.
Sunday Aft., November 8, at 3.
Violinist.
MR. FRANK GITTELSON
(first appearance in New York.)
SCHUMANN. Rhenish Symphony; BACH. Violin Concerto in E; ELGAR. Overture, "In London Town"; BANTOCK, "Pierrot of the Minute."
Seats at Box Office, AEOLIAN HALL.
PHILHARMONIC
Society of New York.
JOSEF STRANSKY CONDUCTOR
SUPPLEMENTARY SUBSCRIPTION
Box Office now open at Carnegie Hall. Nov. 12 & 13. All Tschaikowsky Program. Nov. 15, Soloist Arrigo Serato, Violin.
AEOLIAN HALL, THIS AFT. AT 3.
Costume Song Recital Yvonne De Treville
Three Centuries of Prime-Donne.
Tickets $2 to 50 cents at Box Office.
AEOLIAN HALL
1st Concert Tues. Evg., Nov. 10, 8:15,
Kneisel Quartet
Seats. $2 & $1.50. Helen Love, 1 W. 34th St.
CENTURY Central Park W., 62d St. Nights at 8. Mats. at 2
Tonight & Sat. Night: "Tales of Hoffmann," with Ewell, Freeman, Macbeth, Howard, Bergman, Kreidler, Kaufman, Zuro. Sat. Mat.: "Boheme." Nxt. wk.: "Tales of Hoffmann" and "Aida." Concert Sunday Night.
AEOLIAN HALL, Wed. Aft., Nov. 11, at 3.
Song Recital Madame JOHANNA Gadski
AEOLIAN HALL, TONIGHT at 8:15.
Song Recital by HAROLD Percy Hemus
PROGRAM OF AMERICAN COMPOSERS.
AEOLIAN HALL, Sat. Aft., Nov. 7, at 3.
Recital by HAROLD BAUER MASTER PIANIST
Mgt. Loudon Charlton. Mason & Hamlin Piano.
CASINO B'way & 39th Street Matinees, Wed. & Sat.
Press Comment on "SUZI," the New Casino Success:
The Herald: "SUZI was melodious and merry and won applause."
The Press: "SUZI was filled with European charm. Not since the production of SARI has a foreign operetta of more charm been given to the public."
The American: "A Casino hit! A whirl of mirth, with tuneful songs charmingly sung, and fetching, fascinating dances."
The World: "Lively in its mood. The appeal to the eye was one of SUZI'S most successful accomplishments."
Evening Post: "SUZI deserves a long and prosperous career, as it pleases from every point of view."
Evening Telegram: "Sparkling—tuneful!"
Evening Globe: "Budapest has sent over another attractive musical comedy."
Evening Sun: "Tunes that are charming."
SUNDAY EVENING CONCERT
THE DELLA ROBBIA ROOM
The VANDERBILT Hotel
INGA ORNER, Celebrated Norwegian Soprano.
Della Robbia Orchestra. Josef Fejer, Director.
Dinner-de-Luxe seven to nine o'clock. Two dollars and fifty cents
THE JUDGMENT OF PARIS
SOIREES ET MATINEES ARTISTIQUE, HOTEL RITZ-CARLTON BALLROOM. Nov. 9 and 10, 2:45 and 9 P. M.
DANCING EVENING DRESS
Tickets Tyson Co. Offices.
Benefit for the relief of the destitute families of artists in France.
B. F. KEITH'S PALACE B'way, 47th St. Irene Franklin & Burton Green, Mae Murray & John Daly Mat. 25c. Hughes, Jas. & Bonnie Jarrott, Cressy & Dayne. Thornton, Cross & Josephine. Henry, E. Dixey, Odiva.
COLONIAL Daily Mat. 25c. Kitty Gordon, Adelaide & Vernon, Eddie Leonard & Mable Russell, "THE BRIDE SHOP." Valerie Bergere.
ALHAMBRA Daily Mat. 25c.
BROOKLYN AMUSEMENTS.
RETURN ENGAGEMENT At the BROOKLYN ACADEMY OF MUSIC Thurs., Friday & Sat., Nov. 5, 6 & 7
RAYMOND L. DITMARS' WONDERFUL MOTION PICTURES OF WILD ANIMAL LIFE
Added Attraction
Only Pictures of GUNDA, Man-Killing Bronx Zoo Elephant, Ever Taken.
Auspices B'klyn Institute of Arts and Sciences.
Afternoons at 4. Evenings at 8:15. Prices 25-35-50. Prices 35-50-75.
Saturday Matinee at 3 o'clock.
MAJESTIC MATINEE SATURDAY. 600 Seats Evening $1.
Next Week—"The Third Party." Seats Selling.
DE KALB MATS. Wed., Sat., 25 & 50c. EVES., 25, 50, 75 & $1.00. Mme. Petrova—"PANTHEA." Next Week—"TOO MANY COOKS."
ADVERTISEMENT.

The Campfire
Truly Warner announces the introduction of an entirely new thought in a soft hat. It's named The "Campfire"—sort of an overcoat hat. See it today. It's great $2.
Stores Everywhere Mail Orders Prepaid
Truly Warner Hatter to Mr. Goodresser.
THE ART OF THE THEATRE
AN EXHIBITION at 714 5th Av.
FOR 10 DAYS BEGINNING NEXT MONDAY.
Arranged by the Stage Society of N. Y. FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE COMMITTEE OF MERCY. Adm. 50c.
Sole Management Ed. E. Pidgeon.
Rose Gardens Theatre Broadway and 52d Street
"THE SPOILERS" FOUR TIMES DAILY
Prices 25c. and 50c.—No Higher
B'way Rose Gardens B'way, 52d St. 3 P. M. to 1 A. M.
Lew Quinn, Hortense Zaro and others.
Admission Free till 10 P. M.
ADELPHI Today Only THEATRE, B'way & 8th St. 1, 3:40, 6:30 & 9 P. M.
CABIRIA 15c.
Punch & Judy Theatre, 49th St., East of Broadway.
Inaugural Opening Tuesday Night, Nov. 10
THE MARRIAGE OF COLUMBINE
"Clothes from Maker to Wearer"
OVERCOATS $15
$25 Style, $25 Fabric, $25 Tailoring.
If you could get one bit more style for $25 at any fashionable Fifth Avenue or Broadway store than we give you for $15—there would be some excuse for going there.
But you can't. The $10 more that you pay won't get you 50c worth of additional style, tailoring, fabric or service.
Our Suit or Overcoat at $15 is a real $25 value—and our other garments up to $35 are worth much more in the same proportion.
We can save you this money without sacrificing one bit of style, quality or workmanship—because we are our own manufacturers and save the profit the ordinary retailer pays the manufacturer—because rents are low in Walker Street and we take the small fortune we save each year in rent off our prices, and—because we buy, sell and manufacture in such tremendous quantities that manufacturing and operating costs and selling prices are kept down to a minimum.
FOR INSTANCE—Silk-lined coats made of the famous Carr's Melton are selling all over New York at $40, $45 & $50.
But, as an example of the way our manufacturing methods save you money, we offer—
Carr's Melton Overcoats $25
Each one bears the famous "Isaac Carr's Genuine XXX Melton" label and stamp, and each is full lined with Skinner's silk lining.
And the Price Is Only $25.00.
Every garment we sell bears our positive guarantee of complete satisfaction or money refunded. If our clothes needed this guarantee we couldn't afford to give it.
Moe Levy & Son
119-125 Walker Street
Evenings 9 P. M. Saturdays 10 P. M.
OUR ONLY STORE
Take Elevator Save $10
Come Upstairs to Our SECOND FLOOR SHOP for Your OVERCOATS
Right now at the beginning of the season the high-rent stores get the absolute top prices for their goods—they will shave the prices later, but now you have to pay the limit.
We save you $10 on your overcoat because we don't have to add $10 to our cost to pay for high ground floor rents, expensive (and useless to us) office force, floor walkers, credit accounts, and fancy fixtures.
None of these unnecessary expenses adds one cent's worth of wear, style, fit or fabric to your overcoat, but just costs you the extra $10. You don't have to pay it if you trade here, UPSTAIRS, where every garment is guaranteed to be worth $25, and any one is yours for

One of our Form Fitting Models, beautifully tailored and built for service—a model that will especially appeal to you. You can select from dozens of patterns, and each one guaranteed to be worth $25. Get yours here for $15.
No Charge for Alterations
$15 Instead of $25
No Charge for Alterations
Come up and see why hundreds of men are buying their clothes here, and remember, if you can duplicate any garment for less than $25 come back and get your money.
Monroe Clothes Shop
2nd Floor { Broadway, Corner 42d St. Open Evenings 206-208 Broadway Corner Fulton St.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER
Fair today and Sunday; warmer Sunday; light northwest winds.
For full weather report see Page 17.

VOL. LXIV...NO. 20,741. NEW YORK, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1914.—EIGHTEEN PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City and Newark. Elsewhere TWO CENTS.

LAMAR ARRESTED AT THE WALDORF

Secret Service Men Get "Wolf of Wall St." and He Spends Night in Police Station.

TRIED TO GET BAIL, FAILED

He Long Resisted Removal to This City—Charged with Impersonating Congressman Palmer.

David Lamar, "the Wolf of Wall Street," who has been since July, 1913, fighting his removal from the District of Columbia to avoid answering an indictment by the Federal Grand Jury of the Southern District of New York on the charge of impersonating Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer, was arrested outside the Waldorf-Astoria last evening by Joseph Tucker and Daniel J. Scully, Government Secret Service men. They took their prisoner to the office of Division Supt. William Offley in Park Row.

Lamar sent for his lawyer, Lionel P. Kristeller of 949 Broadway, who tried to have Lamar taken before a Federal Judge and released on bail, but no Judge could be reached and Lamar was locked up for the night in the Greenwich Street Police Station. Lamar said he had been in this city for three weeks, but refused to say where he had been staying. Supt. Offley said that Lamar had not been here three weeks, but that he had slipped out of Washington and into New York on several occasions.

His arrest was due to his boldness. On Thursday afternoon he walked alone up and down Wall Street. Numbers of persons recognized him and inquired what he was doing in this city. Far from attempting to make himself inconspicuous in the Waldorf-Astoria last night, Lamar was walking up and down "Peacock Alley" when the Government agents found him. When he was asked by reporters where he had been staying he replied:

"You see, I am now a guest of the United States Government. I will only discuss the present."

Lamar was originally indicted in the District of Columbia on the charge of impersonating a Federal officer. After being released on bail, he was arrested on a similar indictment found in this district. He resisted removal from Washington to this city. The indictment, which was found under Section 32 of the United States Criminal Code, gives Lamar the alias of David H. Lewis, and charges him with impersonating Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer in order to defraud Lewis Cass Ledyard, J. P. Morgan & Co. and the United States Steel Corporation.

Lamar became a figure in the Summer of 1913, when Robert S. Lovett testified before the Senate Lobby Investigating Committee, telling of the various efforts that had been made to induce him to engage the services of Edward Lauterbach, the New York lawyer, to prevent a Government inquiry into the affairs of the Union Pacific Railroad. Lamar admitted that he had called up Mr. Lovett, Lewis Cass Ledyard, Paul D. Cravath, and a number of other prominent lawyers and financiers, suggesting that they would find Lauterbach useful in staving off Federal investigations. Lamar admitted to the Senate Committee that he had represented himself to be a Congressman in telephone conversations with Lovett and others, but said that his only purpose was to do a "friendly service" to Lauterbach.

AUSTRIAN ORDER FOR HALE.

Emperor Decorates Former Assistant Secretary of State.

MANCHESTER, Mass., Nov. 6.—Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria has conferred honors upon Chandler Hale, formerly Assistant Secretary of State, according to a radio message received tonight at the Austrian Embassy here. The message said:

"The Emperor has conferred on Mr. Chandler Hale the first-class Red Cross Order, in acknowledgment of his efficient intervention in favor of Austrians and Hungarians detained in England. Mr. Hale lately also visited Englishmen detained in Austria and Hungary, and convinced himself personally of their humane treatment."

CUBAN SOLDIERS TRAPPED.

Band That Slipped Out to Attack Police Caught by Rural Guards.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

HAVANA, Nov. 6.—About seventy-five members of the permanent army stationed at Cabana fortress, on the other side of the bay from Havana, after taps tonight slipped out of quarters with arms and ammunition. Their departure was speedily noted and a general alarm sent to the Havana police, warning them to be on guard against a probable attack.

The Government meanwhile in anticipation of possible trouble had stationed bodies of rural guards near Havana and a body near Regla, a town opposite Havana. These were sent out against the mutineers, and police headquarters was informed by telephone late tonight that the guards had already captured forty soldiers

LOCOMOTIVE WORKS BUSIER

Baldwin Plant Adopts New Time Schedule Until Further Orders.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—Alba B. Johnson, President of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, announced to-day that the big plant at Eddystone, Penn., until further orders, would increase the working time to a five-day shift a week. The new order goes into effect at once and applies to 1,239 men, or 280 more than were on the payrolls three weeks ago.

The plant for several months has been working only two or three days each week. It was stated officially to-day that the five-day shift would continue so long as the work in view demanded; but it was pointed out that as yet the improvement was not decided enough to guarantee the permanency of the increased hours.

THE ALLTOGETHER POUCH
Holds pipe and tobacco. At the Schulte Stores.

HEALTH BOARD BANS FRIEDMANN CURE

Finds, After Hospital Tests, that It Is Not a Specific for Tuberculosis.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The seal of official disapproval has been placed upon the tuberculosis "cure," so-called, cure for tuberculosis." The abstract brought to this country in 1913 by Dr. Friederich F. Friedmann of Berlin. The announcement was made today by the United States Public Health Service in making public an abstract of the report of its investigations in hospitals and laboratories where tests of the Friedmann cultures were made. It asserts that conclusions of the American physicians are in line with previous reports both in this country and abroad "which have refuted Dr. Friedmann's claim to the discovery of a specific says that the bacteria germs used for injection by Dr. Friedmann "show that the germ is different from varieties of tubercle bacilli commonly known at the present time and that their injection into smaller animals rendered the subject more susceptible to tubercular infection instead of more resistant, as was claimed."

Continuing, the abstract says in part:

"It is pointed out that the manner in which Dr. Friedmann presented his claims before the Berlin Medical Society made them paramount to a contention that he had discovered at last the sovereign cure for tuberculosis in all its forms, provided, of course, that the disease had not already progressed beyond all hope of recovery. These claims the report takes up in detail and then draws the deadly parallel between them and the results of the application of the treatment to patients under the observation of the Service doctors.

"Whereas, the claims are based on cases which always seem to get well, or at least to show phenomenal improvement, after one or two injections, the cases which reacted in this manner among the test series, were conspicuously few. The report does not commit itself as to whether the improvement noted in these few cases was due to the treatment, or to the stimulus of a great hope, or to unassignable causes which work improvement in some cases of every large series, but it does point out distinctly that if any one prefers the first explanation, he must, in justice, attribute also to the treatment the very distinct and unusual deterioration in the condition of certain other patients which progressed in some of them to a speedy death."

FRESH FIRES START IN JERSEY FORESTS

Since Last Sunday an Area 25 Miles Long and 10 Miles Wide Has Been Swept by Flames.

While the efforts of hundreds of men, continued day and night since last Sunday, checked some of the forest fires blazing in New Jersey, a new blaze which began Thursday afternoon swept over an area ten miles wide and twenty-five miles long yesterday and left behind it a score of ruined farm houses, outbuildings which had been stored with crops, and crops ready for harvest in the fields. Smoking ruins of houses, smoldering heaps of ashes, glowing masses of peat marking what had been some of the finest cranberry bogs in New Jersey, and devastated timber lands still glowing and smoking were all that remained in the trail of the blaze. The damage has been estimated at nearly $200,000.

The fire, which is still burning, though over a greatly reduced area, is expected to burn itself out in the meadows along Wading River. The fire started southeast of New Gretna and extended to within thirty miles of Atlantic City. Motorists who reached there yesterday told of racing between lanes of fire and of seeing the ruins of homes and fields.

The flames swept through the towns of Harrisville, Batsboro, Old Washington, Greenbank, Moorebank, Jenkins, Wading River, and outlying sections of New Gretna. The townsfolk in each place gathered at the outskirts of the villages and succeeded in keeping the flames from passing entirely over the towns. In Old Washington alone, however, fourteen houses were destroyed, five in Harrisville, and three in Jenkins.

BIGGEST OF ALL NAVY GUNS.

Sixteen-Inch Rifle Now Being Tested for Our New Dreadnoughts.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The largest and most powerful naval gun ever designed has just been completed for the United States Navy. It is a giant 16-inch rifle, which has been constructed without publicity at the Washington Navy Yard. This became known tonight and it was said that the gun was being tested at the Indian Head Proving Grounds on the Potomac.

If the new weapon proves to be the success its initial trials promise, it may be adopted as the type of gun for the main battery of the three dreadnoughts authorized at the last session of Congress. These vessels, contracts for two of which already have been let, will be larger by several thousand tons than any ship now afloat, and navy men believe they can easily carry the heavier guns.

The largest weapons now used in the American Navy are the 14-inch guns, carried by the dreadnoughts of the Pennsylvania, Nevada, and New York class. The newest battleships of the British Navy carry 15-inch rifles, eight of them in four turrets.

It is said that the 16-inch gun will have a range of fifteen miles and at least twice the penetrating power of the famous German howitzers.

CANNON SUES FOR $25,000.

Ex-Speaker Files Action Against Danville Newspaper.

DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 6.—Congressman-Elect Joseph G. Cannon today brought suit for $25,000 damages against the Danville Press-Democrat.

The papers filed do not give the cause of action. An article contributed by ex-Senator Pettigrew, which was printed by the defendant during the recent hotly contested election in which the former Speaker defeated Congressman Frank T. O'Hair, is believed to have given offense to Mr. Cannon.

STOPS ALL COPPER BOUND FOR ITALY

England Says Big American Shipments Have Been Going Into Germany.

STRONG AMERICAN PROTEST

Copper Companies Engage John Bassett Moore to Present Their Case and Deny British Assertions.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Information is in the possession of the British Government, it is said, which proves conclusively that large shipments of copper, rubber, and other commodities are passing through Italian ports on their way to Germany.

In New York large purchases of copper are being made by representatives of houses in Rotterdam, Amsterdam, and Copenhagen, who, it is said, are working on German account. These consignments of copper are said to be shipped through Italian ports to the order of various financial institutions which are supposed to be controlled largely by German capital. American copper refiners appear to be capable of protecting their own interests, since they usually insist on payment in cash before they allow the copper to be shipped.

The British Government is determined to use every legitimate means to prevent copper reaching Germany, where it is being made into ammunition for use against the British forces. Great Britain, therefore, is diverting various steamers which are carrying copper to Italy, to Gibraltar, where the copper is discharged. The steamers are promptly released. Some of this copper actually has been found packed in cases marked for Danzig. Other lots are shipments made upon orders through German houses in Amsterdam and Rotterdam. Some of these houses are said to be connected with the Krupps, manufacturers of big guns. It is understood that representatives of some big copper refining firms recently sailed from New York for Europe with the object of consulting agents of German firms as to the best means of forwarding copper to Germany. Italian firms also have been approached by German purchasers of copper with a view to arranging for the use of the names in order to conceal the fact that American copper shipped to the purchasers is destined for Germany.

Since Oct. 25 vessels from New York bound for Italy, having on board a total of 7,700 tons of copper, have been diverted to Gibraltar, and the British Government is informed that some thousands of tons more is now en route to Italy. The larger part of these copper shipments was for Genoa. Official returns just published show that for two and one-half months prior to Oct. 10 imports of copper into Genoa amounted to only 1,316 tons. A comparison of these figures with the more recent shipments shows, it is said, that the present trade with Italy is entirely an artificial one and that the Italian imports are not for use in that country.

In view of all this accumulative evidence the British Government maintains that there is no alternative but to stop this contraband trade in copper with Germany through Italy. With a few possible exceptions American exporters do not suffer, they having received pay for the copper, but the British Government, not wishing to be unreasonable in any way, is prepared, so far as concerns shipments made before Oct. 29, when copper was transferred from the conditional to the actual contraband list, to arrange for the purchase of copper which it has detained.

COPPER MEN ACCUSE BRITISH.

Say England Wants to Seize Control of the Trade.

Copper men in this city said last night that the British Government was seeking to give a false impression in regard to shipments of copper to Italy and other European countries, and that England's real purpose was not to prevent the use of American copper for war supplies by her enemies, but to get control of the business of copper manufacturing.

Advances had actually been made by responsible parties in London, it was said, in the last few days to bring about a situation by which England would agree to take a large fixed amount of copper on condition that American producers should not ship to Europe through other channels and that their total shipments to Europe should be restricted to the amount to be taken by England.

The intimation that American interests were shipping great quantities to Italy for transport into Germany was without foundation, it was said, and it was added that export statistics did not show any such quantity going to Italy as was stated. It was also pointed out that Italy had long been a large consumer of copper on her own account, that she was generally understood to be preparing for all eventualities in the present European conflict by the manufacture of munitions of war for her own use, and that she had formerly drawn heavy supplies of sulphate and of manufactured copper from Germany, which were now naturally cut off. Not only was it necessary for her to import manufactured copper from this country, but it was natural that she should be undertaking manufacture on her own account, importing sulphate from us.

The idea that Germany was in need of copper from this country was ridiculed. The Mansfield mines in Germany have an annual output of 25,000 tons, and Norway and Sweden produce 10,000 tons more, which would be readily available for German importation. One copper man said Germany could scrape enough copper to provide for her needs for war purposes.

In answer to the statement from London that Italy's copper imports had increased greatly from the 1,316 tons taken in the two and a half months preceding Oct. 19, it was pointed out that during most of this period no ships were sailing and naturally shipments dropped off to almost nothing.

"Copper," said one of those interviewed, "is used for many things besides in the manufacture of ammunition. It was never contraband on that list until a short time ago, when it was declared so by England. Suppose it were true that shipments going to Italy were intended for Germany, the place for England to interfere would be with Italy, which would then be shipping to a belligerent country. In any case,

Continued on Page 4.

433,241 PRISONERS IN GERMAN CAMPS

Berlin Says These Figures Do Not Include Men Who Are Not Encamped.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegram Company from Amsterdam says that advices received there from Berlin are to the effect that up to last Sunday the German concentration camps and hospitals held the following prisoners:

French, 3,158 officers and 188,618 men; Russians, 3,121 officers and 186,779 men; Belgians, 531 officers and 34,907 men; British, 417 officers and 15,730 men; total, 433,241.

The correspondent adds that the Berlin dispatch says these figures do not include prisoners not encamped.

GERMAN GUN DEADLY TO HOSTILE AIRMEN

It Fires Incendiary Shells, Exploding With Such Force as to Upset an Aeroplane.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Nov. 6. (Dispatch to The London Standard.)—French airmen have learned by experience to give as wide a berth as possible to the new German anti-aircraft gun.

This is a most formidable weapon, and it is common talk among airmen that to be caught by a battery of these guns at 6,000 feet is as good as having one foot in the grave. Their fire is deadly between 4,000 and 6,000 feet, first on account of the incendiary shells, and second because of the force of the explosion, which displaces the air to an extent sufficient to capsize an aeroplane.

Lastly these guns are fitted with ingenious range finders that not only give the height of an aeroplane, but signal its speed at the same time.

WARSHIPS ESCORT CECILIE TO BOSTON

German Liner's Trip From Bar Harbor Uneventful—Her Captain Feared Trouble.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Under protection of two torpedo boat destroyers of the United States Navy the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinzessin Cecilie steamed into this port late today after a thirteen-hour run from Bar Harbor, Me.

The transfer of the ship, which has been interned at the Maine port for three months as a result of the war, was accomplished without unusual incident. Her Captain, who was deeply concerned over the possibility of molestation by a hostile ship, paced the bridge during the entire voyage, but his fears proved groundless.

"I am a very much relieved man," he said, when he had brought the vessel to anchor in President Roads, between two other German steamers, which also are confined here because of the war.

Most of the voyage was made within the three-mile limit, but on several stretches the big liner was more than ten miles off shore. The destroyer Terry was close alongside throughout, while the destroyer Lamson held to a course about ten miles out, on the watch for the appearance of any possible element of danger to the Cecilie. Aboard the steamer Lieut. W. K. Kilpatrick, U. S. N., assisted Capt. Polack in the navigation of the vessel and supervised the operation of the steamer's wireless apparatus, which was unsealed for the first time in many weeks.

Almost at the time that the United States Marshal for Maine turned the custody of the vessel over to Deputy Morse of Massachusetts, an agreement was arranged in the Federal Court here postponing a hearing on the principal suit against the steamship company until Nov. 20. It had been scheduled for today.

The suit was brought by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York for damages alleged to have resulted from the failure of the Kronprinzessin Cecilie to deliver in Europe a consignment of $11,000,000 of gold.

AUSTRIANS DROP BOMBS ON ANTIVARI

Building Wrecked and Minor Damage Done in Montenegrin Port.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

CETTINJE, Nov. 5, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—Austrian aeroplanes have renewed attacks on Antivari, dropping a number of bombs and firing from Maxims.

A large Italian building was wrecked and a number of wagons set on fire, while minor damage was done in the shape of windows broken and walls cracked. A woman was also injured.

These attacks upon the peaceable civilian population have aroused the utmost indignation.

BERLIN, (via The Hague and London,) Nov. 6.—A newspaper of Arisbach, Bavaria, prints a letter from a post in the field, dated Oct. 28, in which the writer mentions attending a dinner on the previous evening to celebrate the return of two aviators from the vicinity of London, who had dropped bombs near Dover.

WALES AS AN AUCTIONEER.

Sells His Oxford Furniture for War Fund—$10,000 for Three Canes.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The furniture and other personal belongings of the Prince of Wales in his rooms at Oxford were this week auctioned in aid of the Prince's fund to aid sufferers from the war.

The sale realized $75,000. The Prince himself conducted the sale, which was held in his rooms.

Among the bidders was one of the Rothschilds, who bought three walking sticks for $20,000.

TSING-TAU SURRENDERS TO JAPANESE; GERMAN FORTS HELD OUT 2 MONTHS; BRITISH ADMIT LOSS OF GOOD HOPE

LAST ASSAULT WON A FORT

Then Germans Opened Negotiations Which Ended in Submission.

STOOD A SIEGE OF 65 DAYS

Garrison of 5,000 Pitted Against 25,000 Japanese Troops and Allied Warships.

HEAVY LOSS ON BOTH SIDES

Last Days of the Siege Marked by the Dropping of Bombs from Aeroplanes.

TOKIO, Saturday, Nov. 7, 11:25 A. M.—It is officially announced that the German fortress of Tsing-tau has surrendered to the Japanese and British forces.

It is officially announced that the first step in bringing about the surrender of the fortress occurred at midnight last night when the infantry charged and occupied the middle fort of the first line of defense. In this operation they took 200 prisoners.

The charge was led by Gen Yoshimi Yamada at the head of companies of infantry and engineers.

The Germans hoisted the white flag at 7 o'clock this morning at the Weather Observation Bureau of Tsingtau. The quick capitulation of the Germans was the cause of much surprise to the men of the army and navy operating against it and also to the people of Tokio.

In yesterday's official communication regarding the progress of operations it was announced that the bombardment continued, and that aeroplanes were dropping bombs and circulars into the besieged port. The circulars warned the civilian inhabitants not to take any part in military operations.

It had been suggested by the Japanese General Staff that the assault on the main positions around Tsingtau, the Iltis, Bismarck, and Moltke forts might be deferred until after the capture of the five forts south of the Haipo River, where behind strong defenses the German artillery and infantry were making a determined stand. These five forts are 2,400 feet from the Japanese trenches.

Complete casualty lists containing the names of the killed and wounded in the operations around Tsing-tau up to yesterday show that the British had two killed and eight wounded, their wounded including two Majors, and that the Japanese had 200 killed and 878 wounded. The total losses of the Japanese and Germans up to the time of the surrender were heavy.

SIEGE LASTED 65 DAYS.

Japan Engaged to Restore Kiao-Chau to China if Victorious.

The fall of Tsing-tau ends the most picturesque of the minor phases of the great world war now raging. On two continents and in many of the islands of the seas where colonies of the warring nations were planted combats of more or less interest have taken place, garrisons have been captured and towns occupied peacefully, but in the little German concession of the Shantung Peninsula of China there has been waged, on a reduced scale, a conflict which from all accounts has duplicated nearly all the features of the war in Europe, so far as the capture of fortified positions is concerned. The taking of Tsing-tau deprives Germany of her last foot of possessions on the Asiatic mainland, as well as her last strategic position outside of the German Empire in Europe.

For two months the little German garrison, nearly wholly composed of reservists who were living or doing business in China, held out against the land and sea attacks of the Japanese and of certain British detachments of both white and Indian troops that found themselves in China at the outbreak of the war. What the losses of the garrison have been are not known, but the official Japanese and British reports have indicated that Tsing-tau was taken at heavy cost of men on the part of the Allies.

War Declared on Aug. 23.

Japan declared herself to be in a state of war with Germany on Aug. 23. The day before her fleet had sailed for Kiao-Chau, Germany's leasehold of 117 square miles, with a population of 60,000, on the coast of China.

For nearly a month Japan had been preparing for this eventuality. No sooner had the international rupture occurred in Europe, with Great Britain involved, than she prepared to participate if required to do so. On Aug. 4 the British Government asked Tokio what Japan could do in the way of safe-

Continued on Page 4.

Summary of War News.

The German fortress at Tsing-tau has surrendered to the Japanese and British forces, according to an announcement made in Tokio.

The British Admiralty announces that the British cruiser Good Hope, which participated in the naval battle last Sunday with German cruisers off the coast of Chile, has been lost, apparently, with Admiral Cradock and the 900 men on board. Two other British vessels took part in this engagement, the Monmouth, which had been previously reported sunk, but whose fate is said now to be unknown, and the Glasgow, which was not extensively damaged.

The French War Office announces that the Allies have retaken the village of Soupir, in the region of the Aisne, which was evacuated several days ago. German trenches on the heights of the Meuse and to the east of Verdun have been captured, and the German attacks between Arras and the Oise have been repulsed. The fighting in the vicinity of Ypres continues to be severe.

Th British Press Bureau announces that the vigor of the German attacks seems to be decreasing, while the Allies are steadily pushing them back, especially in the vicinity to the south of Dixmude.

The Germans report important gains in the vicinity of Ypres and St. Mihiel.

The Russians state that they have gained their greatest victory since the beginning of the war. Their forces have recaptured the Galician town of Jaroslaw, seventeen miles from the fortress of Przemysl, and have taken 5,000 Austrian prisoners.

The Turkish fleet has bombarded the Russian seaport of Batum.

BATTLE RAGING AROUND YPRES

British and French Reports Tell of Advance—Berlin Also Claims Progress.

NEW ATTACKS ON ARRAS

Germans Report Gains There and Are Bringing Up Big Guns to Aid Campaign.

PARIS, Nov. 6, 10:40 P. M.—This official bulletin was issued by the War Office tonight:

To the north the fighting continues to be severe. According to the latest reports our offensive was proceeding in the region to the south and east of Ypres.

In the region of Arras and from Arras to the Oise several German attacks have been repulsed.

In the region of the Aisne we have retaken, to the east of Vailly, the village of Soupir, which was lost the other day.

In the Argonne the enemy keeps attacking violently, but without result.

On the heights of the Meuse and to the east of Verdun we have captured some trenches.

An afternoon bulletin said:

There was no perceptible modification, during the day or yesterday, anywhere on the front. The fighting continued between Dixmude and the Lys with the same characteristics as previously and without any marked advance or retirement at any point. There was violent cannonading to the north of Arras, and also directed upon Arras, without result for the enemy.

The German effort in Belgium and in the north of France continues. The Germans seem to have undertaken changes in the composition of their forces which are operating in this region, and are reinforcing their reserve corps, composed of new organizations, which have been very severely tested, with active troops with the idea of undertaking a new offensive movement, or at least to mitigate the bloody checks which have been inflicted upon them.

Between the Somme and the Oise and between the Oise and the Meuse there have been minor actions. We have consolidated our advance on the village of Andechy, to the west of Roye. A column of German wagons has been destroyed by the fire of our artillery, at long range, in the region of Nampoel, to the northeast of the forest of Aigue.

Near Berry-au-Bac we have retaken the village of Sapigneul, which had been captured by the Germans.

There has been a furious fight in the Argonne, where, as a result of fighting with the bayonet, our troops drove the Germans back.

In the Woevre district fresh attacks by the enemy have been repulsed.

To the southeast and to the east of the Grande Couronne of Nancy, in the region of the forest of Parroy and between Baccarat and Blamont, our advance posts have been attacked by mixed detachments of the enemy whose movements everywhere were checked.

Germans Still on the Yser.

HAVRE, Nov. 6.—A Belgian official bulletin given out today says:

The enemy is showing no activity on the Yser front, but several detachments with quick-firing guns still occupy the left bank of the

Continued on Page 3.

RUMANIA MUST FIGHT, HER KING DECLARES

Remark Attributed to Him After Talk With Russian Envoy—Ex-War Minister Urges It.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 6, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post.)—It is reported that M. de Giers, the Russian Ambassador to Constantinople, had a highly significant and strictly private conversation with the new King of Rumania, and after a few days' stay in the Rumanian capital he has left for Petrograd, whither other members of the Embassy proceeded direct without delay.

Moscow newspapers report that the King of Rumania declared to his entourage: "We shall certainly have to go to war."

Seventy-two wagons of munitions of war, including several submarines, sent by Germany to Turkey and detained by Rumania, have now been returned to Germany, but the export to Germany of foodstuffs and benzine continues in such quantities as to arouse protests on the part of the Rumanian people.

BUCHAREST, Nov. 5, (Dispatch to The London Morning Post.) — In acknowledging a public demonstration M. Filipsco, ex-Minister for War, expressed the opinion that Rumania should abandon her policy of neutrality in order to undertake the liberation of the Rumanians in Hungary. Should Austrig-Hungary prove victorious the opportunity would have passed, and the Transylvanian Rumanians would be suppressed under a régime of denationalization.

"I prefer war now," said M. Filipsco. "Better war now by the side of France, Russia, and Great Britain than in a year or two, when Rumania might have to face Austria alone. The fate of your brothers is in your hands. If you desire their liberation, march at once, and you will have a great Rumania."

SEE GERMAN FORTS IN LONDON BUILDING

Detectives Say They Dominate Vital Points and Are Equipped to Harbor Airships.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Saturday, Nov. 7.—The Standard says that a month ago an inspection was made of certain buildings in the London district, owned by a foreign firm, ostensibly as a factory. A military expert described them as "nothing more or less than terrifically strong fortifications which dominate some of the most vital points in London."

This factory is situated near Woolwich and commands several miles of the River Thames power and ammunition reserves at Purfleet, and a large part of Woolwich Arsenal. All the buildings are of reinforced concrete of strength and thickness altogether out of proportion to the nature of the work carried on in this factory. Every floor is of exceptionally thick concrete and flat roofs, of certain of the buildings, of the same material, and also of unnecessary thickness and strength for manufacturing.

From these roofs, which are strongly supported, an uninterrupted view is obtained of some of the most important points in London. Other significant features are the fact that certain of the buildings could be used as aeroplane sheds, while every facility is offered for landing and mooring of airships, and the existence of a powerful electrical plant would render the fitting up of a wireless telegraphic apparatus an easy matter. Finally, many Germans were employed on the works under the direction of a manager of the same nationality.

After a very thorough examination of the premises by detectives and military experts nearly a month ago, exhaustive reports were sent to the War Office and Home Office, strong recommendation for immediate and drastic action being made. Nothing more has been heard of the matter.

WENT DOWN WITH 900 MEN

British Report Says Cradock's Flagship Caught Fire and Foundered.

HOPE FOR THE MONMOUTH

Believes Light Cruiser Was Run Ashore and Not Destroyed in Battle.

SAY CRADOCK FORCED FIGHT

Official Statement Asserts That Germans Held Off Until Darkness Gave Them Advantage.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—It is officially announced by the Admiralty that the British cruiser Good Hope caught fire during the engagement with the Germans off the coast of Chile last Sunday and foundered.

The Admiralty statement says it is believed that the British cruiser Monmouth, which the Germans reported as having been sunk, was run ashore. The cruiser Canopus, it adds, was not present at the time of the fight.

The Admiralty has not divulged the source of its news regarding the details of the battle, or whether it has heard from any of the crippled ships. The fact, however, that it says the Glasgow is not extensively damaged leads to the inference that she has reported from some port not far from the scene of the fight.

A dispatch to The Central News from Lima, Peru, says the Glasgow has arrived at Puerto Montt, Chile, and it may be from her that the news has come.

The statement says:

"The Admiralty now has received trustworthy information about the action on the Chilean coast.

"During Sunday, the 1st of November, the Good Hope, Monmouth and Glasgow came up with the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau, Leipzig, and Dresden. Both squadrons were steaming south in a strong wind and a considerable sea.

Germans Held Off.

"The German squadron declined action until sunset, when the light gave it an important advantage. The action lasted an hour.

"Early in the action both the Good Hope and Monmouth took fire, but fought until nearly dark, when a serious explosion occurred on the Good Hope and she foundered.

"The Monmouth hauled off at dark, making water badly, and appeared unable to steam away. She was accompanied by the Glasgow, which had meanwhile during the whole action fought the Leipzig and the Dresden. On the enemy again approaching the wounded Monmouth, the Glasgow, which also was under fire from one of the armored cruisers, drew off.

"The enemy then attacked the Monmouth again, but with what result is not known. The Glasgow is not extensively damaged and has very few casualties.

"Neither the Otranto nor the Canopus was engaged.

Report Warship Ashore.

"Reports received by the Foreign Office from Valparaiso state that a belligerent warship is ashore on the Chilean coast, and it is possible that this may prove to be the Monmouth. Energetic measures are being taken on this assumption to rescue the survivors.

"The action appears to the Admiralty to have been most gallantly contested, but in the absence of the Canopus the enemy's preponderance in force was considerable."

This was the news given to the British public by the Admiralty this evening just as the people were beginning to think that the German accounts of the result of the battle in the Pacific had been exaggerated. The only bit of satisfaction for the British was that their little Pacific fleet had itself chosen to give battle to a very much stronger squadron and had not been overwhelmed until the last possible shot had been fired at the enemy.

The British cruiser Glasgow, which was with the Good Hope and Monmouth, too, put up a fight against two German cruisers, and when her bigger sisters were put out of action managed to escape.

There is still a ray of hope that the Monmouth, which the Germans said was sunk, may be the warship reported as being ashore on the coast of Chile. So far as known, none of the Good Hope's crew survived.

Rear Admiral Cradock lived up to his reputation as one of the followers of that naval school which believes that the enemy should be engaged no matter what his superiority. According to the Admiralty, it was he who brought about the action, for the German squadron at first was disinclined to give battle. It was only when dusk came on and the light was in their favor, the Admiralty says, that the Germans engaged the British, who were three to their four, while superiority in number and range of guns was also in favor of the Germans. The battleship Canopus, which was sent to reinforce Rear Admiral Cradock, evidently had not arrived in time to place the advantage on the British side, and the transport Otranto was of no value in the fight against armored ships. The loss of the ships and men is a matter of very deep regret in England.

Chilean Aid to Stranded Craft.

LONDON, Saturday, Nov. 7.—The Chilean Government, in a statement issued last night, says the Governor of the State of Constitucion has reported that a warship is ashore on Cape Carranza, and that it may be one of the combatants in the battle between the Germans and British off Chile on Sunday. It adds that the Chilean Government will send aid to the stranded vessel.

Nothing is known here concerning the British warships Canopus and Defense, which are reported to have passed through Magellan Straits to join the battle cruiser New Zealand.

CRADOCK WAS TRAPPED.

Admiral's Daring Led Him Into Error, Says London Writer.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—In reference to the naval engagement off Chile the naval correspondent of The London Times suggests the possibility that Admiral Cradock fell into a trap. He says it is conceivable that he was refueling at some Chilean port and when one of the smaller German cruisers came in sight he left the slower battleship behind to look after his colliers and chased the raider with his faster vessels.

"Such a proceeding," says the correspondent, "would be entirely in keeping with what we know of his impulsive daring and dauntless valor. It may be assumed that the chase would continue to such distance from land as would enable the heavier German cruisers to appear when the interference of the Canopus was rendered unlikely."

GLASGOW IN PREVIOUS FIGHT.

Cruiser at Coronel on Saturday Showing Scars of Shells.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 6.—That the British cruiser Glasgow was in an engagement with a German warship or warships prior to the fight last Sunday evening off Coronel, in which the British cruisers Monmouth and Good Hope were lost and the Glasgow and the transport Otranto were reported to have been badly damaged, is indicated by advices received here from Coronel.

These advices are to the effect that the Glasgow entered Coronel last Saturday and took on coal and made repairs of injuries made by shells. One of her four smokestacks was destroyed, there was a big hole in one of her sides, and her bulwarks were smashed, according to the report. The cruiser left Coronel the day following her arrival, Sunday.

The German Admiral Von Spee said that after the fight of Sunday had ended the Glasgow was heard calling the flagship Good Hope by wireless, but received no reply. Since that time nothing has been heard from either the Glasgow or Otranto.

VALPARAISO, Nov. 6.—Nothing is known here concerning the British warships Canopus and Defense, which are reported to have passed through Magellan Straits to join the battle cruiser New Zealand.

CONFIRMS BRITISH LOSSES.

Germans in Peru Hear Good Hope and Monmouth Sank.

LIMA, Peru, Nov. 6.—A German firm here has received a telegram confirming the sinking of the British cruisers Monmouth and Good Hope in the battle between the German and British fleets off the coast of Chile last Sunday.

Nothing has been heard here concerning the whereabouts of the other vessels reported to have taken part in the fight.

CRADOCK'S BROTHER HOPEFUL.

Too Good a Sea Fighter to be Caught, Says Coloradoan.

Special to The New York Times.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 6.—Despite the official announcement by the British Admiralty that the cruiser Good Hope is lost and Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock drowned, the Admiral's brother, who lives near here, believes his brother is alive and is in battle with the Germans off the coast of Peru.

Charles Cradock lives at Petersburg, Col., a suburb of Denver, and has been visited frequently by his relatives, "the hard-riding Cradocks." These include Col. Montague Cradock and Major Sheldon Cradock of the Fifth Dragoon Guards. Charles Cradock keeps in communication with his three military brothers, but it has been eight years since he saw the Admiral.

"I do not believe the Admiral has been lost, or I should have been notified of it," he said tonight. "I have been trying to confirm newspaper reports of his fleet's disaster, but without success. There is one thing that leads me to believe Admiral Cradock and his flagship escaped. It was reported that the Good Hope had a range of only four miles, and I know personally she had guns capable of piercing an enemy at nine miles. Admiral Cradock is not the man to be caught and sunk, and I firmly believe that when the superior force of the enemy defeated him and perhaps wounded his own ship he took the Good Hope to a refuge on the coast of Peru.

"I report that the British and Japanese fleets are engaged with the Germans off Peru strengthens my belief because that was the reason the Admiral was away from his base in Bermuda. He was waiting for the Japanese.

"Admiral Cradock, you know, is the rescuer of the Duchess of Fife and is a favorite at the Court, so I feel quite certain that if the Admiralty were convinced of his death I should have received official notification. I would suggest that an effort be made to learn definitely of the battle in Peruvian waters, and I am certain it will be found that Admiral Cradock is there aboard the Good Hope or another ship."

FIGHT OFF PERU'S COAST?

Report That Japanese, British, and Germans Are Engaged.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6.—Private advices today to prominent British shipping agents here, from their correspondents in Valparaiso reported that an engagement was in progress off Yayos, Peru, between British, German, and Japanese warships.

No details of the engagement were given. Closer reading of the cable message seemed to indicate that Yayos was not the name of a town off which the engagement was in progress, but a code word which had been left blank of meaning in the firm's code book. An inquiry to the firm's home office at London for a translation of Yayos had brought no answer late tonight.

This translation was substantiated by the fact that the Peruvian town of Yauyos, first thought to have been intended, is some distance inland, and that it did not seem likely the German Squadron would have had time to reach the Peruvian coast in the short time since the first engagement.

It is possible that the message was a belated report of the fight off the Chilean coast on Sunday.

CRADOCK'S MANY TALENTS.

Won Honors as Sailor, Horseman, and Author.

Rear Admiral Sir Christopher G. F. M. Cradock was in command of the British squadron in Mexican waters when the American squadron took possession of Vera Cruz. He was born in 1862 and was a Lieutenant at 28 and a Rear Admiral at 48. His career was unusually varied in nature and distinguished in character—even as a writer he was known as the author of "Sporting Notes in the Far East," "Wrinkles in Seamanship," and "Whispers from the Fleet."

In the Sudan campaign of 1891 he was mentioned in dispatches and received the Khédive's star with clasp. Among his other decorations were the Royal Spanish Order of the Second Class for Naval Merit and the Royal Humane Society's testimonial for saving life. He also had the Board of Trade silver medal for gallantry in saving life at sea—the wreck of the Dehi. He was made a Knight Commander of the Victorian Order for personal services in 1912.

As an illustration of the variety of his career, he once served on the Royal yacht, in the transport service in China, when he took part in the relief of Peking in 1900, and as A. D. C. to the King, during which service, in 1909, he was decorated with the Order Royal of the Crown of Prussia, second class with swords.

Cradock first came prominently into American view in December, 1913, when he visited Mexico City to investigate the charges made by the British Minister Carden that British lives and property would not be safe unless the Huerta régime were recognized.

Both Huerta and Carden arranged for his visit. The former received the navy man in a special audience and entertained him at luncheon. Later Cradock said that Huerta did most of the talking, repeatedly asking him what Great Britain would do in case the United States intervened.

Cradock's report to his government is believed, in a measure, to have confirmed Carden's fears, for privately he was reported to have said:

"Huerta doubtless would have succeeded in placing his Government on a firm basis had it not been for the opposition to him on the part of the United States."

When the war broke out Cradock had for his flagship the cruiser Suffolk. With this vessel and two others he cruised up and down the Atlantic Coast, and on Aug. 12 announced through the British Acting Consul General at New York that the Atlantic Ocean had been cleared of shipping as far south as the Island of Trinidad. On Aug. 18 Cradock had under his command, besides the Suffolk, the armored cruisers Lancaster, Essex, and Berwick, and the protected cruiser Bristol. Later, in the West Indies, he transferred his flag to the Good Hope, and proceeded to the Pacific.

Aside from being a sailor and author, the late Rear Admiral added to his other accomplishments that of horseman, not only as a follower of the hounds, but also as a gentleman jockey. He rode horses to victory in several flat races and steeplechases open to the service, and once he won the Grand Military Gold Cup on his horse Prizeman at the Sandown races.

The Good Hope was one of the Drake class of cruisers and was 12 years old. The four vessels of this class were considered the last word in cruiser design at the time they were launched, and have only recently been superseded by the "battle cruisers," which have four knots more speed and carry much heavier armament. Her sister ship, the Blake, was well known to New Yorkers a few years ago. In 1905, when Prince Louis of Battenberg, then a Rear Admiral, cruised around the world with his squadron, he made the Blake his flagship, and when he visited this city she was anchored in the Hudson River for some time. Like the Drake, the Good Hope was 530 feet over all, with a beam of 71 feet, and a displacement of 14,100 tons. Her armament consisted of two 9.2-inch guns, mounted fore and aft in turrets on the top deck, being, with the exception of the bridge, the highest points above the water; sixteen 6-inch guns, twelve 12-pounders, three 3-pounders, and two submerged 18-inch torpedo tubes. The 6-inch guns were arranged in superimposed turrets, the guns in the upper turrets being lower than the 9.2-inch guns. This is the reason for the statement made that these 6-inch guns were useless on account of the rolling of the vessel. The lower turrets were very close to the surface of the water, and with a slight roll, or with rough water, would be submerged so that the guns could not be fired.

266 OF YORCK'S MEN MISSING.

Berlin Reports Cruiser Sunk by Accidental Contact with Mine.

BERLIN, Nov. 6, (via The Hague and London.)—A report reaching here from Wilhelmshaven shows that 266 men are missing from the crew of the German cruiser Yorck, which was sunk recently off the North Sea coast of Germany as a result of accidental contact with a German mine. Three hundred and eighty-four members of the crew, including the commander and the first officer, were taken off by another vessel.

STEAMER SUNK BY A MINE.

Large German Ship Blown Up Off Island of Langeland.

COPENHAGEN, (via London,) Nov. 6.—A large German steamer has been blown up south of the Danish island of Langeland, in the Great Belt, by a mine, said to have been placed by the Germans. A number of her crew were lost.

During the past fortnight two German trawlers and one German steamer have been destroyed in this region. There are no Danish mines in the waters where the disasters have occurred, as they were gathered up by a Danish steamer some time ago.

THE OPHELIA'S STATUS.

British Say She Was Not Included in List of Hospital Ships.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 6. — The German charges that the British have seized the hospital ship Ophelia, wrongfully interfering with the Ophelia's operations in seeking German wounded in the North Sea, is denied in official circles, where it is stated that neither the Admiralty nor the Government had been informed that the Ophelia was a hospital ship.

An investigation has been started which leads back to Washington to ascertain if Germany included the Ophelia in the list of hospital ships which, at the outset of the war, was furnished to the American Government for transmission to England, just as England furnished a list of her hospital ships. It is also being ascertained if Washington, in case it was so informed, transmitted the Ophelia's status to England. The British Government declares it was never done.

Points of Activity on the Western Battle Front.

1. Little activity is being shown by the Germans along the Yser north of Dixmude, according to the Belgian official report which admits some Germans still cling to the west bank of the river. Unofficial advices say the Germans are setting up big guns along the coast north from Ostend.
2. The British official report tells of marked advances (presumably of British troops) south of Dixmude. Severe fighting continues south and east of Ypres, where the Allies continue their offensive movement, according to Paris. Berlin, however, says the German troops are making progress in this neighborhood.
3. The Kaiser's troops are still attacking the allied forces around Arras, but they have been repulsed, according to the French official report. Amsterdam hears that heavy guns are on their way from Essen to Arras to assist in the effort to pound a way through.
4. The French official report says, "we have consolidated our advance" on Andechy, west of Roye.
5. The French say they have retaken the village of Sonpir, east of Vailly.
6. Paris also reports that the Allies have recaptured Sapigneul, near Berry-au-Bac.
7. Furious fighting is reported in the Argonne region. French reports say the German attacks have failed.
8. Trenches, occupied by the Kaiser's forces east of Verdun, have been captured, according to Paris. The German official report says that important positions south of St. Mihiel have been taken, at heavy cost to the Allies.
9. New activity is being shown by the Germans southeast and east of Nancy.

BATTLE RAGING AROUND YPRES

Continued from Page 1.

Yser near St. George and Stuyvekenskerke.

The Germans have placed numerous cannon, including all calibres, on the Belgian frontier between Middlekerke and Zeebrugge.

On the Dixmude-Bixschoote front the Anglo-French offensive movement continues. Violent German attacks in the direction of Bixschoote have been repulsed.

Between Wytschaete and Messines the offensive movement of the Allies has progressed as far as the road joining these two towns.

British Tell of Steady Progress.

LONDON, Nov. 6, 11:25 P. M.—The official Press Bureau tonight issued this statement:

The enemy's attack has decreased in vigor, and the process of pressing them back is making slow but steady progress.

The advance has been most marked to the south of Dixmude and toward Gheliwelt, but the weather has been misty and has tended to hamper operations.

Berlin Reports Important Gains.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The Marconi Wireless Company has received this official statement, issued by the German Headquarters today:

Our offensive to the northwest and southwest of Ypres has made good progress.

At La Bassée, to the north of Arras, and in the Argonne region we have gained ground.

Our troops captured important positions southeast of St. Mihiel and have inflicted heavy losses on the French.

BRITISH SHIPS SHELL MORE BELGIAN PORTS

Bombard Knocke and Zeebrugge to Prevent Use as Submarine Bases.

LONDON, Saturday, Nov. 7.—The British fleet, according to unofficial accounts, has again taken action along the Belgian coast and has been bombarding Knocke and Zeebrugge, where the Germans are supposed to be organizing bases for their submarines.

A Reuter despatch from Flushing says:

"Heavy guns have been mounted on the sand dunes along the coast from the north of Ostend to the Dutch frontier. Trenches have also been dug in the neighborhood of Heyst. Further reinforcements have reached the German fighting line during the present week.

"The Germans have issued a new proclamation prohibiting an approach on the waterways at Bruges. Trespassers are warned that they may be shot."

An Amsterdam dispatch to the Central News states that forty heavy guns arrived at Aix-la-Chapelle yesterday from Essen, destined for Arras.

Twelve long empty trains are also proceeding to Namur and sixty armored automobiles, with mitrailleuses, have left Aix-la-Chapelle for Ostend, according to the same advices.

"An aviator from the Allies' lines dropped two bombs on German naphtha tanks at Bruges Thursday, killing eight marines," says a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Exchange Telegraph Company. The message continues:

"Guns were thundering yesterday and again today in the direction of Thourout and Ypres.

"The Allies make constant sallies from Passchendaele at night.

"Apparently scouts have blown up the railroad between Bruges and Ghent, as a trainful of wounded was obliged to return to Bruges to-day."

A Daily Mail correspondent in the north of France says the retreat of the Germans amounts to nothing less than a rout. He sends this dispatch under date of Thursday:

"The German right is smashed like a fallen wineglass. Guns, stores, rifles and even the wounded were abandoned in the rush from this fatal battlefield. The chance of the Germans was well on the wane when the flooding of their positions came as a climax to the disaster.

"There is now left no more than a remnant of the German force which met its fate at the Yser. Thirty thousand Germans, say the Belgians, have been put out of the fight on this line. There must be many thousands of prisoners."

A Times correspondent in Pas de Calais telegraphs:

"I am credibly informed that the German losses in the supreme attack on the British between Ypres and Lille are well over 50,000. The fighting is still proceeding, but its fury has spent itself."

A Daily News correspondent in the north of France telegraphs under date of Thursday:

"The main fighting is now proceeding further south around Armantières and on the frontier line a few miles east of Nieppe.

"Lille is burning and battered. The Allies have been in and out of the city and their shells set the town alight at the western end.

"It is reported that Emperor William with his staff is directing the whirlwind from Tourmai, Belgium, with Boulogne and Calais as the objective via Hazebrouck and St. Omer, where, if the Germans can break through, there is a clear road to the coast. The battle here will not be decided for several days."

A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam says:

"The Telegraaf learns from Sluis, Holland, that the Germans have retired from the Yser and that the Belgians have occupied both banks of the river. The last village evacuated was Stuyvekenskerke, the troops returning from there to Bruges.

"The battle is proceeding in the triangle of Dixmude, Roulers and Ypres. Many inhabitants are leaving Bruges and are making their way toward Holland."

TRAP GERMAN GUARD IN ARRAS

French Conceal Themselves in City —Capture a 16-Inch Gun.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—The violent German attacks at Arras indicate, it is thought here, that another attempt is being made to turn the French forces similar to the effort last Saturday, which failed because the French obtained early information of the German plans.

A dispatch to the Soleil du Midi from Boulogne says that the attacks were made by two columns, one from Lens and the other from Doual. The dispatch continues:

"The French had evacuated the villages north of Arras and kept their troops carefully concealed in the city. The Germans expecting no opposition marched into the suburbs of St. Nicholas with bands playing and colors flying. Suddenly fire was opened from the houses as the enemy debouched on to the bridge over the Scarpe.

"A battalion guard with fixed bayonets dashed forward, hoping to escape into the city, but French dragoons unexpectedly appeared. Caught between quick-firers and the sabres of the cavalry, the guardsmen threw down their arms, while the troops behind them beat a hasty retreat.

"Meanwhile a French aviator dropped bombs destroying the track behind an armored train which was following the columns. On the train was found a 16-inch gun, which was being transported in sections and accompanied by a number of engineers from Krupps."

ORDERS SUPREME EFFORT.

Renewed Report That Kaisch Will Strike Again for Calais.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 6 (Dispatch to The Daily Mail).—It is before the great battle is fought in Poland near the Silesian frontier and the River Warthe, the German Army in Belgium and North France has been ordered by the Kaiser to make one more effort to vanish the Allies and force their way to Calais.

The effort is to be made with all the available force that the Germany Army can command, and the losses that the attack may involve are not to be considered for one moment.

In the event of the German Army before Breslau being defeated, it is recognized that it will be necessary for the Germans to confine themselves to acting on the defensive in France and Belgium and sending a great portion of the army at present there to Silesia.

CHARGES FIRING ON RED CROSS

English Correspondent Says Germans Did It After Defeat.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

NORTHERN FRANCE, Nov. 6, (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle.)—After desperate fighting around Armentières and Arras, where the Germans employed their new heavyweight mortars, their losses have been so severe that their offensive was brought to a dead stop for three days.

Out of one regiment, which went into the fight full strength, but forty men and a Corporal survived at the close of the second day's fighting. The mortality among the officers of the German line regiments was exceptionally severe. The country around Armentières, whence the Kaiser hoped to discover a new route to Calais, is full of unburied dead.

The Germans have drawn off, leaving the fallen and wounded to the mercy of the Allies. The various Red Cross corps sought to bring aid to those lying on the field, but, smarting under the fresh defeat, the Germans fired upon those engaged upon the mission of burying the dead and rescuing the wounded.

Snipers, perched in trees which lined a canal bank, subjected the stretcher bearers to persistent annoyance. Several of the bearers, including four of the Indian contingent, were wounded while searching for British and German fallen.

Ultimately all the Red Cross doctors and assistants had to be recalled behind the line and the British commander of one part of the intrenched area determined, if possible, to teach the snipers a lesson. He took with him several hundred infantry and two machine-gun sections.

Moving out direct to his front, he was speedily subjected to an irregular rifle fire by hidden marksmen, which was more galling than deadly. The officer suspected that the tree tops might be worth prospecting. He treated them to a volley and the result more than exceeded his expectations. Twenty Germans were brought down, dead or wounded, and ever since there has been an end to tree-top sniping in front of the British lines.

The German attack has been shattered, and it is difficult to see how with their attenuated ranks and depleted ammunition supplies they can venture afresh upon the offensive. In the region around Armentières and Arras they appear to be greatly hampered by the absence of supplies. Something went wrong last week with their transports, and British detachments, capturing isolated bands after the recent heavy fighting, found that they had been subsisting on raw horse flesh. They showed marked eagerness to surrender and pleaded that something be given them to eat.

There is now a lull in the fighting, which has been welcomed by the Allies no less than by the Germans. The latter, according to latest reports from their sphere of operations, are pushing up additional reinforcements from two points, which are linked up by rail to two of their important bases. Three fresh mortars of the kind which came into action the other day and which the facetious Tommy Atkins has nicknamed "Barking Billy," presumably on the ground that the amount of its barking is in inverse ratio to the effectiveness of its biting, are said to be making their way laboriously to the front. The roads to be traversed are in impassable condition, furrowed into great ruts by the combined effects of rain and the repeated passing and repassing of heavy guns.

150,000 GERMANS COMING.

Fresh Forces to be Brought Into Belgium, It Is Said.

LONDON, Saturday, Nov. 7.—The Exchange Telegraph's correspondent at Amsterdam says the Germans have concentrated in Munster, seventy-eight miles northeast of Cologne, 150,000 fresh troops, who will be sent into Belgium on Sunday, when all railway traffic will stop for the purpose.

KAISER OFFERS GUN REWARD.

Will Pay 750 Marks for Each Machine Gun Captured.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam says:

"A telegram from Berlin announces that the Emperor, in a Cabinet order, has promised a reward of 750 marks (about $188) for each machine gun captured."

G. B. SHAW PETITIONS PRESIDENT WILSON

Wants Neutral Powers to Request Warring Nations to Quit Belgian Soil.

MISTAKE BELGIUM MADE

Should Have Appealed to the World Instead of to Triple Entente—War of German Kings.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The Nation today prints an open letter to the President of the United States of America from George Bernard Shaw, from which the following are extracts:

"Sir: I petition you to invite the neutral Powers to confer with the United States of America for the purpose of requesting Great Britain, France, and Germany to withdraw from the soil of Belgium and fight out their quarrel on their own territories.

"However, the sympathies of the neutral States may be divided and whatever points now at issue between the belligerent Powers may be doubtful, there is one point on which there can be neither division nor doubt, and that is that the belligerent armies have no right to be in Belgium, much less to fight in Belgium, and involve the innocent inhabitants of that country in their reciprocal slaughter.

"You will not question my right to address this petition to you. You are the official head of a nation that is beyond all question or comparison chief of the neutral powers, marked out from all the rest by commanding magnitude, by a modern democratic constitution, and by freedom from the complication of a monarchy and its traditions which have led Europe into the quaint absurdity of a war waged formally between the German Kaiser, the German Czar, the German King of the Belgians, the German King of England, the German Emperor of Austria, and a gentleman who shares with you the distinction of not being related to any of them and is therefore describable monarchically as one Poincaré, Frenchman.

"I make this petition on its merits, without claiming any representative character except such as attaches to me as a human being. Nobody here has asked me to do it. Many Englishmen will say that a request to the belligerents to evacuate Belgium forthwith would be refused, could not be forced, and would make the asker ridiculous. We are, in short, not a prayerful nation; but to you it will be clear that even the strongest power or even an allied group of powers can have its position completely changed by an expression of the public opinion of the rest of the world.

"In your clear Western atmosphere and in your peculiarly responsible position as the head centre of Western democracy you, when the European situation became threatening three months ago, must have been acutely aware of a fact to which Europe was so fatally blind, namely, that a simple solution of the difficulty in which the menace of the Franco-Russo-British entente placed Germany was for the German Emperor to leave his Western frontier under the safeguard of the neighborliness and good faith of the American, British and French democracy and then await quite calmly any action that Russia might take against his country on the East.

"Had he done so we could not have attacked him from behind, and had France made such an attack, and it is in the extremest degree improbable that French public opinion would have permitted such a hazardous and unjustifiable adventure, he would, at the worst, have confronted it with the fullest sympathy of Great Britain and the United States, and, at best, with their active assistance.

"Unhappily, German Kings do not allow democracy to interfere in their foreign policy, do not believe in neighborliness, and do believe in cannon and cannon fodder. The Kaiser never dreamt of confiding his frontier to you and to the humanity of his neighbors, and the diplomatists of Europe never thought of that easy and right policy, and could not suggest any substitute for it, with the hideous result which is before you.

"Now, that this mischief has been done and the two European thunderclouds have met and are discharging their lightnings, it is not for me to meddle with the question whether the United States should take sides in their warfare as far as it concerns themselves alone, but I may plead for the perfectly innocent neutral State of Belgium, which is being ravaged in a horrible manner by the belligerents.

"I grant Belgium in her extreme peril made only one mistake: she called to her aid the Powers of the Entente alone instead of calling on the whole world of kindly men. She should have called on America, too, and it is hard to see how you could, in honor, have disregarded that call. But if Belgium says nothing, but only turns her eyes dumbly toward you whilst you look at the red ruin in which her villages, her heaps of slain, her monuments and treasures are being hurled by friends and enemies alike, are you any less bound to speak out than if Belgium had asked you to send a million soldiers?

"Not for a moment do I suggest that your intervention should be intervention on behalf of either the Allies or the Entente. If you consider both sides equally guilty we know you can find reasons for that verdict. But Belgium is innocent, and it is on behalf of Belgium that so much of the world as is still at peace is waiting for the lead from you.

"No other question need be prejudiced if Germany maintains her claim to a right of way through Belgium on a matter which she believed, however erroneously, to be one of life or death to her as a nation. Nobody, not even China, now pretends that such rights of way have not their place among those common human rights which are superior to the more artificial rights of nationality.

"I think, for example, that if Russia made a descent on your continent under circumstances which made it essential to the maintenance of your national freedom that you should move an army through Canada, you would ask our leave to do so and take it by force if we did not grant it. You may reasonably suspect, even if all our statesmen raise a shriek of denial, that we should take a similar liberty under similar circumstances in the teeth of all the scraps of paper in our Foreign Office dust bin.

"But the right of way is not the right of conquest, and even the right of way was not, as the Imperial Chancellor imagined, a matter of life and death at all, but a militarist hallucination, and one that has turned out so far a military misake.

"You can leave every question between the belligerents fully open, and yet in the common interest of the world ask Germany to clear out of Belgium into France or across the Channel into England if she can, or to go back home if she can force no other passage, but at all events to go out of Belgium. A like request would, of course, be addressed to Great Britain and France.

"Here in England and France men are going to the front every day. Women and children are all within earshot and no man is hard-hearted enough to say the worst that might be said of what is going on in Belgium now. We talk to you of Louvain and Rheims in the hope of enlisting you on our side or of prejudicing you against the Germans, forgetting how sorely you must be tempted to say as you look on at what we are doing: 'Well, if European literature as represented by the library of Louvain and European religion as represented by the cathedral of Rheims have not got us beyond this, in God's name let them perish!'

"I am thinking of other things, of the honest Belgians whom I have seen nursing their wounds, and whom I recognize at a glance as plain men, innocent of all warlike intentions, trusting to the wisdom and honesty of the rulers and diplomatists who have belied them, taken from their farms and their businesses to destroy and be destroyed for no good purpose that might not have been achieved better and sooner by neighborly means.

"I am thinking of the authentic news that no papers dare publish, not of the lies that they all publish to divert attention from the truth.

"In America these things can be said without driving American mothers and wives mad. Here we have to set our teeth and go forward. We cannot be just. We cannot see beyond the range of our guns. The roar of the shrapnel deafens us; the black smoke of the howitzer blinds us. And what these do to our bodily senses our passions do to our imaginations. For justice we must do as the mediæval cities did—call in a stranger. You are not altogether that to us, but you can look at all of us impartially, and you are the spokesman of the Western democracy. That is why I appeal to you."

Commenting on the letter The Nation says:

"We are glad to publish Shaw's brilliant appeal, because we believe that when the time for settlement arrives the influence of America will be a powerful, perhaps a decisive factor in obtaining it. We agree, too, with him that while she is not likely to respond to an appeal to intervene on the side of the Entente or Alliance, the case of Belgium, the innocent victim of the war, is bound to find her in a very different mood.

"But on the vital point we disagree with Shaw. His Irish mind puts the case with an indifference to which we cannot pretend. We have got to save Western Europe from the victory of Prussian militarism as well as to avenge Belgium and set her on her feet again."

TO MOVE AMERICAN UNIT.

Physicians and Nurses Going to Hospital at Paignton.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—An American Red Cross unit of four physicians and twelve nurses, which was assigned to the Naval Hospital at Portsmouth some weeks ago, will be transferred to the American Hospital at Paignton, and will be in the Paget ward. This ward was named for Lady Arthur Paget, President of the American Women's War Relief Fund, who said today:

"We will be glad to have this second unit. These American physicians and nurses have done splendid work since they came and have received the highest praise from the English Hospital officials."

Lady Paget said she had been informed by the American Red Cross that additional physicians and nurses could be provided whenever needed.

"The time will undoubtedly come," she said, "when we will need these doctors and nurses, but we will require more money to enlarge the hospital."

Lady Paget said the English felt deeply grateful for what America had done and was doing. She told of having received a cable dispatch today from America, saying that a large quantity of woolen underwear and socks was being sent through the Women's War Relief Fund for British soldiers.

Lady Paget and other American women of the War Relief Fund are much interested in Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney's Hospital project for Northern France, for it is known that there is a great need for such a hospital there. Members of the Relief Fund expect to see Mrs. Whitney when she arrives in England.

ITALY'S POLICY UNCHANGED.

New Cabinet Will Preserve Neutrality, Says Diplomat Here.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6. — Formation of the new Italian Cabinet, news of which officially reached the embassy here today, probably will mean the continuation of Italy's policy of strict neutrality, according to opinions expressed at the embassy.

"The appointment of Baron Sidney Sonnino as Minister for Foreign Affairs," said an Italian official today, "does not mean a change of policy, but with a Cabinet representing more broadly the various elements of the country, the Government's policy will be a more truly national expression of Italy's interests."

The Aristocrat of Cigarettes
RAMESES
Largest Selling 20c Cigarette
Also in "Week End" Tins of 100 each

Stephano Ferrera

AT NEWS-STANDS — AT BOOK-STORES

The New REPUBLIC
Published Weekly
Saturday 7th November 1914

Out Today for the First Time

TEN CENTS A COPY
FOUR DOLLARS A YEAR

IT seeks to meet, with fair opinion and fresh ideas, the challenge of a new time. It respects no taboos; it plays no favorites; it is confined to no set creed; it is tied to no political party.

IN THIS ISSUE

"War and the Future of Civilization" by Roland G. Usher, author of "Pan-Germanism"; "The Duty of Harsh Criticism," by Rebecca West, the woman H. G. Wells called "the best man in England"; "The Empire of the East," by H. N. Brailsford; "The Cotton Crisis," by Alvin S. Johnson; "Has German Strategy Failed?" by Frank H. Simonds, of The New York Evening Sun.

EDITORS
Herbert Croly	Roland G. Usher	John Graham Brooks
Philip Littell	Graham Wallas	Henry Jones Ford
Walter E. Weyl	H. G. Wells	Felix Frankfurter
Walter Lippmann	Rebecca West	Charles G. Hodges
Francis Hackett	Arthur Willert	Arthur N. Holcombe
Charlotte Rudyard	Garet Garrett	Frances A. Kellor
CONTRIBUTORS	Robert Herrick	George W. Kirchwey
Charles A. Beard	John A. Hobson	Donald C. Richberg
Edward G. Lowry	Frank Colby	Chester H. Rowell
	Robert Dell	Elizabeth Sergeant
	H. N. Brailsford	Randolph S. Bourne

Pin a dollar bill to this advertisement and mail it, at our risk, with name and address, for a three months' subscription to THE NEW REPUBLIC
421 West Twenty-first Street — New York City

Smoky Fireplaces Made to Draw
Also expert services on general chimney work, seating and ventilating.
No payment accepted unless successful.
FREDERIC N. WHITLEY
Engineer and Contractor
[illegible] Fulton St., Brooklyn, N.Y.

BOOKSELLERS TO THE WORLD
All Books
All Languages
All Subjects
BRENTANO'S
5th Ave. & 27th St., N. Y.

There's something about them you'll like—

Twenty for a Quarter
Herbert Tareyton
London Cigarettes

GREAT VICTORY WON BY RUSSIANS

News of Austrian Defeat Wired by Grand Duke Nicholas to Kitchener and Joffre.

CALLED WORST OF THE WAR

Galician Armies Driven from San River Are in Retreat Along Entire Front.

JAROSLAW IS RECAPTURED

General Advance Into East Prussia Also Said to Wait Only on Taking of One Position.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—Grand Duke Nicholas, Commander in Chief of the Russian forces in the field, has sent a telegram to Gen. Joffre, Commander in Chief of the French forces, saying the Russians have gained their greatest victory since the beginning of the war.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The British Embassy gave out the following this evening:

Lord Kitchener has received the following telegram from the Grand Duke Nicholas:

Following our successes upon the Vistula, a complete victory has just been gained by our troops along the whole of the front in Galicia. Our strategical manoeuvre has thus been crowned by what is incontestably the greatest success gained on our side since the beginning of the war. I am most confident of the speedy and entire accomplishment of our common task, persuaded as I am that decisive victory will be gained by the allied armies.

This dispatch is almost identical with one sent to Gen. Joffre.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 6.—The Russians have recaptured the Galician town of Jaroslaw and have taken 5,000 Austrian prisoners, according to a telegram received here to-day from Lemberg. Jaroslaw is seventeen miles northwest of the Austrian fortress of Przemysl.

The Austrians for the last few days have been attacking furiously day and night. Their artillery fire has been particularly severe, and leads to the impression that they have been making their last supreme effort. The last engagement was over an extended front, and enormous forces endeavored to prevent the Russians crossing the San at a point near Monastyrzek. Their efforts were unavailing, and the Austrians all along the river are now retreating. Reinforcements are pushing over the Carpathians in an attempt to support them, but it is reported that these troops have been exhausted by the struggle through the snow-filled mountain passes and are incapable of a serious resistance.

On the extreme northern front, Wirballen is said to be the only obstacle to a general advance of the whole Russian front into East Prussia. The Germans, it is declared, soon will be forced to evacuate, being threatened by a flanking movement of the Russians. The backward movement of the remainder of the German line left this point without sufficient support.

The Emperor, the Grand Duke Nicholas, Russian Commander in Chief; the imperial suite, and all the members of the General Staff attended the religious services which were celebrated today when news was received that the Austrians had retreated all along the Galician front.

RETREATING ON CRACOW.

Austrians Will Seek There to Protect German Line of Defenses.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 6.—Austrians are in full retreat over the entire Galician front. The movement is such as to indicate less a general defeat than a general obedience to orders to withdraw. The Russians have been pressing with great energy upon the upper Vistula and San fronts, especially since the settlement of the main fight further north against the German and mixed forces, but I understand that the Austrians were in possession of strong fortified positions which were still giving the Russians considerable trouble in spite of their constantly increasing numbers.

On that subject, by the way, I cannot too frequently correct the repeated error in the press about Russia piling up numbers at the front only in proportion as her mobilization reaches more and more distant regions of the vast Empire. This is altogether wrong, but it is recognized here as a natural mistake for Englishmen, engaged in procuring and training volunteers in batches progressively. Russia maintains a large army at all times, and since the Japanese war it has become a new army in many senses.

I have before explained how the Grand Duke takes a fighting front sufficient for the purpose of his strategic plan. Behind these men and within easy reach are others ready to fill gaps in the fighting line, and these constitute practically a second army, while in the distant provinces yet another army is being polished up. Ever since the war began a continual flow in regular sequence has been taking place, and thus the fighting front always is kept up to full strength.

From remarks in the British press one might suppose that mobilization in Russia meant every able-bodied man being enrolled in the active army and getting there as fast as distance and sparse means of communication permit. This is a ridiculous notion. It would bring 20,000,000 men, at least, into the field. Russia does not want them, but she takes all the men she wants as she wants them. It may be accepted that for every regiment at the fighting front there is a duplicate, partly at the nearest base and partly marching to fill gaps in the fighting front, while at more distant bases a second duplicate is having the final polish put on and is moving up as required.

It is plain that the Galician front was left until the Vistula front had been cleared, when a proportion of the troops released here proceeded to add to the fighting front in Galicia, thereby causing the retreat of the Austrians along the whole front. The Austrians will retire to especially strong fortified positions resting on Cracow on the south and Kalish on the north, seventy miles apart. The object of making an impregnable stand here is, of course, to prevent the Russians attempting to turn the line of defenses of Germany along the Oder.

If a successful resistance is maintained here Germany will be free to throw the greater part of the armies which invaded Poland back to the western front in an effort to crush the Anglo-French defense. From information I have received these forces, in spite of the Polish disasters, will be considerable in number and valuable in quality.

When retiring after their failure before Warsaw the Germans planted a heavy rear guard to fight a battle and succeeded in getting their troops away with comparatively small losses. In fact, they obtained twenty-four hours' start and by this time have doubtless got back into Germany, still in good fighting condition, and possibly already proceeding toward France.

On the East Prussian front the Germans continue to retire along the whole line, the Russians following them up closely. The only point still held by the Germans is in the neighborhood of the well-known frontier station, Wirballen, where a strongly intrenched position is still untaken, but it will naturally have to be abandoned now that it has been left isolated by the general retirement.

I have several times noted how extremely severe the fighting has been on this front since the failure before Warsaw. I hear that the dead before the Russian lines, where they were not heaps, were regular swaths, mowed down by Maxim fire during repeated and heroic attempts to force the Russian defenses. Among the dead is a painfully noticeable proportion of boys 16 or 17 years old.

The spirit of the Russian troops is at a high pitch of exaltation, to which fact the doctors attribute some extraordinary recoveries from appalling wounds. The use of explosive bullets by both the Germans and Austrians has been definitely proved. In a multitude of cases the Austrian bullets are, in fact, a miniature shell with a detonator. Doubtless, they were originally invented for signaling purposes, as they throw a puff of smoke in the daytime and flash at night.

It is possible to explain the use of these as accidental in some cases, but too frequent instances have been registered entirely to accept this excuse. Apart from the usual cases and contents of clips found on wounded, a correspondent has seen what nothing can explain away, namely, a number of Austrian machine gun belts loaded up with cartridges of which every tenth had an explosive bullet. By dropping a cartridge on a stone the bullet can be exploded without exploding the firing charge.

POLAND INVASION NEAR END.

German Armies Still Retreating to Frontier Strongholds.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 6, (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle.)—During the last week the retreat of the German and Austrian armies in Poland has been monotonously rapid. The invaders have made such haste to reach their own territory that frequently the Russians have had difficulty in overtaking them. Here and there the retreating armies have fought rearguard actions, but in every case with considerable loss to themselves.

At Radom the Austrian and German armies are separating, the Germans retiring westward toward the Silesian frontier and the Austrians southward toward Kielce and Sandomierz with Cracow as their ultimate objective.

Now that the Austrian and German armies are approaching the frontiers, operations are again entering upon an interesting phase. It was expected that before falling back on their elaborately fortified positions at Kalish and Czenstochowo the Germans would try to make a stand on the River Wartha, which, flowing in Western Poland from south to north, would form a good rallying point for a retreating army, but the Russians in their unresting pursuit have occupied Kola on the Wartha, thirty-one miles from Kalish, and have nullified whatever defensive value the river may have possessed for the Germans.

The German invasion of Poland is therefore practically at an end, and this is so not only on the Silesian frontier, but also further north on the East Prussian frontier, where prolonged German attacks on the Russian right flank have been repulsed.

LONDON BUYING MOURNING.

One Shop Sells Twenty Widows' Bonnets in Three Days.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—At many well-known West End women's tailoring establishments and millinery shops no guarantees are given as to the time of filling ordinary orders, for everything must give way to orders for mourning gowns and hats. In one millinery establishment twenty widows' bonnets are conspicuously displayed. When asked why so many were kept in stock the answer given was:

"They are for twenty widows and represent orders given in three days' time."

At tailoring places it was said that additional help had been obtained to complete at the shortest notice mourning clothing, and in consequence all other orders had been accepted on the understanding that completion depended on circumstances at the front.

American women in London plan no social functions for this Winter, according to a titled American, who in the past has had notable affairs at her home. Some weeks ago the King expressed the opinion that social life in the capital should not be abandoned this Winter, but since then many families have been thrown into mourning.

"If social functions were given," the American woman referred to said today, "who would attend them? Many families recently have been grief-stricken over the loss of one or more of their members. No one has the heart to entertain, and I know that American women in London have absolutely no idea of entertaining."

It was added that a number of men who contributed much to social events had been killed, others were wounded, and still others now were on the fighting lines.

PROBLEM FOR THE KAISER.

How to Reinforce His Western Armies with Russia Winning.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—Commenting on the statement of the Italian military critic, Col. Gatti, in the Corriere della Sera, that now or never the Germans must bring reinforcements against the allied troops, the Temps says:

"Even if Germany can afford to send further troops against us, which the Russian victory renders improbable, it is almost impossible that sufficient officers can be found to command them."

The Intransigeant, on the other hand, refers with satisfaction to the dispatch saying that the Germans are sending troops eastward, and adds:

"If this information is correct Gen. Joffre's prophecy of victory is likely to be fulfilled soon."

It seems likely that the French offensive movement into Alsace, which the defeat at Charleroi halted, will now be resumed. The Lausanne Revue, which the Temps quotes, says that the French troops on the Alsace frontier have been heavily reinforced for this purpose. The same newspaper states that the inhabitants of Largin, a small hamlet only three hundred yards from the German frontier, were recently forced to seek the shelter of cellars owing to a sudden hail of German shells. A party of Swiss dragoons were simultaneously forced to leave the barn where their horses were stabled.

THE WAR SITUATION.

BY THE MILITARY EXPERT OF THE NEW YORK TIMES.
(An Associate Editor of The Army and Navy Journal.)

The movements in Belgium indicate that the Germans have given up their attempt to break through the part of the line held by the Belgians, and that they are moving their troops southward to add to the vigorous attacks that have been delivered during the last week against the British army that is holding the line from the Yser to the Lys.

The reports from allied sources have announced various victories in this district, but nevertheless their line proves to have been forced back seven miles to Bixschoote, five miles north of Ypres. Both to the north and to the south of this city the Germans have forced back the opposing armies, but in the immediate vicinity of Ypres the British resistance stiffened after the first retirement.

In fighting such as that which has been going on in Western Belgium during the last three weeks, the expenditure of ammunition is enormous. In maintaining at the front the supplies of this essential accessory of modern fighting, the Allies have a decided advantage, in that they can make use of water transportation to bring the shells and powder within thirty miles of their fighting line. They have this aid also in getting their reinforcements up to the front.

With the immense numbers of men now engaged in the fighting, the matter of supplying the armies with food, forage, clothes, and ammunition is an enormous problem. It is impossible for large numbers to be concentrated except where they can readily be supplied by railroads and by trains of automobiles, traveling on paved roads.

In the battle area in Northern France, the great net work of railroads and paved highways gives the armies on both sides great latitude in selecting points for concentrating their troops in large numbers. After the war of 1870 the French Government devoted part of its energies toward constructing a railroad system so that each army corps would have a direct through route from its home district to its designated position on the northern frontier. The same roads carry trains of supplies and reinforcements going to the front, and the returning stream of empty cars and sick and wounded soldiers. Each corps gets supplies by its home district. The army headquarters is thus relieved of much detail work and is free to give attention entirely to the military movements and the battle plans.

The administrative centres of the French corps districts were at Lille, Amiens, Rouen, Le Mans, Orleans, Chalons, Besançon, Bourges, Tours, Rennes, Nantes, Limoges, Clermont-Ferrand, Lyons, Marseilles, Montpellier, Toulouse, Bordeaux, and Nancy. Parts of the Lille, Chalons, and Nancy districts are now occupied by the Germans, so that supplies for their corps must be furnished by the General Government. By following on a map the railroad line from the remaining corps—district centres to the battle lines in the northeast—one may see the general method by which the French are able to maintain in the field such immense forces without taxing the powers of their administrative departments.

The same system is used by the Germans with the difference that they are more handicapped in obtaining rail or highway routes for their communications close to the battle front. Their operations are consequently limited to two large fields.

The northern one includes the district that can be reached by trains, which run from Aix-la-Chapelle through Liége and then along the railroads that spread out fan-like to all points of the battle line from the sea coast southward as far as Soissons.

The southern theatre of operations is based upon the network of railroads between Luxemburg and Strassburg. Between these two is the eighty-mile front between the Meuse and the Aisne where the hilly Argonne and the Ardennes district prevent operations on such a large scale.

By following back the rail lines from this front to the German corps districts a similar outline of their lines of supply can be obtained. The German system is likewise decentralized; each corps is recruited, reinforced, and supplied as far as possible from its home districts. The administrative centres are found at Koenigsberg, Stettin, Berlin, Magdeburg, Posen, Breslau, Menster, Coblens, Altona, Dresden, Stuttgart, Carlsruhe, Strassburg, Metz, Dantsic, Frankfort, Leipsic, Allenstein, Saarbrucken, Menich, Wurzburg, and Nurnberg.

The tracing of the above lines on a map throws light upon the conduct of operations by the opposing nations and gives an idea of the problem involved in an attempt by Germany to shift forces from one border to the other. Something of this sort seems, however, to be occurring this week. The German retreat in East Prussia and Poland seems to be greater than is called for by the Russian operations. It seems probable that they have fallen back rapidly to take up positions where they can act on the defensive and hold back the Russians while part of their forces move against the French and British in the west.

Reports from Russia generally refer to the fighting of three days ago. Operations of this sort must always be carried on by successive steps. After the first rush the forces are collected and gotten in hand ready to deliver the next blow. The Russian forces are now going through this stage, the outcome of which must take a number of days to develop.

The predicted retreat of the Austrians from the San River north of Przemysl seems to have started. The Russians have crossed the river on a hundred-mile front from Jaroslav to the Vistula, which could hardly have been carried out, unless the Austrian resistance had been very much weakened.

The Russian invasion of Turkey is still merely a reconnoissance. The force which they have available is insufficient to make an invasion on a large scale, though it may be able to occupy the border provinces. If Russia intends to advance to Constantinople it is certain that the move will not be made by Trans-Caucasia. The march of a large army through a country devoid of roads of any sort is impossible of accomplishment, unless months are allowed for a slow advance and for the construction of ample road facilities behind the army as it progresses.

This advance of four army corps into Armenia is principally a demonstration to force the Turks to send part of their army to this region. The Allies will then be better able to press their attacks in whatever other districts they may select for the purpose.

The surrender of Tsing-tau mave have effects that will extend even to the fighting in Europe. The release of the British Hongkong regulars and their Indian troops will almost certainly result in these forces being sent to Egypt.

Another Neutrality Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—President Wilson today signed a proclamation declaring the neutrality of the United States in the conflict between Great Britain and Turkey. It is the same as those issued to cover the conflicts between the other belligerents.

New Zealand Puts Embargo on Wool

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—New Zealand has declared an embargo on wool except to the allied powers. Formal notification was received today at the State Department.

SAY MOSLEMS' HEAD IS AGAINST ALLIES

Germans Also Assert the Afghan Ruler Has Sent a Big Army to Attack India.

BORDER TRIBES IN REVOLT

Some British Officials Slain, Others Arrested—Anti-British Statement by Khedive Reported.

BERLIN, (by Wireless Telegraphy to Sayville, L. I.,) Nov. 6.—According to information given out in official quarters today to the press, the Sheik-ul-Islam, the chief ecclesiastical dignitary of Mohammedanism in Turkey, has issued a decree in Constantinople saying that, in the fighting with Russia, England, and France, the duty of every Mussulman is to his faith. This decree has been spread throughout the Mohammedan world and announced to the pilgrims at Mecca.

A report received here from Constantinople says that the Ameer of Afghanistan has sent an army of 170,000 men, with 135 guns, to the Indian frontier. This news was given out in official quarters in Berlin today to the press.

The railroad from Herat to Kushk in Afghanistan has, it is added, been destroyed, and it is stated that a number of Indian border tribes have joined the Afghans.

It is further asserted that British officials on the border have been arrested, and several of their number have been killed.

BERLIN, (via The Hague and London,) Nov. 6.—The Frankfurter Zeitung publishes a dispatch from its Constantinople correspondent, who transmits an interview with the Khedive of Egypt.

The Khedive expressed himself as undisturbed by the reported British annexation of Egypt. "The people of Egypt will soon recognize," he declared, "that the situation created by the British cannot continue, and the Britons will soon see that the annexation of the historic and holy territory of Egypt can only be of a temporary character."

TURKS BOMBARD BATUM.

Cruisers' Operation Successful, Says Sofia Telegram to Berlin.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 6.—The Vossische Zeitung of Berlin has published a dispatch from Sofia saying that Turkish cruisers have successfully bombarded the Russian fortified seaport of Batum, on the east shore of the Black Sea.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 6.—The branch of the Russo-Asiatic Bank at Batum has transferred its deposits and documents to Baku, on the Caspian Sea.

ARMENIANS FIGHTING TURKS.

Besieging Van—Others Operating in Turkish Army's Rear.

LONDON, Saturday, Nov. 7.—A dispatch received by The Daily Telegraph from Tiflis, capital of the Government of Caucasia, by way of Moscow, says:

"The Turkish town of Van (140 miles southeast of Erzerum, Turkish Armenia) is being besieged by a detachment of Armenians, who are aiding the Russians. The town has a large arsenal.

"Another Armenian detachment is operating in the rear of the Turkish Army."

TURKS SEIZING MERCHANDISE.

Mobilization Order in Syria an Excuse for Robbing Tradesmen.

All merchandise of any value is being seized by officials of the Ottoman Government in cities of Syria, following the general orders of mobilization of troops, according to reports from missionaries made public yesterday by the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian Church.

"Under the order of mobilization," the board says, "unwilling conscripts are being gathered, each soldier being required to bring with him from his home eight days' rations, with a certain amount of money.

"The local officials have turned the orders to commandeer horses, mules, food, and fodder into a most wicked and unbridled system of plunder. They have entered the shops at Beirut at all hours of the night and day and have seized not only flour and articles of food, but dry goods, clothing, household utensils, silk stockings by the gross, foreign-made shoes for women, and expensive sets of furniture."

At present there are working in Syria, under direction of the Presbyterian Board, thirty-nine missionaries, of whom twenty-four are women. Fifteen of the missionaries are at Beirut, twelve at Tripoli nine, at Sidan, and three at Lebanon.

SIMPLICITY is a characteristic of greatness.

The plain, unpretentious FATIMA package emphasizes the extra quality of the cigarettes. A "fancy" package is not needed to sell Fatima!

"Distinctively Individual"

Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.

Fatima—"The original Turkish-blend" increases in popularity every year to the discomfiture of all competition!

ENVER THANKS KAISER'S HEIR.

Tells Him Turkish Army Hopes to "Annihilate All Our Enemies."

LONDON, Saturday, Nov. 7.—A Rome dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says:

"It is officially stated from Constantinople that Enver Pasha, the Minister of War, replying to recent congratulations from the German Crown Prince today, (Friday,) sent the following message:

"'The Imperial Turkish Army thanks your Imperial Highness and the Fifth Army Corps for your fraternal good wishes. It hopes, with the aid of the German Army under the supreme command of the Emperor William, to crush and annihilate all our enemies.'"

RENAME CONSTANTINOPLE.

Russian Papers Use Slavonic Word "Tzargrad" in Speaking of It.

ROME, Nov. 6.—The Tribuna publishes a Petrograd dispatch regarding the operations of the Russians in Armenia. It also says that the Russian newspapers refer to Constantinople by its old Slavonic name of Tzargrad. The dispatch follows:

"The Russians in Armenia are operating along a front of 160 miles. They entered Turkey by two routes, one column toward Erzerum and the other striking southward. The Armenians everywhere welcomed the Russians, regarding the war as one of liberation.

"Several entire Turkish regiments have been taken prisoners.

"The name of Constantinople has been replaced in the Russian press by the old Slavonic name of Tzargrad."

WAR SURPRISED THE TURKS.

Russian Consul General Says German Action Caused It.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 6.—The Russian Consul General at Constantinople stated on arriving at Odessa that the Turkish officials were as surprised as Russia by the sudden offensive taken by the Turkish fleet in the Black Sea. He added:

"The news of the Turkish bombardment became known in Constantinople some time after the occurrence. Admitting that Turkey was fully prepared for war, nevertheless, German action caused the crisis. I regard the extreme courtesy shown to Russian officials two days after the Turkish attack as proof of Turkish surprise at recent events."

An unusually large guard of picked troops was placed at the disposal of the Russian Ambassador, the Consul General said, and the Grand Vizier's private secretary personally superintended and facilitated the departure of the Russians.

DAMAGES A BRITISH WARSHIP.

Dardanelles Shot Effective—Steamer Sunk—Two Captured.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 6, (Via Sofia and London.)—According to a Turkish official announcement, one of the British warships bombarding the Dardanelles was struck by a shot from one of the forts and an explosion on board resulted.

A British steamer, it is also stated, has been sunk off Aivali, (Kidonia,) Asia Minor, after the crew and cargo had been put ashore.

TURKS MOVING ON EGYPT.

Troops in Sinai Advancing, Berlin Hears from Switzerland.

BERLIN, (by wireless) Nov. 6.—An advance of Turkish troops in the Sinai Peninsula in the direction of Egypt is reported in Berlin from Switzerland.

The Turkish army operating against Egypt is said to number 250,000.

This news was given officially to the press in Berlin today.

GERMAN APPEALS FOR JEWS.

Their Safety in Turkey Twice a Subject of Representations.

The safety of Jews in Turkey has twice been the subject of representations made to the Porte by Germany, according to a statement given out in New York last night by Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador to the United States. The statement reads:

"Some time ago the German Imperial Government warmly recommended to Turkey the protection of Jews, of whatever nationality. Recently, prior to the outbreak of the war, this recommendation was renewed.

"It had been feared that the numerous Jews in Turkey would, in case of war, be endangered, not only on account of their religion, but also for their non-Turkish nationality. Many Jews who have resided in Turkey for years are not, up to this day, Ottoman citizens.

"It is, therefore, reassuring to learn that Germany has warmly recommended to Turkey the protection of all Jews, irrespective of nationality."

New Evidence Produced Every Day

EXPERT testimony, from gentlemen who have worn Weber and Heilbroner clothes and return to purchase more, is quite usual.

They have learned to expect a difference between these and any other ready-to-wear clothes.

★ ★

But the NEW evidence, from men who have not before examined these clothes and who are now purchasing our Fall and Winter suits and overcoats, is gratifying.

★ ★

They have had more recent experiences with other clothes.

★ ★

Tailoring and fabrics, so close to those of the highest priced custom tailors of this city, are a revelation—unexpected in ready-made clothes.

Suits, $20 to $45; overcoats, $20 to $50.

★ ★

This has grown to be the largest furnishing goods business on the continent—for a reason.

Weber and Heilbroner prices and qualities are ALWAYS special—not comparative, because there are no similar values with which to compare them.

Autumn silk scarfs, underwear, Manhattan shirts—only those kinds that the particular New Yorker wants.

Eleven Stores

Weber and Heilbroner

241 Broadway 389 Broadway 757 Broadway 1185 Broadway 44th and Broadway
1363 Broadway 58 Nassau 150 Nassau 26 Cortlandt 27 New 42nd and Fifth Ave.
Clothes at 27 New, 241 Broadway, 1185 Broadway, 44th & Broadway, 42d & 5th Av.

The simple facts about Saks Clothes

¶ Saks Clothes are Saks clothes.
¶ Saks-made, stitch by stitch.
¶ Saks-sold, garment by garment.
¶ Saks-designed and Saks-signed.
¶ Models that are inspirational in style.
¶ Tailoring that is little short of perfection.
¶ Fabrics that combine beauty with service.
¶ The finest cloths we can get from abroad.
¶ The choicest weaves we can buy at home.
¶ Suits that are restful and leisurely of line.
¶ Topcoats that team with individuality.
¶ Overcoats that are comfortable and consequential.
¶ Greatcoats that are triumphs of making.
¶ Full dress suits that are elegance itself.
¶ Tuxedos that are a perfect after-dinner address!

And merit native to them all!

Saks & Company
Broadway at 34th Street

Special today—Men's

Pin Dot Stripe Shirts

with collar to match—value $2.00

at $1.45

¶ One of the really smart novelties of the season—a shirt of imported percale, in pin dot stripes, shepherd plaids and checks of black, blue or helio on a white ground, with plain or pleated bosom, starched cuffs and a collar to match.

600 Satin Stripe Flannel Shirts Special today at $1.15

¶ Helio, blue, black, tan and white satin stripes on white flannel ground. Soft French cuffs.

Special today—$1.50 & $2.00

Men's Gloves at 89c

perfect to the finger tips

A prominent maker's sample and showroom selections of Mochas, Capeskins, suedes and glaces, for morning, afternoon and after dark.

¶ At $1.50 & $2.00 the maker of these gloves wins hands down. His gloves are standard at those figures. And every pair in this sale carries the maker's name. Tan cape gloves, gray Mocha gloves, slate suede gloves and white glace gloves,—and at 89c a pair every man who reads this should stock up with at least six to a dozen pairs.

Today—$2.00 & $3.00

Wool & Tweed Hats at 95c

¶ Admirable for knockabout use, for motoring, riding, and rainy days. Wool hats from England and Germany (and they're not making so many of them right now!) in a variety of smart colors, and many of them waterproofed. Also, Tweed Hats in black and white checks and mixtures. Perfect, every single one of them, and will give a period of service out of all proportion to the nominal price we ask for them. Main floor.

Saks & Company
Broadway at 34th Street.

THE LOST PRINCE

The New Serial Story by

Frances Hodgson Burnett

Author of
"Little Lord Fauntleroy," "The Secret Garden," "T. Tembarom," etc. will be the great yearly feature of

ST. NICHOLAS

Magazine beginning with
NOVEMBER Number

It is a story which will appeal to young and old—the kind that only Mrs. Burnett can write—the story of a young Prince, heir to a throne, whose family had been outcasts for five hundred years from a country like the fabled Zenda. You will love the young hero from the first chapter, and you will follow him with delight in his wanderings in Europe as they are unfolded in the coming numbers of St. Nicholas.

Buy a November St. Nicholas—on all newsstands, 25 cents—or send 25 cents direct to the publishers for three recent copies of St. Nicholas, including the first instalment of "The Lost Prince," and a very special Christmas gift offer to new subscribers.

The CENTURY CO.
Union Square,
New York

Mastery

We lack no facility for the proper trying on and faultless fitting of even the most exacting clientele. In addition to the standard appliances and service, our special consulting staff takes great pleasure in considering your individual foot requirements, that your purchase may be thoroughly satisfactory. Our exclusive English Dressing, permits of re-shading all leathers to your whim.

MARTIN & MARTIN
BOOTMAKERS FOR MEN AND WOMEN
1 East 35th St., New York

THE CLEAN HEART

By A. S. M. HUTCHINSON
Author of "The Happy Warrior"

The book the critics called

"The best romance in years."

Says the hero: "A week ago I was an editor in London and afraid of everything and everybody. Now I've been in the river and I've stolen a ride on a wagon, and I've had a devil of a fight with a wagoner, and I've kicked a policeman head over heels into a ditch, and I've been nearly burnt alive, and I've broken out through the roof of a barn and fallen a frightful buster off it, and I've slung a chap into a pond, and I've nearly killed a chap and half-drowned him in milk, and I've nailed a man to the floor by his night shirt, and I've jumped out of a high window and been chased for my life, and I've stolen a ride in a motor car, and where the devil I am now I haven't the remotest idea." And all this before the book is scarcely a third under way.

$1.35 Net.

PUBLISHERS:
Little, Brown & Company, Boston

$1.50 postpaid

Solve perplexity in the ethical conduct of big business.

READ

Trade Morals

By

EDWARD D. PAGE

At all Booksellers

YALE UNIVERSITY PRESS
New Haven, Conn.
325 Fifth Ave. New York

Best.

Employers of high-class help, who appreciate the value of efficient workers, know that these can be readily found among the readers of The New York Times.

Help Wanted advertisements may be telephoned to The Times—Bryant 1000.

KAISER'S SOLDIERS SHOT IF THEY FLEE

German Private Tells His Captors His Own Side Wounded Him.

PRAISED BY THE BRITISH

Col. Swinton's Official Report of Ypres Fighting Pays Tribute to Their Bravery.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The official press bureau today issued the following account of events at the battle front as witnessed and written by Col. E. D. Swinton, of the Intelligence Department of the General Staff. The recital is dated Nov. 1 and says:

"Friday, Oct. 30.—I have witnessed a renewal of the efforts against our right which were without success to the enemy. In the centre the bombardment was heavy. Indeed, so many shells fell around our positions that telephone wires frequently were cut. The attack in the direction of Ypres generally was renewed. Southeast of that town it was pressed in great force, and in places our line was again forced back a short distance. But on our left the oncoming Germans were stopped by our entanglements, under a close rifle fire, and after two efforts to advance, they gave way.

"On Saturday, Oct. 31, a most determined attack was made upon our left and our left centre, the pressure being especially severe against the latter portion of our position. Part of our line was driven back temporarily by the sheer weight of metal and numbers, but it was almost all recovered again before night. Against our centre the enemy did not advance, while against our right they were not nearly so active as they were farther north.

"So far, with the assistance of the French, who have been co-operating most effectually, we have succeeded in maintaining our line and in retaining possession of Ypres, upon the capture of which by the end of October the Germans had set their heart.

"A Soldiers' Battle."

"As may have been gathered, the fighting of the last five days has been of the most desperate nature. It has been eminently a soldiers' battle, and without exaggeration or any undue self-congratulation, it can be said that our men have behaved splendidly in the face of heavy odds and against the repeated onslaughts of great masses which were continually replaced by fresh men and backed up by the almost continuous fire of immense guns. They have, by their dogged resistance, well upheld the reputation of our army.

"Heavy as have been our losses, we have taken a far heavier toll from the enemy, and we have prevented them gaining the object upon which all their energies have been concentrated. And not only have our troops maintained their traditions, but our French allies have been fighting with all the dash for which they are famous. Judging from all accounts they have made at Dixmude and along the Yser a name for themselves which will never die. The Belgian army, likewise, has resisted the furious onslaughts of the enemy with the utmost gallantry.

"The German troops also have won our respect for the way in which they have advanced. Whether it be due to patriotism or to the fear induced by iron discipline, the fact remains that they steadily press forward to what in many cases must obviously have been certain death.

"That they are sometimes forced to go on is shown by the following answer to an interrogation put to a wounded German prisoner:

"'I was enlisted in October of 1913. On mobilization, the weakly and those backward in training, to the number of about 60 per cent. of the company, were withdrawn from the active regiment to form the nucleus of a reserve regiment which was completed by men from Baden and Württemberg belonging to the second section of the Landwehr. We received uniforms after a number of ten weeks of hard training we traveled for three days and two nights, from Thuringia up to Aix-la-Chapelle, where we remained in reserve. We were told that our nearest enemies were the English.

Germans Shot by Their Officers.

"'On the 17th and 18th of October we performed such fatiguing forced marches that many men fell out on the road. On Oct. 19 we each received 285 rounds of ammunition and had our first taste of fire. Although we were told that there were only sharpshooters in front of us, I saw French cavalrymen and no other foes. From this day onward the fighting was uninterrupted. On Oct. 20 my section received orders to go forward to attack, and our officers warned us that if we gave way fire would be opened upon us from behind. This threat was carried into effect when the losses we suffered compelled us to retire. Indeed, it was by a German bullet that I was wounded.

"'Having fallen to the ground, I remained between the lines without food or care for two days, at the end of which time I dragged myself to a ruined house. During all this time German shells, which were short, were falling about my shelter, located a few hundred paces from the French lines. The French having advanced on Oct. 24, I myself moved forward and called out to a passing patrol and surrendered.

"'We have received no distribution of food since our arrival in France. The commandant of my company was a reserve Lieutenant, 28 years of age. The Colonel, whose name I do not know, also belonged to the reserve, as did all the other officers of the regiment. The officers told us that if we fell into the hands of the French we would be sent to the Foreign Legion, and that we surely would be massacred by the Moroccans.

"'I saw only one man shot. He was a priest, who they said was a spy.'

"The results of the inundation to the north of Dixmude have been observed by our aviators, who have seen numbers of the enemy collected in groups on the dikes which intersect the flooded area where, according to report, some German heavy artillery is bogged. Our airmen also have been able to harass advancing hostile columns by bomb-dropping and machine-gun fire.

Germans Use Motor Buses.

"The tactical transfer of troops behind the German front line is now carried out to a great extent by motor omnibuses, of which long lines are visible from above. During the past few days large numbers of refugees have been streaming back along all the roads from Belgium and crowding the empty trains returning from the front upon which the French have, most humanely, allowed them to travel. In these trains whole families may be seen jostled together in horse trucks and having with them what few household goods they have been able to carry away. But the less fortunate have to trudge the roads, making use of any shelter they can find.

"The inhabitants of the district within our zone of operations also line the roads from morning to night and listen to the sound of the guns, there being nothing else for them to do. As the dull roar waxes and wanes, so does their confidence die away or return, and in such alternations of fear and hope is each weary day passed. All this traffic to and fro of civilians entails the utmost vigilance in order to guard against espionage."

PRISON FOR BRITISH SUBJECTS.

Germany Will Place Adult Males in Detention Camps.

BERLIN, (via The Hague and London,) Nov. 6.—The following announcement is given to the press from official sources:

"Germany's warning of retaliation in case German subjects between the ages of 17 and 55 who are now detained in England were not treated differently before Nov. 5 has been unanswered by the British Government. Therefore the German Government has ordered the detention of all British of similar ages [presumably males only] who are residing in Germany.

"This measure is not only for English subjects, but soon will be extended to British colonials unless Germans living in British colonies are left unmolested. This measure also orders the detention of inactive officers who are more than 55 years of age. The detained will live quietly in a detention camp ten kilometers (about six miles) from Berlin, near Spandau.

"All other Britishers who are left free after this measure has been enforced will be required to register twice daily at the nearest police station and will not be permitted to leave that immediate police supervision."

The Bundesrat has established maximum prices for oats. The price in Berlin is to be 212 marks per ton (approximately $53). The highest figure permitted is 223 marks in Dortmund and Strassburg, and the lowest price is 202 marks, established in Gleiwitz.

BERLIN, Nov. 6, (by Wireless to Sayville, L. I.)—Among the statements issued officially to the press in Berlin today are the following:

"The Vienna correspondent of the Frankfurter Zeitung, giving details of the situation in Servia before the assassination of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand, says that the Crown Prince of Servia, a number of high Servian officials, and the late M. Hartwig, Russian Minister at Belgrade, were parties to the conspiracy for the assassination of the heir to the Austrian throne.

"Referring to the recent naval engagement off Yarmouth, German papers today declare that this is the first time in centuries that the coast of England has been attacked by foreign warships.

"The newspaper Social Demokraten, published in Stockholm, suggests an economic league of neutral powers against the encroachments of England.

"The Minister of Finance of Baden has declared officially that unemployment at the present time in the Grand Duchy is much less than had been expected. The economic situation, he asserts, shows considerable improvement as compared to August.

TAKES UP WIRELESS RUMORS.

British Embassy Investigates Reports of Secret Stations.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—As a result of letters offering, for various considerations, information of German wireless stations on American territory, some of which claim information of secret stations in Maine, the British Embassy has started an investigation of these rumors.

Other letters tell of stations on the Pacific Coast, in South America, and in the mountain country of Scotland, where the stations are said to communicate with German ships waiting to raid the English coast.

The recent mobilization of German ships off the coast of Chile has strengthened the belief of British Embassy officials that some secret means of communications extend into South America, and that the German ships operating in southern waters may have been receiving supplies from somewhere on the West Coast.

SAYS CROWN PRINCE IS WELL.

German Diplomat Denies Rumors of Wounds and Death.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—According to a Central News dispatch from Copenhagen, the German Minister there, Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, has issued a statement categorically denying the rumors that the German Crown Prince and Prince Albert were either wounded or killed.

He says that both are in the best possible health.

ENGLISH EAT GRAPEFRUIT.

Large Supply and Few Americans to Buy Them.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The price of grapefruit has fallen in London, and more English people are eating it than ever before.

London papers say this is due to the few Americans in the hotels, but inquiry in commercial quarters reveals the fact that it is much more probably due to the German fruit market's failing America.

"The anonymous, uncontrollable activity of certain unscrupulous newspapers, (this worst nuisance of the modern world,) with all their accompanying fakes and inventions, did not poison alone the little-thinking population of the English, but also was transferred to the press of the American and European nations, who are in the habit to appropriate the frequently excellent news services and style of the London papers. Then, when a diplomatic difficulty occurs, prepared or by chance, one hears the call: 'The people wished it.' Now, nothing remains for the intellectuals to do, who long have been observers, but to use the slogan, violating every morality: 'Right or wrong, my country.'

"What, after all, does England care if the bones of her conscript army are shot to pieces or the world converted into a fiery cauldron? They are sitting protected by army and navy—at least, as they believe—on their island, and can stand it a long time. Such noble gentlemen will probably then bestow a new organ for a church, a round sum for a hospital, and even receive praise for the act as a friend of humanity. Sir Edward Grey, whether he knows it or not, is only their tool. With them, and not only with him, we have to fight, and in time will have to make peace, with a hard-hearted company, which, if it soon gives in, would only do it in order with the aid of national military service and a doubled navy, to be better armed for a second war."

SAYS PLUTOCRACY WARS ON GERMANY

Brandl, German Shakespearean Scholar, Calls Grey Its Tool.

BLAMES THE NEWSPAPERS

Charges Ours with Following the Lead of the English—Sneers at Britain's "Conscript Army."

Dr. Alois Brandl, head of the department of English in the University of Berlin and the leading Shakespearean scholar of Germany, who a few years ago startled the literary world with the announcement of the discovery of one of the lost sonnets of Shakespeare, is the latest of German men of letters to attack England. The article in which Dr. Brandl says what he thinks about the English was given out by the German Information Service in the Hotel Astor last night. The official translation of it is in part as follows:

"The individual Englishman is on the whole a person of remarkable decency. English policy in this respect is the very opposite. It was once said of Sir Edward Grey that by his gentlemanly manners he had fascinated many Germans, and yet he now has set all manner of devils against us while posing as playing the peace-maker.

"If we survey a few of the things which he has done against us it can be shown how the wind blows. With an uncanny business sense he has captured our merchant vessels, has declared our patents scotfree, and has organized a stoppage of the means needed by us for industrial production. All this undoubtedly smells after money. I do not say that Sir Edward Grey, for himself, is looking for money; not at all. But his actions show the kind of people backing him. In recent years one could repeatedly hear in England that the Parliament had lost in power. Cabinet and press had enormously gained, but stronger has become the English plutocracy which pays the Cabinet, the party press.

"In Germany one hardly has an idea of the amount of money an English political party needs. The English people are made to believe that they are governing. They are proud of their British democracy; therefore, they are led to believe by the governing classes that they govern themselves. No elections under £4,000, no party organs without financial subsidy. Daily papers cannot exist on the half-penny which the single copy nets on the street corners. Monthly magazines pay enormous honorariums. The money allowed for these is received from where? These demands are satisfied by loans obtained from wealthy private persons.

"English wealth is enormous. There are house-owners in London who own not only whole streets, but also whole quarters. One man is the owner of half of the Paraguyian railroads; another of one hundred coffee plantations; a third monopolizes phosphate of soda, a small thing, but one which every one needs and which has made the owner a Croesus. As a rule these millionaires receive patents of nobility. The conferring on them presupposes that the new Baron, Viscount, or Earl has deposited a million as a guarantee that their heirs will be able to live according to their high station. These men command the public opinion which after a time demands peace or war, and thus it has been for centuries. Cromwell did not only execute the King, but with him the genuine people-protecting Kingdom, and then significantly proclaimed the navigation acts and the drastic prohibition of English imports and exports in non-English ships by which the power of English money caste was first established.

"English wire pullers threatened us with the introduction of a protective tariff; but this did not do, owing to the English colonies, which frequently have other interests. Then Lord Haldane and others, who knew Germany, told the English to their faces that they should work as industriously as the Germans, learn foreign languages, study the wants of their customers, and peruse technical matters. But the English people were too easygoing for this. They preferred to play golf and sport of a similar kind more agreeable. Finally arose a whispering, a muttering, an appreciative praise of the recipe which had proven effective against the Boers: war. It is interesting, but sad, to observe how the decent people of England were won for this indecent programme.

"The anonymous, uncontrollable activity of certain unscrupulous newspapers, (this worst nuisance of the modern world,) with all their accompanying fakes and inventions, did not poison alone the little-thinking population of the English, but also was transferred to the press of the American and European nations, who are in the habit to appropriate the frequently excellent news services and style of the London papers. Then, when a diplomatic difficulty occurs, prepared or by chance, one hears the call: 'The people wished it.' Now, nothing remains for the intellectuals to do, who long have been observers, but to use the slogan, violating every morality: 'Right or wrong, my country.'

"What, after all, does England care if the bones of her conscript army are shot to pieces or the world converted into a fiery cauldron? They are sitting protected by army and navy—at least, as they believe—on their island, and can stand it a long time. Such noble gentlemen will probably then bestow a new organ for a church, a round sum for a hospital, and even receive praise for the act as a friend of humanity. Sir Edward Grey, whether he knows it or not, is only their tool. With them, and not only with him, we have to fight, and in time will have to make peace, with a hard-hearted company, which, if it soon gives in, would only do it in order with the aid of national military service and a doubled navy, to be better armed for a second war."

NERVOUSNESS IN ANTWERP.

Germans in Forts Await Attack—More Residents Take Flight.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 6, (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle.)—The people of Antwerp are convinced that it is becoming perilous to remain longer, and the train to Rosendaal today brought thousands more of refugees, including many Germans.

Members of the Citizens' Committee declared that not one German officer slept in Antwerp last night, all of them being at their posts in the forts apparently ready to resist an attack.

Extreme nervousness is shown among the Germans in the town at night as so many motor cars are dashing through the streets, obviously connected with a new and unfavorable situation for them. Anybody in the streets after 9 o'clock at night is taken to prison.

The central station is surrounded by machine guns.

ENGLAND SELLS US MORE.

London Exports for October Were $1,000,000 Above Average.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Consul General Skinner announces that exports from London to the United States for October were more than $1,000,000 in excess of the average for July, August, and September, in spite of the many things which the British Government will not allow to be exported.

No particular material preponderates in these exports, the increased amount of which is largely due to closed German markets.

NO GUNS NEAR CATHEDRAL.

Archbishop of Rheims Emphatically Denies German Charges.

ROME, Nov. 6.—The Pope has received from Cardinal Luçon, Archbishop of Rheims, an emphatic denial of the reports that the Cathedral of Rheims has been used by French troops for military purposes.

The Cardinal says he has personally ascertained that the cathedral has not been used as an observation post. He says that no guns have been placed near it, and no soldiers have been employed in its vicinity.

LONDON EXCHANGE WON'T REOPEN YET

New Year's the Earliest Date Suggested for the Resumption of Business.

TRADE WAITS ON COTTON

England's Purchases from Us Conditioned by Her Ability to Ship Products to the East.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The general opinion in London financial circles on Sir George Paish's reported cable to the British Government, asking if it would undertake to keep the London Stock Exchange closed if the New York Exchange remained closed, is that in all probability the London Exchange will not be opened until after the first of the year, and that if it opens then it will be only on a restricted basis. The Stock Exchange Committee has agreed "not to reopen the Stock Exchange without submitting the proposed date and the conditions of such reopening to the Treasury and obtaining their consent." This in effect puts the control of the date of opening in the hands of the Treasury.

London feels also that the New York Exchange will not open unless the London Exchange does, but it is characteristic of the London financial world to think that New York will not act independently of it in matters of such importance.

Another reason for not expecting an opening earlier than Jan. 1 is that it will take at least a month to arrange the technical difficulities connected with the settlements postponed by the war, the date for which is now fixed as Nov. 18.

Well-informed observers are inclined to believe with Sir George Paish that the United States will pay its debts to England through ordinary trade channels instead of by shipments of gold. The uncertainty of cotton shipments is said to be the chief doubtful factor in the Anglo-American trade question. How much cotton England can take depends probably upon the degree of safety with which she can ship her manufactured goods to the East.

LIVERPOOL DEALS IN COTTON.

Fair Demand When Its Exchange Resumes Its Sessions.

MANCHESTER, Nov. 6.—The Lancashire spinners are much gratified over the results attained the first day the Liverpool Cotton Exchange has been open since the war began. Although trading was hedged about by many restrictions, the spinners believe that even restricted dealing is a decided step forward, and confidently expect that the Liverpool Cotton Association will remove all impediments to general trading as soon as the New York Exchange opens. President Roxburgh of the Liverpool Association believes that this will be about Nov. 16.

China has begun placing orders with the Lancashire spinners, which has stimulated the market and is regarded as the forerunner of orders from India and a general demand for cotton goods.

While the Liverpool Market was closed the Lancashire spinners had little trouble in buying all the spot cotton they needed, but the opening of the Chinese trade makes it imperative that futures be bought to cover orders booked. The Liverpool Spinners' Association has fixed 5/16 cents a pound as the minimum price to protect the trade against loading up at a ruinously low price on the 6,000,000 bales of American cotton raised this year in excess of estimated demands.

The Liverpool market ranged from 9 to 20 points above the minimum fixed by the association. Futures have been so generally sold heretofore that there is abundant demand to justify today's prices, in the opinion of The Manchester News, which intimates that the orders for raw cotton were much larger than was generally believed.

Under the restrictions of the Liverpool market spot cotton is not affected. Buying orders for May and June futures also are not restricted, but selling orders for May and June are limited to old business and must be certified by the association.

The Association limited futures to May and June delivery because the limited supply in Liverpool would be exhausted by filling heavy orders booked before the war if brokers were compelled to deliver in January and February of next year.

It is estimated that the Lancashire cotton workers are now employed from 50 to 60 per cent. of the time. Orders for army supplies have somewhat offset the dullness the war has caused to general trade.

Business is active in some classes of yarns, especially coarse counts, but the finer classes are sluggish.

RED INDIANS WOULD FIGHT.

Canadian Tribes Give $12,350 and Offer to Send Warriors.

Special to The New York Times.

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—As much as Canada has done since the war began to show her loyalty, there is nothing more noteworthy than the response of the Red Indian of Canada. The survivors of the once great races that roamed these broad acres are few, and most of them are poverty stricken, but nearly every tribe has subscribed something for the Canadian Patriotic Fund. Every Chief has offered help in the fighting line, and many of them, in fact every one who is of fighting age, has demanded as his right that he should be allowed to take a place in the forefront of battle.

The two head Chiefs of the famous Blood Indians, Shot Both Sides and Ermine Horses, send $1,000 "to be used in whatever way may be deemed of most advantage to British arms in this time of peril."

In all the descendants of the former owners of this great dominion have already subscribed $12,350. Several regiments of warriors can be recruited if it is considered necessary.

SEE BETTER TIMES AHEAD.

Chicago Bankers Say Financial Conditions Will Soon Improve.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Bankers of this city today admitted that a turn for the better financially seems to be at hand. Conditions at this centre have been rather slow in responding to the influences of betterment elsewhere, but there has been a good reason for this while the banks here have had the strain of the crop movement upon them. Now it is believed the corner has been turned and by the time the Federal bank system is opened money rates will be ready to decline.

Several of the large national banks of this city report a substantial gain in deposits since the date of the bank call, Oct. 31, which indicates a further return flow of funds from the interior.

The Continental and Commercial National Bank reports that its deposits this morning are about $6,000,000 larger than they were on the day covered by its public statement.

"While this is not an absolute indication, it is a favorable sign," said George M. Reynolds, President. "I am disposed to believe that we have passed the worst period and that from now on the general trend will be in the right direction."

The Committee on Trading of the Chicago Stock Exchange today added nine more issues of bonds to the list where the minimum sale price has been marked down four points from the July 30 closing level. The complete list of fourteen issues, showing the lowest quotations at which trading can be done through the committee, is as follows:

	July 30 Minimum.	New Minimum.
Armour & Co. 1st 4½s.....	90	86
Chicago City Ry. 1st 5s....	99¼	95¼
Chicago Railways 1st 5s....	97	93
Chicago G. L. & C. Co. 5s..	103	99
Chicago Telephone Co. 5s....	100¾	96¾
Commonwealth Ed. Co. 5s..	100¾	96¾
Commonwealth Elec. Co. 5s..	100¼	96¼
Consumers' Gas Co. 5s.....	100¼	96¼
Cudahy Packing Co. 5s.....	100¾	96¾
Morris & Co. 4½s.....	87	83
Mutual Fuel Gas 5s.....	100½	96½
P. G. L. & C. Co. trdg. 6s.	100	96
Swift & Co. 5s.....	95½	91½
Western Elec. Co. 5s.....	99¾	95

As in the cases of the first five bond issues to be lowered, the nine additional bonds are practically all selling above the new minimum for those issues.

ROCKEFELLER PICTURE SOLD

Johnson Sketch of Financier at 50 Brings $70 for War Sufferers.

A sketch of John D. Rockefeller at 50, by Eastman Johnson, was sold at auction last night at Silo's Fifth Avenue Art Galleries. The purchaser was Henry C. Folger, Jr., President of the Standard Oil Company of New York, who obtained the sketch for $70. The proceeds from the sale of the picture were directed by Mrs. Johnson to be sent to the Committee of Mercy, of which August Belmont is President.

The large portrait for which the sketch is the first finished proof, is owned by Mrs. Harold McCormick of Chicago, Mr. Rockefeller's daughter.

George Inness's "Autumn" was sold for $300 to S. D. Young. "The Marriage at Cana" was sold for $355 to a purchaser.

SAYS SWEDEN PROTESTED.

Government Said to Have Objected to Closing of North Sea.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—In a dispatch from Stockholm the correspondent of Reuter's Telegram Company says that a circular issued by the War Insurance Committee to Swedish shipowners announces that the Government has protested to England against the order closing the North Sea.

A significant phrase in the circular is the statement that the committee thinks it is its duty to allow insured vessels to follow, without change in the insurance rates, either the ordinary routes of sea travel or the new route suggested by the British Admiralty.

TSING-TAU GIVES IN TO THE JAPANESE

Continued from Page 1.

guarding British shipping in the Far East. Japan replied she could do nothing so long as Germany occupied Kiao-Chau. Japan would, however, undertake to safeguard her ally's interests if the British authorities acquiesced in her taking Kiao-Chau from Germany with the understanding that it was subsequently to be returned to China.

Great Britain consented, and Japan sent an ultimatum to Germany, giving the latter until 12 o'clock Aug. 24—23, Western time—to evacuate the place, to disarm the warships there, and to surrender it to Japan.

When Germany made no reply, an imperial decree was issued which declared war against Germany. It contained the following remarkable passage:

"Since the outbreak of the present war in Europe, the calamitous effects of which we view with grave concern, we, on our part, have entertained the hope of preserving the peace of the Far East by the maintenance of strict neutrality. But the action of Germany has at length compelled Great Britain, our ally, to open hostilities against that country, and Germany is, at Kiao-Chau, its leased territory in China, busy with warlike preparations, while its armed vessels, cruising the seas of Eastern Asia, are threatening our commerce and that of our ally.

"The peace of the Far East is thus in jeopardy. Accordingly, our Government and that of his Britannic Majesty, after full and frank communication with each other, have agreed to take such measures as may be necessary for the protection of the general interests contemplated in the agreement of alliance; and we, on our part, being desirous to attain that object by peaceful means, commanded our Government to offer with sincerity our advice to the Imperial German Government. By the last day appointed for the purpose, however, our Government failed to receive an answer accepting the advice."

Although Japan's action was in legal accord with the Anglo-Japanese treaty of 1905, renewed in 1911, it was said in Berlin that Japan had made use of an opportunity to "get even" with Germany. On the Kaiser had been laid the blame of scheming to force Japan's "Yellow Peril," and on his Government the blame of scheming to free Japan's evacuation of Port Arthur after the war with China. This is really proved in the memoirs of the late Count Hayashi. Japan had also accused Germany of trying to set America against the Tokio Government.

Tsing-tau, the principal town of Kiao-Chau, had from 1900 been provided with ten or a dozen modern forts and, at the outbreak of the war, had as a garrison three artillery and infantry regiments and three or four troops of cavalry, in all about 5,000 men. It also had three aeroplanes and a few machine guns. In the harbor were four small gunboats and an Austrian cruiser.

Japan proceeded deliberately. She prepared to land 25,000 men from transports while a dozen warships blockaded the harbor. Early in the investment of Tsing-tau she seized a railway in the Chinese hinterland in order to facilitate the movement of her troops, thus violating the neutrality of China. At the direction of Berlin, Peking objected. Japan's reply was that the railway was owned by Germany. So the investment proceeded. Great Britain was represented in the besieging force by a contingent of East Indian troops and several warships.

On Sept. 2 Japan landed 10,000 troops in Shantung, and on Sept. 25 occupied Weihsien, a German outpost. On Sept. 27 the Japanese captured fifty men and four machine guns operated from intrenchments south of Tsing-tau, and the next day they occupied the heights around the town and prepared to plant naval guns there. On Sept. 29 the Germans blew up the bridge at Tayuho, and on Oct. 1 two German cruisers which had arrived shelled the Japanese positions. On Oct. 5 the Germans made a sortie from the town which was repulsed. On Oct. 7 the Japanese occupied Tsinan, the western terminus of the Shantung Railway, and two days later reduced two of the forts.

Last Tuesday all wireless communication between Tsing-tau and Peking ceased; at the same time it was reported in the Shanghai newspapers that the Japanese had decided to postpone their final assault. Then the end came.

Women Offered to Dive for Mines.

The details of the movements have been kept secret; but the first general operation undertaken by the Japanese was the sweeping of the waters around Kiao-Chau for mines which the Germans had laid. A hundred Japanese women shell divers offered their services, thinking that they could dive and release the mines unseen by the enemy. But the offer was declined, since the Japanese law prohibited the employment of women in warlike operations. During the mine-sweeping campaign at least one of the Japanese mine-dragging boats was blown up.

The number of the expeditionary forces has never been officially divulged, but it is said to have been upward of 30,000 men. A British detachment, consisting of several hundred Southwold Borderers and 400 Indian Sikhs, under command of Brig. Gen. Nathaniel W. Barnardiston, commander of the North China forces, was at their head, and is said to have formed a part of the centre of the Japanese line in the investment of Tsing-tau.

On the night of Oct. 1, occurred the most serious of the Japanese naval losses, when the cruiser Takachiho was blown up by the German torpedo boat S-90.

It was reported on Oct. 23 that the Japanese had finally installed their siege guns under cover on Prince Henry Mountain and other hills near the town. The German fortresses included three lines of defense. The first of these, on the outskirts, appears to have been evacuated some time ago, and the garrison concentrated in Forts Moltke and Bismarck and Iltis, which occupy commanding positions on the range of precipitous hills that circle the harbor city. The Germans also had five forts exclusively for shore defense.

The heights back of the city are penetrated only by the railway line, and it is probably through this path that the Allies proceeded into Tsing-tau, once the defending fortress had been silenced.

Germany's occupation of Kiao-Chau dates from 1897, when she obtained the title to a leasehold from China. This was before the Anglo-Japanese alliance. At the time of the Boxer campaign in 1900 Great Britain and Japan, however, acted in concert, and it is believed that this circumstance then prevented Count von Waldersee, who was in charge of the Internationals, from expanding Germany's sphere in China.

STOPS ALL COPPER BOUND FOR ITALY

Continued from Page 1.

we are not shipping to Germany, and the question remains what right England has to stop our exports to a neutral country.

"Our State Department has taken much gratification in obtaining the release of vessels held up by England, ten days after the event and after the damage had been done. Copper is not exported by the shiploads and the owners of vessels hold up because part of their cargoes consist of copper will accept no more shipments after they have been delayed to their own loss and that of shippers of other material than copper.

"If England had her way all our copper would go to her and every other European nation would be prevented from obtaining copper or from manufacturing it, to the great benefit of English trade."

The importance of the present action of England was emphasized by the fact that hundreds of thousands of American workmen are engaged directly or indirectly in the production of copper and hundreds of thousands of others have their savings invested in the securities of copper mining and smelting companies.

Our normal exports, it was pointed out, amount to $125,000,000 a year and copper is the third largest article of export, coming next to wheat and cotton.

At a time when every effort is being made to correct the foreign exchange situation through increased exports of American products, it was added, it was important for the general financial and trade interests of the country that copper exports should not be interfered with, especially when there was a good demand for copper and but little for cotton.

STRONG AMERICAN PROTEST.

John Bassett Moore Engaged to Present Copper Men's Case.

John Bassett Moore, former counsellor to the State Department, has been engaged by the leading copper mining, refining, and exporting interests of the country to lay a protest before the authorities at Washington against the seizures by British ships of consignments of copper destined to neutral countries. Mr. Moore is at work on the matter, assisted by other prominent attorneys who are skilled in international law, and will call upon Secretary of State Bryan in a few days. It is planned to send to Washington with Mr. Moore representatives of all the copper exporting companies to lend additional force to the arguments presented.

The principal exporting companies interested are the American Smelting and Refining Company, the United Metals Selling Company, which markets the product of the Amalgamated Copper properties, and the Consolidated Metal Company. The mining concerns united in the movement are the Utah, Nevada Consolidated, Miami, Ray Consolidated, Chino, and Anaconda Companies. Heretofore the mining organizations have been less active than the selling concerns in efforts to improve export conditions, but the practical paralysis that has fallen upon exports since copper was declared contraband of war has brought the different branches of the industry together. Exporters have already made representations to the Department of State, acting more as individual concerns than as a compact body.

It was learned that after the Kroonland and other ships were taken to Gibraltar offers of purchase, through British Government channels, came to the consignees of copper on the vessels. The price was about 12¾ cents a pound, but on cargoes seized since the offer has been no higher than 10¾ cents, a figure slightly below the present average cost of production in this country.

B. Altman & Co.

Color Photography

The famous Autochrom Plates, for taking photographs which exactly reproduce the natural colors of the scene or object photographed, may now be obtained in the Camera Department.

These Plates may be used with any plate-holding Camera or Kodak.

A complete assortment of Cameras, Kodaks and photographic supplies always on hand.

Fifth Avenue-Madison Avenue
34th and 35th Streets New York

The Oyster 1-3 size.

Look for the Tag

"Waiter—a Dozen!"

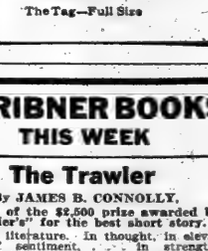
Then say "Seatag Oysters" and he will bring you the first oysters you ever ate that you were sure of.

Succulent and just a bit salty they will come to you, and with our original Trade Mark tag on every shell.

Seatag Oysters

Grown under ideal natural conditions miles off Cape Charles, Va. Served at the better hotels and restaurants with all their original purity and flavor.

Armstrong Seatag Corporation
145 West 36th Street, New York



The Tag—Full Size

SCRIBNER BOOKS THIS WEEK

The Trawler

By JAMES B. CONNOLLY,

Winner of the $2,500 prize awarded by "Collier's" for the best short story.

"It is literature, in thought, in elevation of sentiment, . . . in strength, and finish of writing, it . . . entitled to a place of permanence."—Theodore Roosevelt.

"It seems to me to promise to be a definite and permanent contribution to English literature."—Mark Sullivan.

50 cents net; postage extra.

The Basketry Book

By MARY MILES BLANCHARD.

A carefully prepared, complete guide to the ancient craft of interweaving reeds—a craft which was probably the origin of all the textile arts of the world. Beginning with descriptions of tools and materials the author proceeds by easy stages through all the simpler weaves to the more elaborate designs until "in our work we follow the Indian idea of making the basket the exponent of something within ourselves."

Illustrated, $2.00 net; postage extra.

The Poems of Edgar Allan Poe

With an Introduction by E. C. STEDMAN and Notes by Professor G. E. WOODBERRY.

Nearly half a century passed after the death of Poe before the appearance of the Stedman-Woodberry edition of his works, which embodied in its editorial departments critical scholarship of the highest class. In this volume of Poe's "Poems" the introduction and the notes treat not only of the more significant aspects of Poe's genius as a poet, but of his technical methods, and of scores of bibliographical and personal matters suggested by his verses. While the text of this volume is the same as that of the Stedman-Woodberry edition, the book has been entirely reset in larger type.

With portrait, $2.00 net.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

A GIFT BOOK FOR CHILDREN
JUST PUBLISHED

A SHOWER OF VERSES

By ALTHEA RANDOLPH.

Contains Mother's Treasure Book, Fancies, Fairies and Frolics, and Twilight Poems. Full of amusement for the children and charm for the grown-ups.

Of all Booksellers. Cloth. Price, $1.00.
The H. W. GRAY CO.,
2 West 45th St. New York.
Sole Agents for NOVELLO & CO., LTD.

AUTOGRAPH LETTERS

OF WASHINGTON, LINCOLN, NAPOLEON, POE, AND OTHER CELEBRITIES.

Fine and Rare Books, Original Drawings by REMINGTON, HELLEU, BECKWITH, STERNER, COX, and others. Now on exhibition.

SEND FOR NEW CATALOGUE.
P. F. MADIGAN'S SHOP,
561 Fifth Av., Entrance 46th St., N. Y.

J. M. Gidding & Co.

Supplementary Displays of Winter Fashions

Also announcing the following special values for today:

Coats—With & Without Fur Trimming

Newest models in fashionable, soft, warm materials.

Fur-trimmed $50, $65. Without Fur $35, $45

Street & Semi-Dress Hats—$15

Unusual in style and value.

Blouses for the Tailleur Suit

Of Georgette crepe, crepe de chine, lace and novelty silks; superior values at— $10, $12, $15

400,000 MEALS A DAY GIVEN TO BRUSSELS

American Commission Will Now Reach Out to Other Belgian Districts.

COUNTRY IS DIVIDED UP

An Agent In Each Province Will Sell to the Communes Through Their Former Officials.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Provisions sent to Brussels by the American Commission for the Relief of Belgium already are supplying 400,000 meals daily, and plans are now complete for carrying on a similar work throughout that part of Belgium occupied by the Germans.

The Dutch steamer Jan Block will sail some time tonight loaded with 2,000 tons of wheat, rice, peas, beans, and flour, and it is expected that the Dutch steamer Tellus will leave tomorrow with 1,700 tons of wheat. Both ships will proceed to Rotterdam, where their cargoes will be taken over by representatives of the American Commission.

Herbert Clark Hoover, Chairman of the American Commission, today received the following telegram from Capt. T. F. Lucey, the commission's representative at Rotterdam:

"Langhorne, Wyman, and Bell, (Morris M. Langhorne, Secretary of the American Legation to the Netherlands and Luxemburg; E. B. Wyman, member of the Relief Commission, and Edward Bell, Second Secretary of the American Embassy at London,) have returned from Brussels, where 400,000 meals per day are being issued. Those people who are able to pay are being charged 5 cents for the meals. The meal costs 10 cents, and Bell says that rich and poor stand in line for these meals, as it is the only way they can get food.

"They state that very complete plans have been entered into by the Central Committee for receiving and distributing supplies throughout all Belgium. The country has been divided into provinces, each province handling its own distribution and being represented by two members of the Central Committee. All requisitions on this office will come from the Central Committee through the American and Spanish Ministers. A sub-committee in turn will sell food to the communes, which will re-sell or distribute free to those in need.

"The sub-committees are formed generally by members of the town councils, so that the whole organization has an official and unquestionable standing. They are all in accord and are holding meetings from time to time at Brussels and compiling data as to the needs of every district regardless of how remote. The people are elated at the shipments and the practical results given.

"Some uneasiness is felt here by Belgians as the result of quotations from the American press to the effect that supplies would be seized by the military authorities. They are afraid that this will stop the shipment of supplies. I have assured them that the supplies would come regardless of these unfounded suppositions.

"Whitlock (Brand Whitlock, American Minister to Belgium) is personally supervising and compiling the detailed requirements of the various districts, to be forwarded to you."

That all emergencies are being met is evident from a note issued by the Central Committee in Belgium, in which it is stated that the commission will have a delegate in each province who will see that the shipment of food supplies arrives intact, and he must be informed of any infraction by the German troops of the guarantees given by Field Marshal Baron von der Goltz, Military Governor of the occupied portion of Belgium. If this delegate, protected by the American flag, learns of any such infraction, he will verify it and immediately call attention to it, when the Ministers of Spain and America will make proper representations to the German authorities.

At a meeting of the Belgian Central Committee Ernest Solvay, the Belgian manufacturer, who is a member of this committee, in thanking the American and Spanish Ministers and the American commission for the service rendered to Belgium said that the population of Belgium was at the point of famine and that fear of disaster was general in view of the terrible days they had endured. Thanks to the Americans, he said, they had overcome, at least for the time being, the terrible position in which the country had been placed, and the future now looked more favorable.

Joseph Botogne, a Belgian Deputy and member of the Namur Town Council, and A. Jourense, Deputy and member of the Liege Town Council, in a signed statement sent to the commission say:

"We have rudely suffered. After the atrocities and horrors of war we are now threatened by famine. The German armies since the beginning of the invasion have lived on our soil by requisitioning victuals of all nature. Our production of grain normally is hardly sufficient for a fifth of the consumption. The maritime route being closed for the import of grain, our country would fatally be famished in a very short time. Solely for Liége and its environs 1,500 bags of grain are necessary per day. At the moment of writing we have hardly grain enough for a few days.

"Without the generous assistance of the United States it would mean for us famine with its unavoidable consequences of riots and plundering. We have suffering enough. At least let this misfortune be spared us. We are convinced that you will sympathize with our undeserved miseries.

"In the province of Liége, the city has first been compelled to pay a war contribution of 30,000,000f., ($6,000,000,) while the requisitions which have been made so far exceed 30,000,000f. The City of Liége has a population of 117,000, and its ordinary annual budget hardly reached 14,000,000f."

Emile Dignefft and Paul Staes, members of the Liége Town Council, in a statement to the commission, say:

"To sum up the situation, an industrial population of high efficiency is entirely out of work and cannot earn its food. It has not reserves any more in food or savings, and rescue is immediately and urgently needed for fear that catastrophe would be brought about by impending starvation; and food for relief is only the beginning of all kinds of relief up to the time when the population is allowed to organize its work again."

SAY GERMANS SEIZE FOOD.

Letters from Belgium Tell of Levies in Ostend and Bruges.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—Letters have been received from Belgium transmitting evidence that in several instances local German commanders have stated finally they would not furnish food to the Belgian population, needing all available food for their own soldiers. It is also alleged here that since the American Relief Commission began its operations the German military has been seizing food in several Belgian towns, including Ostend and Bruges.

Recent German food levies are similar to those made during the earlier stages of the war as the German Army advanced. The fact that the Germans are taking food which must be replaced doubtless accounts for the British Government's refusal to permit further exportations from here.

OPPOSES WAR RELIEF WORK.

Los Angeles Official Says It Will Only Prolong Strife.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—While efforts were being made to raise funds here to succor the war victims of Belgium, Dr. Milbank Johnson, President of the Municipal Charities Commission, published a statement today declaring that relief sent to Europe meant prolongagtion of the strife, and suggesting that charity should begin at home.

"Scientific methods of war," said Dr. Johnson, "as exemplified in Europe, have brought to the combatants realization of the potency of suffering women and children in compelling the conquered to sue for peace. If Europe is determined upon a war of extermination relief efforts may only prolong the war.

"War in Europe has thrown thousands in this country out of work. The consequent suffering and privations are appalling. Charity should begin at home. Has it occurred to many who eagerly hearken to Europe's cry that they have not contributed to the relief of our own unfortunates?"

BRING WAR ORPHANS HERE.

The Chicago Tribune Asks Americans to Adopt Them.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Saturday, Nov. 7.—The Chicago Tribune prints the following:

"In this war and world crisis what is the most helpful thing that can be done? This is the question which The Tribune has been carefully considering for weeks. The obvious answer is to stop the war. When the time is opportune for the President of the United States to act The Tribune and its friends will lend him their heartiest support.

"What is the most helpful thing that can be done now? An answer to this question is the movement which we launch today.

"The war orphans are in need. Some are without mothers. Some are on the shoulders of poor, overburdened women. Left to themselves, hundreds will starve, other hundreds will freeze, while penury, want, privation, suffering, and disease will visit hundreds of thousands.

"On the other hand ours is a blessed land. God has been good to us. Our poor are rich compared with the orphans of Europe. A little of our waste would relieve the worst portion of the European situation. Thousands of American families want children. Their hearts are hungry; their firesides are vacant.

"The Tribune, after deliberate consideration, has come to the conclusion that the best service which can be rendered now is to bring together the wants of the war orphans of Europe and the wish of American homes for children.

"The service will be one that will give permanent, abiding, substantial help. It permanently removes a burden from the shoulders of the borne-down mothers. It saves from suffering the women and children of the war-stricken land. At the same time it contributes to our country what will prove in time a substantial resource.

"The plan is to give the people of the United States an opportunity to ask for these children. We prefer, and it is best, that the children be adopted. To this end we will send to Europe a corps of physicians and nurses who will see that no children are accepted except those free from taint of every sort—strong, sturdy, bright-eyed, clean-limbed children, such as can be welcomed in The Tribune homes with safety.

"This is no ordinary time. Never in the world's history has disaster been so appalling as at the present time. Our response must not be ordinary. Every man must square his conscience with the extraordinary need."

ARGENTINA ASKS FOR GOODS

Americans Can Have Trade, Says Cable from Foreign Minister.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The Government of Argentina has proposed to the United States a plan for closer commercial relations which contemplates that American manufacturers shall take the place left vacant by European industry in all branches.

This plan was laid before Secretary Redfield of the Department of Commerce in an interview which he had last night with Dr. Naon, the Ambassador from Argentina to the United States. During this interview Dr. Naon gave to Secretary Redfield a cable message embodying the plan for exchange of products between the two countries.

Commenting on the plan tonight, Secretary Redfield said:

"At an interview between the Argentine Ambassador and myself last night an important cable message bearing on the commercial relations between the two countries was presented. Through the courtesy of the Argentine Ambassador and with the consent of his Government the publicity of this dispatch is permitted. Its importance is obvious. The Department of Commerce hopes and expects that American manufacturers will take full advantage of the opportunity thus extended them through the courtesy of the Argentine Government."

SUFFRAGISTS RAISE $105,619 AT RALLY

Mass Meeting in Carnegie Hall Opens Campaign for the Vote in 1915.

PROMINENT WOMEN SPEAK

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw Tells of Gains in West—Extols Men's "Magnificent Work."

A fund of $105,619 was raised at a suffrage mass meeting at Carnegie Hall last evening which opened the campaign of the women of the State to get the vote in 1915.

"It is $30,000 more than was ever raised at any suffrage meeting in the world before," said Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, leader of the Empire State Campaign Committee, who presided. "If we don't win in 1915, we will at least give the enemy a great run for the money."

It was one of the biggest suffrage meetings held in Carnegie Hall, which had seen many. Every seat and every box was filled, and the upper galleries were crowded. There was much applause, the entire audience rising when Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, the suffragists' National President, who had been campaigning in the Western States for the last two months, went on the stage.

The stage was filled with suffrage leaders, and addresses were made by Mrs. William Grant Brown, the State President; Miss Mary Garrett Hay, head of the Woman Suffrage Party which has organized the City of New York; Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, head of the Manhattan Borough organization; Mrs. Emma Smith Devoe of the State of Washington, President of the National Council of Women Voters, and Mrs. Mary C. C. Bradford, State Superintendent of Public Instruction in Colorado.

Reads the "Battle Hymn."

Edith Wynne Matthison, wearing a soft gown of yellow, read Julia Ward Howe's "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and Mrs. Julie Opp Faversham, in a clinging gown of white, read the suffrage resolution—her first public appearance as a suffragist. Rosika Schwimmer of Hungary, Mrs. Ella S. Stewart of Illinois, and Miss Helen Todd of California also were speakers. There was a group of other women from the equal suffrage States.

Sitting in one of the front orchestra seats with Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont was Miss Christabel Pankhurst, the little English suffragette, and among the persons who filled the boxes was Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, President of the New York State Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage. One of the donors to the collection was a Miss Chittenden, and they called twice for the name from the platform, but the donation did not come from the anti-suffragist.

"I am all here except my voice," said Dr. Shaw, when she was introduced, the audience again standing. "I left my voice in Nebraska, but I am going back after it All our States in the West gave us a great victory. Our great cause never will and never can lose. I have sympathy with the antis, from whom we took two States. It is hard to belong to an organization which never can win. When we began the fight the anti-suffragists had the whole earth. Pretty soon there won't be enough left for them to stand on, but we will take them in."

Dr. Shaw flung out the eight-foot ballot of Nebraska, and she said it was no wonder it took them so long to count in that State. There was great applause when she told of the "magnificent work of the men" in the suffrage campaign in the West, and less enthusiastic applause when she spoke of the help of Secretary of State Bryan in Nebraska.

"Don't forget to rejoice over the great gain made in the States in which we did not win," said Dr. Shaw in conclusion. "It was greater than we would have made in ten years without the campaign. With such a magnificent leader as you have in New York, you should rally for this campaign as you have never done for anything before in your lives."

The contribution was given in pledges from all over the house, from Assembly Districts, from clubs and from private individuals. Mrs. Catt, in asking for it, said that $200,000 was to have been asked for the campaign for the State, but on account of financial conditions the women were asking only $150,000.

Says Women Waited Too Long.

"We are told that with the great need and suffering there is at the present time we should not make this demand," she said. "It seems to me that that terrible thing that is going on in Europe should teach every woman in the world that she has postponed too long getting behind the government of the world."

General pledges began with $1,000 and dropped gradually to $25. The first actual pledge was credited merely to "A Man." The best man in the world," Mrs. Catt said as she announced his gift of $200 a month during the campaign, $2,400 in all. Three women gave $5,000. Mrs. Jacob Litt gave $1,000, and so did Mrs. Charles Tiffany, Mrs. George D. Pratt, William G. Willcox of Staten Island, and Mrs. Joseph Fells of Philadelphia among others. The Misses Katharine, Mary, and Dorothea Dreier of Brooklyn and Anne and Ellen J. Stone gave $500 each, and Mrs. Frank A. Vanderlip, Dr. Shaw, and Mrs. A. Barton Hepburn, $100 each. Mrs. George H. Lewis of Buffalo gave $300. Mrs. Bradford and Mrs. Amos Brown of Seattle gave $50 each.

Mrs. Anderson of Greenwich gave $1,000. Mrs. Edward Dreier of Brooklyn and Mrs. Helen C. Mansfield, each gave $250. Many contributions were received in the name of "a man," "a friend," "a wellwisher." Adolph Lewisohn gave $100, and there was tumultuous applause when the Commissioner of Correction, Katharine B. Davis, from the rear of the platform offered $100.

Mrs. John Hays Hammond gave $100, and the Wadleigh High School women teachers gave $100. Mrs. William Tod Helmuth, Mrs. Frederick Ackerman of Bronxville, and Miss Grace Strachan of the Interborough Teachers' Association also contributed. Mrs. Faversham, from the platform, gave $50, and Miss Hedwig Reicher, the German actress, who was also on the platform, gave $50. Mrs. Camden Dyke of Brooklyn gave $25, and Mrs. Henry Ollesheimer the same. Mrs. Elmer Black gave $200 for the Peace and Arbitration League. In addition to the pledges, the ushers took a contribution.

1,000 Americans Sail on Oscar II.

COPENHAGEN, (via London,) Nov. 6.—The Danish steamer Oscar II. sailed for New York today with 1,000 Americans aboard. By permission of the British Admiralty she will proceed over the usual course.

Since 1823 we have made our Whiskey for the man who drinks wisely.

Our best customer—always—is the man who uses good things moderately.

So, for his protection we invented the Non-Refillable Bottle—that he may be sure of getting Real WILSON—mild and mellow—every time.

FREE CLUB RECIPES—Free booklet of famous club recipes for mixed drinks. Address Wilson, 309 Fifth Ave., N.Y. That's All!

GIMBELS

Broadway and Thirty-third Street

Rated at $25 or Better Men's Winter Suits and Overcoats at $17.50

Top-notchers, that recommend themselves very highly on the score of most recent good style, and a splendid capacity for service. Bought by us with discretion from our reliable makers at very favorable prices:

Velvet-collar Raglan Overcoats at $17.50

Silk-lined Chesterfield Overcoats Medium Weight at $17.50

Loose Overcoats, fine fabrics, at $17.50

Men's Winter Suits, many models, at $17.50

Materials in the suits are in the popular patterns and colorings of the season—rough, plain blues, plain grays, black and white stripes, Tartan Plaids, and handsome mixtures.

Wide choice in every size in each group.

Fourth Floor

Men Are Lucky To Get These Fine Gloves at $1.50

Disturbed conditions in Europe and at home are making good gloves scarcer than ever yet. We ordered these in plenty of time to avoid advances in prices or falling off in quality.

At $1.50 a pair they are mighty good investments nowadays.

Men's Washable Tan Cape Gloves at $1.50

You can make them spick and span with ordinary soap and water. Fine leather, handsomely finished.

Men's Gray Mocha Gloves at $1.50

Unusually fine, firm skins, now very scarce, especially at this price. One-clasp, P X M sewn. Main Floor

Sale of 2,500 Men's Shirts Plaited & Tucked Bosoms

$1.50, $2 and $2.50 Grades

All at $1.15 Each

This is a radical clearing out from our own stock of surplus lots of these fine Shirts.

Splendidly made, especially for us, carefully chosen colorings and patterns.

Mushroom or "thousand tucked" bosoms, also finely plaited bosoms, with stripes running across or lengthwise.

All have turn-back cuffs, some soft, others laundered.

About one-third of the quantity are $1.50 Shirts; the others $2 and $2.50 grades.

Today, $1.15 each—a very tempting price.

Main Floor

1,800 Men's Derbies, $1.75 Each

Seconds of $3 and $4 Grades

So near to "perfect" are these hats that even our own experts had difficulty in discovering the flaws. The majority are a trifle over or under weight; a few have other slight imperfections.

Conservative shapes and novelty styles in flexible or stiff models. A full range of sizes to start off with.

$3 English Cloth Hats, $1.75

For motoring, traveling or outdoor sports.

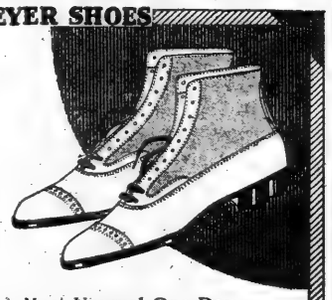
$3 Felt Hats, $1.75

All the broken lots of the different styles have been grouped together at this price. Fourth Floor

CAMMEYER SHOES

Gun Metal Lace and Blucher.
Gun Metal Lace with Fawn Cloth Tops.
Russia Mahogany Calf Lace and Blucher.
Russia Mahogany Calf Lace with Fawn Cloth Tops.

Reduced from $5.00 to $3.95



Today—Saturday—A Most Unusual One Day

Sale of Cammeyer $5.00 Men's Shoes $3.95

Well worth the five dollar price at which they have sold this Fall.

and a correspondingly rare chance for Men who habitually wear fine Shoes to secure a maximum value.

Cammeyer

Stamped on a Shoe means Standard of Merit

6th Avenue at 20th Streets

THE STORE OF A THOUSAND STYLES

Lord & Taylor

Murray Hill 9000 Fifth Avenue, 38th Street, 39th Street Founded 1826

Music Daily—Luncheon and Afternoon Tea, 10 A. M. to 5 P. M., Tenth Floor

The First Big Clearance of Oriental Rugs

To Be Held in the New Fifth Avenue Store

The enormous business resulting from the Great Removal Sale held in the Old Store last Fall enabled us to open the New Building in the early Spring with practically a complete new selection of Oriental Rugs. Now we have a Clearance Sale of this magnificent stock, so that we may again display entirely new selections next year.

To Give Even Better Values Than Heretofore

We have greatly reduced a number of lots taken from regular stock, among which

This Extraordinary Offering of Fine Kermanshah Carpets

in the most desirable designs and colorings

At Half Former Prices

Sizes.	Former Prices.	Sale Prices.	Sizes.	Former Prices.	Sale Prices.
11.4 x 7.10	$325.00	$165.00	10.2 x 8.10	$345.00	$172.50
12.4 x 9.1	$355.00	$178.00	13.5 x 11.1	$530.00	$265.00
14.2 x 9.3	$395.00	$197.50	10.2 x 9.8	$350.00	$175.00
12.4 x 9.3	$410.00	$205.00	11.0 x 8.8	$455.00	$227.50
10.9 x 9.0	$375.00	$187.50	16.0 x 10.10	$1200.00	$600.00
10.7 x 9.8	$375.00	$187.50	22.5 x 13.5	$1500.00	$750.00
15.4 x 10.8	$650.00	$325.00	14.8 x 9.2	$360.00	$180.00

This Semi-Annual Event is of unusual importance this year; we have included several large purchases which arrived from the Orient two months overdue. The time for the disposal of them is, of course, cut short, and to offset this we have in marking them made very large concessions from our regular moderate prices.

The values in this Sale and the splendid assortments of representative weaves from the various Oriental Rug countries Far Surpass our best efforts of other years.

Persian Gorevan Rugs (Room Sizes)
$125.00 to $475.00
Usual Prices $185.00 to $675.00

Persian Mahal Rugs (Room Sizes)
$87.50 to $350.00
Usual Prices $125.00 to $575.00

Persian Sarouk Rugs (Room Sizes)
$165.00 to $1,000.00
Usual Prices $225.00 to $1,750.00

Kermanshah Rugs (Room Sizes)
$165.00 to $750.00
Usual Prices $300.00 to $1,500.00

Asia Minor Rugs (Room Sizes)
$65.00 to $1,000.00
Usual Prices $85.00 to $1,850.00

Afghan Rugs (Room Sizes)
$40.00 to $245.00
Usual Prices $65.00 to $350.00

Bokhara Saddle Trappings
$9.50 to $25.00
Usual Prices $15.00 to $40.00

Daghestan Rugs (Fine Antiques)
$45.00 to $75.00
Usual Prices $60.00 to $125.00

Fine Kurdistans & Irans (Large Sizes)
$85.00 to $600.00
Usual Prices $150.00 to $875.00

Karabagh Rugs
$8.00 to $10.00
Usual Prices $10.00 to $14.50

Fine Beluchistan Rugs
$9.50 to $25.00
Usual Prices $15.00 to $35.00

Mosul Rugs
$14.50 to $22.50
Usual Prices $18.50 to $35.00

Kurd Mosul Rugs
$32.50 to $95.00
Usual Prices $45.00 to $150.00

Kirman Rugs
$32.50 to $85.00
Usual Prices $45.00 to $135.00

Fifth Floor

DE PINNA

FIFTH AVENUE
AT THIRTY-SIXTH ST.
NEW YORK

The Day for School and College Boys

An Autumn Saturday—with the season turning the corner—is the most opportune time to prepare for the cooler days ahead.

The De Pinna reputation among college men and preparatory school boys is growing apace.

It has been a matter of close and accurate study to exactly meet the needs and tastes of this growing generation, in clothes and haberdashery.

Things which do not look like younger editions of older apparel, but which are designed and made to fit the years of the wearers.

Young Men's Suits

Following the example of the specialists in London who provide clothes exclusively for younger men.

Autumn and Winter woolens, in fashionable olive and brown mixtures and grey—a finer quality than is ordinarily seen in young men's clothes.

Patch pocket models and the regular styles, cut on English lines. Sizes 33 to 40.

Most unusual values at $18.

In this assortment are a number of Norfolk models, in the same fabrics.

Young Men's Distinctive Overcoats

Conservatively smart coats, with the campus air and without the exaggeration of style which offends rather than pleases.

In a great variety of woolens,—mixtures, plaids and plain colors—in English Balmacaan and slip-on models, at $25.

DE PINNA Norfolk School Suits for Boys

The widest assortment this house has ever offered—in sturdy, smart woolens chosen expressly for boys from 7 to 15.

By specializing on these suits, the values have grown better season by season. These assortments at $8.75 represent the best we have ever been able to produce.

Young Men's Haberdashery

This special haberdashery store for young men and boys has added to its prestige by its Fall and Winter assortments of things no other store can furnish.

Everything essential to the smart outfitting of the boy, the youth and the young man.

Exclusive shirtings in madras-and-silk and college flannels; neckwear of handsome imported silks; all the desired underwear and bath robes; pajamas; college sweaters.

English Last Shoes

The newest young men's shapes, with broad shank and low heel—in dark mahogany brown or black leathers.

DE PINNA

Exclusive Outfitters for Young People
Fifth Ave. at Thirty-Sixth St.

VOTED FOR SULZER TO DEFEAT TAMMANY

Heavy Support in Up-State Counties, Voters Say, Was Meant for Rebuke.

RAILROAD MEN HELPED

Times Correspondents Find That Sympathy for Ex-Governor Was Expressed at the Polls.

Students of the vote cast for the candidates for Governor on Tuesday have puzzled much over the generous support which ex-Gov. William Sulzer received in several of the counties.

Correspondents of THE NEW YORK TIMES were asked to sound public sentiment in these counties and obtain the reasons which actuated the voters in supporting the ex-Governor. Most of the Sulzer support came from men who believed that he was treated unjustly when he was removed from office. They voted for him as a rebuke to Tammany which they held responsible. The Prohibition support helped and the support of the railroad men was another factor. The reports of the correspondents follow:

Special to The New York Times.

BINGHAMTON, Nov. 6.—William Sulzer received 4,637 votes out of a total of 16,834 in Broome County. This astonishing vote caused much surprise among politicians. Levi Hoag, who led the Prohibition Party, asserts that Sulzer's support came from the element among the citizens who were for better government, and believed that Sulzer was free from entangling alliances. It was an indication, he said, that Prohibition was gaining ground as was demonstrated by the strong no-license vote in the city. It was for this that Sulzer stood.

A. D. Wales, who led the fight in Broome County for the American party, said today that voters supported Sulzer because they thought he had been sacrificed for refusing to bow to the dictates of the Tammany leaders. His illegal impeachment by a biased coterie of politicians, Mr. Wales said, had aroused citizens as never before.

An analysis of the vote in Broome County shows that Sulzer carried wards and towns which two years ago gave Hedges substantial majorities, but none of the wards or towns carried by him as the Democratic candidate two years ago gave him a plurality this year.

These factors, it is asserted, account for the Sulzer vote in the county—the Prohibition vote, the railroad and laboring vote, and the disaffected Republican vote. There was a strong feeling throughout the county against the Barnes machine following the primary campaign. Mr. Hinman, at the Whitman meeting, spoke strongly in favor of the Whitman ticket, but the Republican rank and file preferred to vote for Sulzer. As the Prohibition vote is 800, 3,200 votes came from laboring men and disaffected Republicans.

Special to The New York Times.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Nov. 6.—The Sulzer vote, 3,830, came within thirty-one of equaling the Glynn vote in Chemung County. Menzo Beardsley, who directed the Prohibition campaign, asserts that Sulzer pledged himself not only to eliminate Tammany control of State affairs, but also pledged himself to lend his aid in putting an embargo on the liquor traffic. These, he says, were the chief cause of the Sulzer vote here.

Others say that Sulzer owes his large vote in the county to the fact that several thousand railroad men live here. Just before election a straw vote was taken among a number of railroad men. Sulzer had the support of 35, Glynn 6, and Whitman 5. The county on election day gave Glynn ,861 votes, of which 523 were Independence League votes.

Milo Shanks, who ran for Congress on the Sulzer ticket, said today:

"Thousands of voters who would have been glad to support Sulzer with a view of giving him a vindication and rebuking crooked politicians who threw him out of office to make room for themselves, were afraid to do so lest they would weaken their chance of beating Glynn."

Had Support of Farmers.

Special to The New York Times.

NORWICH, N. Y., Nov. 6.—It is the belief here that the Sulzer vote of 2,748 in Chenango County was due to dissatisfaction among anti-Tammany Democrats who opposed Glynn. It is understood that at election all the anti-Tammany men, about 1,200, voted for Sulzer. The Republicans lost 700 votes, which probably went to Sulzer. Sulzer's stirring speech here some time ago won many votes for him. Many Prohibitionists and Progressives also supported him.

Chenango County people in general think that Sulzer was misused as Governor. Many supported him because they wanted him for Governor, while others wanted to strike at Glynn. The farmers supported Sulzer, and hundreds say that as long as he is a candidate they will stand by him. It is said that Sulzer may take up his residence in Chenango, as he is greatly impressed with a farm here.

BATH, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Throughout Steuben County, among the followers of Sulzer, there is great joy over his vote of 5,640. Edwin L. Evans, a leading Sulzer man, said today:

"Yes, we feel proud of Sulzer's showing in the State, and feel proud of the part played therein by his Steuben County supporters. The county gave him a vote larger than Glynn. He is the second candidate in the county, and this, too, without money to finance a campaign, and without newspapers to lend moral support. Mr. Sulzer is vindicated, and his candidacy has cost Democracy its control of State affairs."

George M. Landers, another Sulzer man, said: "We supported Sulzer because we considered him an honest candidate. We voted for him because we believed he had suffered a rank injustice at the hands of an organized political 'gang,' which placed him in office under the impression that he would lend himself to their schemes, good and otherwise; that when he refused to act the puppet and chose to exercise his own policies according to his convictions, retaliated by lending itself to his unjust impeachment and removal from office."

Eugene Hicks, who also supported Sulzer, said: "I voted for Sulzer because I believe he is a man who stands fearlessly by his convictions. I refused to identify myself with either of the old-line parties, but was glad to support Sulzer, whom I believe to be honest, capable, and fearless. The stand I have taken is the same as taken by numerous old-line Democrats throughout the county."

The Bath Sulzer Club sent a letter of congratulation to Mr. Sulzer on Wednesday in which it said that his fight for clean politics had just begun and that it would be a fight to the "end of the road."

Rebuke for Impeachment.

Special to The New York Times.

COBLESKILL, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Schoharie County Democrats who to the number of 2,115 voted for Sulzer and helped to put this Gibraltar of Democracy in the Republican column for the first time in history, agree that they supported him, not because of admiration of the man or of his acts, but because they wished to register their disapproval of his impeachment after he had been elected by the people. They feel that he should have been held accountable to them and they advance the argument that they know of no act of his while Governor that warranted his removal.

Democrats here deplore the fact that in many instances it became necessary to break away from the party to which they had been faithful from boyhood. One old Democrat expressed his views in this wise:

"This is the first chance we have had to show how we feel about the impeachment."

Special to The New York Times.

OWEGO, N. Y., Nov. 6—Before election it was not known that Sulzer had any active organization in this county other than that of the Prohibition Party. In the town of Barton, where Sulzer received almost half of his 1,743 votes there was a secret organization of Republicans, Progressives and Democrats. This organization, it is said, was anti-Catholic. At secret meetings at Waverly, a slate was made up from the candidates of the three parties. Lists of these selected candidates were printed and circulated secretly. Sulzer was the "League's candidate for Governor, Wadsworth for United States Senator, Milo Shanks of Elmira for Member of Congress, and Morris Halliday of Ithaca for State Senator.

Byram L. Winter, of Waverly, town of Barton, the leader of the Progressives and Progressive candidate for constitutional Delegate at Large was indorsed. Practically the whole Progressive vote in Tioga County was turned over to Sulzer.

Railroad men and farmers in this county were the most enthusiastic supporters of Sulzer. Leading Democrats and some Republicans said that they voted for Sulzer in order to rebuke Tammany Hall for his impeachment.

Special to The New York Times.

SCHENECTADY, Nov. 6.—When asked why they supported Sulzer many voters here said that they wished to repudiate Glynn and Tammany. Sulzer received a vote of 4,532, or practically one-fourth of the vote cast in the county. He led Glynn by nearly a thousand votes, and received twice the vote of the Socialist candidate, despite the fact this has been a strong Socialist county, and ran but 2,500 behind Whitman.

As further evidence that the voters in this county resented the impeachment of Sulzer, Senator Loren H. White, Democratic candidate for re-election, was defeated by a plurality of 6,000. White voted for the impeachment.

Ex-Mayor Lunn was a strong supporter of Sulzer, and this led many Socialists to cut their ticket and cast their vote for him. Stroebel received but 2,484 votes, whereas the other State Socialist candidates averaged about 3,500 votes.

Sympathy for Sulzer.

Special to The New York Times.

NYACK, Nov. 6.—The Sulzer vote of 1,585 in Rockland County was almost entirely one of sympathy. One Democrat in Nyack, a leader of the Sulzer forces, said that he supported him because he had been removed from office through the machinations of Tammany. This man served in the Legislature with Sulzer. A Democratic lawyer here said that he voted for Sulzer because he was anxious to hit Tammany a hard blow.

"I do not think Sulzer is an angel," said a Democratic business man in Haverstraw, "but after the way he was treated by Tammany I would vote for him if he was the devil."

Similar opinions were expressed by nearly all the Democrats here who voted for Sulzer. A member of the Bull Moose Party in Rockland County said he supported Sulzer because he would not vote for Glynn, and knew Davenport had no chance.

Special to The New York Times.

DELHI, N. Y., Nov. 6.—In Delaware County Sulzer polled 2,805 votes and the reason most frequently advanced by Democrats, as well as Republicans, is that Sulzer was unfairly removed from office. It is also true that Glynn was not popular here, as is shown by the primary vote, which was 4 to 3 in favor of Hennessy. The Progressives also had become dissatisfied with the party management.

The strongest Republican town in the county, Walton, gave nearly two-thirds of its entire vote to Sulzer. This town, however, has been freakish on election days for years. Wherever Sulzer made speeches he received a flattering vote, irrespective of party, but otherwise his following was principally Democratic.

The conclusions drawn from a careful inquiry into the subject are that this anti-Tammany county was bitter at the punishment meted out to the Governor last year and it rankled in the minds of Democrats.

Special to The New York Times.

ONEONTA, N. Y., Nov. 6.—In Otsego County Sulzer polled 3,532 votes. Here are typical replies received from men who were asked today why they supported the ex-Governor:

"I wanted to see what he would do at Albany"; "I voted for Sulzer because he was impeached for refusing to obey the orders of Murphy"; "He was the friend of the laboring classes, signing the Full-Crew bill, and we stand by our friends"; "I voted for Sulzer because I believed he would remove the crooks, stop grafting, and clean house at Albany"; "He was removed because he fought the bosses, and I am against the bosses who try to run things for the benefit of their own pockets."

Deep-seated resentment at Sulzer's removal was not quieted by the issues raised between Whitman and Glynn, and the large vote given Sulzer was an expression of protest and of a desire to rebuke the men who inspired his impeachment.

HICKS TO ASK A RECOUNT.

Brown Appears to Have Won by One Vote, but Courts Will Decide.

Leander B. Faber has been retained to represent Frederick C. Hicks, who is going into the courts to try to obtain a recount of the vote for Congressman, First District. Mr. Hicks and Lathrop Brown, the present Democratic representative, according to the unofficial canvasses, are only one vote apart. Brown has the odd vote. Mr. Hicks and his friends want a scrutiny of all the votes cast under the eye of the court after the ballot boxes have been opened.

ANDREW ALEXANDER
548 FIFTH AVENUE

ABOVE FORTY-FIFTH STREET

A gentleman's dress boot of patent leather with tops of gray cloth or buckskin. For less formal wear—lace boots of black calf with gray tops, or tan calf with tops in contrasting shade. A bit "different."

Eight dollars a pair.

WHITMAN PREPARED TO SWING THE AXE

Intimates That State Civil Service Board Will Not Last Long.

NOR BANK SUPT. RICHARDS

Governor's First Message May Urge Many Changes in Workmen's Compensation Law.

Before leaving yesterday for Lakewood, where he will remain until next Monday, Governor-elect Charles S. Whitman intimated very strongly that among his first acts after going to Albany will be the starting of investigations in various State departments with a view to sweeping them clean of any graft or mismanagement. The Banking and Insurance Departments, the Conservation Commission, and the State Civil Service Commission will receive the new Governor's attention first, it can be stated positively.

The Governor-elect declared also that in his first message to the Legislature he would follow closely the proposed remedial measures embodied in the platform of the Republican Party in the State. If this plan is carried out the next Legislature may be asked to modify considerably such measures as the workmen's compensation law, sections of the election law and the direct primary law.

The platform adopted at Saratoga last August declared that the workmen's compensation law was "passed in a form burdensome and expensive to industry and oppressive to wage earners." It added: "This beneficent principle, which we heartily indorse, was thus brought into undeserved disrepute."

The platform also recommended that the State Convention, with delegates elected by direct vote at the primaries, be restored. As for the election law, it was denounced as deliberately inviting repeating and colonizing in cities and deterring the honest voters in rural districts from going to the polls.

Hint for Eugene Lamb Richards.

Mr. Whitman is already giving special attention to the State Superintenent of Banks, Eugene Lamb Richards, who was appointed last Spring for a three-year term. Mr. Whitman indicated pretty strongly yesterday that Mr. Richards would not serve out his term. In his scheme of investigation and housecleaning Mr. Whitman will invoke the Moreland act, which was written into the statute books in Gov. Hughes's administration. It was used effectively by John A. Hennessy in his investigation of highways and other contract graft.

He has given considerable attention also to appointments, and in this connection it can be said that one of the first radical acts of the new administration at Albany will be to legislate the State Civil Service Commission out of office. The Governor-elect's attention was called to the report that Tammany Hall and the up-State Democrats had quietly been placing many positions in the civil service list so as to protect present incumbents.

"Well, there is an easy way for two to play at that game," said Mr. Whitman, and he did not deny that the way he had in mind was the turning out of the present State Civil Service Commission.

"I respect and believe in Civil Service," said Mr. Whitman, "but I shall see to it that the Civil Service laws are not used under me to keep incompetent officials in office. At the same time there will be no ex-convicts appointed to or allowed to remain in any State department. A number of appointments which I am credited with power to make are Civil Service appointments or appointments which properly should be made by the heads of the various departments, and there are really very few appointments for me to make before the present incumbents are out."

No Fear of the Old Guard.

Mr. Whitman said he expected the full co-operation of the Legislature in his plans to destroy graft and make the right kind of appointments. When he was informed that there was talk that the Old Guard, which antagonized Gov. Hughes, was laying plans to establish itself in the State Capitol, Mr. Whitman said he did not think any such plan would be attempted, and that, if such was the case, he felt sure he could put a stop to it. He remarked that the people by their overwhelming vote had evidently intended that he should control the government of the State, and he did not intend to allow any clique to cheat the people of their desire.

Asked as to what action he intended to take if any effort should be made to interest the Legislature in the teachers' mother agitation with the view to have a law enacted to prohibit the Board of Education from peremptorily removing teachers who obtain leave of absence to become mothers, Mr. Whitman said:

"I would rather not discuss that matter now."

He said he would not attend the trial of Henry Siegel in Livingston County next week or participate in the prosecution. He said he had had a conference with Presiding Justice Ingraham of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court regarding the matter, and he made this statement:

"The Presiding Justice and his associates on the bench advise me that it is their opinion that I should not personally conduct the People's case or appear at the trial, and I shall be guided in my conduct entirely by the opinion of this court."

The Siegel case will be handled by Arthur C. Train, assisted by Robert S. Johnstone and William D. Embree, all Assistant District Attorneys.

No Offer to Tanner.

Republican State Chairman Frederick C. Tanner went to Boston yesterday to attend the Harvard-Princeton football game today. He said he intended to resume at once his legal practice, which had been neglected since he started in to elect Mr. Whitman. Asked if he would succeed Mr. Whitman as District Attorney, he said:

"The place has not been offered to me."

Between the time that Mr. Whitman resigns as District Attorney and the appointment by the new Governor of his successor as prosecutor an acting District Attorney will be designated by the Judges of the Court of General Sessions as provided by law. Four of the Judges—Crain, Swann, Mulqueen, and Malone—are Democrats, and three—Rosalsky, Nott, and Wadhams—are Republicans. It is understood that Mr. Whitman's wishes will not be disregarded when the designation is made.

Brown Wins Congress Seat.

William G. Brown, Jr., a Democrat, was elected to Congress from the Second District of West Virginia by a plurality of more than 2,000 last Tuesday over G. W. Bowers, his Republican opponent. The first returns received by THE TIMES indicated that Mr. Bowers had won.

Stern Brothers

42nd and 43rd Streets, West of Fifth Avenue.

Men's and Young Men's Clothing

OF the highest standard of excellence, in an interesting assemblage of entirely new Fall and Winter models is now being shown, in sizes 33 to 50 inch chest measure, in all proportions,

At these uniformly moderate prices:

Winter Overcoats,	at $20.00 to 85.00
Sack Suits,	" $20.00 to 45.00
Full Dress Suits,	" $25.00 to 60.00
Dinner Coat Suits,	" $25.00 to 60.00
Braided Cutaway Coats and Vests,	25.00 to 50.00

Particularly attractive features of this section are

Men's Suits and Overcoats, at $25.00, 30.00 and 35.00

Very Special for Today, Saturday:

Young Men's Overcoats and Suits at $18.50

Regular Value $25.00

Overcoats are in smart, snug-fitting, double or single breasted styles; also raglan and many novelty effects.

Suits are in entirely new models, without padding, in one, two, three or four button styles; sizes 31 to 40 chest measure.

WAR ISSUE No. 3

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN

Issued November 7
40 Pages, 77 Illustrations
Price 25 cents

War Articles Contributed by Experts of National Reputation

CONTENTS:

- Efficiency of European Armies
- Japanese Navy in the Present War
- Building Bridges Under Fire
- The Army on the March
- Interior Construction of a Torpedo
- Defence Against Submarine Attack.
- The Army in Camp
- Medical Science in the Service of War
- Interior Construction of Shells and Bombs
- Chances of Death in Battle

For sale by all newsdealers and at railway stations

Special Offer—Four Months for $1.00.

Send $1.00 for 17 weeks' trial subscription, including "War Issues 1, 2, 3," free. The three war issues contain over 300 illustrations and 128 pages, equal to 484 magazine pages, colored war map included.

MUNN & CO., Inc., Publishers, 361 Broadway, New York

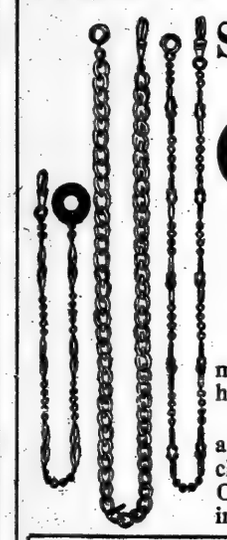
GREENHUT'S

Meet me at the Fountain

J. B. GREENHUT COMPANY.
"THE BIG STORE"
BOTH SIDES SIXTH AVE., 18TH TO 19TH STREET

MAIN BUILDING

Men's $7.50 to $12 Solid Gold Watch Chains, Today, at . . . $5



A Prominent Jeweler's Entire Collection of Salesmen's Sample Chains, To Be Disposed Of At This Sensational Price.

Undoubted the best variety of high-class, beautifully made and elegant looking Watch Chains of all kinds that we have ever offered in a special sale.

You choice includes WALDEMAR-STYLE CHAINS that are to be worn across from pocket to pocket. Also remarkably clever PLAIN AND FANCY LINK EFFECTS; likewise COAT-LAPEL CHAINS with handsomely engraved buttons in a large variety of fancy and plain links.

Solid Tie Clasps Former Price to $2.50 Your Choice at $1

We illustrate one. They are SIMPLY BEAUTIFUL; they have plated springs, and come in medium and large sizes, in plain and fancy patterns. All new advance styles.

WE WILL ENGRAVE ANY INITIAL YOU CHOOSE WITHOUT CHARGE ON ANY OF THESE TIE CLASPS.

A suggestion: WHY NOT BUY A CHRISTMAS GIFT TODAY?

MAIN BUILDING

Final Day of the Great Sale!
"Snellenburg" and "Kirschbaum" Overcoats, Balmacaans and Suits

Positively Your Last Opportunity to Buy Clothes of These Celebrated Makes at Prices Wholly Without Precedent!

Here's the wind-up to the biggest and most successful clothing sale that New York has seen in 20 years. The wonderfully low prices for the extraordinarily fine garments is a combination sure to appeal to discriminating men and youths.

"Snellenburg" Overcoats, Balmacaans and Suits
Here you can choose from more than a thousand $10 to $15 garments; today, at $6.85

"Snellenburg" Balmacaans, Overcoats and Suits
Newest Fall and Winter styles; formerly priced to $18; today, at $8.85

"Snellenburg" Balmacaans, Fall Overcoats, Winter Overcoats and Suits—Formerly priced to $22; today, at $11.85

BALMACAANS—newest gray and brown TWEEDS; many imported fabrics included.

WINTER OVERCOATS—black and Oxford KERSEYS; also fancy fabrics and dozens of different styles.

SUITS—all the prevailing styles; blue winter weight SERGES and MIXTURES.

"Snellenburg" Balmacaans, Silk-Lined Fall Overcoats, Winter Overcoats and Suits—Formerly priced to $22; today, at $14.85

"Kirschbaum" Chinchilla Balmacaans & Overcoats, Usually to $30, Today at $17.50

Blue, gray, Oxford, brown and olive shades in Chinchilla Balmacaans and Overcoats of every style; also black and Oxford gray kersey Skinner satin-lined Overcoats. Finest "sample" Overcoats also included.

Many of the finest "Kirschbaum" Suits are included in this sensational sale at $17.50.

"Kingly" Trousers, Formerly Priced $4 and $5; today at $3

Every man and youth who wears size 29 to 58 can be fitted in this sale. Materials include: STRIPED WORSTED, CASSIMERE, CHEVIOT, BLUE ALL-WOOL SERGE and BLACK THIBETS.

MAIN BUILDING

Today's Sale of "Hurt Books"

Wonderful Bargains Before Holiday Stocks Are Shown

Greenhut's never does things by halves—always thoroughly and today's sale of books is a case in point.

Standard Sets; at one-quarter of publisher's original prices.

Fiction; formerly $1.50, $1.25, $1.08; all leading publishers; at 25c

Books for Boys and Girls; published at $1.50, for 25c

Books of Travel; reduced accordingly.

Miscellaneous Works; from 10c to 50c

Exceptional values.

MAIN BUILDING

Reduced for Today Only!
Men's $3.50 "Foot-Mould" Shoes Today, at $2.85

If you are already a wearer of our famous "Foot-Mould" Shoes there's nothing more to be said, for you know what excellent footwear this is. If you are not, BUY A PAIR TODAY at the reduced price, and know how much style, comfort and durability can be had for a very little price.

Twenty different styles to select from, in the very best of leathers, including TAN RUSSIA CALF, GUNMETAL CALF, PATENT LEATHER AND KIDSKIN, button or lace models; also the NEW FLAT ENGLISH MODEL with low flat heel and blind eyelets. All sizes and widths in each style; all with Goodyear-welted soles.

Sales in Our Annex Building—Home Furnishings

Incandescent Gas Light Combinations

Combination No. 1—solid brass inverted burner, with adjustable air vent; good quality mantle; apple shaped globe; regularly 39c; at 29c

Combination No. 2—solid brass inverted burner; close woven mantle; inner glass cylinder and frosted shade; Mission effect; regularly 69c, at 55c

Combination No. 3—solid brass inverted burner; good quality mantle; inner glass cylinder; rich embossed shade, in green, pink or amber; beaded fringe to match; regularly $1.15, at 89c

A $30 Brass Bed Outfit, consisting of Bed, Spring and Mattress, for $16

The outfit consists of:

A $16 Brass Bedstead—finished in Damarda lacquer, either bright or satin finish; 2-inch continuous posts; all regular sizes; five 1-inch filling rods.

A $10.50 100 Per Cent. Layer Felt Mattress—with roll edge; covered in fancy ticking; weight 50 pounds to the full size.

A $3.50 10-Year Guaranteed Romelink Spring—with high risers.

An Importer's Surplus

$7.50 Irish Point Lace Curtains, Sale Today, pair $5.50

Beautiful designs—some of the finest that have been shown this season.

We give S&H GREEN TRADING STAMPS. TWO S&H Stamps with every 10c purchase in the forenoon. ONE S&H Stamp with every 10c purchase in the afternoon.

J. B. GREENHUT CO.—FORMERLY GREENHUT SIEGEL-COOPER CO.

For Business and Professional Women.

For the woman of affairs whose dress must express an unquestioned appreciation of style and at the same time those practical qualities that indicate "personal efficiency"—we have designed a series of models that are as attractive in price as they are in appearance.

And the fact that we have learned to conduct a retail business without the usual retail expenses is a strong reason why we should appeal to those women who appreciate progressive methods which make for economy.

Gowns for street, afternoon, and evening wear, made to measure, from $18.50 to $55.00.

Lucille Gown Co.

DIRECT MANUFACTURERS TO THE WELL DRESSED WOMAN
SHELTER TILE FLOOR
48 West 38th Street

PUTNAM'S NEW BOOKS

Ready Tuesday, Oct. 10th.

WINNING OF THE FAR WEST

By Robert McNutt McElroy, Ph.D.

8°. Illustrations and Maps, $2.50.

A history of the regaining of Texas, the Mexican war, the Oregon question; and the successive Additions to territory in the United States between 1829-1867—a continuation of Roosevelt's "Winning of the West."

The events leading up to the contest of New Mexico and California and the settlement of the old controversy over the Oregon region are fully discussed, as are, also, the Compromise of 1850 and the Purchase of Alaska.

LANDS FORLORN

The Story of an Expedition to Hearne's Coppermine River

By George M. Douglas

With an Introduction by James Douglass, LL.D.

With 180 Photographs by the Author and a Map. 8°. $4.00.

The Coppermine River flows through the Barren Lands of Northwest Canada into the Arctic Ocean. This book is an unvarnished story of eighteen months spent in these inhospitable regions by the author and his companions, handling their own canoes, carrying their own packs, and caring for and driving their own dog teams.

ETCHING: A PRACTICAL TREATISE

By Earl H. Reed

With Illustrations by the Author

8°. $2.50.

The book is intended for the student. It is designed to adapt and condense methodically the most reliable information and data now available on the subject of etching, as a means of line expression, for the benefit of the practical worker.

To the student and amateur the book will serve as a complete practical guide and manual. To the lover of etchings it will afford a welcome and fascinating view of the inside of the workshop.

CAMBRIDGE HISTORY of ENGLISH LITERATURE

Edited by A. W. Ward, LITT.D., and A. R. Waller, M.A.

Now Ready

Vol. XI. The Early Georgian Era.

Royal 8°. About 600 pp. $2.50.

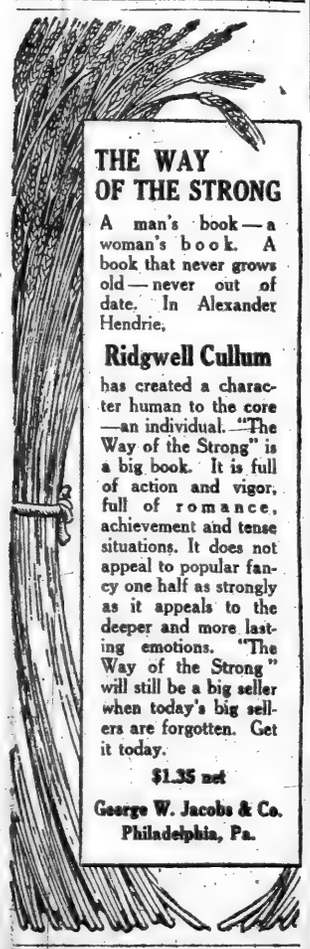
"This rich, composite history of English literature is a real service to English scholarship. It presents us with the first adequate treatment of many neglected parts of our literary history, and it throws new light on many old themes . . . ."—The Saturday Review.

New York G. P. Putnam's Sons London



THE WAY OF THE STRONG

A man's book—a woman's book. A book that never grows old—never out of date. In Alexander Hendrie, has created a character human to the core—an individual. "The Way of the Strong" is a big book. It is full of action and vigor, full of romance, achievement and tense situations. It does not appeal to popular fancy one half as strongly as it appeals to the deeper and more lasting emotions. "The Way of the Strong" will still be a big seller when today's big sellers are forgotten. Get it today.

Ridgwell Cullum

$1.35 net

George W. Jacobs & Co.
Philadelphia, Pa.

Autograph Letters of Celebrities Bought and Sold. Send for price lists. Walter R. Benjamin, 225 5th Av., N.Y. ESTABLISHED 1887. Pub. "THE COLLECTOR," 25 c. yr.

DENY INSANITY IS DUE TO 'TWILIGHT SLEEP'

Physicians Practicing Painless Child Birth Treatment Reply to Dr. Gregory.

CITE 5,000 CASES ABROAD

Scopolamin Reduces Danger of Mental Derangement, One Says—Controversy in Germany.

Hospital authorities who have introduced in this city "twilight sleep," the new method of painless childbirth, took issue yesterday with Dr. Menas S. Gregory, alienist in charge of the psychopathic ward of Bellevue Hospital, who said that three New York women recently became demented owing to the treatment. They declared the charge that insanity was likely to result was one of the first made by opponents of the treatment when it was introduced in Germany, and that long ago it had been disproved by eminent authorities in that country.

Dr. Gregory said last night that he had been misquoted in some quarters but that he was willing to stand by his original statement. This was that the delirious condition of the three women was due to the effects of the "twilight" drug, scopolamin, and not to other causes, as contended by the practitioners of the treatment. The three women had been taken to him for observation at Bellevue, Dr. Gregory explained, and one of them recovered after a few days. The others had to be committed to the State Hospital for the Insane.

"I am not attacking the treatment," Dr. Gregory added, "because I don't pretend to know all about it. But as an alienist who has thousands of cases brought before him each year I think I can say that these women had been rendered delirious by the drug used to produce twilight sleep. This was not only my own diagnosis but that of the hospital staff. It is true that childbirth under ordinary conditions sometimes causes delirium or insanity—call it what you please—on the part of the mother, but no alienist would confuse this with drug cases. The difference is readily recognized. Any number of cases of the ordinary sort come to us each year, but these three women were not of that class."

Two Out of 250 Affected.

Members of the staff of the Jewish Maternity Hospital, at 270 East Broadway, where the "twilight sleep" treatment is administered regularly to free patients, admitted that two of the three women referred to by Dr. Gregory had gone from their institution. One of them, according to Irwin Arnow, Superintendent of the hospital, recovered after a few days in Bellevue. Both women, he declared, were suffering from post partum psychosis, a phase of insanity not uncommon in ordinary cases of child-birth.

"This hospital has been here eight years," said Mr. Arnow, "and we have had twelve cases of post partum psychosis in that time. There is nothing the least unusual about the two cases mentioned by Dr. Gregory. They occurred three weeks ago, and one of the women has since recovered and gone home. These two were the only cases of post partum psychosis out of 250 twilight operations performed at this hospital. We have found the treatment in every way a success, and the results are the best proof of the absurdity of Dr. Gregory's charge."

Mr. Arnow said that scopolamin was not an accumulative drug, and that as it easily was thrown off by the system after six hours, the assertion that it could produce insanity was ridiculous. The first dose, he said, was 1-133d of a grain, and after that doses of 1-400th of a grain were injected at intervals of about an hour. As the usual number of injections was eight, Mr. Arnow said, the patient never received a sufficient quantity of scopolamin to cause any serious harm.

Dr. Kurt E. Schlossingk, a German physician, who brought the treatment over from Freiberg, is the "twilight" specialist in charge of the work at the Jewish Maternity Hospital. Dr. Schlossingk, who studied in Freiberg under Drs. Krönig and Gaus, said that the Freiberg specialists had made a study of 5,000 "twilight" cases, and had found no evidence that the treatment increased the danger of insanity.

Used Throughout Germany.

"As a matter of fact," he declared, "it is a common practice throughout Germany to use scopolamin in all kinds of surgical cases as a preliminary anaesthetic. It certainly would have been stopped long ago if the danger which Dr. Gregory speaks of existed."

In New York, members of the Jewish Maternity Hospital staff explained, the treatment was too new to enable them to furnish accurate statistics. The total number of "twilight" births here had not reached 1,000, it was said. For purposes of comparison with the old method, at fewest 5,000 cases would be needed.

Dr. A. J. Rongy, attending physician of both the Jewish Maternity and Lebanon Hospitals, said he had foreseen trouble from the opponents of the new treatment and that he had anticipated Dr. Gregory's criticism in an address which he delivered before the Buffalo Academy of Medicine on Oct. 21, last. At that time, referring to 220 "twilight" operations performed by him, Dr. Rongy said:

"In this series two patients developed post partum psychosis on the fourth day. Within the same week two more cases occurred in my obstetric service at Lebanon. Owing to my absence from the city, scopolamin had not been given in these two cases. I consider it most fortunate that this method was not used in two of these cases, for I feel certain that the mental derangement would be attributed to the use of the drug. This naturally would tend to discredit this mode of treatment, resulting most probably in its discontinuance. That this coincidence would create a most peculiar situation was impressed upon me by the fact that when the attending neurologist was asked to see these patients, he immediately inquired as to whether they had had twilight."

Another physician who would not permit his name to be used, but who had come back from Freiberg an enthusiastic champion of the new treatment, told how the criticisms raised by Dr. Gregory had been met and answered in Germany. In his opinion, this physician said, the "twilight sleep" treatment would be found to reduce the danger of insanity after childbirth.

"This insanity cry was one of the first raised against the twilight sleep method in Freiberg," he said. "It was raised more than eight years ago in Germany, and was taken up and answered in Dr. Gaus's first paper, published in the 'Archives of Gynecology' in 1906. One of the biggest psychiatrists in Germany, Dr. Hoche, added his weight to the discussion by denying even the possibility of insanity being caused by scopolamin. This silenced the German critics, but apparently the whole thing will have to be thrashed over again here.

FLAGG PLEADS HARD TO AVOID SENTENCE

Convicted Speculator Tells the Court His Methods Were Like "Other Brokers."

ASKS WHY HE'S SCAPEGOAT

Says the Government Counsel, In Summing Up, Dealt Him Many Blows Below the Belt.

Jared Flagg, pale and nervous, made a final effort yesterday to escape the sentence which is hanging over him for having used the mails to defraud in connection with his stock speculations. With Miss Madeline Russe, his confidential stenographer, sitting behind him and prompting him, he argued his own cause for half an hour before Judge Rudkin in the Federal District Court and made application for a new trial.

What he said was largely of the nature of a personal appeal, and an assertion that what he had done did not differ from the methods of a hundred other brokers. The purely legal side of his application had already been treated at length by J. M. Coleman, his counsel. He had attacked the action of the Government in seizing Flagg's books and papers, and had asked the court to order a new trial, because, he said, it had been held that to take information from a prisoner's papers in a criminal case was as directly contrary to the Fifth Amendment of the United States Constitution as to make him give evidence by word of mouth against himself.

Flagg had broken in once or twice to bid his counsel keep away from a discussion of his speculating methods, as he was himself prepared to deal with them, and as soon as Mr. Coleman ceased he sprang to his feet. He was as carefully dressed as he had been through all the trial, but his thin, pale face looked more drawn and sharply defined than it had been when he was confidently cross-examining the witnesses or making sharp points with the jury. With painful earnestness he addressed the court.

"I want a new trial," he said, "because I did not have a fair trial. I cast no reflections upon your Honor, but 999 men out of 1,000 do not understand the difference between an indictment and a verdict, and from the first moment I was considered a guilty man.

"I have no complaint to make of the trial itself. It was as fair as any I have heard of, but I have this to complain of: For a time I could swap blows with the prosecution without hindrance, but at the end, with my hands tied down, without power to defend myself, I was forced to receive blows not on my body or my face but beneath the belt."

Then Flagg quoted some of the charges Assistant District Attorney Thompson had made in his address to the jury, which he asserted were unsupported by the evidence. They were written on a sheet of paper, and as he hesitated Miss Russe prompted him in a whisper, and pointed out points he had omitted. As he spoke District Attorney Marshall and Assistant District Attorney Thompson sat grim and silent, and listened to his allegations without a word of protest.

His methods next were explained by Flagg. They were absolutely fair, he assured the Court, and differed in no way from those of other brokers. When Mr. Thompson was inclined to argue with him Judge Rudkin cut them short by declaring that he fully understood the point, and, still coached by Miss Russe, Flagg proceeded.

To prove the legitimacy of all he did he produced a Clearing House sheet such as is used in Wall Street, and coming forward with his quick, brisk stride, he handed it to the Judge. He waved a package of blue tickets and asked the Court to see that his business was carried on in exactly the same way as any other Wall Street man's.

"Why should I be selected from all the others?" he cried. "I must and do object that I should be made the goat."

As he finished his plea Mr. Thompson quietly announced that he had nothing to urge, and the Court gave counsel until this evening to submit briefs. Judge Rudkin will hand down his decision on Tuesday, until which time Flagg was continued in his old bail.

BOOK MEN GET TWO YEARS.

Counsel for Farmer and Hartley Files Writ of Error.

James J. Farmer, President of the Anglo-American Authors' Association of 225 Fifth Avenue, and Col. William J. Hartley, convicted for using the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of so-called rare books, were sentenced yesterday by Judge Foster in the Federal District Court to two years' imprisonment in Atlanta. The corporation was also fined $2,000.

Their counsel at once filed a writ of error, which acted as a stay of sentence. They were then held in $10,000 bail each, and, bowing to the Judge, they left the courtroom.

With Farmer and Hartley nine others were indicted for a similar offense. Of these, two, Willis N. Cooper and George M. Fisher, were ordered by the court to be acquitted. Samuel T. Warfield was acquitted at the same time, but he was arrested on a State warrant and is now awaiting trial in General Sessions on the charge of grand larceny in connection with the sale of $30,875 worth of books to Mrs. Auvernette Crombie. Winfield Scott is now in a Long Island asylum, Thomas P. Dunn was acquitted at the same time that Farmer and Hartley were found guilty, and Romeo W. Nathan and E. J. Marr pleaded guilty at the beginning of the trial. The Government has not yet moved for sentence upon them.

The last two, Glenn Farmer, son of J. J. Farmer, and Sam Rosenfield, were convicted for a similar offense recently in Boston with James Michael Power. Power and Glenn Farmer have been sent to prison for from two to four years, and Rosenfield for from four to six years.

SECRETARY QUIZZED ON SULLIVAN DEALS

Miss Burkhardt, Who Had Favored Convict's Confidence, Before Grand Jury.

CALLED TO APPEAR AGAIN

Synagogue Manager Asked About Mortgage Held by Bank Wrecker's Dummy.

Miss Louise D. Burkhardt of Yonkers, who is supposed to know much about the business transactions of David A. Sullivan, the bank wrecker, since he has been in Sing Sing Prison, was the star witness yesterday in the Kings County Grand Jury's investigation of the convicted banker's reported property dealings.

When Sullivan was President of the Mechanics and Traders Bank of Brooklyn, afterward known as the Union Bank, Miss Burkhardt was his secretary and exercised a power of attorney from him. It is believed that she continued to act as his agent after his conviction and that Sullivan consulted her about his affairs on several of his reported automobile trips to Yonkers from Sing Sing.

District Attorney Cropsey, who is investigating a complaint that Sullivan has been collecting money from alleged concealed assets of the Union Bank, hopes to obtain from Miss Burkhardt important information as to the convict's business activities.

Miss Burkhardt appeared voluntarily after the District Attorney had for some days tried vainly to serve her with a subpoena. Placing herself under the jurisdiction of the District Attorney, she expressed willingness to answer questions. She was before the Grand Jury for half an hour and was then excused until Monday. A subpoena to appear on that day was served upon her. It is understood that she has been asked to produce for inspection on Monday whatever papers, checks or other records having to do with Sullivan's supposed dealings which she may have in her possession.

Miss Burkhardt was questioned yesterday as to what business relations she has had with Sullivan since the former banker was sent to prison, early in 1913. She was asked, it is believed, whether she knew of any collections of money from securities or other property in Brooklyn or elsewhere made by Sullivan since he has been in prison.

The hopes of Mr. Cropsey to obtain an indictment against Sullivan on the complaint of larceny now before the Grand Jury are said to rest largely upon testimony he expects to get from Miss Burkhardt.

When Miss Burkhardt arrived at the office of the District Attorney she refused to talk to reporters, and complained of the swarm of photographers who were trying to take her picture. She declared that when she agreed to come to Brooklyn it was with the understanding that she was not to be annoyed. Miss Burkhardt was called before the Grand Jury at 1 o'clock. When she came out she hurried away, with her handkerchief before her face to foil the camera men.

Another witness called yesterday was Elias Ruderman, manager of a synagogue in Christopher Street, East New York. A mortgage for $2,500 on the synagogue property is said to have been held by a security company which was a dummy concern used by Sullivan in some of his operations while he was President of the bank.

Mr. Cropsey's interest in this mortgage is to learn whether any payments of interest or principal might have reached the hands of Sullivan. It is understood that it was on this mortgage that the present investigation of Sullivan was originally based. The loan was made seven years ago, but it is said that the mortgage does not appear among the assets of the wrecked bank.

William T. Watson, who was secretary to Thomas J. McCormick, the deposed Warden of Sing Sing, was again examined before the Grand Jury yesterday. He is said to have been questioned further about the alleged automobile rides and other extraordinary privileges enjoyed by the bank wrecker while he was supposed to be at "hard labor" in prison.

Socialists to Hold a Rally.

The Socialists will hold a rally tomorrow afternoon in Madison Square Garden to celebrate the election of Meyer London to Congress. Speakers will include Charles Edward Russell, Morris Hillquit, Eugene V. Debs, and James Larkin, the Irish Labor leader.

MORE ABOUT SMALL MORTGAGES

Experienced lenders have found that small mortgages are the safest of all. We accept them freely.

Usually they are mortgages on the homes of thrifty people who take good care of their property and pay their interest and taxes promptly.

These mortgages provide an absolutely safe investment for any sum. Just now they pay 5%, exempt from personal taxation in this State.

No investor has ever lost a dollar

BOND & MORTGAGE GUARANTEE CO
Capital & Surplus, $9,000,000
176 B'way, N. Y. 175 Remsen St., B'klyn.
350 Fulton St., Jamaica.

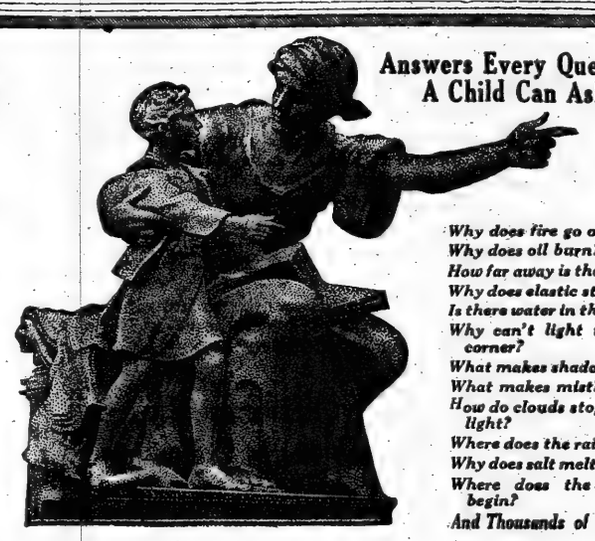
Bud the Cigarette

20 Cents

A Distinctive Cigarette
In a Distinctive Case
Made for Smokers of Discrimination
BUD CIGARETTE CO., Inc., New York

7-20-4 R. G. SULLIVAN CIGARS

Factory output for nine months of 1914—29,097,000.
Increase of 2,430,000 over same period of 1913. Largest selling brand of 10-cent Cigars in the world.
QUALITY COUNTS.
Factory: Manchester, N. H.



Big Facts About The Best Book

350,000 Sold
In 14 Countries
On Five Great Continents
In 4 Languages
16 Great Departments of Knowledge

Answers Every Question A Child Can Ask

Why does fire go out?
Why does oil burn?
How far away is the sky?
Why does elastic stretch?
Is there water in the sun?
Why can't light turn a corner?
What makes shadows?
What makes mist?
How do clouds stop sunlight?
Where does the rain go?
Why does salt melt snow?
Where does the wind begin?
And Thousands of Others

The Book of Knowledge

The Children's Encyclopaedia

10,000 Educational Pictures, 350 Colored Plates, Complete Index

The Call of the Future

The world is calling the children to fit themselves for the greatest opportunities which any age has ever offered. This is not the world of yesterday. It is a world in which the outlook on life has completely changed in a few brief weeks. The hope of the future lies in the children of America, if only they are ready and prepared to grasp their unparalleled privileges. The world is calling your child to do his share in the great work of a new civilization, new discoveries, inventions and mastership.

Put THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE into his hands. It lays the foundation of a well-rounded and practical education for life. It contains all the important knowledge of the world, arranged and indexed on an entirely new plan, especially adapted to growing minds. Give your child THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE habit of finding out for himself everything that he wants to know. It will teach him how to open the doors of the universe, stimulate his imagination and invention and create a desire for independent investigation.

Partnership Between Home and School

A great deal of fault has been found with the schools of late. "After eight years of training in the elementary schools, the average boy or girl is not fitted for anything practical," says a distinguished schoolman. Let us stop for a moment to consider that the education in the home is of even more vital importance than the education in the schoolroom. THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE creates that partnership between home and school on which all successful education so largely depends. It fulfills the prime law and psychological necessity of INTEREST. Children are captivated by THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE, the first practical Encyclopaedia for the young.

Mail This Coupon for Free Book

The illustrated FREE SAMPLE BOOK contains 250 tremendously interesting questions taken from thousands answered in THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE, also Pictures and Color Plates Showing:

The Growth of a Grain of Wheat; The Principle of the Gyroscope Train; The Cantilever Bridge; The Great Workshop Down in the River; The Inside of an Ocean Liner; Pictures of Animals Strange and Wonderful; How Our Teeth Grow; The Central Telephone Exchange of the Brain; The Marvellous Mechanism of the Ear; Where the World's Sugar Comes From; Scenes in Different Countries.

The Grolier Society, 2 West 45th St., N. Y.

THE GROLIER SOCIETY,
2 West 45th St., New York

Please mail me descriptive sample book of THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE, and valuable pamphlet, "THE MIND OF THE CHILD," explaining the psychology of the work.

NAME.....

ADDRESS.....

.....

(Not necessary to cut coupon if you mention The Times.) 11-7.

Merchandise Here Advertised On Sale Today

Macy's

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices.

Herald Square. Broadway, 34th to 35th St.

The Latest Victor Talking Machines and Records at Usual Macy Savings

A Special Purchase of 10,000 Yards of Beautiful Cretonnes from one of the leading converters of this country. 43 artistic patterns in 95 color combinations. Macy's usual price would be 24c to 48c yard.

SOLD IN TWO GROUPS AT (yd.) 14c and 22c

Included are Chintzes, Taffetas, Reps, Verdures and Tapestry effects. These Cretonnes may be used advantageously for draperies, hangings, slip-covers, bedspreads, furniture upholstery and many other purposes.

FOURTH FLOOR, REAR.

Special Offering in ORIENTAL RUGS

More than 800 Beloochistan Rugs in a price range

As low as $3.96—up to $24.74

Many of the prices quoted are for Saturday's selling only.

FOURTH FLOOR.

Inlaid Linoleum (sq. yd.) 59c

Elsewhere 85c and $1.00

In this lot are ten patterns, mostly in large quantities and in combination color tile patterns, designs for kitchen, laundry, pantry, and bathroom. Some of the rolls are slightly imperfect in the outlining of the pattern. The imperfection mentioned will not affect the wear in the least and is hardly noticeable. The thickness is sufficient to give many years' service, and as the colors run through to the back the pattern will last as long as the Linoleum itself.

FOURTH FLOOR.

Grandfather's CLOCK $25.75

A beautifully designed mahogany case. Imported weight movement. You wind the Clock with a chain and it will run eight days. Strikes the hour and half-hour on a large, resonant cathedral gong. The dial is of brass and the figures large. This Clock is an excellent timekeeper.

SIXTH FLOOR.

"Sun Fast" Drapery Materials

31-inch Plain, (yard) 39c

For light-weight window curtains we are showing several grades of plain weaves in 31- and 50-inch widths. Also conventional and verdure patterns in one-, two- and three-color combinations. Very effective and decorative.

For Heavier Window or Door Curtains, Draperies and Cushion Seats

50-INCH SHIKI (yd.) $1.12

50-inch mercerized Armure and Bengaline (yd.) $1.49

The adaptability of "Sun Fast" fabrics to all forms of decoration and the assurance that the colors will not fade have proven a boon to thrifty home decorators.

FOURTH FLOOR, REAR.

"Macy Leader" Sewing MACHINES, $12.89

Macy's Usual Price, $14.89; Elsewhere, $17.00 to $18.00.

Our "Macy Leader" Sewing Machines are full size, high-grade head with all the latest improvements, and have finely finished ball-bearing oak stands in the 3-drawer drop head style. A complete set of the latest attachments included.

Complete assortment of all the different makes of high-grade Machines.

Macy "Red Star," four styles
Macy "Special," three styles
Macy "New Empire," three styles

During this sale we will furnish free of charge an automatic needle threader (priced $1.00) with any of these three makes of Machines: Macy's "Red Star"—Macy's "Special"—Macy's "New Empire."

FOURTH FLOOR, REAR.

Men's 21-Jewel Watches at $33.75

The gift of a Watch is always appreciated, because every young man should own a reliable Watch.

This 21-Jewel Watch at $33.75 in a 25-year case with the famous La Forge and Valentine movement will give service for a lifetime. Absolutely guaranteed. This is much less than 21-Jewel Watches are sold for elsewhere.

Solid Gold Jewelry for Christmas Gifts for Men

Signet Rings, 10 & 14 Kt. Solid Gold, from	$4.74 to $30.25
Stone Rings, 10 & 14 Kt. Solid Gold, from	$2.74 to $20.89
Scarf Pins, 10 & 14 Kt. Solid Gold, many with diamonds, from	$1.34 to $40.75
Cuff Links, 10 & 14 Kt. Solid Gold, from	$1.74 to $82.50
Tie Clasps, 10 & 14 Kt. Solid Gold, from	94c to $5.74
Pencils, 10 & 14 Kt. Solid Gold, from	$5.74 to $14.89
Pocket Knives, 10 & 14 Kt. Solid Gold, from	$3.49 to $29.50
Key Rings, 10 & 14 Kt. Solid Gold, from	$5.49 to $14.74
Cigar Cutters, many with diamonds, from	$3.49 to $20.89
Match Safes, 10 & 14 Kt. Solid Gold, from	$13.74 to $49.75
Cigarette Cases, 10 & 14 Kt. Solid Gold, from	$54.75 to $179.00
Watch Chains, 10 & 14 Kt. Solid Gold, from	$4.74 to $39.50
Watch Fobs, 10 & 14 Kt. Solid Gold, from	$2.89 to $18.89

MAIN FLOOR, SIXTH STREET.

Recent Fiction

Books of the Hour at Savings

Quite a number of the novels just off the press have a martial air, in keeping with the current warlike times.

	Pub.	Macy.
Soldier of the Legion—C. N. & A. M. Williamson,	$1.35	$1.21
Guy Garrick—Arthur B. Reeve,	$1.00	.89
Martha and Cupid—Julie M. Lippmann,	$1.00	.89
The Clean Heart—A. S. M. Hutchinson,	$1.35	$1.21
Letter of the Contract—Basil King,	$1.00	.89
The Pastor's Wife—"Author of Elizabeth and Her German Garden,"	$1.35	$1.21
The Long Chance—Peter B. Kyne,	$1.35	$1.21
The Honorable Percival—Alice Hegan Rice,	$1.00	.89
The Witch—Mary Johnston,	$1.40	$1.24
Wife of Sir Isaac Harman—H. G. Wells,	$1.50	$1.34
The Rosie World—Parker Fillmore,	$1.30	$1.17
Way of the Strong—Ridgwell Cullum,	$1.35	$1.21
Personality Plus—Edna Ferber,	$1.00	.89
Love Insurance—Earl Derr Biggers,	$1.25	$1.12
The Last Christian—George Kibbe Turner,	$1.25	$1.12
Wall of Partition—Florence L. Barclay,	$1.35	$1.21
The Laughing Cavalier—Baroness Orczy,	$1.35	$1.21
The Ball of Fire—G. R. & L. Chester,	$1.35	$1.21
Anne Feversham—J. C. Snaith,	$1.35	$1.21
The Clarion—Samuel H. Adams,	$1.35	$1.21
The River—Ednah Aiken,	$1.35	$1.21
The Eternal Priestess—B. L. Putnam Weale,	$1.35	$1.21
Prince of Graustark—George Barr McCutcheon,	$1.35	$1.21

Are You a Resourceful Renting Man?

We want an experienced real estate man of initiative and ingenuity to devote his entire time to renting a downtown building—a man of parts.

We are willing to pay a salary commensurate with ability.

If you think you can fill the bill and wish an interview, write us fully and confidentially all the information you would like to know if you were in our position.

Address Box N 220 Times Downtown.

HERE ARE BOOKS

SEE AMERICA FIRST

AMONG THE CANADIAN ALPS

By LAWRENCE J. BURPEE

With four full-page color plates and forty reproductions from photographs, and 6 maps. 8vo. Boxed. Cloth. $3.00 net.

The wonderful plan of the laying out of the Canadian National Parks, the old Indian trails and the new mountain roads, the experiences of many famous travelers in mountain climbing, and the gorgeous scenery of the Rockies, are some of the topics in this vastly entertaining and beautifully illustrated volume.

STIMULATING ESSAYS

THE ENCHANTMENT OF ART

By DUNCAN PHILLIPS

Frontispiece in color, and 8 other illustrations. 8vo. Cloth. $2.50 net.

Here is just the kind of criticism which Anatole France once called "Romance—the Adventures of the Mind Among Masterpieces." The author is capable of rich enjoyments, and his enthusiasm for art is infectious. The book abounds in keen estimates and sensitive appreciations, and underlying the charm of the writing there is a fine life-enhancing philosophy.

A WELCOME BOOK

THE POEMS OF FRANCOIS VILLON

Translated by H. DE VERE STACPOOLE

Edition limited. Half Cloth, $3.00 net. Half Morocco, $5.00 net.

"Mr. Stacpoole's book is the fullest English tribute yet paid to one of the greatest, if not the greatest, of French poets."
—Saturday Review (London.)

CHEER UP, EVERYBODY

ARCADIAN ADVENTURES WITH THE IDLE RICH

By STEPHEN LEACOCK

Author of "Behind the Beyond," "Nonsense Novels," etc. Cloth. $1.25 net.

Stephen Leacock is a humorist who puts big ideas into satire and fun. These delicious adventures take us into the realm of financiers, American ciubmen and clubwomen, and the magnificent homes of the wealthy, and literally bubble over with wit and farcical satire.

5th Anniversary Edition

THE NEED OF CHANGE

By JULIAN STREET

With illustrations by James Montgomery Flagg. 16mo. Cloth, 50 cents net. Leather, $1.00 net.

"The Need of Change," first published in book form in 1909, has been reprinted twelve times. To mark the fifth anniversary of its birth, the publishers are bringing out this edition, (the thirteenth printing,) newly illustrated by Flagg.

A MYSTERY STORY

APE'S FACE

By MARION FOX

Author of "The Bountiful Hour," etc. Cloth. $1.25 net.

A house haunted, not by the conventional family ghost, but by tradition, gives a sense of the supernatural to this strange and appealing story.

EXQUISITE FAIRY TALES

POPPYLAND

By H. DE VERE STACPOOLE

With 17 illustrations in color. 4to. Cloth. $2.00 net.

In this volume of fairy stories will be found all the charm of imagination and style that have made the author famous, combined with a whimsical humor which will appeal to old and young.

AT ALL BOOKSTORES

JOHN LANE CO. NEW YORK

THE LONE WOLF

(A Melodrama)

BY

LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

Louis Joseph Vance has written many good stories, but "The Lone Wolf" is his masterpiece.
—New York World.

$1.30 net

AT YOUR BOOKSELLERS

PUBLISHERS

LITTLE, BROWN & COMPANY

BOSTON

FEAR CATTLE PLAGUE WILL COST MILLIONS

Scourge Is Spreading and Two More States Are Put Under Quarantine.

POULTRY'S PRICE RISING

State Authorities Aroused at Situation Here—Commissioner Huson Declares a General Quarantine.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Further spread of the live stock foot and mouth disease caused the extension of the Federal quarantine today to two more States, Massachusetts and Iowa. Reports to the Department of Agriculture announced the presence of the epidemic at South Attleboro, Mass., and at Parnell, Iowa. Cattle, sheep, and hogs now cannot be moved out of Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, New York, Massachusetts, or Iowa.

In addition to the States already quarantined, a suspected case exists at Como, Miss., where it is reported a herd owner himself has contracted the disease. The Federal authorities are advising State officials to impose stringent quarantine against infected herds and even to prevent children from leaving the farms to attend school.

New cases were found today in Lancaster County, Penn., and in three more counties in Illinois. The spread of the disease makes it certain that a huge sum must be spent to put down the epidemic. It would not surprise officials if the cost would be nearer the $2,000,000 expended by the German Government to eradicate the disease a few years ago, than the $300,000 spent by the American Government in fighting the 1908 outbreak of the disease. Ten more Inspectors were sent today to Wisconsin, Iowa, and Massachusetts.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—The Chicago Stock Yards were closed this afternoon and will remain closed until Nov. 16. In the interval efforts will be made to stamp out the germ of the foot and mouth disease. The packers to-night sent to Kansas City and their other western branches one thousand butchers to kill and dress animals which ordinarily would have been sent to yards here. They announced that the products from their western plants would be sufficient to supply the market without any change in prices. A. G. Leonard, President of the Stock Yards, said:

"By the middle of next week every animal in the yards will have been killed and the thousands of pens and miles of water troughs will have been cleaned and disinfected."

It was discovered to-day that 216 more cattle and 600 hogs had been infected. No sheep so far have been infected. The 800 prize cattle brought here for last week's dairy show from twenty-eight states and Canada are still held in quarantine. Eighteen of the herd have been infected.

Anticipating a stronger demand for poultry because of the epidemic, the price of live fowl has advanced 4 cents a pound in the last forty-eight hours. The price of dressed meats thus far has not been changed, and assurances are given by the packers to the effect that it will not be.

J. Ogden Armour of Armour & Co., in a public statement today, said:

"Meat eaters need have no fear from the foot and mouth disease. No particle of meat from an infected animal is used, even for soap, fertilizer, or leather. Every such animal is shot and buried in quicklime at once. Government Inspectors have examined carefully every bit of meat sold by the packers and the vigilance has been doubly watchful for a week."

ROCHESTER, Nov. 6.—The State authorities, thoroughly aroused over the situation in this State, are bending every effort to find the centres of infection. Calvin J. Huson, State Commissioner of Agriculture, late tonight telephoned the following order of quarantine against the disease from his temporary headquarters at Seneca Falls:

To whom it may concern:

In order to prevent the further spread of foot and mouth disease in the State of New York and pending an investigation to determine the various points of infection and the extent thereof, I do hereby order and direct:

1. The bringing of cattle, sheep, and swine from the Dominion of Canada into the State of New York is hereby prohibited until further notice.

2. Trailing, driving, or herding of cattle, sheep, and swine upon the public highways within the State of New York or their transportation by common carrier or otherwise within said State is hereby prohibited for the period of ten days from the date hereof unless otherwise ordered.

BUFFALO, Nov. 6.—Live-stock commerce for ten days, both interstate and intrastate, was prohibited by action of the East Buffalo Live Stock Association, taken this afternoon. Under the ruling no cattle, sheep, or hogs will be admitted into or shipped out of New York State.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—An indefinite suspension of shipments of cattle in and out of Massachusetts was ordered today by Fred Walker, Commissioner of Animal Industries, on account of the prevalence of foot and mouth disease.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 6.—Andrew L. Felker, Commissioner of Agriculture, today issued a proclamation establishing a quarantine against cattle from New York, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Massachusetts.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Nov. 6.—Because of the outbreak of the hoof and mouth disease in Massachusetts the State Board of Agriculture today declared a quarantine against all cattle, sheep, and swine from that State.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 6.—The State Department of Agriculture today announced that all cattle and sheep coming into the local stock yards would be detained until inspected for foot and mouth disease by a State or Federal Inspector.

BUTTE, Mon., Nov. 6.—The foot and mouth disease has been discovered in Montana. A carload of cattle was cut out of a train at Glendive today and quarantined under orders of Government officials.

PLAGUE IS A MYSTERY.

Has Ravaged Europe in the Past—Its Cause Unknown.

The foot and mouth disease among cattle, which now is epidemic, is known by veterinarians as aphthous fever. It is a virulent infectious disease peculiar to cloven-hoofed animals. The cause is unknown, but it is established that it may be transmitted to cats, fowls, and human beings. Foot and mouth disease in the past has ravaged Europe and South America. The last outbreak here, was in 1908, in Michigan, and it was quickly stamped out.

The disease is characterized by a condition of fever and by blisters on the mucous membranes and on the outer skin. In cattle these blisters appear on the lips, muzzle and pads of the hoof and around the coronary band of the hoof. There is also lameness. In the grave form eruptions occur on the internal surfaces of the digestive or respiratory tracts. The symptoms in such cases are those of acute bronchitis or pneumonia. The mortality in this form varies from 15 to 20 per cent.

The disease spreads rapidly among animals confined in the same stable. Infected water is another common means of dissemination. The period of incubation after infection is from two to six days.

INDICTED FOR TRAIN TRIP.

Railroad Accused of Not Charging Full Rate for Private Car.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A trip taken by the late Edward Morris, the packer, and seven members of his family to Hot Springs, Ark., Jan. 26, 1912, in a private car was made the basis today of Federal indictments against the Chicago & Alton Railroad and W. L. Ross, its former Vice President, now President of the Toledo, St. Louis & Western Railway.

It is charged that six full fares and two half fares were paid by Mr. Morris, while the statutes require the payment of eighteen full fares for the use of a private car.

The indictments charge that when Mr. Morris made known his desire to go to Hot Springs, Mr. Ross arranged for the assignment of a private car to B. C. Stevenson, the Assistant General Freight Agent. The car then proceeded with Mr. Morris and his family, and Mr. Stevenson, although he was on the same train, occupied a berth in another car.

The railroad company is liable to a maximum penalty of $20,000, while the offense said to have been committed by Mr. Ross carries a maximum penalty of two years' imprisonment and a fine of $5,000. Mr. Stevenson is now Vice President of the Toledo, St. Louis & Western.

An official of the Chicago & Alton tonight said that when Mr. Morris boarded the train he met an official of the railroad who was making the same trip in his private car and who invited the family to share his car.

SLATE TRUST LOSES SUIT.

Court Awards Judgments for Triple Damages Against Vermont Firm.

ALBANY, Nov. 6.—What are said to be the first substantial judgments for triple damages entered in the United States, under the Sherman Anti-Trust law, were awarded today by Judge George W. Ray of the Federal Court against firms constituting the American Sea Green Slate Company of Granville.

The judgments, aggregating $25,962.49, were awarded the firm of O'Halloran and Jacobs of Pittsburgh on the finding of the court that "the defendants violated the Sherman act in the formation of a combination to restrain and to monopolize, or attempt to monopolize, the interstate trade in sea green slate."

This material constitutes approximately 90 per cent. of the roofing slate produced in Vermont.

POLICE SET TRAPS IN VAIN FOR SLAYER

Von Krebs's Former Wife Hides and Others He Threatened Fear Attacks.

AVOIDS SISTER'S FUNERAL

Lunatic Supposed to Have Telephoned Undertaker—Search Goes On In Two States.

Richard von Krebs, the madman who killed Mrs. Henry Rheil and seriously wounded her husband in New Brunswick, N. J., last Wednesday, and who was reported by his former wife to have threatened her at Fifty-second Street and Ninth Avenue, Manhattan, on Thursday night, remained at large all day yesterday and last night, while the police of New York and New Brunswick searched for him. The wife who divorced him six years ago remains so securely hidden that no one save the police knew her whereabouts. Other persons in both New Brunswick and New York whom von Krebs at one time or another had threatened were wary in their movements and were constantly on the lookout for an attack from the maniac.

A mysterious telephone call which the police thought was made by von Krebs was the only trace of the man yesterday. His sister, Mrs. Edna Brehm-Mahn of 222 St. Nicholas Avenue, who died at her home on Tuesday, was buried yesterday morning from the undertaking rooms of Philip Zügner at 163 East 116th Street. The police thought the maniac might go to the funeral, so a watch for him was set. The funeral was held, and he did not appear, but Zügner reported to the police that shortly before 10 o'clock in the morning a man called him on the telephone and said:

"Is my wife there?"

"Who is your wife?" Zügner replied.

"It's all right. I'll find out. I'll be there soon!" the man shouted, and then hung up his receiver.

Think He Seeks ex-Wife.

The police were unable to trace the telephone call, but were convinced that von Krebs had been talking to the undertaker. It was their theory that while they were looking for him to prevent his committing another murder he was looking for his former wife to kill her. Fearing that the man might meet the funeral cortege, two detectives went with it to the Lutheran Cemetery at Midland Village, L. I., where the body of Mrs. Brehm-Mahn was interred.

Detectives Brenner, Myers, and Mills of the Third Branch Detective Bureau, and six detectives from New Brunswick who knew von Krebs by sight conducted the main search for him. They watched Mrs. von Krebs's rooms on the third floor of 794 Ninth Avenue, near Fifty-third Street, the home of von Krebs's deceased sister and Mrs. von Krebs's hiding place which was said to be in Harlem. At the same time detectives in New Brunswick watched for the man in his former haunts there. Once it was reported to the New York police that the man had been seen in the vicinity of Eighty-first Street and Third Avenue.

A general alarm for the man was sent out Thursday night as soon as Mrs. von Krebs reported that he had threatened her near her home, and yesterday police all over the city were on the lookout for him.

Von Krebs's enmity towards his former wife is thought to have grown in his diseased brain from resentment over the divorce to murderous hatred. For three years Mrs. von Krebs has been living alone at 794 Ninth Avenue, where she has three rooms. It is said that in the last few months von Krebs has gone to the house several times and made unsuccessful efforts to see his former wife. On one occasion, according to a tenant in the house, he tried to break in her door, but was convinced that she was not at home and went away.

It was only after diligent searching that von Krebs learned his wife's address, for she took every precaution to hide. She has made her living by housework.

Escaped from Asylum.

Before their divorce, von Krebs and his wife lived on the farm near New Brunswick on which Mr. and Mrs. Riehl were shot on Wednesday. After the divorce, von Krebs was confined to the State Asylum for the Insane at Trenton, but he escaped and, although he was seen several times in New Brunswick and New York, was not taken back to the asylum. His former wife, who became the owner of the New Brunswick farm, rented it to the Riehls and after his escape from the asylum, von Krebs seemed to think the farm had been stolen from him by the tenants. His attack on them, it is thought, was inspired by his belief that they had robbed him.

It became known yesterday that von Krebs indirectly threatened to take steps against the Riehls last Tuesday, the day his sister died, and the day before he killed Mrs. Riehl and wounded her husband. On that day he was in his sister's apartment, where he had visited often, and he terrified everyone in the house by a violent outbreak in which he threatened to kill several persons in New Brunswick who, he imagined, had injured him. In particular he denounced the Riehls, saying that they had his farm; and, as he left the house, he exclaimed, "I'll go over there tomorrow and settle things."

Von Krebs is described as five feet nine inches tall, with high cheek bones and a smooth shaven face. He dresses well and is inclined to be talkative and friendly until someone crosses him, when he is thrown into a violent rage. He has a slight German accent. Little is known of the man's origin, but it is said that before becoming a New Jersey farmer he was a butler employed in the Roosevelt family. He is reported to be a crack shot with a revolver and never goes unarmed.

Barbarossa Back at Her Pier.

After lying at anchor off Stapleton, S. I., for two months, the North German Lloyd liner Barbarossa returned to her pier at Hoboken yesterday afternoon. It was believed in shipping circles that the Barbarossa had gone down the harbor to wait for a chance to get away clear of the cruisers on guard outside, but their watch was too keen.

FOUNDED 1856

BROKAW BROTHERS

MEN'S & BOYS' CLOTHING, HATS & FURNISHINGS

Each suit of clothes we make must be worthy of the name it bears; must portray the correct tendency of fashion; must be representative of our known reputation; must conform to the highest standards of clothes making, as we know them. These qualifications alone meet our notion of what a perfect, flawless suit of clothes ought to be.

Mixture Sack Suits	$18 to $50
Fall Overcoats	$16 to $38
Winter Overcoats	$18 to $75

Astor Place & Fourth Avenue
ONE BLOCK FROM BROADWAY — SUBWAY AT DOOR

PRICES REDUCED

Welsbach & Reflex

"SHIELD OF QUALITY"

Gas Mantles

25c "Reflex" brand, Upright or Inverted now 15c

35c "Welco" brand, " now 25c

By the "Shield of Quality" on the box, you know the Genuine.

All Dealers and Gas Companies

WELSBACH COMPANY
MANUFACTURERS

When you know Gas Lighting you prefer it

K-C
(Founded 1886)

Oriental Rugs

¶ In a short time Oriental Rugs will be at a premium in this country — importation is impossible and weaving is at a standstill in the Orient.

¶ None the less this house is offering Rugs of the choicest weaves and patterns at the same low prices and great savings in force before the War.

Mail Orders Filled.

KENT-COSTIKYAN
Incorporated
8 West 38th St.
New York City

YOUR MORNING PAPER
Is Reason Enough for Your Buying a Set of

Everyman's Encyclopaedia

You can be well posted when you speak of the day's news:—
Of towns where men are fighting for their lives;
Of lands now purchasing goods from America;
Of raw materials which mills cannot now import;
Of quarantines, and other methods of disease prevention;
Of any topic which virtually touches your neighborhood,

If you will keep at hand and use the handy volumes of this set. They are complete, up-to-date, thoroughly reliable.

PRICES OF SETS, 12 VOLS., BOXED

$6 in cloth binding $8 in cloth reinforced $10 in red leather $12 quarter pigskin

FOR SALE AT ALL BOOKSTORES.

E. P. DUTTON & CO., 681 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK

ABRAHAM AND STRAUS.

17 Minutes Grand Central to Hoyt Street

What the Great War Means!

And Other Wonderful Book Offers

NO ONE CAN FULLY APPRECIATE what this Great European War means unless he or she read intelligently and closely to comprehend the underlying causes and results. The daily newspapers will give an accounting of the consecutive events and not much more—the magazines in the very nature of things, because they must be put together at stated periods, cannot give a clear, concise, connected view of the whole affair. Books, good Books will, if selected with care, give you a wonderful insight into the Cause and Effect of one of the Greatest Wars in the History of the World.

We cite just a few from scores—but those we mention are of a verity written with a wide knowledge of conditions and consequences.

We, people of this decade, are witnessing the most titanic struggle between men ever known in the history of the world. Read so that you may talk and think intelligently upon this Terrible Event.

Germany and the Next War, by General F. von Bernhardi, although published some little while ago, has created a sensation. You will want this book. Paper cover, 25c.

Pan-Germanism, a Critical Study of the German schemes for the conquest of the world, by Roland G. Usher—a vivid explanation of international politics, $1.58.

How Germany Makes War, by Friederich von Bernhardi, a real sensation in war literature, $1.12.

Germany's Fighting Machine, by Ernest F. Henderson, a profusely illustrated book showing what this great military monster is—the Army, the Navy and the Air Fleet, $1.25.

Germany and England, by J. A. Cramb, with introduction by the Hon. Joseph H. Choate, explains clearly the deep seated cause of the present war, $1.00.

What Germany Wants, by Edmund von Mach, a Reply to Bernhardi and Pan-Germanism, containing facts, by means of which the reader can interpret correctly the diplomatic and military acts with which Germany opened hostilities, 90c.

AN ATLAS IN FULL COLORS—a little pocket affair which you can carry around with you everywhere—and an atlas is indispensable if you would clearly keep in touch with the progress of the war, 25c.

And These Books for Christmas Giving Not a Bit Too Early to Begin Collecting

Hawthorne's Complete Works—full ¾ red morocco, hand tooled, 13 volumes; finest photogravure frontispiece on Japan vellum, University Edition, $34.75.

Bret Harte's Complete Works—full ¾ dark maroon morocco, 12 volumes, University Edition, $32.00.

Macaulay's Complete Works, 10 volumes, dark green, ¾ morocco, $26.75.

Thackeray's Complete Works, 15 volumes, dark brown, ¾ morocco, $39.50.

Shakespeare, 6 volumes, ¾ morocco, dark brown, $18.50.

Robert Browning, 6 volumes, ¾ morocco, dark brown, $18.50.

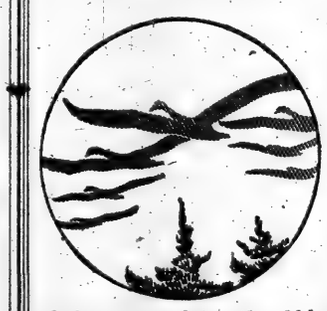
Emerson's Works, 12 volumes, ¾ morocco, dark green, $32.00.

Arabian Nights, ¾ calf, 17 volumes, Bagdad Edition, beautiful illustrations, $45.00.

Muhlbach's Complete Works, 20 volumes, Luxemburg Edition, $23.50.

Charles Dickens's Complete Works, 30 volumes, ¾ red morocco, hand tooled, London Edition, $110.00.

Carlyle's Works, ¾ morocco, 20 volumes, $75.00.



Travel Books

Delightful Dalmatia, by Alice Lee Moque, 48 illustrations in colors and half tones, $1.80.

London, by Sir Laurence Gomme, illustrated with sepia drawings from old engravings, $1.80.

Historic Homes of New England, by Mary H. Northend, with scores of photogravure plates, the old homes of New England, $4.50.

Colonial Mansions of Maryland and Delaware, by John Martin Hammond, 65 illustrations, $5.00.

Through the Brazilian Wilderness, by Theodore Roosevelt, with illustrations from photographs, $3.15.

Round the Wonderful World, by G. E. Milton, 12 color plates, numerous text illustrations, $2.25.

California, described by Mary Austin, painted by Sutton Palmer, 32 beautiful color plates, $3.60.

Mezzanine Floor, East Building.

Frederick Loeser & Co. Inc.

BROOKLYN—NEW YORK

Substantially Bound

Sets of Standard Authors Half Price and Less

SETS SUCH AS THE AVERAGE HOME REQUIRES. They are well printed on strong, white paper. The bindings are neat, good looking and inexpensive enough to place the Books within anyone's reach.

These are special opportunities. They will be exhausted within a short time and those who want such Books for Christmas should buy them now. It is highly probable that we will later be unable to match the present excellent values.

In some instances we have but two or three Sets. Bindings are cloth, half leather, half calf and full leather.

Bound in Half Leather

Arabian Nights, 4 vols.	$4
Balzac, 18 vols.	$15.50
Bulwer-Lytton, 15 vols.	$14.75
Carlyle, 10 vols.	$9.75
Cooper, 16 vols.	$15.50
De Maupassant, 5 vols.	$4.50
Dickens, 15 vols.	$11.25
Dumas, 15 vols.	$14.75
Emerson, 5 vols.	$3.95
Guizot's France, 8 vols.	$8
Hugo, 10 vols.	$8.75
Kipling, 10 vols.	$5.25
Marryatt, 12 vols.	$11.75
Muhlbach, 18 vols.	$14.25
Plato, 4 vols.	$3.25
Poe, 5 vols.	$3.75
Reade, 12 vols.	$12
Ruskin, 13 vols.	$12.75
Scott, 12 vols.	$11.75
Shakespeare, 40 vols.	$10
Stevenson, 10 vols.	$8.75
Turgenieff, 10 vols.	$8.50
Thackeray, 10 vols.	$9.75

Bound in Half Calf

Balzac, 18 vols.	$18
Dickens, 15 vols.	$15
Eliot, 8 vols.	$12
Emerson, 5 vols.	$5
Kipling, 10 vols.	$10
Plato, 4 vols.	$4
Ruskin, 13 vols.	$19.50
Scott, 12 vols.	$18

Bound in Full Leather

Arabian Nights, 8 vols., published price $40; now	$12
Austen, 12 vols., 66 colored plates; published price $60; now	$18
De Maupassant, 10 vols.; published price $50; now	$15
Emerson, 5 vols.; published price $25; now	$7.50
Kipling, 10 vols.; published price $50; now	$15
Poe, 10 vols.; published price $50; now	$15
Stevenson, 10 vols.; published price $50; now	$15
Turgenieff, 7 vols.; published price $35; now	$10.50

Main Floor, Livingston Street.

History Making Event in Misses' Dresses

$20 to $30 Samples of Tailor Models at $9.75

Sizes 15, 16, 17 and 18 Years.

THESE ARE THE SAMPLES—the business-getters—of a famous New York maker of high grade garments for misses and "junior" girls.

They are made of the finest materials he handles, of first quality serges, broadcloths, gaberdines, poplins, etc. In some instances these are combined with satins.

They show the fashionable shades of navy, green, midnight, Ethiopian brown, tete-de-negre, black, etc.

The newest variants of the moyenage and basque themes, beautiful graceful lines, exquisite tailoring, the finest finishing and decoration.

Sizes for misses and juniors, 15, 16, 17 and 18 years. Real values, $20 to $30. The price, $9.75, probably the lowest ever quoted for Dresses of this quality. Just 78 of them, and no duplicates.

None will be sent C. O. D. None will be exchanged or credited.

Misses' $40 Suits, Three Models, $25

One of broadcloth has the short Russian belted back with plaited peplum, yoke front, wide collar of skunk fur.

Another, also of broadcloth, is a long Russian model, the coat skirts plaited at side, military collar of skunk fur.

The third, of fine broadcloth, is edged with skunk fur on the panel skirt of the coat and on the long panel tunic of the skirt, as well as upon collar and cuffs. A very handsome copy of an imported model.

Second Floor, Elm Place.

Ostrich Trimmed Velvet Hats

$3.50 to $5 for Values $7.50 to $12

EVERY MODEL of the many in this record special sale speaks of value.

The velvet is of good quality, the ostrich bands and plumes have wide flues, beautiful colorings, rich appearance.

The Hats are on the best lines of the season, reproducing the ideas of the best milliners of Paris. You will find medium and small shapes, those large and those close-fitting as you choose.

In black, sand and white trimmings, cunningly and artistically posed.

The woman fortunate in securing one of these will be pleased to find that every woman will estimate the cost to her at least double the small price she paid.

Girls' Hats, 25c. to $1.98

Those at 25c. are of felt or corduroy, smartly trimmed with bands and bows, suitable to give service for school wear all Winter.

At higher prices small, medium and large shapes, velvet, felt, etc., some of them trimmed with ribbons, some with fancy.

The Loeser Millinery Store gives especial attention to the needs of youthful faces, and, we are told, girls like Loeser Hats for their becomingness, while parents appreciate the low prices.

Dressy Hats for Girls and Misses, $4.98 to $12

Charmingly designed, trimmed in the best French manner, excellent and smart in every detail.

Scarcely a duplicate in the lot, and scarcely an equal anywhere in the city.

Second Floor, Elm Place.

30c. Corded Moire Ribbons, 15c.

A large stock, especially made for a South American merchant, an order countermanded because of difficulty in delivery.

A beautiful moire taffeta ribbon with white satin cord stripes in groups. In white, brown, old rose, pink, blue, red, maize, etc., and 4¾ inches wide.

Matching Ribbons, Hair Bow and Sash

55c. Jacquard Ribbons, 33c. These are the so-called five-inch Ribbons, measuring a trifle less. Exquisite patternings of rose and bow knots and of lace and starflowers upon moire grounds. All the pretty colors.

75c. Jacquard Ribbons, 49c. The same designs as those above, but very nearly seven inches wide; for sashes.

12c. Narrow Dresden Ribbons, 5c.

Inch wide, dark dresden patterns, with a fancy white satin cord edge. Lovely for fancy work.

55c. Satin Edge Moire Ribbons, 33c.
55c. Satin Edge Wide Dresden Ribbons, 39c.
30c. Moire, Satin or Taffeta Ribbons, 19c.

Main Floor, Bond Street.

A $6 Vacuum Sweeper Which Equals Any Sold at $10

EQUALS THEM SO EVIDENTLY that we are scarcely able to keep these new $6 Sweepers in stock.

They produce a strong suction, will gather up lint threads and other difficult-to-sweep trash, and are most compactly and durably made. The pans are easy to empty, the front is low and will go under furniture, the bearings are of fiber and very resistant to wear.

We have seen many Sweepers but none which does better work than this new style, although many are higher priced.

Basement.

Women's 35c. to $2 Silk Hose, 25c. to $1.40

35c. and 50c. Silk Hose at 25c. Black thread silk; also black, white and tan; full fashioned silk boot with lisle tops and soles.

85c. and $1 Silk Hose at 60c. Black, white, gray, smoke, navy, sky, red, purple, heliotrope, gold, green, maize, bronze, tan and pink thread silk with mercerized tops and soles.

$1.50 to $2 Silk Hose at $1.10. Black and white thread silk and most of the popular plain shades, with double silk tops and soles.

$2 Silk Hose at $1.40. Black heavy weight silk Hose with double silk tops and soles.

Main Floor.

Framed Carbonettes, 50c.

Marine and Landscape Subjects

On Special Main Floor Table

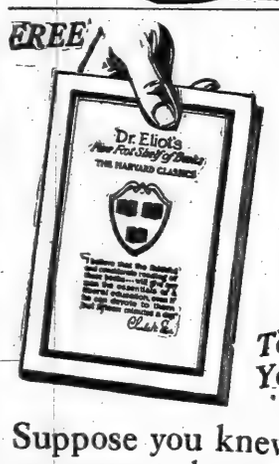
LITTLE THOUGH THE PRICE IS, you will find these Pictures in good taste and admirable. We provide them as today's main floor table feature.

In artistic one-inch antique gold frames with ornamented corners, finished with brown mat. Sizes 12x20 and 16x20 inches.

A pleasing variety of landscape and marine subjects. Upright and oblong style.

Main Floor Table.

FREE



To You

Suppose you knew you were to be cast on a lonely island—and would have to spend the rest of your life there.

What books would you take?

What few great histories, biographies, dramas, novels, poems, works of science and travel, philosophy and religion, are so good that they would never lose their interest—would have in themselves all the elements that make a satisfying, well-worded mental diet?

Dr. Charles W. Eliot, for forty years president of one of the world's greatest universities, from out of his sixty years of reading, study, and experience, has answered that question.

His answer is printed in a free booklet; ask for your copy; it tells the story of

The Harvard Classics
The Five-Foot Shelf of Books

Before you add another volume to your library, you should have this free booklet. Out of the millions of books that have been written, you should know what 418 Dr. Eliot considers most worth while—the 418 that best picture the progress of the human race from the earliest times down to the present day, through the writings of those who have made our civilization what it is.

Everything you want to know about the Five-Foot Shelf is in the free booklet. No obligations—merely clip the coupon.

N.Y.T.11-7-14.

Free Booklet Department
P. F. Collier & Son, 416 West 13th Street
New York City

You may send me the free booklet containing the story of the Famous Five-Foot Shelf of Books.

Name .....

Bus. Address .....

City ..... State .....

G. Lowes Dickinson

WHO WROTE "LETTERS FROM A CHINESE OFFICIAL"
Is the author of a remarkable new book,
APPEARANCES
In which he speaks without flattery of American life and characteristics. It is of dynamic power.
Net $1.00.
Doubleday, Page & Company.

She Has a German Husband

The Pastor's Wife
By the Author of "Elizabeth and Her German Garden."
The story of an Anglo-German domestic alliance that is a lingering delight. It is a satire that stands alone.
Net $1.35.
Doubleday, Page & Company.

The First Kipling Guide

Handbook to the Poetry of Rudyard Kipling
By Ralph Durand.
An authoritative guide prepared with the sanction of Mr. Rudyard Kipling. A book for every lover of R. K.
Net $2.00.
Doubleday, Page & Company.

GIANT SUBMARINE MARKS NAVAL EPOCH

New Craft Designed for Our Fleet May Revolutionize Warfare at Sea.

INTERESTS OTHER NATIONS

Naval Attaches, Diplomats, and Strategists at Washington Keenly Alive to Its Possibilities.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—There was keen interest in naval and diplomatic circles in Washington today in the exclusive announcement in a Washington dispatch printed in THE NEW YORK TIMES this morning announcing the completion of plans and specifications by the American Navy Department for a new type of war vessel to be technically designated a fleet submarine. The construction of this new and powerful vessel is a part of the Government's plan for increasing the general efficiency of the navy.

Official confirmation of every essential detail of the dispatch regarding the submarine was obtained today from Secretary Daniels and Rear Admiral Richard M. Watt, Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, under whose general direction the drawings for the new type of war craft were prepared. With the permission of Secretary Daniels, in response to inquiries from newspaper correspondents, Admiral Watt replied categorically to a series of questions which were based on the statements made in THE NEW YORK TIMES this morning, and in his responses, made in the presence of Secretary Daniels, Admiral Watt confirmed the published facts regarding the characteristics of the new submarine, as well as the fact that bids for its construction would be opened on Dec. 15.

Admiral Watt admitted that the fleet submarine would be a new type of war craft, that it would be double the size of any other submarine yet built or designed for the American Navy, that it would be a sea-keeping, fleet-going submarine of more than 20 knots speed, intended for offensive attack in contradistinction to the existing type of coast-going submarines, which are designed primarily for naval defense.

It was made plain by Admiral Watt that the feature of the specifications was not the mere size of the new fleet submarine, but the fact that it would provide for an entirely new type of naval war craft. It is designed to be the biggest and fastest under-water craft in the world, but the fact that it will be able to go anywhere the American battleship fleet goes, instead of hugging the coasts, that it may cross the Atlantic Ocean under its own power, something no other submarine has yet done, and can go to the middle of the Atlantic to attack an enemy's warships and still have the ability to return to its base on the American coastline, makes the proposed fleet submarine a radical departure in naval construction.

WILL Cost $1,250,000.

Congress has appropriated $4,460,000 for the construction of eight or more new submarines, of which one will be of this new type. After subtracting $1,250,000, the estimated cost of the fleet submarine, the navy will have about $3,210,000 with which to build the other seven or eight coast defense submarines which Congress authorized when it quietly provided funds for this new type of craft. This means that the other seven or eight submarines for which bids will be opened on Dec. 15 will cost about $450,000 each, and a comparison of this with the sum of $1,250,000 that is to be spent in building the monster new submarine is of itself evidence that the new vessel will be fully double the size of the old ones.

The announcement attracted particular attention among members of the Diplomatic Corps, and especially engaged the attention of Naval and Military Attachés of foreign Governments. There was much speculation among them regarding the plans for machinery and for armament for the new submarine. The details of the plans and specifications will be kept secret by the Navy Department, and the most rigid secrecy will be preserved at the yard where the new ship will be built.

The American Navy has never attempted to send a submarine across the Atlantic Ocean under its own power, and would not dream of sending the coast defense submarine from an American port to the Philippines. The few submarines in the Philippines were transported there on the decks of warships. Nor has any foreign power sent any of its submarines across any of the big oceans. The fact is that no submarine ever has crossed the Atlantic or Pacific except on the deck of another ship, and none is in existence that would be risked on such a voyage.

May Cross Any Ocean.

The fleet submarine will be expected to go wherever the battleship fleet may go; to cover as much distance as a dreadnought, and maintain the same speed as a heavy battleship. It will be expected to go from New York to Liverpool or to Gibraltar under its own power. Under forced draught our battleship fleet is expected to make 20 or 21 nautical miles an hour. Unless a submarine were able to do the same thing it could not accompany a fleet, because the speed of a fleet is determined by the speed of its slowest unit. Our present submarines make 11 knots on the surface.

The German U-9 displaces about 250 tons, and 600 tons is about the limit of size necessary for coast defense submarines. The new fleet submarine will displace 1,200 tons and will be six times the size of the German U-9. The mission of the fleet submarine will be primarily to attack the enemy's battleships of the first line on the high seas. It may either be sent out to the far reaches of the ocean alone to search for dreadnoughts and sink them, or it may be sent out with a battleship fleet to aid in destroying the enemy's dreadnoughts.

What the influence of the complete success of a fleet submarine, highly developed and built in large numbers for offensive attacks will be upon the future of the dreadnought and superdreadnought is as yet problematical, but it is bound to exert a marked influence upon the use if not upon the design of the future battleships.

STARVING MAN GETS WORK.

Frank Schwarzer Takes His Choice from Three Jobs.

Three jobs were ready yesterday for Frank Schwarzer, who nearly starved to death on Fifth Avenue the other day, as told in THE NEW YORK TIMES. Besides the one that was to be given to him at the Claridge, another was open at the McAlpin, and a third at the Astor. Schwarzer heard about the Astor job first, and immediately presented himself at the steward's office, and went to work.

Later in the day a woman who said she had come from the same town as Schwarzer telephoned to the Claridge to say that she had read the story in THE TIMES, and that she would be very glad to give him assistance. Schwarzer lost no time in writing a grateful letter to the woman who had befriended him the day before.

NEW DIPLOMATIC WAR JOBS.

Additional Secretaries to Take Care of Added Embassy Duties.

The United States diplomatic service now carries what have been called "Additional Secretaries." They have been developed out of the exigencies of the European war, which not only gave the embassies and legations a lot of extra work handling American refugees but the care of the affairs of belligerents.

Sam B. Trissell, who used to be a war correspondent in Siberia and an editor in Manila, and later an editor in Porto Rico, has become one of these additional secretaries in London. He is leaving today for his post. Mr. Trissell said he had heard that three additional secretaries would be sent to Petrograd soon.

CHARGES BANKERS INFLATED ASSETS

Special District Attorney, in Kobre Cases, Says False Value Was Put on Real Estate.

MEN INDICTED SURRENDER

State Alleges Defendants Dumped More Than a Million Dollars Into Wall Street.

Max Kobre of 115 West 122d Street, head of an east side private banking house which was recently taken over by the State Banking Department; David E. Singer of 1,890 Seventh Avenue, Kobre's son-in-law, and Moses Ginsberg of Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn, a partner of Kobre's, surrendered to Detective Bernard Flood of the District Attorney's office yesterday on indictments which were filed on Wednesday by the September Grand Jury.

The inquiry into the five banks, which resulted in the filing of twenty indictments, disclosed that one of the bankers dumped $600,000 in Wall Street and another one more than $500,000. The favorite way of the bankers to cover up alleged deficits, Mr. Dushkind, Special Assistant District Attorney, said, was to jack up the values of real estate holdings. He says a farm that was purchased for $16,000 was placed on the books at a valuation of $195,000.

"In another case," Mr. Dushkind said, "the banker, knowing that he would soon have to apply for a license under the new banking law, and not having enough real estate to inflate, purchased a number of vacant lots in June and July for $300,000 and valued them at $700,000."

The charges on which the indictments were filed against Kobre and Ginsberg related to the receiving of deposits when they knew that the bank was insolvent. There were three indictments against Kobre on that charge and four against Ginsberg. Kobre was also indicted for forgery in the third degree for altering the books of the bank. Singer was indicted for a misdemeanor for "knowingly receiving property to defraud creditors."

Judge Mulqueen said that he thought the offenses demanded high bail, and fixed Kobre's at $50,000 and Singer's at $20,000. Later Martin W. Littleton, counsel for the defendants, submitted an affidavit stating that the bankers' money was in the hands of the State and asserting that they would be dependent on the charity of friends for the bail money. Judge Mulqueen then reduced the bail to one-half in each case. Ginsberg was arraigned later and was held in $15,000. All of the men furnished bail.

"The State penal laws are entirely inadequate to deal with such cases," Mr. Dushkind said yesterday. "These people are all in the bankruptcy court now, and I intend to place before the Federal authorities considerable information that I collected in the course of the investigations. These may result not only in the recovery of considerable assets but in the punishment of these offenders under the Federal law."

Eaton, Jewel Thief, Pleads Guilty.

Herbert J. Eaton of 610 West 178th Street, who was shot on Sept. 30 while attempting to escape from detectives who arrested him on a charge of stealing jewels from Mrs. Arthur Pike of 640 Riverside Drive, pleaded guilty yesterday before Judge Mulqueen in General Sessions to the theft of $13,000 worth of jewels from Marie A. L. Kohn of Sheepshead Bay. He will be sentenced on Friday.

FIVE LAWYERS DISCIPLINED.

Court Disbars One, Suspends Two, and Censures Two.

The Appellate Division yesterday disciplined five attorneys, one of whom is Clarence F. Birdseye, author of many authoritative books on law, who was suspended from practice for one year for failing to keep his own funds separate from money collected for clients. Mr. Birdseye maintained that he was entitled to keep in bulk all collections until his contract was fulfilled with his clients, when he was to take out 10 per cent. as fees. The Appellate Court decided that he had no right to retain more than his fee. Mr. Birdseye has been a practicing lawyer for thirty-seven years.

Harry J. Nichols was disbarred for pretending to have sent a letter and check to a client. Nathan Kopf was suspended for one year for aiding a bankrupt to dispose of property fraudulently and endeavoring to hide it from creditors. Abraham G. Lampke was censured "for his unbusinesslike methods." Charles H. Stoddard was censured for making affidavits that "concealed pertinent facts."

NO JOB FOR HENNESSY.

Denies That He Is Slated for a Place Under Whitman.

John A. Hennessy yesterday added his own denial of the report that he was slated for a job under the Whitman Administration to that of the Governor-elect. The post-election gossip has had it that Mr. Hennessy would be State Highway Commissioner, superseding John N. Carlisle, or that he would serve Mr. Whitman in the wholesale investigation of State departments the Governor-elect is said to contemplate.

"There is no truth in these statements," said Mr. Hennessy yesterday. "Mr. Whitman will have my cordial support and that of many thousands of Democrats who prefer good government by the Republican Party to bad government by their own.

"Mr. Whitman, however, should, and undoubtedly will, give a straight-out Republican Administration and have direct party responsibility. Nowhere is party responsibility more necessary than in the Department of Highways, which is now completely broken down."

PLANET CROSSES SUN TODAY

Mercury's Journey May Be Observed with Aid of Smoked Glasses.

The planet Mercury will make its journey across the face of the sun this morning. It will be invisible to the naked eye, but with smoked glasses an observer will be able to discern from sunrise on a small speck making its way so slowly across the lower part of the sun that its progress is almost imperceptible.

The transit of Mercury takes four hours. The planet will be speeding at the rate of 1,775 miles an hour. Against the background of the sun, however, the diameter of which is 866,000 miles, the planet's speed does not make much of a showing. The distance between the Sun and Mercury will be about 36,000,000 miles.

Mercury is one of the three bodies which can make a transit of the sun, the other two being the moon and the planet Venus. Usually both Mercury and Venus pass above or below a line between the earth and the sun, and thus avoid making a transit. The intervals between transits are unequal. Venus made a transit in 1874, and again in 1882, but its next transits will not take place until 2004 and 2012.

The transits of Mercury are more frequent, however, averaging about thirteen every century, occurring at intervals of from three and a half to a dozen years. The crossing this morning will be visible from this part of the world.

SAYS HE DESERVED TO DIE.

Louisa Magalusio Pleads Not Guilty to Murder Charge.

When Louisa Magalusio, 18 years old, was arriagned yesterday before Judge Mulqueen in General Sessions to plead to an indictment charging her with the murder of Giuseppe Marino in an East Thirteenth Street tenement on April 19, she smiled and said: "Not guilty. He deserved to die."

Following the discovery of Marino's body, William Flack confessed that he de did the killing. Then the girl came forward and said that Flack's confession was untrue and that she alone did the killing. She said that she hardly knew Flack, and told Assistant District Attorney Breckinridge that Marino tried to kill her and she shot him.

COMMISSIONER SMITH WINS.

Threatens to Resign if Budget Reduction is Upheld.

Dock Commissioner R. A. C. Smith, it was learned yesterday, threatened to resign unless the amount cut from his budget application by the sub-committee of the Board of Estimate was replaced by the full board. The reduction would have meant the discharging of 750 men. The Commissioner was appeased by the board agreeing to add enough money to his estimate to give the men half time at least. The amount added was about $173,000.

It was also discovered yesterday that the sub-committee raised the salaries of George L. Tirrell and Tilden Adamson. The former is Director of the Bureau of Standards and the latter of the Bureau of Contract Supervision in the Board of Estimate, two places created since Mayor Mitchel assumed office. Both now receive $6,000 a year, and if the raise is not cut out by the Board of Aldermen they will get $7,500 a year each, the same amount received by department heads.

It was said that the Aldermen probably would cut this raise in salary, although it was allowed by the full Board of Estimate. The Mayor has called a special meeting of the board for half an hour before the regular session next Tuesday, so that the Aldermen can receive the budget and act on it.

$3 ROUND TRIP TO WASHINGTON

SPECIAL EXCURSION
NEXT SUNDAY
VIA ROYAL BLUE LINE
New Jersey Central, Reading & Baltimore & Ohio R. R's.

A rare opportunity to visit the national capital with its wonderful attractions.

Next SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 8th
Also Sunday, Nov. 22d.

Leave W. 23d St., 11:50 P. M.; Liberty St. 12:01 Midnight Saturday nights.

Tickets on sale week in advance at Liberty St., W. 23d St. and Jersey City Terminals; 245, 370, 1276, 1440 and 2081 Broadway; 7 Cortlandt St., N. Y.; 4 and 34 Court St., Brooklyn.

The circulation of The New York Times exceeds 275,000, both daily and Sunday. This is not an average but a net paid circulation every day and every Sunday. —Advt.

To Be Published Immediately

Treitschke

12o Cloth $1.50

Treitschke's own writings, (translated from the German,) in which his Pan-Germanic doctrine is amply evidenced. This volume shows how the premier German historian marshalled his forces to perpetuate his all-German ideas, and how the present teutonic "kultur" has its roots deep in the past.

Partial contents: The Army—International Law—German Colonization—The Two Emperors—In Memory of the Great War—Germany and Neutral States—Austria and Germany—German View of Russia—On Liberty. Life of Treitschke by his intimate friend Hausrath.

Lord Acton pronounced Treitschke to be "the one writer of history who is more brilliant and powerful than Droysen." "He writes," he continues, "with the force and fire of Mommsen. He accounts for the motives that stir a nation, as well as for the councils that govern it."

New York G. P. Putnam's Sons London

B. Altman & Co.

will continue this day (Saturday)

A Sale of Men's Overcoats in semi-fitting and full box back models, made of vicunas, meltons, kerseys and fancy cheviots, some with velvet collar and full silk lining, others having self collar and silk-lined yoke and sleeves,

at $18.50

Also a Sale of Boy's Clothing

at special prices.

Junior Overcoats, sizes 3 to 9 years, at $7.50

Ulsters and Raglan Overcoats, sizes 10 to 18 years . . . . . at $10.50

Sweaters with shawl collar; in navy blue, gray and maroon . . . . at $1.75

Negligee Shirts and Blouses
each . . 65c. per half dozen, $3.50

Silk Four-in-hand Scarfs . . at 25c.

Pajamas of outing flannel . per suit 65c.

Children's Imported Gloves

smartly made, of good qualities, attractively priced.

Tan Walking Gloves . . . per pair 85c.

Tan Cape Gloves, seamless wool-lined, per pair $1.25

Fifth Avenue-Madison Avenue
34th and 35th Streets New York

THE WONDERFUL ROMANCE

By Pierre de Coulevain

By the Author of "On the Branch"

This is a time when we want a book to remind us that there is still much good in the world; that beauty may be concealed but cannot be destroyed; that happiness may be hidden but cannot be lost; that there is a possible smile behind the bitterest tears. Here is such a book.

47 Editions of "Th Wonderful Romance" have already been printed in France, wher it far exceeds in popularity any of the author's former books. Price, $1.35 net.

Just Published
Dodd, Mead & Company,
New York

Harold Bell Wright has written an unusual story, says The Portland Oregonian. It is that rare event, a pure love story. The Birmingham Age-Herald says there is not one dull page in it. The San Francisco Chronicle says it is full of keen interest. The Grand Rapids Herald says it is the most intense and dramatic novel of today.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Beyond a doubt, says The Kansas City Star, the author has written a book that will rank with "The Shepherd of the Hills" and "The Winning of Barbara Worth." The Albany Argus says Mr. Wright's latest novel is far ahead of any previous one. The Terre Haute Star says it represents the best of the new order of fiction that has marked all of Mr. Wright's novels.

Illustrations in Colors $1.35 At All Bookstores
The Book Supply Company, Chicago

Lord & Taylor

Fifth Avenue, 38th Street, 39th Street

Artistic Piano Music

is always dependent upon the full resonance and thorough artistry of the piano, whether the playing be accomplished by the hands or auto-pneumatically.

Chickering Player Pianos are first, Chickering Pianos, with all the tone beauty and artistic resource the name Chickering implies.

Three models of player pianos, beginning at least abreast, and carrying two important steps in advance of the day's development.

Chickering Player Pianos

De Luxe Style, $800-850
Chickering Flexotone, $900 Chickering Ampico, $1,200

Other Player Pianos whose makers provide the same degree of excellence throughout which has given distinction to the pianos themselves.

VOSE
BRAMBACH BABY GRAND MARSHALL & WENDELL VANDERVOORT
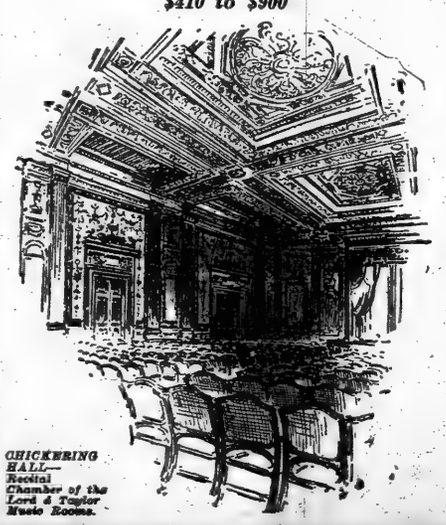
$410 to $900



CHICKERING HALL—Recital Chamber of the Lord & Taylor Music Rooms.

Chickering Hall

Saturday, Nov. 7. at 3 P. M.

SOLOISTS

Miss Ruth Harris.....Soprano
Mr. Edmund A. Jahn.....Bass
Mr. Homer E. Williams at the Chickering Player Piano.

PROGRAM

1. (a) Faust Selection.....Gounod
   (b) Second Mazurka.....Godard
   Mr. Williams
   with the aid of Chickering Player Piano.
2. Confutatis Maledictis (Requiem).....Verdi
   Mr. Jahn
3. (a) To Spring.....Grieg
   Welte-Mignon
   As played by Raoul Pugno.
   (b) Rondo Capriccioso.....Mendelssohn
   Welte-Mignon
   As played by Josef Hofmann.
4. Chanson Provencale.....Dell' Acqua
   Miss Harris.
5. Player Piano—Selected.
6. (a) Feldeinsamkeit.....Brahms
   (b) Lungi Dal caro bene.....Secchi
   Mr. Jahn.
7. Rigoletto Paraphrase.....Verdi-Liszt
   Welte-Mignon
   As played by Ferruccio Busoni.
8. (a) The Lass With the Delicate Air...Dr. Arne
   (b) Down in the Forest.....Ronald
   Miss Harris.
9. Marche Militaire.....Schubert-Tausig
   Mr. Williams,
   with aid of Chickering Player Piano.
10. The Passage Birds' Farewell.....Hildach
    Miss Harris and Mr. Jahn.

ADMISSION CARDS WITHOUT CHARGE APPLY AT CHICKERING HALL.

MUSIC ROOMS, SEVENTH FLOOR

Books You Will Want to Know

RECOLLECTIONS OF FULL YEARS By Mrs. William H. Taft.
Most entertaining reminiscences of official life and the inner side of official life, in the Philippines, at Washington, and in the White House, by the wife of one of our most distinguished Americans. Illustrated. $3.50 net.

THE CHARM OF IRELAND By Burton E. Stevenson.
A chatty, intimate and veracious account of a recent devious journey through Ireland which makes a charming book and gives a clear picture of modern Ireland and the Irish. With many illustrations. $2.50 net.

GERMANY'S MADNESS By Dr. Emil Reich.
A revelation, by Prof. Reich, late of the University of Vienna, of the processes by which many Germans have come to the belief that it is Germany's destiny to rule the world. $1.00 net.

ODDSFISH! By Robert Hugh Benson.
A graphic picture and a stirring story of the time of Charles II, written in the late Mgr. Benson's brilliant, fervent style. $1.35 net.

CUBA, PAST AND PRESENT
PORTO RICO, PAST AND PRESENT, AND SAN DOMINGO OF TODAY } By A. Hyatt Verrill
Two practical, up-to-date, indispensable guide books. Illustrated. Each, $1.25 net.

Just Published. For Sale at All Bookstores.

Publishers DODD, MEAD & COMPANY New York

"And So They Were Married"

A Comedy of the New Woman
By JESSE LYNCH WILLIAMS

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE:
"An immense amount of cleverness has gone to the writing of Mr. Williams's comedy. Its dialogue sparkles and has point; its situations are ingeniously contrived. . . . It furnishes capital reading."

THE NEW YORK WORLD:
"The most agreeable and wholesome of recent written offerings on the marriage problem."

THE PHILADELPHIA RECORD:
"Mr. Williams has a trenchent style and he has a definite purpose which he seems definitely to have achieved."

$1.25 net; postage extra.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS

The New Novel by HENRY BORDEAUX
Translated from the 95th French edition,
The Awakening
A vivid analysis of human passions and of the spirit which ennobles life.
By the same Author:— The Fear of Living
Translated from the 74th French edition. Reprinted in English eight times.
Each, $1.35 net.

The Ego Book
By VANCE THOMPSON
Are you on good terms with your Ego? Your happiness at breakfast and in the hereafter depend—not on your bank roll or Luck or Fate—but on the care you take of that Ego.
Cloth, $1 net.

At All Bookstores

E. P. DUTTON & CO., Publishers 681 Fifth Ave., N. Y.

The New York Times.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

ADOLPH S. OCHS, Publisher and President.
S. C. Franck, Secretary.

Address all communications
THE NEW YORK TIMES,
Telephone 1000 Bryant.

Publication Office.....Times Square
Times Annex...43d St., west of Broadway
Downtown.....15 Beekman Street
Wall Street.....2 Rector Street
Harlem.....263 West 125th Street
Bronx.....149th St. and Bergen Av.
Staten Island....Ferry House, St. George
Jersey City.....588 Jersey Avenue
Long Island City....363 Jackson Avenue
Hoboken.....64 Second Street
Paterson.....13 Park Avenue
Elizabeth.....90 Broad Street
WASHINGTON.....Post Building
PHILADELPHIA.....Public Ledger Building
CHICAGO.....1,202 Tribune Building
St. Louis.....406 Globe-Democrat Building
DETROIT.....906 Ford Building
LONDON.....2 Pall Mall East, S. W.
PARIS.....32 Rue Louis le Grand

ONE CENT Greater New York, Jersey City, Newark, Elsewhere Two Cents. Five Cents Sunday.

Subscription Rates:

DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year.....$8.50
Per Month, 75c.
DAILY, without Sunday, per Year..... 6.00
Per Month, 50c.
SUNDAY, with Picture Section and Review of Books, per Year..... 2.50
Canada, Sunday only..... 5.00
Postage free in United States, Canada, Mexico, Panama, Canal Zone, Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, Philippines, Guam, Samoa, Shanghai.

All other countries, (postage included.)
Daily and Sunday, per Year.....$24.00
Per Month, $2.
Daily, without Sunday, per Year... 15.60
Per Month, $1.30.
Sunday only, per Year..... 8.40
Per Month, 70c.

THE ANNALIST, (Mondays,) per Year.. 4.00
Canada, $5; other countries, $6.50.
THE NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW, per Year..... 1.00
Canada, $1.50; other countries, $2.
THE NEW YORK TIMES MID-WEEK PICTORIAL WAR EXTRA, (Thursdays) per Year, $5; Six Months, $2.50; Three Months, $1.25; Single Copies, 10c.
Canada, one year, $6; other countries, one year, $6.50.
THE NEW YORK TIMES INDEX, Quarterly—Full Cloth, per Year, $8; per Copy, $2.

Entered as second-class mail matter.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, NOV. 7, 1914.

MISTAKEN KINDNESS.

The schoolboy who panoplies his person with newspapers feels not the rod of the master, but the value of the chastening lies in the smart. Injudicious friends of the Democratic Administration and the Democratic Party, though they could not avert the blows that fell on Tuesday, are now busily applying soothing lotions to the cuts and welts, insomuch that the patient, already smiling, is well-nigh persuaded that the lash of popular reproof "never touched him." We would not for the world rub any salt into the all too visible lacerations, but it would be a mistaken kindness to let the victim of the drubbing go about his concerns under the impression that what he really received was a reward of merit. That is what some of the members of the Administration at Washington are saying—that the Democrats won a great victory in the election. They and those who would aid and abet them in that contention insist that it was a victory because, while many Presidents have lost the House of Representatives in the second year of their term, Mr. WILSON'S party still retains control in the lower house.

A little attention to the statistics of party representation in the House will correct this erroneous impression. The misfortune that in the second year of their term befell two Republican Presidents, HARRISON and TAFT, has been chosen for contrast with the good luck of Mr. WILSON. In the little table here printed we show the political composition of the House, representation other than that of the two great parties being disregarded, in the first year and in the third year of the Administrations of Mr. HARRISON, Mr. TAFT, and Mr. WILSON, respectively, in each case the changes being those accomplished in the Congressional election in the second year:

Congress.	Republicans.	Democrats.	Majority.
HARRISON.
Fifty-first	169	161	8R.
Fifty-second	87	237	150D.
TAFT.
Sixty-first	219	172	47R.
Sixty-second	162	227	65D.
WILSON.
Sixty-third	127	290	163D.
Sixty-fourth	200	227	27D.

It is true that Mr. WILSON has saved his House majority, while both Mr. HARRISON and Mr. TAFT lost theirs. But what was the saving force in the election just held? The figures make it as plain as noonday that nothing but the unconscionable Democratic majority of 163 over the Republicans in the Sixty-third Congress has saved the Democrats from the disaster and humiliation of becoming a minority party in that body. The Democrats owed this majority to the activity of the Progressives in 1912. The Opposition vote was divided between Republicans and Progressives, and there were 18 Progressives elected. Even though the Republicans are this year united, the allurement of a Roosevelt campaign being lacking, they could not altogether overcome the great Democratic majority. But the Opposition gain was 73 Congressmen in the elections this year. Such an Opposition increase in 1890 and in 1910 would have been more than ample to deprive the Harrison and the Taft Administrations of their support in the House. The Democratic majority this year was saved by its bigness, not by the virtue of party. Probably the majority would have disappeared altogether if the country's lack of confidence in Congress had extended to the President. In him as a guiding and controlling force the country certainly puts great trust.

But it is futile, it is almost wicked, to attempt to persuade the Democratic Party that it has not received a stern warning. The country has taken note of the shameless extravagance of the Democrats, who, forgetting their preaching and their professions about economy, have shoveled out the Treasury funds so lavishly that new taxes have been levied, taxes that might have been spared to the people but for the wastefulness of Congress. The country no longer demands that every day a corporation shall be tortured at the stake for its delectation. Business has been demoralized and industry impoverished by too long indulgence in that pastime, and the people no longer have a taste for it. Quite the contrary. But Congress has fashioned new fetters for business, and its talk has been so much worse than its acts that Tuesday's vote would have been one of want of confidence but for the party's great majority in the House, due to the accidents of 1912.

The Democratic Party is not yet on its good behavior. It will never learn the lesson of correct behavior if its foolish apologists persist in their effort to prove that the vote cast on Tuesday was one of comprehensive sanction and approval. Deluded by these extenuations of adversity, the Democracy may make such a blundering and fatal use of its respite that the year 1916 will cast it out altogether.

OUR NEW SUBMARINE.

A submarine nearly twice the size of the best now in our navy, with a speed under water three times greater, and the swiftness and capacity on the surface of the largest destroyer, will be a most welcome addition to our water defenses. The efficiency in war of submarines is no longer a matter of doubt, and the recent marine operations in European waters have tended to justify the opinion of many naval experts that the submarine boats of this type are to be more useful in warfare than the dreadnought. The Naval Appropriations bill passed in the last session of Congress, as announced in the Washington dispatches of THE TIMES yesterday, authorized the construction of eight new submarines, including "a fleet submarine of not less than twenty knots speed." The designs and specifications for this new engine of war have been completed. It will be 800 feet long, with a displacement of 1,200 tons, and will be able to accompany a battleship fleet wherever it goes. There could be no more gratifying navy news than this.

The submarine boat for naval use is practically an American invention. J. P. HOLLAND'S model, upon which the first of this sort was built here in 1877, was a development of the earlier designs of BUSHNELL and FULTON, but European navies have thus far paid more attention to the construction of submarines than our own. We have fifty now while England undoubtedly has more than the eighty-five credited to her in the naval statistics of last year, and France must have been increasing her fleet of ninety. How many Germany has is purely a matter of conjecture, but the work of destruction thus far accomplished by her submarines constitutes one of the many marvels of this war. If our own "fleet submarine" equals expectations we should spare no pains to strengthen the offensive power of our navy with more boats of that class.

THE FULL CREW LAW IN POLITICS

The Missouri referendum upon the full crew law is the second best thing which could have happened. The first best thing would have been for the voters to have elected the sort of Legislature which neither could nor would pass a law necessitating its veto at the polls. The one thing about the referendum above criticism is that it cannot be misunderstood or misrepresented. The issue presented was so naked and so clear that the vote of three to one in the negative speaks for itself. The result in this State was equally decisive, but the issue was so entangled with other issues that the lesson is obscure. Yet it cannot be without significance that Mr. WHITMAN had no record upon legislation of that sort, and that both his opponents had a record which entitled them to defeat on that issue.

Mr. SULZER boasted that he signed the New York full crew law, and Mr. GLYNN made the claim that SULZER could not have signed it unless it had been first signed by him. Evidently both thought the signature of that sort of law was an asset with the sort of voters to whom they appealed. But the result in New York as well as in Missouri discloses that even the total labor vote is a debit when it is obtained at the cost of repelling voters tenfold as numerous whose interests are antagonized by such class legislation. The Missouri full crew law was rejected because it was perceived that the employment of every unnecessary man by compulsion of law was the same thing as taking away an equal number of jobs from necessary men. Yesterday the Secretary of the Central Federated Union declared that the labor vote was loyal to Mr. GLYNN. Said he:

> As to the support of Gov. GLYNN by the labor unions, I believe that when the vote comes to be analyzed it will show that organized labor, at least, was true to its pledge to support the Governor and that the vote of the labor unions was overwhelmingly for him.

Today Mr. GLYNN and the unions alike perceive that the labor vote is worse than worthless if it is obtained at the cost of alienating the sentiment opposed to such legislation as both Mr. SULZER and Mr. GLYNN approved. It is not to be forgotten that New York has a full crew law record as well as Missouri. New York started where Missouri ended. Govs. HUGHES and DIX vetoed the law before it came to Mr. SULZER and Mr. GLYNN for their signatures. The vices of the proposal were as clear then as now. It was only by persistency on the one hand and demagogy on the other that the law was finally passed, and now recoils upon those who were accomplices in the degradation of legislation to class interests.

It is waste of time to flog a dead horse, but this issue is far from dead. It embodies the spirit of both the anti-capitalistic legislation and the false humanism of the so-called "social justice" movement. It cannot be said to have run its course because one State has rejected it. To understand it is necessary to have some knowledge of the manner in which such laws are passed. Labor is not allowed to speak its honest opinion about it. Yet labor is so opposed to such laws that union discipline is necessary to prevent their defeat by labor's disgust. For example, the full crew laws have been passed mainly by the activity of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. The opposition of its membership was so pronounced that it was necessary to pass a resolution forbidding members to sign petitions against labor legislation, and also forbidding them to "interfere with the "work of their legislative representa-"tives without violating the law of "the brotherhood, which would mean "expulsion for the offending party."

That is the way to secure legislation unfit to be passed. It is not the way to get the confidence of the voters, or to give labor legislation a high place in the esteem of non-unionists, who are nine-tenths of the people. It is only in such ways that it was possible to enact this law in Massachusetts, for example. It was pressed through ten years of effort, and finally was passed over the adverse report of the Railway Commission, and vetoed by Gov. Foss. There have been eight full crew laws before Congress, but as yet none has run the gauntlet. The repeal of the full crew laws in the score of States which have passed them would be almost as good as an advance of rates confined to those States. The repeal of all the anti-railway laws in all the States would be better than the advance of rates upon which so much is thought to depend. Yet not one word has come from the Interstate Commerce Commission on the subject. The Commission has an eye solely for the reduction of rates, and thinks not at all of reducing costs. Yet the reduction of costs and the reduction of rates must proceed together. The Supreme Court, for all its dignity, reversed itself in time. Can it be possible that the Commission is less accessible to popular opinion than the Supreme Court?

TOO MANY LEADERS.

None of the Mexican patriots seems to think as much of his country as of himself. The perpetual war of personalities goes on while the people suffer. In four years DIAZ and his nephew, MADERO, REYES, OROZCO, HUERTA, and many others have been eliminated, one way or another, but the dispute is still about men. CARRANZA wants to rule, not to secure peace to Mexico; VILLA will retire, or says he will, if CARRANZA will do likewise; the personal pretensions of ZAPATA, OBREGON, ANGELES, and others are in the way of a sensible settlement of the national problems, and that is merely a repetition of Mexico's old trouble.

The will of the people, or of any part of the people, is never taken into consideration. There are too many leaders every time there is a political overturn, and they all want to rule. That might happen in any country, but in most the peoples have learned that the good of all is superior to the desires of a few. Until Mexico comprehends the idea of a republic, or until some man of unquestioned authority gets hold of the reins of government, the trouble must continue. There is no big man, no military or executive genius, now in sight. Wherefore, there could be no better time than this for the establishment of a real republic if the few men whom circumstances have placed in the limelight would stop squabbling.

THE CITY BUDGET FOR 1915.

Elsewhere upon this page will be found an analysis of the increase in the city's next budget, and a reference to its causes. The actual increase is a little over 3 per cent. It may be said that is 3 per cent. too much. Even so, it is about half the average increase over the last dozen years, and about a quarter of the increase of 1907. That is not a bad record in itself, and it appears better upon tracing the causes of the increase, such as it is. The "net city expenses"—that is city expenditures other than debt service less the deficiency in taxes—actually shows a decrease of $422,468, which comes pretty near a miracle.

It is not a miracle because it is possible to explain it. This year the city budget has the help of relief from the State tax and rents to a total of $4,437,832, which is not fairly a credit to the city administration. And the cost of the city's expensive foreign borrowings—$3,000,000—is a deduction from economies which otherwise would be larger. It is buried in "debt service," but it will not appear again, and will be a relief to the next budget in the same hidden manner as relief from the State tax is a relief this year. Altogether the showing is creditable. The efforts to keep down the budget have been great and successful in considerable degree compared with other years. Yet the budget ever grows.

There is a superfluity of reasons why the budget is uncontrollable. All are undeniable. There is nothing wrong with them, except that they come from the men intrusted with a mandate to find ways and means to control the conditions to which they surrender. There is no disposition to underrate the difficulties which confront them. The mandate was given them upon the argument that the city's growing needs could be provided for by economy and efficiency. There is reason to believe that there is an improvement in those respects, but if so there has been greater extravagance than the figures indicate. It is quite true that the city's business is like a railway's, in that it must go on in good and bad times alike. No fault is to be found with reasons like these. What is wanted is reasons of a different sort, and proposals to make the reasons which are good this year unnecessary hereafter.

There are some suggestions of this character, but they do not come in the quantity or with the enthusiasm expected from those elected upon that platform. Excuses for this year are no substitute for action another year. This year is the year to expect and to make them, because it is the year of the Constitutional Convention, which might be looked to for what the Legislature has denied. From the Legislature the city has received the equal pay law, the prevailing rate of wages law, and other similar orders to spend money, given by those who do not pay the taxes. The city suffers also from special as well as general laws. For example, of the county salaries 78 per cent. are mandatory; the city is allowed to use discretion in 22 per cent. That is a mockery of Home Rule. If this year's budget is condoned it should be upon the distinct understanding that the reduction of the budget next year is to start from those who make it, not from outsiders whom it is so easy to put in the wrong on details.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

"Twilight Sleep" Once More: Long and careful search through the literature of medicine would not reveal many articles on a medical subject better in any way than is one contributed by MARY BOYD, a "layman," to the current issue of The Survey. Its title is "The Story of Dämmerschlaf," and it is admirable alike for its style, which is concise, simple, and vigorous; for its tone, which is that of reason and moderation, and for the conviction which its assemblage and presentation of facts must carry to every unprejudiced and disinterested mind.

Attentive reading of this article is especially commended to those American doctors in and out of the editorial rooms of medical journals who have widely promulgated certainly false and probably libelous statements to the effect that the "exploitation" which the "twilight sleep" has received was planned and executed to put money in the pockets of two obscure German physicians who were using an anaesthetic long since tested and discarded by many eminent members of the medical profession. As a matter of fact, the heads of the Freiburg Frauenklinik were wholly innocent of instigating the "advertisement" they have received. So scrupulous, indeed, were they in adhesion to the so-called ethics of their profession that, to the full extent of their ability, they discouraged and opposed the activities of the little group of American women who, having themselves learned, partly by experience and partly by prolonged observation, the value of the "twilight sleep," were determined that their sisters throughout the world, if they could accomplish it, should become equally well informed.

To "medical ethics," as applied in such a case, Mrs. BOYD and her associates were fortunately quite indifferent, as they were to Berlin's jealous antagonism to any discovery made in Baden, and as they were to the fact that the "twilight sleep" saves women from their immemorial tortures only by making doctors learn a new, delicate, and time-consuming technique. The reward of these women has been fierce and reckless denunciation by "authority," but their purpose is already in some considerable measure achieved.

Psychology Applied to Typography. What are called "typographical errors," besides being the pest and humiliation of both journalism and the wider domain of which journalism is a humble but not unimportant part, also have a psychological interest that only recently has been realized. Every one of them, it is now known, is significant of a discoverable something as to the functioning or condition of its maker's mind. Not infrequently, of course, they are the results of mere carelessness or incompetence, but, as is the case with slips of the tongue and pen, they often reveal to the amateur psychanalyst, and still oftener to the experienced one, a desire or intention which may or may not have been known to the blunderer himself.

Whoever wishes to experiment in this interesting and not unfruitful domain might try his hand at elucidating a truly queer typographical error which appeared on this page yesterday. It was in the reproduction of four lines from another paper that formed the beginning of one of our editorial articles. The "copy"—good clear print, by the way—read: "The Full Crew bill was decisively defeated by 3 to 1." It appeared in THE TIMES: "The Full Crew bill was decisively defeated by 3,101"—which, for the writer of the article, was exasperating, as well as wrong, particularly as the next sentence of the quotation disclosed the error by saying: "In St. Louis the vote stood 64,517 nay, to 49,931 yea."

Why and how the "3 to 1" changed to "3,101" is not very hard to guess, but more difficult of explanation was the recent substitution of the word "caribou" for "carbon" in a TIMES review of a scientific book on the elements that enter into the composition of living beings, and much more amusing, certainly, was what is perhaps the most famous of typographical errors—the one that turned "the Great I Am" into "the Great 9 A. M."

No psychologist, so far as we know, has yet tackled the problem, long since given up by people having to do with printing—the problem which lies in the too familiar fact that a blunder which is invisible to human eyes while in copy or proof, becomes as big as two large houses as soon as it gets into the paper.

Really, They Went Over-far. A dispatch from Havana announces that the election held in the island last Sunday may be annulled on account of the frauds that marked it. In the Province of Havana alone, it seems, 1,200,000 votes for Congressmen found their way into the ballot boxes, a fact certainly calculated to excite some suspicion, since the total population of Cuba is only about 3,000,000.

Of course, the stuffing of ballot boxes is not a newly invented crime, and no Americans except those of memories dangerously short will see in this resort to the practice by the Cubans an indication of "Latin" inability for self-government. We, too, or some of us, used to stuff ballot boxes not so long ago, and the Latinity of the Havana episode, if there be any in it, seems to consist of failure to observe a decent moderation. It's not what they did, but their excessive zeal in the doing, that exposes them to the stoning of people who recently occupied residences built after the manner of greenhouses and still have a good many windows in their abodes.

The Cuban Republic is very young, as nations go, and it is a mark of youth to sin largely when it sins at all, and to be rather proud of being very "bad." The Cubans will get over that, as we have done—in this particular matter of ballot-box stuffing.

Eugenic Law Evaded. Wisconsin's "eugenic marriage law" has been the object of hot criticism from many sources, but a young man and young woman in Milwaukee found, the other day, a new reason for refusing to submit to it. Their objection was that the law unjustly discriminated between the sexes by failing to impose its utmost rigors on women, and that it did not insist on using the ultimate tests for eligibility that science provides.

So this interesting pair declared that they would neither get a certificate as the law demands nor evade the law by getting married outside the State. Instead they went before a Justice of the Peace and called upon him to certify that they had signed in duplicate a contract declaring themselves man and wife and assuming all the responsibilities of that condition. Moreover, they quoted to the Justice a Wisconsin law that recognizes and validates a marriage entered into in just that way.

The Justice protested and persuaded in vain, but he finally rendered the service asked of him, taking care, however, to make it clear that he did not perform a marriage service, but simply acted as a notary public.

"SPIN THE COTTON."

We Should Then Find Large and Easy Markets for It.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The editorial article in THE TIMES headed "Spin the Cotton" is an approach to a suggestion both apropos and timely.

The "hard times" of the early nineties, when Kansas farmers found it profitable to burn corn for fuel and Southern farmers used cotton for humus rather than gather it, were attributed to overproduction. Yet in the South thousands hungered for bread and in the West thousands were inadequately clothed. Millions the world over went both hungry and cold for the lack of food that was burned and cotton that rotted in the fields. The complex system of distribution was demoralized, just as it is demoralized now. There was neither too much grain nor too much cotton.

Now we have the peculiar situation of a high demand for foodstuffs and a demoralized market for cotton.

War has increased the demand for grain—a demand so potent and necessitous that the complexities of distribution, less intricate by far than those of cotton or textiles, are overcome, and paths from producer to consumer kept clear and open.

The intermediaries between the Western farmer and the European belly must of necessity continue in operation.

But those between the Southern farmer and the European and Asiatic back are in most part suspended. Why? Because the distribution of two-thirds of our raw cotton has been dependent upon the operation of European mills and European vessels, now silent and motionless by reason of war fright or war necessity. War conditions have so cramped the purchasing power of all the world that even the potential demand for textiles no doubt is below average. But the need is as great or greater, and the potential demand still so great that were we in position to meet it raw cotton would now be finding a ready market at from 9 to 10 cents a pound. Cotton must pass through the process of manufacture before it is available for general use, and two-thirds of the world's spindles are within the war zone.

But are we supplying as much of the demand as we might? The countries now at war have been exporting annually approximately a billion dollars' worth of cotton manufactures, ($873,156,562 were the actual figures for 1911.) We ourselves have been purchasing from them around $80,000,000 worth. Meantime 95 per cent. of our manufactures have been for the domestic trade, and we have imported from $12,000,000 to $20,000,000 more cotton manufactures than we have exported.

It is out of the question for us to take up on such short notice and command a market so big and various as that of world textiles. But there is no good reason why this country should not supply a very large part of that market and lay a foundation upon which ultimately to capture most of it.

Sufficient spindles are now established in America to consume, if operated at capacity, three-fourths of our cotton. And there are markets available, despite war, for all the cotton goods they can produce. Other mills could be established within the next year whereby it would be possible for American mills to absorb at least 12,000,000 bales the following year. Unquestionably markets for the manufactured product exist.

A. H. ULM.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 4, 1914.

Germany in the Wrong.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I want to thank your correspondent, F. L. Schmidt, Sr., for the very excellent letter in today's TIMES, which is an answer to Mr. Seggebruch's letter. I am a born German and a woman who sees with open eyes and who knows that Germany is in the wrong. Alas! it is not an easy matter to confess to this, because I love my country, but I will belong to those who are frank enough to face the situation squarely. Germany is in the wrong, and all who are able to judge, know that this is the most unrighteous and sinful war that ever raged, and that it is the result of Prussian militarism, headed by an aggressive and conceited Government.

As yet Germans living in this country have not risen up in public to tell the world the truth, but that does not mean that in our hearts we do not see the wrong committed by our country, and inwardly we rise in horror and dismay for the ruthless destructions and barbaric ferocities of this terrible war. I think, in fact, that every true German must see how our country people across the water are blinded and befogged through the deceitful statements they are fed upon. But let us hope that the day may not be distant when the full truth will come to light, and when every German will be free to speak and will stand up for righteousness in the Fatherland. Then, and only then, when the military caste is abolished shall we have peace.

MARTHA FINDAL.

New York, Nov. 4, 1914.

ANALYSIS OF 1915 BUDGET FIGURES

As Passed by the New York Board of Estimate and Apportionment, in Comparison With Previous Years.

By B. FULTON CUTTING.
Written for THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Reduced to a percentage basis the increases in the total budget of the last twelve years are as follows:

Year.	Amount.	P.C.
1904	$9,555,923.99	9.84
1905	3,142,637.94	2.95
1906	6,967,897.34	6.38
1907	13,616,015.29	11.66
1908	13,150,760.51	10.06
1909	12,980,481.97	9.04
1910	6,575,522.23	4.20
1911	10,839,574.79	6.54
1912	7,122,421.35	4.04
1913	11,824,184.65	6.42
1914	284,110.46	.15
1915	6,237,784.88	3.23
Average percentage of increase		6.22

It thus appears that the 1915 per cent. of increase is but slightly more than one-half the average per cent. of increase for the last twelve years. It is four and one-half points less than the average from 1904 to 1910, at which later date the Fusion Board of Estimate and Apportionment took office.

An analysis of the total in such manner as to show the amounts for county and State purposes, as distinct from the amounts for city purposes—showing a comparison of the years 1914 and 1915—gives us the following results:

	Decrease.	Increase.
County and State Government, net	$4,172,402.27
State tax	$4,576,906.48
County Government		$408,551.16
City Government, net		10,410,487.17
Borough assessments	$520,015.06
Deficiency in taxes		$3,612,092.44
Debt service		7,220,963.39
Current expenses		97,546.40
Total budget, net		$6,237,784.88

From the foregoing it will be seen that in the 1915 tentative figures there is a net decrease of $4,172,402.27 for county and State purposes, and a net increase of $10,410,487.17 for city purposes. Eliminating the amounts for county and State purposes the comparative percentages of increase for the last twelve years would be as follows:

NEW YORK CITY PURPOSES.

Year.	Amount.	P.C.	Av. Percentage of Inc.
1904	$9,560,909.05	10.30	Van Wyck Administ'n
1905	2,651,501.81	2.59	McClellan first Administration. 4.48.
1906	6,692,278.64	6.37
1907	13,930,464.85	12.47	McClellan second Administration, 9.05.
1908	12,753,441.58	10.13
1909	12,902,548.02	9.32
1910	6,896,193.62	4.23	Fusion Board, 3.63.
1911	10,740,884.38	6.51
1912	2,359,072.32	1.40
1913	7,656,644.91	4.48
1914	3,259,335.19	1.88	3.23.
1915	6,237,784.88	3.23

Average percentage of increase, 1904-1913, 6.10.

Average percentage of increase, 1904-1910, 7.92.

The significance of the 1915 increase of 3.23 per cent. for city purposes can be understood only after further analysis. Stated comparatively the tax budget totals for city purposes should be considered in two parts. Thus separated the totals of the last twelve years as compared with 1915 are as follows:

EXPENDITURES FOR CITY PURPOSES.

Year.	Other Than Debt Service.	Debt Service.
1903	$89,151,740.83	$23,694,068.85
1904	72,695,428.69	29,711,290.04
1905	75,791,525.51	29,366,694.73
1906	80,634,289.97	31,116,207.21
1907	90,422,516.66	35,258,445.37
1908	98,019,631.03	40,454,772.86
1909	104,153,873.58	47,228,078.83
1910	111,329,449.81	46,443,695.72
1911	117,852,207.92	50,661,821.99
1912	119,618,574.26	51,254,528.17
1913	123,552,366.00	54,977,381.34
1914	129,177,504.88	52,611,517.65
*1915	132,367,188.66	59,832,381.04

*As passed by Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

As contrasted with current expenses it will be observed that there has been a rapid increase in the amount of debt service, as will be seen from the following table:

EXPENDITURES—CITY PURPOSES.

	Other than Debt Service.	Debt Service.
Year.	Increase.	Increase.	Decrease.
1904	$3,543,687.86	$6,017,221.19	.....
1905	3,096,097.12	.....	$444,595.31
1906	4,842,764.16	1,849,512.48	.....
1907	9,788,226.69	4,142,238.16	.....
1908	7,597,114.37	5,196,327.49	.....
1909	6,134,242.55	6,788,305.47	.....
1910	7,175,576.23	.....	779,382.61
1911	6,522,758.11	4,213,126.27	.....
1912	1,766,366.34	592,706.18	.....
1913	3,933,791.74	3,722,853.17	.....
1914	5,625,198.88	.....	2,365,863.69
1915	3,189,623.78	7,220,863.89	.....

Since 1907 a special item has been included in each budget for a deficiency in taxes. Subtracting these amounts the net increases in expenditures other than debt service are as shown in Table A.

TABLE A.—Net Increases in Expenditures Other Than Debt Service.

Year.	City Exp'tres Other than Debt Service.	Deficiency in Taxes.	Net City Expenses.	Increase.
1907	$90,422,516.66	$3,000,000.00	$87,422,516.66	.....
1908	98,019,631.03	3,000,000.00	95,019,631.03	$7,597,114.37
1909	104,153,873.58	2,922,447.08	101,231,426.50	6,211,795.47
1910	111,329,449.81	4,000,000.00	107,329,449.81	6,098,023.31
1911	117,852,207.92	10,000,000.00	107,852,207.92	522,758.11
1912	119,618,574.26	3,287,366.74	116,331,207.52	8,478,999.60
1913	123,552,366.00	2,300,000.00	121,252,366.00	4,921,158.48
1914	129,177,564.88	2,500,000.00	126,677,564.88	5,425,198.88
1915	132,367,188.66	6,112,092.44	126,255,096.22	*422,468.66

*Decrease.

The foregoing may suggest comment on the following subjects:

1. The policy and practice relative to deficiency in taxes.
2. Additional cost imposed in this year's budget on account of the present war.
3. Increase in the cost of debt service.
4. Decrease in ordinary current expenses.

Policy and Practice Relative to Deficiency in Taxes.

It is estimated that approximately $5,000,000 per annum is required to meet the deficiency caused by failure to collect tax levies.

The purpose of the appropriation for the deficiency in taxes may be better understood by the following analysis of the amount of $6,112,092.44 included in the budge for 1915.

1. Difference between amount included in 1914 budget for deficiencies and the amount estimated to be required:
Amount of estimate	$5,319,042.28
Amount included in 1914 budget	2,500,000.00
	$2,819,042.28
2. Tax cancellations, including estimated amount of uncollectible personal property taxes and allowances for discounts	$3,296,050.16
Total	$6,112,092.44

It will be noted that the large increase in the provision for deficiencies in taxes is largely due to the fact that in providing for deficiencies in the budget for 1914 only $2,500,000 was included—a policy which is open to grave question, for it was estimated at the time the 1914 budget was prepared that over $5,000,000 would be required.

A glance at the amounts included in budgets from 1907 to 1915 inclusive discloses either a lack of policy or a temporizing in regard to a financial requirement that should be squarely faced each year. To include $10,000,000 in the 1911 budget and only $2,300,000 in 1913, when it is known that approximately $5,000,000 will be required, does not contribute to sound thinking about public affairs.

Additional Cost Imposed on Account of Present War.

That New York has been made to feel a part of the cost of the present European war appears directly in a number of items of the budget, among them the following:

1. An item of $3,000,000 was included as the approximate increased cost of foreign exchange in the redemption of city bonds aggregating $70,000,000 to $80,000,000 which were held abroad.
2. Due to the disturbance in the money market the city was put to the disadvantage of being required to borrow at a rate approximately 2 per cent. higher than usual on an estimated $3,000,000 for 1915, making an increase of $640,000 of interest charge.

Increases in Cost of Debt Service.

What is considered for debt service includes the above items of increased interest charge and foreign exchange. The analysis of the debt service increase is shown in Table B.

TABLE B.—Analysis of the Debt Service Increase.

	1914.	1915.	Increase.
INTEREST—
On bonds of constituent corporations issued	$4,997,070.26	$4,488,225.41	$190,844.85
On outstanding bonds of the City of New York as constituted since Jan. 1, 1898	29,326,166.82	32,175,078.44	2,848,912.12
On bonds to be issued except revenue bonds	2,569,000.00	3,000,000.00	430,000.00
On bonds to be issued after Sept. 30 of current year and during following year	1,391,077.19	1,750,000.00	358,922.81
REDUCTION OF CITY DEBT—
Sinking fund installments	6,022,225.00	8,931,000.00	2,908,775.00
Redemption of maturing bonds of constituent corporations	1,500,000.00	1,750,000.00	250,000.00
Redemption of maturing bonds of constituent corporations	1,463,477.19	1,400,000.00	*63,477.19
Total	$52,611,517.65	$59,826,881.04	$7,214,863.39
Increase.	14,985,691.07	17,414,477.19	2,428,786.12
Decrease.			2,548,786.12

The increases in interest other than those due to a temporary increase in rates on short time loans are the natural result of increased borrowings. The items to which special attention should be given are those having to do with redemptions aside from the sinking fund installments. There are two kinds of maturities: (1) those of bonds assumed at the time of consolidation not covered by the sinking fund, and (2) special revenue bonds. Those which have been assumed are met as they mature. With respect to the latter it is to be noted that there is an increase of $2,908,175 for 1915. Included in this sum is the $3,000,000 of foreign exchange above referred to and $1,850,000 representing the increased cost for snow removal which the new Administration was required to meet. Sundry decreases account for the difference.

Decreases in Ordinary Current Expenses.

Leaving out of consideration debt service and deficiencies there has been only a few thousand dollars increase for the year 1915. In past years the increases have not kept pace with the increases in the growth of the city. These figures, when considered in relation to service rendered, are the index to economy. With a proportionate decrease in expenses, has the public been receiving less or poorer service, has the city been better or worse policed, have its streets been better paved and cleaned or have they not, has the city become more or less healthful, have its institutions become less efficiently or benevolently managed, has the city been more or less businesslike in the payment of its bills and in the making of the purchases—these are the questions that the citizen should answer before coming to a conclusion as to whether the index to expenses means increased or decreased efficiency.

TEAM WORK IN FOOTBALL

Might Suffer if the Individual Players Were Numbered.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The suggestion that football players be numbered seems to have met with no little favor from the newspapers. In fact, the papers seem to have gone out of their way to give publicity to this idea. That this numbering of players is a matter for the decision of the individual colleges seems never to have occurred to the editors and sporting writers. They assume that the end and purpose of football are an appeal to public support; and that the general public should be first considered in the conduct of the games.

Were it true that football is primarily a money-maker, this point of view would be natural and quite justified; were it true that the games and fallen generally had the same class as professional baseball, horse racing, six-day bicycle riding, or semi-professional track athletics, the contention of the newspapers would be perfectly proper. If football is to be considered in that grade of sport, every player should certainly wear his label on his back.

As it is, however, and so long as football remains the cardinal illustration of a sport of team-play as opposed to individual play, any such numbering of players would be a sad step in the direction of professionalism. It is the team, not the man, to whom belongs the honor of victory or of hard-fought defeat. A Brickley would be impossible were it not for the Hardwicks and Mahans. Eckersall, Daly, Poe, Sam White, Harold Weekes, and all the rest of the gridiron heroes could never have been heard of had they not had the sturdy support of the other tan men of their respective teams. Let us give the honor where it is due—to the eleven men, not to the one.

KINGSLEY MOSES,
Member of the Central Board of Football Officials.

New York, Nov. 4, 1914.

RUSSIAN ATROCITIES.

George Haven Putnam Replies to a German Critic.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

It is possible that the inclosed letter from a German neighbor (who is a stranger to me) may be of interest to your readers as an example of a curious confusion of thought into which have fallen Germans, on both sides of the Atlantic, in regard to the issues of the present struggle and the conduct and the actions of the German Army. I am inclosing copy of my reply to Mr. Thienes.

GEORGE HAVEN PUTNAM.

New York, Nov. 4, 1914.

New York, Oct. 28, 1914.

Mr. George Haven Putnam.

Dear Sir: Now that you have shown your "true" spirit of neutrality toward Germany, would you not be kind enough to give us a similar piece of your wisdom and describe in detail the way the Russians acted in East Prussia during their short stay there, and how they murdered, tortured, and assaulted women and girls, and cut children and infants to pieces without even the provocation of "sniping"?

This, your new article in THE TIMES, I anticipate with the greatest interest.

RUDOLF F. THIENES.

Rudolf F. Thienes, Esq.

My Dear Sir: Your letter of the 28th inst., intended as a rejoinder to a letter recently printed by me in THE TIMES, is written under a misapprehension in regard to one important matter.

The Americans, who are in a position to judge impartially in regard to the issues of the war, have criticised the official acts which have attended the devastation of Belgium, not because these acts were committed by Germans, but because they were in themselves abominable and contrary to precedents and to civilized standards.

If the Russians had, under official order, burned Lemburg, including the university and the library, and executed the Burgomaster, they would have come under the same condemnation from Americans that has been given to Germans for the burning of Louvain and Aerschot and the shooting of the Aerschot Burgomaster. I am myself

VILLA OFFERS TO QUIT ARMY

Ready to Retire to Private Life if That Is Necessary to Eliminate Carranza.

CONVENTION CHEERS HIM

But Takes No Action, Waiting to Hear Where Carranza Now Stands on Presidency.

OFFER VERA CRUZ ACTION

Report of Gutierrez's Resignation and Hint That Villa May be President.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Gen. Villa has formally notified the national convention at Aguascalientes of his willingness to resign command of his troops and retire to private life if that is necessary to bring about the elimination of Gen. Carranza.

The convention, according to official reports received here today, received Gen. Villa's communication with a tumult of applause. No action was taken on it, pending the report of a commission which went to Puebla to notify Carranza of the selection of Gen. Gutierrez as Provisional President.

Villa's statement is in answer to the stipulations of Gen. Carranza that with his own retirement Villa and Zapata should be eliminated from military authority. According to reports from American Consul Silliman, resistance by Carranza of the convention's orders will depend on the attitude of Gen. Pablo Gonzales, commander of the division of the east. He is at Queretaro with several thousand troops, and indications are that he will remain loyal to Carranza. Carranza's visit to Gen. Obregon, commander of the division of the northwest, it is believed by officials here, may have an important bearing on the situation, as Obregon had declared his loyalty to the convention, and will endeavor to persuade Carranza not to plunge Mexico into another civil war.

Five thousand Villa troops were invited to Aguascalientes by the convention to guard the city, according to today's dispatches, when Gen. Gonzales had assumed a threatening attitude at his headquarters a hundred miles south of Aguascalientes. Thereupon the delegates telegraphed Villa to send a force to defend the city against attack. No fighting had taken place when today's report was dispatched, both sides awaiting the outcome of the conferences at Puebla.

Gutierrez has stated to American agents that as soon as he is sworn in as Provisional President, he will issue the proclamation giving the guarantees desired by the United States before withdrawing its forces from Vera Cruz. Villa has agreed to support Gutierrez in enforcing the proclamation which Carranza declined to issue.

High officials here, however, said today that such a proclamation would not be sufficient to bring about the American evacuation while the forces of Gen. Candido Aguilar, who is loyal to Carranza, are in command of the State of Vera Cruz. Should Villa send a force to that vicinity and demonstrate that his troops are able to back up the guarantees, American troops then might be withdrawn.

REPORT GUTIERREZ OUT.

Unofficial Advices That Villa May Succeed Him as President.

EL PASO, Texas, Saturday, Nov. 7.—According to unofficial advices reaching El Paso late last night, Provisional President Gutierrez has resigned and may be succeeded by Gen. Francisco Villa himself.

CARRANZA GOES TO SOLEDAD.

Discusses Evacuation with Mexican Commander Near Vera Cruz.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 6.—Gens. Eduardo Hay, Antonio Villareal, and Eugenio Aguirre Benavides, who were commissioned by the Aguascalientes convention to inform Gen. Carranza of the selection of Gen. Eulalio Gutierrez as Provisional President, departed this morning for Apizaco, where they will confer with the First Chief.

Gen. Carranza left Puebla this morning en route to Soledad, where it is reported he will confer in regard to the evacuation of Vera Cruz. Apizaco is the junction of the Puebla branch with the main line of the Mexican Railway which Gen. Carranza has to take for Soledad, and therefore is chosen as the meeting place between Gen. Carranza and the convention Commissioners. Gen. Obregon remains in this city.

The afternoon papers announce that Vera Cruz will be evacuated soon.

Pachuca advices say bandits under Lauro Mendez attacked Apam on the Mexican Railway, but were dislodged with severe losses of men and supplies.

El Democrata says five priests were shot in the State of Michoacan, accused of leading rebel bands.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 6.—Men were busily engaged today in placarding the billboards and walls with a proclamation headed "Citizens to Arms." These proclamations, purporting to be signed by high Mexican officials, call on the citizens to drive the foreigner from their shores.

The State Department at Washington has advised the Mexican Government that the decree declaring void all mining and oil concessions granted during the Huerta regime is not tenable. Washington has advised the Mexican foreign office that property must be respected.

Gen. Carranza has again telegraphed to the Aguascalientes peace convention insisting upon the actual elimination of Generals Villa and Zapata as a condition which must be fulfilled before he himself will resign. He intimated tonight that he might go to Queretaro City later to carry on direct negotiations with the convention.

POPE TO MEXICAN CLERGY.

Sends Message of Sympathy and Some Money to Archbishop.

ROME, Nov. 6.—Pope Benedict, writing under date of Oct. 25, sent a paternal letter to the Archbishop of Mexico, comforting him and the Mexican Episcopacy in their distressing situation in that they have been almost all forced into exile.

The Pontiff encourages the Mexican clergy to trust in a better future, and says that he adds his prayers to theirs for the triumph of the Church and of justice. In the meanwhile he sends them money for the aid of such priests as have been deprived of their possessions, as well as to succor the congregations driven from their homes. He regrets that his poverty does not permit him to send more.

Reports received at the Vatican depict disastrously the present condition of the Catholic Church in Mexico. According to this information, priests have been expelled from their dioceses and exiled to Vera Cruz or the United States; sacred images have been broken and trampled upon, and churches have been used for barracks, stables, and public dancing halls.

Mexican leaders have not refrained from persecuting the Church, according to these reports at the Vatican. Gen. Villa ordered the hanging of Jesuit Christian Brothers, and Gen. Carranza ordered the confiscation of property of the clergy. The Vicar General of Mexico, under threat of pillage of the churches, was obliged to give up the administration of the archdiocese, and the Catholic University, the archbishopric, and several Catholic colleges at Puebla were converted into barracks.

These reports contain a long list of injuries to the Church, which include insults to the clergy and cries of "Down with the Pope."

TERCENTENARY EXHIBITION.

President to Start Fair at Grand Central Palace Tonight.

The final festivities in connection with the tercentenary celebration will be inaugurated tonight with the opening of an international exhibition at the Grand Central Palace, which will continue for two weeks. President Wilson will put the exhibition in motion by touching a button in Washington, the managers announce.

One of the features will be exhibits showing the progress of daily newspapers in this city. There will be reproductions of the old Herald, Tribune, World, TIMES, and other newspaper buildings. The Republic of Cuba will have a special exhibit, and the Cuban National Band will give concerts daily. Rodman Wanamaker has sent his collection of Indian pictures for the Indian exhibit. J. D. Crimmins will have on view his historic collection of paintings of old New York. The Government Mint will show how money is made.

A music festival was held last night in Morris High School in the Bronx in connection with the tercentenary celebration. Prof. Fleck, Chairman of the Music Committee, spoke on the progress and development of the city, and said that no finer example of its civic improvement could be found than in the school buildings. Miss Grace Hoffman's singing and Maurice Kaufman's violin solos were enthusiastically received by a large audience. The last musical festival of the celebration will be held tonight at the Washington Irving High School.

PERCY HEMUS SINGS.

Western Baritone Heard in Songs by American Composers.

Percy Hemus, a Western baritone who was heard here last season in a recital of songs by American composers, gave his second recital of that kind last night at Aeolian Hall. There was an audience of very respectable proportions and from its manner it was to be gathered that the singer with his propaganda is now to be taken as one of our musical "institutions."

Mr. Hemus has a voice of power and rich quality, and sings with intelligence and dramatic force. The declamatory style suits him notably well, but in, for instance, two songs from Burns by Edna Rosalind Park, he showed that the quality of his voice and his manner of using it could be brought to bear eloquently on the purely lyric. Of his some two dozen songs more than half were thoroughly interesting and distinctive, while there were but two or three really obscure commonplaces, and a single case of downright unworthiness.

The list of songs and composers would be rather formidable, so it must suffice to record the fact that the American composers were equal to holding the audience to the end, even though the recital really dragged through, obviously to tire the singer's voice. The experiment of having two songs accompanied by string quartet in addition to the piano was attended by unhappy results, for the strings, in a dull arrangement, did little but muddy the accompaniment and drive the singer off the key. Charles Gilbert Spross, one of the composers, played the piano accompaniments most capably.

SOCIAL NOTES.

Mrs. Elbridge T. Gerry, of 2 East Sixty-first Street, will give a reception on Dec. 3, at her home, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

The wedding of Miss Elsie Aldrich, youngest daughter of ex-United States Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, and Stephen M. Edgell of Newport, N. H., and Denver, Colo., whose engagement has been announced, will take place on Dec. 10 at the Aldrich country home at Warwick Neck, R. I.

A benefit for the Virginia Day Nursery will be given on Nov. 30 in the ballroom of the Ritz-Carlton. The entertainment will include some of the tableaux features of the recent charity affair given at Clarence H. Mackay's mansion at Roslyn, L. I. Miss Caroline Morgan, of 521 Park Avenue, is Treasurer.

Mrs. Franklin Q. Brown will entertain this afternoon with a tea dance at her country place at Dobbs Ferry for her débutante daughter, Miss Phyllis W. Brown.

Lyman N. Hine, whose marriage to Miss Sybil E. Young will take place on Nov. 10, will give his bachelor dinner this evening at Delmonico's.

William A. Boyd has sent out invitations to the wedding of his daughter, Miss Leontine Augusta Boyd, to Harold Lusk Flint, on Wednesday, Nov. 11, at 4:30 o'clock, at his residence, 24 East Seventy-eighth Street.

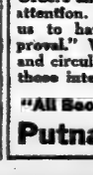
Among the brides of today are Miss Priscilla M. Bull, who is to marry Leonard J. Wyett, at 3:30 o'clock, in St. Bartholomew's Church; Miss Anne C. Harper, who will wed Noel Armstrong in St. George's Church at Newburg-on-Hudson, 900 invitations having been issued for this wedding, and Miss Hilda Bull of Chicago, who will become the bride of Lee J. Perrin, in the Phillips Chapel in the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church.

Son to Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Straus.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Straus are being congratulated on the birth of a son yesterday at their home, 929 Park Avenue. The child is to be named Oscar S. Straus, 2d.

Mrs. Straus was formerly Miss Gladys E. Guggenheim, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Guggenheim, and she was married to Mr. Straus, who is the son of Oscar S. Straus, formerly Ambassador to Turkey, and Mrs. Straus, last January.

Mrs. Straus and her child, it was said last night, are getting along nicely.



We Invite

Correspondence from bookish people in all parts of the country, especially those remote from book centres. Orders and queries receive prompt attention. It is easy to arrange with us to have books sent "on approval." We gladly send catalogues and circulars from time to time to those interested.

"All Books of All Publishers."

Putnams, 2 West 45th St. Just West of 5th Ave.

CASH FOR BOOKS

SPECIALLY WANTED. 11TH EDITION BRITANNICA

Executors, Administrators and others will find it to their advantage to communicate with us before disposing of large or small collections of books, autographs, prints or other literary property. Prompt removal. Cash down.

HENRY MALKAN,

New York's Largest Bookstore,

43 Broadway and 55 New Street, N. Y.

Telephone Broad 1200-1201.

SOCIETY AMATEURS IN 'ROMANY MAID'

Comic Operetta by J. B. Archer Produced at the Biltmore for War Sufferers.

75 IN CAST AND CHORUS

Mrs. R. C. Hunt and Wm. M. Sullivan in Leading Roles of Romance in Pyrenees in Time of Napoleon.

"The Romany Maid," a comic operetta in two acts by John B. Archer, was produced last night before a large and fashionable assembly in the ballroom of the Hotel Biltmore, for the benefit of the International Red Cross. The proceeds are to be turned over to Miss Mabel Boardman for the relief of the suffering in the war zone.

The stage was at the east end of the ballroom, with curtains of large black and white checks, which harmonized with the picturesque decorations of the ballroom. Dancing followed the performance, music for which was provided by the Russian Balalaika Orchestra.

Everybody seemed to like the operetta, and there were many encores. There were seventy-five in the cast and chorus, including many socially prominent young matrons and girls. The plot had to do with Pietro, only son of Don Miguel de Hernando, who ran away from home after a quarrel with his father and joined a band of gypsies. The scene was laid in the Pyrenees, on the border of France and Spain. Pepita, a gypsy girl, captures Pietro's heart, but Pepita is a flirt and refuses to marry Pietro. Complications ensue, which allow of a serenade, an abduction and plenty of chasseurs. Of course it all ended in the proverbial happy manner. The costumes were of the Napoleonic era.

Mrs. Richard C. Hunt was Pepita, and William M. Sullivan appeared as Pietro. J. Doddridge Peet was the irate father. Mrs. Franklin I. Mallory was an innkeeper, and Mrs. William F. Irwin was Manuella, her maid. Miss Henrietta Buckler had the rôle of Lola Leblanc, Don Miguel's ward. Others in the cast were Mrs. Philip R. Mallory, Miss Elsie Robinson, H. Duncan Bulkley, Francis Humphreys, William F. Irwin, John H. Livingston, Jr., Franklin I. Mallory, and Alfred C. Bossom.

Among those in the chorus were the Misses Madeline De Sylvia, Elizabeth Bowland, Margaret Eldridge, Lorraine Craven, Katherine Hamilton, Mildred Ward, Lynette Craven, Laura Fonrose Wainwright, Harriet Mulpin, Marion Drake-Smith, Mollie Kilner, Ida Eldredge, Marguerite Kennelly, Elizabeth Chrystie, Jane Hall, Cecil Cornwall, Mrs. Douglas Miller, Mrs. C. B. Brophy, Mrs. Alexander von Gontard, Mrs. L. E. Appleton, Mrs. John H. Livingston, Jr., Mrs. Albert T. Maurice, and Mrs. A. C. Bossom.

Also Ellsworth Ford, C. B. Brophy, Charles Eldredge, Daniel Goreen, Charles Drake, Boswell Drake, Herbert Sherman, William B. Neergaard, Albert Maurice, L. E. Appleton, Garnet Day, Sanford Eldredge, Andrew Fraser, Roy Manny, and Douglas Miller.

Among the society girls who acted as ushers were the Misses Edith Adams, Anna Ballard, Martha S. Gay, Helen Flagg, Olive S. Erdmann, Mildred Dodge, Faith and Ruth Hayden, Mildred Holmes, Constance Moore, Gertrude Pardee, Estelle Romeyn, Gladys Robbins, Mildred Sawyer, Cecile Thayer, Anne Woodin, and Dorothy Adriance.

The patronesses included Mrs. Fritz Achelis, Mrs. Hobart D. Betts, Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, Mrs. Edmund C. Converse, Mrs. Ewald Fleitmann, Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Mrs. J. Howland Hunt, Mrs. Adrian Iselin, 2d, Mrs. A. H. Joline, Mrs. G. T. Kirby, Mrs. Dunlevy Milbank, Mrs. George L. McAlpin, Mrs. John G. Neeser, Mrs. Theodore Pratt, Mrs. Charles W. Romeyn, Mrs. F. R. Guggenheim, Mrs. John Van Nest Sloane, Miss Helen Frick, Mme. G. Fara Forni, Mrs. Donald W. Brown, and Mrs. Stephen Baker.

COUNTESS TO WED PRINCE.

Widow of Third Earl Amherst Engaged to Jean Sapieha.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The Morning Post announces the engagement between Prince Jean Sapieha and Alice Countess of Amherst.

The Countess Alice of Amherst is the widow of the third Earl Amherst, and was his second wife, the first, Lady Julia Cornwallis, having died in 1883. Previous to her marriage with Earl Amherst, Countess Alice was the widow of Ernest Augustus Malet, the fifth Earl of Lisburne. Her maiden name was Perry, and she was the eldest daughter of Edmund Boyd Jones Jackson, of Hill Grove, Monmouthshire, and Trumpsley Manor, in Gloucestershire, one of the landed gentry of England. The present Earl Amherst of Aracan, East Indies, Viscount Holmesdale of Holmesdale, Kent, and Baron Amherst of Montreal, is her brother-in-law.

MRS. POLLOCK'S WEDDING.

Attendants for Her Marriage to Edward Chappell Ely on Nov. 20.

The wedding of Mrs. Louise Carsoot Pollock of 230 Riversde Drive to Edward Chappell Ely of 128 West Seventy-second Street will take place on Friday afternoon, Nov. 20, at 4 o'clock, in the Church of the Incarnation, Madison Avenue and Thirty-fifth Street. Dean Grosvenor of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, a cousin of the bridegroom, will perform the ceremony, which will be followed by a reception at the Hotel Gotham.

Mrs. Grosvenor Ely of Norwich, Conn., will act as matron of honor, and Grosvenor Ely is to be Mr. Ely's best man. The ushers will include Thomas Biagden, Jr., of Washington, D. C.; Paul Bessal Welles of Scranton, Penn.; Francis Eames Walton of Brooklyn, Douglas B. Green of Pottsville, Penn.; Franklin W. Glazier of South Glastonbury, Conn., and Henry W. Goddard of this city.

Miss Xenia Taylor Engaged.

Miss Olga C. Taylor of 98 Beechwood Road, Summit, N. J., announces the engagement of her sister, Miss Xenia Taylor, to Harry Colyer of Elmhurst, L. I. Miss Taylor is a daughter of the late Benjamin A. Taylor and Louise T. Taylor, who for years lived in Riverside Drive, New York, and is a granddaughter of the late Col. John D. Todd of Mobile, Ala. Mr. Colyer is a student at Columbia University. No date has been mentioned for the wedding.

SCHWARTZ—SILVERBERG.

Mr. and Mrs. David Schwartz of 107 Sixth Avenue, Brooklyn, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Beatrice Schwartz, to Jacob Silverberg of this city. No date has been set for the wedding.

ADVERTISEMENT.

GOOD COMPLEXIONS ARE NOT PAINTED ON

A smooth, fine skin can be had by anyone—but with cold winds, dust and supercheated houses—some care is necessary.

Perhaps the easiest and most satisfactory way to insure having a clear, fresh complexion is to systematically use VELOGEN night and morning and when going out of doors.

After washing face and hands gently rub VELOGEN into the skin, wiping off with a soft towel what the skin will not absorb.

You will note a change in the texture of your skin within a week after beginning to use VELOGEN.

At your druggist's, in collapsible tubes, 25 cents.

SON TO DUCHESS OF CROY.

Husband of Former Miss Leishman Now Serving in Kaiser's Army.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—John G. A. Leishman, former American Ambassador to Germany, who is now living in the country near London, was notified today that a son had been born to his daughter, the Duchess of Croy, at Duesseldorf.

The Duke of Croy is with the German Army at the front.

The Almanach de Gotha describes the marriage of Miss Leishman and the Duke of Croy, which took place at Versois, near Geneva, Oct. 27, 1913, as one "not of equal birth," "en mariage non-égal de naissance," and there is no record that the Duchess of Croy has subsequently been raised to her husband's rank. Whether any change will now be made in the status of the former Miss Leishman, and consequently in that of her new-born son may depend on whether the Duke's service with his Emperor causes the latter to elevate the Duke's wife to her husband's rank.

Another view of the affair taken at the time of the marriage was that the title is a French one. But in that case, it was pointed out, it would be merely a social distinction, for the republic recognizes no titles of nobility or royalty; nor, in the circumstances, would the Duke be likely to avail himself of his French prospects which would, in any case, bring no distinction to his son's legal status in Westphalia, the present seat of the family.

FINGERS TO DISPLACE ETHER

Osteopaths See Demonstration of Fitzgerald Anaesthesia.

The sixteenth annual convention of the New York Osteopathic Society brought together about 200 members from this State and New England yesterday at the Park Avenue Hotel. At the afternoon session R. Kenrick Smith, D. O., of Boston gave what is said to be the first demonstration in New York of the Fitzgerald method of producing anaesthesia by finger pressure and Dr. L. van Horn Gerdine, of the American School of Osteopathy, announced that he had cured certain forms of insanity by osteopathy.

In his paper, Dr. Smith said the Fitzgerald method might be more properly described as producing analgesia, or absence of pain. Dr. William F. Fitzgerald, the author of it, was not an osteopath, but the chief surgeon of the nose and throat department of St. Francis Hospital, at Hartford, Conn. So far its practical application had been mainly in dentistry.

Dr. Gerdine, who is a graduate physician, has a ward in the osteopathic hospital at Kirksville, Mo., devoted to the treatment of mental diseases by osteopathy. He announced that he had succeeded in curing some cases of insanity, and that some other cases had got progressively better. He said that the cases in which the greatest improvement had been made were those in which he had found errors of adjustment in the vertebrae of the neck, which interfered with the blood supply of the brain. He asserted that even some cases of dementia precox had improved to a degree which had been believed impossible. His observations covered some 200 cases.

Dr. George M. Laughlin, of the American School of Osteopathy, who had conducted many Lorenz operations, announced his discovery through experiments, that the correction of the vertebral alignment in the middle of the back so improves the function of the organs of elimination—liver, kidneys and bowels—as to improve so-called articular rheumatism more rapidly than was possible under the classic routine treatment.

At the evening session, Dr. George H. MacKee, of New York gave a demonstration of radiography as an aid to diagnosis.

There will be morning and afternoon sessions today. The most important paper to be read is believed to be one by Dr. Louisa Burns, of the A. T. Still Research Institute, of Chicago, who is said to have made the discovery that a lie may be detected by the blood pressure test, and who asserts that the truth or falsity of a witness's statements may be scientifically determined by this means. She is expected to make some important announcements about the interpretation of essentials in the examination of the blood, with special reference to blood pressure.

Charles S. Green, D. O., of New York, is the president of the Society.

PASSENGERS FOR EUROPE.

Some of Those Sailing Today on Four Steamships.

Transatlantic liners sailing to-day and some of those booked to leave on them are:

ST. LOUIS, (Liverpool.)—The Rev. N. Ashley, Mrs. W. Barton, Miss E. Berry, Mr. and Mrs. H. Bevan, A. A. Blair, E. Boydell, Mrs. A. N. Datar, B. C. Edmunds, Miss F. F. Folson, Miss E. V. Gardner, Reginald Harrison, J. H. Hill, E. B. Low, James Jack, Sir Harry Johnson, W. H. Kilgour, A. W. Maley, J. Mollerson, Miss F. Penson, Mrs. H. G. Pettit, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Rose, C. Steele, Dr. W. Tattersall, Miss A. M. Vail, and the Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Wilson.

MINNETONKA, (London.)—Charles Kennedy, Mrs. M. Graham, Miss E. Campion, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Whitted, P. A. Tyson, M. Stirling, and W. Truscow.

TAGUS, (London, via West Indies.)—Mr. and Mrs. J. Addison, John Allen, Dr. H. H. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Bow, James Jack, M. Fleming, J. Gordon, R. Hanna, Percy Lindo, W. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. M. Nash, Miss I. Nash, M. W. Piper, W. Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Thompson.

AMERICA, (Naples.)—C. T. Bailey, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Brietling, Miss Louise E. Coolidge, J. H. Hough, B. Nebel, the Rev. Paul Mellen, Con. Robert A. Poole, and Count S. Ranuzzi, Italian Consul at Altoona, Penn.

Yvonne de Treville Gives Recital.

Yvonne de Tréville, a soprano, who has been known to the lyric stage for some time, though not especially by New York concert-goers, gave a costume recital at Aeolian Hall yesterday afternoon, in which she sang music of the generation of Lulli and Henry Carey, that of Jenny Lind and that of today. Taking into account the fact that a portion of her programme would tax the resources of a world-famous coloratura, the singer may be said to have finished her task with credit, if not with distinction. There was no doubt of her sucess, however, in those portions of the programme where delicacy, charm, and refinement were the requisites. She is accomplished in all the effects and graces of artistry, and Florence McMillan was a very capable accompanist.

Dance for Blue Anchor Society.

For the benefit of the Blue Anchor Society, which for many years has supplied the life saving stations along our coasts with clothing for the shipwrecked, a dance took place last night at the Marie Antoinette. The patronesses were Mrs. William Church Osborn, Mrs. John W. Love, R., W. Lau, Mrs. E. L. Young and Mrs. S. M. Seymour.

Dancers Disagree at the Palace.

The dancing team of Mae Murray and John Jarrott, which has been appearing at the Palace Theatre this week, came to a sudden ending yesterday afternoon and was withdrawn from the vaudeville theatre's programme. Adelaide and Hughes, another dancing couple, were substituted on the Palace bill last night. At the Palace Theatre it was said that Miss Murray and Mr. Jarrott had discovered that their temperamental and terpsichorean rhythms did not coincide. The discovery was made, it was said, after several more or less violent outbursts between the young dancers.

'THAT SORT' A PLAY OF GREAT INTEREST

Written by Basil Macdonald Hastings and Produced at the Harris.

NAZIMOVA IN A HARD ROLE

Originality of Treatment Vitalizes a New Variation of the Paula Tanqueray Story.

THAT SORT, A play in three acts, by Basil Macdonald Hastings, with Mme. Nazimova. At the Harris Theatre.

Dr. Maxwell	Charles Bryant
Philip Goodier	Vincent Serrano
Sir John Heppell	David Glassford
Hon. Derek Dallas	Wilfred Seagram
Roy Heppell	Master Cornish Beck
Mr. Klein	John Burkell
Lady Heppell	Charlotte Granville
Maureen Heppell	Beatrice Prentice
Page Boy	Charles Brown
Servants at Hotel	Carrie Merrilees, Jessie Abbot, Nona Murray
Butler at Sir John Heppell's	Clinton Hamilton
Diana Laska	Nazimova

A play which tells an interesting, if by no means an untold story, and which has been written with considerable imaginative force and both literary and dramatic skill—this is "That Sort," which came last evening to the Harris Theatre. It is a piece in three acts by Basil Macdonald Hastings, author of "The New Sin," an unusual and effective play which was seen for a brief time some seasons back at Wallack's Theatre. The rôle of its heroine, a "woman of that sort," falls to Mme. Nazimova.

The woman is Diana Laska, a dancer who has made her name notorious in all the capitals of Europe, the divorced wife of a distinguished English surgeon. The law gave him their child, and she, bitter and desolate, has driven a reckless pace until, completely wrecked, she comes to the point of suicide. Withheld from this, she makes one mighty effort to see and know her daughter, now grown to a member of seventeen years, always kept in ignorance of the fact that the present Lady Heppel was not her mother.

It is Diana's thesis that, come what may, it is ruthlessly inhuman for the law to separate mother and child, that whatever the superficial advantage of society might seem to be gained by such a course, no good can come by tearing from a woman a part of herself. She fights for this and, gaining step by step, comes to the point where she is confronted with the essence of the problem in concrete example. Then, when she finds she can keep the girl near her only on the terms miserable for both, that her daughter read her story, she gives way, and herself makes the decision which at the beginning society had made, and against which she had fought so passionately through all the years of the separation.

Diana, like Paula Tanqueray, had been to the end of the world and come back again. Much as they moved in the famous Pinero play, events move in "That Sort" to bring Diana face to face with the spectres she could not banish. She is wooing the young girl's affection and confidence when she finds that her daughter's fiancé is a man whose mistress she herself has been. She can perform the service of packing him off, but it means that she, too, must go out of her daughter's life. It is then that she makes her decision. It is the final curtain.

Mr. Hastings is a man of imagination and a goodly amount of originality. He has the needful, though by no means an extraordinary, dramatic sense, but from this play there is a refreshing absence of theatricality. There is no scent of the grease pot in the people he pictures, and at a dozen points there are incidents and manners unlike those employed by a man who writes close to the footlights, and that bear the suggestion of having been imported from another field of expression.

What may be called his literary interest in his characters, while it gives a thoughtful cast and a welcome flavor to his work betrays him, however, into an occasional artificiality that mars his play. There are moments, some of them important ones, when the people in "That Sort" speak without that simplicity and directness of utterance which suggests human speech and which, in the passages of emotional intensity, is absolutely necessary to full conviction.

Nazimova, who is always interesting enough to reward a visit to the theatre when she is playing, is not entirely at her ease in the rôle of Diana Laska. Her accent and especially her marked individuality are not of continuous assistance. They always serve to arrest the restless attention of theatre goers but it is not because of them, but in spite of them, that she is so eloquent and able to interpret with such cunning art the nicest shades of an author's meaning.

She is admirable throughout the wretched and resentful misery of the first act, she plays with great discretion and a really electric suggestion of repressed force in the passages of the second act. In the third, when the passion to be expressed is maternal passion and a certain nobility of suffering, the sympathetic follower of the play is disturbed by a performance too angular and restless. There is force aplenty, but the picture lacks the light, the appealing color.

This detracts from but is far from destroying the interest in this finely dramatic third act, which has an accumulated strength that is dissipated only a little by such forestalling as is done by the invoked memories of "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray."

Mr. Bryant meets no difficulties in the rôle of Diana's confidant and champion. Mr. Serrano brings charm and thrust to the part of Diana's walking past. Cornish Beck as a very small child acted achieves the unique success of conveying no impression that he is acting at all. Miss Prentice gives a pleasing performance of Diana's daughter. The girlishness is there, the proper manner and just the hint that, for all the forces of environment, there is a bit of Diana Laska in Diana's daughter. All told, it is an able presentation of an interesting play.

ROBERT MACLAY BULL DIES.

Union Club Member Belonged to One of New York's Oldest Families.

Robert Maclay Bull, a member of one of New York's oldest families, died yesterday at his residence, 441 Park Avenue, in his fifty-seventh year. Mr. Bull's family originally came to this city from Savannah, Ga., and he was born here, his father being Thomas W. Bull, and his mother a sister of the late Robert Maclay, President of the Board of Education for many years, and head of the Knickerbocker Trust Company.

Mr. Bull was graduated from Columbia University with the class of 1880, and was a member of a number of clubs, among them the Union, Century, Racquet and Tennis, the Brook, and the St. Anthony, and he also belonged to the St. Nicholas Society.

Mr. Bull is survived by his daughter, Miss Dorothy Maclay Bull, and a son, George H. Bull, a graduate of Columbia with the class of 1908, a member of the Union Club and the New York Stock Exchange.

COUNT VON SCHWERIN DEAD.

Dispatch from Rome Says He Was the Kaiser's Cousin.

ROME, Nov. 6.—The Tribuna publishes a Petrograd dispatch which says: "Emperor William's cousin, Count von Schwerin, died at Lodz from wounds received in an action near Skiernlewice."

There are no fewer than eight Count von Schwerins more or less prominent in Germany, but none of them appears to be related to the Kaiser. Of the two reported in "Wer ist's?" to be in the army, one, Otto, recently spoken of in the dispatches as "the Saxon cavalry" was reported to have been captured by French chasseurs on Aug. 23 near Harlebeke.

On Oct. 25 a dispatch from Berlin said the Count was at the front in France.

If the Count von Schwerin, whose death is now reported, was the same man, he must have recently changed his field of operations for Lodz and Skiernlewice are both in Poland.

J. GABRIEL BRITT DEAD.

Head of Board of Elections Succumbs After Appendicitis Operation.

J. Gabriel Britt, President of the New York City Board of Elections, who was operated on for appendicitis on Oct. 29 in Miss Alston's Sanitarium in West Sixty-first Street, died at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. He was taken suddenly ill on Oct. 28, and the operation the following day showed that the appendix had ruptured and that peritonitis had developed.

Mr. Britt was 37 years old, unmarried, and lived with his parents at 458 East Fifty-seventh Street. He had served as an assistant in the office of the Corporation Counsel for seven years before he was appointed President of the Board of Elections by Mayor Gaynor on Dec. 22, 1910, to serve a term ending on Jan. 1, 1915.

Mr. Britt, who was a Tammany man, was accused in October, 1911, by A. S. Gilbert, of the Law Committee of the Republican County Committee, of favoring Tammany Hall in the filing of Judicial nominations. A hearing was held before Magistrate Appleton and Mr. Britt was exonerated.

Mr. Britt was a leader in advocating the use of schools and other public places for election purposes.

Philo W. Scofield.

Philo W. Scofield, who was in the insurance business in Manhattan and formerly prominent in church work in Brooklyn, died yesterday at his home, 9½ Sayre Place, Elizabeth, N. J., in his seventieth year. Mr. Scofield was born in this city, but had lived for a number of years in Brooklyn, where he was a member of the Tompkins Avenue Congregational Church, for years a Secretary of the Kings County Sunday School Convention. A few years ago, under the direction of the National Temperance Society, Mr. Scofield organized the Youth's Temperance Alliance of America with branches in a number of cities.

William B. Lasscell.

William B. Lasscell, 93 years old, who was associated with Prof. Morse in the early days of telegraphy and who was one of the first telegraph operators, died Thursday night at his home, 445 North Fulton Avenue, Mt. Vernon. Mr. Lasscell, who was born in the western part of the State, was one of the pioneer settlers in Mt. Vernon. After giving up the telegraph business Mr. Lasscell was connected with the Howe Sewing Machine Company. For years he traveled all over Europe and South America. For thirty-six years he was connected with the Willcox & Gibbs Company in an official capacity. Mr. Lasscell was one of the oldest Masons in the State.

Obituary Notes.

ISRAEL HYMAN, known as "J. Hyman" to the jewelry trade, of which he was a member for more than fifty years, died on Thursday at his home, 2 West Ninety-fourth Street, in his eighty-fourth year. He was born in Germany and came to this country when 16 years old. During nearly all his business career he had an office at 7 Broadway. He is survived by three sons and one daughter.

JOHN BRANDS, a business man of Harrisburg, Penn., dropped dead on Thursday, after running several blocks to catch a train in Paterson, N. J. Relatives arrived in Paterson yesterday and removed his body to Harrisburg.

Miss LILLIAN E. BRANDT, 22 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brandt of Elizabeth, N. J., died at her home yesterday from pneumonia. Miss Brandt was a member of the Edward Clark Club and Vice President of the Coral Adian Society. She was an active worker in Grace Episcopal Church.

WILLIAM H. FORAN, employed in the Highways Department, died on Thursday at his home, 2 Martin Mark's place, Brooklyn, of cancer. He was 42 years of age and unmarried.

ROBERT SMITH, 48 years old, a trustee and active worker in the Trinity M. E. Church, Richmond Hill, is dead at his home, 173 Grove Avenue, leaving his widow, two daughters, and a son.

JAMES BURRALL, who was a political leader in the old town of Gravesend during the reign of John Y. McKane, died on Thursday night at his home in Goshen, N. Y., aged 70 years. Mr. Burrall lived for a number of years on the property that comprised a part of the Gravesend race track.

WILLIAM GANZENMULLER, who lost seventeen relatives in the Slocum disaster of 1904, died on Thursday at his home, 479 East Eighteenth Street, Flatbush, from heart disease. His wife was also on board the vessel, but was rescued. Mr. Ganzenmuller was 48 years old, and Treasurer of the J. Rheinfrank Coal Company of Manhattan. His widow and son survive him.

THOMAS J. DREW, a well-known church singer and formerly a member of the Brooklyn Opera Company, died at his home, 749 East Twenty-fifth Street, Paterson, N. J., on Thursday. He was 60 years old and left his wife, two sons, and a daughter.

Mrs. CATHERINE SEAMAN, widow of Valentine Seaman, a wholesale milk dealer of Brooklyn, and a resident of that borough for sixty years, died on Thursday at her home, 810 Macon Street, aged 79 years. Mrs. Seaman was one of the organizers of the John Wesley Methodist Episcopal Church.

Mrs. CAROLINE C. FRANK, wife of Frederick J. Frank, a Civil War veteran, for forty years employed by the North American Iron Works, is dead at her home, 46 Walton Street, Brooklyn. She was 84 years old.

FREDERICK ALLEN, 65 years old, the New York and Philadelphia sales manager for the Mergenthaler Linotype Company, is dead at his residence, 79 Kenmore Place, Brooklyn. He left a widow.

Miss MINNIE ISABEL RUSSELL, born in Jamaica, West Indies, sixty-five years ago, and long a resident of Brooklyn, died on Thursday at her home, 273 Adelphi Street.

HENRY A. MARSH, Mayor of Worcester, Mass., in 1893-1894 and 1895, and one of the city's leading bankers, died there yesterday, aged 78 years. He was one of the late Senator George F. Hoar's closest friends. Mr. Marsh was President of the Central National Bank until it was absorbed by the Worcester Trust Company in 1902, and since then he was Vice President of the trust company.

HENRY D. SEXTON, President of the Southern Illinois National Bank and a member of the Executive Committee of the National Currency Association, died at his home in East St. Louis yesterday of heart disease.

JOHN A. HENNEBERRY, Chief Clerk under District Attorney Jerome for two terms, died Thursday night in a Stamford, Conn., sanatarium. After his eight years' service in the District Attorney's office, Mr. Henneberry became manager of the New York office of the Brazilian Importation Company at 71 Broadway.

Miss EMMA McALLISTER LAWRENCE, 61 years old, a member of the famous old New York family of that name, died at the Lawrence homestead at Mastic, L. I., on Wednesday, and will be buried in Trinity Cemetery this morning.

Dr. PHILIP G. CREVELING, 80 years old, is dead at the home of his son-in-law, Dr. Samuel D. Crispin, at Broadway, N. J. He is survived by his widow and daughter.

VALUE OF HEINZE ESTATE IN DOUBT

Attorney for Dead Speculator Says It Will Be Three Years Before It Is Definitely Known.

SEARCH STARTED FOR A WILL

One That He Made Several Years Ago Left All to His Mother, Who Has Since Died.

The value of the estate left by F. Augustus Heinze, who died in Saratoga on Wednesday, will not be known for at

HARVARD FAVORITE OVER PRINCETON IN FOOTBALL--BASEBALL--LAKEWOOD GOLF REVERSALS

PRINCETON EXPECTS TO DEFEAT HARVARD

Tigers Have Been Gradually Strengthened and Are Fit for Battle Today.

Princeton is going to rush into the Harvard Stadium this afternoon expecting to beat Harvard. Princeton always expects to beat the Crimson on the gridiron, because in the eighteen times that these elevens have been opponents Harvard has won only five games. As far as actual performances go, the Crimson looks like the better team, but it has looked this way several times before on the eve of battle.

Princeton's poor showing against Williams last Saturday was the best thing that could have happened to the eleven. It roused a dormant spirit and swept away any confidence which may have come after the victory over Dartmouth. With Eddie Hart working on the line during the past week, the defense has been greatly strengthened and a polish and finish has been put on the offensive game. It is easy to believe that Princeton under the policy which has been followed this season has a greater versatility of attack than they have yet shown. In fundamental football the team has been thoroughly schooled.

If Princeton wins it will be by an alert play at some unexpected moment. The team is brainy and sharp-witted. Harvard cannot afford to make any mistakes. Young Ames is not as good a field general as Logan. Logan will run his team according to a mapped-out plan of action, which comes from Haughton and Brickley on the side lines. If the team plays mechanically, according to the system mapped out, the Harvard team will win as it has won before, when it has carried its campaign on strictly to the letter. There is an abundance of good material at Harvard. The Crimson will not lack good men to carry on the fight. It only remains for them to play according to the scheme which the Crimson strategists have mapped out.

With Mahan, Bradlee, Francke, and Logan the Crimson has a back field which is perhaps superior to Glick, Driggs, or Law and Fred Trenkmann. But the Tigers also have a reserve force which matches that of Harvard. Hardwick is a better end than either Lamberton or Brown, but the Princeton pair are the equal of the other Crimson wing, Coolidge.

The absence of Soucy and Capt. Brickley will be felt by Harvard. Harvard won last year by a remarkable field goal by Brickley, when he booted a water-laden and slippery ball over the goal posts. The fear which Brickley can put into an enemy will be missing at the Stadium today.

Princeton will depend on its resources and its defense. The Tigers will have a difficult time in stopping the Crimson rushes. As far as open football goes, Princeton has shown as much as Harvard. Both should have by this time worked up an effective defense against the perils of the forward pass.

Yale should have no difficulty in beating Brown. It will be good practice for the Princeton game the following week. With Sheviin at left guard Yale's main attention is being given to Yale's weak end rushes. By next week these positions should be properly filled. The leading men for the places now are Brann and Stillman, with several "subs" running them a close second. The back field is settled and it is a good one. The line also looks solid. Brown, easily downed by Cornell, should not have much of a chance.

Penn will play Michigan at Ann Arbor. The easy defeat of the Wolverines by Syracuse gave Penn much hope, which faded after the great showing of Yost's team against Harvard last week. Penn's team is in fine shape and will give a good account of itself.

The Army and Villanova game at West Point will not furnish the sensation of last season because the Western team's tactics are now known and the eleven is not as strong as last season. The big game in the West will be between Wisconsin and Minnesota.

HARVARD LOOKS FOR BATTLE.

Crimson Realizes Tigers Are Fit, Powerful, and Resourceful.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 6.—Soldiers Field was practically deserted this afternoon. The Harvard football players, who tomorrow will be called upon to play their first great football match of the year against the Princeton Tigers, put in an appearance only as stragglers. The boys came over to College to attend their lectures, but very early in the afternoon all reassembled at the Country Club in Brookline, where they are spending the night before the game.

Early in the afternoon the Princeton backfield men, who came to Boston last night, went out to the Stadium and practiced kicking, as well as handling kicks. This experience was good for them, as the wind in the Stadium is most bewildering.

Out in Brookline the Cambridge team had plenty to think about as Coach Haughton made them go over their plays and also had a short drill, not only for the kickers and ends, but for the team as a whole. It is figured here that Harvard is due to show some real football tomorrow. Certainly the team is the strongest the coaches can put upon the field at present. It really is a question, after all, whether Wallace or Bigelow is the better man for centre rush. Wallace has a shade on Bigelow for defensive play, but on attack there is little to choose between the men, neither being regarded as remarkably strong in the plays in which Harvard is carrying the ball.

The coaches expect that both Mahan and Pennock will be able to go through the game from start to finish, and indeed they are likely to be needed. Much interest will centre in the work of the three new linemen, Weston, Parson, and Bigelow, who will be playing under the pressure of their first championship game, and surely it may be figured that Harvard's success or failure will largely depend upon their work. Harvard is confident that it can win the game, but realizes that it must play its best football, and all the time, in order to do so. The attack is known to be good and there is great faith maintained in the kicking department, this meaning not only in the punting ability of Mahan and Francke, but in the down-the-field work of the veteran end rushes, Hardwick and Coolidge, as well.

Harvard by no means underestimates the fighting spirit which the Tigers are sure to show tomorrow. The coaches have tried hard to solve the Tigers' offense this year, but as a matter of fact are very much up in the air, because Princeton has put on such a variety this Fall, but at the same time has not shown exactly the sort of offensive football on which it is pinning its faith for the final game. A year ago Harvard was surprised by the strength of the Tiger attack, and after the game was over figured that it was mighty lucky to win, because of Brickley's timely goal from the field.

Princeton's regular players arrived at Auburndale, some ten miles from here, at dinner time tonight. The coaches stated that their team is absolutely fit, and that the men are in every way ready to give a good account of themselves in the Stadium tomorrow. It is assured that McLean will start at right tackle, and this in itself is a source of great confidence to Princeton, as McLean, in shape, is regarded as a real rush-line power. There is some question, however, regarding the Princeton end rushes. The latest statement tonight was that Highley and Shea would start the game on the wings in preference to Brown and Lamberton. Princeton anticipates not only on getting a man loose in order to obtain its scores, but also figures that Harvard very likely will misplay some of Driggs's hard punts and that the keenness of the end rushes will be a very important factor in the game from a Tiger standpoint. Harvard fears Princeton's rushing game very little and is well prepared against the lateral pass and forward pass methods of offense. Glick alone in the Tiger backfield, is regarded as a dangerous man with the ball, while Tibbott's ability as a drop kicker is by no means underestimated.

HARVARD-PRINCETON LINE-UPS.

HARVARD.

Player, Class, & Position.	Age.	Ht.	Wt.
T. J. Coolidge, '16, L. E.	21	5 11½	175
K. B. G. Faron, '16, L. T.	22	6 02½	187
M. Weston, '15, L. G.	20	6 03½	194
D. J. Wallace, '16, centre	21	5 11	174
S. B. Pennock, '16, R. G.	22	5 08½	203
W. H. Trumbull, '15, R. T.	21	6 01½	180
H. R. Hardwick, '15, R. E.	23	5 11	171
M. J. Logan, '15, Q. B.	21	5 08½	150
E. W. Mahan, '16, L. H. B.	22	5 11	169
F. J. Brandlee, '15, R. H. B.	22	5 11½	178
H. Francke, '15, F. B.	20	6 00¾	189

SUBSTITUTES.

J. L. Bigelow, '16, T. & C.	22	6 00	182
A. Coolidge, Jr., '17, E.	20	5 10½	161
L. Curtis, '16, E.	21	6 01½	175
W. Rollins, '16, H. B.	20	5 07½	158
H. St. J. Smith, '15, E.	23	6 01	174
E. G. Swigert, '16, Q. B.	22	5 07	147
D. G. Watson, '16, Q. B.	19	5 09	148
A. J. Weatherhead, '15, E.	22	5 10	168
W. Whitney, '16, H. B.	21	5 10	157
W. Willcox, '16, Q. B. & H. B.	19	5 06	143
F. B. Withington, '15, G.	23	6 01¼	184

PRINCETON.

Player, Class, & Position.	Age.	Ht.	Wt.
H. M. Lamberton, '16, L. E.	21	6 00	178
W. McLean, '17, L. T.	19	5 11½	180
W. J. Shenk, '15, L. G.	23	5 10½	179
A. E. Gennert, '17, Cen.	18	5 11	180
E. Trenkmann, '15, R. G.	21	5 11½	194
H. R. Ballin, '15, R. T.	20	6 01	194
H. G. Brown, '16, R. E.	20	5 11	174
K. L. Ames, Jr., '16, Q. B.	20	5 10½	150
F. Trenkmann, '15, L. H. B.	23	5 08	180
F. Glick, '16, R. H. B.	21	5 09	178
E. H. Driggs, Jr., '17, F. B.	19	5 11	178

SUBSTITUTES.

P. Bigler, '17, tackle	21	5 10	176
J. S. Baker, '15, end	20	5 10	174
M. A. Charles, '17, end	21	5 10½	176
J. T. A. Doolittle, '15, H. B.	22	5 08¾	159
C. C. Dickerman, '17, H. B.	22	5 10	169
C. C. Highley, '17, end	19	5 11	162
T. T. Hogg, '17, guard	20	6 01	193
W. D. Love, '16, tackle	21	5 10	188
E. C. Law, '16, H. B.	19	5 11	163
R. Nourse, '17, C. & T.	19	5 11½	186
E. L. Shea, '16, end	21	5 10	166
D. M. Tibbott, '17, H. B.	18	5 10	170

Teams' Records for 1914.

HARVARD.

Harvard	44	Bates	0
Harvard	44	Springfield	0
Harvard	10	W. & J.	9
Harvard	13	Tufts	6
Harvard	13	Penn State	13
Harvard	7	Michigan	0
Total	181	Total	28

PRINCETON.

Princeton	12	Rutgers	0
Princeton	10	Bucknell	0
Princeton	12	Syracuse	7
Princeton	14	Lafayette	0
Princeton	16	Dartmouth	12
Princeton	7	Williams	7
Total	73	Total	26

Harvard Battles with Princeton.

The record of the Harvard-Princeton games is as follows:

1877—Harvard, 1 goal, 2 touchdowns; Princeton, 1 touchdown. Second game—Princeton, 1 goal, 1 touchdown; Harvard, 2 touchdowns. Princeton won. (Goal kicked from touchdown taking precedence over four touchdowns.)
1878—Princeton, 1 touchdown; Harvard, 0.
1879—Princeton, 1 goal; Harvard, 0.
1880—Princeton, 2 goals, 2 touchdowns; Harvard, 1 goal, 1 touchdown.
1881—Princeton, 1 safety; Harvard, 1 safety.
1882—Harvard, 1 touchdown, 1 goal from field; Princeton, 1 touchdown, 1 goal after touchdown. Harvard won game.
1883—Princeton, 26; Harvard, 7.
1884—Princeton, 34; Harvard, 6.
1886—Princeton, 12; Harvard, 0.
1887—Harvard, 12; Princeton, 0.
1888—Princeton, 13; Harvard, 6.
1889—Princeton, 41; Harvard, 15.
1895—Princeton, 12; Harvard, 4.
1896—Princeton, 12; Harvard, 0.
1911—Princeton, 8; Harvard, 6.
1912—Harvard, 16; Princeton, 6.
1913—Harvard, 3; Princeton, 0.

Montclair Ties East Orange.

The Montclair High School boys tied the strong East Orange High School's team yesterday on the Montclair A. C. field by a score of 7 to 7. East Orange gained their touchdown after the Montclair boys were penalized fifteen yards for being off side. This brought Montclair back to the two-yard line, and after three downs Loft of East Orange carried the ball over. On a fake kick formation Syrette, Montclair's plucky quarter back, carried the pigskin through centre for a touchdown, tying the score. Moore, Knight, and Starrett did good work for Montclair, while Loft and Schwartzfelt starred for East Orange. Line-up and summary:

East Orange H. S.	Position.	Montclair H. S.
Franks	Left end	Starrett
Moore	Left tackle	Butler
Jenkins	Left guard	S. Hill
Schwartzfelt	Centre	Knight
Flint	Right guard	Crane
O'Brien	Right tackle	Schultz
Thompson	Right end	Ayres
McLean	Quarter back	Syrette
Loft	Left half back	Moore
Reynolds	Right half back	G. Hill
McKeer	Full back	Francisco

Touchdowns—Syrette, Loft. Goals from touchdowns—Starrett, Schwartzfelt. Referee—Mr. Chappel. Umpire—Mr. Devitt. Head linesman—Mr. Steele. Time of periods—Ten minutes each.

Navy Interested in Fordham's Visit.

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 6.—Great interest is being taken here in tomorrow's game against Fordham, which is expected to be a real test of the strength of the local team. Fordham is a new team on the Navy's schedule, and the outcome is regarded as very uncertain. Though the Navy is minus the services of several regulars, its strength will not be below that in most of the games this season, while the general work, particularly in the backfield, has progressed satisfactorily this week. The only change in the line-up from last week is due to the injuries received by Jackson, the right end, during the week. The Navy line-up will be: Left end, Capt. Overesch; left tackle, Kennedy; left guard, R. H. Jones; centre, Perry; right guard, Graf; right tackle, Schlossbach; right end, T. Harrison or Kenworthy; quarter back, Miles; left half back, Blodgett; right half back, Failing; full back, H. Harrison.

Brown After "Channel" Record.

As soon as the war is ended Commodore Alfred R. Brown of the American Life Saving Society will again visit England and try to beat the record of the late Capt. Webb in swimming the English Channel. Commodore Brown recently swam through the Panama Canal, was the first to make an authenticated swim from the Battery to Coney Island in 1904, and in 1914 swam from the Battery to Sandy Hook in 13 hours and 38 minutes. This was a record for the distance, as was Commodore Brown's swim from the Battery to Coney Island in 4 hours and 22 minutes, made in September last.

GRAB HARVARD MONEY.

Princeton Men Cover $1,200 Sent Down at Odds of 5 to 2.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 6.—Princeton is deserted this evening as the result of the general exodus to Cambridge today. The undercurrent of excitement that has pervaded the town throughout this week culminated in a stampede last night when it was learned that $1,200 on Harvard's chances of winning was being offered at 5 to 2. The odds show the supreme confidence that Harvard men are placing in the Crimson machine, but within ten minutes' time every cent had been covered by Princeton undergraduates.

Early this morning the student body turned out to send off the twenty-two football men leaving for Auburndale on the 9:38 train to meet the back field and centres who started for Cambridge yesterday afternoon. The undergraduates, one thousand strong, marched from the Cannon to the station and cheered the team individually and collectively. As the team pulled out "Old Nassau" was sung.

This afternoon the migrations continued, thirty-one substitutes and 800 students leaving town on a special train scheduled to make connections with the Fall River boat at New York.

Only a few undergraduates are left in town to see the freshmen battle with the Yale youngsters tomorrow on University Field and to get the returns on the Harvard game. Realizing to the fullest extent the power and drive of the Harvard juggernaut, the undergraduates feel, nevertheless, that the Princeton team will fight to the finish and that the victory is by no means so completely assured as the Harvard betting indicates.

FORMER YALE COACH PRAISES HINKEY

Johnny Field Says He Knows More Football Than Any Man in Country.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 6.—In addressing a Yale football mass meeting of 2,000 students, Johnny Field, the former head coach, outlined what he thinks Harvard will do about the Yale game. He said:

"Head Coach Frank Hinkey knows more about football than any man in the country. He has gone about the work in a broad-minded way. He saw the value of the Canadian passing game, the Western open game, and the Eastern air-tight defense, and he has put all these things into the team this year. The defense of the team has been worrying some men.

"Hinkey has been working out the defense, and has nearly everything stopped from the ends to the tackles. Opponents still are making gains through the centre of the line, but it will only take about one more week to close this hole. The first thing on which to build a defense is against the forward pass, and I think we have done this. As for the offense, we have the best in the country.

"Both Princeton and Harvard deserve a lot of respect. Princeton seems to have a wonderful line this year, and has been doing some good work on end runs, which we will have to stop. Harvard has developed Mahan to take Brickley's place, and will probably play the game of carrying the ball to the twenty-yard line and then kicking. They also have a good line. But I think the Yale offensive machine can score twice to any other Eastern team's once. Before I stop I want to add some praise for Capt. Talbott. He has handled every situation wonderfully and is the best man for Captain at this time that there could be."

Yale's eleven had only a light signal drill to-day in preparation for the game to-morrow with Brown. Capt. Talbott will play for the first time in several weeks, having recovered from his injuries. Legore, full back; Wilson, quarter back, and Carter, end, will go to Cambridge to see the Harvard-Princeton game. Head Coach Hinkey, Walter Camp, and Walter Bull, two of the coaching staff will also attend.

Guernsey will take Legore's place in the backfield and Scovil will run the team at quarter. The line will be unchanged.

Army to Get Revenge Today.

Special to The New York Times.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 6.—The Army is ready for Notre Dame tomorrow. The Westerners arrived at noon and went to work an hour later on the "plains." Coach Harper drove his charges through an hour's signal drill. The Western mentor said tonight he expected to find the Army one of the stiffest teams in the East, but that his own men would fight all the way. He bewailed the loss of Finnegan, star half back, who was left at home, and said that Ray Eichenlaub, who caused such trouble for the Army last year, would not start in tomorrow's game. The Army players took their final workout in preparation for the game in a driving signal drill and a kicking practice. The cadets will be without Oliphant and Meacham tomorrow, and there are doubts of McElwain's chances to get in the game. None of this big trio was in today's drill. The Army wants to win, to redeem itself for last year's lacing at the hands of the Hoosiers, and will uncover everything if necessary to land the game. The cadets will line up as follows: Merrillat and Neyland, ends; Weyand and Butler, tackles; Herrick and O'Hare, guards; Goodman, centre; Prichard, quarter back; Hodgson and Hoge, half backs; Benedict, full back.

Penn State Visits March Field.

Special to The New York Times.

EASTON, Penn., Nov. 6.—March Field was the scene of great activity this afternoon. From 2 to 4 o'clock the Penn State College team practiced on the Lafayette grounds. They arrived in Easton this morning, and selected March Field as the most inspiring spot to prepare for the clash with Lehigh tomorrow. Lafayette was glad to receive Penn State after the clean game of last Saturday. At 4 o'clock the Lafayette team came upon the field and had its last practice before the Muhlenberg game. The Eastonians, though they are crippled, practiced with snap and dash. The white ball was used, and the practice lasted until it was quite dark. There was nothing on the programme except signal work and kicking. Coach Crowell made frequent changes in the line-up, and he does not know himself who will start the game tomorrow. Between the practices of the State and Lafayette teams "Bill" Crowell and "Bill" Hollenback, the coaches of the two teams, and Pete Mauthe, a former famous full back at State College, engaged in a kicking duel. It was a lively bout, and the old-timers showed that they have lost none of their prowess.

Lehigh Team for Penn State Game.

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTH BETHLEHEM, Penn., Nov. 6.—Lehigh today finished work for the Penn State game tomorrow with a short signal drill. Tonight it is stated that the physical condition of the men is good, with the exception of Mattern and Cahall. The former will not get in the game. There is some doubt as to whether Cahall will be able to start. Notwithstanding there is a general feeling among the members of the squad that Lehigh has an even chance against Penn State. In the signal drill today the men showed fine spirit and much "pep." Green and Sawtelle have been decided on for the ends, Tate and Richards for tackles, Ostrum and Becker or Pons for guards, and Scruggs for centre. Cheneweth will play at quarter back, and Hoban and Cahall or Maguinnes will play the halves. Halsted will start at full back. Tonight the students held a rousing smoker and parade. The biggest crowd of the season is expected to attend the game tomorrow.

Penn Polishes Off at Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 6.—The football eleven of the University of Pennsylvania completed its preparation today for the game with Michigan at Ann Arbor tomorrow. Secret signal practice was held on a local gridiron this forenoon. This afternoon Coach Brooke gave his men a stiff work-out, and again spectators were barred from the field. The day was cool and clear, with a snappy breeze blowing. Brooke devoted considerable attention to punting. The squad will leave for Ann Arbor tomorrow forenoon.

Reports received from Ann Arbor this afternoon said Coach Yost put his men through a long signal workout, but scrimmage was not attempted, as several Michigan stars are recovering from injuries.

Williams Confident of Victory.

Special to The New York Times.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Nov. 6.—Today passed off without any scrimmage on Weston Field, either for regulars, scrubs, or freshmen. Following the usual light loosening-up drill in handling the ball the 'Varsity ran through signals for half an hour, and was then dismissed. Driscoll and Brown, who were out of the game early in the week, are both back in the line-up. Dewindt, however, who was back at quarter back yesterday afternoon, will have a hard job to win back his position from Jones, who drove the eleven this afternoon. Every one is in top form, and the squad feels confident of victory over Wesleyan tomorrow.

Columbia Soccer Schedule.

Manager D. D. Blanchard of the Columbia University soccer team last night announced the Columbia schedule for the season. Eleven games are on the list, seven of which will be played at South Field and four abroad. There are six Intercollegiate League games—three to be played at Columbia against Pennsylvania, Haverford, and Yale, and three to be contested at Princeton, Ithaca, and Cambridge. Of the remaining five games, four will be at home and the fifth with the Crescent A. C. at Brooklyn. The schedule:

Richmond County at South Field, Nov. 7; Princeton at Princeton, Nov. 10; Cornell at Ithaca, Nov. 14; Pennsylvania at South Field, Nov. 21; Crescent A. C., at Brooklyn, Nov. 26; Montclair at South Field, Nov. 28; Haverford at South Field, Dec. 2; Yale at South Field, Dec. 5; Harvard at Cambridge, Dec. 12; Staten Island at South Field, Dec. 19; Bensonhurst at South Field, Dec. 24.

Harvard-Princeton Soccer Tie.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 6.—The Harvard and Princeton association football teams played a 1 to 1 tie in an Intercollegiate League game here today.

TODAY'S FOOTBALL GAMES.

Yale vs. Brown, at New Haven.
Harvard vs. Princeton, at Cambridge.
Pennsylvania vs. Michigan, at Ann Arbor.
Cornell vs. F. & M., at Ithaca.
Pittsburgh vs. W. & J., at Pittsburgh.
Wesleyan vs. Williams, at Williamstown.
Penn State vs. Lehigh, at South Bethlehem.
Navy vs. Fordham, at Annapolis.
Army vs. Notre Dame, at West Point.
Stevens vs. Rensselaer Poly, at Troy.
Trinity vs. Haverford, at Hartford.
N. Y. U. vs. Union, at Schenectady.
Lafayette vs. Muhlenberg, at Easton.
Amherst vs. Springfield Y. M. C. A., at Springfield.
Colgate vs. Rochester, at Rochester.
Dartmouth vs. Tufts, at Hanover.
Exeter vs. Worcester Academy, at Exeter.
Carlisle vs. Holy Cross, at Manchester, N. H.
Andover vs. Harvard Freshmen, at Cambridge.
Syracuse vs. Rutgers, at Syracuse.

HIGH SCHOOL GAMES.

Curtis vs. Bay Ridge, at New Brighton.
De Witt Clinton vs. Mount Vernon, at Mount Vernon.
Commerce vs. New York Military Academy, at Cornwall.
Boys' vs. St. John's, at Brooklyn.
Flushing vs. Commercial, at Flushing.
Fordham Prep vs. Stamford, at Stamford.
Morris vs. Peekskill M. A., at Peekskill.

CORNELL'S LAST HOME GAME

Ithacans Expect a Hard Battle with F. and M. Eleven.

Special to The New York Times.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 6.—The Cornell football team anticipates the hardest game of the year so far at the hands of Franklin and Marshall tomorrow, and the Ithacans are well prepared for it. They will missetwo regular 'Varsity men from the line-up, but the fine showing of the team in the scrimmages of the last week indicates that Cornell will be going at top speed against the Pennsylvanian eleven.

Bailey, Cornell's right tackle, is in poor shape. He has been out of condition for a couple of weeks, and the coaches are somewhat concerned about him. They will play either Fisher or Jameson in the position tomorrow. Jameson has been first substitute most of the Fall, but Fisher's improvement has been rapid, and he may get the place. Fisher is a big, strong forward, but lacks experience. Another position which is the cause of worry is right end. Capt. O'Hearn may start tomorrow, but if he does not develop more speed than he did last week it is probable that Lautz will soon be in the line-up. O'Hearn has thus far failed to come up to last year's form, and the coaches are perturbed over the fact, with the big games coming along now.

The Cornell team held no outdoor practice today, but talked over plays with the coaches at a blackboard session. With the exception of the two men mentioned, the regular Cornell line-up will be on the field, but there is a chance that Philippi will be sent in at full back early in the first half. The latter's line plunging recently has been a feature of practice. He stands out as the best plunger on the squad, now that Kleinert is out of the game. Tomorrow's game will be the last on the home schedule, and it will be the last football game to be played on Percy Field. The stadium at Schoellkopf Field, on Alumni Field tract, will be completed next Spring, and all future football games will be played there. Cornell has used Percy Field for twenty years.

Dartmouth Loses McAuliffe.

Special to The New York Times.

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 6.—The most serious misfortune which has yet come to the Dartmouth team occurred today when John McAuliffe, who has been the mainstay of the line, was taken to the hospital in a serious condition. His ailment has not yet been successfully diagnosed, but it is believed that he has appendicitis and chronic indigestion. When it is considered that Child, another tackle, is out for the season with water on the knee, Dartmouth's prospects for victory in its games with Tufts, Pennsylvania, and Syracuse are seriously impaired. Cotton is the only regular tackle left. The end position caused the coaches to make a shift and to announce in addition that Whitney and Curtis, who were to be saved, would play tomorrow against Tufts. Murdock is not in shape to play full back, and Gerrisch, a half back, will start for him. Winship and Redfield will be at end, the latter being absolutely inexperienced and only picked because of the ineligibility of Telfer and Ellms. Pudrith, an end, will take McAuliffe's place at tackle, and Cotton will pair off with him. Merrill and Colby will play the guards and Milmore holds his place at centre. Ghee will run the team. The Tufts team arrived tonight and with them the largest crowd of visitors to attend a football game at Hanover in recent years.

Girls Tie In Hockey Game.

In the first of a series of three field hockey contests the teams of Teachers College of Columbia University and Barnard College played a 1 to 1 tie on Barnard Field yesterday. Two periods of ten minutes each were played. Teachers College lost its best chance to win in the opening half, when a long drive by Miss Anna Booth sent the ball only half way across the goal line. According to the new rules of field hockey the leather must be sent entirely across the chalk mark; Miss Booth also registered the only goal scored by Teachers College. The line-up:

Teachers College.	Position.	Barnard.
M. McKee	Centre	M. Stamborough
O. Dikeman	Left forward	A. Pearson
M. Smith	Right forward	M. Louria
E. Epstein	Left wing	S. Sharp
M. Markwell	Right wing	Miss Franklin
E. Lindholm	Centre half back	Miss Patten
M. Wilson	Right half back	Miss King
A. Booth	Left half back	S. Meyer
D. La Salle	Left full back	Miss Levi
A. Smith	Right full back	H. Lott
M. Gross	Goal

Goals scored—For Teachers College, Miss Booth; for Barnard, Miss Franklin. Coach and referee—For Teachers College, Mr. Wilson; for Barnard, Mr. Fisher. Time of game—Two periods of ten minutes each.

Novelty Race at Garden.

A novelty race will be introduced at Madison Square Garden this evening in connection with the roller skating carnival. The feature is a medley relay race in which William Blackburn, holder of the national roller skating championship title, will race against Jimmy Fitzgerald of Australia, holder of the world's professional fifteen-mile indoor running record of 1:21:42. Blackburn will endeavor to skate five miles while Fitzgerald runs three miles. The latter is a long-distance performer, claiming to have victories over some of the country's best runners, including Billy Queal. He made his indoor record for fifteen miles against Jack Norman, champion of the Northwest, in a race at Tacoma, Wash.

Substitute Bout at New Polo.

Jem Smith disappointed a large crowd at the New Polo Athletic Association in Harlem last night, when he failed to put in an appearance for his ten-round bout with Johnny Wilson. Wilson was present in the club house, but when it was apparent that the boxer had no intentions of reporting a contest was arranged between Jim Thornton, a featherweight of Scotland, and Billy Meyers of Harlem. The Scotch boxer won the honors by a large margin, and throughout the ten rounds administered a severe beating to his opponent.

In the semi-final ten-round contest Farmer Sullivan of Greenwich Village was easily entitled to the honors over Bob Dawson, a Bronx welterweight. The first bout, which was scheduled to go ten rounds, in which the contestants were Bert Skillert of College Point, L. I., and Frankie Young of the east side, was stopped by the referee in the first round, when Young fell to the floor without being hit in an endeavor to deceive the referee.

New Orleans Boxers' Mecca Now.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 6.—After it became known that the anti-prize fight measure had been passed in California, a contract was let here for the erection of a fight arena that is expected to seat at least 10,000 persons. Louisiana now is said to be the only state in which twenty-round boxing contests may be legally staged.

Will Judge Airedales.

Harold Ober of this city has been engaged to judge the dogs at the specialty show of the Airedale Club of Philadelphia, which will hold its annual show at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel in Philadelphia on Nov. 21.

EVERYTHING FOR BILLIARDS and BOWLING
Prices and Terms to Suit.
REPAIRS BY Expert Mechanics.
THE BRUNSWICK-BALKE-COLLENDER CO. 22 TO 28 WEST 42d ST., NEAR BROADWAY.

BASEBALL PROBLEMS REMAIN UNSOLVED

No Change in Yankees' Ownership, Nor Is Peace with Federals in Sight.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—American League club owners, in winding up their annual convention today, left unsolved the two most important problems supposed to be on the programme. The question of peace with the Federal League appeared no nearer solved in spite of all the debate on the subject and no change in ownership or in the list of stockholders in the New York Club was announced.

Regarding the latter point it was announced that no formal discussion of it had taken place. But it was known that, while most of the directors left on early trains for their home towns tonight, Frank Farrell of the New York Club and Joseph J. Lannin of the Boston Club, Farrell's leading supporter, stayed over, saying they would start East tomorrow. A shakeup in the membership of the New York Club was considered advisable by some of the magnates as a preliminary attempt to strengthen the team in Manhattan.

The rather definite statement that the Ward-Gilmore owners of the Brooklyn Federals, would not buy the New York Americans was the only announcement on the Federal situation. Everybody admitted that terms on which peace would be reached would not be possible until after long negotiations.

The club owners decided to erect a monument over the grave of Umpire "Jack" Sheridan, whose death occurred this week at San Jose, Cal.

Charles Somers of the Cleveland Club was re-elected Vice President of the league without opposition, and the Board of Directors for the ensuing year will include representatives of the Chicago, Cleveland, New York, and Boston Clubs.

Most of the owners declared themselves in favor of a reduction in the number of players carried. They agreed that twenty was a more convenient number than twenty-five, but definite action was deferred until the Spring meeting, and meantime the National League will be consulted on the plan.

Reduction in the price of seats at world's series games also found unanimous support, and the magnates agreed that the prices charged should exceed the regular admission prices only by a small margin, if at all. The National League again will have to agree to this suggestion before any change is made.

Believing that the games played last year, in a good many cases, extended far beyond the time really necessary, the club owners agreed that managers, umpires, and players should be instructed to hurry up the games.

In connection with the American League meeting, some of the minor league problems were discussed in the lobby of the hotel where the meeting was held. Among the statements that came out was one that there is now no prospect of Roger Bresnahan's purchasing the Cleveland or St. Paul American Association franchises and putting a team in Toledo.

Bresnahan this afternoon conferred for a long time with Charles Thomas, President of the Chicago Nationals, and it was reported, though neither would confirm it, that the catcher had agreed to stay with the Cubs. Whether he would succeed Hank O'Day as manager could only be guessed at.

Most of the American Leaguers scattered for their homes tonight. A number of minor league leaders stayed over to leave for Omaha Sunday night to attend the National Association of Minor Leagues meeting. It was announced that President A. R. Comiskey of the Chicago Americans probably would attend the Omaha meeting.

Nationals Beat American Nine.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 6.—The All-Nationals defeated the All-Americans in baseball, 4 to 3, here today. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
All-Nationals	4	8	0
All-Americans	3	8	0

Batteries—Mitchell and McAvoy; Vaughn and Clark.

Cornell's Team to Run Penn.

Special to The New York Times.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 6.—The Cornell cross-country team which will run against Pennsylvania tomorrow was picked today by Coach Jack Moakley as follows: Capt. Cadiz, Corwith, Grime, Inglehart, Silbert, Speiden, Sullivan, Eldred, Potter, and Windnagle. Hoffmire, one of Cornell's champions, did not take the trip. He is suffering from an injury and Moakley is resting him for the intercollegiates. Sullivan is the only new man since the selections were made for the Harvard race.

Maine's Cross-Country Title.

BRUNSWICK, Me., Nov. 6.—The University of Maine today for the third consecutive time won the Maine intercollegiate cross-country race, scoring 26 points. Colby was second, Bates third, and Bowdoin fourth. Roger Bell of Maine, who finished first, was 28 minutes and 37 seconds covering the five-mile course.

Bedford Park Tennis Players Best.

In a club match between members of the Bedford Park Lawn Tennis Club and the Tremont Tennis Club, members of the former won all five matches. The feature of the meeting was the match between Frank Oliver, Secretary to United States Senator O'Gorman and Assistant Corporation Counsel Thomas Price, in which the former won through his ability to play the ball deep and hard to his opponent's back hand. Summary:

Singles—O. C. A. Child, Bedford Park T. C., defeated Ernest Haveman, Tremont T. C., 6—4, 2—6, 7—5; Frank Oliver, Bedford Park T. C., defeated Thomas Price, Tremont T. C., 8—6, 4—6, 6—4; Maskell Fox, Bedford Park T. C., defeated Frederick Millett, Tremont T. C., 6—2, 4—6, 7—5.
Doubles—Brinckerhoff and Raymond, Bedford Park T. C., defeated Cassell and Price, Tremont T. C., 6—1, 6—1; Maskell Fox and Howard Hoffman, Bedford Park T. C., defeated Frederick Millett and Ernest Haveman, Tremont T. C., 6—2, 6—3.

RUBIEN FOR A.A.U. SECRETARY

Metropolitan Association President Slated to Succeed Bartow S. Weeks.

Frederick W. Rubien, President of the Metropolitan Association, will be the next Secretary and Treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union, according to the consensus of opinion of New York's athletic leaders. He is certain to be the choice of the Eastern and Southern delegates to the National A. A. U. meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria on Nov. 16, and all that remains to insure his election is the indorsement of the representatives from the Middle and Far West.

Since the death of James E. Sullivan Mr. Rubien has been groomed for the position. Bartow S. Weeks, acting Secretary and Treasurer, will be unable to give up enough time in the future to warrant his selection to the position. The re-elected Supreme Court Justice would not accept it were it tendered to him.

Mr. Weeks has been active in the campaign for Mr. Rubien, which has been conducted quietly but effectively. The election of the St. George Club man to the Presidency of the Metropolitan Association probably only served as a stepping-stone to the higher position in the national organization.

The fight to keep the Secretary-Treasurship a strictly amateur position has apparently been successful, for it is said on the best of authority that no salary will be connected with the job.

As yet the West has put forth no candidate for the berth held for many years by the late James E. Sullivan. With the election little more than a week away, indications point to the unopposed election of Mr. Rubien, for were he to have a rival for the position something undoubtedly would have been heard by New Yorkers before this time.

COLUMBIA TO JOIN A. A. U.

Blue and White Athletes Want to Compete in Athletic Championships.

Columbia University has applied for admission to the Metropolitan Association of the Amateur Athletic Union. President Rubien received the request for membership yesterday and immediately ordered a mail vote on the application, so that if favorable action is taken, which is very likely, the Blue and White athletes can compete in the coming association and national cross-country championships.

The Morningside Heights institution of learning has never been enrolled with the governing athletic association. It has contemplated joining for several years.

By affiliating itself with the local association, Columbia will be privileged to enter teams in all the A. A. U. championship events, cross-country, indoor and outdoor track, and field championships, and any other contests held under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union. Already Columbia has promised to enter a team in the junior Metropolitan cross-country title event, which will be held next Saturday at Van Cortlandt Park.

Bernie Wefers, coach of the Blue and White ath

CHURCH SERVICES TO-MORROW

Associated Bible Students.
SUNDAY EVENING LECTURES,
Eight o'Clock Sharp.
PASTOR RAYMOND.
Topic:
"TWO SALVATIONS,
BUT NO SECOND CHANCE."
NEW YORK CITY TEMPLE,
W. 63d, Nr. B'way, (Subway Colum. Circle.)

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE.
17 Hicks St. 3 P. M. Service.
W. E. Van Amburgh's Topic: "EARTHLY KINGS OR HEAVENLY KINGS."
SEATS FREE. NO COLLECTION.

Baptist.
ASCENSION BAPTIST CHURCH, East 160th St., between Park and Morris Ave.—Rev. Frederick W. Hagar, Pastor. Services 11 A. M., 8 P. M.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH, FIFTH AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH. Union Services.
123 West 57th Street.
Rev. CORNELIUS WOELFKIN, D. D. Pastor, preaches at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. Sunday School, 9:45; Bible classes, 9:40 A. M. Friday, prayer meeting, 8 P. M.

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH,
92d St. and Amsterdam Av.
Rev. FRANK M. GOODCHILD, D. D., Pastor. 11—"The Gospel is Hagga!." Lantern Lecture. 8—"What I saw in India."

Collegiate Baptist Church of the Covenant, West 53d St., between 8th and 9th Avs., Dr. Oscar Haywood, Pastor. Services 10:45 A. M. 7:45 P. M.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH,
Broadway and 79th St.
Pastor, I. M. HALDEMAN, D. D.
11 A. M.—"OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST IS COMING SECRETLY TO THIS WORLD TO TAKE THE TRUE CHURCH TO HIMSELF AS HIS BRIDE, SEVEN YEARS BEFORE HE APPEARS WITH THE CHURCH IN GLORY AT JERUSALEM."
8 P. M.—"THE SON OF GOD FORETOLD THAT THE PROFESSING CHURCH SHOULD BE DIVIDED INTO THREE PARTS, BECOME APOSTATE, INFIDELIC AND FINALLY BE SPEWED OUT OF HIS MOUTH. HAVE WE REACHED THE DAYS OF THE LAST CHRISTIAN, AND THE COMING OF THE LORD?"

HOPE BAPTIST CHURCH, Broadway, 104th St.—Rev. E. S. HOLLOWAY, Pastor, will preach at both services.
11—"The High Court of Appeals."
8—"How Do We Know That Jesus Was Divine."

HOPSON MEMORIAL, Washington Square.—The Rev. James M. Bruce will preach. 11—"World Cities." 8—"The Holy War."

MADISON AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH, MADISON AV. COR. 31ST ST.
C. A. EATON, D. D., Pastor.
REV. DAVID LEE JAMISON will preach Sunday morning and evening.
11 A. M.—"AN ANCIENT VISION WITH A MODERN MEANING."
8 P. M.—"WHAT I HEARD AND SAW IN ASIA."
Union Bible Class, 9:45. Dr. B. S. Dunn, Ldr.

MOUNT MORRIS BAPTIST CHURCH, 5th Av., near 127th St.
Rev. JOSEPH HERMAN RANDALL, D. D.
11 A. M.—"The Healing of the Nations."
8 P. M.—"Master Morality vs. Slave Morality," in the teachings of Friedrich Nietzsche.

WASHINGTON HGTS BAPTIST CHURCH, 145th St. and Convent Av.
Rev. Dr. Harold Pattison, Minister.
11 A. M.—"The Beatitudes."
8 P. M.—Dev. Dr. Stephen Wise.

Christian Science.
Services are held in the following CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES, Sundays, 11 A. M. and 8 P. M., Wednesdays, 8 P. M.:
First Church, Central Park West & 96th St.
Second Church, Central Park West & 68th St.
Third Church, 125th St. & Madison Av.
Church, Ft. Washington Av. & 178 St.
Fifth Church, Madison Av. & 38th St.

Church of the New Jerusalem.
NEW CHURCH,
(Swedenborgian,)
35th St., bet. Park and Lexington Aves.
THE REV. JULIAN K. SMYTH, Pastor.
Sunday school, 10 A. M. Illustrated Bible lesson. Service 11 A. M. The pastor will preach. Subject:
"THE DOCTRINE OF NON-RESISTANCE."
How is this to be understood and applied?

Congregational.
BROADWAY TABERNACLE,
Broadway and 56th St.
Rev. CHARLES E. JEFFERSON, D. D., Pastor, preaches 11 A. M. and 8 P. M.
8 P. M., The Lessons the War is Teaching."
Wednesday, 8 P. M., Prayer Meeting.

CLINTON AVENUE CHURCH,
Clinton and Lafayette Avs., Brooklyn.
Rev. Nehemiah Boynton, D. D., } Ministers.
Rev. Morrison Russell Boynton, }
Public Worship 10:30 A. M. and 7:45 P. M.
Rev. Cornelius H. Patton, D. D., Home Secretary of the American Board, will preach in the morning.
Evening, Dr. Nehemiah Boynton will preach, his subject being "A Prosperous Soul."
Everybody welcome.

MANHATTAN CHURCH, Broadway, 76th St.
Rev. H. A. STIMSON, D. D., 11 and 8. Evening, People's Forum.

Disciples of Christ (Christian).
CENTRAL CHURCH, 142 West 81st St. Public worship, 11 A. M. Sunday School, 9:45 A. M. Chinese School, 4 P. M.

Ethical Culture.
THE SOCIETY FOR ETHICAL CULTURE, Founded 1876.
Meeting House, Central Park W. & 64th St.
11 A. M.—DR. FELIX ADLER, Speaker.
Subject: "IS THE SPREAD OF DEMOCRACY A SAFEGUARD AGAINST WAR?"

Jewish.
BETH-EL TEMPLE,
Fifth Av. and 76th Street.
Rev. Dr. SAMUEL SCHULMAN.
Sunday morning at 11.
"The Soul of America and the Jew."

FREE SYNAGOGUE.
CARNEGIE HALL: SUNDAY AT 11, INSTALLATION OF RABBI DAVID FICHMAN.
ADDRESSES: Dr. WISE, Dr. HARRIS, Mr. ELKUS, RABBI FICHMAN.
ALL ARE WELCOME.

TEMPLE EMANU-EL,
Fifth Av. and 43d St.
Saturday, 10:30 A. M. Sermon by Dr. Silverman.
"Religion as a Fine Art."
Sunday, 11:15 A. M. Sermon by Dr. Silverman.
"What Can We Do for Palestine?"
Monday, 11 A. M. Library. Lecture by Dr. Enelow.
"The Spiritual Character of the Bible."
All are welcome.

Lutheran.
Church of the Advent. Broadway at 93d St., Rev. WM. M. HORN, Pastor. Services at 11 and 8.

CHURCH OF THE HOLY TRINITY, 65th St. and Central Park West.
Rev. CHARLES J. SMITH preaches at 11 A. M. and 4 P. M. Sunday School at 9:30.

ST. JAMES LUTHERAN CHURCH, Madison Av., 73d St.—Dr. Remensnyder, Service, 11 A. M.

Methodist Episcopal.
CHANCELLOR BROWN, M. Y. U., LECTURES SUNDAY MORNING, 10 o'clock, on "THE NEW WORLD."
PARK AVENUE CHURCH, Cor. 86th St. 9th Ave. Cars connect with 86 St. Crosstn. Cars.

GRACE, 104, nr. Col., Christian F. Reisner, D. D., 11, "A Homelike Church." 7:45—"Southern Religion." Cotton bolls presented.

MADISON AVE. M. E. CHURCH,
Cor. 60th Street.
REV. LUTHER FREEMAN of Columbus, Ohio, preaches at 11 A. M. "Why Make Jesus King?" 8 P. M., "How We Ought to Think About God."

ST. ANDREW'S, 76th St., west of Columbus Av.—FRED WINSLOW ADAMS, 11 and 8.

WASHINGTON M. E. CHURCH, 46th St. at Broadway. J. LEWIS HARROCKS, Minister. 11 A. M.—"Christian Vocation." 8 P. M.—"Peace Proposals."

New Thought.
ARTHUR DUDLEY HALL of Boston will address the Unity Society, 59 Madison St., Wednesdays at 8.

DIVINE SCIENCE.
CHURCH OF THE HEALING CHRIST.
CHURCH HOME, 257 W. 104TH ST., SUNDAY, 11:00, Speaker, Rev. W. JOHN MURRAY. Subject: "Work." Afternoon service, 3:30, Masonic Temple, Brooklyn.

HOME OF TRUTH,
147 West 73d St.,
MISS HARRIET HALE REX,
Sundays, 11 A. M. & 8 P. M. Healing Tuesday, 3 P. M.; Friday, 8 P. M.

NEW THOUGHT FRATERNITY, (Inc.)
Lecture Tuesdays, Fridays, 8 P. M. Wednesdays, 8 P. M., Mark Rose, C. S. B., Lecturer, 123 West 80th St. Public invited.

NEW THOUGHT LECTURES, 32 West 58th St., Sundays, 11 A. M., Thursdays, 8 P. M. Speaker, W. Ellis Williams. Public invited.

THE NEW THOUGHT CHURCH,
ASHLEIGH HALL, 7 W. 36th St., Sunday services Nov. 22. Subject: "Tested by Time."

Presbyterian.
A. EDWIN KEIGWIN, D. D., preaches 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. WEST END Presbyterian Church, Amsterdam, at 105th.

BROADWAY
PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH,
114th St. and Broadway.
WALTER DUNCAN BUCHANAN, D. D., Minister, preaches at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M.

CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, WEST 57TH ST., bet. B'way and 7TH AV., Rev. WILTON MERLE-SMITH, D. D., Pastor, preaches at 11 A. M. and 4:30 P. M. Afternoon subject: "THE CONVERSION OF SAUL OF TARSUS."

FIFTH AVE. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Fifth Ave. and Fifty-fifth St.
Rev. J. H. JOWETT, D. D., Pastor.
Services at 11 A. M. and 4:30 P. M.
Dr. Jowett will preach at both services.
Offering for Chapels and Schools.
Men's Bible Class at 10 A. M.
The Mid-Week Service in the Chapel on Wednesday at 8:15 P. M. will be conducted by Dr. Jowett.

FORT WASHINGTON PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH,
174th St. near Broadway.
Rev. DANIEL HOFFMAN MARTIN, D. D., will preach at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M.

FOURTH PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH,
West End Av. and 91st St.
EDGAR WHITAKER WORK, D. D., Pastor.
Dr. Work preaches 11, Rev. P. E. Erickson, 8

LAFAYETTE AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, corner of South Oxford St. Rev. H. S. Murdoch of Buckhorn, Ky., preaches at 10:30. Dr. Albertson at 7:45.

MADISON AV. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH,
Northeast Corner of 70d St.
Rev. HENRY SLOANE COFFIN, D. D., Pastor, will preach at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M.

MADISON SQ. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH,
Madison Avenue and 24th Street.
Rev. C. H. PARKHURST, D. D., Pastor.
Rev. G. R. MONTGOMERY, PH. D., Assistant Minister.
11 A. M.—The pastor will preach.
8 P. M.—Choral service, sermon, Dr. Montgomery.

OLD FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.
FIFTH AVENUE—ELEVENTH STREET.
HOWARD DUFFIELD, 11 A. M., 8 P. M.

RUTGERS PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH,
BROADWAY AND 73D STREET.
Preaching at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. by the Rev. JOHN DOUGLAS ADAMS, D. D.

THE UNION THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.
Service in the Chapel, Claremont Av., between 120th and 122d Sts., at 11 o'clock. Preacher, the Rev. DUGALD MACFADYEN, M. A., of Letchworth, England.
The attendance of all not regularly worshipping elsewhere is cordially invited.

THE BRICK CHURCH.
Fifth Avenue and Thirty-seventh Street.
Ministers: { WILLIAM PIERSON MERRILL, { JAMES GORDON GILKEY.
Mr. Janeway will preach at 11 and at 4 o'clock. Bible School and Classes, 9:40 and 10 o'clock. Midweek Service, Wednesday at 8:15 P. M. NOON SERVICE EVERY WEEKDAY, 12:30-12:50.

UNIVERSITY PLACE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Corner 10th Street. Rev. GEORGE ALEXANDER, D. D., Minister, will preach at 11 A. M. Rev. H. L. Bowlby, General Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance at 8 P. M.

WEST-PARK PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, 86th St. and Amsterdam Av.
Rev. Anson P. Atterbury, D. D. } Pastors.
Rev. Anthony H. Evans, D. D. }
Dr. EVANS preaches at 11 A. M.
Dr. ATTERBURY at 8 P. M.

Protestant Episcopal.
CATHEDRAL OF ST. JOHN THE DIVINE, Amsterdam Av. and 112th St.
8 and 10 A. M.—The Holy Communion.
11 A. M.—Preacher, Rev. Dr. Wm. Harman Van Allen.
4 P. M.—Preacher, Rev. Dr. Henry Lubeck.
8 P. M.—Organ Recital.
Daily Services, 7:30 A. M., 12 M., 5 P. M. (Choral except Monday and Saturday.)

ALL ANGELS' CHURCH, West End Av. and 81st St., the Rev. S. DE LANCEY TOWNSEND, D. D., Rector.—Holy Communion 8 A. M. Morning Prayer and Sermon by the Rector at 11 A. M. Choral Evensong at 4 P. M. Strangers welcome.

CALVARY CHURCH, 4th Av. and 21st St.—The Rev. Theodore Sedgwick, Rector.—Services, 8, 10:15, 11 A. M. Evensong and procession of the parish guilds, 8 P. M.

CHRIST CHURCH, Broadway at 71st St. The Rev. EDWIN J. VAN ETTEN, Rector. Services 8 and 11, (Rector.) 4:30 and 8, (Rector.) Children's Service, 9:45 A. M., (Rector.)

CHURCH OF ST. MARY THE VIRGIN, 139 West 46th St., Rev. J. G. H. BARRY, D.D., Rector.—Low masses, 7:30, 8:15, 9. Solemn Mass, Procession, and Sermon, (Rector,) 10:45. Vespers at 4.

CHURCH OF THE HEAVENLY REST, 5th Av. and 90th St.
The Rev. HERBERT SHIPMAN, Rector.
8 A.M.—Holy Communion. 11—Morning service, sermon, (Rector.) 8—Evening prayer and sermon.

CHURCH OF THE HOLY COMMUNION, 20th Street and Sixth Avenue.
REV. HENRY MOTTET, D. D.
8 A. M. Holy Communion.
11 A. M. Preacher, the Rector.
12 M. Holy Communion.
3 P. M. Children's Service.
4 P. M. French Service.
8 P. M. Preacher, Rev. S. N. Kent.

CHURCH OF THE INCARNATION, Madison Av. and 35th St.
REV. H. ROBBINS, RECTOR.
8 A. M.—Holy Communion.
11 A. M.—Morning Prayer—Sermon, Rector.
4 P. M.—Evening Prayer—Address, Rector.

CHURCH OF ZION AND ST. TIMOTHY.
334 West 57th St.
Rector, Rev. HENRY LUBECK, D. C. L.
Holy Communion ..... 8 A. M.
Morning Prayer, Preacher, The Rector ..... 11 A. M.
Evensong, Preacher, Rev. Dr. Rushton ..... 8 P. M.

THE TRANSFIGURATION, 1 E. 29th St. Communions: 7, 8, 9, 10:30. SERMON and YOUNG MEN'S MASS: EVENSONG 4 o'clock, Solemn Recessional.

TRINITY CHURCH.
SUNDAY SERVICES:
8 A. M., HOLY COMMUNION.
10:30 A. M., THE LITANY.
11 A. M., MORNING PRAYER, HOLY COMMUNION, AND SERMON.
4 P. M., EVENSONG AND SERMON.
8 P. M., SERVICE AND SERMON.
WEEK-DAY SERVICES:
7:30 A. M., 12 M., 3 P. M.
SHORT SERVICE FOR BUSINESS PEOPLE DAILY AT 12 M.
CHURCH OPEN ALL DAY.

Reformed.
GRACE REFORMED CHURCH, 7th Av. 54th St. Services, 11 A. M., 8 P. M. The Minister, Rev. J. R. Duryee, D. D., will officiate.

HAMILTON GRANGE, Convent Av. and West 149th St., (near Amsterdam Av.)
PAUL SEIBERT LEINBACH, D. D., Minister.
11 A. M.—"Unspeakable Tenderness."
8 P. M.—"Cheating Yourself."

MADISON AVENUE REFORMED CHURCH,
Madison Av., corner 57th St.
11 A. M., 4 P. M. HUGH BLACK.

REFORMED CHURCH OF HARLEM, Lenox Av. and 123d St. Rev. Edgar Tilton, Jr., D. D., Minister. 11 A. M., Rev. John S. Allen, D. D. 8 P. M., Rev. Geo. H. Smythe.

THE MIDDLE COLLEGIATE CHURCH, 2d Av. and 7th St.
Rev. JOHN G. FAGG, D. D., Minister, will preach at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M.

THE MARBLE COLLEGIATE CHURCH, 5th Av. and 29th St.
Rev. DAVID JAS. BURRELL, D. D., Minister, will preach.
11 A. M.—"The Lord Looked Down to See."
8 P. M.—"Our Grapple with Our Evil Stars."

THE COLLEGIATE CHURCH OF ST. NICHOLAS.
5th Av. and 48th St.
Rev. MALCOLM JAMES MACLEOD, D. D., Minister, will preach at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. Evening subject: "What's the Matter with the World?"
Church School and Bible Classes 9:45 A. M.

THE WEST END COLLEGIATE CHURCH, West End Av. and 77th St.
Rev. HENRY EVERTSON COBB, D.D., Minister, will preach at 11 A. M. and 4:30 P. M. At 4:30 P. M. Subject: "Christ's Estimate of Greatness." The choir will sing Gounod's "Gallia."

Society of Friends.
RELIGIOUS SOCIETY OF FRIENDS, (Orthodox.)—Meetings for Worship at 11 o'clock, 144 East 20th St., New York, and Lafayette and Washington Avs., Brooklyn.

RELIGIOUS SOCIETY OF FRIENDS.—Meetings for worship, 11 A. M., at 221 E. 15th St., Manhattan, and 110 Schermerhorn St., Brooklyn.

Spiritualist.
FIRST GERMAN SPIRITUALIST CHURCH, Services in English Sundays, 8 P. M. Pabst Grand Circle, 59th & Columbus Circle.

SPIRITUALIST MEETINGS Sunday, Monday, Wednesday, Thursday, 8-8 P. M., Tuxedo Bldg., 59th and Madison Av., Christensen, Danish Psychic.

Theosophy.
THEOSOPHICAL HEADQUARTERS, 2,228 Broadway, 79th St.—Sunday, 8:15 P. M. Subject: "The Great Egos of the War." Mr. Vance Thompson. Admission Free. Strangers Welcome.

Unitarian.
ALL SOULS', (UNITARIAN,)
Fourth Av. and 20th St.
Rev. DR. THOMAS R. SLICER, Minister.
Rev. WM. LAURENCE SULLIVAN, Associate Minister. 11—Preach. Subject: RELIGIOUS INDEPENDENCY AND RELIGIOUS TRADITION—THE RECONCILIATION. Services at 11 A. M. All cordially invited.

JOHN HAYNES HOLMES
will preach at 11 A. M. on
"THE MENACE OF PRIVATE BUSINESS TO PUBLIC GOOD."
(A specific indictment and a specific remedy.)
CHURCH OF THE MESSIAH.
Park Av. and 34th St.
8:15 P. M.—Public Conference. Supt. Wistar L. Sears and Commissioner George H. Bell. "Organizing the Labor Market."

LENOX AVENUE UNITARIAN CHURCH, Corner 121st St. Services at eleven. "RELIGIOUS PROTOPLASM." Rev. Merle St. Croix Wright, D. D., Minister.

Universalist.
The CHURCH of the DIVINE PATERNITY, Central Park West and 76th St.
Rev. FRANK OLIVER HALL, D. D., Pastor, preaches at 11 A. M., "REAPING TIME." and at 4:30 P. M., "GOD'S GREATNESS. Flows around Our Incompleteness." Vesper Music, Sponsa "God Thou Art Great."

Y. M. C. A.
DR. FRANK CRANE,
"CHRIST AND ANTICHRIST."
West Side Y.M.C.A., 57th St. & 8th Av., 4 P.M.

FRED B. SMITH
At Harlem Y. M. C. A., 5 West 125th, SUNDAY, 4 P. M., MASS MEETING OF MEN. SUBJECT: "AMERICA'S GREATEST SIN."

Other Services.
BOWERY MISSION,
227 Bowery.
J. G. HALLIMOND, Superintendent.
THIRTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY
NOVEMBER 7TH, 8TH, 9TH, 1914.
Saturday, 7th, at 8 P. M.—Re-Union of Bowery Mission Brotherhood, 22,525 men on the roll.
Sunday, 8th, at 11 A. M.—Anniversary Service. Address by Rev. J. S. Avery. At 8 P. M., Evangelistic Meeting.
Monday, 9th, at 8 P. M.—Annual Rally. Addresses by Rev. W. H. Morgan, D. D.; Rev. W. D. P. Bliss, D. D.; John Lloyd Thomas, Esq., and others.

SPECIAL GALLERY FOR VISITORS.

CAN A SPIRIT BE PHOTOGRAPHED? See for yourself. Stereopticon Lecture, 8 P. M. "Spiritism: What is the Source of its Wonder-Working Power?" Religious Lecture Hall, 181st St. and Audubon Av. Prof. C. T. Everson, Lecturer. Dr. Wolfram, Soloist.

COSMOLOGICAL meetings are held at 600 West 181st every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock; music; all welcome. Dr. RIVERO.

GOSPEL TABERNACLE CHURCH, 8th Av. and 44th St., Rev. A. B. Simpson, pastor. Sunday, 10:30 A. M. and 7:45 P. M. Preaching by Rev. Chas. Inglis.

NEW MISSION.
KEY TO THE BIBLE.
Genealogical Hall, 266 W. 58th Street.
Mrs. I. de V. Plunkett, First Missionary. Lectures, Sundays, 3 P. M. Subject: "The One Genuine Key to Man's Thoughts." Wednesdays, 8 P. M. at 613 W. 204th St. Welcome.

VEDANTA SOCIETY, 135 West 80th. Swami Bodhananda. "Secret of Concentration," 8 P. M.

85TH STREET DAILY NOON PRAYER MEETING at Memorial Hall, National Bible Institute Building, 216 West 85th St., (one block west of Macy's.) Come it only for a few minutes. Prayer changes things.

BROOKLYN

Congregational.
PLYMOUTH CHURCH.
Orange Street. Rev. Nagwell Dwight Hillis, pastor. Services at 10:45 A. M. and 7:45 P. M. Morning, the dedicatory address on the new educational buildings of Plymouth Church, by Dr. Hillis.
Evening, the sixth sermon on the Great War. Subject: "Turkey: the Balkan Situation, and the Stake of Humanity in the Issue of the Great Struggle."

Presbyterian.
LAFAYETTE AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, corner of South Oxford St. Dr. Albertson preaches at 10:30 and 7:45.

Unitarian.
CHURCH OF THE SAVIOUR, (Unitarian.) Pierrepont and Monroe Place, Brooklyn, 2 blocks from Borough Hall Subway station. Rev. JOHN E. LATHROP.—Services at 11.

Y. M. C. A.
DR. S. PARKES CADMAN.
"THE FACT OF GOD." QUESTIONS ANSWERED. TILL SISTERS. BELGIAN MUSICAL CLASSES. Sunday, 3:00 P. M. Men only. Free.
BEDFORD BRANCH Y. M. C. A.
Bedford Av. and Monroe St., Brooklyn.

INSTRUCTION.

GYMNASIUM CLASSES
For Men, Women, Boys and Girls.
Terms very reasonable.
Broadway Presbyterian Church Gymnasium, 601 W. 114th St.
Full particulars, Sergt. BARKER, Hotel Royal, W. 113th St.
Phone 684 Morningside.

Business Education For Men and Boys
Day and Evening. 23rd St. Y. M. C. A.

ST. MARTHA'S
Bronxville, N. Y.
Episcopal.
Three Years Course. Specialty of Sewing, Dressmaking and Gardening.

FOUNDED 1879. STERN'S SCHOOL OF LANGUAGES
341 Madison Av. 200 W. 72d St.
Languages taught in classes or privately.

NEED FOR ALL GIFTS, SAYS R. W. DE FOREST

America's Destitution, as Well as Europe's Distress, Must Be Relieved.

BELGIAN FUND LEADS ALL

Red Cross Warns Against Use of Symbol—Christmas Fund Grows Rapidly.

Robert W. de Forest, who is Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Belgian Relief Fund, and also Vice President of the American Red Cross Society, has issued to members of the Charity Organization Society, of which he is President, a statement in which he answers the question whether people should contribute for relief of European war sufferers. Owing to Mr. de Forest's important official connection with both the Red Cross and Belgian funds, his statement is of particular interest at this time, when the whole country is contributing so generously. In his statement Mr. de Forest says:

Should we contribute to the Red Cross? Emphatically, yes. But not at the cost of neglecting suffering in America.

Many officers and members of the Charity Organization Society are associated with the American Red Cross and other committees formed to help women, children, and non-combatants in Europe. They are giving liberally of their service and money to this cause, but they are giving no less service and no less money to the work of this society.

The need in Europe is great, very great. Let us help Europe to meet it if we can. But the direct responsibility for meeting that need falls on the great nations of Europe—nations wealthier than our own; nations that are our creditors to the amount of tens of millions, which they are now very properly asking America to pay.

This is the chief cause of our present financial difficulties and a cause of much suffering here, and much more suffering still to come. Moreover, we will be called upon to bear some of Europe's burdens, for many who have gone to Europe to fight have left their wives and children here.

We cannot expect help from Europe. Our own burden will be greater than ever before and we must perforce bear that burden alone.

Therefore, while we should give and give liberally to relieve suffering in Europe, we should hold ourselves sufficiently in reserve to be able to relieve suffering at home. It means more sacrifice and more self-denial.

Offers Honor to R. A. C. Smith.

Dock Commissioner R. A. C. Smith received a cablegram from Ambassador Herrick on Thursday night asking him to organize and manage a Paris central bureau for all American money and relief supplies for Continental Europe and asked the Commissioner if he would come to Paris immediately.

In a letter to Mayor Mitchel yesterday Commissioner Smith said he felt obliged to decline the honor. He gave the Mayor a copy of the cablegram he had sent the Ambassador, which was as follows:

I should like to join you at once, and I ask you to accept my assurance of appreciation for the compliment in mind in offering me the chance to organize and manage Paris Central Bureau for American money and relief supplies and thus share in the big humanitarian work you are doing. Personal consideration would not be considered with the chance to aid you, but I feel responsibility for constructive work started here. Besides, we have some humanitarian problems at this end that demand consideration. You will therefore realize that my duty to the Mayor and to the city requires my presence here and I must deny myself the opportunity you offer me.

Belgian Fund Gets $17,220.

The Belgian Relief Fund continues to increase more rapidly than all the other funds combined. On Thursday and yesterday $33,000 was added to this fund. Of that amount $17,220.79 was received yesterday. The fund now totals $349,438.71.

Contributions to the Belgian Fund should be sent to J. P. Morgan & Co., 23 Wall Street, or to the Belgian Relief Fund, 8 and 10 Bridge Street. Yesterday's contributions (cents omitted) were:

Bank of Hawaii, Honolulu	$3,000	Charles Dumper	5
Anonymous	1,000	W. Clark	10
C. W. Harkness	1,000	Weber & Heilbronner	25
Estate of S. S.	1,000	Arthur Blot	2
Anonymous	500	R. B. Symington	25
C. B. Webster	500	Carolyn Boynton	25
G. Speranza	25	E. F. Wilcox	25
Mrs. G. C. Speranza	25	M. L. Sand	5
Mrs. F. A. Baldwin	1	Rev. G. L. Curtis	10
Two business women	2	H. & K. Emgelmeier	10
	2	H. Houser	50
Mrs. S. W. Downes	50	A. B. Bates	5
Mrs. C. W. Brownson	10	R. C. Mitchell	10
F. Stillman, Jr.	50	G. S. Merritt	5
Emily B. Shepard	50	F. C. Allen, Jr.	5
C. F. Willis	100	Miss B. Mitchell	10
Gladys Waterbury	50	N. C. Wise	10
Mrs. J. I. Waterbury	500	G. W. Byck	5
Dr. Jennings	300	W. Nellorgan	10
G. W. Hill, Jr.	250	A. Macdonald	10
J. H. Whittemore	200	A Friend	5
Mrs. G. D. Lord	200	George Luberaky	5
Waterbury, Jr.	100	Mrs. D'Anna	5
Dr. S. Quinn	5	Dr. C. B. Farrar	5
Mrs. J. Dryden	100	M. T. Keeney	5
B. Lacombe	100	Mrs. D. W. Ward	5
Horace Hanover	100	W. H. Strawn	15
James Brand	100	Selma	2
Edmunds Hyban	100	A. G. Nobila	2
Frank Lyman	100	Charlotte M. Kent	5
E. W. Mente	100	H. E. Hardy	1
Mrs. A. W. Coats	100	H. E. Townsend	25
Miss E. G. Hewitt	100	N. E. Cottrell	10
Hartman Evans	100	Ladies' Aux., Y. M.
P. B. Bowers	100	C. A., Catskill	10
J. M. Swift	100	A. Girard	10
Mrs. B. B. Hyde	100	A. Robaut	1
A. M. C.	100	R. Page	3
G. F. McKinney	100	Dr. Robert Abbe	25
Mrs. W. Sloane	100	A. G. Hubert	2
Annie M. Merriam	100	J. T. Browne	1
David Keppel	100	Mutual Life Clerks	5
A. H. Harris	100	J. C. Roblij	1
J. M. Blair	100	H. Williams	1
Robert Bowles	100	Julia B. Cox	15
T. O'Callaghan	100	E. Mason	10
J. A. Church	100	Rev. E. A. Lyon	15
H. R. Mallory	100	A Friend	20
Mrs. F. G. Ayres	100	M. K. S.	25
Mrs. W. Fisher	50	H. G. Blair	5
Mrs. J. N. Shreve	20	Little Girl	3
Mrs. W. Carstepean	100	Emily M. Jaffray	25
Polly and Adele Shreve	20	W. F. Robertson	1
Mrs. Cook	20	Mary Dougall	1
Rev. J. W. King	48	J. A. Essex	1
W. V. Miller	50	Mrs. A. J. Spafford	10
W. Parish	50	Mary E. Kelton	5
A. W. Putnam	50	J. H. N.	10
A. S. Dumont	50	G. W. Dominick	5
H. J. Munger (col.)	50	A. Lathers	25
F. W. M. Cutcheon (2d)	50	H. B. Dwenger	2
Mary Gans and Mrs. Stein	50	Nagle & Tomming	2
A. R. Morris	50	Carrie J. Histon	1
G. D.	50	Mrs. J. E. Lancaster	10
Rose and Frank C.	50	A Swiss	5
E. D. Morgan	50	George Abeel	25
Herbert Moore	50	John S. Rogers	25
A. B. Fletcher	50	Mary H. Alexander	5
Mrs. S. B. Styles	50	Dr. H. C. Coe	10
P. B.	50	Max Sackheim	5
J. Greenleaf	50	H. T. Thek	2
Mrs. M. N. Barrett	50	W. Ellis	5
C. F. Fattberg	20	Mrs. S. G. Avery	25
Miss T. Thomas	5	S. L.	5
Ida H. Spencer	5	A. C. Bainbridge	10
Miss C. B. White	5	Dr. W. Caulle	10
S. A. Strauss	25	G. M. Massey	1
Y. P. Ryan	25	M. T. Dempsey	5
George W. Scott	25	H. Lyons	3
Robert Stuart	10	Dorothy Baldwin	25
Camille Enyrard	5	Ellen H. Clarke	25
Mrs. M. P. Novak	5	S. M. Seaman	5
Lydia H. Root	10	W. G. Lane	25
Wolfe Banks	10	H. Thomson	25
C. H. T.	5	E. Talban	25
F. E. Ogden	10	E. H. Allen	5
Helen G. Vahler	10	B. Adams	10
Mannegale	10	Frank Wilmot	25
Mary R. Peck	10	Edward C. Bailey	10
G. P. Putnam	25	J. Pulleyn	10
Miss K. Gardner	5	Emma C. Sehring	10
J. M. V. Hicks	25	Anonymous	25
Red Bank High S. Juniors	7	F. B. Ransom	25
H. C. Deming	25	Julius Ferman	25
Erwin H. Morris	10	Miss A. De Camp	10
Frank H. Canty	10	Mrs. W. J. Hostetter	5
F. M. Myle	10	W. M. Bennett	5
A. S. Bourne	10	Mrs. A. Adams	10
Edith K. Lyle	25	Mrs. M. V. S. Armstrong	5
Mrs. T. F. Brownell	10	G. Rubin	3
G.	5	Miss K. Boyle	25
Eaton Beach	5	Eileen Howells	2
M. Egleston	10	J. L. Wheelock	5
Miss V. A. Meech	5	T. S. Easterbrook	5
A. E. Hodge	25	Mrs. W. H. Macintyre	25
H. F.	25	J. W. Patterson	25
J. W. Patterson	27	Dr. R. J. Hamilton	25
Dr. R. J. Hamilton	25	Morewood & Co.	25
Morewood & Co.	25	C. D. Hardie	2
E. M. Scarsdale	5	E. Scurrah	5
Mrs. W. J. Thomson	2	F. S. Riley	10
Mrs. M. W. Turner	5	Mrs. J. H. Dereheim	5
A. A. Fowler	25	C.	25
A. Fowler	25	C. Chinese	25
Mrs.	25	M. Jacobus	25
[illegible]	50	J. Keyes, Jr.	100
		Eva M. Parker	100
		Mrs. J. McGeorge	1
		Clinton & Frank	1
		Cash Box 588	1
		B. Burbidge	1
		Louis Rich	1
		A. W.	1
		An American	1
		J. Engh	1
		Cornelia Bird	1
		A Friend	1
		Muriel Dudley	1
		George Pilgrim	1
		R. D. Covert	1
		Mrs. Howes	30
		Mrs. A. W. Billings	1
		Agnes Silsova	1
		Will L. Davis	1
		Marie Richards	1
		Nell Litchfield	1
		A. Joachin	1
		G. F. Weldin	1
		George Coleman	1
		C. W. Parkhurst	2
		Miss F. Fairbanks	5
		Cash	1
		Ami	1
		Onunda	5
		Miss K. Coolbaugh	5
		H. S. Martin	1
		Cash	1
		Harry S. Orr	1
		H. D.	5
		Mrs. A. Cruwys	5
		Anonymous	200
		Mrs. C. L. Bissell	1
		Rev. F. F. Butterworth	10
		Subscriber	10
		D. L. Shoemaker	2
		Margaret Richardson	2
		Cash	1
		Harry S. Orr	1
		H. D.	5
		Mrs. A. Cruwys	5
		Anonymous	200
		Mr

100 Years A Commercial Bank
THE CHATHAM AND PHENIX NATIONAL BANK
192 Broadway
Cor. John St.
Capital and Surplus, $3,500,000
Resources, 30,000,000
Invites Your Account

The Safest Bond
For the Private Investor
Present financial conditions have resulted in increased yield obtainable from the traditionally safe Municipal Bond without affecting the security of principal. We are therefore able to offer, at Prices to Yield 4½% to 6% municipal bonds which ordinarily yield only 4% to 5½%
Particulars upon request.
Spitzer, Rorick & Co
Successors to SPITZER & CO.
Established 1871
5 Nassau Street, New York
Toledo Chicago

At the Present Time
We are selling selected first mortgages on Kings and Queens County improved properties with our guarantee of payment of principal and interest to net
5½%
Small or large amounts to meet your needs. OUR RECORD: Millions sold with no loss to any investor.
HOME TITLE INSURANCE Co
OF NEW YORK
OFFICES {383 Jay St., Brooklyn, N. Y. {Post Office Building, Jamaica
Capital, Surplus and Profits over $1,000,000

Bonds for Investment
Harris, Forbes & Co
Pine Street, Corner William
NEW YORK

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN says:
"He that waits upon fortune is never sure of a dinner."
LIKEWISE, he that postpones safeguarding the administration of his estate after death is never sure of the fulfillment of his wishes in disposing of it.
The partial or entire control of an estate by a responsible and capable Trust Company is the plan increasingly favored by conservative business men.
We invite confidential discussion of these matters, frankly and without charge.
Franklin Trust Company
New York Office: 46 Wall Street
Brooklyn: 166 Montague Street
Offices: 369 Fulton Street

Interest Credited Monthly
paid on accounts subject to Check. Special rates on time certificates of deposit.
United States Mortgage and Trust Company
[illegible]

5½% GUARANTEED FIRST MORTGAGES
ON NEW YORK CITY REAL ESTATE
Legal Investments for Trust Funds and Trust Estates. Tax exempt in New York State. We are under the supervision of the State Banking Department.
Our Booklet, "A" Explains.
Sent Upon Request.
FIRST MORTGAGE GUARANTEE CO.,
Bridge Plaza, N., L. I. City, N. Y.

WEST KENTUCKY COAL COMPANY
First Mortgage Five Per Cent.
Thirty-Year Gold Bonds.

The Equitable Trust Company of New York, successor by merger to The Trust Company of America, as Trustee under the mortgage of the West Kentucky Coal Company, dated July 1st, 1905, hereby invites tenders for the sale to it, under the provisions of said mortgage, of as many bonds secured thereby as will exhaust the sum of Thirty thousand five and 28-100 Dollars ($30,005.28) at a price not to exceed 105% and accrued interest; bonds to be presented for payment on January 1st, 1915. Sealed tenders will be opened at the office of The Equitable Trust Company of New York, No. 37 Wall Street, New York City, at 12 o'clock noon November 27th, 1914, and should be endorsed "Tenders for the Sinking Fund of the West Kentucky Coal Company."
The right is reserved to reject any and all tenders.
Dated New York, N. Y., November 5th, 1914.
THE EQUITABLE TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK,
Successor Trustee.
By LYMAN RHOADES, Vice President.

POCAHONTAS CONSOLIDATED COLLIERIES COMPANY, INCORPORATED, FIFTY-YEAR FIVE PER CENT. GOLD BONDS.
Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the terms of the Mortgage dated July 1st, 1907, that the undersigned, as Trustee, will receive sealed proposals up to 3 P. M. on the 7th day of December, 1914, for the sale to it of bonds as above described sufficient to use the sum of $32,455.36. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all tenders.
THE NEW YORK TRUST COMPANY,
Trustee.
By H. W. MORSE, Secretary.
New York, October 31st, 1914.

WANTED BY MANAGER OF GOING MANUFACTURING COMPANY.—One hundred thousand dollars to buy out other shareholders and insure efficient financial backing and business management. O. M., Box 16, 376 Times Downtown.

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Further Investment Improvement—Progress of Reserve Bank Organization.

The fact that one of the largest of the national banks practically completed yesterday the retirement of the Aldrich-Vreeland circulation which it took out in large amount in August is one tangible indication of the continued progress toward normal conditions. Including the amounts paid in to retire circulation, it was estimated yesterday that the banks had suffered a loss in cash for the week, but these estimates, perhaps, did not take count of the fact that the retirement of this circulation would not show any cash loss in the weekly bank statement to the extent to which the national banks are using the notes of other banks to retire their own circulation, and this is being done on a fairly large scale. Such notes when held by national banks, as is well known, are not counted in their cash holdings in the reports which they make to the Clearing House at the end of the week, but are deducted from gross deposits.

It is natural, of course, that with money rates declining, and it was possible yesterday in some instances to obtain loans under 6 per cent., the demand for high-grade issues should become keener, and this went on yesterday as on other days recently. New York City short-term notes sold at new high prices, and further improvement was reported in the market for the city's long-time bonds. More selling orders are being withdrawn from the bond market, which is an important even though negative contribution to its strength. The call yesterday of another installment of the money which the New York City syndicate is supplying for the paying off of the city's obligations abroad served as a reminder of the smoothness with which this transaction is being carried through. Bankers of course feel much relieved regarding the foreign exchange position, for we have made really notable progress toward the clearing up of the difficulties which existed in that quarter of the money market in the early days of the war.

Further formal steps of organization were taken by the Federal Reserve Bank in New York yesterday, making certain the bank's preparedness to undertake such business as may come to hand in the early days after its formal opening on Nov. 16. It is expected that the Reserve Bank will become a member of the Clearing House, and that thereby the operation of the clearing system will be still further simplified. Such an arrangement will increase the willingness of member banks to place with the Reserve Bank not only the amount of reserve required by law, but also the part of their reserve which they are free to keep either in their own vaults or with the Reserve Bank. If debit and credit balances at the Clearing House can be settled by an entry on the books of the Federal Reserve Bank the chief reason for keeping in a member's vaults more than the minimum cash reserve required will be done away with.

ROCK ISLAND PLAN DROPPED

Stockholders' Protective Committee Abandons Scheme.

The Stockholders' Protective Committee of the Rock Island Company, which is headed by William A. Read, has issued a circular stating that, as it has been found impossible to put into effect any plan for reorganizing the company, the shareholders are requested to withdraw the stock deposited with the committee.

"The committee is in no better position than an individual stockholder to protect the interests of depositors under the protective agreement," the letter reads. It states that a decree of foreclosure has been entered in behalf of holders of the 4 per cent. collateral trust bonds, "and hereby waives the payment by each depositor of his proportion of the money borrowed, advances made, and expenses incurred by the committee."

The plan originally contemplated for placing the Rock Island on its feet called for the issue of about $32,000,000 preferred stock by the operating company which was underwritten tentatively. The proposal was abandoned when it was estimated that dividends on the stock might not be earned for two years.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Call money: new loans, 5@6 per cent., according to terms; standing loans, 6@3 per cent.

Time money, 6 per cent. bid for sixty and ninety days, 5¾@6 per cent. for four months and 5½@6 per cent. for five and six months. Mercantile paper was quoted at 6@6½ per cent. for the best names.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE RATES.
Cable and Sight Rates.

	High.	Low.	Last.
Demand sterling	$4.90⅞	$4.90¾	$4.90⅞
Cable sterling	4.91¼	4.90¾	4.91¼

CLOSING RATES.

	Demand.	Cable.
London	$4.90⅝	$4.91¼
Paris	5.11½	5.10½
Berlin	.83½	.83⅝
Switzerland	5.17½	5.17
Italy	5.33	5.32½
Holland	.40⅝	.40 15-16

New York Clearing House exchanges, $240,702,034; balances, $15,339,653. Sub-Treasury debit balance, $827,990.

The local banks lost $13,125,000 on their Sub-Treasury operations this week.

Exchange on New York at domestic centres: Boston, par; Chicago, 5c discount; St. Louis, 30c premium; San Francisco, 50c permium; Minnesota, 30c premium; Cincinnati, 35c premium; Montreal, 5.62½c permium.

SILVER QUOTATIONS.

Bar silver in London, 23d, unchanged; in New York, 49¾c, unchanged.

GAIN FOR INDUSTRIAL ROADS

Commerce Commission Re-establishes Allowances from Trunk Lines.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—In a supplemental decision today in the industrial railways case, the Interstate Commerce Commission directed trunk line railroads to re-establish allowances or divisions with the United States Steel Corporation railways, which are concededly common carriers. Tens of thousands of dollars annually will accrue to the industrial lines through the decision.

The commission said:

"We shall expect the trunk line roads, under the modification here made of our original findings, to re-establish allowances, divisions, or demurrage or per diem arrangements with the industrial roads only in instances in which the transaction is bona fide and in which it is clearly lawful and proper. Each case must be judged by its own facts and merits."

The commission modified its original findings on account of the decision of the Supreme Court in the tap line cases. It says, however:

"What we have said relative to establishment of allowances or divisions with the industrial roads referred to is not to be understood as a finding by us that those industrial roads can resume these relations with the trunk line carriers without transgressing the provisions of the commodities clause. If infractions of that law come to our notice we shall in the proper way bring them to the attention of the Department of Justice."

Chairman Harlan, who prepared the original decision in the industrial railways case, dissented from the findings of Commissioner Clark and the majority in today's decision. He holds that an order should be entered on the basis of the original report, so that the whole matter might be judicially reviewed and some definite principle established by which all similar cases could be disposed of.

ROAD'S REVENUES INCREASE

Annual Report of the Toledo, St. Louis & Western.

The report of the Toledo, St. Louis & Western Railroad for the year ended June 30 shows a surplus after deductions for interest on bonds and for "reserve on account of advances, Toledo Terminal Railroad," of $118,306, as against $63,762 in the preceding year. President W. L. Ross says:

"The results of the operation of the property for the year show the largest operating revenues in the history of the road, there being an increase of $252,954, or 5.83 per cent. over the preceding year, regardless of the general business depression which prevailed throughout the country, especially during the latter period of the fiscal year. This showing, however, was more than offset by the increase in operating expenses and taxes of $263,220, or 8.54 per cent.

"While increases in wages have been granted to certain classes of employes, nevertheless applications from other classes are confronting your management at the present time."

Mr. Ross also complains of higher taxes and expresses hope of a substantial increase in rates. Income from investments increased $276,805, and total income showed a gain of $63,639.

THE CONDITION OF TRADE.

Commenting on the condition of trade and the business of the banks, Dun's Review says:

Further improvement appears in the financial markets, and although the area of war is extended, important progress has been made in restoring order out of the recent chaos in international exchanges. That the movement of trade is still greatly retarded is shown by the decreases in bank clearings, railroad earnings, and iron and steel output; but the situation is clearly much better than these statistics indicate. An immense expansion is daily made in exports; a surplus in bank reserves has been restored; emergency currency is being steadily retired, and a notably widening demand for investment securities has set in.

Although some increase appears in bank clearings as compared with the previous week, aggregate payments through the banks, as reported to Dun's Review, continue much smaller than those of the two years immediately preceding, the total this week being only $2,178,271,738, against $3,005,914,219 in 1913 and $3,002,566,788 in 1912, thus showing a loss of 27.5 per cent, in each case. Decreases of 34.1 and 34.7 per cent., respectively, are shown by the returns at New York City.

Bradstreet's says:

Continued improvement in sentiment, additional ease in money market matters, increased interest in stocks, and bonds at higher prices, heavy grain exports, sustained demand for war materials at remunerative prices, high prices for cereals and live stock, somewhat better collections, excellent Winter wheat conditions, and undeniable betterment in the Southern cotton situation, due to a rise in exports, furnish a budget of favorable news this week. On the other hand, there is considerable idleness, which reduces the purchasing power in many sections, and warm weather adversely effects retail trade, while likewise restricting reorders.

BOSTON CURB MARKET.

Following were the sales on Boston Curb yesterday:

Sales.		Open.	High.	Low.	Last.
10	Bohemia	1	1	1	1
600	Chief Cons	.81c	82c	81c	81c
10	Cortez	.20c	20c	20c	20c
125	Crown Res	.90c	92c	90c	92c
500	Davis-Daly	.55c	55c	54c	54c
25	Eagle & Blue bell	80c	80c	80c	80c
10	Dome Exten	4c	4c	4c	4c
100	Goldfield Cons	.92c	93c	92c	93c
100	La Rose	.70c	70c	70c	70c
100	Mex. Metals	.15c	15c	15c	15c
25	McKinley-Dar	.42c	42c	42c	42c
800	Nev. Douglas	.43c	48c	43c	48c
1,700	Ohio Copper	7c	9c	6c	6c
100	U. P. Shar	8¾	8¾	8¾	8¾

Following were the closing bid and asked prices:

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Alaverd	.70	.90	Jumbo Ex.	.48	.50
Atl. G'f'd	.15	.20	La Rose	.72	.75
Bay S. G.	.08	.09	Majestic	.08	.12
Begole	.20	.25	Mex. Met.	.14	.16
Bohemia	1	1⅛	McK.-D.	.41	.45
Bost. Ely	.20	.25	M. of Am.	2	2¾
Butte & L.	.10	.15	Nev. Doug.	.46	.53
Calaveras	.93	.95	New Balt.	.50	.65
Chief Con.	.75	.85	Ohio Cop.	.05	.06
Cons. Cop.	.85	1	So. Lake	1⅛	2¼
Cr. Res	.90	.94	Stew's M.	1	1 1-16
Davis-D.	.50	.56	Ton. Min.	6¼	6⅝
Eagle and Bluebell	.75	.80	Ton. Bel.	4⅜	4½
1st N. Cop.	.78	.80	Ton. Ext.	2⅝	2⅞
G'f'd Con.	.92	.96	Ton. Merg.	.23	.27
G'f'd Merg.	.16	.18	Un Verde.	.85	1
Houghton	½	1⅛	Un Pr Sh.	8½	8⅝
Iron Blos.	1 1-16	1⅛	Yukon G'd	1⅛	2
Jim B'ler	.49	.50

RAILWAY EQUIPMENT BONDS.

The following are quoted on a percentage basis:

Name.	Maturity.	Rate.	Bid.	Ask.
Atl. Coast Line	1914-'21	4 @4½	5.35	4.95
Balt. & Ohio	1914-'23	4½	5.25	4.90
But., Roch. & P.	1914-'30	4½@5	5.25	4.90
Ches. & Ohio	1914-'17	4	5.45	5.00
Chicago & N. W.	1914-'23	4½	5.25	4.80
Chi., Ind. & Louis.	1914-'23	4½	6.30	5.40
Erie Railroad	1914-'23	4½@5	5.75	5.25
Hocking Valley	1914-'23	5	5.65	5.30
Illinois Central	1914-'23	4½@5	5.30	4.90
Louis. & Nash.	1914-'23	5	5.25	4.75
Mo., Kan. & Tex.	1914-'23	5	6.35	5.80
Mo. Pacific	1914-'22	5	6.75	5.75
Penn. Gen.	1914-'23	5 @4½	5.12	4.75
St. L., I. Mt. & S.	1914-'24	5	6.50	5.50
Seaboard Air L.	1914-'23	5	5.50	5.00
Southern Railway	1914-'24	4½@5	5.50	5.00
Southern Pacific	1914-'23	4½	5.30	4.90
Virginian Ry	1914-'19	5	6.50	5.40

SHORT TERM NOTES.

Security and Rate.	Due.	Bid.	Asked.	Yield.
Amalgamated Copper Co., 5%	Mar. 15, 1915	99¾	99⅞	5.30
American Locomotive Co., 5%	July, 1915	98½	100	5.00
American Tel. & Tel. Sub., 5%	Apr., 1916	99¼	99⅝	5.30
American Tobacco Scrip, 6%	Sept., 1915	100	100⅛	5.40
Baltimore & Ohio R. R., 4½%	June, 1915	99½	99¾	5.25
Bethlehem Steel Co., 5%	June 11, 1915	98⅞	99¼	6.25
Chicago & Western Indiana R. R., 5%	Sept., 1915	98	99	7.00
Chicago Elevated Rys., 5%	July, 1916	...	98	6.35
Consolidated Gas Co., 6%	June, 1915	100½	100 11-16	4.57
Erie R. R. 5%	Apr., 1915	97¼	98½	8.50
Erie R. R., 5%	Oct., 1915	96½	97½	7.50
Erie R. R., 5½%	Apr., 1917	92	96	7.15
General Motors Co., 6%	Oct., 1915	99½	100¼	5.70
General Rubber Co., 4½%	July, 1915	98½	99	6.00
Harlem River & Port. R. R., 5%	May, 1915	90	98	12.00
Hocking Valley Ry., 6%	Nov., 1915	99	99½	6.50
International Harvester Co., 5%	Feb. 15, 1915	99½	100	5.00
Lackawanna Steel Co., 5%	Mar., 1915	94	96	17.00
Lake Shore & Mich. So. R. R.	June 10, 1915	5.35	5.00	Disc
Michigan Central R. R., 4½%	Mar. 2, 1915	99	...	...
Montreal Tramways & Power Co., 6%	Apr., 1915	...	99½	5.40
New England Navigation Co., 6%	May, 1917	95	98	8.10
N. Y. C. & H. R. R., 5%	Apr., 1915	98¾	99¼	6.50
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 4½%	May, 1915	98¾	99¼	6.00
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 5%	Sept. 15, 1915	98¾	99	6.50
N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R., 6%	Oct., 1915	98	98¼	6.50
N. Y., N. H. & Hartford R. R., 5%	May, 1915	90	95	15.00
Pacific Gas & Electric Co., 5%	Mar. 25, 1915	99	100	5.00
Pennsylvania R. R. conv., 3½%	Oct., 1915	96¾	99¾	5.05
Public Service Corporation of N. J., 6%	Mar., 1916	96½	98	6.55
Seaboard Air Line Ry., 5%	Mar., 1916	97	99	6.50
Southern Railway, 6%	Feb., 1916	97	99	5.85
Southern Railway, 5%	Mar., 1917	97	96¼	6.45
Sulzberger & Sons, 6%	June, 1916	98	99	6.65
Union Typewriter Co., 5%	Jan. 15, 1916	98	98¼	6.55
United Fruit Co., 6%	May, 1917	102	102¼	4.60
Utah Company, 6%	Apr., 1917	95	99	6.50

New York City Notes.

New York City, 6%	Sept., 1915	101	101¼	4.80
New York City, 6%	Sept., 1916	102	102¼	4.60
New York City, 6%	Sept., 1917	103½	103¾	4.60

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK HAS A HOME

Takes the Fish Offices, on the Ground Floor of 62 Cedar Street.

FULL STAFF APPOINTED

William Woodward Will Serve as Deputy Governor—James F. Curtis of Boston Acting Secretary.

Pierre Jay, Chairman of the Federal Reserve Bank, which is to be opened a week from Monday, announced yesterday that a lease had been signed for the banking room and offices on the ground floor of the building of Harvey Fisk & Sons at 62 Cedar Street. The offices of the Fisk firm have been moved to the second floor, and the banking quarters were made ready yesterday for the occupancy of the new institution. The removal from the bank's temporary headquarters at 27 Pine Street will probably begin today.

The organization of a temporary staff was also announced yesterday. William Woodward, President of the Hanover National Bank and a Director of the Federal Reserve Bank, will serve as Deputy Governor, but will be called upon only in the absence or disability of Governor Benjamin Strong, Jr., and will receive no compensation. C. E. Gregory, Cashier of the National City Bank, will serve as Acting Cashier. B. W. Jones, Assistant Secretary, and R. E. Giles, Assistant Treasurer, of the Bankers' Trust Company, and S. A. Welldon, Assistant Cashier of the First National Bank, will continue as Acting Assistant Cashiers, in which capacity they have been serving this week in receiving the first installments on account of capital stock subscriptions.

James F. Curtis of Boston has been made Acting Secretary and will also advise the Directors on legal matters. Mr. Curtis was for several years Assistant Attorney General of Massachusetts, and was Assistant Secretary of the Treasury under Messrs. MacVeagh and McAdoo. He resigned early this year, and has since been practicing law in Boston.

I. B. Hopper, manager of the credit department of the Chemical National Bank, will organize the credit system of the Federal Reserve Bank.

These temporary appointments, it was stated, were necessary in order that the bank might open on Nov. 16 and were only until permanent officers and clerks could gradually be selected.

The directors have also appointed an executive committee consisting of Gov. Strong, chairman; Chairman Jay, William Woodward, Henry R. Towne and William B. Thompson. Under the bylaws of the bank, this committee, subject to the supervision and control of the full board, is empowered to pass on all commercial paper submitted for discount; to apply for and provide for the security of such Federal Reserve notes as may, in the judgment of the committee or of the board, be necessary for the general requirements of the bank; to employ or to delegate to officers of the bank authority to employ clerks and other subordinates and to define their duties and fix their compensation; to approve bonds furnished by the officers and employes of the bank and to provide for their custody; to exercise such other powers as may be from time to time delegated to it by the board of directors—in general to conduct the business of the bank and to recommend to the board from time to time changes in the discount rate.

Messrs. Jones, Giles and Weldon were still busy at the Clearing House yesterday taking in the payments on account of capital stock subscriptions and at the end of the day all the member banks but one had paid in their installments of one-sixth of the amount subscribed. This one bank has an allotment of 78 shares and its payment, amounting to $1300 will probably be received today. The membership consists of all the national banks in the state, numbering 480, and the number of shares allotted is 199,317, the aggregate subscriptions being $19,931,700.

The allotments amount to 6 per cent. of the capital and surplus of the respective members. The first call, as provided by the law, was 1 per cent. of the capital and surplus, or one-sixth of the amount subscribed. The second one-sixth is to be called by the Federal Reserve Board within three months and the third within six months. The remaining half may be called at any time.

The amount due on the first call was $3,320,650, but in the aggregate those that have paid have turned in more than the $1,300 still outstanding. Adjustments are being made with the banks that have overpaid, as well as with a few that have underpaid, so that in the end the total payment will be exactly $3,320,650.

The amount to be paid in on Nov. 16 on account of the reserves of the member banks is estimated at $100,000,000. This is payable in gold or lawful money, except that half of any member's payment may be made in approved commercial paper. The stock subscriptions are payable only in gold or gold certificates. This fund is being kept in the vaults of the Clearing House Association for the present.

J. A. BRODERICK, AUDIT CHIEF.

State Bank Examiner Resigns to Go with Federal Reserve.

Joseph A. Broderick has been appointed by the Federal Reserve Board as Chief of the Division of Audit and Examination of the new system. This was learned yesterday through an announcement by State Superintendent of Banks Richards of Mr. Broderick's resignation as State Bank Examiner in charge of the Credit Bureau and the Private Bankers' Bureau.

Mr. Broderick has a national reputation as an authority on bank examinations. Before his appointment to the Banking Department in 1910 he was connected with the Morton Trust Company for more than ten years. He was responsible for the introduction into the State Banking Department of a system of foreign exchange department examinations. In this connection in 1912 he went to Europe, and was the first American official to examine banking branches abroad.

During the same year Mr. Broderick organized the Credit Bureau of the Banking Department, the work of which consists of collecting and recording detailed information concerning banking institutions and the credit standing of bank borrowers. The system which he perfected has been the means of increasing the effectiveness of bank examinations and of protecting banks against unscrupulous and overcredited borrowers. This system has since been adopted by the banking departments of other States.

In the latter part of 1910 Mr. Broderick made the discoveries which led to the closing of the Northern Bank, the Washington Savings Bank, and the Carnegie Trust Company. He was thereafter associated with District Attorney Whitman in the investigation and trials which resulted in the conviction of William J. Cummins, Joseph B. Reichman, and other bankers responsible for the failure of the closed institutions.

Mr. Broderick is a member of the New York Credit Men's Association, and has been active in the affairs of the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks, of which organization he is an honorary member. For a number of years past he has been prominent in the educational activities of the American Institute of Banking.

State Bank Examiner Daniel W. Quinn, Jr., has been appointed by Supt Richards as examiner in charge of the Private Bankers' Bureau, and State Bank Examiner George W. Egbert has been placed in charge of the Credit Bureau.

Mr. Quinn was appointed State Bank Examiner in October, 1910, from the civil service list. Prior to that time he had a practical experience of ten years in the National Bank of Commerce and the Mutual Alliance Trust Company. He has acted for the Banking Department in a number of special investigations, has been Special Deputy Superintendent in charge of the Woodhaven Bank, and, at the request of District Attorney Whitman, is now associated with the prosecution of Henry Siegel, whose trial will begin on Monday next at Geneseo.

Mr. Egbert has been a State Bank Examiner for the last four years, having been appointed from the civil service list in September, 1910. He has had twenty years' practical banking experience. Since January, 1911, he has been acting as Special Deputy Superintendent in charge of the Carnegie Trust Company. He will continue to hold this position in addition to assuming the duties of examiner in charge of the Credit Bureau.

CALL FOR $16,765,975 OUT.

Syndicate Managers to Send Only $80,000,000 Abroad.

J. P. Morgan & Co. and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., managers of the syndicate to take care of the city's maturing obligations abroad, called on the members yesterday for the payment of the eighth installment next Monday. The amount is twice as large as that of any previous call, totaling $16,765,975. Practically 10 per cent. may be paid in clearing house checks, as the syndicate managers have bought that amount of exchange below the present gold export point, which is $4.90. The balance may be paid either in gold or in foreign exchange.

Of the $100,000,000 subscribed only $80,000,000 is for payments abroad, the rest being for the city's domestic purposes. The payment of the $16,765,975 on Monday will bring the total turned in for this purpose to $51,549,015, leaving less than $80,000,000 to be provided for by gold shipments to Ottawa or by forwarding exchange. Another call for about the same amount is planned for a week from Monday, leaving some $14,000,000 to be paid later.

City bills and notes to the amount of $12,500,000 will be due abroad on Nov. 30, and these have been provided for. The present and later calls will take care of maturities in London and Paris in December.

COMMITTEE SEEKS PROXIES.

Hopes to Elect Five New York Railways Co. Directors.

A committee consisting of Darwin P. Kingsley, President of the New York Life Insurance Company; William A. Day, President of the Equitable Life; Haley Fiske, Vice President of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and Allan Forbes, head of the State Street Trust Company of Boston, is seeking the proxies of income bondholders of the New York Railways Company to be voted at the annual meeting on Dec. 7. Under the indenture of the 5 per cent. bonds the holders got the right to elect five of the company's eleven Directors.

"Heretofore the election has gone by default," said Mr. Kingsley last night. "We propose now to remedy this and have the bondholders express their choice. The five Directors now technically representing the bondholders have, as we believe, misinterpreted the indenture, and as a result the holders of these securities are not now receiving the income to which they are entitled by the earnings of the road."

The institutions represented by the committee are large holders of the income bonds. Recently they brought suit against the company for an accounting on the ground that bond owners had not received all the income to which they were entitled.

POOL ALMOST SUBSCRIBED.

Only $20,000,000 of Cotton Fund Remains to be Pledged.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Only $20,000,000 of the $100,000,000 to be raised for the "cotton pool" by banks in the States that do not grow cotton remains to be pledged, according to a statement issued this afternoon by Mr. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury. Mr. McAdoo's statement reads:

"Highly satisfactory progress is being made in the formation of the proposed cotton loan fund. Already $80,000,000 of the $100,000,000 allotted to the non-cotton producing States has been pledged, leaving only $20,000,000 more to be subscribed. I am confident that the remainder will be provided shortly.

"All talk about the plan being in contravention of the Sherman anti-trust laws is sheer buncombe. There is no foundation for it."

MORE CURRENCY RETIRED.

Local Banks Take Up Emergency Bills for $10,432,750.

There were further heavy retirements of emergency currency by the New York banks yesterday, the total being $10,432,750. This brings the whole amount retired so far to about $34,000,000, out of about $133,000,000 issued to New York banks. The National City Bank, which has turned back large amounts in the last two days, has now cancelled nearly all it had taken out.

The advance of the tax on emergency currency to 3½ per cent. on Nov. 1 and the prospective advance to 4 per cent. on Dec. 1, with the approaching opportunity for rediscounts at the Federal Reserve Bank, taken with the continued heavy inflow of currency from the interior, have operated to stimulate these retirements.

FINANCIAL NOTES.

Lewis L. Clarke, President of the American Exchange National Bank, has been elected a Director of the Federal Sugar Refining Company.

Directors of the Federal Utilities Company, Inc., yesterday elected George T. Ordway President to succeed De Forest Candee, resigned. Mr. Ordway is connected with the banking firm of Bertron, Griscom & Co. Mr. Candee will continue as a Director.

So far this week $3,500,000 of 4 per cent. collateral trust bonds of the Rock Island Railroad Company have been deposited with the Protective Committee of Bondholders, making the total to date exceed $37,000,000 of the $71,000,000 bonds outstanding.

MINING STOCK QUOTATIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Alta	.05	Julia	.01
Andes	.03	Occidental Con	.32
Belcher	.73	Ophir	.03
Best & Belcher	.04	Seg. Belcher	.03
Challenge Con	.05	Sierra Nevada	.08
Con. Cal. & Va	.04	Union Con	.03
Crown Point	.28	Utah Con	.01
Gould & Curry	.01	Yellow Jacket	.38
Hale & Norcross	.03

TONOPAH.

Belmont	4.40	Comb. Fraction	.04
Jim Butler	.65	Diamondf. Daley	.02
McNamara	.02	Diamondf. B.	.02
Midway	.06	Florence	.27
Mizpah Ext	.20	Goldf. Con. Mines	.92
Montana	.39	Goldfield Merger	.16
North Star	.15	Jumbo Ext	.49
Rescue Eula	.06	Silver Pick	.03
Tonopah Ext	2.40	Vernal	.04
Tonopah Merger	.25	Nevada Hills	.25
West End	.56	Round Mountain	.28

GOLDFIELD. MANHATTAN.

Atlanta	.19	Manhattan Con	.02
Booth	.02

COLORADO.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Dr. Jackpot	6	7	Jackpot	5	5¼
Elkton	43½	44	McKinney	36	42
El Paso	85	105	Old Gold	1	2
Findlay	2		Portland	102½	104
Gold Dollar	2	4	Vindicator	109	111
Isabella	10⅝	11	Rav. B. H.	2	4

TREASURY STATEMENT.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Receipts and expenditures for Nov. 4:

	Nov. 4.	Month.	Fisc. Year.
Customs	$107,587	$931,477	$76,949,021
Ordinary	644,045	2,332,021	110,334,327
Corp. & inc. tax	16,627	42,333	8,513,914
Miscellaneous	40,485	257,197	28,897,674
Total	848,746	3,563,025	224,395,437
Expenditures	2,589,109	7,673,238	209,798,011
Deficit	1,740,363	4,110,213	45,402,573

Executor Trustee
Chartered 1822
The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company
Nos. 16, 18, 20 & 22 William Street
Branch Office, 475 Fifth Avenue
New York.
LONDON, 15 Cockspur St., S. W. 26 Old Broad Street, E. C.
PARIS, 41 Boulevard Haussmann BERLIN, 56 Unter den Linden, N. W. 7
Travelers' Letters of Credit. Foreign Exchange.
Administrator Guardian

Keusch & Schwartz Co. Inc.
Members { Chicago Board of Trade / New York Produce Exchange / Buffalo Chamber of Commerce / Phila. Commercial Exchange
GRAIN BROKERS
Direct Private Wires to The Chicago Board of Trade
INSTANTANEOUS SERVICE
Produce Exchange, New York — Chamber of Commerce, Buffalo
Postal Telegraph Bldg., Chicago — Bourse Building, Philadelphia

To Holders of the First Lien Refunding Five Per Cent. Gold Bonds
OF
KANSAS CITY RAILWAY AND LIGHT COMPANY
DUE MAY 15, 1913
AND
To the Holders of Certificates of Deposit Representing such Bonds:—

The Committee representing the holders of bonds deposited under the agreement dated April 3, 1913, announces that it has arranged for the payment on November 16, 1914, at the office of The New York Trust Company, 26 Broad Street, New York City, of interest on said bonds from May 15, 1914, to November 15, 1914, at the rate of Five Per Cent. per annum. The interest received by the Committee on the deposited bonds will be paid at said time and place to holders of Certificates of Deposit representing such bonds. The bonds and Certificates of Deposit must be presented for endorsement thereon of such payment and must be accompanied by the Certificates required by the regulations of the Internal Revenue Department under the Federal Income Tax Law.

Dated November 7, 1914.

JOHN B. DENNIS,
J. J. HANAUER,
ACOSTA NICHOLS,
JAMES J. STORROW,
Committee.

C. M. TRAVIS, Secretary,
24 Broad Street, New York.
BYRNE & CUTCHEON, New York.
ROPES, GRAY, BOYDEN & PERKINS, Boston, Counsel.

REPORTS OF NATIONAL BANKS.

[No. 29.]
REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK
at New York City, in the State of New York, at the close of business October 31st, 1914:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$59,995,069.72
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		4,214.27
U. S. bonds deposited to secure circulation		5,077,000.00
Other securities to secure circulation		19,626,204.94
U. S. bonds to secure U. S. deposits		1,000.00
U. S. bonds on hand		28,460.00
Bonds loaned		820,202.37
Bonds, securities, &c., (other than stocks)		27,057,630.40
All other stocks		52,900.00
Banking house		1,750,000.00
Customers' liability, account letters of credit		15,000.00
Due from national banks (not reserve agents)	$2,651,809.42
Due from State and private banks and bankers, trust companies, and savings banks	220,829.63
Checks and other cash items	136,996.06
Exchanges for Clearing House	4,238,914.45
Notes of other national banks	3,909,790.00
Fractional paper currency, nickels, and cents	799.56
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz.:
Specie	24,913,763.65
Legal-tender notes	1,138,102.00
		37,266,004.77
Clearing House loan certificates (net balance)		1,430,000.00
Amount paid on account of subscription to $100,000,000 gold fund (subscribed), less amount, if any, returned to subscriber		482,422.50
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (5 per cent. of circulation)		1,003,850.00
Due from U. S. Treasurer		161,506.84
Total		$154,771,465.81

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in		$10,000,000.

DIVIDENDS.

NILES-BEMENT-POND COMPANY.
New York, November 4, 1914.
The Board of Directors of NILES-BEMENT-POND COMPANY has this day declared the regular quarterly dividend of ONE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. upon the Preferred Stock of the Company, payable November 16th, 1914.
The Transfer books will close from 12 o'clock noon of November 7th, 1914, until 10 o'clock in the forenoon of November 17th, 1914.
CHARLES L. CORNELL, Treasurer.

PRATT & WHITNEY COMPANY.
New York, November 4, 1914.
The Board of Directors of Pratt & Whitney Company has this day declared the regular quarterly dividend of ONE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. upon the Preferred Stock of the Company, payable November 16th, 1914.
The transfer books will close at 12 o'clock noon of November 7th, 1914, and will reopen at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of November 17th, 1914.
CHARLES L. CORNELL, Treasurer.

WHITE KNOB COPPER AND DEVELOPMENT COMPANY, LIMITED,
43 Cedar St., New York City.
A dividend of Three (3.25) Cents a share on the preferred stock has been declared, payable on November 25th, 1914, to the stockholders of record at the close of business on the 10th instant of November, 1914, upon receipt of a dividend order.
Dated New York, October 20th, 1914.
MARK M. SALOMON, Treasurer.

Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co.
Coupons due December 1st upon the first mortgage bonds of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co. will be paid in full without deduction, upon presentation to the Central Trust Company of New York, 54 Wall Street, New York City, with the certificates attached required by the Treasury regulation in relation to the collection of income tax.
Dated November 7th, 1914.
S. W. TRAVERS, Treasurer.

MEETINGS AND ELECTIONS.

MANHATTAN RAILWAY COMPANY.
No. 165 Broadway, New York, October 7, 1914.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Manhattan Railway Company will be held at the Company's office, No. 165 Broadway, Manhattan Borough, New York City, on Wednesday, November 11th, 1914, at 12 o'clock noon. A Board of Directors for the ensuing year is to be elected, and three Inspectors of Election. The transfer books will be closed on Saturday, October 10th, at 12 o'clock noon, and will be reopened on Thursday, November 12th, at 10 o'clock A. M.
EDGAR L. MARSTON, President.
D. W. McWILLIAMS, Secretary.

New York, N. Y., November 6th, 1914.
The Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the SPERRY GYROSCOPE COMPANY INCORPORATED for the election of Directors for the ensuing year and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting will be held at the office of the Company, No. 182 William Street, in the City of New York, on the 17th day of November, 1914, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon.
VICTOR F. RIDDER, Secretary.

Chartered 1799.
Bank of the MANHATTAN COMPANY.
New York, October 31, 1914.
Notice is hereby given that an election for twelve Directors of the Manhattan Company will be held at their Banking House, No. 40 Wall Street, in the City of New York, on Tuesday, the 1st day of December next, between the hours of 12 M. and 1 P. M. By order of the Directors.
D. H. PIERSON, Cashier.

RESORTS.

NEW YORK—Long Island.

15 Minutes from Herald Square.

FOREST HILLS INN
New Fireproof Hotel
Attractive, convenient; Tennis Courts; Squash Court, Pool and Billiard Room.
Moderate Rates.
Take Long Island (Electric) R. R. at Pennsylvania Station; 18 minutes to Forest Hills. Take
FOREST HILLS INN,
Forest Hills, L. I.
For further information or booklet, inquire on property, or New York Office, 47 West 34th St., Room 716.

NEW YORK—Westchester County.

THE MOUNTAIN HOUSE
VALHALLA, WESTCHESTER CO., N. Y.
9th season; 45 min. to 42d St., on Harlem R. R.; 70 acres; park and lawns; 500 ft. elevation; 10 miles from station; own dairy and vegetable garden; rates $8 and up. Booklet.

NEW JERSEY—Lakewood.

In the Heart of the Pines
Laurel House
LAKEWOOD
NOW OPEN.
Providing the acme of comfort with most attractive surroundings. Thorough appointments and service.
ANNUAL FALL
GOLF TOURNAMENT
NOV. 5TH, 6TH, 7TH.
Detailed information and terms may be obtained by addressing
A. J. MURPHY, Manager.
C. V. MURPHY, Asst. Manager.

Laurel-in-the-Pines
Lakewood, N. J.
A highly attractive and healthful resort for Fall and Winter sojourn.
An abundance of lake-side walks and drives.
Private tennis courts and putting greens. 18-hole golf course.
Daily orchestral concerts.
Fall Tournament Lakewood Country Club, Nov. 5, 6, 7.
FRANK F. SHUTE, Mgr.

FLORENCE-IN-THE-PINES,
Lakewood, N. J. Private baths. Hot and cold running water in every room. I. WOEHR, Prop.

MANHATTAN HOTEL.
Up to date in every particular. Booklet. Phone 135. Chas. Hecht, Prop.

Oak Court Hotel LAKEWOOD, N. J.—Modern and homelike; dancing. E. E. SPANGENBERG, Mgr.

NEW JERSEY—Atlantic City.

ROYAL PALACE HOTEL & COTTAGES
on the Beach Atlantic City.
OPEN ALL THE YEAR. CAPACITY 600.
NEW ARBOR DANSANT.
A Delightful Place to spend the Fall and Winter Months.

ALAMAC HOTEL
Ocean front, in the heart of Atlantic City. Absolutely fireproof. American and European Plans. Hot and cold sea water baths. Capacity 400. Latz-Keller "; grill, orchestra; dancing; garage. MACK, LATZ & CO.
The only hotel having its own ocean pier for free use of guests.

HOTEL RUDOLF
On the ocean front. Sea and fresh water baths; running water in rooms. Orchestra.
THE WILTSHIRE Virginia Av. and Beach. OCEAN VIEW.
Greatly improved. Cap. 350. Private baths, running water in rooms, elevator, &c. Special—$12.50 up weekly; $2.50 up daily. Open all year. Booklet. SAMUEL ELLIS.

Marlborough-Blenheim
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.
JOSIAH WHITE & SONS COMPANY.

CALIFORNIA
CALIFORNIA
Hotel Green—Pasadena
FIREPROOF. ELEVATION, 1,000 FEET.
The de luxe Hotel of Southern California.
D. B. PLUMER, GENERAL MANAGER.
B. F. CUSHING, Ass't Manager.
"The Land of Sunshine and Flowers."
Finest Winter Climate in the World.
Winter rendezvous for America's most representative families. 300 miles of boulevards for motoring. Four splendid golf courses.
SOCIAL DIVERSIONS, NOTED ORCHESTRA. POLO, TENNIS. PURE WATER.
Frank T. Keating, N. Y. Representative, 500 5th Av., (46th St.) Phone Murray Hill 8864

PENNSYLVANIA.
MOUNT PLEASANT HOUSE
Mount Pocono, Penna.
Open all year. Steam heat; private baths. Table and service excellent.
W. A. & H. M. LEECH.

DUTY ON COMMISSION.

Non-Compliance with Tariff Law Causes Complication.

The Government lost yesterday in an attempt to bar importers' invoices in cases where shippers of goods or their agents here have failed to comply with the requirements of the Tariff act of 1913, relating to the data to be supplied in accordance with Paragraph C, Section 3. Busk & Daniels of this city purchased mantle tweeds of Ashton, Hoare & Co., Limited, Manchester, England. On each invoice is set forth an item entitled "commission," which was allowed by the Customs Examiner, although that official was unable to learn from the entry or invoice papers when, where, and of whom the goods were purchased, as well as the price paid for the cloth.

Collector Malone, dissatisfied with the omission in the invoices of the information called for by law, filed an appeal for reappraisement with a single General Appraiser, claiming that as the law had not been complied with, the commissions should be held dutiable. The case came before Judge Sullivan, who took much testimony. The evidence was conflicting. An affidavit upon the back of the invoices made by one of the Directors of Ashton, Hoare & Co. declared his firm to be the sellers of the goods, while the report of the Special Treasury Agent stated that Mr. Hoare admitted to him that his firm were not agents and never acted in any way as commission agents for Busk & Daniels.

The invoices all declared that the merchandise was purchased for Busk & Daniels, London, the English firm, and are signed by the latter without stating whether the firm was purchaser, seller, or agent. At the hearing a private letter was introduced showing the mill cost of the cloth, but not stating from whom purchased. The facts disclosed that Ashton, Hoare & Co. are not the manufacturers of the goods, although from the documentary evidence the house was the seller.

Judge Sullivan, sitting as a single reappraisement official, held that as there was an entire non-compliance with the tariff law with reference to what an invoice must show when the goods are purchased, the Examiner erred in allowing the commission. The General Appraiser ruled that the commission must be disallowed under the circumstances, and included in the dutiable foreign market value of the cloth. "Unless compliance is had," said Judge Sullivan, "it is a serious question whether a reappraisement ought to be heard on appeal. The habit of filing invoices and not complying with the law, or concealing the real conditions, is a vicious one, and ought not to be permitted under a statute as clear and expressive as the Tariff act of 1913. In my opinion, the statute does not permit an appeal to reappraisement when no attempt has been made to comply with its terms, and certainly no effort was made to comply in the present reappraisement."

Board 3, however, took a contrary view from the single General Appraiser and accepted the importer's appeal. The board, consisting of Judges Waite and Hay, reverses the single General Appraiser and holds that the commission is non-dutiable, as claimed by the importers. While the board hands down no opinion, it is understood that the usual practice of this Collector accepted the invoices in the first place, it was incumbent upon the board to consider the case. It is inferred that the Collector should have rejected the invoices when they first were presented at the Custom House.

Return of Goods Flourishing.

Retailers, accustomed in the past to return goods shipped to them where an immediate market did not offer itself for their sale, are taking advantage of the present situation of business to indulge more than ever in this practice. There have been recently, according to credit men who have cases of the sort come up, a number of new names added to the list of old- offenders. The feature of such practices now, however, is that no excuse is offered when the merchandise is shipped back. The impression is conveyed that the manufacturer should know enough of depressed conditions to take back the goods without question. How to deal with this evil at the present is a question that is puzzling those who are made its victims. It is hardly profitable just now to take steps toward compelling the purchaser to keep what has been delivered. Most creditors believe that it is best to reserve action until the customer attempts to place another order and then obtain a guarantee that no return will be made in the second instance.

COTTON SALES AND PRICES.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 6.—The following middling cotton sales were reported today:

	Bales.	Prices.
New Orleans	2,320	7 5-16c
Galveston	1,000	7⅜c
Mobile	50	7¼c
Savannah	2,903	7¼c
Charleston	200	7¼c
Wilmington	...	7¼c
Norfolk	436	7¼c
Memphis	4,150	7¼c
Augusta	1,303	7¼c
Houston	4,852	7⅜c
Dallas	10,062	6 15-16c

WAR TAX QUESTION RAISED.

Bankers Seek Decision on Ownership Certificates.

Banks and trust companies that handle large amounts of bond coupons for collection expect an early ruling by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue on the question that has been raised as to the possible collection of a war tax on the certificates of ownership that must be filed with such coupons under the income tax regulations. The War Revenue act says:

"Certificates of any description required by law, not otherwise specified in this act, 10 cents."

It is not believed that Congress had any intention of putting a tax on these ownership certificates, which are used largely for claiming exemption from the income tax for the interest received. In many cases it would be cheaper to pay the income tax, although there were no liability for it, than to pay a ten-cent war tax on each certificate.

The point has been made that these certificates are not "required by law," as they are not provided for in the income tax law, but expert legal opinion is that they are required by law, nevertheless, inasmuch as rulings of the Internal Revenue Collector, if not contrary to the law, have the force of law, and these certificates have been demanded by the Commissioner in the administration of the Income Tax act.

The prevailing opinion among bankers is that rather than be forced into any such technical interpretation the Treasury Department should ignore the possible application of the war tax to these certificates, and this has been suggested to the Washington authorities. The further point is made that ownership declarations are not in realty certificates at all, although loosely described as such, but are merely notices in writing that the coupon payments are or are not exempt from the income tax.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

In Town.

TEHUANTEPEC RUBBER CULTURE COMPANY.—Judge Hand of the United States District Court has appointed Ernest A. Cardozo receiver. The company has a rubber plantation in the State of Vera Cruz, Mexico, and an office in this city at 82 Beaver Street. An equity suit was brought by Eugene H. Caplan, a bondholder. The company is said to have 3,000 acres of land in the State of Vera Cruz covered by a mortgage to secure the bonds, but no other assets.

AARON GARFINKEL, tailors' trimmings, 64 Hester Street, has assigned to Jacob Stutsky. A petition in bankruptcy was also filed against him by Bernard Levine, Seilg Lasher, and Alex Friedman.

MAX N. WARNOW, Druggist.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against him by Henry Klein & Co. and Harry Gottfried. It was alleged that he has made an assignment to Alfred Wood. Liabilities are $3,400 and assets $1,000.

JOSEPH GOLDSMITH.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed against him as the Yonkers Merchandise Company at Yonkers by Benjamin Hyman, Joseph Sindarsky, and H. Chervon. Wallick Iron Works; $5,000; D. A. Linsky, J. Pollack, H. Chervon, 180 Thatford Av., B'klyn.

Delmont Cafe; $10,000; S. M. Winget, E. Davis, V. Specht, Buffalo.

Sanitary Sugar Dispenser Corp.; $20,000; H. Bondnar, I. and J. Cohen, 90 E. B'way.

S. Koty & Son, shirts; $7,500; B. Harry and S. Koty, 123 Berriman St., B'klyn.

Cleveland Metallic Bed Co.; $10,000; F. Gilbert, A. Murry Rosenthal, L. Lanterstein, 43 Exchange Pl.

Oronoque Realty Corp.; $10,000; E. S. Ross, F. Sowers, D. W. Richards, 141 B'way.

Voluntary dissolutions: Wilson Kenney Optical Co., Ithaca; The Hermluck Co., B'klyn; New Process Rawhide Co., Syracuse.

New Jersey Charters.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, Nov. 6.—Charters filed today: Cranford Homes Co., Orange, real estate; $20,000. James S. Reap, Brooklyn; Thomas A. Davis, E. L. Davis, Orange.

R. H. B. Mfg. Co., Irvington, automobiles and motor cycles; $20,000. William P. Reibold, Irvington; Gerald Hanney, Herbert L. Edinger, East Orange.

Sentinel Safety Elevator Switch Co., Elizabeth; $20,000. Louise A. Euler, Helena E. Croft, Eugene J. Croft, Elizabeth.

Zimmer Chemical Co., Clifton; $15,000. Jacob Zimmer, Louis Levy, Clifton; Michael J. Kocck, Passaic.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The railroads reporting so far for the fourth week of October show these aggregated changes in gross earnings, those reporting a gain and those reporting losses being given separately:

Three roads	$2,716,103	+ $90,461
Twelve roads	10,573,472	— 3,659,074
Total (15 roads)	13,289,575	— 3,568,613

The railroads that have so far reported for the month of September make the following showing in their gross and net returns, those showing increases and those showing losses being given separately:

GROSS.

25 roads	$80,119,365	+ $3,954,975
43 roads	148,853,537	— 12,288,818
Total (68 roads)	228,972,902	— 8,333,843

NET.

29 roads	$39,263,663	+ $4,244,719
39 roads	64,060,376	— 6,025,165
Total (68 roads)	103,923,939	— 1,780,446

NORFOLK & WESTERN for September:

	1914	1913	Increase
Mileage	2,038	2,035	3
Gross	$4,066,891	$4,076,342	$20,540
Net af taxes	1,340,486	1,232,878	107,612
Other income	178,399	63,199	115,200
Total income	1,518,885	1,296,072	222,812
Surp's aft chgs	1,119,905	912,538	207,372
Three ms.grss	11,831,020	11,882,527	*51,508
Net aft taxes	3,729,116	3,556,141	173,975
Other income	415,506	177,628	237,878
Total income	4,144,715	3,732,768	411,946
Surp's aft chgs	2,949,529	2,601,138	348,391

*Decrease.

PERE MARQUETTE for September:

	1914	1913	Increase
Mileage	2,319	2,325	*6
Gross	$1,743,779	$1,527,845	$215,934
Net aft taxes	583,853	187,206	396,646
Three months gross	4,747,396	4,445,158	302,238
Net aft taxes	1,306,803	477,278	831,529

*Decrease.

QUEBEC CENTRAL for the year ended June 30:

	1914	1913	1912
Gross earnings	$1,533,174	$1,529,741	$1,354,811
Oper. expenses	1,078,617	1,086,640	948,976
Net earnings	474,557	463,201	410,835
Other income	11,461	30,527	11,744
Total income	486,018	493,728	422,579
Charges	257,560	269,897	282,285
Surplus	228,458	223,831	140,344
Prev. surplus	75,878	74,979	77,000
Total surplus	304,036	298,810	217,349
Special appro	93,000	87,967	28,000
Diva	135,264	135,264	114,370
P. L. sur	75,771	75,578	74,979

VIRGINIAN RAILWAY for September:

	1914	1913	Decrease
Gross	$597,213	$602,368	$5,155
Net aft taxes	276,695	276,723	28
Three ms.grss	1,639,328	1,678,681	39,353
Net aft taxes	690,489	740,517	50,027

Miscellaneous Earnings.

ADAMS EXPRESS CO. reports to the Interstate Commerce Commission for July—

	1914	1913	Increase.
T'l r'c's fr. op.	$2,900,522	$2,857,571	$42,951
Exp. priv.	1,379,150	1,413,321	*34,170
Total tran. rev	1,521,371	1,444,250	77,121
Total op. exp	1,542,299	1,447,507	94,791
Net oper. rev.	20,432	28,428	*7,996
Taxes	17,380	15,810	1,570
Oper. income	3,045	12,618	*9,571
Mileage st'd	39,356	33,488	5,867
Mileage oth. l's	4,731	4,856	*225

*Decrease.

AMERICAN EXPRESS CO. reports to the Interstate Commerce Commission for July—

	1914	1913	Increase.
T'l rec. fr. op.	4,093,273	3,804,405	454,868
Exp. priv.	2,006,230	1,777,007	229,812
Total tran. rev	2,062,458	1,837,397	225,055
Non-transp. rev	182,186	191,810	*9,623
T'l oper. revs.	2,224,940	2,019,208	215,432
T'l oper. exp.	2,287,124	1,980,473	267,651
Net oper. def.	22,484	129,734	32,218
Taxes	33,623	31,878	3,745
Oper. def.	55,126	2,148	55,983
Mile st'm rd.	70,170	57,247	12,923
Mile other l's.	3,675	4,059	*383

*Decrease. †Surplus.

AMERICAN STEEL FOUNDRIES for the nine months ended September 30—

	1914.	1913.	1912.
Net earn.	†$39,900	†1,603,138	$958,062
Other income	68,506	41,513	28,787
Total inc.	658,406	1,644,651	1,016,850
Chgs., sk. fd. deprec., &c.	734,222	876,824	592,585
Net deficit	75,816	*767,827	*424,284

*Surplus.
†After deducting manufacturing, selling, administrative, and other expenses.

COLUMBUS RAILWAY, POWER AND LIGHT for 1914—

	October.	September.
Gross earnings	262,883	266,126
Net after taxes	121,962	107,640
Surplus after chgs.	79,633	64,986
Bal. aft. pf. divid's.	59,288	44,641

HUDSON AND MANHATTAN for September—

	1914.	1913.	Increase.
Gross	435,844	446,208	*10,364
Net	252,194	253,649	*1,455
†Surplus	41,892	44,632	*2,040
3 mos. gross	1,299,324	1,294,539	4,785
Net	747,659	726,007	21,652
†Surplus	110,283	109,582	701

*Decrease. †Surplus after charges and amortization of property available for interest on adjustment income bonds.

SOUTHERN EXPRESS COMPANY reports to the Interstate Commerce Commission for July—

	1914	1913	Decrease
Total rec. from oper	1,174,079	1,122,879	51,200
Express priv.	598,752	574,448	24,303
Total trans. rev.	575,327	548,430	26,896
Non-tran. rev.	23,479	22,565	913
Total op. rev.	598,807	570,996	27,810
Total op. exp.	535,715	537,614	*1,898
Net op. rev.	63,091	33,381	29,709
Taxes	14,786	13,656	1,130
Oper. income	48,304	19,725	28,581
Mil. steam rds.	33,777	32,541	1,236
Mil. other lines	301	305	36

*Decrease.

WHEAT TRADING TO REOPEN.

Consolidated Exchange Names Wednesday as the Day.

The Board of Governors of the Consolidated Stock Exchange yesterday announced that next Wednesday, Nov. 11, trading would be begun in wheat. This statement was issued:

"The Board of Governors of the Consolidated Exchange has voted to trade in American wheat. Deliveries will be nation-wide, delivery prices being based upon the New York price, less the cost of transportation from the point of delivery to New York, deliverers to have the option of delivery in New York or at various points agreed upon. Thus the validity of the contract cannot be questioned and it will be impossible to effect a corner in the option. Trading will begin at 10:30 o'clock, Wednesday morning next, Nov. 11."

The Consolidated recently began negotiations with the petroleum producing companies to start on the board of dealings in certificates for stored oil. Final steps have not yet been announced.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Incorporated today:

Fabiana Sugar Corp.; $100,000; J. J. Bisshy, L. Hesse, J. A. Keenan, 494 4 St., B'klyn.

Crippen Co., musical instruments, talking machines; $50,000; W. S. Furman, W. G. Chittick, J. A. Harway, 32 B'way.

Dexter Co., printers, bookbinders; $25,000; M. M. Keyes, C. Smith, I. H. Dexter, Pearl River.

Italian Coffee Roasting Co.; $10,000; J. and A. Ruggiero, Z. Winsten, 181 Lenox Av.

Gilson Realty Co.; $100,000; G. G. Wells, W. Hanford, 1 E. McDonald, 182 W. 88 St.

Layman Pressed Rod Co.; $100,000; A. Inderbitzen, M. H. Nason, G. B. Hutchings, Stamford, Conn.

Charles Shoe Co.; $75,000; A. and C. Jacobs, G. Goldstein, 585 W. 178 St.

Robert Sayre Kent, Inc., engineering, construction, machinery; $100,000; R. U. Bunker, E. C. and R. S. Kent, 253 80 St., B'klyn.

Home Baking Co.; $5,000; G. G. Wells, J. B. McDonald, W. H. Hanford, 35 Nassau St.

Russell T. Sherwood Grain Co., Monsey; $5,000; W. E. Mullen, P. Granger, R. T. Sherwood.

United Supply Stores, tires, hardware, sporting goods; $5,000; A. W. Chatfield, A. S. Stein, L. G. Duquet, 107 W. 86 St.

Julius Alcan Sons, metal goods, iron work; $5,000; E. J. and J. Mock, Jr., 777 Rutland Rd., B'klyn.

Frederick Meis Realty & Holding Co.; $10,000; R. Sherk, E. Palmer, F. Meis, 893 Jamaica Av., B'klyn.

B. Mayerson & Co., trimmings, textiles; $5,000; H. and D. Mayerson, S. Rosen, 199 6 Av.

Westchester Realty Corp., Mt. Vernon; $10,000; J. A. Bernstein, J. Blank, T. Haebler, 32 Mt. Morris Park W., N. Y. C.

N. Klipstein Co., dairy products; $5,000; S. Spindel, M. Lubarsky, N. Klipstein, 967 Kelly St.

Loechner & Co., seeds, plants; $10,000; O. and M. V. Haase, C. Loechner, 11 Warren St.

Cherwon-Block Iron Works; $5,000; D. A. Linsky, J. Pollack, H. Cherwon, 180 Thatford Av., B'klyn.

Delmont Cafe; $10,000; S. M. Winget, E. Davis, V. Specht, Buffalo.

Sanitary Sugar Dispenser Corp.; $20,000; H. Bondnar, I. and J. Cohen, 90 E. B'way.

S. Koty & Son, shirts; $7,500; B. Harry and S. Koty, 123 Berriman St., B'klyn.

Cleveland Metallic Bed Co.; $10,000; F. Gilbert, A. Murry Rosenthal, L. Lanterstein, 43 Exchange Pl.

Oronoque Realty Corp.; $10,000; E. S. Ross, F. Sowers, D. W. Richards, 141 B'way.

Voluntary dissolutions: Wilson Kenney Optical Co., Ithaca; The Hermluck Co., B'klyn; New Process Rawhide Co., Syracuse.

New Jersey Charters.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, Nov. 6.—Charters filed today: Cranford Homes Co., Orange, real estate; $20,000. James S. Reap, Brooklyn; Thomas A. Davis, E. L. Davis, Orange.

R. H. B. Mfg. Co., Irvington, automobiles and motor cycles; $20,000. William P. Reibold, Irvington; Gerald Hanney, Herbert L. Edinger, East Orange.

Sentinel Safety Elevator Switch Co., Elizabeth; $20,000. Louise A. Euler, Helena E. Croft, Eugene J. Croft, Elizabeth.

Zimmer Chemical Co., Clifton; $15,000. Jacob Zimmer, Louis Levy, Clifton; Michael J. Kocck, Passaic.

DRY GOODS MEN CAUTIOUS.

Taking Great Care in Placing Orders for Spring Delivery.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—Marshall Field & Co. in their weekly review of the dry goods trade say:

"The warm weather continues to retard retail business, and has its corresponding effect on wholesale business.

"Merchants are cautious in the placing of orders for merchandise for Spring delivery, which indicates that stocks for next season will be on a very healthy basis and not speculative in any sense.

"Annual sales on novelty lines and fancy goods, including ribbons, are showing very good volume."

JUDGMENTS.

These judgments were filed yesterday in New York County, the first name being that of the debtor:

Abrams, William—F. F. Proctor, $347.
Arverne Estates Co., and Alfred C. Michaud—E. T. Sayre et al., $879.
Atlantic Phosphate & Oil Corp.—American Appraisal Co., Inc., $2,626.
Same—Atlas Portland Cement Co., $3,569.
Ader, Eugene—Lord & Taylor, $606.
Augenblick, Irving E. and Samuel Augenblick Co.—A. Warteis, $7,020.
Baker, William—Schulte Realty Co., $562.
Briggs, Lewis W.—H. L. Manges, $252.
Bradhurst, Henry M., Trustee—City of N. Y., $216.
Burgner, James—Ludwig Baumann & Co., $106.
Barrett, E. D.—W. Thomson, $144.
Buschens Hotel Co., Inc.—John Jamsson & Son, Ltd., $329.
Blake, William Z.—W. P. Macleod, $102.
Century Sand & Gravel Co., Inc.—Boaker Contracting Co., $180.
Cooper, Hewitt—M. Cooper, costs, $108.
Consumers Fruit & Produce Stores—United Electric Light & Power Co., $120.
C. W. Jean Co.—G. W. Kennedy, $790.
Conveyer Park Construction Co., and Walter Cohen—A. B. Fletcher, $3,925.
City of N. Y.—H. E. Fox, $308.
Carroll, Daniel J.—Manhattan Bottlers Supplies Mfg. Co., $518.
Cohen, Louis—R. Cohen, costs, $106.
Dreyfuss, Rosalie—International Provision Co., $122.
Dalton, Pauline K.—Sonn Bros. Co., $528.
Doelger, Charles J.—A. Hoffman, $102.
Same—Hagedorn Brewery, $504.
Empire Flour Co.—City of N. Y., $105.
Elbaum, Harry—J. J. Etchingham, $184.
Fort Pitt Construction Co.—N. Y. Telephone Co., $133.
Feldman, Jacob M.—United Electric Light and Power Co., $181.
Fried, Ike—Central Stamping Co., $128.
Fenton, Webb, Inc.—Canawarta Knitting Co., $2,255.
Friedlander, Philip M.—National Nassau Bank, $216.
Fairfield Landscape and Nurseries Co., William J. Zartman and George P. Pearson—National Surety Co., $963.
Fifth Avenue Coach Co.—G. H. Brown, $100.
Goldberg Brothers, Frost & Samuel—M. Gross, $2,150.
Glen Island Realty Development Co.—Westchester Lighting Co., $604.
Gottehrer, Aaron—B. K. Bloch, $228.
Gray, Olin D.—Niebold Press, Inc., $8,437.
Gold, Max—Invisible Roll Screen Co., $220.
Gaede, George C.—Joseph H. Davis Building Co., $740.
Gandnar, I. and J. Cohen, 90 E. B'way.
Haight, Allen T.—John Wanamaker, N. Y., $263.
Glass, Louis—M. Vandeweghe et al., $219.
Huddy, Xenophen P.—S. C. Hadden, $121.
Hartstein, Adolph—J. H. Wanzer, $130.
Halsted, Amanda M., J. Henry Halsted and Amanda M. Halsted, executrix; James D. Halsted and J. Henry Halsted, executors—J. W. Place, $3,611.
Hoffeld, Louis—Henry Kupfer & Co., $461.
Hinkel, Edward J.—M. J. Healy, $1,043.
Hyman, Albert—F. E. Aiken, $197.
Imperial Auto Renting Co.—E. D. Erdelye, $419.
Jones, Charles E.—G. A. Bloch, $113.
Interborough Rapid Transit Co.—M. Edderg, $19,788.
Koch, Henry W. and Henry W. Koch Hair Co.—Public Bank of N. Y. City, $276.
Klein, Annie, and Benjamin Green—People, &c., $500.
Kiefer, Paul, and Jacob Peller—Park Avenue Construction Co., $836.
Kohlreiter, Molly or Minnie and Nathan—Canton Steel Ceiling Co., $551.
Kost, Eugene J.—M. Aronson, $226.
Kliot, Samuel and Hyman—A. Lebin, $229.
Kleinberger, Henry I.—Royal Weaving Co., $8,106.
Kohlreiter, Nathan—Canton Steel Ceiling Co., $279.
Lin, Max, and Isidor Ofcharoff—United Electric Light and Power Co., $101.
Louis Bauer Co., Inc.—John F. Boyle Co., $1,000.
Langill Commercial Phonograph Co.—Chemical Engraving Co., $169.
Linch, George W., rec'r—O. Sabella, $144.
Lackenick Realty, Inc.—N. Y. Telephone Co., $150.
Murray Hill Transfer Co. and Robert E. Rider—W. Thomson, $302.
Marshall, Ward & Co., Inc.—Goldberg Printing, $569.
Mulvany, Edward—N. Y. Telephone Co., $115.
Mackie, Cecil D., and John E. Ward—I. Feinberg, $206.
Metz, Coleman—M. Kaplan, et al, $130.
Martin, William N.—G. A. Carleton, $491.
McGrim, Frank—J. Dietz, $506.
Meadows, Thomas G.—Whilden Hancock, N. Y., $1,571.
Maraseo, Carmine, and Pietro Alvino, ex'rs—Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum in the City of N. Y., $11,344.
Mitchell, Caroline R.—C. B. Smith, $2,162.
Minocio, John—B. G. Bloch, $130.
McKnight, Edgar S.—F. C. Kehoe, $129.
Mannillo, Zelinda E.—Saranac Realty Co., $5,146.
Myers, T. Franklin—C. A. Dards, $194.
Matham, Siegmund or Samuel—First National Bank of Jamaica, $718.
O'Rourke, Daniel J.—Huron Cigar Co., $126.
O'Neil, Thomas—H. Koehler & Co., $868.
Pain Fireworks Display Co. of America—H. Nassberg, $1,519.
Power, Maurice J.—Brooks Bros., $124.
Reliable Amusement Co.—W. Diener, $142.
Royal Theatre Co.—N. Y. City Car Adv. Co., $155.
Robertson, Joseph A.—Monolith Realty Co., $281.
Ray Auto Renting Co.—M. Blitfeld, $229.
Sievers, Geo. W.—Borwell, Keller & Co., $496.
Steinlein, John—A. Ekelman, $158.
Streithorst, William—B. K. Bloch, $369.
Steinlein, John—A. Ekelman, $138.
Schmitt, Conrad—N. Sobel, $153.
Small, Cyrus W.—D. Mackey, $534.
Sellitto Construction Co., Philip de Blasi, and Alfonso de Blasi—G. Singer, $2,572.
Scott, Ellen R., executrix—Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum in City of N. Y., $23,840.
Smith, Aaron—Security Bank of N. Y., $267.
Sobolsky, Isaac, and Annie Jacobs—People, &c., $1,500.
Stampler, Dora, and Coppel Stugensky—Same, $500.
St. Olga's Ladies' Aid Society of N. Y.—E. Honkowska, $116.
Starkey, Thomas J.—Meyer, Donker-Sinram Co., $231.
Soresi, Angelo L.—H. Picard, $512.
Schweiger, Max, and Hyman Raphain—J. D. Silberstein et al., $136.
Sutherland, Clarence E.—O. L. Lesser, $743.
United Haberdashers, Inc.—Cluett, Peabody & Co., Inc., $346.
Vaudeville Comedy Club—N. Schweitzer et al., $671.
Vikman, John D.—American Agricultural Chemical Co., $447.
Walsh, John F.—Michael Cohen & Co., $884.
White, Evelyn H.—S. Blumberg, $197.
Wasserbach, John C.—Fichtenberg Goods Co., $125.
Zimat, Victor, and Elias Randel—Frankfurt-Barnett Co., $184.
Zenker, Charles—Irving National Bank of New York, $521.
Zucker, Robert M.—Manhattan Leasing Co., $1,314.

In Bronx County.

Bronx Variety Co.—M. Marks, $150.
Dale, William L.—Motor Boat Publishing Co., $247.
Klausner, Samuel—A. Berustein, $3,818.
Lietta, Alonzo W.—E. Thompson & Co., $220.
Mondschein, Louis—H. Hollander, $176.
Milone, Antonio—Same, $282.
Munn, Charles A.—Same, $447.
Margald, Emil—Same, $125.
Monahan, Edward F.—Same, $222.
McKeon, Francis P.—Same, $1,975.
Mayer, Gustav—Same, $192.
Moss, Louis A.—Same, $140.
Mount Company of New York, $234.
McWilliam, Robert—Same, $125.
Moresch, Samuel—Same, $126.
Murray, Thomas—Same, $125.
McLoughlin, Thomas J.—Same, $125.
Potter, Emily C.—Flint & Horner Co., Inc., $125.
Palumbo, Vincenzo—L'Araldo Italiano Pub. Co., $112.
Schreiber, Fiora and Mooney—John S. Lamson & Co., $388.
Same—Same, $390.
Smith, Barry D.—City of New York, $126.
Smith, Edward L.—Same, $220.
Smith, Eugene N.—Same, $104.
Smith, Henry B.—Same, $125.
Schwarsler, Joseph, Jr.—Same, $125.

SATISFIED JUDGMENTS.

The first name is that of the debtor, the second that of the creditor, and date that when the judgment was filed:

Alton, Lee G.—L. D. Lovell, Feb. 9, 1914, $768.
Astoria Glass Works and Harry L. Smith—J. T. Trunst et al., April 18, 1900, $558.
Campbell, Wm. F.—T. Kenny, Feb. 17, 1914, $1,154.
Hoadley, Geo. W.—Long-Bell Lumber Co., April 10, 1911, $514.
London Construction Co., Louis London, Louis E. Gunast, Louis London, and Albert London—Pierce, Butler & Pierce Mfg. Co., Oct. 30, 1914, $519.
Otis, Chas. E.—J. C. Shilling, Dec. 13, 1913, $109.
Spencer, Scott C.—E. F. Spencer, Oct. 21, 1906, $145.
St. Martin, Elizabeth—J. Klugman, June 24, 1914, $1,087.
Middleton, Merle

DECISIONS AND CALENDARS

FEDERAL.

Supreme Court.

216—Yazoo & Miss. Valley R. R. v. Ada R. Wright.—Leave granted to file brief in opposition to motion to affirm on or before the 9th inst.

66—Frank J. Willoughby v. Chicago.—Submitted.

67—Edwin J. Mercelis v. John A. Wilson.—Submitted.

74—Joe Judge and M. Bunting v. Frank M. Powers.—Passed, to be restored.

68—New York Elec. Lines Co. v. Empire City Subway Co., Ltd.—Argument continued.

64—Peter H. Anderson v. Swedish Evangelical Mission Covenant of America.—Argument commenced.

Adjourned until Monday.

Call for Nov. 9: 67, 69, 71, 72, (and 54,) 73, 76, 77, 78, 79, and 80.

Eastern District.

DISTRICT COURT—Veeder, J.—Admiralty calendar at 10 A. M.

Note.—Trials begin Nov. 11. Term ends Nov. 20.

Nat L Co<CNY.	Woods<Edwin Terry.
Devlin<H N Dubois.	Connett<New Haven.
Goodwin-Gallagher< Transfer 17.	Nooney<Knick Ice.
Collins<Ashbourne.	Cent Leather<Hyperia.
G F Harms Co<Union.	Burke<Peter Dahl.
Youker<Onondaga.	Tebo Basin<Priscilla.
Moore<Hamburg-Am.	Stillwaggon<Auburn.
Smith Co<No. 9.	Nat L Co<Edwina.
Eady<Luckenbach.	Munde<Mongebello.
Livingston<L. Rugge.	Ylfobre<Atlantic and Caribbean Co.
Postal Tel Co<P San-for Ross.	Nooney<Paulsen Co.
Mesick<Bully.	Cannon<Majestic.
Lippman<Wapello.	Bogg<E J Walter.
Woods<W E Cleary.	Hansen<Campenello.
Parker<Victoria.	Jacobi<Meadow-Hen.
Boston P Co<CNY.	C T Harms<CNY.
Moran Co<Molengraard	Moran Co<A W Snow.
White Star Co<Nancy	Niagara Co<Nettie.
Rogers<NYC No. 4.	Duane<Herni.
Aswad<Montauk.	Lehigh V Co<Bath.
Downey<Allison White	NY & P R RR<Barry
Quigley<P Hoffman.	CNY & P R RR.
Smith<Wrestler.	Lehigh V Co<Trans 6.

NEW YORK COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

APPELLATE DIVISION DECISIONS:

People ex rel. Eugene T. Lenahan, relator, v. Max S. Grifenhagen as Register, &c., respt.—Writ dismissed and proceedings affirmed, with $50 costs and disbursements.

German Savings Bank in the City of New York, applt., v. Philip Wagner as committee, &c., respt.—Judgment reversed, with costs, and judgment ordered for plaintiff as stated in opinion, with costs.

John Batt & Co., Ltd., respt., v. Ellis P. Earle, applt.—Judgment reversed and judgment directed for plaintiff on verdict, with costs to appellant.

Charles Frohman, plff., v. William G. Fitch and another, defts.—Judgment ordered for plaintiff as stated in opinion, with costs.

William J. Shaw, an infant, respt., v. Hethschild Realty Co., applt.—Judgments and order reversed, new trial ordered, costs to appellant to abide event.

Sixty Wall Street, respt., v. Joseph R. Clevenger, applt.—Determination reversed, with costs in this court and in the Appellate Term to appellant to abide event, and judgment of Municipal Court reversed and new trial granted.

Stephen K. Watts, respt., v. Doull Miller Co., applt.—Judgment and order reversed, with costs, and disbursements, (Clarke, J., dissenting.)

Kaufman Costume Co., respt., v. Kaufman Gown Co., Inc., applt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements, (Clarke, J., dissenting.)

Joseph Larocque, respt., v. New York Herald Co., applt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs.

Interborough Rapid Transit Co., applt., v. Charles E. Littlefield, respt.—Judgment affirmed, with costs, on opinion of Greenbaum, J.

Re the account of William N. Bavier and Nathaniel A. McBride, as exrs., &c., of Mary A. B. Burns, decd.; re the account of William N. Bavier and Nathaniel A. McBride, as exrs. of Robert Burns, decd.—Decree, so far as appealed from, reversed, and clause inserted as directed in opinion, with costs to the trustees and guardian payable out of the estate.

Eugene Higgins, plff., v. Alwold Realty Co. and ano., defts.—Exceptions overruled and judgment ordered for plaintiff on verdict, with costs.

Hotel Claridge Co., Inc., respt., v. George Rector, Inc., applt.—Judgment modified as stated in opinion, and as modified affirmed, without costs.

James H. Warner, applt., v. Edwin D. Morgan and ano., respts.—Judgment affirmed, with costs.

Garabaldi Realty and Constr. Co., respt., v. Giuseppina Saltangelo and ano., applts.—Judgment modified as stated in opinion, and as modified affirmed, with costs to appellants in this court and in the court below.

Morris Levenson, respt., v. N. Y., N. H. & H. RR. Co., applt.—Order reversed and complaint dismissed, with costs in this court and in the court below.

Scott & Fowles Co., respt., v. Nannie H. Wright, applt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs.

Robert G. McGann, plff., v. Ruggles-Coles Engineering Co., deft.—Judgment ordered by plaintiff as stated in opinion, with costs.

John C. Stinner, respt., v. Union Ry. Co. of N. Y. City, applt.—Judgment and order reversed, new trial ordered, costs to appellant to abide event on the ground that the verdict of the jury as to the negligence of the defendant and the plaintiff's freedom from contributory negligence is against the weight of evidence.

Samuel Goldberg, respt., v. N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R. Co., applt.; Charles S. Wise, respt., v. Joseph H. Hoadley, applt., John B. Butler, applt., v. C. N. Y., respt.; Katherine T. New and another, applts., v. Anna M. Burnett, impld, respt.—Judgment affirmed, with costs.

People ex rel. Stephen A. Nethercott, rel., v. Rhinelander Waldo, as Commr., &c., respt.—Writ dismissed and proceedings affirmed, with $50 costs and disbursements.

Ruth A. Hagan, respt., v. Thompson-Starrett Co., applt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs.

Essex County National Bank, respt., v. Fourth Nat. Bank of N. Y., applt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs.

Ewing, Bacon & Henry, Inc., respt., v. John R. Hoyt, applt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs. (Ingraham, P. J., dissenting.)

Hub-Dusha Co., respt., v. Germania Bank of the City of N. Y., applt.—Judgment reversed, new trial ordered, costs to appellant to abide event. (Ingraham, P. J., and Betchelder, J., dissenting.)

Clement H. Smith and another, respts., v. Susan C. Steers, impld., applt.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. (Ingraham, P. J., and Betchelder, J., dissenting on the ground that the contract between the parties did not authorize the plaintiff to make repairs at the expense of the defendant.)

Globe Lithographing Co., respt., v. Morris Park Estates, applt.—Judgment affirmed, with costs.

Peek Bros. & Winch, respt., v. Archibald Davidson, applt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs.

William S. Hereshoff, respt., v. American & British Mfg. Co., applt.—Judgment and order reversed, new trial ordered, costs to appellant to abide event. (Ingraham, P. J., dissenting.)

Ebling Brewing Co., applt., v. Giuseppe Fusco, respt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements.

William I. Cohn & ano., respts., v. Standard Mail Order Co., applt.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and motion granted, with $10 costs.

Empire Cream Separator Co., respt., v. Walter J. Diamond, applt.—Order reversed, with $10 costs, and disbursements and motion granted, with $10 costs.

U. S. Asphalt Refining Co., applt., v. Texas Co., respt.—Order modified as stated in opinion, and as modified affirmed, without costs.

People ex rel., John Mulhern, applt., v. Independent Dock Builders' Benevolent Union, &c., respt.; People ex rel., August Heimstrom, v. same.—Orders reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and motions granted, with $10 costs.

Charles D. Barry et al., appits., v. David Silberstein et al., respts.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and the motion granted, with $10 costs.

Re Henry Nichols.—Respondent disbarred.

Re Abraham G. Lampke.—Respondent censured.

Re Clarence F. Birdseye.—Respondent suspended for one year.

Re Nathan Kopf.—Respondent suspended for one year.

Frank R. Foss v. Lillian K. Foss.—Motion granted, without costs.

Re Charles H. Stoddard.—Respondent censured. Opinion per curiam. Settle order on notice.

DAY CALENDAR.

SPECIAL TERM—Part II.—Pendleton, J.—Ex parte business.

Surrogates' Court.

CHAMBERS—Cohalan, S.—No day calendar.

City Court.

SPECIAL TERM—Part II.—Schmuck, J.—Ex parte business.

Referees Appointed.

SUPREME COURT—Pendleton, J.—Cohn< Rosenberg — Phoenix Ingraham. D'Alesio< Battilore—Orson R. Raynor.

KINGS COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

APPELLATE DIVISION DECISIONS.

Amer. Slicing Machine Co., applt., v. Maxwell Corkedale, rspdt.—The motion to dismiss appeal is granted, with $10 costs.

Martin Behrer, &c., respdt., v. Mary Ernst, applt.—Motion to dismiss appeal denied, on condition that appellant place the case on the calendar for the December term, and be ready for argument when reached, otherwise motion granted, with $10 costs.

Mary L. Clark, rspdt., v. James M. Clark, applt., and Hudson Iron Works, rspdt.—Motion to dismiss appeal granted, with costs to each of the rspdts.

Same v. same.—Motion to restore appeal to calendar denied.

Luigi Cucco and ano., rspdts., v. Classon Bldg. Co. and ano., rspdts.—The respondents should deposit with the County Clerk for inspection, pending certification of the case, the exhibits; and the appellants may have five days after notice of the submission of such exhibits to the County Clerk to procure certification of the case of appeal, place the same on the calendar, and be ready for argument when reached.

Francisco Dioguardi, applt., v. Nassau RR., rspdt.—Motion for reargument denied. Motion for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeals denied.

Charles Fresuck, rspdt., v. Pittsburgh Const. Co., applt.—Motion for reargument denied, with $10 costs. Motion for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeals denied.

Mary E. George, as Exec'tx, &c., v. Margaret J. Johnson as Admix., &c., def.—Motion to dismiss appeal granted, without costs.

Herbert R. Gibbs, rspdt., v. Knickerbocker Savgs. & Loan Co., applt.—Motion granted on condition that within five days after entry of order herein, applt. pay to rspdt. the sum of $10 costs; otherwise motion denied, with $10 costs.

Re application of Commissioners of Palisades Interstate Park for condemnation of certain lands, &c.—Appeals Nos. 1 and 2.—Motion to resettle orders in accordance with stipulations signed by the parties, granted.

Re petition of William W. Farley, Comm. of Excise, for an order revoking and cancelling Liquor Tax Certificate No. 23,169 issued to Abram V. Decker, and transferred to Elnathan Gazley.—Motion for stay granted by default.

Re Supplementary Proceedings, Charles S. Gladden, judg. deb., v. Robert H. Archbold, and ano., judg. debtors.—Motion to resettle order made and entered, granted, without costs.

Edward B. Kinsella, rspdt., v. Lee Shubert, applt.—Motion denied.

McNulty Bros., plt'ff, v. Carston Henry Offerman et al., applts., impleaded, &c.—Motion granted.

Charles M. Nolson, an infant, &c., applt., v. Benjamin F. Connor, rspdt.—Motion granted, with $10 costs.

People ex rel Ida von Claussen, relator, v. Henry Scholtan, Warden of the City Prison, &c., rspdt.—Motion for stay denied, and temporary stay vacated.

William J. Rague, applt., v. N. Y. Evening Journal Pub. Co., respt.—Motion granted.

Mary Rosenberg, rspdt., v. Rose Hallock, applt.—Motion for stay granted on condition that within ten days the applt. file a bond to pay the amount of the fine, together with any costs and disbursements on appeal. In default thereof, motion denied.

Arthur Suhr, an infant, applt., v. Benjamin F. Connor, rspdt.—Motion granted, with $10 costs.

Jacob Bachmann, applt., v. Mathilde Spinghel and August Bergemann, def.; Simon Fritz and ano., rspdts.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs, upon the opinion of Mr. Justice Blackmar at Special Term.

Leopold Brand, applt., v. Frank Hasbrouck, Supt. of Ins., rspdt.—Judgment is affirmed, with costs.

Frank A. Cunningham, applt., v. Staten Island Rapid Transit Ry., rspdt.—Judgment modified by striking out the words "upon the merits," and as thus modified affirmed, without costs.

Curtis Lumber Co., rspdt., v. Thrall Const. Co. et al., applts.—Order of County Court of Kings Co. reversed, with $10 costs, on authority and motion remitted to said court for disposition in accordance with said authority.

James R. Davis, applt., v. Emma Estelle Davis, rspdt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs. No opinion.

John Pugh, applt., v. Atlantic Stevedoring Co., rspdt.—Judgment unanimously affirmed, with costs.

Annie Epstein, plff., v. Rebecca Werbelovsky et al., defs.; Abraham Werbelovsky et al., as exrs., &c., applt.; Albert E. Richardson, rspdt.—Appeal dismissed on consent, without costs.

Elizabeth Fatum, rspdt., v. Bklyn. Q. Co. & Sub. R. R., applt.—Judgment and order of County Court of Queens unanimously affirmed, with costs.

A. Brendan Ford, applt., v. Robert E. Ford, as admr., &c., rspdt.—Judgment affirmed, with costs.

Gustave A. Gutting et al., rspdts., v. Othilda Eliermann, applt.—Judgment affirmed, with costs.

George S. Hays, applt., v. Attilio Pasquini, &c., respt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements.

Ewald Horning, as admr., &c., rspdt., v. Beadleston & Woers, applt.—Judgment and order unanimously affirmed, with costs.

In application of Frank D. Carver, applt., for peremptory writ of mandamus; William H. Abbott, Jr., Acting Comm. of Tenement House Dept., rspdt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements.

Re application of George B. Hawthorne, applt., for writ of mandamus, against Rhinelander Waldo, as Police Comm., &c., rspdt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements.

Aaron Johanson, rspdt., v. James Shewan et al., applts.—Judgment unanimously affirmed, with costs.

Machs. Kochman, rspdt., v. Sona Ratner, applt.—Judgment and order unanimously affirmed, with costs.

George Loudon, applt., v. William A. Solling, rspdt.—Judgment reversed and new trial granted, costs to abide the event.

Charles H. Mills, respdt., v. N. Y., N. H. & H. RR., applt.—Judgment and order reversed and new trial granted, costs to abide the event.

Esther Mirr, an infant, respdt., v. Robert S. McCreery, applt.—Judgment and order reversed and new trial granted, costs to abide the event, unless within 20 days plaintiff stipulate to reduce the amount of recovery to the sum of $7,500, exclusive of costs in which event the judgment as so modified, and the order are unanimously affirmed, without costs.

John O'Leary, respdt., v. Hay Foundry and Iron Co., applt.—Judgment and order unanimously affirmed, with costs.

Michael Pratt, respdt., v. Henry D. McKee and William Beers, &c., applts.—Order of June 29, 1914, reversed, and stay vacated, without costs. Appeal from order of July 6, refusing to modify the prior order dismissed, without costs.

Peoples National Bnk., respdt., v. Paul Schissel, applt.—Judgment and order affirmed, with costs.

People ex rel Bowery Bay Bldg. and Imp. Co., appl't, v. Lawson Purdy, et al, Comm. of Taxes, respdts.—Final order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements.

People ex rel George B. Hawthorne, relator, v. Rhinelander Waldo, respt.—The determination of the Commissioner is therefore confirmed, and the writ quashed, with $50 costs and disbursements.

People ex rel Urban Water Supply Co., applt., v. Maurice F. Connolly, as Pres. of Queens, respdt.—Order denying motion for a writ of mandamus affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements, as a matter of law. Appeal from order denying motion for reargument dismissed, with $10 costs.

Eloise F. Regan, as admx., &c., respdt. v. Leonhard Michel Brewing Co., applt.—Judgments and order unanimously affirmed, with costs.

Morris Schneider, respdt., v. William W. Farley, applt.—Judgment reversed, with costs of the appeal, and the complaint dismissed, with costs.

William E. D. Stokes, respdt., v. Orlando T. Carpenter and Reese Carpenter, applts.—As one of the defendant-appellants has died since this appeal was taken the action should be revived against his representatives before the appeal is determined. After the order of revival has been entered the appeal may be placed upon the calendar and resubmitted.

E. Platt Stratton, plff-applt., v. Elizabeth J. Graham, def.-applt.—Judgment varied so far as to make the defendant's recoveries of possession of the diamonds dependent upon her payment of the amount theretofore adjudged to plaintiff for his debt, interest, and costs; and as thus modified judgment affirmed, without cost of these appeals to either party.

Julius Straus, applt., v. Robert Y. Slater, et al, defs. and respdts.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements.

Hyman Suss, respdt., v. William W. Farley, applt.—Judgment reversed, with costs of the appeal and complaint dismissed with costs.

Aaron D. Templeton and Evanda R. Templeton, respdts., v. The Panobrocis Society et al, defts., Winfield L. Morse, applt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements.

Ulster Brick Co., respdt., v. Murtha & Schmohl Co., applt.—Order affirmed, with $10 costs and disbursements. No opinion.

Edward Van Fradenburgh and Katherine G. Wiggins, respdts., v. Home Fire Ins. Co. of Broome Co., N. Y., applt.—Order reversed, with $10 costs and disbursements, and motion granted with $10 costs.

Charles W. Winne, applt., v. Queens Land and Title Co., Inc., respdt.—Judgment affirmed, with costs.

BRONX COUNTY.

Supreme Court.

SPECIAL TERM—Brady, J.—At 10 A. M. Ex parte business.

Surrogate's Court.

CHAMBERS—Schulz, S.—No day calendar.

County Court.

CHAMBERS—Gibbs, J.—Ex parte business.

Referee Appointed.

SUPREME COURT—Brady, J.—Demarest< Deane—Benjamin F. Gerding.

Receivers Appointed.

SUPREME COURT—Brady, J.—Luigi Castaldo<George Esposito—J. D. Tobias.

COUNTY COURT—Gibbs, J.—Gerewitz<Neuberger—James T. Bunt.

THE UNITED SERVICE.

Special to The New York Times.

Army Orders.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The assignment of 1st Lt. J. M. Armstrong, M. R. C., to active duty Oct. 5 to 8 in orders of Oct. 15, Ft. Snelling, Minn., is confirmed and approved.

Orders Oct. 5 as to 1st Lt. N. M. Beardslee, C. A. C., revoked.

1st Lt. J. K. Jemison, C. A. C., 146 Co., to unassigned, and to Ft. Monroe, Va., Dec. 30 to take course at Artillery School.

Orders June 24 as to 1st Lt. (now Capt.) J. A. Mack, C. A. C., and Capt. S. F. Dallam, Q. M. C., (now 9 Cav.), revoked.

Capt. R. M. Mitchell, C. A. C., 129 Co., to unassigned, and to staff of commanding officer, Coast Defenses of Narragansett.

2d Lt. E. Korjan, Phpns Scouts, Letterman Hosp., San Fran., to Manila, sailing about Dec. 5.

Changes in C. A. C.—Maj. W. R. Smith, from asst. to chief of Coast Artillery, Dec. 1, then to Ft. Monroe, Va.; Capt. S. D. Embick, 98 Co., to unassigned, Dec. 1, and as asst. to chief of Coast Artillery.

1st Lt. C. C. Hewitt, C. E., on arrival in U. S., to this city and report to Chief of Engrs. for duty.

Maj. S. H. Wathsam, M. C., inspr. instr. of New York militia, will assume duties of inspr. instr. of sanitary troops of Mass., R. I., and Conn., in addition to his present duties.

Capt. J. E. Shelley, 11 Cav., 2 visits per month, beginning this month and ending May, 1915, to Boulder, Colo., to instruct militia cav. there.

Maj. D. L. Reynolds, M. C., to Ft. Worth, Tex., Nov. 18, to check up property pertaining to field hospital issued to that State.

Maj. S. M. Waterhouse, M. C., Ft. H. G. Wright, N. Y., to Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y., with 5 Inf.

Capt. J. R. Harris, M. C., to Ft. H. G. Wright, N. Y., temp. duty until arrival of Capt. G. I. Jones, M. C., when he will return to his station.

1st Lt. E. E. Bayils, M. C., from Ft. D. A. Russell, Wyo. to Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y., with 5 Inf.

Capt. J. E. Shelley, 11 Cav., to Hastings, Col., to inspect Troop A, Col. Nat. Guard.

Capt. L. S. Sheeppard, M. C., to temp. duty at Jackson Barracks, La.

Capt. W. S. Grant, 3 Cav., from Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., to his regt.

Leaves: 2d Lt. W. P. Ball, 6 Inf., 2 months, on arrival of 2d Lt. L. H. Stewart, 21 Inf., at Alcatraz, Cal., and Capt. W. G. Sills, 8 Cav., 1 month.

Navy Orders.

Jr. Lt. L. Hingram, the Arkansas to the Wisconsin.

Engrs. H. A. Ellis and M. J. Foster, the Des Moines, to the Nebraska.

P. A. Surgs. H. Shaw, the Prairie, to orders; R. G. Heiner, Atl. Res. Fleet to the Prairie.

Mach. J. A. Davie, resignation accepted.

Naval Vessels.

Arrived—Colorado, at Bremerton; Walke, at New York Yard; New York, Arkansas, Utah, and New Hampshire, at Southern Drill Grounds; North Dakota, at Tompkinsville; Maryland, at Bremerton; Solace, at Guantanamo; Hull and Lawrence, at Sausalito; Tonopah, D-1, D-2, D-3, and E-1, at Norfolk Yard, and the Raleigh, at Manzilo.

Sailed—Saturn, Magdalena Bay for San Diego; New Jersey, Boston for Newport; Proteus, Honolulu, for Hampton Roads; Sacramento, Hampton Roads for Portsmouth, N. H.; Iroquois, Mare Island for San Diego, and the West Virginia, Mazatlan for San Blas.

The North Dakota, now at Tompkinsville, ordered to Norfolk Yard for repairs.

The flag of the commander, 3d Div. Atl. Fleet temp. transferred to the New Jersey.

From Hampton Roads—The collier Proteus goes to Portsmouth (N. H.) Yard.

The Dolphin, now at Washington Yard, will proceed to Norfolk Yard, to arrive by Nov. 9.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

AT 14 VESEY ST.

By Joseph P. Day.

Trinity Place, N. s, 70 ft. e. 208.1 ft s of Thames St, 104.4x42.4x108.9x52; six-story loft and store building; Mutual Life Insurance Co. against B. H. Shepard and others; F. L. Allen, attorney; E. J. Murphy, referee; due, $110,432.90; taxes, &c, $2,022.50; to the plaintiff for $90,000.

AT 3,208 THIRD AVENUE.

By Henry Brady.

Webster Av, 1,922, e s, 138.7 ft n of Tremont Av, 76x100; two-story theatre; E. S. Appleby and others against Adolph Freund and others; Cannon & C., attorneys; Harry Kampner, referee; due, $29,207.35; taxes, &c, $866.40; to the Dochterman Realty Co. for $45,000.

By James J. Donovan.

160th St, 602 East, s s, 30.2 ft e of Trinity Av, 23.2x50x29.11 to Trinity Av x25x62.11x irr, two-story dwelling; M. T. Rennard against R. H. Neville and others; partition; Joline, L. & R., attorneys; E. J. Flynn, referee; to the plaintiff for $500.

By Charles A. Berrian.

Morris Park Av, 629, n s, 1,481.11 ft e of Walker Av, 25.2x189.6x28.6x174.2; adjourned to Nov. 20.

226th St, 848 to 856 East, s s, 205 ft w of Bronxwood Av, 100x114; Samuel Stecher and others against Grosue Arcolon and others; Charles Tollenis, attorney; John Boyle, Jr., referee; due, $3,669.65; taxes, &c, $823.58; subject to mortgage of $16,000; to the plaintiff for $17,100.

By George Price.

Edwards Av, n w corner of Marrin St, 50.4x 98.10x50x100; Henry Stellman, trustee, against M. F. McGrail and others; John Kadel, attorney; H. Bayden, J. C. Nat. Bk., referee; due, $1,528.20; taxes, &c, $138; to the plaintiff for $1,550.

RECORDED LEASES.

Manhattan.

With name and address of lessee.

BLEECKER ST, 165, east basement; Calogero Caputo to Corrado Carubs and another, 165 Bleecker St, 5-12 years from Dec. 1, 1913; attorney, Hugo Heyman, 96 William St.

BROADWAY, 1,886, store; Studebaker Corporation of America to Harry S. Houpt, Inc., 1 to 7 years from Nov. 1, 1914; attorney, Herman Goldman, 18 Park Row; $4,500

BROADWAY, 1,418, all; Alger Realty Co. to Adolf Lorber, 230 West 113th St, 4 7-12 years from Oct. 1, 1913; attorney, Isidore Herschfield, 30 Nassau St. $18,000

MADISON AV, n w corner of 54th St, 25.5x 70, all; 582 Madison Avenue Co., Inc., to Charles B. Halsey and another, 1,002 Park Av., 21 years from Nov. 1, 1914; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway $7,500

MADISON ST, 28, basement; Vito De Paola to Gaetano Butera, 3 years from Nov. 1, 1914; attorneys, Guarini & C., 23 New Bowery $234

3D AV, s w corner of 33d St, 24x50; all; Hy. Tichman to Daniel O'Brien, 221 East 33d St, 5 years from Nov. 1, 1914; attorneys, Pakula, Gilbert & Rector, 149 East 84th

3D AV, 1,315, store; Joseph L. Buttenwieser to Albert G. Gehmann and another, 1,322 3d Av, 4 8-13 years from Sept. 1, 1914; attorney, Hugo Koelker, 149 East 15th St. $650

5TH ST, 536 and 538 East, all; Sarah Gans and another to Abraham Bernstein, 536 East 5th St, 1½ years from Nov. 1, 1914; attorney, Joseph Held, 174 Rivington St. $6,700

10TH ST, 230 East, all; Pasquale Ferri to Israel Kloth, 230 East 10th St, 2 years from May 1, 1913; attorney, Edward M. James, 13 Park Row $1,440

37TH ST, 458 to 448 West, tenth, eleventh and twelfth floors; Elsie T. Underhill to Atlantic Lithographic and Printing Co., 128 Mott St, 15 years from May 1, 1915; attorney, Samuel Wasserman, 31 Chambers

148TH ST, 412 to 418 West, apartment 64 on sixth floor; Nellie E. Peck to Morris Epstein, on premises, 1 years from Nov. 1, 1914 $768

Bronx.

JACKSON AV, n e corner of 166th St, store; George Schaefer to Angelo Riffone, 1,185 Union Av, 5 years from Oct. 1, 1914; attorney, A. Riffone, 1,185 Union Av. $800

ASSIGNMENTS OF MORTGAGES.

Bronx.

WABST, Adelaide A., to Kate Glatzmer.. $500

FRANK, William A., to Adelaide A. Wabst $500

LINSLEY, Loretta L., to First National Bank of Southampton, N. Y. $17,500

HAYCOCK, Allan R., to Sarah Haycock..$1

HAYCOCK, Sarah A., to Columbia Trust Co., trustee $1

SMYTH, George H., to Title Guarantee and Trust Co $100

BRATTER, Ignatz, to Title Guarantee and Trust Co $5,500

BOTH, Julia R., to Regina Hyman $1

THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Builders Buy Apartment House Site in Fort Washington Section—East Side Baking Plant Sold—Group of Old Greenwich Village Tenements Traded for Bronx Corner.

More activity was seen in the realty market yesterday than was noticeable for the last few days. The Greenwich section and the lower east side both furnished good deals and in the upper Manhattan apartment house area a large sale was closed which will lead to the erection of another apartment house in the Fort Washington section. The property involved is the northeast corner of Haven Avenue and 180th Street, 125 by 125 and irregular, which has been purchased by Harry and Joseph Falk from Sonn Brothers.

The new owners, who have been active operators in the upper west side area, are preparing to erect a six-story apartment on the Haven Avenue corner and they have obtained a building loan of $120,000 from the sellers. Diagonally opposite, on the southwest corner, the sale of a new five-story apartment was reported yesterday.

East Side Baking Plant Sold.

The old five-story loft structure at 92 to 96 Elizabeth Street, 52 feet south of Grand Street, and which for nearly half a century was used as a bakery, has been sold to on investor who plans to remodel the building for other uses. It has been vacant for about seven months and has been owned for thirty years by Thomas S. Ollive, now Vice President of the National Biscuit Company. The property, covering a plot 75 by 100, has been sold for Mr. Ollive by Hiram Rinaldo, as broker.

For many years the building was the plant of the Bolivar Biscuit Company and which was taken out several years ago by the National Biscuit Company, but it continued to be used as a bakery until a few months ago.

Big Twenty-third Street Lease.

An important step toward the rehabilitation of the old Twenty-third Street shopping block was made yesterday in the leasing of a portion of the building formerly occupied by the furniture firm of Flint & Co. at 43 to 47 West Twenty-third Street and running through the block to 24 to 28 West Twenty-fourth Street. The store, basement, and first three lofts, about 60,000 square feet, have been taken by S. Steinfeld & Co., importers and jobbers, of 600 Broadway. They have been in the old dry goods section for thirty years.

The lease was made by the firm of Leonard J. Carpenter and Heil & Stern for the estate of William C. Schermerhorn and it completes the renting of the north side of Twenty-third Street, with the exception of the four upper lofts in this building and the old Shepard-Knapp Building.

Investor Buys Harlem Flat.

M. Maier has purchased for investment through O'Reilly & Dahn 121 West 134th Street, a five-story double flat, on a plot 25 by 100.

A Manhattan-Bronx Trade.

The Sykes Realty Company purchased from Mark S. Reardon 494 and 496 Hudson Street, running through to 107 to 115 Bedford Street, near Christopher Street. The Hudson Street frontage is 43 feet, covered with two four-story tenements, and the Bedford Street frontage 80 feet, covered with five three-story tenements.

In exchange the buyer gives the one-story building, containing three stores and a theatre, at the junction of Southern Boulevard, 174th Street and Boston Road, on a plot 75 by 130.

Brooklyn.

Elisha T. Everett has sold for Robert M. Wilson the two-story and basement brownstone dwelling 809 Sterling Place to a client, for occupancy.

The Bulkley & Horton Company has sold 75 North Oxford Street, a three-story and basement brick dwelling, between Myrtle and Park Avenues, on a lot 25 by 100, for Maude M. Wade to Timothy and Johanna Crawley.

New Jersey.

At Lyndhurst L. N. Nicholson & Co. have sold to William E. Noble a six-room house on Third Avenue with all improvements and a large plot for $2,650; to Elbert Ellsworth a six-room bungalow with all improvements on Lyndhurst Avenue for $3,250, and to Alphonse Favior a six-room house on Third Avenue with all improvements and a large plot for $2,550.

Suburban.

The Nehring Company has sold to a client Orchard Grove Villa, comprising about thirty-seven acres, located at Saugerties, N. Y. The property was held at $2,200.

Private Dwellings Leased.

The Payson McL. Merrill Company, Inc., has leased for Mrs. Frederick Tilden Brown to Corporation Counsel Frank L. Polk for the season of 1915 her property known as "Windward," in Bannister Lane, Cedarhurst, L. I.

Slawson & Hobbs have leased for a term of years for Mrs. E. S. Dyer to E. T. Herman the four-story high-stoop dwelling 137 West Eighteth Street; also the three-story high-stoop dwelling 129 West Eighteth Street for A. S. Darlington to E. M. Bowen, and the four-story American basement dwelling 235 West 100th Street for Mrs. M. E. Claussen to K. D. Shaw.

Harry Levy has leased for a term of years for the estate of Ludwig Traube a private dwelling located at 80 East Ninetieth Street to Kerin F. Carroll, a member of the firm of Fiss, Doerr & Carroll.

Porter & Co. have leased for the E. Sharaun Company to Joseph Pollard the three-story brownstone dwelling located at 17 East 130th Street.

Commercial Leases.

William J. Roome & Co., Inc., have leased for Madison Grant, as trustee of the De Forest Manice estate, the corner store in the building 167 Madison Avenue, being the southeast corner of Thirty-third Street, to Wallach Brothers, who will occupy same as a cigar store; also the store adjoining the corner to Joseph Schneman, who will occupy same for the electrical business.

Building in October.

Building operations in the United States during October showed a sagging tendency, revealed in returns to Bradstreet's Journal by seventy-one cities, which report an aggregate expenditure during October this year of $29,120,875, as against $30,211,356 in September and $34,609,234 in October last year. There is here shown a decrease of 3.6 per cent. from September and of 15.8 per cent. from October last year, with only twenty-five cities showing increases, while forty-six show decreases from the like month of October, 1913.

Realty Notes.

Trinity Court, a six-story loft and office building, at 70 to 76 Trinity Place, was acquired by the Mutual Life Insurance Company, on a bid of $90,000 in foreclosure proceedings yesterday. Joseph P. Day, was the auctioneer.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

FRIDAY, NOV. 6.

With name and address of purchaser and attorney. When attorney's name is omitted address party of the second part.

Manhattan.

BROOME ST, 290 to 294, n w corner of Orchard St, 65.2x56.6; Earl A. Smith to Bank of Washington Heights, 1,915 Amsterdam Av, (mtg $56,000,) June 4; attorney, John Whalen, 206 Broadway $10,000

CHERRY ST, n s, 100 e nr of Jackson St, 25x108.6x25x107; Michael Gorman to Mary A., his wife, 1,761 Popham Av, all liens, July 16, 1907 $1

FORSYTH ST, 86 and 88, e s, 62.5 ft s of Grand St, runs e 38.3x e 10.1x n 29.10 x w 19.10xn 0.6x w 20.2x s 5.1x w 29.11x w 12.8x w 30.8 to beginning; Morris Rose and others to Benson Construction Co., Inc., Orchard St, (mtg $73,000,) all liens, Oct. 25; attorney, Isidore E. Schlesinger, 150 Nassau St. $100

LIBERTY ST, 124, s e corner Greenwich St, 44.4x54.8; also property in Bronx; Edw. F. Robinson to Angeline W. Robinson, at Mamaroneck, N. Y., Oct. 31; attorney, B. C. Meighan, 38 Park Row $1

PLEASANT PL, n w corner of 106th St, runs w 200x n 100.11 x w 50x n 100.11 to 107th St, x e 75x n 100.11 to avenue x s 100.11 to beginning; Archibald E. Baxter, referee, to Elizabeth M. Miller, 730 Riverside Drive, Nov. 2; address, 59 Cedar St. $51,100

SPRING ST, s s, 77.9 ft e of Greene St, 22.3x51; James O. Farnell, referee, to J. Edward Jeiter, 109 East 94th St, Oct. 28; attorney, Lawyers Title Insurance Co., 160 Broadway $1,000

SAME PROPERTY; Rose Jetter to same, quitclaim, Nov. 5; attorney, same $1

ST. MARK'S PLACE, 76, s s, 100 ft w of 1st Av, 25x97.6, John J. Gibbs to Catherine G. Tully, 2,183 Broadway, 3-15 part, subject to liens, Nov. 5; attorney, Patrick J. O'Beirne, 132 Nassau St. $1

ST. MARK'S PLACE, 76; John J. Gibbs to Mary Gibbs, 2,183 Broadway, 4-15 part, Nov. 5; attorney, Patrick J. O'Beirne, 132 Nassau St. $1

SAME PROPERTY; same to Ellen Gibbs, 2,183 Broadway, 8-15 part, Nov. 5; attorney, same $1

1ST AV, 1,748, e s, 100.9 ft n of 90th St, 24.11x94; Laughlin Coyne to Mary A. and Margaret R. Coyne, 1,748 1st Av., (mtg $9,000,) all liens, party of first part reserves life estate, Nov. 5; attorney, Title Guarantee and Trust Co., 176 Broadway $1

5TH AV, s w corner 57th St, 100.5x125; 734 Fifth Avenue, Inc., to August Heckscher of Huntington, L. I., (mtg $1,750,000,) Nov. 5; attorneys, Parks, McK. & T., 60 Wall St. $100

5TH AV, w s, 25.11 ft n of 118th St, 25x100; Hermen Harris to Hannah Friedman, 2,453 7th Av., (mtg $27,000,) Nov. 6; attorney, Aaron H. Schwarz, 130 Fulton St. $1

24TH ST, 316 East, s s, 231.3 ft e of 2d Av, 18.9x98.9; City Real Estate Co. to Bond and Mortgage Guarantee Co., 176 Remsen St, Brooklyn, B. & S., Nov. 6; attorney, Title Guarantee Co., 176 Broadway $100

38TH ST, s s, 175 ft w of 9th Av, 25x98.9; George A. Gilfeather to Elsie Gilfeather, his wife, 723 St. Nicholas Av all title, Nov. 5; attorney, H. S. Cook, 38 Park Row $1

45TH ST, s s, 250 ft e of 11th Av, 25x100.5; Joseph B. Hawkes to Robert C. Fulton, 240 West 102d St, (mtg $11,000,) Oct

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—There has been no rain in the last twenty-four hours except in the State of Washington.

A maximum temperature of 80 degrees was registered on Friday at Omaha, Neb., the highest November temperature recorded at that station in the last forty-three years. Record-breaking maxima were also recorded at Kansas City, Mo., and Concordia, Kan.

The Northwestern depression is now central in Minnesota, but it does not promise precipitation, except in the lake region.

Higher temperatures will prevail on Saturday in the Ohio Valley and the lake region and on Sunday in the Middle Atlantic States and New England. Elsewhere the changes will be unimportant.

Winds along the North and Middle Atlantic Coats will be light northwest on Saturday and Sunday; South Atlantic Coast, light northeast.

FORECAST TODAY AND TOMORROW.

Eastern New York, New Jersey, New England, and Eastern Pennsylvania—Fair Saturday and Sunday.

Western New York—Partly cloudy Saturday and Sunday.

The temperature record for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from the thermometer at the local office of the United States Weather Bureau, is as follows:

	1913.	1914.		1913.	1914.
8 A. M.	45	43	4 P. M.	63	47
9 A. M.	40	43	6 P. M.	59	44
10 A. M.	50	44	9 P. M.	54	43
12 M.	58	47	11 P. M.	50	42

This thermometer is 414 feet above the street level. The average temperature yesterday was 46; for the corresponding date last year it was 52; average on the corresponding date for the last thirty-three years, 48.

The temperature at 8 A. M. yesterday was 43, at 8 P. M. it was 44. Maximum temperature, 50 degrees at 1:10 P. M.; minimum, 42 degrees at 7 A. M. Humidity, 67 per cent. at 8 A. M.; 58 per cent. at 8 P. M.

The barometer at 8 A. M. yesterday registered 29.94 inches, at 8 P. M. it stood at 30.13 inches.

FIRE RECORD.

A. M. Loss.

12:30—Split Rock Rd., near N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Bridge; Robert Brindel .....Slight

1:25—45 Greene St.; not given.....$50

1:45—152 St. and Exterior St.; Rogers & Hagerty .....Slight

3:40—599-2 Av.; Samuel Miller.....Slight

3:40—200 W. 133 St.; Crever Donald..Slight

3:50—296 W. 142 St.; Tony de Vito...Slight

8:10—159 Hester St.; Consol. Gas Co..Slight

10:20—813 W. 141 St.; Nelly Kennedy..Slight

10:50—165 E. 98 St.; Jacob Fisher.....$5

11:55—60 E. 82 St.; E. J. Phelps.....Slight

P. M.

12:45—1,988 Webster Av.; Wm. Leith..Slight

1:45—11 W. 49 St.; Morris Chapin.....$50

1:50—2 Essex Market Pl.; C. N. Y.....Slight

2:20—530 W. 127 St.; R. Pindolph.....Slight

4:00—Bear Swamp Road & White Plains Av.; M. Fippenger $25

4:15—811 9 Av.; not given.....Slight

5:00—294 South St.; Acme Burlap Co..Slight

5:10—256 W. 117 St.; Van Buren Co..Slight

5:20—41 Henry St.; Harry Koretzky....$250

5:30—33 St. & 7 Av.; Penn. R. R.....None

5:30—67 E. 4 St.; Mrs. C. Silpe.....Slight

5:40—243 Centre St.; E. Mitchel Mfg. Co., Not given

5:55—41 St. & 1 Av.; Edison Co.....Slight

6:15—1,551 Odell St.; Max Steiger.....Slight

6:35—123 Bleecker St.; Blackie Bros., Not given

11:30—19 Greenwich Av.; L. Oppenheimer.. Slight

THE CIVIL SERVICE.

City.

The receipt of applications for superintendent, employment agency, male and female, will be closed at 4 P. M. on Nov. 13. A physical examination will precede the mental test. The age limits are 25 to 50 years. There is one vacancy at a salary of $3,500 a year. Persons who accept appointment must thereafter reside in New York State. Among the requirements is managerial experience in connection with public employment agencies, semi-public or philanthropic employment agencies, and the employment departments of large organizations.

United States.

The commission announces for Nov. 17 a competitive examination for oil and gas inspector for mapping oil and gas wells, to fill a vacancy in the Bureau of Mines. Department of the Interior, for service in Oklahoma at a salary ranging from $1,800 to $2,160 a year. Competitors will not be assembled for examination, but will be rated on education, experience and fitness, and thesis

At least one year's practical experience, including the construction of maps, instrumental location of wells, platting of such locations on map, and actual field experience in land surveying, is a prerequisite. Applicants must have reached their 20th, but not their 35th, birthday on the date of the examination. Further information may be obtained from the commission, Washington, D. C.

POLICE AND FIRE NEWS.

Police Department.

Transfers, to take effect 8 A. M. Nov. 6, to prects. indicated from 17: T. J. Ryan, 4; Otto Hettler, 31; Arthur Strachan, 149; Frank Donnelly, 7; Michael Connolly, 39; L. G. Hellmuth, 159.

Temporary Assignments: Sergts. R. V. McCauley, 38, to Comr's office for 30 days from 8 A. M. Nov. 7; L. J. Valentine, 159, to Det. Bu. for 10 days from 6 P. M. Nov. 5; Patrol. George Prigge, 63, to Comr's office for 30 days from 8 A. M. Nov. 6; George Downey, 88, to Comr's office for 30 days from 8 A. M. Nov. 7; Salvatore Santoro, 146, and James Petrano, 150, to 9 Insp. Dist. for 10 days from noon Nov. 9.

Leave, without pay: Act. Det. Sergt. 2d Grade Edmund Leigh, Det. Bu., for 15 days from noon Nov. 5.

Fire Department.

Joseph I. Riley, H. & L. 34, is appointed a fourth grade fireman.

Leaves, without pay: Capt. James Hayes, Eng. 6, 24 hours, from 8 A. M., Nov. 8; William J. Barron, Eng. 93, 12 hours, from 8 A. M., Nov. 7.

EDUCATION NOTES.

The Elementary Class Teachers' Association (1A to 6B teachers) will hold a meeting in Terrace Garden Hall, Fifty-eighth Street, near Third Avenue, at 3 P. M., on Nov. 10.

Professional examinations of eligible applicants for License No. 1, to act as grade teacher in the elementary schools, will be conducted on Jan. 13, 14, and 15, and June 7, 8, and 9. The male applicants will be examined at the Board of Education Hall and the women applicants at Public School 27.

Academic examinations of eligible applicants for License No. 1 will be held on Jan. 11 and 12 and on June 10 and 11 at the Board of Education Hall.

It is expected that Mayor Mitchel will soon appoint a successor to the late James E. Sullivan as a member of the Board of Education.

The terms of the following members of the Board of Education will expire on Jan. 1, 1915: Nicholas J. Barrett, Ernest F. Ellert, the Rev. Dr. James M. Farrar, Mrs. Ella W. Kramer, George C. Miller, Mrs. Alice Lee Post, Michael J. Sullivan, John R. Thompson, and former President Egerton L. Winthrop, Jr.

The general meeting of the Brooklyn Teachers' Association will be held this morning in Memorial Hall, Y. W. C. A. Building, Schermerhorn Street, near Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn.

President Churchill's proposal to designate the public schools by distinctive names instead of by numbers has been approved by the Board of Superintendents.

WILLS FOR PROBATE.

RBAXTON, SARAH E., (Oct. 14;) personalty, $850; to Georgetta, Jones Lawrence, Katie Logan, Ruth Graves, Jennie Taylor, Alice Lloyd, Maria Mackerson, Cornelia Williams, and mother, A. M. E. Zion Church, $50 each; Martha Robinson, Alice Duncan, and George S. Braxton, each $25; Elizabeth Johnson, $15; residue to W. David Brown.

EAGAN, MARY A., (Oct. 25;) personalty, less than $1,000; all to husband, John J. Eagan.

EICHOFF, ELISA N., (Oct. 24;) realty, $300; personalty, not less than $20,000; to daughter, Pauline Miebling, $5,000; to Louise Lemon, Robert Bender, and Emilie Moody, each $2,000, and William Bender, $1,500, grandchildren; one-half residue to Pauline Miebling; out of other half, $6,000 in trust for education of children of son, Henry Eichoff; remainder to latter.

FRAAS, CHARLES, (Oct. 10;) personalty, not over $3,000; all to sisters, Barbara and Ellen.

Le ROW, CAROLINE B., (March 8;) personalty, $750; all equally to Ellen M. Ames, Mrs. A. M. Rawson, Maria H. Le Row, Mrs. George L. Le Row, Mrs. B. M. Dunklee, Mrs. J. J. Hill, and M. A. Sprague.

PORTER, MARY, (July 18;) personalty not over $300; gifts of trinkets and jewelry to friends; residue to two sons, Thomas M. and James Frederick Porter.

WEIS, SALOME, (Oct. 11;) realty, over $8,000; personalty, over $100; furniture to children, George, Frederick, and Lena; residue, one-fifth each to same; one-fifth to children of deceased son, John, and one-fifth to children of deceased son, Louis.

Prompt Returns

97TH ST., (Riverside Drive.)—Newly furnished room; bright and sunshiny; in private family of two; no other roomers; bath adjoining; $25 per month; references required. Phone 2498 Riverside.

The room was rented to a Times reader before nine o'clock the first morning the advertisement appeared in The New York Times.

Want advertisements in The Times on Saturday, Sunday and Monday receive a special rate. Inquire—

Want Department
The New York Times
Phone Bryant 1000.

Apartments to Let Furnished.
Thirty cents a line.

West Side.

A.—A.—CATHEDRAL PLAZA.
100 Cathedral Parkway, 110th, Columbus Av. at Morningside Park, near Central Park.
1, 2 AND 3 ROOMS.
Dishes, cooking utensils, and silver.
Private bath, kitchenette, furnished, $30, $40, $50 up monthly; unfurnished, $25, $30, $40; elevator, hotel service; near "L" and Subway; references; special rates on lease.

To sublet, furnished, to responsible party, nine-room corner apartment, ten windows on street, elaborately furnished, including linens and silverware; monthly rental, $175. Any day between 10 and 12 or by appointment. Telephone Lenox 7611. S. Weil, 1,219 Madison Av.

A.—A.—Desirable furnished apartments for rent; four rooms and bath to ten rooms and three baths; for six months or longer. Full particulars Slawson & Hobbs, 162 West 72d.

Furnished apartments for rent at the Van Dyck and Severn, Broadway, 72d to 73d St.; 6, 8, and 9 rooms, 2 and 3 baths. Apply to manager, on premises. Tel. Col. 3547.

HOMES OF QUALITY.
Rentals $100 to $1,000 per month.
EVERETT M. SEIXAS COMPANY,
Tel. 4520 Murray Hill. 507 5th Av.

121st, 509 West, (Columbia Grounds Opposite.)—Beautiful duplex studio apartments, four rooms, bath, kitchenette; furnished housekeeping; restaurant. Yetman.

Riverside Drive, 524.—Five rooms; front apartment; attractively furnished; $75; piano. See afternoons. Apt. 3. Telephone 4403 Morningside.

A.—A.—A.—High-class furnished apartments wanted for waiting clients. Send particulars to Slawson & Hobbs, 162 West 72d St.

Apartment of 4 rooms and bath, facing Broadway; rent to June 1, $90 per month. 250 West 78th St., corner Broadway.

74th St., 161 West.—Beautifully furnished apartment; private bath; good service; for gentleman.

Handsomely furnished apartment of 10 large, sunny rooms, $350 per month. 125 East 57th St. fifth floor.

Riverside Drive, 222. Apt. 4.—Beautiful 9-room apartment; would divide if convenient.

Sunny 3-room suite; use kitchen; handsomely furnished; bargain. Lyons, 207 West 85th.

50th, 14 West, 2 or 4 rooms, kitchenette, doctor's office. Plaza 2121.

113th, 517 West.—Sublet 4-room apartment, completely furnished. Inquire at office.

57th, 57 West.—Three rooms and bath, $80 a month. Apartment 3.

Broadway, 2,532.—Three nicely furnished rooms, with kitchen, $30 a month. Hodges.

East Side.

Apartments to let, furnished or unfurnished, high-class hotel service, at bargain prices. A few choice apartments left. Restaurant. Two rooms & bath, furnished, $45 mo. upward. Three rms. & bath, furnished, $90 mo. upward. HOTEL OXFORD, 35 East 27th St.
HOTEL ST. LOUIS, 34 East 22d St.

TO SUBLET FROM NOV. 1 IN THE LORRAINE, 2 EAST 45TH ST., A BEAUTIFULLY FURNISHED APARTMENT OF PARLOR, 2 BEDROOMS, AND 2 BATHS. CAN BE DIVIDED.

High-class furnished apartments; choice localities; long, short leases.
CLARK & DE FLOREZ.
30 East 42d. Murray Hill 5392.

Apartments Wanted—Furnished
Thirty cents a line.

Wanted to rent four months, furnished apartment six rooms, below 90th St.; no children; only first class. Telephone 3985 Greeley, between 10 and 12 o'clock.

Immediate possession for six months, 7 or 8 outside rooms, four bedrooms; references exchanged. Phone A. B. D., 6810 Plaza.

Apartments to Let Unfurnished.
Thirty cents a line.

West Side.

Two rooms and bath; steam, hot water, electric, gas; second floor front; 7 West 24th St.; on lot 25-foot front. Apply premises, or Goodale, Perry & Dwight, Inc., 1,133 Broadway, (at 26th.) Phone Farragut 9494.

Attractive up-to-date elevator apartment, seven bright, sunny rooms, two baths; sublet great concession. 536 W. 111th St. Apt. 9?.

SUBLET.
Three rooms and bath.
HOTEL WALTON, 104 West 70th St.

12th St., 132 West.—Six nice rooms and bath; steam heat; hot water supply; rents, $45 up. Janitor.

50th St., 14 West.—Private house; bachelors; 2 or 4 room suite; reasonable. Plaza 2121.

"Haddon Hall," 596 Riverside Drive, s. e. cor. 137th St. $900 to $1400.

50th, 43 West.—Handsome parlor floor for doctor, dentist, or professional use.

146th, 479 West.—5 rooms and bath; southern exposure; rent $28.

East Side.

58TH ST., 43-47-51 East, at Park Av., DOCTOR'S apart., 6 rooms, 2 baths; $1,200-$1,250.
RESIDENCE aparts., 6-7 rooms, 2 baths; $1,100-$1,450.
BACHELOR aparts., 3 rooms and bath; $600. All Improvements, Standard Service.

48 East 89th St., (southeast corner Madison Av.)—Corner apartment, 8 rooms, bath, electric light, hall boy; $900.

57th, 47 East.—Two rooms, bath; redecorated; finest neighborhood; conveniences; leases preferred.

17TH, 201 EAST.—Four large, light rooms, corner apartment; newly painted; $25.

92d, 74 East.—4 rooms; top floor; private house; $30 to $40; electricity.

Bronx.

New, modern apartment buildings; all improvements; 4 rooms, $25; 6 rooms, $36; telephone, electric light, &c.; 880 Beck St. between Leggett and St. John, near Prospect Av. Subway Station.

0 large, light 6-room apartments; high-class residential section; conveniently located; 2 families on floor; 224 and 228 East Tremont Av., adjoining Grand Concourse.

Brooklyn.

Second floor, seven rooms, tile bath; all light; good closets; abundant heat and hot water. 1,058 Bergen St.

New Jersey.

Apartments for rent, Westwood, N. J., 7 rooms, porches, garden; $31 monthly. 6 rooms, porches, garden; $23 monthly. D. Sloat, 318 Broadway, New York.

Apartments Wanted—Unfurnished
Thirty cents a line.

Young bachelor in town three nights a week, wishes room and bath, furnished or unfurnished, east side, between 34th and 86th Station cross street, not on car line; must be sunny and free from street noises. Box Y 302 Times Annex.

West side, between 86th and 116th Streets; 6 rooms and bath; $660 per year; must be exceptional value. T 2 Times.

For Sale—Miscellaneous
Thirty Cents a Line.

For sale, good stock of second-hand radiators and boilers at Centre Iron and Metal Dealers, 158 Centre St.

One Ballard cutting machine, straight knife, almost new; sell cheap. H. & L. Cloak Co., 34 West 17th St.

PROMPT DELIVERY FREE.
Want advertisements for The New York Times received at American District Messenger offices in New York City at office rates.—Advt.

City Property.
Thirty cents a line.

Real Estate at Auction.

M. MORGENTHAU, JR., CO., AUCTIONEERS, 95 LIBERTY ST., N. Y.

Real Estate.

EWING, BACON & HENRY,
Real Estate—Insurance. 101 Park Ave.

Manhattan—For Sale or To Let.

Owing to the War.—Exceptional opportunity to the right party. Will dispose of lease of an unusually attractive house, 17 rooms, elevator, and 5 bathrooms, in a very choice locality, for $8,000, to Oct. 1, 1915; and will sell at great sacrifice entire contents and furnishings, which cost over $20,000, for $5,000 to immediate purchaser. Tel. Columbus 8016.

American basement, private, for sale or rent, furnished dwelling, five story; Otis elevator; modern in every respect; elegantly furnished. Key at 33 West 66th St.

Brooklyn—For Sale or To Let.

Four private houses, opposite Tompkins Park, at a bargain. C. M. Burtis, 207 Ryerson St., Brooklyn. Phone 2200 Prospect.

City Houses to Let—Unfurnished.

200TH ST., (at Southeast Cor. Valentine Av., Bedford Park.)—FOR RENT, two $65 adjoining houses for less than $190; fine for two friendly families or boarding house.

West 88th St., 125.—Four-story American basement house; 10 rooms, 2 baths; rent, $1,500. Warren & Skillin, 174 Fulton St.

Property Out of the City.
Thirty cents a line.

Real Estate at Auction.

For Sale.—Private residence; on plot 65x100 feet, northeast corner of Grand and Seventh Avenues, North Asbury Park, N. J., at public auction, November 16, 1914, at 2 P. M., at the Court House, Freehold, New Jersey. Excellent piece of property in best section of North Asbury Park to be had cheap. For further particulars inquire Albert Robbins, Asbury Park; McCarter & English, Prudential Building, Newark, and Schryver & Geyler, 738 Broad Street, Newark, N. J.

Westchester—For Sale or To Let.

Yonkers.

707 North Broadway, Yonkers, in the "River View Colony," two-story, nine-room dwelling, just completed; very attractive; newest improvements; beautiful location; attractive price. River View Building Co., on premises, and 713 North Broadway, Yonkers.

Long Island—For Sale or To Let.

Beautiful, restricted plots at Freeport; also several houses; your terms. Room 1,001, 44 Court St., Brooklyn.

Douglas Manor lots, 22 min. from Penn. Station. C. Burtis, 207 Ryerson St., Brooklyn.

New York State—For Sale or To Let

Cozy country home, 26 miles out, West Shore R. R.; house 7 rooms; about half acre; barn, fruit trees; will sell cheap for cash. Mrs. George Dunbar, Valley Cottage, N. Y.

New Jersey—For Sale or To Let.

Smith-Singer Co., Glen Rock, N. J.—Beautiful town adjoining Ridgewood; exceptional homes at exceptional prices; large plots. Write for photos.

Canada—For Sale or To Let.

Canada is the place for your Summer cottage; now is the time to discuss the matter with Wayland Williams, accountant, Board of Trade Building, Montreal.

Real Estate for Exchange.

EXCHANGE PROPERTY ADVANTAGEOUSLY.
We have 1 & 2 fam. houses, 3-4-6 fam. flats, steam apartments, houses in Jersey & Freeport, L. I., ripe lots in Brooklyn, Westchester & Freeport. Brokers note. New booklets free. Gilbert Elliott, 44 Court St., Bklyn.

To Let for Business Purposes.
Thirty cents a line.

A Bargain.—Desirable offices in 40th St., between Broadway and 6th Av.; will sublease one-half or all (about 3,600 square feet) at attractive price; all light; very suitable for engineering concern. Address M 97 Times.

13th St., 24-26 East.—Loft, 50x90, for high-class, light manufacturing; good light and air; heat; elevator; wired; rental reasonable. Apply Wm. A. White & Sons, 62 Cedar St. Tel. 5700 John.

LOFT, 5,400 SQUARE FEET, $120; FOR LIGHT MANUFACTURING OR STORAGE; ELEVATOR, HEAT, &C. APPLY 408 WEST 18TH ST.

Beautiful studio to rent for dancing studio three nights a week. The Crafts and Arts Studio, 307 6th Av.

Desirable desk and desk room; stenographer and telephone service. Frank & Mitchel, 95 William St.

STORES, LOFTS, OFFICES.
Rhinelander Real Estate Co., 31 Nassau.

50th, 44 West.—Parlor floor, for high-class business, doctor's office. Plaza 2121.

Boarders Wanted
Twenty cents a line.

East Side.

5TH AV., 47, (12th St.)—Attractive steam heated room; private baths; table board.

9TH, 12 EAST, (5th Av.)—Desirable large, small room; private bath; steam.

11TH, 26 EAST.—Handsomely furnished single and double rooms; superior table; high-class neighborhood, adjoining 5th Av.; moderate.

11TH, 29 EAST.—Desirable large, small rooms; running water; heated; excellent table.

15TH, 210 EAST.—Desirable large and small rooms; home cooking; telephone; references.

17TH ST., 116 EAST.—Newly furnished large and small rooms; excellent table board. Tel. 4275 Stuyvesant.

19TH, 116 EAST, (Gramercy Park.)—Connecting and single room; southern exposure, sunny dining room; telephone; references.

34TH ST., 117-119 EAST.
Large and small rooms, with board.

39TH—342 LEXINGTON AV.
Homelike rooms; suitable two; substantial meals.

62D ST., 16 EAST.—Single and double rooms; excellent table; parlor dining; reasonable.

63D, 23-30 EAST.—Large and single rooms; excellent board; telephone; reasonable.

(71ST.) 979 Lexington Av.—Single, double rooms; excellent table, parlor dining; reasonable.

76TH, 32 EAST.—Attractive rooms; singly or en suite; ideal location; board optional.

89TH, (1,345 Lexington Av.)—Pleasant surroundings; excellent cuisine; exceptional conveniences; telephone. Gross.

102D, 58 EAST.—Heated room, good board; $4 weekly; Christian young people.

MADISON AV., 165—Large, small rooms; private bath; one block 34th Subway.

West Side.

16TH ST., 20-22 WEST.—Large room; private bath; unexcelled board; telephone.

23D, 424 WEST.—Massachusetts lady offers attractive rooms; unexcelled home cooking; reasonable.

53D, 64 WEST.—Rooms, private baths; electricity; table board; references.

54TH, 54 WEST.—Newly decorated rooms, private baths; electricity. references.

56TH ST., 62 WEST.—Desirable rooms with board; table board; references required.

57TH, 411 WEST.—Choice accommodations; double rooms; board two, $16; single, $8.

58TH, 37 WEST.—Attractive rooms; private baths; table unexcelled; accessible location; table guests.

69TH, 111 WEST.—Attractive rooms; table guests accommodated; moderate; telephone Columbus 10,121.

69TH 103 WEST.—Attractive, large room, with private bath; steam; board optional.

68TH, 74 WEST.—Desirable double, single rooms; private baths; Southerners accommodated; reasonable.

71ST, 62 WEST.—Unexcelled board, double rooms, private baths, steam heat, electricity.

72D ST., (at Broadway and West End.)—High-class private residence will accommodate a refined couple. 8350 Columbus.

72D, 121 WEST.—Second-floor suite; other rooms; table board; references; telephone.

74TH, 131 WEST.—20th year: large, small rooms; baths; excellent table; references.

76TH, 127-129 WEST.—Large, small rooms; exceptional table; parlor dining; reasonable.

77TH ST., 116 WEST.
Table guests.

79TH, 114 AND 132 WEST.—Unusual and attractive "pensions," with large parlors, tearoom, and lounge; Southern cooking; white maid service; private telephone; booklet on request.

79TH, 121 WEST.—Large, sunny, front, with board; refined; quiet; newly renovated throughout.

79TH, 122 WEST.—Largge and small rooms; electricity; excellent table; Subway, "L."

80TH ST., 106-108-110 WEST, THE HOUSE RICHARDS.—A satisfactory home for refined people; high-type furnishings; pure food; wholesome, generous, well-balanced meals; references.

80TH, 123 WEST.—Homelike accommodations; en suite or single; hot water supply; convenient Subway, elevated; excellent cuisine; references.

Boarders Wanted
Twenty cents a line.

West Side.

80TH, 120 WEST.—Kenilworth; attractive rooms; ideal location; excellent cuisine; table guests.

80TH, 143 WEST.—Suite two rooms and bath; moderate; small rooms; references.

80TH, 134 WEST.—Desirable large, sunny room; also medium room; generous table.

81ST, 129 WEST.—Large front room, southern exposure, second; also small; excellent table; moderate.

82D, 54 WEST.—Sunny single room on second floor; excellent table; references.

83D, 5 WEST.—Suite, singly; private bath; modern improvements; table unsurpassed; references.

85TH ST., 26 WEST.—Two fine rooms, singly or en suite; private house; homelike; references.

87TH, 70 WEST.—Comfortable rooms; refined location; excellent cuisine; references; table guests.

88D, 29-31 WEST.—Large front room, adjoining bath; also other rooms; good meals; parlor dining; table guests.

94TH, 16 WEST.—Newly renovated rooms; electric lights; excellent cuisine; telephone; reference.

96TH, 54 WEST, (near Central Park.)—Good rooms and board; terms moderate.

104TH, 245 WEST.—Pretty room, southern exposure; board optional; refined surroundings. Janzen.

105TH, 76 WEST.—Spacious front room; also suite; exceptional table; reasonable; Southerners.

111TH, 253 WEST.—Room and board in private family; references. Apartment 21.

118TH, 560 WEST.—Two large rooms, private bath; excellent cuisine.

120TH, 414 WEST.—Accommodations for one or two gentlemen; handsomely appointed bachelor apartment; excellent cuisine; evenings. Apt. 3D.

121ST, 139 WEST.—Large, small rooms; excellent accommodations; terms moderate.

124TH, (St. Nicholas Av., 285.)—Large front room; excellent German table; private family; first-class elevator house. Apartment 4G.

140TH, 455 WEST.—Large room; electricity; large closets; bath; unexcelled cuisine.

145TH ST., 623 WEST.—Room, with board; all home comforts; corner Riverside Drive, near Subway station; moderate.

140TH, 544 WEST (Near Broadway Subway and Beautiful Riverside).—Nicest, healthiest section; (The Audubon;) select private family hotel; three vacancies; bright, large room; bath; $18, two; another, $16; smaller room, $8, including good home board; dining room main floor; separate tables; reception parlors; every comfort. Telephone 2757 Audubon.

161ST, 553 WEST.—Comfortable furnished and sunny front room; first-class table; homelike; phone.

MORNINGSIDE HEIGHTS, (414 West 121st St.)—Double and single rooms, suite; running water; all light; new high-class elevator apartment; refined home surroundings; excellent table; transients accommodated; table guests. Apt. 2.

THE EVELYN LODGE.
Charming Windsor residence; lovely view. Beautiful rooms; most excellent cuisine; every modern convenience; unusually attractive.
Single, $10; two, $17 up, with meals.
71 Central Av., St. George, S. I.

THE WOODBURY, 855 RIVERSIDE DRIVE, two blocks north of 157th Subway; country house; wonderful grounds. Audubon 4412.

WELL-APPOINTED HOUSE, off Broadway, communicating rooms, suitable small family, with, without private bath; table GUESTS ACCOMMODATED; reasonable. 102D, 248 WEST.

Board Wanted
Twenty cents a line.

FOREIGNER wishes room, with private bath and board in distinguished, strictly private family; select location. T 17 Times.

YOUNG MAN desires board in American private family; $7 weekly. S 159 Times.

Country Board
Thirty Cents a Line.

Staten Island.

ST. GEORGE HEIGHTS.—Superior accommodations; large grounds; overlooking bay; five minutes from ferry. 51 Hyatt St., New Brighton.

Westchester County.

Fall and Winter engagements now made; large, well-heated house, large dining room; beautiful river view; unexcelled home cooking. Highcliff Hall, Park Hill, Yonkers, N. Y. 2161 Yonkers.

MOTT HOUSE, Tarrytown.—First-class family hotel; large, spacious rooms; steam heat, house bath, billiard, music rooms; excellent table; rates $9 up. Tel. 525 J.

New Jersey.

EAST ORANGE, LENOX MANOR.
New throughout; a home without its cares; refined and exclusive; private baths; exceptional table; for adults only. 75 Lenox Av. Telephone 6076 Orange.

Pennsylvania.

TRAINED NURSE, with beautifully equipped, large, modern home, desires few semi-invalids; careful nursing; home comforts; booklet. Z 342 Times Annex.

Furnished Rooms
Twenty cents a line.

East Side.

11TH, 28 EAST.—Attractive, large, small rooms, well furnished; clean, quiet, telephone; reasonable.

11TH, 130 EAST.—Desirable room, with or without board; private family.

21ST, 137 EAST, (Gramercy Park.)—Single, en suite; private baths; breakfast served in rooms.

21ST, 139 EAST.—"Gramercy Park." Rooms without board; steam heat; $4 up.

36TH, 38 EAST.—Extra large front room for two or three business people; references.

42D, 4 EAST.—Desirable suite of rooms for bachelors; hot water heat, electricity, telephone service; breakfast optional; references exchanged.

48TH ST., 247 EAST.—Furnished, large and small rooms; heated; gentlemen; references.

53D, 65 EAST.—Elegant large, small rooms; select private house; all conveniences; refined surroundings; moderate. Tel Plaza 1304.

60TH, 134 EAST.—Furnished rooms; suitable for one or two; shower bath.

82D, 130 EAST, "Near Museum."—Rooms, suitable two; private house; family two; steam heat; $5, $6.50. Ackerman.

88TH, (1,230 Madison Av.)—Large front room; running water, bath, for couple; $8.

IRVING PLACE, 14.—Front rooms; box spring beds; tiled bathrooms; absolute cleanliness.

LEXINGTON AV., 586, (52d.) — Homelike; bath; breakfast; scrupulously clean; references: select; telephone.

MADISON AV., 175.—Handsomely furnished large room; private bath; breakfast optional; references.

West Side.

9TH ST., 17 WEST.—High-class bachelor apartments; one, two rooms; electricity; telephone; references.

12TH, 34 WEST.—Newly opened, decorated, private bath, also en suite; steam, electricity; telephone.

25TH ST., 18 WEST.—Nicely furnished rooms; running water, steam, electric light, phone, elevator; full hotel service; use of adjoining bath; $8, $9, $10.50 per week; one or two persons; rooms and suites, with private bath $10.50 per week and up; meals $8, $9 per week; inspection invited.

32D ST., (between Broadway and 5th Av.)—Rooms, with private bath, $10 to $12 per week; same price for one or two persons in room. Hotel Aberdeen.

32D ST., near Broadway, (Hotel Strand.)—Very desirable apartment of parlor, bedroom and bath; $75 per month.

40TH, 66 WEST. — Large room, adjoining bath; high-class private house; references required; bachelors.

46TH, 28 WEST.
Large, small rooms; all conveniences; gentlemen.

47TH, 41 WEST.—Beautifully furnished room; steam; all conveniences; refined.

47TH, 55 WEST.—Handsome, large room; bath, steam, electricity, phone; single rooms.

50TH, 43 WEST.—Large and small rooms; hot and cold water; baths; private bachelor residence.

52D, 218 WEST.—Beautiful sunny room; suitable 3 gentlemen; nice couple. Pierce.

53D, 62 WEST.—Parlor floor; equipped doctor's office; large rooms; private bath.

55TH ST., 101 WEST.—Furnished rooms; heat; running water; southern exposure. Collins.

57TH, 260 WEST.—Large, small rooms; modern improvements; Subway, elevated; references. Hammond.

57TH, 356 WEST.—Desirable single, double rooms; running water, heat; refined house.

58TH, 346 WEST. — Elegant rooms, $4 to $9; all conveniences; telephone; references.

61ST, 28 WEST.—Beautiful back parlor and other fine rooms; phone; bath.

68TH, 68 WEST.—Large and small rooms; select house; conveniences.

68TH, 47 WEST.—Large room, with bath; private residence.

69TH ST., 50 WEST.—Attractive, sunny rooms; private bath; electricity; 1 flight up; gentleman.

70TH, 136 WEST.—Beautiful south room; private bath; also large; running water,

Furnished Rooms
Twenty cents a line.

West Side.

70TH, 204 WEST.—Living room and bedroom, en suite or single, for bachelors; shower bath; all conveniences; Broadway express Subway. Mrs. V. G.

70TH, 128 WEST.—Room; private bath; steam heat; electricity; private house; gentleman.

70TH, 122 WEST.—Handsomely furnished rooms; parquet floor; rugs; hot water; heat; gentlemen.

71ST, 220 WEST.—Just opened, newly decorated and furnished large, small rooms; beautiful home; hot water; telephone; reference.

71ST, WEST.—Delightful home for one gentleman; large room; private bath. Col. 10,106.

71ST, 147 WEST. — High-class accommodations in private residence; meals optional.

72D, WEST.—Private apartment, two rooms, bath, kitchenette, to business man or woman. Owner uses during day for music studio; never Sundays or holidays. Phone Columbus 4080.

72D ST., 47 WEST.—Two front rooms; bachelor only; southern exposure; use of kitchen and bath; $40 per month.

72D, 268 WEST. — Front parlor; running water; large, small front rooms; select.

73D, 153 WEST.—Attractively furnished large and small rooms; electricity; telephone; Subway express.

73D, 173 WEST.—Pleasant, warm room for two; also single.

73D, 255 WEST.—Delightful, large, second-floor, sunny front room; also small.

74TH, 149 WEST.—Attractive rooms, suitable one or two; private baths; references.

75TH, 58 WEST.—Beautiful large, single room; select house; bath; telephone; reasonable.

75TH, 56 WEST.—Attractive rooms, single or double; adjoining bath; private home.

75TH, 116 WEST.—One large room, private house; electricity; steam heat; references.

76TH ST., 125 WEST.—Attractive, sunny front rooms; exclusive neighborhood; breakfast; telephone; references.

76TH, 148 WEST.—Large and medium-sized rooms, bath adjoining; electric light; telephone.

76TH ST., 171 WEST.—Large, second-story room, southern exposure; running water, shower, electricity.

77TH ST., 102 WEST.—Elegant double room, private bath; select house; parlor. 10032 Schuyler.

77TH, 150 WEST.—Exceptionally large room, with or without bath; southern exposure; references.

77TH, 16 WEST.—Desirable large and small rooms; conveniences; gentlemen; also physician's office.

78TH, 112 WEST. — Newly furnished large, small rooms; every convenience; pleasant home.

78TH, 166 WEST.—Exceptionally well-furnished large room; near bath; electricity; Subway.

79TH, 173 WEST.—Beautifully furnished rooms; private bath; southern exposure; Subway, telephone.

79TH ST., 213 WEST.—Delightful large room; southern exposure; running water; Subway; references.

79TH, 225 WEST.—Large room, kitchenette, private bath; electricity; front room; references.

80TH ST., 126 WEST.—One large room; private bath; medium room; see and appreciate.

80TH, 144 WEST.—Elegant large and medium rooms; private baths; excellent table.

81ST, 119 WEST.—Rooms; private house; concessions to reliable parties; references.

82D, 140 WEST.—Attractive rooms; large, small; reasonable, telephone; private house; references.

82D, 33 WEST.—Private family; rent two beautiful front sunny rooms; references. M. M. Levy.

82D, 68 WEST.—Beautiful large room; private bath; southern exposure; other rooms, board.

82D, 250 WEST.—Desirable front room, private bath; permanent gentleman; references. Dutton.

82D, 115 WEST.—Attractively furnished large and sunny rooms; private bath.

83D, 11 WEST.—Warm, comfortably furnished rooms; quiet, refined, homelike surroundings; moderate.

84TH, 104 WEST.—Furnished room; comfortable, homelike; elevator apartment; second floor. Quinn.

84TH, 133 WEST.—Rooms, suitable one or two; housekeeping if desired. Guldemeister.

85TH, 405 WEST.—Private house; convenient location; women; references. Schuyler 5589. Barcus.

85TH ST., 256 WEST.—Two rooms, front; suite; private entrance; phone; lady or gentleman; meals optional. O'Brien.

85TH, 120 WEST.—Private house; exceptionally attractive; large and small rooms; references.

87TH, 352 WEST.—Good-sized room next bath; electricity; private house; gentleman.

87TH, 319 WEST.—Handsome large room; gentleman; private family; references.

90TH, 119 WEST.—2 furnished rooms; private family. Telephone 7922 Riverside, White.

91ST, 122 WEST.—Newly decorated, nicely furnished room; clean; conveniences; reasonable. Gross.

91ST, 64 WEST.—Handsomely furnished, large, medium rooms; convenient "L," Subway; reference.

91ST, 46 WEST.—Large room suitable for two; plain, select house; references.

92D, 133 WEST.—Private house; large front room, private bath; reasonable.

93D, 148 WEST.—Newly decorated house; large rooms for two; very low rates.

93D, 139 WEST.—Warm double room; $14; single, $8; splendid home cooking.

94TH ST., 163 WEST.—One, two rooms; bath; (entire floor;) breakfast optional; references required; lady or married couple.

95TH, 122 WEST.—BEAUTIFULLY FURNISHED ROOM; HOT WATER; CONVENIENCES; PRIVATE HOME; $3.

95TH, 316 WEST.—Single room; quiet home; bath adjoining; gentlemen. Apartment 41.

96TH, 319 WEST.—Well-furnished front bedroom; elevator apartment; near Riverside; $7.

95TH ST, 255 WEST.—Exceptionally well-furnished front room; breakfast optional. Linz.

95TH, 171 WEST.—Medium front; running water; business lady only; refined. Post.

97TH, 230 WEST.—Room, facing Broadway, for one or two; single room, heated, running water; board optional; business people; elevator

NEU AND COUDERT IN A WAR OF WORDS

State Civil Service Chairman Orders Counsel from Hearing.

FRANK MOSS IS ATTACKED

Lawyer Says His Questions Are Simply Speeches to Discredit Charities Department.

Frederic R. Coudert, who was privately retained as counsel for the Municipal Civil Service Commission and for John A. Kingsbury, Commissioner of the Department of Charities, in the present investigation by the State Civil Service Commission, bitterly attacked the procedure of the investigation yesterday. His complaints were centred on Jacob Neu, Chairman of the State Commission, and on Frank Moss, Special Deputy Attorney General assigned to conduct the investigation. At the height of the argument which followed his objections, Chairman Neu ordered Mr. Coudert from the hearing.

Mr. Coudert did not leave the room, however, and he was not ejected. His reply was a continued objection to the irrelevancy of the proceeding, and in the argument he held his own. The incident emphasized the hostility between the State Commission and the Municipal Commission, which has been increasing daily since the investigation began about two months ago.

Dr. Max G. Schlapp, head of the clearing house for mental defectives in this city, was on the stand when the storm broke. Mr. Moss tried to get admissions from Dr. Schlapp that Mr. Kingsbury's policy as to the discharge of mental defectives from the public institutions was all wrong, and Dr. Schlapp, despite protests from Mr. Coudert, said that mental defectives were a menace to a community, and that they ought to be public charges. Chairman Neu also permitted the expert psychologist to say that defectives should not be discharged on the recommendation of Commissioner Kingsbury's exempt charity investigators without first submitting to a "careful and serious examination."

Orders Coudert from Room.

"I object to this line of questioning," said Mr. Coudert, after Chairman Neu had permitted the admissions of considerable testimony as to what Dr. Schlapp considered the best treatment of mental defectives. "Mr. Moss's questions are simply a series of speeches made for the purpose of discrediting the Charities Department. I object to them as utterly unfair."

"The objection is overruled, and this is not a proper way to characterize the questions," retorted Chairman Neu.

When this colloquy had been carried on between Mr. Coudert and Commissioner Neu, both shouting loudly:

Mr. Coudert—That is the way I characterize them.

Commissioner Neu—I insist that you shall not do so any more.

Mr. Coudert—I except to the ruling on the ground that it is utterly unfair; I shall have to do it in my own way.

Commissioner Neu—I would like it not to occur again.

Mr. Coudert—I shall have to state my objection as I think proper.

Commissioner Neu—You shall not, because I shall not permit it again. Don't do it again. I shall not permit it again. I will request you to leave the room if you do. I will protect the counsel of this committee just as far as I can in this investigation.

Mr. Coudert—If you desire to proceed without counsel I am willing to leave the room and let you carry on any star chamber inquiry you desire.

At this point Chairman Neu's voice rose louder and he shook his finger as he shouted:

That characterization I resent to the utmost and you may leave the room now.

Mr. Coudert—Do you order me out?

Commissioner Neu—I say you may leave the room.

Mr. Coudert—If you order me, Sir, I will go.

Commissioner Neu—You are simply here by courtesy.

Mr. Coudert—Whenever you order me to go, Sir, I will go.

Commissioner Neu—I do not like that sort of characterization.

Mr. Coudert—I say if you order me out of the room you may carry on any proceeding you want without counsel.

Commissioner Neu—That won't be a star chamber proceeding; there are other counsel here besides you.

Mr. Coudert—I take it that applies to my colleague and myself.

The reference was to Assistant Corporation Counsel Stover, who is appearing for the Municipal Civil Service Commission. Mr. Stover did not enter into the argument.

"No, you can go alone," said Chairman Neu. "I do not think that your characterization of the question of Mr. Moss is proper at all. It is very undignified."

Charity Investigators Again.

The argument continued for a minute longer, but Mr. Coudert made no move toward the door and neither did Mr. Stover. Dr. Schlapp went on with his expert testimony, but when Mr. Moss finished the direct examination Mr. Coudert refused to cross-examine. The lawyer again protested that the testimony was irrelevant, and the State Civil Service Commission, he argued, had no jurisdiction to investigate the Charities Department. Mr. Moss insisted that there was relevancy and Chairman Neu sustained him.

It was brought out through Dr. Schlapp that Commissioner Kingsbury had demanded that solicitation of private funds for the maintenance of the clearing house for mental defectives cease. More than $5,000 was collected for this work last year. Dr. Schlapp, while displaying no hostility toward Commissioner Kingsbury, said that much of his work would have to be dropped if he were not permitted to accept outside help. The city, he said, made no provision for the special work of the clearing house, but that work, he said, would now fall on the city's shoulders.

More cases aiming to show that Commissioner Kingsbury's charity investigators had proved inefficient were produced at yesterday's hearing. A tinsmith named Englestein, of 2,977 West Fifth Street, Coney Island, was one of the witnesses. His son Benjamin, 12 years old, who is suffering from mental weakness, was treated for some time on Randall's Island, but was discharged recently by the special charity investigators.

"Business is bad in Coney Island," said Englestein. "A woman investigator came to me in August and told me I must take my boy back. He is very nervous and he used to threaten to kill himself with a knife. I live in four rooms with my wife and five children, two of them under school age. I am very poor. I had $375 in a bank, but the bank failed and now I have only a few cents left. I saved this money up for the Winter because I can earn only a few dollars a week in Coney Island during the Winter.

"The woman investigator made me take my child back. I asked her for a job, but she didn't give me any. I would be glad to support my boy if I had a job. I would be willing to have the boy go back to Randall's Island, but his mother won't let him go, I'm afraid. Whenever we mention Randall's Island he wants to kill himself. He can't go to school because they won't take him. He must stay in the house all the time."

According to Mr. Moss a doctor at the Randall's Island institution refused to sanction the discharge of this boy. The discharge, he said, was made by order of the special charity investigators over the doctor's head.

Tells Dr. Moskowits of Forgery.

The State Commission has officially called the attention of the Municipal Commission to the case of five tree climbers and pruners from the Queens Park Department who, it is alleged, used forged vouchers to get jobs through the civil service. Chairman Neu, in his letter to Dr. Moskowits, asserted that proper precautions had not been used in the preparation of the civil service lists to prevent fraud in these cases. He asked for an immediate investigation by Dr. Moskowitz.

The statement on behalf of the State Commission that such forgeries could not have gone undetected if the Labor Bureau of the Municipal Civil Service Commission had not been abolished, was resented by Dr. Moskowitz yesterday. He said there had been no change in the method of examinations. "Why, in the days of the Labor Bureau," said Dr. Moskowitz, "men were taking the places of dead men in the civil service ranks. We have done all that could be done to prevent fraud under the civil service and are about to initiate a finger print system in certain departments which will further eliminate the possibility of frauds."

The investigation will be resumed next Tuesday morning.

MRS. CLAUSSEN IN ASYLUM.

Court Refuses Stay of Execution, and She Is Taken to Matteawan.

Mrs. Ida Claussen, who has figured in several episodes in which her sanity was questioned, was removed in a closed automobile yesterday from the Harlem prison to the State Asylum for the Criminal Insane at Matteawan. This followed a decision by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn which said in effect that Mrs. Claussen must go to Matteawan and could not be granted a stay of execution of a sentence of six months imposed by Judge Rosalsky in General Sessions several months ago.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. Claussen, who was then in the Queens County Jail, threatened Commissioner Davis with a suit for $500,000 damages for not releasing her. Commissioner Davis ascertained that Mrs. Claussen was suffering from the delusion that she had been a candidate for Governor. Dr. Davis decided to remove Mrs. Claussen to the Harlem Prison to await the decision of the Appellate Division, which was expected yesterday at noon. Those in charge were instructed to make the removal regardless of fainting spells and to restore Mrs. Claussen to consciousness while the automobile traveled, if she should faint. It was while on this journey that Mrs. Claussen threw a note from the automobile declaring that she was being kidnapped.

W. E. J. Collins, attorney for Mrs. Claussen, insisted that Commissioner Davis had transferred his client merely to prevent him from serving another habeas corpus writ upon her. He said that he proposed to prosecute Commissioner Davis for contempt of court for removing his client from the Queens County Jail.

Special to The New York Times.

BEACON, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Mrs. Ida Claussen arrived at the Matteawan State Hospital this afternoon on her second commitment to that institution. She was assigned to Ward No. 1, in charge of Dr. Spencer, where she will remain for a few days under observation. She refused to make any statement regarding her case.

COULDN'T STAND FUTURISM.

Theatrical Men Found Artist's Stage Designs Impossible.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—A. A. Wolmark, an artist born in Warsaw, who at the age of 21 came to London and won a scholarship and silver medal at the Royal Academy, brought an action in the King's Bench Division yesterday against W. H. Baker of Regent Street to recover money for work under a contract.

The plaintiff said he was ordered to design scenes and costumes for a fairy play, and asserted that they were approved by the defendant's agent.

Justice Horridge inspected the painting of a fairy glade that had been shown at a model theatre in the West End, and said that to get a proper view one had to stand some way off. It looked, he said, like a futurist painting.

Mr. Baker denied breach of contract, and said she told the plaintiff that the designs were "absolutely unsuitable."

Mr. Kenwyn, an actor, said the play was staged at his model theatre, and when the curtain went up the scene was greeted with laughter.

Mr. Peterson, a theatrical contractor, said that if the model were reproduced on the regular stage, it would have been greeted in an uncomplimentary way.

The Judge: "You have not put on any of this modern Russian scenery, which we are told is made in Germany?"

"No," said the witness.

Mr. Wighton, Chairman of the Committee of the Moss Empires, also testified. The Judge asked: "You have not had any of this new art?" Witness replied: "They have tried it on me, but it has not got further than the office."

The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff for $30.

BOY KILLED ON ELEVATED.

Unidentified Western Union Messenger Falls in Front of Train.

Messenger Boy No. 187, 16 years, employed in the branch office of the Western Union Telegraph Company at 91 Wall Street, was crushed to death last night at 8 o'clock by a northbound Third Avenue elevated train at Fourteenth Street, where he had fallen from the rear platform of a train just ahead. He wore a Boy Scout belt. Up to a late hour last night the body had not been identified because the employment lists of the Western Union were locked up.

The messenger boy, accompanied by three boy associates, among whom was John Leon, 16 years, 290 East 158th Street, started home together. They went to Chatham Square, entered the station on the downtown side, and started to cross over the bridge when a Bronx express rolled into the station. The boy who was killed ran ahead of the other boys and boarded the express. Seeing the other boys left behind, he got off and waited for the next train at Fourteenth Street. He did not discover that the other boys were on it until the train started to pull out. Messenger No. 187 tried to board the moving train, but fell on the tracks unconscious and the train following ran over him.

A hook and ladder company had to be sent for to extricate the body, and this took about twenty minutes. Dr. Carr, from Bellevue Hospital, said the boy had been killed instantly.

DEER JUMPED TO TRACK.

Train Crew Had Venison After Dog Chased Animal Over Cliff.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILLIPSBURG, N. J., Nov. 6.—Cotton Bowers, a Pennsylvania Railroad engineer, got a 200-pound deer late yesterday afternoon without using his shoulder a gun and search the woods for it. Bowers was bringing a freight train into the Phillipsburg yards when, as he approached Furnace Hill, he saw a deer being chased by a dog.

The deer, going at top speed, was unable to stop as it approached a sixty-foot cliff and pitched over it and on to the railroad tracks. In the fall, one of the animal's legs was broken and its antlers were snapped off. The deer was brought to the roundhouse and killed and the venison was divided among the train crew.

CITY BREVITIES.

The Associate Alumni of City College will hold memorial services in the Great Hall of the college tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Philip Lamhut, 18 years old, of 64 Malten Avenue, Queens, was seriously injured yesterday when he attempted to jump aboard an elevated express train passing the Marcy Avenue station, Williamsburg.

Mrs. Sarah Hyland, 47 years old, of 310 St. John's Place, Brooklyn, after a quarrel with her husband attempted suicide yesterday by drinking arsenic and carbolic acid and turning on the gas.

Twenty-two girls and two men, strikers from a cigarette factory in West Fourteenth Street, were sent to jail for ten days each yesterday for disorderly conduct by Magistrate House in the Jefferson Market Court.

While Minnotti Canderino, a prisoner, charged with assault, was sitting in a patrol wagon at Police Headquarters yesterday, Antonio Balrondo made signs to him. He was arrested and later identified as Canderino's accomplice.

Axel Josephason, counsel for the Swedish Chamber of Commerce, will deliver an illustrated lecture on Sweden this evening at the Charity Building, 106 East Twenty-second Street.

The In-er-seal Baseball Club and the Fife, Drum, and Flute Corps of the National Biscuit Company held their ninth annual entertainment last night at the Palm Garden, 146 East Fifty-eighth Street.

WARD & GOW LOSE $11,400,000 GRANT

Service Board Disapproves Contract for Advertising on Traction Systems.

PROPOSED RIGHTS ABRIDGED

Separate Agreement to Cover New Lines When Finished—No Plan of Competition.

The $11,400,000 contract for the advertising and news stand privileges on the subway and elevated lines which the Interborough had granted for fifteen years to Artemas Ward, as the successor of Ward & Gow, was disapproved yesterday by an unanimous vote of the Public Service Commission. This contract dated from Jan. 1 last, and had been the subject of many protests on the part of magazine proprietors and rival vending companies, such as the Auto Sales Gum & Chocolate Co., which asserted that they had never had a fair chance of competing for the privileges.

Ward & Gow had a contract covering the existing subway and elevated lines and expiring on Dec. 31 last. There was a five year renewal clause which Mr. Ward asserted had been assigned to him. When the matter came up before the Interborough directorate, other firms expressed a desire to bid for the concessions, and the Interborough itself questioned Mr. Ward's right to enforce the renewal clause. The opinion was maintained at a meeting of the directors that, if any other firm should offer better terms than Mr. Ward, he should have the opportunity to meet them.

A new contract, with greatly increased annual payments, was drawn up between Mr. Ward and the Interborough, according to the opinion presented to the Public Service Commission yesterday by Commissioner Williams, as a compromise or readjustment. As soon as it was announced it provoked a storm of protests. Not only did the firms prepared to bid on the entire concession protest at the way in which it had been awarded, but many magazine proprietors complained of the way in which they alleged they had been treated under the old contract. They asserted they had had to pay too much for the right to display their publications for sale, and that unequal privileges had been granted to certain magazine proprietors, who were in a position to make themselves unpleasant.

Small Newsdealers Protested.

Moreover, the small newsdealers objected. They pointed out that a fifteen-year contract dating from Jan. 1, 1914, and covering the entire Interborough system, would take in the stations on the new subways and elevated lines, and that it was laid down specifically in the dual system contracts that the right should be granted to individuals to bid for the newsstand privileges at single stations.

It was alleged also that a "joker" had been inserted into the Ward contract by which it would be impossible for the small men, however, to bid for single stations, to give the company any more money than it would get by granting the entire lines to Mr. Ward. If a station should be granted to an individual dealer the amount which he was to pay would be deducted from the sum for which Mr. Ward was liable for all the rest of the stands. Thus, it was argued, the contract had been drawn so as to remove any inducement which might persuade the Interborough to favor the small men.

These complaints were brought out at a public hearing in February before the entire Public Service Commission, at which President McAneny represented the Board of Estimate. No further action had been taken publicly in the matter as the commission had been trying to devise some way by which competition for the news stands might be made free and open, without cutting off or diminishing an important source of revenue, in which after the dual system was in operation the city would have a half share.

Commissioner Williams now has recommended that the commission disapprove of the contract because the proposed bargain would cover for about two-thirds of its term the new as well as the existing lines. He pointed out that it may be taken as a general proposition that the advertising and news-selling privileges will increase in value as the rapid transit lines are extended. The increased rental asked of Mr. Ward for the first five years, during which only the old lines will be in operation, is plainly a reflection of the value of the privileges to be granted over the enlarged system, he contended. From this it followed that as the amount to be paid for the first five years was somewhat more than would be asked if there was no extension in contemplation, so the amount to be paid for the following ten years had been diminished to make up for this increase.

Life of Contract Cut Down.

This, Commissioner Williams argued, meant that for the next five years the Interborough would get more than it could demand rightfully, and in the next ten years the city and the Interborough would share less than they could demand rightfully. On his recommendation the commission has decided that the two periods shall be separated; that the present contract shall cover only the period until the new subways are open, and that a separate contract shall be made for the enlarged system.

Commissioner Williams said that there was doubt about the rights of Mr. Ward under the renewal clause of the old contract. So the commission does not see its way at present to provide any means by which competition for these privileges shall be thrown open to all without detracting from the price to be paid for them.

KOENIG AND PERKINS LOSE.

Five Republicans Go to Convention from Manhattan and Bronx.

The Republicans elected on Tuesday only five out of the thirty-six district delegates to the Constitutional Convention in Manhattan and the Bronx. The five successful ones were Frederick C. Tanner, Courtland Nicoll, and Gordon Knox Bell, in the Seventeenth Senatorial District, which takes in the Twenty-fifth, Twenty-seventh, and Twenty-ninth Assembly Districts, and Martin Saxe and William M. K. Olcott in the Eighteenth Senatorial District.

George W. Perkins, who had the Republican, Progressive, and Independence League nominations, was defeated in the Bronx. The Progressive vote in the Bronx dwindled from 26,000 two years ago and 13,000 last year to 1,880 on Tuesday.

Samuel S. Koenig, Republican Chairman, was also beaten for district delegate. He ran not in his own east side district, but in Harlem.

MAY CLAIMS RE-ELECTION.

Secretary of State Says He Won by a Plurality of 10,000.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 6.—Mitchell May, Secretary of State, in a statement today, declared that unofficial returns indicated his re-election by a plurality of 10,000 over his Republican opponent, Francis M. Hugo. Mr. May based his estimate upon the vote cast for Ambassador James W. Gerard for United States Senator.

"In approximately every county above the Bronx," says the May statement, "I have run far ahead of Mr. Gerard. Unless the figures received so far are incorrect, and there seems to be no reasonable ground for such belief, it seems as though I have been elected."

Mr. Gerard ran 12,500 ahead of Mr. May in Greater New York, according to the latter's figures, while in Erie County alone Mr. May's vote exceeded Mr. Gerard's by 23,500.

ANTIQUE FIRM SUES HEARST.

Demands $18,155 on Bill, and He Files Counter-Action.

Charles of London, dealers in antiques, who have a branch office at 718 Fifth Avenue, began suit in the Supreme Court yesterday against William R. Hearst for $18,155, said to be due on $40,235 worth of antique furniture bought by Mr. Hearst between March 1, 1908, and April 21, 1913. Mr. Hearst replied to the suit by beginning an action against the dealers for $3,000, which he said he was overcharged for an Elizabethan chimney piece of carved stone.

Among the articles charged against Mr. Hearst were:

Stone Tudor mantelpiece	$4,500
Renaissance centre table	1,350
English armchair	600
Six XVII. century Italian chairs	3,800
Elizabethan chimney piece	4,000
Two stained glass windows	6,000
Oak room ex-Bristol, with 250 feet of carved frieze included	7,500
Carved oak Elizabethan cabinet	2,000

In his suit Mr. Hearst said that the chimney piece was represented to him as being designed and built in the reign of Queen Elizabeth and that the defendants agreed not to make or sell a copy of it. He alleged they afterward did sell a duplicate to a man in Minneapolis, and that the chimney piece sent to him was only a copy and was not worth more than $1,000.

Mr. Hearst also complained that the copy of the chimney piece sent to the man in Minneapolis was imported free of duty as an antique, while his chimney piece was registered as a copy, and so he had to pay duty. He said he refused to use it and had it stored by the Lincoln Trust Company.

'BEAUTY SHOP' NOW NEUTRAL

Women Patrons of McAlpin Asked to Avoid War Discussions.

Although notices to the employes to refrain from war discussions have had some effect, the management of the McAlpin hasn't been able to keep its patrons to neutral topics, and upstairs on the sixth floor, where most of the unattached women live, the discussions had reached such an acute and troublesome stage by yesterday that Mrs. Lois Pierce-Hughes, the manager of the floor, had to take action.

Most of the discussions on that floor take place in the beauty parlor. The women have a habit of dropping in and discussing the news and airing methods of strategy for the campaigns in the East and West which would give even the military critics pause. It so happens that the three women who minister to their superficial needs in that department are all representatives of the belligerent powers. Mme. Leonie Robert is a Frenchwoman, Miss Muriel Anthony is English, and Miss Florence Dressler is a German.

Most of the women who air their opinions in the beauty shop are pro-Allies, and while their talk in the main is pleasing to Mme. Robert and Miss Anthony, it is very disturbing to Fraulein Dressler, who these last few days has spent most of her time in tears.

Mrs. Hughes had heard of the barroom sign, "No war talk," but slang was not desirable. Therefore she caused to be printed a polite request to patrons to please be so good as not to talk of the war while in the beauty parlor, mentioning that those employed therein were of various nationalities.

CUYLER PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

Another New Haven Director Gives Bail—Two More to Appear.

Thomas De Witt Cuyler, a Director of the New Haven, went before Judge Foster in the Federal District Court yesterday afternoon and entered a plea of not guilty to the indictment found against him and twenty others on Monday for conspiring to monopolize the transportation facilities of New England. He was accompanied by Morgan J. O'Brien as counsel and the proceedings were formal.

Mr. Cuyler received, as did the other defendants, the right to withdraw his plea on to demur before Nov. 23, and he also was admitted to $5,000 bail.

When Mr. O'Brien was asked whether Mr. Cuyler was likely to interpose a plea in bar, on the ground that as he had given testimony on New Haven matters before the Interstate Commerce Commission he was entitled to immunity, Mr. O'Brien replied that no consideration had yet been given to the matter. James S. Elton and Charles F. Brooker are still to plead. The Government has not received notice of the date of their appearance, but it is likely that they will plead Monday.

97,760 MEN IN OUR ARMY.

Total Now Only 9,726 Below Authorized Strength.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—The actual strength of the American Army at the beginning of this fiscal year was 5,275 greater than it was a year ago. The annual report of Gen. George Andrews, Adjutant General of the army, made public tonight, shows there are 97,760 officers and enlisted men in the army, which is only 9,726 below the strength authorized by law.

The infantry branch is strongest with 32,633 men. The coast artillery ranks next with 18,659, then the cavalry with 14,601 men, and finally the field artillery with 5,258 men. There are also 5,278 men in the Philippine Scouts. Approximately one-third of the army is serving beyond the seas. In the United States there are 64,579 men. The distribution of the rest of the army is as follows: Alaska, 862; regular army in Philippines, 9,572; Philippine Scouts, 5,278; China, 942; Porto Rico, 707; Hawaii, 8,105; Panama Canal zone, 2,179; Mexico 4,090; troops en route and officers at other foreign stations, 1,449.

AGED MAN BEATEN, DYING.

Found in Room After His Young Companion Has Disappeared.

A servant who opened the door of a room on the fourth floor of the Polish National Alliance and Immigrant Home at 180 Second Avenue at 10 o'clock yesterday morning found an old man in bed dying from blows on the head and forehead which had crushed his skull. A new hammer, stained with blood, was found in the room.

The man, who wore a G. A. R. button in the lapel of his coat, had registered the day before as George W. Rogers, 72 years old, of Noroton, Conn. He was accompanied by a young man registered as Frank Grabowski of Noroton. Grabowski attracted the notice of the clerk, Joseph Rengell, because his left eye was injured badly, and Grabowski said that he had come to this city to have it treated by an oculist. The two men went to the room on the fourth floor. The pair went out together late in the afternoon and returned early in the evening, but the young man left again at 9:30 o'clock and did not return. The home closes its doors at 10 o'clock.

After the old man had been removed to Bellevue Hospital, the police found in his belongings a bank book showing deposits of $518.98 in a bank at Fort Dodge, Iowa, a letter from a daughter in Des Moines, Iowa, a railroad ticket from Washington, D. C., to this city and a commutation ticket between this city and Dover, N. J.

Detectives were sent out to look for Grabowski, of whom the clerk had furnished a good description, and telegrams asking for information about the pair were sent to the police of Noroton, Conn., and Dover, N. J.

WOMAN ROBS SLEUTH.

Sent to the Workhouse for Picking Detective's Pocket.

Mrs. Celia Ehlman collapsed in the Night Court last night when Magistrate Levy sent her to the Workhouse for two months. Detective Warshow of the Delancey Street station caught her in the Williamsburg elevated railroad station on Oct. 27 putting her hand into his pocket. She gave a fictitious name and address, and after Warshow had followed her there and established this he arrested her.

Mrs. Ehlman has a husband and two small children at 317 Hewes Street, Brooklyn, and Magistrate Levy said he would have sent her away for six months except for the children, one of whom is ill so that Ehlman could not be in court last night to help his wife.

NEW SUBWAY ENTRANCE.

Stairway to Pass Through Fitzgerald Building at Times Square.

A new entrance to the Times Square Subway station at the southeast corner of Broadway and Forty-third Street was approved yesterday by the Public Service Commission. It will be through the Fitzgerald Building and is the subject of an agreement between the City, Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, the owner, and the 1,482 Broadway Corporation, the lessee of the building.

No money consideration is named for the easement granted to the city, but the owner receives permission to maintain a window opening on to the station platform and in return undertakes to keep the entrance properly heated, lighted, and policed.

BULL MOOSE LACK QUORUM.

Executive Committee Will Talk It Over at Chicago on Dec. 2.

George W. Perkins presided at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Progressive Party at headquarters in the Forty-second Street Building yesterday, but so few of the members appeared that it was decided to postpone the meeting until Dec. 2, at Chicago. Only William Flinn of Pennsylvania, George C. Priestly of Oklahoma, and Harold Ickes of Chicago, who held a proxy for Jane Addams, faced Chairman Perkins.

There was a discussion of Tuesday's election, but nothing was given out for publication. During the session Oscar Straus, Frederick M. Davenport, William H. Childs, Albert J. Beveridge, Chauncey J. Hamlin and Bainbridge Colby dropped in. Col. Roosevelt was not present and it was said he sent no message.

The Campfire

"THE CAMPFIRE" is our answer to the man who usually comes at this time of the year to learn if there is anything new. Just look at this new hat in our show windows—its a classic. $2.00.

Stores Everywhere Mail Orders Prepaid

Trueby Warner Hatter to Mr. Goodrese.

HARWOOD 2 for 25 cts.

An E&W RED-MAN COLLAR

EARL & WILSON, MAKERS OF TROY'S BEST PRODUCT.

HIPPODROME 6th Av., 43-44 Sts. Daily Mats. 2. Best Seats $1.
WARS OF THE WORLD
Evs. at 8 1000 Choice Orch. Seats at $1.50. Gallery Seats at 25c. and 50c.
HIPPODROME Tomorrow Night
Sousa
SEATS NOW ON SALE.

CASINO Broadway & 39th St. Evgs. 8:15. Mats. Today & Wed. 2:15.
SUZI THE BIG MUSICAL HIT OF NEW YORK
with JOSE COLLINS
and notable Cast, including TOM McNAUGHTON
Tomorrow "SALOMY JANE" (Pictures.)

LYRIC 42d, West of Broadway. Evenings 8:15. Matinees Today & Wed. 2:15.
THE BATTLE CRY of Kentucky.

BOOTH Theatre, 45th, West of Broadway. Evgs. 8:30. Mats Today & Wed. 2:30. Wednesday Matinee Popular Prices.
MATINEE TODAY AT 2:30.
Experience

"THIS PLAY WILL FIND YOU; ITS MESSAGE WILL WIN YOU. IT FOLLOWS THE STYLE OF 'EVERYWOMAN.' ONLY IT DOES THE BUSINESS A DEAL BETTER."—Dr. Frank Crane, Evening Globe.
PRICES 50c to $2.00. GOOD SEATS IN FIRST BALCONY 50c, 75c & $1.

SHUBERT Thea. Ev. 8:15. Mats. Today & Wed. 2:15
MR. FAVERSHAM in BEST ACTING—BEST PLAY.
THE HAWK

Maxine Elliott's 39th, nr. B'way. Evgs. 8:30. Mats. Today & Wed. 2:30.
WHITESIDE in "MR. WU"

Winthrop Ames' LITTLE Theatre W. 44th St. Evgs. 8:45. Mats. Today & Wed. 2:30.
A PAIR OF SILK STOCKINGS
All Seats $2.00.

CANDLER West 42d St. Evgs. 8:20. Mats. TODAY & Wed. (Pop.) 2:20.
"ON TRIAL"
BIGGEST HIT IN 25 YEARS. | SEATS ON SALE AT BOX OFFICE.

WALLACK'S B'way & 30 St. | AT 8 SHARP. Mats. Today & Wed.
THE HIGHWAY OF LIFE, By Louis Anspacher
Adaptation of Dickens' David Copperfield.
 SPECIAL RATES FOR SCHOOLS.

PARK Phone Col. 8960 | Col. Circle. Mat. Today 2:10. | Evs. 8:10
Mrs. Patrick Campbell
in G. BERNARD SHAW'S "Pygmalion."
Moving to Liberty Theatre Nov. 9th.

LONGACRE THEATRE, W. 48th St. Ev. 8:30. Mats. TODAY & Wed. 2:30.
"KICK IN"
with JOHN BARRYMORE & ALL-STAR CAST.

ASTOR Broadway and 45th St. Evenings 8:20. Matinee TODAY & Wed. 2:30.
THE Geo. M. COHAN'S Musterieux.
Miracle Man

Bronx Opera House 149th St. and 3d Ave.
THE DUMMY
25c to $1. Matinee TODAY. Next Week—"THE THINGS THAT COUNT."

OPENS TODAY
Tercentenary Exposition
Wonderful Indian Exhibition.
Illus. Lectures and Motion Pictures.
U. S. and Cuban Government Exhibits.
Streets of Old New York.
Daily Concerts by Cuban Nat'l Band.
GRAND CENTRAL PALACE
46th St. and Lexington Ave.
Nov. 7 to 21, 2 to 11 P. M.
ADMISSION 50c. TO ALL.

SYMPHONY
Society of New York
WALTER DAMROSCH, Conductor.
Tomorrow (Sun.) Aft. at 3.
MR. FRANK GITTELSON, Violinist.
(first appearance in New York.)
SCHUMANN, Rhenish Symphony; BACH, Violin Concerto in E; ELGAR, Overture, "In London Town"; BANTOCK, "Pierrot of the Minute."
Seats at Box Office, AEOLIAN HALL.

Only Recital in N. Y. This Season. MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK | CARNEGIE HALL TUESDAY, NOV. 17, at 3.
Seats 75c. to $2, on sale at Hall. Management WOLFSOHN BUREAU. STEINWAY PIANO.

AEOLIAN HALL
1st Concert Tues. Evg., Nov. 10, 8:15,
Kneisel Quartet
Seats, $2 & $1.50. Helen Love, 1 W. 34th St.

CENTURY Central Park W., 62d St. Nights at 8. Mats. at 2. Today Mat.: "Boheme," with Stanley, Castles, Kingston, Chalmers, Weldon, D'Angelo, Jacchia. Tonight: "Tales of Hoffmann." with Ewell, Freeman, Macbeth, Howard, Bergman, Kreidler, Kaufmann, Zuro. Next Week: "Tales of Hoffmann" and "Aida." Popular Concert Sunday Night.

Carnegie Hall, Sat. Aft., Nov. 14th, at 2:30.
Violin Recital EFREM Zimbalist
SEATS AT BOX OFFICE (STEINWAY PIANO.) MANAGEMENT WOLFSOHN BUREAU.

AEOLIAN HALL, Wed. Aft., Nov. 11, at 3.
Song Recital Madame JOHANNA Gadski
50c. to $2. Management LOUDON CHARLTON.

AEOLIAN HALL, THIS AFTERNOON at 3
Recital HAROLD BAUER MASTER PIANIST
Mgt. Loudon Charlton. Mason & Hamlin Piano.

CARNEGIE HALL
BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
DR. CARL MUCK.....Conductor
THIS AFTERNOON AT 2:30.

$25.
here Today buys a Hart Schaffner & Marx Winter Suit or Overcoat that must give you absolute satisfaction or your money back.
Wallach Bros.
246-248 West 125th St.
Third Ave., corner 122d St.
Broadway at 29th St.
and—
the New Store
Broadway, below Chambers St.

WINTER GARDEN B'way & 50th. Evs. at 8. Mat. Today Best Orch. Seats $1 & $1.50.
DANCING AROUND
AL JOLSON and Co. of 125, Incl. BERNARD GRANVILLE.
SUNDAY NIGHT CONCERT—15 Star Acts.

COMEDY 41st, E. of B'way. Evgs. 8:15. Mats. Today & Tuesday 2:15.
MARIE TEMPEST
in HENRY ARTHUR JONES' Comedy,
"MARY GOES FIRST"
Frothy, sparkling high comedy. Miss Tempest an unfailing delight.—De Foe, World.

39TH ST. THEATRE, near B'way. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Today & Wed. 2:15.
MATINEE TODAY at 2:15.
JOE WEBER Offers
The Only Girl
By HENRY BLOSSOM and VICTOR HERBERT.

44TH ST. THEATRE, West of Broadway. Evs. 8:20. Mats. Today & Wed. 2:20
The Dippel Opera Comique Co.'s
THE LILAC DOMINO

PRINCESS 39th, near B'way. Evgs. 8:15. Mats. Today & Wed. 2:15.
FOUR WONDERFUL ONE-ACT PLAYS, including
"Little Face" a bare-legged scream"—Herald.

Manhattan Opera House, 34th & 8th Ave. Evgs. 8. Mats. Today & Wed. 2.
MATINEE TODAY AT 2.
LIFE
"Everyone in New York will go to see it sooner or later."—Times.
25c to $1.50. 500 Good Orchestra Seats at $1.

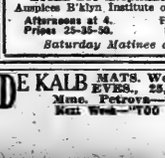
William A. Brady's PLAYHOUSE 48th St., E. of B'way. Evenings 8:20 Mats. Today & Wednesday
My Lady's Dress
By EDWARD KNOBLAUCH.
MOST REMARKABLE PLAY IN NEW YORK.

48th St. THEA., E. of B'way. Evs. 8:15. Matinees Today & Thurs. 2:15.
THE LAW OF LAND with JULIA DEAN.

CORT 48th St., E. of B'way. Phone Bryant. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Today & Wed. (Pop.) 2:15. | 46
UNDER COVER

Standard B'way & 90th St. Evgs. Pop. Prices. Matinee Today 25c, 50c, 75c.
"The Third Party" with TAYLOR HOLMES and WALTER JONES
Next Week—Guy Bates Post—"OMAR."

Madison Square Garden
Sunday, November 8, 3 P. M.
Socialist Party MEETING
to celebrate the Election of Meyer London.
Speakers:
Congressman-Elect Meyer London, MORRIS HILLQUIT, ABE CAHAN, and others.
Admission: 25c and 15c.

THE ART OF THE THEATRE


AN EXHIBITION AT 714 5TH Av.
FOR 2 WEEKS BEGINNING MONDAY
Open Daily from 10 A. M. on
ADMISSION 50c
Arranged by the STAGE SOCIETY OF NEW YORK for the BENEFIT of the COMMITTEE OF MERCY.

TERCENTENARY
President Wilson Opens Tonight
At New Grand Central Palace
Big INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION, Closing Feature of TERCENTENARY CELEBRATION. See how U. S. Government makes its money. See the Indian Show; see the old newspaper offices, see the rise and progress of general commerce, and the famous CUBAN REPUBLIC EXHIBIT
TERCENTENARY
Concerts every night by the Municipal Band of Havana, 70 pieces.
Doors Open 2 to 11 P. M. Daily.
TERCENTENARY

Sole Management Ed. E. Pidgeon.
Rose Gardens Theatre and 52d Street
"THE SPOILERS" FOUR TIMES DAILY
Commencing Tomorrow, THE WISHING RING.
Prices 25c. and 50c.—No Higher.

B'way Rose Gardens B'way, 52d St. 3 P. M. to 1 A. M.
Lew Quinn, Hortense Zaro and others.
Admission Free till 10 P. M.

Punch & Judy Theatre, 49th St., West of Broadway.
Inaugural Opening Tuesday Night, Nov. 10
THE MARRIAGE OF COLUMBINE

B. F. KEITH'S PALACE B'way, 47th St. Irene FRANKLIN & Burton Green. ADELAIDE & HUGHES. Cressy & Dayne. Daily Mat. 25c. | Henry E. Dixey. Others.

THEATRE TICKETS Telephone 4189 Greeley | Choice Seats All THEATRES AND OPERA JACOBS TICKET OFFICE, 1,386 Broadway, cor. 38th St.

Strand B'way 47th St. Noon to 11:30 P. M. John Barrymore in "The Man From Mexico." Strand Orch. & Quartette. 10c to 50c. Next Week—"The Man from Home."

EDEN MUSEE. WORLD in WAX. 55 West 23d St. DUNNINGER, Wonderful Magician. Tercentenary Group. Kinemacolor.

BROOKLYN AMUSEMENTS.

RETURN ENGAGEMENT
At the
BROOKLYN ACADEMY OF MUSIC
Thurs., Friday & Sat., Nov. 5, 6 & 7
RAYMOND L. DITMARS'
WONDERFUL MOTION PICTURES OF WILD ANIMAL LIFE
Added Attraction
Only Pictures of GUNDA, Man-Killing Bronx Zoo Elephant, Ever Taken.
Auspices B'klyn Institute of Arts and Sciences.
Afternoons at 4. Prices 25-35-50. | Evenings at 8:15. Prices 35-50-75.
Saturday Matinee at 3 o'Clock.

DE KALB MATS. Wed., Sat., 25 & 50c. EVES., 25, 50,

Picture Section,
Rotogravure: Part 1

The New York Times

(Copyright, 1914, by The New York Times Co.)

Sunday,
November 8, 1914

CUPOLA OF A MAUBEUGE FORT SHATTERED BY THE GERMAN 42-CENTIMETER SIEGE GUN
(Photo from Paul Thompson.)

WRECK OF THE FIVE UNCONTROLLED LOCOMOTIVES HURLED BY THE BELGIANS AGAINST THE GERMANS ENTERING MALINES BY RAIL
(Photo (C) by American Press Assn.)

GERMAN TROOPS ADVANCING ON THE FRANCO-BELGIAN FRONTIER
This Is One of the Few War Photographs to Reach America Showing the Field Movements of a Large Body of German Troops

GERMAN SOLDIERS AMID THE RUINS OF A POWDER MAGAZINE AT MAUBEUGE
BLOWN UP BY THE FRENCH TO ESCAPE CAPTURE

DUCHESS OF VERDOME, SISTER OF KING ALBERT OF BELGIUM, PINNING A ROSE ON A LONDON POLICEMAN'S COAT. With Her, on the Right, Are Her Daughters Princess Genevieve and Princess Marie
(Photo (C) by Underwood & Underwood.)

RED CROSS NURSES
CARRYING A
WOUNDED SOLDIER

(Photo (C) by International News Service.)

ENGLISH SCHOOL CHILDREN GREETING WITH CHEERS THE ARRIVAL OF TRANSPORTS BRINGING CANADIAN REINFORCEMENTS
(Photos (C) by American Press Assn.)

WALKER WHITESIDE AS "MR. WU," at the Maxine Elliott Theatre.
(Photos by White.)

SCENE FROM "IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE."

At the George M. Cohan Theatre, with, From Left to Right, Will Deming, Grant Mitchell and Ruth Shepley.
(Photo by White.)

JOHN BARRYMORE, JANE GREY, EDWARD GILLESPIE IN
"KICK IN,"
at the Longacre Theatre.

"YVONNE," BY H. C. MERRILL, at the Annual Exhibition of the New York Water Color Club.
(Photo by Peter A. Juley.)

SCENE FROM "THE PHANTOM RIVAL," at the Belasco Theatre.
Laura Hope Crews as the Wife, and Leo Ditrichstein as the Great Opera Singer, in Her Day Dreams of Her Phantom Lover.

MISS MARGARET HUNTINGTON ERHART,
Debutante Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Erhart.
(Photo (C) by Campbell Photo Co.)

ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS.

Suppose you decide this question

Many who drink Yuban say that it is at its best with a little cream and sugar added, so that its richness and flavor are precisely moderated to the taste.

Others maintain that it should be freely diluted with hot milk and well sweetened—that then its delicacy, its individuality and its rare fragrance reach perfection.

Still others insist that the vigor and zest of Yuban may be appreciated fully only in the demi-tasse—black—undiluted—with all its flavor and aroma unimpaired.

Suppose you try Yuban your favorite way.

Whatever that way may be, you will say this:

That Yuban combines all the coffee qualities and characteristics you have sought and hoped for—that you never knew there was such coffee procurable—that only the evidence of your delighted senses could convince you that such a coffee could be produced and sold at a price within the reach of the general public.

YUBAN

The Arbuckle Guest Coffee
35¢

ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS.

B. Altman & Co.

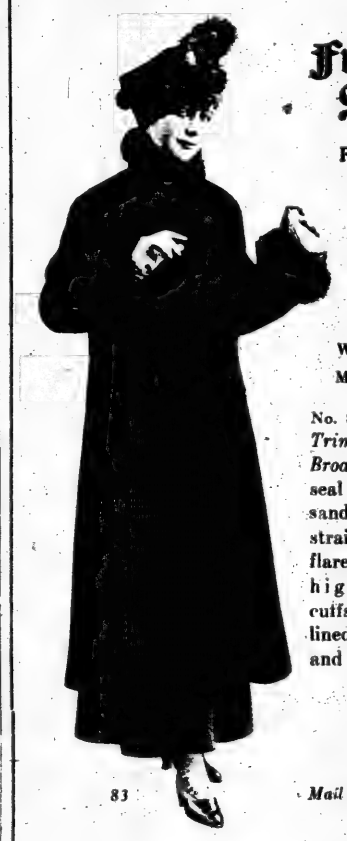
FIFTH AVENUE-MADISON AVENUE, NEW YORK

Thirty-Fourth Street Thirty-Fifth Street

FASHIONABLE FURS

IN FINE QUALITIES AT REASONABLE PRICES

(Fur Department, Third Floor)



Franklin Simon & Co

Fifth Ave., New York

Fur Trimmed Broadcloth Coat

WOMEN'S, 32 TO 44 BUST.
MISSES', 14 TO 20 YEARS.

No. 83 –Exclusive Model Fur Trimmed Coat of Imported Broadcloth in Russian green, seal brown, navy, black, rose, sand or Copenhagen blue, straight front button to neck flare model, with belted front, high standing collar and cuffs of skunk opossum fur, lined throughout with soft silk and warmly interlined.

29.50 Value $39.50.

83

Mail and Telephone Orders Filled
'Phone 6.00 Greeley

Fifth Ave., 37th and 38th Sts.

DAYTONA, FLORIDA

"The Prettiest Winter Resort in the World."
For rent or sale, a bungalow of seven rooms, bath; electric lights; cellar with furnace. In best residential district.
S. De Forest, 43 Astor Place, N. Y. C.

PERMANENT WAVY HAIR
Wave it ONCE with
Herrmann's Permanent HAIR WAVER

(Regs. Pat. Feb., '10; May, '10; Aug., '11) and it will retain its soft, refined, undulating appearance permanently, in all climates and in all weather.

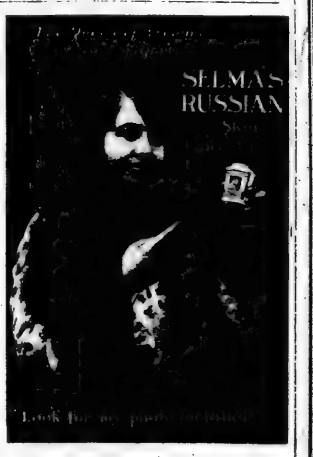
Why wear false puffs and curls? You will like the Herrmann method of Hair Waving.

Home Outfit for Ladies, $15 Send for Illustrated Booklet.

P. HERRMANN, Pres. Herrmann Permanent Hair Wave Co.

Dept. D 45 21 West 38th St. New York

HERRMANN'S High-Class Hair Goods, Hairdressing, Shampooing, and Manicuring Parlors.



Contains Rare Oriental Oils
Non-Greasy—Does Not Grow Hair
Just 50c., 75c., $1.25
At Leading Department and Drug Stores

Sole Manufacturer,
Selma J. Sutherland of Russia,
45 West 34th Street, New York City.
Established 1906.

ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS.

BONWIT TELLER & CO.

The Specialty Shop of Originations
FIFTH AVENUE AT 38TH STREET

Boudoir Apparel
As Holiday Gifts

Bonwit Teller & Co. negligee gowns, tea gowns, boudoir and breakfast apparel strike the exact note sought by the gift giver. They are unusual, exclusive originations distinctly apart from the accepted types.

The "Dolce" Negligee
Special at 16.50

A soft symphony of lace and crepe de chine. The coat has that studied lounge effect and is composed of fine cream lace and satin streamers. The accordeon plaited skirt is of crepe de chine. Colors: Shell pink, ciel blue, orchid, maize.

Mail and telephone orders given prompt attention.

Telephone 7300 Murray Hill.

BONWIT TELLER & CO.

The Specialty Shop of Originations
FIFTH AVENUE AT 38TH STREET

Unusual Blouses for Holiday Gifts

The "Militaire"
5.50

A smart, martial model of crepe de chine with a very high standing collar with deep points at front. Closes at front with self-colored ball buttons and loops. In white and navy blue.

The "Claron"
5.50

A chic model of net over chiffon. In white with black or navy velvet wristlets and flare collar lined with gros-grain. Large plaited net revers and plaited net cuffs. In white only.

Mail and Telephone Orders Receive Prompt Attention

Telephone 7300 Murray Hill

An exquisite Evening Slipper by Cammeyer of Patent Leather with an Inlay of White Calf

The
Cammeyer Branch Shoe Store De Luxe

Fifth Avenue 381
Between 35th & 36th Sts.

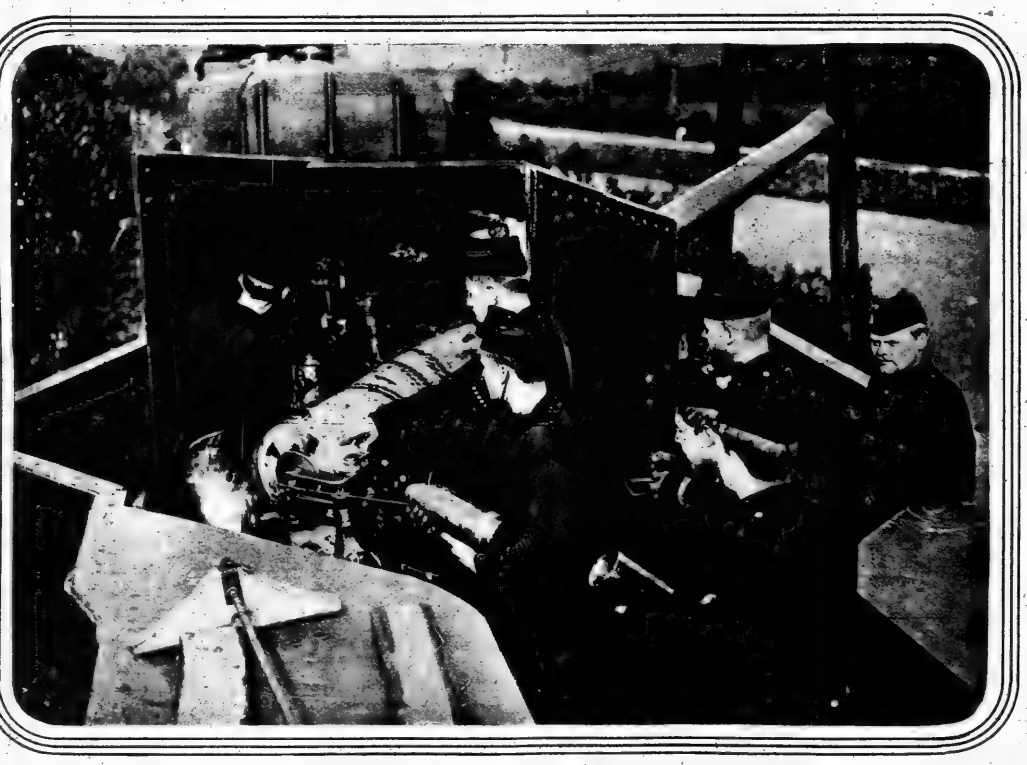
CAMMEYER NEW YORK

Mail Service Catalogue on Request.

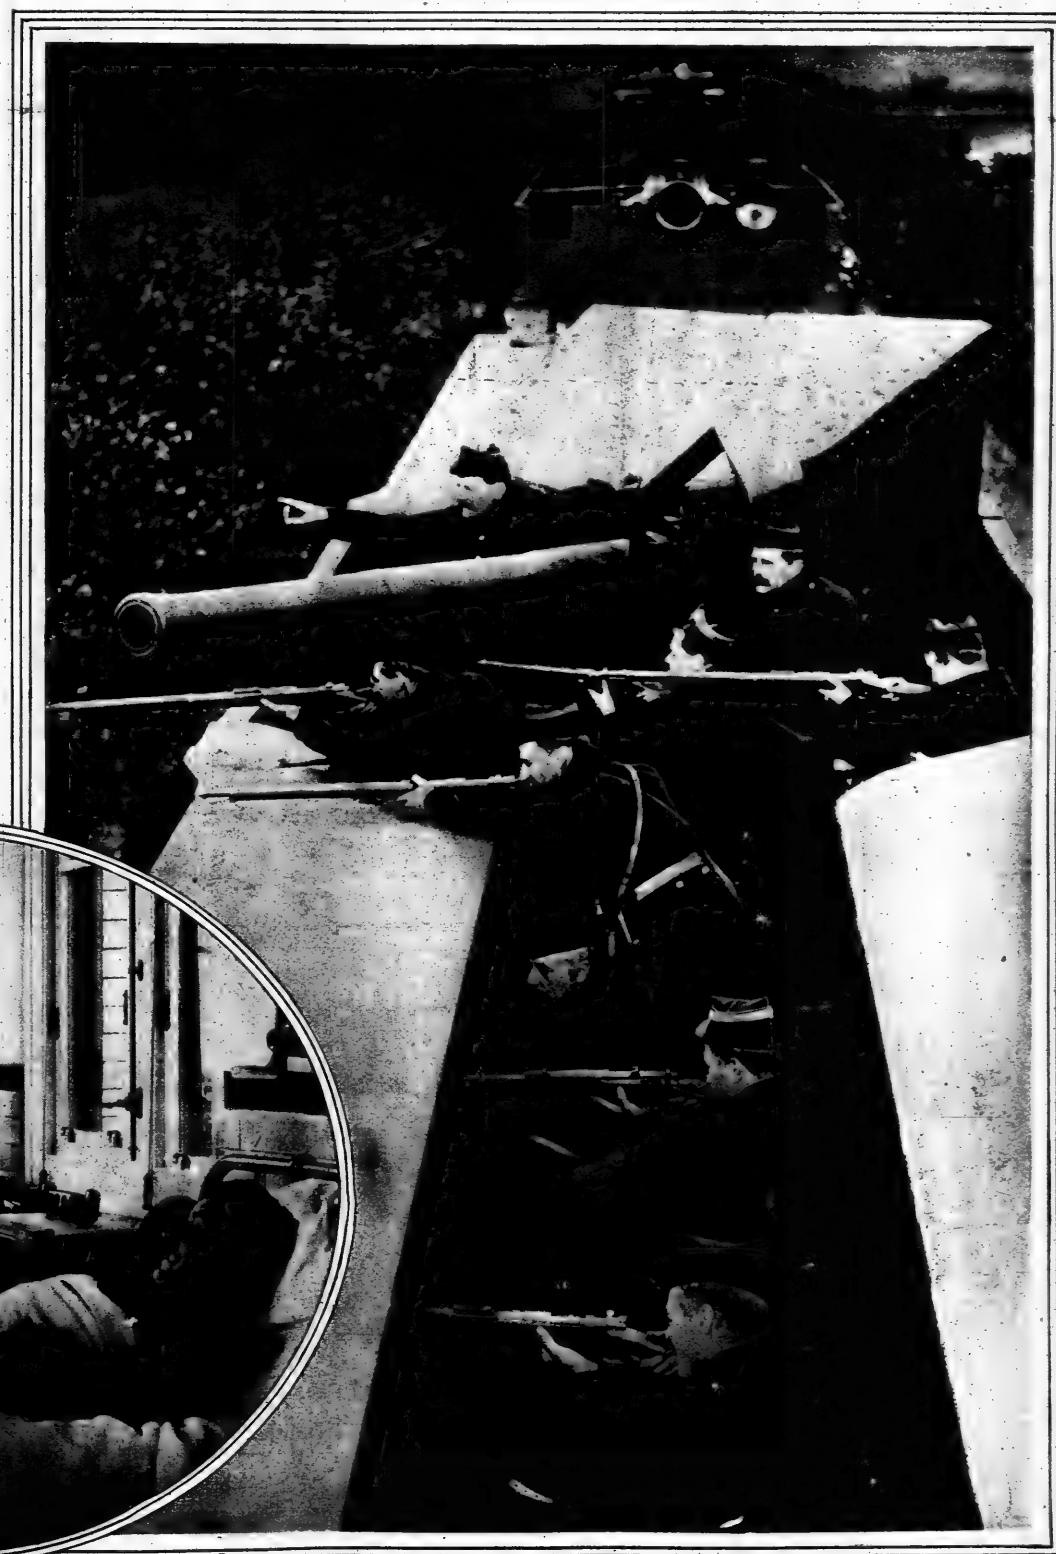
Also at 6th Ave & 20th St.

The New York Times

A BELGIAN OUTPOST IN ACTION ON THE BATTLE LINE NEAR THE FRANCO-BELGIAN FRONTIER.
(Photo from International News Service.)



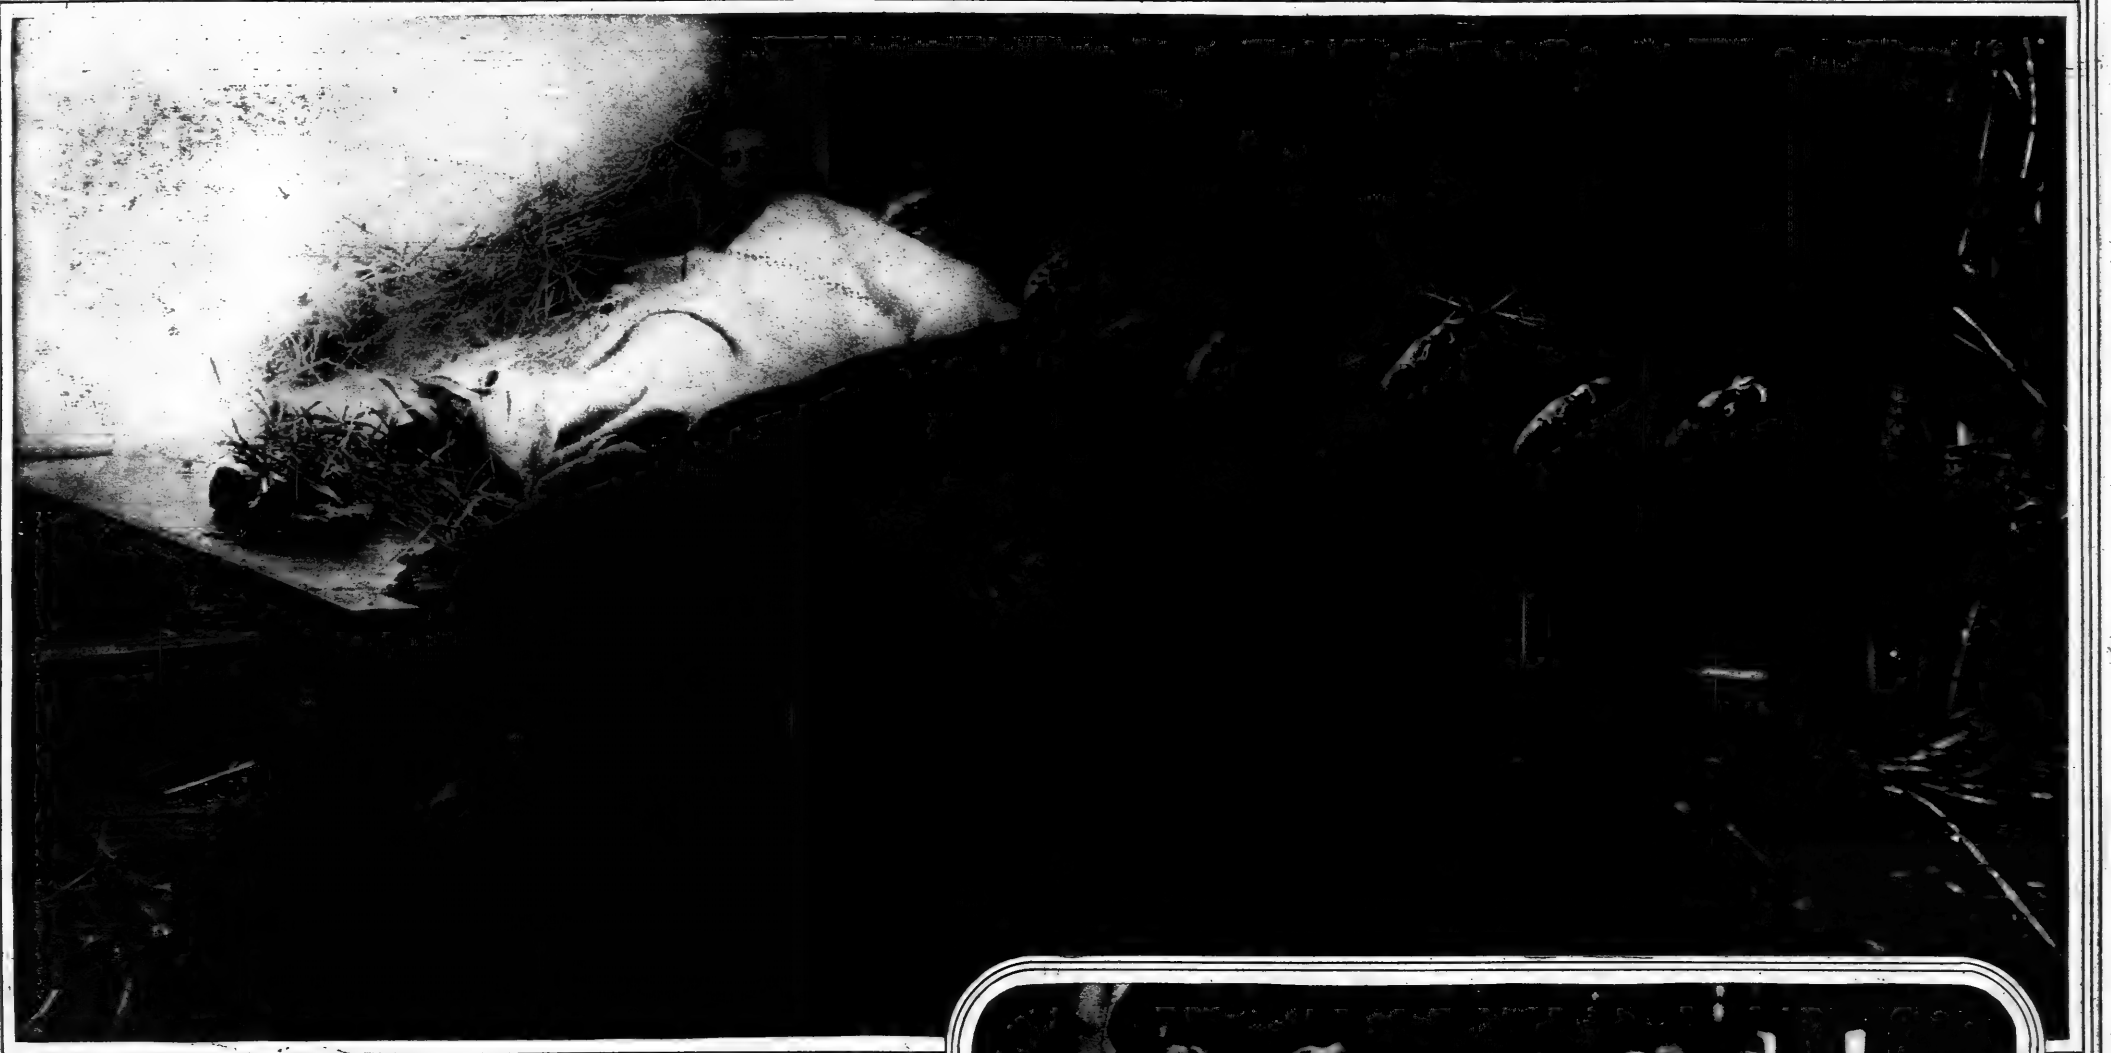
BRITISH NAVAL GUNNER ON AN ARMORED TRAIN AT YPRES FINDING THE RANGE WHILE THE BELGIAN CREW STAND READY TO LOAD.
(Photo (C) by International News Service.)



BELGIAN SOLDIER FROM THE CONGO WITH A GERMAN TROPHY.
(Photo from L. N. A.)

MME. PATTI AT THE BEDSIDE OF A WOUNDED BELGIAN IN SWANSEA HOSPITAL, LONDON
(Photo from Underwood & Underwood.)

BELGIAN SHARPSHOOTERS ATTACKING FROM AN ARMORED TRAIN IN THE VICINITY OF YPRES.



BELGIAN MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN SLEEPING ON STRAW AT ROSENDAAL, HOLLAND
(Photo (C) by International News Service.)

HARBORNE HALL, BIRMINGHAM, ENGLAND, MANSION OF WALTER CHAMBERLAIN, BROTHER OF THE LATE JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN, GIVEN OVER TO BELGIAN REFUGEES

BELGIAN REFUGEES REACH ENGLAND IN SAFETY, The Children Little Realizing the Tragedy of Their Condition
(Photo from L. N. A.)

OSTEND FISHING SMACK, WITH ITS CARGO OF REFUGEES, REACHES DOVER
(Photo (C) by Underwood & Underwood.)

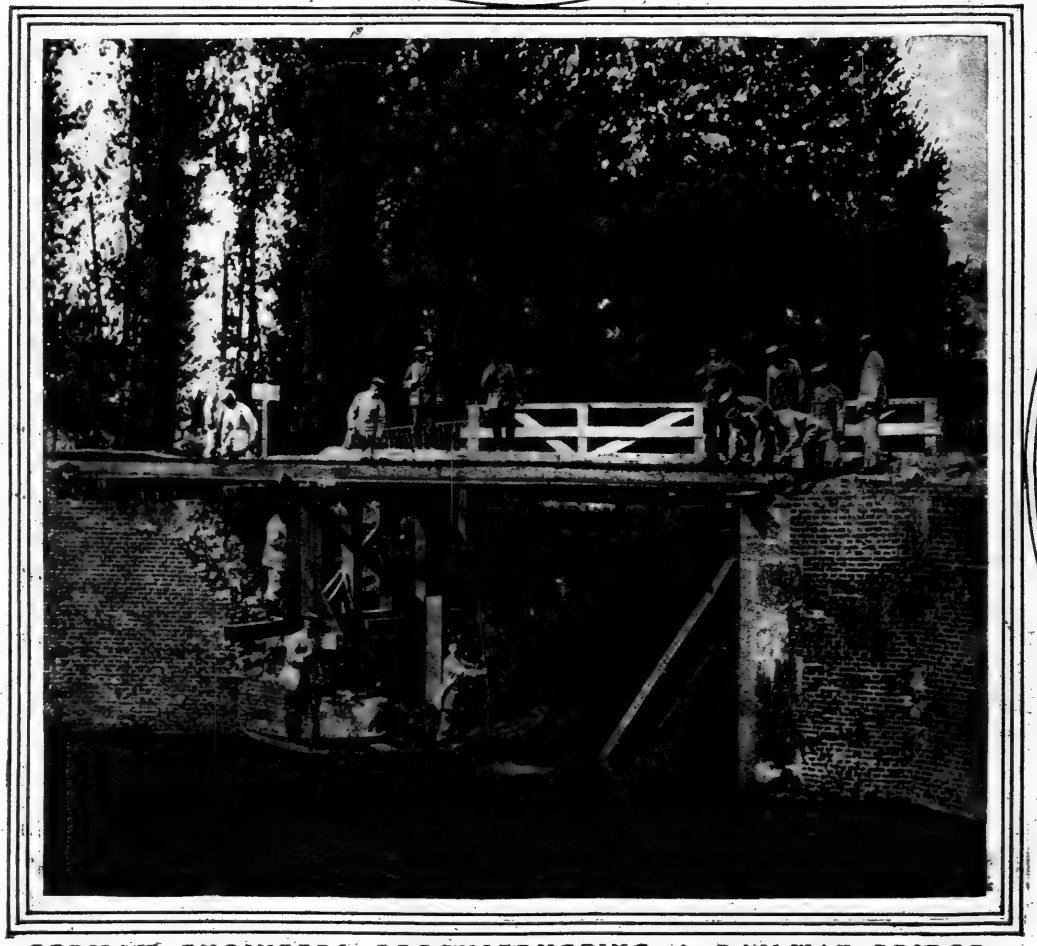
OSTEND WOMAN WHO, WHEN SHE HERSELF COULD NOT ESCAPE, SAVED HER NEIGHBOR'S DESERTED PETS
(Photo from L. N. A.)

GERMAN SOLDIERS AT MALINES DISTRIBUTING FOOD TO DESTITUTE BELGIANS
(Photo (C) by Underwood & Underwood.)

(Photo (C) by Underwood & Underwood.)

WOUNDED GERMAN SOLDIER OUT FOR A WALK IN BERLIN WITH HIS NURSE

ROUNDING UP GERMAN RESIDENTS IN LONDON →



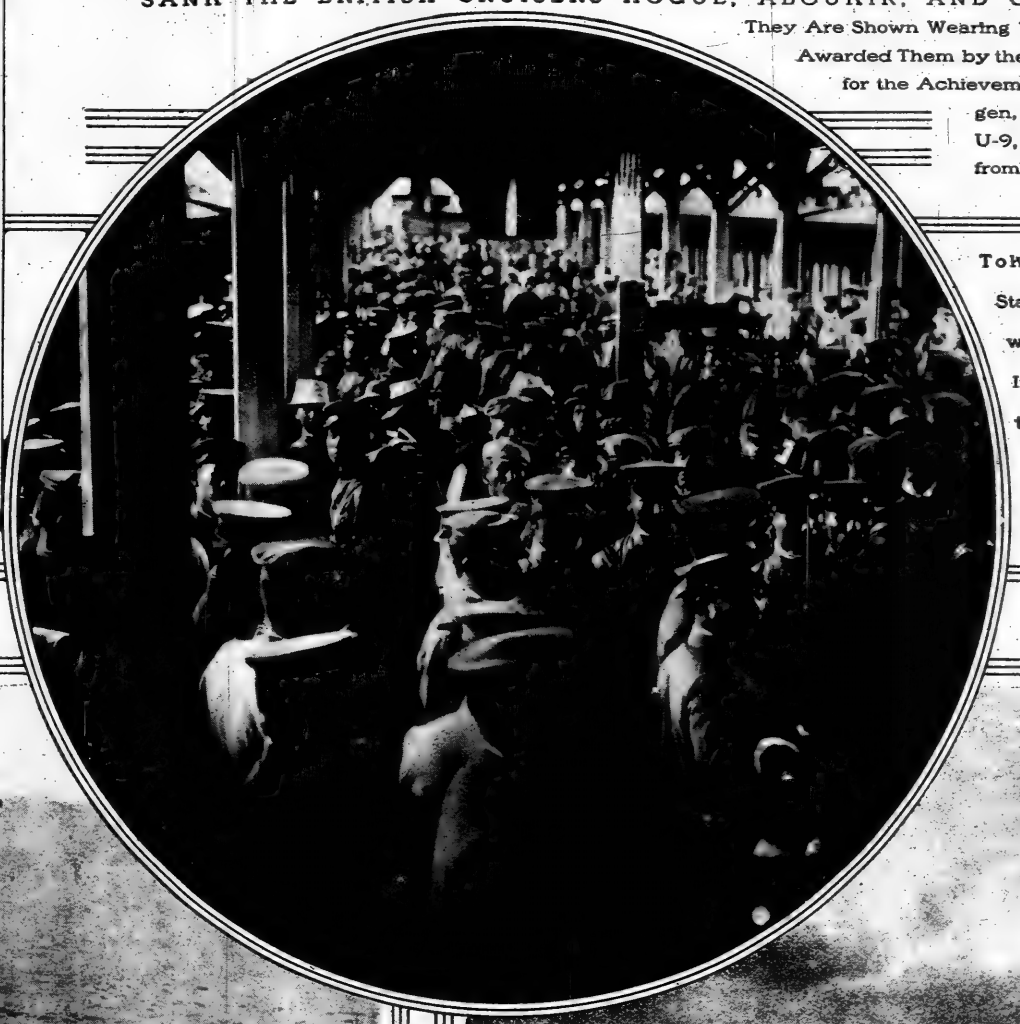
GERMAN ENGINEERS RECONSTRUCTING A RAILWAY BRIDGE NEAR LA FERE DESTROYED BY THE FRENCH
(Photo (C) by American Press Assn.)

RUSSIAN EQUIPMENT CAPTURED BY THE GERMANS AT ALLENSTEIN
(Photo by Underwood & Underwood.)

OFFICERS AND CREW OF THE FAMOUS GERMAN SUBMARINE U-9, WHICH SANK THE BRITISH CRUISERS HOGUE, ABOUKIR, AND CRESSY.

They Are Shown Wearing Their Iron Crosses Awarded Them by the German Emperor for the Achievement. Lieut. Widdigen, Commander of the U-9, Is Seated Third from the Left.

JAPANESE TROOPS MANIFESTING ENTHUSIASM AS THEY LEAVE FOR THE WAR.



Tokio Railway Station Crowded with Japanese Infantry About to Entrain for the War with Germany in China.

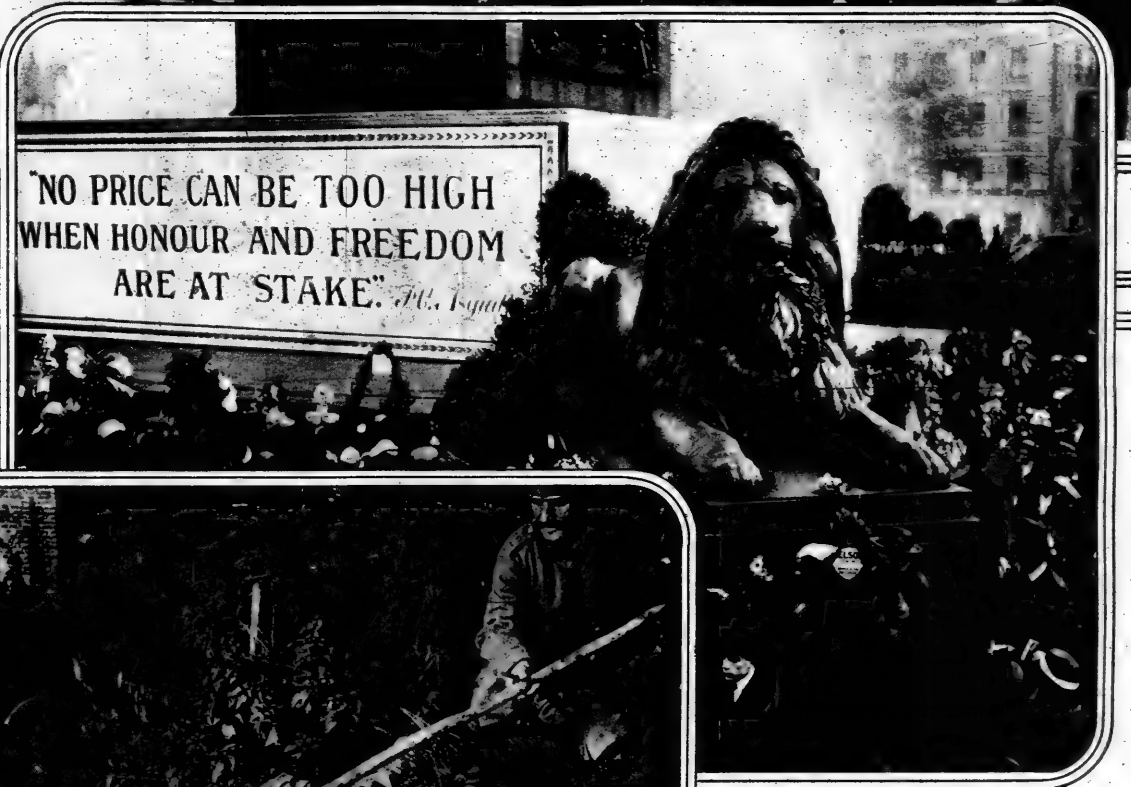
JAPANESE BLUEJACKETS COMING ASHORE NEAR TSING-TAU.

(Photos from Paul Thompson.)

German Infantry in the Eastern Theatre of the War Shooting from the Trenches at a Russian Aeroplane.

THE GERMAN ADVANCE FROM ANTWERP CROSSING ONE OF THE CANALS IN WESTERN BELGIUM.
(Photos (C) by International News Service.)

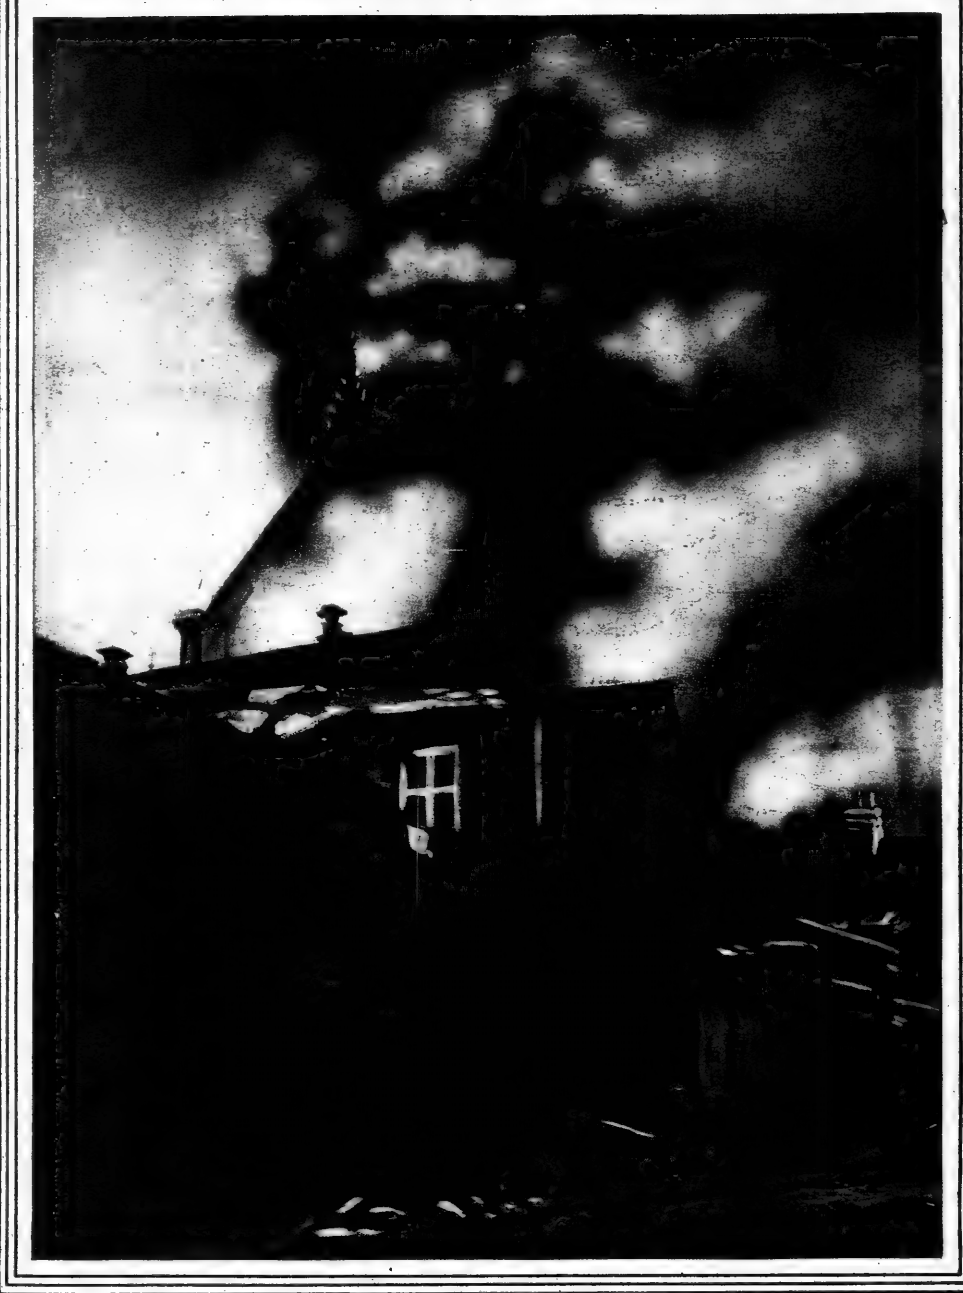
Two Soldiers and an Organist of St. Paul's Cathedral Visiting Nelson's Tomb in the Crypt of the Cathedral, Which Was Thrown Open to the Public Free on Trafalgar Day.



NELSON COLUMN IN LONDON INSCRIBED WITH PATRIOTIC MOTTOES FOR THE TRAFALGAR DAY CELEBRATION.

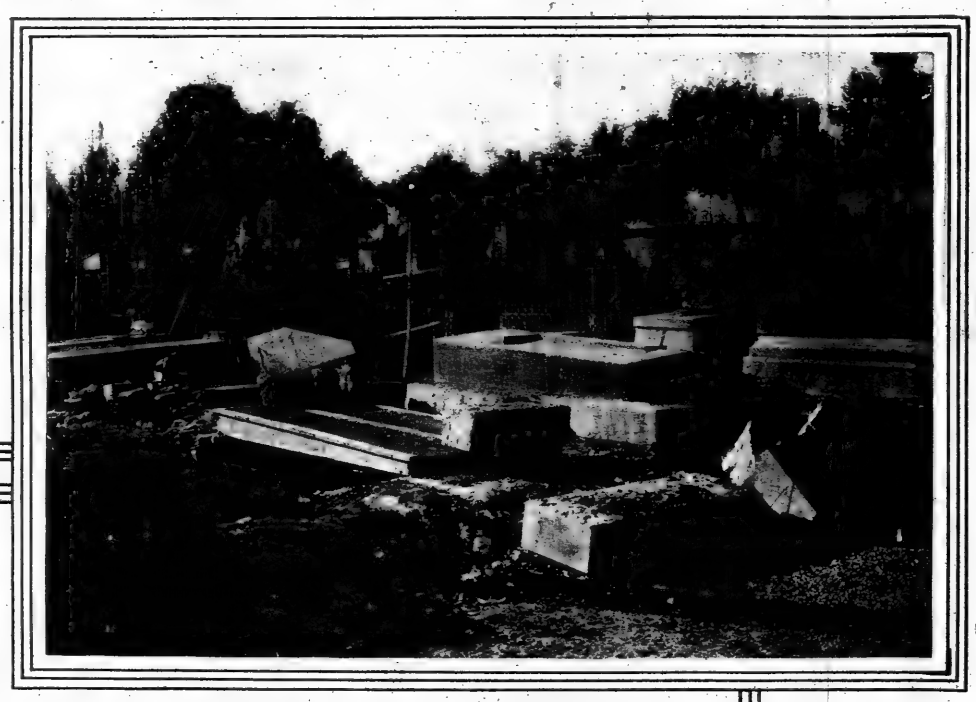
GERMAN SOLDIERS HOOKING A DUCK FROM THE RIVER NETHE, NEAR ANTWERP.

CANADIAN SOLDIERS LISTENING TO A SERMON ON THEIR FIRST SUNDAY IN ENGLAND.
(Photos from Paul Thompson.)



RHEIMS CATHEDRAL IN FLAMES

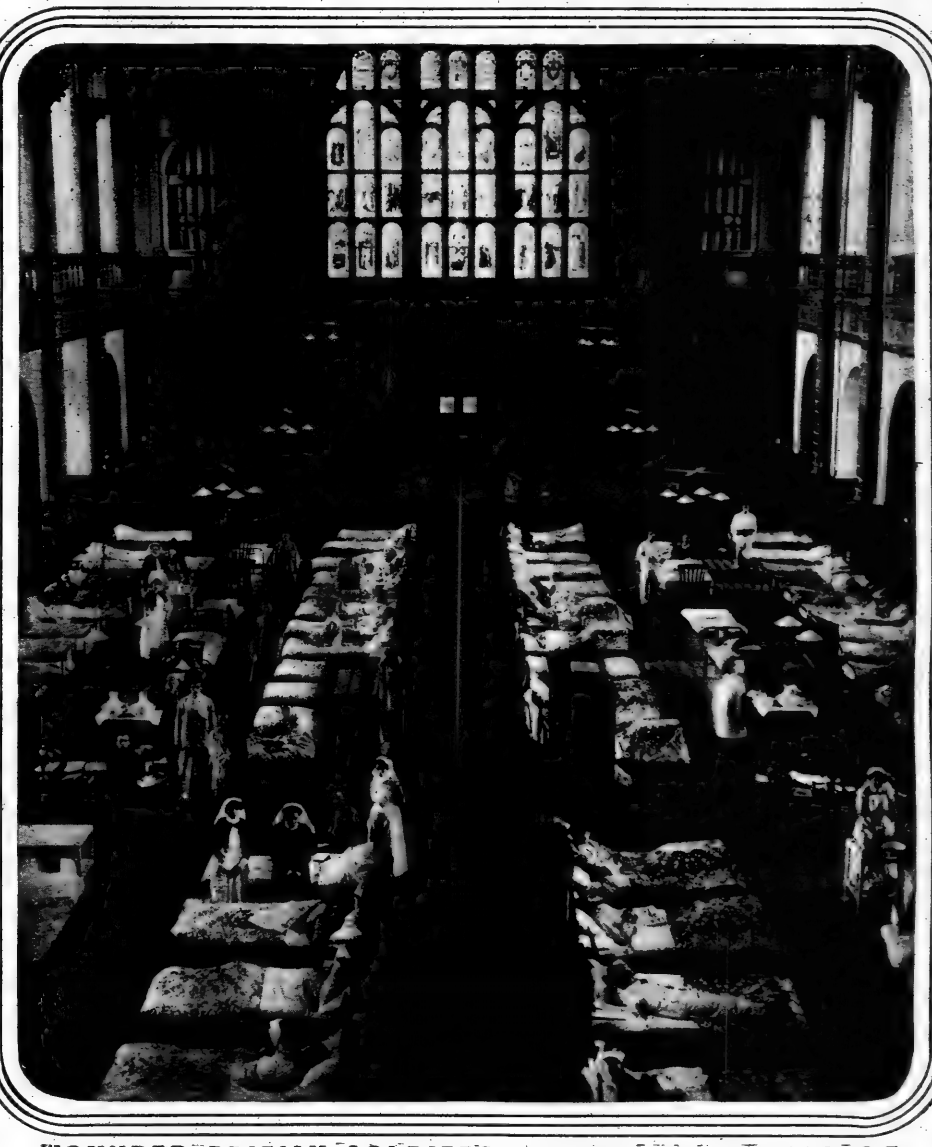
(From L'Illustration.)



CEMETERY NEAR RHEIMS WHICH DID NOT ESCAPE DURING THE BOMBARDMENT OF THE CITY.
(Photos (C) by International News Service.)

BRITISH TROOPS IN THE TRENCHES ON THE FRANCO-BELGIAN FRONTIER

(Photo by Photopress War Service.)



WOUNDED BRITISH SOLDIERS IN THE GREAT HALL OF BIRMINGHAM UNIVERSITY.

BRITISH AIRMAN IN FRANCE HAVING HIS WOUNDS DRESSED BY A RED CROSS DOCTOR.

LONGWY, FRANCE, LAID WASTE BY THE BOMBARDMENT.
(Photo (C) by Underwood & Underwood.)

ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS.

Thanksgiving Favors

The cutest and daintiest Favors are offered to our patronesses for the Thanksgiving Dinner or Entertainment. Our large importations received just before the European War enable us to offer thousands of new and original Favors and Novelties for Thanksgiving Day, Christmas and New Year's as well as Parties, Dinners, Dances and other entertainments. We take pleasure in supplying the "little things" that give delight to both hostess and guest.

Kewpie Bride.

Turkey Hen.

For the Thanksgiving Table we suggest Miniature Turkey Boxes, Imitation Roast Turkeys, real looking Tarts and Cakes, that can be filled with Candy, Pumpkin Ice Cups, Snapping Mottoes, all kinds of natural looking Fruits, Jack Horner Pies, Individual Souvenirs for all members of the family, all kinds of fun making and interesting Favors.

B. SHACKMAN & CO. 903-908 Broadway, N. Y. Bet. 20th and 21st Sts.

"The Unique Favor and Novelty House"

English Mahogany Tea Wagon

Special at $15.00

Solid Mahogany, strongly built and exquisitely finished in every particular. Has a removable glass serving tray, complete with brass handles. Size 18x24.

Inlaid Mahogany at $16.50

Call and see the many charming Mahogany Novelties that we have on exhibition in our showrooms. Our booklet "T" sent free on request.

LOUIS HESSLER

"Quality Furniture Novelties"

630-632 Columbus Av., New York

Between 90th and 91st Sts.

Telephone Riverside 312.

In the Zenith of Fashion — Jack's Shoes Predominate

Gaiter Boot

Price $7.00

Black leather vamps with quarter of buckskin or cloth in gray and fawn, also the new Niggerhead Brown quarter, button or lace.

JACK'S SHOES ARE BUILT WITH A HIGH ARCH

Providing strong support to the feet and preventing falling arches.

PRICES TO $15.00

SHOE Jack's SHOP

495 6th Ave., New York Bet. 29th and 30th Sts.

OUR ONLY STORE.

Dix-Make UNIFORMS

Let Your XMAS GIFT to the trained nurse, maid and housekeeper, be one of the celebrated Dix-Make garments. Style illustrates Maid's Uniform No. 295, of black or French grey cotton Alpaca. Price, $3.00.

Dix-Make Uniforms and House Dresses will make a sensible and much-appreciated gift. They are known as quality garments and can be had at leading department stores in many smart models.

Send for Style Book: A (Maid Uniforms) or B (Nurse Uniforms)

Henry A. Dix & Sons Company,
Dept. L, Dix Building, New York

IF YOU CAN WEAR A 16, 36 OR 38 SIZE

Buy a Sample Suit or Coat at $9.75 to $25.00

We are wholesalers and have finished selling Fall suits and coats from these samples. To dispose of them we will sell at less than wholesale.

SAMPLE CLOAK & SUIT CO.
1204 BROADWAY Near 29th St. Over Shanley's

WOOD

FOR TOMORROW, MONDAY, ONLY

(Ready-to-Wear Department)

A Profusion of

Charming, Chic, Dainty DRESSES

For Day and Evening Wear. An Unusual Opportunity.

From $20 Up

After Monday regular prices will prevail.

Entire Building 30 W. 39th St.

Undesirable Hair Removed from face, neck and arms by a wonderful new method. No needles—no acids.

Indorsed by physicians and grateful patients. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Positive — Painless
Permanent — Harmless

The Marton Method has not and cannot be applied by any other than

Dr. J. M. Marton
Consulting Chemist, and Associates.

Call for consultation. Write for free booklet, Dept. T. Tel. for appointment. Bryant 6999.

Marton Salons Cosmetiques
Longacre Building
North East Corner Broadway & 42nd Street
Facial Corrections of All Kinds
Specialists in all Skin Diseases

4 APRONS and DUST CAP—All for $1

Sent postpaid direct from our factory to your home. Stylish, well made. All washable materials.

1. Percale, plaids: pink, blue, lav. and black, trimmed with plain colors to match.
2. Percale, neat black figures on white grounds.
3. Amoskeag Ginghams, neat blue checks.
4. Amoskeag Chambrays: pink, blue and lav., trimmed with white binding.

State Size and Colors Wanted.

SET A-1

AMERICAN APRON CO., SUMMIT, N. J.

ONLY $1.00

for an All-over Embroidery Brassiere without shoulder straps. Ideal for evening or day wear. Being lightly boned, conceals top line of corsets and gives correct silhouette.

Money back if not pleased. Give actual Bust Measure.

WRIGHT FORMETTE CO.
138 West 17th Street

Ovida Reducing Brassiere

WHEN WORN

Reduces 2 to 4 Inches

With or without Corset, the most successful figure-shaping and health-making garment yet invented. Scientifically contoured to nature's model, the ELASTRICOT bust satisfies mould a graceful, youthful outline. Perfect fitting, durable, comfortable, washable, fastens in front and made with or without shoulder straps. Sizes 32 to 52.

SOLD AT LEADING STORES

Look for trade-mark OVIDA. Protected by U. S. PATENT and patents pending.

Illustrated Style Book G—Mailed FREE.

OVIDA CO., 15-17 W. 38th St., N. Y. City.

"I Liked That Dress So Much,"

You've Often Said, with a Sigh.

Let me create a new gown from your favorite old frock. I will give it fashion's latest chic touches. Your best friend would not recognize it. Hand work only.

MRS. WILSON'S
Formerly with Mrs. Osborne Co.
MENDING SHOP
444 PARK AV., NEAR 57TH ST.
Telephone Plaza 6585.

The Mending Shop

The original mending and remodeling shop
Trade Mark of New York City.

Gowns, Suits and Dresses REMODELED.

Experienced workers on Lingerie garments. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Special department for darning and mending. Shop Waists and Gowns ruffled. Suits cleaned, pressed and made into latest styles. First-class dry cleaning.

Miss M. REDDING COUGHLIN.
Phone 100 Mad. Sq. 29 W. 31st St.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

Lane Bryant Maternity Apparel

A selection of models from our attractive showing with expanding lines will keep the young mother well gowned through the entire period.

Dresses Coats
Suits Negligees
Skirts Corsets

2825—Maternity Suit (as illustrated) made in fashionable Russian style of broadcloth in black, brown, navy or green, expanding skirt, coat lined through with heavy silk. Formerly $54.75. Special, 39.75

Our season book contains over 500 models for mother and baby. Address Dept. T for free copy.

Lane Bryant, 25 W. 38th St., N. Y.

CHINA and CRYSTAL

Appropriate and elegant Christmas Gifts of Imported China and Crystal decorated with gold encrustations or monograms may be purchased on our CLUB PLAN in small monthly payments.

Special Holiday Offer

60-Piece Crystal Set, including 12 Goblets, 12 Clarets, 12 Champagnes, 12 Cocktails and 12 Liquors, with guaranteed coin gold band, hair line, gold edge base and double lining, at $36

We guarantee delivery on all Xmas orders placed before December 10th.

Write for Catalog, estimates and terms.

ART CHINA IMPORT CO.
Dept. P, 47 W. 36th St., New York
Bet. 5th and 6th Aves.

SACHETS DE FLORA

In dainty silken "bagiets." Made of flowers, the most exquisite and beneficial complexion bath known. A soothing tonic with marked whitening qualities. "GARDENIA" Cream and Bloom are beauty builders in the truest sense. "PATE GRISE," the friend of middle age. $2.00 each, the four for $7.00.

AURORA SPECIALTIES COMPANY,
Dept. C, Lowell, Mass.

BERTHE MAY'S

Maternity CORSET

Only corset of this kind made for its purpose. Worn at any time. Dress as usual. Normal appearance preserved.

Price $5.00 and Upwards

Mail orders filled with complete satisfaction. Corsets for ordinary wear on same lines. Call at my parlors or write for Booklet No. 21, sent free under plain envelope.

BERTHE MAY,
10 East 46th St., New York

INTERNAL BATH

Eager Colon Cleanser

Gives Prompt Relief to Constipation Without Drugs

The Eager Intestine Cleanser (a syringe operated by weight of the body) gives immediate relief without medicine, washing your intestines clean. You want the best. WE HAVE IT. Investigate before buying any other. We challenge comparison.

Send to Dept. T for FREE Booklet.

EAGER COLON CLEANSER CO.,
737 Washington Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.
Tel. Prospect 6100.

Mrs. Copeland

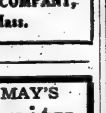
Makes individual gowns for the individual woman.

Long-Distance-Dressmaking a specialty.

MRS. COPELAND
The Cambridge Building
334 Fifth Avenue
Entrance West 33d Street, opposite Waldorf-Astoria
NEW YORK

THE SHEFFIELD SILVER SHOP

SHEFFIELD PLATE IN EXCLUSIVE PERIOD DESIGNS FOR BIRTHDAY, WEDDING AND CHRISTMAS GIFTS.



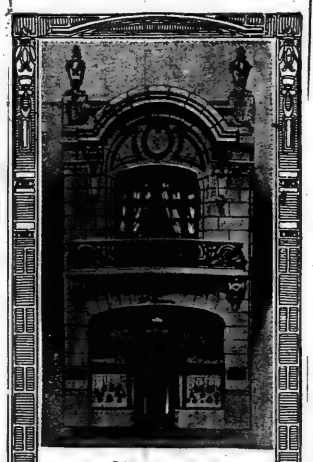
GUERNSEY WARE, $3.50.

ROBERT FITCH,
295 Fifth Avenue,
Bet. 30th & 31st Sts.,
NEW YORK.

CREAM OF PEARLS

Magical New Beautifier

Refreshing, fragrant, rejuvenating—gives pearl-like lustre to skin, etc. A revelation to the woman who must always look her best, being a tonic, cleanser and whitener combined. $1 at BIKER-HEGEMAN'S, ALTMAN'S, STERN'S, McCREERY'S, WANAMAKER'S, LOESER'S, A. & S., or sent prepaid by G. RICHE CO., Brooklyn, N. Y.



Parfums D'Orsay

The famous producers of Les Roses D'Orsay, Bouquet D'Orsay and Chevalier D'Orsay, known throughout Continental Europe are now located in America in their beautiful new Fifth Avenue building, devoted exclusively to the D'Orsay products.

You are invited to see the complete assortment of perfumes, creams, soaps, toilet waters, powders, etc., which are now on exhibition.

D'ORSAY, Parfumeurs,
716 Fifth Ave., New York, N. Y.

The "Lorgnette" for the DEAF

Does away with all those trappings

This latest instrument for the deaf does not mar your looks or attract attention to your d afness.

There are no cords or headband to wear, no heavy transmitter to attach to your costume, destroying its effect.

Hear Gracefully

The "Lorgnette" is made all in one piece, with battery in the handle. There are no plugs to insert—no broken connections. It is always ready for use.

Kept in perfect working order for ten years on a written guarantee.

Perhaps we can remodel your old instrument into a graceful "Lorgnette." If not, we will make you a liberal allowance for it in exchange. Call at our office. Try the "Lorgnette."

Globe Ear Phone Co.
Suite 455 Marbridge Building
1328 Broadway
Sixth Avenue Entrance.

Ambre Royal

The Powder of Royalty

Paris — France

$1.75 the Box

Six Delicate Tints

Send 25¢ for Acquaintance Box

No. 51 COLD CREAM SOAP 50¢

Finest Toilet Soap in the World

Violet (PRONOUNCED VE-O-LAY)

Importing Offices:
71 West 35th St., N. Y.

Whatever your corset need, Ivy corsets can fill it. Smartest corsets and corset novelties in New York for all figures. Originators of the seven ounce dancing corsets like picture. Price, $3.00.

MOLLIE MAYERS,
392 Fifth Av., at 36th St., New York City.

Scientific Dentistry

has removed the fear of excessive pain in treatment. Permit us to make you acquainted with the latest and most approved methods.

DRS. M. & H. SCHLESINGER,
1208 Times Bldg., 42d St., & B'way.
Phone Bryant 572.

CORSET HOSPITAL

In the Shopping District.

Equipped for cleaning, repairing and alterations on all makes of corsets. Phone and we will call, renovate and work promptly attended to. Corsets copied, made to order. Stock corsets and brassieres fitted.

ALONSO,
N. W. Cor. 42d St., 6th floor
500 Fifth Avenue, New York.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

L. M. HIRSCH Sample Shoe Co.

Patent Leather or Dull Vamp with grey or fawn buckskin quarters, welted sole, Spanish heel. Also with cloth quarters. $4.98

Satin Slippers in all staple and new colors. $3.00

Also in black velvet, $4.00.

Silk Hosiery to match, 95c. and $1.50.

Send for Booklet T with illustrations of new Fall and Winter Models.

404-406 Sixth Ave., N. Y. Bet. 24th & 25th Sts.

Leonard's

Women and Misses will find our ready-to-wear departments replete with the season's newest offerings in Gowns, Dresses, Suits, etc. Modest prices and originality of design are characteristic of both our general wear and maternity wear departments.

We also carry extra large sized garments for stout figures.

Mme. Leonard's Self-Adjustable Maternity

Apparel is scientifically designed to give style and comfort. If interested, write for Catalog TM

No. 1707—Smart dress of serge and satin with becoming lines. Long, straight back, with soft satin sash and bow in back. White stiff collar and cuffs. Made in all shades and sizes.

Moderately Priced

Catalog T, with illustrations of our newest garments, and order blanks sent out of town on request.

24 West 39th St., Near 5th Av., NEW YORK.
Phone Greeley 4534.

1707

Waltière

400 Fifth Avenue
Opposite Tiffany's

Announces a Clearance of 200 Attractive Copies of

FRENCH HATS

At Specially Low Prices

$7.50 Actual Value $15.

$10 Actual Value $20.

The Hat illustrated above is an exceptionally charming model prepared especially for this event. It is an example of the wonderful value we are offering at $7.50.

Smart, Durable & The Price is only $5

A Men's Boot We Wish To Be Known By.

TO INAUGURATE THE OPENING OF OUR MEN'S SHOE DEPARTMENT IN OUR NEW SHOP AT 15 West 42nd

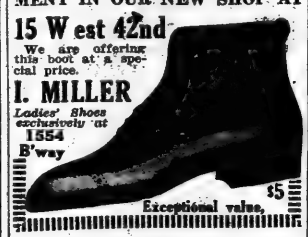
We are offering this boot at a special price.

I. MILLER

Ladies' Shoes exclusively at

1554 B'way



Exceptional value, $5

Lady Rowley CORSET SHOP

LA REINE AND ELSO Front and Back Lace Corsets at Special Prices.

CORSET HOSPITAL.

CLEANING, REPAIRING, AND ALTERING AT MODERATE PRICES.

233 Fifth Ave., N. E. Cor. 27th St. Second Floor.

500 Fifth Ave., N. W. Cor. 42d St., Opp. Library, 2d Floor.

MYSTIC CREAM

Takes the Burn out of Sunburn in Summer. Marvelous for chapped hands in Winter. Keeps the skin soft and smooth the year around. At all Drug and Department Stores, 25c. Samples mailed on request.

OGDEN PHARMACY,
Middletown, N. Y.

ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS.

TIN CRACKER BOXES $1.00

of various Cretonne designs

Also made in all college colors.

Charming little boxes that keep crackers and candy clean and fresh. Particularly acceptable as Week-End Gifts or Bridge Prizes.

When ordering by mail add 10 cents for postage.

More than 300 other articles at $1 on view in our shop.

Diameter, 7½ inches. Height, 6¼ inches.

The ONE DOLLAR SHOP, Inc.,
8 East 37th St., New York,
formerly 10 W. 40th St.

$6.00

Outside measurements 16 inches by 10 inches. Mirror 9¾ inches by 5¾ inches. Special price $6.00

An Unusual Sconce

with frame carved from solid wood handpainted after the manner of the old Italian furniture in polychrome coloring on a black background.

Many other attractive articles for the embellishment of the home—on display in our shop.

Mastick & Graham
Interior Decorations
8 East 37th Street, New York
formerly 10 W. 40th Street.

"The Crescent" TALKING MACHINES

Play Any Style Record

A $75 Phonograph and Cabinet Express Prepaid for $40

"No Higher Price Can Give Greater Tone-Value"

SPECIAL FEATURES

Make "Crescent" equal Phonographs that sell for more than double our prices.

Handsome design, best material, careful finish.

"Crescent" Motors represent one hundred years of motor manufacture and are Guaranteed.

Tone-Quality of Sound-Box is unsurpassed.

UNIVERSAL TUBE makes it possible to change from Steel Needle- to Diamond-Point Record by mere turn of Sound-Box.

Other Styles $15 and $12.50

If there is no Representative in your locality, we will ship C. O. D., subject to examination.

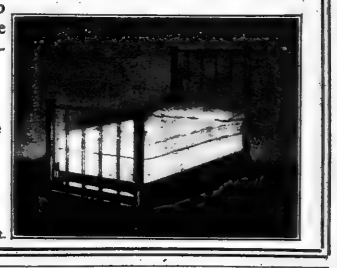
Demonstrations at Our Show Rooms

CRESCENT TALKING MACHINE CO.,
99 Chambers St., Agents Wanted. New York

A Beautiful Whitcomb Pattern

This brass bedstead indicates the dignity, beauty and strength that are in all Whitcomb patterns.

Whether you want an elaborate brass bedstead, a simple enamel bed, or a crib, there is one to meet your need at your price—each backed by The Whitcomb Factory.



Brass Beds from $16 up
Enamel Cribs, $5.75 up
Bedding—Mattresses remade

The Whitcomb Metallic Bedstead Co.
34th & Madison Avenue
Factory, Shelton, Conn.
Philadelphia Boston
1710 Chestnut St. 78 & 80 Washington St.

Write or call for Free Victrola Catalog

DANCE AT HOME! VICTROLAS

$1 Down, $1 a Week

For the lower priced instruments. Higher priced outfits at equally moderate terms.

Prices from $15 to $200.

Very liberal allowance made for any make Talking machine in exchange for a new model Victrola.

405 B'way — Davega's SPORTING GOODS STORES — 831 B'way

Below Canal Bet. 12 and 13 Sts.

LEMAIRE OPERA GLASSES

BEST IN THE WORLD

In Pearl, Black and Aluminum Plain or with Handle

LEMAIRE FIELD GLASSES & PRISM BINOCULARS

TRADE MARK

At your Jeweler's or Optician's

NEW YORK OFFICE 90 MAIDEN LANE, N. Y.

Mae R. Sayre

Maternity Corsets a Specialty

Made to order at any period because of the additional lacings at side. Normal appearance preserved with all fashionable gowns. The meritorious point of the garment is the abdominal support, which affords great comfort. Mail orders promptly attended to—or visit my establishment.

8 W. 37th St.
New York City.
Tel. 284 Greeley.

Copyrighted

A MINIATURE PALACE

THIS Louis XVI Bird Cage, suitable for milady's boudoir or morning room, is the last letter in daintiness.

It is of white enamelled brass with a charming ribbon flower wreath encircling the top, tied at each end with blue ribbon motifs. Complete to the smallest detail, with sliding bottom tray, feed cups at each end, with guard rail. Size 15 inches wide, 13 inches deep and 14 inches high, and is specially priced at $23.50. Carefully packed for express or parcel post.

You will be interested in our catalogue illustrating our unusual line of Electric Lamps, sconces, frames, mirrors, clocks, fan cases, tables and boudoir articles.

J. Maurad Co., 236 W. 28th St., N. Y. City

CORLISS LACED STOCKINGS FOR LIMB TROUBLES

Trade Mark, Reg.

VARICOSE VEINS, Weak Ankles or any Limb troubles.

SANITARY, as they may be washed or boiled.

COMFORTABLE, made to measure. No elastic; adjustable; laces like a legging.

COOL, light, porous.

ECONOMICAL. Cost $1.50 each, or two for the same limb, $2.50, postpaid. Send for self-measurement blank No. 4.

Consultation FREE.

N. Y. Corliss Limb Spec. Co., Inc., 140 West 42d St., New York. Phone Bryant 2131

PEARLS

SPECIAL NOVEMBER SALE

To encourage early Christmas shopping we are offering for this month graduated ropes of our scientifically made pearls, which regularly sell at $10, $15 & $25, including a dainty sterling silver barrel clasp, at, SPECIAL, $8.00—$12.00 & $20.00

New Illustrated Pearl Booklet sent on request.

ADDRESS MAIL ORDERS 5A WEST 37 ST., NEW YORK.

Frederic's

Jeweler and Pearl Maker
SHOP AT 547 FIFTH AVE.
N. E. Cor. 45th St.
New York.

GLASSBERG'S

Stylish

$3.50 SHORT VAMP SHOES

3 STORES

IN THE HEART OF NEW YORK

511 6th Ave., near 31st St.
225 West 42d St., near Times Sq.
58 3d Ave., near 10th St.

Send for Illustrated Catalogue T. Mail Orders Carefully Filled.

Motion Picture Camera

Uses EASTMAN Standard Size Film

Price of Camera $50.00

Projecting Attachment Separately Listed

Ask your dealer or write direct for Catalogue 10.

Motion Picture Camera Co., 5 West 14th St. New York

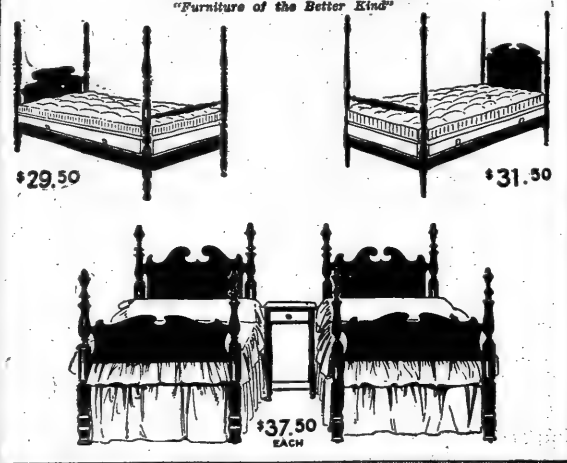
ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS.

Four-Post Beds—A Rare Opportunity at Hathaway's

At prices which are very low in every case and which range down to $19.50, we are offering this week a selection of extremely handsome Mahogany Four-Post Beds. The variety of models is very extensive and most of them are offered in all the sizes from 3 feet to 4 feet 6 inches. The Hathaway standard is maintained in each. We feel sure that you never have seen so attractive a display of Colonial Beds in accurate reproduction.

The Hathaway Brochures, illustrating some of our many handsome pieces, will be sent on request.

W. A. Hathaway Company
62 West 45th Street, New York
"Furniture of the Better Kind"



Buy it Because it is Better

—better because it means more loaves of better bread from a barrel or bag,

—the finest kind of biscuit—most delicious cake and pastry.

—really ideal for all household uses.

Heckers' FLOUR

—safe, sure, "easy to work"—no risk, no waste. At All Good Grocers.

HECKERS' CREAM FARINA — DELICIOUS FOR BREAKFAST

Period Furniture

GRAND RAPIDS FURNITURE—(Direct from Factory)
DISCONTINUED PATTERNS AT 50% of Regular Prices.

ODD PERIOD PIECES $4 up
In wide variety
CHAIRS, TABLES, DESKS, ETC.
Solid Mahogany—Inlaid

Sheraton Sewing Table
Two Drop Leaves, Two Drawers, with Mahogany Sliding Tray.
Special at $12.25
REGULARLY $22.

Standing Book Holder
SOLID MAHOGANY
Special at $5.25 REGULARLY $9.

Sheraton, Tudor, Adam, Heppelwhite, Colonial, etc., Dining Room Suites, 10 pieces, $100 up; regularly $200 up. Queen Anne, Louis XIV., Louis XVI., Sheraton, etc., Bedroom Suites, Mahogany and Walnut, $75 up; regularly $150 up.

Manufacturers, MANGES BROS. Established 1852.
115-117 WEST 23D ST. and 108-110 WEST 24TH ST., N. Y.

"EMERALITE" LAMPS

The "Emeralite" Floor Lamp is the ideal eye-resting lamp for the library or den. Like all "Emeralite" Lamps, it has the scientifically adjustable shade—emerald green glass outside, opal inside—that concentrates a strong, "daylight-white" light exactly where you want it. No hurtful glare, no annoying shadows. Just an even, soothing brightness.

Booklet Free—Shows in actual colors the thirty different styles of "Emeralite" Lamps—for office, library, parlor, sickroom, piano, etc.

Dealers everywhere can supply you.
H. G. McFaddin & Co.
56 Warren Street. New York.

BE KIND TO YOUR EYES

MAJOR'S CEMENT

10c and 15c EST. 1876.

Major's Cement is the strongest on Earth for mending broken articles and tipping billiard cues. Major's Rubber and Leather Cement same price. For sale by druggists and others.

MAJOR MANUFACTURING CO.,
441 Pearl St., N. Y. City. A. Major, Prest.
We Pack Hamilton Coupons.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

The Designing

and perfecting of Blyn-Plan Shoes was a master stroke for us—an important service for children.

It is a generous money's worth in leathers and shoemaking.

In comfort and assurance of future foot health—it is invaluable.

Blyn-Plan Nature Shoe

Patent Colt and Gun Metal For Children

Sizes
5 to 8.....	1.75
8½ to 11..	2.00
11½ to 2...	2.50

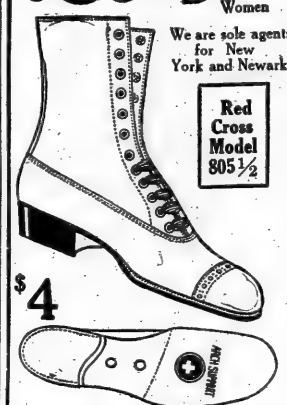
Button and Blucher Styles

Tan Russia Calf

Sizes
5 to 11..	2.00
11½ to 2...	2.50

10c. extra by mail anywhere in the United States.

Red Cross Shoe For Women



We are sole agents for New York and Newark.

Red Cross Model 805½

$4

Ladies' Red Cross Arch Support Shoes of soft vici kid with built-in Arch Supports, Arch Supporting heels and shanks and Red Cross-flexible soles.

These shoes afford quick and permanent relief from the pain and weakness caused by "flat feet." Wonderfully effective and remarkably low priced.

Blyn Shoes in Newark
New Store in Newark's Shopping Centre,
689 Broad Street
Opposite Military Park.

J. Blyn & Sons GUARANTEE SHOE CO.
Mail Order Dept. 3d Av.

West Side Stores:	East Side Stores:
222-224 W. 125th St.	3d Av. & 122d St.
6th Av. & 27th St.	3d Av., near 86th St.
8th Av., near 39th St.	3d Av., nr. 150th St.
	162 Bowery nr. Broome

Brooklyn Stores { B'way, bet. Park & Ellery Sts. / 485 Fulton St., opp. A. & S. Broadway, near Greene Ave.

Factory: 511-519 East 72d St.

Mme. Fried HAIR SHOP

RIKER BUILDING

Allow us to show you how to arrange your hair most becomingly.

CHARGES 50c

Extra hair for all the newest coiffures at very reasonable prices.

New Fall Modes

Pompadours and Transformations $8 and up

Natural Wavy Switches $5 and up

Wholesale or Retail

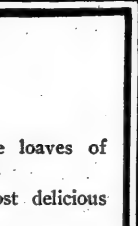
MANICURING THIRTY-FIVE CENTS

15 West 34th Street
Riker Building
Entire Third Floor
Opposite Waldorf.

REDUCE YOUR FLESH

Wear my famous medicated rubber garments a few hours a day and your superfluous flesh will positively disappear.

Dr. Jeanne Walter's Famous Medicated Rubber Garments for Men & Women.



ETON JACKET. Specially for reducing the bust and upper part of the body above the waist line.

SPECIAL BUST REDUCER, $5.00.

Will reduce your flesh on any part of the body. Write today for further particulars.

Dr. JEANNE WALTER,
Dept. T. S., 45 West 34th St., New York
Inventor and Patentee.

WONDERS OF THE ORIENT!

Bulbs for the Easy and Clean Treatments

Japanese Gardens. Novelties for Window-Gardens. Prepared Fibre and Pebbles. Cat. free.

Herrmann's Seed Store, 140 East 34th St., New York City.

Highest Prices Paid
For Ladies' & Gentlemen's Discarded Clothing, Furs, Fine Evening and Street Costumes.
Diamonds, Jewelry, and Silverware.
Call or address
M. NAFTAL 69 West 45th. Tel. Bryant 670.

PARKER'S METHOD OF HAIR TREATMENT

Quickly cleanses the scalp of dandruff and other imperfections; will keep it in a clean and cool condition; promotes the growth of healthy, abundant rich hair, and makes it dressy and fluffy. Valuable for dry, harsh, stiff, and brittle hair.

Personal consultation given. Individual cases. Send today for free booklet "P" on "Healthy Hair—How to Get and Keep It."

JANE COWL SAYS
Dear Mr. Parker—Let me thank you for the most beneficial treatments my hair has ever had. All good wishes to you.

HERBEX makes the HAIR HEALTHY, keeps the scalp clean, cool, making the hair soft and fluffy. 50c. bottle. Ask for Book, "Healthy Hair."

Frank Parker, Hair and Scalp SPECIALIST.
51 WEST 37TH ST., N.Y.

Eugene Builder of HATS
AT MOOD'S
30 West 39th Street
Special Exhibit of MODELS at $8-$10
FURS REMODELLED

Ladies, improve your looks. Facial Massage, Scalp Treatment, Shampooing, Marcel Waving, Hairdressing, 25c. each. Manicuring 15c. Bleaching, Dyeing, Hair Restoring. Recoloring of old switches and hair pieces. Reliable hair work, combings made up. Satisfaction guaranteed. Operators sent to residences. Your patronage solicited. Most sanitary place in city.

MME. HUDSON'S PARLORS, 626 Sixth Ave., Between 36th and 37th Sts.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

STOCKINGS TO MATCH

Perfect matching of any color of gown or slipper has been one of our specialties for 29 years. An absolute match from any sample is guaranteed.

Peck & Peck Guaranteed Silk Stockings matched to any sample and absolutely guaranteed not to "ladder" or drop-stitch. Pure silk in medium weight, suitable for all occasions. $2.50 plain; $3.00 clocked. Mail Order Service.

PECK & PECK
EXCLUSIVE HOSIERY
448 Fifth Avenue at 39th Street
388 Fifth Avenue at 38th Street
NEW YORK CITY

VAN RAALTE Veils

"At All Good Shops"
Made in America

Freshen your face by frequent changes of veils. You will be surprised at the great variety of Van Raalte Veils, to suit every face, every fancy, every occasion. Ask "What is newest in Van Raalte Veils?"—at your favorite shop.

VAN RAALTE MARK

For Your Protection—this little white ticket is on every yard. Look for it.

MATERNITY APPAREL

129

Dresses Made After Our Patented
KWICK-KONFORM SYSTEM
To conform quickly to desired size
"Just Pull the Tape"
Eliminates old methods. No clumsy elastic. No hidden plaits. Preserves normal appearance.

Latest Popular Styles and Materials, $2.50 to $30.00

Ready to Wear and Made to Measure.

No. 129—Maternity Dress of Satin Stripe Mercerized Crepon. Trimming of Satin and Shadow Lace, $4.95

Send for loose-leaf Catalogue "T. M." of Dresses, Skirts, Coats, Capes, Corsets, and Negligees.

The American Women's Wear Co.
119-125 West 25th St., New York City.

VACUUM CLEANERS
AT CUT PRICES
All Makes, Styles & Sizes
EUREKA SALES CO.,
Vacuum Cleaner Experts,
131 W. 42d St. Tel. 6310 Bryant.
Downtown Branch, Hudson Term. Bldg., 30 Church St., Booth 53.
Brooklyn Store: 529 Fulton St.

Rebuilder of Gowns

If your old suits are slightly worn and out of season, let me alter them for you. At a reasonable expense I can really do wonders with gowns you may consider worthless.

Also ARTISTIC GOWNS for all occasions made from your own material to suit your individuality.

HOMER
111½ W. 37th St., N. Y. Tel. 5365 Greeley.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

How to make your skin fine in texture

As a baby, your skin was fine and smooth. Nature intended you to keep it so.

If the delicate pores have become enlarged and coarsened, it is because of cleansing methods unsuited to your skin. As a result, the pores have lost their power to contract and expend as they should.

You can restore them to their normal healthy condition and rebuild a smooth-textured skin by persistent use of the Woodbury treatment below.

Begin this treatment tonight

Just before retiring, dip your washcloth in very warm water and hold it to your face. Now take the cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap, dip it in the bowl of water and rub the cake itself over your skin. Leave the slight coating of soap on for a few minutes until the skin feels drawn and dry. Then dampen the skin and rub the soap in gently with an upward and outward motion. Rinse the face thoroughly, first in tepid water, then in cold. Whenever possible, rub the face with a piece of ice. Always dry carefully.

Use this treatment persistently for ten days and your skin will show a marked improvement—a promise of that greater smoothness and finer texture that the steady use of Woodbury's always brings.

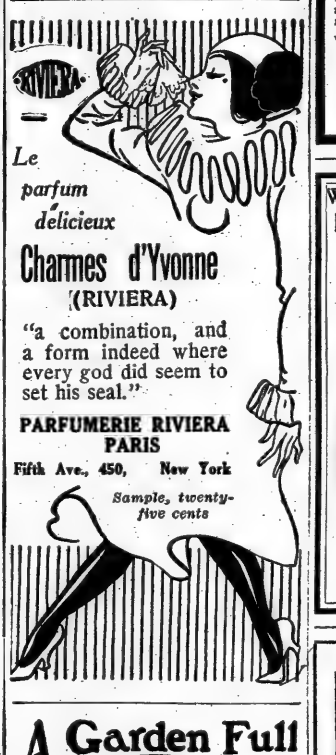
Woodbury's Facial Soap costs 25c a cake. No one hesitates at the price after their first cake.

Do this today—now!

Tear out the illustration of the cake below and put it in your purse as a reminder to get Woodbury's. Tear out the cake now. Take it to your druggist or toilet counter today. Begin tonight to get the benefits of this Facial Soap.

Woodbury's Facial Soap

For Sale by Dealers Everywhere.
The Andrew Jergens Co., Spring Grove Avenue, Cincinnati, O.



A Garden Full of Tulips for $1.00

75 Tulip Bulbs, all first size, taken from 25 named varieties, for $1.00.

PLANT NOW

These Tulips have been selected from 25 of the most beautiful varieties, embracing all the colors that are to be found in this splendid class of Spring blooming bulbs.

Plant near your home—in your garden or back yard. The beautiful blossoms in a multitude of brilliant colors and shades will make April a Spring month worth while.

75 Tulip Bulbs, Finest Mixed, $1.00.

Cut out this advertisement and enclose with dollar bill, stamps or money order or present at our store, and secure this splendid collection of Tulip Bulbs, for only $1.00, prepaid to your home anywhere in the United States, with our 1914 Fall Catalogue.

Stumpp & Walter Co.
30-32 Barclay Street, NEW YORK.

KEEP DRY DRESS SHIELDS

ABSORBENT
MOISTURE-PROOF
A NEW DRESS SHIELD
With New Merits
To appreciate them you must try a pair.

EVERY PAIR GUARANTEED
For sale by leading Department Stores. Send 25c. for Sample Pair to
J. J. BEYERELE MFG. CO.,
99-101 Broadway, Brooklyn, N. Y.

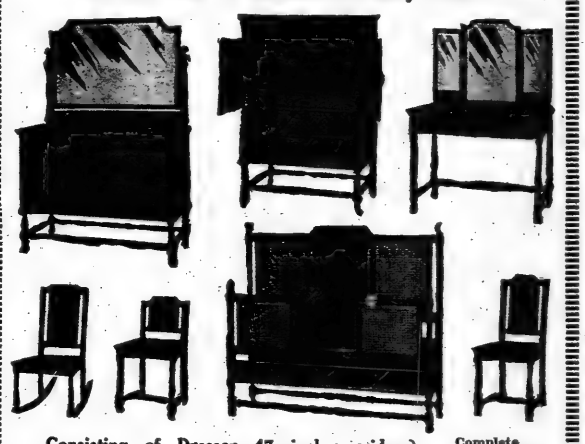
One for $15, $20, $30, or $50 for her—Christmas!

PIRIE MacDONALD
Photographer-of-Men.
576 FIFTH AV. COR. 47TH ST.

ADVERTISEMENTS. ADVERTISEMENTS.

Quality Furniture

This Beautifully Grained 7-Piece Genuine Antique Mahogany Bedroom Suite of William and Mary Period.



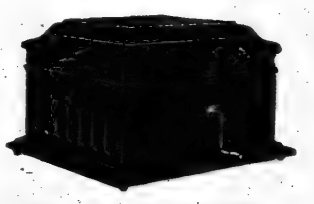
Consisting of Dresser 47 inches wide, Chiffonier 36 inches wide, Dressing Table 39 inches wide, Bed 53 inches wide, Rocker, Bedroom Chair, Dressing Table Chair, constructed of Solid Mahogany with cane panels; Chairs and Rocker have seats and backs of cane.

Complete as illustrated.
$287.50
Regular selling price, $375.00.

Joseph L. Herschmann
625-627 Sixth Avenue, N. Y.
Bet. 36th & 37th Sts. (Established 1862) Phone 444 Greeley.

Pathephone for real music!

The joys of music in the home are manifestly increased by the NATURAL, EXACT, and CLEAR-TONED reproduction of the tones. The PATHEPHONE is the perfect instrument for this purpose.



THIS IS THE $50 INSTRUMENT.

It uses a ball-shaped Sapphire instead of a needle. The sound is produced by an easy up-and-down wave-motion—truest to Nature. No needle-changing necessary, no fear of scratching records, no wearing out of discs possible.

WRITE FOR CATALOGS—CONTINUAL DEMONSTRATIONS AT

PATHÉ FRÈRES PHONOGRAPH CO.
29-33 West 38th Street.

We have maintained a prestige for distinction in furniture for 23 years.
Est. 1892 Furniture of Distinction Est. 1892
23rd Annual November Sale

Living Room Suite—Beautiful Louis Seize (XVI) design—solid mahogany, hand carved frame, cane panels, antique finish. Upholstered in suitable colors with fine silk moire damask. Regular price $450. Special for this week only $290.00

49-51 W. 23d St. Geiger & Braverman Furniture Company Bet. 5th & 6th Aves.

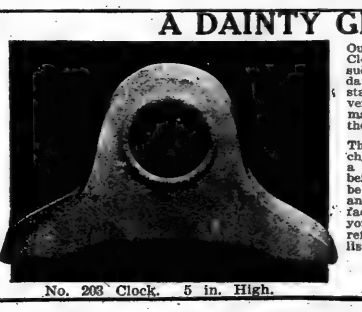
A DAINTY GIFT



No. 203 Clock. 5 in. High.

Our No. 203 American Ivory Clock is the one that makes such a useful, artistic and dainty little gift. These clock stands are solid hard wood, veneered with American Ivory, matching in color and grain the Jewel Boxes and Trays.

This is an opportunity to purchase from the manufacturer, at a considerable saving, the price being only $2.25. The clock will be carefully packed and mailed, and if it is not perfectly satisfactory, it may be returned and your money will be immediately refunded. We will also send our list of Jewel Boxes and Trays.

NEWELL & GORDINIER,
Troy, N. Y.

SETH THOMAS CLOCK

$13.75 $13.75

Mahogany Case
8 day, Hour and Half Hour Strike, Cathedral Bell. Height 9 in., Length 14 in., Depth 5 in.

DELIVERED PREPAID
W. H. Enhaus & Son,
JEWELERS. EST. 1847.
31 John Street, N. Y. C.
WRITE FOR CATALOGUE.
Complete Line Seth Thomas Clocks
350 Designs for Selection

The "Exceptional" School
Mr. G. Hepburn Wilson, M. B.

The American Authority on Modern Dancing.
FIFTH AV., NEW YORK
N. W. Cor. 48th St., Thorley Bldg.

Unquestionably superior—Because of its intense Expert nature. 18,000 private pupils last season means not only a World's record, but it marks a distinct difference from the ordinary school.

Dancing ability is more important than New Dances. Mr. Wilson teaches all the New Modern Dances, but the principal consideration of each lesson is to develop and improve your general dancing ability. This is what you want. This is why you should come to Mr. Wilson.

(C) 1914

Call, write or 'phone (Bryant 6321) for interesting literature on "FALL AND WINTER STYLES of Modern Dancing," by Mr. G. Hepburn Wilson, M. B.

UNUSUAL VALUE $6.50 for LADY'S SOLID GOLD WATCH
Warranted Absolutely Reliable

ZERANA & CO.
30 East 34th St. New York
(opposite Altman's cor. Madison Ave.)
Mail Orders Promptly attended to.

Pain in the Instep

is a warning of falling arches or Flat Feet. Flex Shoes cure these and kindred foot troubles. They are pliable and light. Arch Supports are harmful. Dr. Levy will thoroughly examine your feet and advise the best method of curing your foot troubles without charge. Call or write for booklet.

DRS. CHARLES S. LEVY,
CHIROPODISTS.
Strand Theatre Bldg., B'way, Cor. 47th.

Poinciana Cerate

'The Pride of Palm Beach' assures a good complexion—satisfaction guaranteed or money back. 25c., 50c., $1.25, $2.50 At Your Dealer or by Mail Send stamp for sample to

C. B. MERRIAM
Lake Placid, N. Y.

Andre's ORIENTAL POWDER

A wonderful preparation for restoring gray hair to its original color. Contains no harmful ingredients. Price $2.00. Ladies—Write for my instructions telling how to make yourself more attractive. FREE on request.

Andre Hair Coloring Specialist, 45 West 29th St., New York.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER
Fair Sunday; Monday, fair, colder; strong south, shifting to west winds.
For full weather report see Page 13.

VOL. LXIV...NO. 20,742. ... NEW YORK, SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1914.—84 PAGES, In Eight Parts, Includes Picture and Rotogravure Section and Review of Books. PRICE FIVE CENTS.

MEXICANS BATTLE NEAR VERA CRUZ

Three of Huerta's Former Generals Take Tehuacan from Carranza—200 Slain.

RUMORS DISTURB OFFICIALS

Gen. Funston Is Asked if There Are Any Signs of an Impending Attack on American Forces.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Ex-Federal soldiers who have been operating more than a month in the Mexican State of Puebla, between Vera Cruz and the Mexican capital, have captured the town of Tehuacan, State of Vera Cruz, in a battle in which 200 men were killed. The battle was fought between Carranza troops and the ex-Federals operating under the command of three former Huerta Generals, who are understood to have a working agreement with Gen. Francisco Villa.

These Generals are Higenio Aguilar, Benjamin Argumedo, and Almazan Ruiz. The official news of the battle was received late this afternoon by Acting Secretary of State Lansing in a dispatch from W. W. Canada, the American Consul at Vera Cruz, who said the battle was fought several days ago, but accounts of it were delayed in reaching Vera Cruz. No details were given. When this dispatch was received it was recalled in official circles that Gen. Funston on Sept. 26, in an official dispatch to the War Department, had furnished a line on the character of the movement led by Aguilar and Ruiz.

Higenio Aguilar, who figured in this battle, should not be confused with Gen. Candido Aguilar, the Carranza General at Tejeria, who has been delegated by Carranza to accept Vera Cruz whenever the American forces are ready to evacuate.

In his dispatch of Sept. 26 Gen. Funston described Higenio Aguilar and Benjamin Argumedo as "revolted ex-Federals" who had at that time destroyed telegraphic and railway communication between Vera Cruz and the Mexican capital. This destruction was accomplished by the ex-Federals at the same time that Villa executed his coup of seizing the Custom Houses and other Carranza offices in Northern Mexico. Gen. Funston estimated the force of Higenio Aguilav and Benjamin Argumedo as from 3,000 to 6,000 men, and said they probably would be joined by others from Cordova, Orizaba, and elsewhere as "agents of Villa have been here recently conferring with ex-Federal officers and furnishing them with funds."

At that time efforts were being made by the Aguilar-Argumedo forces to isolate Gen Jesus Carranza, brother of Provisional President Venustiano Carranza. Jesus Carranza had been sent to the southeastern part of Mexico with a large number of troops. This movement failed, and Gen. Jesus Carranza managed to bring most of his troops back to the Mexican capital by another route to strengthen the position of his brother.

Gen. Villa, according to official advices to the State Department, to-day from Consul Canova at Aguascalientes, is now at Aguascalientes in command of his forces. Villa, it is understood, is soon to lead his forces against Carranza, upon whom he has served notice that unless Carranza accepts the action of the convention by Nov. 10, armed force will be used against him and his followers.

Consul Canada today notified the State Department that the Aguascalientes Convention officially proclaimed Gen. Eulalio Gutierrez Provisional President of Mexico at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning and that he would take the oath of office on Nov. 10.

American Government officials manifested both interest and concern today over the reports from Mexico of anti-American demonstrations of one sort or another and intimations that the American forces under Gen. Funston at Vera Cruz would be attacked unless they evacuated that port in the immediate future. But this apprehension was based wholly on press dispatches from Mexico City and not on any official information received by the State, War, or Navy Departments. It was insisted by high officials that there was no official apprehension here based on known facts, because neither Gen. Funston nor any other American representative in Mexico had given any intimation that Vera Cruz might be attacked.

The reports which aroused the interest of the State, War, and Navy officials were the press dispatches printed in this morning's papers from Mexico City saying that Carranza had gone to Soledad, near Vera Cruz, and that men were busily engaged placarding Mexico City yesterday with broadsides in the form of a proclamation headed "Citizens, to Arms!" calling on Mexicans to drive the foreigner from their shores. Secretary Garrison said tonight that none of these things had been officially reported to the War Department.

On the basis of the newspaper publications the first thing Secretary Garrison did after reaching his desk this morning was to cable to Gen. Funston. The Secretary's dispatch said he presumed that Gen. Funston was hearing the same reports and rumors that had been telegraphed to this country and asked him for "any facts" he might have relative to any threatened attack. Up to a late hour nothing had been heard from Gen. Funston in response to Secretary Garrison's message and this convinced officials that Gen. Funston was without any corroborative evidence. Gary this week Gen. Funston cabled that there were reports reaching Vera Cruz of displays of anti-American sentiment in Mexico City, but since then he has sent no confirmation.

No arrangements have been made for the execution of President Wilson's order for the evacuation of Vera Cruz beyond working out the details and sending the transports to Vera Cruz. Army transports are now waiting at Vera Cruz, but the American forces will not be withdrawn until definite assurances have been given that the guarantees demanded by the United States respecting amnesty and against double taxation at Vera Cruz will be furnished in writing by the Mexican Central Government. With Carranza and Gutierrez each claiming to be Provisional President these guarantees would probably have to be given by both.

Rafael Zubaran Capmany, chief of the

Continued on Page 14.

PENNSYLVANIA SEES BUSINESS REVIVING

Some Towns Even Report Booms Amid a General Renewal of Prosperity.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—Reports from all over the State indicate an improved business sentiment. In Chester the American Steel Castings Company will resume full operations Monday. The Federal Steel Company started full time today. At Reading notices were posted in the Reading Railway Company's shops that, beginning next week, the shops would work fifty instead of forty hours a week. The Oley Steel Mills will resume Monday after a month's idleness.

Big Government orders given to the Bethlehem Steel Company, with many orders from the English and French Governments, have started the mills on full time and promise a boom all through the Winter. The company is adding a new plant to employ 500 more men. The Pullman Motor Car Company at York is operating under full time, with many extra employes. This concern has big orders for French delivery. From all over the State come similar reports of orders due to the European war.

From the Connellsville coke region comes the announcement tonight that the H. C. Frick Coal & Coke Company and the W. J. Dalney Company, the largest coking concerns in Western Pennsylvania, will fire in more than 21,000 ovens within the next two weeks. Thirty thousand ovens are now idle. It is expected that all will resume within a month. Thousands of men will get steady employment.

In the anthracite coal belt all the collieries are working overtime, with unlimited orders filed. Scranton reports the textile industries, particularly the silk mills, resuming full schedules. At Coatesville the Worth Brothers Tube Mills, one of the largest in the State, will resume Monday. Lukens Iron Mills are running at 50 per cent., and expect to resume full capacity shortly. Altoona, Harrisburg, Williamsport, Allentown, and Easton report business booms.

McGOVERN ASKS RECOUNT.

Governor of Wisconsin Asserts That Ballots Were Wrongfully Cast Out.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 7.—Gov. Francis E. McGovern began here today formal proceedings for a recount of the ballots cast in Milwaukee for United States Senator in Tuesday's election. The Governor, who was the Republican candidate, is 1,378 votes behind Paul O. Husting, Democrat, according to complete official returns from sixty-four counties in Wisconsin, and complete but unofficial returns from the seven remaining counties.

Gov. McGovern asserts that enough ballots to change the result probably were thrown out in Milwaukee and its suburbs by mistaken election officials, who thought they were defective. The demand for a recount of the Milwaukee ballots probably will be followed by a demand for recounts in other cities, it was stated today at Republican headquarters here.

Copies of the official demand for a recount, which it is necessary to serve on the other candidates on the ticket for United States Senator, were sent to Madison this afternoon for verification. They then will be served on the different candidates.

ANIMALS HUNGRY AT SEA.

Wireless Call for Food for Some Coming to the Brooklyn Zoo.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—Wild animals, starving and fighting in their cages on board the British steamship West Point, bound to this port from London, will be relieved by fresh meat which will be sent to them on a fast tug early Sunday morning.

A wireless received late today from the West Point said that the supply of food for the cargo of bears, deers, wolves, lions, monkeys, and other animals was exhausted several days ago and that the hungry animals were now fighting among themselves. The consignment of animals is the largest ever bound for this port. It is intended for the Brooklyn Zoological Gardens.

The relief of the hungry animals is a brand new use for the wireless. The message received today did not give the position of the West Point, but told of the plight the ship was in, and said that she expected to arrive at the Delaware Breakwater tonight. The West Point was due to arrive last Thursday, but it is believed that heavy weather delayed her.

GOELET'S HOME IN DANGER.

Forest Fires Nearing $1,000,000 Mansion at Glenmere Lake.

Special to The New York Times.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Fires which had been smoldering in the woods around the Glenmere Lake section during the past week broke out furiously on Wednesday and spread very rapidly. A large area has already been burned over. The fire is now nearing the new million-dollar home of Robert Goelet, which he built about a year ago for his wife. Shortly after its completion his wife left him.

A large force is out fighting the blaze, and it has been checked to some extent. The damage so far reaches $100,000, as near as can be estimated.

Special to The New York Times.

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 7.—Although admitting that the situation is still serious and will remain so until rain falls, State Forester Alfred Gaskill today asserted that the reports respecting the forest fires in North and South Jersey have been exaggerated. He said he could not yet estimate the damage or approximate the area covered by the flames.

Earth Shocks Felt in California.

CHICO, Cal., Nov. 7.—Two distinct earthquake shocks, fifteen seconds apart, were felt in the town of Vina, twenty miles north of here, last night, their general direction being from east to west. So far as known no damage was caused.

HAMILTON BROS.—Suppers in fine quality china, $2.50. 36-38 University Place, bet. 10th & 11th Sts.—Advt.

NEW LAMAR CHARGE NAMES LAUTERBACH

Lawyer Included in Indictment Served on "Wolf of Wall Street" in Court.

KEPT SECRET FOR A YEAR

Defendants Charged with Conspiracy Involving Impersonation of Officials—Lamar in Tombs.

David Lamar, the so-called Wolf of Wall Street, learned yesterday when he was arraigned before Judge Rudkin in the Federal District Court to plead to the two indictments found against him for impersonating an officer of the United States that there was a third indictment awaiting him. As his counsel were arguing that it was impossible to arrest him in this district, as he was out on bail granted by the United States Supreme Court, Marshal Henkel stepped up to him and served a warrant based upon an indictment for conspiracy, which had been returned against him on July 31, 1913, but had been kept sealed.

With him in this was named Edward Lauterbach, the lawyer, whose services were pressed upon Robert S. Lovett, Chairman of the Union Pacific; Lewis Cass Ledyard, Paul D. Cravath, and others by Lamar. According to his own admission, Lamar, while impersonating Congressman Palmer, had told the Union Pacific officials that Lauterbach was the best man to stave off a Government investigation of Union Pacific affairs. Not until yesterday was it known that for more than a year Mr. Lauterbach had been under indictment. District Attorney Marshall said that the lawyer would surrender tomorrow to plead to the conspiracy charge.

The effect of the new indictment was to knock from under Lamar's feet any chance of escaping from Marshal Henkel's custody on a technical point, and the only question left was how much bail would be exacted. Judge Rudkin fixed this at $30,000, and as Lamar was unable to get a bondsman he was locked up in the Tombs, where he must stay until this morning.

Prisoner Fashionably Dressed.

Lamar spent Friday night in a cell at the Greenwich Street Police Station, but he appeared in court yesterday well dressed in a black morning coat, with unusually long tails, and a large four-in-hand tie of dark green pattern bulging over his vest. He seemed perfectly at home, and lounged on the rail round the jury box or moved restlessly about the court room.

When he was asked to plead to the indictments charging him with impersonating Congressman A. Mitchel Palmer of Pennsylvania, Speaker Champ Clark, and Senator Stone in an attempt to defraud the United States Steel Corporation and the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., Louis B. Williams, who, with Henry J. Goldsmith, appeared as his counsel, objected, on the ground that he was not legally within the custody of the court.

He pointed out that Lamar had been admitted to bail by the United States Supreme Court, to which he had appealed in his fight against the removal proceedings started in the District of Columbia. As Mr. Williams concluded his argument, Marshal Henkel stepped forward and served the notice of the third indictment for conspiracy upon Lamar. The defendant was plainly disconcerted by this, but he recovered his composure quickly.

District Attorney Marshall in his argument began by reviewing the long fight which Lamar had waged against the indictments against him and contended that by returning here from Washington voluntarily he had brought the proceedings at Washington to an end. Lamar's action was in itself a waiver of the bond given on appeal, he asserted.

Judge Rudkin ruled that if Mr. Williams wished to test the right of the Government to arrest Lamar he could do so by habeas corpus proceedings. Lamar was then arraigned before Clerk Leary and entered a plea of not guilty, with the privilege of changing it on demurring within a week.

Held in Heavy Bail.

Then arose the question of bail. Assistant District Attorney Roger B. Wood thought that $50,000 would be a reasonable figure. Mr. Williams and Mr. Goldsmith opposed this. In Washington, they pointed out, $3,000 had been held to be sufficient.

"I suppose your Honor is aware," Mr. Marshall said, "that this man has a long, bad record. He has already deliberately forfeited a bail bond of $3,000. In another district he has been fighting this charge merely on a point of law—as to whether a Congressman is an officer of the Government or not; $50,000 is not an unheard-of amount of bail, and it would be ridiculous to admit him to a trifling amount."

Notwithstanding Mr. Williams's objections that only a few days ago very prominent men had been admitted to $5,000 bail in that very court, Judge Rudkin decided to fix the bail at $10,000 on each indictment, or $30,000 in all. As he is not a Judge of this district, he gave Lamar permission to apply to any of the local Judges to have this amount reduced.

With his counsel, Lamar sought out Judge Hand in his chambers, but his request for a reduction of bail was denied promptly. He was then led to Marshal Henkel's office, while his counsel began to scurry around to find bail. As he sat there he sent out for sandwiches for luncheon and told the reporters that he had come to New York fully prepared to be arrested as soon as he was discovered. He had been here three weeks he said.

J. Simons, one of Lamar's friends, came to the Federal Building to assist him in the search for bondsmen, but by 3 o'clock, the hour which Commissioner Houghton and Marshal Henkel had set as the latest at which bail would be accepted, the security had not been obtained. As he passed along the corridor with Marshal Henkel and a Deputy on the way to the Tombs, he seemed to take his fate with nonchalance, and he smilingly posed with the Marshal for the photographers for nearly five minutes. Then he walked up Park Row and Centre Street to the Tombs, where he was locked in a cell.

The conspiracy indictment which was served upon Lamar yesterday contained three counts. The first charged that Lamar had conversations by telephone with Lewis Cass Ledyard on Feb. 4 and Feb. 8, 1913 in furtherance of a conspiracy. The second charged that the conspiracy was formed on Jan. 1, 1913, when it was agreed that Lamar should represent himself as Congressman Palmer; and the third asserted that Edward Lauterbach held a conversation with Mr. Ledyard "against the peace of the United States and their dignity."

When Mr. Lauterbach was asked about the charge against him last night, he said:

"I only heard of the indictment today, and I have been out of the city for only one day since July, 1913. I suppose they wanted to prove a conspiracy, and had to get a co-conspirator, and so they picked on me. I am not conscious of ever conspiring, and can't discuss the charge now."

ITALY MOVES FOR BALKAN FEDERATION

Negotiating With Rumania for a New League of Neutral States.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

MILAN, Nov. 7, (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle.)—The Giornale d'Italia states that Prince Ghika, the Rumanian Minister to Italy, has been in Bucharest for the past fortnight on a special mission.

This is intended to remove the last remaining differences between Rumania and Italy, so as to prepare the way for Italy's mediation between Rumania and Bulgaria and the subsequent constitution of a federation of Balkan neutral States under the auspices of Italy.

AUSTRIANS IN GALICIA CUT OFF, ROME HEARS

Only Line of Retreat Is Through Carpathians, Which Are Impassable for Great Army.

ROME, Nov. 7.—A special dispatch to The Tribuna from Petrograd says:

"The Russians have cut off the Austrian Army from the Germans. The Austrians were encircled on their left flank and compelled to precipitately retreat, but Thursday the Russians, with a swift movement, occupied all the ways of retreat toward Cracow, and thus the entire Austrian Army was pushed toward the Carpathian Mountains, against which they are closely pressed.

"Their condition here is desperate, as their only line of retreat lies across the Carpathians into Hungary. But the Carpathians at this time of the year, and with the recent snowfalls, are almost impassable to a million and a half of men with provisions and munition trains and artillery.

"Petrograd is rejoicing over the present victory, which surpasses all former ones because of its decisive character. Great demonstrations have been held at which the army, Grand Duke Nicholas, the Commander in Chief, and Emperor Nicholas were cheered, and in all the churches services to celebrate the event also have taken place.

"Emperor Nicholas remains at the front."

MOLTKE'S FALL LAID TO COURT INTRIGUES

Crown Prince Blamed—Many Germans Fear Consequences of Chief's Removal.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 7, (Dispatch to The London Daily Standard.)—The dismissal of Gen. von Moltke, which is now officially announced, has produced a significant and far-reaching effect on Berlin. Nobody, of course, believes that Gen. von Moltke has left his post on account of ill health, as the authorities declare. Everybody knows, too, that there was a rupture between the Kaiser and von Moltke. Nevertheless, nobody believed that the Kaiser would decide at such a critical moment to dismiss the leader of the German General Staff.

Although the illness of Gen. von Moltke is not a myth, the true reasons for his dismissal were strifes, court intrigues and disputes, the desire of the Crown Prince to act entirely on his own initiative, and, finally, the autocratic ways of the Kaiser himself. Recent failures in the theatres of war also contributed in no small extent to the Kaiser's decision.

In Germany complications are foreseen with alarm as the result of Gen. von Moltke's being succeeded by Gen. von Falkenhayn. The appointment is regarded as manifesting the desire of the Kaiser to take into his own hands the complete control of all military operations. In military circles it is thought that, with the exception of the Kaiser's support, the new chief possesses no qualifications whatever. Neither has he sufficient authority or requisite military knowledge to be able to command the German Army successfully. Some people hold that the change in the General Staff may create the same unfavorable situation as in Austria, where similar changes had very serious consequences and were splendidly made use of by the enemy. It is openly maintained by competent men that Gen. von Falkenhayn will merely be a puppet of the Kaiser, and in no sense can be compared with Gen. Joffre.

DUTCH TROOPS ALLEGE GERMAN ATROCITIES

Protest to Kaiser's Minister, Threatening Revenge for Acts on Belgian Border.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

THE HAGUE, Nov. 7, (Dispatch to The London Standard.)—Mention has been made of the frequency with which the Dutch regiments on frontier duty have to be relieved in order to prevent them from coming to blows with the Germans. The German Minister at The Hague has just received an address from three Dutch battalions in Limberg, who ask him to inform the Kaiser that they can personally testify to atrocities committed by German troops on the Belgian frontier. The communication concludes with an expression of profound indignation at the sights witnessed, and warns the Minister that if by chance German troops should violate Dutch territory the Dutch would kill them to a man, if only to take some small revenge for what the heroic Belgians had to suffer.

The Minister has communicated all this to the Dutch Government, and made a formal demand that the affair be inquired into and the soldiers punished for what he terms "their insulting and lying communication."

ALLIES CHECK NEW GERMAN ATTACK; BRITISH SEIZE FAO, A TURKISH PORT; JAPANESE FLEET CLOSE TO GERMANS

BATTLE NEAR IN PACIFIC

Tokio Hears Japan's Fleet Is About to Engage Germans.

PERU GETS RUMOR OF FIGHT

But Valparaiso Denies Capture of the Cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau.

VAIN SEARCH FOR GLASGOW

Freighter Arriving at San Francisco Confirms Reinforcement of Allies in the Pacific.

TOKIO, Sunday, Nov. 8, 9:30 A. M.—A well authenticated report is in circulation here to the effect that the Japanese Admiralty has received information that a battle in the Pacific between the Japanese and German fleets is impending.

No indication has been given as to the present whereabouts of either the Japanese or the German men of war.

Report Germans Captured.

LIMA, Peru, Nov. 7.—It is reported here that a Japanese squadron, cruising along the coast of Peru, has captured the German cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau.

These are the cruisers which led the German fleet in the fight with the British squadron off the coast of Chile last Sunday night, in which the British flagship Good Hope and the cruiser Monmouth were reported to have been sunk.

Four warships were reported to have passed Callao, Peru, southbound, yesterday.

They kept far out from the coast and their nationality could not be made out.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LIMA, Peru, Nov. 7.—The renewal of Japanese steamship sailings from Callao for Yokohama yesterday apparently confirmed the presence of a Japanese fleet in these waters.

Discredited at Valparaiso.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

VALPARAISO, Chile, Nov. 7.—The reported capture of the German cruisers Gneisenau and Scharnhorst, as advised from Tokio, is generally disbelieved here because the Japanese squadron, whose approach was reported from Easter Island, was only today sighted off Callao, Peru.

The Chilean transport Maipo and a scout were sent to Santa Maria Island by the Chilean authorities and searched the coast at Punta Carranza, where it was rumored that the British cruiser Glasgow stranded. No sign of the vessel was found. The English cruisers, Defense and Canopus, are likewise searching these waters for the missing ships.

The Chilean transport Rancagua passed from Carranza to Mocha Island without getting any trace of the Glasgow. The English authorities hired two steamers under Red Cross colors, sending them out equipped as hospital ships, but without result. No wreckage or other signs of any of the vessels has been found, probably owing to the fact that the battle took place too far from the coast.

The rumor to the effect that the Monmouth is still afloat although on fire is baseless. It would be impossible to confuse her with the Good Hope, because she had three funnels and the Good Hope four.

Saw the Monmouth Sink.

The first version of the sea fight of last Sunday was based on statements made by Admiral von Spee, who arrived here on Tuesday, and was confirmed with more details through Chilean naval officers. whose interviews with the Admiral were published by El Mercurio. The Monmouth undoubtedly was sunk, for she was seen capsizing, while the Good Hope was badly damaged and was set afire through an explosion. Her fate remained unknown to the Germans, who saw her flee with the Glasgow. The British Admiralty's statement is probably due to the Glasgow's wireless messages. It is sup-

Continued on Page 2.

LEGITIMATE PUBLICITY planned, directed, and executed; best business references given; only highest class business desired. Address Confidential, T. 48 Times.—Advt.

Summary of War News.

The British Admiralty announces the occupation of Fao, an Asiatic seaport, by a military force from India and a naval detachment from the sloop Odin, after silencing the Turkish guns.

An unofficial report from Athens states that the Dardanelles forts have been smashed by the bombardment of the allied fleet.

The Japanese announce that their Pacific squadron is pursuing the German cruisers which, on last Sunday, defeated the British cruisers off the coast of Chile. Reports of the capture of the German cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau, off the Peruvian coast, are not credited.

The French War Office announces that the Germans resumed their furious attacks along the whole battle front yesterday, but were repulsed everywhere. Trenches which were taken by the Germans several days ago were again in the possession of the Allies after the day's fighting, and progress was made at several points, especially along the heights of the Meuse.

The Germans report that their attack is progressing favorably, especially southwest of Ypres, where 1,000 French soldiers and three machine guns have been captured. The evacuation of Soupir and the western part of Sapigneul, on the centre, are admitted, while other French attacks are said to have been repulsed.

The Russians report that their offensive on the East Prussian front is developing and the Germans are being dislodged from their intrenched positions. Minor engagements are said to have occurred along the Warthe. In Galicia, the Austrians are said to be in full retreat, leaving behind them their wounded and field pieces.

The Germans report that three Russian divisions which crossed the River Warthe have been defeated and pushed back across the stream.

GERMANS BLEW UP TSING-TAU FORTS

Town Was in Ruins When the Allied Forces Entered.

JAPAN TO ADMINISTER IT

Will Hold Kiao-Chau While the War Lasts—Warships Now Free to Chase Germans.

TOKIO, Nov. 7.—The formal capitulation of the garrison of Tsing-tau took place late this afternoon in the Moltke Barracks.

After desperate assaults, in which the Japanese are said to have rivaled the bravery of their forces at Port Arthur, in the face of a heroic resistance by the Germans, at 9:20 o'clock this morning Gov. Meyer-Waldeck hoisted white flags on the forts and sent an officer with a flag of truce to the Anglo-Japanese lines. Then the conference was arranged which a few hours later resulted in the giving up of Germany's Chinese possessions.

The Japanese officers pay unstinted tribute to the bravery of the Germans, who fought tenaciously to the last. Unofficial reports say that the Germans blew up what was left of their forts before surrendering, and that practically the whole town is in ruins. A Japanese torpedo boat flotilla that entered the bay found that nearly all the ships had been destroyed.

An official estimate places the number of Japanese killed in the final assault last night at thirty-six, with 182 wounded. The British took an important part in the victory, and two British officers were wounded. No statement of the German casualties is available, but it is believed that they were heavy.

Japan to Administer Tsing-tau.

Vice Minister of the Navy Suzuki, speaking today of the future of Tsing-tau, said:

"While the European war continues Tsing-tau will be administered by Japan. At the conclusion of the war Japan will open negotiations with China."

The Minister of War says that the lessons learned from the siege were, first, the destructiveness of the new heavy guns that the Japanese used for the first time, and, second, the effectiveness of the aeroplane observation service, whereby the methods of the defense were discovered.

The prisoners, who number, it is said, between 6,000 and 8,000, will be brought to Japan.

The official version of the Anglo-Japanese victory, issued by the Japanese War Office tonight, follows:

"A general bombardment on Oct. 31 permitted the occupation on Nov. 1 of the first attacking position—36.5 meter hill, 3,000 feet south of our previous position and bounded by the Shi-ho and the Shunkas-ho. We intrenched and prepared for a further advance, and on Nov. 4 made progress to a second position at Pompuga, on the Fusaus-ho, where we met a galling fire, yet never flinched. The heavy artillery moved closer and co-operated with and protected the infantry.

"On the night of Nov. 6 we occupied the third and final attacking position in front of the entanglements that screened the forts. Gen. Yoshimi Yamada's command advanced from the centre and forced its way through three heavily wired defenses, crossed the intervening ditches, and, charging courageously, captured the centre fort. This helped Gen. Horiuchi to occupy the northerly fort.

British In the Final Assault.

"The right wing, under Gen. Yoffoyi, and the British right centre, led by Lieut. Col. Barnardiston, jointly charged, and early on Nov. 7 completely occupied Forts Iltis, Moltke, and Bismarck, forcing the enemy to fly flags of surrender."

Additional details of the fighting are given in the reports sent to the Gov-

Continued on Page 2.

BRITISH CAPTURE PORT OF FAO

Detachment from India Landed After Warship Silences Turkish Guns.

DARDANELLES FORTS RUINED

American Captain's Report—Russians Bombard Turkish Black Sea Ports.

LONDON, Sunday, Nov. 8.—The Admiralty announces the occupation of Fao, a port of Asiatic Turkey at the mouth of the River Shat-el-Arab on the Persian Gulf.

A military force from India, covered by the sloop Odin, landed a naval detachment after the Turkish guns had been silenced, according to the announcement. There were no British casualties.

Fao is the terminus of the submarine telegraph line to India.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ATHENS, Friday, Nov. 6, (Dispatch to The London Daily Mail.)—An American ship which lay within the entrance of the Dardanelles reported, on departing, to the British Admiral that the forts on either side had been completely demolished by the British bombardment.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROME, Nov. 7.—A dispatch from Constantinople states that the Turkish fleet is bottled up between the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus in the Sea of Marmora.

It is added that the effect of the bombardment of the Dardanelles forts must have been serious, since the German commanders of the forts at the entrance of the Dardanelles have asked for over 1,000 workmen to repair the damage.

Russians Bombard Ports.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam gives the following statement from Turkish army headquarters, received from Constantinople by way of Berlin:

"The Russian army showed no activity on Friday."

"This morning the Russian fleet bombarded the Black Sea ports of Zunguldiak and Kuzlu for two hours.

"At Kuzlu the Greek steamer Nikoa was sunk. At Zunguldiak the French Church and the French Consulate were destroyed."

Another report from Turkish army headquarters in Constantinople was received here tonight from Berlin by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company. It says:

"On the eastern frontier our troops are in touch with the enemy along the entire front.

"In the Roads of Smyrna three large English ships and several English and French steamers have been seized."

In a dispatch from Athens dated Nov. 6, the correspondent there of the Exchange Telegraph Company says the authorities of Smyrna have confiscated all the British, French, Belgian, and Russian steamers lying in the port.

The public Treasury has been transferred from Smyrna to the interior, the correspondent continues. The transmission of cipher telegrams between neutral Consulates and legations has been forbidden by the Porte.

Turkish Fleet Fears to Fight.

ROME, Nov. 7.—According to a telegram from Odessa, the Russians consider themselves absolute masters of the Black Sea.

The Turkish fleet, it is stated, has retired behind the Bosporus, and does not seem disposed to come out.

Dispatches from Constantinople describe the situation there as outwardly much as it was during the Balkan war. Foreigners, except Germans, are re-

Continued on Page 2.

BATTLE FROM SEA TO ALSACE

Assaults All Along the Line Are Repulsed According to Paris.

ALLIES GAIN IN THE CENTRE

Recapture Lost Trenches Near Vailly and Take St. Remi by Bayonet Charge.

BIG GUNS REACH OSTEND

Germans Set Them Up Facing the Sea—Big Troop Movements Toward Ypres.

PARIS, Nov. 7, 10:45 P. M.—The French official communication, issued tonight, says:

Today the activity of the Germans has been general on the whole front, but all their attacks have been repulsed, notably those which they directed on Cambrin, Aix-Noulette, and La Quesnoy-en-Santerre.

We have taken a few trenches in the region of Thiepval, at the north of Albert, re-occupied our former trenches at the northeast of Vailly, and taken at the point of the bayonet the village of St. Remi on the heights of the Meuse.

The official bulletin, given out in the afternoon, said:

On our left wing the situation is relatively quiet on the Yser downstream from Dixmude. The Belgian troops, which advanced along the right bank of the Yser from Nieuport in the direction of Lombaertsyde and had been counter-attacked by the Germans, were sustained in time. The situation has been entirely re-established in this locality.

At Dixmude the Marine Fusiliers repulsed a fresh counter-offensive movement. Further to the south the attacks of the enemy around Bixshote also were repulsed by French troops, who subsequently advanced.

To the east of Ypres the situation is without change. To the southeast of this town we have resumed the offensive in combination with the British troops operating in this region, and repulsed an attack, particularly violent and pronounced, by detachments belonging to the active army corps recently brought into this region by the Germans.

Between Armentières and the canal of La Bassée the British army, on its side, repulsed a violent attack on Neuve Chapelle.

Between the canal of La Bassée and Arras, as well as between Arras and the Oise, several counter-attacks, delivered by night and by day, have been checked. We even made some slight progress in the region of Vermelles and to the south of Aix-Noulette.

On the centre, in the region of Vailly, we continued during the day of yesterday to recapture ground previously lost by us.

In the Argonne fresh attacks on the part of the enemy were repulsed, and at the end of the day our troops made progress at several points.

To the northeast of Verdun we have taken possession of the villages of Maucourt and Mogeville.

In the wooded region along the heights of the Meuse, southeast of Verdun and in the Forest of Aprêmont, southeast of St. Mihiel, the offensive movements of the enemy failed. Some trenches in the vicinity of St. Remi were carried by our troops.

On our right wing the attacks of the Germans on the advanced positions of the Grande Couronne of Nancy resulted in perceptible losses for the enemy. A surprise attack, undertaken by the enemy against the heights which dominate Mount Ste. Marie, resulted in complete failure.

Belgians See Signs of Retreat.

HAVRE, Nov. 7.—This Belgian official bulletin was given out here today:

The situation on the Yser shows no change. The enemy has posts on the left bank of the river, but has contented himself with a feeble artillery fire directed against the roads in the environs of Ramscapelle.

The defeats in Russian Poland seem to have resulted in the retreat of portions of the enemy's troops in Belgium.

There has been reported particularly, in this connection, the departure toward the east of 8 divition of 5,000 men, who have been seen marching from Bruges toward Ghent. Furthermore, five troop trains left Brussels recently going in the direction of Louvain.

Favorable Report from Berlin.

BERLIN, (via London,) Nov. 7.—The following bulletin was issued from army headquarters:

Our attacks in the direction of Ypres yesterday progressed favorably, especially southwest of Ypres. Over 1,000 French soldiers and three machine guns were captured.

The French attacks, west of Noyon, Vailly, and Chavonne, were repulsed with severe losses to the enemy.

The village of Soupir, which had been defended by a small German force, and the western part of Sapigneul, which was heavily bombarded by French artillery, were evacuated by us.

French attacks near Servon were repulsed, and in the Argonne the French were forced back.

MOUNT BIG GUNS AT OSTEND.

Krupp Engineers Place Them So as to Command the Sea.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Engineers from the Krupp gun works are mounting heavy guns at Ostend and facing them seaward, according to a dispatch from Rotterdam to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

A Daily Mail correspondent in Northern France, writing under date of Friday says:

"The big contest for Ypres, which raged all last Sunday, culminated Monday afternoon in a supreme effort. The Germans advanced all along the line after a terrific cannonading of the British position, but the entrenched British soldiers had not been shaken, and as the German infantry approached they met them with volley after volley of rifle fire.

"The Germans staggered forward, falling by dozens under the withering hail of bullets. They held on bravely for ninety minutes, determined to win through, if at all possible. Then finding all attempts vain they withdrew under cover of darkness, leaving thousands of their wounded behind on the field.

"Now that the Germans are short of uniforms, it is becoming a common practice for them to strip the wounded of every scrap of military clothing. Great numbers have died of exposure from this cause.

"Though railway communication with Lille has not been re-established, the Germans evacuated the city five days ago. Wells and cisterns were full of dead bodies, and there was not a drop of water fit to drink. Rigorous sanitation will precede the granting of permission to the inhabitants to return to their homes."

The Reuter correspondent at Amsterdam says that the German authorities at Bruges have placed a proclamation on the front of the Town Hall, stating that the German army has evacuated its positions on the Yser in order to open a strong attack on Ypres, where the troops are slowly progressing.

At Gits, Roulers, Litchervelde, and Theurout, as well as in other villages to the east of the fighting line, great movements of German troops can be observed. Exhausted soldiers are returning from the battlefields, while reinforcements of fresh men are advancing in the direction of Ypres and Dixmude.

The fighting between these two cities is still extremely severe and both sides appear to have suffered terrible loss. Long columns of cars, filled with the wounded, are arriving at Bruges from Roulers, Ypres, and Ingelmunster.

AIMING FOR BOULOGNE NOW.

New German Troops Trying the Ypres-Arras Line.

PARIS, Nov. 7.—Paris is watching with interest the progress of the battle in the north. Having been driven by gunfire and by flood from the road to Dunkirk, the Germans appear to be concentrating all their energies on the Ypres-Arras line, with the object of reaching Boulogne through the Valley of the Canche River, Department of Pas-de-Calais.

In the region between Roulers and the Lys and around Ypres the Allies now hold the advantage, on their centre and right wing. The Germans' extreme positions are at Wytschaete and Messines, facing west.

Running from Kemmel toward the Lys, the hills rise to a height of 400 feet above sea level and dominating positions near Kemmel are in the hands of the Allies. The Valley of the Lys, through which the Germans are advancing, is only fifty feet above sea level so that the Allies have the benefit of stronger ground.

Three newly formed army corps—the Eighteenth, from Frankfort; the Eighth, from Coblenz, and the Tenth, from Hanover—have been brought up to stiffen the German troops, who are exhausted after nine days of ceaseless fighting. These troops are being massed around Arras, behind strong positions established at Beauvais, Tilloy, and St. Laurent de Blapsy.

Preparatory cannonading has become intense in the last two days, according to a resident of the district, just arrived in Paris, and attacks by infantry have been made, apparently with the object of testing the French strength. It was remarked that the Germans seemed to be abandoning the method of advancing in mass, and had tried attacking in open order, making use of all available cover, moving forward by short spurts and throwing themselves down when the French quickfirers opened on them. The result, it is said, has been no better, as the men seem to lack initiative required to make this method effective.

At times shells have fallen into Arras at the rate of 82 to the minute, but the French lines are established skilfully, making every possible use of the hills on the west and the small rivers Crinchon and Scarpe, which flow near-by, so that the Germans have failed to make any impression on them. French artillery from well-chosen positions sweep the plain over which the Germans are obliged to advance, inflicting severe punishment.

The country between Arras and Boulogne is well wooded and hilly, lending itself admirably to offensive fighting, and every preparation has been made to utilize it for it is realized that the Germans will make an even greater effort, if possible, than before.

The army, formerly commanded by the German Crown Prince east of the Argonne region, has resumed its attempt to force a passage across the forest to join the army on the other side. The French, however, retain command of the only roads across this difficult region, and all attacks, though made with great determination, have failed to shake the French positions.

During the action against the positions on the Grand Crown of Nancy, according to a semi-official announcement issued today, one German battalion left 900 dead on the battlefield.

Many prisoners were taken yesterday along the whole front, in some instances entire units being captured. In the district of Lens, where a thick fog prevailed, two German detachments took the opportunity to surrender voluntarily. One included an officer, three non-commissioned officers, and fifty men. The Germans, the communiqué says, were weary of the hardships and fatigues imposed upon them.

One of the latest of the German ruses is to disguise themselves as women, according to semi-official information given out today.

In this garb German soldiers recently went out to gather potatoes in a field near Benones. In the neighborhood of Frois Maisons a German convoy was observed apparently escorted by a group of women.

In both cases the fraud was discovered by the French troops, who opened fire. The disguised soldiers ran, and under their skirts appeared the boots of cavalrymen.

KAISER IS DISSATISFIED.

Travels Constantly Behind Flanders Lines, Keeping His Route Hidden.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—An Express correspondent on the Belgian frontier telegraphs, under date of Friday:

"The Kaiser himself is close to the front in Flanders, making efforts to inspire his troops to gain Calais.

"Despite the nearly successful bomb attack on him at Thielt Sunday, the Kaiser continues to drive daily through the territory behind the Bruges and Courtrai roads. His route is always kept secret, and he uses a new car of different appearance each time, in order to prevent a description from reaching the Allies.

"Daily he singles out certain soldiers for acts of exceptional bravery and personally gives them the Iron Cross. He visits the field hospitals and talks to the wounded, invariably saying:

"'Good day, comrade. The Kaiser wishes you a speedy recovery.'

"The Kaiser dined with the staff at Ghent yesterday, and returned to the staff headquarters thoroughly dissatisfied with the result of the past few days of the campaign.

"A part yof refugees saw the Kaiser in an automobile yesterday. One of them said:

"The Kaiser sat on the rear seat with the Duke of Wirttemburg. The front seat was occupied by infantrymen, while a pilot car, filled with soldiers, went in front. The Kaiser's extreme pallor and rigidity of features were very marked. He sat like a statue, wrapped in a gray coat, and listened to the report of a passing officer. At the end he saluted, but without a smile, and then nodded silently to the soldier-chauffeur to go ahead."

SAXON CROWN PRINCE OUT.

Forced by Wound to Give Up Further Participation in Campaign.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Owing to a serious wound in the leg, received in action on the battlefield in France, Crown Prince George of Saxony has arrived at the Royal Castle at Dresden, and will take no further part in the campaign, says a dispatch from The Hague to the Exchange Telegraph Company.

Crown Prince George of Saxony is twenty-one years of age, and a Lieutenant in the First Regiment of Grenadiers. The Iron Cross was awarded him on Sept. 20, for bravery on the field of action.

TYPHUS IN GERMAN RANKS.

Confinement in Trenches Also Developing Dysentery and Pneumonia.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 6, (Dispatch to The London Standard.)—It is established that owing to the constant sojourn of German soldiers in the trenches and the inadequacy of food typhus is developing in the ranks.

Many instances have already been recorded of soldiers being taken ill with dysentery and pneumonia.

RUSH BOYS TO BATTLE FRONT.

Germans' Latest Reinforcements Are Only 17 to 20 Years of Age.

ROSENDAAL, Holland, Nov. 7.—A Belgians who under cover of darkness managed to cross the frontier at an unguarded point and reach this city says that Antwerp and other Belgian towns are very lightly guarded.

Every available German soldier, he says, has apparently been called to the front. Ghent, Bruges, Antwerp, Brussels, and Louvain are rapidly filling up with an ever-increasing number of wounded soldiers. No civilian is allowed near the railway stations, but the age of most of the men, who are transported in litters, indicates that they are members of the older Landsturm. On the other hand, trains arriving from Germany, en route to the front, are filled with boys 17 to 20 years old, who, having volunteered at the beginning of the war, are now sufficiently trained to enter the combat.

No correspondent, if known, is allowed near the front, but the gist of opinion of several Dutch correspondents, who, because they are able to speak Flemish and behave like citizens, frequently manage to reach villages on the front, is that the Germans are slowly but surely retreating.

They base their opinion on the fact that the German Division Staff last Monday moved from Thielt to Ghent, thirty-three kilometers to the east, and that the line from Ghent and Alost to Brussels was being heavily intrenched until Wednesday, when the engineers in charge were hastily called to the front to fill vacancies.

It is clear, according to these correspondents, that the Germans have been concentrating large forces, drawn from the southeastern battle line, upon the front near Nieuport and Dixmude.

WAR FACTS IN COW PICTURES.

German Drawings Said by French to Contain Scouts' Information.

PARIS, Nov. 7.—Crude drawings of cows of varying proportions, some in attitudes of defense, belligerency or alarm, and others in grazing positions, were noticed by French officers during the early days of the campaign on the Aisne.

The sketches were at first regarded as the simple efforts of school children, but the frequency with which this subject appeared on walls, buildings, bridges, and in every available place in the departments of Oise and Somme puzzled French officers, who conducted a thorough investigation. They are now convinced that the system was used by German scouts to direct the armies that were to follow.

There was a great variety in the sizes of the drawings and in the positions of the heads and other particulars. By comparing notes and dates, it was discovered that these crude pictures had a very intimate relation with passing events. Certain pictures coincided in every case with the same developments in the military operations and, continuing their researches, they discovered that a perfect system of communication had been organized, similar to the system often employed by gypsies and tramps for indicating information to those of their confreres that come after.

The position of the animal's head was made to indicate the direction in which the French troops were to be found and the size of the animal indicated the importance of the forces. A very small cow meant that the route was not very strongly guarded; a cow in a natural position of defense indicated fortifications in the neighborhood and the size of the animal indicated the strength of the fortifications and the pose of the head its exact location.

A cow which had its head raised on high indicated that prudence was necessary in exploring the neighborhood before venturing farther.

BOMB KILLS A BARONESS.

Airman's Missile Ends Life of German Noblewoman, Acting as Nurse.

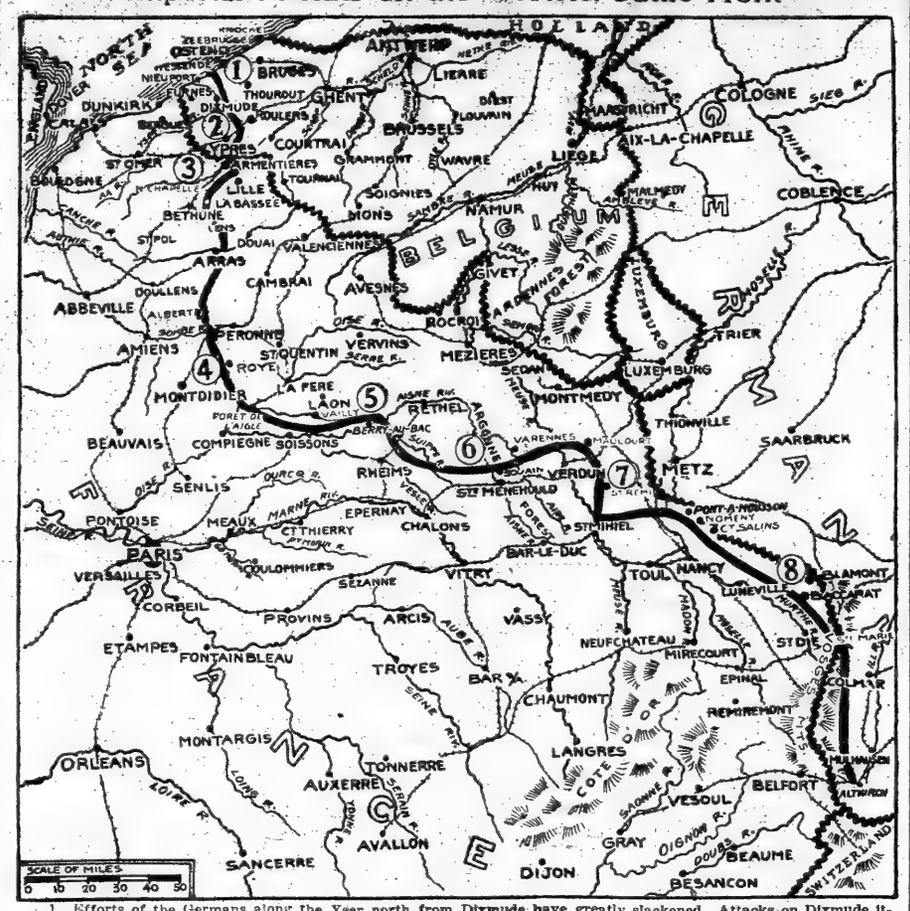
DRESDEN, via Rome, Sunday, Nov. 8.—The first German woman reported to have lost her life, while serving in the present war was Baroness Margarethe von Falkenhausen.

She was killed by a bomb, dropped from an aeroplane, while acting as a nurse, in a hospital at Sissonne, France.

Bond Issue for Paris.

PARIS, Nov. 7.—The French Government has authorized the City of Paris to issue bonds to the amount of 120,000,000 francs ($24,000,000), redeemable in a year. The bonds will bear interest not to exceed 6 per cent.

Important Points on the Western Battle Front



1. Efforts of the Germans along the Yser north from Dixmude have greatly slackened. Attacks on Dixmude itself and on Bixschoote to the south are reported repulsed.
2. The French official report says that French and British troops have resumed the offensive southeast of Ypres, beating back some of the Kaiser's fresh forces. Berlin, on the other hand, says that their attacks are progressing, and that they have taken 1,000 French prisoners.
3. The British are heavily engaged south of Armentières, according to Paris. A violent German assault at Neuve Chapelle failed, it is said. A very severe attack at Cambrin, southeast of La Bassée, was also repulsed.
4. There has been fighting at several points between Arras and the Oise. Paris chronicles the taking of some trenches near Albert.
5. The Allies, according to the French official report, have re-occupied the trenches they lost northeast of Vailly. Berlin admits that the Germans have evacuated Soupir, close to Vailly, also Sapigneul, further east, near Berry-au-Bac.
6. The French say they have made progress at several points in the Argonne after meeting German attacks with success.
7. Mancourt and Nogeville, two villages northeast of Verdun, and close together, have been occupied by the French troops, according to Paris. The village of St. Remi has been taken at the point of the bayonet.
8. Advanced positions of the Grande Couronne de Nancy have been under fire, but Paris reports that the Germans have been forced back.

ROULERS IS A WRECK FROM FIRE AND SHELLS

Germans Said to Have Burned Part of Town in Retaliation and Shot 43 Citizens.

ROULERS, Belgium, Nov. 7, (via London.)—This city, which is the headquarters of the German Staff during the attack on Ypres, has suffered terribly. It has been bombarded twice and was partly destroyed by an incendiary fire after the Germans had accused citizens of shooting at German soldiers and in retaliation had burned down a large section of the districts occupied by the working classes. The Belgians, however, contend that French cavalry were responsible for the shooting and deny any participation by Belgian citizens.

It is impossible to determine the truth of these accusations and counter charges, but it is commonly reported that up to the present time forty-three citizens have been shot by the Germans, while a fine of 100,000 francs ($20,000) was levied upon the town. Later this fine was doubled, and the money to pay it was collected by the daughters of some prominent citizens, who, in a house-to-house canvass, were able to raise the amount in cash.

The city is now under strict military law, and the Mayor and six leading citizens are obliged to reside in the Town Hall as hostages.

Since Wednesday no one has been allowed to leave the northern part of Belgium. Although the Dutch Government continues to keep the frontier open to all refugees, the German military authorities will not issue passports to allow persons to leave the occupied territory.

THE KROONLAND RELEASED.

On Her Way to Naples — Cargo Held for Prize Court.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The steamer Kroonland of the Red Star Line, which was detained at Gibraltar, has been released and presumably is en route to Naples with her passengers and such of her cargo as was not challenged by the British naval authorities. This action, however, meets only half the American representations urging that the steamer and cargo be released at once.

The copper and rubber in the cargo were taken off the steamer at Gibraltar, where they will be sent before a prize court for a decision as to their ultimate destination. The shippers of the copper and rubber will have an opportunity to defend their shipments before this court. American Consul Sprague will see that they are properly represented, but it is understood that the United States Government will not intervene in the case before the trial court.

If the American shippers are willing to sell the copper and rubber to the British Government, that Government is ready to pay their value rather than run the risk of the shipments entering Germany.

Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British Ambassador, tonight issued a statement, based on instructions from his Government, concerning the British attitude toward shipments of copper, rubber, and other contraband goods through Italian ports. This statement is practically the same as the one given out in London yesterday, printed in THE NEW YORK TIMES today. It supports the contention that the British Government has conclusive proof that large shipments of copper have been passing through Italy into Germany.

The British Ambassador's statement says that large consignments of copper are to be shipped through Italian ports to the order of such institutions as the Banca Commerciale, a banking concern largely controlled by German capital.

REVOLUTION IN ANGOLA.

Berlin Reports German Emissaries Successful in Portuguese Colony.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—A dispatch received by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company from Berlin says:

"The Reichstag will assemble on Dec. 2. A preliminary conference of members of all the political parties will be held the day before the opening of the session to consider the business to be put before the body.

"It is reported that the revolution kindled by German emissaries in the Portuguese colony of Angola, West Africa, is spreading. The colony's troops are insufficient to defend the southern frontier against German attacks, and a brigade of troops is being sent from Portugal."

GERMANS BLEW UP TSING-TAU FORTS

Continued from Page 1.

ernment by Vice Admiral Sadakichi Kato, the commander of the Japanese naval forces, and Lieut. Gen. Kamio, commander of the troops operating in Kiao-Chau.

After the capture of the central fort, it appears from their statements, the left wing of the attacking forces advanced and occupied Chanshan at 5:10 o'clock yesterday morning. Chanshan was the base of the right wing of the German line and is a triangular fortification. Then the other forces at the point of the bayonet captured the forts of the first line, including the intricate and dangerous defense works connecting them. Other forces advanced in rushes on the main line of defenses made up of the forts of Iltis, Bismarck, and Moltke.

"Suddenly," says the report, "the flag of surrender ran up in the morning breeze on the Weather Bureau Mount, towering above the sea and land."

In the last two days of the fighting the warships continually rained shells on the forts and the city from the east and south, inflicting great damage and havoc. Taisichen Fort, the official accounts say, seemed to explode.

Crowds collected everywhere here today, and many processions were formed, the enthusiastic people dragging about with them floats decorated with flowers as a symbol of victory. Japanese and British flags are floating everywhere throughout the city.

Exchange Congratulations.

LONDON, Sunday, Nov. 8.—The following telegrams of felicitation have been exchanged between the British Board of Admiralty and the Japanese Minister of Marine:

"The Board of Admiralty send its heartiest congratulations to the gallant army and navy of Japan on the prosperous and brilliant issue of the operations which resulted in the fall of Tsing-tau."

The Japanese Minister of Marine replied to this:

"I fully share with you in felicitations on the fall of Tsing-tau. It affords me great pleasure to assure you that the outcome of the efforts of the navy of our ally in co-operation with ours during the investment of Tsing-tau was splendid."

Ships Released to Pursue Germans.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Official dispatches telling of the fall of Tsing-tau were received today at the Japanese Embassy and interpreted as signaling the beginning of an offensive naval campaign in the Pacific. Three squadrons of warships which have been occupied in blockading Kiao-Chau will now be released, it is said, to hunt down the German ships in the Pacific.

It was stated at the embassy that in all probability a joint occupation of British and Japanese forces would take place at Tsing-tau immediately.

REJOICING IN LONDON.

Belief That Tsing-Tau Blockading Force Will Hunt German Cruisers.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The fall of Tsing-tau naturally caused rejoicing here. It is believed that with the surrender of the German fortress the Anglo-Japanese fleet which took part in the siege will be detailed to hunt down the German cruisers still at large in the Pacific.

No announcement has been made concerning the amount of booty the Allies obtained through the surrender of Tsing-tau, but it is believed that the Germans destroyed everything possible before capitulating. When the siege began in the port were one German cruiser, four gunboats, and three destroyers, the Austrian cruiser Kaiserin Elizabeth, five German merchantmen, and several prizes the Germans had taken. Of these vessels one destroyer ran ashore and was captured, and it is believed the Austrian cruiser was blown up. It is possible that the German ships met a similar fate.

TO LESSEN LOSS OF OFFICERS.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 7, (Dispatch to The London Standard.)—With a view to decreasing the loss of officers in the German Army, all their conspicuous emblems are being removed.

Their silver badges have been replaced by leather straps, and in battle they carry rifles, no longer pistols and swords.

ADVERTISEMENT.

TWO TOP FLOOR APARTMENTS FOR RENT

Seven and Eight Rooms and Bath. One has windows in every room. Rents $35 and $38. Also second floor apartment, seven rooms and bath, splendid light, $45. Steam heat, hot water—always. Owners supervision. Call and see.

238 W. 113 St. Near Subway. El. Cars.

TOO FEW HOUSES FOR GERMAN WOUNDED

Too Many Buildings Destroyed —General Staff Sees Need of Recovered Men to Fill Ranks.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 7, (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle.)—By the frontal attacks in mass which the Germans are compelled to make and the consequent flood of wounded that flows back upon them after every such effort, their task in the centre and east of Belgium becomes hourly more and more difficult. They are even now in almost desperate stralia in regard to both accommodations for the wounded and provisions for medical service.

It is suggested that the wounded Germans' value is recognized by officers to have risen many degrees during the last few weeks. The massed attacks have failed and it is beginning to be realized by the German chiefs that the supply of men is not unlimited. Hence, it becomes more urgent than ever that the German armies will have to draw largely on the recovered cases for filling up the gaps made by the fire of the Allies. It is a callous view, but I am told that it is the view held in the circle of the German General Staff.

Regrets have been expressed by the same staff that such a clean sweep of buildings was made on the line of the German advance. It is a fact that they have not left half enough buildings standing to accommodate their own wounded. They have made Louvain the centre for a vast crowd of these.

So many thousands of the wounded, says one who has visited the district, have been taken there that every building left standing has long since been filled, and there is the direst need for more nurses, doctors, and medical supplies of all sorts.

It was noted by this eye-witness that wounded officers were usually carried to points much nearer the fatherland than was the case with the men.

In order to keep the lines clear for this traffic engineers are at work erecting temporary bridges where the permanent structures have been destroyed.

One can see more clearly than ever that the Germans never dreamed of the possibility of having to retrace their steps. They imagined that next year or the year after would be soon enough to set about bridge-building in Belgium.

Though no news of fighting is allowed to reach the Louvain district, the people who remain there find all the news they want in the sight of the trainloads of wounded incessantly arriving, and in the sight of new troops being hurried forward.

On Sunday twelve trains passed westward through Louvain. Eleven were filled with soldiers and one was loaded with guns and ammunition.

Last Saturday a Zeppelin sailed over Aerschot, north of Louvain, and scattered leaflets over the land. In these it was stated that Turkey had thrown in her lot with Germany and that the Turks had already seized hundreds of Russians and put them into prison. This rapid issue of German news suggests a little intelligent anticipation. One wonders how long those leaflets had been printed and how long the distributer had awaited the signal for their dispersal.

HOTEL GOTHAM

THE HOTEL OF REFINED ELEGANCE & EXCLUSIVE CLIENTELE

Specially attractive rates for season rentals

WETHERBEE & WOOD

5th AVE. at 55th ST. NEW YORK

BRITISH CAPTURE PORT OF FAO

Continued from Page 1.

garded with suspicion and keep to themselves. Germans may be seen everywhere. German money is so plentiful that it is often accepted as though it were Turkish.

In the cafés the German language is constantly heard, and it is true also of places of amusement.

The governing classes are described as appearing solemnly confident, but the army is declared to be totally unprepared for war. The storehouses are said to be empty, and no commissariat exists. Many soldiers are still wearing the uniforms worn in the last Balkan war. The army officers have not all been paid.

There is a scarcity of ammunition, according to the correspondents, who add that since the beginning of the present war the Germans have been trying to overcome these drawbacks, and, to a certain extent, have succeeded. They have poured into Turkey German officers, privates, sailors, arms and ammunition, and, above all, money. It is also said that they have sent a submarine to Turkey.

Enver Pasha, the Turkish Minister of War, and Gen. Liman von Sanders, the German commander of the Ottoman Army, are the idols of the moment, says one correspondent, who adds:

"They have promised the people military glory and certain conquests, followed by riches and prosperity through the spoils of war. Enver Pasha already is depicted as the Ottoman Napoleon, but meanwhile, notwithstanding German assistance, the financial necessities are so pressing that new taxation has been imposed and the salaries of officials, including the diplomats, have been curtailed."

Russians Report Land Victory.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 7.—An official communication from the General Staff in Caucasia dated Nov. 5 says:

There has not been any considerable action as yet. Some Kurdish regiments, supported by infantry and masses of the population in arms, attempted an offensive movement in the region northeast of Kara-Kilissa. The Turks were driven back with great losses.

The Russians continue to pursue the Turkish and Kurdish troops, who were defeated in the hilly regions of Passine, Diyadin, and Bayazid. These places have been occupied by our troops. The Turkish troops have been in part exterminated and in part dispersed.

A dispatch received here from Tiflis says Armenian refugees reaching there report that volunteer bands of Armenians have had several sharp engagements with the Turkish garrison at Van, Armenia.

These bands of Armenians have come together in the interior of Turkey for self-defense.

SULTAN'S NEPHEW PROTESTS.

Sends a Telegram Bitterly Attacking the Turkish War Policy.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Nov. 7.—The Temps prints a telegram of protest addressed to the Sultan by Prince Salah Eddine, his nephew, a well-known member of the Turkish colony in Paris, and President of the Ottoman Liberal League, which egram reads:

PARIS, Nov. 6.—Sire: In drawing the sword for Germany your Government condemns our country to death. Your Majesty cannot but know that the national conscience of all loyal subjects revolts against such a monstrous action, because it wholly sympathizes with the Allies, but is compelled to silence by the condemnations and executions of the military courts.

Your Majesty must remember the ancient friendship between Turkey and England and France, which prevents us from considering the Russians as enemies. So we ought to attack the German vessels instead of offering absurd hospitality to them.

Now that my appeals have been left unanswered your Ministers, I make a last effort to persuade your Majesty to prevent a war contrary to the interests and wishes of the Turkish Nation.

The Temps also publishes an Algiers is utterly opposed to the Committee of Union and Progress. (Young Turks.) The Prince was forced by the Young Turks to leave Constantinople. The telegram stating that the native Municipal Councilors, through their mouthpiece, Ali Mahemeddin, President of the Arab Section of Financial Affairs, have protested their loyalty to France and disapproval of the Turkish action to the French Governor—General of Algeria, who on Nov. 5 issued a statement, regarding the causes of the rupture. Similar protests have been received from influential natives at Bona, Algeria, and even from Constantinople.

Mohammedan religious circles are equally faithful to the French Government.

BRITAIN THANKS MORGENTHAU

Grateful for "Friendly and Invaluable Assistance" of Our Envoy.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The British Government has officially thanked the American Government for the friendly and invaluable assistance rendered by Henry Morgenthau, the American Ambassador at Constantinople. Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British Ambassador to the United States, today presented to the State Department the following communication to Secretary of State Bryan:

British Embassy,
Washington, Nov. 6, 1914.

Sir: His Majesty's principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs has received a telegram from Athens from his Majesty's late Ambassador at Constantinople, in which he requests that an expression of his warm acknowledgment of the great services rendered by the United States Ambassador at Constantinople to him and to the British community in that capital during the past few days should be conveyed to Mr. Morgenthau.

No words, Sir Louis Mallett says, can express his sense of indebtedness to Mr. Morgenthau and to his staff. His Excellency accompanied Sir L. Mallett to the station, greatly assisting his departure and that of his staff, and it was entirely owing to his exertions that a large party of British subjects, who were prevented from leaving on the night of his departure, were allowed to go on the following day.

I have the honor, under instructions from Sir E. Grey, to request you to be so good as to convey to Mr. Morgenthau the deep gratitude and warm appreciation of his Majesty's Government for the friendly and invaluable assistance rendered by him, and at the same time Sir E. Grey desires me to express his own personal thanks to his Excellency for the help accorded by him to Sir L. Mallett.

I have the honor to be, with the highest consideration, Sir,
Your most obedient, humble servant,
CECIL SPRING-RICE.

NO WORD OF BEIRUT LANDING.

Inquiry Sent to Our Warships in the Mediterranean.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Neither the State Department nor the Navy Department has any information that American bluejackets have been landed at Beirut, but because of the persistence of such reports Secretary Daniels today made inquiry of the commanders of the cruisers Tennessee and North Carolina.

Both Captains, after having delivered gold for the relief of Americans, had instructions to wait in the Mediterranean to protect American interests if necessary. Their instructions were broad, and it is possible that, at the request of an American Consul, and perhaps with the permission of the local authorities, bluejackets may have been landed to guard a consulate.

The officials, however, believe a report would have been received here by now had such an action been taken.

RUMANIA LIKELY TO FIGHT.

Her Intervention May Decide the Campaign Against Austria.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The Sofia correspondent of The Times, in an interesting survey of the position of the Balkan countries in the European war, thinks there is now a prospect of the resumption of the movement in Rumania favorable to intervention, and he points out that the well-equipped army of 400,000 men would, on Austro-Hungarian territory, probably decide the issue of the campaign in Galicia and Poland.

JAPANESE FLEET CLOSE TO GERMANS

Continued from Page 1.

posed that she saw the Good Hope go down. The two British cruisers, therefore, are probably lost.

The German Admiral laments having been prevented by darkness and bad weather from helping the Englishmen.

The three German vessels which entered Valparaiso on Tuesday were the Scharnhorst, the Gneisenau, and the Nürnberg. The Dresden remained outside convoying a transport. The Leipzig was absent pursuing the Glasgow.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Capt. H. Kikuchi of the Japanese freighter Azumasan Maru said today that he had been convoyed from Japan to the Pacific Coast by two Japanese battleships, but he refused to divulge their name.

He said the warships left him two days out from San Francisco.

SANK SHIP, MAROONED CREW.

British Tanker's Men Abandoned on Island by German Captors.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 7.—San Francisco agents for the owners of the British tank steamer Elsinore, sunk on Sept. 11 by the German cruiser Leipzig off the northern coast of Mexico, received today from her Captain, John Roberts, a detailed account of the destruction of his command.

"On Sept. 11, at 2:15 A. M.," says the Captain, "the second officer reported to me that he saw smoke off the port bow. I went to the bridge and was almost covered by a searchlight from a vessel unknown. After twenty minutes, the vessel 'Morsed' me in a foreign language. I could not understand and was immediately fired upon. I stopped the ship and hove to.

"A boat fully manned came alongside. The officer in charge said he was from the Leipzig and that my steamer was a prize of war and myself and crew prisoners. I was then ordered to provision my small boats and to steer north till signaled not stop.

"We were ordered to abandon the Elsinore and board the German ship Marie, which was standing by. Myself and crew did so at 12:30 P. M.

"The Leipzig commenced firing upon the Elsinore from a distance of about a mile. I could not bear to see the sight, but my officers told me afterward that they fired twelve shots into her. She began to blaze and sank stern first."

AWAIT NEWS FROM CHILE.

British Believe Two German Ships Were Damaged in Fight.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Great Britain is not yet satisfied that all has been told of the Pacific naval battle, and continues to hope that the German cruisers Leipzig and Dresden, which engaged the Glasgow and which have not been reported since the battle, have at least been damaged.

SEA FIRING SHAKES ENGLISH COAST TOWN

Herne Bay, Near Canterbury, Roused by the Rumble of Guns at Midnight.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Residents of Herne Bay, a seaside resort on the east coast of England, were awakened between midnight and 1 o'clock this morning by the sound of heavy firing in the North Sea.

Herne Bay is situated on the estuary of the Thames, six miles northeast of Canterbury.

Throw Away Your Screwdrivers!

Some opticians give away screwdrivers with all eyeglasses sold.

Our glasses (the "EVER-LOCT") have no holes nor screws, the lenses always being tight.

Screwdrivers are unnecessary.

Fewer breakages, too.

Wear "EVER-LOCT" glasses and be comfortable as well as economical. Get them to-morrow.

"EVER-LOCT"

NO HOLES NO SCREWS — LENSES ALWAYS TIGHT

EYEGLASSES AND SPECTACLES

Can be obtained only in these stores

E. B. Meyrowitz

OPTICIAN

257 FIFTH AVE. (27TH ST.)
615 FIFTH AVE. (50TH ST.)
255 LIVINGSTON ST. (Bkn.)
London NEW YORK Paris

SEARCHING FOR SECRET WIRELESS STATIONS

Navy Department Takes Up the Reports of Neutrality Violations.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Reports that secret wireless plants are being used from points in the United States for the purpose of sending military information for the benefit of one or more of the European belligerents have attracted the attention of the Federal Government, and an investigation is said to have been undertaken with the object of ascertaining whether the reports are true. Today Secretary Daniels, who, as head of the naval administration, is in charge of the enforcement of the Government wireless regulations as far as they concern the observance of neutrality by the United States, had a consultation with members of the United States Secret Service and afterward accompanied them to the State Department, where they had an interview with Acting Secretary Lansing.

These reports have been in circulation for several days. One of them was to the effect that a secret radio station had been established in the Maine woods and that it was sending to warships at sea information as to the whereabouts of warships and merchant vessels of other belligerent countries. Nothing has come to light here to confirm this rumor, and it is not believed that the inquiry which the Government is said to have undertaken is based on the supposition that a secret wireless station is located in Maine. The navy has a wireless station on the Maine Coast, and it is doubtful if any secret station could be operated in its vicinity without the knowledge of the operators in the Government plant.

CANDY

PENNY A POUND PROFIT

TRADE MARK.

Special for Monday, Nov. 9th

FRUIT AND NUT BUTTERCUPS—Those delicately tinted, silky finished cushion shape sweets, having fillings of various tasty chopped fruits and nuts. POUND BOX 10c

WE ALSO OFFER:

CHOCOLATE COVERED FUDGE CREAMS—As the name suggests, these are portions of the most toothsome Fudge enclosed in a covering of our fragrant, velvety Chocolate. For downright deliciousness this is a combination without a peer. POUND BOX 15c

MILK CHOCOLATE COVERED ASSORTED FRESH FRUITS—In this collection are luscious California Grapes, Hawaiian Pineapple, Western Plums, Maraschino Cherries, Oranges, Baldwin Apples, Bartlett Pears, and many others, first delayed in rich Sugar Cream, then enveloped in our Incomparable Premium Milk Chocolate. POUND BOX 39c

54 Barclay Street
Closes 6:30 pm; Sat., 10 pm
29 Cortlandt Street
Closes 11 pm Daily.
Park Row & Nassau St.
Closes 11 pm Daily.
400 Broome Street
Closes 7 pm; Sat., 10 pm
28 East 12d Street
Closes 10 pm Daily.
472 Fulton St., B'klyn
Closes 11:30 pm Daily.

Loft 12 Stores

206 Broadway
Closes 7 pm; Sat., 10 pm
147 Nassau Street
Closes 6:30 pm; Sat., 9 pm
260 West 125th Street
Closes 11:30 pm Daily.
23 West 34th Street
Closes 7 pm; Sat., 10 pm
149th St. & Third Av.
Closes 12 pm Daily.
157 Market St., Newark
Closes 12 pm Daily.

The specified weight includes the container in each case

NOW ON PUBLIC EXHIBITION at the

Anderson Galleries

Madison Avenue at Fortieth St., N. Y.

CHINESE ART

An unusually large and fine Collection made by a Connoisseur during a residence of thirteen years in China, and now consigned for Unrestricted Public Sale, by

M. Charles Lechevrel of Caen, Normandy, France.

Antique Chinese Rugs

Antique Chinese Porcelains, many rare Cabinet Pieces; Crystals, Wood Carvings, and Embroideries.

Fine Collection of Jades Rare Chinese Paintings

Very old, including many fine landscapes, and many in their original carved wooden frames.

Old Lacquer Palace Screens

of unusual size, extraordinary merit, and worthy of places in Museums and the finest Private Collections.

To be Sold without Reserve in Six Sessions: On the Afternoons and Evenings of Wednesday and Thursday and the Afternoons of Friday and Saturday, November 18-21, at 2:30 and 8:15 o'clock. Illustrated Catalogues free to intending buyers.

STEVENSONIA

Books, Autograph Letters, hundreds of Original Manuscripts, many of them unpublished, the Oil Portrait by Sargent, the Original Plaster Group, "Springtime," presented and inscribed by Rodin, the large bronze medallion by Saint-Gaudens, and Stevens's own collection of South Sea Curios—all from the Library of

Robert Louis Stevenson

at

GERMANS DEFEND LINE OF WARTHE

Russians Begin Attack on the Last Fortified Position in Poland.

RUSH ON TOWARD CRACOW

Say They Have Taken 18,500 Prisoners Near There and Large Number of Guns.

BERLIN REPORTS A CHECK

Repulse of Russians Across River at Kola—Czar's Forces Still Hold Offensive in East Prussia.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 7, (via London.)—Russian forces are attacking the German position at Sieradz, on the Warthe River, in Russian Poland, southeast of Kalisz, and about fifteen miles east of the German border, according to information reaching Petrograd today.

This engagement marks the beginning of the Russian advance against the last fortified German position on Russian soil.

The Germans are heavily intrenched at Sieradz and appear determined to dispute the crossing of the River Warthe.

The left wing of the Russian Army, in engagements taking place between Oct. 23 and Nov. 4 on the front in the vicinity of Cracow, took prisoner 274 officers and 18,500 men of the enemy.

This information was given out semi-officially in Petrograd today.

In addition to these prisoners, the Russian forces captured three howitzers, forty pieces of artillery, thirty-eight rapid-fire guns, and a large quantity of material for the manufacture of cartridges.

The Russian General Staff has issued the following:

On the East Prussian front the Russian troops are developing with success an offensive in the region of the forest of Rominten and Lyck (East Prussia).

The German rear guard was dislodged by us from Mlawa on Nov. 4 suffering great losses.

Beyond the Vistula the enemy continues to fall back. A German column passed through Czestochawa, Russian Poland, moving west.

Minor engagements have occurred near the Warthe and on the road from Andrejew to Miechow, near Merzava.

In Galicia the Austrians in their retreat left behind them many soldiers ill with cholera at Jaroslaw, Przeworsk and villages on the San.

General Retreat of Austrians.

Paris, Nov. 7.—An official statement by the Russian General Staff is given in a Petrograd dispatch to the Havas Agency. It says:

"Fierce combats on the River San and south of Przemysl, which have been going on for more than three weeks, resulted on Nov. 5, in a general retreat of the Austrians.

"On the preceding night the Austrians made a last effort to repulse our troops who were crossing the San. Until a late hour the enemy attacked on an extended front, taking the offensive in dense, successive lines, but everywhere they suffered enormous losses and were repulsed.

"On Nov. 5 the enemy's columns commenced to move from the San in the direction of Dukla Pass, across the Carpathians, and south of Przemysl, seeking everywhere to leave the battle front. We pursued them energetically all along the line.

"The abandonment by the main Austrian forces of the line of the San is the result of the victorious battle fought at the end of September, the original purpose of which was to block the offensive of the Austro-German armies against Warsaw and Ivangorod.

"At the beginning of October our troops were engaged along a front extending, for 330 miles and passing through Warsaw, Kozienica, Przemysl, and Czernowitz. Toward Oct. 20 we succeeded in gaining a decisive success over the Germans on the left bank of the Vistula, in the region of Warsaw, that is to say, on the right wing of our general strategic front.

"Our next object was to strike from the north those portions of the enemy's forces still holding positions on the Vistula and the San. In the fighting, which lasted from Oct. 23 to 27, we succeeded in breaking the stubborn resistance of the Austro-German army in the Kozienica-Ivangorod region. In danger of being turned beyond Pilitza, this army fell back, pursued by our troops.

"Between Oct. 28 and Nov. 2 we overcame the enemy's resistance in a new region, that of Alexandria and Sandomierz. On Nov. 5 the Austrian army in Galicia was compelled to retreat.

"Following up our successes during eighteen days, on a front of 330 miles, we broke the resistance of the enemy who is in full retreat. This victory we owe to the inexhaustible grace of God, who blesses the superhuman heroism of our admirable warriors of whom Russia has a right to be proud.

"This victory enables our troops to proceed to a realization of further tasks which will inaugurate a new period of the war."

Germans Tell of Check.

BERLIN, Nov. 7, (via London.)—The following official communication was given out at German Army Headquarters this afternoon:

In the eastern arena of the war three divisions of Russian cavalry which crossed the River Warthe above Kola were defeated and pushed back across the stream. There have not been any encounters elsewhere.

BERLIN, (via Wireless to London,) Nov. 7.—An official report from Vienna states that no fighting took place in the north yesterday. The movements of the Austrian Army in Russian Poland and Galicia are taking place according to pre-arranged plans and are undisturbed by the enemy.

Although at certain places along the front conquered territory has again been temporarily ceded to the Russians, notwithstanding its locally favorable position, this is justified in the interest of the general situation.

AUSTRIANS SEE A GAIN.

Russians Forced to Abandon an Attack on German Frontier.

BERLIN, (via London,) Nov. 7.—The war correspondent of The Vienna Neue Freie Presse, surveying the situation in the eastern war theatre, gives the first picture of the progress in Russian Poland last month that has been available on this side.

"Early in October," he says, "the Russians had begun the siege of Przemysl with five army corps and great masses of cavalry and several mixed columns had been shifted to the north to launch a blow against the German frontier. The surprising advance of the Austrians against Ivangorod and the movement of a new German army against Warsaw forced the Russians behind the Vistula. Their deployment, however, was delayed by the highly successful attacks of the armies of Gens. von Hindenburg and Dankl."

After detailing the already reported Austrian successes in Galicia by which Przemysl was relieved and the Russians driven back from central and southern Galicia, the report continues:

"The Russians meantime brought superior numbers in Russian Poland into action, but were forced to direct them in a southwesterly direction instead, as contemplated, against Germany. Hindenburg and Dankl retired before the Russians, who kept throwing in fresh corps. The Russians followed, but did so slowly.

"Our advance in Russian Poland brought it about that the Russians were diverted from their contemplated main attack against Germany's east frontier, and all their forces were engaged in operations on a front contemplated by us."

VIENNA DENIES DEFEAT.

Withdrawal Made with Entire Success, Embassy Here Is Told.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Summarizing dispatches received from Vienna since Nov. 1, a statement issued tonight by the Austrian Embassy states that the Austrian forces which withdrew from Ivangorod now hold new positions in Galicia which have been successfully defended against all Russian assaults. The statement follows:

"On the Vistula-San line, because of encountering superior Russian forces, first the German left wing at Warsaw, and then our army in action near Ivangorod, voluntarily withdrew. The withdrawal was accomplished with entire success and without any disorganization.

"The new grouping of these forces, carrying out the retirement, established the line through Kutno, Rawa, and Radom to the junction of the San and Vistula Rivers.

"In Galicia the positions occupied were held at all points, despite violent attacks by the Russians, which were repulsed with heavy losses to the attackers.

"In Servia we took strong Servian positions in the district between the Save and Drina Rivers. Otherwise the situation is not altered.

"In Bosnia the province has been cleared of the enemy.

"The bombardment of Cattaro (by the Allies) continues without success.

"It is characteristic of the unscrupulous conduct of the Russians that a price of 80,000 rubles has been offered for the capture or assassination of the commanders of our army. As a result, an attempt was made on the life of one of our commanding Generals, which, however, was fortunately frustrated."

ALL REARGUARD ACTIONS.

Russians on the Heels of the Retreating Austro-German Force.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The correspondent of The Times at Kielce, Russian Poland, under date of Nov. 3, describes the fighting in that region. He says:

"This town was occupied by the Russian forces about noon today, after a brisk night attack. For once we were well forward, and we entered the town with the Russian troops on the very heels of the enemy. The opposing forces were composed both of Germans and Austrians.

"Though the action was a rearguard affair and characteristic of the fighting which has been prevalent lately, this retreat seems to have been marked by a stronger resistance than usual. The Russians attacked over a front of about fourteen miles, taking the centre about seven miles east of here by a vigorous night attack. The Austrians made a strong defense in a churchyard and in a village, but they were driven out with the bayonet, as I can testify from observing the wounds of the dead. The losses on both sides were heavy in this action, and Austrian prisoners to the number of above 6,000 were taken.

"After entering the town I found that the Germans had left last night, leaving the Austrians to conduct a rearguard action, which seems to be their policy in all these operations now. The Austrians did not leave town until 10 o'clock this morning, and we entered about noon.

"The Russians are pushing on with their advance with the utmost vigor, averaging in this quarter about fifteen miles daily, while certain regiments on the flanks make nearly twenty-six miles. From information given by people in the villages it is learned that the Germans secured supplies of all sorts, but that Warsaw and Ivangorod caused them to abandon their whole project.

"The situation on this front is splendid, and the troops are in fine condition and their morale is high."

TELL OF PANIC IN RETREAT.

Reports in Rome Say Cavalry Has Suffered Terribly.

ROME, Nov. 7.—Official communications received in Rome from the Russian army headquarters say that the Austro-German reverses in Galicia and Russian Poland are being augmented daily by the fugitive troops communicating panic to their reserves.

The Austro-German cavalry forces are depicted as being in an especially pitiful condition. A part of this force, it is said, was massacred by the outnumbering Cossacks, the remainder being routed and pursued in the utmost confusion.

Austria and Germany had centred about 20,000 of their best cavalry, half of which force, the Russians maintain, is now lost.

Once the Austrian and German cavalry was disposed of, the Russians directed their efforts to cutting off the five armies, into which the Austro-German forces were divided, from their western base of operations. The Russians forced them to the southward, at the same time inflicting heavy losses.

The Austro-German casualties are said to aggregate 30,000 in dead and prisoners. The Russians also claim to have captured twenty-four cannon.

CZAR AND KAISER AT FRONT.

Russians Already Acclaim Ruler as Conqueror of the Germans.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

ROME, Nov. 7.—All news received here points to the conclusion that the Austro-German defeat by the Russians is most serious, as the Kaiser himself rushed near the line of fire and held an important council of war, questioning especially Duke Albert of Württemberg, who was intrusted with the direction of the main part of the gigantic engagement. Gen. von Hindenburg gave his opinion, while Gen. Conrad represented conditions in the Austrian army.

On the Russian side the presence of the Czar at the front is described as one of the greatest events in Russian history. The army acclaim him already as the conqueror of the Germans. It is declared no human force can now arrest the Russians.

RUSSIA TO TAX INCOMES.

New War Levy Is Expected to Yield at Least $42,500,000.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 7, (via London.)—The draft of a bill to raise a war levy has been issued by the Minister of Finance. It proposes a general tax on the incomes of individuals, corporations, and companies, with an annual revenue of more than $500 and a personal tax on men who are absolved from military service.

The income tax will range from $8 on incomes of between $500 and $550 to $7,000 on incomes of between $95,000 and $100,000. Incomes exceeding $100,000 will pay 8 per cent. of their total amount.

Finland and the Cossack provinces are exempted from the personal tax. It is expected that the war levy will produce not less than $42,500,000.

Only One "BROMO QUININE"
To get the genuine, call for full name, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for signature of E. W. Grove. Cures a Cold in One Day. 25c. —Advt.

THE WAR SITUATION.

BY THE MILITARY EXPERT OF THE NEW YORK TIMES.
(An Associate Editor of The Army and Navy Journal.)

The arrival at the battle front at the Belgian border of three new corps of German troops means the continuation of the German aggressive campaign in this field with increased vigor.

By shifting their attacks from the swampy district along the coast to the higher rolling country, south of Ypres, the Germans get the advantage of the better roads and the firmer ground for the manoeuvres of their artillery. In spite of the fact that they are advancing straight against intrenched lines, they can do this with chances of success, provided they can mass sufficient artillery at their point of attack. By moving their guns at night to concealed positions, withing range of the enemy's line, they are able to start the fighting with a sudden burst of shell fire that so sweeps the trenches of their opponents as to force every one to keep under cover.

It is conditions like this that test the staying power of troops. They must crouch down in their bomb-proofs, watching the havoc that is spread by the shells as they burst in the rear of the positions. This impresses upon them most vividly the danger that awaits them when they are called to man the parapets, that they must be ready to spring forward promptly when the command comes in order to deliver the rifle fire that will check the assaulting columns in the last stages of their attack.

It is this use of artillery and of the protection of the bombproofs, or earthen cellars in the trenches, that has so often brought the troops to close quarters in the present war.

The fighting in Cuba during the Spanish war gave very few chances for bayonet work, while the battles of the Boer war in South Africa were decided with 300 to 800 yards distance between the fighting lines.

By 1903 the bayonet was believed by many military authorities to be obsolete for fighting in open country, and the United States abandoned the knife bayonet for the use of her armies.

The stubborn fighting of the great war in Manchuria in 1905 showed decisively that determined troops would wait for an actual clash of forces before the outcome could be decided. All nations then went back to practicing bayonet fighting and armed their infantry with long bayonets to be fastened on the ends of their rifles. France made the greatest effort to give her soldiers the advantage of longer reach in this infighting and provided a bayonet and rifle that together have a reach of six feet. The Germans came next with a weapon only four inches shorter. The weights of the respective arms are the same, but the French gain their extra length by supplying a thin blade that is easily snapped off. Accounts from the battlefields state that the French often lose their bayonets at the first thrust and have to continue the fighting with clubbed guns. The British rifle and bayonet are much shorter than the Germans, but the soldiers of their regular army are rated the best bayonet fighters of the world.

Just as in any other form of close fighting long reach gives an advantage, but in bayonet fighting particularly it is more than offset by alertness in parrying the thrusts and in strength to make a quick riposte. Just as the Roman soldiers, armed with their famous short swords were able to conquer the world, so will expert soldiers of the present day win the victory in the bayonet fighting, regardless of the length of their weapons.

The new attacks of the Germans, northeast of Nancy, can hardly have been made in sufficient strength to check the French in this district unless they have been sending to this region some of the reinforcements that have recently been reported as moving to the aid of their Western armies.

Climatic conditions call for them to make a great effort during the next month to break down the resistance of the Allies in France. The two regions where they can best mass their troops for this purpose are near Arras in the north, and near Nancy in the south. It may be that the German plan includes strong aggressive moves in both of these fields.

The reports from the fighting in Poland indicate that the Russians are again concentrating their main efforts upon crushing the Austrian field armies. The German Army along the East Prussian border is for the present allowed to retain its position. The Russians aim only to hold this force to the border while they send to the south every man that can be spared in order to make sure of success in the theatre selected for their principal operations

During their seventy-five-mile retreat in Poland the Germans have destroyed all the railroads and highway bridges. A rapid pursuit by the Russians would land them opposite the German armies with largely reduced strength and deprived of the support of their heavy artillery.

The Russians are apparently going slow and taking precautions to have their full strength in hand before they move against the German line near the Polish border. Meanwhile they are pressing their main attacks to the southwest in the effort to drive the Austrians back from Kielce to the Vistula River. Already the Russian advance in this district has forced the Austrians again to abandon their defensive lines along the San River. The Austrians are now falling back toward Tarnow, where they checked the Russian advance in the campaign of September.

If the Russians are able to carry out their strategic move by way of Kielce, however, the Austrians will be unable to make a stand on the Donajec River at Tarnow, but will have to make a rapid retreat to Cracow in order to obtain the strong support of their fortifications in the effort to stop the Russian invasion.

These continued Russian successes in Poland are having a direct influence on the campaign in France. Germany has been counting throughout the war on massing her strength first in one direction and then in the other. While the Russians are so closely following up her troops on the east, it is impossible for her to make any large shifts to the west without inviting disaster during the transfer of troops when both borders are deprived of their services.

If Russia succeeds in ousting the Germans from Poland and capturing from the Austrians their Galician province, these successes are likely to influence the attitude of the nations that are now hesitating as to taking part in the present war.

ACCUSES HOTEL HERE OF WAR PROPAGANDA

London Paper Says it is Seeking More Information About Ritz-Carlton Group.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The Evening News, which began the recent campaign against the employment of Germans in London hotels, today says:

"We are receiving complaints from Englishmen in New York as to the attitude of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel there, now the centre of the anti-British propaganda in the United States.

"We shall be glad to receive in confidence information as to the finances and personnel of the Ritz-Carlton group both in Great Britain and in the United States. We have already much information in our possession."

Regarding the charge that the Ritz-Carlton hotels were the centres of anti-British propaganda, this statement was given out at the Ritz-Carlton in New York last night by an officer of the company:

"No anti-British propaganda has gone out from the hotel here with the sanction of the operating or owning companies. What has happened is easily explained. Many of the Ambassadors in Washington, including those from Germany, Austria, Russia, Turkey, and Holland, and several attaches of the British Embassy, have rooms in the Ritz-Carlton, and when the war began most of them came to the hotel because New York was the centre of activity in the United States.

"In many cases the embassies were practically transferred from Washington to the Ritz-Carlton. Now, many of these foreign representatives issued statements from their rooms setting forth the claims of their respective sides, and it is quite possible that fanatical Englishmen, seeing statements coming, for example, from Count von Bernatorff at the Ritz-Carlton, have classed the statements as 'propaganda,' and have connected them with the hotel company because the hotel was mentioned as the German Ambassador's temporary address. But the utterances of foreign representatives and other guests of the hotel have been the only ground for complaint of any violation of neutrality on the part of the Ritz-Carlton Company.

"Furthermore, contrary to general belief, the Ritz-Carlton hotels in New York and Philadelphia are not controlled by foreign capital. Robert W. Goelet owns the hotel property here, and P. A. B. Widener owns that in Philadelphia. The operating company here is incorporated in this State, and that in Philadelphia in Pennsylvania, and more than three-fifths of the stock in each company is owned by Americans residing in America.

"The remaining two-fifths in each case is owned scatteringly by Englishmen, Germans, Swiss, and other foreigners. Both hotels are American hotels and as such are neutral. Neither has any connection with the English hotels except that there is co-operation between the management here and there."

REPORTS THE CAPTURE OF 15,000 SERVIANS

Austrians Now Operating in Their Territory, to the Southwest of Belgrade.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—An official statement issued in Vienna, and reaching here by way of Amsterdam, says:

"On the 7th, in the southern war theatre, attacks made against the enemy, strongly fortified behind barbed-wire entanglements in the district of Compianine and south of Shabatz, (Servia,) are progressing slowly. The strategically important Heights of Misar were captured and 200 prisoners taken.

"Together with these operations we began yesterday an attack on the position near Kroupani, (62 miles southwest of Belgrade.) The details cannot yet be published. Yesterday some Servian intrenchments were stormed and 15,000 prisoners, four cannon, and six machine guns were taken."

GERMANS OCCUPYING THEIR WINTER LINES

Falling Back Everywhere to Strong Defensive Positions Near Their Border.

By Perceval Gibbon.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 7 (Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle):—For the last two days all the fighting on the East Prussian front has taken place on German soil. The whole Russian line has advanced and now occupies a position across the border from Schirwindt in the north to Lyck. At every point where they were attacked the Germans have now withdrawn, except from the fortified positions west of Bakalargewo. An attempt of the Germans to drive the Russians from Schirwindt has been repulsed.

In many districts thousands of bodies of Germans have been buried. Owing to the frozen condition of the ground the Germans have abandoned their wounded everywhere and the service of the Russian Medical Corps is heavily taxed in dealing with them. The practice of not granting an armistice for removal of the wounded means that large numbers die of cold during the nights.

In Poland the German retreat, even at those points where the Russians are not actually in contact with them, is a systematic withdrawal toward a line of strongly fortified positions which have been prepared along the frontier from Czestochowa to Kaliss. Here with Breslau at the rear the Germans have accumulated stores and all equipment for standing on the defensive in the Winter preparatory to a new advance. Each town through which they retire they wreck. All railway bridges have been blown up, station buildings burned, embankments overthrown; telegraphs destroyed, and attempts were made at many places to set the towns on fire.

At Radom, which the Russians occupied as long ago as Oct. 29, it has been proved that the Germans, before leaving, shot all prisoners then in their hands, including one Cossack officer, who was first compelled to dig his own grave.

At Czestochowa all local notables were arrested by personal order of the Kaiser.

ARREST DIPLOMATS IN PERSIA.

Alleged Action by Russians — Our Envoy Protests.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The Reuter correspondent at Amsterdam telegraphs that a message received there from Vienna says that the Austro-Hungarian Consul General and the Turkish diplomatic representative at Tabris, Persia, have been taken prisoners by the Russians and transported to Tiflis.

The correspondent adds that the Persian Government and the American Minister at Teheran, John L. Caldwell, have protested to Russia against this alleged infraction of international law.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 7.—The entire northern part of Persia is being flooded with placards, printed on Turkish presses, urging the Persians to unite with the Turks in the present warfare against Russia, according to dispatches reaching Petrograd from Teheran. These placards refer to the Persians as "brethren in the Faith," and make use of the term, "The holy war on Russia."

The Persian Government, however, is strongly opposed to any action at the present time on the part of Persia. The Government's object is to safeguard Persian territory against permanent occupation by Turkish or Russian troops. This view is shared in parliamentary circles.

BRITISH CIVILIANS INTERNED.

Males Between 17 and 56 Sent to a German Detention Camp.

BERLIN, (via London,) Nov. 7.—The police at 6 o'clock Friday morning notified all Englishmen from the ages of 17 to 56 to report to the police stations for transportation to Ruhleben, near Berlin. They were advised to bring two blankets, sheets, and so forth. The exodus is now proceeding.

Ruhleben has hitherto been chiefly used as a camp for Russians, but about 100 Englishmen, subjects of suspicion or without domicile, were earlier interned there. The quarters at Ruhleben, hitherto used as stables, are well built, and prisoners there were supplied with straw mattresses, but more recently they have had bedsteads. The new arrivals will probably be housed in the same fashion. No arrangements have yet been announced for family visiting.

All day long Englishmen made their way to the Ruhleben detention camp. Most of them are well provided with rugs and bedclothes and other necessities. The largest group, numbering 1,400 men, came from Hamburg. It is composed of about 300 residents and 1,100 non-residents, the latter mostly sailors from British ships. Among the 300 residents are many men of wealth and important position.

From Dresden there have come 100 Englishmen; from Hanover, 80; from Berlin, 500, and from the suburbs of Berlin 500 more.

Among those en route from Bad Nauheim are a British Admiral and two members of the British Parliament.

In addition to interning Englishmen of military age, the Government has taken strict measures against the nationals of other hostile States. The latter must report twice daily at a police station and are not permitted to depart from their precinct or to leave their houses between 8 o'clock at night and 7 o'clock in the morning.

The English Church in Berlin has not yet been closed. Service will be held there as usual in the English language.

Bonwit Teller & Co. Announce the Departure of their Representatives for Europe Wednesday, November 4th, on the S. S. Lusitania for conference with the leading Paris Couturiers relative to the development of Spring Fashions.

BONWIT TELLER & CO.

The Specialty Shop of Originations

FIFTH AVENUE AT 38TH STREET

An Important Sale

Women's Cloth & Velvet Coats

Women's Tailleur & Fur Trimmed Coats
—Cossack and French flare models, in white and black herringbone cloth, plaid plush de laine, black broadcloth, and some fur trimmed Coats 29.50

Women's Fur Trimmed Velvet Coats
A particularly smart, full skirt model with large collar and cuffs of skunk-raccoon 59.50

Fur Trimmed Seal Plush Coats
Imported fabrics, designed in exclusive models with beaver or chinchilla squirrel 97.50

A Collection of Exclusive

Evening Coats & Wraps

One model of a kind made up from our own materials—black panne velvet, amber brocade velvet, mouse gray chiffon velvet, chartreuse velvet, gold embroidered chartreuse chiffon; plain color moire.
All Trimmed With Rich Furs.
At the Exceptional Price
75.00

An Unusual Special Sale

Women's Tailleur and Costume Suits

Types that are not seen on every hand, but that possess distinct touches of originality and individuality.

Fur Trimmed Tailleur Suits
Models in the fashionable fabrics and colorings which feature the very smartest coat and skirt effects 29.50

Fur Trimmed & Plain Tailleur Suits
The accentuations of fur are applied in a manner which depart from the commonplace types. The plain tailleur models are military in chic and simplicity 35.00

Fur Trimmed Chiffon Velvet Suits
Formerly Up to $79.50
Both the coat and skirt express the very latest style motif, while the fur is applied in an unusually unique manner 49.50

Three Piece Costume Suits
The gown is of chiffon combined with broadcloth. The jacquette is chic and belted. Both gown and jacquette have touches of flat silk embroidery 75.00

Misses', Small Women's, Flapper & Girls' Apparel

This department specializes in apparel for the younger set. The models provided for Jeunes Filles are removed from the mature and express in every silhouette the verve and esprit incorporated in the models designed by the celebrated Jeanne Lanvin, of Paris.

Special Values Prepared for Monday.

The Newest Blouses

Georgette Crepe Blouses
Tailleur model with high collar, chiffon vest, satin trimming. In flesh pink, brown, navy and black 8.50

Putty and Sand Color Blouses
In Georgette crepe, combined with thread embroidered net. Mounted over flesh chiffon 14.50

Costume Blouses
In combinations of cafe au lait lace, with brown and black and white lace net and chiffon 21.50

Shirts of Crepe de Chine
Sports model, with adjustable collar, worn high or open low. Self ball buttons 7.50

MILLINERY DEPARTMENT—THIRD FLOOR
Greatly Reduced Prices

French & Bonwit Teller Hats

10.00 15.00 25.00
Formerly 20.00 to 40.00

A collection of model hats from the leading Paris modistes, together with accurate replicas from the Bonwit Teller workrooms.

Mourning Millinery a specialized feature; reproductions of the correc French models.

MILLINERY DEPARTMENT—FIRST FLOOR.

Introduction of the New Winter Panama Hats in Sweater Colorings

An original creation exclusive with this shop. The new mode for sports wear.

A large assortment of corduroy field and motor hats in newest shapes and colorings,
2.95 3.25 3.75

Women's Frocks & Gowns

Compose Frocks
Short velvet bodice, velvet banded chiffon tunic skirt. Collar of fur. In the new colorings 29.50

Afternoon Gowns
A voluminous flare skirt model in an original design, made of crepe meteor 49.50

Chiffon Velvet Gowns
Reproduction of an imported model. A simple, charming style with touches of embroidery 55.00

The Newer Danse Gowns
Corsage of heavy satin, in mustard, turquoise or gold, done in a metallic embroidery motif. Double flare skirt of silk net with French brilliant jewel trimming 69.50

Sale of Women's Gloves

One Clasp Pique Gloves
In white, white or black stitching ..... .95

Two Clasp French Chamois Gloves
In white or natural; absolutely washable 1.50

16 Button Doeskin Gloves
In white; absolutely washable 2.25

Sale of Lingerie

Batiste Nightgowns
Of sheer batiste; Empire, with Val. heading and ribbon. Regularly 3.00 ..... 1.85

Combinations
Of nainsook or batiste; princess and waistline models, with lace and embroidery 1.50

Special Sale of Negligees

Regularly 19.75
12.75
Four charming models.

Negligees of satin with ostrich trimming, accordeon plaited crepe de chine with chiffon or lace coats trimmed with rosebuds and ribbon.

Very Special Sale Monday

One Thousand Pairs of Pure Thread Silk Hosiery

Regularly 1.25
.75
Three pairs for 2.15

In delft blue, gold, canary, orange, green, turquoise, rose, cerise, orchid, purple, nile, Russian green, tan and light gray.
Re-enforced garter, heel and soles.

Special Sale Monday
Women's & Misses' Fur Coats & Small Furs

Trimmed Moire Caracul Coats
40 inches long, full flare model. Collars of Ermine, Kolinsky or Fitch 65.00

Baby Caracul Coats
42 inches long, Bernard model. Shirred back, large collar 95.00

Natural Skunk Sets
Large four skin muff and animal scarf to match 38.00

Trimmed Hudson Seal Coats
40 inches long, flare model. Collars of Skunk or Chinchilla-Squirrel 85.00

Hudson Seal Coats
Select dyed muskrat. Reproductions of Pari models. 42 to 48 inches long 125.00

Hudson Bay Lynx Sets
Black lynx. Large Pillow Muff. Animal scarf to match 42.50

BLOCK OF WOUNDED PASSING TO THE REAR

On They Come, Hundreds of Them, All Bandaged, Filling Road from Hedge to Hedge.

AND HUNGRY FOR TOBACCO

Friendly Motorists Dispense Cigars and Cigarettes—Men of Many Nations, from Scotland to Hindustan.

Special Correspondence of THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, Oct. 30.—We were crossing a battlefield four days old. It was remarkable how it resembled the ordinary kind of field. The French had conquered quickly at this point and the dead had been buried. Except for frequent mounds of earth headed by sticks forming a cross; except for the marks of shrapnel in the roads and on the trees; except for the desertion of every living thing, this country side was at peace.

The sun was shining. The frost had brought out flaming tints on the hills. It was glorious Indian Summer. The road we were motoring wound far away through the battlefield. For the armies had fought over a front of many miles. We traveled slowly. As we topped a rise we stopped and searched into the valley below with our glasses. A mile away in the cup of the valley we saw a moving mass. It filled the roadway from hedge to hedge and appeared to be approaching us. We drove more slowly and stopped several times. We saw that the moving mass stretched back a considerable distance—perhaps the length of a city block. We stopped our engine and waited in the road.

As the mass came nearer it outlined itself into men. We saw that they were soldiers, but we could not distinguish the uniform. So we waited. We even got our papers ready to show if necessary. Then we saw that the soldiers were not of the same regiment—that their uniforms were conglomerate. We saw the misfits of the French line regiments, the gay trappings of the Spahis and Chasseurs d'Afrique, the skirt trousers of the Zouaves, Turcos, and Sénegalese, the khaki of the English Tommies, and the turbans of the Hindus. But all these men in the varied costumes of the Army of the Allies wore one common mark—a bandage. Arm or head or face was wrapped in white cloth. For these on whom we waited were the wounded who could walk. They were going from the battle trenches to the rear.

The men in the front rank glanced wonderingly at the big motor that blocked the middle of the road and moved aside in either direction. Those behind did likewise, until there was a lane for the car to pass. But we waited. As the front rank came level with us, a dust-caked British Tommy, with a bandage over one eye, winked his good eye at us and touched his cap in salute. We took our hats off as the tragic crowd surrounded us. The Tommy sat down on our running board and I handed him a cigarette.

"Is This France or Belgium?"

The cigarette established cordial relations at once. Tommy's lean face was browned by the sun and streaked with dirt. About the bandage which encircled his head and crossed his right eye were cakes of dirt. He asked me: "Is this Frawnce, or is it Belgium?" At my answer he squirmed around on the running board, called to a companion in khaki just coming up, his arm in a sling. "'E says its Frawnce." The other shrugged his shoulder indifferently and saluted us.

I asked the man concerning the battle but again he only shrugged his shoulder. The man on the running board turned his eye upward and said: "It's 'ell, that's wot it is." I replied that my question had to do with the course of the battle—which side was winning; and he, too, shrugged at that. Then he arose and plodded on, and I gave a cigarette to his companion.

A score of men stood about the front of the car, where the chauffeur was busy handing out apples and pears. My companions were busy on the opposite side with a dozen French infantrymen, telling the latest news from Paris and giving out newspapers. I leaned over them, the box of cigarettes still in my hand. A tall Senegalese standing back from the group caught sight of the box and called out: "Cigarette, eh?" I motioned him to my side of the car. He came running weakly, followed by fifty others. I handed out until that box and several others that I dug from my valise were exhausted. I called several times that I had no more, but still they crowded about, stretching out their arms and crying "Cigarette, eh?"

One of my companions warned me that we might ourselves feel the want of tobacco—that money would not buy it in the country we were traversing, because it did not exist. We still had a box of cigars, and I had several loose in my pocket.

The black face of a Turco appeared at the car window. One arm was in a sling and a bandage was wound about his brow. But his eyes shone brightly at the thought of tobacco; and at the smell of it now arising on all sides. He was tobacco hungry. He was more than that. He was tobacco starving. He poked his other arm into the car. I motioned him to crowd his entire bulk into the window so that the others would not see.

Then I game him a cigar. He hung over the car frame as I held out the lighted tip of my own cigar. He puffed a cloud into the interior. He looked at his cigar fondly and seemed to measure its length. It was a good cigar. If it had been a miserable cheroot his regard would have been the same. He took another puff, and drew a complete mouthful into his lungs. His cheeks bulged and his eyes glinted inward as though he looked at the tip of his nose. I wondered how long he could keep that huge mouthful of smoke within him. Again he held the cigar close to his eyes and seemed to measure its length. Finally he poured forth the smoke from nose and mouth and ejaculated the only English word he know, "Good!"

Simply Knew They'd Been Fighting

I nodded and asked in French where he had been fighting. He cocked his head toward the fore part of the car and took another puff. I asked him where he had been wounded, and he replied that he did not know, but that it occurred in the trenches "la bas." I asked him how long he had been fighting in France—how long since he had left Africa—and he spread his arm far out to indicate that the time had been long. I asked him where he was going; he rolled his eyes to the rear of the car and said that he did not know.

I sank back in my seat and he climbed down into the road. Most of the troop had limped off. To the few still lingering we indicated that our stock of things to give away was exhausted. They eyed us wistfully, then passed on.

The chauffeur asked if he should start the car, but some one said: "No; let's wait until they all pass." The rear guard straggled up; many were ready to drop with fatigue and pain and loss of blood. I asked a Britisher how long they had been on the road. He replied, "since sunrise," and plodded stoldily on. It was then noon. Several sank down for moments under the trees by the road side. A chasseur stopped and asked our chauffeur to tighten a thong of his bandage. We asked him where they were going and he replied vaguely: "To the rear."

"And what then?" one of us asked.

"Oh, I hope we will all be fighting again soon," he replied.

They were all like that. They wanted to be fighting again soon. They were not happy. They were not unhappy. They were indifferent, more or less, made so by utter fatigue and the pain of their wounds. But they all wanted to be fighting again soon.

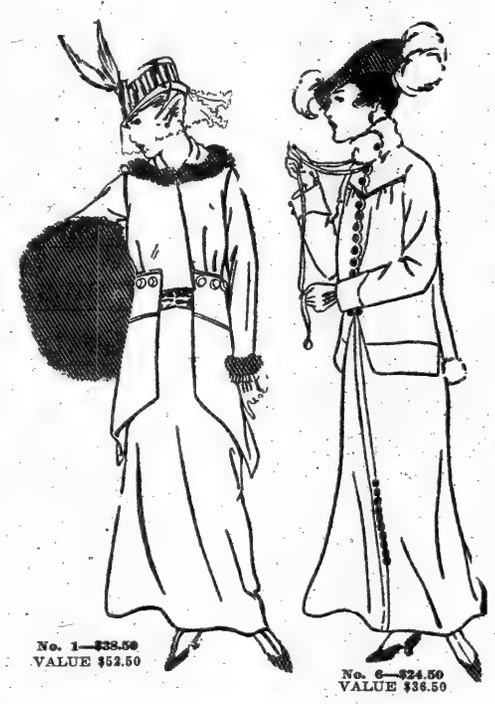
We watched them top the hill and disappear down the long road to the rear. The last straggler, his head bound with white and red, vanished. They were all privates—common men of all the world from Scotland to Hindustan. The majority were coming from and going they knew not where, and wanting to fight again.

We cranked up the car.

James McCreery & Co.

34th Street COMMENCING MONDAY, NOVEMBER 9TH 5th Avenue

A Remarkable Sale of Women's and Misses' Smart Apparel



No. 1—$38.50 VALUE $52.50

No. 6—$24.50 VALUE $36.50

TAILORED & FANCY SUITS

Novelty Fancy Fur Trimmed Suits,—copies of several high cost models,—Wool Velour, Gabardine, Velvet or Imported Broadcloth. One model illustrated,—No. 1. value 52.50 38.50

Several new Short Coat models in Fur Trimmed Suits,—lustrous Broadcloth, Gabardine or Velveteen. One model illustrated,—No. 6. value 36.50, 24.50

Tailored Suits of Gabardine, Diagonal Cheviot or Ripple Cloth, in a number of the season's smartest models. value 28.50, 19.50

Smart Tailored Suits of French Serge or Broadcloth, in a wide range of the newest and most desirable colors. value 38.50, 28.50

Handsome Tailored Suits,—in a variety of the season's smartest designs; in Gabardine, Imported Broadcloth or Soleil. value 40.00, 32.50

Attractive Suits,—Smart Short or Three-quarter length Coats, including several exact reproductions of Imported models. Made of Silk Velvet, Wool Velour or combination Broadtail Cloth and Broadcloth. value 75.00, 48.50

The remaining stock of handsome Dressy Suits, also Dinner, Reception and Evening Gowns, at Unprecedented Price Concessions.

AFTERNOON & EVENING GOWNS

Dancing Frocks of Crepe de Chine of an excellent quality, combined with Shadow Laces; pastel shades. One model illustrated.—No. 3. value 25.00. 17.50

Handsome Trotteur Dresses, of fine all Wool Serge, embroidered in unique designs; also Dresses in combination Serge and Satin. One model illustrated,—No. 4. value 29.50, 22.50

Smart Street Dresses of Crepe de Chine or All Wool Serge, in two of the season's most attractive models; a wide range of colorings. value 19.50, 12.50

Afternoon and Dancing Dresses of rich Satin Charmeuse or Crepe Meteor, including several distinctive models elaborately hand-embroidered. All the new Fall colorings represented. value 40.00, 28.50

Smart Afternoon and Danse Dresses, in a large assortment of rich and appropriate materials, including Chiffon Velvet, Crepe Meteor, Panne Velvet and Chiffon Cloth, many trimmed with iridescent sequins and silver lace. values to 50.00, 35.00

Handsome Afternoon or Dinner Dresses of Chiffon Velvet, Broadtail Cloth, Silk Faille or Satin Meteor,—exact copies of several of the season's best Imported models. values to 75.00, 48.00

No. 3—$17.50 VALUE $25.00

No. 4—$22.50 VALUE $29.50

WOMEN'S BLOUSES

Sleeveless Basques of Black Velvet, with collar and lapels of Satin; finished with fancy ornaments at sides. value 4.00 2.95

Dressy Blouses of Embroidered Net and Shadow Lace, with fancy flat collar; Black Moire ribbon cravat. value 5.00 3.95

Smart Tailored Blouses of "Radium" Silk, with turn-over collar; finished at neck with ribbon. value 6.75, 5.00

Embroidered Crepe de Chine Blouses, in various styles; Flesh or White. value 6.75, 5.00

Handsome Blouses in All-over Shadow Lace, with White Satin piping; pretty ribbon bodice effect. value 7.95, 6.50

Smart model in Embroidered Net over Chiffon lining; fancy collar; Black Silk Velvet girdle. value 8.75, 7.25

Attractive model in Georgette Crepe, with sleeves and collar of Gold Lace; box-plaited in front and back. Navy or Copenhagen Blue, Brown, Russian Green, Prune or Black. value 9.25 7.50

Gold Lace Blouses, with bodice of Chiffon; vestee of Flesh color Chiffon; trimmed with Velvet buttons; fancy collar of Gold Lace. Navy Blue, Brown, Green or Prune. value 9.25 7.50

Georgette Crepe Blouses, trimmed with scalloped Satin and veining. Flesh or White. value 10.50, 8.75

Unusual Sale
WOMEN'S "SOROSIS" SHOES

Fawn and Gray Top Boots

Regularly 7.00 and 8.00

At 4.75

All the above Shoes have the Genuine Spanish Louis Celluloid Covered Heels

THE FUR DEPARTMENT

Offers most attractive assortments of Furs and Fur combinations in all the fashionable pelts, made into the newest styles, introducing many artistic effects in the luxurious as well as the more practical garment at popular prices.

Exceptional Values

Dyed Blue Fox Muffs,—the season's most fashionable and newest style. value 65.00, 37.50

Dyed Blue Fox Scarfs to match. value 60.00, 32.50

Blended Hudson Bay Sable Muffs. value 125.00, 85.00

Blended Hudson Bay Sable Scarfs. value 65.00, 40.00

Blended Fisher Muffs. value 125.00, 95.00

Blended Fisher Scarfs. value 65.00, 40.00

Caracul Coats,—collar of Ermine, Russian Fitch or Natural Skunk. value 110.00, 85.00

Hudson Seal Coats,—made from fine selected skins, 40 inches long. value 125.00, 95.00

Extra Size Hudson Seal Coats,—choice skins; sizes 44 to 50 in. bust measure. value 140.00, 125.00

A Complete Line of Choice Fur Trimming at Moderate Prices.

HAIR GOODS SALON

Very Special Price

20-in. Naturally Wavy First Quality Switches. value 6.95, 3.95

Prompt and careful attention given to Mail Orders

Extraordinary Reductions
DRESSMAKING DEPARTMENT

Imported Models—also Exclusive Styles, originated in our own workrooms

Suits ..... 65.00 to 175.00
formerly 95.00 to 275.00

Gowns ..... 65.00 to 250.00
formerly 125.00 to 450.00

WOMEN'S DRESSY WRAPS & COATS

No. 5—$32.00 VALUE $42.00

Smart Coat, as illustrated,—No. 5, of Corduroy Velvet with fur collar; handsomely lined. value 42.00, 32.00

Dressy Coat of Duvetyne, as illustrated, No. 2—collar and cuffs of "Tigerette" Plush or self colored Velvet. value 45.00, 32.00

Evening Wraps of Imported Plush or Broadtail Cloth, lined and prettily trimmed. value 45.00 to 65.00 25.00, 29.50 and 39.50

Afternoon and Evening Wraps of Imported Chiffon Velvet, copies of latest Foreign models, value 65.00 to 69.50 38.00 and 49.50

Theatre Wraps of Chiffon Velvet, with fur collar; full lined and interlined. values 65.00 and 85.00, 38.00 and 55.00

Smart Coats of Corduroy Velvet, prettily lined. value 32.00, 23.50

Evening Wraps of Imported Chiffon Broadcloth, with collar of Iceland Fox; warmly lined and interlined. value 35.00 25.00

Dressy Model in Wool Fabrics, suitable for street and afternoon wear. value 32.50 to 47.50 22.50, 25.00 and 35.00

Black Broadcloth Coats,—lined; prettily trimmed. value 25.00 to 35.00 16.50, 19.50 and 24.50

No. 2—$32.00 VALUE $45.00

Smart Afternoon Coats, in the newest fabrics. value 12.50, 9.50

Travel and Motor Coats, with fur collar; a variety of materials. values 29.50 and 35.00 18.50 and 25.00

Afternoon and Street Coats, in Broadtail or Persian Lamb Cloth. value 27.50, 19.50

Practical Coats of Black Broadcloth, silk lined; some trimmed. For stout figures. Sizes 44 to 55 bust measure. value 35.00, 28.00

Street Coats of various fabrics. Sizes incomplete. value 17.50 to 25.00, 7.50, 9.50 and 12.75

Smart Utility Coats of Seal Plush, with fur collar; suitably lined. values 29.50 and 35.00 19.50 and 24.50

Utility Coats of Broadtail Cloth, beautifully marked. value 29.50, 19.50

Raincoats of Showerproof Cloth. values 16.50 and 19.50, 9.50 and 12.50

Raincoats of Imported Rubberized materials, guaranteed. value 9.50, 7.50

"McCREERY'S SILKS"

Famous Over Half a Century

The Finest Silk the World Produces

Prevailing weaves and colors in fashionable Silks, Satins, Chiffons and Velvets. Elaborate new Period designs in Pompadour Silks. Exquisite Novelties in Metal Brocades for Evening Wear; latest tones of subdued colors for afternoon wear. Black Silks of Standard Qualities for general utility wear at Reasonable Prices.

The following Weaves in Double Width Dress Silks are shown in our usual wide range of latest colors, also White, Cream or Black:

Genuine Crepe Meteor. values 1.50 and 2.00, yd. 98c and 1.35

All Silk Crepe de Chine. values 1.25 and 1.75, yd. 88c and 1.35

Satin Messaline. values 1.25 and 1.75, yd. 95c and 1.25

Velvet Department

Another Shipment of Superior Quality, Double Width

Chiffon Dress Velvet

A Parisian selection of this season's most fashionable colors, including the new Bordeaux series of shades and Black. value 5.50, yd. 2.85

Colored & Black Dress Goods

5,000 Yards of the newest Brown and Green Woolen Dress Fabrics in a large variety of styles especially adapted to this season's coat-suits. yd. 1.10 to 1.95

Imported Tartan Plaid Suitings. value 1.25, yd. 88c

Imported Black Broadcloth,—sponged and shrunk. value 3.00, yd. 1.95

Specially Arranged Sale
SUITS, COATS & DRESSES
For Misses and Girls

Misses' Suits,—two new and exclusive fur-trimmed models of fine quality Velveteen. Navy Blue, Black, Negre or Green. Size 14 to 18 years. value 42.50, 29.50

Misses' Suits,—eight smart and effective models in Gabardine or Broadcloth. Navy Blue, Black, Negre or Green. Size 14 to 18 years. value 35.00, 26.50 and 29.50

Misses' Coats,—new models for practical wear in English Mixtures, Zibeline or Broadcloth. Size 14 to 18 years. values 18.50 and 26.50, 12.75 and 18.50

Misses' Evening Dresses,—attractive models in Chiffon, Taffeta, Crepe de Chine or Satin, combined with lace. Size 14 to 18 years. values 22.50 and 27.50, 14.75 and 18.50

Juniors' Suits,—six new youthful models for the "hard to fit" girls. Made of Gabardine, Diagonal Cheviot or Corduroy. Navy Blue, Negre or Green. Size 13 to 17 years. values 22.50 and 29.50, 16.75 and 19.75

Girls' Coats,—full length models; lined throughout with silk serge or with self lined yoke. Made of Zibeline, Chinchilla, Cheviot or Invisible Wool Plaid materials. Size 6 to 16 years. values 9.75, 10.75 and 12.75, 6.95, 7.50 and 9.75

Girls' Wool Dresses,—practical models in Serge, Poplin, Wool Plaid or Check Materials. values 8.50, 9.75 and 12.75 4.95, 6.95 and 9.75

NEGLIGEES & ROBES

Negligees of Crepe de Chine, in a variety of styles; attractively trimmed. values 22.50 and 29.50, 14.50 and 19.50

Negligees of Crepe de Chine, hand-embroidered bodice; plain skirt. value 12.50, 9.50

Boudoir Slip-ons of Crepe de Chine,—graceful models; daintily trimmed. value 7.50 to 14.50, 5.00, 8.50 and 9.50

Negligees of Albatross, in a variety of models. values 5.75 and 7.50, 3.75, 4.50 and 5.50

Quilted Japanese Silk Robes. value 8.50, 5.50

Eiderdown or Blanket Robes, in pretty colorings. value 3.75 to 5.75, 2.95 and 3.75

Kimonos of Flannelette. value 1.95 to 2.65, 1.35 and 1.65

Imported Japanese Kimonos. value 8.50, 6.50

SILK & MERINO UNDERWEAR

Glove Silk Combination Suits, band top; reinforced. White or Pink. value 3.75, 2.90

Glove Silk Combination Suits, embroidered yoke; bloomer knee; reinforced. value 4.50 to 5.00, 3.65

Glove Silk Bloomers, reinforced. Black, White or Pink. value 2.25, 1.85

Glove Silk Bloomers, reinforced; brocade effects. value 3.50 2.50

Women's Gymnasium Bloomers of Black Poplar Cloth. value 2.75, 2.25

Gymnasium Bloomers for Misses and Children, in Black Poplar Cloth. value 2.25, 1.85

Swiss Ribbed Cotton Union Suits, low neck; sleeveless; knee or ankle length. value 1.50, 1.15

Light Weight Ribbed Wool Union Suits, low neck; sleeveless; knee or ankle length. value 2.00, 1.35

Quilted Silk Jackets. Black or White. value 2.00, 1.65

"MERODE" UNDERWEAR

A comprehensive line in all the desirable shapes adapted to the prevailing style of dress.

Vests, Drawers and Tights. regularly 50c, 35c

Extra Sizes. regularly 65c, 50c

Union Suits. regularly 1.00, 75c

Extra Sizes. regularly 1.25, 1.00

ENGLAND TO FIND WORK FOR BELGIANS

Relief Committee, Government, and Labor Organization Working Together on the Problem.

YIELDS TO PUBLIC OPINION

Fear That Continued Idleness Will Have a Bad Effect on the Refugees.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Those in charge of the Belgian refugees in England have at last yielded to the public opinion that some consideration should be given to employing these people, on the ground of the unhappiness and degeneration which would follow the complete idleness for an indefinite time of the working population.

Hitherto the Belgian Relief Committee has resisted the idea of employing the refugees, on the ground that it would unsettle the English labor market and that Belgians might not be anxious to return to their own country and take up the hardships of rebuilding the invaded territory if they were comfortably settled and employed in England. Lady Lugard, from the first, was one member of the Belgian Relief Committee who favored finding employment for the refugees, and she has been instrumental in organizing the "Belgian Employment and Repatriation Committee," which at present is working upon this problem in conjunction with the committee of the Government under the Chairmanship of Sir Ernest Hatch. An advisory committee consisting entirely of Belgians is also in process of formation.

The object of these committees will be to place the Belgian labor now resident in England in those trades which need workmen or workwomen, and to do this in such a manner that it will not arouse the jealousy of the English working people. To this end a labor representative has a seat on the Government committee which is looking into this question. It is also planned to employ as many Belgians as possible upon the land, because it is felt their traditional skill in intensive cultivation will be very useful. Other trades in which many of the refugees are skilled laborers are the zinc industry, lacemaking, and diamond cutting.

BELGIAN RELIEF SHIP SAILS.

Jan Block Carries 2,000 Tons of Supplies from London.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The steamer Jan Block, laden with 2,000 tons of supplies for the relief of Belgians, which were purchased by the American Relief Commission, sailed from London today for Rotterdam. Tomorrow the steamer Tellus will depart with 1,700 tons of wheat.

Herbert C. Hoover, Chairman of the American Commission, has received a report from Alderman Jacomain Maes describing the relief work in Brussels. The city has been divided into twenty-one districts, in each of which a local committee arranges for the distribution of supplies. Bread and soup are delivered to these committees before 10 o'clock every morning from a central kitchen, where thirty-six cooks and fifty assistants begin preparing the soup at 2:30 A. M. The cooks are divided into two squads, and their work is supervised by a special committee, of which Senator Catteau and the President of the Brussels Hotel and Restaurant Society are mmebers. While the soup is being conveyed by fourteen trolley cars to the distribution centres the cooks immediately begin preparations for the next day's supply.

WON'T BAR GERMAN STUDENTS

Rhodes Scholarship Trustees Will Welcome Them After the War.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Dr. George R. Parkin, organizing representative of the Rhodes Trust, states authoritatively that there is no intention of annulling the codicil to Cecil Rhodes's will making provision for the allocation of a number of Oxford scholarships to German students.

"We should be sorry to lose them," he says. "In future we would like to see a new Germany arise which would send men again, to justify Mr. Rhodes's hope about the influence of his scholarships."

AMERICAN UNDER FIRE.

Richard Norton Describes German Attack on French Village.

Eliot Norton of 2 Rector Street has received the following letter, dated Le Doulens, France, Oct. 23, from his brother, Richard Norton, who is with the American Volunteer Motor Ambulance Corps at the French front:

Here we are some fifteen miles north of Amiens, which town we reached day before yesterday in the evening, having left Boulogne in the morning. In the afternoon we went to Albert, a town the Germans laid flat about a month ago. We were about a kilometer from the town when a motor met and stopped us. Out of it stepped the Mayor of Albert who said the Germans had just begun to bombard the place again. Sure enough we heard the guns. Along the road behind the Mayor streamed all the poor villagers, with their few pitiable belongings. One had two small tables on a barrow, others had bread and eatables in cloths hung over their shoulders, babies in perambulators, and little children and old people stumping along as fast as they could. They had during the last days begun to return to the ruined town, and now were driven into the fields again. They were without plan of where to go, but were footing it across the fields, settling for the night under the haystacks. They were not sure who was left in the town or whether there were any wounded, so we left the motor and [illegible]

The Germans were shooting with their big guns and field artillery and were apparently trying to hit a sugar factory and the railway station. At the first houses we found an old peasant behind a thick holly tree, who said there was no one left, so, as the shells were falling about 150 yards off, we withdrew, filled the car with some ten women and children and took them to a village. That was my first experience of war, and in many ways it was less unpleasant than having Arabs pot at me by night down at Cyrene.

This morning we received orders to come here, where many wounded are being brought from the firing line a few miles away. The officers here are a very pleasant lot, and greatly pleased at the evidence we give of American sympathy.

The work we have started is a good one, so go on and get all the money you can and any good, sound volunteers. Pass this letter on, will you?

Broadway Saks & Company at 34th Street

An exceptional sale tomorrow of Women's

Fancy Tailored & Three-Piece Costume Suits

reproducing the most advanced styles in tailored modes, at prices which are substantially lower than the customary reproduction figures for tailored garments of such character and distinction.

Suits at $23.50
Customary price, $35
Fur or broadtail trimmed
The newest short and medium length coat suits, with circular flare or double ripple skirt, tailored in broadcloth, gabardine, wool faille and cheviots.

Suits at $28.50
Customary price, $45
Fur-trimmed
Short coat, sport coat and military models, with new flare or circular skirt, in broadcloth, corduroy, gabardine, wool faille and Duvetyne.

Suits at $37.50
Customary price, $65
Velvet-trimmed
Three-piece costume suits, made of chiffon broadcloth, with fancy chiffon blouse, velvet trimmed, fancy skirt and a stylish medium length coat. Fourth floor

A most important sale tomorrow of 550 pairs of Women's

$7.00 Buckskin Overgaiter Boots at $4.85

This is the finest value this season in polite footwear

A new button model, made with vamp and heel foxing of patent coltskin, or black Russia calf; leather Louis heels, and genuine buckskin overgaiter tops in gray or faun.

Looking forward to December 25th!

The Saks Leather Shop announces for tomorrow

A tremendous sale of Leather Novelties which is nothing more nor less than an exhibition in leather, presenting the cleverest, choicest conceits in leather craft, at prices which tell their own story far better than we can!

$3.50 Sewing Baskets at $1.50
1,400 of them, in two sizes—a vachette leather cover on wicker basket, with all necessary fittings.

$5.50 Dressing Rolls at $3.75
Black goat seal, with imitation pigskin lining, fitted with military brushes and 10 other toilet articles.

$7.50 Watch Bags at $4.75
1,000 fine velvet leather watch bags, in the new pleated models—no values ever like them.

$2.50 Morocco Bags at $1.65
Morocco bags on plain metal frame, with four fittings—chiffon velvet bags in new full shirred effect.

$9.50 Party Boxes at $5.95
Of fine beaver calf, in all colors, moire lined; contain six gold-plated fittings, mirror and moire purse.

$8.50 Dressing Boxes at $4.95
100 of them—of black long grain Morocco, with violet moire lining, mirror and 7 gold plated toilet articles.

$6.50 Moire Bags at $3.85
Just 150—deep pleated and oblong pouch models, with inside compartments, mirror and purse.

$6.50 Bags at $2.95
A velvet leather bag, with self-covered frame, inside compartment and powder puff and mirror.

3,000 Leather Novelties Regularly $1.50 & $2.00 apiece } $1.00

Great!—both the values and the variety. Make a list of your Christmas requirements and sail in. Jewel boxes, tie racks, sewing rolls, bachelor cases, telephone registers and leather covered clocks, military brushes, cloth brushes, hat brushes and manicure articles.

We have prepared specially for tomorrow

An important sale of Women's Party and Dancing Frocks and the savings prove it!

New models that will lend lustre to the occasions for which they are designed—distinctive creations, chosen especially because they are divergent and unusual. Developed in those most wanted of evening materials, crepe de Chine, satin, and crepe meteor, and shown in festive pastel shades. Fourth floor

Dancing Frocks of Crepe de Chine Value $20.00.....special at } $15.00
Made of excellent quality crepe de Chine, with very full pointed envelope tunic, 3½ yards wide and surplice draped waist. Sleeves of net. In light blue, maize, white, pink and Nile green. Sizes 34 to 42.

Evening Gowns of Crepe Meteor or Satin Value $25.00.....special at } $18.50
The newest full circular tunic skirt, lace waist pointed with silk, and shirred girdle with sash. The neck trimmed with rhinestones. Crepe de meteor or satin, in white, Nile green, maize, pink and light blue. Sizes 34 to 42.

Callot Model Frocks of Satin Charmeuse Value $25.00.....special at } $18.50
Designed with V neck of net, sleeves and undertunic of silk lace, and smart draped tunic skirt, flower-trimmed. The assortment includes pink, light blue, white, maize and Nile green. Sizes 34 to 42.

Lace and Satin Dancing Dresses Value $35.00.....special at } $25.00
Tunic skirt of lace on band of satin, with two accordion pleated flounces of net. Satin surplice waist, and sleeves and front of waist of net. Entire dress over pink, light blue or Nile green. Sizes 34 to 42.

Special for Monday only

Superior quality Silk Petticoats

$4.00, $4.50 & $5.00 values

at $2.90

Five of the season's latest models.
Two styles developed in Silk Jersey.
Three styles made of peau de cygne.
All in black and the new street shades.
Fresh merchandise made expressly for this sale.
And values that are unequalled anywhere. 3rd floor

For Monday only

Boys' Norfolk Suits

With extra knickers, Value $7.50—special at } $5.00

Made of fine all-wool cassimeres and cheviots, in the newest designs and colorings, and tailored into natty Norfolk models. Style in the cut, service in the cloth, and sanity in the value. Ages 7 to 18 years.

Boys' $7.50 Chinchilla Overcoats at $4.95

Made of an all-wool chinchilla cloth, in double breasted Balmacaan and half-belted models, with convertible collar and lining of plaid wool flannel. Splendidly tailored garments that will outwear expectations. Ages 3 to 10 years. Second floor

A Remarkable offering tomorrow of Women's Coats and Evening Wraps that are the six most attractive values in town Fourth floor

Salts' Astrachan Coats
Value $25.00
at $15.00
Full flare models, large collar, revers and cuffs of Salts' plush, and fastening with braid ornament. Full lined.

Ural Lamb Coats
Value $35.00
at $22.50
Full length model, with full collar of kit fox or Hudson seal, and lined throughout with yarn dyed satin.

Silk Corduroy Coats
Value $35.00
at $19.50
Full ripple model, with detachable belt, and convertible collar. Lined throughout with peau de cygne and interlined. Selected in black, navy, brown, taupe, white and beaver.

Fur Trimmed Coats
Value $39.50
at $25.00
Made of Albanian, Sylvanoff or Matalam, with collar of leopard, natural or skunk raccoon, skunk opossum, sable squirrel, civet cat or seal. Full length and full lined.

Evening Wraps
Value $37.50
at $24.50
Circular ripple model of broadcloth, with pointed sides, and collar and cuffs of white moufflon. Lined with brocade satin and interlined. Black and the new colors.

Evening Wraps
Value $50.00
at $33.50
A Bernard model, made of broadcloth, with draped back and double corded belt, the collar and cuffs of white moufflon. Lined with peau de cygne. Black and the new colors.

The Saks Blouse Shop Announces for tomorrow

An unusually important sale of Fine Blouses comprising the prettiest conceits of the hour and marked at prices which are the event of the moment.

Shadow Lace Blouses
Special at $3.95
White over flesh chiffon, or black over white, daintily trimmed with shadow lace and silk soutache braid.

Crepe de Chine Blouses
Special at $3.95
Double-breasted model, with military collar and revers, the front of blouse bound with soutache braid.

Crepe de Chine Blouses
Special at $5.00
Handsomely embroidered crepe de Chine styles, designed with the new button-up collar.

Embroidered Net Blouses
Special at $5.95
Made of embroidered net, combined with navy, green or brown chiffon—new, novel and smart.

Crepe de Chine Blouses
Special at $5.95
The crepe de Chine of a heavy quality, hand-embroidered in Wall of Troy design. Newest collar effects.

Sand Color Blouses
Special at $5.95
Of crepe de Chine in a smart model, trimmed with soutache braid and large novelty buttons. 3rd floor

Black Velvet Blouses at $5.95

The very newest mode in black blousewear

Model No. 1
Of black chiffon velvet, with military collar, black chiffon sleeves and smart jet buttons.

Model No. 2
Of panne velvet, with long chiffon sleeves, and collar, cuffs and revers of white satin.

Model No. 3
Of panne velvet, in sleeveless model, with double-breasted front, and soutache braid.

A special Fur feature tomorrow

Seal Muskrat Coats

worth $90 and $120

at $75 and $90

We have reproduced two new flare skirt models in this fine muskrat fur—one 38 inches and the other 45 inches long. But this cursory designation is totally inadequate to convey the singular beauty of their lines, and only examination can disclose the fine workmanship and finish which our own furriers have put into them. They are made of choice selected skins and are handsomely lined. 6th floor

Matched Sets of Natural Skunk—Special

$40.00.....Four Skin Muffs.....at $24.50
$65.00.....Six Skin Muffs.....at $49.50
$27.50.....Two Skin Neckpieces.....at $19.50
$48.00.....Four Skin Neckpieces.....at $34.50

Sale of Cotton House Dresses

Desirable models, made of percale, gingham and poplin, both light and dark colors. Sizes 34 to 50.

Regularly $1 & $1.50.....special.....at 69c
Regularly $2.00.....special..at $1.00
Regularly $5.00.....special..at $2.50

Special sale of Misses'

Fur-Trimmed Velvet Suits at $35

And an intelligent comparison with prevailing prices for fur-trimmed velvet suits will substantiate the statement that the actual value of these suits is $50

There are four models, all with the new wide circular flare skirt, and each a novel and distinctive example of the vogue in short coat suits. Very dressy styles, made of imported velveteen, in black, Russian green, seal brown and navy, tailored with that excellence which is the cumulative result of infinite pains, and trimmed with natural or dyed, raccoon and skunk opossum fur.

Plush Fur Coats Value $29.50.....Special at } $19.50
Dressy flare back, broad belted models, made of a fine quality fur plush, with a smart new collar, which can be buttoned close to the neck. Lined throughout with guaranteed satin. Sizes 14 to 18 years. Second floor

To close out—127 Misses' Dresses

$16.50 Dresses $9.50
$22.00 Dresses $12.50
$29.50 Dresses $14.50

Just two or three of a kind, in many of the season's most favored models. English serge, and satin and serge combined, in black and colors. 14 to 18 years. Second floor

Sale of Hair Goods

Every three months we reassemble our hair stock, and close out a limited number of switches and transformations at reduced prices. These are the reductions tomorrow: Third floor

$4 and $5 Wavy Switches.....reduced to $3.50
$4 and $5 Wavy Gray Switches.....reduced to $3.50
$5 and $6 Wavy Transformations.....reduced to $4.50

Obtainable in practically all shades. Experts in attendance.

Children's $10 to $12 Coats—$7.50

Warm Winter coats for little people. Made of Zibeline, chinchilla and corduroy, in various colorings, and in a selection of pretty, practical models. 2 to 6 years. Second floor

Sale of Children's Sweaters

$1.50 value at $1.00
$2.50 value at $1.50
$3.50 value at $2.00
$5.00 value at $2.95

Gray, brown, navy and white. Not all sizes in any style, but complete sizes in the lot as a whole. 2 to 5 years.

$5 Crepe de Chine Nightgowns, $3.95

A couple of most attractive models in pink and white, one a hemstitched effect, the other prettily lace-trimmed. An exceptional value especially prepared for Monday.

French Hand-embroidered Under Apparel—value $1.50 } $1.00

Chemises, drawers and corset covers in half a dozen effective hand-embroidered styles. Unusual value. Third floor

BRODSKY
IMPORTER
20 West 39th St.
Near Fifth Avenue

Special Sale
THIS WEEK IN OUR Dress Department
Ground Floor
Seventy-five Distinctive
MODEL DRESSES
$35.00 up
Regularly $75.00 to $150.00
Assortment includes Charmeuse trimmed with Fur. Velvets, Nets and Serges, combined with Satin. All the fashionable colors.

Exclusive Dancing Frocks, Evening Gowns and Wraps at Great Reductions.

FROM ENTENTE TO ALLIANCE

German Semi-Official Organ's Effort to Trace the Transformation Since 1911.

BRITAIN AS FRANCE'S TOOL

Led by the Nose, Norddeutsche Zeitung Says, Since the Moroccan Crisis.

TEXT OF RUSSIAN COMPACT

Adduced to Show England's Promise of Thorough Naval Co-operation in the Event of War.

The semi-official Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung of Oct. 16 published correspondence bearing upon the events leading up to the war, with particular reference to what it regards as the long-meditated transformation of the Triple Entente into a hard and fast alliance.

In view of the efforts of our adversaries, it says, to put the blame for the present war on a German "military party" and German militarism, we publish herewith a number of dispatches of German diplomatic representatives abroad which have for their subject the political and military relations between the powers of the Triple Entente before the outbreak of the war. For obvious reasons the exact dates of the dispatches and the offices from which they were sent are not indicated here. The documents speak for themselves.

I.

England "the Tool of France."

"March —, 1913.—Tighter and tighter are growing the meshes of the net in which French diplomacy is succeeding in entangling England. It is well known that in the early phases of the Morocco conflict England had made certain promises of a military nature to France which have since grown into positive agreements. Concerning their arrangements with regard to naval co-operation, I learn the following from a generally well informed source:

"The British fleet undertakes the guarding of the North Sea, the Channel, and the Atlantic Ocean in order to make it possible for France to concentrate her naval forces in the western basin of the Mediterranean, for which operation Malta is placed at her disposal for a naval base. Detailed arrangements have been made with regard to the use of French torpedo craft and submarines in the Channel, and relative to the British Mediterranean squadron, which will be placed under the command of a French Admiral at the outbreak of hostilities.

"Meanwhile the attitude of the British Government during the Morocco crisis of 1911—during which it proved the non-reasoning and obedient tool of French politics and by Mr. Lloyd-George's speech encouraged French chauvinism and inspired it with new hope—offered an opening to the French Government to drive another nail into the coffin in which England's policy of ententes has already put to rest her freedom of deciding her own course.

"Through a trustworthy source I have obtained knowledge of an exchange of notes which took place between Sir Edward Grey and Ambassador Cambon last Autumn, which I have the honor of transmitting herewith, with the request that it be treated as strictly confidential. In these notes, the British and the French Governments agree that, in the event of a threatening attack by a third power, they will at once enter into an exchange of opinions about the question whether common action for preventing the attack is advisable, and, if this should be found to be the case, whether and to what extent the existing military arrangements should be carried out.

"With subtle ingenuity the agreement is worded in such a manner that it suits the peculiar English mentality. Formally, England enters into no obligation whatsoever to give armed assistance; according to the letter, she retains full freedom to do whatever her own interests may demand. However, that, in point of fact, England has by this agreement and the existing military arrangements already given herself up beyond salvation to the French revanche idea, requires no lengthy explanation.

"The British Government plays a dangerous game. By its attitude in the Bosnian and in the Moroccan questions it has twice created a crisis which each time brought Europe to the verge of war. The encouragement which, directly and indirectly, it grants to French chauvinism may on some future day bring forth a catastrophe in which English and French soldiers may have to pay by their blood, on French battlefields, for England's policy of isolation.

"King Edward's seed is germinating!"

II.

Grey's Letter to Cambon.

Sir Edward Grey to the French Ambassador, Paul Cambon:

"Foreign Office,
Nov. 22, 1912.

"My Dear Ambassadeur:

"From time to time in recent years the French and British naval and military experts have consulted together. It has always been understood that such consultation does not restrict the freedom of either Government to decide at any future time whether or not to assist the other by armed force. We have agreed that consultation between experts is not and ought not to be regarded as an engagement that commits either Government to action in a contingency that has not arisen and may never arise. The disposition, for instance, of the French and British fleets, respectively, at the present moment is not based upon an engagement to cooperate in war.

"You have, however, pointed out that if either Government had grave reason to expect an unprovoked attack by a third power, it might become essential to know whether it could in that event depend upon the armed assistance of the other.

"I agree that, if either Government had grave reason to expect an unprovoked attack by a third power, or something that threatened the general peace, it should immediately discuss with the other whether both Governments should act together to prevent aggression and to preserve peace, and, if so, what measures they would be prepared to take in common. If these measures involved action, the plans of the General Staffs would at once be taken into consideration, and the Governments would then decide what effect should be given to them."

III.

Plan for Franco-British Action.

The French Ambassador Cambon to Sir Edward Grey:

"London, Nov. 23, 1912.

"In your letter of yesterday (Nov. 22) you remind me that in recent years the military and naval authorities of France and Great Britain have consulted together from time to time; that it has always been understood that these conversations did not restrict the liberty of each Government to decide in the future whether they should lend each other the support of their arms; that on both sides these conversations between specialists were not, and ought not to be, considered as agreements obliging our Governments to act in certain cases; that, moreover, I observed to you that if either Government had serious reasons for fearing an unprovoked attack on the part of a third power, it would become necessary to know whether it could count on the armed support of the other. Your letter answers this observation, and I am authorized to declare to you that, in case one of our Governments should have serious cause for fear, whether the aggression of a third power or some event threatening the general peace, this Government would instantly ascertain whether both Governments ought to act in concert, with a view to anticipate the aggression or to preserve peace. In this case, both Governments would deliberate on the measures they would be disposed to take in common; if these measures warranted action, both Governments would immediately examine the plans of their General Staffs and then decide how these plans should be executed."

IV.

King George's Visit to Paris.

"May —, 1914.—With regard to the political results of King George's visit to Paris I learn that a number of political questions have been discussed between Sir Edward Grey and M. Doumergue. Moreover, it has been suggested on the French side to complete the special military arrangement existing between France and England by an analogous arrangement between England and Russia. Sir Edward Grey has received this suggestion in a sympathetic manner. He has, however, pointed out that he is unable to bind himself without a previous consultation with the Cabinet. It is said that the Minister has been much impressed by the reception accorded to the English guests by the French Government and the French population. It is to be feared that the English statesman, who has made an official visit abroad for the first time, and, as it is affirmed, even left England's soil for the first time on this occasion, may in future succumb to French influence in an even higher degree than he has done heretofore."

V.

New Triple Alliance Predicted.

"June —, 1914.—The news that, on the occasion of King George's visit to Paris the suggestion was made to conclude a military arrangement between England and Russia, has been confirmed to me. From a reliable source I learn that M. Iswolsky is responsible for that suggestion. His has been the idea of using the expected high spirits of the days of Paris for transforming the Triple Entente into an alliance of the type of the Triple Alliance. If, in the end, Paris and St. Petersburg had to be satisfied with a little less, this has, evidently, been done out of consideration of the fact that in England a large part of public opinion is positively unfavorable to the conclusion of formal alliances with foreign powers. In view of this fact, despite the numerous proofs of British diplomacy's entire lack of power to resist the influence of the Entente—I refer to the servility with which, quite recently, England supported Russia, in the question of the German military mission to Turkey—it has evidently not seemed advisable to let the cat out of the bag at once. It has rather been decided to advance gradually, by slow steps. In a meeting of the Cabinet Sir Edward Grey has warmly recommended the Franco-Russian suggestion, and the Cabinet has accepted his views. It has been resolved to prepare a naval agreement the negotiations for which are to be conducted in London between the Admiralty and the Russian Naval Attaché.

"Great is the satisfaction among the Russian and French diplomatists. They consider the conclusion of a formal treaty of alliance only a question of time. To accelerate this result, St. Petersburg would even be ready to make certain sham concessions to England in Persia. The differences of opinion in this regard which have recently occurred between the two powers have so far not been settled. As for England's apprehensions with regard to the future of India which have made themselves felt again recently, Russia follows the policy of giving appeasing assurances for the time being."

VI.

Disclaimers of the New Alliance.

"June —, 1914.—The French indiscretions with regard to the Anglo-Russian naval convention cause a great deal of uneasiness in St. Petersburg and London. Sir Edward Grey is afraid that the matter will cause a question in Parliament. The naval attaché, Capt. Wolkov, who has spent several days in St. Petersburg with the obvious intention of getting his instructions for the parliamentary debate, has returned to London. Parliament has already opened."

VII.

"June —, 1914. In the House of Commons the Ministerial side addressed an interpellation to the Government as to whether Great Britain and Russia had recently concluded a naval convention, and whether negotiations with a view of concluding such a convention had recently taken place between the two countries or were going on at present.

"Sir Edward Grey in his answer referred to similar questions addressed to the Government in the preceding year. The Premier had at that time, Sir Edward Grey went on to say, replied there were no unpublished agreements with European powers apt to restrain or hem in the free decision of the Government or Parliament as to whether Great Britain was to participate in a war or not. This answer held good today, just as it did a year ago. No negotiations with any Power had since been concluded which would detract from the truth of the declaration in question; no such negotiations were in progress, nor was it likely, as far as he could judge, that such would be entered upon. In case, however, that an agreement was to be concluded which might necessitate a retraction or alteration of the above-mentioned declaration of the Prime Minister of last year, such an agreement, in his opinion, would have to be and, he felt sure, consequently would be, submitted to Parliament.

"The great majority of the English press withholds all comment on this declaration of the Minister.

"Only the two radical papers, The Daily News and The Manchester Guardian, have short editorial articles. The first mentioned expresses satisfaction at Sir Edward Grey's words, saying that they are clear enough to dispel all doubts. England, it says, is not in tow of any other country. She is not a vassal of Russia's, not the ally of France, and not the enemy of Germany. The declaration, it continues, is a salutary lecture to those English journalists who would give currency to the belief that there is a Triple Entente of the same nature as the Triple Alliance.

"The Manchester Guardian, on the contrary, is not satisfied with the declaration of the Minister. The paper finds fault with its tortuous wording, and tries to prove that it admits of interpretations which would not entirely exclude the existence of certain, perhaps conditional, agreements of the rumored kind.

"The declarations of Sir Edward Grey correspond with a confidential utterance to the following effect of a person of the Minister immediate entourage:

He was in a position to assert most emphatically and decisively that there were no agreements of any military or naval nature whatever between England and France, although the wish for such had been repeatedly expressed on the French side. What the British Cabinet had refused to France it was not likely to concede to Russia. No naval agreement had been concluded with Russia, nor was any going to be concluded."

VIII.

"June —, 1914.—It would seem that Sir Edward Grey felt a need at once categorically to repudiate the remarks of The Manchester Guardian in response to his answer to the interpellation made concerning the rumored Anglo-Russian Naval Entente. The Westminster Gazette prints in a prominent place, from the pen of Mr. Spender, who is well known to be one of Sir Edward Grey's most intimate political friends, a denementi which leaves nothing to be desired as regards emphasis. Therein it is said: that no naval agreement exists, and no negotiations are pending about a naval agreement between England and Russia, and that nobody who knew the character and the methods of Sir Edward Grey could think for a moment that the declaration which he made was intended to veil the truth."

IX.

The Disclaimers Disbelieved.

"June —1914.—The fact that Sir Edward Grey's declaration in the House of Commons concerning the Russo-English naval conventions was so readily accepted by public opinion in England has caused great relief here and in St. Petersburg. The wire-pullers in this action had feared that the beautiful dream of the new Triple Alliance had come to an end. By the way, I find it hard to believe that it should have been reserved exclusively for the Manchester Guardian to see through the trick which Sir Edward Grey was playing in not answering the questions whether negotiations were pending or in progress about a naval agreement with Russia, and denying the question (which had not been put at all) whether England had entered into binding obligations relative to her participation in a European war. I am, on the contrary, inclined to believe that the English press in this case gave a new proof of its well-known discipline in the treatment of questions of foreign policy, and that it kept silence either in response to a 'mot d'ordre,' or from political instinct. What criticising and fault-finding would the Imperial Government not have been subjected to on the part of the German popular representatives and the German press; what a clamor would not be raised about our foreign policy and our diplomats, if a similar declaration should be made in the Reichstag! In parliamentary England everybody remains silent when a Minister tries in such an evident manner to mislead his own party, the representatives of the people and public opinion. What is there that England does not sacrifice to her Germanophobia?"

X.

Anglo-Russian Agreement.

"June —, 1914.—The fact that Sir Edward Grey has preserved its old sympathies for Germany, the accompanying notes have been sent to me with a request for strictest secrecy, concerning a conference which took place on the 26th of May of the present year, at which the Chief of the Russian Naval Staff presided, and in which the basic principles were fixed for the negotiations about the Russo-English naval convention. My informant knew nothing as yet about the result to which the negotiations have led until now, but he expressed grave fears with regard to the promotion which the cause of Russian nationalism would experience if the convention should really materialize. The moment they were sure of England's participation, the well-known Pan-Slavic agitators would not hesitate to seize the first opportunity to bring about a war. Also, M. Sasonoff was visibly drifting into the wake of the Russian war party."

(Inclosure.)

St. Petersburg, May 13 (26), 1914.

Led by the considerations that an agreement was desirable between Russia and England, with regard to co-operation of their naval forces in the case of military operations conducted by Russia and England with the participation of France, the conference arrived at the following conclusions:

As the contemplated naval convention is to regulate the relations in all their details between the Russian and English maritime forces, an agreement must be reached concerning signals and special ciphers, radio-telegrams and the mode of communication between the Russian and English Naval Staffs. Besides this, the two Naval Staffs are to inform each other regularly about the fleets of third powers and about their own navies, in particular about technical data and newly introduced machines and inventions.

Following the example of the Franco-Russian naval convention, a current exchange of opinion is to take place between the Russian and the English Naval Staff in order to examine questions which are of interest to the Naval Minister of both States.

The Russian naval agreement with England, like the Franco-Russian agreement, is to make provision for actions of the Russian and English Navies, which, previously agreed upon, are to be fought separately. In respect of the strategic aims, distinction is to be made between naval operations in the Black Sea and the North Sea, on the one side, and the expected naval warfare in the Mediterranean on the other. In both spheres Russia must endeavor to get compensation from England for deflecting a part of the German Navy upon the Russian fleet.

In the Bosporus and the Dardanelles, temporary activities of Russia are to be considered as strategic operations in case of a war.

Russian interests in the Baltic Sea demand that England shall keep the largest possible part of the German fleet in the North Sea. That would do away with the overpowering superiority of the German fleet as against the Russian, and might make it possible for the Russians to land in Pomerania. In this the British Government could be of essential assistance by dispatching a great number of merchantmen to the Baltic ports before the beginning of warlike operations, so as to make up for the lack of Russian transport vessels.

As regards the situation in the Mediterranean, it is of prime importance to Russia to have an unquestionable superiority of the forces of the Entente over the Austro-Italian fleets established. For in case the Austro-Italian forces command the Mediterranean, attacks of the Austrian fleet in the Black Sea would be possible, a contingency which would mean a dangerous blow to Russia. It must be assumed that the Austro-Italian forces are superior to the French. England would, therefore, have to secure the preponderance of the fighting forces of the Entente powers in the Mediterranean, at least for so long a time as the development of the Russian Navy has not made such progress as to be able to undertake this task itself. Russian men-of-war must, through England's consent, be allowed to use the English ports in the Eastern Mediterranean as a base, just as the French naval agreement permits the Russian fleet to base itself upon French ports in the Western Mediterranean.

XI.

Poincare's Visit to Russia.

"July —, 1914.—During the course of my conversation today with M. Sazonoff the talk also turned to the visit of M. Poincaré. The Minister laid emphasis upon the pacific tone of the toasts exchanged. I could not refrain from drawing M. Sazonoff's attention to the fact that not the toasts that were exchanged at such visits were wont to give material for uneasiness, but the comments made by the press in connection with them. Such press comments had been made this time also, even spreading the news of a reported conclusion of an Anglo-Russian naval convention. M. Sazonoff, seizing upon this remark, said, in a vexed manner, that such a naval convention existed only 'in the mind of the Berliner Tageblatt and in the moon.'"

XII.

"July —, 1914.—I have the honor to transmit to your Excellency herewith the inclosed copy of a letter, dated the 25th inst. at St. Petersburg, sent to a Russian Grand Duke, who is sojourning here for the present, by his adjutant, and about the gist of which I have already made telegraphic report. The letter, which came to my knowledge in a confidential way, is proof, to my mind, that as early as the 24th inst. people in Russia were determined to go to war."

(Inclosure.)

St. Petersburg, July 12, (25,) 1914.

In St. Petersburg we have had great disorder among the laborers, which strangely coincided with the presence here of the French and with the Austrian ultimatum to Servia. Yesterday I heard from the French military agent, Gen. de Laguiche, that he had been told Austria was not innocent of these labor disturbances. But now everything is quickly reverting to normal conditions, and it seems that, encouraged by the French, our Government has ceased to tremble with fear of the Germans. It was about time! It is better once to speak one's mind clearly to the other party than to hide continually behind the professional lies of the diplomats. Austria's ultimatum is of an unheard-of insolence, as all papers here say unanimously.

I have just read the evening papers. Yesterday there was a meeting of the Ministerial Council. The Minister of War spoke very strongly; he confirmed the statement that Russia is ready for war, and the other Ministers agreed. In accordance with this spirit, a report to his Majesty was made up, and this report was acknowledged the same night. Today a preliminary communiqué of the Government was published in the Russky Invalid to the effect that "the Government is very anxious in consequence of the events that have taken place and the dispatch of the Austrian ultimatum to Servia. The Government is following carefully the development of the Servo-Austrian conflict, to which Russia cannot remain indifferent." This communiqué was printed by all papers with very favorable comment.

We are all convinced that this time there will be no Rasputins to prevent Russia from taking her duty. Germany, which is pushing Austria forward, is determined to measure her strength against ours before we build up our fleet, and the Balkan States have not yet recovered from the war. We also must look danger bravely in the face, instead of hiding our heads during the Balkan war, when Kokovtsoff had no other thoughts than of the purse. At that time war would have been easier, as the Balkan League was fully armed. But in Russia the street demonstrations which were directed against that detestable Austria were dispersed by the police. Now, however, such demonstrations would be gladly welcomed.

Altogether we will hope that the reign of the poltroons and of certain bawlers and mystics is a thing of the past. War is like a thunderstorm. Even though catastrophes should come, it would be better than to endure this sultriness longer. From experience I know to a certainty that for myself the quietest place is at the front, where I can see the danger in its natural proportions, and that is not so terrible. The worst is in the realm where an atmosphere of cowardice prevails, where improbable rumors are abroad, and panics develop. And in the future war the Russian interior will be the rear guard.

WAR HITS BRITISH STAGE FOLK

Half the Road Companies Disbanded —Plans for Relief.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Many cases of dire poverty are being reported to relief committees from among the classes that depend upon amusements for their livelihood. Small-part actors, stagehands, and others are threatened with starvation. The war has hit the theatres and theatre folk of the United Kingdom a hard blow.

Whereas in ordinary times there are 400 companies on the road, there are today fewer than half that number. The darkened streets in London have already resulted in a decision by many managers to give matinées daily and night performances twice weekly, thus reversing the established order of things, and many theatres have been closed. To the high-salaried actor or actress who has saved up for a rainy day the situation is not as serious, but the theatre employe must have substantial aid at once.

To relieve the situation several movements have been started, among them a plan to have a special variety week at the Women's Theatre, for which the public has been urged to purchase tickets. Well-known actresses and actors will give their services.

CHURCHILL IS LORD RECTOR.

Succeeds Carnegie as Titular Head of Aberdeen University.

ABERDEEN, Nov. 7. — Winston Churchill, First Lord of the Admiralty, has been elected Lord Rector of Aberdeen University, in succession to Andrew Carnegie.

ALLIES FIGHTING FOR US, SAYS OSLER

If They Lose We Will Have to Take Up Task of Guarding World's Freedom.

GERMANS' BIG MISTAKE

Thought British Empire Would Crumble, but Instead There Is a Splendid Exhibition of Loyalty.

Special Correspondence of THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—Sir William Osler, Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford and formerly Professor of Medicine at McGill University and head of the department of medicine at Johns Hopkins University, has given to a correspondent of THE NEW YORK TIMES an interview upon the spirit with which Canada is entering the present crisis and the point of view from which the United States should study and understand the situation.

Sir William is qualified to speak upon these questions, as a native and former resident of Canada, as a distinguished figure in the medical world of the United States, and as one whose present supervisory work in connection with the general medical preparations of the British forces has kept him in close touch with many persons in a position to gauge the public opinion both of Canada and the United States. He said:

"At the very outbreak of the present war Canada gave an immediate and unhesitating indication of the sacrifice which she was prepared to make for the empire of which she is a part. I have received since early last August eight or ten letters by every post from doctors and educationalists in Canada, and in the light of what these correspondents have told me, as well as of what I know of the Canadian people and what I have read in the press, I think that Canada has given the world a clean-cut example of spontaneous and inspiring patriotism.

"Canadian troops are now in England. By the time that this interview appears in print it is not unlikely that they will be with fellow-Britons at the front. And the Canadian Government, in perfect accord with Canadian public opinion, has given a further proof of its willingness to pay the toll of the trenches by promising Lord Kitchener a further contingent of 30,000 men, to be sent, 10,000 at a time, as fast as they can be assimilated into the fighting forces of the Allies.

"Canada has not even stopped to measure any financial sacrifice that aiding England might involve. She has buried all party differences and to a large extent even economic conflicts. I believe that she feels as intensely upon the question of German aggression as does England, and she expresses this feeling with more enthusiasm, for Anglican reserve is less a part of her people's nature than it is of the English.

German Statesmen's Error.

"And all of this surprises no one, except, perhaps, the German statesmen, who, dragged by the chain of their frigid and misleading and uninitiative logic, counted upon the British Empire crumbling like a house of cards when the tramp of Prussian armies shook the earth. In Canada there are three distinct and compelling forces working toward an imperial loyalty. Firstly, there are the British born living from Quebec to Vancouver. Secondly, there is the spirit disseminated by the United Empire Loyalists, who largely peopled the Provinces of Ontario, and who have passed from father to son the mantle of loyalty to England and English imperial ideals. And, thirdly, there are the contented French Canadians, who, with complete freedom of law, language, and religion, feel themselves safer as a nationality within an empire than in any other political situation.

"Thus Canada's present attitude toward the mother country is political bread cast upon the waters of a democratic empire. It is a phenomenon common enough within this empire, but found nowhere, as far as I know, save where the Anglo-Saxon theories of government have been the ruling political force. These theories may seem irregular and unsystematic to textbook directors of human institutions, but they have borne the comforting fruits of South Africa, at war with England one decade, her satisfied and loyal ally the next; of India, pouring forth her darker sons to fight and die beside their white rulers; of enthusiastically loyal Canada, Australia, New Zealand.

Fighting Our Battle, Too.

"I think the United States realizes all of this, and understands and admires the peculiar tie which, in spite of few formal and legislative bonds, fastens the Anglo-Saxon countries, and what would United States knows, I believe, that the Allies are fighting her battle as well as their own. If Germany is victorious and puts upon the face of Europe the imprint of the iron heel of Prussian militarism, the task of playing the rôle of political big brother to the Anglo-Saxon peoples of the Western Hemisphere will be the destiny of the United States. She may seek to sidestep this destiny; she may begrudge the sacrifices and the military efforts which such a responsibility will carry with it, but I am convinced of this—her own highest interests and the deeper feelings of her own people will make clear that hers is the task of conserving the Anglo-Saxon liberty—that government of the people, for the people, by the people may not perish from off the earth.

"This does not mean that I think the United States should intervene now or in the near future. I see no need for it now, and I trust none will develop. The Allies, I think, can fight and win their own battles, or at least the larger issues of their own wars. And the adjusting head of a great neutral power, when the fate of the world trembles in the scale of battles, is not to be minimized. The political ideas and aspirations of the United States cannot be other than akin to those of all other Anglo-Saxon countries, and what would be her position if the German sword broke up throughout this British Empire the machinery through which th ideas have expressed themselves?

"I think that the enlightened public opinion of the United States appreciates what this position would be, and feels closer to England and closer to Canada than ever before since 1776."

MAY MEAN 1,000 YEARS' PEACE.

Bishop of London Says War Is a Crisis in the World's History.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The Bishop of London, in an interview with a NEW YORK TIMES correspondent today, asserted that if England should win in the war, it might mean peace for a thousand years. He said he believed England was fighting America's fight as well as her own, and for that reason should get unstinted sympathy from America. The Bishop said:

"I am speaking to you both as a Christian and an Englishman. This is a great day of God, and among the things to be decided is the fate of the British Empire, which also involves the future of America. When I was over there I found we were more than cousins, we are brethren, and England is really fighting America's battle.

"As an Englishman I would rather die than see England a German province, and as a Christian I would rather die than see the Germans' new God, might is right, prevail."

The Bishop said that England had her faults, but that she had tried to carry out the ideas of the New Testament, such as abiding by her treaties and protecting weaker nations. He added:

"Our word is our bond. So enormous is the stake in this war that we must fight on with iron sacrifice. It is a crisis of the world's history. To lose would be to lose all that is worth having in the world. To win may mean peace for a thousand years. We must show fortitude, as when such a defeat as that in the Pacific faces us."

It is the opinion of the Bishop that the only hatred felt in England for Germany was for the spirit of militarism, the "Kaiser spirit," whereas, he pointed out, Germany fiercely hated the English nation. He went on:

"We are a nation of gentlemen, who show chivalry to women and children and have the spirit of forgiveness. We must be above hate. We must fight our battles with majesty, which is with bigness of soul, and when the gospel of might is right is crushed, we may be better friends with the poorer classes of Germany than ever before."

The Bishop was dressed in khaki. He has taken a conspicuous part in the recruiting work, and an appeal he made in two territorial camps resulted in six battalions volunteering for foreign service. For this he received the thanks of the Commander in Chief. The Bishop said he was to address a recruiting meeting today, and remarked, "I hope to obtain 1,000 recruits."

The interview took place in the Bishop's London house in St. James's Square. One conspicuous photograph in the drawing room is that of ex-President Taft. The Bishop spoke warmly of both Mr. Taft and President Wilson.

DUKE'S BROTHER A PRISONER.

Lord Hugh Grosvenor in Germans' Hands—Capt. Robert Bruce Killed.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Announcement is made that Viscount Henry William Crichton, eldest son of the Earl of Erne and Major of the Royal Horse Guards, and Lord Hugh Grosvenor, brother of the Duke of Westminster, are prisoners in the hands of the Germans. The men are brothers-in-law, Viscount Crichton having married the sister of Lord Hugh Grosvenor, while the latter married the sister of the Viscount.

Another statement issued here says that Capt. Robert Bruce, heir to Lord Balfour of Burleigh, has been killed in action, and that Lord Francis Scott, the son of the late Duke of Buccleuch, has been severely wounded.

Lord Reginald Ardee, eldest son of the Earl of Meath, is among the wounded in a hospital at Boulogne. Richard Wyndham-Quin, son of the heir presumptive to the Earldom of Dunraven, is in a hospital at Weymouth, suffering from wounds received in action, while the Hon. Charles Douglas-Pennant, son of Lord Penrhyn, is wounded and a prisoner.

VAST BRITISH TRADE LOSSES.

October Imports Decreased $100,850,000, Exports $90,100,000.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The effect of the war on British trade is shown in the figures published by the Board of Trade for the month of October.

Imports decreased £20,170,000 ($100,850,000) and exports decreased £18,020,000, ($90,100,000.) The principal loss in imports was £5,500,000 ($27,500,000) on raw cotton from America, and £1,500,000 ($7,500,000) on cotton from Egypt, together with £7,000,000 ($35,000,000) on manufactured articles. The exports of coal declined £2,000,000, ($10,000,000,) and the exports of manufactured articles declined £13,500,000, ($67,500,000.) Of the latter cotton yarns made up £5,250,000, ($26,250,000,) and wool yarns £1,250,000, ($6,250,000.)

Are You a Printing Salesman?

We want an experienced man who in addition to present sales can sell a larger volume with our backing.
Our concern is in New York City, established for many years, and is one of the largest in the United States, with complete facilities. We want a man who can make himself worth $5,000 per year and more. If you are that man, write us confidentially giving all the information that you would like to know were you in our position.
Address, G 23 Times Annex

CANADA'S SOLDIERS TOURING LONDON

Hundreds on Leave from Camp Go Sightseeing in Taxicabs.

MAY HAVE A PARADE

Proposition to Give Them a Popular Welcome Is Again Being Agitated.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—Squads of Canadian private soldiers touring London in taxicabs afford a new war spectacle. Several hundred of the Canadians have visited the metropolis this week on short leaves of absence from their camp at Salisbury Plain. They appear to have plenty of money and to enjoy the sights of London thoroughly, while Londoners find equal pleasure in fraternising with the visitors. The American newspaper offices have supplied a keenly felt want by being able to give the Canadians some news from their country.

The assumption of the command of the Candians by Gen. Alderson and his orders for the establishment of a canteen and greater liberality in granting leaves of absence from camp have relieved the principal causes of discontent which beset the contingent from overseas on its arrival. They still complain somewhat of their food, isolation, and quarters. Few huts have been built yet, and although the thermometer stands higher than at home, the men feel the greater dampness of the English climate. There have been two or three days of rain since they went into camp, and the tents they occupy are not wholly rainproof.

The Canadians may yet get the popular reception which was lost because they were disembarked and were entrained for their camp at night. The project of having a parade in London is being agitated with some hope of success. The Canadian colony is particularly anxious to give a warm reception to its compatriots.

November 9th to 14th

WILL BE DEVOTED TO THE SELLING OF

"Mérode" (Hand-Finished) Underwear AND "Harvard Mills" (Hand-Finished) Underwear

This event scored a great success with fore-handed women last Fall and has been taken up this season in a more thorough fashion by the dealers everywhere.

Look for the same generous values—The same complete range of shapes and fabrics—The same perfection of finish and fit—which delighted ALL who filled their last season's underwear wants during the "Mérode" and "Harvard Mills"

Underwear Selling Week.

Prices from 50c to $3.50 per garment

Special Extra Sizes for Large People.
Splendid Range of Silk and Wool Fabrics.
Shapes and Weights adapted to present modes.
All Garments Hand-Finished.

Perfect Fitting UNION SUITS a Specialty

SPECIAL OFFER

We make notable price inducements to attract new customers. Look to your dealer for

The Celebrated Numbers

506 "Mérode" and 806 "Harvard Mills"

At these Exceptional Prices—This Week only

Women's Vests Drawers & Tights	Usual price	50c. at 35c.
Same in extra sizes	" "	75c. at 50c.
Union Suits	" "	$1.00 at 75c.
Extra sizes	" "	$1.35 at $1.00

Sold by Leading Dealers Everywhere

FASHIONABLE DRESSES

Ready for Wear or Made to Measure

AT SMALL PRICE

LANE BRYANT submits the complete outfit in correct form at the right price.

Fresh from the hands of the maker, neither time nor money is wasted in transit.

A Number of New Models Just Added This Week.

Our workrooms are right above the pleasant shopping floors. The owner in person caters to your requirements.

See our selection before completing your purchases.

Specially Priced Models

Tailored Street Dresses	10.85
Crepe de Chine Dresses	16.85
Chic Afternoon Gowns	19.50
Fluffy Danse Frocks	24.75
Dressy Theatre Gowns	29.50
Dinner Gowns	37.50

The selection includes a number of extra sizes for large women.

Lane Bryant 25 West 38th St.

Mail and Telephone Orders
Receive Prompt and Careful Attention
Telephone Murray Hill 9000
All Mailable Packages Forwarded Free of Charge

Murray Hill 9000

Lord & Taylor

Fifth Avenue, 38th Street, 39th Street
Music Daily—Luncheon and Afternoon Tea, 10 A. M. to 5 P. M., Tenth Floor

Founded 1826

Cut Flower Balcony
Choice cut flowers, loose or arranged, at moderate prices.
Special City Delivery Service.
Street Floor

Exceptional Offerings of House Gowns, Negligees & Kimonos
At Less Than Usual Wholesale Prices

Jacquard and Flowered Silk, Flowered Satin and Novelty Crepes, fitted or loose models
98c, $1.25, $1.95, $2.95 & $3.95

Imported Models of Albatross, very attractively hand embroidered
$2.95, $3.95, $5.95, $6.95, & $8.75

Crepe-de-Chine, fitted model.....$3.95
Crepe-de-Chine, swansdown trimmed.....$4.95

Odd Crepe-de-Chine House Gowns
At About Half Their Former Value

Blanket Robes.....$1.85

Japanese Elaborately Hand Embroidered Robes
$7.95—Usually $12.75

Very Attractive Imported House Gowns
Of Crepe-de-Chine, Albatross and Flannel
At Half Their Value

Muslin Underwear

Night Gowns of Fine Nainsook
Discontinued Models and Odd Sizes
At Greatly Reduced Prices
$1.95, $2.50, $2.95 & $3.95
The Former Prices Being $3.25 to $5.50

Envelope Chemises
Sheer materials, dainty lace trimmings.....$1.25, $1.95 & $2.95

Embroidered Albatross Under Petticoats
Domestic.....$1.25 & $1.75
Imported.....$1.95, $2.65 & $3.25

Under Bodices
Basque Bodices of Crepe-de-Chine.....$2.65
Crepe-de-Chine, lace and elastic top.....$1.95
Second Floor

Sale Beginning Tomorrow, Monday
10,000 Pairs Women's Gloves
At Reduced Prices

Kayser Washable Leatherette Gloves — Two clasp, all white, and white embroidered in black. Usually 75c per pair — 50c

Overseam Kid Gloves — Two clasp, black and white. Usually $1.00 per pair — 87c

Mocha Gloves — All shades of grey, pique sewn. Usually $1.25 per pair — 95c

Two Clasp Kid Gloves — Black with heavy white embroidery, and white with heavy black embroidery. Usually $1.50 per pair — $1.10

Extra Quality Velvet Finish Mocha Gloves — Full pique or prix seam sewn, in all the shades of grey. Usually $2.00 per pair — $1.65

16 Button Length Glace Kid Gloves — Overseam, 3 buttons at wrist. Usually $2.75 per pair — $2.10

Street Floor

The First Big Clearance of Oriental Rugs
To Be Held in the New Fifth Avenue Store
To Give Even Better Values Than Heretofore

We have greatly reduced a number of lots taken from regular stock, among which
This Extraordinary Offering of Fine Kermanshah Carpets
At Half Former Prices

Sizes.	Former Prices.	Sale Prices.	Sizes.	Former Prices.	Sale Prices.
11.4 x 7.10	$325.00	$165.00	10.2 x 8.10	$345.00	$172.50
12.4 x 9.1	$355.00	$178.00	13.5 x 11.1	$530.00	$265.00
14.2 x 9.3	$395.00	$197.50	10.2 x 9.8	$350.00	$175.00
12.4 x 9.3	$410.00	$205.00	11.0 x 8.8	$455.00	$227.50
10.9 x 9.0	$375.00	$187.50	16.0 x 10.10	$1200.00	$600.00
10.7 x 9.8	$375.00	$187.50	22.5 x 13.5	$1500.00	$750.00
15.4 x 10.8	$650.00	$325.00	14.8 x 9.2	$360.00	$180.00

Fifth Floor.

Women's Winter Coats
Unsurpassed Values
Arranged for Monday

150 Smart Chinchilla Coats — For street or touring wear. Navy blue, negre brown, gray, Oxford, Copenhagen blue and black. Usually $22.50 — $12.50

200 Street or Touring Coats
Smart models of fancy boucle, zibeline, wool plush, mixtures and two-toned zibelines; many of them are lined throughout, others are half lined.
$19.50 & $25.00

Fur Collared Corduroy Coats — Distinctive models, handsomely lined throughout with peau-de-cygne and warmly interlined. Black, navy, Russian green and negre brown. Usually $45.00 — $29.50

Fur Collared Zibeline Coats — Two exceptionally good models handsomely lined throughout and warmly interlined. Russian green, negre brown and black. Usually $39.50 — $29.50

Fancy Velour Coats — Suitable for street, afternoon or dressy wear, lined with beautiful brocade and warmly interlined. Usually $35.00 — $19.50

Fur Trimmed Afternoon & Evening Wraps — Of silk chiffon velvet richly lined and warmly interlined. Black, amethyst, sapphire, Copenhagen blue, white, rose, taupe, brown and betrave. Usually $85.00 — $69.50

Fur Collared Broadtail Cloth Coats — Of a very fine quality, handsomely lined and warmly interlined. Usually $65.00 — $45.00

Third Floor

Important November Sale of
"Lord & Taylor Linens"
Affording extraordinary inducements for Thanksgiving Linen requirements at Unusual Price Attractions.

Table Cloths & Napkins
in best Scotch and Irish Makes
At Less Than Today's Wholesale Prices.

Table Cloths

Sizes 2 x2	yards	$2.00, $2.45, $2.75 & $3.10
Sizes 2 x2½	yards	$2.50, $2.95, $3.38 & $3.80
Sizes 2 x3	yards	$3.10, $3.50, $4.00 & $4.50
Sizes 2¼x2¼	yards	$2.75 to $3.75
Sizes 2½x2½	yards	$3.50 to $4.75

Napkins to Match, $2.60 & $4.75 per dozen.
Some of the above cloths and napkins are hemmed ready for use.

500 Dozen Hemstitched Huck Towels
$2.95 per dozen—Usually $4.20

400 Dozen Madeira Hand Embroidered Tea Napkins
$6.95 per dozen—Reduced from $10.50 and $12.00

French Hand Made Lace Trimmed Linen
Doylies, Centrepieces, Scarfs, Tea and Luncheon Cloths,
Averaging 50% Less Than Regular Prices.
Second Floor

An Attractive Offering of Women's Angora Sweaters

Very fine and very comfortable are these sweaters with soft roll collars. They come in all the leading shades—rose, Copenhagen blue, tan, green and brown. The border and cuffs being white, with a white sash striped at the ends. Usually $12.50 — $7.00

Fourth Floor

Elaborate Showing of Women's Waists
Introducing the most distinctive and latest models and materials, both imported and domestic.

Special Values for Monday

Cream Lace & Net Combined — Over chiffon lining, dainty tie of black moire finishing collar. — $3.95

White Georgette Crepe Waists — Embroidered in black and white, collar and cuffs of organdy or double frill of net. — $8.75

Cream Lace Combined with Chiffon Cloth — New ruche collar, front band finished with tiny rose-buds. — $12.75

Special Attention is called to
The Mourning Section for Blouses
Models in all black, and black combined with white faille, organdy or batiste in Pussy willow, taffeta, georgette crepe (plain and embroidered), chiffon cloth, crepe-de-chine and net,
$5.95, $7.95, $8.75 to $58.50
Prices Ranging According to Materials (sizes 34 to 44)
Third Floor

Sale of Corsets
Remarkable Price Reductions
Mme. Irene Corsets

Silk Tricot Model — In pale pink and white, lightly boned, semi-girdle top and straight hips. Usually $10.00 — $5.00

Successo Model — Of handsome brocade, medium low bust, free over hip. Usually $6.00 — $2.95

Closing Out Incomplete Sizes in American Lady, La Vida Florita & Augustine Corsets
$1.25, $1.95 & $2.95
Usually up to $7.50

Second Floor

An Interesting Display of Women's Dresses
Smart and effective models for afternoon and evening wear are being shown in a large selection of Silks, Velvets and Chiffons.
Excellent Values at
$25.00 to $235.00
According to style and material.

Sample Dresses — Therefore odd sizes and in some instances only one of a model. Silk and a few in velvet for afternoon or street wear. Special at — $25.00

Serge Dresses — in various models; good styles. — $15.00

Third Floor

Semi-Annual Clearance Sale of Furniture
At Great Reductions from Former Moderate Prices

Adam Mahogany Dining Room Suite — 10 Pieces. Usually $750.00 — $500.00

A highly artistic dining room suite, in which every Adam detail is faithfully carried out. Buffet, 72 inches long; eight legs; swell front centre. China Cabinet, 50 inches wide; bent front glass; four front legs. Server, 46 inches wide; four front legs. Table, 54-inch top, 8-foot extension.

Sheraton Mahogany Suites — 10 Pieces. Usually $275.00 — $195.00

Adam Mahogany Suites — 10 Pieces. Usually $350.00 — $240.00

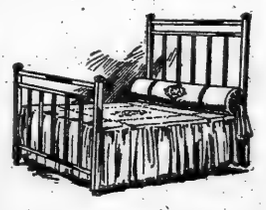
Georgian Oak Jacobean Suites — 10 Pieces. Usually $500.00 — $300.00

Georgian Suite — 10 Pieces. Usually $770.00 — $500.00

Elizabethan Suite — 11 Pieces. Usually $1245.00 — $1000.00

Suites and Separate Pieces that have played an important part in the most successful business the Furniture Section has ever known will be closed out during this Sale.
We can only give a few examples here of the unusual values the sale affords.

Brass Bedsteads
$22.50
Usually $40.00
Square tubing, 2-inch posts, 1-inch fillers, 1¼-inch top rods, all sizes, bright or satin finish.



Box Springs, all regular sizes.....$12.50
$15.50 Layer Felt Mattresses.....$12.50

Living Room Furniture

Buckingham Damask Suite — 6 Pieces. Usually $1200.00 — $900.00

Solid Mahogany Suite — 3 Pieces, brown velour. Usually $400.00 — $300.00

Large Mahogany Book Cases — Usually $170.00 — $125.00

Handsomely Carved Mahogany Desk — Usually $210.00 — $125.00

Sheraton Mahogany Book Case — Usually $85.00 — $42.50

Red Morocco Leather Sofa — Large loose cushions. Usually $320.00 — $250.00

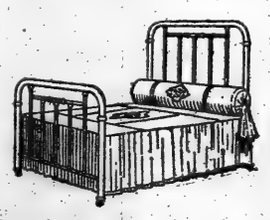
Arm Chair — To match the above. Usually $158.00 — $100.00

Early English Sofa — Upholstered in Spanish Leather. Usually $75.00 — $50.00

Fumed Oak Arm Rocker — Upholstered in Spanish Leather. Usually $47.50 — $35.00

Fumed Oak Arm Chairs or Rockers — Spanish leather spring seats. Usually $27.00 — $18.50

Brass Bedsteads
$15.00
Usually $25.00
2-inch posts, 1-inch fillers; all sizes; bright or satin finish; square tubing in panels.



$1.50 Hair Mattresses.....$25.00
$2.00 Pure Feather Pillows.....$1.50

Bed Room Suite — 4 Pieces. Usually $500.00 — $300.00

An elaborate Sheraton design in mahogany or Circassian walnut. Dresser 52 inches long. Chiffonier 44 inches long, with 30-inch mirror. Toilet Table 44 inches long, with three mirrors.

Same Suite, with Twin Bedsteads, $360.00
Usually $575.00

Georgian Oak Bed Room Suite — Usually $660.00 — $330.00

Antique Ivory Bed Room Suite — 11 pieces, including twin bedsteads. Usually $608.50 — $395.00

Ivory Bed Room Suite — 7 Pieces. Formerly $925.00 — $500.00

Bed Room Suites — Usually $1200.00 to $1350.00 — $775.00

Fine Adam Satinwood Suite — 11 Pieces. Usually $2487.50 — $1650.00

CONSTRUCTIVE WORK DONE BY KINGSBURY

Winthrop D. Lane, in The Survey, Warmly Commends the Charities Commissioner.

REUNITED MANY FAMILIES

He Finds Special Examiners Men Particularly Qualified to Perform Department Labor.

The administration of the Department of Public Charities by John A. Kingsbury, which has been under fire during the investigation of the State Civil Service Commission, is warmly defended by Winthrop D Lane in an article in The Survey of Nov. 7.

In obtaining the exemption from civil service examinations of forty-seven new examiners of charitable institutions, who began their work on July 13 as a "special reinvestigation bureau," Mr. Lane argues that the work laid out for these new examiners was of an entirely different character from that done by the regular investigators. Mr. Lane says:

"Mr. Kingsbury had other plans for his prospective employes than merely ousting improper municipal charges from public and private institutions. He wanted to rehabilitate family homes in an effort to restore to them the dependents the city had been supporting. He wanted to dismiss from institutional care all those whose families or relatives, by a little constructive effort, could be put in position to support them. This might mean the reuniting of separated parents and the smoothing over of other family difficulties. It might mean finding suitable jobs for both men and women. It might mean any phase of the skillful case work done constantly by charity organization societies, but seldom attempted by the Department of Public Charities.

"The field work called for by his plan for the re-examination of dependents obviously required special training for and experience in social investigation. Workers would find it necessary to get accurate information with regard to family incomes, the mental condition of parents, records of unemployment, and many other facts calling for special information."

Mr. Lane says that sixteen of the special examiners were college graduates, fourteen others had received some college training, twelve were high school graduates, and the remaining five had had an elementary school education. All but five had been students of social conditions and these five possessed either professional or technical training.

Mrs. W. J. Gaynor at Hotel Wolcott

Mrs. William J. Gaynor, widow of the late Mayor of New York, will spend the Winter in this city, and has taken an apartment at the Hotel Wolcott. Her daughter, Miss Ruth Gaynor, will be with her. Their home at 20 Eighth Avenue, Brooklyn, has been closed.

WHITMAN OR WILLIS IN 1916.

President Said to Believe He Will Face One of These.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Interest has been aroused here by statements wired out by Washington correspondents that President Wilson is convinced that either Charles S. Whitman, Governor-elect of New York, or Frank B. Willis, Governor-elect of Ohio, will be his Republican opponent for the Presidency in 1916.

Frank B. Willis, who already is being discussed by Republicans of the Middle West as a Presidential possibility, and President Wilson were both born on Dec. 28. But Mr. Willis is sixteen years the President's junior. He was born in Delaware County, Ohio, in 1872, while the President was born in Staunton, Va., in 1856. Eight Presidents have been born in Virginia, while six were Ohioans by birth.

Both Mr. Wilson and Mr. Willis began life as schoolmasters. Before his election to Congress in 1910, Mr. Willis had served two terms in the Ohio Legislature. He was for several years a professor in the Ohio Northern University.

Special to The New York Times.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 7.—Senator Gallinger today expressed the opinion that Charles S. Whitman of New York would lead the Republican national ticket in 1916.

"While I might personally prefer some other man," he said, "it seems to me that District Attorney Whitman's great triumph in New York makes him not only the logical but the inevitable Republican candidate for the Presidency in 1916. But a lot may happen politically in two years.

"Mr. Roosevelt has been thrown into the political discard. The Progressive Party as a separate political entity has been practically eliminated, and thus has shared the fate of all third party movements."

Senator Gallinger added that the recent elections showed that the American people were returning to "sanity." He called the direct primary law an "abomination" and announced that the New Hampshire Republicans, having regained control of the Legislature, would get rid of it at once.

"The people," he added, "have registered their disapproval of a tariff for revenue policy which will continue to disturb business till the end of the present Administration."

A. F. L. DECLARES FOR BEER.

Holds That Prohibition Would Throw Brewery Workers Out of Jobs

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—Brewery workers affiliated with the American Federation of Labor won a victory today when the Union Label Trades Department went on record as opposed to prohibition. The resolution, which probably will be carried to the convention of the federation, which opens here next week, reads:

"Whereas, the principle of prohibiting the manufacture and sale of beer in America is fundamentally in contradiction to the principles of a free people, and,

"Whereas, the passage of such laws will deprive hundreds of thousands of workers employed in this and closely associated industries of a livelihood, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that the Union Label Trades Department of the American Federation of Labor, in convention assembled, declares its sympathy for and support of the Brewery Workers' Union in its efforts to defeat laws which tend to and do deprive its members of the means of earning an honest living at their trade and calling."

B. Altman & Co.

DESIRE to remind their patrons and friends of the advisability of beginning their Christmas shopping now. To those whose homes are situated in New York or its vicinity the recently enlarged Store—with its abundance of floor space and its incomparable facilities for the effective display of the large assortments of newly received merchandise appropriate for holiday gifts—offers every opportunity for discriminating selection and leisurely purchasing; while to those who reside at a distance the services of the Mail Order Department, with its staff of expert shoppers, are ever available whether shopping be done in person, by telephone or by mail, the merchandise offered is equally desirable, and the prices are equally reasonable. Suggestions for holiday gifts will be mailed if requested.

WORTH-WHILE MERCHANDISE AT SPECIAL PRICES FOR MONDAY:

1,500 Yards of 40-in. Black Chiffon Velvet will be specially priced at $3.80 per yard

The Velvet Department is now displaying, at reasonable prices, a very generous assortment of Chiffon Velvets, Silk Plushes, Karakul, English Velveteens and Corduroys.

An Additional Shipment of Broadcloths in black, dark green, tete de negre and navy blue, will be placed on sale at the special price of $1.35 per yard

An opportunity of rare occurrence in the Lace Department (on the First Floor) will be

An Important Offering of Real Laces comprising Duchesse with Point combination, Duchesse, Bruges, Point d'Applique, Point de Milan and Carrickmacross, at the following unprecedented price concessions:

Duchesse with Point Lace combination, usually $4.50 to $40.00 per yard at . . . . . $2.90, 4.50, 5.75 to 22.50

Duchesse Laces, usually $2.00 to $9.50 per yard at . . . . . $1.10, 1.65, 2.85 to 5.75

Bruges Laces, usually $1.25 to $16.50 per yd. at 85c., 1.65, 2.90 to 8.75

Point d'Applique Laces, usually $2.25 to $40.00 per yard at . . . . . $1.25, 2.50, 3.75 to 22.50

Point de Milan and Carrickmacross Laces will be marked at equally interesting prices.

An Unusual Offering of French Hand-made Lace Curtains, Panels and Bedspreads will comprise most desirable goods at very decided price concessions.

FRENCH LACE CURTAINS per pair, $3.75, 4.50, 5.50 to 12.50

FRENCH LACE PANELS each . . $6.00, 7.50 & 9.00

FRENCH LACE BEDSPREADS each . $9.75, 14.00 & 17.50

A Sale will be commenced tomorrow (Monday), in the Department for Women's Ready-to-Wear, of

Smart Tailor-made Suits

of superior materials and workmanship, fur-trimmed and modeled on the latest fashionable lines. The fabrics include chiffon velvet, English velveteen, broadcloth and karakul.

Special Prices: $65.00 & 75.00

being about one-half those usually asked.

An Important Offering of Women's Undergarments

(American-made) in crepe de Chine and the muslins in demand, will present special inducements to-morrow (Monday) and Tuesday at these prices:

Crepe de Chine Underwear

Nightrobes	$3.45, 4.90, 6.25 & 7.75
Combination Garments	$3.90 & 4.85
Corset Covers	$2.15, 2.90 & 3.85
Envelope Chemises	3.25, 3.90 & 5.25
Knicker Drawers	2.90 & 3.90

Muslin Underwear

Nightrobes,	95c., $1.45, 1.90 & 2.90
Combination Garments	95c., $1.10, 1.45, 1.75 & 1.90
Corset Covers	55c., 85c & $1.10
Drawers	48c., 68c., 85c. to 1.45
Envelope Chemises	95c., $1.15 & 1.45
Chemises	85c. & 1.10

Special Salespeople will, if desired, be detailed to accompany patrons to the Store's various departments; or goods will be assembled for inspection in a private showroom.

50,000 Pairs of Silk Hosiery

in desirable qualities, at special prices.

Women's Silk Hose, in black or white, per pair	85c.
Women's Black Silk Hose, including extra sizes	per pair 95c.
Women's Black Silk Hose, with hand-embroidered clocks	per pair $1.50
Men's Black Silk Half-hose,	per pair 1.10
Men's Silk Half-hose, in black, white, tan, navy and slate,	per half-dozen pairs $2.00

Women's French Lingerie

(Hand-embroidered)

in a special selection, will be featured at unusually low prices.

Nightrobes	at $1.50, 1.95 & 2.75
Chemises	at 95c. & 1.10
Petticoats	at $1.25 & 2.25
Pantalons	at 1.10 & 1.45
Corset Covers	at 1.10

Misses' and Small Women's Tailor-made Suits

in three distinct, attractive styles, will be specially priced at $19.50, $29.50 & $36.00

(Department on the Second Floor)

An Interesting Sale of Men's Shoes

now in progress, offers desirable Shoes featuring the seasonable leathers and a variety of shapes, including both conservative and ultra-fashionable models (formerly priced at $5.00 to $11.00 per pair)

at $3.50, 4.75, 5.85 & 8.75

Department on the First Floor, Thirty-fourth Street Entrance.

A Special Sale in the Infants' and Little Children's Department, on the Second Floor, which will offer unusually tempting values, will comprise

Little Children's Coats

(sizes 2 to 5 years)

of chinchilla, flannel-lined	$5.00
of broadcloth, fur-trimmed	6.50
of corduroy, silk-lined	$7.75 & 8.75

Infants' and Little Children's White Coats

(sizes 6 months to 2½ years), made of imported materials, hand-embroidered, lined with silk and interlined.

Long Coats	$5.50 & 7.75
Short Coats	5.50 & 6.25

Also Little Children's Hats

in colors to harmonize with the coats, at the special prices of $1.90, $2.85 & $4.25

A Sale in the Department for Women's Knitted Underwear (Second Floor) will consist of Imported Swiss Ribbed Underwear

at exceptional prices.

Wool-and-cotton Vests, low neck and sleeveless	at 65c.
Wool-and-cotton Tights, in knee or ankle length	at $1.35
Wool-and-cotton Combination Suits, low neck, sleeveless and in knee or ankle length, at	$1.85

All Charged or Paid Purchases (including heavy and bulky shipments) will be forwarded Free of Charge by mail, express or freight to any point in the United States.

Thirty-fourth Street — Fifth Avenue-Madison Avenue, New York — Thirty-fifth Street

Kurzman

Importer

Fifth Avenue & 36th Street

INTRODUCES THE STYLE

At the Fashion Fête this was the only house to show a new style.

The new creation met with the instant approval of the fashion critics and the public as a distinctly original conception.

MISS ANNE RITTENHOUSE, who is recognized here and in Paris as America's foremost fashion authority, says:

"From the standpoint of originality, the Kurzman line has not only the first mention, but, in my opinion, the only mention. * * * Again I repeat that I consider the Kurzman line the only one that is marked by originality, and that is, of course, what the exhibition was arranged for. * * * * * * * *

But I could not find a single detail that I had not seen in Paris design, either here or abroad, except in the line of Kurzman."

Similar expressions of approval and praise were voiced by such eminent papers as

THE EVENING SUN	THE SUN
THE EVENING POST	THE GLOBE
THE EVENING MAIL	THE HERALD
	THE TRIBUNE

EVENING GOWNS AND WRAPS for

THE OPERA

and all social functions

Afternoon Dresses
Dancing Frocks
Tailored Suits

Exact reproductions that assure Correct Style, Perfect Fit and Superior Workmanship may be secured at reasonable prices.

Trimmed Hats

Furs

COATS, MUFFS, NECKPIECES

Fifth Avenue and 36th St.

LUCKY IN REALTY, UNLUCKY IN LOVE

Mrs. A. H. Stoddard of the Biltmore Appeals to Domestic Relations Court.

NON-SUPPORT HER CHARGE

Romance of Business Began When She, as Corporation President, Met Present Husband.

The romance of business which culminated in the marriage on Feb. 4, 1914, of Miss Mabel H. Cole, President of a real estate corporation at 500 Fifth Avenue, and Albert H. Stoddard, had an unromantic sequel in the Domestic Relations Court yesterday, when Mrs. Stoddard obtained a summons directing her husband to show cause why he should not be compelled to contribute to her support. At the Biltmore, where Mrs. Stoddard has lived since the hotel was opened, she admitted that the court proceedings were not intended solely to get money from her husband, but as a preliminary step for a legal separation.

Mrs. Stoddard, who came here from Montreal, Canada, in 1910, first attracted attention by her operations in Wall Street. She subsequently organized the M. H. Cole Company, Incorporated, and was interested in many large realty operations thereafter. It was in a business transaction that she met Mr. Stoddard at the Waldorf. He was then a member of the firm of Stoddard & Van Horne. Shortly before their marriage he took an interest in the realty company and became one of its Vice Presidents.

When the Tercentenary Commission was organized Mr. Stoddard was appointed director of the pageants, continuing his office with that of the realty company. The Chairman of one of the committees of the commission said last night that Stoddard no longer was connected with it, because the commission had objected to his making contracts for about $45,000 worth of floats for the pageants. The commission repudiated these contracts, it was said. Mr. Stoddard brought suit and obtained judgment against the commission for $7,500, part of his salary of $10,000 a year.

Mrs. Stoddard is about 35 years old, tall, blonde, and attractive. It is said Mrs. Stoddard possesses independent means. When she was found with friends in the tearoom of the Biltmore she said she and her husband could not agree, and their separation had followed six weeks after their marriage, but this was known to but few of their intimate acquaintances. She has retired from the realty company because of ill-health, she said.

At 500 Fifth Avenue the superintendent of the building said the M. H. Cole Company had closed its office there some time ago. After the company had withdrawn from the office Mr. Stoddard continued to occupy it until recently. He is now living at 39 East Thirtieth Street. He was not at home last night.

Mrs. Stoddard is the daughter of Robert Cole of Montreal, from whom she learned the real estate business. She was educated in a private school adn at the Royal Victoria College of McGill University at Montreal. Her cleverness as a business woman was shown in successful real estate transactions. Her chief recreation is music, and she is a pianist. She is a member of the Harmony Club, the Latin-American Circle, and the Public Good Society.

SEE MERCURY CROSS SUN.

Observers Here Have a Clear View of Planet's Transit.

Weather conditions were ideal yesterday for the observation of the transit of the planet Mercury across the face of the sun. Astronomers trained their telescopes on the sun and watched the passing of the smallest of the sun's satellites across the lower part.

Fifty members of the Department of Astronomy of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences gathered to make observations at daybreak. Albert J. Brooks, President of the Department of Astronomy, said that Mercury reached the edge of the sun between 4 and 5 A. M., but it was not visible to the observers here until the sun was seen clearly at about 6:34 o'clock. Two telescopes were used for viewing the transit. One was rigged with a projecting screen, upon which the progress of the planet could be followed. Through the other the observers looked directly at the sun through green glasses. When they got their first good view of the sun Mercury was well in the face of the disk. Conditions for making the observations were ideal, Mr. Brooks said. The distance between the sun and Mercury was about 36,000,000 miles.

The next journey of Mercury across the sun will be in May, 1924.

Several groups of sunspots were observed yesterday by the astronomers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Astronomers at the Naval Observatory here today trained their big telescopes on the heavens to observe Mercury, the smallest planet of the sun's satellites, the appearance of which had been awaited with keen interest. The little planet entered upon the sun's disk at 5 A. M. today and disappeared four hours later, not to appear again until May, 1924. Its last daylight appearance was in November, 1907.

Mercury was not visible to the naked eye. Through the lenses of small telescopes it appeared as a black dot traveling across the southern portion of the sun from east to west, but through the huge glasses at the observatory the phenomenon could be seen more plainly. It was visible in all States except the Far West.

CASUALTIES OF BRITISH OFFICERS REACH 1,598

50 Killed, 135 Wounded, 25 Missing in Last Week Covered by Statistics.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—A tabulated list of the casualties among commissioned officers in the various regiments composing the British expeditionary force in France between Oct. 20 and Oct. 27 raises the total number of officers killed, wounded, or missing to 1,598.

Among the regiments to suffer heavily were the Royal Welsh Fusiliers, who lost seven officers killed, eight wounded and two missing, and the Royal Field Artillery, ten of whose officers were wounded.

The list follows:

Regiment.	Killed.	W'ded.	Miss'g.	Total.
First Life Guards	1	..	..	1
Second Life Guards	2	5	2	9
Coldstream Guards	1	..	..	1
Seaforth Highlrs.	..	1	..	1
1st Dragoons	1	1	..	2
4th Drag. (Irish)	..	3	..	3
5th Dragoons	..	1	..	1
3d Hussars	..	2	..	2
4th Hussars	..	2	..	2
18th Hussars	..	1	..	1
19th Hussars	2	..	..	2
20th Hussars	..	1	..	1
11th Hussars	1	..	1	2
12th Lancers	1	..	..	1
16th Lancers	..	3	..	3
Royal Horse Art.	..	1	..	1
Royal Field Art.	..	10	..	10
Royal Engineers	..	1	..	1
Royal Army M. C.	..	2	2	4
Army Serv. Corps	..	1	..	1
Bedfordshire	4	5	..	9
Cheshire	..	3	1	4
Dorsetshire	4	..	..	4
Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry	..	3	..	3
Gloucester	..	3	..	3
Derbyshire	..	1	..	1
Royal Irish	..	3	9	12
King's Own Scottish Borderers	..	1	..	1
Royal West Kent	..	1	..	1
Border Regiment	1	..	..	1
Loyal North Lancashire	..	2	..	2
South Lancashire	..	2	2	4
Royal Lancaster	..	1	..	1
Lincolnshire	1	3	..	4
King's Liverpool	..	1	..	1
Manchester	..	..	2	2
Middlesex	2	1	..	3
Norfolk	..	2	..	2
Northampton	1	1	..	2
Northumberland	1	2	..	3
Rifle Brigade	1	1	..	2
Royal Fusiliers	1	4	1	6
Royal Dublin Fusiliers	..	2	..	2
Royal Irish Fusiliers	1	1	..	2
Royal Irish Rifles	..	2	..	2
First Scots Fusiliers	2	6	1	9
Royal Welsh Fusiliers	7	8	2	17
S. Wales Borderers	2	1	..	3
East Surrey	..	2	..	2
West Surrey	..	6	1	7
Warwickshire	8	2	1	10
Wiltshire	1	2	..	3
Worcester	5	4	..	9
Yorkshire	2	6	..	8
Royal Horse Gds.	..	2	..	2
Durham	..	2	..	2
East Kent	..	3	..	3
Devonshire	1	4	..	5
Leinster	1	2	..	3
Total	50	135	25	210
Previous totals to Oct. 20	334	741	313	1,388
Grand total	384	876	338	1,598

15 MORE OFFICERS KILLED.

British List Dated Nov. 1 Also Includes Names of 60 Wounded.

LONDON, Nov. 7.—A casualty list dated Nov. 1, and issued here tonight, gives the names of fifteen officers killed and sixty wounded.

Among the killed are Col. Frederick Walter Kerr of the Gordon Highlanders, third son of the late Admiral Lord Frederick H. Kerr, and Lieut. Sir Gilchrist Nevil Ogilvy of the Scots Guards, who married a daughter of the Earl of Elgin.

In the wounded list occur the names of Lieut. Lord John Wodehouse, well-known as an international polo player; Capt. Sir Victor Audley Falconer Mackenzie of the Scots Guards, son-in-law of Viscount Knollys, private secretary to King George; Lieut. the Hon. G. E H. Macdonald of the Scots Guards, son of Lord Macdonald; Lieut. the Hon. D. S. P. Howard of the Third Hussars.

Seventeen officers are reported missing, including Lieut. the Hon. V. D Boscawen of the Coldstream Guards, and Lieut. the Hon. C. Douglas-Pennant of the Coldstream Guards, son of Lord Penrhyn.

BELGIANS IN AFRICA AID BRITISH FORCES

Send a Column From the Congo to Operate Against German East Africa.

HAVRE, (via Paris,) Nov. 7.—A report of the operations of the Belgians in the Congo, as published in the Courrier l'Armée Belge, says:

"Our troops have conducted themselves bravely in the colony of the Congo. A flying column has just taken Kissegnie, a fortified point on the bank of Lake Kivu. The troops in their assault on the fort inflicted heavy losses on the enemy.

"A German attempt to take Albertville, on the west shore of Lake Tanganyika, failed. A Belgian column from Katanga has entered Rhodesia to aid the British forces from Abercorn in an operation directed against German East Africa."

Stern Brothers

42nd and 43rd Streets, West of Fifth Avenue.

Have in course of preparation for

Tuesday, November 10th,

An extraordinary sale of

Women's Evening Slippers

Which occasion will present a remarkable opportunity to secure high-grade footwear greatly underpriced.

Also exceedingly important sales of Desirable Furniture, Oriental Rugs and Hall Runners

At Extremely Low Prices

Details of these events will appear in Monday evening's newspapers.

Stern Brothers

42nd and 43rd Streets, West of Fifth Avenue.

Maillard Luncheon and Tea Room on the Fifth Floor

Tomorrow, Monday, Another Very Important Silk Event

Has been arranged, involving the most desirable weaves and colorings that accord with the present fashions, at unprecedented price concessions.

Black Satin Duchesse, 36 ins. wide, Suitable for skirts and sleeves, at 85c a yard. Regularly $1.50 a yard

Crepe de Chine, 40 inches wide, in white, ivory, cream, black and all colors; Regularly $1.50 a yard, at 88c a yard

Imported Plushes, 40 inches wide, in a full range of this season's colorings, at $3.95 a yard. Regularly $7.50 a yard

Plaid and Roman Striped Velvets, 40 inches wide, In the latest Fall combinations and colorings, Regularly $6.50 to 9.50 a yard, at $3.95

Black Dress Velvets, 44 inches wide, erect pile, suitable for suits and coats, Regularly $7.50 a yard, at $3.75

Women's Coats and Wraps

LIBERAL reductions have been made in our entire stock of Evening, Street and Motor Coats, which afford a remarkable opportunity to secure the season's choicest models, reflecting the best ideas of the foremost Parisian modistes in design, material and coloring, at most advantageous prices, of which

These special inducements for Monday are notable examples:

Street Coats, . at $25.00 — Of black broadcloth, full lined and warmly interlined; trimmed with skunk opossum. Very desirable and serviceable garments.

Evening Coats at $59.50 — Of chiffon velvet and silk plush, in black, white and desirable evening shades; moufflon collar and cuffs.

Women's Tailored Suits

ARE assembled in a representative collection of Imported and American-made models, distinguished by their pre-eminently smart style features and harmony of line, color and material. Excellent values now prevail throughout the entire department occasioned by general reductions on all garments.

A very unusual offering tomorrow will comprise

Broadcloth Suits at $29.50 — In black, navy, brown, green and plum; effectively trimmed with Hudson seal. Actual Value $45.00

Women's Suits at $47.50 — Of broadtail cloth, wool velour and imported broadcloth, smartly trimmed with fur. Actual Value $65.00

Fine Leather Goods

Reduced greatly below original cost.

Imported and Domestic Hand Bags, in a variety of leathers, silks and chiffon velvets, at $2.95, 3.85, 5.00. Originally $7.50 to 15.00

Imported Hand Bags, of novelty leather or fancy silks, attractive frames, at $6.50, 8.75 to 19.75. Originally $15.00 to 39.50

Limousine and Dressing Cases, Originally $6.00 to 14.50, $3.95, 4.75 to 7.95

Imported Overnight Cases, of fine morocco, French gilt fittings, at $8.95. Originally $12.50

Imported Cigar, Cigarette and Card Cases, of leather and silk, sterling silver or gold mounted, at $1.75, 2.50 to 6.25. Originally $5.95 to 15.00

The Glove Dept.

IS showing new importations of Women's Alexandre, Lupin and Babbette Kid Gloves, in all the correct styles and shades for every occasion. These gloves are manufactured exclusively for us in France and embody workmanship and skins of the highest excellence.

The leading standard American makes for Men, Women and Children are also maintained in complete assortments at moderate prices.

An unparalleled offering, tomorrow, of Women's French Glace Kidskin Gloves at 75c a pair

2-clasps, with three rows of embroidery on backs; in black, white, and white with black embroidery.

Regularly sold for $1.50 a pair

The Toy Shop

Which has been greatly enlarged

ON the Fourth Floor, is now displaying the latest Imported and Domestic Toys at prices that invite immediate attention. The novel features are

Aeroplanes that really fly;
Mechanical Battleships and Submarines,
Electric Trains, Moving Picture
Machines and Radiopticons,
Walking Dolls and Animals;

Electrically Lighted Automobiles and numerous other interesting toys suitable for boys and girls of every age.

The Mechanical Trains and Moving Picture Machines are being operated daily. Inspection is cordially invited.

The Most Desirable Articles in Sheffield Plated Silverware

For Monday and Tuesday, at about One-Half Less Than Regular Prices

Bread and Butter Plates, 6 and 7 inch, . at 70c and 95c. Regularly $1.15 and 1.50

Bread Trays, Single Vegetable and Chop Dishes, . . at $3.00. Regularly $5.75

Gravy Boat and Tray, Chop and Serving Dishes, at $4.85. Regularly $7.50

Vegetable Dishes, Meat Platters, Large Chop Dishes, . at $6.75. Regularly $10.00

Gallery Serving Trays, Well and Tree Meat Platters, Vegetable Dishes, Fish and Meat Platters, ... Regularly $15.00 each, at $9.75

A Monogram of Three Letters will be engraved free of charge on Sheffield Ware only

Quadruple Plated Tableware

Coffee Sets, three pieces, at $5.50. Regularly $9.75

Pudding Dishes, . . at $4.35. Regularly $5.95

Tea Sets, four pieces, . at $7.25. Regularly $11.50

Hot Water or Tea Kettles, at $6.75. With alcohol lamp; Regularly $12.00

Rogers' Silver Plated Flatware (sectional plated)

Tea and Coffee Spoons,	half doz.	69c
Oyster Forks, . .	" "	1.00
Dessert Spoons & Forks,	" "	1.25
Dinner Knives, flat handles,	" "	1.60
Table Spoons and Forks,
Soup and Bouillon Spoons, round bowl, . .	half doz.	$1.38
Butter Spreaders,	" "	1.45

Fancy Needlework

THE Art Needlework Department, on the Main Floor, is showing an interesting variety of attractive novelties, appropriate for the adornment of the home and acceptable for dainty gifts, at attractively low prices.

A sale of unusual interest, tomorrow, will comprise

Brocaded Picture Frames, - - - at 75c and 1.25

Brocaded Glove and Handkerchief Boxes, - at $1.10

Decorated Trays, in white and gold, at $1.25 to 1.75

Brocaded Book Covers, - - - - at $2.25

Decorated White Enamel Baskets, at $2.25 to 7.50

Parisian Model Dolls, Regularly $8.50 to 13.75, $5.00

Imported Fancy Boxes and Scrap Baskets, Regularly $10.00 to 20.00, - at $7.50 to 10.00

Artistic Fans

Tomorrow, at much less than ordinary prices:

Balloon and Pompadour Fans of net gauze, etamine, cloth of gold and silver; spangled, painted and embroidered, at $1.75, 2.50, 4.50 and 8.00. Regularly $2.50 to 10.50

Ostrich Feather Fans

in white, natural, black and evening shades, mounted on mother of pearl or tortoise shell sticks, at $17.50 and 35.00. Regular Values $25.00 to 50.00

The Upholstery Department

ANNOUNCES exceptional price inducements for tomorrow, which will include a final offering of

Reversible Beauvais Velour Portieres, in the leading color combinations, made with open edge and bottom, Value $22.50 a pair, at $12.25

French Lace Curtains, - - Pair $6.25, 8.75, 12.50. In white and Arabian shades; Regular Values $8.50 to 16.50

Novelty Irish Point Curtains, pair $5.50, 7.50, 12.50. Regular Values $7.50 to 18.50 a pair

Also an exceptional collection of 575 Lounging Cushions, Value $4.50 each, . at $2.45. Of Broche, Tapestry and Silk Velour, trimmed with metal galloon.

An Eventful Thanksgiving Linen Offering

ON the Main Floor, Monday, will feature a large purchase of Real Madeira Hand Embroidered Linens at very decided reductions.

Tray Covers, at 20c, 35c, 75c

Napkin Pouches, 40c, 60c, 75c

Show Towels, at 85c, 1.25, 1.75

Center Pieces, $1.00, 1.75, 1.95

Dresser and Buffet Scarfs, at $2.75, 2.95, 3.50

Luncheon Sets, 3.95, 4.95, 6.75

Doyleys, finger bowl and tumbler size, dz. $1.75, 2.25, 2.90

Plate size, dz. 4.25, 5.75, 6.50

Tea and Luncheon Napkins, corner effects, dz. 4.25, 4.75, 6.50

Tea Cloths, at 5.25, 5.90, 7.50

Luncheon Cloths, 8.50 to 14.00

Also, on the Second Floor, French and Italian Reception, Dinner and Tea Cloths, Luncheon Sets, Dresser and Buffet Scarfs, in combinations of Handmade Laces and Embroidery,

At One-Third to One-Half Former Prices

STERN BROTHERS' and INNOVATION Wardrobe Trunks

WILL be placed on sale tomorrow, in full, demi and steamer sizes, constructed with every improved device for conveniently carrying wearing apparel and accessories at these very exceptional prices, which are the lowest ever quoted:

$50.00 Wardrobe Trunks, - at $29.50

$35 and $40 Wardrobe Trunks, at $22.50

$20 and $25 Wardrobe Trunks, at $13.50

CRIMINAL INSANE A MENACE IN JERSEY

State Has Failed to Provide Separate Hospitals for Their Care.

ESCAPE FOR THEM IS EASY

Murder Committed by von Krebs Calls Attention of Authorities to a Constant Danger.

The murder and assault committed last Wednesday in New Brunswick by the madman, Richard von Krebs, and the menace his liberty has been to others in New York and New Jersey whose lives he has threatened, has called attention to methods of dealing with the criminal insane in New Jersey which have been deplored by investigators for a number of years. Dr. John Nevin of Jersey City, a member of the Dependency and Crimes Commission of New Jersey, said yesterday that the von Krebs case only forcibly illustrated what was possible in New Jersey with its present system of caring for the criminal insane. The same thing might happen in the case of another man, he said, unless more precautions were taken. Briefly, according to the Director of the State Asylum at Trenton, von Krebs's experience was this:

Some years ago he was committed to the Trenton Insane Asylum for criminal tendencies. Later he was released, and subsequently he was recommitted to the same institution. In 1910 his friends made application for his release and obtained the indorsement of the prosecutor of Middlesex County, upon their promise to care for the man. Von Krebs was released in consequence, although he was not declared cured and was known to have shown criminal tendencies. After a time the oversight of his friends became nominal, and he was left free to kill Mrs. Henry Rhell and seriously wound her husband last Wednesday in a fit of maniacal rage.

The mistake of von Krebs's release was possible for two reasons, Dr. Nevin pointed out yesterday; first, the insane asylums in New Jersey are so overcrowded that the authorities welcome the discharge of a prisoner, and second, no provision for criminal insane is made in the State and no record of them as criminals is kept. There is real danger from fugitive maniacs in New Jersey, as well as from released madmen, Dr. Nevin said. At present, he said, there are six or eight criminally inclined persons at large in New Jersey, who have escaped from the State Asylum at Morris Plains, and as many more have escaped from the asylum in Trenton. Their escape was made possible by the fact that neither institution is equipped or regarded as a prison.

Regarding the danger from a failure to differentiate between the criminal and harmless insane, Dr. Britton D. Evans, the Medical Director of the State Asylum at Morris Plains, said:

"I have often called attention to the practice of confining criminal and non-criminal insane persons in the same asylum and under the same conditions. One of its evil effects is that necessarily hospitals for the innocent insane are not provided with the safeguards of penal institutions to prevent escapes of inmates, and a cunning criminal can easily contrive to get out and become a serious menace to the community in which he takes up his abode."

A building equipped to accommodate less than 200 criminal insane is now being erected in Trenton. There are at present more than 200 criminal insane in the two asylums in Trenton and Morris Plains, Dr. Nevin said. In other words, the building will be full beyond its capacity as soon as it is opened for use.

Concerning the overcrowding of insane patients in New Jersey, Dr. Nevin referred to the last report of his commission, which gave the figures for Oct. 31, 1912. At that time there were 2,412 inmates in the State institution in Morris Plains, although there were accommodations for only 1,600 there. In the Hudson County Asylum there were 301 more patients than the building was intended to accommodate. In the State asylum in Trenton, with accommodations for 1,000 inmates, there were only 1,562, but this excess of capacity over patients was soon wiped out by transfers from other institutions and new patients. Last year New Jersey had in its charge 1,067 more insane patients than it had accommodations for.

ARRESTED ON GIRL'S CHARGE

Three Men Accused of Abduction After Runaway Is Found.

On the identification of Dorothy Katz, 16 years old, of 775 Jennings Street, the Bronx, three young men were arrested yesterday and charged with abduction. A fourth was arrested on a charge of acting in concert with them, and detectives were assigned to find several others against whom the girl entered complaint. She herself, on the complaint of her mother, was arrested as incorrigible.

The girl disappeared from her home Oct. 29, and was found yesterday living in a furnished room house in West 112th Street. She said she had gone there as his wife with one of the men later arrested, and when the police asked where this man was, she led them to 116th Street and Lenox Avenue, where he was found. She also identified the other three men when they came to the corner to keep appointments with her.

The four said they were Bernard Shapiro of 811 Cauldwell Avenue, the Bronx; John Insler of 149 East 118th Street, Louis Brown of 3,265 Utrecht Avenue, Brooklyn, and Jacob Frank of 92 St. Nicholas Avenue, the last named being the alleged accomplice.

Later the police arrested Irving Davidson, 22 years old, of 1,527 Bryant Avenue, the Bronx, on a charge growing out of statements made by the girl.

Finds Suicide's Body in Woods.

Policeman Woods of Weehawken entered the woods at the foot of Sterling Place, Weehawken, on a short cut to his post yesterday afternoon, and came upon the body of Gustave Schumke, a plumber of 219 Jefferson Street, Hoboken, with a wound in the right temple and a revolver in his hand. His wife said he had left home for work as usual yesterday morning, and that she knew of no reason for his suicide. He was prosperous, apparently happy, and had several children.

THE BOSTON ORCHESTRA.

Its Afternoon Concert Devoted to Three Composers.

The afternoon concert of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, given yesterday in Carnegie Hall, was devoted to three composers—Brahms, George W. Chadwick, and Jean Sibelius. Brahms's Second Symphony was given for the second time here in a fortnight. Dr. Muck's performance of it showed all the sympathy with the music that he has so often shown before. It was most minutely studied, and the performance a complete setting forth of Dr. Muck's conception of it. Again there was to be observed the exquisite tonal balance and the careful consideration of values that are needed to show the reserved beauty of Brahms's orchestration, and especially to show its exact fitness for the expression of his ideas. How strong and potent the appeal now made by the adagio, that once seemed crabbed and dry, or by the fiery finale, that also had its inscrutable passages! The audience was enraptured with the music and its performance, and recalled Dr. Muck until he made the players rise to bow with him.

Mr. Chadwick's "Symphonic Sketches" have been heard in New York before. They are of unequal value, but at their best they show the American composer in music that may well be considered to have an American character, robust-ness and vigor, humor, gayety. Few native composers have had so great a technical ability in orchestral writing as Mr. Chadwick, and it enables him to be effective in simplicity; to deal in straightforward melodic ideas without fear or shame. There is no striving after profundity in these sketches, and the music is to be appreciated in the vein in which it is written, in which sometimes a rollicking gayety appears, as in the first movement, "Jubilee," and the last, "A Vagrant Ballad," with its burlesque suggestion, conveyed in its thoroughly disreputable motto. There is a quotation here, played on the xylophone, of the subject of Bach's G minor organ fugue; whether or not it has ever been authoritatively explained, the allusion is a little elliptical to the uninformed listener.

The second theme of the "Jubilee" movement suggests Dvorak's treatment of the negro music. The composer has a little difficulty in "letting go" in this movement, which is continued unduly after all is said that the composer had to say. The "Noel" is written in a sonorous and effective orchestral diction, but its substance has somewhat less of distinction than the other movements. The work is one that eminently deserved a performance by the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Jean Sibelius was represented on the programme by his symphonic poem, "Finlandia," which was heard in New York as long ago as 1905.

HAROLD BAUER'S RECITAL.

A Programme Devoted to Bach, Beethoven, and Brahms.

Mr. Harold Bauer is one of the pianists whom the most musical audiences in New York most like to hear; and at his first recital in Aeolian Hall yesterday afternoon there was a large audience. His programme was characteristic: Bach, in pieces that Bach wrote for the clavier, not arranged; the toccata and fugue in C minor, and, wonderful to relate, seven of the little pieces called "inventions," which most piano students know, but which it would not be risking much to say have never appeared on a recital programme here before; Brahms's variations on a theme of Handel, and wo sonatas of Beethoven, one in F sharp minor, Op. 78, also unknown to the recitals of public pianists, and that in A flat, Op. 110.

Mr. Bauer's playing delighted his listeners by its vigor and power, its grace and poetical feeling, its variety and depth of tonal coloring, and the close sympathy that enabled him to give a real interpretation of the wide gamut of style and expression that even these three composers alone set before him. Perhaps in a way the most fascinating of his performances were those of the "inventions"—more properly, those in two parts are called "inventions," those in three Bach himself entitled "symphonies." They were, in the composer's purpose, to teach "a pure manner of playing, in two and three parts," and "especially to attain a cantabile style," and "a strong appetite for composing." All of which, and more, may be learned from Bach's original title for the collection.

We are not informed about Mr. Bauer's appetite for composing; but he had unquestionably gained the pure manner of playing and the cantabile style. The little pieces, all of them little tone poems, notwithstanding the strict polyphonic style in which they are written, were deliciously played; they disclosed a charm, a variety of expression, and mood that were irresistible.

Nobility and poetical insight marked his playing of the later sonata of Beethoven's, and he gave especially a clear view of the fugue and its complications, and point and significance to the passages in recitative. After the programme was finished he played a capriccio by Brahms and a minuet by Beethoven, thereby not disturbing the character and balance of an extraordinarily unconventional and delightful programme.

200 IRISHMEN SHUN WAR.

Came Here on the Lapland to Avoid Military Service.

Two hundred strong, healthy-looking young Irishmen arrived here yesterday on the Lapland from Queenstown, having emigrated to avoid going to the front and fighting against their conscience. When the ship was being made fast at her pier a dozen of the Irishmen sat on the rail forward singing the chorus, "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," and one of them added "and the longer away you get the better it is for your health."

The Lapland experienced very rough weather and, being in ballast, she bounced around in a lively manner that made some of the passengers very thoughtful. She left Liverpool on Thursday, Oct. 29, and Queenstown the following day.

Chinese Officials Land Here.

Five Chinese officials, headed by En Yed Sheng, who was accompanied by his wife and four children, arrived yesterday from Liverpool on the Lapland to visit the Chinese Minister at Washington, who had made arrangements for their landing without delay. Mrs. Sheng is a daughter of the Minister of Foreign Affairs in Peking.

DETECT BEST LIARS BY SCIENTIFIC TEST

Dr. Louisa Burns Tells Osteopaths Action of Pulse Is Bound to Betray Them.

USED FOR DIAGNOSIS ALSO

She Is Certain She Can Find Out the Truth from Witnesses in Criminal Cases.

The man isn't born who can tell a lie under the close observation of physiological experts without an increase in the pressure of the blood, according to a statement made by Dr. Louisa Burns of the A. T. Still Research Institute of Chicago, at the final meeting of the Sixteenth Annual Convention of the New York Osteopathic Society, yesterday afternoon, at the Park Avenue Hotel, Park Avenue and Thirty-third Street. Dr. Burns has drawn her conclusions from a long series of experiments, conducted in her laboratory.

It was pointed out to the three hundred osteopaths by Dr. Burns that any habitual liar could tell an untruth without betraying the slightest sign of deceit in the expression of his face or the movent of his body. But the action of the pulse, she said, was far beyond the control even of the best liar. She explained that this was so because the pulse or pressure of the blood was influenced chiefly by the change of emotions, and the most finished liars, she observed had sometimes the strongest emotions.

"The action of the blood pressure is an indicator to the person who is accustomed to work with it. By watching it you are able to get the true history of a case, even in spite of the reticence of the patient, in the same way in which you are able to find a hidden object in the game of hide and seek, when your search is guided toward that hidden thing by the warning, 'You're getting hot,' and away from it, by the counter warning, 'You're getting cold.'

"When a patient comes to my office I always find it is better to work with him lying on a table. In order to avoid distracting his attention it is better to sit quietly beside him rather than stand over him. He is engaged in a conversation at first simply about the nature of his complaint. Meanwhile I have found his pulse, and as the conversation progresses, the patient soon forgets that his pulse is the one thing under observation. If the patient is asked about a certain thing which may have been true of his case he will confirm your guess by the action of his pulse, even though he may evade your question. If he is trying to keep from disclosing this fact to you the pressure of his blood will inevitably be increased."

Dr. Burns said she was certain she could take a witness in a criminal case and find out absolutely to her own satisfaction whether he was telling the truth or lying. However, she would be unwilling to give testimony this way for conviction. Asked if a man of low mentality responded differently in the pressure of his blood to a man of higher mentality, Dr. Burns explained that he did, yet the truth and the lie were as easily distinguishable in one as in the other.

The management of pneumonia, scarlet fever, and typhoid fever with technique was discussed by E. C. Link, D. O., Stamford, Conn.; G. V. Webster, D. O., Carthage; J. A. De Tienne, D. O., Brooklyn, and J. E. Foster, D. O., Butler, Penn. "Osteopathy and Acute Conditions," was the subject of a paper by Dr. George M. Laughlin, M. S. D., D. O., of the American School of Osteopathy.

These were elected officers of the society: W. A. Merkley, D. O., Brooklyn, President; Louisa Dieckmann, D. O., Buffalo, Vice President; C. M. Bancroft, D. O., Canandaigua, Secretary, and Cecil Rogers, D. O., New York, Treasurer.

SAYS HE'S A BIGAMIST.

Scranton Man Comes Here to Have His Brother-in-Law Arrested.

A visit made recently to his newly married sister by John McVarish of Scranton, Penn., resulted yesterday in the appearance of the sister's husband, George C. Hawkins of 169 Seventh Avenue, before Magistrate McGuire in the Adams Street Court, Brooklyn, on the charge of bigamy. McVarish not only claims that Hawkins has a wife still living and undivorced in Scranton, but that he served a term in the Pennsylvania Eastern Penitentiary, at Philadelphia, for swindling women.

McVarish's sister, Mrs. Mary Ford, a well-to-do widow of Scranton, was married to Hawkins on Sept. 14. After the wedding Hawkins bought a cafe on Seventh Avenue, Manhattan, and it was here that his new brother-in-law visited him shortly after the marriage. McVarish became suspicious, and when he went back to Scranton he looked up Hawkins's record. The result of his investigations appeared when he returned to New York and swore out a warrant for Hawkins's arrest, which was made by Detectives Ward and Christie on Friday night.

Hawkins pleaded not guilty before Magistrate McGuire, and was held for further hearing on Monday.

GEN. SICKLES'S WILL FILED.

Not Much Left for Heirs After Debts Are Paid.

The will of the late Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, the contents of which appeared in THE NEW YORK TIMES on May 22, was filed for probate yesterday. It was executed on Aug. 30, 1912, before the reconciliation between the General and his wife and son Stanton, from whom he had been estranged for twenty-seven years. They were cut off without a cent. At the time the will was read Stanton Sickles said that he would rather have his son mentioned than himself. The other residuaries are George Christopher Crackanthorpe and Ida Blanche Crackanthorpe, the younger children of the General's daughter Ida, who married an official of the British Consular service. The eldest of her children, Frank, received no money bequest, inasmuch as he was the heir of his father's family, but he is to be given one of the General's three war swords.

It is estimated that little will remain of the estate after the accounts are settled up. At the time of the General's death it was said that his only property was the house at 23 Fifth Avenue, on which there were two mortgages. The will left $5,000 to the testator's "good friend," Eleanor Earle Wilmerding, now dead, who was the General's housekeeper and the cause of his estrangement from his family. Miss Wilmerding was also to have one of the war swords, the third of which was left to Daniel E. Sickles.

The sum of $1,000 was left to Gen. Horatio C. King, and there were small legacies to the General's servants. Daniel P. Hays, attorney and executor, is empowered to revise and publish the General's memoirs.

CITY UPHELD IN WATER SUIT

Franchise Power Under Emergency Contract Is Denied.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn has handed down a decision in favor of the city in the litigation involving the emergency contracts made by the city with local water companies for supplies of water for certain parts of the Borough of Queens. One of these contracts was with the Urban Water Supply Company, which has its source of supply in Newtown.

Under an amended certificate of incorporation reciting such contract, the company claimed a franchise power to go into the busines of supplying water to additional territory. It sought by mandamus to compel the Borough President of Queens to issue to it permits to lay its water mains in Long Island City.

Justice Van Siclen of the Supreme Court denied the motion for a mandamus, holding that the company had obtained no such franchise. The Appellate Division sustained Justice Van Siclen.

ARREST CUBAN SOLDIERS.

Military Authorities Find Men Threatening Other Outbreaks.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

HAVANA, Nov. 7.—Sixty-five soldiers were arrested as a result of last night's mutiny. Army officers assert they have the situation under control, but the soldiers generally appear in an ugly mood, and more trouble is likely to break out any time, owing to the soldiers' desire to avenge the death of their comrade, who on Wednesday night was killed when they attacked Havana policemen.

Military authorities say the guilty soldiers will be sentenced to two years in prison.

Government detectives have informed the special judge who is investigating the soldiers' attack on the police on Tuesday that several commissioned officers instigated it. The judge has indicted thirty-two soldiers for that attack.

BOLD FORGER CHEATS BANK.

Two Out of 161 Stolen U. S. Money Orders Traced.

A forged Post Office money order for $15, which was paid by the Greenwich Bank of New York, is practically the only clue on which detectives hope to trap a person who stole 161 blank money orders from a branch of the Newark (N. J.) Post Office in the stationery store of Morris Greenblatt at 169 Plane Street, Newark, recently. Two of the missing orders, filled out for small amounts have been cashed, according to Post Office Inspectors.

The one cashed by the Greenwich Bank was made public. This was signed with the name of E. A. Gimble and made payable to the order of L. A. Gimble, 229 West Thirty-eighth Street, who apparently had indorsed it to Charles Proser & Co., Incorporated. It bore no Post Office stamp, and was signed with the name H. H. Wallace, as Postmaster, instead of Postmaster Frank J. Bock. A general alarm has been sent out cautioning every one against money orders bearing serial numbers from 8,485 to 8,646.

NO MORE ELECTIONS IN 13TH

Regiment Decides That Hereafter Officers Shall Be Appointed.

The Thirteenth Regiment, N. G. N. Y., has adopted the appointive system in place of the elective system of selecting officers. Under the elective system the men of each company elect the company officers, while the commissioned officers elect the field officers.

"The viciousness of this system," said an officer of the regiment yesterday, "has been pointed out again and again by prominent military authorities. It violates the principle that military authorities should come from above, not from below. It makes popularity, not efficiency, the test for office. It provokes discussion and criticism among subordinates of their superiors, which is subversive of discipline. It has done more than any other one thing to retard the progress of the militia toward real efficiency for service.

ABSOLVES TEACHER WHO WAS HIS DUPE

Rapelye, Convicted of Forgery, Asks That Charge Against Mrs. Sage Be Dropped.

ADMITS PREVIOUS CRIME

Ex-Postmaster of Corona, L. I., Was Indicted in 1900 for Stealing Government Funds.

George L. Rapelye, ex-Postmaster of Corona, L. I., and a member of one of the best known families on Long Island, was sentenced yesterday to nine years in Sing Sing by County Judge Burt J. Humphrey of Queens, on a confession of guilty to an indictment, charging that he had obtained $1,500 from Henry and Lena Schmidt of Ninth Avenue, Long Island City, by a bogus mortgage.

Before he was sentenced Rapelye asked the court to dismiss an indictment charging grand larceny against Mrs. Mary Searl Sage of Twenty-ninth Street, Manhattan, who is a lecturer for the Board of Education, saying that she was his innocent victim in the transaction. Rapelye also asked the court to be lenient with him, and said that if he was released from jail he would endeavor to pay back the money he had obtained fraudulently.

Judge Humphrey told Rapelye that he was pleased to hear the statement about Mrs. Sage, and he took under advisement a motion to dismiss the indictment. He told Rapelye he was a dangerous man to be at large and gave him the limit of sentence provided for his offense.

Previously when in court Rapelye had refused to acknowledge that in 1900 when he was Postmaster in Corona he had been indicted by the Federal Grand Jury, for stealing $800 of the funds of the Government, but before sentence was passed upon him and the records were produced he admitted that he had been guilty of his offense, but said that sentence had been suspended.

In February, 1911, Rapelye went to Mrs. Sage, who was a friend of his family, and told her that he had purchased property on Lake Street, Corona, but did not want to take it in his name because of judgments against him. He asked her to take title to the property and she agreed to do so. Several days later he produced Schmidt and his wife, who wanted to loan $1,500 on mortgage and had Mrs. Sage execute a mortgage. He then took the money. Later it was discovered that Rapelye had no title to the property. Mrs. Sage is still responsible on the bond she gave to secure the money. Rapelye took the money and spent it.

Board Honors Memory of Britt.

The Board of Elections at a special meeting yesterday adopted resolutions of regret on the death of J. Gabriel Britt, President of the board. The resolutions were introduced by Commissioner James Kane, who will act as President of the board until Mr. Britt's successor is chosen.

HER WEDDING AT 16 BINDING

Justice Goff Denies Annulment to Woman Pleading Youth.

Justice Goff, in the Supreme Court, yesterday refused to annul the marriage of Mrs. Wilhelmina Stahl to Jacob Stahl. The Stahls were married twelve years ago, when Mrs. Stahl was only 16 years old. She admitted that she had told the clergyman who performed the ceremony that she was older.

The practice had been to annul marriages on request of women who could prove that they were married before they were 18 years old, and had not lived with their husbands after having reached that age. Mrs. Stahl said her husband disappeared a few months after the marriage, and she wanted to get married again.

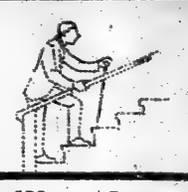
Justice Goff said he would like to have more evidence as to just what the age of Mrs. Stahl was when she was married.

NOT ALL FISH FOR OUR NETS.

Salesman Finds That Not All Europeans Are Here to Buy Goods.

So many Europeans have come to this country to buy supplies for the Governments involved in the war that it is now only necessary for a foreigner to arrive here and look mysterious or busy to attract throngs of persons who want to sell him anything from shoes to armor plate.

On the last Italian steamer three Italians arrived who registered at the Imperial. Soon callers began to seek them. One of these was seen yesterday after a brief interview with one of the foreigners. He looked very much disgusted. "Sell him anything?" he repeated. "Why, he is a moving-picture man, come over here to sell a lot of films."



Worn Out

Dead tired after an exacting day at the office. Harassed by countless little things—when night comes it's all he can do to drag one weary foot after another. For just this condition there is no tonic in the world like the greatest body builder the world has ever known. Used for general debility, convalescence, and for mothers while nursing. Makes flesh and blood. At all druggists, 25c. a bottle. (3)

Johann Hoff's
MALT EXTRACT

Brooklyn Priests Honored.

Bishop Charles E. McDonnell of Brooklyn yesterday announced the elevation of two priests to the rank of Monsignor. They are the Rev. Michael G. Flannery, rector of St. Paul's Church, and the Rev. John P. Hoffman, rector of St. Nicholas's Church. This makes five priests in Brooklyn who have been so honored.

Best & Co.

Direct Attention to Several

Advantageous Sales Arranged for Monday

Which will comprise, at very interesting prices, new merchandise of latest fashions for Women, Misses and Little Children.

A Sale of Fur Trimmed Tailor-made Suits for Women and Misses—2nd Floor

22.50 35.00

Which are at Least One-third Under Regular Values

A careful selection of new models, of fine broadcloths, cheviots or duvetyn, in navy, black, brown or green, fur trimmed; coats silk lined and warmly interlined. Sizes 34 to 40.

A Special Sale of Women's Inexpensive Fur Sets

Fully Guaranteed—2nd Floor—For Monday Only

Blue Wolf Sets
Consisting of large barrel or fancy animal muff and single animal double fur neckpiece
Actual Value 42.50 32.50

Taupe Wolf Sets
Consisting of large barrel muff and single animal double fur neckpiece.
Actual Value 45.00 35.00

Women's Silk Petticoats

Very Excellent Values—3rd Floor

Offering superior quality in both material and make; all the new shades.

Of Silk Jersey, with plain or plaid messaline flounce 2.95

Of All Silk Jersey, or with messaline flounce 3.95 5.00

Popular Priced Sales for Misses and Children

Arranged for Tomorrow, Monday

A Sale of Misses' Fur Trimmed Velveteen Suits

Sizes 14 to 17 years—4th Floor

29.50

The Actual Value is 39.50

Handsome and entirely new models of superior velveteen, fur trimmed.

A Sale of Misses' Afternoon and Evening Frocks

Sizes 14 to 17 years—4th Floor

18.50

The Actual Values up to 25.00

Presenting several very charming models of silk or chiffon.

A Sale of Corduroy Coats

Misses' Sizes 14 to 17 years—4th Floor

25.00

The Actual Value is 35.00

Smart, new flare models, silk lined throughout.

A Sale of Children's Knickers

24c

The Regular Price is 35c.

Of muslin with embroidery edge. 1 to 6 years.

A Sale of Girls' Drawers

55c

The Regular Price is 85c.

Of cambric, embroidery ruffles. 6 to 14 years.

LILIPUTIAN BAZAAR Trade Mark—Copyrighted

An Important Sale Monday of Little Children's Fur Trimmed Coats

Sizes 1 to 3 Years—3rd Floor

8.75

At Least One-third Under Regular Value

A number of handsome new models, of fine materials including broadcloths and velveteen, fur trimmed and warmly interlined.

A large variety of Winter Hats and Bonnets for small children at very moderate prices

Popular Prices Best's Toy Shop On the 4th Floor

Is ready to make thousands of children happy, for we have bigger stocks than ever before of both Imported and American toys, games, dolls and all other playthings, and a great many things not shown elsewhere.

A big stock of Juvenile Books at Popular Prices

FIFTH AVENUE . . . . . At 35th Street

E. KUMKE
MANUFACTURING FURRIER

RICH FURS
SPECIAL OFFERINGS

Blue Fox Sets (dyed)
Animal shape Muff and Scarf. From 125.00

Skunk Sets
Two Skin Animal Scarf and Pillow shape Muff. From 75.00

Hudson Seal Coats (Choice Skins)
Three-quarter length Models. From 125.00

Caracul Coats (Choice Skins)
Three-quarter length Models. From 125.00

19 West 38th St., Between 5th and 6th Aves.

Mme Irene
FRENCH MODEL GOWNS
500 FIFTH AVENUE AT 42D ST.

Monday, Nov. 9th
EXTRAORDINARY SALE
BLOUSES
$2.00
Regularly $2.95, 5.00, 7.50, 9.75

Charmingly and Exquisitely Tailored. Very Newest Designs.

Made from Poiret Silk, Crepe de Chine, French Batiste, Marquisette, Habatiau Silk, Imported Laces.

Sizes 34 to 44.

No. C. O. D'S. No Exchanges.
No Mail Orders.

RESERVE BANK CALL IS PROMPTLY MET

First Installment of Capital Stock of New System, $17,947,106, All Paid In.

NEW YORK HEADS THE LIST

Makes Payment of $3,320,380 — Banks Hold $190,409,504 Cash Above Initial Requirements.

Special to The New York Times.

